Safe Halloween Urged By DPS

On Saturday, October 31, miniature monsters will invade the neighborhoods and the cry, "trick or treat," can be heard throughout the land.

Major C. W. Bell, Region 5 Commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today, "Motorists and parents need to take precautions to protect children and prevent disasters this Halloween."

He suggests that small children be accompanied by older children or adults and trick or treating be confined to their own neighborhoods.

Major Bell also stated, "Costumes should be light in color, short enough to prevent tripping and non-inflammable. Facial makeup should be used instead of masks or hoods that restrict vision."

Children should be told to look in all directions before crossing streets and to walk, never run. A flashlight carried by the child can serve as a warning to motorists, and children should be instructed to use sidewalks when possible.

Motorists should use extra caution in residential areas and look for children crossing streets in a haphazard manner.

Major Bell stated, "If parents and motorists join together and think of children's safety, Halloween can be a safe and enjoyable evening for everyone."

Tribe Falls To Crowell

The Haskell Indians fell 21-13 to the Crowell Wildcats last Friday night in Crowell.

The Tribe lead in statistical columns with 14 downs to Crowell's 12 and 231 yards offense to 177.

The big difference in the game came midway in the second period when the Wildcats scored on a 42 yard run. Two plays later the Tribe fumbled the ball and on their next play, the Wildcats broke loose for a 70 yard score.

The two plays accounted for 112 yards of the Wildcats total rushing yardage of 119 yards.

The Wildcats got on the board first with 4:52 left in the first quarter when a bad snap on an attempted punt created a safety.

The Tribe scored on the first play of the second quarter on a five yard run by Albert Sherman. The PAT failed and the halftime score was Crowell 14, Haskell 6.

The Tribe scored again with 1:54 left in the third quarter. The PAT was good and the Tribe was within one point of the Wildcats, 14-13.

Crowell scored again with 1:25 left in the game, giving them an eight point lead.

The Tribe moved the ball to the 18 yard line before a pass interception stopped the drive.

The Indians will host the Munday Moguls this Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

How clearly the artist sees the world about him is very important. If he cannot see clearly he cannot do his job properly. This may seem obvious but for one thing, 'We do not see the world we inhabit by sight alone'. We use all our senses, and our ability to move about, to build up a picture of the three-dimensional world we see. We associate past experiences with the present, rather than taking the time to 'see' what is in the present. Most painters put on their canvas what they 'think' they see, rather than what they actually see. Our feelings will affect what we see. If we are happy or excited our colors will be different than if we are miserable or sad. Our reactions when we revisit a well remembered place that has changed with time will be dominated by our memories, and not by what is in front of us. So, look at your subject!

Q. Will a painting suffer damage when varnished prematurely?

A. No, it's the varnish which, when applied to a fresh painting, will quickly disintegrate. Read the label before varnishing.

Q. I am using beeswax dissolved in turpentine as a method of protecting the back of the canvas. Is it a correct procedure?

A. It is a fairly effective way to make your canvas rot in time—a very long time. Best thing is to leave the back of the canvas alone. Let it breathe.

Q. The glazed parts of my Alla Prima paintings collected dust and lint which produces an unsightly effect. How could I remove it from the surface?

A. Once the impurities are imbedded in the surface of a wet glaze, this cannot be done. To prevent this from happening, keep your brushes and palette meticulously clean, don't sweep the floor even when you turn the face of the finished painting against the wall—in other words, allow it to dry in a dust free environment.

Q. My painting remains flat in spite of varnishing. What could be the reason?

A. Earth colors dry 'dead' as does most whites. Simply rub the areas with Copal Painting Medium.

Q. Here in the hot and humid climate my watercolors left on the palette becomes quickly moldy. How can I prevent this?

A. Add to your paints a drop of vinegar.

HINT: Don't be too critical of your own work. It is probably better than you think. Besides, you may be just around the corner from your best piece of work yet. Express yourself!

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

LET'S KEEP THE WATER RUNNING IN TEXAS!

In cities and towns all across Texas, local water problems are threatening to erupt into one enormous statewide crisis. Countless communities are facing growing water supply, water treatment, sewage treatment and flood control problems estimated to cost a staggering $50 billion over the next 25 years. To make matters worse, federal funds for water projects have recently been slashed.

But on November 3, Texans have the opportunity to adopt a plan, already passed by two-thirds of the Legislature, which would harness a portion of our state's budget surplus to help shoulder that heavy local burden.

The plan is proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 4.

Passage of Amendment No. 4 would:

- Make possible the sale of more than $200 million in authorized and urgently needed state bonds to address a backlog of needed projects.
- Create a loan guaranty program to enable local communities to save millions of dollars in issuing future bonds.
- Begin to build a "nest egg" for the future from a part of the state's budget surplus to assist local governments in financing future water and sewage projects.

Texas' water needs must be met, either now or in the future. We can act now, and save money... or pay the higher price later for our neglect, with possible increased taxes. Sensible action now makes much more sense for Texas.

Nitrogen Application Benefits Small Grains

Applying nitrogen for small grains this fall will be important, says Max Stapleton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

He lists four important reasons why wheat and other small grains need nitrogen at planting or a short time afterward:

- aid in development of good root system,
- for early grazing,
- to hasten decomposition of excess residual straw, and
- for high production of forage and grain.

Sufficient fall growth for early grazing cannot be expected without adequate nitrogen at planting, emphasizes Stapleton. The advantages of early planting and favorable fall growing conditions can be lost if nitrogen fertilization is delayed until late fall. Establishing a good uniform stand with good tillering requires nitrogen, and most soils are deficient in this nutrient.

To meet nitrogen requirements during the fall growing period, producers can apply the total requirement before planting on heavy textured soils for both forage and grain. Or they can apply a small amount at planting followed by topdressing soon after planting or in late winter for grain production only.

Of course, fall nitrogen fertilization is also affected by the amount of straw from the previous crop, adds Stapleton. The bacteria and other micro-organisms needed to decompose the straw require nitrogen and can use that already in the soil as well as that applied, thus reducing the amount available during the fall.

The general rule in applying nitrogen has been to increase the rate of nitrogen about 20 pounds per acre for each ton of undecomposed straw. However, a portion of this nitrogen is recovered during the final stages of decomposition so that as much as half of this may be available during the spring months. This means that about half of the "extra" nitrogen could be deducted from the late winter topdressing, explains Stapleton.

New Event To Benefit WTRC

A new event has been added to the Joint Venture for Crippled Children series of events this year: the International Petroleum Show for Public Education is scheduled for Nov. 6-8 in the Round Building of the West Texas Fairgrounds, Abilene.

The third annual Oilfield Equipment and Services Sale will be Nov. 10 in the Round Building.

The Joint Venture for Crippled Children is a partnership between the petroleum industry and the West Texas Rehabilitation Center to benefit the handicapped of the Southwest. Goal for this year is to raise $1,025,000.

Two JVCC events have already taken place: the Benefit Dinner which this year starred entertainer Glen Campbell and the LaJet Classic, the PGA-sanctioned golf tournament at Fairway Oaks Golf and Racquet Club, Abilene.

Booths will be available at the oil show for any petroleum-related business. More information about reserving booths may be obtained by contacting the Central Office of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, 4601 Hartford, Abilene, Texas 79605, or (915)692-1633.

The sale will feature donated equipment and services. The highpoint of previous sales has been the auctioning of a wildcat prospect donated by a local geologist. Diesel fuel, pipe, drilling mud, well service time, dozer time and testing were auctioned in the 1980 sale.

The West Texas Rehabilitation Center is a private, non-profit treatment center for handicapped children and adults. More than 8,000 patients were treated in 1980 at its campuses in Abilene, San Angelo and Snyder, all without charge.

Grassed waterways such as Melvin Miller shaped and seeded this year stop soil washing and hold soil for future needs plus produce valuable forage.

Haskell Soil & Water Conservation District 1981 Annual Report

This has been a very trying year for agriculture in the Haskell Soil & Water Conservation District. Following the drought of 1980, we mudded thru a wet fall and winter of 1981, just to fall prey to depressed market prices and a mini-drought this summer. Grazing lands are depleted and field crops are not yielding as we had hoped.

Whether or not you made a crop this year and your chances for next years crop probably depend on the moisture you conserve and the conservation practices you carry out. Sure, conservation practices cost money, but anything worthwhile does. Remember the adage, "you've gotta spend money to make money," and where better to invest than in the land that feeds us!

Operation Game Thief Started By Parks And Wildlife Dept.

Effective immediately, concerned citizens may call a toll-free telephone number to report flagrant violations of Texas' wildlife and fish laws, and receive cash rewards if the information they provide results in an arrest and conviction.

"Operation Game Thief" now is underway, and the 24-hour number is 1/800-792-GAME.

The six-member Operation Game Thief Committee held its organizational meeting in Austin last week and adopted basic guidelines for the rewards program.

No public funds will be used in the program. The rewards, ranging from $50 to $200, will be funded by donations from individuals and organizations.

"I consider a poacher to be every bit as much of a thief as someone who holds up a grocery store," declared Harry Tennison of Fort Worth, the committee's first chairman. "I've realized for a long time the need for a program like this in Texas."

Joining Tennison on the committee are Ed Spencer of Dallas, Walter Fondren III of Houston, Ed Stedman, Jr. of Beaumont, Mrs. Modesta Williams of Midland and Radcliffe Killam of Laredo.

Tennison said the program already has received pledges totaling more than $20,000 from individuals and organizations to get the program started.

The concept of rewarding informants for game violations was first explored by the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish. Their Operation Game Thief program was initiated in 1976. It has received strong financial support, and during 1980 the information received from informants led to 109 prosecutions, according to Dan Pursley, director of the New Mexico program.

Pursley told committee members that he anticipated the Texas program will result in at least 2,000 investigations and 500 prosecutable cases annually.

The game thief program was authorized by House Bill 1421 passed by the 67th Texas Legislature. The bill directed the executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to consider nominations and name the committee's six members, who have been appointed to staggered six year terms without pay.

Persons calling in tips about law violations must provide certain information when making the report, but they may remain anonymous if so desired. If the officer taking the information believes there is sufficient information to suggest a flagrant violation has occurred, the information will then be relayed to one of the department's 10 regional law enforcement supervisors.

If additional investigations reveal convincing evidence, appropriate law enforcement action will be taken, according to Chester Burdett, law enforcement division director.

The game thief committee will meet twice yearly in Austin to consider claims and distribute reward money. No reward may be granted to a person, or an immediate family member of a person, who is a peace officer, deputy game warden, prosecutor, employee of the department or member of the judiciary.

The next meeting of the Operation Game Thief Committee is slated for April 6, 1982.

Reporting Service To Begin Crop Estimates

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin interviewing Texas farmers and ranchers in mid-November on 1981 final acreage, yield, and crop production and end-of-the-year poultry and livestock inventories for Texas and individual counties.

The confidential interviews will be conducted through the mail or phone or in person by field enumerators. Data collection will end in early January. Doug Murfield, State Statistician, has urged farmers and ranchers to return questionnaires promptly. He said all information reported is kept confidential and is combined with other reported information for state and county estimates. These estimates give Texas farmers and ranchers information on which to plan their production and marketing activity in a way that will be most beneficial to their individual operations.

The reports help in transporting, storing, marketing and processing farm products to maintain an orderly flow from producer to consumer. They also assure competitive markets, Murfield said. Without them, most producers would have to depend on trade sources for information on crop and livestock prospects.

The cooperative effort between the Texas Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Department of Agriculture eliminates duplication of effort and saves tax dollars.

County estimates are available for livestock, dairy, poultry, field crops including cotton, small grains, vegetables, fruits and pecans, and cash receipts from the sale of Texas farm commodities.

They can be obtained by writing the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767 or Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, the Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Of all the elements of national defense, our strategic, or nuclear, capability is perhaps the most important. The existence of our strategic forces protect the United States itself from foreign attack, as surely as ships and forts did in the pre-nuclear age.

Only a strong strategic system can deter attack from another nuclear power -- which would know that they could not possibly "win" a nuclear exchange.

During the past decade, our superiority in that area has dwindled. It is essential that we modernize our forces so that our deterrent remains strong for the rest of this century. President Reagan has proposed a 5-point program to redress the inadequacies of our current forces. By and large, it is an excellent program, one I can support with few exceptions.

The program addresses the need for improved communications and control systems, a new long-range bomber, submarine forces, land-based missiles, and strategic defense.

Communications and Control refers to the survivability, performance and area of coverage of the radars and satellites used to warn us of a Soviet missile attack. It also includes the command centers that would direct U.S. strategic forces during a nuclear war and the way in which they would communicate with our forces. Improving these systems is essential if we are to have the capability to use our weapons systems.

In the area of strategic defense, the Administration's program calls for upgrading, in coordination with Canada, the North American air surveillance network. This would include defensive systems ranging from radars to anti-satellite capabilities, as well as civil defense.

The heart of our strategic system is the "triad" of weapons systems on land, in the sea and in the air. The Administration's program addresses all three of these areas.

For our sea-based forces, it includes an improved missile, with greater accuracy and a larger payload. It also calls for building Trident submarines at a steady rate and deploying Cruise missiles on many ships and submarines.

As for the air-based leg of the triad, our B-52 bombers which have served us so well for many years need to be replaced by a new long-range bomber. The Administration's program calls for a vigorous program to develop a bomber using advanced -- or "stealth" -- technology. In addition, the Administration proposes to develop a variant of the B-1 bomber to use during the period until the advanced technology bomber can be developed. The B-1 can be used to launch Cruise missiles, even after the Stealth bomber is in use.

We in the Senate Armed Services Committee will be looking closely at this recommendation to see how best to use limited available money in the best way to ensure that we have a viable replacement for the B-52's during this decade.

The final element of the strategic modernization package is the MX missile. This missile is a major improvement over our existing Titans and Minutemen, and its development is vital to our national defense.

I do not approve of the President's recommendation for deploying the missile in the existing missile silos instead of developing a deceptive basing mode. It is my view, and that of the military experts, that only a deceptive basing mode will provide us the survivability we need to maintain an effective land-based deterrent.

The Armed Services Committee will be looking closely to the various basing modes for the future. But, in the interim, development of the missile itself must continue.

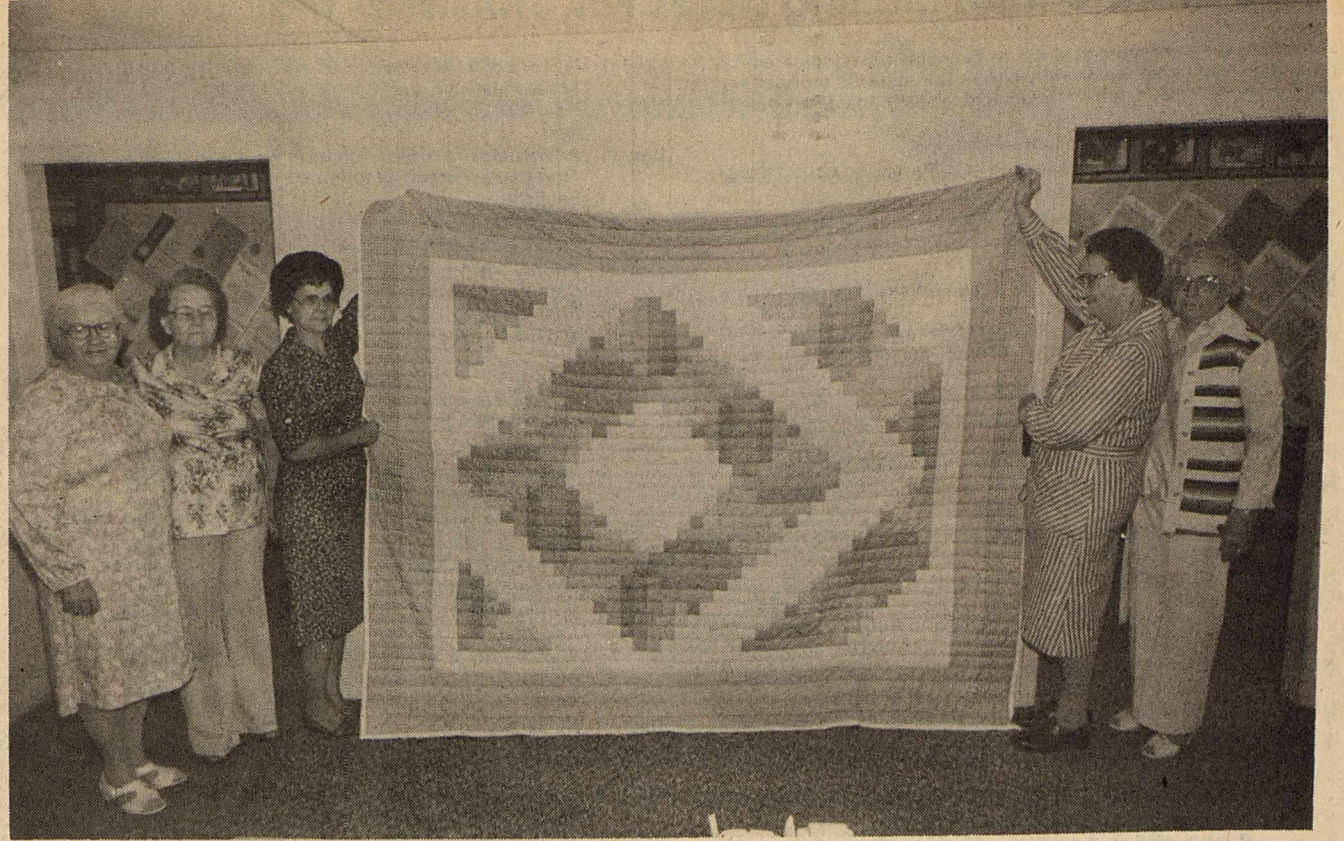

Researcher nixes use of vegetable oil in farm equipment

COLLEGE STATION — A farmer could pour a bottle of plain ol' vegetable oil into his tractor's diesel fuel tank, but a researcher studying the substitute says he wouldn't recommend it. At least not yet.

"There are several reports in the literature that vegetable oil off the grocery shelf has been used successfully as a direct substitute for diesel oil for short periods of time," said Dr. Cady Engler of the Texas A&M University Food Protein Research and Development Center. "But we don't know what the long-term effects on the engine will be."

"Also, the same type of oil will work in one engine but not in another. A given diesel engine may work with one oil, such as sunflower, but not with oil from another crop," Engler said.

Ranch Roundup Nets $27,000 For Charity

Three Texas Charities will soon receive $27,000 from the proceeds of the Budweiser Texas Ranch Roundup, held here August 21-22 and co-sponsored by Budweiser and the three benefiting charities.

The primary recipient, the North Texas Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center in Wichita Falls, will receive $17,000. Two other charities, the Boys' Ranch in San Angelo and the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene will receive $5,000 each.

The North Texas Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center, like the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, provides outpatient services to children and adults with physical, developmental, communicative and educational limitations. Boys' Ranch provides a home for dependent and neglected boys at its 34-year-old, 963-acre ranch.

"The Roundup was a rousing success. Not only did it generate monies for charity, but it also brought together 12 of Texas' oldest and largest ranches in the biggest, most exciting showdown since High Noon. The ranchers and cowboys had a great time. They gave the spectators a great show, and most importantly, they're raring to come back next year," said Mike McAfee, roundup creator and Falls Distributing Co. general manager.

After two days of roundup events, such as team branding, team penning, saddle bronc riding and team roping -- all of which emphasized the cowboys' ability to work as a unit -- the Lewis Ranches, headquartered in Clarendon, were named the best ranch in Texas.

1. All responsible men and women, young or old are what the Bible calls sinners.
2. The Bible contains the terms of human salvation.
3. No one is excused from compliance with the Biblical terms.
4. Human intelligence is judged upon the basis of how one handles revealed truth. That is, one is fool or is wise depending upon his use & view of the Bible.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc., in accordance with provisions of the Public Utility Regulatory Act of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Cooperative's intent to implement a new schedule of wholesale electric service rates, effective October 31, 1981, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

The proposed rate changes, all at the wholesale level, will affect all Brazos' member cooperatives and interconnection customers and are expected to result in an approximate 61.12% increase in gross revenues when compared to a test year, April 1, 1980, through March 31, 1981.

The increased revenues are necessitated primarily by a newly constructed lignite-fueled generation plant, mine, and associated transmission line providing electric power to the Brazos System consumers.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected member distribution cooperative and interconnection customer of the Brazos System. It is available for inspection at the Cooperative's offices in Waco, Texas.

Area Rains Slow Cotton Harvest

Rain again covered the Abilene area as harvesting was getting started again, reports B.B. Manly, Jr. of the USDA Cotton Marketing Services Office in Abilene.

Around 6,000 samples were classed this week, bringing the season total to 24,401.

Prices paid for cotton were from 7.50 cents to .09 cents above the CCC loan rate. Grade 42, staple 32, mike 35 to 49 brought around 54 cents per pound.

Cottonseed prices paid producers ranged from $75 to $90 per ton.

The quality of cotton classed during the week ending October 22 was as follows: Grade 42 was predominant with 36 percent; grade 32 was 20 percent; grades 41 and 31 were 16 and 10 percent. Staple 32 was predominant with 44 percent; 31 was 30 percent and staple 33 was 15 percent.

Mike readings were 98 percent 35 to 49, (around 70 percent miked 40 to 46). Six percent was reduced on account of bark, and 5 percent on account of grass.

According to reports from several areas, growers were getting back in the fields today.

USDA Soil Conservation Service

Conservation Viewpoints

The Board of Directors of the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District met on October 16 to review business and elect new officers for the coming year. R.V. Earles was elected chairman of the board, M.W. Phemister was elected vice chairman and F.A. Ulmer as secretary.

The Board reviewed an application from Gary Ender to participate in the Great Plains Conservation Program. The conservation programs available to producers in the county were discussed and the limited funding for programs was pointed out.

In other business the 1981 annual report of accomplishments was presented to the board. Soil Conservation Service technicians were busy designing and laying out 1,323,205 feet of terraces of which 466,005 feet were new parallel terraces and 68,838 feet were new standard type terraces. The balance was flood damaged terraces that were rebuilt. With the new terrace designs and heavy rains we have received in the past few years we have seen an increase in the construction and use of grassed waterways. 237 acres of waterways were built last year with at least many acres scheduled for 1982.

In a move to work more closely with all parts of the county, 14,908 feet of irrigation pipelines were installed on 10 cooperators farms in the Rochester - O'Brien areas. This is an increase over past years and many producers are planning now to install pipelines for water and energy conservation to help insure a crop for next year.

In the livestock communities of Haskell County, 254 acres of pastureland and 320 acres of rangeland were seeded to improve grasses such as kleingrass and bermudagrass. Already land preparation has begun on approximately 1000 acres to be seeded next spring.

New cooperator plans with the Haskell SWCD were prepared by 31 operators covering 10,985 acres with another 14,458 acres of county lands being revised to meet new land treatment needs. Haskell now has 86 percent of the county under district agreement.

All this may not sound like much, but when you stop and consider the fate of our lands and the needs of generations to come, Haskell County will be recognized as a leader in the conservation of our most valuable resource, the land.

For assistance in the planning and application of your conservation needs, contact the SCS office in Haskell.

October 25-31 Proclaimed Texas Nurses Week

The week of October 25-31, 1981, has been proclaimed Texas Nurses Week.

The Texas Hospital Association (THA) and its member institutions applaud the vital role nurses play in caring for the sick and injured in communities throughout Texas. Nurses are an integral part of the health care team and contribute significantly to the maintenance of health, prevention of disease and preservation of lives.

The current critical shortage of nurses has served to highlight their importance to the health care delivery system.

"Hospitals recognize that part of the long-term solution to the nursing shortage rests with the youth of our nation," stated O. Ray Hurst, CAE, THA President. "As more qualified and dedicated people choose nursing as a profession, the crisis proportions of our shortage will be alleviated."

Hurst continued by saying that Texas Nurses Week gives Texans an opportunity to honor the nursing profession and stress its importance.

Nurses deserve the sincere gratitude of all Texans and Texas hospitals not only during Texas Nurses Week but throughout the year.

THA is the Austin-based trade association for hospitals in Texas with over 1,750 institutional and 4,300 personal members.

America has a population problem. The birth rate is rising, and has been for the past five years. Legal immigration is increasing. Illegal immigration is increasing. By conservative estimate, our population increase during the past five years has been 15 million.

Effective action, like charity, must begin at home. We owe it to our children to leave them a life support system that works, both economically and ecologically. Population stabilization is a necessity.

Examples are better than sermons. If America solves her own population problems there is a better chance that other nations will listen to advice. In other words, minding our own business first is the best service we can give to the rest of the world.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

May I use the means of your paper to express to a lot of fine folks here in Haskell County my gratitude toward them in helping with the Haskell County Fair.

We now have finished what I would call a very successful Fair. To me a successful Fair is one that will get all of the folks in and around Haskell, basically the whole county, involved. This we did.

You might not say that the Fair was a total success as far as the money is concerned but it isn't meant to be a money making thing. We are promoting Haskell, Haskell County and our youth here at the fair. Considering this our purpose, I do believe it was a tremendous success.

Our Stock Show was one of the finest and everyone will admit this. Our displays were set up perfectly and all of the people who were assigned to work did their part. This to me is what I think makes a fair a success.

There are so many people to thank for the work done on this that I wouldn't even try to name them. If you were in or around the fair during "Fair Week" or the week before, you know who they were. The best thing you can do for them is give them a pat on the back and thank them for a job well done. This is all the pay they get!!!

When you can get this many people working long hours daily both before the Fair and after it is closed, you know you are working with some of the finest folks in Haskell County. It has been my pleasure serving the association as President over the past 2 years and I want everybody to know that it really is a blessing to be associated with this many folks.

All of the credit that may come my way for a good fair belongs to The Workers.

Very truly yours,
Billie J. Ray, President
Haskell County Fair Assn.

Reserve Opened For Corn, Sorghum & Barley

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block announced on October 6, that farmers can immediately enter their 1981 corn, sorghum and barley crops into the farmer-owned grain reserve.

"It is apparent this year's harvest will reach record levels," Block said. "This makes it essential that we take action to relieve the pressure on the already depressed market prices. By opening this reserve, I believe we are offering farmers another option as they begin to make their marketing decisions."

Block said farmers with 1980-crop corn, sorghum and barley currently under a regular Commodity Credit Corporation price support loan also may immediately enter their grain into the reserve. However, 1980 corn and sorghum previously entered in a reserve are not eligible for reentry, and neither year's crop of oats may be entered at this time.

Producers placing grain into the reserve will receive annual storage payments of 26½ cents per bushel, payable in advance. While interest on the loan will be charged during the first year the grain is in the reserve, interest will be waived during the second and subsequent years. The current interest rate for CCC loans is 14½ percent.

Under the program, farmers agree to keep their grain in reserve until the national five-day moving average market price for their commodity is at or above the reserve trigger release level of $2.55 per bushel for barley, $3.15 per bushel for corn and $5.36 per hundred pounds for sorghum, or until the three-year reserve loan matures. When the release level is triggered, farmers may take their grain out of the reserve without penalty.

If the market price continues above the trigger release level after the initial release period (the remainder of the month in which release is triggered plus one additional month), farmers will stop earning storage payments. Interest charges, if previously stopped, will resume.

Earlier crop barley now in other farmer-held reserves may be transferred into the new reserve, Block said. Barley in these other reserves may not be held in reserve for more than five years from the date it was first placed in reserve, he said.

Flood Victims Eligible For IRS Deductions

The Internal Revenue Service advises victims of flooding caused by the recent heavy rains that they may be eligible to claim casualty losses on their 1981 returns.

Losses to business property are generally deductible in full. Personal property loss deductions are limited to the amount of loss exceeding $100 for each occurrence.

To claim a casualty loss a taxpayer must be able to substantiate the loss. Victims should compile a list of those items damaged or destroyed and determine their value immediately before and after the loss occurred. Before and after photographs of damaged property are important records to maintain, as are judgments of independent appraisers.

Of course, any portion of a loss covered by insurance and subsequently reimbursed is not deductible.

Further information for taxpayers is available by calling IRS toll free and asking for Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses, and Thefts," and Publication 584, "Workbook for Determining Your Disaster Loss." Call 742-2440 in Dallas, 335-1370 in Fort Worth and 1-800-492-4830 elsewhere in Texas.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

School faculties tend to develop group personalities. One group will be extremely reserved, another talkative, still another distant with each other, and another, extremely close. The faculty at Haskell Junior High is unique with its personality. When Mr. Clayton Neal moved into his position as Principal, he asked me - the former Principal - about the faculty. After a moment's thought, I answered, "squirrely" but the most congenial and competent teachers with which I have ever had the opportunity to work. Later on, during the last school year, he confirmed my feelings concerning this fascinating group of people. They, as a group, are for anything to break the monotony of the school day. An example of this was the tom-toms during homecoming. The faculty beat the tom-toms during the Junior High pep rally on Thursday, then on Friday morning the students and faculty started the tom-toms at 8:00 a.m. and rotated groups to keep the constant rhythm until the pregame activities. Another example, are the special days at school such as western day or pioneer day. The majority of the faculty wear school colors on game day. They are always enthusiastic about any program and will lend their wholehearted support. If you want something done, just mention it and action is underway. Yet they, as a group, are always happy and full of life.

This faculty also has a deep love for children and their learning process. They are willing to try new methods and techniques to cause learning to happen. They, as a group, are bright and quick-witted. They can see to the core of a problem with a student quickly and strive to arrive at a solution. They are hard-headed enough to never give up on a student learning. I truly believe several students have finished school because of the determination of this unique group of people. As individuals, they seldom complain, and never become unhappy with each other or their students. They always remember each other on special occasions such as birthdays, etc. Even with the retirements of Mrs. Martin and Mrs. O'Neal, the spirit of this group has remained intact.

I truly believe each of these teachers from the Principal on truly love each other and their students. They may laugh and joke in the halls and lounge, but their devotion and dedication is reflected in what happens in the classroom.

Rick Perry Named To Committee

James R. (Rick) Perry, a farmer-rancher from Haskell, has been appointed by Gov. Bill Clements to the Advisory Committee of the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University.

Perry is a 1972 animal science graduate of Texas A&M and will be a representative of the general public on the 10-member committee. His appointment is for a term of six years.

He presently serves on three boards of directors--the Jones-Haskell Grain Co-op, the Haskell Junior Livestock Association and the Tri-Area Livestock Association. A private pilot, Perry also is an accident prevention counselor for the Federal Aviation Administration.

While at Texas A&M, Perry was executive secretary for the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship Committee. During his junior and senior years, he was a yell leader.

Perry is an Air Force veteran. He was a captain and an aircraft commander flying C-130 cargo planes out of Dyess AFB in Abilene from 1972 until 1977.

As a member of the TRERC Advisory Committee, he will review and approve proposals submitted by the research center to the Texas A&M board of regents. These include general policies, such as priority ranking of research studies, and the budget. By law, TRERC conducts studies in all areas that relate directly or indirectly to real estate and/or urban economics.

Apply 2-3 Months Early For Social Security

It is important for people who plan to apply for Social Security benefits to do so 2 or 3 months before they want benefits to begin, or, at least as soon as possible after they become eligible. Glyn Hammons, Social Security district manager in Abilene, said recently.

This is because payments for months before the month the application is made are limited by law. The general rules are:

Workers 65 and over, widows, widowers, and parents 62 and over--Back payments are limited to no more than 6 months.

Workers under 65 and widows and widowers under 62-- In general, no payments can be made for months before the month of application.

Disabled workers, widows, and widowers-- Back payments can be made for up to 12 months before the month of application, but not before the 6th full month of disability.

Hammons said that people applying for benefits, especially those applying for reduced benefits--before 65 for workers or before 62 for survivors--should apply as soon as possible when they become eligible so they will not miss out on any of their benefit checks.

More information about back payments and all other parts of Social Security can be obtained at the Abilene Social Security office, located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is 698-1360. If you live outside Abilene, call toll free by dialing 1-800-392-1603.

Vets Back Amendment Seven To Fund Land Program

C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, provides the following information concerning a program that is of great interest to all veterans.

The Veterans' Land Program was established by the Constitution on November 7, 1946. The Program was established to make long-term, low-interest loans available to Texas veterans. It was late in 1949 before the first bonds were sold and a little later that same year the first piece of land was bought for a Texas veteran. Since that time, the voters of Texas have indicated their approval of the Program by voting for five separate constitutional amendments authorizing a total of 700 million dollars to continue the Program to the present time.

The Statewide election ballot on November 3, 1981, will include Proposition Number Seven to authorize the issuance of 250 million dollars in bonds to continue the funding of the Program. The bonds, repaid as loans, are paid in full by the veterans themselves - not the taxpayers. Repayment rates have been so outstanding that the veterans bonds have always enjoyed the valuable Triple A Bond rating.

Over 75,000 veterans have purchased more than four million acres of Texas land since the inception of the Program. Over 42 percent of the veteran purchasers have paid their loans in full, and statistics indicate that 50 percent of the purchasers will pay their loans in full within the 20 years after purchase, although all the contracts are for a term of 40 years.

Texas has 165,000 returning Vietnam veterans, 316,000 Korean veterans, and 740,000 World War II veterans. These figures do not include reservists and National Guard members who had four to six months active duty training and are also eligible for the Program.

Duck Season Opens Despite Endrin

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials, after consulting with appropriate state and federal officials and wildlife scientists, have concluded that the recent incidence of Endrin residues in waterfowl in Montana should not jeopardize the upcoming waterfowl hunting seasons in Texas.

Ted Clark, director of the department's Wildlife Division, said this evaluation was based on analyses of information received from a number of agencies, including the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Environmental Protection Agency, Texas A&M University Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Science, Texas Department of Health, Texas Department of Agriculture, and other state wildlife agencies in the Central Flyway.

The agencies concurred that unless additional information is received to indicate otherwise, there is no reason to close or delay Texas' waterfowl seasons. The duck and goose hunting season opened in West Texas Oct. 27 and in the remainder of the state on Nov. 7.

The highly publicized incident began in early September, when residues of the pesticide Endrin were detected in waterfowl and other wildlife in the farming region of Eastern Montana where wheat crops had been sprayed for control of cutworms.

Clark said Montana wildlife officials already have approved normal opening of their duck season, but delayed opening the goose season until Nov. 15 only in the eight counties where Endrin had been sprayed.

The Texas situation is vastly different from Montana, Clark noted. "First of all, we have no reports that Endrin was used on or near the water areas used by most of the ducks and geese in Texas," he said. "Second, the chance of an individual hunter getting a contaminated bird from Montana is fairly small because of the dilution with large numbers of waterfowl from other areas, and the odds of his taking more than one are extremely remote," Clark continued.

Even so, Texas Department of Health information indicates the pesticide residue levels previously recorded are not expected to persist very long after the affected birds leave the Endrin treated fields. Endrin is stored in body fat which is mobilized in migration which results in the pesticide being detoxified or eliminated from the bird's system, according to Dr. Robert Bernstein, Commissioner of Health.

The Texas Department of Agriculture confirms that while Endrin is registered for sale and use in Texas, a survey of distributors, producers and applicators revealed little if any current use in the state. Meanwhile, Clark said Texas biologists will continue to collect migratory birds. "If hazardous amounts of Endrin show up in waterfowl in this state or nearby, the concerned agencies are prepared to take appropriate action. Otherwise, we plan to continue with the seasons already established."

All agencies agree that anyone especially concerned about pesticide residue in waterfowl would be well advised to get rid of as much of the fat as possible both before and after cooking. In this regard, skinning birds instead of picking them also should be considered. Other steps which could be taken include not stuffing the birds for baking; not utilizing any internal organs, and removing the drippings from cooked birds.

"Wildlife is a barometer of environmental quality," said Clark, "and we should be alert to any lessons to be learned from this experience."

Anthropology class studies archaeology of ancient Holy Land

COLLEGE STATION — More than two dozen Texas A&M University students will be totin' Bibles to class this fall — not as a religious text, but as a historical reference for a new class which studies ancient civilizations in the Holy Land.

Response to the course has been terrific, said Dr. Bruce Dickson, an anthropologist.

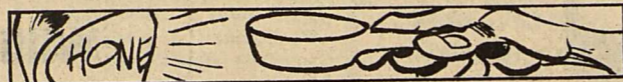

Dickson said he's not sure how much of the interest in the class has been spurred by the hit movie "Raiders of the Lost Ark," which depicts the search for a famous Hebrew religious artifact in Egypt as World War II approaches.

But Dickson half jokingly says the "rob-and-run" approach to archaeology taken by the summer's smash film "could set the profession back 100 years."

GOVERNOR'S REPORT
by William F. Clements Jr.

Texans will vote on seven more proposed changes in their State Constitution November 3.
As Governor, I support them. Space does not permit detailed arguments here in favor of all seven, but at least three are of such commanding importance as to warrant elaboration.

Amendment 4 creates a State Water Trust Fund. Contrary to some deliberately misleading propaganda, this is not a proposal designed to benefit some part of the State over others. Neither is it hastily-planned or ill-conceived, as opponents have implied falsely.

Within less than two decades, nearly all parts of this great State must have additional sources of water to insure our continued growth and prosperity and expanded opportunities for future generations of Texans.

Amendment 4 will set aside half of surplus State revenues, which otherwise would be eaten up by current spending demands, to build the kind of water projects adequate to needs of a population exceeding 22 million people within just two decades. The amendment also allows use of the State's credit to guarantee local water project bonds, creates a state bond retirement program and increases interest rates to make authorized, but unissued, state bonds marketable.

This, in effect, is goal-oriented planning at its best and a positive form of tax relief. It assures excess public revenues are set aside and saved for a known, identifiable need instead of squandered in the usual spending-everything-now-cry-later budget cycle.

In an effort to curb residential tax increases and head off so-called homeowners' "tax revolts," Amendment 6 would authorize local jurisdictions to exempt a percentage of the market value of residence homesteads. The amendment would also allow the Legislature to change some current property tax administrative procedures, including the "truth in taxation" notice requirement; I believe the amendment would make it easier for those on low or fixed incomes to buy and keep a home.

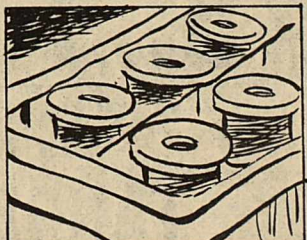

It is worth mentioning that other amendments to be voted on November 3 would authorize an additional $250 million in Veterans Land Bonds at marketable interest rates; authorize issuing patents for school lands held in good faith for a half century; make property tax relief available to encourage redevelopment or improvement of blighted areas; and include livestock and poultry with farm products exempt from taxation.

Among the most important of all, Amendment 3 provides significant budget execution authority subject to limitations imposed by law. I campaigned for a similar measure two years ago, but misunderstanding due in part to an ambiguous ballot listing led to its defeat. The finance management committee and procedures to be set up by Proposition 3 are now needed urgently.

The committee—to be composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, House Speaker, two key Senators and two Representatives—will provide the vehicle for allocation of tremendous sums in federal block grants anticipated to flow into the State, without the necessity of a special legislative session.

In the future, subject to legislative direction, the committee may become an effective mechanism for meeting other unexpected financial emergencies when the Legislature is not in session, may significantly improve budgeting of State funds and save millions in tax dollars.
