FATALITIES

Alvin Wayne Otts, driver of this 1979 Chevrolet pick-up was pronounced dead at the scene by Haskell County Justice of the Peace Geraldine Hise. The accident occurred 10 1/2 miles east of Haskell on U.S. 380 Monday morning at about 8:45. DPS Trooper James Davis investigated.

Three Killed In Crash

An accident involving three vehicles Monday morning resulted in the deaths of three persons and serious injuries to another.

The accident occurred at about 8:45 a.m. Monday, 10 1/2 miles east of Haskell on U.S. 380.

Alvin Wayne Otts, 19, an employee of Swenson Land and Cattle Co. was pronounced dead at the scene by Haskell County Justice of the Peace Geraldine Hise.

Caroline Mitchell, 46, of Rule and Pauline Carmack, 71, of Haskell were pronounced dead on arrival at Haskell Memorial Hospital.

Shonna Andress was taken to Haskell Memorial Hospital and transferred to Hendrick Medical Center where she was listed in serious condition Wednesday morning.

According to DPS Trooper James Davis, that accident apparently happened when a 1979 Ford Thunderbird traveling east attempted to pass a tractor-trailer semi and struck a 1979 Chevrolet pick-up head-on. The car then apparently turned broadside in the road under the semi and was struck by the rear dual wheels of the semi.

A thick fog limited visibility to about 100 feet at the time of the accident.

Services for Otts, driver of the pick-up, were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Chapel of Memories at Melton Funeral Home in Breckenridge.

Services for Ms. Mitchell, driver of the auto, were held at 4 p.m.

Tuesday at Rochester Church of Christ with John Greeson, minister of the Rule Church of Christ with Owen Aiken, minister of the Rochester Church of Christ, officiating.

Burial was in Rochester Cemetery directed by Smith Funeral Home.

Born July 24, 1934, in Stamford, she was a licensed vocational nurse and was employed by Stamford

Indians Down Paducah, 16-8

The Haskell Indians defeated the Paducah Dragons, 16-8, last Friday night in their final home game of the 1980 season.

The Tribe offense had difficulties getting started and only made two first downs during the first quarter and about 35 yards rushing.

Paducah threatened to score early in the second period and moved the ball to within 12 yards of a score before the Tribe defense stopped them.

The Indian defense also held Paducah on the four yard line midway in the second quarter.

The first TD of the game came early in the third period on a 40 yard run by Albert Enriquez. The PAT was good.

Late in the same quarter, the Tribe moved the ball to inside the 10 and a 24 yard field goal by Enriquez gave the Tribe a 10-0 lead.

Mid-way in the final period, Indian Barry Tidrow pounced on a Paducah fumble in the end zone for the final Tribe TD.

Three plays later Paducah scored their lone TD of the night.

The Tribe moved the ball to within seven yards of another score late in the game but were stopped on fourth down.

HHS Band Receives I At Contest

The Haskell Indian Band was one of nine bands competing November 5 in Abilene which received a division I.

Haskell and Anson both received first division ratings in class AA. Other first division winners were: one each from class A, AAA, and AAAA and two from class AAAAA.

64 members of the band marched in the contest accompanied by twirlers and drum major. A total of 74 HHS students attended the contest.

Contest judges were from Waco, Kerritt and Altus, Okla.

Haskell received I's from two judges and a II from the other.

Two schools from the region, Munday and Seymour, were selected to compete in a State UIL marching contest in Austin in the near future.

Band director Barry Crudginton said that band members were disappointed in not being selected to attend the contest but were excited at the possibilities of attending a spring music festival.

School Board Adopts New Bilingual Policy

BY GINA JENNINGS

Members of the Haskell School Board voted to adopt a bilingual policy required by the state Thursday night during their regular meeting.

The policy calls for an annual survey to be conducted by the superintendent "to determine needs of children of limited English speaking ability and develop a plan which provides for instructional needs of these students."

Supt. James Lanier stated that the number of non-English speaking children within the local school system is minimal and current programs are sufficient to meet requirements.

Board members also approved the selection of a testbook committee consisting of MaryJane Cunningham, Earlene Griffith,

ECC Fund Now Over $4,200.00

Donations to the building fund for the Experienced Citizens Center this week totaled $355.00.

Total donations to the fund now total $4,216.00.

Work on the building is progressing rapidly and present plans call for the completion in the near future.

Donations received this week were from: Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swinson, Frazier's Appliances, Mrs. D. W. Counts, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Herren, Elizabeth Cofield, Laura Parker, and Emma Reid.

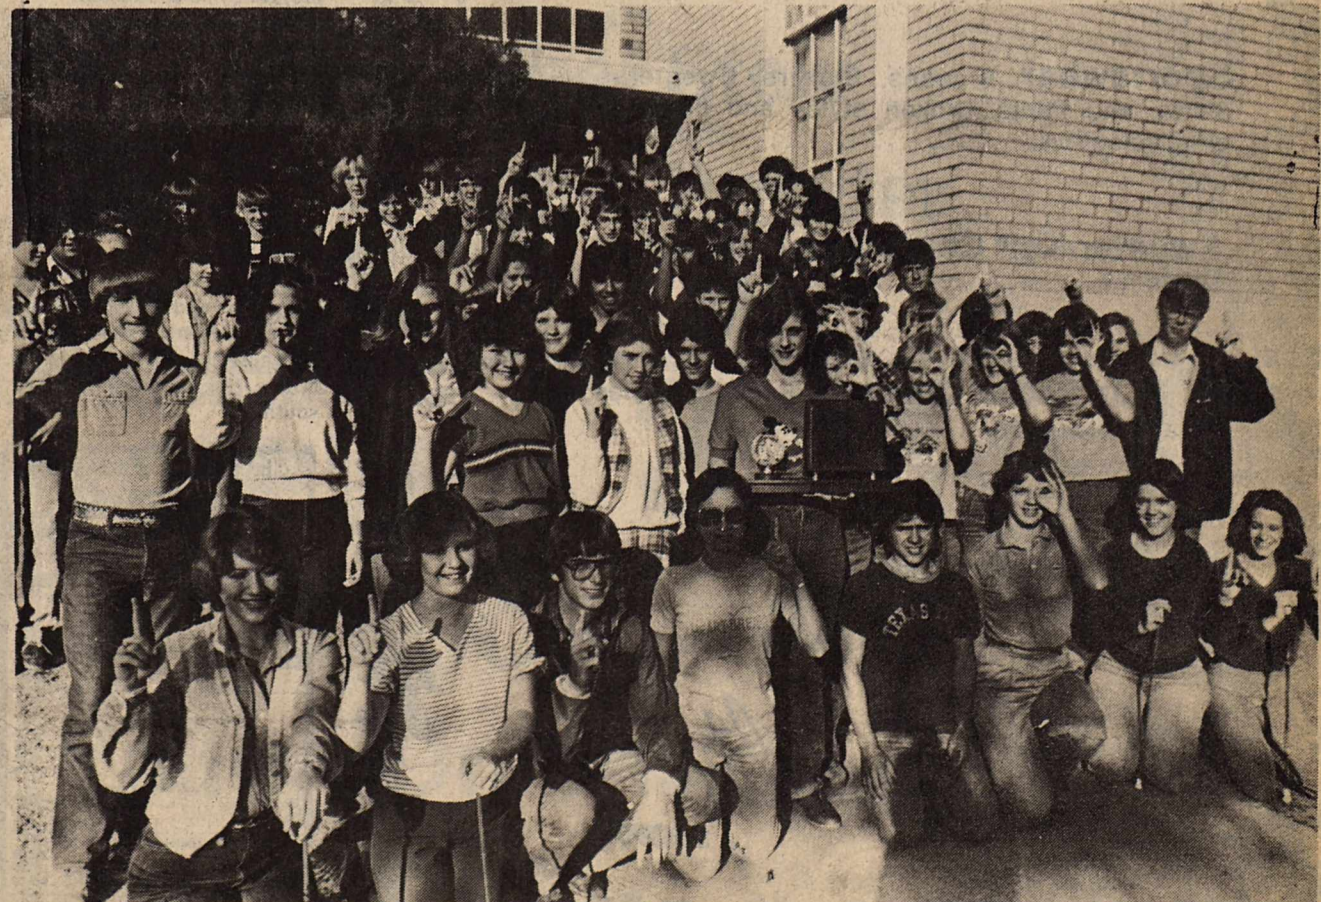

Doris Watson, Jimmy Weinert, Christine Speer, Letha Newton, Susan Pope, Linda Burris, Cathy Bartley, Bill Blakley, Clayton Neal and James Lanier.

Lanier reported a favorable ruling on the appraisal appeal hearing held in Austin last week. Original appraisals of commercial real property will be changed.

Regarding the effect of the ruling, Lanier said, "We know it will help us some but we'll have to wait and see how much."

Supt. James Lanier told board members that the County Tax Appraisal Board had decided to use the school's tax records for the 1982 tax year.

School board members decided to meet with members of the county board to discuss the issue.

Knox City Women Host Delta Kappa Gamma

Beta Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday, November 1, at 2:30 p.m. in the Knox City Community Center with Knox City members as hostesses.

Donnie Fincher, president, opened the meeting and asked Gretchen Colehour to give "A Moment of Meditation."

Mrs. Colehour brought a beautiful and impressive message. She began by reminding the group that November 1 was All Saints Day. She mentioned the Saint Teresa and gave her book mark quotation:

"Let nothing trouble thee, Let nothing affright thee, All things are passing: God never changes.

Patience obtains everything, Nothing is wanting to him Who possesses God. God alone suffices."

She closed with a word of prayer.

Mary Jo Lankford introduced Carolyn Sloan with Virginia Casey at the piano. Carolyn sang "The Sound of Music" and "I Believe."

Program chairman Mary Martin gave an introduction for the program and asked for the group to sing "A Lot of Friendship" led by Mary Jo Lankford with Mary Martin at the piano.

Margie Lott discussed "Personal Growth and Services." Marie Ward discussed "Professional Affairs As They Relate To Possible, Probable, And Preferable Futures." Hazel Long "did a little thing" on "Research." She asked members to fully realize just how many things we have today that belong in the throw away class. She mentioned that wedding dresses are now among the "throw away" group. Hazel passed out a clever little test for members present.

Mary D. Sawyers gave a very interesting report on the Area VII workshop held in Mineral Wells on October 4. She also reminded the group that unpaid dues must be in by December 1.

The next meeting will be in Mary Martin's home in Haskell on December 6.

The meeting closed with singing the "Delta Kappa Gamma Song" led by Mary Jo Lankford with Mary Martin at the piano.

Annual Pace Reunion Held Recently In Salado

The annual reunion of William Alexander and Sarah Hankins Pace who came to Texas from French Lick, Orange County, Indiana in 1855, was held in Salado October 25.

The place was "W.A. Pace Park" which was originally his place of business. The rustic old country store still stands. The old mill where he made flour and meal was on the creek bank with the spot marked. Also the famous old Stage Coach Inn that he and his wife were proprietors of. The Stagecoach Inn is known throughout the U.S.A. to be famous for its food. The antique front of the original building has remained though the exterior of the building is new and modern.

The beautiful new brick pavilion is ideal for gatherings and must be scheduled ahead through the year. All enjoyed the huge fireplace. The meeting at noon was business then a prayer. A bountiful lunch was served then pictures were made. The Marion Pace family, former Haskell resident, had the largest number present: his daughter, Mrs. Lon (Marion) Evans, Ft. Worth and daughter, Marilou Lynn and Margie Pace, Martha Pace Roberts, Billy Pace, Janis Pace O'Neal, Pace

O'Neal, all of Haskell; Wayne and Cathrine P. Brown, Hale Center; J. Theo and Evelyn Pace, Teddy Ann Williams and children of LaRue; Charlotte Etgen, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Pace, who helped to make this reunion possible; and Ava Pace Crawford of Winters. Also attending were others from Dallas, Ft. Worth; and Salado, Mrs. W.E. Street and daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Moseley; the Terrells and so many others.

A Positive Lesson On Procrastination

BY GINA JENNINGS
Late the other night as I was ushering my son to bed, he burst into tears.
He sobbed with a sudden intensity of grief peculiar to six year-olds, although just moments before he had been quite calm and happy.
The problem was, it seemed, that he had suddenly become unbearably distressed over the fact that HIS new shirt had only stripes while his brother's new shirt bore a bright red number "1" on the front.
At the moment it dawned on him that he had been so cruelly cheated, the fountain of tears began.
I was, of course, concerned. I feared he had accidentally stepped on the "giant beetle" which had been residing in his protective custody for the past week. As I asked for an explanation of his sorrow, I prepared myself for a sympathetic discourse on "Beetle Heaven."

As the "Tale of Two Shirts" unfolded, I was impatient over the triviality of the issue. I forced myself to consider however, that the hour was late and he was very tired. The injustice of the situation probably seemed immense to him at the moment.
Watching the rivulets of tears clean a path down the dirt-smeared cheeks, I realized nothing I could say right then would ease his pain. Yet I knew that the next morning when he awoke with fresh energy, his normally cheerful nature would return.
Then, even his six year-old mind would grasp the pettiness of his claim.

Instead of trying to talk him out of his foolishness, I offered the suggestion that it was much to late to get in a really good cry that night. Perhaps, I said, he could wait until morning when he would have much more time to work up a terrific weep without being rushed by bedtime.
To my surprise, he agreed. If he waited he could cry the whole day tomorrow, he reasoned.
He went to bed quite happy...looking forward, I assume, to an entire day of self-pity.
As I predicted, the next morning all the grief of the previous night had evaporated. Quite taken with his new shirt, he bounded happily off to school.

I have since began to wonder if we, as adults, might not be able to use this technique.
I wonder how much of our own anger would evaporate if we decided to enjoy today and feel angry tomorrow.
How many of our injured feelings would look feeble and foolish in the morning light if we waited until tomorrow to brood about some unkindness?

As I grow older, it impresses me that I have less and less time. I have no time at all to waste on anger, resentment or self-pity.
How many of my glorious todays can I afford to sacrifice to problems which are overpowering today and gone tomorrow?
Perhaps I can learn from my son, how to put those unhappy things off until tomorrow so I can live peacefully today.

Who knows? Maybe tomorrow will never come.

Dora Arredondo was crowned Indian Band Sweetheart during special ceremonies last Friday night at halftime. Her escort was Elliott Cox. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felipe Arredondo and is a senior at HHS. Cox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cox, Jr. and is a senior also.

Haskell CAP Center News

The regularly scheduled clinics will be held at the CAP Center on Thursday, November 20, with Screening Clinic from 10:00-12:00 and Immunization Clinic from 1:00-3:00 p.m.

Please check your children's records and see if they are up to date. If not, bring their cards and come to the clinic and we will see what they need. It is very important that they bring their cards if they have had any immunizations of any kind. We want to give them what they need but not something they don't need.

On Monday, November 24, 1980, we will have our regular monthly luncheon and community meeting. We are encouraged that this is growing and hope it will continue to do so. It is for all who are interested in your neighborhood and for the betterment of CAP and its services.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

I would like to devote this column to a group of dedicated high school students. After several very successful football seasons, the tides of misfortune turned against the Indians this season. We knew at the beginning of the season that inexperience, especially at the skill positions and lack of size was going to make a winning season a difficult goal to attain.

Then, a rash of injuries struck, starting with a broken collarbone this summer to Joseph Browning, one of the few game hardened veterans. Other injuries were inflicted to key personnel. At times the coaches were hard put to keep a team on the field. We lost several very close games in which we could have won had we been able to execute the key play. But this was not to be.

I am making the statements above not to establish an excuse but as a prelude to the following comments. Through all this adversity, the students-athletes have never quit. They play just as hard as they are capable. In every game, they have "put out" to the very best of their ability. They have not gotten "down" on themselves, the coaches or anyone. They have shown remarkable resiliency.

Also, (and maybe most important), they have always exhibited good sportsmanship and character. It is very difficult to cross that playing field to congratulate your victorious foe after enjoying the success we have had in recent seasons. The athletes and the coaches have done this with dignity and pride. They are to be commended.

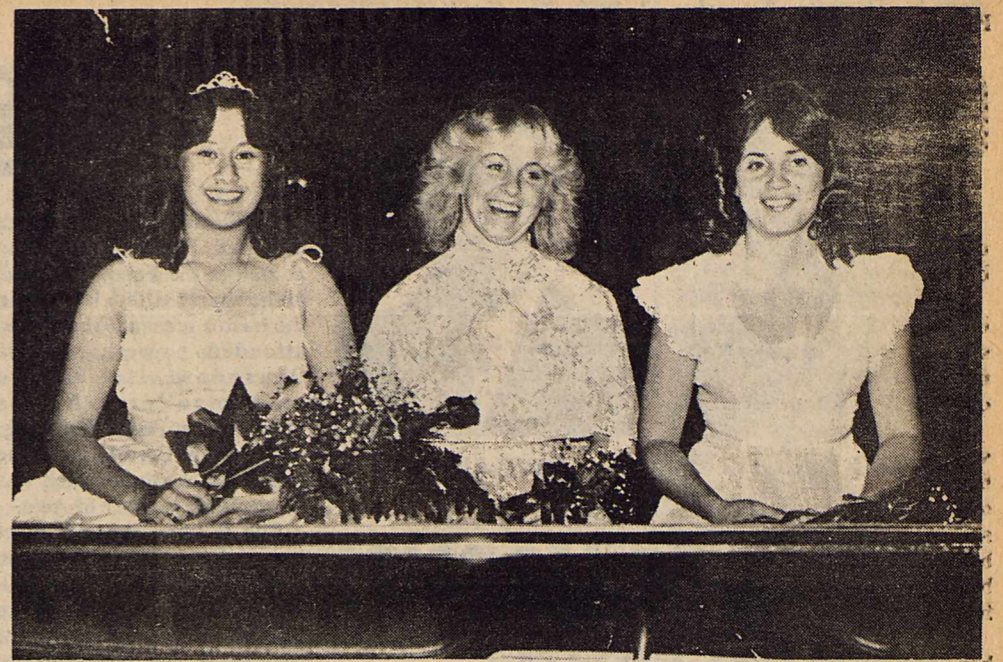

Another group of students who are due much praise are the cheerleaders, led by Kim Lane, head cheerleader. I do not think any of us except their parents realize how many hours these young ladies have toiled diligently in Loraine and Bobbie Johnson's garage. Incidentally, we also appreciate the parents, especially the Johnsons for providing a place for the girls to work. These young ladies have come up with some clever ideas for special days, pep rallies, etc. They have certainly aided the team by promoting spirit and just the kind of "class" people they are.

The Band (Division I in marching) have also contributed mightily with their hard work and spirit promoting music. Mr. Crudginton and his group of students who make up the "mighty" Indian Band are to be complimented highly.

Lastly, the faithful Indian fans who have stayed with the team and the students through this lean year are to be commended. On behalf of the coaches, the student athletes, the cheerleaders, the band and all others of our wonderful student body, we want to take this opportunity to say "thank you."

If I may paraphrase General Douglas MacArthur, I will make this statement... "The Indians shall return!" We are looking forward to seeing you at Quanah this week for the last game of the season.

Pipelines... make good neighbors

America has over 220,000 miles of petroleum pipelines carrying crude oil and products to refineries and storage terminals across the United States. Each day, more than 1.5 billion ton/miles of crude oil and products move through this network. These pipelines have a safety record second to none in the transportation industry... and we want you to help us keep it that way.

liquids on or a mist above the ground in the area of a pipeline.

- Flames originating from an opening in the ground.
- If you become aware of a pipeline leak...
- LEAVE THE LEAK AREA IMMEDIATELY.
- Avoid driving into vapor clouds.
- Avoid direct contact with the escaping liquids.

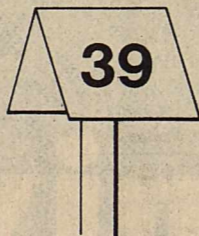

GROUND MARKER

GROUND MARKER

CASING VENT

AERIAL MARKER

When you see signs like those shown above, they tell you that there's a pipeline nearby. If it's underground, you can't see it, of course. But it's there, working quietly to provide energy for you and other consumers throughout this nation.

Some of these signs list the commodity transported in the pipeline, the name of the operator, and a telephone number where the operator's representative can be reached at all times.

Although pipelines have an exceptionally good safety record, once in a while a leak can occur. Indications of a leak might include:

- A strange or unusual odor in the vicinity of a pipeline.
- A hissing or roaring sound (caused by petroleum or product escaping from a pipeline).
- A dense white cloud or fog.
- A spot of dead or discolored vegetation.
- An accumulation of petroleum

- Avoid creating sparks or sources of heat which could cause the liquids or vapor to ignite and burn. If you find yourself in a suspected vapor area, do not light a match, start an engine or even switch on an electric light.
- Notify the pipeline operator as soon as you reach a safe area. Call collect. Give your name, a description of the leak and its location. If you do not know who the pipeline operator is, call your local fire, police or sheriff's department, or the state police. Advise them of the nature and location of the emergency.

If you see someone digging near a pipeline or doing other construction work... or if you plan to do such work near a pipeline yourself... please call the telephone number shown on the sign and let the pipeline company know so damage can be avoided. It's in your interest... and the nation's.

America's Petroleum Pipelines

Pipelines are the safest way to move petroleum and products and you can help keep it that way!

MICKEY FUGITT

East Side Baptist Church Sets Revival Nov. 16-21

Beginning Sunday, November 16, and continuing through Friday, November 21, East Side Baptist Church will hold evangelistic meetings. The services will be at 12:00 noon and 7:30 nightly.

The evangelists will be Mickey Fugitt and John Sharp. Many will remember Mickey, who spent a few years in Rule as a boy while his father, Riley, pastored First Baptist Church in Rule. Mickey now resides in Abilene, although most of his time is spent throughout the land preaching the gospel.

Mickey escaped a very near tragedy a year ago while preaching in Saint Kits Islands. The plane which he and his family and others from Clyde and Abilene were in, crashed after take-off. But even with this near tragedy, he continued to preach God's Word and share the love of Christ.

John Sharp, who will be leading the music, is a native of Fort Worth. He was previously a real estate broker for 10 years, then he was called to a full-time music ministry.

John has sung in concert at Baylor, in Kentucky, and many churches across the state of Texas. He has also recorded an album, "Are You the One," which will be made available.

"What a privilege is ours to live in a country and community that allows us to worship the God who made it all possible. We would like to invite everyone to attend our services. If you like Bible-preaching and gospel singing, you'll enjoy our services," stated Darrell Feemster, pastor.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

Dear Editor:

In reply to the flack that Don Comedy and Joseph Thigpen have been receiving, we say "Enough is Enough," and it's time they heard an encouraging word!

In all fairness, shouldn't everyone be allowed the freedom of speech, even if this includes the editor of our local newspaper? He prints all letters to him, even those about him!

Don, no matter how hard some choose to put The Haskell Free Press down, we still think newspapers, even local ones, are just as necessary for an American as dew is to the grass; and because newspapers are the schoolmasters of the common people, they are the world's mirrors. We cannot understand why some people choose to be so prejudiced toward reality.

Joseph, hang in there. You're not the only one that has felt the sting of vicious, untrue gossip. If you had not done what you were elected to do, to represent the people of Haskell County, you most assuredly would have received flack from that also. The only sin that we can see that you have committed is to do what you felt the people of Haskell County elected you to do—your job! You did what you had to do just as any District Attorney anywhere would have had to do to uphold the duties of this office. Just as we welcome our day in court in order to prove our innocence. We had to do it, and it's called Unbiased Justice!

To the Grand Jury, that has been accused of being Stacked? We wish to say, we admire and respect you. There were twelve men and women of great character that showed courage in the face of a very "sticky" situation. The Christian mind knows the only time to judge is when called for jury duty, and this is the duty any selected juror faces, even though their verdicts may not always be agreeable to everyone. Thank God we still have the judicial system in our country.

To Bob Baker, Marshall Brown, and James Davis, we don't know exactly what you're being accused of, all we can say is to do what we have done in the past, look squarely into the "sleeve" of that accusing finger, you'll find it is like the sleeve of a ghost, which has no substance.

We sincerely hope no one is going to be so naive as to think this letter has offended everyone. We on the other hand are going to be presumptuous enough to believe there will be those who agree with our statements, even though some may lack the courage to speak out, in fear of being verbally attacked—as we know we will be by some of you, but who among you is totally pure enough to cast the first stone?

Sincerely,
Jean Turnbow
Donna Howeth

John Brueggeman Received Award

John Brueggeman of Weinert received the Six Man Football Award in the game against Patton Springs on Oct. 31.

The game with Patton Springs was a very high scoring game. Brueggeman scored 62 of Weinert's 64 points. He crossed the goal line nine times with runs of 45, 43, 40, 28, 18, 6, 5, 5 and 1 yards, and he also made 8 extra points.

The 62 points may be the most ever scored by an area athlete in a single game.

Although Weinert came out on bottom by a score of 65 to 64, the victory that Brueggeman won is a very prestigious one. The Weinert team and fans are very proud of his great efforts.

Survivors Should Contact Social Security Office

Whenever a family member dies, one of the survivors should inquire to see if social security benefits may be payable on that person's record, Glyn Hammons, social security district manager in Abilene said recently.

"It is important to apply promptly, because in some cases benefits cannot be paid for months before the month of application," Hammons said. This pertains to widows and widowers who wish to start benefits before they reach 65.

If the worker had credit for enough work covered by social security, benefits can be paid to:

- Unmarried children under 18; 18-22 if full time students; over 18 if disabled before 22.
- A mother or father caring for a child under 18 or disabled.

- A widow or widower 60 or older.
- A dependent parent 62 or older.

A survivor's divorced wife can receive the same benefits as a widow if the marriage lasted 10 years or more. This time limit does not apply to a divorced wife caring for an eligible child under 18 or disabled.

In addition, there is a $255 lump-sum death payment that can be made upon the death of a person who worked and earned enough credits.

When applying, it is helpful for the person to have certain proofs available, including: worker's social security number, proof of age for applicants, proof of marriage for widows or widowers, children's birth certificates, and W-2 forms or income tax returns for the 2 years before death. Do not delay applying if all of these are not available. People at the district office may be able to suggest substitutes.

For more information about social security survivor benefits call the Abilene social security office, located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is 698-1360 if you are in Abilene. For others, there is a toll free number--1-800-392-1603.

New U. S. Law Raises Their Hopes of Leaving Refugee Facilities —Other Groups Affected

BY MICHAEL T. KAUFMAN
Special to The New York Times

NEW DELHI, Sept. 6—A new American immigration law is raising hopes among tens of thousands of Afghan refugees stranded in India and in Pakistan that they may soon be permitted to enter the United States.

Provisions of New Law

The measure, the Refugee Act of 1980, increases the number of visas that can be issued to refugees each year to 50,000 from 17,500. This is in addition to special programs such as those set up for Vietnamese boat people and Cubans. In addition to Afghans, the groups that are likely to be competing for an increased number of refugee visas include Ethiopians, Eritreans, South Africans, Namibians, Ugandans, Libyans, Lebanese and others who can show that they cannot go home without risk of persecution.

Few Afghans Have Passports

The law was signed by President Carter on March 17. Before it went into effect Afghans who fled into Pakistan or India from civil war and Soviet troops could apply for American visas as refugees only if they could get to Hong Kong, Frankfurt or Athens. Since the West German, Greek and British authorities were not issuing even tourist visas to Afghans, it became a Catch-22 situation for even the relatively few who had passports.

About a million Afghans are living in tents in camps in Pakistan, and most have no passports, but they can now apply for visas at the American Embassy.

James Norman Presented With Key To City Of Fort Worth

James M. Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Norman, was recently presented with a "Key to the City of Fort Worth." The presentation was made by Clark Martin, City Councilman, for James' contributions to the city and the well-being of its citizens.

James has lived in Fort Worth just over four years, having been transferred there from New York City as a partner in the accounting firm of Price Waterhouse & Co. whom he has been with for 16 years. He became active in supporting various civic-minded organizations and was nominated for and selected as a member of "Leadership Fort Worth" about a year after his arrival. Leadership Fort Worth is a group of relatively young (generally under 40) people who are selected based on their potential for future significant leadership positions beneficial to Fort Worth. Members are from all walks of life; business leaders, civic leaders, leaders in the Black and Hispanic communities, the professions, churches and government.

James also became active in support of "Big Brothers and Sisters of Tarrant County" and last year was appointed to the Board of Trustees and also Secretary/Treasurer of that organization which provides counseling services and friendship to children of single parent homes by assigning a "big brother" or "big sister" from a group of volunteers who want to share a part of their lives with someone else who is less fortunate than they.

Last December James was one of two founders of a new group of 21 business leaders who formed an organization to support the junior livestock auction at the Tarrant County Fat Stock Show and Livestock Exposition. Prize winning livestock entered almost exclusively by FFA and 4-H members are auctioned off at premium prices. James and Don Weeks, a general insurance agent and friend, had read that prices paid the young people entering prize-winning steers had declined relative to the Houston and Dallas shows to the extent that entries were dropping off at such an alarming rate that the future of the auction itself was endangered. Entrants dropped from about 175 in January 1979 to 115 in 1980.

James and his group raised in excess of $20,000 in less than a month and went to the auction with the avowed purpose of raising the prices the youngsters would receive for their prize-winning entries. It was their belief that young people who worked with these livestock for the better part of a year deserved more reward for their dedication and effort. The group was very successful and bid the price up on a large number of the cattle offered for sale at the auction. The average price received per entry was nearly $200 higher than the previous year.

Their group acquired 13 prize winning cattle and one prize winning lamb. They then donated several of these for resale and the proceeds for the resale to The American Heart Association, The Fort Worth Amateur Hockey Association and to Big Brothers and Sisters.

They also took one steer and sponsored a $50/person bar-b-que for a former city councilman and mayor protem of Fort Worth who was running for office as a U.S. Congressman. Over 500 people attended the function, one of the most successful political events of its kind in Fort Worth. In fact, it was reported as one of the most successful events for a Congressional race in the entire U.S. during the recent campaign.

James, Jim as he is known by his friends and associates in Fort Worth, joined Price Waterhouse & Co., one of the largest professional organizations in the world, in 1964 after serving two years in the Artillery in Europe. Price Waterhouse employs over 18,000 people worldwide.

He started his career in Houston and was promoted from staff accountant to senior and from senior to manager in less than five years. Both these promotions were the fastest in the history of the Houston office at that time.

In 1973 James was selected as one of eight persons throughout the firm to go to New York on a special two year assignment doing research at the firm's National Headquarters. While on this assignment he was proposed for admission as a general partner in the firm by the Houston office and supported by the National Office partners he had worked with there. His admission to the partnership in 1975 came after eleven years with the firm, again the earliest admission to the partnership in the history of the Houston office.

As a partner in the Fort Worth office, James is responsible for the annual audit and other consulting services for some of Texas' largest corporations, including Tandy Corporation (Radio Shack), The Western Company of North America (I'm Eddie Chiles and I'm Mad), Color Tile, Inc., and American Quasar Petroleum Company, one of the most successful independent oil exploration companies in the U.S.

Even though they don't always agree with James—he was recently Chairman of Tarrant County Certified Public Accountants for Reagan/Bush-Melvin and Pauline are very proud of his accomplishments.

James attributes whatever successes he may have had to the Christian influence and attitudes which were developed in him at an early age primarily by his parents and also by his friends in Haskell.

He tells us that in his business dealings in Houston, New York and Fort Worth the most common thread he sees among business and professional leaders is that a large number of them are from small towns. While in New York, for example, the primary group of Price Waterhouse people which he worked with were from Holt, Alabama; Hopkinsville, Kentucky; and, of course, Haskell, Texas.

The firm's top lawyer and its top accounting specialist have had a bet going for years as to which is from the smallest town. Both claim their home towns have less than 500 people. James believes the correlation between small town upbringing and a successful career in a leadership position is much more than just coincidence.

R. C. Cobb To Participate In Conference

A Stamford businessman will participate in a United States Department of Agriculture conference in Washington, D.C. next week.

R.C. (Clif) Cobb, President of Rolling Plains Production Credit Association, is one of thirteen participants representing the Farm Credit System at the USDA's Food and Agricultural Outlook Conference November 17-20.

Following the conference, Farm Credit System representatives will interpret and summarize the various commodity situations, production cost inputs, livestock trends and other economic data to determine their influence on agricultural credit. The results will be incorporated in a publication titled "Agriculture and Credit Outlook '81."

Each of the twelve Farm Credit Districts in the nation nominated one person from one of its banks, Production Credit Associations or Federal Land Bank Associations to represent that District.

Cobb was nominated by the Farm Credit Banks of Texas in Houston to represent these locally member-owned and controlled lending cooperatives of the Texas District on the project.
