Richardson Believes Jap Homeland Will Be Yank Invaded Soon

By LEONARD MILLMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Japan itself will be invaded soon, a ranking American general indicated Wednesday, as British paratroopers and seaborne assault waves trapped the Japanese garrison at Rangoon in the second Allied invasion in two days.

Lt. General Robert C. Richardson Jr., commanding general of Army Forces in Pacific Ocean areas, said the Pacific war is entering a new phase in which a major assault will soon be launched on the Japanese empire. His unamplified remark had special significance since it was made at his Honolulu headquarters immediately on return from a conference in Manila with Gen. Douglas MacArthur under whose command army divisions will invade Japan.

Veto Control Is Cause Of Arguments

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The United Nations Conference Wednesday appeared safely past its worst obstacles to success in creating a world security organization. But several major arguments still lie ahead.

The Dumbarton Oaks proposal that veto controls be placed in the hands of the great powers on the inner security control council already is a subject of both attack and defense.

Announcement of 16 United States amendments to the Dumbarton Oaks plan, which this country, Britain and China worked out last fall at Washington as a basis for this conference, is due in the next day or so. Officials describe these as mainly technical.

One of the big questions yet without an answer is how much regional organizations as the Inter-American system worked out recently at Mexico City are to be fitted into the proposed United Nations system.

Following an extraordinary night session Tuesday night, chief delegates of the 46 United Nations sought to wind up organization of the week-old conference quickly. The idea is to let the four big commissions and 12 committees buckle down by the weekend to their real work of revising and completing the Dumbarton Oaks plan.

Chairmen of the four commissions were summoned to meet Wednesday. Another full conference meeting was called for 3:30 p.m., Pacific War Time.

Doenitz Fails To Get Support From Nazis

By The Associated Press

LONDON—(AP)—Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz moved swiftly Wednesday in his role of successor to Adolf Hitler to shake up the Nazi military and diplomatic fronts in efforts apparently directed toward a last-ditch fight in Norway.

However, 15 hours after the Hamburg radio had announced the death of Hitler, a single top-ranking Nazi party man and only one commander had come forth to pledge allegiance to Doenitz as fuhrer.

One of the first acts of Doenitz was to dismiss Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and replace him with Count Lutz Schwerin-Krosigk, finance minister in the Franz von Papen and von Schleicher cabinets, which immediately preceded Hitler's rise to power.

Gen. Franz Boehme, Army commander in chief in Norway, broadcast an order of the day over the Oslo radio pledging alliance to Doenitz and calling on German forces in the north to fight on as a "fanatic community."

Simultaneously, Norwegian officials in London reported Doenitz had fired Admiral Otto Ciliax, German naval chief in Norway since March, 1943, because Ciliax allegedly favored capitulation, and had replaced him with Admiral Kranks, formerly chief of the naval staff to Gen. Boehme.

The Hamburg radio, slightly amplifying Tuesday night's announcement of Hitler's death, said the Russians had attacked Berlin's government quarter Tuesday and, in fighting which cost both sides heavy losses and during which the fuhrer was killed, the Russians succeeded in deepening their breaches into the Wilhelmstrasse.

Whether top men of the inner Nazi gang—Goering, Goebbels, Himmler and Bormann—had fled, were dead, or were supporting Doenitz remained a mystery.

German Officer Says Nazi Troops Ordered To Cease Fighting On Western Front

By The Associated Press

Col.-Gen. Heinrich von Vietlinghenoff-Scheel Wednesday unconditionally surrendered all German land, sea, and air forces in Italy and Southern and Western Austria.

Under the terms hostilities ceased at 12 noon, GMT. (8 a. m. EWT.)

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY, HOLLAND—(AP)—A captured German officer asserted Wednesday that Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz had ordered German troops facing the Western Allies to cease fighting and to withdraw to the East to oppose the Russians, a Canadian Army source said. There was no confirmation or further information.

Field Marshal Sir Harold L. Alexander announced the surrender was signed at Allied Force Headquarters at Caserta Sunday afternoon.

Von Vietlinghoff's command includes all Northern Italy to the Isonzo River in the Northeast, and the Austrian provinces of Vorarlberg, Tyrol, Salzburg, and portions of Corinthia and Styria. "The enemy's total forces including combat and rear echelon troops surrendered to the Allies are estimated to number nearly 1,000,000 men," Alexander announced.

"Fighting troops include remnants of 22 German and six Italian Fascist divisions."

The following terms were imposed in the surrender ending 2½ years of the battle in Italy:

- 1—Unconditional surrender by von Vietlinghoff's command of all land, sea and air forces to Gen. Alexander.
- 2—Cessation of all hostilities on land, sea, and in the air by enemy forces at 12 noon, GMT.
- 3—Immediate immobilization and disarmament of enemy forces.

Truman Slashes War Spending In New Move

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Wednesday began a federal financial retrenchment drive in anticipation of V-E Day.

In a series of separate actions, he recommended to Congress that a total of $7,445,369,000 be withdrawn from war program funds already appropriated or projected.

In swift success the Chief Executive:

1. Urged Congress to cut more than $7,000,000,000 from current appropriations and contract authorization for maritime commission shipbuilding.
2. Recommended a slash of more than $80,000,000 in the 1946 budget estimates of eight agencies for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

These actions were ascribed to favorable war developments. Other agencies affected by the economy moves include Office of War Information, War Production Board, Office of Censorship, Office of Defense Transportation, Petroleum Administration for War, Federal Security Agency, War Manpower Commission, and Office of Scientific Research and Development.

In a letter to Congress the Chief Executive asked repeal of an appropriation of $3,100,000,000 and of contract authorizations totaling $4,265,000,000 for maritime Commission ship construction.

Westex Geophysical Problems On Program

An important feature of geophysical prospecting in West Texas, "Refraction Exploration," will be one of the papers presented Thursday at a district meeting of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists in Dallas, according to Karl A. Altogether 41 papers will be offered at the one-day session. All will deal with recent developments in geophysical research in the petroleum industry.

House Suggests New Food Plans To Ease Famine

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A House investigating committee, sharply criticizing many phases of the government's food program, Wednesday recommended a coordinated policy from grower to consumer to break up black markets and ease shortages.

The committee, set up by the House six weeks ago, concluded its initial report with these recommendations:

1. That food production be given top priority of the War Production Board including adequate manpower and machinery for farms.
2. That President Truman be urged to "immediately consider the problem of needed coordination of the entire food program." (Republican members added a demand for a single food authority instead of the several government agencies now concerned with food).
3. That pricing be revised to assure profit margins to growers, producers and distributors, with special incentives to cattle feeders.
4. That the support price of hogs be boosted from $13 to $13.50 a hundred pounds, Chicago basis.
5. Special inducement programs to ward off a developing threat of black markets in eggs and sugar.

The southern redoubt from Czechoslovakia, where the Nazis have their last heavy industries. The German garrison of Berlin, compressed into the narrow government quarter, has been chopped up into "separate groups," the Nazi command said Wednesday, and it appeared that the fight for the German capital was near its end.

Russian troops beat in on Hitler's Reich-Chancellery, and a Paris broadcast said without confirmation that the Red Army flag already flies from the building—by German account the scene of Hitler's death.

The Hamburg radio said Russians had smashed wedges into the last pocket from the south, north, and east, carrying deep into the Wilhelmstrasse, at the Friedrichstrasse railway station, and the old town sector on the east.

Mrs. J. H. Faulkner Dies; Funeral Will Be Held Thursday

Mrs. J. H. Faulkner, 21, died Tuesday at a Midland hospital following an operation. Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Ellis Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Vernon Yearby officiating. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Faulkner came to Midland from San Angelo about six months ago. Her husband is an employee of the Cash and Carry grocery. The home is at 505 South Marshall. Surviving are the husband; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Wilson of San Angelo; two children, Barbara Jaunell, 4, and Larry Joe, 2; five brothers, J. B. Wilson of Bryan, C. A. Wilson of Portland, Oregon, C. S. Wilson of San Angelo, S. A. Wilson of Midland, and S. S. Wilson with the armed forces in Germany; three sisters, Sgt. Myrtle Miller Wilson of Salinas, Calif., Mrs. E. R. Burrus of Midland and Mrs. H. L. Helbert of Midland.

Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander and Gen. Mark W. Clark had sent their American Fifth and British Eighth Armies crashing beyond the Po River into the Alpine foothills and had overrun virtually all Northern Italy including such great cities as Milan, Turin and Genoa.

The surrender opened the southern gates of the Nazis southern redoubt in the Bavaria and the Austrian panhandle. A junction of the Allied Armies in Italy with three of Gen. Eisenhower's armies in South Germany and in Austria might be expected soon.

British troops driving swiftly in a breakthrough north of the Elbe River came within nine miles of cutting off Denmark and Schleswig Holstein.

German troops fled madly toward Denmark through the shell-raked corridor near Luebeck, trying to escape both the British and the Russians.

In the south, the Texas (36th) Division of the Seventh Army captured Field Marshal von Rundstedt. The Seventh was fighting through the Alpine passes within ten miles of the Austrian Tyrol capital of Innsbruck and a dozen miles of the Brenner Pass.

General Patton's Third Army moved within 30 miles of Salzburg and 44 of Berchtesgaden in the area of Braunau, where Hitler was born. His tanks closed within 18 miles of Linz and less than 40 of the Russians at Amstettin. A junction will cut the southern redoubt from Czechoslovakia, where the Nazis have their last heavy industries. The German garrison of Berlin, compressed into the narrow government quarter, has been chopped up into "separate groups," the Nazi command said Wednesday, and it appeared that the fight for the German capital was near its end.

Russian troops beat in on Hitler's Reich-Chancellery, and a Paris broadcast said without confirmation that the Red Army flag already flies from the building—by German account the scene of Hitler's death.

The Hamburg radio said Russians had smashed wedges into the last pocket from the south, north, and east, carrying deep into the Wilhelmstrasse, at the Friedrichstrasse railway station, and the old town sector on the east.

The German communique said other Russians were striking eastward on an 85-mile front from Rostock to Neuruppin, 35 miles northwest of Berlin, and indicated the Soviets were very near the Baltic port of Rostock.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Jones, in northeast quarter of section 3, block A-6, psl survey, in extreme Northwest Gaines County, was bottomed at 8,940 feet in lime, and was to take a drillstem test.

At 9,869-9,920 feet, a one hour and 35 minute test was run. There was a fair blow of air at the start which decreased during the period.

Show Of Sulphur
Recovery was 360 feet of oil, gas and water cut drilling mud, with a show of sulphur water.

Shell Oil Company, Inc., and The Texas Company No. 1 Ratliff & Bedford, Southwest Andrews County exploration, now investigating the Sultrian, was making hole below 9,371 feet in lime.

At 9,810-9,777 feet a drillstem test was undertaken. Packer failed after 15 minutes. Recovery was 350 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud, of which it was estimated that 270 feet was on account of the packer failure.

The Visit To Buchenwald

The American people have been accused of reacting coldly or indifferently to stories of atrocities, even of atrocities against their own countrymen. This is not wholly true. And, it seems to us, there is an explanation for the measure of truth the accusation contains.

First of all, it might be recalled that the atrocities of Hitler's Nazis were what turned most Americans against the Third Reich in the days of peace, even when they were ignorant or incredulous of the sinister Nazi plan for world conquest. It was Hitler's black heart as revealed through pogroms and concentration camps that first roused our indignation against him.

As for American coldness and indifference, it is likely that numbness would be a better description. We are all familiar with the fact and sight of death. We know it comes on the battlefield.

But death by slow starvation and unspeakable torture we cannot visualize, even though trustworthy reports and photographic evidence of the result is before us. Nor can we visualize or imagine the inhuman cruelty that decrees it.

Hence our reaction as incredible story after incredible story of atrocity is brought to us. Our indignation becomes impotent and intellectual. We are reluctant to credit such deeds to members of the human race. And, confronted with unassailable proof, we remain stunned and a little incredulous.

In that we are probably not too different from other peoples of the earth. Surely the middle-aged civilian German, even after 12 years of Hitler, has been reluctant to believe the bestiality of his own kind and kin. He may have had to turn his head to avoid the evidence before his eyes, and yet he might well persist in his disbelief—especially since the American invasion of his homeland, when the urge for fawning innocence has been upon him.

It was this German, his wife and young children and friends, to the number of 1200, who were made to journey from their homes in Weimar, hallowed city of German culture, to the infamous Nazi concentration camp at near-by Buchenwald.

There they were made to look and smell and retch and faint at the evidence of incredible subhuman deeds of their "master race." Enough of the dead, dying and maimed remained there to convince the most stubborn "patriot" among them that there was not much use in lying any more.

We cannot expect a miracle from the visit to Buchenwald. But the tortured and forgotten there have not died without purpose if enough Germans can be brought to see the place of their pain and ignominy.

It is a profound pity that every German cannot be made to see Buchenwald as the Americans found it. But at least those who did can never again extol the German race with the same conviction, however fiercely they may try to forget.

Coddling Prisoners

Although many of the stories now in circulation are false, it seems to be true that we are treating captured Germans with a gentle consideration that is in marked contrast with the way the Nazis have treated many of our men.

Provost Marshal General Lerch offers three arguments in justification of the excellent care we give prisoners:

First, he says that International Red Cross agents report that, up to the time the Reich began falling apart under General Eisenhower's blows, the Nazis were living up to their Geneva Convention obligations toward Americans and British, however cruelly they treat other nationalities.

Second, he says that word of our kindness toward prisoners, reaching German troops, caused them to surrender more readily and thus saved Allied lives.

And finally, he points out that the Geneva Convention is the supreme law of the land, and until it is amended he is duty-bound to administer it unwaveringly.

There seems to be very strong evidence that the Nazis, in many instances at least, were not living up to their Convention commitments even before we crossed the Rhine—that, in many cases, our men were not getting either the food or the treatment that General Lerch was told they were getting.

On the other hand, there is evidence that, up to recently at least, we could have been considerably more strict with our prisoners-of-war without offending the Geneva Convention and still have made captivity more attractive than belligerency to any German but a rabid party-man.

But while American prisoners in Germany did not get full benefit of Geneva Convention rights, it seems that they really were fed better, treated better, in general, than any prisoners except perhaps Britons. There is evidence that our surrender to propaganda did fall on willing ears because we were, perhaps, over-kind to prisoners, and thereby more of our sons, husbands, brothers, friends will come home.

It may well be that General Lerch's policy has been the sound one.

with those of Liberia and the Philippines, made almost a majority in themselves.

A showdown was avoided by sending the question back to the executive committee for further study. Speeches by Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, prime minister of South Africa, and Peter Fraser, prime minister of New Zealand, pointed up what promises to be one of the hottest arguments.

Smuts told the conference that big nations must have rights and responsibilities in a world organization in keeping with their powers. Fraser emphasized that such required concurrence of the Big Five on the council would mean that any one of them could veto action. He called the arrangement "ridiculous and absurdly wrong."

Monroe Discusses Plans Of Schools At Lions Meeting

Midland Lions were told at their meeting Wednesday something of the problems faced by school authorities in taking care of an ever increasing number of students.

Frank Monroe, superintendent, pointed out that the schools have no new buildings since the 1938-39 school term, yet the number of scholastics has increased 50 per cent.

Plans are being formulated for the construction of two elementary buildings, one for the South Side and in the west end of Midland, he said.

Frank Stubbsman, who presided, announced a Lions Club was being organized at Stanton and their charter meeting would be held May 10. They have invited Midland Lions to attend.

Billion Gallon Refinery

Humble's Baytown Refinery completed its billionth gallon of finished 100-octane aviation gasoline late in 1944, thus becoming the first plant in the world to achieve such a record. Total production of 100-octane gasoline and components at Humble's three refineries is now well over two billion gallons.

This record had its beginnings back in 1938 when Humble built the first commercial alkylation plant in the world, which process has since become the very backbone of 100-octane aviation gasoline production by the entire oil industry. And to go back even further this record is a magnificent climax to more than a quarter of a century of development, cooperation and teamwork by Humble men and women.

This significant FIRST is one of four great wartime records accomplished by the 14,000 Humble men and women.

FIRST in U. S. crude oil production

FIRST in production of toluene for TNT

FIRST in transportation of oil by pipe line

From the same combination of resources, know-how and teamwork that has made these accomplishments possible come top quality Humble products for your car.

TEXAS' QUALITY MOTOR FUELS

Into Esso-Extra and Humble Motor Fuel is built all the quality which wartime restrictions will permit. When it is again possible, these gasolines will become once more the superb fuels which have so long met with the popular approval of Texas motorists.

Look for the Humble sign whenever you buy gasoline. Behind that familiar red, white and blue oval lies the experience of a great name and a great organization.

Bypassed Japanese Are Problem Child Of Pacific War

By HAROLD STREETER
 GUAM—(AP)—The problem child of the Pacific war is the bypassed Japanese.

Stranded on islands as far as 3,500 miles behind the fighting at Okinawa, his food cut off except for what he can grow. American planes droning overhead, American warships cutting the seas, he still won't give up.

So a sort of aerial MP (military police) has to be used against him—B-29s, for example, at Rota.

A group of war correspondents taken for a sweeping bird's eye view of America's progress against the Japanese in the Pacific were flown next Rota in an Air Transport Command plane during a tour of the Marianas.

More Fly Speck

Rota is a mere fly speck on a map, squeezed in between Guam and Tinian. In outward appearance, it seems so peaceful you could walk ashore.

But if you fly too low, you will draw pistol and rifle fire, perhaps some anti-aircraft fire too. There are an estimated 2,000 Japanese on Rota. They are taught to sneak in the middle of America's most bustling war bases.

When they can't sleep at night, they don't need to count sheep. They can count B-29s. The Superforts practice bombing by aiming at Rota's well cratered and long inactive air strip. These test runs improve the bombardier's skill without killing anybody inasmuch as the Rota Japanese keep well out of range.

On the large island of Guam, so secure that it now is headquarters of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and of the 21st Bomber Command, Yank riflemen improve their aim by periodic Japanese hunts in the hills. It is about like jack rabbit hunting. You'd better get in your first shots because after that the prey had scurried to cover.

On Saipan, Japanese still steal down from hill and cave hideouts at times to forage for food at farm houses of Chamorros, Marine patrols are on the alert for such raids but occasionally the Japanese succeed. They are armed and the farmers have no choice.

Although the dove is often regarded as a symbol of peace, it is really a very quarrelsome bird.

Truman Cautions Against Celebration

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said he hopes there will be no celebration when hostilities end in Europe, but a national understanding of the importance of the job which remains.

It was emphasized this did not mean the end of hostilities was necessarily imminent.

Jonathan Daniels, White House press secretary, called newsmen to his office and dictated this statement:

"The President authorized me to say that in event of cessation of hostilities in Europe he will speak to America by radio to emphasize the necessity for thankfulness and for continuation by all Americans in the great war job which still lies before us.

"He hopes there will be no celebration, but a national understanding of the importance of the job which remains."

In London it was announced that a two-day public holiday had been authorized for victory in Europe.

Dachau Prison Was Last Word In Nazi Savagery

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
 DACHAU, GERMANY—(AP)—Every soldier, officer and war correspondent attached to the 42nd (Rainbow) Division of the U. S. Seventh Army had one word seared into his soul—"Dachau."

It represents the lost word in savagery, depravity, sadism and inhumanity. Here human beings were experimented on as though they were guinea pigs, were eliminated by slow starvation and their bodies burned wholesale in a gigantic crematory. Thirty-five railway cars loaded with corpses emanated literally to skin and bones are lined up outside the camp.

Among Dachau's 32,000 inmates are some 1,400 living corpses. These were the survivors of about 4,000 who had been shipped, according to the best information available, from Eichenwald before the Allies took that northern concentration camp.

No Food For Days

They had been squeezed like cattle into freight cars, where they were kept for 21 days, 80 to a car. According to their testimony they were left without food for five days, and thereafter given mere scraps.

In the crematory there was a stench that may be the strongest men turn pale and flee to the outside for air. In two rooms of this institution were naked bodies, bearing the signs of horrible torture and piled to the ceiling. The SS (Elite Guard) guards had been unable to complete their task of burning the emaciated bodies, though they worked in shifts of 30, two and one-half hours per shift and kept at it day and night.

There was evidence that a section of the prison camp had been given over to scientific experimentation on human beings to study the effects of various types of gas, varying air pressure, degrees of cold and sunburn.

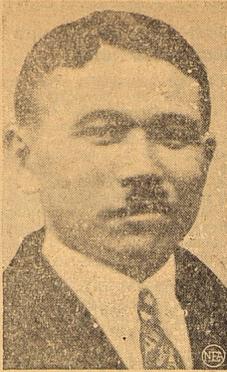

In February 6,004 deaths were recorded officially at the camp, from execution or other causes. Of these 4,007 were Jews.

THE AMERICAN HOUSE

IX
 SUMMER people were beginning to build cottages along our coast. We held them at an arm's length, though they tried hard to be friendly. We loved our bay the way you love anything you take for granted, and their admiration shamed us a little. At the same time we resented the extravagant way they talked about it. What we called "a nice view," they called "a superb vista." A plain sandbar was to them "bewitching" and a coarse growth of marsh grass "too lovely for words."

They spent hours on end in the graveyard, looking at the inscriptions on the stones. "Did you see this one?" they would call, reading it out loud. "Isn't it quaint and frightful?"

People were "quaint," too. Cap'n Pettigrew, blowing his horn. Mr. Giddings, singing his hymns as he worked.

Sometimes they went bathing, wearing special suits and hats designed for that purpose. (We always wore cast-off winter dresses that stained the water where we stood.) But they never stayed in very long. The water was too cold, they said, the shore too rocky. Few of them could swim, but they joined hands and ducked merrily.

We saw a good deal of them at the American House. They often waited for the stage on our piazza, waving their walking sticks against a post. ("Walking sticks!" Mrs. Guphill scoffed. "Their legs are as good as ours.") Sometimes they would spend an hour or two there, talking among themselves. So-and-so was up a point, they said, or down. Sometimes they used our telephones, since the lines didn't go to the Narrows, where most of them had their cottages. They could never remember to ring the bell, and when they talked they didn't say "Hello" like the rest of us, but "Yes" or "Are you there?" They were all demanding.

Sometimes they wanted ice water, sometimes a palm-leaf fan. Sometimes they wanted an errand run. It used to get under our skins a little.

"Of all the brass!" Sue used to say when they were out of hearing. (Sue was picking up all kinds of rough language.)

They were always in a hurry, though we couldn't see why, for they obviously had nothing to do with their time. Yet it irked them to have to wait for anything. "A full day late," they would exclaim when they got their New York papers. (As though the world could change in 24 hours, we thought.)

The women were the talkers. They had a good deal to say about Alice Roosevelt, Bar Harbor, bridge whist, and a new sickness known as appendicitis. (Just a fancy name for plain inflammation of the bowels, it was, my father said.) They talked about fashions, too. Mesh bags. Lavalieres. Bloomers. Crepon Crepu. Libellula blue. They spoke of Paris and Naples as though they were Bangor and Augusta. "Remember that winter on the Riviera..."

The men were for the most part docile and weary. It seemed to us that more than anything else they wanted to find a quiet place and stay there. But there was little chance of that. No sooner had their wives finished discussing the past winter than they began to plan the one ahead. "Where can we go next?" they would demand a little petulantly. "We've been to..." Then they would begin to count the places off on their fingers. Sometimes it took both hands.

We had to be civil to them. They paid high taxes, my father reminded us. They were bringing the coast a boom that it badly needed. They hired carpenters, cooks, table girls, gardeners. They bought local supplies. Besides, they brought us business. Almost every afternoon one or two of them rented a buggy or a surrey and joggled around the village, looking quite proud of themselves. (Most of them had left their automobiles behind, preferring what they called "the simple life.")

"How's for the sorrel today?" they would say airily, calling Benjamin by name just as though they had always known him.

"Maybe." He used to take a good deal of satisfaction in keeping them waiting.

MORE than anything else we resented their tipping. We weren't accustomed to handing money around for favors. If you were a child and did an errand for a neighbor, you didn't expect any pay, except a cookie, maybe, if she happened to be baking. Strangers sometimes offered you pennies after you had spoken a piece or sung a song, but if you were well brought up, you never took them. Yet the summer people handed out dimes and quarters right and left, not only to the children but to men and women as well for nothing at all. We took it as an insult, a bribe, an implication that we wouldn't have done a good job otherwise.

Our first experience came in the dining room. One Sunday Aha found a quarter under a napkin. "That's a funny place to drop money," she said, "Run and give it to the people who sat here."

I got to the piazza just as Benjamin was appearing with their surrey. "You left this, sir," I said, extending the quarter.

The man squinted at it. "Why, it's a tip," he wheezed. "For the waitress."

I didn't know what a tip was then. But I took it back reluctantly, avoiding Aha's eyes. "It's for you," I told her. "The man said so."

Her face flamed. She seized the quarter, dashed out the door and after the surrey, which was fast disappearing. Ten minutes later she returned, perspiring and grimy with dust. "I guess he won't try that again," she said angrily.

That man never did.

Saluting Nazis Still Have Empty Stomachs

SAN ANGELO —(P)— Still refusing to discontinue the Nazi straight-arm salute, 1,200 German prisoners at the Brady prisoner of war camp were kept on a diet of bread and water Tuesday.

The order to abandon the Nazi salute came last Thursday and when one compound refused, all food was ordered removed.

Col. Robert G. Saxon, commanding officer of the camp, said other prisoners are cooperating.

German Youth And Old People Are Holding Destiny Of Fatherland

By HAL BOYLE

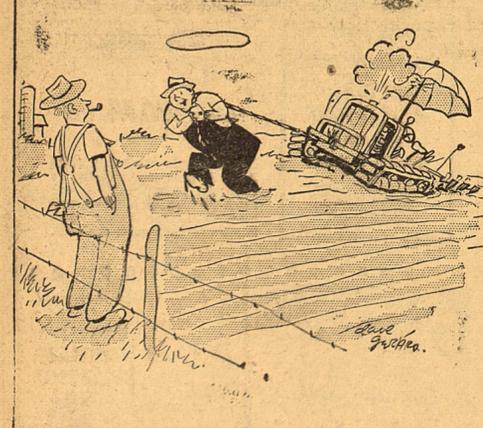

WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY —(P)— German boys in knee pants, buxom hausfraus, girls and elderly men and women whose place would be at the fireside in normal times have taken the salvation of Germany into their hands.

With millions of German sons and husbands killed or prisoners, and other hundreds of thousands still serving in a lost war, the burden of sustaining the Reich's economic life has fallen on the children, wives and old folk. They are tilling Germany's beautiful rolling green acres, filling in bomb and shell cratered fields and repairing damaged homes to make them at least livable.

Plowing And Planting

Old men and sturdy young women wearing the blue trousers that are the almost national civilian uniform are plowing and planting. Old women and children are raking hay in the upper pasture land. They come out of their cellars and start building toward their old life with incredible industry.

That's the one thing that impresses you most as you drive through German towns and countryside. These people seem to realize that no one can save them now but themselves and already they are channeling into rebuilding activities the energy they have poured into the war for five and a half years.

Chandler Is Ready To Fight For 4-F Players

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Baseball's commissioner-elect, Sen. A. B. "Happy" Chandler, is ready to fight for the right of 4-F ball players to play baseball.

"Just because a man's able to play two hours of a certain sport is no indication that he is fit for military service," the Kentucky senator said in an interview.

"I believe a 4-F is a 4-F regardless of what his profession might be. Merely because a man is a baseball player and a 4-F doesn't mean his draft board should reclassify him and put him into the service."

Chandler said he had heard of cases where just such things had happened.

Classified Racing Stand

The commissioner-elect used his press conference Tuesday to clarify his stand on horse racing as it concerns baseball.

He advised players and umpires to stay away from the race tracks to avoid possible public censure, but at the same time said he saw no reason to attach a stigma to racing or to men connected with it.

"I attend the Kentucky Derby every year when possible," the senator said, "x x x and I will feel free to continue to do so. I am not going to try to be a dictator and I think a person can be interested in horse racing without being a menace to baseball."

Chandler is making his first of a series of visits to major league club owners, preparatory to adding his duties as commissioner. He came to St. Louis Tuesday to witness the raising of the American League pennant by the St. Louis Browns but had to remain until Wednesday night when the rain washed out the Browns' celebration.

Joe Haynes Pitches Chicago To One-Hit Job Over Bengals

JY JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Joe Haynes owned the best pitched game of the infant American League season Wednesday on a one-hit job against Detroit that eased Manager Jimmy Dykes' worries about Bill Dietrich's sore arm.

Although the Chicago White Sox were sailing along in first place at a 6-2 win pace, Dykes was beginning to wonder how long it could last after Dietrich underwent an operation for removal of four bone chips from his pitching elbow. The doctors said the bespectacled ace would be lost for at least a month.

Regular Starter

Now Haynes can be counted as a regular starter along with Thornton Lee, Orval Grove and Ed Lopat.

It took a single over second base in the third inning by Skeeter Webb, who was traded to Detroit by Chicago last winter, to spoil a no-hit bid by the 27-year-old veteran of seven big league seasons.

Only 23 Tiger batters faced Haynes Tuesday as he tossed the 5-0 shutout that spoiled the Bengals' first place drive.

Roy Schalk drove home three of Chicago's scores with a triple and single as the Sox knocked out starter Walter Wilson, a recruit from Buffalo. Les Mueller, a discharged serviceman, allowed one hit in four relief innings but the damage was done.

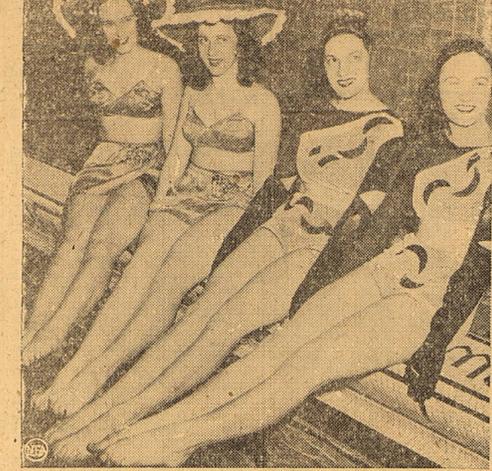

Skeeter Newsome was the big gun in Boston's attack as the Red Sox squeezed past Washington, 5-4, for their fourth straight after losing their first eight games.

All other games were postponed.

Texas A & M Adds Three New Coaches

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Three additions to the Texas A&M coaching staff were listed Wednesday by Homer Norton, director of athletics.

Barton (Bochey) Koch, all-American guard at Baylor in the early thirties and later a coach at Baylor and Tulsa, was named assistant Aggie coach and scout.

John Frankie, former Rice athlete who has been coach at Milby High School, Houston, will become head basketball mentor. Col. Frank Anderson returns as head track coach. Both Frankie and Col. Anderson will assist in other sports.

Summer football practice will start the first week in June.

Senators May Lose Two More Pitchers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two of the Washington Senators' veteran pitchers, Mickey Haefner, lone southpaw, and Dutch Leonard, may be lost to the armed forces.

Haefner took a pre-induction physical examination at Baltimore and rejoined his teammates in Boston Tuesday without learning his status. Leonard will be examined in Illinois and join the club in St. Louis next week.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Green-toro club of the newly-organized Carolina League claims to have the oldest rookie in organized baseball in Pitcher Ossie Buckner, who will be 34 on June 30. . . . Couldn't Happy Chandler put in a claim for that title? . . . To prevent false starts at track meets, Lt. (jg) Ralph F. Ward of the Iowa Navy pre-flight school proposes that the starter should stand behind the runners so he can detect the preliminary moves. . . . They did even better at the Penn relays when the starter climbed to the top of a tower used by the finish-line judges before firing the gun for Gunder Haegg's handicap race.

NO SAFETY IN NUMBERS

When the Dodgers played the St. Albans, L. I., Naval Hospital team on Monday, Rookie Ray Hathaway had to strike out four men and retire five to get the sailors out in one inning. . . . When Lloyd Bucy swung at a third strike, for the second whiffing, Clyde Sukeforth dropped the ball then pegged to first. . . . The teams were changing sides when someone noticed that Augie Galan hadn't touched the bag. Bucy ran out of the dugout, touched first and ran on to second, where he was called safe. . . . Hathaway issued a walk and Sukeforth dropped another third strike to fill the bases before the Dodger pitcher bore down and fanned Pete Corey with the bases full.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Byrill Thompson, 18-year-old Minneapolis high school kid who tossed the discus 176 feet 4 1/2 inches for a national scholastic record at Aberdeen, S. D., last week, works out under U. of Minnesota coaches. But the Army is due to get him before the Gophers.

SERVICE DEPT.

The Maxwell Field, Ala., baseball team claims the "exhibition championship" of the Southern Association on the strength of two victories each over Birmingham and Mobile and one over Atlanta. . . . Camp Wolters, Texas, is getting some of its best boxing exhibitions in a couple of years from 1,000 men from the Hawaiian Islands who are taking basic training there. Star performers are Heavyweight Paul Garcia and Lightweight Yoshito Yoshino.

Little Fellows Will Have Place In Games

CHICAGO — (AP) — Collegiate football will have to make room after the war for the little fellows—the kids who proved in foxholes and jungles that brawn wasn't everything, says Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, new Western Conference athletic director. He thinks that returning servicemen won't be content with sitting in the grandstands, no matter how pint-sized they may be.

Some may be able to make the varsity grade, Wilson said, but for the majority a new bracket of competition must be installed — full schedules for players under 150 pounds.

LESS OOMPAAH ON THE MOUNTAIN

? YES NO

Any man's chestful of mountain air—compared to his chestful at ground level—can't blare out as much of an oompah. For mountain air is thinned, but up in the Rockies—or out on the plains—or anywhere else right now—it's this air of Spring that's really important! It warns of danger to your car, crying for the real thorough safety of a Springtime change to Conoco Nth motor oil—a change that will OIL-PLATE your engine's insides!

Patented Conoco Nth oil includes an added life-saver—an extra ingredient. This product of long costly research adds little to price, but it bonds protective lubricant to metals direct, in the form of OIL-PLATING—an extra that goes even beyond Conoco Nth oil's great liquid film to curb grinding wear!

Another great quality of OIL-PLATING is its resistance to acids. They're always part of combustion, but they can't freely corrode OIL-PLATED parts. Save those parts to save oil and gasoline—to conserve power and your battery—to fight carbon and sludge. It pays to remember that exactly what you want is Conoco Nth oil—today.
