

Flood Victims Digging Out

We've all heard the saying, "If you don't like the weather in West Texas, hang around for a few minutes and it'll change."

Last Thursday afternoon it was easy to realize that the fellow who made that statement was accurate at least part of the time.

In a period of about two hours Haskell residents witnessed calm cloudy weather, a sand storm, a light shower and clear skies with the sun shining.

During this time the work of local people cleaning up from the flood was not slowed. Families continued to work cleaning their homes and automobiles and many neighbors who did not receive water damage were assisting their friends.

As flood waters receded much of the damage was not quite so obvious to the casual passerby but on close inspection, the damage was greater than had originally been estimated.

While the greatest portion of the flood damage to homes was in Haskell, neighboring towns of Rule, Rochester, and Weinert received damage to varying degrees.

Representatives of the City, County, and local Soil Conservation Service, now estimate total damage in the County at about $65,000,000. All agree however that this is only a ball-park figure and the true damage will probably never be known.

A local committee consisting of Loraine Johnson, Charles Thornhill, Jimmy Owens and Bob Beauchamp is currently distributing purchasing orders to flood victims. The funds used are from donations received by the Abilene Reporter News fund and from local donations.

Haskell receives 45% of all donations received in Abilene. Local residents who wish to donate can do so at the Haskell National Bank and all donations received in Haskell

Light Fund Now Over $7300.00

Contributions have continued to "pour in" despite the Haskell flood as the merchants, organizations and individuals in the Haskell Area have given to the "Light up Your Life with New Christmas Lights" Fund Drive. The total contributed to date is $7346.63, leaving the fund only 1153.37 short of its $8500.00 total. Jaycee, Jayceettes, and Chamber Leaders are thrilled at the outstanding response given to their project and graciously thank all those who have given to their project.

Contributions not previously acknowledged are: Colonial Food Stores, $50.00; Haskell Co. Warehouse & Compress, $50.00; Duncan Reality, $25.00; Haskell Clinic, $100.00; Anonymous, $50.00; Byrds Studio, $10.00; Smittys Auto Supply, $100.00; Haskell Lions Club, $300.00.

Donations are still being taken and may be given to any Haskell Jaycee or Jaycee-ette, also the Chamber of Commerce office, or at Haskell National Bank.

County will be used in this county.

Haskell's portion of the Abilene fund as of Tuesday was $8,124.75 and local donations had raised the total to $9,679.75.

Shackelford County receives 45% of the Abilene Fund and Throckmorton receives 10% of the Fund. Members of the local committee have received numerous calls for assistance and Tuesday the committee had pledged all funds which had been received.

Applications are still being accepted and approved applications will be funded as donations are received.

Local committee members emphasize that all donations deposited in the Haskell National Bank will stay in Haskell County and be used to assist Haskell County flood victims.

Members of the committee are accepting applications from permanent residents throughout the county including Lake Stamford. The assistance will be limited to families who received flood damage to their permanent resident and lake cabins will not qualify.

Persons who wish to apply for assistance should contact Johnson, at Boggis and Johnson Furniture.

The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration closed their one stop center in Haskell Monday afternoon when they reached a point where the majority of the local flood victims had received assistance and information.

Following is a list of State and Federal agencies which can be contacted if further assistance or information is needed.

FmHA Loans Available

Emergency loans for farmers, ranchers, or aquaculture operators are available through county offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), Dale R. Burris, FmHA county supervisor, said today.

Dale R. Burris asked that those who need farm credit as a result of flood make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration office at Haskell.

Applications for assistance in the disaster stricken counties will be accepted by Farmers Home until 2-5-1979 for physical losses and 8-9-79 for production losses.

FmHA loans covering actual physical and production losses may be used to replace installations, equipment, or buildings, (including homes) lost through this disaster. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts. Other loans, beyond actual losses, can be made for annual operating expenses or to make major adjustments in a farming or ranching operation.

"Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," Burris said.

Loans covering actual losses are made at an interest rate of three & five percent and are scheduled for repayment as rapidly as feasible consistent with the applicant's reasonable ability to pay. Loans beyond actual losses have various maturities, depending upon the purpose of the loan.

To be eligible for an emergency loan, an applicant must have suffered losses from the disaster and be unable to get credit from other sources.

Emergency loans can be used to help the farmer restore damaged farm operations and additional loans based upon the emergency designation can be used to reorganize the farm for greater efficiency and better production.

School Lunch Policy Announced

Haskell Public Schools today announced its policy for free and reduced price meals and free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, and Special Milk Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligibility: Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals or free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Applications forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, they should contact the school. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provision of the policy the building principals will review the applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official he may make a request either orally or in writing to R.K. Sams, Superintendent, Haskell Ind. School District, Box 666, Haskell, Texas or phone 864-2602 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Each school and the office of the superintendent has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Campbell, Cagle Repeat Vows

Arrangements of white summer flowers and lighted tapers framed the altar area of the First Baptist Church, Floydada, as wedding promises were exchanged Saturday, August 12, uniting in marriage Miss Reagan Cagle of Floydada and Mr. Cliff Campbell of Arlington. Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor, officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cagle of Floydada; and the groom is the son of Mr. Frank Gamblin, Abilene, and Mr. Jimmie Campbell of Haskell.

Grandparents attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Vick of Brownwood and Mrs. Hollis Cagle of Tulsa.

The altar setting was centered by a grouping of arched candelabras holding white pillar candles. Matching white pedestals and urns holding mass arrangements of mixed white flowers were on each side. The bride's aisle was decorated with white satin sala foilage.

Musical selections were presented by Mrs. Bill Hardin, organist, and Mrs.

Mack Hickerson, pianist, both of Floydada, who also accompanied soloist Barry Watts of Lubbock. Mr. Watt's selections were "Welcome To My World" and "Let It Be Me."

Mr. Jimmie Campbell of Haskell was best man.

Other groomsmen were: Daylon Byerly of Denver, Colorado, Pat Felix of San Antonio, Steve Bostick of McAllen, Rick Stokes of Carrizo Springs and brothers of the bride, John Cagle and Rusty Cagle, both of Floydada, who also served as ushers.

Miss Debbie Russell of Arlington was maid of honor.

Other bridal attendants were: Gay Troianni of San Antonio, Betty Johnston of Olney, Penny Kelly of Carrollton, and Jill Warren of Tahoka.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, Mr. Bill Cagle, the bride wore a dress of white eyelet batiste, designed by Mori Lee. The moulded bodice featured a scoop neckline with small flounce, which could be arranged in an off the shoulder look. The flounce drifted into the short layered sleeves. The empire waistline was defined with a self-fabric waistband and swept to back fullness forming a chapel length train.

To complete her ensemble, Miss Cagle wore a matching white eyelet picture hat, featuring a ruffle and white lace hat band tied to a bow in the center back, which was trailed by long streamers. She carried a cascading bouquet of white stephanotis, sweetheart roses, tube roses and gypsophelia.

To complement the bride's ensemble, her attendants carried bouquets of mixed summer flowers and ivy. Each wore identical gowns of white eyelet, which gave the wedding an ultra formal effect. Empire waistlines were emphasized with self-fabric waistbands, featuring a self fabric bow in back. The full circular skirts were floor length, featuring wide flounce hemlines.

Flower girl, Miss Kasey Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allen of Clarendon, also wore a floor length white eyelet gown featuring the flounce neckline and hemline.

Following a musical interlude presented by Barry Watts, accompanied on the piano by Tolya Hickerson, a reception was held in Wall Street Parlor. The circular cake table was covered with a floor length white chiffon cloth with Victorian swags. Flanking the bride's table were serving tables which had matching cloths and were centered with silver candelabrum holding mixed foilage arrangements and cathedral length tapers. Silver appointments were used.

Reception attendants at the bride's table were Mary Ann Brown, Connie Cogdell, Alison Campbell, Terri Pearson and Dy 'Anna Waldrop. At the groom's table were Brenda Morton and Mychelle Hammond. Registering guests were Becky Henry.

After a brief trip, the couple will be at home in Arlington, where Campbell is employed, by Jordan and Assoc. First Mark Real Estate. Mrs. Campbell will be teaching in the Arlington schools.

Mrs. Campbell is a 1971 graduate of Floydada High School and a 1975 graduate of Texas Tech University, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

Campbell is a 1971 graduate of Haskell High School and a 1975 graduate of Texas Tech University, where he was a

Letters To The Editor

Dear Don:

Community involvement is a sign of a progressive populace. I wish to express my gratitude to the citizens of Haskell, who are indeed good neighbors. By giving of themselves and their resources, Red Cross was able to help disaster victims help themselves.

In cooperation with Mayor Williams, his staff, county officials, and the volunteers provided by the Jaycees, Jaycee-ettes, Fire Auxiliary, other organizations and many youth volunteers, operation of the Disaster Relief Center was most efficient. The professional federal and state, as well as Red Cross personnel, could not have operated as efficiently without this cooperation.

Those of us in Red Cross Disaster Services encourage the formulation of preparedness plans to be activated in event of a disaster, either natural or man-made, involving one family or an entire community. This spirit of helping, so amply displayed in the recent floods, could possibly be expanded to cover other situations i.e. tornadoes, fires, transportation accidents, etc.

It was indeed a pleasure to be associated with your county Red Cross Chairman, Mr. Cortez, and the numerous volunteers assisting in these relief measures. Also, local merchants are to be commended for cooperating with the Red Cross purchase agreements.

Sincerely,
Elvis L. Curb

Controlled traffic farming is a concept getting a lot of attention lately . . . and probably even more in the future. Idea of the operation is to keep tractors moving only on surfaces not used for crops. Basically that seems quite unreasonable since the crops are in the field and it is usually necessary to get the tractor out there to do any good. None of that has changed. With controlled traffic farming the tractor would be driven on paths between the rows. Paths used only for the machinery. In most concepts of this type operation the paths would be the only points of compaction in the field. Therein lies the reason for concern. If compaction can be reduced, root systems can be more completely developed and higher yields would result. At Auburn University in Alabama a controlled traffic farm experiment resulted in a yield 43 percent higher than crops grown with conventional tillage.

Forty or fifty years ago, the electric bill was most often called the "light bill". In thousands of homes, Mr. Edison's illuminating invention wasn't the only electrically powered appliance, but most people associated electricity with the most visible benefit - light.

Today, with the help of electrical energy and the appliances it powers, our tasks become easier and our lives more enjoyable. At West Texas Utilities we're working to provide you a continuing dependable source of electrical energy now and in the future.

Remember Reddy supplies the energy, only you can use it wisely.

USDA Soil Conservation Service
Assisting
Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District

They prayed, and the rains came - in tubs full. In fact, better than 15.5 inches was gauged by Sam Herren, Haskell's official Weatherman.

At this writing more than 300 farmers and ranchers in the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District, and a few from adjoining areas, have registered flood damage to crops, fields, terraces, waterways, fences, and ponds, and the loss of livestock. The Haskell County Disaster Committee estimates losses and damages in excess of 65 million dollars. We feel that this is not a reliable figure as we were, at such an early date, unable to assess much of the damages and losses to homes in Haskell and around Lake Stamford, not to mention damages to our county road system.

We are in the process of developing an Emergency Conservation Measures Program, which when fully implemented and approved should give us much assistance in the restoration of all types of conservation measures destroyed or damaged by the flood. At this time we can only inform everyone what is proposed.

Proposed, but not yet approved, is the (1) removal of debris from farmlands, (2) grading, shaping, or releveling of farmlands, (3) restoring permanent fences, (4) restoring structures and other installations such as pond dams; waterways; diversions; terraces; wells, springs, pipeline or other livestock watering facilities.

These practices will be applicable to farmland. Eligibility for these practices will be determined on an individual basis considering the type and extent of damage, the farmer's capability, financial and otherwise, to rehabilitate the damage farmland. There will be no such thing as "first come, first served". Priority for assistance will be based entirely on the farm situation, such as time of next crop planting.

ECM funds are not currently available. The filing of requests for assistance made during the last week does not necessarily assure approval of such requests. It will be necessary for each producer to make formal application for assistance.

As soon as the ECM program is approved, a sign-up date will be announced by the Haskell County ASCS Office. At this time, and that time only, will the ASCS Office personnel consider taking applications for assistance.

So until then, all farmers and ranchers are encouraged to continue to register any flood damages that they might have incurred with the Soil Conservation Service. The SCS Office is located at 102 North Avenue E, Haskell. The telephone number is 817-864-3212.

American Ag News

BY BETTYE McBROOM

The following article was taken from the AMERICAN AGRICULTURE NEWS, July 25, 1978, and written by the editor, Micki Nellis.

What has happened to American Agriculture? AP reports that the farm strike has lost momentum, that wheat has overgrown the strike signs.

AP says the leaders are at odds with each other, and quotes Gene Schroder and Bud Bitner as saying things that seem contradictory.

The Denver Post copyrights a story saying that emerging political conservatism (in other words, the economic talks and Trilateral Commission talks) in American Agriculture is disturbing.

At the national meeting in St. Louis, the United Farm Press reporter runs down stairs before the meeting is over and calls in a press release to UPI (written by AAM) in hopes that United Farm Press will get a byline on the story.

United Farm Press discovers a difference of opinion among AAM supporters and moves in with a monthly giveaway publication purporting to be the voice of American Agriculture, and quoting some as saying we don't need parity prices and attacking the Nolan Bill at a time when American Agriculture is actively lobbying for the Nolan Bill in Washington. National companies decide to back this publication by advertising in it. (Olin company's Ammo Phos fertilizer. Olin's fertilizer profits are down, we learn from another story.)

Public Relations companies think American Agriculture can afford a sophisticated, expensive PR campaign.

Engineering firms want to do business with AAM to manufacture gasohol.

Wire services burn with reports that American Agriculture is joining labor.

Wire services burn with reports that the AAM-AFL-CIO coalition is off.

The USDA issues a report that production is down, but American Agriculture can't take the credit.

Auto manufacturers caution the public that it might cost them $35 to $75 to modify their carburetors to burn gasohol, all the while reading plans to have a manufacturing plant ready when and if gasohol breaks.

The USDA issues press releases saying gasohol will never go, and says besides, the farmer couldn't grow enough crops to fuel it.

A hopper car shortage materializes, and try as they may, nobody can seem to get grain transported. Meanwhile, prices stay down in foreign markets wither.

Bob Bergland assures the world that Russia will have enough grain this year, and there is no world demand for a lot of US grain.

Local sheriffs come out and tell American Agriculture that if we do this or that, they will call out the National Guard.

Spies infiltrate meetings and release slanted reports of what American Agriculture is up to, including verbatim remarks made by leaders or jokes, quoted out of context.

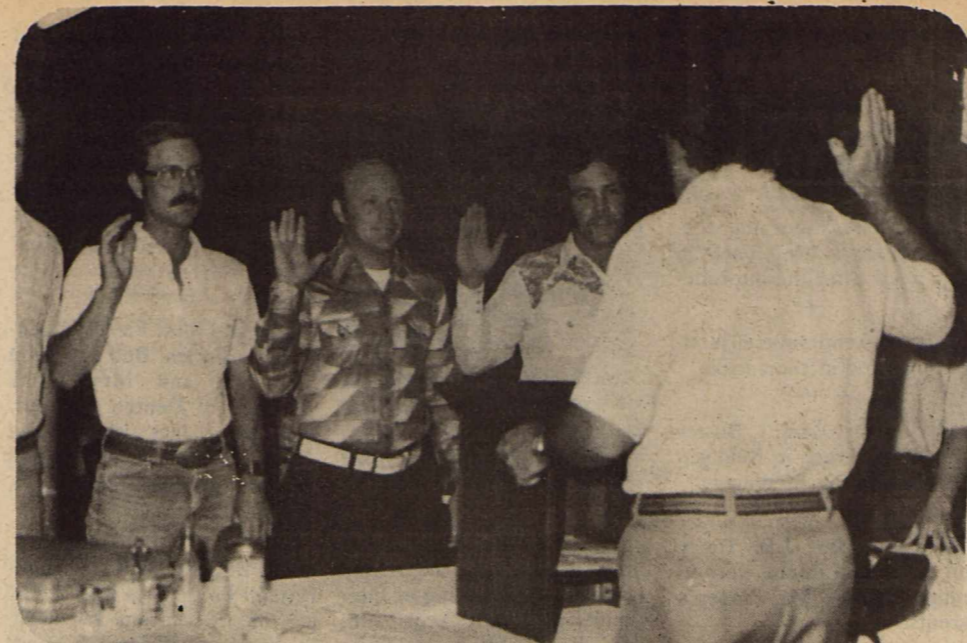

Farm Bureau attacks American Agriculture, labor, and the consumers, blaming them for all the nation's economic woes.

The USDA harps on sharply rising food prices. Barry Bosworth and Robert Strauss vow to keep the lid on.

President Carter starts a campaign to get the American Cattleman to rebuild his herd, only weeks after opening up beef imports.

USDA reassures farmers that prices are higher than last fall, and tells them they are doing fine.

Oil companies start a PR blitz that they can make alcohol cheaper out of coal

TEXAS JAYCEE PRESIDENT, Elvis Wilson, was in Haskell recently and addressed the regular meeting of the Haskell County Jaycees. Following the meeting Wilson is shown swearing-in new members. A total of eight young men joined the club bringing the total membership to 51. Disaster Loans Available From SBA

Information about Small Business Administration loans and other assistance programs is available at Assistance Centers located in Albany at the Youth Activities Center, in Haskell at the Courthouse and in Graham at the Legion Hall.

The toll-free telephone number for information about all assistance programs is 1-800-292-5120.

Homeowners and business owners who suffered damage in last weeks flood may be eligible for low-interest loans to aid in returning their property to pre-disaster condition, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) announced today.

Small Business Administration disaster loans are available to flood victims in the declared counties of Haskell, Shackelford and Young, as well as the adjacent counties of Throckmorton, King, Knox Baylor, Archer, Jack, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Eastland, Callahan, Taylor, Jones and Stonewall.

SBA disaster loans may be used to repair house trailers and vacation homes as well as primary dwellings. Renters also may be eligible for loans to replace lost or damaged personal property.

Interest rates on direct home repair and replacement loans are one percent on the first $10,000, three percent on the next $30,000 and 6 5/8 percent above that. Vacation homes have a three percent interest rate for the full amount of the loan. The maximum loan amount on personal property is $10,000; the maximum on real property is $50,000. A combined limit for one borrower may not exceed $55,000.

Business owners may receive direct SBA disaster loans of up to $500,000 to restore property, machinery, equipment, fixtures and inventory to pre-disaster condition. The interest rate is three percent on the first $250,000 and 6 5/8 percent for remaining amounts.

Disaster loans are based on repayment ability and have a maximum maturity of thirty years.

SBA loan assistance is not limited to homes and businesses. Clubs, churches and other non-profit organizations which have recreational and other facilities damaged by flood waters may be eligible. But in every case, the assistance is available only to the extent that the damage exceeds the applicant's insurance coverage.

Applicants are encouraged to bring all supporting documentation with them to the SBA office. Applications should be accompanied by a damaged property list, photographs of the damage, copies of deeds and last year's federal income tax return.

The plot of Longfellow's poem Evangeline, was told to him by writer Nathaniel Hawthorne.

American Agriculture is having an impact. American Agriculture is hurting those who have been hurting American Agriculture.

Comments By Bettye: One state is already readying a plant to produce gasohol. Since the government tells everyone we have a "surplus" of crops in the United States, why couldn't we grow enough crops to fuel it?

President Carter announced Monday that the beef imports would be limited now. We knew three weeks ago that he was going to make this statement. What he didn't go on to say was that there is no meat available in other countries to be shipped to the United States. Columbia, South America, has notices on their tables that there will be no beef served on Tuesdays or Fridays because it is being shipped abroad. I have a copy of this I acquired in Hereford at the Texas AAM State office. No wonder foreigners dislike Americans since they are having to do without in order to furnish Americans with food that Americans could produce themselves.

It is time Americans decide that America belongs back in the hands of Americans!

We hope to never see a Haskell without the Haskell County Jaycees and Jayceettes. As long as we have these young people, that give so much of their self, time, hard work and etc. Haskell will remain on the map.

Haskell County is their's and they have proved it these last few weeks.

Since there is not enough words to cover all that these young people have put fourth at the time of Haskell County's disaster, we'll just say all hats off to the Haskell County Jaycees and Jayceettes.

T.C. Patterson and Family Haskell, Texas

I am trying to find out information about my Great Grandfather. His name was D.H. Irby and he was born March 28, 1815. He married Sarah Angelina Wallace. He died July 1, 1902 in Sipe Springs, Texas.

My Great Grandfather was Terry Irby and he was born July 26, 1845 in Stevenson, Alabama. His second wife (my Great Grandmother) was Alice Trimble Brown from Little Rock Arkansas.

I noticed in my Texas Almanac that there is an Irby Texas near Haskell. I'm hoping that one of your readers might know something about the Irbys.

I would really appreciate any bit of information anyone might have.

Thank You, Sincerely, Miss Linda Irby 137 N Main St. Canandaigua, N.Y. 14424

Dear Editor, The President of these good old United States has figured out how to help us Farmers and cattlemen again. Last Friday he signed a bill including an amendment authorizing another Beef Referendum. This amendment to the Agriculture Credit Act of 1978 will allow the beef program to go into effect with the approval of 50% of those voting. It should carry this time since in 1977 when it was voted upon and received 56.5% approval but failed because it needed 3/5 to pass. The National Cattle Feeders Assoc., Texas Cattle Feeders Assoc. and nearly all the Livestock Merchandising Institutes are for this. There is just one thing that got this old country boy confused. When we work our guts out getting the cattle market built up and try to overcome a drought and down cattle prices for 4 years and we get everything going to where you can see a profit our President opens up imports and breaks the market $20 a hundred. Now everybody knows there is a world wide food shortage, but Australia says lets all quit eating beef on Tues. and ship it to America and help break their market. Now we have our good neighbors to the south shipping uninspected beef in by the tons starving their poor families to death and spreading cancer filled beef all over America yet we producers here at home have so many Government controls we are all about ready to give up. Now what I'm getting at is this, if the President and all these other people want to help make all imported beef be inspected and stamped and let them compete on the same basis as we do. They won't do it, why? Because your biggest importers are the same group that controls Tri Lateral powers. Now the executive Vice President of the Texas Cattle Feeders Assoc. was quoted as saying "We think the chances for the Referendum are good because producers realize needs are greater in some areas. There is a need and opportunity that will pay big dividends." Now until three of these biggest feeders quit importing and selling and feeding Mexico beef I don't believe anything they say.

We can and should promote American bred and American fed beef the best in the world, we can do it just like we did the screw worm program but when the Federal Government starts another Bureau to collect money to promote beef you had better get ready we have till the spring of 1979 to prepare. So lets get ready. We don't need Carter helping us out any more than he has.

After just having finished writing the above I sat down to read my American Agriculture

News and lo and behold in bold print I see Texas Independent Cattlemens Assoc. will not back Texas AAM in meat labeling suit. The Hamilton County Texas Chapter of Independent Cattlemens Assoc. are trying to make the state of Texas enforce a law established in 1965 requiring all imported beef be inspected and labeled imported. The Texas Independent Cattlemens Assoc. of Texas as a whole has refused to back this law. Why the back off check and you will see just how much beef this group is importing. But don't go near the Border to check they will beat you to death or put you in prison. Pray for God to help us and the Department of Agriculture.

More news next week on the Haskell County Taxpayers Assoc.

Approximately 100 families in Haskell County have been forced from their homes by the recent flooding of Springs Branch Creek, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) announced today.

Michael Polny, director of HUD's Disaster Housing Office in Breckenridge, said he expects that some mobile homes will have to be brought to Haskell County to provide temporary homes for families who have been displaced by the flood.

Polny said that other families will be able to remain in their homes while HUD provides funds or contractors to return their homes to livable condition.

The remainder of the displaced families who qualify for HUD assistance will be quartered in various rental properties until more permanent accommodations can be obtained.

Polny said that displaced families who qualify for HUD-owned mobile homes will be provided with 2- or 3-bedroom units, depending on family size.

The HUD mobile homes come equipped with essential furniture and appliances, including beds, chairs, tables, stoves and refrigerators.

The mobile homes will be moved to the flood-affected area after HUD has certified that existing mobile home sites are equipped with all of the essential utilities (water, sewer and electricity) and are out of the designated flood plain, Polny said.

HUD's Minimal Repair Program (MRP) provides for

FUND RAISING...Members of the Indian Booster Club received a shipment of 1,000 stickers this week. The stickers include a bumper sticker, football schedule, school calendar, and six small Haskell Indian labels. The entire sticker will be sold for $1.00 each. The booster club purchased 500 of the stickers and received a donation of 500 from M-System. They are available from Booster Club members, Haskell Indians, Cheerleaders, Twirlers, and at M-System and Johnson Pharmacy. Shown with the stickers are: Head Coach Don Flippin, Booster Club President Jimmy Browning, Secretary Gearldine Hise, Indian Vonnie Hise, Charles Thornhill, and Head Cheerleader Sarah Cox. emergency repairs to essential items in owner-occupied homes at no cost to those who qualify. Repairs done as a part of the emergency home repair program are not intended to return a home to its pre-flood condition. Instead, these repairs are only those needed to make a home safe, sanitary and secure. Home owners who qualify for the emergency home repair program may have the work done by HUD-supplied contractors. Home owners who have emergency repairs already underway may qualify for reimbursement by HUD. Home owners may also obtain needed materials from HUD and perform the emergency repairs themselves.

Home owners and renters whose residences have been destroyed or severely damaged may apply to HUD for rent-free temporary housing assistance from HUD. "Our first priority will be to find vacant rental properties in which to house flood victims, because that is the type of housing we can normally provide most rapidly," Polny said.

Polny added that efforts to find temporary housing for flood victims are being hampered by a lack of available rental accommodations in the Haskell area.

"If anyone has houses, apartments, mobile homes or duplexes which are available should call the HUD Disaster Housing Office in Breckenridge and speak to the Placement Division. The telephone number is 817-559-8232. Landlords with available rental units may call collect."

HUD also can provide furniture and basic household items to families who lost such items in the flooding. The furniture (which includes such basic needs as beds, sofas, chairs, stoves and refrigerators) is loaned by HUD to eligible families. Other house-keeping essentials—such as sheets, pots, pans, dishes, tableware and brooms—are supplied at no cost to eligible families in HUD's "Living Kits."

Families who have been affected by the flooding can apply for HUD housing assistance by coming to the Disaster Housing Office in Breckenridge now that the disaster assistance center in Haskell has closed. The HUD office in Breckenridge is at 116 W. Walker. Flood victims may call the HUD office collect at 817-559-8232 if they have questions about housing problems.

HUD's temporary housing assistance programs are available to all flood-displaced families regardless of income or economic status.

"This is not a welfare program," Polny emphasized. "The funds for HUD assistance and other federal disaster programs come primarily from the President's Disaster Fund. This fund is provided by your tax dollars."

Marine Master Sergeant George O. Lowlor Jr., whose wife, Anita, is the daughter of Vivian Akins of Haskell, recently participated in exercise "Varsity Cleanex" off the Southern California coast.

More than 17,000 Navy and Marine Corps personnel participated in the 11-day exercise which included 24 ships and approximately 250 aircraft. "Varsity Cleanex" was designed to provide essential Navy and Marine Corps joint training in amphibious operations and culminated with an amphibious assault at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The exercise was under overall command of Vice Admiral Samuel L. Gravely Jr., USN, Commander U.S. Third Fleet. The major on-scene commanders were Rear Admiral R.A. Sons Of Hermann Campaign For More Members Officially designated as the 1978 Campaign for More Members, a three-month membership drive, running from Aug. 1 through Oct. 31, has been launched throughout the state by the Order of the Sons of Hermann in Texas.

Participating in the annual drive will be members of 156 Hermann Sons lodges in more than 100 cities and towns, Louis B. Engelke of San Antonio, grand president, announced.

Planning the drive in July were more than 600 presidents, vice presidents, secretaries and treasurers of local lodges who held a one-day meeting in San Antonio. The conclave followed a seminar attended by 119 lodge membership representatives.

Hermann Sons in Texas dates back to 1860 when Harmonia Lodge No. 1 was formed in San Antonio. The lodge was officially chartered in 1861. Originally part of a national society founded in New York in 1840, Hermann Sons in Texas became autonomous in 1921.

Now nearing the 75,000-member mark, Hermann Sons is listed in Fraternal Monitor magazine as 28th in size among 116 fraternal benefit societies in the nation reporting statistics and first among those operating in only one state.

The San Antonio-based order operates a youth camp and home for aged members near Comfort and sponsors 18 dancing schools for junior members. Local lodges sponsor both social and benevolent activities. As required by law, the fraternal benefit society also provides life insurance for adult and junior members.

Lodge membership representatives in the Haskell area are: Harry Koehler and Alton Peiser, Haskell Lodge No. 241.

Chamber Holds Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held at 6 p.m., Tuesday, August 1st, with Vice President J.A. Carroll, presiding.

Following the Invocation by John Wayne McDermott, the manager read the minutes of the last meeting and presented the financial statement for July. Both were approved by board members.

Director Charles Thornhill, chairman of the Retail Trade Committee and annual Christmas program, gave a current report on the drive to raise the necessary finance to purchase new decorations for Haskell. Approximately $7,000 has either already been paid or pledged with some merchants and clubs and organizations yet to be heard from. This amount is very near the goal of approximately $8,300 necessary for the project, and the Jaycees, Jaycettes and Retail Trade Committee members are confident that ample funds will be raised for the much needed decorations for the town.

In other business, Bob

Beauchamp reported on plans of the Publicity and Public Relations Committee to welcome new comers to Haskell. Also, it was reported that both individuals and business firms who were paying membership dues below the new minimum set recently by the board, were responding well to the request.

Present for the meeting were: J.A. Carroll, Wayne Lehrer, John Wayne McDermott, Bob Beauchamp, Edith Wheatley, Charles Thornhill, Joe Thigpen and manager Rex Felker.

Fisher Tours Flood Areas

Bill Fisher, candidate for Congress in the 17th District, Thursday toured the towns of Albany, Throckmorton, Graham, and Haskell. The trip was made to survey the damage done by the recent floods.

"This points up, in a dramatic and tragic way, the need for an effective Water Management Program," Fisher stated after studying the extent of the damage resulting from last week's flooding.

"Water is the key to the future of West Texas. We can't afford to have too little—or too much," Fisher continued, "If I'm elected to Congress, I'll see that we get the U.S. Army Corp of Engineers to do an engineering study of the water shed in this area, and get an effective Water Management Program going based on the engineer's recommendations."

Fisher pointed out that an effective Water Management Program would yield benefits in extreme conditions. During a period of drought it would guarantee an adequate supply of water for domestic consumption and agricultural irrigation. In the instance of floods the system could help prevent the extreme damage to property and crops, and the tragic loss of life.

Citing California's water management, Fisher said, "With their system, California has been able to become the number one agriculture producing state in the nation—in spite of the fact they've been under drought conditions for the past few years. They've planned well. Being able to irrigate through a drought has kept California farmers from total financial disaster. By following their example, there's no reason why we couldn't be doing the same thing here in West Texas."

"It's a sad sight to see," observed Fisher, "The homes damaged or destroyed, the land and crops ravaged, and worst of all—to know that lives were lost. Maybe we can do something to keep this kind of thing from ever happening this bad again."

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Packed into a new full-color land resources map from the Bureau of Economic Geology at The University of Texas is a variety of data that will be helpful in evaluating economic and environmental aspects of resource use throughout Texas.

The "Land Resources of Texas" map, with a companion text, is the first map of its kind in the U.S.

Measuring six and one-half feet by eight feet (with one inch equalling about eight miles), the UT map identifies 70 land resources which are grouped in eight categories that range from estuary-lagoon-open gulf features to geomorphic units such as mountain terrain, salt domes and faults.

New Families In Haskell

Chamber of Commerce director J.A. Carroll, Director of the Publicity and Public relations committee of the civic organization, announces the following plan to provide a type of welcome for new Haskell residents.

Names and addresses of new citizens will be provided by the Utility Companies and their names run in the Haskell Free Press for the purpose of urging everyone to make a special effort to get acquainted with them and to be helpful by providing pertinent information.

Each new family will receive a colorful brochure and map

Farm Fatalities Can Be Reduced With Extra Care

AUSTIN—It's better to be safe than sorry, especially when it comes to farm work, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown notes.

"Safety on the farm and ranch is the point we are stressing during the upcoming National Farm Safety Week," Brown said. "By publicizing the fact that over 200 lives are lost each year on Texas farms, we hope that many agricultural workers will exercise more care in their everyday jobs and help reduce this tragic figure."

National Farm Safety Week, which begins July 25, is co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"The sad thing about many farm accidents is that they could be prevented," Brown said. "A farm or ranch, like any industrial plant, can be a dangerous place if care is not taken. But by being aware of this and using the proper guards and shields on all machinery, chances for accidents are decreased."

He pointed out that machinery-related accidents are the No. 1 cause of farm deaths. Other causes of fatalities on the farm, in order of frequency, are falls, natural factors, electric shock, suffocation, burns and poisons.
