

BULL RIDING is always a favorite of rodeo fans and the show produced last week by Runt Sloan of Newcastle was no exception. The bulls won the overall contest handsily with several more cowboys biting the dust than completing rides. Rodeo clown Bob McQuery of Newcastle received a broken leg during the performance Friday night when a bull stepped on him and one cowboy was injured Saturday night in the bareback riding.

Summer Reading Program Scheduled To Begin June 1

The early Texas Summer Reading Club began approximately twenty years ago as part of the State Library's Rural Library Service. Children and teenagers were invited to enroll for the "Texas Reading Round Up" at one of the State Library Bookmobiles or at a participating public library. The purpose of the club was to promote the further extension of library services in every Texas city and community.

In the first years, only a few thousand children received certificates. The number of children and libraries has greatly increased over the two decades. It is estimated that 200,000 Texas children will register for the 1979 "In Search of Texas Treasures" program; approximately 140,000 will receive certificates. Originally begun as a service for small community libraries, participating libraries now include area libraries and major resource centers.

The Summer Reading Club should encourage children to come to the library and become familiar with its resources. Traditionally, most libraries have required a child to read a certain number of books before receiving a certificate. The exciting reading log has space for eleven book titles so the Haskell County Library will set that number as being required. However, many children far exceed that number every summer.

This year's theme "In Search of Texas Treasures" is based on treasure chests of gold doubloons. The library will have mobiles and posters in gold and brown with "treasures". The Reading Log will be signed by the child and left in the library during the summer. As books are read and brought back, the titles will be entered in the log. At the end of the program in late August, the reading log together with a certificate, will be presented to all who complete logs. Any unable to complete a log may still receive his log; as it has many attractive features. A treasure map of Texas, a Texas Treasures Word Game and a "Trail Maze" game are part of the log.

Mrs. Elsie McGee, librarian at the Haskell County Library, invites all children to come into the Library from June 1 on, sign your log, and let's read.

Fire Station Donations Now Over $28,000.00

Pledges and donations to the building fund of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department are over $28,000.00 and an estimated $13,000.00 in flood funds will be paid this week.

The flood funds will be received for removing flood debris from Spring Branch Creek after the August 3 and 4 floods. The money is Federal Disaster funds which were allocated to restore the creek to the condition before the flood.

Final cleanup of the future site of the station location should be completed this week and preparation for the foundation should begin immediately. With the cooperation of the weatherman, the foundation should be completed before the arrival of the building in about a month.

Erection of the building should be completed within three weeks and Department members are hopeful that the new station will be ready to house the fire trucks by mid-August.

Work on the interior of the station will begin as soon as erection is completed and if ample donations are received for supplies, the entire station should be completed before the end of the year.

Interior work will include offices, training rooms, rest rooms, storage and shelves and cabinets in the maintenance area.

Department members are currently in the process of completing floor plans for the interior of the building and they will be reproduced in the Free Press when they are available.

All persons who have made pledges to the building fund are requested to bring the funds to the station or give them to any teller at Haskell National Bank within the next three weeks.

In addition to pledges and donations, on hand, funds are needed at the present to purchase plumbing fixtures and electrical supplies which will be installed during the erection of the building. The only other fixed expense in making the building usable will be insulation and heating units. The insulation will be installed when erection of the building is completed and heating units will be required before winter to prevent tanks and pumps on the trucks from freezing.

Included in donations this week is $1,100.00 received for flood work done in the city park and $75.00 in donations collected during the Rodeo Parade last Thursday. Donations and pledges received during the past week include:

Band Members To Compete At State

Eighteen members of the Haskell High School Indian Band will compete in the State UIL Solo and Ensemble contest this Saturday in Austin.

To qualify to compete at state, band members must receive a superior rating on a Class I Solo or Ensemble at Regional.

The regional meet was held in Abilene February 17.

The eighteen local band members will compete in a total of twelve ensembles and solos. This total is the most ever from Haskell to qualify for the state meet.

Showers Fill Miller Creek, Halt Harvest

Recent scattered showers throughout the area have filled Miller Creek Lake almost to capacity according to Pete Beecher, Manager of North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority.

Beecher said Tuesday that the lake was not going over the service spillway but was to within less than two inches of the spillway level.

Area rains have been scattered throughout the area but have provided running water for many area stock tanks and much needed moisture for farmers preparing for cotton planting.

The recent showers have also temporarily halted farming operations and when ground begins to dry there will be a rush to plant cotton and harvest what promises to be a bumper wheat crop.

Several local farmers have predicted that in portions of the county some wheat may produce up to 50 bushels per acre.

DWI Task Force Stops Drunk Drivers

Texas Department of Public Safety officers from Haskell participated in a DWI Task Force over the Memorial Day weekend.

DPS Sgt. Frank Jircik of Haskell coordinated the project which was held in Young County Friday and Saturday nights.

Purpose of the project was to place road blocks in strategic positions around Graham and stop all cars traveling the highways. In addition to the roadblocks, roving patrols stopped vehicles on county roads between the roadblocks.

During the two night project approximately 25 persons were arrested for Driving While Intoxicated along with several other violations for possession of Marijuana, driving with license suspended and no drivers license and others.

According to Sgt. Jircik the project was conducted to reduce the number of DWI drivers.

Participating in the project were DPS Troopers from Haskell, Throckmorton, Baylor, Young Counties and others. Assisting from Haskell were Sgt. Jircik, and Troopers James Davis and Don Collins.

RODEO PARADE...One of the best rodeo parades in recent years was witnessed last Thursday in Haskell to officially open the annual Jaycees Rice Springs Rodeo. Included in the parade were several riding clubs, bands, and floats. Members of the Haskell County Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes have expressed their thanks to all persons who helped make all activities of Rodeo Week a success. (Staff Photo)

Three County 4-Hers To Compete At State

Three Haskell County 4-H'ers will be participating in state contests this next week. Kay Campbell and Sonja Tidrow will be competing for top state honors in the State 4-H Food Show on Tuesday, June 5, on the Texas A&M Campus.

Miss Campbell is a 1979 graduate of Haskell High School, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duward Campbell. The dish she will be preparing is "Vancouver Island Venison". She will be competing in the Main Dish Class.

Miss Tidrow is a senior at Haskell High, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Tidrow. Her entry will be "Zucchini Bread", and she will compete in the Breads and Desserts Class.

Both 4-H'ers earned the right to compete at state level when they became top scoring individuals of their entry classes in the senior division at district competition last January.

The theme for this year's contest is "Cooking Good - Looking Great". According to Mrs. Joan James, County Extension Agent, educational goals of the 4-H foods and nutrition program include helping 4-H members understand how science, nutrition, and food preparation work together. Also they learn signs of good health, food needs, food buying, preparation and serving. 4-H Food shows are sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, and the Morrison Milling Company of Denton.

Also participating in state contests will be Mikeana Wilcox, a sophomore at Rule High School, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wilcox. Miss Wilcox will be participating in the State 4-H Public Speaking Contest with a speech on "Solar Energy". She won the right to compete at state at the district contests held earlier in May. Her contest will take place on Wednesday, June 6, and will also be held on the Texas A&M Campus.

Museum To House Writings Of Former Resident

A check from the Progressive Farmer for the best letter written on how to use the magazine in school was "like sticking a match to kerosene" for Vida Gordon.

She kept on writing, principally as a columnist with her "Country Comments" for the Petersburg Journal until Lance Suits, editor, died and for Paul Zimmermann's Plainview Tribune 32 years until he quit publishing his paper.

Such value has been set on her "Country Comments" that the Vida Gordon Collection of her columns and feature stories is being set up in Llano Estacado Museum. Persons who did not have the opportunity to read her writings or those who would like to re-read them soon will be able to do so.

MRS. GORDON of 1410 Holiday Drive sold feature stories to farm journals such as The Farmer-Stockman, including one on feeding hired hands. She felt she had enough experience on the subject to qualify writing about it—she had cooked lunch and sometimes other meals for from one to 12 hired hands daily for 20 years.

"If I ever get to heaven's gate and St. Peter asks what I did to deserve to get in, I'll tell him I fed hired hands, and he will let me in," commented live-wire Mrs. Gordon.

She sold a true joke one time for $25 to True magazine and contributed to West Texas Today. Mrs. Gordon also wrote a child's story about a character named Skippy and his friends once a month for four years for Crop and Stock.

SHE AND HER husband, Clyde, a cowboy-farmer-stockman, lived at Haskell 17 years after their marriage June 20, 1921 and then moved to Hale County in 1938. For eight and one-half years they farmed between Petersburg and Abernathy on a two-section, irrigated farm in the Lakeview Community.

"When we moved there Mr. Suits asked me to send in the news from 'Lakeview,'" explained Mrs. Gordon. "I told him I would if he would let me put what I wanted in the column. He agreed, but after I wrote a few, he told me to quit writing news and just stick to my comments. That was how I started doing 'Country Comments.'"

"I always enjoyed writing the column," Mrs. Gordon said. "Strangers would walk up to me and say 'I know you but you don't know me.' I wish I had saved all my fan letters."

THE GORDONS moved to Happy Union in 1946. After his death in December 1965, Mrs. Gordon moved to Plainview. Their son, Clyde Gordon Jr. lives in Lubbock. His wife, whom Mrs. Gordon calls her daughter-in-law, is the former Betty Muncy of Floydada. They have a son, Britt, 10.

Mrs. Gordon's membership in a home demonstration club got off to a rousing start when she forgot she was to be hostess. She had gone to neighbor's one day to borrow butter paper and was puzzled on her return to see several cars parked at her house. In her living room sat the club members. Fortunately, Mrs. Gordon is the kind who always has cookies or other such food to serve guests.

"When children of club members, seeing their mothers' cars at Miss Vida's, joined the group, she recalled. 'I had to serve them peanut butter and crackers and finished by making scrambled egg sandwiches.'"

THE FORMER Mary Vida Welch was born Sept. 13, 1896 in North Carolina, Welch in name and ancestry. Her mother died when she was 2. When Vida was 3 years old, her father took his four girls and went to Georgia for two years. They moved close to Grand Prairie, Texas when Vida was 5.

"I started to school when I was 2 years old because I went with my sisters," recalled Mrs. Gordon. "I can't remember when I learned to read—seems I've always known how."

Her father had been a school teacher and encouraged her. "I still read myself to death," she added. At age 82, she reads two daily newspapers and belongs to a book club (especially likes mystery stories).

THE WELCH family moved to Haskell County when Vida was 12. She graduated from a country high school, took an exam and got a second grade teaching certificate. She earned her first grade certificate from West Texas State University. Then she attended business school in Abilene and later received her high school teachers certificate upon passing an exam.

Mrs. Gordon taught eight and one-half years, all in Haskell County except a half term in Stonewall County. The only teacher in one of the schools, she taught first through seventh grade, built the fires, carried out the ashes and played ball with the kids.

Then she transferred to a three-teacher school where the superintendent "traded" subjects with her. He took her fifth grade history class and made her take his high school English class.

ONE OF HER former Haskell pupils, now Mrs. Harmon Roberts, came over with others Tuesday night to play "88". Mrs. Gordon used to play a great deal of "42" but now is "into" the game of Spider. "Fascinating," she said about the card game.

Mrs. Gordon considers a day lost if she does not work a crossword puzzle. She is a member of Panhandle Pen Women of Amarillo, Plainview Delphin Club and First Presbyterian Church. In former years, Mrs. Gordon enjoyed traveling.

State Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah receives a gavel from Speaker of the Texas House Bill Clayton. The gavel was presented to Rep. Healy for his work as Vice Chairman for Appropriative Matters of the Committee on Judicial Affairs during the 66th Session of the State Legislature. Clayton called the session a success for the people of Texas and credited Rep. Healy for his assistance in the House.

No nails were used to build the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City.

American Agriculture News

BY BETTYE MCBROOM

This article is a continuation of last week's article. It was written by Bud Bitner, on behalf of AAM, and appeared in the May 22, 1979, issue of the AMERICAN AGRICULTURE NEWS, P.O. Box 100, Iredell, TX 76649.

Let's Have A Bushel of Wheat for a Barrel of Oil.

Our international trade assumes a triangular pattern. We are importing almost 50% of our oil at high OPEC prices which is the major factor in our balance of trade deficit. We are selling our agricultural exports for nothing to countries which in turn place high levies upon them and use that money as actual income to their governments, taxing their own people through our products. So if we charge Japan and West Germany the price that their people now pay for wheat or other agricultural products from the U.S., those consumers will not be paying any more for their food and the U.S. will create a favorable balance of trade with those countries that can offset the imbalance of trade with the Arab countries from whom we purchase oil.

Millers in West Germany are now paying $8.50 per bushel for wheat, yet they sell a loaf of bread for 49 cents. United States millers are paying about $3.50 for wheat and selling a loaf of bread for 69 cents. This is an example of the inequity in what a consumer pays in West Germany as opposed to the U.S. for the same product. Thus it may be seen that wheat costing $8.50 can be used to produce a 49 cent loaf of bread. The cost of wheat has a negligible effect upon the cost of a loaf of bread. We could very well see wheat for $8.50 per bushel in the United States or anywhere else and not affect the price of a loaf of bread that much.

Wheat happens to be one of the food items, the cost of which has very little effect upon the price of the end product. Meat, for example, is much different. The cost of the producer represents about 45% of the final cost of meat products, whereas the farmer's cost of production of the wheat in a loaf of bread is only three cents or 4% of the total retail price of the end product.

The major purchasers of U.S. grain can very well afford to pay the price that their consumers are paying at present for the product. We have the clout as a nation to bring about a balance of trade between Japan and West Germany. There is no doubt about it; we can force that. For example, we purchase most of our electronics today from Japan. We purchase a tremendous amount of industrial equipment from West Germany. We purchase automobiles from both of them. We can simply say to these nations: 'The time has come to balance our trade. You are no longer going to use our food as a means to tax your people. We are going to set an export price on our grain and if you do not like it we are not going to permit you to import any more of your goods into our country.'

The reason our dollar is declining in value in relation to the yen and mark is because of our imbalance of trade. This imbalance of trade is inflationary and is the factor of greatest influence in the devaluation of the dollar. Devaluation and inflation are synonymous. The Japanese yen has increased in purchasing power over the dollar very significantly in the last three or four years due to the devaluation of the dollar and therefore the Japanese are now purchasing our grain - our wheat for instance, with less yen than they were a couple of years ago.

Not only is the farmer exporting his equity in the form of cheap grain to foreign governments but everyone is being affected by the deficit in our trade and resultant devaluation of everyone's dollar. If we correct our balance of payments deficit the dollar will halt its devaluation.

By commanding a fair price for U.S. Agricultural products we stimulate production. Any surplus that may result should be converted to alternate fuel sources such as alcohol for consumption within this country and also utilized as a security reserve against the possibility of an embargo of OPEC oil. New technology has demonstrated that alcohol can be made from agriculture products at or below current prices of gasoline and not damage the food value of the grains to any extent. There is a demand for high fiber, high protein, high vitamin and mineral content foods with low starch and that is exactly what is left after grain has been passed through a still. The starch is removed leaving the protein, fiber, mineral and vitamin content in a more concentrated form.

The United States exported 3,353 billion bushels of grain in 1978, representing 53% of world grain exports. Properly utilized by the President and Congress in international trade this single most important commodity represents the key to eliminating the balance of trade deficit, devaluation of the dollar and inflation, thereby reducing the impact of high priced OPEC oil. Grain may also be converted to alcohol and used as a substitute for oil.

The American Agriculture Movement, at a joint meeting in Washington, D.C., with the Canadian Agriculture Movement adopted a resolution supporting the establishment of an international wheat exporting commission.

The U.S., Australia and Argentina together comprise 90% of the world's wheat and grain exports. It is incumbent upon the President to call for the establishment of an organization of wheat exporting countries - OPEC - to regulate world exports in this commodity and establish a uniform pricing policy.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of himself and of 26 states, Bud Bitner, American Agriculture Movement

*****Fred Lundgren said that he heard that a certain agricultural economist, speaking at Bryan, said he was glad to see Daylight Savings Time, because the crops could use the extra hour of sun.

Water Garden is oasis in Fort Worth

By Gordon M. Quarnstrom
Texas Travel News

FORT WORTH—A never-ceasing source of summer enjoyment and tension relief is an oasis here in the city's heart.

It is the Fort Worth Water Garden, made possible through a 1974 grant from the Amon G. Carter Foundation.

Operated by the city's parks and recreation department, the garden includes four major pools at varying levels. Some 19,000 gallons of water per minute are moved through concealed waterways, constantly circulating.

Between the first two pools is a four-acre retreat of cascading water and plantings. You find azaleas, junipers, oaks, sweet gum and wisteria in a setting of beauty that attracts thousands of local residents daily and is a source of enjoyment to city visitors.

Fort Worth is a city with other fine parks, elegant art galleries and excellent museums.

More bighorn Texas sheep

AUSTIN—The numbers aren't large yet, but Texas game management officials are hoping that the bighorn sheep released in the Sierra Diablo mountains will multiply and come off the endangered animal list.

The Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept. recently set loose seven more desert bighorns which had been pen raised. They will join about a dozen other bighorns which have been released in past years.

Once numerous in West Texas mountain areas, the desert bighorn herds had been largely wiped out by 1900, due to excessive hunting and disease.

The first sheep to be released came from Arizona. The three rams, two ewes and two lambs freed recently came from Mexico.

Texas has great numbers of deer in all parts of the state and many antelopes in West Texas. Both animals often are seen from the highways.

Another animal found in growing numbers is the coyote. It has spread so fast and far that stockmen are concerned about losses due to the predator.

SHARON GRAY will perform a snare drum solo this Saturday in Austin at the State UIL solo and ensemble contest. Sharon is one of eighteen members of the Haskell Indian Band who qualified to compete in the State Meet. (Staff Photo)

What are considered today's best beef cattle, a new breed called Santa Gertrudis, is a crossbreed of the Brahm, the Black Angus, the Shorthorn and the Hereford.

Texas Literary Sites Included In New Book

A new book published by Morrow, "A Literary Tour Guide to the South and Southwest", includes data on four Texas locations.

The author, Rita Stern, starts out with Austin and the story of O. Henry, whose early writing was done in the capital city. She has information about the O. Henry Museum in the former home of the author and his wife. It is located at 409 East Fifth St. and is open Tuesday-Saturday from 11 to 4:30 p.m. and on Sundays from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

San Antonio is included because of O. Henry's attempt to publish his "The Rolling Stone" there after it failed in Austin and because of the O. Henry house on the Lone Star Brewing Co. grounds at 600 Lone Star Rd.

Ms. Stern includes a reference to the Alamo because of the many books written about the shrine of Texas freedom, including Paul I. Wellman's novel, "The Iron Mistress", and Lon Tinkle's "Thirteen Days of Glory: The Siege of the Alamo."

The Institute of Texan Cultures is listed because of its exhibits about the many ethnic groups of the state. She mentions Langtry because of the books about Judge Roy Bean, and there is a listing of the Armstrong Browning Library at Baylor University, Waco. The Erle Stanley Gardner study at the University of Texas in Austin has mention in the book as well. The author writes, "Everything, including the walls and floors, is as it was in Gardner's study in his home in Temecula, California. Mementos and trophies hang from the wood walls and from wooden ceiling beams. His huge desk is covered with memorabilia from all over the world."

The book says the study is open weekdays from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Data is available at the Visitor Information Center in Sid Richardson Hall.

agri-facts

Pat Hale

Significant changes are on the horizon for researchers working on agricultural projects. Underlying factor for these changes is the growing consensus among scientists that current research with its aims at yield increases through better fertilization and cultivation technique may be nearing its peak. In short, there is a growing feeling that we are reaching the stage of making a plant produce all that is possible. That's the reason for the change in direction. Scientists are now beginning to experiment on changes in the biological potential of plants. Basic changes in photosynthesis are being considered. Methods of limiting a plant's respiration are under study and the strange yield increases of some plants when exposed to carbon dioxide are being examined. In short, the new direction for research involves changing the plant itself in ways which could develop new and much greater yield increases.

Drive Underway For Ag Reports

A drive to round up reports that have not yet been returned from farm households in the 1978 Census of Agriculture was launched today by the Bureau of the Census.

Bureau officials called the drive a "special effort to provide statistical results to the Nation's farmers and other users of census data as early as possible."

Most farm operators first received report forms last January, and most have, by now, completed and returned them. Although the rate at which reports have been returned has exceeded the pace of the last farm census, some farmers and ranchers have not sent in their reports.

"The completeness and accuracy of this important agricultural census depend upon each individual filling out the report form received," said Orvin Wilhite, Chief of the Bureau's Agriculture Division. "I am sure that farmers and agricultural leaders want their county and State totals to be as accurate and useful as possible."

The farm census is the only government or private method for gathering and reporting agriculture information on a county-by-county basis for the entire Nation, Wilhite noted.

Important decisions will be made by farmer organizations, marketing associations and co-ops on the basis of information in the farm census, he said. Census figures also are widely used by many other organizations, both public and private, on which farmers depend for services, supplies, and equipment.

Operators who neglect to fill out and return their reports, Wilhite said, are doing themselves and all other operators a disservice. They impair the accuracy of the statistics for their area and may even reduce their county's share of funds allocated for research and other agricultural purposes, Wilhite said.

A few landlords and other persons who did not operate farms in 1978 may have received report forms, and others may have received more than one form, each addressed differently. Wilhite explained this as follows:

"Each report that the Bureau mailed was assigned its own census file number (CFN). We need a response for each CFN so that the record can be cleared. Anyone who did not farm in 1978, for whatever reason, and anyone who received extra reports with different file numbers should note these facts on the forms and return them so that additional followups can be avoided."

The Bureau realizes that some farmers and ranchers need reassurance that their report is confidential. "By law," Wilhite said, "The report may be seen only by sworn census employees, and used only to tabulate totals for your county, State and the Nation."

Little League

BY PAWNEE GRUPE

The rain, good for the farmer but bad for baseball, held our playing week to only three days. But, those three days were exciting - the undefeated Rams lost twice in that time and the Crows remained undefeated. During the game between the Rams and Hawks the Hawks made 15 runs in the first inning. Only one boy made a homerun in the major league this week and that was the Cubs' Carl Dever. I missed three home-runs last week though - they were Tim Johnson, Ronald Campbell and Doug Starr all of the Hawks.

In the minor league Marc Grupe hit a double and turned it into a homerun on errors in Thursdays game.

The Directors of the Little League held a meeting on Wednesday, May 23. During this meeting it was decided to give a Good Sportsmanship Award to one player on each team. All of the rules will be given to each coach and they will explain them to their teams. The winner of this award will be elected by his or her teammates. Stay on your toes fellows if you want this award at the end of the season.

We had four games rained out this week. These games were between the Tigers and Eagles, Cubs and Lions, Bears and Cats and Crows and Red Horses. The scores for the remaining games were:

Cats			9
Crows			13
Red Horses			11

MAKING FAMILY LIFE MORE FUN

Instead of expending a lot of effort trying to protect their families from spiraling medical costs, inflated food prices and job scarcity, many young men and women have found that by helping protect America, they can do all those things a lot more easily.

A Marine family receives free medical attention, and hospitalization costs only about $5 a day, compared with some $150 a day for civilians at private hospitals. Marines enjoy discounts at commissaries and exchanges around the world, as well as savings on travel, education and insurance.

A good part of a Marine's pay and allowances is tax exempt, and Marines can retire on half pay in only 20 years. Marines also earn 30 days' paid vacation a year.

For free booklets on how the Marines can help your family, call, toll-free, 800-423-2600. In California, call, also toll-free, 800-252-0241.

The wide variety of baby shoes available make buying baby's first shoes an enjoyable task. Today you get comfort, convenience, economy and a good selection.

When I was a new mother, baby shoes were like casts! We thought small ankles needed the stiff support of high-sided shoes.

Today's mother can choose soft, flexible shoes for baby. Comfortable moccasins, sneakers and sandals, for example, allow baby freedom of movement.

Hand washable, drip dryable Gerber sneakers, fitting babies from three months to three years, are widely available in supermarket baby departments. They come in six patterns and are reasonably priced.

Deductible Up For Medicare

The Medicare hospital insurance deductible—the cost of covered services in each benefit period not paid by Medicare—has been increased to $160 for benefit periods beginning in 1979 from the 1978 figure of $144, a social security spokesperson said recently.

The deductible is intended to be roughly equal to the cost of one day of care in a hospital. The increase was necessary, the representative said, because of the continually rising cost of medical care.

The deductible is the only amount a Medicare patient is responsible for during the first 60 days of hospital care in a benefit period for covered services.

The increase in the deductible also affects other 1979 per-day costs under hospital insurance.

From the 61st through the 90th day of hospital care in a benefit period, hospital inurance pays for all covered services except for $40 a day (up from $36).

For each reserve day (there are 60 during a person's lifetime) hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for $80 a day (up from $72).

For the 21st through the 100th day of care in a skilled nursing facility during a benefit period, hospital insurance pays the cost of all covered services except for $20 a day (up from $18).

These increases apply only to benefit periods starting in 1979. They do not apply to benefit periods which began before 1979.

More information about Medicare covered services and costs can be obtained at any social security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest social security office can be found in the telephone directory.

Congressional Comment

Washington, D.C. — On May 16 the House of Representatives passed one of the most comprehensive conservation bills ever considered by the Congress — The Alaska Lands Act. If this legislation is also passed by the Senate and signed by the President, it will shut off much of Alaska to economic development. Alaska's Outer Continental Shelf, with its large potential for oil and gas reserves (10 to 14 billion barrels), will remain unexplored. Under the provisions of this bill 130 million acres would be closed to mining. Development of the world's second largest molybdenum deposit would be stopped. Other natural resources affected include large copper and coal deposits, tin, and cinnabar. Also 30 million acres would be closed to hunting.

Against the needs of the American people. The current House-passed version, in my opinion, does not recognize this balance and precludes the production of many of our vital resources. The bill is opposed by all of Alaska's representatives in Congress. Much of their opposition is centered around the power of the Federal versus state governments. Are we going to allow Alaskans to rule Alaska or are we going to permit Washington to rule the people of this state? It is my belief that local problems can best be solved by the people in the individual states and communities. It is very difficult and inefficient for officials in Washington, most of whom have never been to Alaska, to dictate policy to the people of this area.

I supported a more even-handed approach that recognizes the needs of the national economy and the environment. The Breaux-Dingell bill was also supported by most Alaskans. This region of the Country should be protected — but it should be protected wisely. This legislation would have designated 85 million acres as wildlife refuges, 33 million acres as national parks, and 3 million acres of national forests. The bill would have also designated the National Petroleum Reserve as a wildlife refuge potentially subject to oil and gas exploration. The Arctic National Wildlife Ranges would be studied for seven years for its oil and gas potential. While oil and gas exploration could occur, congressional action would have been required to actually open the lands to oil and gas production. I believed this to be an intelligent compromise, but it was defeated by a vote of 268 to 157.

This Country will have to make some hard choices as to how to allocate our scarce resources. The energy crisis is only the first of many resource shortages. We will some day be faced with deficiencies of minerals, timber, and foodstuffs. It does not make sense to lock up these assets never to be used. Man can live in harmony with nature only if we recognize the needs of both.

DRIVELINE

Believe It Or Not! In Tennessee it is illegal to drive a car while asleep... In Lille, France, it is against the law to carry a certain kind of cheese into a taxicab. The English translation of the cheese's name, "The Old Stinker," explains why!

PERPLEXED ABOUT BRIDGES. "What is the law in Texas about passing on a bridge that has two way traffic?" —S.C., Vernon

It is illegal to pass when you are approaching a bridge and are within 100 feet of it. However, once you are on the bridge you can pass, provided there is no double stripe down the middle of the road.

Maybe we could replace gasoline with jackrabbits on treadmills. Our old West Texas buddy (Actually dubbed the Lepus californicus by scientists) can accelerate from zero to 40 mph in three seconds. Economical to operate, too...

On any average day there are over 613,000 out-of-state and foreign visitors in Texas — a number nearly twice the population of Austin. For those of you who think all the tourist dollars flow south of the border, here's another interesting fact: visitors and tourists from the Republic of Mexico spent $238 million in Texas last year.

Consumer Tip! The Texas heat puts a lot of strain on any mechanical system. Here's a quick, easy maintenance check to help you protect your car this summer. Just clean the radiator. Radiators have a knack for collecting mashed bugs, twigs, leaves and other road junk in between their metal fins. This reduces cooling efficiency and can cause your car to run hot, maybe even overheat. It just takes a minute to wash the gunk out with a water hose. The best way is to shoot the water from the inside of the engine compartment toward the front. If you try to wash it from the outside in, you may just wedge the debris further into the radiator fins.

Oh yes, if you're the messy type who sprays water everywhere, you should take the precaution of wrapping the distributor in plastic first.

ANCIENT HISTORY DEPARTMENT: Approximately twenty thousand steam powered automobiles were actually sold between 1880 and 1970. The Stanley brothers, makers of the famed Stanley Steamer, accounted for about half of those sales.

from DOYLE HIGH

20% of Americans eat a nutritionally poor diet, reported a survey by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. Surprisingly, this included affluent families, which reflects a lack of dietary knowledge rather than a lack of food money. One-half of the households had diets that failed to meet the requirements for one or more nutrients. Calcium (milk), Vitamin A, and ascorbic acid (citrus fruits) were the nutrients most often found lacking. If one compares the size of the soda water department with the declining milk counter in many supermarkets — and the preference for convenient canned flavor drinks over natural fresh fruit, the results of the survey are understandable.

Little Dribblers Compete At Regional

The girls' 9 & 10 year old division of the Haskell Little Dribblers, competed in the Regional Tournament in Breckenridge recently. The girls played a strong Breckenridge team the first game & almost pulled off an upset. Haskell was trailing by 12 at the half but a scrappy defense held Breckenridge to 3 points the third quarter & the offense popped the net for 10 big points. Haskell pulled away by 3, but the tall Breckenridge girls came back to lead by 2 with 35 seconds left. The final score was, Breckenridge 28 - Haskell 26.

The second game with Snyder was also a tough one and a last quarter offensive effort against the soon to be champs, couldn't pull it out. The final score was Snyder 29 - Haskell 19. Each girl played excellent defense and Julie Roewe, Gloria Villa, Danna Hail, Patricia Henry and Milinda Smith sparked the offense. The All Stars were coached by Molly Moeller and Debbie Mitchell.

Cadenhead Presents Slides Of Hawaii

Thursday evening at seven o'clock the W.O.O.s of the First Baptist Church met in the Fellowship Hall. W.O. Lewis gave the Opening Prayer. Welcome was extended to members and guests by committee member, Ozelle Frierson. Dr. Frank Cadenhead gave a most interesting review of a trip to Hawaii taken by Dr. and Mrs. Cadenhead. After pointing out the route taken on a map of the Islands he showed colored slides and commented on each. Special emphasis was given the churches on the islands. Following the film an informal discussion period was held—some commenting on the flowers, the beaches, and the inhabitants of the isles.

Material from the Kendrick Religious Pageant at Cisco was shown and discussed. Tentative plans to attend the pageant and museum were made with much enthusiasm. The definite date is to be announced in the church bulletin as soon as possible. Frosted cakes were served before the meeting was adjourned.
