Two Honored At Rule Banquet

Fenny Tanner and Ann Wilson received awards as the Outstanding Man and Woman of Rule Tuesday night during the 22nd Annual Rule Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

Lavon Beakley made the presentations and stated that both of the recipients were active in community and church activities.

Invocation was given by John Greeson, minister of Rule Church of Christ, and Weldon Norman introduced guests from Dallas, Abilene, Alvin, Sagerton, Rochester, and Haskell.

Special entertainment was provided by "Hot Dog and the Dummy Mummies" in the form of an amusing puppet show.

Tanner spoke to those attending telling of the accomplishments of the Rule Chamber during the past year. He said the most important event was the Jubilee Day held in August. The event was held so that the people of Rule could get together, have a good time, and to bring the people of the community closer together. He also expressed special thanks to A. B. Arnett who provided table decorations.

Tanner, outgoing president, introduced new officers as Barry Hobbs, president; A. B. Arnett, vice president; and Bertha McQuinn, secretary-treasurer. New members to the board of directors are: Morris Neal, Nona Norwood, N. S. Ousley, Maxine Hertenberger, and A. D. May.

The largest fish brought in Saturday was a 4 lb. 12 oz caught by Woody Elliott of Wichita Falls and the largest Sunday was a 7 lb. 6 oz. caught by Brian Dulaney of Lubbock. He also had the biggest bass of the tournament.

Barry Hobbs introduced Dr. Don Newberry of Tarrant County Junior College as the speaker for the evening.

Dr. Newberry gave a talk mixed with much humor, and several serious points.

The Rev. Allen Forbis, pastor of the Rule Methodist Church, gave the benediction.

Owens Makes Statement To Voters

I appreciate the opportunity that has been mine to serve you as your Tax-Assessor Collector. I believe you, the people of Haskell County have found that my staff as well as my self have tried to serve you in an efficient and courteous manner. Our records are your records and we invite you to check them any time you should wish to do so.

As you are aware our work is under the supervision of the Texas Highway Department, The State Comptroller's Office and the Secretary of State. They establish guidelines as well as instructions to what we are to do and not do. When we have problems in these areas they can usually be worked out.

I appreciate your help in the past helping us maintain good records. As you know this office is not responsible for the lowering or raising of taxes but we are responsible for the accuracy of these records concerning all the work in this office.

I hope to see all of you before May 1st, but as you are aware that our car registrations have gone a different system of registration which has slowed down our work. We have also been required by the Secretary of State to re-register all of the voters in our county, so if I do not get to see each of you before May 1st, I would like to say again I appreciate you letting me work for you and I pledge to work the full time for next four years. I covet your vote and support.

Perry Makes Statement To Voters

On Saturday, May 1st an individual will be elected to serve as your Commissioner of Precinct 3. He will have to rely on his OWN experience...his OWN ability...his OWN judgment. I truly believe that I am qualified to be your commissioner...for I have the experience, and both my ability and judgment, as in the past, will be put to use so as to serve the county in its best interest.

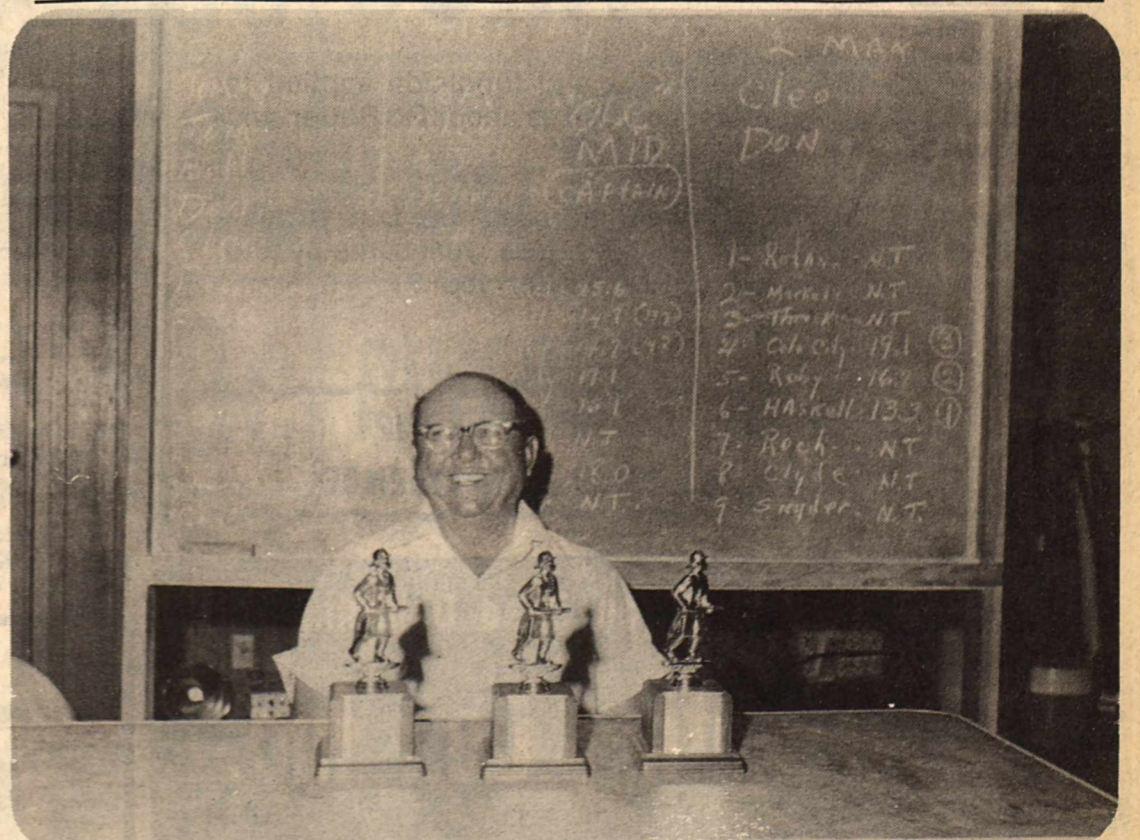

My records are open and I would invite each constituent to examine these records at his will. You will find that Precinct 3 is in excellent condition financially. In times where the rising cost of operation is effecting everyone I believe this to be a very influential record. Not only do the records show that the county monies are "out of the red", but for those of you who drive the roads in Precinct 3 I truly believe you will attest to the fact that they are well maintained, also.

I would ask that every qualified voter go to the polls on May 1 and vote. This is a privilege one must exercise to enjoy. I would appreciate very much any consideration and vote given me at the polls. I promise that I will continue to serve as I have in the past, if re-elected- treating everyone as an equal...trying to please the majority with the right judgment while giving offense to no one intentionally.

I shall never seek office on the demerits of any man...If I am not worthy of the office then I should not be elected. I would rather lose a clean and respectful race than to reap a shallow victory through slander, bigotry, or mud slinging.

I solicit your support and your vote in the May 1st Democratic Primary through this statement and I plan also to see each voter personally to ask the same.

I thank you for your support in the past and I seek it again at this time.

Aggie Muster Planned For April 21

Former students of Texas A&M University living in Haskell, Jones, Stonewall, Kent and Knox, counties, their wives and friends are invited to attend the annual Aggie Muster to be held this year on the Stamford Lake, April 21.

Waller Overton, this year's Muster Chariman, says that the meeting will be held at John Kimbrough's cabin at Veda's Camp with dominoes starting at 1 p.m., "That Certain Spirit" at 6:30 and supper beginning at 7:00 and the Muster following shortly thereafter.

If planning to attend notify president John Kimbrough, Sec. Ted Elliott, or Waller Overton.

The Aggie Muster dates back to 1903 and is a time for all Aggies wherever they may be, to gather together and pay homage to comrades who have departed their ranks.

More than 350 Musters will be held around the world this year, Overton said, wherever Texas A&M former students live or work. During the wars, the Aggies have mustered in foxholes on the battlefield, aboard ships, in airplanes and in hospitals. During World War II, the Aggies mustered on Corregidor shortly before the Japanese captured the island.

The ceremony is the same in every location. The Aggies pay their respects to those who are absent. When the names of the honored dead are called from the Muster Roll, a friend of the deceased answers, "here."

Snakes A Part Of Spring

Like it or not, snakes are a part of springtime.

The presence of snakes should not dampen your enjoyment of the outdoors since snake safety is largely a matter of preventing poisonous bites.

Officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department say that a significant number of snake bites occur around the home. At home it is a matter of making the environment less attractive for snakes.

Vacant lots should be kept mowed, trash piles picked up and lumber and wood stacked off the ground.

Rattlesnakes depend on rodents for food. Rid your home site of rats and mice and you will make it less attractive for snakes.

Most people are bitten on the hands and feet. Keep your hands out of armadillo holes or tree hollows. Use a stick or other lever to turn over a log rather than your hands. Don't gather firewood at night.

As much as possible, keep to open ground, avoid dense grass and weeds.

High-top shoes worn with long trousers will protect against most copperhead bites and strikes from small rattlesnakes.

Ten-inch hunting boots and trousers will protect against many rattlesnakes but if you frequent notoriously snake-infested areas, consider wearing snake boots and leggings.

During the mild days of early spring, snakes may be found sunning themselves in direct sunlight. But after the weather grows hot snakes will retreat to cool shady areas.

Don't panic if you encounter a snake. Stop, look back over the trail you have covered to make sure you haven't missed Haskell; and a grandfather, Casibio Abile of Haskell.

Snakes are just as afraid of people as we are of them.

Learn to expect poisonous snakes.

Cottonmouths are found around water while wooded areas with leafy ground cover are favorite sites for copperheads.

Rattlesnakes like the same areas preferred by rabbits and rodents. Many of the serious diamondback bites which occur in Texas are inflicted on berry hunters.

In California it was found that one-fifth of the poisonous snake-bite treatments were administered to zoo keepers, professional snake handlers and others whose occupation involved handling snakes. Springtime floods push all snakes from low lands to highwater mark. After a flood be particularly careful: not only will the poisonous snakes be concentrated in one area but strange surroundings will make them more prone to strike.

There are four types of poisonous snakes in Texas: rattlers, copperheads, cottonmouths and coral snakes.

Bulletin Number one, "Poisonous Snakes," is stepping on another reptile and then slowly back away.

Snakes are just as afraid of people as we are of them.

More than 7,000 people are bitten by venomous snakes each year in the United States but less than 20 die from the bites. Even in Texas which has the highest mortality figure for snake bites, during a 10-year period the average number of deaths per year is four.

While seldom fatal, the bite of a poisonous snake is painful and can often cripple.

Poisonous snakes deserve respect, but an awareness of how to avoid their bite will make spring in the Texas outdoors a richer experience.

Keep Them Down On The Farm

Giving baby rabbits, chicks and ducks for Easter is cruel and in many states and cities illegal. The American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) urges parents not to give children living animals as toys.

A baby rabbit, chick or duck is not likely to survive in the home atmosphere, AVMA points out. A young child's enthusiasm over the new pet often results in unknowing cruelty as legs are broken and wings crushed. If the animal dies or is injured, it is a traumatic experience for the child. If the animal survives, it generally ends up in an animal shelter. Because such a large number of rabbits, chicks and ducks are left at animal shelters during the post-Easter season, it is impossible to place them all and many have to be destroyed. Even if the animal should reach maturity, many local ordinances would prohibit a family from keeping it.

Parents should remember that these are outdoor animals. They cannot be housebroken and may cause serious housekeeping and health problems. Many are disease carriers. The National Center for Disease Control in Atlanta and other public health authorities warn that children and adults in close contact with these animals may be exposed to salmonellosis, a severe gastrointestinal infection. Salmonellosis is rarely fatal but often requires medical treatment including hospitalization. In addition to the family, other pets in the household may become ill.

Because of the problems surrounding "Easter pets," many communities have passed laws prohibiting the sale of these animals, including rabbits, ducklings and other fowl.

Easter and the coming of spring should be a time of joy and rebirth, not a period of physical illness, psychological trauma and the needless deaths of young animals. AVMA urges parents to leave rabbits, chicks, ducklings and similar animals on the farm and give their children stuffed toys or chocolate "bunnies" instead.

YOU CAN "LIVE" HISTORY AT LYNDON B. JOHNSON NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE

A good way to grab a slice of the past so vividly that you'll never forget it is to participate in a "living history" program. "Living history" is a term used by the National Park Service to describe a method of presenting the past so that the park visitor can see, smell, hear, touch and taste it in a way that could never be duplicated in a textbook.

In an earlier article, we told you about one portion of the Lyndon B. Johnson National Historic Site—the LBJ Ranch. Today we'd like to talk about the Johnson Settlement part of the site, where history lives.

The frontier heritage that shaped the life of our 36th president is recalled at the Johnson Settlement, located in Johnson City, Tex. After a brief orientation in the park visitor center, walk across the street and take a guided tour through the former president's boyhood home.

On this 20-minute tour, you'll see the home President Johnson lived in from age five. Here are some of the symbols and images that helped structure his view of how the world ought to be.

After touring the Boyhood Home and the other buildings in the area such as the washhouse, barn and out-house, you're ready to begin participating in the historical past. How does a wagon ride sound?

You're welcome to take a mule or horse-drawn wagon ride to a nearby area where Lyndon Johnson's grandparents lived in the 1860's. Qualified mule skinnners will take you to the settlement area while chatting with you about the background of the Johnson family.

Hop off the wagon at the exhibit center—a modern building constructed of native rock—and get a firm grip on the two time periods you'll be looking at here. The first period, 1867-1872, deals with the President's grandparents and the open-range cattle industry of the American west; the second time period, 1872-1900, interprets the close of the open-range cattle industry in the Hill Country and the conversion of the frontier to a settled agriculture and stock cattle economy.

Living history abounds in this area. Smell the food cooking on the open fire place, as meals are prepared in the 1860's log house.

Talk to the blacksmith as he shoes horses or repairs articles used at the historic site in his shop, patterned after one from the 1890's.

Look at the longhorn cattle pastured in a nearby field, illustrating the type of cattle the Johnsons were collecting and driving to Kansas in the 1867-1872 era.

Parachute Ride Set To Open At Six Flags

Arlington, Texas—The biggest addition to Six Flags Over Texas in several years, a huge parachute ride, will formally open Saturday, April 10.

The first riders to board the 200-foot tall thrill ride will be members of Tyler Junior College's Apache Belles drill team, performing their first aerial "dance" routine.

The Belles and the Apache Band will be featured in 9:45 a.m. ceremonies officially opening the 1.5 million dollar ride.

Twenty four of the sixty performing Belles will be carried high into the sky for the inauguration of the spectacular ride. At the 175-foot level the parachutes carrying the girls will plunge earthward, traveling at free-fall speed for the first thirty five feet. Then the "chutes will pop open and the performers will drift to a soft landing.

The debut of the Texas Chute Out will mark the return of what has been described as the nation's most popular thrill ride. A similar ride at New York's Coney Island closed several years ago. In its heyday, the Coney parachute drop was consistently that park's most popular attraction, outdrawing some of the world's most exciting roller coasters.

The Six Flags version of the ride is expected to carry an average of 1,500 passengers an hour, with two or three persons—depending on size—seated beneath each of the ride's twelve parachutes.

Six Flags Over Texas will be open daily from April 10, through April 20, for the Easter holidays. The theme park will return to weekend-only operation until May 22, when daily operation will begin for the summer session.

CONSERVATION VIEWPOINTS USDA Soil Conservation Service

Assisting

California Creek and Wichita-Brazos

Soil and Water Conservation Districts

Under the leadership of the Boards of Directors of the California Creek, Wichita-Brazos, King-Stonewall, Duck Creek, Upper Colorado, Upper Clear Fork, Mitchell, and Nolan Soil and Water Conservation Districts; the Commissioner's Courts of Knox, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Mitchell and Nolan Counties, the BIG COUNTRY Resource Conservation and Development Project is progressing towards finalization.

The application for assistance has been approved by the Governor of Texas and the Secretary of Agriculture. The Executive Committee is now in the process, working with the various County Resource Committees, of developing all of the various needs for each county and for the project area in general.

Haskell County Judge B. O. Roberson has named the following persons of Haskell County to serve on the County Resource Committee: R. V. Earles, California Creek Soil and Water Conservation District Director from Paint Creek; M. W. Pheister, Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District Director from Weinert; J. R. Perry, County Commissioner of Prec. 3 from Paint Creek; Abe Turner, President of Haskell National Bank from Haskell; R. C. Couch, Jr. Agri-Business Consultant from Haskell; Mrs. R. C. Couch, Jr. Ladies Progressive Study Club from Haskell; Robert Speer, Texas Department of Public Welfare from Haskell; Royce Adkins, Haskell Industrial Foundation from Haskell; Jack Young, Game Warden, Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife from Haskell, and J. C. Yearly, Jr., District Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service from Haskell as Technical advisor.

Each community, Rule, Rochester, O'Brien, Weinert, and Haskell is invited to name a representative to serve with the committee as representative of the city government.

In 1964, the first RC&D Project—the Lincoln Hills RC&D Project in Kentucky—was officially approved. Since that time numerous projects have been initiated by local leadership throughout the United States. Two of the closest to our locale are the Four-Winds RC&D Project including Childress, Cottle, Foard, and Hardeman Counties, and the Leon-Bosque RC&D Project headquartered at Stephenville.

RC&D Projects help communities to grow. This has been very evident in those locales where RC&D Projects have been in existence for some time. Of course, this is the main purpose of such a program. And even though it is sponsored by the Department of Agriculture, it must remain under the leadership of local people to be completely successful.

Our own efforts towards the development of the BIG COUNTRY RC&D Project have been strictly from the technical viewpoints necessary to guide local leadership in the proper channels. I sincerely hope that all citizens of Haskell County will make it their personal concern to acquaint themselves with the purposes, efforts, and possible future effects of the BIG COUNTRY RC&D Project. It will take everyone working side by side to make our project accomplish what its leaders are hoping will be accomplished.

I will be of any assistance to anyone wishing further knowledge concerning the BIG COUNTRY RC&D Project. Please call on me if you desire. J. C. Yearly, Jr., District Conservationist

Mental Retardation

Editor— This is one of a series of articles about Mental Retardation prepared by Mrs. Eugene Cochran and the Public Education Committee of the Texas Association for Retarded Citizens.

CAMP ROADRUNNER 1976

CAMP ROADRUNNER is a residential summer camp of 7 days duration held annually for mentally retarded persons. 1976 is the 9th season for CAMP ROADRUNNER, one of the few places where retarded persons can spend a week being happy and care-free, helping each other and learning new skills. The camp is designed, not only to provide recreation, but also to demonstrate that the retarded person can learn to use their time constructively. The campers will have an opportunity to live away from home and to share in camping programs designed and administered just for them. The "CAMP ROADRUNNER" experience is sponsored by the TEXAS ASSOCIATION for RETARDED CITIZENS, INC. and the local Associations of 6 communities in Region II plan and produce the summer program.

Mentally retarded persons ages 12 years and over, of any race may attend. The majority of these children and adults will fall within the trainable or educable categories as devised by the Texas Education Agency. Campers should be toilet trained, ambulatory, and capable (for the most part) of feeding and dressing themselves and able to communicate their basic needs (in some understandable manner).

The 1976 CAMP ROADRUNNER campsite will be provided at the Texas 4-H Center, 12 miles North of Brownwood on Texas 279 and one mile East on F.M. 3021, on a 78 acre site overlooking Lake Brownwood.

Parents, guardians and sponsoring agencies or organizations are requested to provide the camp fee of $77.00 per child. It is hoped that no child is refused admission because of inability to pay the fee. Civic groups, auxiliary organizations, individuals, foundations, and businesses are asked to sponsor a child or children to assist where financial help is necessary. The support will be an investment in the child's development and happiness. $15 is requested as a deposit made with the application to attend ROADRUNNER, the other costs involved will be $5.00 for snacks, cold drinks, etc. for the week. Insurance will be provided from the day the camper leaves home until the time the camper returns home.

Accommodations will be available for approximately 200 campers, July 3-10, 1976. Applications will be taken on a "first come—first served" basis. DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS and $15 DEPOSIT for each child to attend is June 5.

Campers will be transported by parents (volunteers, etc.) between home and camp or by bus provided by local ARC's (churches, organizations) in various communities. Campers will arrive at Camp BEFORE 12 NOON July 3, and leave for home AFTER 12 NOON July 10. (between 1 and 2 p.m.)

The camper's health and safety are of the greatest importance. Each camper must have a health certificate (physical-medical form) completed after APRIL 1, 1976. A nurse will be at camp at all times to care for minor ailments and to direct the health program. A licensed physician will be on call in case of serious illness or the child can be taken to the hospital in Brownwood. (or to the hospital and physician of your choice.)

The camp staff is drawn from responsible, experienced, professional persons. These people are given special camp training and orientation preceding the camping session. There will be at least one staff member to each five campers. (more, if the child's handicap necessitates).

All camping facilities are air conditioned and heated. Quality mattresses and pillows are furnished. Campers must furnish their own linens and all personal items.

Several outdoor recreational facilities are provided, including a 40x70 swimming pool. The West Texas Utilities Water Safety Team will provide the water safety measures.

A non-denominational church service will be held at the camp.

Mrs. Joye Loyd, Rt. 3, Box 176, Snyder, Texas 79549, Phone: 915-573-3729, serves as camp director and please contact her. For more information, application blanks for admission and all other forms.

In 1975, 6 citizens of Haskell County and 2 citizens from Stonewall County enjoyed a "Fun" week at Camp Roadrunner. Several staff members also attended from the area. You, the people of this area made this experience possible. The campers are ready and anxious to attend the session this summer. It will be necessary again for the community to assist financially those campers that are unable to provide the full camping fee. If you can help to sponsor, or sponsor a camper or campers, please contact Don Comedy. If you care to know of the benefits derived from last summer's venture, speak to any of the Haskell Training Center participants. If there are persons interested in working as staff during the camp session, contact Mrs. Loyd for applications.

A tornado is a violently rotating column of air pendant from a thunderstorm (cumulonimbus) cloud and touching the ground. Rain and frequently hail will usually precede the storm with the heaviest downpour immediately to the left of the tornado.

Homecoming Planned At Old Glory

Old Glory, the little town in West Texas with the patriotic name is planning a big bicentennial home coming for all ex-students and teachers of the Old Glory Rural High School District or any of its consolidated districts during the Labor Day weekend this year.

At present, a committee is hard at work trying to secure as many addresses of former students as possible. Anyone whose address has changed or knowing someone whose address has changed, or who for any other reason may not have their address on file is asked to send this information to Mrs. Anita Baldree, Rt. 1, Old Glory, Texas 79540 or the Bryant Grocery at Old Glory.

The committee is planning a dance at the Son's of Herman Hall for Saturday night, Sept. 4th, beginning at 8 p.m. for ex-students who wish to attend. On Sunday, Sept. 5th there will be a big barbecue and picnic luncheon. Tickets for the luncheon will be $1.50. Advance tickets are not necessary this year.

According to George Rhoads, president of this year's committee, an effort will be made to notify as many ex-students, teachers, and patrons as possible, but there will no doubt be some whose addresses will not reach them. These people are just as welcome as those who receive the notices, according to Rhoads. The committee is interested in making the Old Glory Bicentennial Homecoming the biggest one ever.

Two Attend Seminar In Midland

Ruth Ann Klose, Administrator of Rice Springs Care Home and Marie Townsend of Rule, attended a seminar entitled "Financial Aspects of Quality Long-Term Care", conducted by North Texas State University Center for Studies in Aging and sponsored by the Texas Association of Homes for the Aging. The seminar was held in Midland, Texas.

Faculty for the seminar-workshop were Larry S. Drury, C.P.A., Robert W. McCausland, C.P.A.; Julius E. Cox, Administrator of Marshall Manor Nursing Home Nancy F. McPhail, certified remotivation therapist, dance therapist and instructor; social services director, Marshall Manor Nursing Home, Marshall; and John R. Shull, M.D., director, Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, Methodist Hospital, Dallas.

Other staff members were Allen Skidmore, Shirley Goff, Kathryn Ragsdale, and Clyde Hayden representing the sponsors and University.

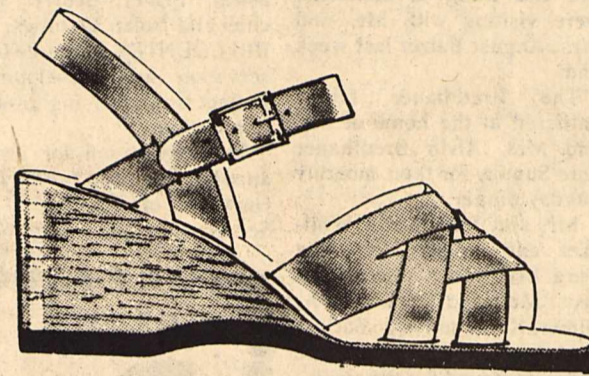

Budgeting and Planning, Installing A Quality Rehabilitation Program and Activity Programs Success Story were highlights of the seminar. Those in attendance received fifteen hours in continuing education credit toward their re-licensure with Texas State Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators.

More benefits than credit hours were received by all in attendance. Valuable and workable information was given and shared, so that new and better approaches might be adopted and put into use with each facility, encouraging a better life and more active "living" in care homes and many of these activities were already a part of the everyday life at Rice Springs Care Home here in Haskell.

Reddy's Helpful Tips

- ★ Return fresh foods to the refrigerator and frozen foods, such as ice cream, to the freezer as soon as possible. Measure and remove the quantity needed for cooking or for the table, and refrigerate the remainder at once.
- ★ Use cold controls efficiently by selecting the settings that provide about 36° F. in the refrigerator and 0° F. in the freezer.
- ★ Fill the refrigerator with food, but be careful not to overflow. Make sure that food packages don't block air vents in the freezer or refrigerator section.
- ★ Clean the condenser surfaces of the refrigerator; dirt restricts air flow and acts to insulate the condenser, forcing the refrigerator to work harder and longer to maintain proper temperatures.

Organizational Meeting Set Tues., April 20

Texas State Technical Institute, in cooperation with Haskell Public Schools, is considering offering nurses' aide and medication aide classes in Haskell.

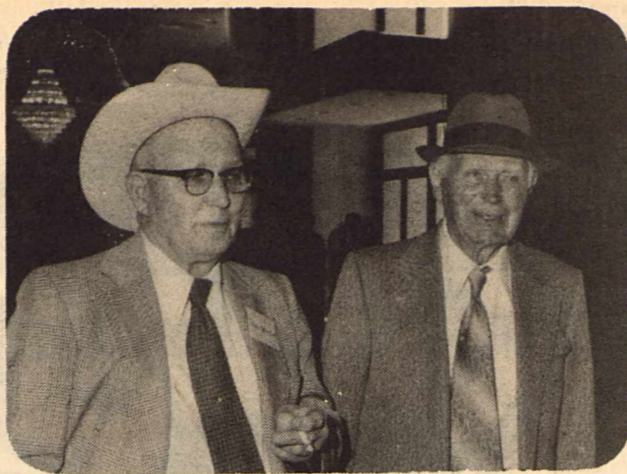

The 120-hour nurses' aide course is open to any person qualifying for the program who is at least 18 years of age.

The 60-hour medication aide course has the following pre-requisites:

Introductory interview with the instructor. Must be currently employed in a nursing home as an aide. Must be recommended for the course by the administrator or director of the nursing home. Must furnish three (3) personal references. Must demonstrate the skills of taking vital signs. Must take a physical examination prior to enrollment.

An organizational meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, April 20, at 7:30 p.m., at Haskell High School. Interested persons should be present at this most important meeting.

Mobile homes are more susceptible to damage by high winds than other types of housing. Mobile homes should be tied down at all times. When a tornado approaches, leave for more substantial shelter.

RALPH MERCHANT, President of the Texas Chapter of Land Improvement Contractors of America is shown with his uncle, Ralph Merchant, who lives in Vista, California. Mr. Merchant, left Haskell in 1906 and came back in 1919 to attend the funeral of Mrs. C. H. Merchant. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Merchant attended a convention in San Diego, Calif. the later part of Feb. This was the first time the two Ralph Merchants had met.

Ask a dog, "Who is man's best friend?" and it might just take a bite out of your leg.

Animal bites, whether or not you can joke about them, are no laughing matter, says the Texas Department of Health Resources.

More than 7,700 bites were tabulated during 1975 by the Bureau of Veterinary Public Health of the Department of Health Resources. These bite reports come from roughly a fifth of the state's population.

Animal bite incidents are reported regularly through a surveillance program operating through local health departments which cover an average human population of approximately 2.3 million persons per month.

The animal bite rate for 1975 was 336 per 100,000 population, a slight increase over the 1974 rate. Reports that year covered approximately 3.1 million people per month.

The surveillance report can put the finger on who is most likely to be bitten badly enough to report the injury.

Last year in Texas the most frequent victims were younger children. Of the 7,727 persons reported bitten in surveillance areas, 35 percent were less than 10 years of age. And, 60.5 percent were under 20 years old.

Man's best friend, the dog, was responsible for 83.2 percent of the bites, and cats were the villains in 11.6 percent of the bite cases. That leaves wild animals for the bulk of the remaining bites. These included three reports of fox bites and 18 by skunks. Rodents were responsible for 3.6 percent of bite cases during 1975.

How do you get close enough to a wild animal to be bitten? In most cases people come upon the critters unexpectedly, or run into them around barnyards. If an animal is rabid, it may lose all fear of humans. This could cause a bite victim to assume the animal is a lost pet and attempt to pet it, with disastrous results.

State health authorities point with concern to these biting incidents.

Rabies is a constant threat to domestic animals, especially in areas where pets may come in contact with wild animals.

Last year in Texas 329 animal rabies cases were confirmed, including 45 cases in pets—25 of them dogs. Twenty-one cases were confirmed in livestock and 263 rabies were confirmed in Texas wildlife. Skunks accounted for almost half of the wildlife total.

A study of vaccination records of the aggressive pets involved in biting episodes discloses an alarming fact. Of the dogs and less than four percent of the cats were reported as vaccinated against rabies.

The vaccination status of dogs and cats involved in the reports has been low through the years, reports the Veterinary Public Health Bureau. Dogs last year showed a slightly higher vaccination percentage in 1975, compared to 1974, but cats showed a 5.4 percent decrease.

Cats normally are thought of as indoor pets, and owners seldom have them vaccinated against rabies. But, last year 14 people took the antirabies treatments because of one rabid cat.

Statewide, the Department of Health Resources Laboratories furnished 615 series of antirabies treatments. Nationwide, about 30,000 persons receive post-exposure anti-rabies treatments. Animal bites are estimated at up to 1 1/2 million per year nationally, making bites a true epidemic.

The threat of rabies adds greatly to the expense and trauma of bite injury, especially in cases where the animal may run away from the scene.

In Texas the past year, three-fourths of the 7,722 animals reported involved in biting episodes were owned. These animals could be traced and observed for any signs of illness. Effects of the anxiety centered around a bite by a unowned—and perhaps unfound—animal can only be imagined.

The country has been in the midst of a pet explosion for several years. Many animals in cities and towns are allowed to run loose, which increases the possibility of bites by straying dogs.

While there is no truly accurate census of the pet population, some authorities consider the dog population to be as high as 25-35 million and the domestic cat population to be at least 30 million. A nationwide survey found populations of dogs and cats to be almost the same—one dog and one cat for each six humans. Thirty-eight percent of families own at least one dog.

Apparently humans are finding it desirable to have pets live among them. It may not be possible to avoid a bite, but you can help matters by teaching your children never to approach a stray or a dog which isn't familiar to them. Even pets of friends may bite if approached rapidly or frightened.

A COMPANY CASSEROLE FROM LEFTOVER HAM

Invite guests over for the last of the ham. They won't mind eating leftovers when they are part of a flavorful and attractive dish like Confetti Casserole. Ingredients are simple. Colorful ham, noodles and green beans bake in a savory sauce made easy with canned soup. A topping of slightly crushed bite-size crispy Rice Chex adds extra flavor and just the right crunchiness.

CONFETTI CASSEROLE

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 1/2 cups Rice Chex cereal (bite-size crispy rice squares) crushed to 1 1/2 cups
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/8 teaspoon thyme
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen green beans, cooked and drained (unsalted)
- 3 ounces noodles, cooked and drained (about 2 cups cooked)
- 1 1/2 cups cooked cubed ham
- 1/4 cup chopped ripe olives

Melt butter or margarine in large skillet. Remove 2 tablespoons and mix with cereal crumbs. Reserve for topping. Sauté onion in remaining butter until soft (about 5 minutes). Remove from heat and stir in soup, sour cream and thyme. Add green beans, noodles, ham and olives to sauce mixture. Stir until all pieces are coated. Turn into 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle cereal crumbs evenly over top. Dust with paprika if desired. Bake in 350° oven for 20-25 minutes or until lightly browned and edges are bubbly. Makes 6 (1 cup) servings.

Missionary Society Holds Meet April 12

The Christian Missionary Society met Monday, April 12, with Mrs. Stella Glass with fourteen present.

Judy Lanier, the president, conducted the business meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and a financial report given.

Patsy Cobb gave an inspirational devotion on the subject, "Easter is Eternal".

Twyla Pace gave a most profitable talk on "Moses the Melancholy". She said that Moses, the melancholy leader of Israel, is a classic example of the difference which the power of God makes in a person's life. Moses possessing the characteristics of a melancholy person was gifted, self-sacrificing, a perfectionist, loyal and faithful, and had periods of depression and anger. Moses was not permitted to enter the Promised Land because of his anger in striking the rock instead of speaking to it as God had commanded. Not all anger is wrong but uncontrolled anger causes sin. Moses was not perfect neither are we, but we can thank God for His power in our lives and trust Him to transform us.

The meeting closed with members repeating the missionary prayer together.

The hostess served delicious refreshments.

Weinert HD News

The Weinert Home Demonstration Club held their meeting April 7, in the Weinert Community Center.

group voted for Club Woman of the Year. Also discussed was a money making project. New officers were elected for the club: President-Mrs. Gus Rueffer, Vice President-Mrs. Tom Yates, Sec.-Treas.-Mrs. M. C. Cunningham, Council Delegate-Mrs. Floyd McGuire.

Mrs. Barbara Elliott gave a talk on Body Conditioning and Exercise and told the group of the importance of keeping in shape, "especially in our old age."

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH

from Kenneth Jones

A proper diet is necessary to good health. The four main groups of food essential to a good diet are: 1) milk and other dairy foods; 2) meat, fish, poultry, eggs, beans and nuts; 3) fruit and vegetables; 4) cereals and bread. Those who require a low-fat diet should drink skim milk, which still retains the healthful nutrients and vitamins in milk.

WASHINGTON

OMAR BURLISON
Congressman—17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C.—AT INTERVALS DURING THE LAST YEAR OR SO, attempts have been made to call attention to the new budgetary process under which the Congress is now operating. We have commented that the legislative machinery is now in place to get control over spending but that it will take real determination on the part of Congress to make it work.

THE RESOLUTION SETTING CEILING ON EXPENDITURES for various programs and estimates of revenues to pay for them has now been voted out of the Budget Committee in both the House and the Senate. The Resolution really pleases no one. The liberals object mainly because the recommendation provides defense spending more than they like and they claim curtails social programs too severely. Conservatives are unhappy because the recommended outlays are too high and a deficit too big.

THE LIBERALS CONTENT THAT MORE SPENDING and larger deficits are needed to create jobs and sustain a strong economic recovery from the recession. Conservatives warn that severe inflation may be triggered again unless the budget is tightened more.

THE RESOLUTION WILL BE UP FOR DEBATE, tentatively the week of April 26. It will be a hard and long fight from both sides. FOR THE 1977 FISCAL YEAR STARTING NEXT OCTOBER 1, the Resolution calls for a ceiling on spending of $413.7 billion with estimated revenues at $363.1 billion. This leaves a deficit for next year at $50.6 billion whereas the latest Administration estimates for the 1976 fiscal year project a deficit of $76.9 billion.

ALTHOUGH THE SPENDING TOTALS RECOMMENDED by the Budget Committee were substantially above President Ford's budget, they are about $11 billion below the amount which would be required to pay for existing programs to keep up with inflation and population growth.

SOCIAL PROGRAMS WERE INCREASED SIGNIFICANTLY above the Administration's budget recommendation but, even here, they were restrained some as compared to immediate past years. The Committee held defense preparedness pretty near what the military requested.

BY PULLING TOGETHER THE PRESENT PRACTICE of fragmented spending, this process is intended to set deliberate budget policies and gain fiscal control over the Government's huge operations. As stated earlier, it remains to be seen how the Congress makes the process operate. Those of us who feel that the spending limits set are too high and that the deficit is too great, will attempt further reductions in certain programs by amending the Resolution when it is up for debate.

THE LIBERALS WILL WANT TO ADD more to social programs and to create

The Junior boys defeated Crowell in the first round by a score of 23 to 13 and lost the next two games to Crosbyton and Seymour. Both teams showed good hustle and represented our town with distinction.

STATE GOSPEL SINGING

makework schemes to reduce unemployment. There is already $2.2 billion in outlays in the Resolution for this purpose. It was adopted by a one vote margin and an effort will be made to remove it by amendment later on.

ANOTHER AMENDMENT ADDS $100 MILLION for preliminary work on National Health Insurance which has not yet been enacted into law. This amount is included in anticipation that such legislation will be passed.

THOSE OPPOSED TO LARGER MILITARY EXPENDITURES will attempt reductions. Allowing for inflation, the amount for national defense barely keeps us where we are now and should be increased but we will do well to hold the figure as approved by the Committee.

Cardboard chewing cattle may become more common during the next few years. Researchers say cellulose in cardboard provides a much better diet for cattle than newspaper materials which were experimented with for several years. Giving the new product the title, "Rumose", promoters are pushing for acceptance of treated corrugated boxes as a viable feed supplement in the feedlot for commercial feeders. Developers advocate grinding or pelleting of the boxes, then mixing with whey (waste material from cheese making) or other materials to make the boxes more palatable. One of the key researchers for this project is Dr. John Campbell of the University of Missouri. Dr. Campbell says the process of manufacturing the boxes may increase their digestibility which "approaches or even exceeds the digestibility of common forages". For cattle, "box" lunch may take on a whole new meaning.

Haskell Bicentennial Happenings

The yellow house with white trim and the twin brick chimney that is home to Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts at 403 North Avenue H is the fifth house on our tour.

Originally on this lot stood the M. S. Pierson family home; the house was torn down and the materials used in the A. C. Pierson home next door. Between the two houses is a mulberry tree growing there since the late 1800's.

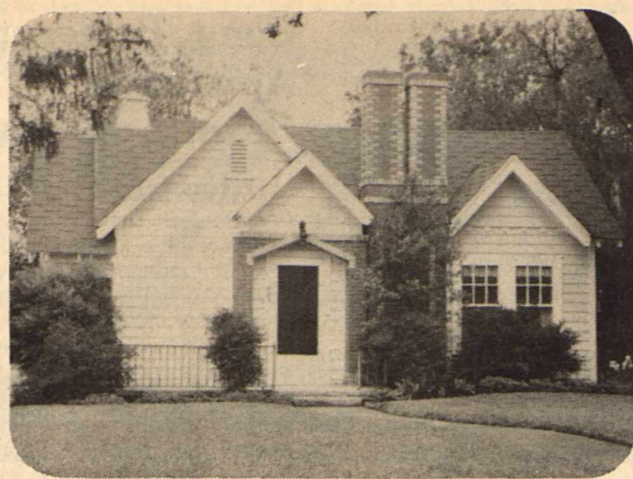

The house now occupied by the Roberts' was built in 1927 by Clyde Grissom. An interesting bit of information was uncovered as Mrs. Roberts looked into the records on the house; a Mr. Carvel who contracted to finish the floors in 1927 charged four cents per square foot and Mr. Roberts figured the bill for this would have been a whopping $27.00.

In 1935 the house was bought by C. E. Baker, who sold it in 1936 to Mrs. Nanny Cooper. Mrs. Cooper built a small room onto the back of the house for her companion, Juanita Dunlap.

The Roberts' bought the house in 1971 and hired Bud Turnbow for the renovation needed. The sunroom was once a porch onto which space had been added and the concrete floor had deteriorated so that water collected in one corner.

A new floor was added and the area enclosed to make a

THE GRADY ROBERTS HOME
Fifth on tour of Homes charming sunroom. Here is Mr. Roberts' desk and a little antique table which belonged to his mother and father; he studied on it when he was growing up in Byers, Texas.

A framed Godey print bought in Mexico is on the wall and several mementos of trips to different parts of the USA are placed about the room. The Roberts have been in every state in the Union in their travels, and have picked up treasures from everywhere for their home.

The living room remains the same with exception of the hearth which has been raised, with red brick replacing tile which was purple. Something of interest to be noted is the picture embedded in the slanted chimney above the mantel. Placed there when the house was built, it depicts the typical covered wagon scene of the West-ward bound pioneers.

The Roberts' added molding throughout the rooms and placed wooden shutters in all the windows.

There are antiques all through the home and they blend beautifully with more recently acquired reproductions. A small antique secretary and chair in the living room were bought thirty years ago and were very old at the time of purchase. A table in this room was in the Killingsworth home as early as 1900. Killingsworth sisters of Mrs. Roberts living in Haskell are Mrs. A. C. Pierson, Mrs. John P. Payne and Mrs. Thomas Ballard.

The lighting fixture in the living room ceiling is a lamp of brass and milk glass. In the dining room ceiling there is a beautiful lamp of brass and pink satin glass.

The blue and green paper in the dining room is an unusual pattern which has been made continuously for over one hundred years. The wall dado was added when the Roberts' bought the house. A large mirror is framed with an unusual frame that once graced the wall of a California museum.

The guest bedroom is furnished with reproductions of Natchez ante-bellum pieces. There are two Godey prints on the wall over the bed.

The bathroom required a lot of work with doors replaced on the wall shelving and a cabinet sink installed. The linen closet in the hall was enclosed where once there were open shelves.

The room Mrs. Cooper once used as her bedroom was paneled and made into a den. The huge clock on the wall was once in the old newspaper building in Stamford. There are two antique rockers—one bought in East Texas and one bought at an antique show in Wichita Falls.

The small room that was built for Mrs. Cooper's companion was enlarged to make a spacious bedroom. One of the loveliest of the furniture pieces is in this room, a walnut wash stand with pink marble top. There are antique milk glass accessories on the dresser.

In the blue and white breakfast room is a small antique china cabinet with curved glass and it is filled with blue onion ware. On the floor is a handmade braided rug bought in Astoria, Washington. A Dutch clock on the wall was ticking away; over fifty years old, it was bought by the Roberts' when they were first married.

The kitchen was modernized in 1971 with a double sink and disposal unit; cabinet and work space was widened. On the wall is an old lamp with reflector which has been wired for electricity; it is from Mr. Roberts' family home.

Patios have been added; the black iron railing around the front doorway and the grill-work on the windows are as originally placed by the builder.

It was such a joy to be shown through this house that is half a century old. In all the homes on the tour I have been impressed with the warm feelings people have conveyed for their home, not as a showplace, but as a real place of close family relationships. There is also pride which is evident when they say, "This was my Grandmother's chair" or "This was my father's desk".

There well may be a generation gap amongst us right now, but wouldn't it be great fun if it got bridged thirty years from now with our children pointing with pride, "This is my Mother's old tea-set; this was my Father's hot lather shaving can!"

Time is growing closer for our tour; next week we will feature the Bill Lane home and that of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cox, Jr.
