

School Vandalism Totals About $5,000<sup>00</sup>

A serious vandalism incident Monday night was the fourth such event this school year according to local school officials.

In addition to physical damage several items were also stolen.

Local teachers were in Abilene Tuesday attending a teachers meeting and complete reports of missing items were not available Tuesday.

Officials estimate property damage, cost of repairs and known missing equipment at about $5,000.00, but add that when all teachers inspect their classrooms the total may change.

The vandals apparently entered the high school building through a window in the typing room and they proceeded to break windows and damage property throughout the high school and junior high buildings.

Most of the damage was to windows in doors and plate glass. A total of about twenty windows were broken including one large plate glass window near the entrance to the principal's office. The cost of the glass is almost $150.00 not including installation.

Other damage, which greatly increased the cost of the incident, occurred to four typewriters. The typewriters were damaged beyond repair and included one almost new typewriter which cost about $700.00.

Also damaged were several other office machines and several telephones.

Small amounts of money was taken from several sources and almost all desks in classrooms were searched.

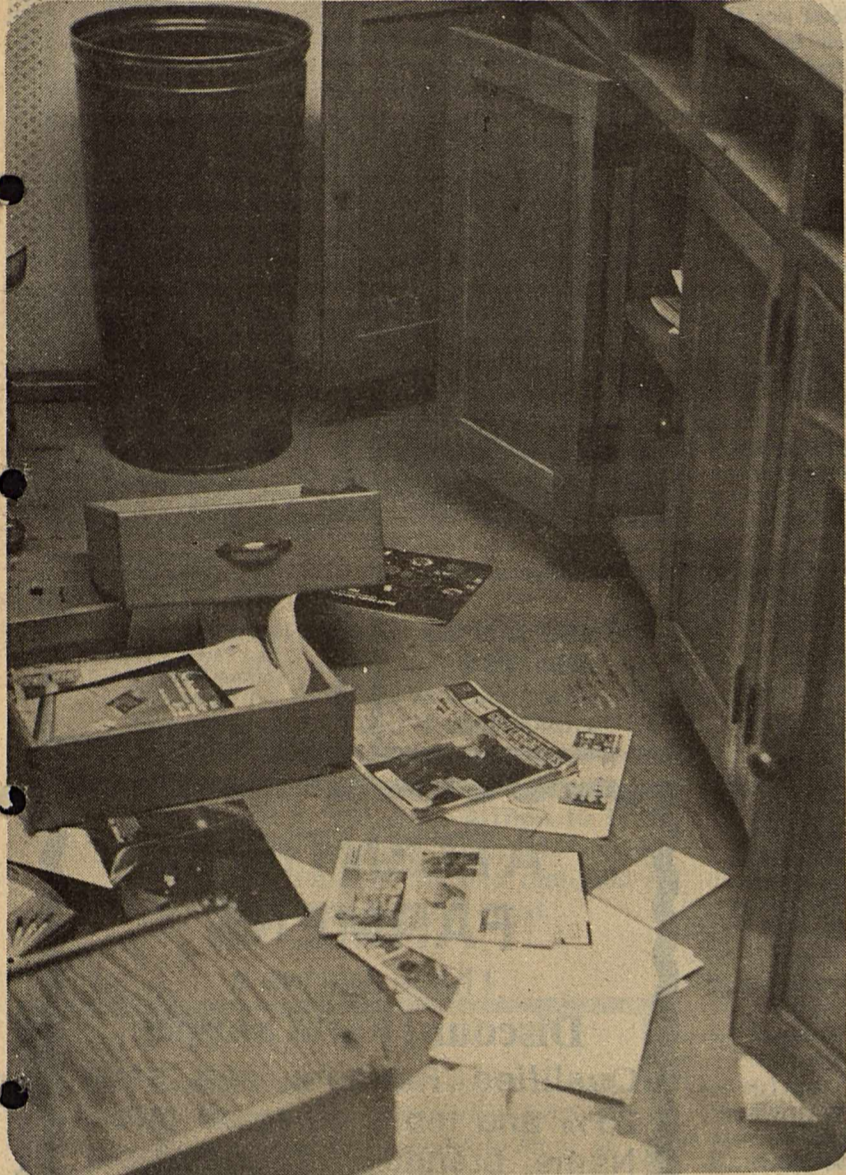

School officials reported that during the last school year a total of 11 vandalism incidents occurred and that this was the fourth of this school year.

Some of the incidents were limited to damage which could be repaired with only labor or with very little costs.

The incident this week is by far the most expensive and is the first incident in which anything was stolen.

School officials are asking the help of all local citizens in apprehending those guilty of this offense and at the same time request assistance in watching school property to prevent further damage.

Anyone with any information concerning the incident is asked to contact the school administration office, sheriff's office, city police department, or District Attorney's office.

VANDALISM

Included in vandalism at the Haskell Junior High and High School building Monday night was this mess left in the High School principal's office. In addition to the mess, the vandals broke about twenty windows, most of which were in classroom doors, destroyed two telephones, five typewriters, and several other office machines. Pictured right is a typewriter in the principal's office which was damaged beyond repair. Cost of replacement of the typewriter is approximately $700.00.

Track Team Finishes Second

After three weeks of training, the Haskell High boys track team gave a strong showing at their first meet held in Wichita Falls on Friday. The team, which has only lost two of last year's members, walked away from the meet as over-all Runner Up with 105 points.

In the Sprint Relay, Joe Benavides, Johnnie Hise, Joe Wilfong and Monnie Hise came up in third place with the Mile Relay team composed of Joe Benavides, Joe Wilfong, Kerry Therwhanger and Joseph Browning taking the second place ribbon.

Joseph Browning snatched two firsts and Kerry Therwhanger two third place honors for the 120 High Hurdles and 330 Intermediate Hurdles competition.

Running away with first in the 880 Dash was Cary Hannsz with third place for that event going to Joe Ortiz. In the 440 Dash Joe Benavides placed third with Joe Wilfong following with a fifth. In the Mile Run Will Pace placed with a fourth.

The team's Jim Harris, who went to State Competition last year in the Pole Vault, took third place in the Wichita Falls meet with Kirk Flippin also vaulting for sixth. In the High Jump Joseph Browning came back with a fourth and Johnnie Hise was next with a fifth.

Placing fourth in Discus was Jeff Hatfield.

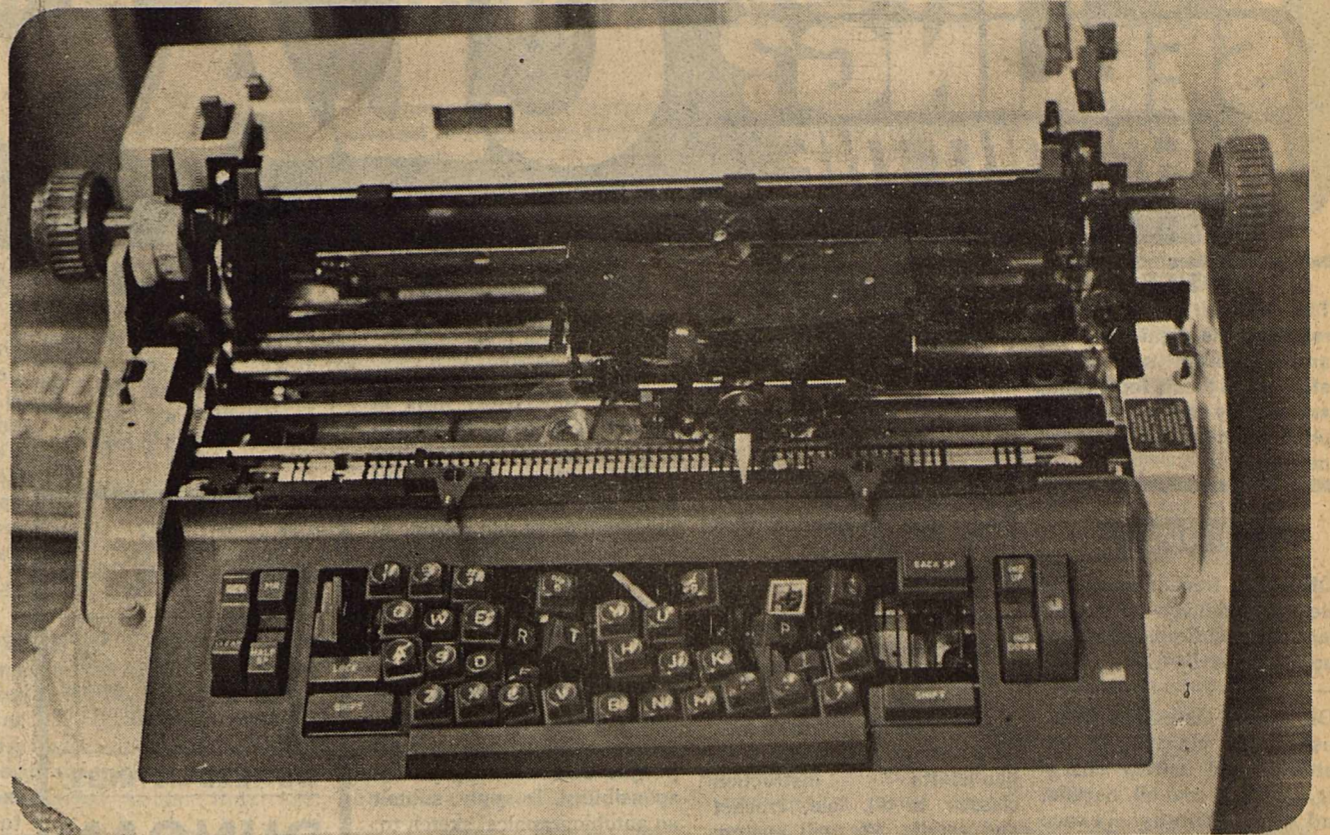

Commenting on this year's team, Coach Baldwin said he feels the team needs more depth, but he is optimistic about the team's overall performance.

Rock N' Rollers Earn Money For American Heart Assn.

Rock n' roll was given a new meaning Saturday at Leisure Lodge when residents joined in a jamboree to help raise funds for the American Heart Association. With every rocking chair occupied and the halls alive with "walkers and rollers" participants earned donations from sponsors throughout the six hour jamboree.

Residents were so delighted with the entertainment that the band agreed to make a monthly appearance at Leisure Lodge.

Outstanding Rock n' Rollers were Mr. W. O. Lewis and Mrs. Dora Long. Mr. Lewis had the top number of sponsors and Mrs. Long was able to rock the whole six hours breaking only for supper.

"The residents really loved it," said Mrs. Lorene Beason, director of the home. "They feel like so much of the time others are doing things for them and this gave them an opportunity to give something back." Mrs. Beason added that since several at Leisure Lodge are heart patients themselves, they were eager to help raise money for the Heart Association.

Men Squawk About Women's Draft

By Gina Jennings

It never happens exactly like this in the movies. They stare long and lovingly into each other's eyes. Just before the train heaves out of the station, the soldier gives her mate one passionate farewell kiss. Wrenching herself from his arms at the last possible moment, she leaps to the steps of the train as it grinds and squeals out of the station. As the painful distance increases, she strains for one last look at her husband standing on the platform, dabbing his eyes with his handkerchief, a baby in one arm and a whining child tugging at the knee of his trousers. Still, she is a brave soldier. Brushing aside the tender pain of parting, she doesn't look back but resolves to serve the Country that needs her.

Certainly no seasoned mother could fail to be enchanted with such a scene. But she is alone in her appreciation. Calls of distress are rising throughout the nation.

Most men are alarmed at the prospect of their wives being forced to leave hearth and home for bunk and barrack. Single and childless women are joining anti-draft demonstrations, appalled at the thought of their hitherto unblighted E.R.A.-guaranteed futures being marred by Uncle Sam's demands.

Yet one segment of the populous remains mysteriously silent during all the fuss. The young "Mothers of America" themselves have not united against the threat of compulsory military service. Could it be that they are not alarmed? Could it even be that somewhere, deep in their maternal souls, they are delighted at this potential reversal of traditional American roles?

These mothers are not naive. They know that doing a stretch in boot camp has its rigours. They also know that it is three meals a day (cooked by somebody else), an uninterrupted night's sleep (it is unlikely that her bunk-buddies will wake her with requests for drinks of water or demand an escort to the bathroom in the middle of the night), and waking up to only one unmade bed.

There is no challenge which the army can fling in the face of a typical mother which she has not already met and conquered in domestic life. A simple run through an obstacle course is no threat to a woman who has often done as much through her own living-room. Slogging wasit-deep through a swamp does not intimidate someone who's faced unflinchingly the murky waters of a week-old diaper pail.

No combat exercise can daunt the brave feminine warrior who has battled the market throngs on double stamp day. And no barracks inspection, however stringent it may be, can cause a woman to quaver when she's already faced innumerable "just thought I'd drop by" visits from a leering mother-in-law.

The reason for her silence is that there is nothing a woman's country can ask of her that has not already been required by her family. And her star-spangled Uncle is willing to give what her husband never does—a paycheck. Short of actual mortal combat, the lady has nothing to fear.

Most of the squawks about the problems of sexual discrimination which would be posed by the conscription of women are being made by men. Husbands and fathers are wringing their hands and trying to reassure each other that Congress will never approve this preposterous proposal.

These are not men who are wary of the problems that must be faced by such a drastic structural change in the armed services...not men who are jealously guarding the structure of the American home...not even men who believe that women are unable to cope with the demands of military life...

No. These agonized cries are coming from big, strong men who are absolutely terrified of being left alone for two years with the kids. All the while, their wives are smiling demurely...and saying nothing.

McAdams, Stovall Married In Katy

Susan Gail Stovall and Gary Lynn McAdams of Abilene were united in marriage Jan. 5 in Katy First Baptist Church. The Rev. C.T. Jackson of Haskell, retired Methodist minister and grandfather of the groom, assisted the Rev. Robert K. Skomp, pastor of the First Christian Church in Baytown, in performing the ceremony.

Parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Stovall of Katy and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy G. McAdams of Haskell.

Providing the nuptial organ music was Mrs. Ethel Busch of Baytown. To their own guitar accompaniment, Michael and Mitchell Fralick sang the wedding songs.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and re-embroidered Chantilly lace and pearls. The lace bodice featured a V-neck and bishop sleeves cuffed in lace and tiny buttons. The front of the overlay, A-line, lace edged skirt was scattered with medallions of lace, flowing into a lace edged chapel train.

The bride chose a matching lace Juliette cap with a fingertip veil of illusion edged in Chantilly lace. She carried a traditional cascade bouquet of sonya roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and English ivy. Melissa Ann Thompson, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Tracey Gallager of Dumas; Christie Love, sister of the groom, of Crystal City; Meridyth Girndty; Jackie Dearing of Houston and Kim Clanton, the groom's cousin, of Cohoma.

The attendants wore beige silk blouses with lace yokes, tied at the neck with a bow and brown moire taffeta skirts. They carried colonial nosegays of carnations, sonya roses, white starburst mums and baby's breath accented with greenery, outlined with beige lace. They wore fresh flowers in their hair.

Flower girl Paula Kay Clanton of Cohoma, cousin of the groom, wore fresh flowers in her hair matching the basket of flowers she was carrying. Mark McAdams served as ring bearer for the ceremony.

Thomas McAdams of Haskell served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Mark Money of Abilene; Cris Love, brother-in-law of the groom, of Crystal City; Doug Hanson, the groom's cousin; Dwayne Stovall, brother of the bride and Robert McAdams of Haskell, brother of the groom, was junior groomsman.

Mrs. Stovall wore a long sleeved ivory silk blouse and a brown silk waltz length skirt. Mrs. McAdams wore a long face patchwork skirt with a brown blouse and ivory lace jacket.

The reception, immediately following the ceremony, was in the church Fellowship Hall. The bride's table, covered with beige Belgium lace, held the tiered wedding cake that surrounded a miniature water fountain. Fruit punch was served from a silver service and a punch fountain on a separate lace covered round table.

The groom's table was appointed with a silver coffee service and a chocolate cake circled with fresh flowers and greenery in which small wood carpenter tools were nestled.

Arrangements of sonya carnations, roses, starburst poms and greenery were used throughout the reception area.

Members of the house party were Sharon Wachel, Cindy Coffey, Laura Dolen, Cindy Bartlett; Javona Jordon of Baytown; Linna Merritt of San Antonio and Stephanie Couner of Houston.

The bride is a sophomore physical education major at McMurry College in Abilene where she is a cheerleader, a member of the band and choir and is social chairman of Delta Beta Epsilon.

The groom is a sophomore business major at McMurry and works for Abilene Portable Buildings.

For their wedding trip to Houston and San Antonio, the bride wore a white dress with a brown suede jacket with brown accessories. Her corsage was of sonya roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdams are living in Abilene.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Stovall III of New London; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ayers of Scurry; Mr. and Mrs. John Farquhar of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hempill, Mrs. Lucretia Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kimmons, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Files, Dr. and Mrs. James Moore, all of Baytown; Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Thompson of Refugio; Mr. and Mrs. Guinette Gibbs and family of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Clanton of Cohoma; Mrs. Claudia Thompson, the bride's grandmother, of Corpus Christi; and the Rev. and Mrs. C.T. Jackson of Haskell, grandparents of the groom.

Extension Homemakers Discuss Projects

The Haskell County Extension Homemakers met at 2:00 p.m. on February 13 in the County Extension Office kitchen. Fourteen members and the Home Economics Agent were present.

Mrs. Paul Fischer, president, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Burl Medford, Mrs. M.E. Overton, and Mrs. Paul Fischer each read a thought provoking poem to the Council.

Mrs. Tom Yates called the roll after which she read the minutes of the January meeting.

The minutes were approved as read.

Mrs. Eldon Anderson reported that there was a balance of $1,578.55 in the bank.

Since the Paint Creek Club had not had their monthly meeting, the Recommendations could not be acted on. This will be done at the March Council Meeting. Weinert and Josslet clubs reported their desired changes to the Recommendations. Weinert felt it would be best to change the month from September to October under number 1 following Club in the Program Committee's Recommendation. The Josslet Club suggested that the Council not sponsor another county cookbook.

Mrs. Floyd McGuire announced that the Josslet Club will be hostess for March.

The Council decided to leave the decision about the County 4-H Food Show Awards to the Agent. It was suggested that cookbooks be purchased.

Mrs. Adell Thomas reported that the TEHA training meeting had been rescheduled for February 25.

The Agent reported that the District Meeting will be April 17 in Seymour. Delegates and Alternates names must be finalized at the March Council Meeting. The Agent also asked for volunteers to help tally scores at the County Food Show. Mrs. Eldon Anderson, Mrs. Adell Thomas, and Mrs. Tom Yates graciously volunteered to help out.

The unfinished business was taken care of next. The Valentine party was briefly discussed and the scholarship applications were discussed.

There was no new business. Mrs. Carl Bailey gave the summarizer's report after which the meeting was adjourned.

Paint Creek members served refreshments from a Valentine decorated table.

Study Club Treats Husbands

The Progressive Study Club members treated their husbands to dinner and entertainment at their last meeting. The yearbook committee with Mrs. Virgil Cobb as chairman hosted the evening.

The committee used blue bandana print cloths on the serving tables accented with wrought iron votive lamps as decorations. A barbecue dinner was served, further carrying out a country-western theme.

"Interlude," a group of students from Abilene Christian High School provided the entertainment. The music they played ranged from "oldies but goodies" with audience participation to more recent hits to country-western. A very enjoyable evening!

E. C. C. Program Serves 106 People

By Marsha Whittemore
We are in the second week of our new program and are very proud to report we served 106 persons on our first three serving days.

The meals were prepared at the kitchen in the Carrol Building; brought to the center and served. Everyone worked smoothly and we enjoyed it immensely.

Many saw old friends, then met new ones. It was once said, "Strangers are only friends we've yet to meet." They were right and the ones we served this week were very wonderful friends.

Our nutrition program is open to all who are 60 years of age or over, and their spouses regardless of age. You are welcome if you drive a buggy or a gold Mark IV. The purpose of this project is to offer Nutrition balanced meals for better health, physical and mental. When we have not eaten the proper foods, it takes its toll on our bodies as well as our minds.

The meals are served Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Please call 864-3875 before each serving day or by 9:30 a.m. so that you may turn in your reservation. Contributions to cover cost of the meal are invited and are accepted in confidential manner. However, persons who are unable to contribute should feel free to participate in all areas of the program. Contributions will be returned to the Nutrition Project to cover the cost of meals above the level of Federal funding. A charge of $2.00 per meal will be made to guests under 60 years of age.

If transportation to the Center is needed, or for further information dial 864-3875.

Our Menu for the coming week are:

Cinnamon Coffe Cake

By Sonja Tidrow

4 to 4½ cups all purpose flour
1/3 C. sugar
2 tsp. salt
1 C. milk
½ C. margarine
2 eggs
¼ C. margarine, melted
1 C. sugar
1 C. chopped nuts
2 tsp. cinnamon

In large mixer bowl, combine 1½ cups flour, sugar, salt and dry yeast. In saucepan, heat milk and margarine until milk is warm. (Butter does not need to melt.) Add eggs and warm milk to flour mixture. Blend at lowest speed until moistened; beat 3 minutes at medium speed. By hand, stir in remaining flour to form a stiff dough. Knead on floured board until smooth and elastic, 2 to 3 minutes. Place in a greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover: let rise in warm place until light and doubled in size, about one hour.

Punch down dough; divide in half. Roll out each half on floured board to a 10" X 15" rectangle. Brush each with butter, sprinkle with mixture of sugar, nuts and cinnamon. Roll each up, jelly-roll fashion, starting with 15-inch side. Place each, seam-side up, on greased cookie sheet. Fold half the roll over on top of other half, sealing ends together. Starting at folded end, cut with scissors down center of roll to within 1 inch of other end. Turn the cut halves out, cut-side up, to form a heart or cut slits 1 inch apart and form into a circle, or form loaf and place in loaf pan. Cover; let rise in warm place until light and doubled in size, about 1 hour. Bake at 350° for 18 to 20 minutes until golden brown. Yield 2 coffe cakes

Alternative 2: Defer plant and equipment additions

We've already done that...or as much as we possibly could. Texas has been experiencing unprecedented growth and that's nice, because growth is healthy. The trouble is we have had to spend (and borrow) unprecedented amounts of money (at unprecedented interest rates) to provide the facilities to meet that growth. And the dollars we spent in 1979 and will spend in 1980 don't buy as much as they used to. They don't even buy as much as they did the last time we had increases in rates - 1976. We've had customers tell us, "Look, my service is fine. Let it stay the same until 1999, just leave the rates alone." Sounds great, but it's not that simple. Even if it were possible, we'd still be spending millions each year just to maintain what's out there now. Practically speaking, however, we can't stand still. The rules under which we operate say we must meet all reasonable service requests in a timely manner. Telephone equipment is complex and it can't be put in overnight. With the way Texas has been growing and the way inflation is rampaging, some days it seems as though it will take all the running we can do and all the dollars we have just to stay in the same place. The engineering and construction work we do (and pay for) today determines the quality and quantity of service tomorrow.

Alternative 3: Let our shareowners' investment deteriorate

Everyone loves this answer...except the shareowners...and they may be you directly, or indirectly, if you have a pension plan, life insurance or own mutual fund shares. Realistically, however, shareowners have to earn a reasonable return on their investment. Otherwise, they don't invest. Would you? It was yesterday's investment money which bought the equipment serving you today and today's investment money is needed to buy the equipment to serve you tomorrow.

Alternative 4: Ask our employees to give up justified wage increases

Our employees are skilled and dedicated and we need them. To cut costs by denying them justified increases would be counterproductive. We must pay competitive wages and benefits to attract and hold employees with the skills and productivity we need. As Texas grows, we'll need even more. If we lose or can't find quality employees, your service could suffer.

So what's left?

That's pretty obvious: a rate increase. But it won't happen right away. It's not that simple and it isn't automatic. Most businesses, if their costs go up, simply raise their prices or drop the service. We are a regulated utility and even when we aren't receiving enough money for service, we must continue providing it and keep on doing so until we can

Alternative 1: Downgrade customer service

You expect phones to work as close to 100 percent of the time as is possible and when phone service is out, you want it fixed. Fast. We agree. And you don't want to wait to get service to begin with, no matter how fast Texas grows. We also agree. Therefore, we can't let service deteriorate simply because costs of providing it increase. In fact, from our point of view, service in some spots could stand improving...and we ought to know: we've been in this business a long time. But improvements cost money.

Alternative 2: Defer plant and equipment additions

We've already done that...or as much as we possibly could. Texas has been experiencing unprecedented growth and that's nice, because growth is healthy. The trouble is we have had to spend (and borrow) unprecedented amounts of money (at unprecedented interest rates) to provide the facilities to meet that growth. Realistically, however, shareowners have to earn a reasonable return on their investment. Otherwise, they don't invest. Would you? It was yesterday's investment money which bought the equipment serving you today and today's investment money is needed to buy the equipment to serve you tomorrow.

Alternative 4: Ask our employees to give up justified wage increases

Our employees are skilled and dedicated and we need them. To cut costs by denying them justified increases would be counterproductive. We must pay competitive wages and benefits to attract and hold employees with the skills and productivity we need. As Texas grows, we'll need even more. If we lose or can't find quality employees, your service could suffer.

So what's left?

That's pretty obvious: a rate increase. But it won't happen right away. It's not that simple and it isn't automatic. Most businesses, if their costs go up, simply raise their prices or drop the service. We are a regulated utility and even when we aren't receiving enough money for service, we must continue providing it and keep on doing so until we can

Alternative 1: Downgrade customer service

You expect phones to work as close to 100 percent of the time as is possible and when phone service is out, you want it fixed. Fast. We agree. And you don't want to wait to get service to begin with, no matter how fast Texas grows. We also agree. Therefore, we can't let service deteriorate simply because costs of providing it increase. In fact, from our point of view, service in some spots could stand improving...and we ought to know: we've been in this business a long time. But improvements cost money.

Alternative 2: Defer plant and equipment additions

We've already done that...or as much as we possibly could. Texas has been experiencing unprecedented growth and that's nice, because growth is healthy. The trouble is we have had to spend (and borrow) unprecedented amounts of money (at unprecedented interest rates) to provide the facilities to meet that growth. And the dollars we spent in 1979 and will spend in 1980 don't buy as much as they used to. They don't even buy as much as they did the last time we had increases in rates - 1976. We've had customers tell us, "Look, my service is fine. Let it stay the same until 1999, just leave the rates alone." Sounds great, but it's not that simple. Even if it were possible, we'd still be spending millions each year just to maintain what's out there now. Practically speaking, however, we can't stand still. The rules under which we operate say we must meet all reasonable service requests in a timely manner. Telephone equipment is complex and it can't be put in overnight. With the way Texas has been growing and the way inflation is rampaging, some days it seems as though it will take all the running we can do and all the dollars we have just to stay in the same place. The engineering and construction work we do (and pay for) today determines the quality and quantity of service tomorrow.

Alternative 3: Let our shareowners' investment deteriorate

Everyone loves this answer...except the shareowners...and they may be you directly, or indirectly, if you have a pension plan, life insurance or own mutual fund shares. Realistically, however, shareowners have to earn a reasonable return on their investment. Otherwise, they don't invest. Would you? # Phillip Clark Wins Title

Phillip Austin Clark, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clark of Seguin, formerly of Sagerton and Rochester, was crowned Little Seguin Junior Mister Sunday Night, February 24, in the Seguin-Guadalupe County Coliseum in Seguin.

PHILLIP AUSTIN CLARK

This was in connection with the "Miss Seguin" Pageant of Royalty, local preliminary to Miss America and Texas Junior Miss.

Phillip competed with 16 other "Junior" boys for the title. In preliminary activities, he was interviewed by the judges, modeled on stage, and participated in a group pantomime and dance of "Long, Tall, Texan."

The theme of the Junior Pageant was Cuties Going Country.

Phillip is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark of Sagerton, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hearn of Rochester. His great grandmothers are Mrs. H.C. Raphael of Stamford, Mrs. John Clark of Sagerton, and Mrs. M.M. Hearn of Rochester.

Phillip was awarded a loving cup, trophy, crown and a check for $25.00 and will be looking forward to a year of appearances in parades during 1980, and also competing in the South Texas Pageant.

CLOUDS

Clouds are always in the sky.
They are up very high.
Clouds are very light.
They are very very white.
They are lovely in their very own way.
And they are there almost every day.
By Melody Speck

THE WITCH

The witch was a very bad witch.
And she spanked good kids with her switch.
But there was a bad girl named Mandy.
The witch always gave her candy.
But there was a good witch.
And she put a spell on the bad witches' switch.
So she put a spell on Mandy.
And Mandy wouldn't take the candy.
The bad witch didn't know about the good witch.
Just then the bad witch picked up her switch.
And the switch spanked the bad witch.
By Melody Speck

THE LEAF

The leaf is very rare to see.
You always see it in the tree.
When fall comes I am sorry to say,
That all the leaves blow away.
When spring comes there's not as much on the earth's floor.
But they will be back once more.
By Melody Speck

THE FOOTBALL HERO

Tommy was our football hero,
But in school he made a big fat zero.
He got the football and made a long run,
But when it came to math he was very dumb.
They were having a test the very next day.
And when he found out he ran away.

SCHOOL

We go to school each day,
We learn to work and play.
We learn to read and write.
And never to fight.
We learn to play in the band.
And all about our land.
We learn new games.
And learn new names.
We learn to skip and run.
Oh boy school is fun.
Sorry to say,
But it's the end of the day.

Letters To The Editor

Gentlemen:
For some time I have intended writing to initiate your help to aid Haskell people while they are in Houston hospitals. I recently read in your paper that Elizabeth Cofield was in one of the hospitals here and I'd loved to have seen her. I worked for her at "Cofield's" after school and some summers while I was in high school.

I recall Edwin Jeter was in M.D. Anderson and I would have given anything to have seen him! He was my favorite bus driver as a child and Mrs. Jeter was one of my teachers.

If you could think of someone who would be responsible to advise me when someone is here and where, I would like to be of some help to them and perhaps their family. I have lived here sixteen years so I could help them get around, tell them what is available here, and maybe make them more comfortable.

If you could think of someone, or if not, perhaps an ad or an inquiry, please let me know. Thank you for your help, and I will look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Kay Wiseman Cheatham

Open House

We urge you to come to our "Open House" all day this Friday March 7th and Saturday morning March 8 at our new location at 112 N. Av E in Haskell dedicated to increased service for our clients. That's why we've planned this day to allow everyone to get acquainted with the new offices over hot coffee and refreshments. We're planning a "Good Neighbor" grand prize drawing for a beef quarter. All of our clients will automatically be registered for the drawing Saturday at noon. Others attending our open house may register as well. The winner will be officially announced in next week's paper and need not be present to win.

State Farm's "Good Neighbor" philosophy has consistently earned her top ratings in consumer and industry publications alike. But most important, State Farm's "Good Neighbor" service and "better buy" rates have made us the world's largest home insurer for seventeen years running and by far the largest car insurer since 1942. State Farm's tremendous growth in the life and health insurance market has prompted large life companies like "a piece of the rock" to imitate by entering the casualty market.

We have been honored over the last three years to represent State Farm to the people of the part of the country, and even prouder to represent the views of our clients to State Farm and the insurance industry. In planning conferences and district meetings, through your agent, your voice is heard. And since State Farm is the world's large insurer, the entire industry listens when we speak. You may remember, for example, the much publicized state-wide auto insurance rate hike that was put off back in August of '79 because of State Farm's voice at the State Board hearing. While actuaries for the Texas Automobile Insurance Services Office were calling for a 17.4 percent increase, State Farm reported that not only was there no need for an increase, but that at that time State Farm was giving premium money back to its clients as dividends on top of their 15 percent discount off the State Board rates.

State Farm offers the biggest and best the first time and everytime and you know you're not going to be juggled from one company to another.

Come in Friday or Saturday with your present policy and let us give you State Farm's benefits. Have a cup of coffee and keep the cup, and maybe even take home a beef quarter.

Older Worker Week Set March 9-15

In support of President Jimmie Carter's proclamation of March 9-15 as Older Worker Week, Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb Inc. is encouraging employers to recognize their older employees.

Green Thumb is a rural older worker employment program funded through the Department of Labor and is working to eliminate an unfounded prejudice against older workers.

"Many senior citizens have difficulty finding jobs," says David Hartwig, state director of Texas Green Thumb. "Many employers stress hiring younger workers without considering or realizing the value of older workers. We not only have our own experience to share, but studies show that older workers are more consistent in job performance than their younger counterparts. They demonstrate less absenteeism and tardiness, less job turn-over and are involved in fewer job-related accidents."

Green Thumb directly hires nearly 1,000 workers, age 55 and older, on part-time basis. These workers are placed in community jobs throughout 104 counties in Texas. Not only do these workers demonstrate their value to their own communities, but they provide services that their communities might not otherwise afford.

Green Thumb workers work as aides in libraries, museums, schools, day care centers and senior centers.

They work on crews renovating and beautifying public buildings and park facilities. They provide transportation services, telephone reassurance and outreach services. They work as clerks in city and county offices.

"Besides directly hiring low income senior citizens, we offer an incentive program to employers of both public and private sectors to hire older workers," said Hartwig. "If an older worker qualifies for our program, we will reimburse the employer fifty percent of the workers wages during a specified training period." While encouraging employers to look first at older workers, Green Thumb addresses several common myths about aging. The following statements are commonly accepted but are not true: The majority of old people are senile. Most old people are set in their ways and are unable to change. Most old people are pretty much alike.

The truth is that senility is not a natural part of aging, and only six percent of people over age 65 suffer from senile dementia. Among these many have pseudo-conditions which are reversible if treated. Examples are those with metabolic disorders, infections, cardio-vascular problems, tumors, neurological disorders, trauma and depression. The wrong combination of drugs can also result in symptoms of senility.

Old people are not set in their ways. They may become more stable in their attitudes, but older people change and adapt to many major changes such as children leaving home, widowhood, moving to new locations and serious illness.

The older people get, the less alike or more heterogeneous they become. Due to many life experiences, they are a more diverse group than any other age group. The elderly include the rich and poor, different intellectual levels, healthy, sick, happy and sad. Physically, they experience more differences because they have different ages within their bodies. That is, their organ systems degenerate at different speeds.

A major consideration is that much illness is self-generated when people don't maintain themselves. Keeping busy and healthy keeps healthcare costs down," said Hartwig. "From an economic sense, older workers are taxpayers, spenders and wage earners instead of recipients of relief programs. From just plain job sense, they have accumulated valuable experience, skills and know how."

Consistency of work output

tends to increase by age as older workers perform at steadier rates from week to week than younger workers do. Most older people want some kind of work to do. Over three-fourths of the elderly population are working or desire to do at least volunteer work.

"Wasting America's elderly is costly and creates a dim picture for every American to face. There is great value in the older worker," said Hartwig. "This Older Worker Week, we want everyone to recognize that." Green Thumb, an EEO-Affirmative Action employer carries the slogan "Ability is Ageless, Hire the Older Worker." To contact Texas Green Thumb, call the state office 817-776-4700 or write Texas Green Thumb, P.O. Box 7898, Waco, Texas 76710.

Mrs. Eula Arend has been hired as a Cook Assistant through the Green Thumb. She will be cooking with Dorothy Stout, the head cook at the Carol Building. The Experienced Citizen's Center is still looking for an outreach worker, 20 hours at $3.10 an hour. Call Marsha Whittemore 864-3875.

Cotton Classing

B.B. Manly, Area Director of the USDA Cotton Marketing Services Office in Abilene, reported that 21,000 cotton samples were classed during the week ending Friday, February the 29th. This brought the seasonal total to 881,000. An additional 180,000 samples were classed at Munday, bringing the combined total to 1,061,000 samples classed. Ginning has been completed in most of the Abilene classing territory. However, an additional 30,000 cotton samples are expected to be received mostly from Howard, Martin, Midland, Mitchell and Scurry Counties.

Local cotton prices were firm to 2 1/2 cents per pound higher early last week, and were mostly steady the rest of the week. Bid Prices ranged from 20 to 24 cents per pound over CCC loan values for base mike, white and light-spotted cotton. Low micronaire cotton sold at 7 to 20 cents per pound over the loan. The supply was light to moderate. Demand was moderate for base mike cotton, and light to moderate for low mike cotton. Demand was light to very light for spotted and tinged cotton. Trading was slow to moderate during the week. Grade 32, Staple 32 cotton miking 3.5 to 4.9 sold at 68 to 71 cents per pound.

The quality of late season Abilene cotton was slightly lower last week. Grades were 4% white, 64% light-spotted, and 30% spotted. Grade 32 comprised 34%, grade 42 comprised 26%, grade 43 comprised 14%, and grade 33 comprised 13 percent. Fiber length was 45% staple 32, and 43% staple 31. Micronaire readings were 39% within the 3.5 to 4.9 range. Sixteen percent miked from 3.3 to 3.4, 30% miked from 3.0 to 3.2, and 14% miked 2.9 or lower. Eight percent of the samples classed were reduced in grade because of bark or grass content.

VANDALISM

Included in about $5,000.00 damage to the high school and junior high school buildings Monday night was the destruction of two telephones and several mirrors. The vandals apparently broke a window in the high school typing room to gain entrance and broke about 20 windows, five typewriters, several trophies, and damaged several other items.

Home Health Care Now Available

Efforts are finally paying off and the answer to a long time problem of the elderly and disabled is about to become a reality.

The Mid-West Texas Home Health Agency is expanding its nurses' aide and homemaker service. When the personal needs of a client require more attention and assistance than the patient himself or the family can provide, help will be on it's way.

The services of a home health aide may be given under the supervision of a registered professional nurse and is reimbursable under Medicare, Medicaid, Veteran's Administration, and some private insurance.

The assignment of the home health aide to a particular case must be made in accordance with a written plan of treatment established by a physician which indicates the patient's need for personal care services. Personal care duties which may be performed by the home health aide includes assistance in the activities of daily living, e.g., helping the patient to bathe, to get in and out of bed, to care for his hair and teeth, to exercise, and to take medications specifically ordered by a physician which are ordinarily self-administered, and retaining the patient in necessary self-help to retain their independence by seeking alternatives to hospital or institutional care.

With limited in-home services, which may be provided by the home health aide and homemaker, it may be possible for the patient to remain at home. Persons over the age of 60 who are disabled are eligible to receive the other new service-Homemaker Service. Ability to pay is determined by a sliding fee scale based on income. Since the Homemaker/Home Health Aides will be people from our own community this program will also stimulate our local employment.

The following in-home quality services will be provided under the Homemaker service: personal care, meal preparation, visitation and companionship, light house-keeping, and intermittent unskilled nursing care. The Agency will now be able to closer meet the total needs of clients by not only offering skilled nursing services through the home health agency, but by now being able to provide the services of a home health aide and a homemaker.

For more information call Mid-West Texas Home Health Agency, Seymour, 888-5505 or Bertha Pelsue, Haskell, 864-2439.

Rev. LaFon To Speak At Assembly Of God

"The Andes Mountain region of Ecuador is one of the most unevangelized areas in the world. As Caleb of old when he entered the promised land of Canaan, I claim this mountain for Christ!" So stated the Reverend Ben H. LaFon, as Assemblies of God missionary to Ecuador.

Since 1975 Mr. LaFon and his wife Florine have served as missionaries to Ecuador, where they taught Bible school and assisted in church construction. Mr. LaFon chaired the Christian Education Committee for the Bible school, and served as vice-chairman and secretary-treasurer of the fellowship of Assemblies of God missionaries working in Ecuador.

Mr. LaFon will be the speaker for First Assembly of God, March 12, 13, and 14, Wed., Thurs. and Fri. at 7:30 p.m.

The LaFons were missionaries to Honduras from 1954 to 1974. Mr. LaFon was superintendent of the Assemblies of God in Honduras 2 years, Sunday school director 4 years, and helped to build several churches. He supervised construction of the Instituto Biblico Hondureno, the Assemblies of God Bible school in San Pedro Sula. Mr.

LaFon served as director of the school 11 years in addition to teaching there.

Prior to their missionary appointment, Mr. and Mrs. LaFon pastored churches in Mississippi and Texas and also taught in public schools. Mr. LaFon holds a B.S. degree from Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie, a B.A. degree from Mississippi Southern College in Hattiesburg, Miss., and an M.A. degree from North Texas State University in Denton.

During their next term of service in Ecuador the LaFons will direct and teach in the Bible school for the mountain region of Ecuador, and will also be involved in evangelistic ministry and planting new churches in that area.

Mr. LaFon will share his missionary experience in Ecuador, and will also be planning for future ministry during these special services. Color slides of the beautiful Andes Mountains and curios will also be featured. Pastor J.C. Amburn invites you to come and hear what is going on in Missions and Rev. LaFon's most capable ministry in the Word.

Spring storms that bring anxious moments to West Texas create close teamwork for Texas Tech University researchers who chase the storms to gather new information. And they invite the public to participate in their studies.

The researchers are looking for cloud, tornado and hail storm data. They seek first to understand the formation of storms better. Then they hope to formulate better safety instructions and design safer buildings for people. They are working through the Texas Tech Institute for Disaster Research (IDR).

IDR Director Joseph E. Minor said the institute seeks any tornado pictures taken by the public, wants to know about any storm damaged glass, and wants collected any large and unusual hailstones. Pictures and hailstones should be labeled with the time, date and location of the storm. Hail that is golf ball size or larger or that has spikes or some other unusual formation is of value. The hailstones should be packed separately in plastic bags and labeled and kept in a freezer until IDR members can pick them up from the collector.

Photographers and hail collectors can write or call the Institute for Disaster Research, Department of Civil Engineering, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409 (806) 742-3476 for more information.

Dr. Richard E. Peterson of the atmospheric science faculty and his graduate students are documenting the growth and maintenance of thunderstorms to learn why some become dangerous while others drop only beneficial rain.

Dr. Minor and his colleagues in civil engineering specialize in wind engineering. Their primary interest is in taking pictures of ground level wind fields as tornadoes move across the land. Working with Minor are Drs. James R. McDonald and Kishor C. Mehta.

Dr. Milton L. Smith of the industrial engineering faculty counts on chase teams as well as the public to retrieve hailstones. He studies the properties of different kinds of hailstones and their possible effects, particularly on solar collector covers. His work is supported by the Energy Foundation of Texas.

The Institute for Disaster Research has been gathering data on severe storms since its organization shortly after the 1970 Lubbock tornado, and the results of its research effort have contributed to building and safety standards nationwide.

The 1980 IDR Storm Chase organization will operate in April. Chase teams will rotate duty. Each team has a director, recorder and cameraman and is supported by a radar observer stationed at the National Weather Service office in Lubbock.

Gear for the teams includes maps and compass, CB radio and antenna, binoculars, motion picture and still cameras, stakes and ribbon for marking camera locations for future reference, tape recorders, an ice chest with numbered plastic bags in which hailstones will be stored, and hard hats and other rain and hail protective clothing.

Softball Assn. Elects Officers

The first meeting of the Haskell Softball Association was held Tuesday, February 26, to elect officers for the 1980 season and to make plans for the remodeling of the field. Sixteen team representatives met and elected Donnie Rieger as their president and Ronnie Reynolds as vice-president.

Several items were discussed, with the lighting of the field being of most importance. Suggestions were made for fund raising events to finance lights, stands, umpires et cetera along with rules and regulations for the new season.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, March 11 at 8:00 in the Community Building of the Haskell National Bank. This meeting will be held for the purpose of establishing rules and scheduling of the games. Two representatives from each of last year's teams and anyone desiring to start a new team should attend this meeting.

Funny or Unfunny

Last year, eight lame-duck congressmen gave themselves a going-away present: $53,405 worth of stamps drawn from the House postmaster's supply. This is on top of franking privileges that continue for 90 days after a congressman leaves office.

Lady: "What's his name?"

Little Boy: "We don't know. He hasn't stopped crying long enough to tell us."

At the side of the road a woman looked helplessly at a flat tire.

A passerby stopped to help her. After the tire was changed, the woman said, "Please let the jack down easy. My husband is sleeping in the back seat."
