FBI Launches Record Manhunt For Bandit In Texas Robbery

By FRANCIS E. BARDEN OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—Matt Kimes, last of the bandit chieftains who terrorized the Southwest a score of years ago, was sought Saturday night in this area's biggest manhunt since the days of Pretty Boy Floyd. Kimes, the FBI charged, used a leave from the state penitentiary where he was serving two life terms for slaying officers to engineer the $17,000 robbery of the First State Bank of Morton, Texas, last Sept. 5. As word went out Kimes was wanted, veteran peace officers, many with scores to settle with the criminal leader of an outlaw gang specializing in double and triple bank robberies, oiled their guns and took up the hunt. All were cautioned by D. A. Bryce, head of the FBI here and nationally known quick-draw artist, to use care if the met up with the fugitive. Kimes Heavily Armed Bryce said Kimes was sporting two six-shooters and a 30-30 Winchester rifle at last reports. Westerners who have watched Bryce draw and shoot a pistol during the time it took a coin to fall from his forehead to his waist were excited over the prospects of a meeting between Kimes, an old-school gunman, and the modernized Bryce. Oldtimers said Bryce uses a modern version of the quick-draw, pulling and shooting his weapon in one long, smooth motion. The old school, they said, prescribed a draw in three stages—snatching the gun from a holster, cocking it, and firing when the weapon leveled. In Washington J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, spurred on his men with a statement Kimes was "one of the most vigorously sought fugitives" in the nation. Said Had Learned Lesson Kimes had served 18 years in McAlester Penitentiary when he told the Pardon and Parole Board he had learned his lesson and the board gave him two leaves to gather evidence to support his parole request. The "Kid Outlaw" of the 1920's was serving life terms for murdering Sheriff Perry Chuculeate in a Sequoyah County bank robbery and for slaying Police Chief W. J. McAnnally during a triple bank holdup at Beggs, Okla. Bryce said there was no doubt Kimes was involved in the Texas bank robbery, carried out by three men who lined up patrons at a pin-point while the fourth, a "fin-gin man," stayed in the back-ground. Two other men are held in connection with the robbery and a third is sought. "I wouldn't hazard an opinion as to whether Kimes is within 10 miles or a thousand miles of here," the FBI man said. "We're hunting everywhere."

Bond Sales Tuesday Will Honor Midland Servicemen

Victory Bonds for the Victors! A day for citizens to buy Victory Bonds in tribute and honor to all Midland County servicemen and servicewomen is scheduled Tuesday. Watchwords are: "The Boys and Girls Are Coming Home and They Are Watching What You Do." Officials will be on duty in Midland's banks all day to sell Victory Bonds or take orders by telephone. Midland, which never has failed to meet a bond quota, is short in the current Victory drive. E series bond sales total $102,768.75 against a quota of $335,000. Overall sales amount to $494,621.75 toward a quota of $985,000. Challenge Issued The citizenry was issued a frank, man-to-man message as to "Why Buy Victory Bonds" by John P. Butler, campaign chairman: "To help bring our service men and women home; to help take care of the sick and wounded; to rehabilitate discharged veterans." That for the Armed Forces. What of the country and the individual? "To help reduce the hazards of inflation and provide a stabilizing influence to our national economy; to support and maintain armies of occupation; to meet the expenses of terminating the war. To provide personal financial security; to attain such personal goals as home ownership, educating children, or starting a business. Friday night at a "sock supper" at Prairie Lea, more than $1,000 worth of bonds were sold. Butler, Mrs. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Herd, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hogan, attended from Midland. Bond Rally At MAAF A big Bond Rally is slated Dec. 2 at the Midland Army Air Field. It will be held in the Service Club. MAAF has bought more than $41,000 worth, but Bond sales there are behind quota. A person asked the other day, "What are my thanks for buying Victory Bonds?" "His thanks are the many gold-buttoned young men and women returning to his community or city," Butler said. "His security in a nation, which won the war. His warm feeling from having helped some wounded soldier still far away from home in a hospital. "His thanks are Victory and all it means."

Votes On Training Not Likely In 1945

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects for a House vote this year on universal military training faded Saturday as Chairman May (D-Ky.) expressed doubt that the military committee could finish hearings before 1946. Because of a desire to keep the highly controversial subject out of next year's Congressional elections, House leaders had hoped to dispose of the legislation before the Christmas vacation.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Conflict over the proposed sale of the "Big Inch" and "Little Inch" oil pipe lines broke out Saturday as representatives of Texas oil and gas producers and a New Yorker disclosed plans to purchase the pipe lines for use in moving natural gas rather than oil, and coal industry and railroad representatives condemned the idea.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special committee of the labor-management conference reported "no progress" Saturday night toward a compromise on a wage-bargaining resolution.

MANILA (AP)—Gruesome details of Japanese barbarities in the Philippines faded into the background at the war crimes trial of Gen. ## The New World Philosophy

There is some dispute about the exact wording of that short burst of invective between John L. Lewis and Philip Murray at the Labor-Management Conference.

One version has the UMW president saying "Nuts," and the head of the CIO coming back with "Nuts to you." But we prefer the following version:

Lewis: Nuts to you.
Murray: Nuts to you too, sir.
We like the second version for its slightly more scholarly expression, typical of these courtly adversaries. We like it because Lewis isn't one to let one word do the work of three, and Murray isn't one of a disposition to let Lewis get ahead of him in anything, even polite vituperation. (After all, he did address him as sir.) We like it most of all because it sums up quite aptly some of the principal troubles of this troubled world.

The nuts-to-you state of mind tells it all. It marks the attitude of contentious factions of labor, of these factions toward industry, and of industry toward them. It can be seen in the Army-Navy wrangle over a unified command. It probably could serve as a brief history of the late London conference of foreign ministers, with Molotov reading Lewis' lines, and Byrnes and Bevin taking Murray's reply.

The war inhibited the nuts-to-you state of mind something fierce. Heads of state and men of power realized that it was a rather dangerous attitude when security and survival were at stake. But now that victory is won, the old jealousies and animosities and suspended quarrels are, like June in the popular song of the same name, bustin' out all over.

Red-hot nationalism and power politics are working overtime. The Army and the Navy view each other with baleful and suspicious glare. Labor and management have retrieved their ball bats from the wartime parking place behind the door, and are belaboring the daylight hours of one another.

Nuts-to-you seems to be a world philosophy, the order of the immediate postwar day. It doesn't seem to worry the heads of state and men of power that security isn't secure and survival isn't certain. But what of the world brotherhood of John Does and Joe Doakes—the millions of gobs and buck privates who fought the war and are coming home, and the millions of civilians who stayed behind and worked?

Well, they can't do too much about it. But at least all of them can shout. And when they all shout together they can set up quite a holler. So maybe it's time they raised their combined voices and yelled something like this to the heads of state and the men of power—

"Nuts to you, sirs. Nuts to all of your empty words and haggling. Get on with the job!"

Heartening Experiments

A Russian scientist is reported to have grafted a second heart into the necks of animals, and to have made the experiment (and both hearts) work.

We are even more interested in the outcome of the experiment by world statesmen to remove mankind's heart from its collective throat, where it now lodges from fear of future war and atomic destruction, and restore it to its normal position where it may once again beat along at a normal rate.

On Way To Meet GI Husband, Woman And Son Freeze To Death

PARSHALL, N. D. —(AP)—Homecoming of Cpl. William S. Myers from overseas service with the Army was saddened Saturday by the finding of the frozen bodies of his 24-year-old wife and their small son, victims of a snowstorm a week earlier.

Discovery of the tragedy was delayed by the belief of Mrs. Myers' parents she had left their ranch home to meet Cpl. Myers on his return home. Search was not started until her ditched automobile was found Thursday in the Missouri River foothills country of the Elbowoods Indian Reservation.

Sheriff Charley Wheldon said Mrs. Myers apparently attempted to carry her son, who would have been three years old Friday, to shelter. The bodies were found a half-mile from a farmhouse and a mile and a half from the abandoned car.

Residents of Monte Carlo are not allowed entrance into the gambling casino.

Midland Woman's Brother Dies In Jap Prison Camp

Mrs. A. L. Barr, 508 Cuthbert St., Midland, has received word that her brother, S/Sgt. William B. Millikin, died March 24, 1945, in a Jap prison camp.

The radio technician, who was captured at Henderson Field, Manila, suffered from malnutrition and amebiasis at the hands of the Japanese.

Millikin, who lived in Sabinal in Uvalde County, went to the Philippines in 1941. He enlisted in the Army Air Forces in 1940.

After capture at Manila, he was shipped to Japan on one of the "horror transports".

His mother, Mrs. Maud Millikin, lives at Sabinal. She was notified of her son's death by the War Department Friday.

'Toughy' Irma Grese Sobs As Belsen Nazis Sentenced To Hang

LUENEBURG, GERMANY—(AP)—Josef Kramer and Irma Grese, the monarchs of Belsen, and nine of their staff were sentenced Saturday to be hanged for murders and atrocities at the Belsen and Oswiecim Concentration Camps.

Three women in all were ordered to the gallows. The trio heard the verdicts quietly, but later the blonde, pistol-toting Grese, 22, broke into sobs and another woman wept quietly.

Dr. Fritz Klein, SS doctor, also was among the 11 sentenced to death.

The high British military court which Friday convicted 30 of the Nazi torture specialists on war crimes charges—sentenced one man to life imprisonment, and five other men and 13 women to prison terms of from one to 15 years, totaling 179 years.

Saturday night defense counsel was preparing appeal petitions. The notices must be served within 48 hours. All the death sentences are expected to be appealed to Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery. The court, which could have decreed death before firing squads, decided upon hanging in the traditional manner of dealing with felons.

The courtroom was packed with German civilians and British soldiers witnessing the climax to the nine-week-old trial.

Santa Claus 'Secretary' Refutes Professor Who Says Idea Outmoded

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Santa's official secretary, by legislative act snuffed Saturday at the idea of a Baltimore professor thinking her "boss" is outmoded.

"If you don't have a Santa Claus, who is going to fill the stockings of the homeless?" observed Mrs. Warren Fountain, whose legal title is secretary of the Oklahoma Santa Claus Commission.

She was taking issue, in an interview, with Sociology Professor Ivan E. McDougle of Goucher College, who told the Baltimore News-Post: "The Santa Claus myth has lived too long in terms of child psychology. Children have to learn to get along."

"Mrs. Fountain, whose job is finding presents each year for the 3,000 Oklahoma children in state and privately owned institutions, said Santa was especially needed by her charges.

"Take Santa Claus away from them and who would they have to write to for presents?" she quired.

"We ask for letters from all of them every year and we see to it that they get what they want or, if it just can't be had, we try to find something a little better to help ease the disappointment.

"It's inconceivable for those children—or any other youngsters—to spend Christmas without a Santa Claus."

The bristly commander of the Third Fleet showed Houston a warm and friendly personality.

He projected it over the crowd while he told them that the end of the war offered America no hope of permanent peace unless preparedness is constantly maintained.

Later in a short press conference, the admiral turned his attention to such problems as the atomic bomb, unified command of the Army and Navy, American occupation policies in Japan and paid his tribute to the infantry soldier—"when it's all said and done the dirty old fighting doughboy is the final answer in any war."

Asked what he thought of Japan after traveling over it, the admiral promptly became emphatic on one of his old and favorite topics.

"Japan is a dirty, filthy, vermin-ridden country," he said. "I didn't find anything to like about it. It's a rat hole and the rats can stay there."

Admiral Halsey Given Ovation At Houston

HOUSTON—(AP)—The rest of the world is looking to the United States for leadership in peace and this nation must maintain its military might to preserve that hope of world salvation, Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey told a street-jamming throng here Saturday after receiving its glamorous welcome to Houston.

"It is my great hope," the admiral said, "that we have learned our lesson from the war we have just finished."

But, he said, "we must be ready at all times to prevent the possibility of a few men ever again saying whether or not the world is to have war. We don't want those rats ever to rise again, and the best way to keep them down is to remain powerful."

The admiral's command of the Third Fleet showed Houston a warm and friendly personality.

He projected it over the crowd while he told them that the end of the war offered America no hope of permanent peace unless preparedness is constantly maintained.

Later in a short press conference, the admiral turned his attention to such problems as the atomic bomb, unified command of the Army and Navy, American occupation policies in Japan and paid his tribute to the infantry soldier—"when it's all said and done the dirty old fighting doughboy is the final answer in any war."

Asked what he thought of Japan after traveling over it, the admiral promptly became emphatic on one of his old and favorite topics.

"Japan is a dirty, filthy, vermin-ridden country," he said. "I didn't find anything to like about it. It's a rat hole and the rats can stay there."

Fullerton Field Wildcat Flows Oil From Ellenburger Zone

N-W Andrews Deep Discovery Tests For Estimated 75-100 BOPH Yield

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Fullerton Oil Company No. 9-A H. M. Wilson estate, on the west side of the Fullerton field in Northwest Andrews County, has shown for commercial oil production from the Ellenburger.

Located 1,988 feet from west and 1,985 feet from north lines of section 16, block A-32, psi survey, the project flowed at an estimated rate of between 75 and 100 barrels of high gravity oil per hour, during a drillstem test late Friday, at 9:37-9:35 feet.

The tool was open 25 minutes, according to the best information obtainable. The water blanket started flowing in 17 minutes and clean oil started coming out of the drill-pipe in 22 minutes.

Oil flowed for at least three minutes, and some sources say it flowed for eight minutes before the test was closed.

Gravity of the petroleum was said to be between 38 and 40 degrees. Due To Drill Ahead.

It was understood operator was to drill ahead to determine how much Ellenburger pay the project had. The discovery is about one and three-quarter miles east and about three-quarters of a mile south of a dry hole drilled by Magnolia Petroleum Company in section 12, block A-37, psi survey, to 10,991 feet.

This is the first Ellenburger oil developed in Northwest Andrews County, and gives the Fullerton field production from four separate horizons. The San Andres and Clear Fork of the Permian, the Devonian, and the Ellenburger.

So far the San Andres production is confined to a couple of small pumpjacks on the edge of the district. The Clear Fork pay is one of the best producing horizons in the Permian Basin, and the Devonian production which has been developed on the southeast side of the region is very satisfactory.

Important Discovery
The No. 9-A Wilson discovery is regarded as extremely important. Any Ellenburger well that will flow from 75 to 100 barrels per hour, from the top of the formation, is regarded as a major discovery.

Informed sources report the top of the Ellenburger is between 9,905 feet and 9,910 feet. Elevation is 3,372 feet.

There is proven production from the Clear Fork on three sides of new well—north, east and west in offsets, and a short distance to the south.

It is expected that other Ellenburger explorations in the area will be announced shortly.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company
No. 1 Williamson, Northwest Ector County wildcat, in northeast corner of section 5, block 45, TP survey, T-1-N, was taking a drillstem test to total depth of 8,120 feet, in the top of the Devonian.

A steel-line measurement made at 8,110 feet equal to 8,112 feet. A core at 8,112-20 feet, recovered three feet of white, crystalline limestone and gray and white smoky chert, with some fluorescence, and some fractures, with some signs of oil. After the core had been pulled operator went in with the testing tool.

Will Test Shows
Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 Altman, Northwest Garza County

exploration, in southeast quarter of section 1255, TT survey, was on total depth of 9,603 feet, in lime said to be Ellenburger, and was casing out cement on 5 1/2-inch casing which had been set at 9,539 feet, with 100 sacks of cement.

Unofficial sources reported that the exploration entered Ellenburger at about 9,175 feet, on an elevation of 2,967 feet. It is understood that the section between bottom of the pipe and the total depth had some slight indications of petroleum. Those indications are to be tested as soon as the cement is removed from the uncased horizon.

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-B TXL, in southeast corner of southeast quarter of section 17, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S, one location diagonally northwest of the initial Ellenburger producer on the southeast side of the TXL field, completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 1,200.60 barrels of 43 gravity oil, natural, from pay at 9,670-9,846 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 1.097-1.

The Texas Company No. 1-D Fraser, in section 27, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S, West Ector County wildcat, about two miles east of closest production on southeast side of the TXL field, was to drill ahead after a drillstem test at 9,565-9,757 feet, in the Silurian, recovered 150 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil or gas, during a one hour and 20 minute period.

Connell Drills Ahead
Texas Co. No. 29 Connell, in northwest quarter of section 9, block B-16, psi survey, in Southwest Ector, had reached 3,405 feet, and was boring ahead in lime and chert.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Muir, Southwest Crane County
prospector, in southwest corner of section 23, block B-27, psi survey, was botomed at 6,137 feet, in lower Simpson lime and sand, shut-down waiting for orders.
A drillstem test at 6,120-37 feet, open for one hour, recovered 75 feet of drilling mud and 575 feet of sulphur water, with no shows of oil or gas.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Elsinore, Central-South Pecos County
exploration, in section 53, block D, GC&SF survey, 25 miles south of Fort Stockton, had reached 9,661 feet, and was drilling ahead in unreported formation.

Reeves Wildcat Digs
Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 Roberts, in section 294, block 13, H&GN survey, in Southeast Reeves County, had progressed below 7,016 feet in the Delaware.

Argo No. 1 Mitchell, East Presidio County wildcat, was on total depth of 1,475 feet, waiting for plug to core on 13 3/8-inch casing set at 201 feet, with 100 sacks of cement. It will drill ahead when the plug is punctured.

Sohio Petroleum Company No. 1 Faver, Northeast Nolan County
exploration, in northeast quarter of section 50, block 21, TP survey, was reported to be remaining the hole to total depth at 5,700 feet, in the Strawn-Pennsylvanian.

When that work is finished another drillstem test was scheduled to be attempted. The project has shown some free oil and some slightly salty water.

Airplane On Pipe-Line Patrol

Humble Pipe Line Company officials gathered at Houston Municipal Airport recently to greet the arrival of the first plane scheduled for pipe-line patrol duty between Baytown and McComb. Left to right; Pilot R. R. Roberts, Assistant General Superintendents H. M. Stevenson and F. D. McMahon; A. E. Payne, superintendent of the Southern Division; and F. O. Perry, District superintendent at Pierce Junction.

Mid-Co To Dig Ellenburger Wildcat In Eunice Area; 8,000-Ft. Project Is Staked In Extreme N-W Roosevelt

HOBBES, N. M.—Locations for a 3,500-foot wildcat to test the Ellenburger in the Eunice area of East Lea County, and for an 8,000-foot exploration in undeveloped territory in the panhandle section of Northwest Roosevelt County, were reported Saturday.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 A. L. Christmas, 1-800 feet from south and east lines of the west half of the southeast quarter of section 17-22s-37e, is to drill to a possible depth of 3,500 feet to test for pay in the Ellenburger.

It is about one and one-half miles southwest of Neville C. Penrose, Inc., No. 1 Federal-Penrose, recent discovery for lower Ordovician production in the southeast quarter of section 9-22s-37e. Operator is moving in material for the project.

In Panhandle Area
The Northwest Roosevelt County prospector will be Southern Union Gas Company No. 1 Lucas, located 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 5-2n-30e. It is on a block of approximately 10,000 acres.

The wildcat is about 20 miles northwest of Portales, and is near the town of Tolar and about on a line between Clovis and Fort Sumner. Drilling is to start shortly.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 8 Greenwood, in section 9-22s-37e, in the Paddock-Drinkard district of Southeast Lea County, has shown for oil in that formation.

In a drillstem test a 5,093-5,260 feet, open for one hour and 40 minutes, the project showed gas at the surface in six minutes; drilling mud at surface in 23 minutes, and oil flowed at the top in 34 minutes.

The oil was turned to tanks, and in 60 minutes it flowed 52,226 barrels of clean oil. Gas-oil ratio was 700-1. When the drill pipe was broken down, recovery was 842 feet of oil, 60 feet of salt water, and 20 feet of drilling mud.

Operator is boring ahead to test lower sections in the Permian, and at last report the drill had reached 5,585 feet, and was still going.

Free Oil In King Test
Carl B. King Drilling Company, et al, No. 1 Santa Fe, in northwest quarter of section 29-9s-37e, in extreme Northeast Lea County, was swabbing to test late Saturday, on a total depth of 4,986 feet, in San Andres lime.

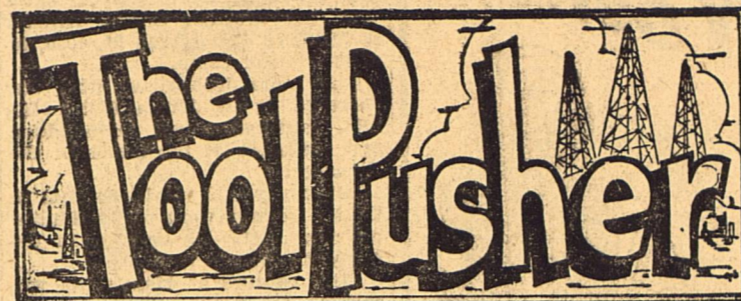

After failing to develop any oil above 4,965 feet, following treatment with 2,000 gallons of acid up to 4,915 feet, operators drilled to 4,986 feet, and treated the entire wildcat, was on total depth of 4,247 feet in lime, and was to run and cement 8 5/8-inch casing before resuming drilling.

Other Andrews Tests
Sinclair Prairie Oil Company No. 1 Bedford, Southwest Andrews County exploration, in northwest corner of section 10, block 73, psi survey, had progressed under 10,750 feet in lime and shale.

Sinclair Prairie No. 1 Ratliff, in southeast quarter of section 25, block 73, also in Southwest Andrews, had penetrated to 10,716 feet in shale and lime.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Martin, in southwest corner of section 12, block A-47, psi survey, in West-Central Andrews, had reached 8,140 feet in lime.

YALE GEOLOGY CHIEF TO SPEAK HERE MONDAY

—Dr. Chester R. Longwell, chairman of the department of geology, Yale University, New Haven, Conn., will address the West Texas Geological Society at 7:30 Monday night in the Midland County district courtroom.

Title of the lecture will be, "Geology of the Basin Ranges—Revelations and Problems."
—Longwell received his Ph. D. from Yale, and since 1916 has been in the university's geology department, and its chairman since 1933.

—He has been associated with the USGS since 1920 and holds the title of geologist with that organization at this time.

—He has been studying the Basin Ranges of Southern Nevada and Western Arizona since 1919. The Basin-and-Range region west of the Colorado plateau is said to be squeezed in there—and the cement did not go to the surface then.

—Informed sources say this 5,000-sack batch at 2,920 feet, is the largest amount of cement ever used for a squeeze job. Griffith is planning to locate the top of the cement behind the pipe in No. 1 Thornberry and squeeze in more of the material until it runs out at the surface.

—His second record was in drilling Placid's No. 5 Horton, in the Reddin field, in North Taylor County, about 15 miles northwest of Abilene.

—A rotary rig was moved to the location Nov. 12, and the hole was spudded late that day. After 72 hours of drilling—late on the afternoon of Nov. 15, Griffith set the oil string at 2,600 feet, in this well.

—Still another record was made when the Penrod crew on the Reddin field rig set oil string on Placid's No. 4 Horton at 9 a. m. on Nov. 12—then had the rig moved to No. 5 Horton—and spudded on No. 5 Horton late the same afternoon.

HALL IS NEW RRC DISTRICT ENGINEER
—James A. Hall, recently released from the U. S. Army, after serving since 1940, has joined the Midland office of the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission of Texas as district petroleum engineer.

—Hall graduated from Texas A&M College in 1937 and was employed by the commission from that time until he went into the Army, as a second lieutenant. He served in the Pacific area, and was released as a captain.

—He was an engineer for the Houston district office of the commission when Ford Fullingim, now deputy supervisor of the Midland district, was in charge of that office.

—Hall's assignment to the West Texas district as engineer is in line with a recently adopted policy of the commission of employing graduate, experienced engineers to work with the oil operators in handling production and conservation problems. That program of the state regulatory body was approved by the recent session of the Texas Legislature and its being put into practice should be beneficial to the petroleum industry and to the state.

MORROW IS INSPECTOR WITH REGULATORY BODY
—John T. Morrow is now in the Midland district office of the Railroad Commission, working as an inspector. He has been employed by oil companies in practical field work.

MANY OIL WORKERS ON 40-HOUR WEEK BASIS
—Many Midland oil offices, and field men working under the headquarters here, have and/or, going on 40-hour weeks. In practically all instances where the new arrangement has been put into effect, employees have been given 15 per cent pay increases, over previous base pay rates.

—Several Midland oil offices are not opening for work on Saturday.

JESTER WILL BE IN AREA DURING WEEK
—Beauford H. Jester, member of the Railroad Commission of Texas, is scheduled to be in Midland, and

142 Oil Applications Made During Week

AUSTIN (AP)—The Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission reported Saturday a total of 142 drilling applications for the past week. This brings the total for the year to 6,114 as compared with 6,136 for the same period in 1944.

For the week Nov. 12-17 there were 98 oil well completions, 18 gas well completions and 7 wild cats drilled, bringing the year's totals to 3,413 oil, 707 gas, and 125 wildcats as compared with 3,160; 279 and 162 respectively for 1944.

The total average daily allowable was 2,032,551 barrels, an increase of 5,979 over that for last week.

JESSE ROBBINS IS NOW U. S. ARMY SERGEANT
—It's Sgt. Jesse D. Robbins now. The former Sinclair Prairie Oil Company scout won his three stripes in October. He is in charge of the claims section of the main finance office at the U. S. Army Separation Center at Fort Bliss, El Paso.

—Jesse expects to get his release soon and be back in Midland and the oil business.

LYNCH BACK ON JOB AS STANOTEX SCOUT
—Jesse R. Lynch, recently released from the Army Air Forces after several years service, has rested and now is back at his old job, scouting for Standard Oil Company of Texas.

SPOC WILL BUY OIL FROM CRANE DISCOVERY
—Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company is laying a temporary 1 7/8 mile pipe line from the recent Devonian-Ellenburger discovery of The Atlantic Refining Company, in its No. 1-A-31 University, in East Crane County, to a connection with the T-NMPLC Wink-Crane trunk line.

—It is reported that the discovery will be allowed 180 barrels per day from the Devonian and 220 barrels per day from the Ellenburger. The oil is to be run for the account of the crude oil marketing division of Sinclair Prairie Oil Company.

BROTHERS KILLED AFTER ATTENDING DAD'S FUNERAL
LINCOLN, ILL.—(AP)—Two brothers returning from their father's funeral were killed and the locomotive and 11 cars of an Alton Railroad passenger train left the rails when the train and their light truck collided near Lincoln.

The dead were Alvin T. Byrne Jr., 46, Mt. Vernon, Ill., and Myler Byrne, 47, Decatur, Ill.

Aloha Means Goodbye

Veteran football men call Herman Wedemeyer, Hawaiian-Chinese Special of Saint Mary's, the finest back they have ever seen.

DOWN SPORTSLANE

TANNER LAINE

Was watching a Chinese bombardier see the football game Friday night. And would give a lot of cents to know what he was thinking. Here he was a jillion miles from his troubled home and there he sat watching the American way of life. This I betcha—he liked football. Betcha more he likes the American way of life. When his home country, how many years from now, is sending football teams to play Tokyo, this little corner opines the war business is licked. Nowhere but in America do kids hang away at each other and then pick each other up. We hope that Chinese boy likes that.

Saw a sprinkling of exes around Midland High at the pep rally the other day. There was Jimmy Watson, tall all-district end, who made Texas U. a fine lineman, Bill Richards, classy back, is in the Army but still can toss a football around. Chasley Kelly, Bulldog great, of a few seasons back, was on hand. Bobby Hyatt, slim end, was another one. E. G. (Docie) Foster, who used to really pop 'em, was mingling with the boys. As was Wilford Lester, jet-propulsion end, not so long ago. Speaking of exes we hear that Red Roy is playing first line with an Army team and so is Bill Stickney.

Here is a picture story special to the Midland High Bulldogs. It shows Yank end, Keith Ransport, literally pulling down Steve Bagarus of the Redskins. It illustrates the same old story that we have heard so long—tackling and blocking win football games. The play-for-money pros know it—hence above illustration. College ball clubs know it. Minnesota preached it as grid gospel for years and look at their record. Midland can use it and make Lamesa's Tornados neekier than the air in an oxygen tent.

Dogies Outlast B Bulldogs, 7-2

BIG SPRING—A valiant 55-yard march died on the 5-yard line in the fading fourth quarter and Midland Bulldog B lost to Big Spring's Dogies, 7 to 2, Saturday night.

Jack Little and Dewey Kirby advanced Midland five yards from promised-land paydirt as the timer's watch ticked seconds. It was first and five to go but four stabs failed. Kirby was forced out of bounds on the last try.

Midland scored a safety in the third quarter, blocking George Worrell's punt. The ball skidded over the end zone. Midland recovered.

The Dogies tallied in the first quarter. Worrell, a halfback, plunged 10 yards over his own right side to climax a 55-yard drive downfield. Paul Shafer, fullback, placekicked goal.

Two Hunters In Mason County Shot To Death

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—Two deer hunters in Mason County have been killed since the season opened Friday.

M/Sgt. J. W. Guthrie of Laredo was found shot to death early Saturday morning on a hunting lease southeast of Mason, Sheriff R. L. Whitehead of Mason reported to the Standard-Times Saturday.

W. S. McCoy, Fort Worth, was killed accidentally Friday morning when his gun fell to the ground and discharged. McCoy bled to death from a wound in his leg.

Whitehead said he was holding a Mason man for investigation in Guthrie's death. He gave no other details.

Three other hunters in the county were wounded, the sheriff reported. F. J. Piper, Rowena, fell from a tree, breaking his hip, and H. C. Parlin, San Angelo, was knocked from a horse, fracturing several ribs. A third unidentified hunter was treated for gunshot wounds in the leg, the sheriff said.

Democratic Executive Raps Baptists Over Truman Resolution

DALLAS—(AP)—W. H. Kitzrell, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, said here Saturday night that "it seems to me a great Christian denomination could find something more pressing to concern itself with than rumors about the personal habits of our President."

Kitzrell referred to a resolution passed by the Baptist General Convention at Fort Worth Thursday which took note of Truman's "reported attitude toward gambling and drinking."

"History will judge Truman," Kitzrell said in a statement, "not on bourbon and poker or bridge and cocktails, but on how wisely he led this, our own great nation, in the hour of its greatest responsibility and opportunity for Christianity and civilization. . . . Let our churches fall in and help our country's leader in this perilous time; let them aid and encourage him in his great task, instead of taking up petty gossip of the talebearers."

The Democratic Party executive declared that: "When the world is as full of evil, sorrow and injustice as it is today; when millions of Christians are facing death right now through cold and hunger; when multitudes of little children are crying for food and trembling with cold, it seems to me that a great Christian denomination could find something more pressing to concern itself with than rumors about the personal habits of the great American who is our President."

The resolution adopted by the convention reads: "Because of the reported attitude of the President of the United States as a Baptist toward gambling and drinking and because of the invitation of Baylor University to confer upon him the high recognition of an honorary degree, I move that we instruct the trustees of all our colleges and universities not to confer any honorary degree on those holding such a position."

"President Truman," Kitzrell declared, "in keeping with the finest concepts of Christian teaching is asking that representatives of our nation give from our great store a billion dollars to feed and clothe our helpless, hungry Allies, through the United Nations Relief Organization, and he is seeking to establish justice in a war-wounded world."

"Somehow I feel that his words and deeds on behalf of the suffering and the oppressed are not displeasing to Christ x x x."

SMU FINDS ARKANSAS EASY, WINS 21-0

DALLAS—(AP)—Youthful Doak Walker snapped Southern Methodist out of its losing ways Saturday as he pitched and ran the Mustangs to a 21-0 decision over an Arkansas team that furnished only passive resistance.

LEW JENKINS SIGNS CLEVELAND—(AP)—Former Lightweight Champion Lew Jenkins, 29, discharged from the Coast Guard two weeks ago, signed Saturday to start his comeback trail against Jimmy Doyle of Los Angeles in a 10-round co-feature bout of the Cleveland News annual Christmas Fund Show Dec. 3.

Texas Powerhouses To Win Over TCU, 20-0

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas University powerhoused to a 20-to-0 football victory here Saturday over Texas Christian, remaining as a result very much in the Southwest Conference race.

The Horned Frog passing game featuring Freshman Leon Joslin of Waxahachie was a scoring threat throughout. It gained lots of yards, but the Horned Frogs lacked a goal line punch, and it was the Longhorns' game all the way.

The powerhouse Longhorns' own passing game netted them their first two touchdowns, but their ground power kept them in the lead. They merged with a total of 192 net yards rushing to minus five for the Horned Frogs, plus 92 yards gained in the air to Texas Christian's 154.

Midland Hunters Go Out In Force

Midland hunters scattered far and wide Saturday in search of deer and wild turkey, as several parties went out, and others planned to go Sunday.

The nimrods selected various targets for hunting operations. The Davis Mountains was a popular selection.

A party including Barney Grafa, his brothers, C. B. Grafa, Fort Worth, and Otis Grafa, Big Spring, was expected to leave Sunday.

Several of the oil fraternity are going hunting or already have gone. They include: C. S. Longcope, Leland Davison, Jim Dougherty, Jim Nolan, Hugh Corrigan, and John Richards.

J. Howard Hodge is on a trip. Other hunters include: Les Floyd, Jack Jones, Harry Rhodes, B. C. Girdley, and Tot Watlington.

Fred Turner and Ben Rogers shot in the early season at Silver City, N. M.

Paul McHargue was one of the first hunters to hit the hunting trail.

George Glass made a hunting trip for bigger game recently, hunting bear.

John Cornwall and Bill German bagged pheasants in Dakota earlier in the hunt season.

Oklahoma Aggies Beat Red Raiders, 46-6

STILLWATER, OKLA.—(AP)—There are many ways to score touchdowns in football and the Oklahoma Aggies showed the Texas Tech Red Raiders the complete stock as they rambled to a 46-6 victory Saturday.

With Coach Jim Lookabaugh cleaning his bench, the Aggies scored three touchdowns in the first quarter and then sailed through to their 17th straight collegiate victory.

All-America Halfback Bob Fenimore and Fullback Jim Reynolds got the Aggies off to a quick start on a host of spectacular plays.

Fenimore, leading the nation in yards gained on offense, played only 22 minutes but rushed 11 times for 62 yards and hit three out of three passes for 36 yards.

Fumbles, Penalties And Cisco Stun Midland 19-0

By TANNER LAINE

Cisco's long-passing Lobos from District 9-AA, with good downfield blocking, stunned Midland High's Bulldogs, 19 to 0, on the home gridiron Friday night.

Fumbles and penalties hurt. Midland drove to the two-yard stripe in the fourth quarter but an intercepted pass over the goal line stopped the drive with a touchback.

Cisco scored first in the second quarter. A long pass, Mac Harrelson, fullback, to S. Williams, end, netted 30 yards. This got the Lobos to the 28-yard line. Midland took over on downs but fumbled on the 11-yard line. Harrelson scampered to the 7. Elbert Tipton, halfback, edged to the 4. Harrelson carried over on a delayed kick. He placekicked goal.

The Lobos gobbled a Midland fumble on their own 48-yard line in the third quarter and converted the break into a score. Harrelson passed to Tipton, for 30 yards, in the left flat zone and he spurted 18 more yards for the counter. Harrelson's kick was wide.

Touchback Stops Drive

Late in the third Cisco tallied again. Jerry Farley, halfback, bruised over from the one-yard line. Cisco got there after fine running by Tipton behind waves of blocking. A pass for extra point was no good.

Fans thought Midland had scored a safety on the intercepted pass over the goal line in the fourth period. The Cisco interception of a forward pass behind the goal line on fourth down was an automatic touchback. The ball was put in play from scrimmage on the 20. If a safety, the ball must be put in play by a kick from the 20.

On three occasions, Midland invaded Cisco territory only to falter by fumble or penalty. The Bulldogs led in first downs and yards rushing. Cisco got the aerial yardage honor. And they sucked in the fumbles.

Injuries to key Bulldog men, Wilbur Yeager, Jimmy Edwards and Dunny Goode, affected Midland's play.

Game at a glance: Midland First Downs 6, Yards Gained Rushing 132, Yards Gained Passing 123, 4 of 15 Passes Completed 3 of 12, Passes Intercepted By 3, 5 for 193 Punts, No., Yards 7 for 240, 7 for 65 Penalties, No., Yards 3 for 35. TULSA—(AP)—Tulsa's Hurricane hit its stride in the second and third quarters to ground Baylor's sharp passing attack Saturday for a 26-7 football victory in a game marred by fumbles and interceptions.

Army Runs Over Penn Grid Team, 61 To 0

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Army's incredible team just about clinched its claim to gridiron immortality by overwhelming a supposedly strong University of Pennsylvania eleven, 61 to 0, before an awed crowd of 73,000 at Franklin Field Saturday.

Adm. Halsey Sees Rice Defeat Aggies, 6-0

HOUSTON—(AP)—Admiral Bull Halsey loves nothing better than a fight against odds and Saturday the Rice Owls rewarded him and a sellout throng of 29,000 persons with an uphill 6-0 victory over the Texas Aggies.

A fourth-period 26-yard pass from Jess Mason, Boling, Texas, back to right end Jack McBride of Navasota, was the payoff play, coming after the Aggies had shoved the Owls up and down the field, lacking only enough push to get the ball across the final stripe.

Mrs. Messick Gives Recipe For Baking Thanksgiving Turkey

Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, Midland County home demonstration agent, recommends selection of young turkeys with plenty of fat under the skin for the main dish on Thanksgiving Day. She said the body of the bird should be well rounded and the breast full-fleshed. To prepare the turkey, Mrs. Messick said, "First draw and groom the bird, then sprinkle the inside with salt. Stuffing or dressing should not be packed into the bird too tightly as it expands during cooking. A large piece of bread put in the openings will hold the dressing in place. After tucking the legs under the band of skin at the tail, rub the turkey with fat and add salt and pepper for baking. The agent recommends a shallow uncovered pan for cooking a young bird. It should be placed with the breast down on a rack to prevent sticking and to allow the hot air to circulate. If the bird is young, it is not necessary to add water. From 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 hours is the usual time needed to cook a turkey weighing from 10 to 13 pounds in a moderately hot oven, 300 F. Birds in the 14-17-pound group should be cooked at a temperature of 275 F. for five or six hours. Mrs. Messick reported that the bird should be basted frequently and turned at each basting to prevent the parts standing high in the oven from cooking faster than other parts.

DISGUISE BLEMISH WITH FOUNDATION

By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer. Even the best planned beauty care won't prevent an occasional bump from cropping up to spoil the smooth surface of your skin. Sometimes it is caused by too many sweets; other times bodily functions are slightly upset—in any event, it is mighty discouraging when the pesky, thing blossoms forth just before an important date. But your misery will be less if you learn the art of camouflage and to keep a jar of heavy foundation cream handy to mask the spot for the evening. Before you go to bed, remove your make-up thoroughly and dab a bit of healing medicated cream over the area. After it has healed, a slight discoloration often lingers as an unpleasant reminder of your trouble. But brisk patting of the area will stimulate the circulation and help banish the condition.

YOU CAN SHAPE YOUR LEGS TO MATCH ANY PIN-UP'S WITH RIGHT EXERCISE

MARGUERITE CHAPMAN: Owes her lovely legs to exercise.

By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer

Take a long look at your limbs. Do you see a firmly rounded calf tapering gracefully to a slim ankle? No? Well, don't be too disheartened. Marguerite Chapman, who has legs described as "well-turned" by the scribe, and with a low whistle by the flippant, has some good corrective exercises for you.

Exercises that stretch and contract the muscles are beneficial for both flabby and too thin legs. Bouncing, bicycling, rope skipping and tennis are excellent ways to normalize your leg contours.

Thick ankles can be massaged into shapely beauty this way: lie on your back on the floor, legs elevated on a chair seat. Flexing one leg, grasp the ankle firmly with both hands and pull the hands up towards the knee as the leg is straightened. Repeat about 12 times on each leg.

Thin legs will improve in shape by skipping rope on tiptoes. Deep knee bends with one leg extended straight out in front of the body are good, too.

Slim down heavy calves by standing with the toes on a thick book and the heels on the floor; keep the legs straight and increase the downward push of the heels to s-t-r-e-t-c-h the muscles.

When Foundation Is Too Heavy Thin It Out With Water

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If we could see ourselves as one keen-eyed girl sees us—a young NBS guidelet who pilots hundreds of visitors daily through news, television and radio-broadcast studios—no woman would ever wear a foundation that tightens her face. But plenty do, according to Joyce Lester, who wonders why. She says she's noticed tautening or heavy foundations invariably crack up or crease on the face to exaggerate lines or plant furrows which aren't even there.

Doesn't this observation make you think twice about your make-up? If you have the slightest suspicion that yours is too astringent, switch to one that you know is more suppling. If you think the creamy opaque base that you wear for covering and coloring is too thick, dilute it by dipping your fingers in water or toning lotion before you dip into your cream.

If you can't wear "cover-up" aids without looking like either a stony-face or a Dracula, switch to a complexion milk which isn't tinted, but which will hold a powder that is.

DEADLY DRINK

It was once the common custom in parts of Siberia to brew intoxicating drinks from the poisonous mushroom, "amanita muscaria." The drinker always ended with a splitting headache, unless he sipped too much, in which case he died.

LOSS WAS GAIN

The 13 original states of the Union had a total area of 892,135 square miles in 1790, of which 24,155 were under water. Today these states have a total area of 326,378 square miles, other states having been formed within their boundaries.

AAUW Requests For Commission Study Of Military Training

In a letter to President Truman, the American Association of University Women has asked for an immediate and intensive review of the whole question of compulsory military training in the light of such new scientific developments as atomic energy and in the light of our international responsibilities. The letter to the President, signed by Dr. Kathryn McHale, AAUW general director, reads:

"Mr. President: "The Board of Directors of the American Association of University Women, representing 80,000 members in every state, held an executive meeting at AAUW Headquarters on November 1 to 3.

"Since the membership had expressed deep concern with the problem of universal military training, the board gave considerable attention to the subject. There seems to be confusion in the public mind as to how military power can be projected into the new atomic age as a weapon for justice, human freedom, and world peace. The whole concept of our future relationships with other countries has been changed by the release of nuclear energy and other new scientific developments. The problems they raise involve not only the physical sciences but social and political science. Humanity itself is at stake."

The Midland chapter joins with the National AAUW in feeling the urgency of this situation. They unanimously adopted the following resolution: "That, the AAUW strongly urged that a representative commission be appointed at once by the President to study and to promptly recommend means of fulfilling our international commitments in the light of new scientific developments and our responsibilities as a member of the United Nations organization. We urge further that action with respect to compulsory military training be based upon the relation of such training to our international commitments, as shall be made clear by the findings of that commission."

The association has asked that such a commission include representative men and women in Congress, military, diplomatic services as well as those in the physical and social sciences, and the humanities.

The AAUW National Board also acted to alert the membership to see that the United Nations Charter is effectively implemented through appointment of skilled personnel, adequate financial support and freedom for its various organs and subsidiary agencies to act, each in its own field of special competence.

ERASE EYE STRAIN WITH LOTION PADS

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Working too long under nervous tension produces fatigue that reflects unpleasantly in one's eyes; they become strained looking, and sharp little lines appear in the surrounding area.

After such a day, when you come home dead-tired, try this wonderfully effective trick to give a lift to those tuckered-out orbs. Heat a small quantity of soothing eye lotion in a sauce pan, saturate cotton pads in it, and place them gently over your closed eyes. Lie down and relax like a rag doll for 15 or 20 minutes.

When you take another look in the mirror at the end of the treatment, those lines will have vanished, and your eyes will be clear and bright for the social evening ahead.

Bowles Says Textile Mills Holding Goods Awaiting Lower Tax

WASHINGTON—(P)—Price Administrator Chester Bowles says there are "indications" that textile mills are holding up shipment of goods to take advantage of the new tax law effective Jan. 1, 1946.

Under this law, the excess profits tax is repealed. There have been various complaints that some manufacturers are keeping scarce goods off the market until January to take advantage of the new tax measure.

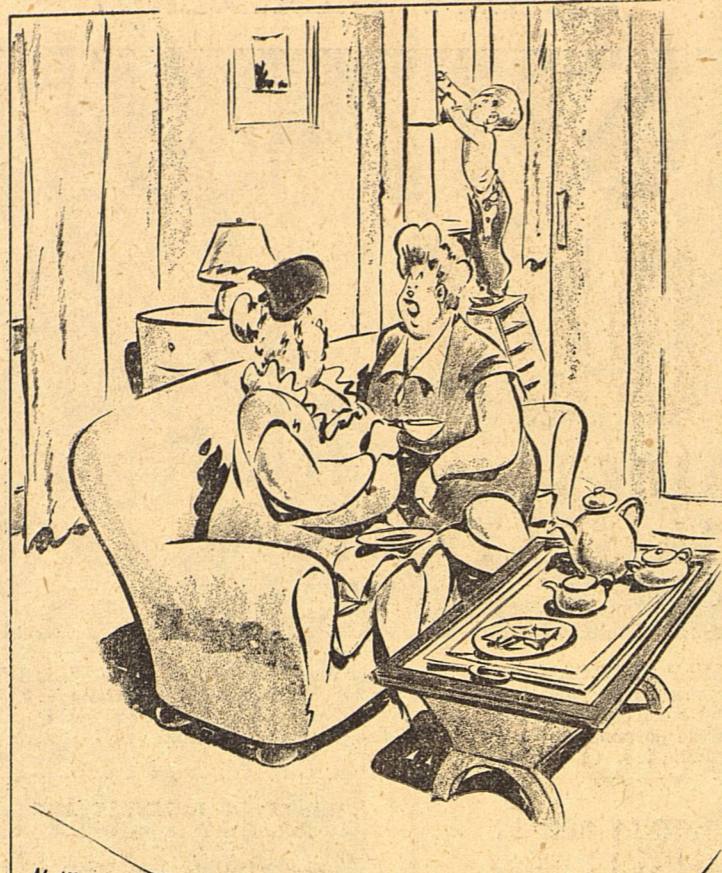

Bowles, in a letter to Senator Young (R-ND), said that while no definite reports have been received, indications are that textile mills are using that procedure.

Young had told Bowles that there was an extreme shortage of clothing of all kinds, particularly children's, and including heavy underwear, overalls and other essentials and asked Bowles:

"What is wrong in America when we have far above average stockpile of cotton and wool and at the very same time are suffering from want of clothing?"

Bowles did not expand his views on operations of the excess profits tax. However, the civilian production administration has been investigating. No report has been made.

M. C. Ulmer Raps Power Politicians And Labor Groups

SAN ANTONIO—(P)—Declaring "a monster of selfishness is threatening to destroy the foundation of the nation," M. C. Ulmer, president of the Texas Bankers' Association, assailed power politicians and labor groups as the cause of the country's ailments.

Ulmer, who heads the First National Bank of Midland, presided at the opening session of a two-day convention of the association's trust section.

"I have a contempt for anyone who enters the avenues of business with a selfishness in terms of dollars and cents, rather than in a spirit of helping build up his community," Ulmer told the delegates.

"What we need is more statesmen in office," he declared, adding "We must hear the voice of the rank and file of the people."

Former Secretaries Visit Hess But His Amnesia Story Sticks

NUERNBERG—(P)—Two of Rudolf Hess' former secretaries, Misses Fahr and Speer, were ushered into his presence unexpectedly Friday, but if the meeting was a trap to shake his amnesia story it fell flat, it was reported Saturday.

Hess sat at a table in the center of an interrogation room in the Palace of Justice, handcuffed to two guards. He lapsed into something akin to bovine vacuity and scarcely seemed to notice that, staring at him from distant parts of the room were:

Col. John H. Amen, chief interrogator;

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), an interested spectator;

Gordon Dean, public relations counsel for the Office of Chief of Counsel; and

Maj. Douglas Kelley, chief psychiatrist.

Presently the door opened and a dark-haired woman of about 35 entered. She hesitated a moment. Then she walked slowly to Hess' table and stood looking down at her former employer.

Hess Rises And Bows

Hess arose and bowed.

"Hello," said the visitor, Miss Fahr, in a choked voice.

"Hello," said Hess.

"I used to work for you," Miss Fahr said.

"Good," Hess replied.

They stood looking at one another. Hess seemed mildly surprised and once or twice he glanced questioningly about the room.

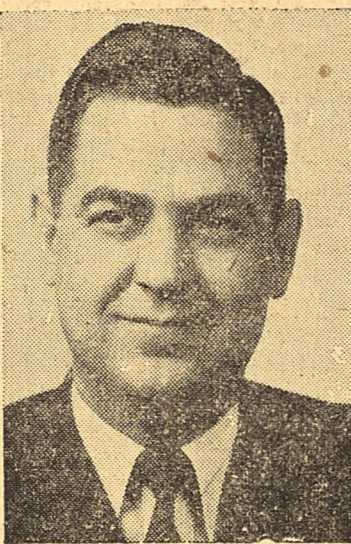

The door opened once more and Miss Speer, somewhat younger than her predecessor, came in.

"And did you used to work for me too?" Hess inquired.

"Yes, I did."

"Good," Hess said. "You can work for me again. I'll give both of you jobs the next time I become a high official of the Third Reich. Any

AND SHEILA FORGOT HER GI CARRIER

KANSAS CITY—(P)—When Sheila Rogers finished her song and impersonation act in a local night club she was greeted by a good-looking boy.

"Do you remember me?" he asked.

"Well --- er --- I'm afraid I don't," Miss Rogers admitted.

"A fine thing," her questioner sniffed. "I carried you in the mud from your stage to a jeep when you were entertaining for the soldiers in Italy, near Naples. The haul was a pretty long one, too."

German is trustworthy and I'll be glad to hire you."

The women went away. The guards led Hess back to his cell.

FLASH!
TO EVERY MEMBER OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH — STOP — LOOK — LISTEN — THINK — PRAY — ACT!

Next Sunday morning, November 18—God willing—I am going to speak from my heart and mind and try to set forth some ideas and convictions and plans and a program, concerning the present and future of The First Baptist Church — A CHURCH WHICH GOD HAS SO SIGNALLY BLESSED.

I shall speak on these things because I feel the RESPONSIBILITY from God to do so—and because I cannot be silent longer under the convictions and the heaven-imposed duties which are mine under God as pastor of this great church.

With LOVE to every member in this church whose name I have ever spoken and whose face I have ever seen, and those I have not, I shall speak.

With PRAYER for God to keep us all from any error in judgment and from any terror as to the future, I shall speak.

With EVERY SELFISH MOTIVE as far from my heart as hell is from heaven, I shall speak.

With NO THOUGHT in my mind,
With NO MOTIVE in my heart,
With NO WORD in my mouth,
With NO PURPOSE in my life,
With NO PRAYER in my soul except for the welfare of the First Baptist Church as it is related to Christ's world-wide program, I shall speak.

With NO INTENTION except to do good and not evil—to help and not to hurt our church, I shall speak.

With CONCERN that we shall leave the record to those who shall come after us—ten and fifteen and fifty years from now—that we were a great people of FAITH who knew how, with spiritual strength and in obedience to the heavenly vision, to plan, move and work with God in the PRESENT DAY FUTURE-YEARS.

HEAR me!
PRAY for me!
"Let him that hath ears, hear what the Spirit saith to the churches."

Your Pastor, VERNON YEABY.

Annual Sale Of Christmas Seals Opening Monday

Midland postal workers were busy Saturday sorting thousands of letters containing Christmas Seals addressed to Midland citizens in preparation for the official opening of the annual sale in the city and county Monday.

The opening follows months of preparation and extensive cooperative work by volunteer groups, which are assisting the Midland County Tuberculosis Association, the sponsor.

Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and other groups aided in the pre-opening of the campaign.

"We are happy to do our part again and act as a silent partner in the health campaign," Acting Postmaster N. G. Gates told Mrs. Linnie H. Davidson, executive secretary, as the letters containing the Christmas Seals were delivered to the post office Saturday.

"This year's sale," Mrs. Davidson pointed out, "is the 39th conducted in the United States under the auspices of the National Tuberculosis Association and its 2,500 affiliates."

Each year a different seal is selected from designs submitted by leading artists for use on Christmas mailings.

The Midland County Seal Sale Committee is composed of John J. Redfern Jr., chairman; Mrs. J. M. Devereux, John H. Biggs, Mrs. Vern Cubit, Mrs. John Hills, and Mrs. R. A. Estes.

Legionnaires Meet Again—in Prewar Style

It's been a long time since anybody wondered "Whe-e-ere's Elmer?" but the traditional American Legion cry will echo through Chicago's streets again as the Legionnaires gather for their first full-scale convention since 1941. There'll be memories of other conclaves—the boisterous fun, like the lad at top, left, starting the gal with a trick buzzer that sounds like an auto horn; the business meetings, where were mapped plans that made the Legion a power in community and nation; the gala parades and the chance to meet old buddies and live over again their adventures with the A. E. F. of World War I.

Carrier 'Franklin' Hit, Spilled Her Seamen, Eugene Tabor Among Them

By TANNER LAINE

A violent explosion shook the aircraft carrier Franklin. She listed and she buckled. She spilled her American boys into the sea. Two Jap bombs struck the big lady, direct hits which fired her and set off added explosions from bomb and ammunition magazines. A searing fire withered the gallant seamen, who manned her.

And Eugene Tabor of Midland was on that ship.

The 19-year-old former student of Midland High School is on shore leave and visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Tabor. Eugene's dad is a policeman.

Young Tabor, a cook, was eating breakfast when two Jap bombers planted eggs on his ship. He got to his battle station three decks up but don't ask him how.

He doesn't know. But he got there. His gun crew got in a few shots at the Japs before their own gun exploded.

A little while later they were swept into the water.

Bobs About in Water
Bobbing in the troubled waters without a life belt was Tabor. He was wounded. Shrapnel in its stinging way had punctured him in many places.

"Didn't I have a life belt? Gosh no, I only had on a pair of dungarees," the Midland boy said.

Tabor took a raincheck from Davey Jones' Locker.

A floating ammunition can drifted by and he grabbed it. This held him up and alive for awhile. Then a pilot splashed up in a "Mae West" (air inflated life belt for aviators). Tabor latched onto him and so did several others. The precious air belt kept them all up.

Yes, kept them up and made a floating target of them. Relentless Jap planes strafed the Americans in the water. They killed many who had escaped the ship's explosion. Many who had escaped the fire and allied dangers, drowning, fell under the cruel machine gun bullet barrages.

American planes did allow this sort of thing to go on. They came in hordes to do battle with the Jap planes over the very heads of the floating, drifting survivors of the Franklin.

American Planes to Rescue
Eight planes from off the Franklin had been sent out on a mission (strike) just before the explosion from the Jap bombs. They returned to get in on the retaliation.

But many Americans died in the water.

Tabor floated about from 9 a. m. one morning until 7 p. m. that evening. He was picked up by the U. S. S. Hunt, a destroyer. Later he was put on a hospital boat. Then he spent some time in a land hospital.

The Franklin did not sink. She "lived" through the experience of the two direct bombs. Was hauled back to America for repairs.

Tabor was in three battle at sea. He saw the treacherous attack of "suicide planes" but his vessel was never hit by them.

"Thank goodness."
He wears the American Defense Ribbon, Asiatic-Pacific Ribbon with three Stars, the Victory Medal, and a Distinguished Unit Citation.

The young Midlander was assigned to the Franklin soon after enlistment boot camp. He rode her until she hit in March, 1945.

Midland Agents Fly Back From Meeting
Ab Midkiff and Lou Frazen, Midland agents for Equitable Life Insurance Company, attended a recent company meeting in San Antonio, traveling by plane.

They announced for Equitable a home owner's loan service available to Midland citizens at a new low interest rate.

Japs Cut Down Tree In Nagasaki Planted By Grant

By HAL BOYLE
NAGASAKI—(AP)—Today we have had news for General Grant. Some Japanese sealways cut down his old banyan.

They not only cut it down—they piled the site high with stone and rubble. So if any member of the Grant fan league planned to come cut to Japan next year to pluck a memorial twig from the Grant banyan tree he may as well save himself the passage money. Twigs, leaves, trunks and memorial tablet all vanished—the Grant banyan tree is gone, a casualty of the Second World War.

The story goes back 66 years. Our emissary to this Japanese port city in 1879 was Gen. Ulysses Simpson Grant. He came as an unofficial ambassador of peace. Two years before, he had been released from further White House duty by a grateful citizenry who then thought two terms as President were enough.

The General and Mrs. Grant called at Nagasaki on a world tour. He was feted and hailed as "Grant-Shogun" and local Japanese dignitaries took him out to Suwa Park and asked him to plant a souvenir tree.

Became Tourist Attraction
He planted well. Long after the general and his tomb had become the chief tourist attraction on Riverside Drive, his banyan tree still flourished in Nagasaki.

As late as 1941 the official guide to Japan put out by the Japanese government railways still listed the banyan tree as an attraction "of special interest to foreign visitors."

Realizing that many Grant students back here must be worried over whether the renowned banyan tree had weathered the atomic bomb blast, we led the first American expedition to determine its fate.

A middle-aged Japanese civilian agreed, with many gold-toothed grins, to show us the banyan tree of "Grant-Shogun." Mopping perspiring faces we followed him around a winding path to a clearing among the trees where stood a great mound of stone and rubble.

"Grant - Shogun banyan tree there," he said, pointing to the mass of stone. But there was no banyan tree, no tree of any kind.

"Where?" we asked.
"Chop down. Chop-chop," he grinned. His smile faded, however, when we turned accusing looks on him.

"Not me!" he exclaimed in perfect broken English, and left hurriedly.

Questioning other Japanese, Glenn Babb, Associated Press foreign editor, learned that Grant's banyan memorial had been cut down with several other trees three years ago to make space in which to dump dirt and stone from air raid shelters dug in the surrounding hills. Neither park nor adjoining temple shrine were affected by the atomic bomb, which exploded several miles away.

Churchill Prefers His Paintings to Newspapers
LONDON—(AP)—An English soldier in a letter to former Prime Minister Churchill offered to swap a first edition of the "Allied Post," first invasion newspaper of the war, for a landscape painted by Churchill during his recent vacation in Italy.

"I regret that I must decline your request, as I am merely an amateur painter who paints for his own satisfaction," Churchill replied.

Labor Bureau Reports Employment Going Up
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics, reporting Saturday that 1,400,000 workers were laid off in September, said the number was 1,000,000 less than in August and that hiring turned upward.

The hiring rate for September was placed at 73 per 1,000 workers, the highest since June, 1944. In August it had been 59 per 1,000.

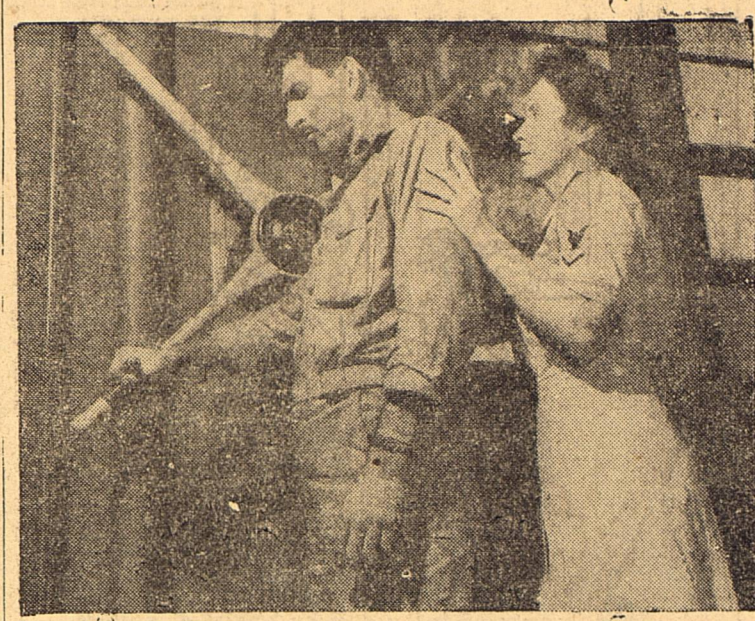

BLS said the increase resulted chiefly from a 40 per cent boost in the hiring rate for the so-called munitions industries. Many munitions plants had completed reconversion and were ready to produce new products, the agency said, while workers were rehired by some plants which found they still had war contracts to complete.

English Woman Kept Index To Help Unite Fugitives Of Malaya

By G. MILTON KELLY
COLOMBO, CEYLON—(AP)—The foresight and generosity of an English woman is making possible pathetically joyous scenes of reunited husbands and wives as thousands of refugees separated by the Japanese invasion of Malaya begin rebuilding their lives.

The refugees call Mrs. Joy L. Donald the "Angel of Colombo." When residents of the peninsula fled in panic before the invader, Mrs. Donald realized the difficulties they would encounter when they tried to reestablish contact with their families. She built a program of care for repatriates which has become a cooperative operation financed by the British government.

Mrs. Donald's information service provides liberated prisoners and internees with word of their loved ones, and sometimes relatives of dislocated persons wait here for their reunions.

Husband, Wife Cry
Witnesses wept at one such scene in which a British couple, who had lived in Singapore but who had been without knowledge of each other since the city's fall and the husband's interment, met by chance in a barracks. Each had visited the repatriation center expecting months of painful search. The husband had come ashore from a prisoner of war ship transporting a liberated group to England. His wife, who had escaped the Japanese and had been a refugee in Australia, had come to Colombo hopeful of getting word of him.

The two faced each other dazedly on the steps of the barracks for many moments before they embraced, weeping.

Far too few of the stories, however, have happy endings. During the frantic days when tens of thousands of refugees drifted through Ceylon from Malaya and many persons fled Ceylon in fear of invasion, Mrs. Donald wondered how these frightened people ever would be reunited.

There was no government agency

Jack Moore Opens Insulation Firm

Jack Moore, a Midlander by choice and ex-serviceman, has opened a new business in the city. As Major Moore he was stationed at Midland Army Air Field from its inception. He was a squadron commander.

His new business sells service and insulation, featuring Insul-Wool, a wood fiber product.

Residence office for Insul-Wool is at 107 North G Street. Company slogan is: "Keep Cool, Save Fuel."

Moore answers the question of citizens: "Why insulate a home?" by saying: "It keeps the home cooler by 15 to 20 degrees in summer; warmer in winter with fuel savings up to 50 per cent; decreases dust, dirt and noise; helps prevent sweating walls."

"Insul-Wool," he said, "is laboratory tested. It is cellular and non-metallic. It lessens fire hazard. It is common-sense economy."

NEW EXCUSE FOR CUTTING CLASS: WIFE HAVING BABY

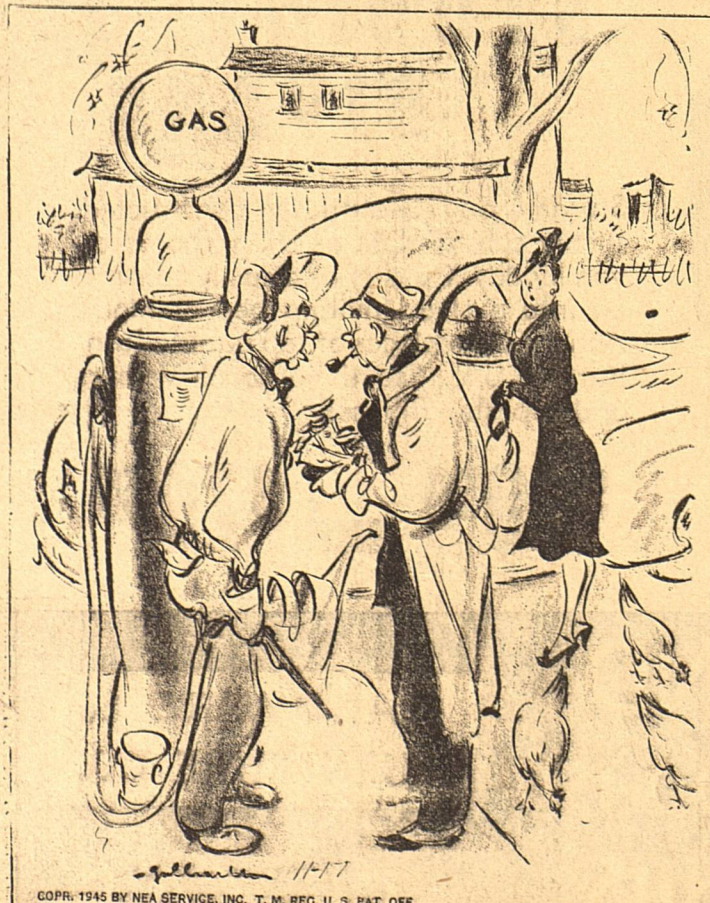

HAMILTON, N. Y.—(AP)—A rush of married veterans to the Colgate University campus has provided a new excuse for cutting classes. Dr. James A. Storing, director of studies for veterans, granted Sidney A. Walton, Niagara Falls sophomore, time off to take his wife to Oneida Hospital where she gave birth to a daughter.

Colgate officials said it was the first time in the university's 126 years class cuts had been granted for that reason.

Recording the refugees' movements. Mrs. Donald, with two other Colombo women, set out to make a record. Daily from morning to dark they sat on a jetty, penning in notebooks as complete a record possible on each transient refugee.

Mrs. Donald hired a typist to transcribe the notes and index the names. She kept a file of more than 10,000 cards, each bearing a case record which was kept up to date. These she turned over to the Malayan government.

American, British, German Jet Planes

Fighter planes of the future will be jet-propelled craft, capable of flying faster than sound, Gen. H. H. "Hap" Arnold, chief of the Army Air Forces, predicts. Jet planes introduced in World War II included the American P-80 Shooting Star, top, the German Messerschmitt "262", center, and the British Gloster Meteor.

MackENZIE'S COLUMN

Danger signals fly high over shattered Germany as winter closes in with its stark hunger and other privations which hold their threat of revolt. This crisis finds Allied administration falling short of full efficiency, due largely to France's inability to agree with numerous measures until assured that her Allies will support her proposal for international control of the Ruhr and French occupation of the Rhineland. This divergence is now under discussion between America and France in Washington.

Appropos of this critical situation I have a letter from an old friend—a trained observer—now in Germany. He writes largely of the all-important relationship between conquerors and conquered, and here's what he says in part:

"It is a strange feeling to move unarmed among the would-be conquerors of the world. A few months ago they would have attacked you as an enemy. Now some look away, some are curious, many have a cold impersonal look in their eyes—partly wounded pride at defeat, partly preoccupation with the pressing cares of food and fuel for the winter.

Hatred in Eyes
"From many of the young element you get a hard look behind which seems to lurk a steely hatred, as though you had robbed them of their future. These fellows feel that we have knocked the bottom out of their lives and taken away the inspiration of a great 'cause' to live for without replacing it with a comparable challenge. To be toppled from would-be conquerors of the world to unemployed citizens of a ruined, carved-up country is a big jolt for them.

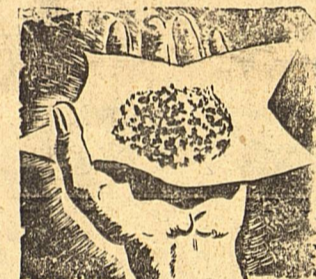

"The youth group are naturally the most indoctrinated with Nazi ideas. Trouble is expected from them this winter.

"In some cases attacks on U. S. personnel have occurred, focusing around 'fraternization.' Returned prisoners of war in their wehrmacht clothes tend to hang around with young civilians at street corners. Anti-American feeling is being subtly fostered.

"Somewhere in the German soul there still lurks that tribal paganism of the forests. Her people are an easy prey to any ideology that lures them with appeals to their love of order, organization and forceful leadership. It should be one of our top priority jobs to see that the right ideology, which can direct Germany's energies into constructive channels, gets to her people in time.

"Hitler was never blind to the power of ideas. But we underrate mental explosives. Technically brilliant and up-to-date in invention and production, we are medieval in our ideological weapons, in their

USS Ancon, Invasion Brain Ship, Will Sail Home From Tokyo Soon

By HAL BOYLE
TOKYO—(AP)—The "brain ship" is sailing for home soon, after one of the most adventurous careers of any vessel in Naval history.

She is the USS Ancon, 14,000-ton remodeled Caribbean passenger freighter which participated in five famous amphibious operations of World War II as the American Navy's first and chief headquarters ship.

She was known as "the admirals' go-cart," for she carried more high-ranking "brass" than any seagoing craft of this war.

This $5,000,000 military dream ship, stuffed with costly communications equipment, was the target of repeated submarine glider bomb and Kamikaze attacks. In several operations she was the number one target for sky and sea raiders. But she came through the entire war without losing a man.

Unknown To Public
Yet, despite her record, she remains comparatively unknown to the general public because she wasn't a "combat vessel" in the same sense as a battleship or a cruiser. Off Sicily, Salerno, Italy, Normandy and Okinawa she was the command vessel, the "brain center" for vast and delicate amphibious operations. Sheltered by her thin and vulnerable sides, Navy and Army leaders directed landings of hundreds of thousands of troops on hostile shores—shores that had to be won to win the war.

Among her star boarders have been King George VI, Generals Omar Bradley, George Patton and Mark Clark, Field Marshal Montgomery, the late Secretary of the Navy Knox, and such Naval dignitaries as Sir Bruce Fraser, commander of the British Pacific Fleet, and U. S. Vice Admiral H. K. Hewitt and Daniel Barbey. She also has been second home to scores of war correspondents who learned that every Ancon voyage yielded front page news.

La Paz, Bolivia, has perhaps the most fantastic location of any capital—it is perched 12,000 feet above sea level, yet rests in a canyon almost 1,500 feet deep.

Britain, Canada, U. S. Agree To Atomic Group

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A reader unasked he kept score, might be astounded at the mass of comment on atomic energy, piled up in newspaper files, since the bomb hit Hiroshima last August.

That bomb jolted American thinking. It seems now that everyone has an idea on how the world should be run and atomic energy controlled.

The ideas range like this:

Set up a world republic, keep the secret, outlaw the bomb, let the United Nations Organization handle it, furnish UNO with a task force of atomic bombers, let the International Court of Justice solve international disputes, its word to be final.

Senator Glen Taylor, Idaho Democrat, proposed in a Senate resolution that a world republic be set up.

Men have long dreamed of the time when all nations would be part of one government. But this would mean the end of national independence as we know it.

Taylor told the Senate he's disappointed that his suggestion hasn't received more notice. He added that when he first came here and sang

Toys Recovered From Germans To Be Given To French Christmas

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

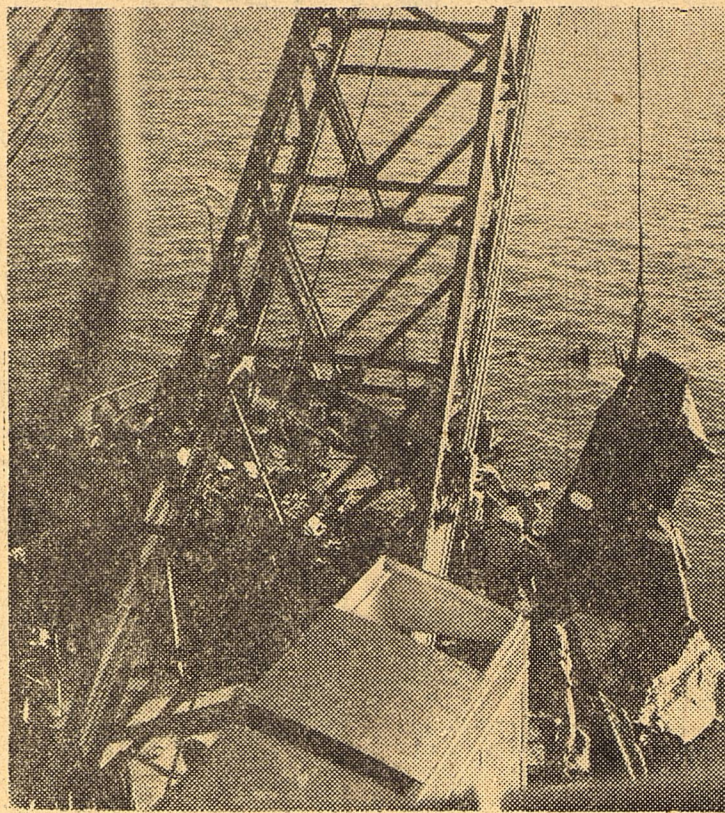

PARIS—Five hundred packing cases of toys which the Germans pillaged from French homes have been recovered and will be distributed to French children this Christmas.

The Christmas treasure was discovered in one of the city's largest exhibition halls, where 5,000 large packing cases had been stored awaiting transportation to the Reich. The toys were found in 300 of these boxes.

Prof. A. Terroine, in charge of services dealing with restitution of private property, has turned the toys over to l'Entente Francaise, a national charity. They included tail-less and ear-less teddy-bears, plush donkeys and rabbits, wooden trains minus wheels, dolls with moth-eaten curls, well-worn picture books—all treasures which had once been cherished by French children.

Interned Jews had been employed in expediting the fruits of German pillage destined for children of the master race. One of them found himself wrapping and packing his own child's treasures.

Wealthy Japs Entertain Americans With Geisha Girls But For Purpose

By HAL BOYLE

TOKYO—(AP)—The Japanese custom of giving expensive gifts to American occupation troops is causing considerable concern in some Army quarters.

Wealthy Japanese have been dishing out yens by handfuls in entertaining American officers, and here is more than suspicion that much of this "hospitality" is only a pretense to the asking of special favors.

In other cases it is perhaps only the desire of Nipponese bigshots of doubtful status to bolster their position by being seen often in the company of influential American officers.

So far as I know, no Japanese war profiteers have tried to buy special advantages or personal immunity from past misdeeds by out-and-out financial bribery.

Give Customer Big Time

But they are certainly working hard at the old sales game of landing a big order by giving the customer a great time.

Most of this entertaining is done in Geisha-houses. The Japanese host rents the house for the evening and hires a flock of good-looking girls to sing and serve and pour. In a couple hours his Army guests are up to their ears in warm sake wine and sukiyaki, wriggling their stocking feet and toasting their blank buck-toothed host.

On a two-day weekend party, one rich Japanese musician hired three cars and took a number of American guests on tour with six Geisha girls. He hired more girls at each hotel they visited, and one guest recalls dimly taking a bath with six brown-limbed beauties to scrub him down.

30,000 Yen Party

The Japanese tycoon supplied native "scotch" liquor on the bucket basis and paid off the Geisha girls with liberality. Altogether he spent more than 30,000 yens.

Several days later one guest received a highly flattering letter from his host indicating that the tycoon regarded him personally as the sun, moon and center of his entire universe as well as a man of great character, perspicacity and talent. There was a postscript payoff. The tycoon wanted to know if his "dear friend" couldn't help him get some equipment back from the Army, but unfortunately in this case the tycoon had picked the wrong guest. He was in no position to help him—even had he wanted to.

Eddie Cantor On Hand—Press Club Presents Truman Piano During Night Out With Boys

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman has a new piano after a night out with the boys of the National Press Club.

It was quite a show, the President agreed, and he even added a gag or two of his own to the jokes egged on his ability as a piano player. But Truman's remarks were off-the-record.

Comedian Eddie Cantor, commenting on the club's presentation of a Steinway piano to the Chief Executive, said:

"If anybody needs practice, it's the President. He played for Stalin at Potsdam. Immediately afterwards rumors started stirring that Stalin was a very sick man."

No matter what he plays, Cantor insisted, "it still sounds like the Missouri Waltz."

Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada and General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower seemed to get quite a kick out of Comedian Joe E. Brown's description of a banker as "a man who will lend you money if you can prove you don't need it."

The President was formally inducted into the club as a dues-paying member.

Eisenhower got so much applause when he was introduced that President Truman insisted he make a speech. Eisenhower complied with a "hello, howdy and good luck."

Marx Brothers Making Final Motion Picture

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The Marx Brothers are through with their movies, by a two to one vote.

The brothers are working on "Adventures in Casablanca" in partnership with David Loew and they said this one is their swan song. Said Harpo, who paradoxically is the most vocal of the brethren: "It's just too much work. We started on the story of this picture last January and it will be a year by the time of the final preview."

Groucho was even more vehement. "Why should a man in his declining years spend all day cooped up in a cracker box?" he asked, referring to his dressing room.

Then somebody tells him to be funny in front of the camera for three minutes. Nuts to that business. "The only reason I'm making this picture is because in five years I had forgotten how miserable it could be."

I found Chico much more conciliatory. "Sure I like making pictures," he said. "I like everything that has to do with show business. But if Harpo and Groucho don't want to work, what can I do?"

Firemen Perform Duties To Appropriate Tunes

JOLIET, ILL.—(AP)—Firemen who responded to an alarm from a hotel grill room performed their duties with musical accompaniment.

As they dashed into the room, the firemen saw sparks coming from a short circuited light fixture. They studied the situation as musicians played, "Dear, Dear, What Can The Matter Be?"

Then they broke into "The Daring Young Man On the Flying Trapeze" as two firemen climbed a ladder to investigate. And when an electrician sauntered in to give aid, he was greeted with "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire."

Bureau Of Reclamations To Spend $170,000,000

DENVER—(AP)—The U. S. Bureau of Reclamation plans to spend $170,000,000 for construction in 17 western states before the present fiscal year ends next July and upwards of $300,000,000 the following year.

These figures were presented to the National Reclamation Association Saturday by Assistant Commissioner William E. Warne in a report in which he said $43,000,000 was available in unexpended balances and $33,000,000 in present appropriations, and $99,360,000 now is being sought from Congress in deficiency appropriations.

Warne gave a breakdown by states of total funds, if congressional requests are granted, to be spent before next July on projects including:

Texas: Colorado River—$142,251, drum gates; valley gravity canal and storage—$1,964,628, additional engineering work.

Report On the War

Biennial Report of the Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army 1943 to 1945, to the Secretary of War

By General George C. Marshall

From a Fortune map drawn by Richard Edes Harrison, copyright by Time, Inc.

FORTRESS OF EUROPE offered General Eisenhower only two possible routes to Germany—through southern France or through Salonika in eastern Greece. Both had great disadvantages, pointing out the urgency of a landing in France and an advance across the plains of Western Europe.

This is the sixth of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II.

CASABLANCA CONFERENCE

IN January 1943, the President and the Prime Minister, with the Combined Chiefs of Staff, met at Casablanca. It was then apparent that our North African operation was to be successful, even beyond original calculations. The problem before the Chiefs of Staff at Casablanca was the next movement to be made following the completion of the Tunisian campaign. It still would have been preferable to close immediately with the German enemy in Western Europe or even in Southern France had that been possible of achievement with the resources then available to General Eisenhower. It was not.

Axis control of the Mediterranean islands and the entire reach of the southern coast of Europe from Franco's Spain to Turkey denied our communications also across the Mediterranean and forced our shipping into a 12,000-mile detour around the Cape of Good Hope. The United States was still involved in the process of a vast mobilization. The Chiefs of Staff therefore considered whether we had the strength to move directly to Italy or what might be the best intermediary step. It was decided to assault Sicily (operation HUSKY) and, with the approval of the Heads of State, General Eisenhower was advised on 23 January:

"The Combined Chiefs of Staff have resolved that an attack against Sicily will be launched in 1943 with the target date as the period of the favorable July moon."

Even though a full-scale Mediterranean campaign now was imminent, it was resolved at Casablanca to resume amassing in the United Kingdom as quickly as possible the forces necessary to invade Western Europe. This build-up was to be one of the most tremendous logistical undertakings in military history.

Enormous Preparations Necessary

It required provision for the transportation, shelter, hospitalization, supply, training, and general welfare of 1,200,000 men who had to be embarked in the United States and transported across the submarine-infested Atlantic to the United Kingdom. The hospital plan alone, for example, called for 94,000 beds in existing installations, conversions, and new construction. The program was later increased by tent accommodations for 30,000 more beds. Living quarters had to be furnished for the assault forces and their supply troops. There had to be provision for 20,000,000 square feet of covering, storage, and shop space, and 44,000,000 square feet of open storage and load capacity. Parks for 50,000 military vehicles were planned; 270 miles of railroad had to be constructed. More than 20,000 railroad cars and 1,000 locomotives were to be shipped to the United Kingdom. The Air Forces required 163 fields, seven centers for combat crews and replacements, accommodations for 450,000 men, and 8,500,000 square feet of storage and shop space.

Two-thirds of the vast program of air installation required new construction by British and United States engineers. At the same time the invasion operations required detailed planning for the installations we would have to build once ashore in France—hospitals, depots, shops, railroads, pipelines, and bridging materials.

Not unkindly that an invasion across the English Channel against an entrenched German Army was an operation unequalled in possibility for a major disaster, the Allied commanders decided to undertake the great strategic bombardment that was to weaken Germany militarily, industrially, and economically.

Before the assault of Sicily was actually undertaken, the President, the Prime Minister, and the Combined Chiefs of Staff met again in Washington in May. This meeting, designated the TRIDENT Conference, may prove to be one of the most historic military conclaves of this war, for here the specific strategy to which the movements of the land, sea, and air forces of the American and British Allies conformed was translated into firm commitments.

It was at this Conference that the combined Chiefs of Staff decided to extend Allied influence in the Mediterranean to the point where Italy would be forced to withdraw from the war. They also approved the plan of the United States Army Air Forces to strike Germany a serious blow by reducing her great oil resources at Ploesti.

Spring '44 Set for Invasion

At the TRIDENT Conference plans for a direct assault from the United Kingdom into Europe's classic battle grounds were reaffirmed. Even though we were now firmly entrenched in North Africa, to have attempted to force Germany from the south across the Alpine barrier was on the face of it impracticable. In Europe's innumerable wars no vigorously opposed crossing of the Alps had ever been successfully executed. Operation OVERLORD, the new code name for the assault of France, which replaced ROUNDUP, was formally accepted and, for the purposes of planning, the spring of 1944 was designated as the target date. General Eisenhower was directed to send to the United Kingdom beginning 1 November seven seasoned divisions which were fighting in North Africa, and which would fight in Sicily, even though this meant that at the very moment he would be committing his forces in a full-scale campaign in Italy, he would be obliged to release two Army Corps of seasoned troops.

Not was Japan neglected at the TRIDENT Conference. It was decided to maintain an unremitting offensive pressure on the Japanese; even while our forces closed in to deliver the knock-out blow, to Italy and we were gathering the tremendous resources in the United Kingdom that would be necessary to force the continent. Japan would be approached both from the west and from the east. On the Asiatic mainland it was determined to build up the flow of materiel to China via the air route over the "hump" and to initiate aggressive land and air operations to reestablish surface communications with beleaguered China. In the Pacific, General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz were directed to move against the Japanese outer defenses, ejecting the enemy from the Aleutians and seizing the Marshalls, some of the Carolines, the remainder of the Solomons, the Bismarck Archipelago, and the remainder of New Guinea.

From the TRIDENT Conference, the Prime Minister, Field Marshal Sir Alan Brooke and I proceeded to General Eisenhower's headquarters at Algiers for a series of conferences lasting from 29 May to 3 June. At TRIDENT final conclusions had not been reached as to the event to which the Mediterranean advance should continue so that General Eisenhower might be left in a position to exploit every favorable opportunity. In his villa at Algiers we discussed the future in detail, and he was authorized to proceed from operation HUSKY in Sicily as he saw fit with the intent of eliminating Italy from the war.

HOW RUBBER SPREAD

If Henry Wickham had not smuggled 70,000 rubber tree seeds out of Brazil in 1876 and taken them to England, whence plants were sent to the East Indies to thrive and develop into the world's chief rubber source, Brazil probably would be the center of rubber production today.

It is estimated that Shakespeare wrote two plays a year.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

A player always gets a thrill out of executing a coup. Dr. Max Shindell of Forest Hills, N. Y., got a real kick out of today's hand. He trumped the third heart in dummy with the ten of spades, then cashed the ace, only to find the spades all bunched in the East hand. He had to lose a diamond, so his problem was to avoid losing another spade, which seemed almost impossible. He led a small diamond from dummy, won with the jack and returned the diamond, going up with dummy's queen.

East won and made a nice play by leading back the queen of hearts, hoping "Doc" would make the mistake of trumping in dummy; but he trumped low in his own hand. A small trump was won in dummy with the king and a diamond led and trumped with the six of spades. The ace of clubs was cashed, followed by the jack, which was won in dummy with the king of clubs. Now Shindell could lead either a club or a diamond. East, having only the jack-eight of trumps, had to ruff, and the doctor, with queen-nine, could overruff and pick up the last trump.

Getting Home Not Obsession In Japan, It's Service Mania

By HAL BOYLE
TOKYO—(P)—Getting home has ceased to be a mere obsession with many individuals who are sweating out the final weeks before their discharge from the Army or Navy. It has become a mania. They can't talk or think about anything else.

Consider the following desperate case: A hitch-hiking Naval officer, given a ride by a correspondent, explained that he was in town on a one-day pass from his ship. "It's a tanker," he added. "We have millions of gallons of high test gasoline aboard and as soon as we can unload we can start home. But we've been cruising around here for 40 days and can't find anybody who will take it. If we don't get rid of it pretty soon I swear I'm going to dump it out myself."

He paused and looked at the sympathetic correspondent—then added, hopefully:

"You and your friends come out any time and buy our cigarette lighters. Every little bit helps."

Ruined cities hold a fascination at all hours. Their utter desolation casts a spell over you, as though you were watching some strange, fantastic life pattern sinking into death. At dawn, Tokyo looks like a moon metropolis destroyed by a titanic convulsion—dead, deserted and bare.

Strolling through its chilly streets one morning recently I met three patrolling American military policemen and stopped to chat. They were two veterans—Pfc. Clifford L. Hill, Marion, Ark., and Pfc. Jerry A. Smith, Platt, S. D.—and a new man they were breaking in, Pvt. Frank Regaldo, San Dimas, Calif.

Like many other MPs I have talked to they have come across few or no cases of violence.

"I don't know of one case of armed robbery in central Tokyo in a month," said Hill, and Smith added: "We haven't had a bit of trouble from the Japs—and I don't mind saying how surprised I am."

Peaceful As California
Regaldo said he thought Tokyo was "as peaceful as California—but much deadlier."

Military police are always uneasy, however, when things are too quiet, and Hill remarked: "In another month, when cold weather really sets in, I wouldn't want to walk around here at night, even with my buddy along."

As the three soldiers marched off, a dirty, unkempt Japanese man crawled out from one of a number of squalid rubble shelters dotting the adjoining demolished area. He was naked except for a ragged shirt. Fragments of broken plaster that had been his pillow clung to his matted hair.

Shivering, he watched with an expressionless face as the military police swept on down the road. Then he stumbled over and began to drink his breakfast from the broken war tin.

He is just one of thousands of Japanese Jeter Lesters in Tokyo's real-life "Tobacco Road."

The rapidly expanding frozen food industry expects to provide more than 500,000 new jobs within the next year.

Survey Estimates Hunters In Texas Will Bag 11,600 Deer

SAN ANGELO—(P)—The Texas Hill Country is looking forward to a profitable deer and turkey season, which opened Friday.

A survey estimates that when the season closes on Dec. 31 hunters will have left behind $500,000 for the 11,600 bucks they are expected to lug into cold storage vaults.

The average hunter is estimated to spend 55 hours in camp at a cost of around $175.

Most of the hunt leases have been bought up, pointing to a greater influx of hunters than in 1944, when an all-time high was reached.

The overall picture compiled from the county-by-county survey indicated that hunting prospects will be about like 1944 except for turkeys, which are "spotty" and fewer this year.

Game wardens, reporting an excellent fawn crop this past spring, believe deer should be plentiful, although not in their customary haunts. The deer have shifted to the farming areas, where they can mooch grain from fields.

The drouthy condition of the ranges this summer along with an absence of acorns and persimmons in many areas caused some shifting in deer numbers. However, the first of October rains put ranges into fine season and promise a good hunting season.

In some sections the fawn crop suffered in September when a week-long rain, accompanied by cold weather, took a toll of fawns. The toll will not reduce hunting this year, but may have a big effect on next year's buck crop.

The prospects on wild turkey are reported fair to good, but generally the turkey will be scarce. The dry summer reduced green vegetation, which drastically reduced insect numbers, and left the wild birds little to feed upon.

A noticeable tendency was found this year to shorten the season on leases, many of them to a week or 10 days. This not only offers protection to the game, but tends to restrict "day" hunters.

Illustrative of the expensive turn hunting has taken in Gillespie County, which with Mason County are probably the two most heavily hunted counties in the Hill Country, Sidney Henke, manager of the Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce and conductor of a hunter's bureau, estimates there are 400 leases in Gillespie County returning land owners $100,000 to $120,000 a year in lease money.

The average Gillespie County lease costs $300, Henke says, estimating that a "good pasture" will cost hunters $35 to $50 per hunter this year. The average lease is 300 acres.

The Fredericksburg Chamber manager figures the hunters will spend $75,000 to $90,000 in Gillespie County alone this year on food, drink, ammunition, supplies, lodging and other accessories.

Mason County usually reports the largest bag of deer, 3,000 having gone out of there last year. The lease situation there is comparable to that of Gillespie County, where 2,000 deer and 500 turkey were bagged in 1944.

Kerr County is another favorite Hill Country hunting area and the month of November usually means $175,000 to land owners and Kerrville businessmen, according to Walter E. Saenger, manager of the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce. This is one of the banner turkey counties, 900 of the wild turkeys having been bagged there in 1944 along with 2,500 bucks.

The report by counties:

Junction (Kimble County)—Fifty leases in county, 45 of them taken by the year, leaving five leases available. Lease price ranges from $4 per day to $100 per man per season. Bigger demand for leases this year. Average of 2,500 acres in a lease. Fair prospects for turkey, good prospects on deer, good fawn crop. Last year there were 450 deer and 228 turkey bagged.

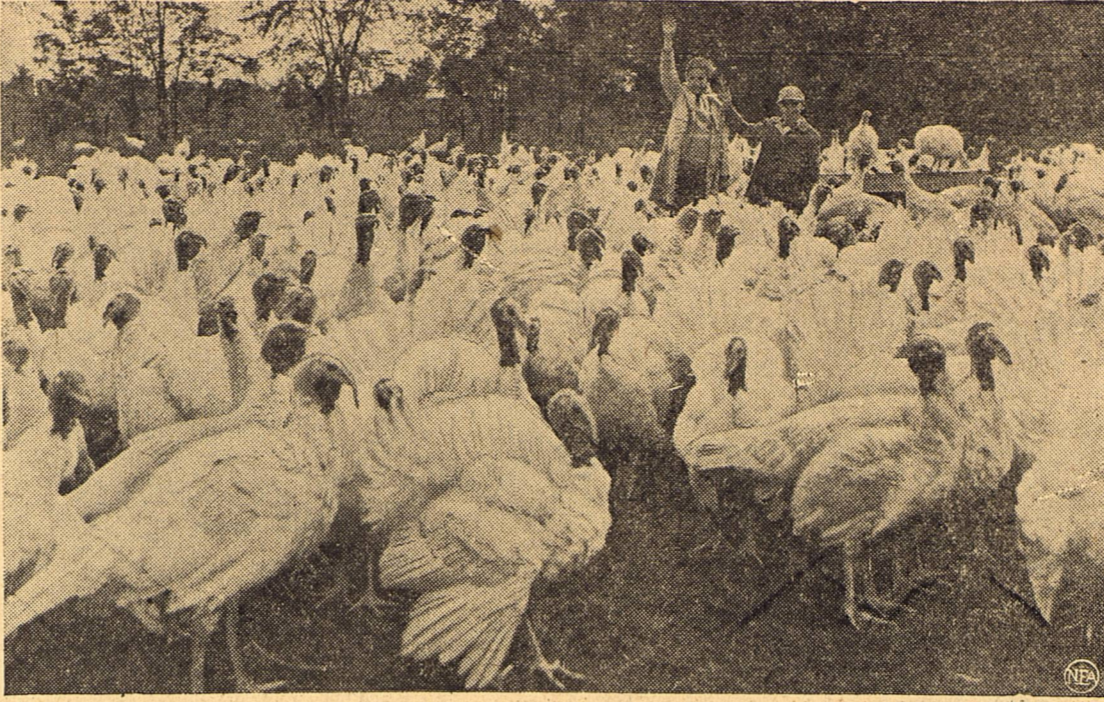

Kerrville (Kerr County)—About 15 leases open. Ninety per cent of 190 leases in county taken by the year. Lease price ranges from 20 cents to 25 cents an acre, average of 2,000 acres in lease. Broader demand this year. Hunting prospects on both deer and turkey better than last year. Fawn crop good.

Fredericksburg (Gillespie County)—About 20 leases open out of 400. Average lease costs $300. Eighty per cent of the leases are taken by the year. Prospects on deer good, spotty on turkey.

Mason (Mason County)—Very few leases open, most of them taken on an annual basis. Yearling deer bucks predominate, buck prospects good.

Uvalde (Uvalde County)—A dozen leases open at count. An estimated 1,600 bucks killed in county last year. Dry year hurt hunting prospects considerable. Lease price ranges from $4 a head to $2,500 for the season on a 6,000 acre ranch.

Income Tax Return For 1946 Will Be Simplified A Little

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The income tax return for 1946—the one you do not have to prepare until March of 1947—will be slightly simpler than that which is coming up next March. That is one desirable effect of the new tax law.

The 1947 return will have two fewer lines in the tax computation schedule—two fewer operations to be performed in order to determine how much you owe Uncle Sam, or vice versa.

There could and should be four less lines. But two lines, and two mathematical computations, have to be added because Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky doesn't want the taxpayers to forget that he got them a five per cent cut in their income tax.

The new law combines normal and surtax in one table. You no longer have to compute your normal tax, get your surtax out of the table (with some mathematical effects) and then add the two. Unless you are one of the relatively few who own partially tax exempt government bonds, the tax table should give the entire tax in one operation.

But Senator Barkley sponsored a five per cent reduction from the tax that is derived from this table. That five per cent applies regardless of the size of your tax. It could have been included in the table just as well. However, the Senator insisted that it must be shown on the tax blank as a separate item.

Could Be Simpler.
The result is that after getting your tax, you must then compute five per cent of that tax for one line, and subtract the five per cent to get a net total for another line. The number of persons who will be affected by this is hard to estimate. It probably will run in the vicinity of nine millions.

On the basis of a small spot check, Treasury statisticians suggested that last year the 46,200,000 who filed returns on incomes up to $25,000 split their operations about like this:

Withholding Receipts (Form W-2) were filed by about 18,700,000. Probably most of the 12,000,000 who will be exempted from income tax next year will come out of this group.

Form 1040, the four-page blank, was filed by about 25,500,000 with incomes under $5,000 and another 2,000,000 with incomes from $5,000 to $25,000.

Of the 27,500,000 who filed the long form (1040), 18,500,000 with incomes under $5,000 and 1,200,000 with incomes over $5,000 took the "standard deduction" without troubling to itemize taxes, interest, contributions, casualty losses and non-business expenses. The rest went whole-hog, and itemized everything.

The taxpayer who either chooses or is required to itemize deductions, or if his income is over $5,000, who is required to make a tax computation, must wade through two unnecessary lines when computing the tax on his 1946 income.

But all of this is a 1947 headache. None of it concerns the form you must prepare next March. That already is in print, and it differs very little from the one that you used last March.

NAMED CARD SUITS

Four medieval economic classes served to name the suits in playing cards. Spades from the Spanish "espada," or sword of the nobility; clubs from clover-like trefoil leaves of the peasantry; hearts from the French "cœur" or choir of the clergy; and diamonds for merchants.

Californian Gets Discharge Points But In Jap Army

By HAL BOYLE

FUSAN, KOREA.—(AP)—California-born Bob Fujikawa has been in service long enough to win the points required for a ticket home but there isn't any immediate likelihood he will be able to cash in on them.

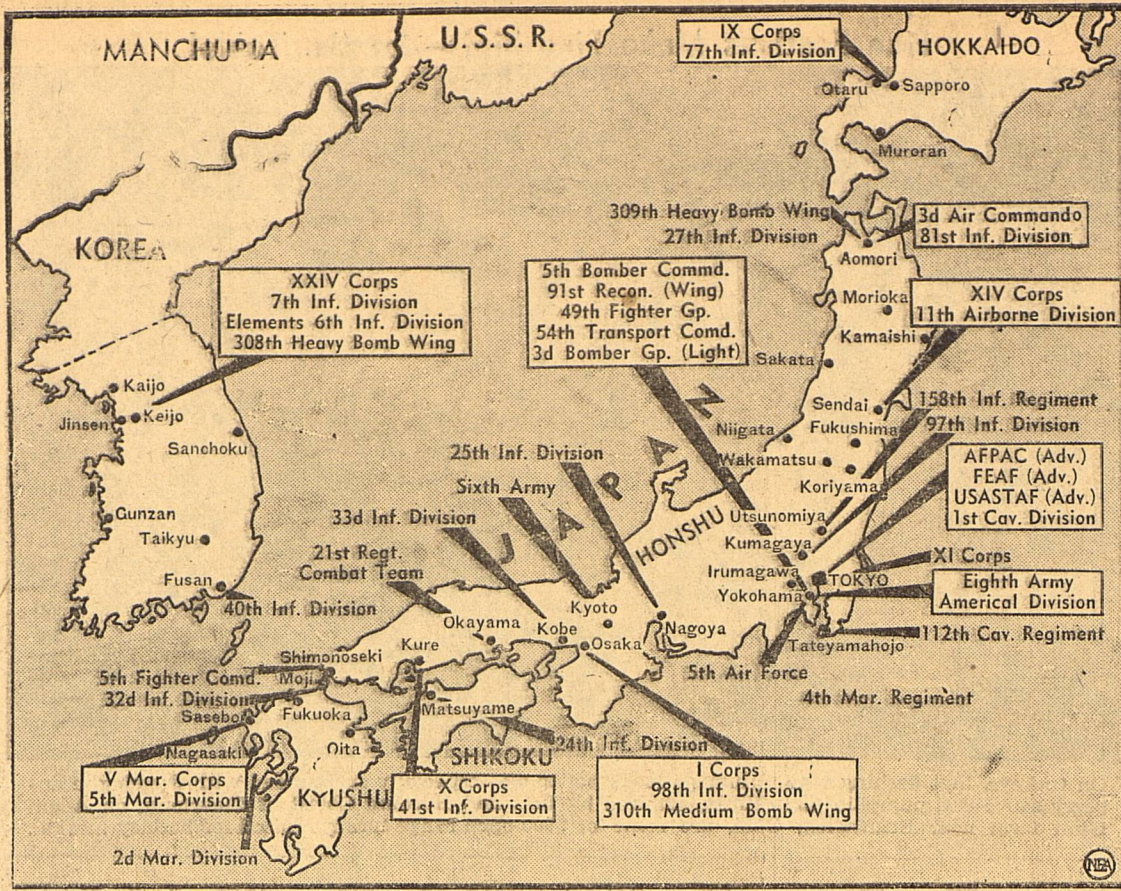

"I got my points in the wrong army," explained the former Fresno truck gardener, who is a private in the Japanese armed forces.

Fujikawa is known as "Fresno Joe" to troops of the American 40th Infantry Division who took him on as an interpreter as soon as they heard his state-side slang. He helps them—still wearing his Japanese army uniform—in the task of sending hundreds of thousands of Nipponese soldiers and civilians, uprooted from Korea, back to their homeland. This post is the chief funnel for the homeward trek.

Is Put To Work "We decided to put Joe to work for us," said his boss, Col. R. G. Stanton, Washington, D. C., "after we asked if he could speak English and he replied 'I getcha.'"

"Fresno Joe" is something of a mascot in the 40th Infantry Regiment now, but his future is a twilight matter, with Fujikawa himself completely uncertain what will happen to him, although he knows what he wants.

"I want to go home," he said simply. Which puts him in exactly the same mental frame as several million other young American-born soldiers who served under their own flag. His status, however, remains to be cleared.

If your lad is in the U. S. forces occupying Japan, map above will give you an idea of where he is located. The map, made from official data, shows disposition of major air and ground forces in Japan and Korea as of Oct. 26.

HE WASN'T MODEL PRISONER— Plainview Sergeant Knocked Down Jap Guard, Lived To Tell About It

TEMPLE.—(AP)—S/Sgt. Munroe D. Woodall of Plainview, Texas, a member of Texas' "Lost Battalion" was one prisoner who knocked down his Japanese guard and lived to tell the story.

"We were working on the steel framework for a building," declared Woodall. "A Korean gas-cutter came up to me and struck me in the face. Then I hit him—hard. I broke his glasses, and knocked him four or five feet. He and two Japs started after me. One began beating me on the back with a 5/8-inch steel bar, another was beating me on the head with his hammer, and the Korean was hitting me in the face and stomach with his fists. The construction company officials didn't report the fight to the Army because there had been so many of them between American prisoners and Japanese workers, and they feared the military would discontinue allowing them to use prisoner labor."

Gets Another Beating "A little later, while I was on the same job, I got another beating because I hadn't done my work to please the civilian pusher. I had driven about 600 rivets into a steel girder and was waiting for the crane to pick it up. I hadn't driven the rivets down tight enough, and when they cooled they were checked. Sometimes our work wasn't checked, but I was unfortunate. About 3 p. m. the 'pusher' came by and tested the rivets with a hammer. They were loose—so he began beating me in the head with the hammer handle. There are still scars where he hit me."

"I got my worst beating May 19, 1944," he continued. "That time I got the water treatment. Two civilians, captured on Wake Island, and I had been stealing Japanese army clothing from a warehouse and trading it to Jap civilians for soy beans and fish. In order to get the names of those who were stealing the Japanese threatened to throw 42 other prisoners into a tank and make them stay there overnight. We confessed. Six guards took us into a building and beat the three of us until we were barely conscious. Then they tied us on benches and pumped water down our noses.

"I guess I wasn't a model prisoner," he mused. "I seemed to get punished so much."

Rickenbacker Sells Indianapolis Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS.—(AP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, a 70-mile-an-hour daredevil of the automobile tracks 30 years ago, will be only a visitor from the aviation business when the grueling speedsters compete next May 30 in their first 500-mile race since 1941.

"Rick" sold the two-and-a-half mile Indianapolis motor speedway Saturday to Anton Hulman Jr., Terre Haute, Ind., sportsman and financier, for a price reported unofficially as about $750,000. Rickenbacker bought the plant in 1927 for $700,000.

The colorful captain, who went back to automobiles after shooting down 21 German airplanes and five balloons in the first World War, had to make a choice between his first love and his job as president of Eastern Air Lines. The newer mode of transportation won.

"The demands of running Eastern Airlines make it impossible for me to give the speedway the attention which it demands and it is fortunate that I am able to dispose of my interest to Mr. Hulman," Rickenbacker said.

Miss Ruth Carden's senior advisory room entered the most money in the drive with $5.90. Other teachers whose rooms entered $5 or more are: Miss Frances Farnham and Mrs. George Philippos.

No individual fee is required as the enrollment is done on a group basis. One dollar per hundred students is sent to the national organization. The remainder of the fund is used as a service fund for local Junior Red Cross expense. Money left from local expense goes to the National Children's Fund.

Clothing class girls plan to make bedspread slippers to give to the Red Cross.

'Don't Take My Penny' To Be Presented On November 30

"Don't Take My Penny," the junior play, will be presented at 8 p. m. Friday, Nov. 30. Characters of the three-act comedy are: Sally, a maid with a purpose, Alma Faye Cowden; Norman Porter, a publicity man; Joe Birdwell; Penny, a pretty little miss; Patsy Arrington; Caleb, her absorbed father, Lawrence King; Mark, her farm-minded brother, Jack Howell; Mavis, her attractive sister, Evelyn Wemple; Lydia, her busy mother, Katherine Bingham. Tickets for the morning and afternoon productions will be thirty cents and the evening performance will be fifty cents.

Three One-Act Plays Will Be Presented In Assembly Soon

"So Wonderful In White," a one-act play, will be given in assembly Wednesday. Characters portrayed are: Ginny Brash, Dorothy Faye Holt; Peg Shipman, Virginia Dunagan; Miss Cresson, Sharon Cornelius; Gail Stevens, Dorothy Butler; Jane Held, La Juan Dunlap; Eleanor DeWitt, Pat Ruckman; Miss Bushelman, Mary Nell Casselman; Miss Frankel, Joan Chapman; and the new girl, Barbara Brown. "Bed of Petunias" and "The Powers That Be," two other one-act plays, will be given in assemblies on Dec. 4 and Dec. 11, respectively. Dorothy Wolcott, Bobby Statton, Katherine Bingham, and Howard Mickey take the roles in "Bed of Petunias." Joan Chapman, Margaret Daugherty, Mary Nell Casselman, Frances Puett, Bonnie Robertson, and Marlene Buckland portray the characters in "The Powers That Be."

Who's Who - Goss

Attention! Be on the lookout for a boy 5 feet 2 1/2 inches tall, with blond hair and blue eyes! Search the area around Scharbauer Drug, his favorite hangout. Goss Yeager must be found.

If you see a boy wearing blue, eating fried chicken, and listening to "Till the End of Time" phone the authorities at once. This probably will be Goss. There is not much chance of finding him with a girl for girls are his pet peeve. He may be watching his favorite sport, football, with keen interest for he hopes to play football. Check with Mrs. Philippos, his favorite teacher, perhaps she has seen him.

During school hours he may be found in English, history, math, L. I. and P. E.

The freshman made a wise choice in selecting Goss as their president, their favorite, and one of their student council representatives.

If anyone hasn't seen him, it's purely coincidental and slightly off the record.

Most MHS Teachers Will Spend Holidays Here, Others Travel

While the majority of the high school teachers will remain in Midland during the Thanksgiving holidays, a few plan to visit parents and friends out of town.

Those going to Denton are: Miss Ruth Carden, Miss Helen Craig, and Miss Eloise Odam.

Miss Emma John Blake will spend the holidays at her home in Santa Anna.

Miss Minnie Jackson will visit in Hamilton.

Miss Martha Craigh will visit her parents in Breckenridge.

Jack Mashburn's plans to go to his home in Estes Park, Colo., are uncertain.

Miss Evelyn Pole will go to Kaufman to visit her parents.

Miss Margaret Stuart will visit her parents in Sterley.

Miss Helene Milby will spend the Thanksgiving holiday on the Wade Reid's ranch near Fort Davis. Mrs. Reid is a former teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Scannell.

Those remaining in Midland are: Mrs. Estes, Miss Verna Harris, Miss Frances Farnham, Dean Bennet, Mrs. Grace Hine, Harlan Howell, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gambill, Gene McCollum, Mrs. Elsie Magee, Aubra Noncaster, Mrs. George Philippos, Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, Miss Josephine Weaver, and Miss Lucy Moore.

Bulldogs Play Lamesa Thursday

This year the Bulldogs will have not one, but two Turkey Day battles. The first will be against the Lamesa Golden Tornado in Midland on the official Thanksgiving, November 22, at 2:30 p. m. The second will be against the Odessa Bronchos on the afternoon of November 29 in Odessa.

The Midlanders are favored to defeat the Tornadoes as the Purple and Gold has done four times since the first Bulldog-Lamesa contest in 1939. The South Plains boys held Midland to a 6-6 tie in 1940 and won 18-7 in 1941. In the remainder of the games Midland chalked up wins.

The two teams have had four common opponents in 3-AA play this year.

Comparative Results

Ablene 45, Lamesa 6; Abilene 27, Midland 6.

Sweetwater 14, Lamesa 0; Sweetwater 19, Midland 6.

Big Spring 0, Lamesa 6; Big Spring 6, Midland 9.

San Angelo 28, Lamesa 7; San Angelo 13, Midland 7.

Bulldogs vs Odessa

No team has accomplished what the Midland Bulldogs will be out to do on Fly Field November 29. The undefeated, untied Bronchos of Odessa have rolled over all opposition this season with the exception of the Armistice Day tilt with Sweetwater which the Bronchos won 13-12. Midland has had no such luck, winning only one district game, and that over the hapless Big Spring Steers, 9-6. Odessa crushed the Howard County boys 52-0. The Bulldogs have won over the Bronchos only twice in six years, losing the last four.

The "B" team, coached by Jack Mashburn, play the final game of the season against the Lamesans November 28 on the Midland field.

French Lieutenant Talks In Assembly

Lt. Henri Bordeaux of the French Army spoke at an assembly program Tuesday morning. He is with the French unit stationed at MAAF receiving bombardier instruction.

Lieutenant Bordeaux, who was in France during the German occupation, answered questions from the students following his talk.

"As there are men of various nations stationed at MAAF, we plan to invite several of them, representing the various countries, to speak to our assemblies," Principal Harlan Howell announced.

Annual Thanksgiving Begin In 1860's

The annual observance of Thanksgiving was brought about by stirring editorials by Mrs. Sarah J. Hale in "Godey's Ladies Book" during the Civil War.

In a letter to President Lincoln, she requested Thanksgiving be observed annually. Through public sentiment, Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday of November each year as a day of thanksgiving for the year's blessings.

Prior to this, the Pilgrims set aside a day of Thanksgiving for a successful harvest in 1621.

Freshman Girls Start Work On Dresses

The freshman clothing classes have begun sewing simple-styled school dresses.

Some will be colored cotton prints, and a few will be rayons. The students will have until the end of the semester to finish the project.

The third year girls are to finish making tailored school dresses of wool and after the holidays, a style show and a party will be given.

Christmas Party Planned By D. O. Class

The D. O. Class plans a Christmas party at the home of Jerry Howard. Names will be drawn for gifts.

Regular business meetings are held the first Thursday of each month. A program committee consisting of Vonnie Holliday, Wayne Roberts, La Verne Barrington, and Peggy Lands has been appointed.

A new member, Buford Robey, is employed at J. C. Penny Company.

Bonds, Stamps Sales Reach 71 Per Cent

The percentage of bond and stamp sales for Midland High School for November is 71 per cent.

The percentage of advisory rooms according to amount of sales are: Miss Carden, 304, 100; Miss Miley, 205, 100; Miss Harris, 307, 62; Miss Stuart, 306, 95; Miss Farnham, 309, 81; Mrs. Philippos, 102, 100; Mr. Howard, 101, 60; Mrs. Hine, 208, 45; Miss Weaver, 310, 100; Miss Blake, 108, 56; Miss Klapproth, 307, 62; Miss Craig, 302, 28; Miss Jackson, 204, 100; and Miss Moore, 109, 100.

Small Talk

Monday—Several of the members of M. H. S. were seen at the Odessa-Sweetwater game. Some stayed home and slept after the "full" weekend while other celebrated the coveted holiday.

Tuesday—Ah! Charles Boyer—Oh! John Rialta—Oh! four Frenchmen—and in our assembly! You could hardly notice the boys' stinky frowns (not caused by jealousy, we're sure) for all those starchy-eyed girls. Our slogan will now be, "Give us more holidays; give us more parties; and give us more Frenchmen."

Wednesday—Assembly—Allied Youth seems to "be on the beam." Seventy-six students and four teachers stayed to talk over organizing! Attention! Citizens of Midland! you weren't imagining things. This is a high school, but students will be students, and, after all, the soap bubbles were pretty.

Thursday—Hallelujah! glory be! We got out of fourth period. The Cowboy Band from Hardin-Simmons University played and literally raised the roof. KCRS gave them 15 minutes. P. S.—the boys liked them, too.

Friday—No fun today, no paid assemblies, and no Frenchmen! Nothing but study for those dreadful six-weeks exams, but cheer up, the Thanksgiving holidays are coming. We had a short pep rally with the band playing. No dance to-night—Ho, Hum—Guess things can't always be perfect! Gotta go now. So long till December 2.

A Thankful America?

What does Thanksgiving mean to you? Holidays, turkeys, visiting relatives?

Americans have so much to be thankful for and yet we hardly ever stop to think for what we are thankful. The Pilgrims were thankful for their first crop. They felt that security and peace were in sight. But in this day and age we have infinitely more to thank God for. Our homes haven't been ravaged and bombed; the war is over and soldiers will be coming back. We have the future to look forward to with hope while others have only dread and uncertainty before them. Breadlines don't block the streets here. We don't have to depend on the liberality of others for our food and clothes.

Yes, people in America can be thankful—and people in America are thankful.

Here's The Long And Short Of It

Don't get us wrong, there's nothing the matter with long or short names, but you might be interested in knowing that Patricia Eugenia Flanigan has the longest name on register in Midland High School with 23 letters. Jack Cox (seven letters) takes the smallest space, with Joel Sims, Jean Tuma, Jack Kemp and Rex Tatum coming in close with eight spaces.

Burma Margaret Daugherty, Wilona Carole Casselman, Marilyn Boynton and Joseph Vastin Birdwell don't use all their name for every day needs but aren't they tips for special occasions.

Of course we can make mistakes, so if your name is longer bring it to the Bulldog office and we'll retract our error.

'Sleeping Beauty' Is Used In Filibuster

Fairy Tales are again being read in classes in Midland High School.

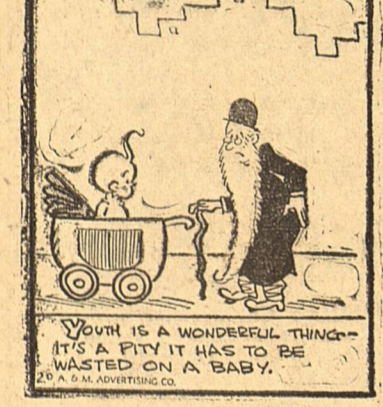

Miss Josephine Weaver's Civics Class enjoyed a series of stories ranging from "Sleeping Beauty" and "Mental Series" to "The Latin Dictionary." The occasion was the class dissolving into the Senate and filibustering a bill.

The bill was on Military Conscription. The class was a hilarious affair as the Senators aren't required to listen to a filibuster—and they don't unless interested and not many ever appear that way. Students doing the filibuster had so much perseverance that the others decided they would give up as this could go on for days. Sleepy eyes were very much in evidence.

No Bulldog Next Week

Blowing Bubbles On Campus Becomes Fad

"I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles" seems to be the new M. H. S. theme song and it has been taken literally—the students are coming to school with apparatus to do just that.

At lunch you may see someone doing what appears to be a ballet but in reality it is a light-hearted and brained inmate chasing bubbles. The bubbles are blown from a special solution and are not easily broken.

At least, this new fad is different.

KEEP HIM SAFE

his 250,000 Godfathers no longer can!

Yes, he's a war baby, born after December 7, 1941, the date that will live in infamy. Since then some 250,000 American men have died that he might live and grow in a world of peace—that he may never have to take up arms to defend his country and his loved ones.

Our heroic dead have left us a legacy—and a trust. To us they have given the knowledge that free men will fight, and die, to preserve that freedom, not only for themselves but also for those who come after them.

To us, too, they leave the solemn duty of making certain that America will remain spiritually, economically and financially sound... truly a land of freedom and opportunity for little children, rich and poor, in a world at peace.

Think of those who fought and died—and then join with a generous heart and an open pocketbook in this last great Victory Loan.* The money we lend will help to lay the groundwork of a finer, better America. It's our last great fight. Let's stand shoulder to shoulder till it's won.

*Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E, F & G U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.

They're Waiting

Mrs. Emilie Hahn and her daughter, Carola, now four years old, wait in New York while Maj. Charles Boxer hastens to them following his release from Jap prison camp. Mrs. Hahn, a former resident of Winnetka, Ill., named the British officer as the father of Carola in her recent book, "China to Me." Major Boxer has declared that he and the authoress will be married soon after his arrival in New York, where she lives.

LOCK, STOCK AND BARREL —

West Texas Town, Robert Lee, Will Move To Make Way For Reservoir

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff
A whole West Texas town is getting ready to move, lock, stock and barrel. Engineers are surveying for a dam across the upper Colorado River and if it's built, it will put water well into the second story of the rock school house that sits on the highest point in Robert Lee up in Coke County.

Not only that, but 77 farms will have to move, too. But Gerald Allen, rancher and owner of the big drug store in Robert Lee (population 1,575), says not a single objection has been made by anyone to moving the town four or five miles. The cook in the cafe, who brags that he makes the best son-of-a-gun stew in America, said, "This country is so damned dry we would move anywhere to get water."

The dam has been a long time in coming. Back in 1891 the Coke County Rustler, oldest institution in Coke County, carried an item about a party of engineers surveying for a dam. Now R. Hunter, the fisherman-editor, is carrying similar items—but it looks like it may go through this time. The Amarillo Globe reports that preliminary engineering reports show that an earth and rockfill dam 136 feet high will provide a reservoir with a capacity of 670,000-acre feet.

Eventually it will irrigate 58,000 acres of land, and furnish a satisfactory water supply for several towns and communities. The reservoir, however, would cover Robert Lee's townsite. A canal 19 miles long will serve 5,500 acres of land near the river and a canal 50 miles long, with two secondary 12-mile canals, will furnish water for 52,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Miles and Ballinger.

Surveys show that with irrigation, crop yields are expected to increase to $41.75 an acre, in addition to providing pasturage valued at $2.50 per acre. Present income of the project area is about $500,000. The new dam will jump this to $2,600,000 annually. The project will cost around $12,600,000, and the annual benefits from irrigation, flood control, recreation and wild life would be over $2,000,000. Repayment will be over a 40-year period.

The Grand Canal, or Yun Ho, of China, rambles for almost a thousand miles through the coastal plain of that country, and is the longest artificial waterway in the world.

VARIABLE PAINT
An English chemist developed a paint for outdoor use that is so affected by the sun's rays that it appears black in the daytime and white at night.
