With this edition of The Free Press we begin our 92nd year of publication.

Our goal during the new year is to furnish our readers with a complete news picture of Haskell.

During the day-to-day tasks of publishing a newspaper many articles cannot be given the attention they need and deserve. Much of this is caused when: information for an article is brought into the office after the deadline; information is illegible or incorrect; information is submitted several weeks or even months after the event occurred.

In an effort to give you a more complete newspaper we will attempt to report more news of general interest, feature stories and in depth analysis.

If we are to meet these goals we ask your cooperation in complying with the following deadlines and policies.

1. Deadline for all news is Tuesday noon. (Events scheduled Tuesday afternoon or night should be brought to the attention of the Editor before Tuesday noon for consideration in that week's edition.)

2. Wedding and anniversary stories should be submitted one week prior to the event.

3. All information for articles should be typed or printed as legibly as is possible. No information for news articles will be taken

New Year Resolutions For 1978

Make 1978 the healthiest year of your life—with simple New Year's Resolutions that focus on health, advises Carla Shearer, a health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

•Get physical check-ups regularly.

Most people take special care with car check-ups, but their bodies are their most important investment. Regular checks will determine if the body is "running smoothly."

•Take good care of teeth.

Regular brushing and flossing—and dental check-ups—help insure the continued good condition of teeth.

•Get your body in shape and keep it there.

Being overweight can contribute to health problems, such as high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and various forms of heart disease.

Improved eating habits and a regular exercise program will avoid an overweight condition.

•Stop smoking.

Evidence that links smoking to lung cancer and heart disease is still mounting. For those who are still smoking, now is the time to stop.

•Be sure the entire family is fully immunized.

Immunizations are the most effective way available to prevent diseases. Take advantage of this. Check to see that children and adults in the family have full protection.

•Be sure each family member's medical history is up-to-date.

Each person's medical history is one of the most valuable records he owns. Keep up-to-date information on such things as lab-test results, hospital experiences, drug allergies and chronic diseases.

over the telephone except for "Around Town."

4. We reserve the right to edit all articles for length and content.

5. All letters to the Editor must be signed.

6. Names of persons attending family reunions, weddings, anniversaries, etc. will not be printed.

These policies are deadlines relate only to news material. Display and Classified rates, policies and deadlines are available on request.

Your cooperation in conforming to these policies will be greatly appreciated and will enable us to give you a better newspaper.

As we begin our 92nd year of publication, our wish for you is a happy and prosperous 1978.

License Plate Renewal Notices In Mail

License plate renewal notices for almost 11 million motor vehicles are in U.S. post offices throughout Texas for delivery to owners beginning the day after Christmas.

R. W. Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, said the renewal notices were stuffed into envelopes, pre-sorted by zip code, boxed and delivered to post offices to expedite delivery. Work to get the renewal notices ready for delivery started in early October.

"The plate renewals for passenger cars and light trucks (such as pickups) will be different from last year. A new law requires that renewal dates be spread as equally as possible over 12 months, rather than have all expire at one time (April 1) each year," Townsley said.

Since the Motor Vehicle Division does not maintain records by owner's name or birth date, the license number of the vehicle has been used to determine the month of registration renewal in the future.

Renewal notices have been issued to reflect the number of months and the prorated fee to be paid to register each vehicle under the new system.

A complete explanation of the new system is enclosed with each renewal notice for passenger cars and light trucks (one ton or less). It is imperative that vehicle owners

Little Dribblers Meeting Set

There will be an organizational meeting of the Haskell Little Dribblers on January 5, at approximately 8:30 p.m. at the Haskell City Hall.

This is a very important organizational meeting for the purpose of electing officers and organizing for the coming season.

There have been several major changes in the Little Dribblers National Program which may effect the local teams.

It is very important that as many interested parents as possible attend the meeting.

There will be no registration of players at the meeting and players need not attend.

Ministerial Alliance Meeting Set

The Haskell Ministerial Alliance meets Fri., Jan. 6, at the City Cafe at 7 a.m., according to J. C. Amburn, president.

The main topics of discussion in the January meeting will be the feasibility of a crisis center and the possibility of a community revival in 1978 with all churches participating. At their last meeting on Dec. 2, they had a report from the Sec.-Treas., Rev. Wayne Coleman, on the Thanksgiving offering which totaled $486. This is the largest Benevolence offering the Alliance has record of. They would like to thank those who made this possible.

There was a feeling among the pastors that something should be done to show our appreciation to the Signs of Peace choir that made a contribution of music in the Thanksgiving service since there was no offering taken. Therefore, Rev. Jimmy Griffith offered a motion that we send them $100. The motion carried unanimously.

not lose the registration notice as it must be presented at the county tax collection office to obtain new license plates.

Because of the new system, registration may take longer this first year than ever before. The new law authorizes county tax assessors-collectors to start processing the renewals a month early.

Your county tax assessor-collector is ready when you are -- any time starting with the county's first work day in 1978.

"Look for your friendly postman to bring your license plate renewal notice shortly after Christmas," Townsley said. "Do yourself a favor -- take your renewal notice to your county tax office and register early. You'll be sorry if you don't."

Rehab Telethon Set January 14

Two lovely and very talented performers will grace the January 14 "Rehab '78" television special to benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Shari Lewis and her puppet friends along with singer Anacani both make return appearances on the annual regional telecast which will launch 1978 fund raising activities for the Center's operations in Abilene, San Angelo, and Snyder.

Shari Lewis will join Rex Allen at the host desk for the sixth time. She and "Lamb-chop" along with other members of her puppet family never fail to please audiences with her delightful mixture of music and comedy.

Her poignant interviews with some of the young patients at the Center have provided some memorable moments. As Rex Allen describes it, "No one can talk to youngsters like Shari, and when it comes to talking to youngsters who happen to be handicapped there's only one word to describe it... 'beautiful'."

The lovely Anacani, star of the Lawrence Welk show, will be making her second appearance on the star-studded television benefit. It was just over five years ago that Lawrence Welk, on leaving his restaurant in Escondido, California, was overwhelmed by the beauty of Mexican-born Anacani. He immediately

New Farm Census Prepared For 78

A shorter and less complicated form to be used for the 1978 Census of Agriculture is the result of farmers and farm organizations participating in meetings and test surveys throughout the country during past 18 months to advise the Bureau of the Census.

The Bureau, part of the Department of Commerce, reports that farmers have taken part in planning the report form during nearly 20 conferences in more than a dozen states. They have participated in the first of two national sample test surveys to help determine the value of specific questions.

On the report form, each farmer will need answer only those questions that apply to his operations. The inquiry is arranged so that he can skip questions, or even entire sections, dealing with other crops, livestock, or types of farming.

"The good business records that most farm and ranch operators normally keep will make it easier for them to complete the report form for the 21st nationwide Census of Agriculture," a Bureau spokesman said.

The 1978 Census report forms will be mailed out the last week of December 1978. Each person receiving one will be urged to "fill it out and mail it back promptly, to give all agricultural producers and the Nation a needed, accurate measure of just what the situation is in every county in our 50 States." When farmers do not respond quickly and accurately, the Bureau must spend additional funds and time in efforts to get a complete census.

In developing what the Bureau feels is "the simplest and easiest-to-answer report form we have used in a long time," the Bureau has obtained the advice of farmers, along with representatives of farm suppliers, agricultural universities, Congress, and State and Federal program agencies. The data items were then field tested last summer by 8,500 farmers who filled

CHILI AND BEAN SUPPER

There will be a chili and bean supper next Tuesday, Jan. 10, at the Haskell High School cafeteria from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Tickets for the supper are $2 each and are available from any member of the board of directors of the Haskell County Junior Livestock Association or at the door. All proceeds from the supper will go to support the Junior Livestock Show.

out proposed report forms of varying nature. They make comments and suggestions. In addition, Bureau employees visited more than 1,000 of these farmers to get their suggestions in detail.

The 1978 Agricultural Census will be conducted in a 3-phase program:

•Only essential, basic items needed for county totals will be asked of all farms: Land in farms by ownership; land use; acres, production, and sales of crops; inventory, number sold, and sales value of livestock and poultry; and a few characteristics of farm operators and farm management.

•Some additional items, which will be asked of a 20 percent sample of farms and used in association with the all-farm items, will provide estimated county totals: Value of land and buildings; selected production expenses; selected farm equipment; hired farm labor; fertilizer and pesticide use; grain storage capacity; and petroleum fuel usage and storage capacity.

As in earlier censuses, the all-farm and 20 percent sample data will be published for each of the over 3,000 counties which have agricultural operations, for each State, for regions and the entire Nation.

•State and national estimates for selected additional items will be obtained through several small sample surveys taken early in 1980 for the year 1979. Subjects under consideration for these 10,000 to 50,000 farm samples include: Horticultural specialties; farm finance; structural studies of corporations and partnerships; ownership and control of farms by financial institutions or foreign interests; on-farm irrigation; energy uses; seasonal and regular farm labor; vertical integration; chemicals and fertilizers; and production and marketing contracts.

The data collected in these 1979 surveys will be released in special reports following publication of the 1978 farm census results.

The 1978 Census report forms will be mailed, allowing farm operators to obtain accurate information from their records, and to complete the forms in absolute privacy and at their convenience, with a reasonable period of time.

Winter Camping Popular

Camping in Texas was considered by many to be a summer activity, but park visitors are finding plenty of space, ample wildlife, and warm hospitality at Texas parks in the Panhandle or the South Plains during the winter months.

Camping areas are normally not crowded during the week except for a few camping clubs. Weekends, however, will find even the northern Texas parks with plenty of activity including picnickers, scouts, family reunions and photographers.

Lake Colorado City Recreation Area recorded 18,777 visitors during November, December, and January of 1976-77, but only 1607 or nine percent stayed overnight at the camping sites.

Palo Duro State Park near Canyon received 57,915 visitors during the same period last winter which is only nine percent of the 660,116 visitors that went through the gates the remaining nine months.

Some of the newer state parks are fast becoming popular for day visitors such as Copper Breaks State Park near Quanah which recorded 77,089 visitors for the year with only five percent using the facilities during the same winter period.

A few state parks offer only day-use facilities such as Caprock Canyons State Park near Silverton. Caprock Canyons offers the angler a chance to fish in a clear, blue lake stocked with crappie, bass and catfish. This park is the most recently purchased area that will be developed for the general public similar to Palo Duro State Park, however, the completion of the road system and overnight camping units are not expected to be finished until the early 1980's.

The Big Spring Recreation Area in Howard county is a 332-acre park for day-use with several camp w/shade shelters along with hiking trails.

A drive to the top of scenic mountain in the park will provide a panoramic view of the surrounding area. The "big spring" nearby provided a watering place for herds of buffalo, antelope and wild horses and it was used extensively as a campsite for early Indians, explorers and settlers.

Several state parks have facilities available by reservation such as Abilene State Recreation Area, 16 miles southwest of Abilene, which has eight screened-in areas and two group buildings. The applicant must furnish information including the park chosen, type of facility, date of arrival and departure, number of persons planning to occupy the facility, and a check or money order to cover the first day user fee. Those not drawn on Jan. 10 during the scheduled reservation drawings will be refunded.

Most of the state parks in Texas have an entrance fee per vehicle allowing the use of park facilities for 24 hours. If a planned trip through several state parks is planned, the annual permit would be the best buy.

Winter camping is fun and park personnel make daily checks on campers in case of bad weather or vehicle trouble. Obtaining the extended weather forecasts prior to going camping is advised.

Mineral Wells still has guest ranch but Crazy Crystals are gone

By Gordon M. Quarnstrom
Travel News Service

MINERAL WELLS—There still are mineral wells in this Northwest Texas town (population 18,411), but no more Crazy Crystals, the product once sold all over the United States as a cure for illnesses ranging from digestive problems to rheumatism.

The mineral wells now have a limited production, according to the owners, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Causey, who operate the Famous Water Company. One of the wells dates back to ancient times, and legends tell how the Comanches used to come there to take the water as a purge for their bodies and for their souls.

Mineral Wells had fame during World War 2 and the Korean and Vietnam conflicts as the home of Camp Wolters, the largest primary helicopter training center. There were as many as 16,000 troops here during the '40s, but the camp is closed now. Mineral Wells' 550-room hotel, the Baker, is closed as well. It is a landmark on Highway 180 between Dallas and Abilene.

Four miles west of Mineral Wells is another landmark that still is very much in operation: the Seybold Guest Ranch, started 29 years ago by Elmer and Dorothea Seybold and now the only guest ranch of its kind in North Texas.

The owners are characters, with Seybold offering exhibitions of fancy shooting from beautiful rifles he has made himself, exhibitions that leave his guests astounded. I have seen him fire his muzzle loader so accurately as to put out the fire in a candle placed in front of a hatchet, split the ball on the hatchet and burst two balloons, one on either side of the hatchet! Firing over his shoulder while aiming from a mirror, he can plug the center of a playing card with perfect precision.

The Seybolds built their own guest ranch. It is rustic, not plush, but it is comfortable, with true Western hospitality, great scenery and excellent food. There are 33 units, each with twin beds and an air conditioner. One can have three meals a day, plus most everything else the ranch offers, for $25 daily for adults and $15 for children.

There are numerous ranch activities, for this is a working spread, with 100 head of quarter horses. The only activity for which an extra charge is made is for a trail ride, which costs $2.

Seybold is quick to debunk many of the glamorous tales about the old gunfighters. "I will buy a steak dinner for anyone who can prove to me that any two of the so-called famous gunfighters ever faced each other in a duel," he says. "There were men who had many notches on their revolvers, but they shot others who were unskilled, unprepared or taken by surprise."

The shootout at the OK Corral? It never happened the way legend and the movies say, Seybold avers. And it really wasn't a gunfight at all.

The Seybold ranch is open the year around. You can write for information to Box 666, Mineral Wells 76067.

From Pork to Porterhouse, Demand for Meat Continues

AUSTIN—Whether your tastes run to pork roast, Porterhouse steaks or lamb chops, Texas meat producers worked overtime in October to keep you happy, says Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Commercial red meat production for Texas during the month totaled 357 million pounds, a two-per-cent increase over September, Brown said. Production for the first 10 months of 1977 totaled 3.3 billion pounds, he added.

October cattle slaughter was 561,300 head, Brown stated, nine per cent above last year at that time. Average live weight was up 28 pounds per head to 959 pounds.

Calf slaughter for October totalled 63,300 head, up 13 per cent from 1976. Total slaughter since January totaled 546,700 head, up 32 per cent from 1976.

Brown reported that hog slaughter for 1977 totals 897,000 head, up 32 per cent over 1976.

Sheep and lamb slaughter so far this year has totaled 836,700 head, down seven per cent from last year.

"In spite of the barrage of mis-information from self-styled dieticians urging consumers to cut meat consumption, these figures prove that the demand for high-quality Texas meat is still there," Brown commented. "Consumers realize that no other food offers the same amount of important nutrients at such low cost. They are not easily misled by dietary facts which can't be backed up with scientific evidence."

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Many Texas consumers overspent their budgets during the recent holiday buying season. If, like so many others, you are now staring at a tall stack of bills and a short stack of dollars, it's time to re-examine your individual or family fiscal policies.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys frequently see the results of improper consumer planning for holiday buying—problems with stores over bills, difficulties with debt collectors, unsuccessful attempts to return merchandise that should not have been bought in the first place. They find that on occasion consumers who consistently live beyond their means need protection, not from others, but from themselves and their own spending habits.

In order to avoid the post-Christmas letdown a pile of unpaid debts can bring, not only to you but to your creditors, start revamping. Our attorneys suggest that you resolve to do the following in the New Year:

- Keep a one-week record of all expenses to learn where your money really goes.
- Organize shopping and buy only from a prepared list, avoiding impulse buying.
- Purchase first for necessities, then for luxuries.
- Plan ahead for big items you'll need, then save up for them and avoid paying interest and carrying charges.
- Decide what you can afford to spend on a major item in advance and refuse to exceed your limit.
- Comparison shop for prices, quality, warranty, and finance charges.
- Study advertising carefully before responding to it.
- Look for a catch if an offer sounds too good to be true and resist all high-pressure or deceptive sales tactics, including "last chance" deals and bait-and-switch selling.

-Examine merchandise carefully before buying, to be sure it's what you need and want and that it's in good condition.

-Follow manufacturer's instructions and care labels, to get the best service or wear from each product, so you can use it longer with greater satisfaction.

-Don't waste your money dealing with itinerant goods or services because you may not get what you pay for. Deal instead with established firms or individuals who stand behind their offers.

-Never pay money based on oral promises—always "get it in writing."

-Never sign a contract if you haven't read and understood each word and filled in all blanks.

-Turn down all chances to invest in speculative deals unless you have checked them out with reliable, knowledgeable persons, and never commit money you cannot afford to lose to such investments.

-Plan as a family or as an individual on practical ways to cut your energy consumption.

-Plan food purchases to avoid buying expensive, unneeded "filler" foods which supply little nutrition.

-Try to settle any consumer problems you have with the firm or person involved. If that doesn't work, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock, or McAllen. Outside those areas, call this toll-free number: 1-800-252-9236.

James O. Allen Jr. is one registered pharmacist who doesn't fill prescriptions or dispense nose drops. Allen, with the Food and Drug Division of the Texas Department of Health, inspects drug treatment clinics using methadone, the synthetic drug that satisfies the hunger for heroin and allows drug victims to lead a more normal life. Allen's job is really two-fold. He inspects the clinics at least once a year to insure the drug programs are run properly and to monitor the use of methadone for the State of Texas, and for the federal government as well. The 62nd Legislature passed the Synthetic Narcotic Act in 1971 designating the Texas Department of Health as the regulatory state agency for methadone programs. Texas is one of five states that also has a contract with the United States Food and Drug Administration for inspecting its Methadone Monitoring Division. Twenty drug treatment clinic administer methadone in Texas, and Allen and Texas Food and Drug Inspectors Forrest H. Burnham and David A. Dyer work out of Austin to make their inspections. To understand what the inspectors do, it helps to have a working knowledge of the clinics themselves. The Drug Dependence Program of the Bexar County Mental Health Mental Retardation Center in San Antonio is a model one offering services typical of all the clinics. Its methadone program is for addicts who have injected heroin for two or more years. When taken regularly, methadone eliminates their craving for heroin as well as its euphoric effects. Methadone is administered daily at two locations operated by the center and by three local drugstores. The San Antonio program is the only one to utilize pharmacies for the convenience of the addicts. Close supervision of each client is important, including a periodical urine analysis to make sure that the addict is taking no drug but methadone. "Counseling, job retraining, and the building of a new way of life must be combined with methadone maintenance treatment," says Unit Coordinator and Case Worker Ruth Steinfeld. "With many addicts, every aspect of their life needs rehabilitation. For example, I have one group of females that I meet for lunch or dinner, so that they can expand their social graces." It is the duty of Allen and the other state Food and Drug Division inspectors to check the day to day operating practices of the methadone programs. "We verify the quality of the programs' personnel and see that they are providing services they say they are, including counseling and such things as general physical examinations," he said. "We see that there is documentation showing that clients on methadone have been addicted to heroin for at least two years." "We also inspect records on the distribution of methadone, and this includes who receives the drug, who administers it, and the security measures under which it is kept. Let's face it, black market methadone could be sold on the streets, and we don't want that to happen," Allen said. "We are also interested in the documentation of urine collections, and in seeing to it that the doses dispensed are the same as those prescribed by the physician." A 21-day detoxification program is offered by the San Antonio Center for those not actually addicted. It involves withdrawing the drug abuser from all drugs with the use of methadone. The state Food and Drug inspectors check records to be certain that the detoxification period doesn't extend over 21 days for addicts in the program. The Drug Dependence Program in San Antonio offers a drug-free program, also for non-addicts, where individual counseling with no medication is the approach. In addition, there is a levo-alpha-acetyl-methadol (LAAM) drug study being coordinated by case-workers and the federal Food and Drug Administration. LAAM is a long-acting methadone that can delay withdrawal symptoms for as long as 72 hours, so patients come for medication only three times a week instead of daily. Allen and the other inspectors never give any advanced warning when they make inspections at one of the 20 drug treatment centers across the state. One or possibly two inspectors will visit a clinic, and the inspections usually take four or five days. A report usually numbering more than two hundred pages is drawn up giving the details of the inspection. "Sometimes the Health Department will come in and find things that we were doing wrong that we weren't aware of," says Steinfeld. "Then they'll make some good suggestions on how to correct the problem, and this really benefits us and our patients."

Shreveport area has much attraction for the visitor

By Gordon Quarnstrom
Travel News Service
SHREVEPORT — This northwest Louisiana area has a full share of attractions for the visitor, which accounts for the growing number of tourists who have been coming here in recent years.

The Louisiana Hayride, Louisiana Downs race track and excellent art galleries are only some of the reasons visitors enjoy the city. My time in Shreveport has gone racing by. One really needs several days to explore and enjoy the city and the bayou area, and the interesting Shreve Square. The Square takes you back to early days on the river, with shops, restaurants and drinking establishments with a true and interesting old time flavor.

As for restaurants both Shreveport and Bossier City have a great supply of fine eating places. Many feature seafood, which is a specialty in this area. You'll find Cajun cooking, too, as well as cuisine in the Continental style.

Pasta and seafood
I had dinner one night at Ernest's Winners Club, which emphasizes pasta and seafood. The marinated crablegs were such a delicious appetizer I nearly made my fill of them. The owner is Ernest Palmisano.

The many other excellent dining places include the room where I enjoyed breakfast, at the new Hilton Inn. The dining room is furnished with antiques from England, with the tables and chairs being similar in appearance but really each set is different. There are two magnificent sideboards.

Not far from Shreveport is Vivian, La., which each March has its redbud festival. It is a month-long celebration at a time when nature clothes all of Vivian in the beauty and sweet scent of the redbud.

All the way from Fort Worth to Shreveport on my spring journey I enjoyed not only the redbud but also the dogwood, for which East Texas is famous. If you can time your trip for spring, you'll find the blooms memorable.

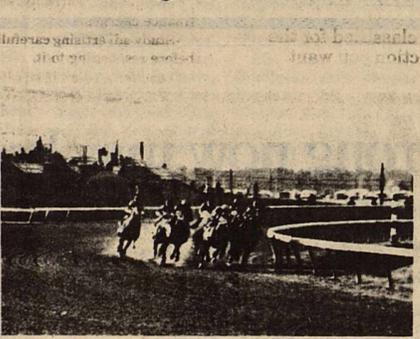

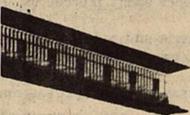

Shreveport and Bossier City have a full program of activities during the year. Each April, for instance, there is the Holiday in Dixie, which has more than 50 events, from arts and crafts shows to jazz concerts, from boxing and wrestling to a $1,000 treasure hunt.

And then in October is the Red River Revel on the waterfront in downtown Shreveport. The Revel is a major festival incorporating all the arts and emphasizing artists and arts opportunities in Northwest Louisiana.

Excellent in service
Shreveport and Bossier City are served from an excellent airport, with service by Delta, Braniff, Texas International and commuter airlines. Highway connections are excellent.

Information about Louisiana is available from the Louisiana Tourist Commission, Box 44291, Baton Rouge 70804. The Shreveport-Bossier Convention and Tourist Bureau's address is Box 1761, Shreveport 71666. And if you want data on Louisiana Downs, write to Rosalind Muller, Louisiana Downs, 8000 Highway 80 East, Bossier City 71111.

Significant changes are on the horizon for researchers working on agricultural projects. Underlying factor for these changes is the growing consensus among scientists that current research with its aims at yield increases through better fertilization and cultivation technique may be nearing its peak. In short, there is a growing feeling that we are reaching the stage of making a plant produce all that is possible. That's the reason for the change in direction. Scientists are now beginning to experiment on changes in the biological potential of plants. Basic changes in photosynthesis are being considered. Methods of limiting a plant's respiration are under study and the strange yield increases of some plants when exposed to carbon dioxide are being examined. In short, the new direction for research involves changing the plant itself in ways which could develop new and much greater yield increases.

Winter Driving Hints

Drivers could avoid many unnecessary collisions if they knew how to handle hazardous winter driving, the Texas Medical Association says.

Ignoring bad weather and keeping speed too high are two significant problems that put people in emergency rooms instead of safe at their destinations.

Most people know they should slow down when rain, snow, sleet, sandstorms or fog interfere with visibility or make roads slick. But many drivers forget that the first few minutes of wet weather cover the roadway with a wet, slippery mixture resulting from environmental moisture and roadway deposits of oil and other substances. This slime makes roads even slicker than after a hard rain. Even a heavy dew can form this slick mixture.

Driving on snow and ice present more slick challenges many Texans are even less accustomed to. Again the main rule is to go slow. Auto experts stress that keeping moving at a sane, steady pace is very important. Sudden acceleration and braking can make a vehicle slide. Going extremely slow or stopping can get a car stuck in deep snow.

Skids are another main reason people wind up stuck. Pulling out of a skid is one of the biggest steering challenges.

Being wrong now may keep you from being dead wrong later.

So, you think you're a good driver. Well here's a little challenge for you. A test. A chance to prove what you know. And what you don't know.

Odds are, you won't know all the answers. And odds are, the mistake you make now will keep you from making the mistake later.

But the choice is yours. You can be wrong on paper. Or you can be dead wrong on the pavement.

Check yourself out. You'll find the answers printed upside down below.

3. Frequent breaks are an excellent way to fight "highway hypnosis" and fatigue on long trips. A driver should rest for 15 minutes about every:

A. Two hours.
B. Hour.
C. Four hours.

7. You're driving along on one of those Texas rural roads, and it's a rainy day. Suddenly, your car feels like it is floating. You remember hearing something about tires in wet weather "hydroplaning," but what should you do?

A. Increase speed gently to gain traction.
B. Let up on the gas and slow down.
C. Brake to sharply diminish speed.

4. Sometimes, our instinctive reaction in an emergency is not necessarily the right one. For example, when suddenly faced with an oncoming car that has no business in your lane, the proper evasive action is usually to:

A. Slam on the brakes, to stop as fast as possible.
B. Steer sharply to the left, to keep your car on the road and under control.
C. Steer sharply to the right, even off the road and into a ditch.

8. Keeping the proper interval can go a long way toward preventing rear-end collisions in traffic. When starting up from a traffic light or stop sign, you should:

A. Go just as soon as you can.
B. Give the other car a four-second lead.
C. Give the vehicle ahead a two-second lead.

5. To keep from being blinded by your own lights while driving in fog, rain or snow, you should:

A. Use your parking lights.
B. Rely on your low beams.
C. Keep on your high beams, but squint.

9. Statistics show that safety belts are worn more often on long trips at higher speeds than for errands around town. Statistics also show that:

A. Most accidents happen on highways during trips.
B. Most accidents occur at low speed within a few miles of the driver's home.
C. The accident rate is about the same for both situations.

VA News

If certain health problems prevented your beginning or completing your education under the GI Bill, a new law may make it possible for you to turn back the clock and enroll again. Jack Coker, Director of the VA Regional Office in Waco, said today.

The new program is available to veterans, spouses or surviving spouses whose eligibility for GI Bill education benefits expired on June 1, 1976, or later, but who had not used all their schooling entitlement when mental or physical disability interfered with their training.

The disability must not have resulted from the individual's willful misconduct, Coker emphasized.

Coker cautioned potential applicants they must provide medical evidence that mental illness or physical disability was responsible for their being unable to begin or complete schooling before the expiration of their GI Bill eligibility.

Under the law, veterans have ten years from the date of their discharge from active duty to complete GI Bill training. Spouses or surviving spouses have ten years from the date of their initial eligibility to complete training under the bill.

Until passage of the new law, those who had not used all their GI Bill education benefits by the end of that ten-year period lost it forever.

"This law," Coker said, "gives us a welcome opportunity to help veterans who had their education delayed or interrupted because of circumstances beyond their control."

Any extension approved will be for the length of time VA determines that the veteran or spouse was prevented from beginning or completing the education program.

Coker said VA doesn't know the number of potential eligibles, but he urged individuals who believe they qualify for the new program to avoid possible disappointment by making certain they have the necessary medical evidence in connection with their application.

Further information on the program may be obtained at any VA office, Coker said.
