Eight Sailors Trapped By Gulf Ship Blast

GALVESTON -(AP) - Eight crew members are trapped in the engine room of the Swedish ship Sveaborg at Texas City following an explosion below decks at 4:30 a. m. Thursday.

At least 17 others were taken to hospitals in Texas City and Galveston.

The vessel was loading gasoline at the time. A blast tore a 15-foot hole in the port side of the ship and flattened the superstructure.

The aft end of the ship immediately sank.

Four-Power Rule Of Japan, Trusteeship For Korea Approved

LONDON-(P)-Secretary of State Byrnes said in Moscow Thursday that the Big Three foreign ministers had agreed on the handling of the atomic question, and a reliable informant in London said the foreign ministers also approved four-power rule for Japan.

The London source said the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia and Great Britain had agreed also to a five-year trusteeship of Korea, suggesting that independence would come to that Asiatic peninsula after 1950.

The informant, who is in a position to know what transpired, said the Big Three agreed Japan should be controlled by Russia, the United States, Great Britain and China.

The London informant said it was not clear whether final authority in Japan would rest with the council or if Gen. Douglas MacArthur would have the power to override its decisions.

It already has been announced that Secretary of State Byrnes, Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotev of Russia and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain reached an agreement on procedure for drawing peace treaties with Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria, Finland and Italy.

Timely Advice

The war definitely ushered in the air age, not only in terms of military strategy but as regards future travel, business and employment. During the war years, more than 3,000,000 men and women became a part of our military air forces. To the vast majority of them, participation in aviation was a new experience. And to a large number of them-from 500,000 to 1,500,000, according to various estimates-it represents the peacetime activity which they wish to follow.

All veterans, naturally, will not be able to find immediate work in the aviation industry. What was, during the war, a way of life as well as an industry, made possible by war's requirements and heightened by excitement, is now becoming a highly competitive business. Demands have gone down and requirements have gone up.

To save a large measure of disillusionment, the magazine National Aeronautics, co-operating with most of the governmental, manufacturing and trade associations of bilities in aviation and offered some Dutch-uncle advice to ness because of labor difficulties, Delbert Davison, vice president and the thousands of veterans who want to follow flying as a general manager, said Wednesday. career.

The corporation has been strike-bound since December 6 when the Since the number of persons potentially affected International Brotherhood of Teamprobably exceeds the magazine's circulation, some of this sters, Chauffours and Warehouse-men (AFL) called its workers off advice deserves to be passed on: the job.

"The veteran should not insist on flying. Airplane driving is only one of the many occupations in aviation. There are many others just as vital and interesting and the approach to them is perhaps easier through the front office than from the flight line or hangar. If all else fails, the veteran can start just as well from a clerical or business job, for as civil aviation matures, its leaders must be good business men as well as good technicians." An estimate of aviation employment by the magazine gives a total of 985,000 possible jobs in 1955, in the fields of government, manufacturing, airlines, airports (including sales and service), feeder-cargo lines and industrial flying. But the estimate of present jobs in these fields is only a little more than 340,000. The magazine goes on to list potential job opportuni-ties, with their qualifications and pay scales. But it wisely warns that aviation is not a business to choose because it is exciting, or because flying is the only thing a person knows. It emphasizes that while the whole aviation industry wants to welcome the veterans with open arms, it just cannot find places for all of them.

Familiar Tragedy

First the planes flew over the unfortified village and dropped their bombs. Then the artillery shelled it. Finally the infantry moved in and set fire to the town.

The attack was in reprisal for the killing of comrades by the inhabitants of the village, who in turn had avenged the bombing and machine-gunning of themselves and their defenseless homes.

Sounds familiar, doesn't it? Only this time the attackers were British, and the villagers were Javanese. The British didn't line the villagers up and shoot them. Otherwise the story isn't too different from some of the blackest pages in the Nazis' history. Ostensibly the British are in Java to disarm the Japanese there. They are using American lend-lease weapons for that purpose. But a diligent daily search of the news fails to disclose any British roundup of Japs in Java. What the British are doing, and have been doing for weeks, is to wage a war for the Netherlands Empire against a people who are fighting for their independence.

Is it not possible for this government to make an effort, at least, to stop this one-sided, bloody, indefensible war? We have requested the Russians to withdraw in Iran from a fight that is none of their business. We might at least do as much in Java.

We have always been proud that our nation was founded by colonists who dared fight to win their independence. Now that pride becomes an embarrassment that rises to plague us. At least George III never promised the American colonists self-determination and selfgovernment. But this government is co-author and co-signer of such a promise, along with the rest of the United Nations. Why don't we do something about it?

Doc Cramer Was Most Efficient Outfielder In American League By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO — (P) — The Detroit Tigers had Hal Newhouser and Hank Greenberg as aces in the hole. but their 1945 title performance also was helped by the American League's best defensive line down the middle. It's an old baseball axiom that the team with the best fielders on a line from the plate to centerfield is always a pennant contender. The Tigers, according to official fielding statistics, had the junior circuit's strongest defensive catcher, pitcher, second baseman and centerfielder.

Future baseball generations may wonder about it, but the American League's most efficient outfielder in 1945 was 41-year-old (that much he admits) Roger (Doc) Cramer, Detroit centerfielder, who committed only three muffs in 324 chances for a .991 average. The best second baseman was consistent Eddie Mayo of the Bengals with .980 as he fumbled only 15 times in 734 chances. Paul Richards, Detroit's string-bean receiver, topped the league catchers with

.995 muffing only twice in 407 chances. Newhouser, the season's best oitcher, led his mound colleagues in fielding as he handled 82 chances without mishap.

Rounding out the all-star infield on the basis of fielding statistics were Mickey Rocco of Cleveland at first base with .992 on 10 errors in 1,328 tries; Shortstop Vern Stephens of St. Louis, .961 on 28 errors in 723 chances, and Third Baseman George Kell of Philadelphia, .964 on 20 bobbles in 551 risks. The team fielding title went to Cleveland with .977, three points higher than the 1944 winning average of .974 shared by the Indians and New York. The league fielding average of .973 also was better than

There is now another disadvantage to a large professional standing army. Wars in the twentieth century are fought with the total resources, economic, scientific, and human of entire nations. Marcus cashed dummy's king hearts and overtook the heart queen with the ace. Now he had an almost perfect count on the West hand.

West, being vulnerable, could not come into the bidding without six clubs. Marcus had located four hearts in the West hand, and two spades; therefore the ace of diamonds should be a singleton. After picking up the trumps, Marcus led the small diamond from his king. West won and made a desperate attempt to beat the hand by leading a small club, but Marcus went up with dummy's jack and made the contract.
