

Station Dedicated During Ceremonies

BY GINA JENNINGS

The new $100,000 facility of the Haskell Fire Department was officially dedicated and displayed to the public on Sunday.

Fire Chief Tom Watson opened the ceremonies praising Haskell citizens for their support through the donations which enabled the facility to be completed more than a year before the expected date.

The progress of the building program over the past months was highlighted by volunteer fireman Don Comedy, chairman of the finance committee. He marked the starting point of the project with the agreement of the Haskell Jaycees to donate their efforts to help clean out Rice Springs Creek after last year's flood. The available disaster funds for that work were then used to begin the station.

All members of the fire department, both past and present were honored during the dedication. The history of the Haskell Fire Department dating back to its founding in 1906 was read by Charles Swinson from the History of the Texas Firemen's and Firemarshals Association. Included in the history were the names of the first department officials as well as charter members.

An engraved dedication plaque along with a "key" to the new fire station were presented to Mayor Royce Williams by Chief Watson. The plaque specifically dedicated the new facilities to: firemen, both living and departed; those who gave generously of their money, talents and labor; and the City of Haskell and all its citizens. The inscription on the plaque is to be included in the minutes of the next City Council meeting while the plaque itself will hang in the new fire station.

Those present gathered outside the building for the raising of a special flag arranged for by Ralph Merchant. The flag which flew over the nation's capital September 7, 1979 was donated through the courtesy of Senator John Tower in honor of the Department. Members of the Haskell High School band accompanied Roberta High singing the national anthem.

Dedication ceremonies were concluded with a ribbon cutting by Mayor Royce Williams using a fireman's axe to snap the ribbon.

The public was then invited to sign a page for the Haskell Fire Department scrapbook and inspect the new facilities. Refreshments were provided by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Haskell Fire Department.

PRESENTATION

Chief Tom Watson, left, presents Haskell Mayor Royce Williams with a symbolic key to the new fire station during dedication ceremonies Sunday. Chief Watson told the Mayor during the presentation that since the fire station is open for business 24 hours a day and never locked, the key was symbolic of the department's presentation of the new facility to the City.

Commissioners Face Long Agenda For First '80 Meeting

The Haskell County Commissioners Court spent six hours in dealing with business matters during their first meeting of 1980.

Of the 34 items on the agenda, most were routine, once a year matters, which required little time.

Commissioners heard several presentations and held lengthy discussions on several other items during the session.

Jim Compton of West Central Texas Council of Governments presented a plan for a nutrition program in Haskell. The program would entail preparing meals for senior citizens at the Corral Building and serving the meals at the Experienced Citizens Center. Commissioners tentatively agreed to enter into the program and instructed County Judge John Wayne McDermott to work out details of the program with Compton before final court approval.

Oscar Dickerson, of Aspermont, met with commissioners to present information concerning the formation of a new community action agency. Dickerson proposed that Haskell, Knox, Stonewall, Kent and King Counties form the new agency which would be entirely rural. By forming a new rural agency, Dickerson told Commissioners that the agency could better serve without the traditional conflicts of rural and metropolitan areas.

He agreed to contact the commissioner courts of the other proposed counties and report in detail on the agency before requesting a decision by the counties.

Jerry Sorrells reported on the operation of the ambulance service and told commissioners of the need for a new ambulance. Sorrells reported that the maintenance on the two vehicles now in operation has totaled about $5,000.00 in the past two years and cited this cost as a major reason for the increased cost of operating the service.

Members of the court instructed the county judge to meet with the ambulance board and if it was determined that a new vehicle was needed the county would participate in funding the purchase.

County Treasurer Willie Faye Tidrow presented the commissioners a plan to place about $60,000.00 of county funds into six month certificates of deposit. She told court members that if the funds were left for the allotted time the interest earned by the county would amount to over $3,500.00 and if part of the money was needed nothing would be lost since the funds are not now earning any interest. Commissioners agreed to consider the program further before taking action.

Commissioners considered salaries for a large portion of the meeting and heard requests from three officials for salary adjustments and requests from other office holders for salary adjustments for employees. No action was taken and all salaries will remain the same as last year.

Commissioners set mileage rate for county employees at 16¢ again this year.

In other action commissioners approved bills and minutes; approved monthly and quarterly reports; appointed Bud Turnbow

County Judge Pro Tem; appointed Dr. T.W. Williams County Health Officer; accepted delinquent record contract; approved personal property tax schedule; approved error and omission bond for county and district clerk; set salaries for community tax assessors; set special court meetings for fourth Tuesday of each month; and set pay for jurors at same amount as last year.

Commissioners also: appointed county judge to serve on ambulance board; approved $500.00 for ambulance service; appointed commissioners and county judge as road overseers; set hourly wage rate at $3.10 per hour; transferred $27,220.80 from flood disaster fund into FML 3; and agreed to provide building space for County tax

Rice Springs News

As we start on our third week into the new year, time seems to be passing at a very fast pace. With the weather changing so rapidly, you really can't tell that this is supposed to be winter season. Some of the residents have taken advantage of the pretty warm days to get outside and sit on the front porch or just walk around out in the yard. I think most of the residents are already looking forward to spring so they can get outside more often. We have some residents that never get to go outside when it's wintertime, so they are really looking forward to summertime and nice warm or hot weather.

We want to welcome a new resident to the home. She is Iva Simpson of Haskell. We hope she likes living here at Rice Springs with us. We know we are going to enjoy having her here.

Manley Branch was admitted to the Haskell Hospital last week to undergo some tests. His wife reported to me this morning that he seems to be feeling better and wants to come back to the home to be with her. We all here at the home want to see him back very soon.

We had three ladies celebrating birthdays last week. They were Beulah Persons with her 93rd on the 9th, Hilda Kupatt with her 85th and Almas Cole her 88th, both on the 10th. All three of these ladies seemed to have very enjoyable birthdays, and we wish them many more happy, healthy ones.

Our residents enjoyed the Rule First Baptist ladies and their pastor, Rev. J.R. Williams coming over last week. We are grateful for their coming each month. The Sweet Home Baptist Singers were also back with us last week and it was reported to me that they did great. We sure missed Rev. Tom Jones not being here last week for Bible Study and are looking forward to his return this week. Jo Simpson presented us another good devotional on Friday. Both of our Sunday services presented by the First Presbyterian and the Haskell Church of Christ were enjoyed by all who attended the services. We greatly appreciated all these people who shared in any way with us this past week and our thanks go to all of you.

As always we were glad to have all the visitors who came out last week. Our out-of-town visitors were as follows:

Coming to see Mary Schonerstedt and Emma Lammert were Mary's daughters, Lena Boedeker and Ella Nauert, both of Stamford. On Sunday, Alene Bredthauer took Emma to Stamford to eat lunch at the Cliff House with the rest of the Bredthauer family, including Emma's daughter, Alice.

Visiting Claudia Blankenship and Jessie Brown were Claudia's son and his wife, Glynn and Louise Blankenship of Kemp. Pauline Dunn of Amarillo visited with Dessie Marion, Bill Harrell, Mary Liles, and Beatrice Barnett.

Curtis Cross of Cibola came to see his mother, Ida Brinlee, and also his uncles, Jim and Dutch Cross. Also visiting Ida were Norma Hoagan, Jane Harris, and Norma Sudderth all of Winters and Ed Vaughn of Austin.

We want to extend our sympathy to Edna Collins for the loss of her sister. Visiting Edna were Viola Marley and Yvonda Walter of Crosbyton, Leo Koelder of Hale Center, and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ophus Posey and Nita of Knox City.

Alvin and Ruby Stiewert of Lubbock visited his mother, Lena Stiewert.

Visiting Joe Teague, Charlie and Eugene Collier were Melton and Ona Mae Reeves of Knox City and Charlene Mitchell of Rochester. Also visiting Charlie were S.F. Turner, Pat Martin, Gene Bitticks, and Regina O'Neal, all of Rochester.

Clancey and Helen Lehmann of Old Glory visited Alvena Holle.

Melba Stowe of Olney came to spend the day with her mother, Eunice Stewart.

Visiting Jonnye Pumphrey were Hazel Letz of Old Glory, Clara Hines of Rule, and her grandson, Jeff Pumphrey of Fort Worth.

Visiting Nannie McCaul and Again I would like to ask anyone wishing to either call our bingo games or maybe read a book to our residents to please call the activity director here at Rice Springs. If I could get someone to call our bingo games, it would give me a chance to help several of our residents who would like to play, but either can't see or hear well enough to play. Also every Friday, I try to read several chapters of a book and if something comes up to prevent me from reading, I have no one to take over and do it, so then these residents have to wait another week to hear something that they certainly enjoy. So anyone wanting to donate an hour or two a week to do something very fulfilling, please get in touch with me.

That is the news for another week and until next week, let's all spread a little sunshine wherever we can and the rest homes are really good places to begin.

HASKELL FIREMEN

Members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department stand beside Chief Tom Watson as he reads the dedication of the new station. Members of the department had provided most of the labor during construction of the new facility. They dedicated the building to: firemen who have served in the past both living and departed; individuals, organizations and businesses who gave generously of their money; individuals who gave of their talents and labor; and to the City of Haskell and all its citizens who made the new station possible.

Haskell Training Center Offers Many Alternatives

By Gina Jennings

"Some people just don't want to admit their children need outside help," according to Mrs. Tina Palacios, Therapist Technician in charge of the Haskell Training Center. The children she refers to aren't necessarily youngsters either. They are full-grown, mentally retarded sons and daughters who still live with parents because they are unable to care for themselves.

The need for recognition of the problems faced by the mentally retarded does not stop with their parents however. These people need the active concern and encouragement of the whole community to overcome the obstacles before them to live as happy and useful members of the community.

At 10 N. Ave. D in Haskell, eight people are busy 6 hours a day, five days a week counting and packaging plastic utensils, making brightly colored hammocks or performing other jobs. These are mentally retarded citizens who are getting paid for their work, learning how to manage their own money and finding how to cope better on their own. The aim of the Center is to help these people adjust to the community and the community to adjust to them.

The Haskell Training Center began 8 years ago as an arts and crafts workshop at the Mental Health Clinic and later branched into a State-sponsored program in itself. Their jobs are contracted from manufacturers who send them materials and then sell the finished products to retail outlets. The workers are paid for each piece of work they complete. For most of them it provides a sense of self-esteem and confidence they've never had before.

Mrs. Palacios feels that there are many more retarded citizens in Haskell County who could benefit from this program but are not yet involved. Some have difficulty finding transportation. She picks up three people a day herself who could not otherwise attend.

"But I can't do it all myself..." she says. "We could really use volunteer help for that."

Another problem is the failure of parents and relatives to recognize the importance of such help for the retarded.

"The parents don't stop to think about what will happen when they die and there is no one to take care of the person," she points out. "They must learn to meet their own needs."

"I have seen changes in many of these people after coming into this program," explains the therapist. She emphasizes that she is careful not to give them special treatment. Teaching them how to take responsibility for themselves is a major part of her work. "They might as well learn now they're not going to get any special treatment out there in the real world."

The program is intended to be a launching pad into the community for these people. Although they are capable of doing many jobs, the community here has not responded as Mrs. Palacios had hoped. "I don't think the people in Haskell know we exist!" Job offers from the community have been almost nil. She explains, "We have one girl who goes and stuffs envelopes once a month for a local business but that's about it."

"Some people are afraid of these people but they shouldn't be. They're the most sincere and loving people you'll ever meet," the therapist suggests that her workers would be good at odd jobs, picking up pecans or raking leaves for example. Businesses could use these workers for janitorial duties, stuffing envelopes and other such jobs either occasionally or on a regular basis. A stop by the Training Center is all it would take to locate a worker.

Watching them at the Center as they busily count, sort, tie and cut, it is clear that the program has helped these people achieve a sense of self-respect and purpose. They want to work and they can work—not only at the Training Center but in the community. All they need is an opportunity.

VA News

Some persons who are receiving Veterans benefits were recently provided with increases in their monthly payments. According to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, the increases apply to all veterans receiving service-connected disability compensation, and to all widows and children of veterans whose deaths were caused by military service.

Public Law 96-128 was signed by President Carter on November 28, 1979, and provides increases retroactive to October 1, 1979. The VA has announced that the retroactive amounts due for October and November will be sent to eligible persons in a special check to be mailed about December 21, 1979. If the mailing of these checks can be processed in time, all recipients will have them prior to the Christmas holidays. The benefit checks to be mailed on January 1, 1980, for the month of December 1979, will be in the new amount.

All service-connected disability and death benefits to veterans, widows and minor children were increased by 9.9 percent. The 10% service-connected veteran will be increased from $44 per month to $48. The payment for the 100% disabled veteran will increase from $809 to $889. Veterans with ratings of 30% or more receive additional compensation for their dependents, and the additional allowances were also increased by 9.9 percent.

Dependency and indemnity compensation, paid to widows and children of veterans whose deaths are rated service-connected, has been increased by the same 9.9 percent. Amounts paid to widows are determined by the military rank and pay grade of the veteran while he was in service, and now range from $326 for grade E-1, to $446 for E-9, and to $835 for grade O-10.

These increases in VA benefits will be automatic, meaning that no application must be made for them. Adjustments will be made in the benefit payments being made to all eligible veterans, widows and minor children. Any questions concerning the provisions of this new law authorizing increase of VA benefits should be referred to your local Veterans Service Officer.

ECC News...

By Marsha Whittemore

How many of us can look out the window this morning and say, "Thank you, Lord," for this day. Thank you that I can see your beautiful day because I'm alive."

Being alive can be many things to different people. Many cannot rise from their beds but they open their eyes and thank God they can see the sunshine through the windows.

There are those who sit all of their days and most of their nights because they have nothing to do with their time. They have worked hard raising their families and now there is no reason.

In this crisis of our nation at the moment the American people have taken a stand. They have a reason. A very good reason. It's for our country and what we believe in and all the things that go with freedom. But you know everything has a beginning. Our Country had a beginning. It began by the same ones that now open their eyes to see the sunshine through their windows. By the now idle ones that have no reason for anyone to need them anymore.

There is a need for these old ones to become young again... for themselves. They are important, perhaps not in the same way they once were; but they are important in a new way to their families, friends and for themselves.

At one time it seemed impossible to find time to do anything other than for the family. Now it is the lack of know-how, things to do it with, and a reason for doing it. "A reason to stay in love with life."

A place to belong many have found at our Center. Old friends renew old memories and find after all these years there is one thing they still have in common is love, laughter and joy of being together.

These past two months have been the icing on the cake of the year for us. Christmas always fills the air with a sweet spirit. The first of the month as our guest at our Christmas Dinner were Judge and Mrs. Joh McDermott, Mrs. Ethel Lou Shelton, Mrs. Alene Collins, Mrs. Mary Wisman. The remainder of the month everyone worked on their Christmas gifts.

Then to round off our month our Christmas Party was held at Mrs. Elaine Blohm's home. Her home was decorated throughout with holly, candles, all in the spirit of Christmas. As the guests arrived co-hostess Mrs. Viola Tidwell served a warm spice drink make of red hots. Games were played and then a reading of all the different lands and they way they celebrated Christmas. Afterwards gifts were exchanged. These were to be handmade by the giver. A Santa and Reindeer decorated cake with gold punch was served. Those attending were from the surrounding towns in the country, Rochester, Rule, Weinert, Paint Creek and Haskell. A very lovely time was had by all, but more a very thankful group. Each remembering not so long ago the days seemed so long. We welcome you. Our doors and our hearts are always open to you. We thank each and everyone this year for their volunteer services, especially Marie Bartley for her help on our Free Screening Days. Thank you for the contributions of time and money, but most of all their love.

"To work...at the things you love or for those you love, is to...turn work into play... and duty...into privilege."

A Happy New Year from all of us.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

In recent months a sales scheme used to defraud businesses has surfaced in Texas. For lack of a better name we have dubbed this scheme the "bump and run" fraud. The scheme works like this:

A salesman representing a wholesale supplier will call on a retail merchant who uses a large volume of small replacement or repair parts. The salesman then will either quote prices that are competitive or will say he is unable to give a quote because of the large number of parts carried by the wholesaler or because the prices are kept on computer and he does not have access. An assurance, however, is always given that the prices will be "competitive." Later, when the parts and invoice arrive the prices are two to ten times the amount charged for similar items by competitors.

It would seem that a scheme with so outrageous results would be easily detected and prosecuted. Such is not the case. To avoid detection, the salesmen and wholesalers who engage in the bump and run fraud employ several devices. First, the perpetrators rarely, if ever, do business with small retail concerns. Instead, they concentrate on large companies that are likely to have different individuals who perform the jobs of buying and bookkeeping. In this way, the buyers rarely see the final prices charged and the bookkeeper never hears the promises and representations made by the salesman to the buyer.

Another device employed to avoid detection is limiting orders to only a few hundred dollars. Small orders do not arouse much suspicion or concern in bookkeepers or supervisory personnel and, even if the fraud is discovered, the chances of a complaint being filed over such a small amount are slim. When willing buyers are found, the salesmen frequently will curvy their favor with small gifts, pocket calculators and the like, and promises of more gifts if the buyer will do business with the salesman. This device is particularly effective because even when a buyer innocently accepts a gift, he will be reluctant to reveal the fraud for fear of being implicated. The natural suspicion would be that the gift was given in order to make the fraud possible.

Finally, even if a merchant discovers the fraud and ceases to do business with the wholesaler, the wholesaler will change the company's name or create a new company with new salesmen who will continue to victimize the merchant.

There are several ways to avoid being victimized by a "bump and run" scheme:

1. Do not allow buyers to purchase merchandise without written price quotes that are then given to the bookkeeper.
2. Educate bookkeepers on the normal prices charged for items purchased by the business.
3. Carefully monitor all orders placed with new wholesalers or suppliers to ensure that the prices billed are competitive.
4. Require bookkeeper approval before any goods are used by the business.
5. Have all buyers routinely review invoices on goods purchased.

Most importantly, when a "bump and run" fraud is discovered, file a complaint with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division. Prosecution is impossible without complaints and without prosecution, the scheme will cost businesses and consumers thousands of dollars. Give us the chance to "bump" the salesman and wholesaler who bumps your prices and runs.

SCRAPBOOK

The scrapbook contains an accurate record of all activities of the department during the building program. It was compiled by Mrs. John (Betty) Watson.

Parks And Wildlife Dept. Test Buck Dies At Kerr Co.

"Big Charlie," a magnificent 15 point white-tailed buck deer who has been the grand-sire of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's research program on nutrition and genetics for the past six years, has died.

The big buck succumbed to necrotic stomatitis, a bacterial infection and pneumonia shortly before Christmas at the Kerr Wildlife Management Area in Kerr County.

During his 6½ years of life, Charlie contributed more to biologists' knowledge about the role of genetics in deer antler development than any other single animal. He sired 16 bucks which formed the nucleus of the study which proved conclusively that "spike" bucks (bucks which during their first 18 months of life develop only single antlers without prongs or forks) are inferior animals which never will attain body or antler growth of bucks which have forked antlers as yearlings.

Biologist Donnie Harmel, who heads up the Kerr Area studies, said Charlie's male offspring were compared to another group of 36 bucks whose fathers were spikes. "Only six percent of Charlie's male offspring produced spike antlers, while 42 percent of the group whose fathers were spikes produced only spike antlers in their first 1½ years of life," Harmel said.

Harmel noted that spike bucks remain protected in some counties because of the belief that they will develop into full-scale trophy bucks if given another year or two of growing time. "This study is showing that to be untrue, and continued protection of spikes is detrimental to the overall quality of a deer herd, not just antler growth," Harmel added.

Big Charlie as a yearling sported a six-point rack, and last fall he had 15 points with an inside spread of 19 inches. He tipped the scales at 216 pounds "live weight," which Hill Country hunters will attest is a giant in these days of declining body weights in that area.

Experiments on the 6,493-acre Kerr Area since construction of a deer-proof fence in 1968 have illustrated that quality deer can be produced through a combination of habitat management techniques and a controlled annual harvest of surplus animals.

Landowners who wish to learn more about the Kerr studies and how the findings might apply to their own deer herd are advised to contact one of the department's technical guidance biologists. They are: Richard DeArment, County Courthouse, Wheeler 79096, (806) 826-3233; Sam Brownlee, Box 322, Alpine

Deductible Increases

Because of the rising cost of hospital care, the hospital insurance deductible and daily co-insurance amounts under Medicare have been increased for 1980, said Glyn Hammons Abilene district manager.

The law requires an annual review of hospital costs under Medicare and an adjustment of the hospital insurance deductible when costs have risen substantially. The amount of the deductible represents the average cost of one day of hospital care, which is determined by a formula provided in the law.

Effective January 1, the hospital insurance deductible is $180, up from $160 in 1979. This means that for the 1st through 60th day of inpatient hospital care in each benefit period, Medicare hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for the first $180.

The higher deductible amount for 1980 applies only to benefit periods which start in or after January 1980. The 1979 deductible, $160, applies to benefit periods which started in 1979. This is true even if you entered a hospital in 1979 and are still a patient after January 1.

When the hospital insurance deductible changes, the law requires comparable changes in the daily dollar amounts (co-insurance) that Medicare hospital insurance does not pay.

For the 61st through 90th day of inpatient hospital care in each benefit period in 1980, hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for $45 a day (up from $40).

If you need to be in a hospital longer than 90 days in a benefit period, you can use the inpatient hospital reserve days provided by hospital insurance. For each reserve day used this year, hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for $90 a day ($80 in 1979).

For the 21st through 100th day of post-hospital care in a skilled nursing facility, hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for $22.50 a day (increased from $20). Hospital insurance pays the full cost of covered services for the first 20 days of care in a skilled nursing facility.

After a stay in a hospital or skilled nursing facility, hospital insurance can cover home health care from a participating home health agency.

Hospital insurance can pay the reasonable cost of up to 100 home health visits after the start of one benefit period and before the start of another.

Although hospital insurance does not pay all your health care costs, it does provide basic protection against the high cost of illness at a time when you need it most—after you are 65 or while you are disabled.

More information about hospital insurance is given in Your Medicare Handbook. If you don't have a handbook, you can get one at any social security office.

HISTORY

Charles Swinson, honorary member of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department, read a history of the local fire department during dedication ceremonies last Sunday. The history was read from the centennial history of the Texas Firemen and Firemarshal's Association. The Haskell Department was organized in 1906 and now has 35 members including one full-time paid fireman.

New SSI Rules Ease Qualifications

New rules now in effect should make it easier for people to qualify for supplemental security income (SSI) payments than in the past. Glyn Hammons social security district manager in Abilene said recently.

SSI makes payments to people 65 and over, or disabled, or blind, with limited income and resources.

The new rules:

• Increase the allowed value of a car.

• Change the way the value of resources is figured to take account of any money owed.

• Permit more household goods to be owned.

Before, a car valued at $1,200 or less did not count as a resource. Now, a car valued at $4,500 or less will not count at all. Any excess value counts as a resource.

In the past, all resources were figured at their fair market value and any money owed was not taken into account. Now, money owed on a resource will be deducted when the value is figured, except for a car.

Before, household goods and personal property valued at $1,500 or less did not count. Now, the limit has been raised to $2,000. Any excess value counts as a resource.

The new rules did not change the basic requirements for SSI payments, Hammons said. As before, an individual can get SSI only if he or she has resources that count valued at $1,500 or less. The limit for a couple is $2,250.

More information about SSI can be obtained at the Abilene social security office, located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is 698-1360.

Cotton Classing

Farmers continued to make good progress toward the completion of the cotton harvest, according to Garland Dye, Officer In Charge of the Munday Classing Office. Only small acreages of unharvested cotton remain scattered over the territory. With continued good weather harvest could be completed in a week to 10 days.

Cotton prices weakened somewhat early in the week but by mid-week had rebounded to levels of the previous week. Demand was good for cotton miking from 3.5 to 4.9. Prices were mostly 16 to 17 cents per pound above loan values. Cottonseed prices to farmers were steady at 105 dollars per ton.

The Munday Classing Office classed 18,000 samples during the week ending January 10th. This brought the total for the season to 164,000. This compares to 44,000 samples classed by the same time one year ago.

The quality of cotton classed during the week was mostly in the Light-Spotted color group. Grade 32 accounted for 40 percent and Grade 42 was 20 percent. Grade 31 made up 11 percent of the total and Grade 41 accounted for 10 percent. Staple 33 comprised 45 percent of the total followed by Staple 32 with 42 percent. Staple 34 made up 7 percent. Micronaire readings were 71 percent in the 3.5 to 4.9 range, as compared to 67 percent the previous week. Fifteen percent miked from 3.3 to 3.4 and 13 percent miked from 3.0 to 3.2.

DRIVELINE

Speed Limits and Foreign Policy . . . Out in California they're putting huge, glowering pictures of the Ayotallah on billboards urging motorists to drive 55 . . . It's not as silly as it sounds: transportation takes over 50 percent of America's oil; and the 55 mph speed limit can save the average motorist up to twenty percent on gas mileage. That means energy independence for Uncle Sam. Wonder what the speed limit is in Iran?

ANCIENT HISTORY DEPARTMENT: The first big time car race was in France in 1895 . . . Paris to Bordeaux and back — a distance of 750 miles. The winning time? Fifty hours, for an average speed of 15 mph. That's pretty close to the average speed at rush hour on the Houston freeways . . .

There Oughta Be a Law! One of the first American traffic regulations required a motorist to stop his car and fire off a roman candle whenever a horse-drawn vehicle came into view.

Q: Obviously you're safer at 55 mph than at 65 or 70, but I can't believe it makes that much difference at such speeds. Are there any statistics on speed limit safety? My husband and I don't think 55 is worth the trouble. — M.B., San Antonio.

A: Think again! The lower speed makes an enormous difference in your reaction time for stopping, dodging, and generally avoiding collisions. American traffic deaths dropped by 9,000 a year after 55 mph became the speed limit. The experts say your chances of surviving a wreck at 70 mph are only fifty-fifty. But at 55 mph, the odds of survival are 31 to one in your favor. We'll take those odds any day . . .

Now That's a Speed Trap! Speed traps of yesteryear (the early 1900's) could be a mite serious. In some jurisdictions police were authorized to shoot at tires and to stretch ropes or chains across the road to stop potential speeders. And you thought you had it tough . . .

Income Tax Course Offered

A 10 hour course entitled Income Tax Preparation is being offered through VRJC's Division of Continuing Education and the Emeritus Institute. The course is scheduled to meet from 6:30 to 8:30 Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning January 22 and ending February 5. The class will meet in Room C131. The regular fee for the course is $10, and the fee for persons 60 years of age and older is $1.

The course is to be instructed by Gene Gooch who holds a degree in accounting from North Texas State University. His experience includes 5½ years in public accounting. He is currently employed at VRJC as Assistant to the Dean of Business Services. He has prepared all of the payroll reports required by law and helped in most phases of audits for corporations, colleges, banks, savings and loans and some federally assisted programs. He has prepared Federal Income Tax returns for individuals, partnerships, estates and trusts, and corporations. The course will include a brief history of U.S. taxation, a summary of the latest available Federal budget, and general tax rules and instructions for preparing income tax returns. Students will learn how to file a Form 1040A and a simple Form 1040 with itemized deductions, and are introduced to other schedules that might accompany Form 1040. A farm supplement is to be introduced. For further information concerning the course contact either Dr. James K. Fritze or Susan Richardson at 552-6291.

Wildflower Calendar Available

A wildflower poster calendar which lives long after the year is exhausted is now in its seventh edition and is growing in popularity each season.

The calendar's increasing popularity is a good thing for the originator-Carroll Abbott of Kerrville, the state's only fulltime wildflower seed and plant collector.

Sales of the calendars help fund Abbott's crusade to save the native plants of Texas by getting folks to grow wildflowers in their homescapes, in city and state parks and on school grounds.

The big calendar measures nearly two by three feet in full color and is bordered with 22 individual portraits of the most popular Texas wildflowers. A tranquil landscape with windmill and country cabin decorates the center.

The "Beautiful, Beautiful Texas" calendar never dies, Abbott says, because the individual portraits are useful later for framing and decoupage work. And the centerpiece often is laminated between plastic sheets for a place mat.

The calendar also serves as an educational tool. An accurate description is given for each plant, along with its botanical name. Many teachers use it as a classroom aid.

The calendar is available by mail for $3.90 each, which includes sales tax and postage, from Green Horizons, 500 Thompson, Kerrville Tx 78028.

Grain Embargo Injects Uncertainty Into Market

The U.S. embargo of grain shipments to the Soviet Union injects a major new element of uncertainty into the grain market, say two economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"The added uncertainty injected into the grain market is of both a short and long-run nature," point out Dr. Ron Knutson, an economist in marketing and policy, and Dr. Roland Smith, a grain marketing specialist. Although immediate price impacts may be larger until the grain market stabilizes, Knutson and Smith expect the price of wheat and feedgrains over the next year to be 10 to 15 percent lower than it would have been if the embargo had not been imposed.

"Russian purchases in the 1979 market year were expected to total 18 million metric tons of feedgrains and 7 million tons of wheat," note the economists. "This represents 12 percent of the U.S. wheat production and 8 percent of the feedgrain production. Russia had been expected to purchase about 18 percent of U.S. wheat exports and 25 percent of feedgrain exports."

As a result of the embargo, U.S. grain exports to the Soviet Union will be limited to 8 million metric tons, with the mix expected to be 3 million tons of wheat and 5 million tons of feedgrains. "This represents about a 6 percent reduction in both the total demand for wheat and in the total projected use of feedgrains," point out Knutson and Smith. "The projected price impact will be greater than the percentage decline in demand due to the inelastic nature of the demand for grains."

The economists say the embargo also will likely have an adverse longer-term impact on Soviet demand for grain. "Indications are that the Soviet Union has, to a large extent, based expanded livestock and poultry production on the ability to import U.S.

feedgrains and oilseeds," note Knutson and Smith. "The embargo, combined with strained U.S.-Soviet relations, has to result in a reconsideration of this policy within the Soviet Union. Russian dependence on the U.S. as a source of supply is likely to decline."

"The embargo also is likely to cause U.S. grain producers to reconsider their apparent support for using grain as a tool of international diplomacy. Producers will now realize that effective use of food as a diplomatic tool requires a periodic destabilizing effect of the grain market which lowers price and increases uncertainty."

Knutson and Smith believe the Carter Administration likely will soon announce plans to soften the embargo's impact on farm prices. However, they do not expect actions taken by the President to lessen the impact on grain prices to be fully effective in protecting producers. Possible actions include increased government purchases of grain, larger foreign-aid grain shipments, expansion of the farmer-held grain reserve program, and increased ethanol production.

"There is no government option substitute for commercial grain sales to the Soviet Union," contend the economists. "Increased reserves are not sales, foreign-aid frequently competes with commercial exports, and ethanol production capacity is limited in the short run until new plants begin operating."

However, lower grain prices will increase the economic feasibility of alcohol production from grain and could encourage more domestic use of feedgrains in livestock rations, note Knutson and Smith. More favorable feeding margins than earlier expected could result in cattle feeders being able to pay more for feeder cattle in the near term.

DEDICATION

Haskell Volunteer Fire Department Chief Tom Watson addresses about 300 persons during dedication ceremonies at the new fire station last Sunday. Following the dedication ceremonies, the guests toured the new station and were served refreshments by members of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Lineman Wins Grid Award

The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce has named a 250-pound defensive tackle from Gregory-Portland as Texas' outstanding high school football player of 1979.

Tommy Robison becomes the first defensive lineman to win the award in the 18 years the award has been presented and only the second player not a quarterback or running back.

The only other lineman to be recognized was offensive end Richard Osborn of San Antonio Lee, who later played for Texas A&M.

Robison was a three-year starter at Gregory-Portland, which had a record of 32-2-1 in that period. Earlier, he was named to the Parade Magazine all America high school team. Robison made the all-state team last year as a junior and is expected to repeat.

"Tommy may be the best high school player in the nation," said his coach, Ray Akins.

"He is being flooded with college offers from coast to coast. Some days it looks like a college coaches' convention around here. There are two coaches from Notre Dame here right now," added Akins, father of former University of Texas quarterback Marty Akins.

With a scholastic average of 87, Robison ranks 44th in his senior class of 250. He said he is planning to play college football in Texas, but said he has not yet decided where.

Among past honorees of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce awards are two Heisman Trophy winners, Earl Campbell of Tyler won in 1973 and Billy Sims of Hooks won in 1974. Last year's winner was Eric Dickerson of Sealy.

New Grain Reserve Program

In a move to offset the potential impact on farm prices and income, the United States Department of Agriculture is announcing, through local ASCS Offices, a new reserve program with increased loan rates.

Glenn R. Brozowski, CED, Haskell County ASCS, has released the following new rates for Haskell County: Wheat-$2.52; Corn-$2.24; Barley-$1.73; Oats-$1.23; and Grain Sorghum-$3.64.

Immediate entry into the reserve program will be possible. In an effort to contact all eligible producers the local ASCS office is making as many telephone calls as possible.

If you have not received a call, the County Office asks that you contact them. Come by or call 864-2617.

Funny or Unfunny

A family of Vietnamese refugees is being evicted from a federally subsidized Chicago apartment because of an absurd HUD regulation requiring that every child have his own bedroom in federally supported housing.

Nghi Hoang, his wife and their eight children had been making do with a three-bedroom flat in a low-rent housing project while looking for a bigger apartment. Then HUD changed its rules to require a bedroom for the parents and one for each child in buildings that it helps subsidize through mortgage guarantees.

The building manager decided that finding a nine-bedroom apartment for the Hoangs was hopeless and ordered them out. (submitted by Andrew Ervin)

Leisure Lodge News

Many times the administration thanks the different Church groups for coming out and ministering to our residents. This week we went around to the different residents to ask them to express their thanks. Before we write them down we must say this time we had more response than any other topic we have asked them about. We hope this will encourage the many people from the churches who are so faithful in coming every week.

"I can't get enough of church, I don't go as I should sometimes because I am sick sometimes. I really like all the singing groups. I go to all of them. There are good people in all the groups that come out and I appreciate them because most of us can't go to church and we have to have them come to us. Some may not care, but I do. I think all the services are nice. Sometimes I don't feel well and different ones come to see me which means a lot to me." Mrs. Maude Jones.

"I don't think we could have too much. I enjoy the singing and the church services. I am very partial to the Sweet Home Singers. They are the best group of singers I have ever heard sing. They also have a leader, 'Cutter' Boles, that is one of the best. It's wonderful to have that much entertainment for us. It really lifts our spirits." Mrs. Eva White.

"I have no complaints. I really enjoy all of them." Edith McDaniels.

"I like hearing the Church of Christ people coming. They come after me every Sunday for Church and I really appreciate them." Gussie Stone.

"I think it is nice that the churches come. I don't go out everytime because of my eyes, but I don't think there's too much. It's just right." Ivy Massie.

"There can't be too much worship. It's nice the churches come out and I enjoy them very much. There's nothing I like better than good gospel preaching and gospel singing." Florene Sorrells.

"I enjoy all the devotions. Sometimes I get busy and don't sit through a service, but I hear them from my room and I enjoy the singers and the little devotions. I feel you can't have too much entertainment and have the different churches come out is the best kind of entertainment you can have. If we had one service everyday it would be all right. The residents here don't get out as much as some can and so we need the church to come to us." Mary Ray.

"I really like the services during the week. Not just some of them but all of them. There's no group I like better than others. I like them all." W.O. Lewis.

"I appreciate all the services. Brother Putnam presents messages differently than Brother Williams of Rule, which I really like because all the different groups during the week gives us a variety and balance you can't get at other places." Kathryn Mitchell.

"I like the singing and the devotions. The songs make me happy and keep me happy. I like singing in the morning and singing in the evening. If the television is playing or I'm asleep when you come wake me up and I'll hear some more." Eron Boykin.

"I like all the church services. During the time of my husband's illness the church services helped me along. I like all the groups and especially when my church comes out and sees me it means a lot because I can't go to them." Ola Mae Smith.

"I love the churches coming out. If I didn't I wouldn't go to them. I like the singing and preachin' getting a blessing out of all of them." Pearl Lackey.

"Church is church to me no matter where I am. I like it. I've never lost my love for the church. I like the singing a whole lot." Agnes Schmidt.

"I feel that the services are great. Whenever I'm able to go I go and love it all. I like a preacher who preaches out of the Bible and not out of some book. The church is the backbone of America, teaching the young and old right from wrong. If we didn't have the church we would have no guidance." Albert Schmidt.

"I like all the church services." Ester King.

"I don't get to go very much, but I enjoy the services when I can attend especially the Methodist Church which I am a member. I enjoy the church coming to me because I am afraid of falling if I go out." Mary McIver.

"I go to any church service, just so long as you hear God's Word that's all that matters. I enjoy them all and I could sit up all night long if there's singing." Dora Long.

"I like all the services. I like hearing the Church of Christ. We can never get too much church. I find that I need my spiritual strength more and more as I grow older." Ned West.

"I get as much out of the services here as I do going to a big church building." Clonie Tarpley.

"I think it is great the church people come out. I really enjoy it." Florence Fly.

"I like the singing and clapping of the hands, and when my 'preacher man' comes out to see me." Emmie Trussel.

"I enjoy the singing. I always enjoy going to hear the church services." Molly Jarred.

"We don't have enough church services. I attend every one of them and I enjoy every minute of it. When people say they get too much church they don't know the meaning of church." Dee Phillips.

"When I can go I enjoy all the services. I grew up in church and I loved it. My granddad was an old-time preacher. Now that I'm older you can't beat the church. The life I live now must give proof of the faith I had as a younger person. I love all the good people who come out." J.L. Phillips.

Manage Credit Card Usage

Cut credit-card costs and maximize spending power by managing credit-card use in three specific ways.

Efficient credit-card use depends on payment methods, date of purchases and number of different cards used.

PAYMENT METHODS

When possible, always pay the full amount due rather than the minimum—this will mean no finance charges added to the bill.

Also, extend credit by waiting to pay a bill until just before the due date—but be sure to allow enough time for the post office to deliver the payment and for the company to process it.

Generally, consumers have 20-30 days after the closing date to pay a bill.

DATE OF PURCHASES

Plan purchases according to the closing date on an account.

Make purchases just after the closing date to extend the time between purchases and payment.

Also, if it will be a "must" to pay a finance charge computed under the average-daily-balance method, try to plan purchases to lessen the number of days any purchase is on account.

NUMBER OF CARDS

Lumping purchases onto one card can save money on postage and make record keeping easier.

Also, if a card holder has a higher credit limit on one account—for example $800—it is more economical to charge all purchases on that account.

Since most credit cards have a breakpoint of $500 at which interest becomes lower, any amount over the $500 would be charged a lower rate of interest than if a total $800 worth of purchases were spread among several cards.

Carrol Macon Receives Award

The following citation was handed to Carrol Macon at the Company Christmas Party of Datum Structures Engineering Incorporated of Dallas.

"Dear Carrol: This year we have a Special Award for a very special person who is special in every way. He is a leader in every respect, professionally and morally. It is impossible to conceive of this last year without his special services.

We will call this the "Special Award for Special People." If we ever have any more special people like this special person we will present the Special Award for Special People again.

This award, which includes a $100.00 bonus, goes to that special person, Carrol Macon. Thanks, Carrol, for your special help.

Best Wishes
Thomas Taylor
President"

Carrol is a production manager working with other "Engineering Technicians" producing structural working drawings. These drawings can be used by contractors for building buildings of all sizes and complexities from single story Savings and Loan buildings to high-rise skyscrapers. They may be used for vast airport complexes, road and bridge modifications.

He also received the $500 bonus which all of the employees received.

His wife, Phyllis, has been working as a Docket Clerk in Sarah T. Hughes' office until recently. She has been promoted to Legal Secretary to the new Federal Judge, Judge Barefoot Sanders who has offices in the Federal Building in Dallas.

Carrol and Phyllis live in Mesquite.

Church Of God Sets Movie

The motion picture, "The Cross and the Switchblade" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. on January 19 at the First Assembly of God Church located at North Ave E in Haskell. There is no admission charge.

This full color one hour and forty-five minute motion picture has been acclaimed as the finest Christian film ever produced in America. This revealing story of drug addicts and their problems in New York City will long be remembered.

David Wilkerson, a gang preacher who wrote the best selling book, The Cross and the Switchblade, which has sold over 16 million copies around the world, is played by Pat Boone. The portrayal of David Wilkerson in the movie is an unforgettable experience.

Isreal, Nicky Cruz, and the Mau-Mau gang members tell of a lost generation of youth in the ghetto. One man armed with the Bible and a message of love, conquers this lost generation. His story, sharing love with mainline addicts, delinquents, and gang members is a thrilling true-to-life example of the power of Christ to heal broken hearts.

Don't miss this full length motion picture now in your area. Pastor J.C. Amburn gives the public a cordial invitation to attend.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor, 1980 is an election year. Candidates for office will be seeking our votes. Before we commit ourselves to any candidate, we should have answers to the following questions.

1. What is the value of prayer to the American people today?
2. Are the people responsible for our leaders' actions against the civilians of other countries, and for actions denying rights and privileges to persons in this country?

We should have the candidates' answers to these questions so that we can live our faith, practice our faith and vote our faith in this country. Sincerely, David Ames

TIME WAS WHEN YOUR ELECTRIC BILL PROBABLY WAS "JUST ANOTHER ITEM" IN THE FAMILY BUDGET. YOU KNEW FROM THE YEAR BEFORE ABOUT WHAT TO EXPECT. REGRETFULLY, THIS IS NO LONGER TRUE. AS THE COSTS OF PRODUCING AND SUPPLYING ELECTRICITY HAVE GONE UP, WTU HAS HAD NO CHOICE BUT TO PASS ON FUEL COST INCREASES THROUGH FUEL CLAUSE ADJUSTMENTS ON YOUR BILL. THE ELECTRIC BILL HAS BECOME A LARGE ITEM IN YOUR FAMILY BUDGET. YOU AND EACH MEMBER OF YOUR FAMILY ARE IMPORTANT PARTS OF YOUR ELECTRIC BILL. HOW YOU USE APPLIANCES AND EQUIPMENT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE IN THE AMOUNTS OF YOUR BILLS. MAKE A FAMILY PROJECT OF KEEPING THE HEATING THERMOSTAT SET AT 68° IN THE WINTER. OPERATE THE CLOTHES WASHER, DRYER AND DISHWASHER ONLY WITH FULL LOADS. TURN THE TELEVISION OFF WHEN YOU LEAVE IT. AND CHECK AROUND THE HOUSE FOR OTHER ENERGY-SAVING, DOLLAR-SAVING MEASURES. WTU IS WORKING TO ASSURE AN ADEQUATE SUPPLY OF ELECTRIC POWER FOR ALL OF ITS CUSTOMERS AND TO HELP THEM GET THE MOST VALUE FOR THEIR ELECTRIC DOLLARS.
