May 20 Is Planting Date

Boll weevil populations in the Rolling Plains are at low levels now. About 95% of the population which went into overwintering habitat has been unable to survive the hard winter. The weevils that did survive will soon begin to emerge from below broad-leaf litter in search of cotton. By using a uniform planting date of May 20 or later producers can greatly reduce the number of weevils that infest their fields.

Research has shown that boll weevils live 8 to 22 days after emerging from overwintering habitat. When cotton is planted on May 20 or later it will be the first or second week in July before 1/3 grown squares are present. Since boll weevils cannot deposit eggs that will produce adult weevils until the squares are 1/3 grown most of the female weevils do not survive to deposit their eggs. Recent research conducted by Mr. James White and Dr. Don Rummel of the Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, indicates that only 5 to 10% of the overwintered weevils are able to survive and infest cotton that is squaring the first week in July.

When all of the producers in an area use the same general planting date the amount of weevil damage will be reduced during most of the growing season. Once cotton produces 1/3 grown squares until the second generation weevil adult begins to emerge in mid August, there is little movement of weevils from field to field. Therefore, weevil populations will remain low in fields that were not infested with overwintered weevils or where early season control was carried out until weevil migration begins in mid August.

In fields that are infested with overwintered weevils during late June and early July, producers will need to control the weevils with an early season application just before the first squares are 1/3 grown.

In most cases, only one application will be needed. However, in early May planted fields several applications may be needed to control overwintered weevils.

Restoration Is Club Project

The Progressive Study Club project of restoring the oldest house in Haskell County is well under way. During the last year the roof has been replaced on the two-room structure which historically is the first home built in this county.

It has been moved to a spot just north of the railroad museum, where it will be part of the restored and preserved early history of Haskell County.

The immediate need is for the exterior of the house to be restored to its original appearance. Windows have to be weather proofed, whole boards have to be replaced, and the porch has to be redone.

This charming little house lends itself perfectly for a scout troop community project job, FFA project, or any other persons interested in helping to restore a truly antique building. Mrs. Nancy Toliver is chairperson of the Progressive Study Club committee directing the restoration project.

HOWARD CEMETERY ASSOCIATION

Howard Cemetery Association will meet Tuesday, April 11 at 8:00 p.m. The meeting will be in the Paint Creek Methodist Church and everyone is urged to attend.

The goal of $2250 compares with $2156 raised last year.

Stenholm Group To Visit Haskell

A group of approximately 40 volunteers will visit in Haskell Tuesday, April 11, in a campaign visit. The caravan of volunteers are supporters of Charles Stenholm, Democratic candidate for the 17th Congressional District.

The visit was arranged by Raja Hassen of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. Lennis Tibbets of Rochester. Stenholm's Haskell County campaign coordinators. Other Haskell County towns being visited that same day include: Sagerton, Rule, Rochester and Weinert.

The group of Stenholm volunteers will be in town to meet the citizens, answer questions concerning Stenholm and distribute campaign literature. The general public is invited to visit with the volunteers.

A farmers and a Stamford native, Stenholm's campaign platform is based upon five major issues and concerns facing the American citizen today: inflation, energy, agriculture, senior citizens and government regulations. Speaking on these issues, Stenholm stated, "We must eliminate waste and balance the budget. We must deregulate oil and gas and increase domestic production. Farmers must have more stable markets and a fair return on their investments, or every citizen suffers. We must take the social security system secure and keep down hospital costs. We must eliminate government intervention in our daily lives."

Stenholm graduated from Tarleton State Junior College and received a M.S. in agricultural education from Texas Tech University. He has worked as a farmer, a teacher and a businessman. Active in church, civic and political affairs, much of his involvement has included local, state and national issues.

Baum Speaks Out On Farm Issue

The time has come for me to speak out once again on the issue of our current farm situation. One of my opponents claims kinship to agribusiness due to his farm holdings and membership in farm organizations. My opponent would have farmers believe that he is "one of them" and on that basis alone, he should receive their votes. But let's look at the record:

1. On December 14, 1977, my opponent announced a four-point program that specifically omitted any reference to 100% of parity in any form or support of the American Agriculture Movement.

2. Throughout the months of January and February, he continued his silence on the growing crisis facing our farmers. At meetings of farmers in early February, this individual implied that he could not support the call for 100% parity and support of the farmers' movement because his professional advisors had said such a move could hurt him.

3. Also, in the month of February, my opponent met with Scurry County farmers. On this occasion he indicated that if the farm movement groups would contribute substantially to his campaign, he would consider endorsing the American Agriculture Movement. If they didn't...he wouldn't. And...they didn't!

4. However, the farmers refused to roll over and play dead. The pressure on Washington continued to grow and the pressure on the candidates for United States Congress in the 17th District grew also.

5. In the month of March, this gentleman realized that his lack of leadership on this key issue had eroded a block of support that he had previously taken for granted. What did he do? He reprinted his brochures to include an amended statement of his farm stand. He now makes financial contributions to the Stamford-area American Agricultural Strike Office... and he now expects this record of fair-weather friendship to propel him to the Democratic Party's nomination for U.S. Congress.

My record on this issue has been very clear. I have supported the movement from the outset. I have supported the call for parity for farmer's production...I sent my Campaign Coordinator to Washington in January to help with the lobbying effort...I went to McAllen to show my concern and support for the farmers' efforts and I have been door-to-door in 84 cities and towns in this District in a sincere attempt to enlist consumer support for the farmers' cause.

Still, there remains an even more important component than his failure to provide leadership on the farm issue. This business of simply saying "I'm a farmer" is not going to sway the intelligent voter... farmer or otherwise. As important as the parity question is to farmers...these people are more than farmers. they are veterans, concerned about veterans' benefit cut-backs...parents interested in better education for their children...they are small businessmen interested in cutting the red tape of an overly protective big government... and they are middle-income wage-earners concerned about how they will pay their taxes and pay their bills.

It is not enough to be a one-dimensional candidate in this complicated age. It is not enough to seek to identify with a particular voting group and yet fail to understand all of the problems they experience as citizens.

The voters recognize and desire consistency in their elected officials. They want their politicians to be forthcoming in their stands on key issues. This is one of the reasons I announced for this office...we must reject the old style, regardless of the way it's packaged, that allows politicians to duck important issues until they can determine the issues' popularity. Candidates and elected officials must stand for something—not just for the act of getting elected.

The way out of the current agriculture delima is for mature, consistent leadership to emerge. The image that my opponent's record evokes is one of the fellow trying desperately to catch the train after it has left the station.

Consider Features In Range Purchase

Look for kitchen range sales in April—but, before shopping for a new range, consider the multitude of styles, features and prices offered, says Barbara Elliott, County Extension Agent.

First, evaluate kitchen layout and decide which type of range best suits the family's needs and kitchen space, she suggests.

The types include the free-standing range, the built-in range with separate cooktop and oven, the drop-in range, the slide-in range and the split level with an oven above and below.

Next, decide which fuel type is preferred—either electric or gas, the Agent continues.

Generally, gas models cost about $20 to $30 less than electric, and they have a somewhat lower operating cost.

With today's fuel costs, gas models are more economical to operate than electric models but, in the future, they might not be, she explains.

With a gas range, look for those with an automatic ignition with an electronic or mechanical lighting device.

Generally, these are found in more expensive models but are becoming available in other price ranges. This automatic ignition device eliminates the need for a pilot light, thus saving 30 to 40 percent of the gas used by that appliance.

Electric range models are the traditional coils or a smooth-top range. The smooth top is a glass ceramic cooking surface—primary advantages are the decorative appearance and maximum availability of counter space.

Remember, more features equal higher cost, the agent points out.

Before purchasing a range, compare several models and consider these checkpoints: oven size; broiling levels; cleaning convenience (manual self-clean or continuous-clean) cooktop layout; location of controls (logical and convenient, but not accessible to small children); installation fee; warranty and service (a reliable dealer who will honor the warranty and provide good service may mean more than saving $20 to $30).

Finally, be sure the range is tested for safety, the agent advises. On gas ranges, look for the American Gas Association seal. On electric ranges, look for the Underwriters Laboratory Seal.

Allmon, Howard Vows Read

Entering into the holy state of matrimony on Saturday, March 25, 7:00 P.M. at Trinity Lutheran Church, Haskell, Texas were Gail Ann Howard and James Kevin Allmon. Rev. Don Marquart officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Howard of Haskell, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. H.L. Allmon of Haskell and formerly of Brownfield.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Maid of honor was Tammy Young, and Mr. Allmon served as best man for his son.

Amanda Beth Reynolds was the flower girl. Tamara Sorrells furnished "The wedding music, and Sarah Cox sang "You Light Up My Life" and "The Wedding Song". Ushers were Bill Steele, Tim Lacy, and the bride's brothers, Leonard Howard of Haskell and Hollis

Howard of Houston. A cousin, Teresa Howard, from Wylie registered the guests.

A reception followed immediately in the church fellowship hall. Helping with the reception were Mrs. Ronnie Reynolds, Mrs. Harry Koehler and Mrs. Don Neidig from Houston. Miss Belinda Neidig passed out rice bags.

A rehearsal supper was held at the family home by the parents of the bride on Wednesday, March 22.

After a short wedding trip the couple is presently at 303 N. Ave. L, Haskell.

The bridegroom is a 1976 graduate from Brownfield High School and is employed by Trammell's in Haskell.

Although we have been out of the Texas Community Improvement Contest for a couple of years, our community is still being remembered in the news. Recently Jenny Brazell, Haskell County Clerk, sent me a clipping taken from the Clerk's State Magazine, as follows 'Besides the city of Haskell, there are five smaller towns in the county, Rule, Texas, which announces itself as being in the "Heart of the Cotton Country" and posts a saying that "If you stop, you'll stay" in Rule. It is typical now-a-days for towns and cities to give themselves names, welcome signs and slogans, but I believe that the little town of Sagerton, Texas, has them all beat, for on the wall of a building-a wall that faces the highway, you'll see this sign: "Sagerton, Texas-home of a few-hometown of many."

Yes, passersby still notice our sign, and our little town. Let us remember that it still is a hometown to many, and they will be coming back to see us next year 1979, when we again have our Sagerton Homecoming, which happens every five years. We need to be making plans!

Thank you, Jenny, for taking time out to send this to us! Congratulations to Kevin Meier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Meier, and a fifth grader at Rule Grade School, for his winning poster in the Soil Conservation Contest. His poster entitled, "Score for Conservation" placed first at Rule and then he went on to win first place overall in District and received the Sweepstakes Award and ribbon, which was awarded by Mr. Yeary, from Haskell, and Mr. F.A. Ulmer, who is our representative from this area. We are proud of you Kevin. Keep up the good work!

The Youth Group from the Sagerton and Rule Methodist Churches met at the Herman Baitz Park here in Sagerton for a weiner roast the Saturday before Easter with their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Meier, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Meier and Val Stremmel.

Several members of the L.O.C. Home Demonstration Club attended a Tri-County

Rally at Munday Tuesday of this week.

They also visited at Rice Springs Care Home with Mrs. Alvina Holle, Mrs. B. Kupatt, Mrs. Lillie Spitzer and Mrs. Mary Schronersted.

Mrs. B. Kupatt is now a resident at Rice Springs Care Home in Haskell. She should enjoy visiting with her old friends, Mrs. Alvina Holle, Mrs. Mary Schronersted, and Mrs. Lillie Spitzer, all of whom are former residents of this area.

Miss Betty Kittley, daughter of Mrs. Andrea Kittley, was honored with a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Reece Clark Monday evening, March 27, at 7 p.m.

Jill LeFevre registered the guests. Cake squares and sherbet punch were served by Mrs. Allen Meier and Mrs. Delbert LeFevre from crystal and silver appointments on a table covered with white net over peach sateen. The centerpiece was of tapered candles and daisies.

WTC Majors Vary Greatly

Education is the most popular university parallel major for students at Western Texas College this semester according to statistics compiled by Dr. Duane Hood, Dean of Student Services, at the close of spring semester registration.

Students at WTC may choose majors from either university parallel courses or vocational-technical courses. The university parallel courses are designed for transfer to four-year institutions where the student will pursue a baccalaureate degree. The Associate in Arts degree is awarded by WTC upon completion of two-year programs in these areas.

Students in technical programs are awarded the Associate in Applied Science degree upon completion of the prescribed two-year curriculum.

A total of 91 WTC students listed education majors in the latest count. This total includes 48 in Elementary Education 25 in Physical Education, 12 in Secondary Education and 6 in Special Education.

Business accounts for the second largest total, 76. These include 53 with Business Administration majors, 16 in Accounting and 7 in Business Education.

Pre-professional health services fields attracted 44 majors, including 31 in pre-nursing, 7 in pre-medicine, 3 in pre-dentistry, 4 in pre-pharmacy and 1 in pre-veterinary medicine.

Some 384 university parallel students did not designate a major.

Four occupational-technical majors at WTC have more than 50 students each. The largest of these divisions is Mid-Management with 73, followed by Office Occupations with 50 students and Law Enforcement with 63 students.

Other majors listed by 10 or more students are: Art, 26; Agriculture 28; Drama, 10; Engineering, 14; Journalism, 18; Psychology, 11; Welding, 42; Diesel Mechanics, 25; Auto Mechanics, 23; Electro-mechanical Technology, 15; Real Estate, 12; Farm & Ranch Management, 10; Petroleum Technology, 20; Vocational Nursing, 25; and Cosmetology, 21.

Godfrey Blasts Closed Meeting Of Congressional Candidates

Fike Godfrey, candidate for Congress in the 17th District, blasted a closed meeting between two of the other candidates in the race and the postal workers union of Abilene.

Two unidentified candidates were quoted as saying "they did not wish publicity" in connection with their appearance.

"What in the world is going on here?" Godfrey asked.

"Are two candidates in the race meeting in secret and making deals or what?"

"I do not know Mr. Norris Lineweaver nor am I sure how many members of the postal employees union I know, but I want it on the record and out in the open that I was not one of the candidates who met behind closed doors. I have not received an invitation to meet with this group.

"I guarantee you that when I meet with a group I do not mind news media coverage because I want the voters to know exactly what is discussed and how I stand.

"We have had enough problems with secrecy in government in this nation in recent years. We should have learned our lesson.

"I don't know who those other two candidates were, but I can't help but wonder why they didn't want their views known to the public.

"Was it because they, by their actions, would be free to answer questions one way behind closed doors to this union local and then flip-flop and answer the same questions another way with another group," Godfrey said.

"One of this nation's problems now is that there are too many in Congress who flip-flop on the issues with various groups. If a man starts it as a candidate you can be almost certain that he would do it as a Congressman.

"I resent being placed under a cloud of suspicion which might make people think I was one of those candidates who wanted a secret meeting, so that he could flip-flop later on.

"Let me make it very clear that my argument is not with the American Postal Workers Union, Abilene local," Godfrey stated.

"But I violently disagree with any candidate who does not have guts enough to stand up in public and let his views become known to all the voters.

"The voters know how Fike Godfrey stands—and if they don't I want them to ask me because I want to answer—and answer on the record for all the voters to know," he stated.

"I am discussing the issues in this campaign with the voters out in the open, not in secret meetings."

"I challenge those two candidates, whoever they are, to identify themselves and tell all of us what they talked about, how they answered the questions and, if any, what promises were made.

"After all, if campaign promises are made behind closed door then the next step is to conducting government, or the public's business, behind closed doors," Godfrey said.

"I don't want that—and I am sure the voters do not want that."

Judge O'Neal Bacon Announces Goals

Judge O'Neal Bacon, presiding Judge of the First Judicial District of Texas since 1959, has announced his candidacy for the position on the Texas Supreme Court vacated by the retirement of the Honorable Price Daniel, Sr., of Liberty, Texas, who appointed Judge Bacon to the bench while Governor of Texas. The First Judicial District is comprised of Jasper, Newton, Sabine and San Augustine Counties. Prior to becoming District Judge, he was the District Attorney for these same counties.

In this time of increasing complaints of over-crowded docket, and inability to get disputes resolved in our trial courts for lack of competent working Judges, Judge Bacon's record shows that by hard work and diligent service there can be prompt and efficient resolution to civil and criminal disputes. In his tenure as District Judge, Judge Bacon has entered judgment in over 14,000 cases. He has presided over more than 900 jury trials. Certainly this record should be indicative of what hard work and experience can do.

Judge Bacon is a Charter Fellow of the Texas Bar Foundation, Charter Fellow of International Academy of Trial Judges, member of the State Bar of Texas, past-president of the American Law Students Association, and has been active in Boy Scouting, where he has served on the advisory counsel for the Three Rivers Counsel, Boy Scouts of America. He is also a member and past post Commander of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Judge Bacon is a native Texan, having been born in Upshur County, Texas, and having graduated from Frankston High School in 1938. He served in the United States Navy Seabees from 1942 to 1945, and then entered the University of Texas, where he majored in Business Administration and completed his law degree in 1949. He is married to the former Sue Cole of Jasper, Texas, and they have two sons, two daughters and one granddaughter. The Bacons are Baptists and reside in Newton, Texas.

Salad Luncheon

The ladies of the First United Methodist Church are having a salad luncheon for the public on April 15, Saturday from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m.

Last year the salad luncheon at the church was attended by over 300 persons and this year the ladies hope that it will be even bigger and better.

The price of the tickets are $2.50 and may be purchased by contacting Grace Bisbee, 4-2160, Dora Montgomery, 4-2453, the Church office 4-3202, or any other lady of the Methodist church which you know.

Plans at this time are not to sell tickets at the door so that people buying tickets early may be assured of food when they arrive at the church. Buy your ticket early before they are sold out and attend on Saturday, April 15 from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. for good and fellowship.

If your business is planning roads, housing developments, parks or resorts, a soil survey can help you select, layout, and maintain your developments properly. For information, contact the Soil Conservation Service.

Tower Accepting Applications

Senator John Tower (R-Tex) today announced he is accepting applications from Texas senior citizens who wish to participate in an intern program in his Washington office for two weeks in May.

The program is designed to provide increased communication between the retired community and their representatives in Congress. Tower was the first member of the Texas Congressional delegation to participate in the initial program in 1977.

The two citizens selected from the applicants will spend May 8 through May 19 in Tower's Washington office observing the legislative process, meeting with representatives of departments and agencies, and participating in the operations of a Congressional office.

According to Tower, the interns selected last year, James P. Waldrop of Dallas and Noe P. Jimenez of Corpus Christi, "both contributed much to my understanding more fully the needs and concerns of our senior citizens."

"I once again look forward to learning firsthand more about our senior citizens' problems, needs, and opinions," the Texas Republican said. "At the same time, I hope the interns will learn about the legislative process and government programs designed for their needs and then share with their peers the experiences and information gained in Washington."

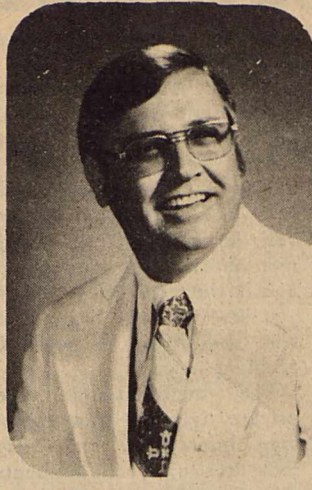

Tower said the interns' demanding schedule of activities will include meetings with various agency, department and committee representatives, and the opportunity to attend committee hearings. Plans also include a private tour of the White House and social activities with the Congressional staff and other interns.

Tower said applicants should be senior citizens, 65 years of age or older, active in their own communities, with an interest in legislation, and who would be willing and able to communicate their knowledge to their fellow senior citizens in the State.

Interns will receive their airfare to and from Washington, as well as a stipend to cover expenses while in Washington.

Applications can be obtained from Tower's Houston office at 515 Rusk, Room 6626, Houston, Texas 77002. The deadline for returning the applications with two letters of recommendation to the Houston office is March 31.

Now serving his third term, Tower is the top-ranking Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee and second-ranking GOP member of the Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee. He also serves on the Senate Select Committee on Ethics and is chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Managing money

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Don't take out a mortgage that is more than two-and-a-half times your annual take-home pay.

That advice comes from Dr. Harold Wolf of The University of Texas Finance Department, who is the author of college and high school textbooks on money management.

Carelessness is frequently at the root of troubles with personal finances, Dr. Wolf says. Ways to improve those finances, he says, range from setting up a "loose" budget that includes an item for savings to investigating the terms of three or four places before borrowing money or buying insurance.

He farms a little place and runs a few cows. You don't have to explain to him about the farm situation—he knows first-hand.

Dusty has a wife and four children. He can tell you about inflation and how the costs of providing for a family have skyrocketed.

He knows all that, but he also knows more. He knows how to defend someone. He knows what to do when the cards are stacked against him. He knows how to change people's minds. He knows how to handle a trial. . . and the people of our county are on trial. A trial for their livelihoods.

It is up to you. You can sit back and do nothing. Or you can do something about it. You can send Dusty Rhodes to Washington to defend you.

A lot of your friends and neighbors have already decided to vote for a good defense. Won't you join them?

That is why we need him in Washington. That is not the only reason. He is also a small businessman and he knows the kind of struggle they are having to make enough profit to stay in business.

That's right. Omar Burleson, Bob Poage, George Mahon, Olin Teague, men who have given Texas several decades of dedicated service as Congressmen, have chosen to retire.

So, at the very time when the men and women of our county are fighting for their economic lives, at the time their future is really on trial in Washington, a new man has to be put on their case.

That new man had better be a good man. He had better be one who can go into the courtroom of Congress and plead our case well. He had better be an experienced defender who can keep our citizens from being sentenced to more inflation, more red tape, higher costs, more government control.

For the future of your family, your friends, your neighbors, don't you agree? We can have that kind of man in Washington fighting for us. Dusty Rhodes is a candidate for Congressman from the 17th District, of which our county is a part. Dusty is a lawyer. He is a trial lawyer—a good one.

That is why we need him in Washington. That is not the only reason. He is also a

Some Insurance Claims Unusual?

And you think you've got troubles? How about the guy who won a bundle at the track, stuffed the loot in his pants and then saw the windfall (not to mention his breeches) go up in smoke?

What about the disgruntled chef who admitted his own cheese sauces were so rich they gave him gout?

How do you console a woman who has just been beamed by a toilet seat?

What about the small army of Aetna Life & Casualty claims representatives who had to rule on whether these unfortunates should be paid for their run-ins with fate?

Millions of claims poured into Aetna field offices around the country during 1977—some were routine, some were dull, and some were, well, memorable.

Unfortunately for the folks who experienced these extraordinary events and those who had to rule on their worthiness for compensation, all were also too true.

Consider, if you will, the plight of the Florida man who set out for a fun-filled day of water skiing and ended up being knocked unconscious by a fish, his boat wrecked after smashing into a tree.

The skipper and three companions were skiing on a river, apparently stirring up the water so much that the denizens of the deep became overly stimulated. One of them—a large sturgeon or tarpon—leaped out of the water, shattered the boat's windshield and knocked the pilot unconscious. Left without a driver, the boat smashed into a tree. Something like that could ruin your whole day.

Another incident down in Dixie earned the Oliver Hardy "Why Don't You Do Something to Help Me?" award for 1977.

An Alabama driver happened upon a two-car accident being investigated by the police. Advised to back up by the officer on duty, the driver shifted into reverse and proceeded around the block. No problem here, except that he made the trip backwards, at 50 mph, smashing into two parked cars in the process. His defense: "I just did what the policemen said." And they say there's no respect for law and order anymore.

The "Always Make Sure You Know What You're Squeezing" trophy goes to an Aetna policyholder who was tortured by mosquitoes. In the middle of the night he leaped out of bed and, unable to stand the torment any longer, sprayed the little winged devils into oblivion. You can imagine his surprise when, upon opening his baby blue eyes the next morning, he discovered he had sprayed the entire bedroom with red enamel paint—not insecticide. Oh well, history is full of Pyrrhic victories.

And here's an example we can all identify with—love and devotion gone awry.

One member of an apparently very happy couple loaned her car to the other lovebird in the early fall, with the understanding that he'd drive it cross-country and meet her soon for the nuptials. It took the poor lady several months to reach the conclusion that her fiancé had gone west with the care, apparently forgetting about the wedding. She filed a stolen car claim.

Getting back to our first three cases of abandoned normalcy, the gambling enthusiast headed for a racetrack in the East and was quite successful. He had the presence of mind to quickly conceal the winnings in his trousers. He then apparently got nervous, lit up a cigarette, and proceeded to set his pants on fire, destroying the cash, the breeches and, no doubt, his entire afternoon. We've heard of money burning a hole in some folks' pockets, but this is going a little too far!

The Aetna claims representatives were presented with the chef's piece de resistance in the form of a request for workers' compensation reimbursement. Seems like he tasted his own rich cheese sauces so often that he finally developed gout and found it hard to work. The imagination runs wild with the possibilities of excesses in other professions.

Then there's the case of the poor lady from New Jersey who had to explain how she was hit in the head by a toilet seat after walking under it. She entered a variety store only to be beamed by the seat which fell from an overhead display. And they claim there's no more adventure in the world!

Just to quell the rumors that backaches are a dead issue these days, we offer one final tale of woe.

A mortician filed a claim seeking payment for a strained back. Seems like business was so good he had loaded too many caskets into his hearse.

With all the troubles chronicled here, it might be well to remember what an anonymous author once wrote:

"Trouble knocked at the door, but hearing a laugh within, hurried away."

We'll keep that in mind during 1978!

Washington is giving Haskell County the death sentence. Should we get a good lawyer and fight?

If you don't believe it, just look around you.

Our farmers are selling their products at 1951 prices, while their production costs have gone up 675% since then.

Housewives are being beaten to death by prices when they shop for food and clothing for their families. Nobody can believe what it costs for a bill of groceries today.

Are the merchants getting rich? Not on your life. Their profit margin, the thing that keeps them in business, is shrinking every day. All their costs are up, plus they have to wade through a deepening ocean of government red tape.

Does it sound to you like we may need some help? Does it sound like things may not be going our way? But, you say, maybe this is temporary. Maybe it is a passing thing. Maybe it will go away.

Stop dreaming. It not only is here to stay, it is going to get worse. Here's why.

The government controls our lives and our businesses. Congress runs the government. That means that congressmen in Washington control us. Now here is the sad part. Not many of those congressmen care about us. In fact, not many care about Texas—and most of those who do care and have some influence on other congressmen are about to retire.

That's right. Omar Burleson, Bob Poage, George Mahon, Olin Teague, men who have given Texas several decades of dedicated service as Congressmen, have chosen to retire.

American Ag News

By Bettye McBroom
There were approximately 35 people from Haskell who traveled to Abilene Saturday night to hear the speakers talk to the AAM group at the Taylor County Coliseum.

Tommy Kersey of Georgia stated that people are trying to make the AAM look like we are slowing down, but the opposite is the truth. The American Agriculture Movement has moved into the sixth month and is growing everyday in number and moving ahead.

Alvin Jenkins of Colorado stated that 96% of the total wealth in the United States is controlled by one percent of the banks. The people in the one percent of these banks own factories in other countries, they are trying to keep the foods and fibers cheap as paid to the farmers and ranchers, and they lend money through others plus interest to these same farmers and ranchers when they have to have money to operate on. This is getting to the American farmers and ranchers coming and going.

Mr. Jenkins said, "You live on your farm, you work on your farm, but you don't control your farm."

"I am concerned about two people and I want to take care of them. One of them is the people over 65 years of age that have given for me all these years past. They are the ones who can no longer feed themselves according to the work law age. The other group is the young people who will take of me. They can't afford to start feeding me."

"The three choices of who we want to control our farming are the family farmer, foreign investors, or the government. Two things we have to lose by not fighting to keep our family farms are our pride and our country."

Gerald McCathern of Texas said, "I have never been involved in anything that has ever meant more to me than the American Agriculture Movement. We have ceased being fighting farmers for survival but become American patriots fighting for survival."

We in Haskell are fighting for the American survival as well as the family farms. If there are any of you who would like to become involved and help us with our AAM please come to 103 N. Av. D and visit or call 864-3802.

We also have an official American Agriculture Newspaper. If you would like to keep up with what's happening in the American Agriculture Movement across the nation, then come by and take out a subscription. It is a very interesting and informative newspaper.

UT researchers study the retarded

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — A small part of humanity — those with IQ's below 19 who exist at levels just a little above the animals — is the focus of studies by two University of Texas special education researchers.

Drs. Charles Cleland and William Rago are studying the emotional life of the profoundly mentally retarded (PMR) in the hope of discovering ways of relieving the boredom of the victims' existence.

The researchers say they have to remain open to facial expressions, grunts, gestures, tool usage and other types of behavior to try to reach some meaningful interpretation of PMR's needs.

VA News

Many eligible veterans residing in Texas are failing to apply for State benefits to which they might be entitled. According to C.H. Herren Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, many veterans are still unaware of their possible entitlement to certain benefits provided through the State government of Texas.

A veteran residing in Texas is entitled to free Disabled Veteran license plates for his personal automobile if he has service-connected disabilities which are rate 70% or more by either the U.S. Veterans Administration or a branch of the Armed Forces of the United States. A veteran who has service-connected disabilities of 60% or more is entitled to free Texas drivers license.

Another benefit provided by State law is a property tax exemption for veterans with service-connected disabilities of 10% or more, and for widows and widowers of veterans whose disability ratings of 10% or more were in existence at the time of their deaths. Also eligible for a property tax exemption is the spouse of a person who died or was killed during military service, and the minor children of such active duty deceased persons. The tax exemption runs from the first $1,500 of the assessed value for a 10% rating, to a maximum of the first $3,000 of assessed value for the 100% rating. The exemption for the spouses of deceased servicemen is the first $2,500 of the assessed value.

Another benefit is free admission to all State Parks in Texas for veterans with service-connected disabilities rated 60% or more or suffered the loss of use of a lower extremity.

All of these benefits are provided through laws passed by the State Legislature, and additional information on them, and others, can be obtained from your local Veterans Service Officer.

What do you do? What should you do?

Should you try to remove the injured from their vehicles or carry them out of the roadway to the relative safety of the shoulder? Should you give first aid? What should you do to warn oncoming motorists of hazardous wreckage in the road? How should you deal with the bystanders who congregate to gawk at accident scenes?

The many public and private agencies that campaign relentlessly for safety measures to prevent accidents also find themselves in the position of having to give advice about what to do in case of disaster.

The Department of Safety and Research of the Combined American Insurance Company has compiled a list of suggestions as what to do to be of the most effective assistance if you witness a highway disaster or happen upon wreckage strewn in the road.

One of your first responsibilities is to help prevent any additional accidents. That means you should pull your own car well off the road and either put up flares a safe distance in front of and behind the wreck scene or station other volunteers with flashlights in the road to halt and direct traffic.

If you are qualified and trained in first-aid techniques, you should give basic emergency attention to the injured provided they appear to need it. But you never should move anyone who is hurt unless their is danger of fire or you need to reach an important pressure point to stop bleeding. Even the slightest unnecessary movement can make an injury worse.

As soon as you can, turn off the ignition of cars involved in the accident and dispatch other motorists to summon the police and an ambulance. Get the names and addresses of any witnesses to the accident to give to the police and try to help identify the victims to officials.

While waiting, try to make the injured as comfortable as you can by keeping them warm and loosening their clothing. Talking to them often helps a lot.

Of key importance is an awareness that head injuries are the most frequent results of accidents, while head injuries combined with internal or other injuries are involved in nearly all highway fatalities. Nearly 50,000 people die in motor accidents every year and 1,800,000 are injured. Most of the fatalities occur in rural accidents, with the average delay in arrival of emergency equipment being about 45 minutes. Most of the injured who survive are hurt in urban areas, where hospitals are nearer at hand.

Combined Insurance safety students hope, therefore, that greater efforts will be made to assure speedy responses to emergency calls, particularly in rural areas. There is a need, too, for more highly trained ambulance crews and for better equipment to be provided in some cases.

All motorists should carry warning flares, first-aid kits, flashlights and other emergency equipment, Combined's experts say. They also find that it is important for as many people as possible to be familiar with first-aid techniques, which can be learned in special courses offered by hospitals, schools, the Red Cross and other organizations.

"Everyone should have basic knowledge about first aid for emergencies in the home and on the highway," they said. "If no classes are available in your area, see if you can arrange for a series through your medical society, church, club or hospital. As long as accidents are going to happen, we should all know how to deal with them."

WASHINGTON As It Looks From Here''

Omar Burleson
Congressman — 17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C.— ALL THE KING'S HORSES AND ALL THE KING'S MEN are unable to adequately patrol the U.S.-Mexican border. It would be difficult enough if the King's horses and King's men were working together effectively.

AS IT IS, THE TWO AGENCIES PRIMARILY RESPONSIBLE for border law enforcement seemingly are at odds and fail to properly cooperate. Even the patrol dogs are not speaking to one another.

THE GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE REPORTS THAT THESE TWO AGENCIES place electronic sensors along the border to detect movement but neither tells the other where the sensors are located. In this activity, efforts are duplicated. It also seems that Customs and the Immigration Service cannot communicate because their radios operate on different frequencies. This is just two examples of the almost complete failure to stem the tide of aliens pouring across the border from Mexico.

THIS, HOWEVER, IS NOT THE MOST SERIOUS PROBLEM, as serious as it is. Since late 1975, 89% of the heroin reaching the United States, amounting to about 5.2 metric tons, came from Mexico. Of this amount, only approximately 6% of the drug was seized by U.S. border forces.

PRIOR TO THE MID-70's, the problem of dope smuggling centered on the supply routes from Turkey, the Mideast and the "Golden Triangle" in Southeast Asia, funneled through Thailand. There continue to be some drugs coming into this Country from those areas, but not in the wholesale lots which is now the case of Mexico.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS ADVISORS ARE CURRENTLY WORKING ON PROPOSALS to get more efficiency out of Federal agencies and close attention is especially being given to law enforcement along our border with Mexico. The Administration has under consideration a number of proposals for reorganizing our efforts to curb drug smuggling and other illegal activities.

ALMOST 2,000 MILES ARE BETWEEN BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, AND TIJUANA, MEXICO, across from California. Much of this distance is rugged terrain and remote, shallow water in the Rio Grande and hundreds of small airports on the U.S. side to accommodate smugglers' aircraft. The job of protecting ourselves under these circumstances is tremendous. In addition, our Coast Guard has its problems of coping with dope, particularly cocaine, coming in by boat from South America to our Gulf ports and the east coast.

NUMBERS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT PERSONNEL and money for their operation is in itself not the total answer. Law enforcement personnel in the Immigration Service have, in recent years, been considerably increased and so has the money for equipment. But there has got to be better cooperation between these agencies and those in related activities, including local law enforcement people, in order to combat the alarming flow of hard drugs into this Country.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Each year about this time, income tax filing deadline brings vows from many consumers to find a way to lessen the annual Internal Revenue Service bite.

In their eagerness to find a tax shelter, some of them may be easy prey for deceptive sales pitches from promoters marketing "family estate," "pure," or "educational" trusts.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys caution taxpayers that some promoters may be misrepresenting that such trusts are approved by the I.R.S. or that they have been upheld in court, when, in fact, the I.R.S. has issued several rulings against them and no court has yet allowed deductions under them.

Tax attorneys say that this particular tax avoidance scheme first appeared in the 1930's, and has resurfaced about every 20 years since. Sales of such trusts have increased markedly in the past few years, and have been reported in many states.

The usual method of marketing the trusts is to approach individuals such as doctors or dentists who are in a relatively high tax bracket; however, trust promoters have also directed their attention to teachers, blue collar workers, and others. For a fee that can range up to several thousand dollars, the promoters help the taxpayer assign all income, property, or other assets to a "family estate" trust and appoint family members as officers, trustees, or directors. The promoter then advises that, as officers, each can receive consulting fees, tax

REDDY'S HELPFUL TIPS

- ★ Your air-conditioner will operate inefficiently if filters are not cleaned regularly. Dirt and lint, collected on the filters, restricts air flow to the coils. Clean filters every two weeks.
- ★ Let nature help you save energy by shading your home with trees and shrubs to help cut down on summer cooling costs. Draw draperies against afternoon sun.
- ★ Remember to keep outside doors, windows, and fireplace dampers closed. If you have window units, close the heating vents near the floor, as cool air falls and can escape through vents.

TO THE VOTERS OF HASKELL COUNTY

I am Mrs. Bobby L. (Melba) Howard asking for your vote and influence to elect me as your County Commissioner. I have lived most of my life in Precinct 2. I am the granddaughter of Mrs. Dessie Marion and the late Mr. C.W. Marion, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed W. Kreger, Sr. My parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Kreger, all of Haskell.

I am married to Bobby L. Howard, son of Mrs. Fred A. Howard and the late Mr. Fred Howard. We have two children, Virginia Sue Howard, a legal secretary of Amarillo, and Bobby Jr. who works at Hale Farm Supply, and he also farms. Bobby is married to the former Kim Hager, a senior in Weinert High School, and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Hager of Weinert.

I started first grade at Lake Creek School east of Weinert. I graduated from Haskell High School in 1949. I worked several years at the elevator and sale barn in Haskell. Bookkeeping, handling large sums of money, and public relations were the most important parts of these jobs. As most everyone in Haskell County knows, I have worked right along with my husband for years doing whatever was needed on the farm. Machinery as well as the cost and maintenance of such is very familiar to me. We have done all kinds of custom work as well as farmed the past 25 years. We had combines for years; of course, I have been the trucker! I have had commercial license for 25 years, and also I have been the partsmen etc. As every farmer's wife knows, you certainly acquire an education helping a farmer!!! I have hauled cotton, grain, hay, baler wire, and equipment over most every road in precinct 2. I'm well aware of our needs!

I am a member of The First Baptist Church of Haskell. I am also a member of other organizations which are constantly working for the betterment of our economic conditions as well as trying to keep our living conditions and way of life the best in the world. I am a member of American Agri-Women, Texas Women for Agriculture, American National CowBelles, Texas CowBelles, and Haskell CowBelles. I have served three years as President of Haskell CowBelles, one year as Third Vice President of Texas CowBelles, and I am now serving as Treasurer of Texas CowBelles and as Trustee of Hermann Sons Lodge No. 241 of Haskell.

Working with many people on various situations, it has been my duty to make decisions that have affected many people and businesses. I have always tried to do my best and to be sure that the decision was to the best interest of all the people concerned. I believe the same formula should hold true in the business of Precinct 2 and Haskell County!

I look forward to talking with each of you personally. I want to hear your views, your problems, and your expectations for Precinct 2. I invite and welcome your support, help, and also your criticism. I would appreciate a letter or just a note now to let me know the things you consider to be the most urgent and important matters needed for the betterment of everyone in Precinct 2 and Haskell County. If it is more convenient for you, please feel free to call me at 864-3258.

I thank you for your time and consideration. I am looking forward to serving you, Precinct 2, and Haskell County.
