HISD Board Approves New Exemption Policy

The members of the School Board voted to exempt some seniors from final exams during their regular meeting Tuesday night, May 5. The board approved the motion allowing seniors with passing grades during the final semester of the school year to skip the final tests.

In other action, board members voted to table discussion on accepting bids for a new car for the school system. According to Supt. James Lanier, the current vehicles are in good working order and the board will review the need for another car next year.

Also during the session, Lanier expressed his concern about students leaving school for outside activities. Lanier feels the frequent absences are unnecessary and cause problems for the students.

Board members also approved the appointment of Clois Thomas, Willie Buerger and Johnny Wheatley to the Equalization Board during the Tuesday meeting.

On personnel matters, Mrs. Kay Neal was hired as lunchroom supervisor for the 81-82 school year.

Also included on the agenda was a discussion of the transportation portion of the school budget for this year.

Haskell Hospital Committed To Community Health Needs

"Texas is Looking Well into the Future" will be the theme of Haskell Memorial Hospital's celebration of Texas Hospital Week, May 10-16.

"We think that our 1981 Texas Hospital Week theme fittingly describes the commitment of our hospital staff to improving the future health of our community," said Bud Comedy, hospital spokesman. "We devote our fullest resources to providing the best health care possible today. But we know that we have to look to the future to find even better ways to care as patients' and the community's needs change," she said.

Some of the ways Haskell Memorial Hospital is caring for the community's future are monthly inservice training to hospital staff by Miss Anita Thigpen, R.N., installation of a new anesthetic machine for surgery and a coultter counter for the laboratory.

Haskell Memorial Hospital has joined the Texas Voluntary Effort for cost containment.

Texas Hospital Week is sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association (THA) to foster better communication and understanding between hospitals and their patients, their employees, and the communities they serve.

In 1981, Texas Hospital Week coincides with national hospital week celebration of the American Hospital Association.

Skate-A-Thon To Benefit CF Fund

A 12-hour Skate-A-Thon will be held Saturday, May 9, to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. The event will begin at 11:00 a.m. at Dave's Cave in Haskell.

Participants should sign up sponsors pledging contributions for each hour skated during the 12-hour event. Pledges collected after the Skate-A-Thon will be given to the Skate-A-Thon Chairman.

A pair of skates valued at over $100 will be awarded to the skater turning in the highest donations with the second place winner receiving a 10 speed bicycle. Other prizes include t-shirts for all participants turning in over $25.00 in donations.

Cystic Fibrosis, (CF), is an inherited, incurable disease which affects the lungs and digestive system of its victims. Every 5 hours a child is born with CF, and every 8 hours someone dies of CF. Current average life expectancy for CF patients is 19 years.

The money raised by the Skate-A-Thon will be used to support the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's programs of research, education and patient care.

Certify Acreage By May 15

May 15 is the deadline to file certifications of acreage for the 1981 crop year for small grains (wheat, barley, oats and/or rye).

The certifications must be filed at the ASCS Office prior to May 15 to be eligible to participate in the 1981 program.

The program will cover losses from natural disaster, target price coverage, proven yields, etc.

According to Glenn R. Brzozowski, County Executive Director, there is no normal crop acreage limitation or set-aside for 1981. There is no offsetting or cross-compliance this year.

The only requirement for program coverage is an accurate certification of acreage.

Citizenship Requirements Simpler For Veterans

According to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, certain aliens who have served in the Armed Forces of the United States of America are entitled to some preferences when applying for citizenship. Aliens are persons who are residing in the United States but are citizens of another country.

Aliens with service in the Armed Forces of the United States during a period of war, who have either been lawfully admitted to this country for permanent residence or who, not having been so admitted, were inducted, enlisted, or re-enlisted or extended an enlistment while in the U.S. or any of its possessions, may be naturalized as a citizen without having to comply with some of the general requirements.

Any person in any of these categories who is interested in the United States citizenship should be advised to contact the nearest office of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. Anyone who pursues this matter with the Naturalization Service should have a discharge or other proof of military service at the time of contact.

In some instances, the U.S. laws pertaining to naturalization are rather confusing and complicated for those not familiar with them. The Federal law pertaining to the persons mentioned above was a means of rewarding persons who honorably served the United States during a period of war and who might wish to become U.S. citizens. Anyone meeting the requirements of the law and desiring U.S. citizenship, should take advantage of these provisions which simplify the procedures of becoming a qualified citizen.

Women In College

Numbers of women ages 24-34 returning to college rose 187 percent between 1975 and 1978. Cindy Wilson, a family life education specialist, points out.

This is almost four times higher than the number of men who returned to college during the same period, she notes.

Mrs. Wilson is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

I will continue my series on the co-curricular facet of our program. In this column, I would like to discuss our athletic program. This program is the most visible (not necessarily the most important, however) of our co-curricular programs. We offer a well rounded athletic program for both boys and girls. The girls have the opportunity to participate in basketball, track, and tennis while the boys have football, basketball, track, tennis, and golf.

In the Rolling Plains of Texas, football continues to be the most popular sport for the fans and students. A large segment of our school population is involved with football through cheerleading, band and pep squad. We anticipate approximately 80 boys playing football in High School next year with about 50 boys participating in Junior High.

We play the normal 10 game schedule with our Varsity and Junior Varsity teams while our 9th, 8th and 7th grade teams try to have an 8 game schedule. We have a problem with our 9th grade schedule simply because our neighboring schools do not have enough players for a 9th schedule.

While football produces the most revenue, it is also the most costly sport. Helmets are now approximately $60 a piece with other prices going up correspondingly.

The boys basketball also features 5 teams (7th, 8th, 9th, Jayvees, and Varsity) with approximately 70 boys participating. Both the tennis and golf programs involve 8 to 15 boys each spring.

The girls basketball also has 5 teams with approximately 70 girls involved. The girls track has only three teams with approximately 50 girls involved in the program.

Why do we have an athletic program? Lord Wellington may have said it best when he is quoted as saying that the Battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton.

Athletics teach youngsters discipline, physical fitness, competitiveness (so necessary in our society today), self denial. They instill a sense of pride in participants. They teach both the "joy of victory and the agony of defeat." These are lessons that each of us need to cope with in the world as it is today.

How do we finance this part of our program? The financing comes from two sources; gate receipts and local tax monies. Some years (especially the years we make the state playoffs) the gate receipts pay most of the costs with the exception of coaching bonuses. Other years, the local budget must bear more of the burden.

Our athletic budget runs approximately $25,000 not including above base salaries for coaches. Incidentally, all our coaches teach a full load (that is, they only have one conference period) with the exception of the Athletic Director who has two periods to take care of his planning and administrative responsibilities.

Next week, we will feature our literary activities.

State Comptroller Bullock Thursday said newspaper reporters who have become self-appointed critics of optional equipment purchases on state-owned vehicles should have been riding in a Comptroller's Suburban which crashed and killed an employee last summer.

"Can these cub reporters put a dollar value on the loss of Carolyn Boyd's life?" Bullock asked.

"Sure, it cost us $40,000 in death benefits, but what about the cost of human tragedy?"

Ms. Boyd was killed on June 7, 1980, just south of Dallas when the 1979 Chevrolet Suburban she was driving went out of control and plunged down an embankment.

"If I could go back and buy one more piece of optional equipment to prevent that accident I would buy it," Bullock said.

"Here's a 90-pound woman driving a ton and a half truck—but these are things that reporters don't think or care about."

Bullock blamed the recent rash of stories about his vehicle purchases on Waco Herald-Tribune reporter Laylan Copelin "being in unholy cahoots with C.C. Jones of Mart, the Chevrolet dealer who recently sold the Comptroller's Department a 1981 Suburban."

"Jones is mad because he won the bid and lost money on it," Bullock said. "But the newspapers haven't seen fit to publish that side of the story."

Bullock said Jones bid on the Suburban with certain options like radial tires which were not on the vehicle when it arrived.

"We wouldn't take it. We made him live up to his bid and he's mad about it," Bullock said.

"Jones isn't mad because we spent $11,000 on the truck—he's mad because we wouldn't spend another $500 to cover his mistake," Bullock said.

"The people of Texas can rest assured that we've spent our last dollar with this fellow in Mart," Bullock said. "It's obvious that the lowest bid isn't always the best."

Tooth Care

Try "detergent foods" for your teeth, suggests Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist.

Crisp, crunchy vegetables, such as celery, carrots or radishes are "detergent foods," because they remove food particles from the teeth, she says.

Mrs. Sweeten is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Stamford Merchants To Sponsor Softball League

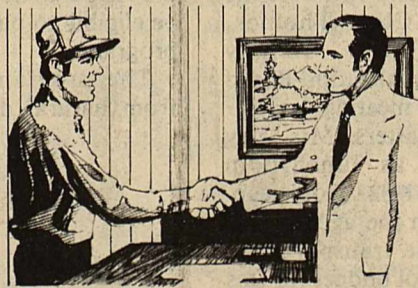

The Retail Merchants of Stamford will sponsor a Senior Softball League for the coming summer season.

There will be no age limit for the players in the league and it is hoped there will be 10 to 12 teams participating. This would require two games per week to be played at night in Wendeborn Park. Later during the summer a tournament would be held and trophies presented.

Neighboring towns of Anson, Hamlin, Haskell, Leuders and others who might be interested are invited to sponsor teams so an interesting competitive season would be enjoyed by all teams.

For further information, contact Jimmy Doan at Cashway Food Store in Stamford, 773-3372 or the Chamber of Commerce office, 773-2411.

BIO FEEDBACK THERAPY

Some physiological parameter is measured by appropriate electronic circuitry and the resulting signal translated into an auditory or visual display made available to the patient. This enables the patient to alter physiological responses with both voluntary and involuntary muscle control. Bio feedback electronic displays are in the form of flashing lights, modulated tones and visual meters. The patient, while being treated, may observe without difficulty, electronic measurements of ones self induced physiological control. This is a carefully controlled learning process while being constantly assisted and encouraged by a highly trained Bio Feedback Therapist.

Bio feedback therapy has been widely accepted by the American medical profession and most reputable insurance companies providing health care policies pay for this service provided by the primary care physician.

Haskell Youths Win In District 4-H Competition

Sixty-six 4-H members from 16 of the 21 counties in the Rolling Plains Extension District qualified Saturday (April 25) to compete in the Texas 4-H Roundup at College Station June 2-3 taking top honors in district competition at Midwestern State University.

About 220 4-H boys and girls competed in the district events, which included 29 contests. To qualify for the state contest a team or individual must receive a first or second place win in the senior division for youths ages 14 and older. Four-H'ers from Haskell County and their first place awards were: Mikeana Wilcox, senior division-Public Speaking, and Kristi Brister and Dalyn Gilly, Junior Division-Sheep & Goats.

Fischer, Wichita and Wilbarger counties had the most qualifying wins with four each. Young County will send three qualifiers to the state event.

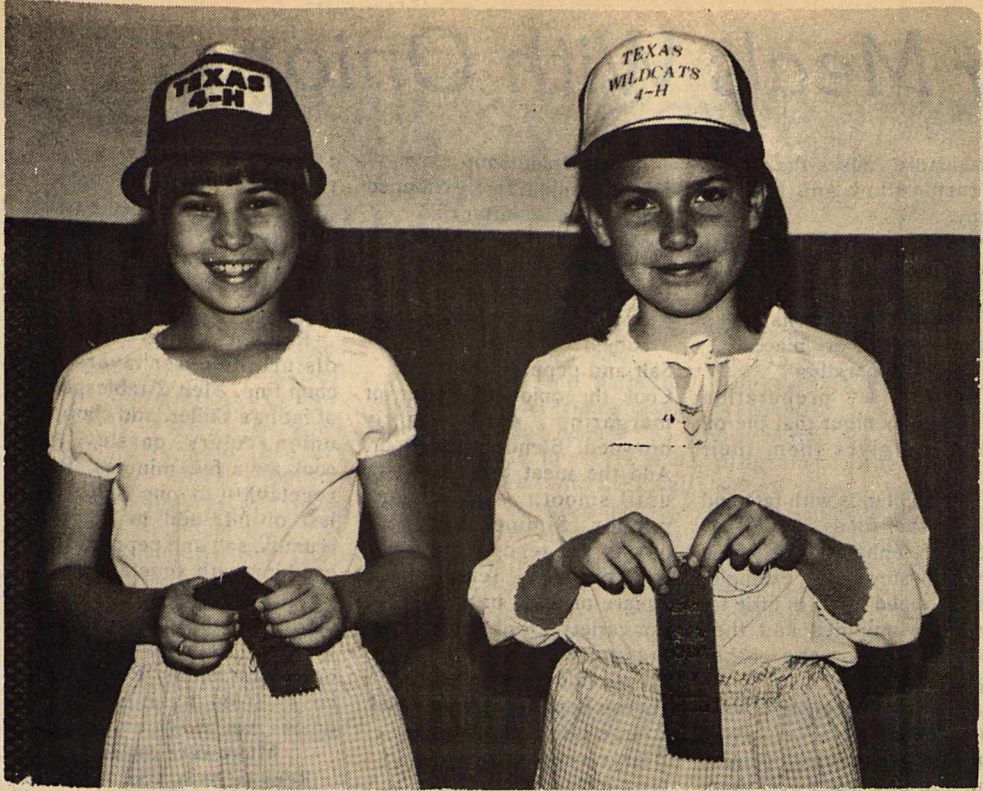

In Junior competition, held simultaneously with the senior contests, Childress County had nine first and second place winners. Fisher and Wilbarger each had seven. Juniors do not compete beyond the district level.

Already, two other rounds of district competition have been stated. The 4-H Food Show was held last winter and team judging events were held April 15 in Stamford. Range and Pature Grass Identification and Range Evaluation winners were determined at a tri-district contest Thursday, April 30, at Matador.

Winners last Saturday were honored at an awards assembly in the MSU student center. West Texas Utilities donated the ribbons which were presented to the winners by State Rep. Charles Fennell. The group was welcomed to the campus by Dr. Norman Horner of the university faculty.

Second place winners from Haskell County included: Kristen Campbell and Sandra Thornhill for Horticulture Preparation and Use; and Rebecca Holt and Jill Jennings for Clothing Educational Activity.

Educators Ass'n. Fights Collective Bargain Bill

The Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE) in a recent hearing told a House committee that collective bargaining for public school teachers represents a divisive element in the important concept of team work necessary to upgrade the quality of public education in Texas.

Mike Morrow, executive director for ATPE which represents approximately 30,000 educators, 25,000 of whom are classroom teachers, testified against a collective bargaining bill sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association. The hearing before the Employment Practices Committee of the House of Representatives brought into focus one of the primary differences between the two largest teacher associations in the state.

Morrow stressed that his organization supports uninterrupted education for students in the public schools. "As professional educators, ATPE members oppose this bill because we believe that it will open the door to illegal strikes for public school employees."

The TSTA bill does not provide for work stoppage or strikes; however, it does not prohibit them.

When questioned by Committee Chairman Lee Jackson (R-Dallas), TSTA's attorney Robert Hall conceded that in states where a similar bill has been passed, illegal strikes have been called by teachers frustrated with the collective bargaining process.

"Texas law currently prohibits strikes by public employees, but a collective bargaining bill for teachers has created an environment for illegal strikes in such states as Ohio, Colorado, New Jersey and New York," Morrow said.

"ATPE's philosophy is that achieving excellence in education takes combined efforts of the school board, administrators, teachers and the public which they serve."

"Passage of this bill will also promote greater militancy among teachers and without a doubt divide the educational community into a labor-management situation," Morrow said.

The bill was referred to a sub-committee by Chairman Jackson.

ATPE supports local control for education and is not affiliated with any national association.

In the last year it has experienced more than a 50 percent increase in membership and is the fastest growing association for educators in the state.

Women's Income Lower

Income for male-headed households averaged $22,865 in 1979, while income for households headed by females averaged $11,386, says Nancy Granovsky, a family resource management specialist.

Ms. Granovsky is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Dear Sir:

Perhaps this letter should be addressed to the Haskell Historical Society, but I don't have a name of anyone in that group. So I am sending it to you in the hope that you may be able to help me.

I have just finished reading "Haskell County and It's Pioneers" by Rex Felker. It was in our local University library. I read it from cover to cover, and feel I've gotten to know quite a lot about the pioneers and the present citizens. But I couldn't find what I was looking for in this book.

What I was looking for was my great grandmother, and that's a story I want to tell you.

Her maiden name was Harriet Clarke, of Charleston, S.C.; I believe her father's name was Solomon Clarke. She was born about 1834.

My great grandfather was Hezekiah James Oliver, of Edgefield, S.C. He was born in 1827. In 1845, he went to the Citadel Military Academy, graduating in 1848. Hezekiah and Harriet were married in 1848 in Charleston. He took a job as a surveyor/engineer with the Tennessee R.R., and went to Stevenson, Alabama, where two sons were born. Then in 1855, Hezekiah died while his wife was pregnant with her third child, (my grandfather). She moved to Spartanburg, S.C., to live with her brother-in-law, Rev. R.C. Oliver. My grandfather was raised there.

I have discovered all of this in the past two years, but could never find what became of Harriet. Then last summer, I came across a picture of a very old couple; the inscription on the back identified them as Cap't. and Mrs. Hunter, of Haskell, Texas. The inscription added that she had been Harriet Clarke Oliver, and had died in Haskell on 6 Nov. 1904. Thus, she may have been one of your pioneers.

I don't know who Cap't. Hunter was, or how she met and married him, or how she got to Haskell; I had hoped that Mr. Felker's book would tell me that.

If any of your readers know anything about Captain Hunter or Harriet, including where they are buried or when they died, I would appreciate hearing about it. Any other information you can give me about the family of Cap't. Hunter will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Hale Sweeny

Traditional Shower Honors Kim Drinnon

Miss Kimberly Lynn Drinnon was recently honored with a traditional Bridal Shower at the Haskell Community Building on Tuesday evening, April 26, 1981 from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. Kimberly is the daughter of Buddy and Mary Drinnon of Haskell and is the bride-elect of Mr. Robert Earl Melton of Lubbock.

As guests entered the double glass door of the building, each were personally greeted by the bride-to-be, her mother and future mother-in-law. Kimberly chose a floral peasant sundress with a ruffled three-tiered skirt to attend the shower. Complementing her dress was a flour flower white carnation corsage, a gift of the shower hostesses. The bride's mother chose a sleeveless cowlneck crepe spring dress of pale peach, accented by a waistline belt. Mrs. Earlene Melton, the bridegroom's mother, attended the shower in a black and tan two-tone skirted dress with a patented waist belt. Both mothers were also presented white carnation corsages.

Upon entering, each guest registered in Kimberly's Early American style bride's book. The small round register table was beautifully decorated to accent a Spring shower. The table was covered with a baby blue crepe cloth. Accenting the table was a bud vase of yellow daisies, blue carnations and baby's breath. A baby blue plume fountain pen was used for registering. Mrs. Sandy Clay greeted the guests at the registry.

Next, the guests were served white cake, assorted nuts, yellow punch and leaf and flower mints of blue and yellow. The refreshment table was decorated with a white lace tablecloth trimmed in baby blue satin ribbon. Yellow daisies, blue carnations and baby's breath of fresh flowers carried out the bride's chosen colors of blue and yellow for the centerpiece. Crystal appointments were used for serving.

Mrs. Rosemary Brown served the cake as Mrs. Camin Pittman ladled the punch. Serving as shower hostesses for the shower were: Mrs. Thelma King, head hostess; Mrs. Bud Comedy; Mrs.

Rosemary Brown; Mrs. Camin Pittman; Mrs. Sandy Clay; Mrs. Joe Martin; Mrs. Jean Love; Mrs. Mildred Berry; Mrs. Olive Chambers; Mrs. Jackie Nemir; Ms. Jessie Couch; and Mrs. Peggy Presnell.

The honored couple will be married on Sunday, May 17, at the First Baptist Church of Haskell.

Kimberly is employed by Methodist Hospital of Lubbock and Robert is a senior attending Texas Tech University.

Spice Up Summer Meals With Onions

Get fresh with onions (!) says Marilyn Haggard, a foods and nutrition specialist. She's not kidding--she's talking about summer-great and fantastically fine dining with fresh onions served up raw in salads or cooked in any number of great dishes. For real success, learn how to buy, store and prepare onions, says the home economics specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Buying Onions

Buying smart is a key to success with any product, and agricultural products are no exception. Ms. Haggard says. In buying onions, remember there are two general types--green onions and dry onions.

Here's a look at several kinds of green onions: Green onions--are merely onions that are harvested green. They are characterized by their hollow green tops and small bulb.

Shallots (scallion)--are green onions, too. But they differ from traditional green onions in that they have a straight stem rather than a bulb at the base.

Leeks--are another green onion. They have straight stems and flat solid leaves rather than round, hollow ones. Leeks are larger than green onions or shallots. Chives--are tiny onions with pencil thin roots and tops which are both used for flavoring.

In choosing green onions at the marketplace, select those that are crisp, tender, well-trimmed and free of decay and bruises.

Here's a glance at dry onions: These are classified as mild or strong.

Early varieties such as sweet Spanish and Bermuda are usually mild in flavor.

White onions are also generally mild.

Globe varieties are strong-flavored, such as the dark-colored onions--the reds, browns and yellows.

In buying dry onions, choose those that crackle, are bright, clean, hard and well-shaped. Moisture at the neck of the bulb indicates decay.

Storing Onions

Proper storage is the same thing as "protecting your investment" when it comes to agricultural products.

To store green onions, understand that they should be refrigerated and kept dry for peak quality.

Moisture causes the leaves to turn yellow and become slimy.

Green onions are best when used within three to five days.

To store dry onions, keep them in a cool, dry place.

Preparation

Here's a preparation "key"--remember that the oil in onions gives them their flavor.

This oil blends with fats and oils in other foods.

So, to enhance the onion flavor in stews, for example, heat chopped onion in little fat for a few minutes and then add them to the other ingredients.

Another preparation "key" concerns "survival"--to avoid teary eyes in peeling onions, pour scalding water over them before peeling, or peel under water.

Also, you can remove onion odor from your hands by rubbing briskly with celery salt before washing. Remove onion odors from knives by running through a raw potato. Eliminate "onion breath" by eating fresh parsley dipped in salt or vinegar.

Here are some delightful delicacies with "Onion" as the Star Attraction:

Onion Soup
1 1/2 cups onion, finely chopped
2 tablespoons butter or Margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 quart hot meat broth (made from a soupbone or bouillon cubes)

Salt and pepper to taste
Cook the onion in butter or margarine until lightly browned. Blend in the flour. Add the meat broth and stir until smooth. Add salt and pepper. Simmer until the onions are tender and flavor well blended. Serve with a square of toast in each bowl. For variety sprinkle a little dry grated cheese over the toast. Serves four, one cup each.

Green Pepper & Onion Salad
2 large green peppers
2 large sweet onions
crisp lettuce
herbed dressing

Wash and chill peppers and onions. When ready to make salad, slice crosswise in thin slices, remove core and fiber from peppers, leaving large green rings. Separate onions into thin rings. Arrange equal amounts of green pepper and onion rings on lettuce or Romaine. Use liberal amount of herb salad dressing on each serving. Serves four to six. This is an excellent combination of flavors with cold cuts, baked beans or barbecue.

Stuffed Onions
5 large onions
3 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup celery, chopped
2 cups bread crumbs

1 teaspoon salt
pepper
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Skin onions, cut in half crosswise, simmer in salted water until almost tender and drain.

Remove centers without disturbing outer layers and chop fine. Melt 2 tablespoons of fat in a skillet, add chopped onion, celery, parsley, and cook for a few minutes. Push vegetables to one side, add last of fat, add to it bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Then combine with vegetables. Fill onion shells with stuffing, cover, and bake in moderate oven for 30 minutes or until onions are tender. Remove the cover from baking dish so onions can brown on the top.

Microwave cooking

Remove skin, root end and top of small onions. Place in a baking dish, top with a pat of butter. Cover and microwave on high power on half time. Rotate and rearrange in dish. Microwave covered the remaining time. Let stand 2 minutes to complete cooking.

2 onions 6-8 minutes
4 onions 9-12 minutes

*Nutrition Note: One raw onion provides only 40 calories, carbohydrates, fiber and some Vitamin C.

Book Review

Carolyn Dance of Dallas was the special guest speaker at the Progressive Study Club last Thursday evening. Mrs. Dance reviewed the book "Faces in a Mirror" by Princess Ashraf Pahlavi, twin sister to the late Shah of Iran. An autobiographical work, the book detailed the sweeping changes in Iran during both her father's and her brother's reign. A professional book reviewer, Mrs. Dance called "Faces in a Mirror" an outstanding book... "courageous and intensely personal." Carolyn Dance reviews several books a week. Her husband, Tom Dance, is an architect in Dallas.

Mother's Day Barbeque Slated In Benjamin

Sunday is Mother's Day so treat her to an old fashioned barbecue dinner at the Benjamin Community Center. This is the advice of the Knox County 4-H Adult Leaders Association which is sponsoring their annual Mother's Day Barbeque at Benjamin.

Serving time is from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This year's menu features barbecued buffalo—a meat noted for being lean and flavorful, tasting like beef except that it does not have as much fat. Ed Daniel, Lewis Spinks and Bobby Roberson will be the cooking crew.

Served with the barbecue will be the usual trimmings of potato salad and beans.

Homemade desserts will also be featured with the meal which will be prepared by members of the Knox County 4-H Leaders Association and members of Knox County Home Demonstration Clubs.

Members of the Knox County 4-H Club will be serving the meal.

The Mother's Day barbecue is the main fund raising event of the year for the Knox County 4-H Adult Leaders Association, who use the proceeds to further 4-H programs in the county for Knox County's youth.

Cost will be $4.00 per plate. Extra plates at no cost will be furnished to parents of small children who might wish to divide a plate.

Timely Tips For 'Terrible Two's'

The "Terrible Two's" are legendary. The only word the two-year-old seems to know is "NO!"—and he says it, loudly and constantly.

Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, suggests that the reason behind negativism at age two is that the child has learned that "NO" is a powerful word. When he says "No," it brings people up short. It draws attention and lots of words from them.

Using the word "no" is also an expression of a child's increased ability to assert himself. "Yes" is merely going along with a situation. "No" is a kind of control over the situation. The world of smoothly flowing events stops suddenly when he says "no," and new happenings begin to revolve around him in an attempt to get him to say "yes." The attention and the control of events lead him to experiment with resisting in a wide variety of situations.

There are several ways to handle a child when he's constantly saying "No!" The first step is to recognize that it's normal behavior at this age. Knowing this will help you be less disturbed when a child is contrary.

Secondly, it is often useful to avoid asking questions that require a yes-or-no answer when you want a child to do something. Instead of asking "Would you like some nice carrots?" you could say, "Here are some nice carrots." Obviously, if you give the child the option of saying "no" and he says "no," then you are in a bit of a bind.

If you expect resistance, say at bedtime, start the child down the road, then insert some pleasant experience into his activity. For instance, you could say, "Let's get your pajamas on and then I will read you a bedtime story."

What this does is reward the first step in the right direction, after which the child's own momentum can more easily carry him through to the completion of the task.

Finally, it may sometimes be necessary to ignore resistance and proceed gently but firmly along the course you have chosen. It is important not to be impressed by the fuss he raises when you do this. Pay as little attention as possible to the fuss, avoid looking at him, and don't try to reason with him or "sweet talk" him while he is actively resisting. The extra attention merely reinforces his resisting behavior and he learns quickly that resisting brings him more attention.

A child this age characteristically shows no gradation of emotion. That means his response is all or nothing; he has not learned to display mild irritation when that is more appropriate to the situation.

The two's can be terrible. But take heart. The saying is "Terrible Twos and Trusting Threes, Frustrating Fours and Fascinating Fives." Better times are coming.

More information about this subject and about the physical and social development of children up to six years old can be gotten by writing to Growing Child, 22 North Second Street, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. When writing, include the child's birthdate.

Interns To Serve In Washington D.C.

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has announced that the selection for the Omar Burleson and Lyndon Baines Johnson Congressional Internships have been made. Four persons from the 17th Congressional District have been chosen by a committee of six persons from throughout the district, chaired by former Congressman Omar Burleson.

Selected for the positions were 20-year-old, Miss Leslie Ann Barr of Coleman, and Kenneth Hawari, 22, of Cisco. Both will serve during the month of June in the Washington office of U.S. Congressman Charles W. Stenholm. Miss Barr is a sophomore at Texas A&M University, working toward a major in Agriculture and Journalism. She is a member of the livestock judging team at Texas A&M. Miss Barr served as Director of the Coleman Junior Chamber of Commerce. She is former Miss Rodeo Texas Teen.

Mr. Hawari will graduate in May from the University of Texas in Austin with a B.A. in Government. He holds a 3.95 grade point average at U.T., and has applied for admission to law school.

The two positions for the month of July will be filled by Tom E. Adams, 38, of Big Spring, and Joseph Curtis Henderson, 18, of Jacksboro. Mr. Adams is a 12th grade Government teacher at Big Spring High School. He graduated from Sul Ross University with a masters degree in Education. Mr. Adams undergraduate degree is a B.A. in Social Science from Tarleton State University.

Curtis Henderson is a freshman pre-law major at Austin college in Sherman, where he maintains a grade point average of 3.8. He was Valedictorian and President of the National Honor Society during his senior year at Jacksboro High School.

The winners were selected after meeting with the Selection Committee in Abilene.

Mr. Burleson said, "Each applicant was outstanding, and it was only unfortunate that four, and not more, could go." The winners spoke briefly with Cong. Stenholm following their selection and he congratulated them saying he "looked forward to their arrival in Washington, and would be eager to put you to work."

Stenholm Introduces Tax Cut

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm introduced legislation this week that he said would provide one of the most important inflation-free tax cuts to effect lower and middle income Americans this year. The bill, H.R. 2240, would increase the amount of the exemption of certain interest and dividend income from taxation, raising the amount of tax-free interest from $200 to $1,000 for a single person and from $400 to $2,000 for a married couple filing a joint return.

"This will encourage many people to save," Stenholm said, pointing out that U.S. savings performance ranks the lowest of the major industrial countries. "Japanese citizens save 20 percent of their disposable income," he said, "and West Germans save 13 percent, while Americans only manage to save 5 percent of their disposable income. Even the Britons, whose country has become synonymous with high inflation and low productivity, manage to set aside 11 percent of their disposable income."

Stenholm said the measure would not only encourage increased savings, but would help reduce interest rates, control inflation and encourage vitally needed capitol formation.

Stenholm cited a report by the National Association of Realtors that showed that more than 80 percent of all tax returns on which the interest income is reported are filed by taxpayers earning less than $25,000. "When you look at this as a percentage change in taxable income," Stenholm said, "the lower the income level, the greater the tax relief to that individual. The elderly, generally in a low tax bracket, and those whose interest income comprises approximately one quarter of all income they receive in any given taxable year, would be particularly affected by this bill."

Stenholm said his bill would serve as companion legislation to the Small Savers Provision, introduced earlier in the Senate by Texas Lloyd Bentsen.

"This type of tax relief would take a serious step toward reducing the penalty forced on those who try diligently to save, only to see any advantage eaten up by inflation," Stenholm said. "And by putting more money into savings we can make that capital available for investments in industry and housing needed to increase our productivity and thereby curbing inflation."

Beware Of Work-At-Home Advertisements

Tempted by a "work-at-home" offer?

Be careful, and proceed with caution--or create your own "work-at-home" business, advises Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist.

Mrs. McCormack is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In many "work-at-home" cases, the potential "employee" or "investor" (you) is asked to send a membership or registration fee to a company "for more information" or "to obtain the materials necessary to start the job," Mrs. McCormack notes.

Too often, these "job materials" and "investment secrets" turn out to be simply promotional literature--not work, she says.

If you want to make money at home, and if you have an idea of what you want to do, place your own advertisement in the paper, the specialist says.

LEGAL NICETIES. Los Angeles is now the center of the Israeli mafia, a criminal ring that deals heavily in drugs and extortion. Two of its reputed 200 members, most of whom are Israeli nationals, are on trial in Los Angeles for the murder and dismemberment of a young couple in North Hollywood. The public prosecutor, saying the evidence wasn't strong enough to convince the jury to demand the death sentence, will go for a prison term for the two. The prosecutor declined to discuss the specifics of the case.

Laundering Cuffs and Collars

Cuffs and collars should have "preferential" treatment in the laundry room, advises Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

Pretreat spots and stains—and heavy soil—on cuffs and collars.

Rub the area with liquid detergent or a paste of granular detergent and water.

Also, you can buy special pretreating products, but be sure to use them according to directions, the specialist says.

Ms. Brown is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Horse Shows Set At Knox City

Plans are being made for two horse shows at the Knox City arena in the near future. The first will be a 5 County Show on May 16, and the second show will be the annual Knox County All Trophy Open Horse Show, which will be held June 13. Starting time for both shows will be 10 a.m.

The 5 County Show, which will be limited to residents of Knox, Foard, Haskell, Baylor and King Counties, and will feature novice classes, as well as regular classes for two youth age divisions. There will also be open classes which are available for adult or youth. The show will be judged by Jimmy Poole of Stephenville, with trophies being awarded to first place and ribbons through sixth place.

The inclusion of the novice classes is to encourage participation of beginning riders in the area, as is the limitation of entries to the five county area.

The Annual All Trophy Open Horse Show, formerly held at the Benjamin arena, will be held in the Knox City arena. Dave Whitaker of Lubbock will judge the show. There will be two youth age divisions and an open division in the performance section of the show, which will also feature halter classes.

Trophies will be awarded through fourth places and buckles will be given to high point winners in each age division.

For more information, contact Mrs. Joe Boone, Knox City, 817-658-3916, or Bob Cude, Goree, 817-436-3111.

New Bill Should Reduce Number Of Court Appeals

A new bill in the Texas Senate is aimed at cutting down court appeals caused by legal technicalities. Attorney General Mark White expressed his support of the bill to be introduced and co-sponsored in the Senate by Senators Peyton McKnight (D., Tyler) and Bob Glasgow (D., Stephenville), and in the House of Representatives by Representative Neal T. "Buddy" Jones (D., Hillsboro).

The bill would require the defense to raise any technical problems in an indictment before the trial so that such non-substantive formal deficiencies could not be raised on appeal. White said that the recent decision by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to dismiss indictments against six people convicted of possessing cocaine because of legal technicalities illustrates the need for a change in the law.

White was not critical of the Court, but he said the decision clearly shows that the law must be changed to prevent guilty parties from being freed on technicalities that have been hidden from the trial court.
