Seymour Panthers Down Tribe 6-0 With One Second Left

The Haskell Indians lost their district opener 6-0 to Seymour last Friday.

The Panthers won the game with one second on the clock following a pass interference call on the one yard line.

The entire contest was a defensive struggle with the two teams tied with three first downs each at the end of the first half.

Gleaners Class Holds Salad Dinner

The Gleaners Class of East Side Baptist Church met Tuesday night for a salad dinner and fellowship. The teacher, Debbie Mitchell, and 9 members were present.

Nan Wilson brought the devotional. It was entitled (Happiness Is?) She read Psalms 146-5, and told us what happiness is to her. Then she asked each member to tell what happiness was to us as a teenager and what happiness is to us now. Answers ranged from not having to put pans under the leaks when it rains, flirting with the model A driving boy's on Saturday afternoon, to hearing our grandchild's first worded prayer.

If you're not going to church any where, we welcome you to come to East Side, where you can feel the Holy Spirit in each service.

Wills And Trusts Topic Of Program

R.C. Couch, Jr., vice-chairman of the board of directors and senior trust officer of Haskell National Bank, discussed the importance of wills and trusts at the regular meeting of the Progressive Study Club, October 15.

Mr. Couch emphasized several times the need for every person to make a will. He told the club members that each individual must decide for himself what he will do about a will but "the state will divide your estate if you have no will," he said. Mr. Couch went on to discuss the changes in the law governing the inheritance tax. These changes provide for a $600,000 exemption by the year 1987.

Now $175,000 exemption exists.

Next, Mr. Couch discussed the establishment of trusts. He listed several different types of trusts available and the advantages of placing money and/or property into a trust fund. "With a living trust you can see that what you want is done," he said. "People are afraid that to set up a trust they lose control, but they don't."

After answering numerous questions from club members, Mr. Couch concluded by saying that the best thing to do is to consult an estate planner or an estate lawyer for answers to specific questions about individual estates.

Following Mr. Couch's speech, Patsy Sams reported on the Mesquite District Board Meeting held in Clyde, October 10. Erma Liles, Anita Herren and Patsy Sams from Haskell and Margarite King from Weinert attended the meeting from this area. Mrs. Sams reported that the group received much encouragement in participating in various club projects.

Jerrene Couch then briefly discussed the forthcoming chicken spaghetti supper for October 30 sponsored by the club.

President Anita Herren adjourned the meeting, and hostesses Juanita Dunnam, Pat Quattlebaum and Marilyn Bahney served refreshments.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC—Any erroneous reflection upon the character, reputation or standing of any firm, individual or corporation will be gladly corrected upon being called to the attention of the publishers.

Be original! The original is often associated with the creative. Imitating is contingent upon conformity - so develop your own style - do not imitate or conform to drastic rules. Rules are used as guide lines so why not deviate? Be original! Theoretically the nomenclature of 'creative - imitative' seem to be justified in the practice of the painter. Today we have many painters who imitate the styles currently in vogue, nevertheless, in some areas they will be labeled "original" and "creative". A great talent does not aim to be "different". It never attempts to impress the art fancier with stunts or "original" gimmicks. If you possess originality, relax; it will assert itself without prompting, papping or the use of devices of any kind, for true originality can exist only when one is wholly and totally himself. These are gleanings from my notebook taken in a Taubes workshop.

Q. Can I keep my oil colors under water to prevent them from drying?

A. Some of the colors are slightly water soluble; others such as earth colors absorb water. Only Flake White can be kept safely under water, but a prolonged storage will make it form a dry skin on top.

Q. What is Oil of Cloves used for?

A. One drop of Oil of Cloves on top of each oil color on your palette will retard the drying. A larger amount of paint, such as white, add two or three drops. Do not stir this into the paints, just use as you normally would. Purchase it at drug counters.

Q. Do you recommend freezing oil paints?

A. No. Some painters do but my experience was a sad one! Ruined a good fruit cake one time. The odor permeates the surroundings. After all, why lay out so much paint to start with?

Q. How did the old masters go about obtaining such magnificent arrangements of draperies?

A. The took a lot of trouble first. The Greeks put moist fabrics on their models to make the cloth cling in fine ripples to their bodies. According to contemporary accounts, Leonardo da Vinci and many other Renaissance painters and sculptors "dipped the garments (which were put on wooden manikins) into plaster of Paris solution, arranged them in small and large groups, used supports to prop them up, pinned them together with wooden pegs and nails, as the occasion required". It was worth all the trouble, you will agree as you remember some of the beautiful drapery they painted.

HINT: "If modern art disturbs you, just think what it must do to the people who understand it." - Lane Olinghouse.

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Helping Hand Program Aids Children In Need

An emblem with a bright orange silhouette of a spread hand displayed in windows is becoming a familiar sight in many cities.

They represent the Helping Hand program inaugurated by some local schools and Parent Teacher Associations with the help of volunteers. General Telephone Company of the Southwest supports the program as one of its community service projects.

Vice President—Public Affairs for GTSW—Joe H. Collins said, "We share the concern of the communities we serve and are always willing to extend a 'helping hand'. Although the program is not foolproof, it is a positive approach to helping children in need. We feel the program illustrates our interest and social responsibility to all segments of society."

Helping Hand decals and program guidelines are supplied by General Telephone free of charge.

The telephone company initiated the program in August 1980. Currently 176 schools in 53 communities in General Telephone's four-state operating area in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arkansas utilize the program.

"Helping Hand is designed to visually identify homes, businesses or offices willing to serve as a refuge and provide assistance to school children encountering problems as they go to and from school," Collins said.

Students are told if they are approached or threatened by an unknown person or have a problem such as being chased by a dog or becoming lost, they should seek immediate help from the location displaying the Helping Hand symbol.

There are four Helping Hand guidelines that participants follow. The participants learn why a youngster knocked at his/her door, look for a person on the street or in a vehicle who may have frightened the child, call the local police with a report and call the school principal with a report.

Schools and PTA groups interested in the program, or those currently conducting the program who need materials offered by General Telephone, can write to: Charles Watkins, Community Relations Manager, General Telephone Company of the Southwest, P.O. Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas 76901.

Cotton Round-up To Benefit WTRC

One bale of cotton, many bales or cotton or proceeds from a farmer's cotton sales are needed to make the Cotton Round-Up for Crippled Children a success this year.

Herman A. Propst of Anson and Elmer Martin of Colorado City, co-chairmen of the annual event, have asked cotton growers to set aside a portion of their crop for the Cotton Round-Up which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

"Every bale of Cotton can mean hours of therapy for a handicapped child," Propst reminds farmers. "This year is better than last year for most of us, so we should be able to contribute generously."

To donate, contact Propst, Martin, J.B. Adams of Childress, Hale Farm Supply in Haskell, Chub Richards in Stamford, Max Von Roeder in Snyder, or the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Central Office, 4601 Hartford, Abilene TX 79605 or call (915) 692-1633.

Marketing Is Key To Success In Agriculture In 80's

Livestock, wheat and cotton producers each have their own problems in trying to meet the challenges to agriculture in the '80s. But one area in which they all need to focus attention is the marketing of their products, a panel of producers told almost 200 persons at the annual meeting here (Oct. 8) of the Rolling Plains Economic Program. (RPEP).

"There are two major problems: producing and marketing," said panel member Tommy Isbell, cotton farmer from Paducah. A farmer spends all year getting a crop up, and then takes a beating on it at the market, he said.

Producers need to pay more attention to political liaison and consumer promotion, stressed panelists Rob Brown, cattleman from Throckmorton, and Jim Billington of Altus, Okla., president of the National Wheat Growers. Legislation and consumer demand directly affect the agricultural marketplace, they said.

Persons attending the meeting at the Vernon Regional Junior College also heard a variety of speakers address concerns of agriculture in the '80s and took part in afternoon seminars covering timely topics in cotton, horse, wheat, guar and mungbean, swine, and beef cattle production; special features of cotton fabrics, cotton promotion, lamb preparation, and the economic outlook for cotton and wheat.

RPEP is a regional organization sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to promote economic growth and development and improved living in a 30-county area. Re-elected to lead the group another year were Floyd Borchardt, Crowell livestock producer, chairman, and Dick Yeager, farm and ranch manager of the W.T. Waggoner Estate, Vernon, vice chairman.

Noting that 70 percent of the nation's wheat is exported, Billington told the audience, "We aren't producing wheat for the American consumer, we are producing it for the world." He cited the effect upon producers of actions in the political arena, such as provisions in the federal farm bill, establishment of target prices and loan rates for commodities, grain embargoes, and reductions in

Tax Practitioner Workshops Scheduled

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is cooperating with the Internal Revenue Service in offering 38 Tax Practitioner Workshops across the state reports Max Stapleton.

The nearest workshop to our area will be held in Vernon on the 7 and 8 of December.

These two-day workshops are specifically designed for tax practitioners who work extensively with farmers and ranchers. Topics to be covered in the general workshops are: What's New: Capital Gains and Losses; Net Operating Losses; Credits-How to Report; Tax Principle Review-parttime activities, rental and personal use of property-travel and entertainment.

This year Advanced programs will be offered in Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Lubbock, and Dallas, stressing tax preparation for small businesses also. Topics to be discussed in the Advanced workshops are: What's New-including Windfall Profits; 351 Transfers; Dividends, Calculating Earnings and Profits; Liquidations and Redemptions; Partnerships-Transfers In; Operating the Partnership, Distributive Shares; Partnership Dissolutions and Withdrawals; Questions and Answers. This is one of the most successful Extension programs.

Last year over 3,000 people participated in this state-wide series. These practitioners reported filing over 850,000 tax returns.

budgets for agricultural research and Extension education programs.

"We need research. We must get together and support it," Billington urged. "I cannot do on my farm the research that is necessary to grow crops. We're just one jump ahead of some rust or disease problem that could wipe out our production capability," and continuing research is needed to maintain that slim edge, he said.

He said cereal producers in France give their association 10 cents for every bushel of grain they produce, with these funds used for promotion. "Any corporation that does business with the American public conducts an advertising campaign. Agriculture doesn't," Billington said.

Isbell suggested some production techniques he has found valuable in his operation. Furrow diking holds runoff from rainfall and irrigation, he said. And center pivot irrigation is more water efficient than siderow or furrow systems.

He urged crop producers to learn to scout their own fields for insect infestations in order to make the most cost-efficient decisions on pest control. "If you don't know what's going on out there, you're surely not going to know what to do," he said.

Raising economical and profitable beef cattle for the market isn't the same as breeding for the show ring, Brown reminded the group. From the standpoint of efficiency and economy, crossbred cattle "is the only way to go," he said.

He classified today's cattle as the "Three E's: English, Ear-or Brahman type, and Exotics." The English are maternal breeds, Brahmans combine hybrid vigor with outstanding maternal traits, and he likes a cross of these, he said. But he advised the cattlemen, "You've got to build what fits your management program."

Helping producers, farm families and urban consumers meet the challenges of the '80s is a role of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Dr. Judy Sanders, state leader for county Extension programs, told the group.

During the decade of the 1980s, Extension will give leadership in solving problems relating to six major areas of concerns. These include energy, economic conditions, land and water resources, social conditions, marketing and policy, and leadership development, she said.

The latest technology and information available will be brought to the people through the time-tested Extension system, working through local county agents, subject matter specialists and county program building committees which identify and assess local needs.

Characteristics of cotton fiber and fabrics which make them popular with consumers were related by Libby Clark, of New York, public relations director of Cotton Incorporated. She traced the research of CI which led to development of permanent press cotton fabrics and its national advertising and promotion campaigns. These and other CI efforts are supported by producer donations, she noted.

Plaques of appreciation for service were presented to Borchardt, Yeager and the Chairmen of eight task forces which conduct educational programs in commodity and special interest areas during the year. The chairmen are Bill Bradley, Memphis, Texas,

Foster Parents Needed In Haskell Area

The Texas Department of Human Resources currently has openings for additional foster families in this area according to Kay Saunders, Foster Home Coordinator for the agency. Foster Parents are needed to provide temporary care for children of all ages, and especially for sibling groups. Many of these children have been abused or neglected by their own parents. Through the love and care of Foster Families the emotional as well as physical needs of these children can be met while permanent plans are made for the children. Sometimes a child can return to his own home after rehabilitative work with the natural parents. In more serious cases the natural parents often have their parental rights terminated by the courts and the child is then placed in an adoptive home.

Ms. Saunders says that Foster Parenting is perhaps the most important and vital role a person can play in strengthening and preserving our society. Foster Parenting is a rewarding job with meaning, purpose and direction, but Ms. Saunders says that it takes special people to be Foster Parents. They must not only be able to handle the daily adjustments and problems of an additional child to the family, but must be emotionally mature and experienced enough to cope with the problems of an abused child. Then, after coming to love and care for the children, they must be prepared for the trauma of seeing them leave their door step just as suddenly as they came. The reward for the Foster Parents is the knowledge that the love and guidance they have shown the child will someday be reflected in that child's life perhaps in a small way or perhaps in a very significant way.

Foster Parents work closely with the child's caseworker in a teamwork approach. There is always someone to help if a problem arises. Foster Parents receive special Foster Care rates to cover the child's expenses including all medical expenses. Foster Parents receive ongoing training with leading psychologists and consultants. Foster Parents choose the age and number of children with whom they will work. They may have a child in their home for a few days or for months. The basic requirements are a family with love, compassion, flexibility, and a desire to learn more about the special problems of abused and neglected children.

Foster Parents in this area will have the benefit of a strong Foster Parent Association which allows them to share experiences and ideas with other Foster Parents. Workshops, seminars and individual training programs are presented throughout the year for Foster Parents and their families.

Foster Care of children is not limited to married couples, with or without children of their own. Widows, Widowers, and single persons can become Foster Parents. Older couples whose children are grown have a lot to offer from their experience. All Ethnic groups are needed.

Foster Care is not something everyone can do, but for a few very special people it can be a very rewarding experience. If you are interested in a new experience in family living and would like to know more about Foster Parent Program, contact Kay Saunders at the Dept. of Human Resources, Child Welfare in Abilene, Texas. Phone No. 1-915-673-7811 ext. 10 or locally call 864-2410 or 864-3371.

New Pay Phones Installed In Haskell

New, single-slot coin telephones have been installed in Haskell and along with them come changes in placing coin phone calls, according to Bill Drennan, General Telephone's Brownwood division manager.

"The instructions with the new phones will reduce the amount of time a customer spends placing a coin phone call," he said.

To place a local call, a customer should: wait for a dial tone, insert change and then dial the local number.

To place a long-distance call, a customer will: wait for a dial tone, insert change and dial the operator, who will return the quarter. The operator will then request change from the caller while the call is being processed.

"With the previous three-slot coin phones, a customer had to wait until the called party was on the line before inserting change, whether it be a local or long-distance call," Drennan noted.

Haskell is one of 399 exchanges in General Telephone Company of the Southwest's four-state service area.

All cheeses except those made for low-sodium diets are high in salt content. Processed cheeses can contain up to twice as much salt as the natural varieties.

Janet Wallace Named WTC Cheerleader

Janet Wallace of Haskell has been named one of five Western Texas College cheerleaders for the 1981-82 basketball season.

Other cheerleaders will be Lori Hollowell of Clyde, Dana Knight of Roscoe, Nancy Leath of Midland and Kim Neves of Snyder. Micky Baird, Student Activities Director, is faculty advisor for the squad.

Miss Wallace is a freshman pre-dentistry major at WTC and is employed in the office of James Parker, Financial Aid Director. She was a cheerleader at Haskell High School for two years and was also football sweetheart, a nominee for band sweetheart, a class officer for two years and an FHA officer for three years. She was second runner-up for the title of Haskell County Fair Queen.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Wallace.

WTC will open the new basketball season on Nov. 2 when the men's team, the Westerners, host the McMurry College JV and the women's team the Dusters, host Cisco Junior College. Both games will be in the Snyder High School gymnasium, the Duster game at 6 p.m. and the Westerner game at 8 p.m. The Dusters will host Ranger Junior College on Nov. 6 in the high school gym. The remaining home games will be played in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Haskell Sales Tax Shows 8% Increase Over 1980 Period

State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office Thursday issued checks totaling $37.9 million to Texas cities as their share of the one percent city sales tax for October.

This month's payment is about $9 million more than the cities received during a comparable period in 1980.

The October payments push the 1981 yearly total of city sales tax payments to $518.3 million, up 16 percent over the same 10-month period in 1980.

Houston's check this month will be for $7.7 million, bringing the city's 1981 payments to date to $107.7 million.

Dallas will receive a check for $4 million this month.

Dallas has received $57.9 million this year, an increase of 11.1 percent over 1980 payments.

San Antonio's 1981 payments to date reached $27.8 million with the payment of a $1.9 million October rebate. The city's 1981 payments are up about 11 percent over 1980.

Fort Worth's check this month totals $1.3 million, bringing that city's yearly payments to date to $19.1 million, a 9.2 percent increase over 1980.

The one percent optional city sales tax is collected by merchants and businesses in the cities where it is levied and rebated on a monthly basis by the Comptroller's office.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

This week I would like to feature the high school science department. Numerous graduates have used their background in science to go into science related fields such as medicine, dentistry, engineering, etc. Of course, I realize our local doctors and dentists have had an influence on this trend; however I am positive our science department has played a role in this direction.

We offer four years of science with Physical Science being required. Students may then elect to take biology, chemistry, and or physics. The elective courses, especially, are structured for those with college aspirations. Mr. McCoy strives to give the students enough lab experience that they can feel at home in a lab and be familiar with the scientific process.

Probably the main strength of our science department is the teacher, Mr. Gerald McCoy. Mr. McCoy graduated from ACU (then, ACC) in 1950. He received his M.S. degree from Hardin Simmons in 1952. He has since attended Texas A&M, TCU, Howard Payne, and Texas A&I under grants from the National Science Foundation. With this educational background, he has been exposed to some of the best science minds in the United States. His quick mind has allowed him to gather a great amount of knowledge. Mr. McCoy taught at Oklahoma Christian College for six years before he came to Haskell. This year is the 25th year in our system. Mr. McCoy served one period as elementary principal.

During this lengthy teaching career, Mr. McCoy has developed a definite teaching philosophy. He stresses the basic fundamentals of true science and the scientific process of research. He carefully studies new programs to assume himself that they meet the criteria of true science. He does not accept unproven methods. Mr. McCoy believes in all students learning to the maximum of their ability. He also believes and practices a philosophy of students having to earn their grades. He provides opportunities for any student who desires to do extra work which will enhance the student's grade. He does insist that students put forth their total effort.

A great love of students, dedication to the educational process, and a broad knowledge of science has made Mr. McCoy a remarkable teacher. His values and philosophy and love of God has made him a remarkable man. Both these factors have given to Haskell an outstanding science department.

First Haskell Herd Is Brucellosis Free

A certified brucellosis free herd should be a top priority for every beef and dairy producer, the Texas Animal Health Commission suggests.

A livestock man in this area who has a certified brucellosis free herd is Max Stapleton of Stapleton-Wilcox Ranch. This is the first herd in Haskell County to become certified free, Dr. Allen Bolt, Paducah, area 14 TAHC veterinarian, said.

"This will enhance the free movement of livestock from that herd throughout the state. Cattle in a brucellosis free herd are able to move within either of the control areas of Texas as well as from one control area to another in the state with no additional testing. Most states accept them without additional tests," Dr. John Holcombe, executive director, TAHC, explained.

It also provides more profit potential for the producer.

Stapleton Receives Certificate

"Brucellosis free cattle can mean higher prices from buyers. And being free of the disease means you'll not be burdened with losses from abortions, weak calves, sterility in bulls, or a reduction in milk from the cow," Dr. Holcombe said. It can also eliminate a health problem for humans. Brucellosis in humans is known as undulant fever.

A certified brucellosis free herd classification is available for both dairy and beef breeds. In dairy cattle, a milking test may be used. A minimum of three consecutive negative milk ring test may be conducted at not less than 90 day intervals is needed. This is followed by a negative herd blood test conducted within 90 days after the last negative milk ring test.

For beef cattle, a complete herd blood test is needed. This involves two consecutive negative blood tests of all test eligible cattle. They will be tested not less than 10 months nor more than 14 months apart. To maintain certification, a test of eligible cattle is required within 60 days of the anniversary date.

You can get additional information on certified brucellosis free herds by contacting your veterinarian, the Texas Animal Health Commission office in your area or in Austin, or county Extension Service agent.

One of the goals of the Commissioners of the TAHC is to establish between 10,000 and 15,000 certified free herds in the state to provide sources of disease free replacement cattle for Texas cowmen, John Armstrong, Kingsville, chairman, TAHC, explained.

Stocker Cattle Meeting Set October 29

A Stocker Cattle Meeting will be held October 29, 7:00 a.m. with a breakfast sponsored by American Cyanamide Company and Ralgro, at the Cliff House Restaurant in Stamford.

Topics discussed will be implanting with Ralgro, parasite control, mini-computers and stocker budgets.

WTU Requests Wholesale Rate Increase

West Texas Utilities Co. has filed for a change in wholesale rates for electric service it supplies to 14 rural electric cooperatives, one municipality and one investor-owned distribution company.

In its filing Friday, October 16, with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in Washington, WTU estimated that the new rates will produce about $4.3 million in additional revenue for the company during the 1982 calendar year. This amounts to an increase of approximately 10 per cent from these wholesale customers.

WTU requested that the new rates become effective on December 15. The present rates have been in effect since June, 1980. WTU also proposes to change to a fuel adjustment clause similar to the one applied to its retail customers. No other major changes were proposed.

WTU officials said the rate change is necessary to bring the Company's earnings on sales to wholesale customers to a level that will help WTU maintain a sound financial condition and attract new capital for growth required to meet future needs of electric customers. The previous wholesale rate increase proved insufficient because of inflation, higher than anticipated interest rates, and the delay in making the rates effective.

The following wholesale customers will be affected by the filing: Coleman County Electric Cooperative, Inc., Concho Valley Electric Cooperative, Inc., Dickens Electric Cooperative, Inc., Gate City Electric Cooperative, Inc., Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc., McCulloch Electric Cooperative, Inc., Midwest Electric Cooperative, Inc., Rio Grande Electric Cooperative, Inc., Stamford Electric Cooperative, Inc., Taylor Electric Cooperative, Inc., Western Farms Electric Cooperative, Inc. (which supplies Southwest Rural Electric Association), Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. (which supplies B-K Electric Cooperative, Inc., Comanche County Electric Cooperative, Inc. and Ft. Belknap Electric Cooperative, Inc.), City of Sonora and Texas-New Mexico Power Company.

The quality of cotton classed during the week ending October 15 was as follows: Grades 41 and 31 were predominant, with 28 and 26 percent each; Grades 32 and 42 were about 18 percent each; Staple 31 was predominant with 50 percent; Staple 32 was 30 percent, and staple 30 was 11 percent; Mike readings were 98 percent

Prices paid for cotton were from 7 to 8 cents above the CCC loan rate. Grade 41, staple 31, mike 35-49 brought around 53 cents per pound. Cottonseed prices paid producers ranged from 75 to 90 dollars per ton.

Cotton Classing Office Inspects 8,000 Samples

Rains brought the cotton harvest to a halt reports B.B. Manly, Jr. of the USDA Cotton Marketing Services Office in Abilene, Texas.

Around 8000 samples were classed this week, bringing the season total to 18,000. All samples classed were harvested prior to the rain.

Prices paid for cotton were from 7 to 8 cents above the CCC loan rate. Grade 41, staple 31, mike 35-49 brought around 53 cents per pound.

Cottonseed prices paid producers ranged from 75 to 90 dollars per ton.

35-49 (around 70 percent 40 through 46); Eight percent was reduced on account of grass, and 3 percent for bark.

This week the office received a notice concerning billing user fee. If a gin collects the .60 cent user fee, they will be billed March 1 or when they finish ginning if earlier. Producers will be billed each four weeks beginning October 31, when the gin does not collect the user fee.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc., in accordance with provisions of the Public Utility Regulatory Act of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Cooperative's intent to implement a new schedule of wholesale electric service rates, effective October 31, 1981, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

The proposed rate changes, all at the wholesale level, will affect all Brazos' member cooperatives and interconnection customers and are expected to result in an approximate 61.12% increase in gross revenues when compared to a test year, April 1, 1980, through March 31, 1981.

The increased revenues are necessitated primarily by a newly constructed lignite-fueled generation plant, mine, and associated transmission line providing electric power to the Brazos System consumers.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected member distribution cooperative and interconnection customer of the Brazos System. It is available for inspection at the Cooperative's offices in Waco, Texas.

Stamford Chamber To Hold Turkey Shoot

The third annual Turkey Shoot promoted by the Stamford Chamber of Commerce will be held on Saturday, October 31.

Site of the event will be behind the Texas Cowboy Reunion Rodeo grounds beginning at 9:00 a.m. and continuing until dusk. Many different types of shooting skills may be used in efforts to win a turkey or ham. Six different events will be conducted for pistols, rifles (open and scoped) and shotguns. In all, more than 100 turkeys and hams will be awarded during the day.

Last year's event saw more than 1500 people attending and winners ranged in ages from 9 to 87 years. Some wives and girl friends also participated, according to Randy Denson, co-chairman of the affair. This year more ranges have been added plus hourly drawings. There is no admission for spectators and prices for shooting have remained rather low.

This year the Turkey Shoot will be just two weeks prior to the opening of deer and turkey seasons and will provide a chance for hunters to get warmed up and also provide the family Thanksgiving bird at the same time.

The event is open to the general public. Cold drinks and sandwiches will be available.

FACELIFT

An original light fixture of the First United Methodist Church was recently refinished and placed in the sanctuary of the church. The fixture was donated to the church by F. G. Alexander shortly after the building was built and had been painted several times. During the refinishing process it was discovered that the fixture was solid brass.

Arbor Day Kits

To help teachers and organizations conduct more meaningful Arbor Day programs, the Texas Forest Service is offering free program kits.

Each kit includes a loblolly pine seed packet with planting instructions, program aids for a local Arbor Day observance, suggested classroom activities for teachers, and a copy of Governor Clements' proclamation.

Quantities are limited. Only one kit per teacher or organization will be distributed.

Arbor Day, to be observed January 15, 1982 in Texas, has been an annual celebration on the third Friday in January in Texas since 1889. The event is to promote a greater appreciation of the beauty and value of trees, forests and related natural resources.

Program chairpersons and teachers should address requests for Arbor Day kits to the Texas Forest Service, College Station, Texas 77843. Distribution, on a first-come, first-serve basis, will begin in mid-November.

Farmers Home Increases Loan Rates

The Farmers Home Administration in the U.S. Department of Agriculture will start charging higher interest rates today on several of its loan programs as a result of legislation enacted by Congress.

Dwight O. Calhoun, Acting Associate Administrator of FmHA said higher rates are required for community facility, water and waste disposal, emergency farm and limited resource farm loans. The changes were included in the budget reconciliation bill passed by Congress just before the August recess.

In addition to the new rates, the use of prime farmland for development purposes will be more costly in some cases under provisions of the 1981 legislation. Calhoun cited as an example an extra 2 percent interest on loans used to finance community facility and certain other projects on "prime" or "unique" farmland.

"Prime" farmland is described as having the best combination of physical and chemical characteristics for producing food, feed, forage, fiber and oilseed crops. It also must be available for those uses.

"Unique" land is other than prime land having special combinations of soil quality, location, growing season and moisture to economically produce high quality or yields.

Calhoun said the interest premium for use of prime or unique land will not apply if the applicant is a public body of Indian Tribe and can demonstrate to FmHA that it cannot suitably locate on other land.

The community facility and water and waste disposal rate of 12.25 percent was derived from the statutory requirement that it not exceed the current municipal bond yield. This rate must be calculated quarterly based on market conditions.

Interest rates will remain at 5 percent for facilities required to meet health and sanitary standards in areas where median family income is below the poverty level established by the Office of Management and Budget, currently $8,450 a year.

Other Farmers Home loan rates are not affected by these changes.

Rubber received its name when, in 1770, English chemist Joseph Priestly found it would rub off pencil marks.
