Supporters of Haskell County Sheriff G. T. Garrett visibly displayed signs of displeasure Tuesday morning in the form of posters throughout town.

The posters attacked both District Attorney Joseph Thigpen and the Haskell Free Press.

The posters were apparently the result of the investigation of the Sheriff's Office which has been underway for the past few weeks.

At least six outside investigators have participated in the investigation. The individuals participating are professionals and their report will reveal the findings of their investigation without regard to local politics.

Both supporters and opponents of Sheriff Garrett should realize that: political back-stabbing; circulating unfounded rumors both over police radio or by posters or; urging people to cancel their subscriptions to the Haskell Free Press will not alter the findings of the investigation.

Count Down Begins For Area Crusade

Area churches and residents are counting down to the beginning of the Haskell Area Crusade to be held August 3-6.

With just a week and a half before the Crusade opens several activities have been scheduled during the coming week to help prepare for the event.

Saturday, July 26, has been designated a day of prayer with Haskell churches remaining open throughout the day. The prayer day will be concluded with a city-wide "Prayer and Praise Service" at the First Assembly of God Church at 7:30 p.m. This service will be the kickoff for all the events accompanying the crusade.

Monday, July 28, at 8:00 a.m. the youth of the Haskell churches will gather at the First Assembly of God Church to distribute crusade flyers to every home and business in Haskell. Following the distribution of the flyers, the youth will regroup for ice cream and fellowship.

Wednesday, July 30, at 8:00 p.m. the crusade choir will meet at the First United Methodist Church for the first of its two rehearsals of selections from "The Old Fashioned Singing." This choir is open to everyone and leaders are expecting a minimum of a hundred voices.

Thursday, July 31, at 7:30 p.m. pastors and layleaders will meet at East Side Baptist Church to pray and review materials and procedures to be used in counseling.

Saturday, August 2, at 7:30 p.m. a work day will be held at Indian Stadium. Crusade co-ordinators stress the need for handymen at this event.

A final choir rehearsal will also be held Saturday, August 2, 8:00 p.m., at the First United Methodist Church. The rehearsal will be led by crusade praise leader Marion Warren and will be followed by a fellowship with refreshments and prayer.

Sunday, August 3, through Wednesday, August 6, 8:00 p.m. nightly will be the Haskell Area Crusade with Rev. Jack Taylor.

Brian Burgess, a coordinator of the Area Crusade, urges residents to become a part of this crusade effort. "Pray that God will move most of all in your own life," he emphasized, "then pray effectually for those around you. Praise God we can all work together for His Glory."

City To Increase Garbage Rates

Following a thorough study of present charges for garbage collection services, members of the Haskell City Council approved an increase in those rates during their regular meeting Tuesday night.

The council agreed additional money for the city service was necessary due to the increase in the costs of labor and fuel, and purchases of needed equipment. Government regulations regarding the sanitation land fill have also caused additional expense for the city.

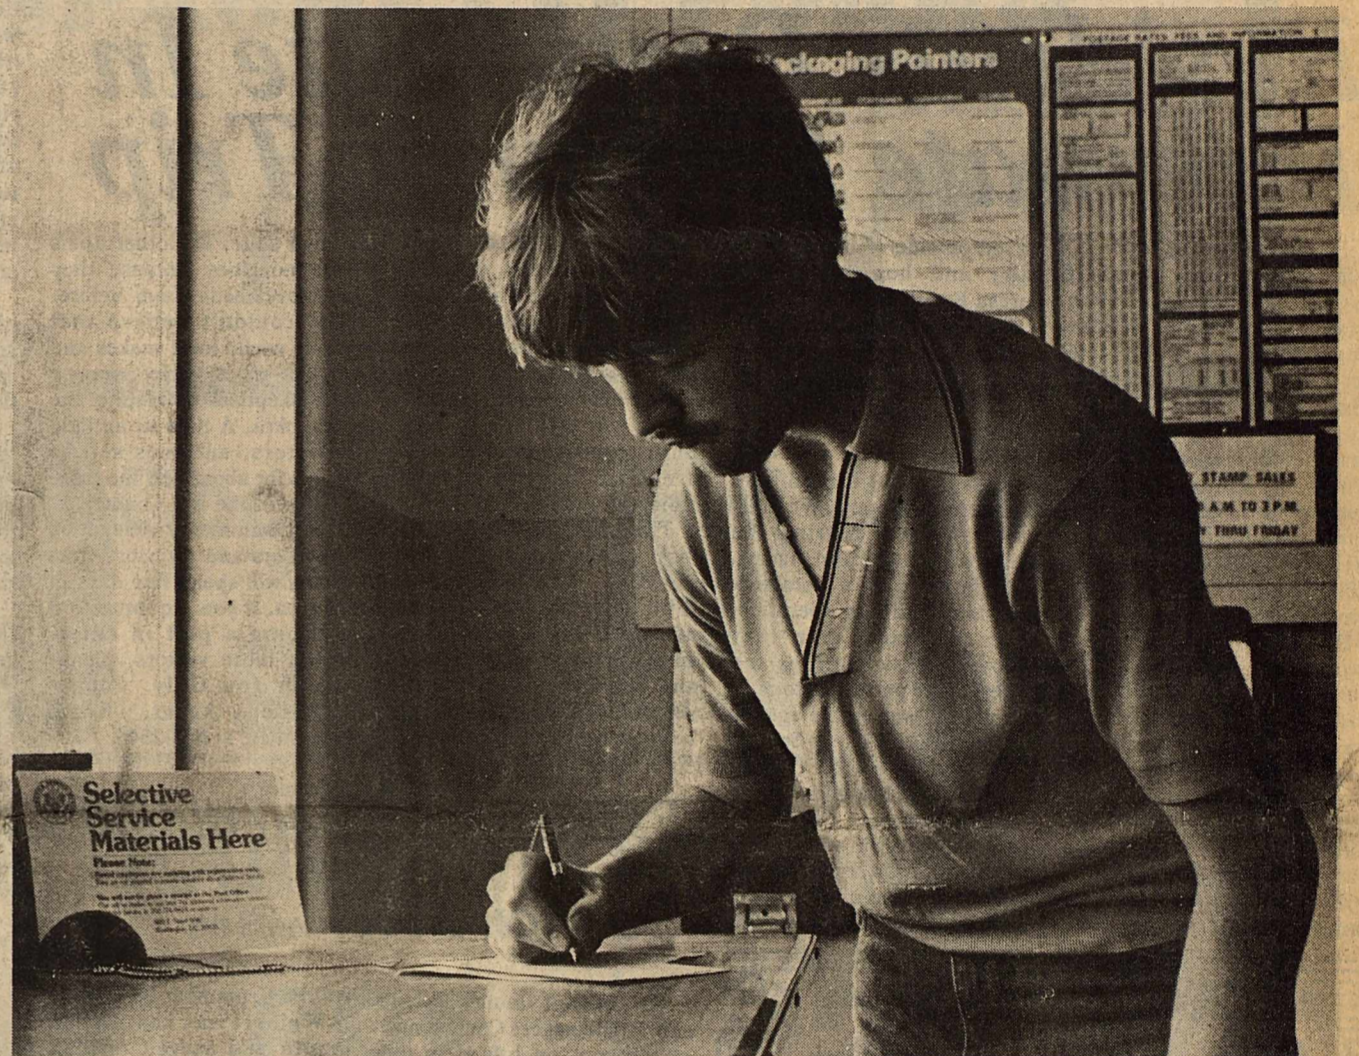

Commercial rates will be evaluated on a case by case basis while residential rates will be set at $4 for collection inside the city limits and $6 outside the city.

The new rates will become effective August 1 and will appear on September billings.

The meeting also included further discussion on the clean-up of abandoned shacks in the north part of the city.

Rev. Earnest Flanders presented a list of persons who own property in the area and council members decided to begin work on formal release forms to be available in two weeks. With release forms signed the city will be able to begin improvements on the area.

Mayor Royce Williams reported $7,205.00 in revenue sharing received as well as $4,350.68 in sales tax for the period ending June 26, 1980.

REGISTRATION

David Bartley was one of 17 young men who registered for the draft Monday at the Post Office in Haskell. After much controversy over the constitutionality of draft registration, all male citizens and immigrant aliens born in 1960 were required to begin the procedure on Monday. Men born in 1961 register next week. According to Selective Service officials, failure to register could mean a fine of up to $10,000 and/or five years in jail.

5 Local Firemen Attend A&M Training School

Tommy B. Watson, Bill Lane, Tom Watson, Don Comedy and Roy Trussell, volunteer firemen on the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department of Haskell, are attending the 51st Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, July 20-25. The school, attended by nearly 1,800 students representing about 700 cities from more than 20 states, is being held on the Texas A&M University campus this week.

Firemen can choose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Fireman, Tommy B. Watson Jr. is being sponsored by Haskell County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 100 County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe volunteer fire departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President Carrol G. Chaloupka of Dalhart. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Haskell Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Haskell County."

Bloodmobile Needs Donors Today

The Red River Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Haskell for the second time this year Thursday, July 24 and residents are urged to help make this a successful drive.

The bloodmobile will be in the Community Building of the Haskell National Bank from 1-6 p.m. and the quota for this visit is 80 units.

All organizations have been contacted and urged to aid in the recruitment of volunteer donors.

During the last visit of the bloodmobile, 40 donors attended and donated a total of 24 units of blood. The quota for the visit was 80 units.

During 1979, the bloodmobile made three trips to Haskell and a total of 112 units of blood was donated. During the same time, Haskell Memorial Hospital used a total of 156 units, 44 more units than were donated in Haskell.

During the past 13 visits of the bloodmobile, the goal of 80 units per visit has been reached only two times, once in 1976 and once in 1978.

The region served by the Red River program includes 41 counties and covers North Texas and Southern Oklahoma. Current blood needs in the region are about 100 units per day.

Persons who would like to donate are asked to attend the bloodmobile. Further information is available from Brian Burgess at 864-3250.

Commissioners Court Plans New Facility

Plans for a new facility for Haskell area's Experienced Citizens took more definite shape on Tuesday during the regular meeting of Commissioner's Court.

Members of the Court agreed during the session to go into contract with the West Texas Council of Governments on the building of the new Experienced Citizens Center.

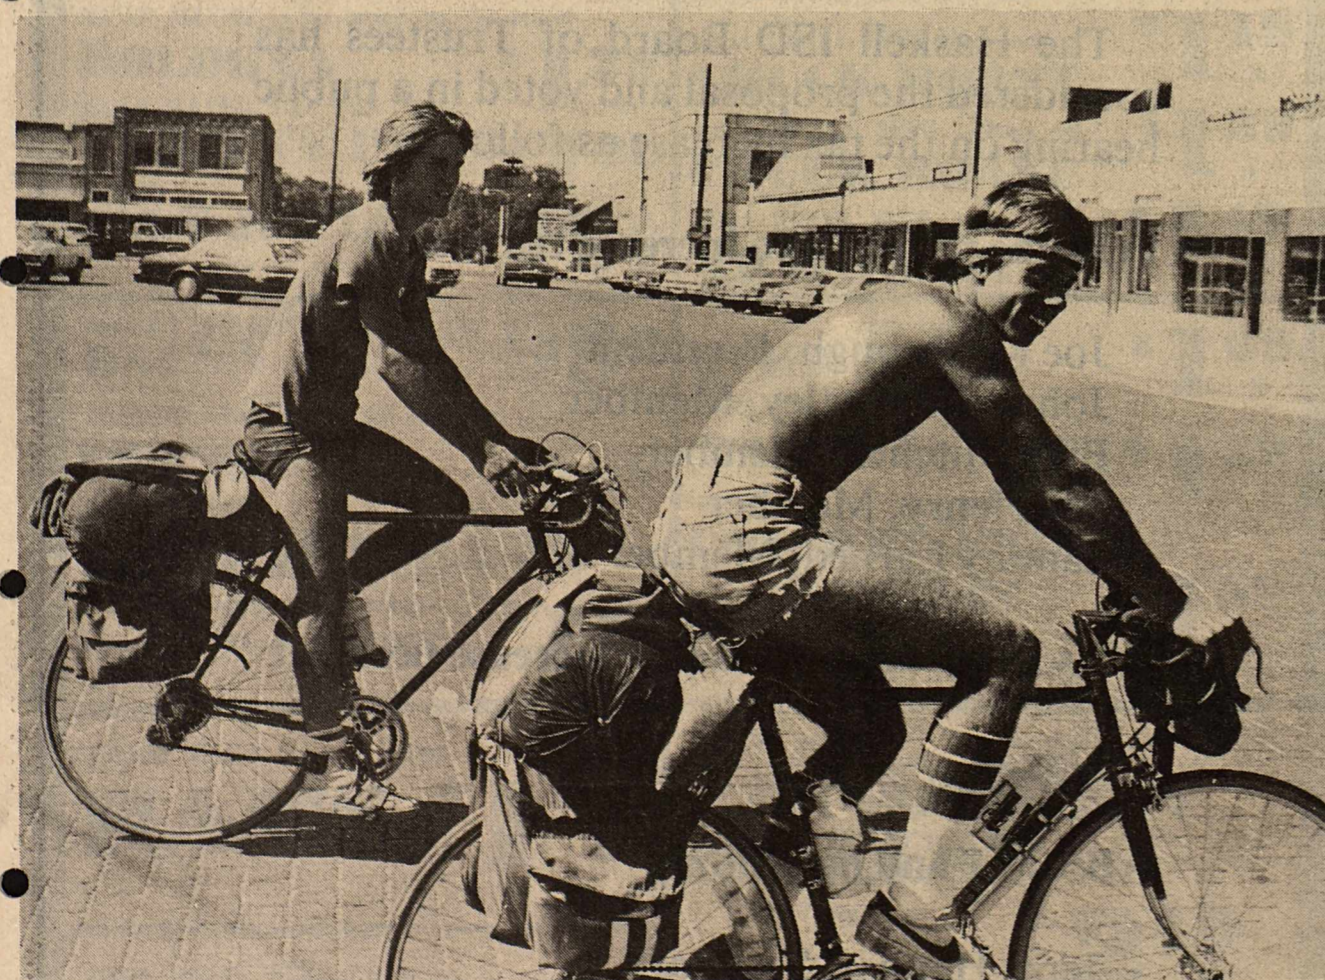

Projected cost for the facility is set at $9,632.00. The majority of the funds were made available recently with the approval of a grant for the E.C.C. Commissioner's Court members also agreed to supplement grant funds with additional matching funds needed for the new facility.

The building is to be built on a site located west of the hospital and south of the Haskell Clinic.

Haskell and Rule Little League programs were also given a financial boost on Tuesday with approval of fund allocation to help defer some of the expenses for the programs.

Other items on the agenda included the approval of the 1979 Delinquent Tax Roll as presented by Betty Weise, Tax Assessor-Collector.

BOUND FOR L.A.

Bikers Paul Rauscher and Phil Lawlor took a brief rest from their cross-country bicycle trip when they passed through Haskell on Thursday, July 17. The two 17 year-olds began the journey of about 2,000 miles on June 23 when they left their home in Whitehouse Station, New Jersey. Bound for Los Angeles, California, they plan to arrive at their destination around the first of August. The bikers reported they have been averaging a hefty 95 miles a day.

Raynes Visit In Northwest

BY GINA JENNINGS

There was "lots of back-slappin' and cryin' going on" in Portland, Oregon recently when Mr. and Mrs. Bob Raynes of Haskell visited with Mr. and Mrs. John L. Parr and Ione Trowbridge.

It had been 36 years since they had seen each other and, according to the Raynes, "It was quite a get-together." Although Mrs. Raynes had spent many close years with her aunt, Mrs. Parr, the two have been apart since the death of Mrs. Raynes father in 1944.

The Haskell couple also brought back some unusual souvenirs from their vacation to the Northwest. In addition to the traditional vacation pictures, the Raynes returned to Texas with three bottles of volcanic ash. Each sample represents the ash which settled over the area after the three separate eruptions of the Mt. St. Helen's volcano.

According to Mr. Raynes, the ash was scooped up by dozers and collected in piles about the "size of a cotton gin building" in some areas. The gritty stuff drifted high around parked cars and hung heavy on trees and shrubs. "You just can't imagine what it looks like unless you've seen it," he said.

The Raynes were not the only 'ash collectors' in Portland either. The Haskellites reported that one fellow carted away an entire truckload and sold it for $5.00 per bottle, contributing the proceeds to victims of the eruption.

The couple did get a look at the volcano itself, belching clouds of steam and smoke, but only from a distance. The mount was visible from Portland which, commented Raynes, was as close as he cared to get.

Those wishing to get a first-hand look at the ash are welcome to visit the Free Press office since the Raynes left some samples with us.

After 36 years, it was a spectacular reunion for the relatives and a good chance to blow the volcanic dust off the old family albums and remember old times.

MRS. FOREST NAYLOR
...formerly Suzanne Frierson

Naylor, Frierson Repeat Vows

An archway of greenery and pink candles was the setting for the marriage of Suzanne Frierson and Forest Naylor, Saturday in the First Baptist Church with Rev. David Bradshaw officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin E. Frierson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Naylor of Arlington. Attendants for the bride were her sisters, Deanna of Amarillo and Connie of Haskell. Attendants for the groom were Gary Green of Fort Worth and Bill Bloodgood of Grandbury.

Ushers were Randy Sharp of Abilene and Sam Gordon of Mansfield.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a formal length gown of white silk organza over taffeta. The V-neckline was fashioned with a lace ruffle and repeated on the long slender sleeves, dotted with scatterings of venise lace motifs. The empire bodice covered with matching lace held the full skirt fashioned with a deep flounced ruffle, edged with lace, that flowed into a chapel train. Venise spray appliques and single flower edging circled the skirt above the flounce. Her camelot bandeau of Venise lace held her two-tiered finger-tip veil of silk illusion circled with matching Venise lace edging and sprinkled with lace motifs.

The bride's attendants wore matching long pink satin spaghetti strap dresses and carried bouquets of pink silk flowers.

The bride's mother and grandmother wore long dresses in shades of pink with matching rose corsages and the groom's mother wore a long blue dress with a pink rose corsage.

The groom, his attendants, the father of the bride and the ushers were attired in silver gray tuxedos.

For the reception following the ceremony hosted by the bride's parents, the room was decorated with garlands of English Ivy and baskets of silk flowers in shades of pink.

The bride's table was covered with a cloth of white satin with silver stripes, edged with puffs of white net caught at intervals with white rosebuds. The table was centered with an arrangement of white roses and Hawaiian wedding flowers. All appointments were in silver. Serving the three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink roses and topped with traditional bride and groom figures was Lu Ann Williams of Rochester. Punch was ladled by Brenda Shaffer of Arlington.

The groom's table was covered in white and centered with an arrangement of roses in pink and deeper tones. All appointments on this table were in silver. Serving chocolate cake, coffee, candied apricots and nuts from the groom's table were Becky Robertson and Cynthia Jones. Others assisting with serving were: Janette Frierson, Velma Campell, Eula Faye Crawford, Betty Sue McDermott, Doris Reeves, Retha Hammon and Henrietta Ray.

White and silver boxes holding a slice of fruit cake bearing the inscription "Suzanne and Forest—July 19, 1980" were given to each guest "for dreaming" from a large white basket with pink ruffle and bow by Angelia Gordon.

Registering guests in the church foyer was Teresa Hamilton of Muleshoe. The register table was covered with a white lace cloth over pink and held an arrangement of pink silk roses in a tall silver container. The Bride's Book was opened with a white and pink marker with pink roses tied in the streamers. A feathered pen with silver base was used for registering.

Parents of the bridegroom were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at the Haskell Steak House.

The bride is a graduate of Haskell High School and received a BBA degree from the University of Texas at Arlington. The bridegroom is operations manager for McKessons in Fort Worth where the couple will live.

LUNCHEON

A bridesmaid luncheon for Suzanne Frierson and wedding party was hosted by Doris Reeves in her home Saturday at noon.

Chicken salad, pink salad, relish dish, beets, fruit compote, nuts, lemon delight and tea were enjoyed by each one present.

The centerpiece for the beautiful china and crystal appointed table was a basket arrangement, done by the hostess, of silk roses in shades of pink, with wooden spoons displayed in it.

For name place markers at the table, hand-painted stemmed glasses with daisies and the name were used. These were painted by the hostess and after the luncheon were presented to the guests. The hostess gift to the bride was the beautiful silk flower basket arrangement used for the centerpiece and a lovely hand painted tea tile.

Those attending were: Doris Reeves, Suzanne Frierson, Deanna Frierson, Connie Frierson, Mrs. Ervin Frierson, Mrs. E.M. Frierson, Mrs. Keith Naylor, Martha Gordon, Angelia Gordon, Cynthia Jones, Becky Robertson, Brenda Shaffer and Lu Ann Williams.

Residents Participate In Interstate Exchange Trip

BY LOU GILLY

Recently two Haskell County 4-H'ers and one Haskell County 4-H Leader returned from a 4-H Interstate Exchange Trip to Hillsboro, Illinois, and surrounding communities. On July 6 Kathy Campbell of Haskell, Tauniya White of Rule, and Mrs. Duward Campbell of Haskell left on a charter bus from Hillsboro, Illinois. They were joined in Wichita Falls by 25 4-H'ers and sponsors from surrounding counties.

After arriving in Hillsboro each 4-H'er and sponsor stayed with a host family for five days. Kathy Campbell stayed on a sheep ranch outside of Witt with Darla Furness and her family. Tauniya White stayed in Witt with Sally Rogers and her family, and Mrs. Campbell stayed outside of Butler on a dairy and hog farm with Teresa Kopp and her family.

The delegation had many planned activities besides staying with host families. Monday night the Dairy Queen in Hillsboro made a 75 foot banana split for everyone. Tuesday they toured the Hulcher Rock Quarry. Wednesday was spent touring the Kopp and Rundquist farms. Both farms were a combination dairy and hog operation. After the farm tour they enjoyed a swimming and watermelon party. A tour of Springfield was on the agenda for Thursday. While in Springfield they toured the Capitol, Governor's Mansion, and Lincoln's Home. They also went shopping in one of the new malls. On Friday they toured the International Paper Company in Litchfield. The company makes the containers for cottage cheese, soft margarine, and pre-mixed dips. After Friday's tour they were treated to a swim party and pig roast. Saturday morning before they were to leave for Texas the Hillsboro Farm Bureau sponsored a farewell breakfast for the Texas at Hillsboro Lake.

The 4-H'ers from Texas took souvenirs for their host families. They took such things as shelled pecans, miniature cotton bales, rattle snake rattlers, pickled okra, and blackeyed peas. They seemed to like the pecans best because they are so expensive in their state. The other items were novelties because they had never seen them before. They couldn't believe that people would hunt snakes and eat the meat. They were a little skeptical of tasting the fuzzy okra. A note to antique collectors: antiques sell in Illinois for about half the price they do in the Big Country.

Next summer a delegation of 4-H'ers and sponsors from Illinois will spend five days in our area. If you are interested in having a part in entertaining these visitors, please contact Lou Gilly, County Extension Agent, Home Economics, at 864-2546.

Extension Homemakers Council Meet

The Haskell County Extension Homemakers Council met at 2:00 p.m. on July 16 in the kitchen of the Haskell County Extension Office. There were thirteen members and the County Extension Agent-Home Economics attending.

Business was conducted as usual. It was reported that the bake sale held July 2 raised $173.00 for the treasury.

The Agent gave a report on 4-H activities since the last Council meeting.

Club presidents drew for the numbered exhibit spaces at the Haskell County Fair. They also chose the title for their educational exhibit.

Two dates were voted to be changed. The next Council meeting will be September 12 instead of September 17. The leader training meeting scheduled for September 23 will be September 24 instead.

Weinert was hostess this month and served refreshments of cookies, mints, barbecued pecans and punch.

Those attending were: Haskell-Mrs. Eldon Anderson, Mrs. Carl Bailey, Mrs. Earmal Bevel, Mrs. Mildred Robertson and Mrs. Virgil Wall. Paint Creek-Mrs. Paul Fischer and Mrs. M.E. Overton. Weinert-Mrs. M.C. Cunningham, Mrs. J.D. Roberts, Mrs. Hazel Smith, and Mrs. Floyd McGuire.

Conservation Viewpoints

USDA Soil Conservation Service

Emergency Conservation And Disaster Flood Conservation Programs Deadline August 31

Attention! All Haskell County Producers! Soil Conservation Service records indicate 70 applicants for 1978 ECP restoration of destroyed and damaged conservation measures due to the August, 1978 flood still have made no effort to indicate your desires to continue with this program.

We have 8 referrals for parallel terraces; 32 referrals for standard ridge-type terraces; 15 referrals for grading, shaping and leveling; 9 referrals for waterways and 7 referrals for farm ponds that need determination have not been made by SCS personnel.

I can not take space to name each of you. The ASCS Office has written each producer with a pending application two personal letters, so you should know who you are. Please make an effort to contact us (SCS) within the next two weeks concerning your intentions, even if it is to cancel your requested assistance.

We do not have the hours or the mileage for our vehicles to make personal farm visits to contact you. We must conserve time and miles to complete the work we have already underway with 63 other producers that are in the process of completing the needed repairs. If you will let us know by telephone, office call or mail of your intentions we will make all necessary arrangements for time and miles to make a personal farm visit to determine your needs.

Any applications that have not been serviced for needs prior to August 31 will be cancelled and you will be out of the program for financial assistance to repair your damaged structures.

So PLEASE REPORT at once to SCS or to the ASCS Office your intentions. We will make any necessary follow-up on your request prior to the August 31 deadline.

Parallel Terraces

I have to brag a little. The first parallel terraces in Haskell County were constructed on the A.D. May farm south of Rule in 1963.

Since that time, over 9.25 million feet have been constructed. We feel that this must be some kind of record.

Since the August, 1978 flood, Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District cooperators and other landusers have rebuilt over 2.5 million feet of parallel terraces and approximately 5.5 million feet of standard ridge-type terraces. And there is more yet to be done.

About 400,000 feet of new parallel terraces are already scheduled for construction in 1981. This does not include any 1981 ACP requests that will be received after the first of October.

Rice Springs News

It has been a very busy week here at Rice Springs with the different activities going on and also we welcomed our new administrator and bid farewell to our old one. Our new administrator is Mr. Harold Greer. He is presently living in Abilene, but hopes to get to move to Haskell very soon. On Monday, the 14th, a staff meeting was held to introduce Mr. Greer to all the employees of the home. At this time, the staff also presented Mrs. Ruth Ann Klose a goodbye gift and bid her farewell as our boss, but thank goodness, we can still have her as one of our friends. Then on Wednesday afternoon, the 16th, the residents and sitters gave Mrs. Klose a surprise good-bye party. Cake and punch was served to everyone in the home as well as a few guests. Mrs. Klose was also given two gifts which were from the residents and sitters. We will all miss her, but we wish the best for her in anything that she might do. Sam Bradford and Hoyt Gray both celebrated another birthday in the past week. We hope they have more healthy, happy ones. We welcomed two more new residents to the home in the past week. They are husband and wife, A.T. and Mattie Cook, of Haskell. We hope they enjoy being a part of Rice Springs. June Smith has had to enter the Haskell hospital, but we hope by the time this is read that she is well enough to come back to the home. We also have several other residents who have had summer colds which have been accompanied by very bad coughs. We hope these are all well very soon. We were very happy to have the Haskell First United Methodist UMW and the Haskell First Baptist WMU back with us again this month. They both presented very good programs to the residents. We were also glad to have the Haskell Church of God, Haskell Church of Christ, Rev. William Hodge, and Rev. Martin Jacobsen. We are grateful to all our volunteer people. We can always use more of them, so if you are bored and have nothing to do, just come out and we will put you to work doing volunteer work and you won't have the time to get bored anymore. The heat and price of gas has certainly seemed to slow up some of the visiting here at the home, but we thank the ones who took time to stop by. Our out-of-county visitors were: Visiting Mamie Angley were Nettie Tonch of Sterling, Colorado and Brice and Lucy Estrada of Liberal, Kansas. Sam, Grace, and Diane West of Lubbock came to visit Grace's brothers, Jim and Dutch Cross. Visiting Mattie Hines were Mr. and Mrs. H.S. Stovall, and Mrs. Georgie Ritchey, all of Hamlin. Marie Hobbs and Giggs Gregory, both of Stamford, visited their mother, Dovie Gregory. Doris Slater of Fort Worth visited her father, Bill Harrell, and also Mae Brock and Joe Teague. Visiting L.C. Williams was his son and family, Pete, Naoma, Vickie and Curtis Williams, all of Abilene. Rev. Randae Hatfield, pastor of the Sweet Home Baptist Church in Rule, visited with Ellie Cartwright and Texie Perdue. Lois Gray, Trudie Bush, and Hazel Branch were taken to Abilene in the last week to see their different eye doctors. Visiting Alma Cole were Tommye Joe, Evanglyn, Kyle, and Judson Clark, all of Abilene.

Visiting Sam and Ethel Bradford were their children, G. A. Bradford and Fay Cox and their granddaughter, Brenda Bradford, all of Peacock. Jim Harris who is working in Montague County came to see his great-grandmother, Bethie Harris. Ophus, Frankie, and Nita Posey of Knox City visited Edna Collins. Emma Humphreys was visited by her great-granddaughter, Jan Briles and baby daughter, Jancy, of Sweetwater. Visiting Kate Hemphill was her niece, Mary Jo Roberts of Andrews. Lillie Jones was recently visited by three of her daughters, Gerry Gray of Irving, Wanda Gage of Fort Worth, and Freda Phillips of Leveland. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Plemister visited his mother, Ida Plemister. Bess Hal Murphree of Houston came to see her mother, Elizabeth Yakey, and also her aunt, Jonnye Pumphrey. Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Crume of Abilene visited his parents, Sam and Onah Crume. Visiting the Crumes and also Hoyt Gray was Carl Smith of Wichita Falls. Visiting A.C. Boggs was Steve Quin of Odessa. That seems to be all the news that I could collect for this week, but maybe there will be more next week.

Missing Austin Girl Sought

Parents of Elaine McCuiston have issued an appeal to Texas newspaper readers to assist in locating the missing girl—or obtain information that might lead to her whereabouts. The Austin teen-ager was last seen the morning of Friday, June 27, in northeast Austin riding her white bicycle. Currently her father, Don McCuiston, states that a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and indictment of person or persons involved in the possible abduction of Elaine is offered. He is offering $200 for eyewitness details of the incident or for clues leading to finding Elaine. A nationwide hunt by various law agencies is underway, but McCuiston wanted to reach the readers of newspapers in a further effort to find his 16-year-old daughter.

Elaine McCuiston

When last seen the 5' 4", 125-pound girl, with hazel eyes, light brown hair, light freckles, was wearing white shorts, blue top and brown sandals. She was reported missing after she failed to turn up at her mother's home around 11 a.m. She had been painting at her father's house and was riding her bicycle home to help take care of a stepbrother who had just had his wisdom teeth pulled. Then she disappeared. The bicycle was found mangled in the middle of the road. It had apparently been run over by a vehicle and dragged more than 30 feet before being left in the road. Engine grime was on the bike, but no blood was found. The only thing found was Elaine's purse. McCuiston believes his daughter was abducted. He insists that she isn't a runaway. She had been very excited in the days before her disappearance—making plans to go to Europe with her grandmother later this month. In addition, on the day she disappeared she had made plans to meet a friend later and go shopping. According to a friend, Elaine had been in a good mood prior to her disappearance. Persons with any sort of information — "any kind," said McCuiston—were urged to contact the Travis County Sheriff, Austin police or the Department of Public Safety. McCuiston said even a call to local law officers in any area of the state would be appreciated. McCuiston is appealing to all Texans to help him find his daughter. He may be reached at 512/836-5295.

Booklets Available On Drug Abuse

Many people use socially acceptable drugs—probably without even thinking about it. If you're a coffee or tea drinker, then in the broad sense you're using a drug—although granted it's a socially acceptable drug. Caffein falls into the same category as tobacco, alcohol and aspirin. These are drugs that are widely used and even looked upon by many as useful substances. However, there's a big difference between a parent who has an occasional glass of wine or a cocktail, and one who drinks or takes pills to escape personal problems. If your children see you using drugs that way, it's likely they will do the same. For a booklet from the Department of Health and Human Services that discusses preventive measures you can take, write for "Drug Abuse Prevention for Your Family." Just send $1.30 to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 182H, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. Families are very important in preventing drug abuse. In fact, the deterioration of the family in America is thought by many experts to be one possible reason for drug abuse among the young. For this reason and others, prevention has to start with the family. What can make the difference? A stable family atmosphere and tolerance for a child's mistakes go a long way. Fair and consistent discipline and accurate information about drugs, sexuality and crime are important to give your children as well. Don't agonize over knowing whether your children are using drugs. Try the direct approach. Ask. Try to make your children feel comfortable enough to share their feelings about experimenting with drugs with you. This works better than spending a lot of energy on anxious detective work. Often families that come up against a problem that seems too big to handle tend to withdraw from friends, relatives, and others outside the family who could help. Families seldom make full use of the family services available. But, if you think your child has a drug problem, act quickly and calmly. Help is available for drug prevention from a wide range of resources including schools, churches, and local prevention programs. Inquiries to drug abuse prevention or treatment programs are always kept confidential. When you order a copy of "Drug Abuse Prevention for Your Family" ($1.30) you'll also receive a free copy of the "Consumer Information Catalog." Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the free Catalog lists over 200 selected free and low cost government publications.

Deadline Nearing For 1980 Acreage Reports

With only one week remaining to certify total farm acreage, some 500 Haskell County producers are urged to file 1980 acreage reports as soon as possible to avoid long delays. To be eligible for all program benefits certification of total farm acreage must be made by August 1. Loss of program benefits include any disaster benefits, deficiency payments, SBA loans and other commodity loans. Glenn R. Brzozowski, executive director of the Haskell County ASCS Office, urged that farmers report even if no crops were planted. By reporting the crop of land use, the producer will be established as an agricultural producer. All summer seeded crops, cotton, grain sorghum, guar, etc. must be certified; these reports are to be accurate within 5% of the reported acreage to avoid penalties. They cannot exceed 10% to remain eligible for program benefits.

Look who switched to Natural Light.

Catfish Hunter. Famous ex-baseball pitcher and outdoorsman.

Catfish Hunter switched to Natural Light because he prefers the taste. He had no idea that Natural Light's great taste comes from using only the finest natural ingredients. Or that there are no artificial ingredients in Natural Light, unlike some other light beers he had tried. We don't think he even noticed the ingredients listed right on the label: Water, Barley malt, Rice, Hops, Yeast. But when it comes to taste, it's Natural Light that strikes home with Catfish Hunter.

Energy-Conscious Lawn Care Tip

Energy-conscious homeowners can take steps to reduce the energy demands of lawn care without lowering lawn benefits.

"While lawns offer many aesthetic and recreational benefits, these may be offset by energy requirements of lawn care," says Dr. Richard Doble, turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Mowing, watering, fertilizing, pest control and leaf clipping disposal are all energy-consuming requirements of lawn care. During spring and summer months lawn watering and collection and disposal of grass clippings place a heavy burden on cities for these services. Grass clippings may account for more than 30 percent of total trash collections in cities during spring," notes Doble.

He offers several suggestions to help homeowners reduce these energy demands. Reducing fertilizer applications to maintenance levels—two to three pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn per year—will go a long way toward reducing energy demands. This will also reduce mowing requirements, water use, insect and disease problems, and grass clippings.

"Excessive fertilization is the single most important factor contributing to high energy demands for lawn care," contends Doble.

Other lawn care practices to reduce energy demands include returning or composting grass clippings. Using a mulching mower can be beneficial if grass clippings are not removed, says the specialist. Also, adopting proper watering practices to reduce water use can save energy. Reducing pesticide use to only essential applications to prevent loss of turf is another energy-saving practice.

Doble advises new homeowners to select and plant adapted low-maintenance turf-grasses to reduce energy demands. Centipedegrass is ideally suited to East Texas while buffalograss is adapted to much of West and North Texas. Both of these grasses have low maintenance requirements.

In some situations ground covers such as Asiatic jasmine, English ivy or Liriope can reduce maintenance requirements effectively without sacrificing the benefits of a plant cover, says the specialist.

"It is possible to enjoy the luxury of an attractive lawn and landscape," contends Doble, "without excessive energy requirements. In fact, the net energy balance for a lawn can be in favor of energy conservation."

Kemp Awarded Scholarship

Giles Bryan Kemp, a 1980 graduate of Haskell High School, has been awarded a $1,000 Clark Foundation scholarship from the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation.

The Clark Foundation provided funds for 60 grants, awarded by TILF on the basis of academic achievement, participation in the University Interscholastic League academic and literary contests, and record of work in extracurricular activities.

Kemp earned eligibility by placing sixth in the 1978-79 state meet number sense contest. His senior year, he placed first and fourth in the district and regional number sense contest respectively. Kemp was a member of the band, National Honor Society, and football and basketball teams. Valedictorian of his class, he served as junior and senior class president.

"Giles was among the top graduates in Texas this past year," said Dr. Rhea H. Williams, TILF secretary. "He combined an outstanding record of achievement in academic and extracurricular activities and we're proud to have him as a Clark Foundation scholar."

Kemp plans to attend Texas Tech University and major in math.

NO INJURIES

Joe Louis Lejla of Goree, driver of a pickup truck which overturned Saturday afternoon several miles out of town on the Jim Strain Road escaped the accident without injuries. The 1979 Ford pickup left the road when the power steering failed and the vehicle veered into the ditch, according to investigating DPS officer Don Collins.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—If you're considering a summer pest control treatment, there are some things to keep in mind in order to get a satisfactory job, according to attorneys in our Environmental Protection Division, which represents the State's Structural Pest Control Board.

One of the main considerations is to hire a pest controller licensed by the Board. Texas law requires pest controllers to pass a test in the category of pest control they want to offer, and to carry $30,000 worth of insurance for property or personal damage. Our attorneys caution all consumers to deal only with licensed pest controllers. Exterminators who solicit door-to-door could be unlicensed itinerants who may be impossible to reach if problems develop later.

Follow these guidelines to get the best possible pest treatment for your money: —Ask to see the certified applicator's license of the person who will be applying the chemicals on your job. —Look for a State license number on the pest controller's truck. —Get two or three licensed pest controllers to check your home or business if you suspect pests, and get a free written estimate if any treatment is indicated. —If the pest controller finds evidence of structural damage by termites or other pests, get a separate estimate from several home repair firms or individuals on any work that's needed. A pest control license does not mean that a person is also licensed to repair damage that pests may have caused. Our attorneys recommend regarding pest control and repair work as two separate operations.

—Be sure any guarantees about work performed are in writing. If you are to get free periodic inspections and treatments, make sure this is spelled out. Likewise, if your home or business is guaranteed to be pest-free for a certain period, be sure it's in writing.

Some consumers ask pest controllers to write down the types of chemicals used and their strength. Such information might be useful if there is a question later about the effectiveness of the treatment. It might also be useful if persons exposed to the treatment have what seems to be an allergic reaction of any sort.

If you have a complaint about a pest controller, contact our Environmental Protection attorneys or the Texas Structural Pest Control Board. For assistance with other consumer complaints, get in touch with our Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock or McAllen.

Gas prices go up as travel goes down

COLLEGE STATION — Those who have been planning long distance vacations by private car this summer may be paying more at the gas pump than ever before.

Fuel prices can be expected to keep rising though supply will be adequate, predicts Texas A&M University energy expert Dr. Spencer Baen. But there is other bad news.

Researchers point to a slowdown in the economy, credit crack-down and increases in the travel industry's vacation price index as crimps on American vacation travel. The situation is causing people to hold back on plans, arrange trips closer to home or to plan to scrub vacations altogether.

Charles W. Stenholm

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — It is difficult to conceive of a situation when the U.S. could be served by a Democratic President and a Republican Vice President, but just such a possibility — albeit a slim one — exists during this election year.

Such a stunning scenario centers around the candidacy of independent presidential candidate John Anderson and whether or not he might be able to carry enough states to prevent a majority of electoral votes from going to either the Democratic or Republican candidate.

Should no one person win a majority of the electoral votes, the House of Representatives would be called upon by the Constitution to elect the president among the three highest electoral vote recipients in the general election. On the other side of the Hill, the Senate would then select the Vice President. Therefore, if one political party controlled the House and another party the Senate, we could wind up with a President and Vice President of different parties. Highly unlikely, but possible.

The constitution is rather hazy and does not spell out all of the actual procedures involved, but each state's delegation in the House is given one vote in such an election. No mention is made of what happens if a state's House delegation divides evenly. While unlikely in Texas' delegation, with 20 Democrats and four Republicans, there are eight states having an equal number of congressmen from each party.

In the case of tie votes within a state's House delegation, no one would receive that state's one vote until the tie was broken. This could prevent any candidate from receiving the necessary 26 votes for a majority in the House.

A number of unresolved matters would have to be decided by the House Rules Committee before the House would ever vote, including whether the election would be open to the press and the public or be conducted behind closed doors. The 1825 rules, the last time such a situation occurred, provided that the election was conducted in a closed session of Congress.

Decisions would also have to be made on: Whether Members would vote by secret ballot or have their votes made public; whether the vote of each state would be by secret ballot or be made public; and whether a plurality or a majority is required within a state caucus to determine that state's one vote. A majority is more than half, whereas a plurality simply means the vote would be determined by whoever receives the most votes, even if he received less than a majority.

In all likelihood, these speculations will remain just that — speculations, although interesting ones. Any such situation would rely on the success of an independent candidate and independents have rarely done well in our history.

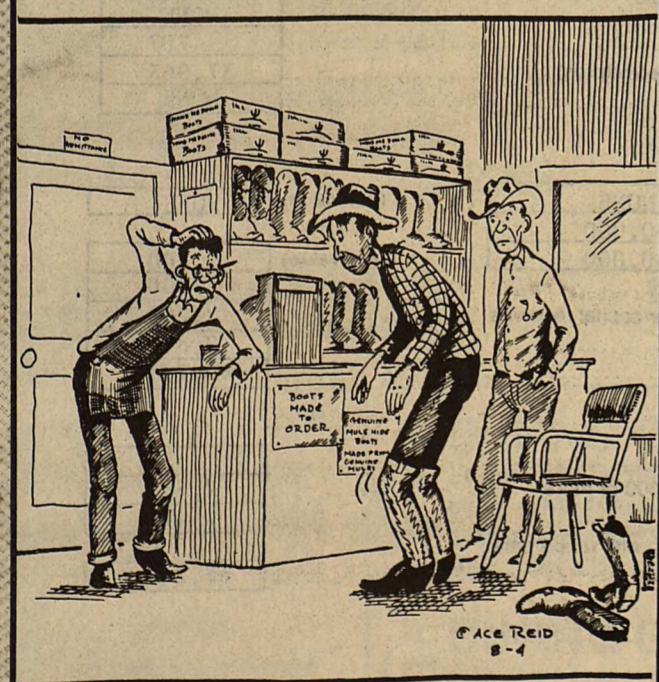

The complicated electoral system has been questioned in the past, as many feel that the presidency should be by majority vote, period. If the presidential election should be left to the House this year, we would almost surely be forced to face this issue squarely, to prevent the possibility of a President of the United States being elected who was not the choice of the majority of the voters in this country.

When you buy insurance from an agent who works directly for one insurance company, he's probably not the person you talk to when you have a claim. Most one-company agents have nothing to do with the claims process. So if you have a claim, it's between you and the adjuster.

Your Independent Insurance Agent doesn't do business that way. He's right there ready to serve you when you have a claim... helping you reach a fair settlement as quickly as possible.

And since your Independent Insurance Agent can offer you policies from several different companies, he can choose the policy that's just right for you. At the right price. Whether you need homeowners, auto, life or business insurance.

Economic Relief Is Available

Economic relief—ranging from portable fans to emergency feed programs—is available to drought and heat-stricken areas of Texas, according to Congressman Charles W. Stenholm.

“Several types of federal programs that will help individuals and businesses, as well as farmers and ranchers in their efforts to deal with the effects of the extreme heat and drought conditions are available,” Stenholm said. “These include existing programs designed to deal with disasters and a new $6.7 million-dollar program announced this week by President Carter to deal with the unusual heat wave.”

Some $2.5 million of the special fund is earmarked for Texas, Stenholm explained, to be used to assist low income individuals especially who are facing life threatening situations.

The funds will be made available through the Community Service Administration's network of Community Action Agencies. Eligible activities include: Transportation to local and state operated heat relief centers, purchase or rental of low-cost appliances such as fans or window air conditioners, payment of utility bills, as well as provisions of other supportive services which will reduce the potential hazards to the health of low income persons.

To receive assistance with the funds, households must demonstrate total income at or below 125 percent of federal poverty guidelines ($9,300 for a non-farm family of four and approximately $7,900 for a farm family of four), Stenholm said.

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will be able to provide financial assistance only after the county is designated a disaster area by the State FmHA Director, he pointed out. Farmers must have suffered at least 20 percent loss and be unable to obtain credit elsewhere. After becoming eligible, they are eligible for up to $500,000 at 5 percent interest. FmHA handles the majority of disaster cases, although the Small Business Administration has provisions for special cases.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) has an emergency feed program that can assist a producer who has suffered a 40 percent feed production loss. The County ASCS Committee may initiate the program with the concurrence of the State ASCS Committee. The producer must not have enough supplies to feed his cattle and, in most cases, can expect to receive help to tide him over for a three to six month period.

This is a cost-share program of 2 cents a pound of 50 percent of the cost. A survey of the farmer's reserves must be made and an estimate made of what his needs will be for the coming months. He is then eligible for federal assistance on the difference of these two figures.

Further information can be obtained from county agency offices.

Cloud; and Rod Petty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Petty. The seminar was held July 14-18 on Baylor Campus in Waco. The students were chosen on the basis of scholastic achievement, good character and leadership ability. The purpose of the seminar was to convey to the students a better understanding of our American Heritage and the Capitalistic private enterprise system that has made ours the greatest of all nations. They were informed about some of the forces, both internal and external, that are eroding our way of life. The ultimate goal, in addition to helping them to be better informed, is to share their information with others making all better informed citizens.

Photography Workshop Set July 26 & 27 in Vernon

Vernon Regional Junior College Division of Continuing Education has announced the scheduling of another 35 MM Photography workshop. The class will meet on Saturday July 26 from 8:30 to 5:30 and Sunday, July 27, from 1:00 to 6:00. Joe Rogers will be the instructor.

Mr. Rogers regularly upgrades his photographic knowledge through workshops and seminars. He is a member of the Texas Professional Photographers Association and participated in the week long workshop held by that organization last August. The photography of Joe Rogers recently highlighted the 1979 Annual Report of Moran Brothers Inc., an oil exploration company, located in Houston. The Report placed in the top 20 at a merits award ceremony in New York City for Financial World Magazine.

This 35MM Photography course is designed to meet the needs of beginners as well as persons familiar with 35MM equipment. Although attention will be given to the basic technical aspects of photography, such as film light, exposure and photographic control, major emphasis will be placed on the non-technical side of photography such as composition, creativity, and picture taking techniques. No darkroom skills will be taught. For further information concerning this course or registration contact the Office of Continuing Education at 552-6291.

Farm Safety Week July 25-31

National Farm Safety Week is July 25-31, and Gov. William P. Clements, Jr., has also proclaimed that week as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week.

Urging all who live and work on Texas farms and ranches to make accident prevention a part of every activity, Gov. Clements authorized a weeklong campaign to make safety the "conscious concern of all who work to produce Texas' and America's great agricultural abundance."

"Modern farming is a complex and highly skilled profession. It is also a hazardous one," Clements said. He noted figures which reveal that more than 200 fatal accidents occur on Texas farms and ranches each year. In addition, about 10,000 people suffer some type of disabling injury.

"Accidents can be prevented by using safe procedures in combination with safe equipment designs," said

Clements. "Conscious attention must be given to the way we do things and how things are made or constructed so as to best reduce the risk of accidents."

The cost of farm and ranch accidents, both monetarily and in time lost from production, is enormous, said Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, which sponsors the weeklong observance with the Texas Safety Association and several other organizations. Texas losses due to agricultural accidents could be as high as $10 million a year.

Nelson pointed out that the emphasis of the weeklong observance this year is on personal safety through the use of protective equipment such as hardhats, protective eyewear and gloves. Protective clothing and equipment can be the first line of defense or protection against costly, disabling accidents.

NO NEWS IS GOOD NEWS

Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace has been urged by several key leaders of his past presidential campaigns to remain neutral in this year's campaign. The Wallace supporters signed a letter to the former governor indicating that his endorsement of Jimmy Carter four years ago was what put the peanut farmer in the White House. "By withholding your endorsement of Carter, we sincerely believe you will help overturn the stranglehold of liberalism on Washington and help America back onto its feet again," the letter said.

Convention Lights And Highlights

BY GINA JENNINGS
Being bored by sitting on my front porch watching my lawn die, I was delighted to find available this past week a new diversion.

It was ever so refreshing, in the middle of such a long, hot summer, to discover such lively entertainment. Surely Divine Providence, knowing the need for some simple, light-hearted entertainment, provided depressed Americans with a National Political Convention.

What can do more to lift the spirits than to witness a dozen giggling Republicans crammed together atop a mechanical elephant which is roving a Detroit parking lot?

Can one help but smile at the sight of otherwise meek gray-haired ladies dressed as blazing political billboards and tooting little horns as though the very future of the country depended on every honk?

Truly, it is impossible to be depressed when confronted with the television image of a studious gentleman earnestly taking notes on political speeches—all the while being tickled mercilessly on the chin by the dangling snout of an elephant which is protruding from his neighbor's hat.

For summer fun, I must admit, it certainly is more enjoyable than watching the digits change on my electric meter.

It is not, however, that the Jennings household didn't take the convention seriously. On the contrary, I wish Gov. Reagan had announced his running-mate early in the convention. As long as the V.P. slot was reported to be "wide open" my husband sat resolutely by the phone. I asked him once to deliver the trash to the alley but he just sat staring at the T.V. and muttered something about being available if his country needed him.

He was terribly crestfallen when the call never came but I reminded him that he had voted Democratic in the past several elections which probably gave George Bush a slight edge over him. It was not a great deal of comfort I'm afraid. There is no more pitiful sight than that of a man who has primed himself for a great political journey finding the only journey he will be taking is to the trash barrel behind the house.

I studied convention procedure rather carefully, myself. And I have come up with several rules which one might need to be aware of, if one ever had the opportunity to attend one of these events.

(1) If, at a political convention, one is trying to decipher who is "in the know"—in other words, who has the correct information of the type the news media is always sniffing out—one should always look for the politicians who's answer to any and all in-depth questions is "I don't know."

Those who respond with the answer "No comment" very likely have some information and wish the public to know they are not completely ignorant. They are, however, not entirely sure of their information and are reluctant to risk making fools of themselves.

Politicians who answer questions directly are to be completely disregarded since they are almost always ignorant of the facts and are trying to conceal that fact by divulging information—albeit incorrect.

(2) A simple "yes" or "no" answer is next to blasphemy at a political convention. This could be most easily observed as the states cast their votes for the nominee of their choice.

Ask a head delegate if his state cast all its votes for Reagan and one would hear a statement which included: a verification of the integrity of the delegates, a history of the state in question, a list of what each delegate had eaten before he cast his vote, and a moral recommendation of the preferred nominee. (It may be noted that even with all this, the original question had not been answered.)

(3) Concerning appropriate convention attire, all that matters is that one must be wearing, somewhere on his person, some sort of political sign or slogan. I believe that one could go completely nude without appearing irregular, if in that state of undress, one could only find a place to pin a political button.

(4) If time and ill-treatment has not hardened you into a real cynic, bring a handkerchief.

The carnival atmosphere of a political convention is apt to fool one into thinking it is a casual affair. If so, beware...It is perhaps a strange place, amid the plaquards and confusion, to realize that our Country does, in fact, have a future. A future which will be decided by those who can find it within themselves to believe in Her.

And when the speaker rises and speaks in swelling tones of "government by the people and for the people,"...of a nation founded on individual freedom and opportunity...of rising above adversity again to greatness, the heart is apt to swell with sudden remembrance of an America once believed in. I know mine did.

...and if I had only had a little home—I would have blown it as though the very future of the country depended on every honk...

$750 Million in Crops Lost Due to Weather

AUSTIN--Some $750 million worth of crops and hay have already been lost due to the drought-like conditions prevailing across the state, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced, adding that his "conservative" estimate will go higher if rains do not come to Texas by August 1.

From a random survey of Texas Agricultural Extension Service agents across the state, there were conflicting reports, with some counties "doing all right," and others burning up, Brown said. The major crops threatened are cotton, sorghum, and dryland corn. "Loss estimates are based mainly on dryland production, but there are reports from some counties that even irrigated crops are going to have lower than average yields."

This figure does not include losses in livestock and poultry production.

"The most honest assessment of the situation is that we are facing a severe financial crisis in many segments of agriculture. Farmers went into debt fairly heavily this season, most at high rates of interest at planting time. A drought couldn't have come at a worse time," he said.

There has been academic discussion of whether the state is experiencing a true drought or not, "but when we get a report that says, 'Temperatures have dropped to 100 and this has helped,' we know Texas agriculture is in trouble," Brown added.

Some of the worst crop losses are expected in grain sorghum, with only 19 percent of the acreage irrigated. Some acreage has been plowed under while other farmers are expecting yields only half the average.

Cotton, Texas' major cash crop, is moisture-stressed throughout the state. Thirty-five percent of the acreage is irrigated. The most severely affected areas are the Gulf Coast and the Blacklands.

The High Plains is the center of Texas corn production and most acreage is irrigated. While dryland corn accounts for only fifteen percent of Texas production, some of those acres are expected to produce some 40 percent less.

Most of the Texas winter wheat which survived spring dry spells has made a good crop, Brown said. Only the grain harvested in the past week shows severe shriveling from the heat.

The next month is critical for ranchers in Texas as well. Hay and water are adequate in most areas now, but grass is being depleted rapidly with little regrowth.

Ranchers in parts of the state are being forced into supplemental feeding, while others are culling herds that they can no longer support on the stressed rangeland.

Summer vegetables are grown mainly on irrigated acreage and have not been damaged as severely as field crops. An exception is Van Zandt County, one of the main tomato growing areas, where only fifty percent of the usual production may be experienced.

Adding to the misery of drought, grasshoppers are moving into cotton and other crops in the Plains and Cross Timbers areas. "We're spraying the most heavily infested rangeland in the Panhandle to create a kind of buffer zone, but as rangelands dry up, the insects move into other areas," Brown said.

PREVENT FARM ACCIDENTS

DON'T BE A STATISTIC,
CHECK YOUR FARM
FOR SAFETY HAZARDS
TODAY!...

Most farm accidents can be avoided if a little time is taken to remove obstructions, fill hazardous field depressions and check machinery for unsafe operating conditions. Safe farming conditions are as much a part of farming as cultivating or planting. Don't gamble with chance, remove the cause of an accident promptly!

Actions Speak Louder Than Words
As motorcycling becomes more and more a family affair, it's increasingly important that parents practice the good safety habits they preach.

Survivors include: his wife, Maxine; a son, Phillip M. Russell of Hobbs, N.M.; his mother, Mrs. Emmett Russell of Haskell; four sisters, Mrs. Kenneth (Gerr) Newberry of Rochester, Mrs. Joe (Elinor) Davis of Ogden, Utah, Mrs. Bobby (Nancy) Flick and Mrs. Larry (JoAnn) Lindeman, both of Kress; a brother, Truman Russell of San Bernardino, Calif.; and a number of nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his father November 1979.

Ironically, many cyclists who always wear helmets on longer trips skip them for the short hops. Yet, short trips often present more opportunities for mishaps, greater traffic congestion, and more intersections, driveways, pedestrians and lights. In fact, a recent study shows that most accidents occur less than five miles from home. Set a good example for other motorcyclists—wear a helmet!
