THE INDIAN DEFENSE was not satisfied holding Aspermont scoreless last Friday night so they proceeded to score two points of their own on this safety. The safety came early in the second quarter when Indians Chris Colbert, Mark Wallace and Robert

Rodriguez tackled this Hornet in the end zone. The Tribe won the game 50-0. They will meet Monday this Friday night at Indian Field at 7:30 p.m. (Staff Photo)

Indians Swat Hornets, 50-0

The Haskell Indians trounced the Aspermont Hornets 50-0 last Friday to remain undefeated in district play.

The only black mark on the performance of the Tribe was an excessive number of penalties. The Indians finished the game with a total of 10 penalties for 110 yards.

The Indian offense moved the ball a total of 492 yards while the defense held Aspermont to a total of 107 yards.

Eight Indians had net gains in the rushing department including: Ronnie Hise with 69; Jimmy Browning, 91; Monnie Hise, 58; Steve Escobedo, 39; Mark Wallace 35; Robert Rodriguez, 19; Johnny Yeary, 13; and Rex Pittman with 11.

In the passing department, the Indians gained 104 yards and held Aspermont to 36 yards. The Tribe gained 26 yards on a Pittman to Bruce Enriquez pass late in the first period when pass interference was called against Aspermont. Late in the second quarter Enriquez caught a 38 yard Pittman pass and midway through the final period, Joseph Browning caught a 40 yard touchdown pass from Mark Wallace.

The Tribe defense held Aspermont to -1 yards rushing the first quarter, 4 yards the second quarter and 15 yards the fourth quarter. Aspermont gained 36 yards on one play during the third period for a total of 53 yards rushing.

Aspermont's passing yardage came midway through the second quarter when they completed a 36 yard pass. During that series, they moved the ball to the 20 yard line before giving the ball up on downs. Early in the third period, Aspermont threatened to score again and moved the ball to the 11 yard line. The drive was halted when Indian Willie Marshall recovered a fumble.

Defensively for the Tribe, Marshall, Richard Amaro and David Drinnon each recovered one fumble.

The Tribe gave the ball up only twice, once each on a fumble and an interception.

In the scoring column, the Tribe crossed the goal line 7 times. Ronnie Hise scored on runs of 16 and 45 yards; Jimmy Browning on a 4 yard run; Rex Pittman on a 7 yard run; Monnie Hise on a 7 yard run; Joseph Browning on a 40 yard pass from Mark Wallace and Wallace on a 5 yard run. The Tribe defense also made their contribution to the scoring with a safety. Aspermont intercepted a Tribe pass and gained possession on the 2 yard line and on their first

RANDY MURPHREE

Randy Murphree, a native of Rotan, has been employed as a Loan Representative in the Stamford Office effective October 17, 1977.

Mr. Murphree is a graduate of Rotan High School and West Texas State University in Canyon, Texas, with a B.B.A. Degree in Finance, Marketing and Real Estate. He has previously been employed by Piggly Wiggly at Stamford.

attempt, were thrown for a loss in the end zone by Indians Chris Colbert, Robert Rodriguez, and Mark Wallace. The Tribe converted 5 PAT's, four extra points and one run for two points to bring the scoring total to 50.

The Indians will meet Monday this Friday at Indian Stadium in what promises to be one of the best games of the year in the entire district. Munday has a 5-0-1 record. They have defeated Rule, 32-7; Rochester, 54-0; Hamlin, 14-8; Crowell, 21-0; and Rotan, 43-0. They tied Seymour, 13-13 early in the season.

Munday according to Haskell scouting reports, has a big-strong team. They run a basic 'T' offense with two tight ends. Their defense is a 5-2 with an extra man to the same side of the field as the wingback. Their defense is comparable to Stamford in ability and technique. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Boxing Matches Set For Monday

Monday, October 24th, should be marked on the calendar in red letters by sports fans of this immediate area as that is the date of the opening performance of the Haskell Boxing Club. The participants, all sponsored by Haskell merchants and individuals, have been undergoing an intensive training program for the past several weeks under the tutelage of Lawrence Thomas, experienced boxer. Approximately forty boys and girls of most all ages and race comprise the stable of youthful boxers who gave a preview of their ability on Friday night of the recent Haskell county fair. Those

Kemp Named President Of AADE

New officers of the American Association of Dental Examiners were elected at a recent meeting in Miami Beach. The organization met in conjunction with the 118th annual session of the American Dental Association, being held October 9-13. The names of the officers follow:

President, Dr. William J. Kemp, Haskell, Texas; president-elect, Dr. Leo V. Bongers, Hanover, Kan.; vice-president, Dr. Oscar E. Hanscom, Sanford, Maine; editor, Dr. Edward C. Maloof, Charlestown, Mass.; and secretary-treasurer, Mr. B.J. Crawford, Chicago.

who witnessed the action during the fair will assure everyone that they will receive their money's worth at the Coral building on next Monday night. Promoters guarantee that at least eight bouts will be on the opening night card with others probably materializing before it is over. A special attraction will be matched boxing bout between two members of the female sex which should insure plenty of action in the ring.

Other special features of the initial opening night will be arm wrestling and a challenge to all comers to stay in the ring for five minutes with James Davis. This will not be boxing or wrestling but an attempt on the part of the challenger to stay upright in the ring for the required length of time without being thrown to the mat or out of the ring.

The Coral building at the fair grounds has undergone extensive remodeling and a special boxing ring has been installed which is high enough to give the spectators a view of the action. Comfortable chairs are available as well as the concession stand where the soft drinks and sandwiches or hot dogs can be had.

Ringside tickets will be on sale at $1.25 each, regular admission for adults $1.00 and students for the price of fifty cents each.

Johnnie Pondrosa will officiate in the ring as referee and the blow by blow description of the action will be handled by Lawrence Thomas who will also give the merchants and individuals sponsoring the boxers, publicity over the public address system. The action will begin at 7:30 p.m. and sponsors and sport fans are urged to be in attendance.

FORTY-FOUR COTTON STRIPPERS congregated last week to strip the cotton of the late Colen Hammer. The strippers began arriving about 8 a.m. and by 10:30 the job was finished. It is acts of kindness such as this that should remind us of how fortunate we are to live in a small town and more especially Haskell. (Staff Photo)

Haskell Remains In Class A

Haskell will remain in class A for at least another two years according to information received Monday from the University Interscholastic League, (UIL).

The UIL classifies school systems according to average student enrollment and Haskell's average enrollment was about 240. Based on information in the report, schools with an enrollment of 130 to 254 are in class A. The AA spread is from 255 to 579 and AAA from 580 to 1,259, and AAAA is all schools over 1,260.

During the last realignment, the break between A and AA was 234.

The school will remain in district 7-A. The realignment caused a few changes in the district including moving Rotan and Hamlin out of the district and adding Quanah.

The Haskell Indian football schedule for next year will include: Sept. 8, Anson, Here; Sept. 15, Hamlin, There; Sept. 22, Seymour, Here; Sept. 29, Stamford, There; Oct. 6, Knox City, Here; Oct. 13, Crowell, There; Oct. 20, OPEN; Oct. 27, Aspermont, Here; Nov. 3, Munday, There; Nov. 10, Quanah, Here; and Nov. 17, Paducah, There.

Child Care Centers Must Have Permits

State Law requires that any person who keeps children in their home regularly, must be licensed or registered by the state.

Provisions are contained in the Child Care Licensing Act, Senate Bill 965, which makes it unlawful for a person to operate a child care facility without being licensed or registered by the Department of Human Resources. Ms. Connie Moore License Representative asks that she be contacted by individuals if their child is presently being cared for at an unlicensed or a non-registered home, or if individuals who have not obtained a license are caring for unrelated children in their home.

Persons in Haskell, Kent and Stonewall may contact Ms. Moore at Central Plaza, Suite 102-C, Wichita Falls, Texas, 76302; phone (817) 766-3371. Lists are available of currently licensed child care facilities in the above counties. Information may also be obtained on how to register or acquire a day care license.

The Consumer Alert
by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—A van used to be a workhorse vehicle. But many Texans have discovered that, in addition to allowing them to move furniture, haul large loads, and transport 12 to 15 persons, vans are versatile enough to serve as all-around recreational vehicles. With that realization, vans have recently become so popular that more than half a million are sold nationwide each year at an average cost of from $6,000 to $8,000. Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys point out that this places van purchases in the ranks of major consumer decisions.

Because the federal government classifies vans as multi-purpose vehicles, they are exempt from several federal safety standards required for most cars and trucks. And, while many van manufacturers have included safety features in their products, these extra features can push up the cost of a van considerably. A few manufacturers have reportedly scrimped on even some of the most basic safety equipment in their vans.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys suggest, then, that you become aware of some important safety and economic considerations before deciding whether or not to buy a van, or in comparing several makes of vans.

Vans need not protect passengers from sharp, hazardous interior surfaces in a crash, and are not required to have a roof that can withstand a cave-in during a rollover.

The steering wheel need not cushion the driver's body in a crash, and is not required to resist being forced back into the passenger's compartment.

Doors need not be equipped to resist being pushed in if the van is struck from the side, and no head restraints are required to prevent whiplash injury. Energy absorbing bumpers, anti-theft steering column locks, and vehicle identification numbers on the dashboard are not required. While brakes in a passenger car must meet certain performance standards this is not required for vans.

The high seating position, which lets the driver of a van see so well ahead, also has a drawback: climbing into or out of the driver's or front passenger's seat is a two-step operation that may be difficult for some persons.

Be prepared for high fuel bills because most vans get about 14 miles per gallon of gasoline.

You can expect some discomfort in a van when the weather is very hot or cold. Vans are so large inside that heaters may take a long time to warm passengers and air conditioners are often not powerful enough to cool rear seat passengers adequately. If you decide to buy a van, give serious thought to paying more to obtain some safety features. And remember to shop around for the best deal in financing the van. You need not accept the terms the dealer offers. Banks, credit unions, savings and loan firms, and finance companies all make loans for vans.

If you have a consumer complaint, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock or McAllen. Outside these areas, call this toll-free number: 1-800-252-9236.

'Papoose' group gets double load

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — The "Papoose Generation" is the label a University of Texas mental health expert gives to those adults who have to shoulder the double load of having grown children and elderly parents dependent on them longer.

Mrs. Bert Kruger Smith of the UT Hogg Foundation for Mental Health advises adults in the middle to give the "papooses" more responsibility for themselves and to teach them to help each other.

Mrs. Smith also suggests that those in the Papoose Generation find some ways to shift the load, for, as she notes, "no generation has full call on another."

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH
from DOYLE HIGH

To keep body muscles, as well as the organs in the abdominal and pelvic region in good condition, three push-ups, morning and evenings, are advised. On the floor, face down, raise the body with the hands (body limp, not taut) three times - then rotate the shoulders with a circular motion (alternating the hands). Recommended to avoid headaches and 'female trouble'; also to improve digestion and elimination.

Significant changes are on the horizon for researchers working on agricultural projects. Underlying factor for these changes is the growing consensus among scientists that current research with its aims at yield increases through better fertilization and cultivation technique may be nearing its peak. In short, there is a growing feeling that we are reaching the stage of making a plant produce all that is possible. That's the reason for the change in direction. Scientists are now beginning to experiment on changes in the biological potential of plants. Basic changes in photosynthesis are being considered. Methods of limiting a plant's respiration are under study and the strange yield increases of some plants when exposed to carbon dioxide are being examined. In short, the new direction for research involves changing the plant itself in ways which could develop new and much greater yield increases.

highest incidence in children ages five to 14.

The most frequent complication of flu is a secondary bacterial infection in the lower respiratory tract. Usually these bacterial infections can be successfully treated with antibiotics. In recent years, however, drug-resistant pneumonias, especially among hospital patients, have been on the increase.

Developmental research is concerned with determining the best method of giving influenza vaccine. The exact mechanism of spread by the influenza virus is not completely understood, but it is believed that the agent enters the body through the upper respiratory tract. Antibodies produced in that area, therefore should be more protective than those induced in the circulating blood.

Consequently, nose drops and sprays are being compared with more conventional injections. Vaccines are, of course, only preventive. They are of no value after the disease is underway. Physicians usually advise patients with flu to go to bed, drink plenty of fluids, and to take aspirins to control fever and aches.

Late-hour classes

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — When the sun goes down, more lights will be coming on in University of Texas classrooms this fall.

UT has made a special effort to offer more late afternoon and evening classes for working students who find it difficult to schedule all their classes during the day.

Many of the late-hour classes have been planned to accommodate students who otherwise might have taken evening courses through the Division of Extension, whose activities now have been absorbed by UT's Division of Continuing Education. Those who wish to take evening courses must be regularly enrolled UT students.

Accent ON HEALTH

Texas Department of Health
Fratris L. Duff, M.D., Commissioner

The Texas Department of Health will conduct and coordinate a program of influenza surveillance during the upcoming respiratory disease season in an effort to identify and halt potential local outbreaks of influenza.

Unlike last year, no influenza vaccine will be provided by federal and state governments and no influenza immunizations will be offered in state-operated public health clinics.

"This policy, however, shouldn't detract from the importance of an effective influenza surveillance program," says Dr. Charles Webb,

Jr., chief of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services of the Texas Department of Health. "Only through such a program can influenza viruses be isolated, characterized and a determination be made of emerging strains."

Dr. Webb said that in order to have enough lead time to produce the right vaccines for the next year, vaccines are produced from strains of the current year.

The three types of influenza virus that have been identified are called types A, B, and C. It has been shown that influenza A and B viruses change their genetic make-up slightly each year. These annual changes are known as "drifts." A major shift which occurs at approximately 10-year intervals has been observed only for influenza A.

These genetic changes have posed a special problem for developers of vaccines. As the virus changes or "drifts," immunity created by previous infection or vaccines becomes less effective. When a completely new virus strain appears, there has not been sufficient time to produce the quantities of vaccine needed.

"New" strains of influenza A virus may cause a major outbreak about every 10 years. For example, in 1957, it was the Asian flu and in 1968, the Hong Kong. Influenza caused by type B virus may have widespread occurrence, but the disease is generally milder. Type C viruses never have been connected with a larger epidemic.

"Influenza information will be gathered every week from selected physicians acting as 'sentinel physicians' in the 10 public health regions and in selected metropolitan areas," said Dr. Webb. Last year's surveillance program was extremely successful. Through a physician in San Antonio, a new strain of influenza was isolated and designated as A/Texas/76."

Even though free influenza shots will not be given this year, the Department does recommend that certain groups be immunized.

"Each year in Texas we have had an excess illness and death from influenza among older persons," says Linda L. Chandler, R.N., director of Surveillance, Control, and Information Activities. "We support the Center For Disease Control recommendation that those over 65 years of age receive influenza immunization. We also recommend flu immunizations for adults and children with chronic conditions such as heart disease, bronchitis or diabetes."

Influenza, or flu, is an acute respiratory illness whose symptoms include fever, cough, sore throat, a "runny nose, and general aches. Most patients recover completely within a week, although many continue to feel unusually tired for some time. To the ages or chronically ill, however, flu may be a life-threatening illness.

During the last century alone, there have been seven instances of global spread, known as pandemics, and numerous epidemics, when the occurrence of influenza is more or less restricted to one region.

Outbreaks of flu usually occur abruptly. The disease spreads through communities, peaking in about three weeks and subsiding after another three to four weeks. Twenty to 50 percent of susceptible members of the population may be affected, with the

Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District

Highlighting last weeks activities in the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District was the 37th Annual State Convention of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts held in Lubbock.

It was my pleasure to attend this convention with one member of the local board of directors, M.W. Phemister of Weinert. Mrs. Phemister accompanied us. R.V. Earles was to attend, but was prevented at the last moment from making the convention. Tuesday evening, we all attended a "Get Acquainted Reception" with Gov. Dolph Brisco as special guest.

Wednesday was spent in conferences dealing with the many phases of soil and water conservation district activities and relations with their technical support agency, the Soil Conservation Service. The speakers were exceptionally good. Wednesday evening was topped off with a wonderful banquet featuring a good meal and the Honorable Reagan Brown, Commissioner of Texas Agriculture as guest speaker.

Thursday morning was quite exciting. The Goodyear Awards were presented to the outstanding districts, resolutions discussed and passed, some failed, and the election of association officers. The Haskell District being so new it didn't have an opportunity to participate in the Goodyear Awards Program, but it is our hope to do so in the coming years.

The convention was concluded Thursday afternoon with a tour of the Frank Gray farm, east of Lubbock.

The Gray farm is unique in that Mr. Gray is probably the oldest farmer (not in years of age) in Texas and possibly the United States to develop and use sewage disposal water for irrigation. Gray entered into an agreement with the City of Lubbock in 1938 to use the discharge water from their sewage disposal plant.

Mr. Gray receives some 19.5 million gallons of water daily which he uses on 3000 acres of his land, 2000 acres of a neighbor's farm, and supplies water to the Lubbock Utility Plant for cooling purposes.

Gray grows cotton, wheat, maize, soybeans, and bermudagrass. The actual water usage on the 5000 acres of land amounts to about 16 million gallons daily. Gray stated that he had about 40 miles of underground pipelines with which to deliver this water to various fields and pastures. Development of this unique system of irrigation was under the assistance of the Lubbock County Soil and Water Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service.

A Banker's Viewpoint....

On November 8, 1977, you will have the opportunity to decide, via Texas Constitutional Amendment whether your financial affairs remain your own private and personal business, or whether they will be open to scrutiny by Government on all levels and the private sector at various levels due to Electronic Funds Transfer. In its simplest definition, E.F.T. is a system designed to replace checks and deposit slips in personal banking.

Mr. Verne Atway, a member of the Presidentially appointed National Study Committee on Electronic Funds Transfer (E.F.T. for short), had the following to say about E.F.T.: "E.F.T. will cause information to be created where none existed before. Although a check contains the payer, amount, and date, E.F.T. transactions involving a purchase would also include not only this information, but in addition, it may include the time of day, location, and a transaction number. In an E.F.T. system these financial records will be maintained in an electronically readable form, thus making them easily retrievable." The real problem lies in his phrase "easily retrievable." Even after your bank gets a court order to produce check information, the check copy must be looked up by hand. This effectively makes government and private "snooping" very difficult indeed and is a real plus for handwritten checks.

Even more fundamental to the problem is the fact that a computer controls access to, and information from, this Electronic Funds Transfer (E.F.T.) system. The computer tells the salesperson whether your account is good or bad, the computer tells you your "secret" code which must be used for each purchase or withdrawal of cash outside of your bank (and the computer supposedly keeps the code secret), and the computer makes the immediate transfer of cash from your account to that of the merchant. By the way, in the last instance, the computer will essentially keep you from writing a check and then running down to the bank to keep it from bouncing in case you were a bit short of cash. For those of you who have had the misfortune of trying to straighten out a billing error in a book or record club with computerized billing, you will readily understand the potential problem areas. Remember this... a check is your written instructions to your bank and is made out and signed by you. On the other hand, an E.F.T. transaction involves clerks, machines, and computers over which you have no control... particularly in the event of electrical failure or equipment malfunction.

Vote AGAINST Texas Constitutional Amendment No. 6 which has as its title the following description which sounds as innocent as "apple pie" but in fact is VERY dangerous to "personal privacy". It is described as "A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO GIVE THE LEGISLATURE THE POWER TO AUTHORIZE STATE AND NATIONAL BANKS TO EXERCISE BANKING AND DISCOUNTING BY USE OF ELECTRONIC DEVICES OR MACHINES."

Lets vote to stamp out E.F.T. with its associated invasion of your personal privacy and its associated complexity and difficulty. Vote AGAINST Amendment No. 6.

TSTA Convention Set Monday In Sweetwater

Dr. Marvin D. English of Barrington, Illinois, will be the featured speaker at The Annual Convention of District XIV of the Texas State Teachers Association on Monday (October 24) at the Nolan County Coliseum in Sweetwater.

Dr. English, a popular keynote speaker, is president of Eduscope, a consulting service for schools and industry.

Viola Benson, middle-school teacher and president of TSTA District XIV, said that upwards of 3000 members are expected. The district covers Callahan, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, and Taylor counties.

The convention will begin with a business dinner meeting of the House of Delegates, October 23 at 5:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Sweetwater High School.

The Monday general session will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Coliseum with Mrs. Benson presiding.

Dr. Joe Starnes, superintendent of schools in Sweetwater, will welcome visiting educators and platform guests following special music by members of the high school choir under the direction of Frank McDonald.

Section meetings in subject-matter areas and interests will be combined with luncheons at various locations in Sweetwater following the general session.

Officers of District XIV serving with Mrs. Benson are Patsie Hamric of Rotan, Secretary; James Jeter of Sweetwater, treasurer; and Ned Underwood of Snyder, president-elect.

Local teachers assisting Mrs. Benson in convention plans are Mrs. Michael Landrum, convention director; Mrs. Louis Wilburn, tickets; Charles Haggard, sectional meetings; Audry Todd, convention traffic; Wendell Whittenburg, exhibits; and Mrs. Dennis Hobbs, paraprofessionals.

Dr. English, keynote speaker, has had a wide range of experiences in the educational field. He has been a public school teacher of band, science, and language arts. At the National College of Eduation in Evanston, Illinois, he has been a researcher, teacher, and Dean of the Graduate School and Extension Service. The educator has a number of publications to his credit. Some are articles published in educational magazines and encyclopedias. Two of his most recent publications are "Meteorology: an Aviation Aerospace Science Kit" in 1976 and "Open Box: Ideas for Writing and Other Forms of Expression" in the same year.

Dr. English has received three degrees from the University of Wisconsin a B.M. in '54, a M.S. in '57 and Ph.D. in '61. He is married and has four children.

WTU Uses Computers To Manage Production

Computer equipment known as Economic Dispatch Control has been installed by West Texas Utilities Co. and is now being used to automatically manage the company's electric energy production.

Generation units at the company's power plants are connected with the computer, and the desired output from each unit under various conditions is obtained in the most efficient manner.

The equipment is located in the System Operations Office at North 4th and Plum, and is operated under the direction of Carl Yancy, manager of system operations, and Jim Hoffman, dispatch supervisor.

The computer performs a variety of functions which previously were done manually.

One of the most important functions from the customer's standpoint is operating the system's generation units at the most economic level. WTU has eight major power plants and a total of 19 generation units. The Economic Dispatch Control constantly calls on the best combination of production from these units to provide the most economical results.

Variables considered by the computer include fuel costs, individual boiler limitations and capabilities, speed of generator response, and the amount of energy demand being placed on the system by the customers.

Yancy said the new program is especially beneficial now when the cost of boiler fuel is so high. The computer automatically adjusts generation to minimize total fuel consumption.

The computer also aids in the interchange of power between WTU and other companies by allowing the dispatcher to evaluate the advisability of purchasing or selling power at any given time under any given set of circumstances.

The computer is a Westinghouse Prodac 50, which was purchased from Public Service Co. of Oklahoma, one of WTU's sister companies in the Central and South West Corp. It was installed by WTU personnel.

Babies in goggles used for research

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Don't blink if you see babies in goggles at The University of Texas.

In studies on depth perception, Dr. Martin S. Banks, a UT psychologist, puts goggles with special lenses on infants to determine at what age babies develop stereopsis (the ability to use both eyes to see two different images of the same object and, thereby, perceive its depth).

Dr. Banks' research may make it possible for doctors to determine earlier when a child has developed stereopsis. Such detection would make it easier to correct abnormal development.

Come Join the Litton Microwave Cooking Demonstration

Tuesday, October 25 at 7:00 P.M.

Litton Meal-In-One™ microwave.

Come join the festivities Tuesday, October 25. Litton will unveil the most amazing microwave oven there is. The exclusive new Meal-In-One.

It makes the meal others can't.

Now, for the first time ever, cook one, two, three different foods — even a complete meal — all at once. Put a roast, parsleyed new potatoes and vegetables in together, take them out together. Unlike ordinary microwave ovens, microwaves enter the oven interior to surround and cook the foods more evenly. Juicy, delicious.

And it's easy. Program the solid-state memory for temperature or time and cooking speeds at the touch of a finger—it remembers to change automatically, as it cooks.

The Meal-In-One microwave, with family size Micro-Browner™ Grill for searing, browning, grilling. It's a microwave oven you've got to see to believe. Special demonstrations begin October 1. Just part of Litton's complete line of energy-saving microwave ovens and ranges.

Model 540.

"As It Looks

From Here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman — 17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C.—TO HELP OVERHAUL WHAT IS OBVIOUSLY AN ANTIQUATED CONCEPT, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration is financing a new jury experiment for Federal Courts called "one day/one trial."

UNDER THE SYSTEM, A PROSPECTIVE JUROR would spend only one day or the length of one trial at the courthouse and their "public duty" would be fulfilled for the year.

AS IT IS NOW, John Doe is called for jury service and may report every day for a full month and never be chosen to serve. He loses money and, in some instances, has actually lost his job.

THERE ARE CASES WHERE A PROSPECTIVE JUROR WORKS AT NIGHT and attends Court during the day. John Doe's woes are shared by at least two million people called for jury duty each year. Reports say that many of them are bored, frustrated and suffer financial losses because of the traditional 30-day jury system. Experiments have been conducted in Michigan and are being tried in other places. Thus far, after eighteen months, judges and other Court officials say that it is working very well, not only for the juror but that it saves money.

IN THE SYSTEM, A JUROR IS SELECTED FROM A MASTER LIST of registered voters by a computer. The computer also mails a personal history questionnaire to determine if the person is qualified and acceptable. If qualified, he or she would be either in the regular or standby juror pool. In the latter, the prospective juror would telephone and be told by a recording whether or not to report for duty.

ON THEIR REPORTING DAY, the jurors are shown a 16-minute film, acquainting them with legal procedures and their role as jurors. They then await assignment. If they are not accepted, they are dismissed at the end of the day and that fulfills their jury responsibility.

IF A JUROR HAS A LEGITIMATE EXCUSE for not serving, it can be determined without his waiting around days before that determination is made.

OFFICIALS OF WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, say that in the first six months of the new system's operation, $330,000 was saved. Jurors are paid $15.00 a day and the cost per trial has decreased from $862.00 to $646.00. Indications are that the new system has brought about a broader community representation on juries since seven times as many citizens are summoned and 75% actually serve. This compares with 45% under the old system in Michigan.

NO SUGGESTION IS MADE THAT THE FEDERAL SYSTEM be imposed on State Courts but if this new approach clearly proves itself across the Nation, a similar practice might be adopted in all jurisdictions.

One Accord Here Oct. 22

One Accord, a group from Southwestern Assemblies of God College, will be at First Assembly of God Saturday, October 22, 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, October 23.

The group is composed of three boys who are all Christian Ministry Majors and one girl who is a Sacred Music Major. They have combined the ministries of groups they previously traveled with.

Bill Perrault, from Pasadena, has traveled with the Day Spring Theater. Damon Moore from Poteau, Oklahoma, was with the Harvesters Choir. Mark Kelly from Durant, Oklahoma, traveled with Maranatha Repertoire and Olivia Amburn from Haskell has previously traveled with the Living Hands Singers. They will correlate singing, drama and preaching.

The public is cordially invited, Rev. J.C. Amburn, pastor.

Hunting Dates Set By TP&WD

Hunting dates for state-operated wildlife management areas have been set by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for upcoming quail hunts.

Two public hunting areas open to upland hunters includes the Matador wildlife management area located 11 miles northwest of Paducah in Cottle county and the Gene Howe wildlife management area located six miles east of Canadian in Hemphill county.

The 28,000-acre Matador WMA will be open the first three weekends in November, December, January and February. The 5,800-acre Gene Howe WMA will be open November 5-6, December 10-11, January 7, 8, 21, 22, February 4-5, and March 4-5, 1978.

Many hunters arrive at both WMA headquarters early as the daily $1 permits are issued on a first come-first served basis. This permit will allow each sportsman to hunt for one day and a new permit must be obtained if the hunter plans to hunt an additional day.

Only persons 12 years of age or older will be allowed to hunt on any of the state's WMA open to hunting. The under-17 participant must be accompanied by his parents or by a person 21 years of age or older who shall be responsible for the conduct of the minor. The "under-age" hunter must remain under the immediate supervision of his sponsor while hunting and will not under any circumstances be allowed to hunt alone.

An adult may sponsor only one young hunter and failure to supervise the minor will be cause for forfeiture of both permits.

Information and directions concerning the assigned areas along with current regulations will be given each hunter as the sportsman registers at the check-in station.

Most quail hunters bag from two-to-four birds per day on the WMA hunts and sportsmen are asked to check out at the headquarters before leaving the hunting area. This final check by WMA personnel will gather quail harvest information for future quail hunts and is a precautionary measure taken by the P&WD in accounting for all hunters on the large management areas.

More information is available by calling Charles Boyd, Matador wildlife management area supervisor at 806/492-3405 or Vernon Morse, Gene Howe wildlife management area supervisor at 806/323-6074.

Proper Energy Management Can Save You Money!

In Your HOME LAUNDRY

- ★ You can make it easy on yourself by saving your laundry for full loads. Doing a lot of small loads takes up your time. And uses up extra energy, hot water and detergents.
- ★ Use hot or warm water only on laundry that really needs it. And use the soak cycle on badly-soiled clothes. It can save washing them twice.
- ★ Full loads, without overloading, also help you get the most out of your clothes dryer. Keeping the lint filter clean is most important. A lint-packed filter can double your drying time.
