Rochester Youth Wins Grain Sorghum Production Project

Regional winners have been named in the 1978 Texas 4-H Grain Sorghum Production Project.

Neal E. Hinders of Happy won top honors and will receive a $500 scholarship for producing the most dryland sorghum in Region 1 of the project.

Other winners, in order of placing, in the dryland sorghum division of Region 1 include John C. Glover, Rochester; Brook E. Burnett, Sweetwater; and Ben L. Wilde, San Angelo. Glover will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond and Burnett and Wilde will each receive a $25 bond.

The contest was conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Texas 4-H Foundation arranged with Louisiana Seed Company, Inc. and Funk's Seed International for sponsorship of the awards. All entrants in Region 1 planted Funk's G-623 GBR grain sorghum.

For contest purposes, Texas was divided into three regions. The High Plains and West Texas were designated Region 1, says H.T. Davison, extension 4-H and youth specialist.

Hinders, son of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Hinders, planted his 10 acres on June 14. He did not fertilize or apply an insecticide, but did use Milogard herbicide. The plot was harvested on Oct. 6, yielding 2,670.2 pounds per acre.

Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Glover, planted 48 acres on June 15 and harvested 2,302.8 pounds per acre on Nov. 3. He applied 60 pounds of anhydrous ammonia as a preplant.

Burnett planted 4.5 acres on May 30 and harvested his crop on Dec. 1. It yielded 2,063 pounds per acre, with no fertilizer, herbicide or insecticide treatments. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Burnett.

Wilde planted 22 acres on April 20 and harvested his crop on Aug. 17 with a yield of 656 pounds per acre. He applied no fertilizer or insecticide but did apply Milogard herbicide. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilde.

These four 4-H members were among 37 across the State who planted and entered a minimum of four acres of sorghum in the production project.

NO INJURIES and only slight damage were reported Monday when this vehicle driven by Nancy Morales slid out of control on icy roads and overturned. The accident occurred about one half mile east of Haskell on U.S. 380. Several other minor accidents were reported during the most recent seige of ice. (Staff Photo)

Haskell ISD To Hold Evaluation

The Haskell Independent School District is beginning a self-evaluation program designed to introduce goals that will be the basis of future educational programs. An evaluation of this type is required by the State Board of Education in order for the Haskell ISD to continue as a State-Accredited School District and continue receiving state funds.

An educational Goals Committee, made up of faculty, parents, students, and school board members, has identified nine major goals for the students of the Haskell School. A questionnaire has been prepared concerning these goals and has been distributed to all high school juniors and seniors, all faculty members, fifty recent graduates, and three hundred citizens both with and without children in school.

The results of these questionnaires will form the basis to determine the educational priorities of the Haskell ISD. School Superintendent, Kenneth Sams, encourages those who receive one of the questionnaires to please return it, as the greater the number returned, the more accurate the results will be.

Church Of Christ Sets Milestone

The local congregation of the Church of Christ reaches an important milestone Sunday, February 11. On this day five years ago, the bus ministry was begun by the members of the congregation. The purpose of this ministry is to make contact with children who would not otherwise be in Bible School and worship. The congregation operates four buses at the present time, one of which is used exclusively for work with the elderly and shut-in. As to the success of the program, Larry Suttle, minister, stated, "After five years the ministry is still going strong. We believe that if Jesus lived on the earth today, he would be involved in such a program in view of his tremendous love for children." Pat Hale is coordinator for the bus ministry of the Haskell Church of Christ. He coordinates the efforts of approximately 40 members of the local congregation who work directly with the bus ministry as drivers, secretaries, activity directors, etc. "This does not count the many members who serve as teachers or who sit with the children during worship or those who participate in the Children's Bible Hour, a special period of Bible study conducted on Sunday evenings for the bus children," said Suttle. "Special recognition goes to Gaston Hattox," continued the minister, "for it was the result of his dream and largely under his leadership that the bus ministry was begun." The members of the Haskell Church of Christ look forward with great anticipation as they begin their sixth year sharing the good news of Christ through the bus ministry.

Congressional Comment by Charles Stenholm

The ethical conduct of our public officials has always been an issue of concern to the people whom they serve and rightfully so. An eighteenth century philosopher stated the issue well when he said that those who treat politics and ethics apart will never understand either one. Recent political scandals have proved this maxim true. Watergate, Koreagate, and recently the troubles of several of my colleagues, give evidence to the fact that it is not in the institutional interest of Congress for our legislators to make our laws and then, at the same time, violate them. Political corruption degrades the public perception of Congress and contributes greatly to government inefficiency and waste.

The issue of remaining in a position of power in the House of Representatives, while at the same time being implicated in unethical or illegal practices, has been a key item in the House Democratic Caucus, which has been meeting recently. The very fact that we are required to "legislate" ethics is a sad commentary, and particularly in a body such as the Congress, where it should be expected that our elected officials would maintain the highest possible integrity. While in the Caucus I have consistently supported proposed rules changes, within Constitutional limits, which would prohibit those convicted of crimes from serving in positions of leadership in the House. Surely we must face certain inherent rights such as a person being presumed innocent until proved guilty. Ultimately this is what the voters must decide for they are the arbiters of the public morality and must determine what they are willing to tolerate. But if the public decides they want a representative who has been convicted in a court of law or in the Congress of illegal conduct, the Congress must look after the national interest and deny a leadership position within the House to those who have breached the public trust.

It should be the aim of the political process to obtain leaders who work for the common good of society and take the necessary precautions to make sure the public trust is not violated. The selection of our leaders is the responsibility of the voters. The responsibility of the legislator is to work for laws that will maintain the integrity of the institution in which he serves and to uphold the public trust. History has taught us that respect must be earned and only through wise leadership and honest administration can this be accomplished. As your representative I accept this trust that has been placed in me and will work to enforce the rules of ethical practices in the Congress.

Tips To Prevent Burglary Of Homes

A burglary ring that looted rural areas of Oklahoma and surrounding states in the last six months was broken recently with the arrest of its confessed leader and three other suspects, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association announced this week.

TSCRA Secretary-General Manager Don C. King of Fort Worth reported that the arrest of Ralph (Cotton) Thompson, 40, and his subsequent confession may clear more than 300 saddle thefts and more than 1,000 burglary cases. No face value has been placed on the stolen property, but estimates run to many thousands of dollars.

Thompson, who completed six years for armed robbery at Oklahoma State Penitentiary, McAlester, on June 28, 1978, was arrested following a high-speed chase involving numerous law enforcement agencies in South Central Oklahoma Nov. 7. He was charged with burglary and was placed in the Ardmore, Okla. jail pending trial. Arresting officers were Carter County, Okla. Sheriff's Department Deputies Bill Noland and Roger Atnip.

TSCRA Field Inspectors Joe Ramer of Sulphur, Okla., Raymond Russell of Pawhuska, Okla. and TSCRA Special Assistant Cullen Robinson of Fort Worth interrogated Thompson Nov. 10 about saddle theft cases they had under investigation in Oklahoma and Texas. The Oklahoma native agreed to tell them how he pulled so many thefts in such a short time.

It was also learned that Thompson, who has spent 18 years of his life in Texas, Oklahoma and Arizona prisons, masterminded a burglary ring for two years while he was in the McAlester prison.

The burglary crew specialized in stealing guns, saddles, televisions, stereophonic equipment, jewelry and money, but Thompson admitted he had stolen more than 30 head of cattle since his prison release in June.

"Ralph is not the 'run-of-the-mill' thief," Ramer said. "He would break in and steal only the best items or would leave them and come back later."

The 5-foot, 11-inch, 250-pound burglar describes himself as a "small-time thief... not even a good thief, just lucky." He estimated that he and his crew pulled between three and 17 burglaries a day and shipped a furniture truck full of stolen goods out-of-state every week to week and a half. At 10 cents on the dollar, a loaded van would bring him about $5,000, he said. Chances for recovery of most of the property is slim, Ramer said, because most of it went out of state.

The bearded, long-haired Thompson, who sports a teardrop tattoo beneath his left eye, struck rural communities, farm and ranch houses and resort summer homes in broad daylight for several reasons. First and most obvious were the remoteness and lack of traffic in the area. And, if challenged by someone, he said it was easier to explain one's presence during daylight hours.

"These days, too, most people have to work real hard to make ends meet, so there's usually no one at home during the day," Thompson said. "People don't know their neighbor like they used to and people today are afraid to get involved when they see something wrong for fear of lawsuits."

At the time of his arrest, Thompson had four to five vehicles working an area and could clean out what he wanted in a 60-mile radius in less than 10 days. His method of operation was to move into a rural area and monitor the movement of people and vehicles for two or three days. Meanwhile, he and the others would seek out old barns and vacant houses in which to hide the stolen goods, he said. When enough items were gathered for a load, he arranged through his connections for a furniture van to pick it up.

"Most people don't look for a thief to be using a furniture truck," he said.

In an exclusive interview with The Cattleman magazine, official TSCRA publication, Thompson told farmers, ranchers and other rural residents how they could protect themselves against burglars:

"Your best insurance, what I would use, is an alarm system hooked up to windows and doors that make a lot of racket."

"If you have to leave, turn the stereo on, and I suggest lots of light, inside and out."

"If a stranger knocks on your door, be suspicious. He may be a burglar checking to see if you are home."

"Get involved with your neighbors. Have them check on your house, when you are gone."

"Have someone watch your mailbox. And be sure the newspaper gets picked up."

"See that the lawn is mowed regularly."

"Leave the air conditioner on in the summer. That was one of the first things I checked. No one is going to stay in a house during the summer with the air conditioner off."

"Get yourself a dog," Thompson admits that the last suggestion does not always work. In his case, when he approached a house with a vicious dog or dogs, he turned out his own dog—a pit bull trained to kill other dogs.

Thompson, who may face long jail terms for the latest stealing spree, agreed to tell his story so that young people who might think a life of stealing was exciting or smart would reconsider. He condemned some efforts by the entertainment industry to glamorize the burglar's life-style.

"You got three choices (in life). You can work outside for a living or work inside for nothing or shoot it out with the police, (which) by the law averages kills you," he said.

TSCRA officials said the investigation has spread to several states and more arrests in the bizarre cases are expected.

American Ag News

BY BETTYE McBROOM

Well folks, the national news media is up to their old tricks again about telling the truth where the activities of the AAM are concerned. Information about the happenings at the toll gates in Petersburg, VA, came to me by Cliff Dunnam as quoted: "Some of the boys were trying to pay for the toll fair of 20c with various bills ranging from $10 to $100, but I was only trying to give a check for my 20c and they would not take my check. After the policeman came over (at the request of the toll gate person) and his stating that they could not accept my check, and my telling him okay to his statement that he would have to arrest me, he backed down and I paid my 20c in change and went on through the toll gate. After all, I could not help it if the man in front of me motioned to me to move over into another lane, and yes I knew we were to use only one gate of the four, but when someone in front of you seems to be having trouble, you move around them. It also seems that others were thinking the same and all four gates were filled immediately, blocking other traffic. As to owing any money to the Virginia toll gates, the gates were opened to us right after I went through and they were also open to us at the next toll gates. That was Virginia's choosing. After searching THE WASHINGTON POST by several of us in AAM on Saturday morning after the paper told their story, we found the person responsible for the small untruth that went out over the wires. He admitted that he had not told it exactly as it was and said he would do better in the Sunday paper. We told him we would be back to see him if he did not do better. Would you believe he did better in the Sunday edition?

As far as the incident that happened Monday morning with the farmer in the tractor in the intersection, Mac (my husband) who is there, told me that the police blocked the tractor in the front and there were tractors behind the man. The police ordered him to turn around and there was no place for him to go so the police broke the window out of the tractor, threw a tear gas canister into the cab, hitting the farmer. On Monday night the farmer was in critical condition in a hospital. Mac said the same thing happened to this farmer as happened to the farmers at McAllen. The farmers in Washington, D.C. feel their constitutional rights are being violated and they should be allowed to go everywhere other lobbying groups have been allowed to go when protesting. The police said Monday night they would release the farmers from the compound in the mall if they would travel in designated areas. Have they ever designated areas for other protestors?

There are reported to be 5,000 police on duty and on stand by including several bus loads from New York, 50,000 farmers and 1,700 vehicles. One thing different from last year was the fact that the USDA building was left open for the farmers and they were told they could spend the night there if they wanted to. Some farmers took the offer up.

Garbage trucks, dump trucks, and police cars were blocking the mall end near the Capitol. After numerous vehicles were allowed to enter the mall roads, then a barricade was put up at the end they entered preventing their leaving. Guess where Juanita and Cliff Dunnam were? Yes, you guessed. They were among the ones trapped in the mall compound.

Why do we farmers have to beg so hard for our rights? Please join me in prayer that no more farmers will be hurt or lose their lives fighting so hard for a cause they truly believe in.

Mail Service

Where It's Been--Where It's Going

When the famed Pony Express went into service back in 1860, it took ten days for a letter to travel the 1,966 miles from St. Joseph, Missouri, to Sacramento, California. Today, a one-page letter can span the entire continent in 20 seconds.

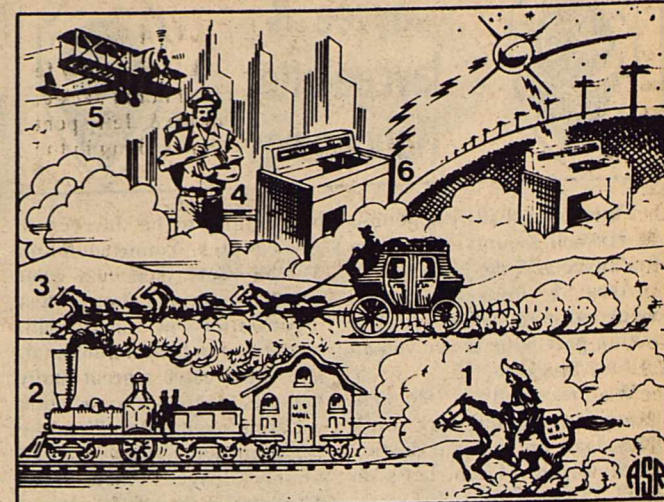

One of the common early routes for sending mail from the East to the West Coast was by steamship via Panama. A letter took from three to four weeks to reach its destination.

The Pony Express was privately owned and operated only 16 months before the completion of the transcontinental telegraph made the service obsolete. The colorful horse and rider mail system comprised 190 stations, 420 horses, 400 station men and 80 riders.

The postage rate for Pony Express service was one dollar for each half-ounce letter, and riders carried approximately 75 pieces of mail on each trip. (Not unlike other segments of postal service, before and after, the Pony Express lost money—more than $200,000 in 16 months.)

While electronic mail, itself, is relatively new, messages have been sent by electricity ever since the telegraph was invented.

Today, facsimile—or "fax"—machines are used to transmit electronic mail across continents as easily as across cities and even relay messages via satellite. The fax system is widely used in business because it speeds the flow of vital information and material is sent and received "as is," without the need for retyping. Machines produce exact detailed copies of originals.

Drawing portrays a panorama of people and events that have played a key role in the history of mail service in America and the technology which is helping shape its future. Clockwise from lower right: (1) a Pony Express rider speeds mail en route from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento, Ca.; (2) an early mail train; (3) an overland stagecoach carries mail; (4) the familiar mailman makes his rounds; (5) the airplane brings "Air Mail"; (6) "electronic mail" becomes a reality as facsimile machines send exact copies of messages and documents over ordinary telephone lines and via satellite. Experts indicate large quantities of information may be sent this way by 1985.

Most fax machines need four or six minutes to send a typewritten page. However, a new high-speed fax transceiver developed by 3M researchers in St. Paul can transmit the same page in 20 seconds. The system—the Express 9600—uses a micro-computer that compresses visual images into electrical signals five times faster than ordinary facsimile equipment, and transmits them over telephone lines.

The equipment can transmit an incredible 9,600 "bits" per second and is designed to meet proposed standards for European transceivers.

The growth of electronic mail has been so rapid that experts estimate by 1985 as much as one-third of traditional business mail could be eliminated and replaced with fax messages or other systems flashing messages on screens.

However, the average American family receives only about six pieces of first class mail a week, so it's unlikely home use of electronic systems will become popular until other services—news-papers, video shopping, etc.—can be implemented.

But, if electronic mail for the home sounds farfetched, would you believe a man on the moon?

Cong. Stenholm Appointed To Subcommittees

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has been appointed to the following Subcommittees of the Agriculture Committee: Livestock and Grains; Cotton; Oilseeds and Rice; and Dairy and Poultry. The Congressman sought membership on these Subcommittees as he feels these assignments will be particularly important to his representation of the diverse interests of the 17th District of Texas.

The Congressman noted that the 17th District includes twelve of the top seventy cotton-producing counties of Texas, three of the top five peanut counties, two of the leading milk-producing counties, in addition to the extensive livestock and grain production in all counties throughout the District.

Mr. Stenholm went on to say "the 17th District of Texas is one of only twenty four agricultural districts in the Congress today. I feel most fortunate to have this opportunity to work on the problems in agriculture and to speak out on the needs of not only the farmers and ranchers but the entire economy of the 17th District of Texas."

Keep Your Feathered Friends At Home

To speed the process up a bit in spring and keep the birds in your backyard all year, help nature out a bit. Put out some food for the birds and you'll reap the benefits many time over.

Your feathered friends are not fussy. Fresh bird seed with a healthy variety of offerings such as milo, peanut hearts, sunflower seeds can be purchased in a feed store or grocery and, of course, stale bread crumbs or cookies are a real treat right from your kitchen. There are certain foods more readily preferred by certain birds.

Here are a few ideas when catering to the bird gourmet. Woodpeckers and Jays enjoy cracked nuts, corn and sunflower seeds. Suet is enjoyed by most of our feeder friends. It can be obtained from a butcher, placed between chicken wire and hung from a branch (or obtained from a feed store prepared and ready to hang). If you would like to watch the antics of the chickadees, titmice and nuthatches, shelled peanuts, sunflower seeds, suet and bread crumbs are a delicacy. An occasional winter resident might be a mockingbird, catbird, waxwing, or robin.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers Hamilton of Munday announce the birth of a son, Marcus Dwayne Hamilton, born in the Haskell Memorial Hospital on February 4, 1979, weighing 7 lbs. 7 ozs.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Don Sursa of Guthrie announce the birth of a son, Casey Don Sursa, born in the Haskell Memorial Hospital on February 2, 1979, weighing 6 lbs. 1 oz.

Dennis and Iris Coddington are the parents of a baby girl, Shelly Kay, born at Dvess AFB, Abilene. She weighed 6 lbs. 3 ozs. and was 19 inches long. Shelly Kay was born at the same hospital her Dad was almost 21 years ago.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Adams of Jackson, Tenn. and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Coddington of Abilene. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Scheets of Haskell, Mrs. Evelyn Coddington of Phoenix, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Lenord Harmons of Nimmons, Arkansas and Mr. and Mrs. John Adams of Cross Plains.

They would relish some cut apples, oranges, raisins and currants. Don't forget the beautiful cardinal, grosbeak and blue jay searching for a morsel of corn, peanut or sunflower seeds. Usually the search is on the ground so be sure to clear the snow away from a small area and scatter seeds there for them.

For a real treat you can make your own bird cakes. Add one part peanut butter, two parts birdseed, and five parts cornmeal to each part melted beef suet or lard. Spoon into paper muffin cups and cool in refrigerator. When hardened, remove the cakes and serve whole in mesh bags or tree cavities, or crumble them into a tray or atop a tree stump.

One of the most common birds seen at feeders is the starling who can be a real glutton and scare away the smaller birds. He can be controlled by covering your feeder with a small-meshed wire just large enough for smaller birds to slip in and out. Let the starling eat the leftovers.

Don't forget, once you begin to feed the birds in winter (starting Nov. and end about May), they'll depend on you. It is as if you have adopted a family that needs you to feed them everyday.

Seymour Banquet Set

The 56th annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be held in Seymour on Saturday, February 10, 1979. The banquet will be held at the High School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

This year's guest speaker will be Mr. Don Newbury, Director of Communications for Tarrant County Junior College District. Mr. Newbury is a "centurian" speaker who injects all of his talks with humor while getting across his ideas on subjects that touch all of us in our daily lives. Mr. Newbury has traveled hundreds of thousands of miles on the speaking circuit, averaging 100 plus speeches annually for more than 15 years.

George Dolan, daily front page columnist in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram for 25 years, knows the many sides of Don Newbury. He writes: "Newbury is a master of humor, timing, inspiration... and propriety. He is determined to find healthy humor in at least every other link in the chain of humor events. He refuses to take himself seriously for more than a few minutes at a time. No matter how hilarious his talks, he leaves his audiences remarkably enriched—a rare and important talent."

Don't miss this 56th annual Seymour Chamber of Commerce Banquet, Saturday, February 10, 1979, at the Seymour High School Cafeteria, at 7:30 p.m. Banquet catered by Cracker Barrel Caterers of Vernon.

The heat pump

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

A good bargain!

A heating system that's more than 200% efficient may seem like something out of the future. But it isn't. It's yours today, with the electric heat pump. Because when correctly installed in a properly insulated home, the heat pump produces two units of heat for each single unit of electricity it uses. The heat pump operates by using the future's most abundant energy source, solar energy. It transfers heat that's always present in sun-warmed outside air into your home during the winter. And reverses the process, pumping heat outdoors during the summer.

GED Test Scheduled Feb. 10

The General Educational Development Tests will be given in the official testing center, the Haskell Junior High School Library, on Saturday, Feb. 10, 1979, beginning at 9:00 a.m. The fee for the battery of five tests is $20.00. An applicant is advised to bring his Social Security Number and driver's license as proper identification.

The test has five parts: Correctness and Effectiveness of Expression, Interpretation of Reading Materials in the Natural Sciences, Interpretation of Literary Materials, and General Mathematics Ability. The test questions are multiple choice. There is no time limitation but most examinees take approximately eight hours to complete the test battery.

Persons eligible for testing must:
-be a resident of Texas or a member of the Armed Forces stationed in Texas.
-be at least 17 years of age and officially withdrawn from school for one calendar year. Applicants who have attained their 17th birthday and will enter the Armed Forces may test immediately after withdrawing from school.

To receive a certificate of high school equivalency, the examinee must:
-complete the examination with a minimum standard score of 40 on each of the five tests OR an average standard score of 45 on all five tests.
-have attained at least their 17th birthday prior to date of testing and be out of school for one calendar year.

The GED Program provides a means for determining the educational level of adults who have not completed a formal high school education. A certificate of high school equivalency may be issued to adults who successfully complete the GED examination, verifying that the holder has demonstrated a level of competence on the examination which is equivalent to that of a high school senior.

Chicken Cooking Contest Set

Do you have a favorite chicken recipe? If so, you should enter it in the National Chicken Cooking Contest. The contest is open to all ages. First prize is an award of $10,000.00 cash. Cash prizes will also be given for second through fifth places, among other awards to be presented to contestants.

To enter the contest, mail a recipe for a broiler-fryer chicken (2 to 3 1/2 pounds) by April 1, 1979, to National Chicken Cooking Contest, P.O. Box 28158, Central Station, Washington, D.C. 20005. Write your name, address, and phone number on each recipe. You may send in as many recipes as you like in the same envelope, but each recipe must be on a separate sheet of paper. No official entry form is required. All eligible recipes are judged equally on simplicity, appeal, taste and appearance. One finalist from each state will cook in the national cook-off. It will be held July 25, 1979, in Charleston, South Carolina. Expenses will be paid for the Texas finalist.

The Texas Cook-off will be in Austin, May of 1979. This state cook-off will determine the one best recipe that will represent Texas in the national cook-off. The Contest is sponsored by the National Broiler Council.

For more details concerning the cook-off, contact County Extension Agent, Joan James, at 864-2546 or P.O. Box 693, Haskell.

A sudden or rapidly developing hearing loss or acute or chronic dizziness are signs that medical attention should be sought as soon as possible warns the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. Such symptoms can indicate serious medical problems the crusade officials add.

Snowmobiles, which are able to provide hours of winter sports recreation, also can be excessively noisy. For this reason the Beltone Crusade for hearing conservation urges snowmobile enthusiasts to include ear plugs in their list of standard safety gear.

A VERY SPECIAL THANK YOU

We would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to all the wonderful people who were praying for Marty and for us. We want to thank all the churches who started prayer chains for Marty and to those churches who conducted special services in his behalf. We know that people were truly concerned and that touches us very deeply. We truly can not express in words how much it helped us to know that so many wonderful prayers were being offered in Marty's behalf. And God answered those prayers! He gave Marty back to us. He truly gave us a miracle!

We know that each of you will agree when we say-That all the praise and honor for this truly belongs to the Lord. For in Him all things are possible.

High school students from the Haskell area are invited to attend a Student Weekend at McMurry College Friday and Saturday, Feb. 9 and 10 or March 2 and 3. A full schedule of events is set for each of the two-day weekends, to give Big Country high school juniors and seniors a chance to become acquainted with the McMurry campus, academic programs and extra-curricular activities. Hosted by the McMurry College admissions department, the Student Weekends will feature a performance by Phoenix, an on-campus pop singing group; a McMurry Gong Show, a comical display of campus talent; and a dance in the McMurry Social Hall.

On Saturday, visiting students will have the chance to tour the campus and talk with McMurry professors from all the departments. Additionally, on Saturday, Feb. 10, visitors will be special guests at a basketball game between the McMurry Indians and Trinity University; and on Saturday, March 3, they will be invited to attend the McMurry drama production "Thieves Carnival." Visitors need to bring a bed roll and will be housed in one of the dormitories along with McMurry students. Meals will be provided on Friday evening, Saturday morning and Saturday noon. The only expense to visitors will be cost of transportation to and from McMurry and the Saturday evening meal if they choose to eat in McMurry's cafeteria. Those high school students interested in joining the fun at a McMurry Student Weekend should contact David Dillman, director of admissions, Box 275, McMurry Station, Abilene, Texas 79605.

NO MATTER HOW YOUNG YOU MAY BE, IT'S NOT TOO SOON TO PLAN Your Future... Enrich It - With An IRA Account AT THE FRIENDLY HASKELL NATIONAL BANK

The I.R.A. (Individual Retirement Account) is an important part of your planning for the future (or should be) if you are not covered by a company retirement program where you work. There are many advantages to this type of plan, now offered at Haskell National. Here are a few:

1. You can deposit $1,500 or 15 percent of your annual income (whichever is lower) in your I.R.A. each year.
2. The money you deposit in your I.R.A. is tax-deductible. It's taxed only when you draw it out, and by then you will probably be in a lower tax bracket.
3. You can begin to withdraw funds from your I.R.A. if needed when you are 59 1/2—and you must begin to withdraw them by age 70 1/2.
4. One of the nicest things about your I.R.A. is the way it will grow...if you put $1,500 per year, you will have $9,571.60 after five years, $23,794.50 after 10 years, and in 20 years, your balance will be a whopping $76,333.70. If you're 40 or younger, you can save 30 years in an I.R.A. and reach $192,342.33! (Based on our current rate of 8% compounded quarterly).

The Younger You Are, The More You Can Accumulate!

NOTICE!
It's Not Too Late To Start Your I.R.A. Account NOW, And Get Full Tax Credit (Maximum of $1,500 Deduction) ON YOUR 1978 TAX RETURN!
The I.R.A. Account must be opened prior to April 16 or the filing of your 1978 income tax return, to qualify for tax deduction in 1978. ACT NOW—IT'S IMPORTANT!

Cotton Classing

Cotton prices dropped to the lowest level of the season as buyers offered from 650 to 700 points above CCC loan values for mixed quality lots of cotton. Some movement into the loan has begun in anticipation of prices going up in the near future.

Grades 51 and 42 each accounted for 24 percent of the cotton classed this week. Grade 52 was 21 percent and grade 41 was 13 percent. About half of the cotton classed was reduced in grade because of bark or grass. Staple 32 continued as the predominant fiber length at 66 percent. Staple 33 accounted for 23 percent and staple 31 was 11 percent. Micronaire readings, in the base range of 35 to 49, accounted for 89 percent of the cotton tested, and 10 percent miked lower than 35.

About 1400 samples were classed during the week ending February 2, bringing the season total to 56,900.

Texas sales during the month amounted to $23,849,667 while sales for the first twelve months of 1978 totaled $304,168,293 with 99% of the yearly sales goal of 306.6 million achieved.

agri-facts

Pat Hale

Help may be on the way for lowering the costs of feeding cattle. Initial research on a new compound called monensin has had positive results at several agricultural colleges and test stations. Classified as an antibiotic, the chemical has produced an increase in feed efficiency as high as 13 percent. Average improvement in tests at the University of Nebraska was 11 percent. On that basis a dollar and cents evaluation means a savings of about twenty dollars a head in the average feeding cost for feedlot beef. Food and Drug Administration officials are expected to react more favorably toward the new compound than toward the still controversial DES since monensin acts only in the rumen of the animal and reportedly leaves no residues in tissue. Researchers say the compound enhances gain efficiency when used in amounts small enough to be comparable to adding one pint of 5,000 gallons of water.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH
from DOYLE HIGH

Americans consume 10 to 20 times more salt than they need, which may result in excess weight despite strict dieting. Three separate studies have all shown that too much salt causes both overweight and high blood pressure. The sodium in salt acts to retain water in the body. The average American diet contains all the salt a normal person requires, so put away the salt shaker and watch the excess pounds flow off.
