New Attorney Begins Practice

Following a year's experience with Criminal District Attorney Alton Griffin, in Lubbock, John Fouts has returned to Haskell where he will be associated with the firm of Adkins and Chapman.

Fouts served as an attorney on the staff of the Lubbock District Attorney in Lubbock during 1978 from the time of his graduation from Texas Tech Law School in December 1977. While on the D.A.'s staff he was active in numerous jury trials.

will be engaged in the general practice of law. He was recently appointed City Attorney for the City of Haskell.

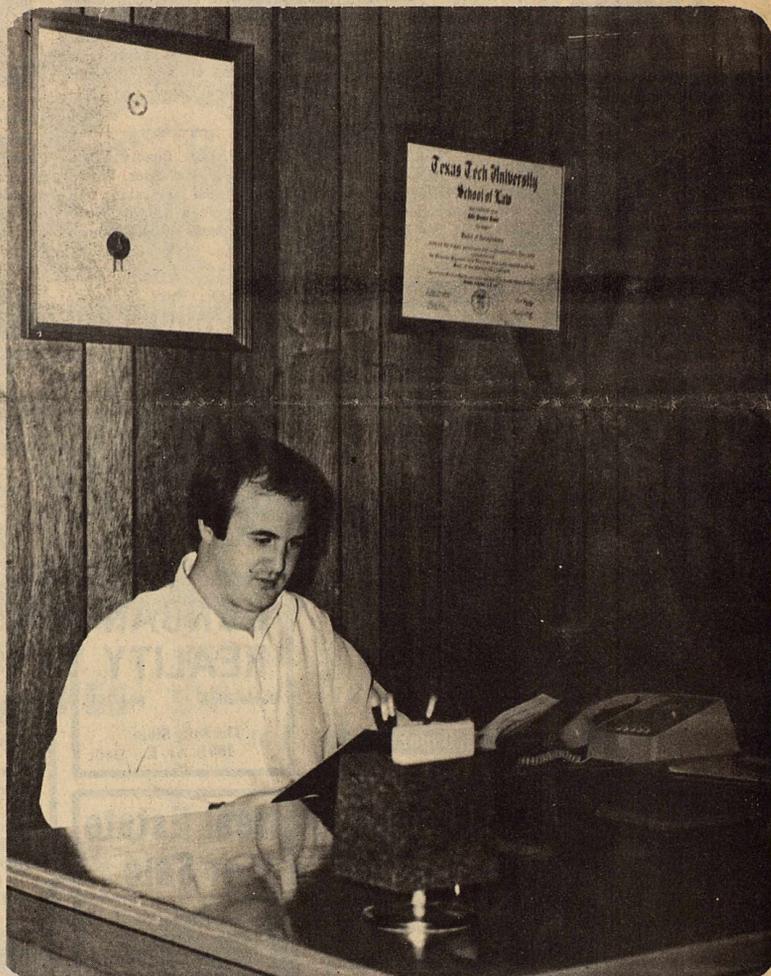

Fouts is a 1971 graduate of Haskell High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fouts of Haskell. He graduated from Texas Tech in 1975 with a B.A. degree and was awarded the Doctor of Jurisprudence from the Texas Tech

School of Law.

He is married to the former Bonnie Lou Adkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Adkins of Haskell. She is a graduate of Haskell High School and a 1976 graduate of Texas Tech with a degree in elementary education. She has taught math in Lubbock Cooper Junior High School until they returned to Haskell.

Livestock Show And Sale Scheduled This Weekend

The Haskell Co. Jr. Livestock show will be held Jan. 11th thru the 13th at the Haskell Co. Fairgrounds in Haskell. Judging will begin Friday morning at 9:00 a.m. starting with judging of Poultry followed by market lambs and barrows. Entries from County 4-H clubs and Future Farmer chapters from Haskell, Rule, Rochester, Weinert and Paint Creek will be represented.

Entries will consist of Beef cattle, both steers and heifers, market barrows, market lambs broilers and rabbits.

The County Activities for the upcoming show were officially kicked off by a Cornbread and Bean Supper held Jan. 9th at the Haskell High School Cafeteria.

Also taking place the morning of Jan. 11th, the Rochester local livestock show will be held in Rochester, at the Vocational Agriculture building at the high school with everyone invited to attend.

It is sincerely wished that all that can attend the Haskell County Livestock Show from throughout the Big Country should please do so. According to county agent Max Stapleton, entries from the county show will be selected to represent the county at the Abilene show and other major Livestock shows and throughout the country.

Additional information about the show may be obtained by contacting Stapleton or any Vocational Agriculture teacher in Haskell County.

SALE

The Premium Sale for the Haskell County Junior Livestock show will be held beginning at 2 p.m. Saturday with James Powell, owner, Haskell Livestock Auction, serving as auctioneer.

This will be the fourth year that the sale is a premium only sale in that all amounts bid will go to the exhibitor and the bidders will not purchase an animal. The amount bid is the amount which the bidder will pay the exhibitor and there will be no floor price to confuse bidders as was done in years past.

The first Junior Livestock Show in Haskell County was held in 1967 and the first sale was held following the 1969 show.

The premium paid in that first sale was $5,382.60. The sale grew and in 1973 reached a high of $19,682.85. The 1974 total was $19,535.81 and the 1975 total was $18,456.00.

The first premium only sale was held in 1976 and the total sale was $9,280.00. The 1977 sale totaled $11,610.00 and the sale last year was $17,340.00.

During the sales from 1969 to 1975 the animals were actually sold and the sale totals include the market value of the animals. For the past three years, the exhibitor retains ownership of the animal and receives the premium to help defray expenses in preparing the animal for show. The exhibitor can then take the animal to another show or sell it.

EXPLORER CHARTER

The Haskell Explorer Post will have their New Member Meeting, tonight, January 11, 7:30 p.m., at the Haskell National Bank Community Building. All young people and parents are urged to attend.

During the 1978 sale, 15 steers, 37 hogs, 25 lambs, 5 pens of broilers and 5 pens of rabbits were sold. The sale committee under the direction of chairman C.A. Thomas, Jr. met Wednesday night to decide how many animals would be presented in the premium sale this year.

All local businessmen and individuals are invited to attend and participate in the sale.

Would you rather keep your topsoil 36 years or 2,000 years? A foolish question? Not according to conservationists with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, who say it is relevant to land management practices in the United States today.

We know that continuously cultivating certain row crops up and down the hill with no cover can cause a loss of an inch of topsoil in less than five years. This may not sound like much, but at this rate eight inches will be lost in 36 years. This is more topsoil than most farms have.

On the other hand, there are proven, practical conservation methods that can be used on this same land producing the same crop, which will extend the life of the eight inches of topsoil indefinitely.

The Universal Soil Loss Equation has been developed so conservationists can have a systematic means of helping landowners decide on management of soil under various conditions.

Plowing up and down the hill, or off the contour in any way, is just about as bad as you can do. By adding terraces and contouring, where applicable to the soil, we can extend the soil's useful life up to 104 years.

But look at the difference crop residue can make. When we use minimum tillage methods which leave about a ton per acre of straw, stems, and leaves on the surface, the expected life of the topsoil is extended to 176 years.

If all known, practical conservation methods are used, the topsoil will last 2,224 years. Naturally, we think that in this length of time, by the use of crop residues and through normal processes, the soil will not be lost at all, but will be usable indefinitely.

Of course, soil erosion is always more damaging than we realize because erosion is just the first step in environmental and social degradation. Every farmer knows that it takes more power and more fertilizer to try to maintain production on an eroded soil. The inevitable result of erosion is lower yields, higher production costs, and higher prices in the marketplace.

We should also remember that the eroded soil doesn't just disappear. It goes someplace. When we see sediment on streets and in bottomlands, muddy water in streams, or dust in the air, we are seeing how erosion hurts all of us no matter where we live or work.

City Receives Sales Tax And Revenue Sharing

The regular meeting of the Haskell City Council was held Tuesday night in the City Hall with Mayor Royce Williams presiding. Council members present were: Joe Cortez, Guy Kennedy, and Franciene Johnson. Others present were City Attorney John Fouts and City Secretary Desmond Dulaney.

Following the call to order by Mayor Williams and the invocation by Franciene Johnson, members of the Council approved the minutes of the December 12 and December 28 meetings.

Mayor Williams reported to the council members the receipt of a sales tax check in the amount of $17,090.98, and revenue sharing funds receipt in the amount of $6,794.00.

City Secretary Desmond Dulaney gave a financial report of the City to members of the Council and reported that the City was in good financial condition.

Council members appointed Geraldine Hise as corporation Court Judge and appointed John Fouts director to the Community Action Program board of directors.

Council members also agreed to advertise for bids for a grazing lease at the Sewer Plant. The bids will be opened at the next meeting of the council, Jan. 23.

A City Ordinance concerning weeds, grass, trash and rubbish on vacant lots was discussed and members of the council agreed to begin enforcing the ordinance this spring. Under the ordinance if the City cleans a vacant lot the owner can be charged for the cleaning.

Council members also discussed a recent water policy and agreed to modify the policy slightly. During a discussion it was pointed out that retired volunteer fire must serve as members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department for a minimum of 20 years before they are considered retired. During the time they receive no pay from the City. Members of the Council agreed to extend the existing policy of three thousand gallons of free water to all retired firemen and their widows in appreciation for their service to the City for at least 20 years as volunteers.

Most city folks still don't know the facts of life... facts of life about farming at least. This lack of knowledge is considered by some to be the most serious educational crisis in the United States. According to a report issued last year by a group of Kansas educators researching political and economic aspects of the issue, the country faces possible economic disaster if this situation is not corrected. Central to the problem is the attitude of many of those away from farming that agricultural products are natural resources... same as oil coal. Little appreciation is shown for the work and costs that go into production of crops or livestock. Put most simply, there's a lack of savvy in the city... they don't understand if the farmer doesn't grow it... nobody's going to eat it. Officials releasing the special report in Kansas urged all agricultural groups to work toward enhancing consumer education.

4-H Food Show Set January 14

4-H'ers will match foods-and-nutrition expertise against each other in the Haskell County 4-H Food Show Sunday, January 14.

About 35 youth will compete in senior and junior divisions, according to Mrs. Joan James, County Extension Agent.

Entries will be on public display at approximately 4:00 p.m. at the Rochester School Cafeteria. Awards will be presented to the participants at this time.

Senior-division entrants are ages 14-19, while junior-division youth are ages 9-13.

This year's theme is "Cooking Good-Looking Great".

For the contest, each 4-H entrant will compete in one of four classes, including main dish, side dish, breads and desserts, or snacks and beverages.

"Because the foods and nutrition program focuses on nutrition, each contestant will have to demonstrate what she or he knows about nutrition, meal planning, food buying and meal service, as well as preparation techniques," Mrs. James explains.

Haskell County 4-H Food Show is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System and the Morrison Milling Company of Denton.

HD Clubs Receive New Name

A new name for "home demonstration" clubs—Extension Homemakers Clubs—went into effect January 1, across Texas, and Haskell County clubs will join the effort.

For their new names, Haskell County clubs will change the words "home demonstration" to "Extension Homemakers."

These include the Josselet Extension Homemakers Club, the LOC Extension Homemakers Club, the Paint Creek Extension Homemakers Club, and the Weinert Extension Homemakers Club.

This change is affecting the statewide network of Extension Homemakers clubs at all organizational levels—including community, county, district and state, according to Mrs. Adell Thomas, Haskell County Extension Homemakers Council chairman.

To create the new name, members of the statewide Texas Home Demonstration Association recently voted to change the state organization's name to Texas Extension Homemakers Association—a 20,678 member organization of community club members from across Texas.

Each club and county council will be considering a local name change to coincide with the state organization name.

Their new name reflects the state association's affiliation with the National Extension Homemakers Council, Mrs. Thomas added.

Inaugurations Have Many Traditions

BY SANDRA MINTZ

One Texas governor refused to wear socks to his inauguration; another wouldn't trim his shoulder-length hair.

One former chief executive had to walk alone to his swearing-in ceremonies and one refused to show up for the inauguration on principle.

When William P. Clements, Jr., places his hand January 16 on the worn Bible used to swear in Texas governors, he will be following one of the few traditions connected with gubernatorial inaugurations. Many of the state's chief executives have contributed some unique approaches to that solemn ceremony.

Jack Maguire, Executive Director of The University of Texas Institute of Texan

Cultures in San Antonio, has been researching Texas governors and their inaugurations for many years. Here are some of the facts he has turned up:

When Texas joined the Union, the first gubernatorial inauguration was held on February 19, 1846 in front of the frontier structure that served as the State Capitol. As the Lone Star flag was lowered and the American flag hoisted, President Anson Jones stepped down with the words, "The Republic of Texas is no more" and James Pickney Henderson was sworn in.

The present Capitol, completed in 1888, could proudly lay claim to being the seventh largest building in the world.

The first swearing-in ceremonies in that structure took place in 1889 with the well-dressed guests filling the galleries and the House of Representatives. However, they were forced to sit on the floor because furniture was not yet installed.

One writer observed that Texas inaugurations have been "bigger'n Dallas, better'n any other and bragged on from here to Alaska." However, Governor Sam Houston's 1861 inaugural didn't begin to live up to this reputation. Houston, opposed to secession from the Union, refused to sign the Confederacy oath of fealty. In protest to Texas' entry into the Civil War, he didn't attend his second term inaugural, so Lieutenant Governor Edward Clark stepped in and Houston returned to his Huntsville home.

The first native son sworn into office was James Stephen Hogg who became governor in 1891. The event was marked with fireworks shot from the Capitol Dome, a torch parade, dances and the only inaugural banquet to be served at the Capitol.

Miriam Amanda "Ma" Ferguson became Texas'—and America's—first woman Governor in 1925. Although reporters dubbed the event "epoch making," they couldn't resist a thorough description of her swearing-in attire, making her the only governor so well described. "Mrs. Ferguson wore a black silk gown trimmed with wide gray fur and gray beads. Her hat was a brown, close fitting creation with a turned down brim and black goose quills. She wore a black coat. Black satin slippers completed the costume."

The inaugurations have had humorous sides. The second governor, George T. Woods, refused to wear socks, not only at the 1847 swearing-in but throughout his term. His successor, Peter Hansbrough Bell, sported shoulder-length hair. But the standard gear of the former Texas Ranger, a Bowie knife and two pistols, stifled any snide comments.

In 1903, Governor-elect S.W.T. Lanham and family were forced to walk unescorted to his ceremonies from his hotel. In the excitement of the occasion, the inaugural committee neglected to make more seemly travel arrangements for the state's new governor.

W. Lee Pappy O'Daniel, the state's 33rd governor, took the oath of office in The University of Texas Memorial Stadium with some 50,000 Texans in attendance. His second inauguration in 1941 was also a tradition-breaker with mass invitations issued through the press and all Texans in attendance were invited to stay for the barbecue on the Executive Mansion grounds. They ate some 19,000 pounds of beef, mutton and buffalo.

Inaugural balls have run the gamut from a Civil War period celebration where corn meal cake was served because of flour shortages to a square dance at Beauford Jester's Ball. John Ireland, the Governor in 1883, waltzed 22 times with his wife at his ball and still made room on his card for several other ladies. Preston Smith's inauguration was marked by country music and retiring Governor Dolph Briscoe insisted on nonalcoholic beverages at both of his inaugurations.

Austin's historic Driskill Hotel saw the inaugural Ball of the popular Governor Lawrence Sullivan Ross in 1887. High society was in attendance but the new Governor's father kept them aware of their frontier roots.

Shapely Prince Ross, a tall, rough Indian fighter with a love for hard living and drink, was a Texas legend in his own right. In the mid-1880's he was known as the ablest Indian fighter in the State. And he played as hard as he lived. Fearing his frontier-brand of fun, a guardian was assigned the old man to keep him sober. But "Old Shap" proved the stronger willed of the two and they wove their way to the Driskill with stops at the bars lining Capitol Avenue. A hotel doorman, not recognizing the Governor's father, refused him entrance without an invitation. Not to be stopped, the crusty old frontiersman bellowed for the man to stand back or "I'll call my boy, Sul, out of there, and we'll wreck the place." He was admitted.

With this kind of variety, Governor Clements will be hard-pressed to raise an historian's eyebrow. But given the Texas penchant for the unusual, he may just find a way.

American Ag News

BY BETTYE McBROOM
The following is taken from the January 2, 1979, AMERICAN AGRICULTURE NEWS.

The Big Swindle Copyright 1978 by Van Stafford. This material is part of what was presented at the Amarillo, TX seminar. It is presented for your information and to provoke thought. It is for every reader to make up his own mind.

The American Tragedy
How can America be the richest nation on the face of the earth and yet be totally bankrupt?

Fools-Fools, what Fools ye be; Ye have eyes to see but cannot see; tis such a pity to see such fool as thee.

Congress, by law and or by force, has compelled We the People to surrender our substance without payment! Two thousand years ago

Jesus Christ kicked the Money Changers out of the Temple. Four days later he was crucified. Today the den of thieves are back. They are like a vicious cancer; they hold America (the body) in their deadly grip. The purpose of this article is to alert the body (we the people) of the imminent danger at hand; if the body does not recognize the danger (the cancer), America (the spirit, the substance) will be devoured.

Today the American People are under economic slavery. The reason I say that is because we have what is called debt credit, meaning we have no money until a debt is created. This is what is called operating on a debt basis. Most people think they are on a cash basis. It is just an illusion—it is impossible, because we have no money. We are compelled by law or force to accept what looks like money, what millions and millions of people think is money, what courts of law declare is lawful money, but what in reality is evidence of debt. What you have heard before is a BIG LIE.

Before you finish reading "The Big Swindle," and if you have one ounce of common sense, you will be able to comprehend the "Swindle."

It is very important for us to remember that we the people are the government. Our congressmen are merely trustees for we the people. We put them in office, we trusted them. In turn, they swore to honor that trust by swearing to uphold the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. It is our job to see that that trust is honored; it is our job to see that the Constitution and the Bill of Rights are obeyed and honored; and if they are not, then congressmen are guilty of breaking their oaths of office. They are guilty of violating the commitment they made to we the people.

The Constitution and the Bill of Rights are the people's inalienable right to stand upon and claim whenever their life, liberty and property is threatened by force or seizure.

The Second Amendment gives the people the right to keep and bear arms. It gives we the people the right to protect our property from illegal seizure.

The XIII Amendment protects the people from slavery or involuntary servitude.

The American Revolutionary War of 1776 and the Civil War of 1864 were fought to abolish slavery. The Revolutionary War was fought against economic slavery, one of Foreign or Equity Jurisdiction, namely England. As everyone knows, the Civil War was fought to abolish chattel slavery. So the principle upon which this country was founded was that all men are created equal. By being equal, we mean no man or group of men can be granted or given a special privilege (or monopoly) to the disadvantage of another, or given special immunity to which the rest of us are subjected to. We wish to remind the readers of "The Big Swindle" to send a copy of it to their Congressmen, and don't forget to remind them that two wars have already been fought over slavery, and if necessary, we will fight another.

For us to understand the meaning of "The Big Swindle," it is important for us to know the meaning or expression of the following words: 1. slavery 2. lawful 3. dollar 4. money 5. equity 6. parity 7. substance.

The reason for defining these words is for the benefit of our Congressmen, for it is they we are trying to teach (reach).

Slavery—being subjected by force to the control of another.

Lawful—Congress makes what is called Statutory Law, or under Color of Law, that is, it is not final. At the time it may seem lawful, but is not necessarily so, because later it may be found to conflict with the Supreme Law, The Constitution and The Bill of Rights.

Dollar—April 2, 1792, "24.72 grains of gold, nine-tenths fine or 412.5 grains of silver, 900 fine is 'One Dollar.'" A Federal Reserve Note is not a Dollar, nor a Dollar a Federal Reserve Note.

Money—is something that will make payment of debt. Money is the opposite of debt.

Equity—Equity Jurisdictions means you are denied your Constitution and Bill of Rights under the private Law Merchant.

Parity—Means at par or equal. Substance for substance, or being PAID in Standard Lawful Money or Standard Purchasing.

Substance—to a farmer it means his wheat, corn, home or land. To a mechanic it means his trade or labor. To a doctor, it means his knowledge, his gifted hands to heal the sick. To America it means Life, Liberty, Pursuit of Happiness.

The Master Plan of Deceit and Fraud was laid out in 1913 by Congress with the passage of the Federal Reserve Act and the so-called Income Tax. Congress established, by law, a special privileged class of people with special privileges or a monopoly, to issue their own private money.

It should be elementary or common knowledge to everyone by now that the so-called Income Tax's sole purpose was to pay for the interest or the use of this private money.

How, or by what right, has Congress the jurisdiction to create a special privileged class of people with the sole monopoly or privilege to extract substance from the people?

This act is unconstitutional for the simple reason the people have the right under the Constitution to issue their own money or credit.

The Federal Reserve Act is in violation of the Monroe Doctrine. The Monroe Doctrine prohibits any Foreign or Equity Jurisdiction within these United States of America.
