Rochester Planning 75th Anniversary

Excitement is in the air in Rochester as plans are being made to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the school and community.

Beginning at 3:00 p.m. October 9th, a pep rally will kick-off the celebration featuring former cheerleaders, twirlers and band members. After the pep rally, how would you like to feast on a chili supper? Attend an old fashioned musical dressed in fashions of the 1900's? Compete in some old timer games—beard growing contest, washer throw and who knows what else?

On Saturday registration begins at 10:00 a.m. in the school cafeteria. At 1:30 the Steer football team meets the Newcastle Bobcats with the anniversary queen to the crowned during halftime performance. A program in the auditorium will be immediately following the football game. A catered meal will be served for the dinner meal followed by a class party for all classes in the school cafeteria.

If you are an Ex-Rochesterite make plans to come and be a part of the 75th Homecoming!

Local Game Warden Seeks Cooperation

Alton Chapman, local Warden with the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife, has asked for the cooperation of all local hunters and residents during hunting seasons.

With the opening of dove season September 1, Chapman told the Free Press that hunters need to brush up on their awareness of game laws.

Several new laws were passed by the legislature this year and were effective September 1.

One new law which Chapman says will affect many local varmit hunters was passed which completely stops spotlighting from roads.

For dove hunters Chapman said there were several changes in hunting laws this year including increasing the limit to 12 dove per day and 24 in possession.

The state trespass law was also changed to include penalties of up to 180 days in the County Jail and or $1,000.00 fine for persons guilty of trespassing without a firearm. Persons found guilty of trespassing with firearm in their possession may be punished by up to one year in the County Jail and or a fine of up to $2,000.00.

Chapman asked that local hunters also consider these laws which commonly result in a large portion of violations.

Pool To Remain Open

The Haskell Swimming Pool will remain open Labor Day weekend from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Monday and 1:30 to 5 Sunday. If enough interest is shown the pool will remain open as long as the weather permits.

In addition to these personnel, several trained volunteers will also be used and an emergency care attendant class will be taught in the near future to secure more volunteers.

All persons interested in the 40 hour ECA class are asked to contact Strickland or Don Comedy for further information.

The Ambulance Service is subsidized by the City, County and Hospital and the board is composed of members of the governing bodies of these entities as well as other local residents.

FIRE TRAINING

Fifteen members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department attended training classes last week in Abilene. The classes were held four nights and consisted of two nights of classroom training and two nights of firefighting. Pictured above are three students and an instructor battling a transport truck fire.

Dove season opens 30 minutes before sunrise and closes at sunset; hunting over a baited area is unlawful; birds killed by several hunters may not be pooled; no hunter may transport more than 24 birds.

Hunters may not shoot from a vehicle or shoot across, along or from a public road; all shotguns must be plugged to accept no more than three shells; each bird is a separate offense and weapons or violators may be confiscated and held until final disposition of the case.

Chapman rates this year's dove crop as the best in the past four years and advises that hunters should be successful in hunting around sunflowers, maize or wheat stubble or stock tanks.

Chapman requests the assistance of all area persons in making this a fun, successful and safe hunting season. He can be reached by phone at his home at 864-3027 or by radio by contacting the Sheriff's Office at 864-2345.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent Haskell ISD
 Each Thursday, the administrative staff consisting of the principals and myself and sometimes, the business manager meet for discussion of common problems and for communication. The purpose of these weekly meetings is to keep each other informed of what is going on in the various elements of our school system. At this time we can discuss together any common problems.

One of the chief items on our agenda last Thursday was the problem of declining student enrollment. At the end of the first week of school, we had a rather bleak picture. At the end of the 1979-1980 school term, we had 730 students enrolled. At the end of the first week of this term we had 704 students enrolled. Thus, the trend of declining population prevails. This trend has gone on for at least eight years. What problems does this decline present? The first one is financial. Much of the state foundation program is based on ADA (average daily attendance). As ADA declines, so does our staff aid. However, this loss of revenue is difficult to reflect in our school program simply because we still are required to maintain a basic program regardless of numbers. This basic program requires faculty. Approximately 80% of our budget is consumed in salaries. This is a rather flexible figure. What can the administration do to help remedy this situation? Each time a teacher resigns or retires, we are forced to take a hard serious look at absorbing their assignments without replacement. When we hire replacements, we must strive to hire people with as diverse a background as possible.

to help this situation? You can encourage your students to be in school each and every day. It is important for a student to be in school each day for his or her education development. This attendance is also all important to the school. We have consistently been around the 95% of attendance the last few years. An increase of 2% would help considerably. We would encourage you as parents to assist us in keeping our students in school first for their educational development and, second, to help the school offset this decline in school population.

Scientist conducts herbicide study on campus rooftop

COLLEGE STATION — Early findings from 32 artificial streams built on a Texas A&M University rooftop indicate exposure of stream algae to atrazine, the active ingredient in the herbicide Aatrex, can all but destroy the photosynthesis of the single-celled organisms.

Algae are vital in any creek ecosystem because they add dissolved oxygen to the water through photosynthesis, a process that can be destroyed or temporarily blocked by some herbicides, said Texas A&M biologist Dr. Robert Kosinski.

Other preliminary tests suggest that another herbicide known as trifluralin, found in the cotton-farming chemical Treflan, poses few problems for algae, said Kosinski, chief scientist on the unique Environmental Protection Agency-funded project.

Brush and Palette

Watercolor is a somewhat more difficult medium than oil, I think.

After studying in Carmel, California for a month, I decided that I liked the brush handling of the oils much better. There is a freshness in watercolor that I like that is different to oils. In watercolor you learn that it has its devices—tricks, as some people call them—to achieve the effects not possible with oil. Start with a limited palette and by the time you can use a full palette you will have developed the special devices and you will see that watercolor is worth the trouble. I still work with watercolor, both in transparent style and also with acrylics.

Q. What is the difference between professional and student grades of paints and materials?

A. The student-grade items are less expensive, with one exception and that is watercolor paper. In no other medium is the working surface so important for successful results. The best paper is 100 percent linen rag cotton and is available in different weights. A 140-lb. weight is heavy enough for most work, with 70-lbs. the minimum for small paintings. If you do use a student-grade or machine-made paper, select as heavy a weight as possible. There is also a 300-lb. weight and is usually used by professionals.

Q. What is C.P. paper and H.P. paper used in watercolor?

A. The rough finish is the cold pressed (C.P.) and is most popular. A very smooth finish, not too frequently used by watercolorists, is the hot pressed (H.P.). The C.P. provides enough texture to make an interesting and receptive painting surface. The usual sheet of watercolor paper is 22 x 30 inches. Cut in half or quarters to make smaller workable sizes.

Q. What is a basic watercolor palette?

A. Alizarin Crimson, Cadmium Red Light, Cadmium Yellow Light, Cadmium Orange, Light Red, Yellow Ochre, Burnt Sienna, Ultramarine Blue, Ivory Black, Viridian, Thalo Blue. You might wish to add Cobalt Blue, Raw Sienna, Hookers Green, Thalo Green, Payne's Gray, Burnt Umber and Cerulean Blue. There are as many colors in watercolor as oils so it will be up to you to select your own palette.

Q. What brushes are best for watercolor?

A. As in oils, you can either pay the price for good red sables or buy cheap ones that are short-lived and never satisfactory. However, there is some compromising that can be done. There is a less expensive ox-hair variety and will be found to be quite workable. A bristle stencil brush can be used for scrubbing out unwanted passages or color and also used for textural effects. Whatever brush you use, restrict its use to watercolor. A good watercolor teacher can get you started as I believe visual education is best.

HINT: With all this beautiful weather, why don't you take your watercolors outside and capture some of summer's beauty? It is fun and exciting, try it!

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas, 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Tips For Buying Used Sewing Machines

In the market for a used sewing machine?

A "good" used sewing machine can be the best buy in several cases, says Becky Saunders, a clothing specialist on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

They're a wise choice for homesewers whose budgets won't stretch to cover the cost of a new machine, Saunders says.

They're ideal for people who just do simple sewing or repairs, and they're a cautious choice for beginners or "returners" to sewing who aren't sure how much or what they'll be sewing, the specialist adds.

FINDING A MACHINE

Used sewing machines are available at retail stores that sell reclaimed or trade-in machines as well as new ones. Household auctions, garage sales or want ads are other sources, Saunders suggests.

A reconditioned sewing machine purchased from a retail dealer should carry a warranty, she says.

On the other hand, when buying from an individual, you may pay a lower price, but usually you must take the machine "as is."

QUESTIONS TO ASK

Before buying, consider a number of factors.

Answer these questions:

Does the machine sew well, and is it in good condition?

If not, can it be repaired, and what will needed repairs cost?

Are parts and additional attachments available?

Is the operating manual included?

Will it meet your sewing needs?

Is the price right for your pocketbook?

TRY IT OUT

In order to answer some of the above questions, try out the sewing machine—with thread.

As you sew, notice how it operates—does it make even stitches? Does it run smoothly without much noise or vibration?

Check the ease of threading and adjusting controls, such as tension, pressure and stitch length.

If possible, test stitches on different weights and thicknesses of fabric.

CHECK WIRING

Be sure the electrical wiring is flexible and has no bare wires showing.

If the wiring or exposed belts are worn, frayed or loose, they will need replacing.

PRICE PRECAUTIONS

After you've checked out the used machine, be sure you know the total purchase price.

Don't allow special offers or deals to tempt you beyond what you can—or want—to pay.

If you are not paying cash, remember the sale price does not include interest charges.

Home Health Agency Provides For Area Needs

Mid West Texas Home Health Agency is a non-profit organization established to meet the needs of the elderly and disabled. This provider office is located in Seymour and was established in 1972.

Our parent agency was established in Lubbock in 1969. Mid West Texas Home Health Agency is active in 29 counties.

Registered Nurses (R.N.) and Licensed Vocational

Nurses (L.V.N.) go into the homes of the patients under the physician's orders and render nursing care on an intermittent basis. Skilled nursing care may involve such things as monitoring vital signs, diabetic teaching, including administration of insulin, IM injections, such as vitamin B12, intermittent positive breathing treatments for the emphysema patient, catheterizations with catheter maintenance and family instruction, intravenous fluid feeding, Levine tube insertion/replacement and instruction to family in feedings and maintenance, decubiti care, ostomy care and teaching and application of sterile dressings. Our nurses work closely with the physician, the patient and the family in management of the patient's health condition and meeting nutritional needs.

Among services provided by Mid West Texas Home Health Agency are the services of Home Health Aides, assisting with the hygienic care of the patient and teaching the patient techniques in basic health care; the Physical Therapist, assisting the physician in his evaluation of the patient's exercise and activity regime; the Speech Therapist, cooperating with the doctor in evaluation of the patient's speech, hearing and language disorders; the Occupational Therapist, assisting the physician in his evaluation of patient's upper extremities; and the Medical Social Worker, assisting the physician and other members of the health team in understanding the significant social and emotional factors related to the patient's health problems.

Mid West Texas Home Health Agency works as a complimentary service to the hospital and its staff. When a patient is discharged from the hospital, the agency nurses continue the teaching and monitoring that was begun in the hospital. With nurses residing in the rural areas, health care is readily available to those who might otherwise be neglected due to lack of transportation or other factors.

The goal of Mid West Texas Home Health Agency is to maintain the patient in his home as long as possible with good care and optimum function. This service is not in competition with nursing homes or hospitals, but desires to serve the patient in the way that will meet the patient's and family's desires and needs, granting them the opportunity to remain in a familiar setting surrounded by loved ones, friends and neighbors.

Mid West Texas Home Health Agency employees not only offer skilled nursing care, but all facet of the patient's needs are explored. Working with Texas Department of Human Resources Social Workers, churches, clubs and civic groups, our staff attempts to place the patient with the appropriate service. The nurses' desire to serve the community is further expressed by speaking at various organizational meetings upon request.

The major program through which we deliver home health and related services is Medicare. This Federal Social Security Program for the benefit of the aged and home-bound is selective in terms of age, generally sixty-five (65) and older, and any person who is eligible by category to receive social security benefits.

Home Health Services are also delivered through (Medicaid), a State welfare program which is almost a carbon copy of Medicare. There is no age restriction and the benefits are determined on the recipient's annual income. Service restrictions are for skilled nursing visits which are limited to fifty (50) per person.

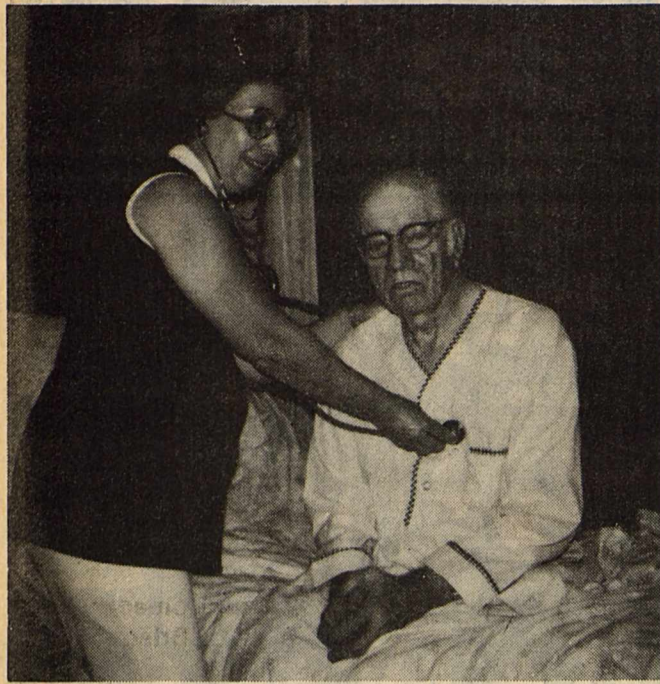

In addition to Medicare and Medicaid, we have additional third party payers such as Veterans Administration, CHAMPUS, or private insurance benefits.

Mid West Texas Home Health Agency is certified annually through its individual provider offices by the Texas Department of Health and must comply with state and federal criteria, quality standards and regulations and must follow all Medicare guidelines.

Emergency assistance is provided 24 hours daily - 7 days per week. For more information you may call the office in Seymour, 817-888-5505 or you may call the Credit Life Insurance?

Think twice before accepting insurance that "will pay off a loan" in case of death, advises Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

This kind of insurance—credit-life insurance—pays off the debt if the debtor dies before the loan has been paid off.

However, if you have other life insurance, you probably do not need the credit-life insurance, the specialist says.

Piernot is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

CREDIT-LIFE COSTS

In most cases, credit-life insurance is a needless expense, and it is rarely a good buy, Piernot says.

In some cases, the survivors may have to pay the cost of the insurance before they can collect, she adds.

Credit-life insurance is expensive for two major reasons, Piernot explains.

"One, it is usually an extremely small life-insurance policy.

"Secondly, there's no real competition among the sellers. Usually buyers don't shop around, and it is really not practical to do so. Thus, credit insurance companies do not offer the lowest price to buyers but offer the highest commission to lenders," she adds.

YOUR CHOICE

You are the one who decides if you want credit-life insurance or not, Piernot points out.

"Most credit contracts say that credit-life insurance is optional and will be provided only if you sign a separate statement asking for it," she says.

"The Truth-in-Lending Act strongly encourages that optional provision for the very reason that credit-life insurance is rarely a good buy.

"Creditors like to sell it, however, because they earn a commission on it," Piernot notes.

PROTECT SURVIVORS

On the other hand, real security for survivors can be achieved by a complete estate plan, the specialist says. Included in the plan usually will be some form of life insurance, regular or term, available at a lower cost than credit-life insurance.

STARSAVERS CERTIFICATE

It helps you where it counts...

On October 1, 1981, Big Country Savings offers the STARSAVERS CERTIFICATE (Big Country Savings' All Savers Certificate). It allows savers to earn up to $2,000 tax-free interest for married couples filing jointly or $1,000 on an individual return. This means that the tax-free dollars you earn with the STARSAVERS CERTIFICATE will benefit your bottom line when compared to the after-tax earnings from other savings plans (see table below).

Only $500 is required to open an account. And your tax-free STARSAVERS CERTIFICATE is insured by the F.S.L.I.C., an agency of the Federal Government. The STARSAVERS CERTIFICATES earn an interest yield equal to 70% of the investment yield for 52-week U.S. Treasury securities. The yield you earn will be established on the date your certificate is purchased and will remain unchanged for one year until maturity. Your funds may be withdrawn at any time subject to the loss of tax-exempt interest status and an amount equal to 3-months interest penalty. (Final Government regulations to be issued could authorize a waiver of the months interest penalty.)

We want to help you make the very most of your money. Come in now and we'll answer any questions about the STARSAVERS CERTIFICATE. It helps you where it counts... on the bottom line.

Helpful Hints For Planning Retirement Budget

From LOU GILLY
County Extension Agent

Planning your retirement budget is now a matter of "must" rather than "maybe when there's time."

No longer can individuals wait until age 60 to start retirement planning.

How much should you plan to have as retirement income, and how long can you expect to live once the retirement years arrive?

No one knows for sure, of course, but there are some guidelines.

LENGTH OF RETIREMENT
Plan for a long period of retirement. Men should plan for at least 14 years of retirement, and women should figure on at least 18 years—if they will retire at age 65.

INFLATION RATES
Now, consider inflation—

it may rise five percent each year until you retire, or it might rise 10 percent or more.

LIVING STANDARD
Then your living standard will be a factor. Do you plan to retire at your current standard of living, or do you expect to have a bit lower standard during retirement years?

SAMPLE CASE
Here's an example of what you might plan for once you consider all of the above:
A middle-income couple who will retire in 1990 would need about $25,000 per year if the inflation rate is 10 percent a year from now until then.

For a middle-income couple who will retire in the year 2010 with a percent inflation rate until then, the retirement plan should call for a retirement income of $150,000 per year.

YOUR CASE
Now let's look at your own case.

STEP 1—Decide on the living standard you want for retirement years.

Do you expect to travel, take up neglected hobbies, go back to school or what?

Determine the living arrangement you want—your present home, a condominium, apartment, mobile home or other.

Try to predict your transportation and clothing needs, your health-care plan (Medicare or additional plans) and any other expenses you may have during retirement.

STEP 2—Write down a retirement budget based on today's prices—just as you would your present household budget. Figure what you need for one retirement year in total dollars.

Of course, you can leave out things like current job expenses, such as transportation to work, work-related travel, job-clothing needs and others.

STEP 3—Once you get your total, you're ready to do a little arithmetic.

Here's a formula you might want to use: $A \times (1+B)^n = X$.

The formula looks complicated, but it's really easy. For the letter "A," use the total dollars you came up with when you figured your retirement budget based on your present household budget in Step 2.

For the letter "B," use .10—that stands for 10 percent inflation rate between now and when you retire. (Of course, if the inflation rate levels off at five percent, you would want to re-figure this using .05 for "B.")

The letter "n" stands for the number of years between now and when you retire. Then just do the arithmetic.

The answer you get will be "X"—and it's the annual amount of income you will need for your first year of retirement.

Here's an example of what your figures might look like:

Let's say your one-year of retirement budget totals $22,652 (A). Remember, that's your retirement budget based on today's prices. Then, let's say the rate of inflation is .10 (B), and say it will be 15 years (n) until you retire. So, your formula would look like this: $$22,652 \times (1+.10)^{15}$. Your answer: $94,623.03.

In other words, when you retire, your retirement income for your first year of retirement should be $94,623.03. You will need to account for inflation for each year thereafter.

ANOTHER METHOD
Another method for estimating your retirement-money needs is simply to plan for 65-75 percent of your pre-retirement annual income each year of your retirement years, compounded for inflation if you plan to maintain your present standard of living.

MAKING IT HAPPEN

Once you know how much retirement income you'll need, you can start figuring out how to make this happen.

Study your pension plan at work.

Federal law entitles you to a full explanation, in plain English, of the benefits your pension plan provides and when you are entitled to those benefits.

Visit your Social Security Office for an estimate of the benefits you can expect from this plan.

Add expected earnings from other plans, such as savings and investments.

Compare your figures. Will actual programs you have now live up to your expected needs?

If you think they won't, you may need to reassess your retirement hopes and dreams, or you may want to make additional plans to increase your retirement income.

Another factor you may want to adjust is the date of retirement—perhaps you will want to retire later in life than you originally planned.

Or you may want to consider a third career—a career during retirement years rather than a life of fishing, hobbies or travel.

ASK FOR PLANNING HELP
For help in planning your retirement, ask your company employee benefit officer, a banker, an accountant or a financial planner to assist you in developing a strategy that will achieve and keep financial security for you in your retirement years.

Whatever plan you finally develop, it's a "must" so start planning today for a comfortable, financially secure retirement.

U.S. Becoming A Colored Nation

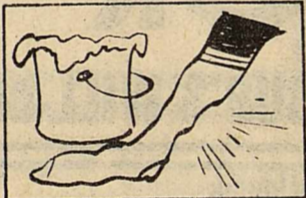

The 1980 Census figures are in and they show a dramatic jump in the colored population in America. The Asiatic and Mexican population has more than doubled since the last census 10 years ago. Both black and Mexican birth rates are far outstripping White growth (which is below population zero growth with no real growth, meaning Whites are having fewer than two children per family.)

None of these figures take into consideration the millions of illegal aliens in America. They have been estimated as high as 15 to 20 million—most of them being Mexicans. Los Angeles already is majority colored and the entire state will have a non-White majority by the year 1990. By that year nationally at least 25% of the population will be colored. Unless these trends are reversed America will have a majority non-White population by the year 2025.

Dyess To Fly New Routes

The 463rd Tactical Airlift Wing has completed an environmental analysis of a proposal to establish a new low altitude tactical navigation area within a 100 nautical mile radius of Abilene.

According to Captain Ralph Linzmeier, 463rd TAW Tactics Division, a minimal environmental impact is expected from this new flying area.

The new area, Captain Linzmeier explained, will avoid populated areas, farms, recreational areas, airports and air control zones. Aircraft will be flying between 300 and 1500 feet above the ground. All Military Airlift Command and Federal regulations will be strictly observed.

The 463rd Tactics Division will insure that the air space is properly managed, said Capt. Linzmeier. The new area will be used to simulate wartime routes, develop different routes for low level training and for C-130 aircrew lead upgrade training.

Individuals interested in reviewing this document should contact Captain Linzmeier at (915) 696-3138.

Munday Farmer Named Wheat Producer Chairman

W.R. Moore Jr. of Munday, well known wheat farmer of Knox and Throckmorton Counties, was recently elected chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board, which is based in Amarillo. Other officers of the board are: Otis Harmon of Tulsa, as vice-chairman; Cagle Kendrick of Stratford, secretary and treasurer.

Moore is serving on a committee to elect a new executive secretary for U.S. Wheat Associated.

He was also elected by the board to serve as the Texas Director of U.S. Wheat Associates (USWA), the foreign market development organization supported by Texas and twelve (12) other states.

U.S. Wheat Associates headquarters in Washington, D.C., and maintains offices in Africa, the Philippines, Taiwan, Europe, Mexico, Egypt, Japan, Korea, South America, Singapore, India and China.

Texas wheat farmers support these organizations by permitting their elevators to deduct one-half cent per bushel on the wheat they sell. Moore says that all wheat farmers have every reason to be proud of this self-help program. Efforts to expand this program are now under way.

Moore became a member of the Texas Wheat Producers Board when it was first organized in the early 1970's and has served on the board since that time. He and his wife, Wynette, have just returned from an important meeting of the board which was held in Denver, Colo.

Inspiration #11

A supernatural revelation from God to man is both possible and necessary for these reasons:

1. So that man may know the character of God.
2. So that man may know of his origin.
3. So that man may know of the origin of evil.
4. So that man might know of his purpose.
5. So that man could understand his destiny.

THE MICROWAVE COOK

A microwave main dish prepared right in its serving dish.

A new microwave cook—terrific! Try a simple main dish like Cheese Stuffed Beef Balls made moist, flavorful and delicious with Campbell's Condensed Tomato Soup. These beef balls are cooked in an ordinary glass pie plate which also doubles as a serving dish. Before buying special utensils, check your microwave manufacturer's cookbook for recommendations.

CHEESE STUFFED BEEF BALLS

- 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) Campbell's Condensed Tomato Soup
- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 2/3 cup Italian flavored fine dry breadcrumbs
- 2/3 cup chopped onion
- 1 egg
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 4 ozs. mozzarella cheese, cut in 6 cubes

1. Mix thoroughly 1/4 cup soup, beef, breadcrumbs, onion, egg, and salt; divide into six parts. Shape firmly around each cheese cube to form 6 balls. Arrange balls to form a circle in 10-inch glass pie plate. Cover with plastic wrap. 2. Microwave on HIGH 6 to 8 minutes, turning dish once. Drain. Pour remaining soup over balls. Re-cover. 3. Microwave on HIGH 3 to 4 minutes or until done. 4. Let stand 2 minutes. Makes 6 servings.
