HASKELL, TEXAS, 79521, THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1977

NUMBER THIRTY-THREE

For the past two weeks I have been thinking of what I was going to say in this column and now, Tuesday night before this has to be printed Wednesday morning, I still can't find the proper words to express our excitement and joy about the birth of our daughter, Jennifer Donene.

Now understand, all good newspapermen realize that it just isn't proper journalism to publish a birth announcement on the front page of a newspaper. That may be true most of the time but there are some extenuating circumstances in this particular case.

In the first place, it was my daughter, and as Editor of the paper maybe the front page announcement will be overlooked because of rank or simply dismissed as the blabberings of an ecstatic father.

A few other newsworthy facts emerge when you consider: Jennifer decided to make her appearance just as her father was scheduled to be taking a final exam at the Texas Firemen's Training School; approximately 325 miles from home; in a town of about 60,000 people of which Nene and I knew less than ten; and the comforting knowledge that the new arrival in our family wasn't expected to several weeks.

Jennifer was born at 10:54 a.m. July 29, at St. Joseph's Hospital in Bryan. She weighed 4 pounds, 3 ounces and was 14 inches long.

We left Bryan last Saturday morning after an extra 15 days and returned safely to Haskell.

We left behind in Bryan a host of doctors and nurses who gave us their love and understanding and turned what could have been a terrible ordeal into a wonderful experience.

And we came to another host of people whose love and friendship touches our hearts in a way that no words can explain.

To each of you we offer our prayerful thanks.

Don, Nene, and Jennifer.

VA News

Jack Coker, Director of the VA Regional Office in Waco, cautions GI Bill students that advance payment of educational allowances, which can amount to as much as two month's benefits at the start of a school term, are just that—an advance on future allowances.

If a student requests advance payment, and the school agrees to process it, the normal interval until the first recurring monthly VA check is received will be 80-85 days.

For example, if a veteran accepts advance payment upon registering September 12, it will represent allowances for classroom attendance during September and October. No additional benefits will be paid until December 1, covering class attendance for November. Subsequent checks will follow each additional month of enrollment.

Anticipated financial requirements during the first three months of the new school term should be considered now, Coker said.

Additional VA money help is available to eligible GI Bill students. Education loans, which provide up to $1,500 per academic year, may be granted to students needing assistance beyond regular VA allowances. In some cases, applications may be filed for a VA loan before classes begin. School financial aid officers can provide complete information.

Participation in VA's work-study program is another source of financial assistance. Eligible students can be advanced $250 toward a maximum $625 that can be earned in work-study projects during a school semester.

Complete information on all educational assistance programs can be obtained from the Veterans Representative on Campus or the nearest VA office.

GO BACK TO CLASS WITH CLASS. Shop for your school supplies at the Haskell Free Press. Pens, pencils, notebooks, dictionaries, high intensity lamps, file boxes, pencil sharpeners, rulers protractors, you name it, we have it.

Frank K. Antilley, Taylor County rancher, uses a one-herd grazing system to efficiently harvest available forage. According to Gary Briggs, Soil Conservation Service Range Conservationist, the short-duration grazing concept has only recently become popular with ranchers in our locale.

Antilley, however, has been using such a system for more than 20 years. He thinks his operation could possibly be the oldest continuously operated short-duration grazing system in Texas and possibly the oldest in the United States.

The short-duration grazing system simply means using one herd of cattle on a multiple number of pastures regardless of size of pasture and amount of forage produced. The livestock are grazed in one pasture until the forage is properly utilized, and then moved to another pasture.

The advantage of this type of grazing system is a more uniform harvesting of the less desirable species of grasses along with the more desirable plants. Also, fuller utilization is made of the foraged produced.

This is a good way to make complete use of your rangeland to the fullest extent.

It is vitally important today to "cut corners" anyway and any where they can be cut to reduce production costs.

Even though it is getting late in the year, plants can be made now to start the use of a short-duration grazing system going into the fall and winter months.

Hudson and I will be glad to discuss short-duration grazing systems with you. Come in to see us, or call and we will come out.

Several species of stinkbugs will attack the home garden. These include the little green stinkbug, the southern green stink bug and the harlequin bug. Stinkbugs attack a wide variety of crops, almost everything you will grow in the home garden. Some of the favorite plants of stinkbugs include beans, peas, tomatoes, cabbage, broccoli and squash.

Stinkbugs cause damage by sucking the juice from plants. They also inject toxic compounds into plants which cause leaves to turn yellow and blooms and small fruit to shed. Heavily infested plants lose vitality and drop in productivity.

Stinkbugs deposit their eggs on the underside of leaves. They are "keg" shaped and placed in bunches of 10-20. The newly hatched bugs are about 1/16 of an inch long with long legs and antennae. They do not resemble the adults much in shape or color. As they mature they gradually take on the adult color and characteristics. Adults range in size from slightly less to slightly more than 1/2 inch long. They are characteristically shield-shaped and all produce, from glands on their body, a musty odor from which they get their common name, "stinkbug".

Gardens should be checked frequently for stinkbugs. Treatment should begin when damage and stinkbugs are found. Best control is achieved when treatment is made before populations build up to high numbers.

Chemicals registered for use on stinkbugs in the home garden include Carbaryl (Sevin), Naled (Dibrom) and Malathion.

Before applying insecticides check the label for clearance on the specific crop you wish to treat. Read and follow all label directions and precautions.

... Ever grow a gallon of gasoline? Lots of folks are taking a hard look at that very thing. Well... not gasoline... but fuels distilled from grain. Not unlike the legendary white lightning... a 200 proof product that will give nearly anything a start. There's no secret about the ability of alcohol to power combustion engines (the four cycle engine was invented for it) but the cost spread between alcohol and gasoline has made such uses obsolete for several years. Lately that spread has been noticeably thinner. Thin enough for a serious experiment with a product called gasohol carried out around Holdrege, Nebraska to get national attention. Use of gasohol (90% gasoline - 10% alcohol) in the Holdrege tests resulted in reports of 7% better mileage, better starts in cold weather, and exhaust emissions no worse than regular gasoline. Looks like the choice could come down to taking a drink or a drive.

J. P. Report

Judge Hubert Bledsoe, Justice Court, Precinct 1, Haskell County, reports a total of 129 convictions for the month of July 1977. 146 traffic and criminal cases were filed by the following law enforcement agencies: Highway Patrol, 124; Other Dept. 12, resulting in a total of $2,785.50 in fines.

Hunting-Fishing Licenses Available Soon

New hunting and fishing licenses will be mailed to sales deputies August 19.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department license sales officials say 1.7 million licenses will be mailed at that time, about 70 percent of the total to be distributed about the state during the coming year.

Major licenses to be mailed include resident combination hunting and fishing, $8.75; resident hunting, $5.25; resident exempt hunting, $1.25; and resident fishing, $4.50.

The resident fishing license is up 25 cents from last year. It will not go on sale until September 1 at which time it will be valid until Aug. 31, 1978.

One change of significance on hunting licenses of all varieties this year is in the three tags used for turkeys.

Two will be valid only for turkeys killed during regular fall seasons—October, November, December and January. The third tag is to be used in those counties with a spring turkey season. Reverse side of the spring tag will have only the month of April.

Other changes in licenses for Texas hunting and fishing include: $100.75 general non-resident hunting; $37.75 small game nonresident hunting; $10.50 nonresident fishing; $4.50 nonresident five-day fishing.

An estimated 35-million TV viewers saw Hank Aaron belt the Big One—home run 715—that broke Babe Ruth's record. Not bad, Hank. But, according to the Nielsen ratings, during the 1976 Labor Day weekend, over 80-million viewers saw Jerry Lewis break all TV fund-raising records by generating $21,723,813 in pledges during his Telethon against Muscular Dystrophy. Texas Medical Association
1801 North Lamar Austin Texas 78701

About half of all people who get tetanus die from it because they have not kept up their booster shots. The Texas Medical Association (TMA) says about three-fourths of all adults in the U.S. do not have adequate protection from this disease that can invade the body through even a tiny scratch.

The disease most often strikes young children and people past middle age, usually because they do not have the protection tetanus shots can give. Out of the 12 cases in Texas in 1976, 10 occurred in people past age 40.

There is no way to avoid the possibility of being around tetanus spores because they can lie dormant in many places such as garden soil, house dust or garage dirt. Once the tetanus spores get in the body they may not do anything for a long time. Or they may produce symptoms in five to fourteen days, even though a wound has healed.

The first signs of tetanus include irritability and restlessness. Muscles rapidly become rigid, eventually causing a clenched-jaw look that gives tetanus its common name, "lockjaw." Once symptoms appear, a tough medical battle starts that at least half the victims lose.

Doctors can provide some treatment such as giving emergency shots that sometimes work. But it is a lot safer to keep up immunizations.

Cleaning wounds thoroughly also can decrease the possibility of tetanus somewhat. Superficial, free-bleeding wounds have less possibility of letting in tetanus spores to cause trouble but, without immunization, every scratch is a gamble.

Of course not everyone who gets a scratch gets tetanus. But a tetanus shot is an easy way to get a lot of protection from a dangerous disease, TMA says.

If you have any doubts about your tetanus protection, check with your physician or local health department. If records show you need immunization, both sources can help. Health department immunizations usually are free; doctors may charge for the injection.

TMA also recommends checking on other immunizations at the same time. Immunizations can give good protection against measles, polio, German measles (rubella) and other diseases that are dangerous but preventable.

VA News

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Max Cleland has put his agency on alert status to smooth the transition to new procedures in issuing millions of dollars monthly in GI Bill education benefits checks to veterans.

In a conference call with directors of 58 Veterans Administration Regional Offices, Cleland ordered a review of all steps in the process between registration and payment of benefits to one million GI Bill students.

The VA directors were told to augment campus manning to assist schools in the certification process. School administrators have been asked by Cleland to extend help to veterans in light of the payments change. A massive publicity campaign has been aimed by the VA at the veterans themselves in an attempt to make all concerned aware of the new payment procedures.

Cleland's nationwide effort resulted from the decision by Congress last year to end educational payments at the beginning of each month. The law also ended automatic advance payments of as much as two month's benefits at the beginning of a school term. These must now be requested by the student.

The monthly prepayments resulted in over payment of benefits when some schools and students failed to notify the VA of student dropouts or nonattendance.

The last prepayment benefits were paid in May. Continuing students received allowances for June on July 1.

Cleland has now directed attention to the fall enrollment and new advance pay procedures. Regional office directors were told "to take every possible step to assure that each veteran student is aware of the new payment procedures."

"I don't want a single veteran to be surprised," Cleland said. "I want this change to be accomplished as smoothly as was the end of the monthly prepayments. I am confident with maximum cooperation between VA, school officials and the veterans, we can make the switch without undue hardship."

TWO UNIDENTIFIED CLOWNS added dress and humor to the parade last Saturday at the Rule Jubilee. The parade was one part of a full day's activities during the annual celebration in Rule. (Staff Photo)

If a student requests advance payment of the first month—or partial month—of attendance, plus the following month, and the school agrees to process it, the normal interval until the first recurring VA check is received will be 80-85 days. Cleland urged students to analyze what the change will mean to their individual budgets and to plan for any gap in their benefit payments. "Since advance payments for the beginning of the next school term are no longer automatic, anyone wishing to apply for them should do so as early as possible," he said, "allowing for a 30-day processing period."

LET'S VISIT...

Man thinks he is so smart! He despises and rejects the sound teachings of the Bible calling them "out-dated" and "old-fashioned". Will he ever learn?

A broken-hearted father once wrote: "My son is a scientist; a bright, searching young man. He's got honors, but no honor. He's got a charity, but no love. He's got things, but really nothing. The test tube is his church and carboic acid his revelation. Lord, open the eyes of my boy who has been blinded by a thimbleful of knowledge."

Man may educate himself, but he will never outgrow his need for God nor the Bible.

The Bible Says: "O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps." (Jeremiah 10:23)

JUBILEE DAY A SUCCESS

Jubilee Day turned out to be just that. A day of Jubilee and was a big success thanks to the many people who helped. Sponsored by the Rule Chamber of Commerce, numerous civic groups participated as well as the young people in the community and all the businesses in town closed for the parade and activities.

The Arts and Craft Show kicked off Jubilee Day and drew a large number of entries and showed the excellent talent of hometown people as well as the different forms of painting.

A total of thirty three floats were in the parade with various businesses represented as well as several individual entries. Floats were not judged which was a good thing as it would have been hard to pick a first place. Leading the parade was flag bearers Sidney Wilcox and Snook Townsend. Other floats included the Sagerton Hee-Haw group, a car of strangers traveling west and having lots of car trouble-cotton pickers, a 1931 Ford-Mahler Supply, Miss and Mr. RHS representing Ouseley's, Rotary Sweetheart-Miss Bonnie Woods, Rule Busy Bee Club, Rule Garden Club with a garden setting, a wash dry float showing women washing with rub board-Village Primitive, a couple sitting on the porch of their cabin with a no-vacancy sign, a small farmer dressed in patch overalls and straw hat and riding his trike and pulling his garden produce behind him to town, a bathing beauty on a blue jet boat, a just married couple in a jeep with tin cans and all, a small farmer pulling a goat in a wagon representing Allison Farm Supply, T.K. Keavils Pastime with four men playing dominos (don't believe they missed a play), Rule Co-Op Gin float threw bubble gum and candy to the little ones, Lisle Gin with Mrs. J.A. Lisle and three granddaughters, Woods Pharmacy with Harold Woods riding a three wheeled bicycle (wonder what he did with that large watermelon he was carrying?), R.C. Lankford Oil Field Service, Wilcox Tank Service (wonder if Patsy Binvs was 30 years old on her birthday like the sign said), Tanner Grocery, Hertel Grocery, Sorrells Texaco, Dennis Cabinets & Constructon, Farmers Compress, Farmers National Bank, Rule Fire Department, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Junior High Cheerleaders, Senior High Cheerleaders, football boys and two entertaining clowns.

In charge of the floats was Joyce Turner and assisting was Buddy Bishop and Jack Wilcox.

Following the parade a program was presented in the park with Master of Ceremonies Bobby Lusk, and under the direction of Ann Wilson. Welcoming the crowd was Chamber of Commerce president Norris Anders. Following the welcome, music was provided by the Neeley band made up of Spurgin and Ellen Neeley, David Jones and Charles Clark. Miss Neeley also favored the crowd with a trumpet solo and several songs. Other entertainers were: a quartet group made up of Elvin Kinney, Tomi May, Harold Woods and Richard Mathis, Les White organ music, The Andrews Sisters (Grace Bishop, Joyce Turner and Frances Davis), La Nell Trussel and Wynette Williams a duet; Wes Kittley and Wynette Williams a duet; Ann Wilson and Mary Lou Landes a duet; a routine by the Rule Cheerleaders, a pillow routine by Tammy Ivy, Julie Lee and Christi Wilson; Donna Arnett on the accordion and Lelia Rose on the harmonica and Davis Jones accompanying her on the piano.

Several commercials were presented during the entertainment and assisting with them was: Danny Kittley, Tom Turner, Darin Beakley, Mindy Wilcox, Barbara Oliver, Karen Beakley, Leigh Ann Greeson, Jay Beakley, Pod Petty, Leon Greeson, and Mikeann Wilcox.

Booths in the park included the Rule Philadelphian Club selling home made ice cream, Lions Club selling lemonade for a nickel a glass, Young Homemakers selling baked good, AARP selling watermelon, Boy Scouts selling snow cones and cokes, FHA girls had a bean guessing jar and the Lions Club had a dunking booth. Due to the warm weather the booths did a very good business. In charge of the booths was Faye Dunnam.

Several contests were held in the park under the direction of Jasper Wilson and Bo Jones. A tobacco spitting, a 3-legged race and pea shelling race. In the tobacco spitting contest which didn't draw too many entries, Sam Turner won 1st in the 15 years of age and up division with a spit of approximately 12 feet. In the 0-15 division, Richrd De Los Santos won 1st.

In the blackeyed pea shelling contest, Barbara Oliver won 1st in the 0-15 age group, Debbie Tanner 1st in the 15-40 age and Maxine Hertenberger 1st in the 40 and older division. In the 3-legged race, James Cloud and Jerry Coker won 1st in the 0-15 division and in the 20 and up division, Sheri Beard and Pam Bowles won 1st.

Bean guessing for the FHA Booth was won by Ramario Baiza who won a skateboard and Junior Mathis won a Presto Burger. In the Young Homemakers bean guessing jar, June White was the winner and received a three layer spice cake for winning.

There was a drawing for prizes and winners were: Swede Kittley-set of luggage, Mary Lou Landes-large box of groceries, Maxine Hertenberger-make up mirror, Jerry Tumlinson-blanket, Bobby Anders-sheets, Bobby Robinson-watch, Gilbert Petty-small box of groceries and Jo Ruth Lisle-pop corn popper. Some prizes were donated and others were purchased by the Rule Chamber of Commerce.

Later in the evening a meal prepared by the men of the town was served at the high school cafeteria and following the meal, square dancing was held at the tennis courts. A large group attended and enjoyed the coolness of the evening and the visiting while watching the square dancing to close out a very enjoyable day.

The Rule Chamber of Commerce wished to thank all who helped in any way to make the Rule Jubilee Day the success it was, and they are already looking forward to next year.
