

We were delighted about six months ago when the State Comptroller issued a ruling that civic clubs were exempt from paying state sales tax.

The catch came this week with the approval of a small booklet explaining various aspects of the sales tax laws.

The majority of the information presented in the booklet was simple and to the point, but questions arose on the exempt organizations.

The book explained that an exemption certificate was required for each sale to an exempt group.

A call to the Comptroller's Office in Austin further confused the issue when we were told that the certificate must be completed with each sale to an exempt group and attached to a copy of the bill. These items, we were told, must be kept for four years.

It started to look as if a building expansion would be necessary to house the new paperwork.

Still confused as to whether or not taxing units, (cities, counties, and schools) were required to complete the exemption certificates, we placed another call.

This time, talking to a different person, we were told that no exemption certificate is required for sales to taxing units if they pay by check and the check shows that the unit is sales tax exempt.

Again the problem came later in the explanation when we were told that a copy of each check must be attached to the invoice and kept for four years.

Further questions about the civic clubs revealed that according to the person we were now talking to, only one exemption certificate for each group was required. As long as the one exemption certificate was kept on file, no other certificates were required.

Area Cities Receive Sales Tax Checks

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday sent payments totaling $34.7 million to Texas cities with the one percent city sales tax.

The payments, the first of 1982 to the nearly one thousand cities who collect the tax, totaled $1.6 million more than these cities received in January of last year. Haskell received a check for

$5,090.06. Area cities and their checks were: Anson, $2,287.48; Hamlin, $5,472.37; Knox City $3,643.81; Rochester, 0; Rule, $892.54; and Stamford $7,594.33. The biggest check-$7.4

million-went to Houston, an 11.7 percent increase over last January's check.

Dallas received a check for $4 million, compared to $3.7 million for the same period last year.

San Antonio's check of $1.8 million compares to $1.7 million for last January.

Austin received $1.1 million compared with $1 million in received $869,000, up from the $808,00 check that city received last January.

Bullock also forwarded January rebates to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. The Houston MTA received $8.6 million for the period and the San Antonio transit authority received $874,000.

The city and MTA sales taxes are collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and businesses and rebated monthly to the cities in which they are collected by the Comptroller.

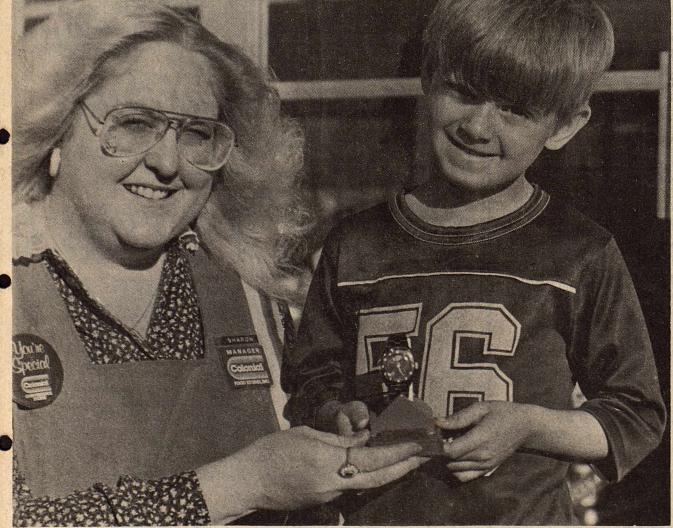

Reception Set For New Chamber Mgr.

A special reception introducing Wanda Dulaney, new Chamber of Commerce Manager, will be held Friday from 5 to 7 p.m. in the Community Building of the Haskell National Bank.

Wanda is a native of Haskell, but has lived in Dallas and Abilene for the past several years.

The reception, open to the general public, will give old friends an opportunity to visit with Wanda and at the same time allow new residents in the area to meet her. Refreshments will be served.

Jonathan Tatum, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Tatum, was the winner of a Snoopy watch given by Colonial Food Stores and the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. Jonathan collected a total of $557.73 to win the local prize.

1982 is the 30th Anniversary Cookie Sale of the West Texas Girl Scout Council. The very first area-wide cookie sale in West Texas was held March 17 through March 22, 1952. Morgan Jones, Jr. of Abilene, then Camp Chairman for West Texas Girl Scout Area, headed the sale which had as its goal the purchase of land for an established campsite for West Texas girls. The product was an English-type vanilla creme cookie baked by the Weston Biscuit Company of Waco. Nine Town Associations participated in the sale of 21,000 boxes of cookies: Taylor County, Sweetwater, Colorado City, Rotan, Big Spring, Roscoe, Lamesa, Silver, and

The success of the first sale led to the purchase of Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater. Beginning the New Year tomorrow. Yesterday is past with prayers for our Country and our Leaders, we are humble in our wish for your own unique success in 1982. We realize, as we approach this New Year that the tempo of life has rapidly accelerated. We want you to continue painting, studying and write to us so we will know what you most enjoy about your art. Your questions are not simple, someone else might neglect to ask the same ones - so let us hear from you! You are creative and perhaps have improvised some interesting technique that you would like to share with other artists. Sometime ago I heard a speaker who said that there were two days in the calendar to which he paid no attention and we can do nothing to change our use of it; tomorrow is only a hope, never guaranteed reality. The only day we can be sure of is today...this hour...this moment in which we live. This is a good thought to start the New Year. Q. How can I care for my art work to preserve it for the future?

A. Art has two basic values, i.e., its appearance to you and its actual or potential market value. Both are valid reasons for giving your art the best possible protection. If you take the time to pamper your art with museum-like care, you can slow up deterioration and completely prevent certain kinds of damage. I will explain whatsoever...yesterday and some home-care hints gleaned of our public school system.

MATTING AND FRAMING

- Inferior materials used in a mat or frame can gradually stain or mar a painting or print. Always take your unframed art work to a professional art shop. Make sure they do not trim the margins of a good print. Also, never by persuaded to have a print or other work of art "dry mounted" as photographs sometimes are. Materials used have a chemical reaction. Valuable prints are practically worthless after dry mounting.

COVERINGS - Glass is used to cover most prints but oil paintings are not covered. Non-reflective glass contains distortions and has a slightly cloudy look so for aesthetic reasons, avoid using it. You can control the reflection problem through proper lighting. Plain glass is good, as is sheet acrylic. Sheet acrylic does not collect moisture as easily as glass but it does have static electricity, which will collect dust. You can avoid this problem by coating the acrylic with an antistatic covering. Acrylic scratches easily but you can smooth out the scratches with special abrasives. Glass is preferable to acrylic for heavily embossed etchings and silk-screen

She will travel to New Braunfels to compete against 30 other outstanding girls from around the Lone Star State for the coveted title of Texas Jr. Miss. The five categories of competition are Poise and Appearance, Youth Fitness, Scholastic Achievement, and Judges Interview.

The theme for this year's program will be "A Salute to Sports" with musical selections highlighting various popular sports events. The girls' Youth Fitness competition will be a choreographed group dance routine to the tune "Football Hero". For the Poise and Appearance competition, white formals will be donned and the girls will carry college penants featured around the state.

During the week the girls will be individually interviewed by the panel of judges. This category is the largest percentage of the vote. It determines 35 percent of the final decision.

The scholastic Achievement ranking involves the girls' school averages and the degree of difficulty of the subjects taken. The decision is based solely on the high school transcript provided by Kimberly Suzette Griffith, Creative and Performing Arts, the contestants respective high schools.

In addition to these five categories, all entrants are required to participate in two nationally sponsored program contests: Kraft-planning a party; Simplicity-Jiffy sewing. The requirements for competition in those two contests were completed and submitted by

The Name Of The Date Game

Whether you're jogging, swimming or just trying to keep up with the rigors of running a home or office, you can't afford to neglect good nutrition. But what's the use of having nutritional dishes that neither look nor taste terrific?

Southern California is associated with sunshine and outdoor activities, but its luscious fruits can bring some of that sunshine into your kitchen no matter where you live. Sun Giant dates, grown in the magnificent desert around Indio, abound in potassium, iron, niacin and natural food energy. Combine with orange or grapefruit segments with their high Vitamin C, cottage cheese with calcium and protein and you have an energy packed salad for any weather. Make a date "flower" by snipping with scissors for petals and garnish the cottage cheese. Short on both time and energy? Try this Sun Giant meal-ina-glass for a satisfying breakfast or luncheon.

New Bible Study Program Set

Bible study for laymen, emphasizing "knowing what the Bible says as a basis for what it means" begins Jan. 27, 1982 at First United Methodist Church.

'We believe the time is right for a systematic and thorough Bible study for United Methodists' said Dr. Frank Warden, author of the new program. "There are excellent studies now, but these are usually of books or portions of the Bible. We are seeking a Biblical point of view. For more than five years we have studied the methods offering this kind of perspective on the whole Bible, and Trinity Bible Studies is the result.

The plan of the course looks toward ten semesters, each ten weeks in length. The first two are surveys of the Old and New Testaments, followed by depth studies of every section of the Bible.

Not intended as "mere devotional or occasional" material, these studies call for a disciplined commitment. The

A program of disciplined student is expected to attend weekly classes, complete daily assignments and prepare for examinations. However, the approach is neither heavy nor scholastic. Unique visual learning aids, cartoons and memory techniques present abstract Biblical concepts in memorable form. Hebrews knew how to use visual aids--they are scattered throughout the Bible. We believe these are in good taste, and they will fix the important personalities and events in the mind."

The course begins 6:30 p.m., Jan. 27, 1982 and is open to any interested person. A nursery will be provided. The registration fee of $10.00 may be sent by mail to First United Methodist Church, 201 N. Ave. F, Haskell, Texas 79521. For more information call 864-3202.

Attention Vietnam Veterans!

AUSTIN -- Scientists at the University of Texas and the State Department of Health will soon be examining veterans of the Vietnam War in order to determine the impact of Agent Orange, a chemical defoliant used widely in Vietnam, on those veterans and their families. The program becomes available January 1,

Texas State Representatives Bill Keese of Somerville, Jerry Benedict of Angleton, and Larry Shaw of Big Spring were successful in the last Session of the Texas Legislature in establishing the Agent Orange Assistance Program. The Agent Orange Bill, though opposed by the state's powerful Texas Chemical Council, was passed without one dissenting vote. The bill was termed crucial to the recognition of the Vietnam vet and relevant ill-

Keese said about 23,000 Texas veterans appear to have been contaminated by Agent Orange. From 1961 to 1970, over 50 million pounds of the highly potent chemical was dumped over Vietnamese jungles and near U.S. Army and Air Force bases.

Agent Orange is composed of the chemical compounds 2,3,5-T and 2,4-D, similar chemicals to that used in domestic agricultural applications, though in weaker solutions. Restrictions were placed on 2,4,5-T in 1970 after it was linked to miscarriages in Oregon. However, despite such restrictions, it is still in wide use.

Keese, and the other legislators, are urging veterans of the Vietnam War who may have been exposed to Agent Orange to contact their family physician. Exposure to Agent Orange may have affected those who were involved in the mixing or preparation of defoliants, in the application of defoliants by air, ground or boat, or in assignments which brought them in contact with sprayed areas or spraying equipment.

Keese said the State Health Department will gather data in order to identify veterans who may be suffering from potential exposure while the University of Texas medical schools conduct fat biopsies, sperm studies and genetic counseling. Veterans who believe that they have been exposed to the chemical are responsible for initiating the first step: asking their family doctor to submit a report to the State Health Department. The doctor is required to list the veterans symptoms. In turn, the agency will send the vet a questionnaire asking about the vet's military background and assignments.

The questionnaire also asks details about exposure from other chemical applications, such as with agricultural and industrial chemicals they may have encountered as civilians and about their family's cancer history.

Once again, Keese and the other legislators, Jerry Benedict and Larry Shaw, urge all Vietnam veterans to contact their physician if they suffer from the following symptoms: skin rash (chloracne), sleeplessness, loss of sex drive, miscarriages, birth defects, cancer, liver damage, blood disorders, or nerve damage.

Letters To The Editor

Today is the Birthday of an institution at Paint Creek. This institution is not a place but a custom. A custom of giving, sharing and loving.

For over twenty years this institution has given of herself to the students and faculty of Paint Creek School. She is never too busy to listen and care. Even though during the past year, she has lost her beloved husband, moved from her home of many years and broke her arm, she never faltered. Oh, maybe she means of expressing our slowed a bit and a tear would come to her eye at times, this Volunteer Fire. Dept. for their institution has a great exterior. However it is the interior accident of our beloved with a heart as big as Texas, co-worker, Bill Letterman.

Open Letter To Chamber Members

Dear Chamber Member:

There have been many times in the last six months I board. would have liked to sit down with each of you and give you hire a new Chamber manager, information that you needed to we KNEW what he or she know about Chamber activities, but time was not doing. How fortunate Wanda available. It has been a rocky year, to say the least, but thanks to the outstanding job of your Board of Directors, we got through.

The first highlight was the banquet, how hard everyone worked to make that a rousing success. Then we had to face a few facts: We were in debt and if something was not done to raise dues and membership we would have to cut expenses. Our new office was not any more expense and we know because of Lois were all proud of it. We tried and you tried, but the money was just not there - so Mr. Jennings elected to resign. Well, of course that relieved our largest expense, but there was still our debt. A united board agreed to take over management of the office and functions till such time as we were out of debt and in the black-we estimated that to be October-late or November.

I cannot praise the board and membership enough for their making this effort work. We answered mail; we went ahead with projects as though nothing was wrong. I would not decieve you - this was not an ideal arrangement. The telephone calls were not answered promptly, the mail answers slow, many minor business inquiries neglected, but we got out of debt: we

I know because of Bill Lane we had a Fly-in Christmas program. Now I'm leaving out a host of people who helped and suggested with each of these projects, and they are your other board members who chaired committees, worked, re-doubled their efforts, swept up, did paper work, filled in where needed. Now if you see any of these people, please give them a pat on the back, a word of praise. They don't expect it but they do deserve it. So onward and upward in

Watching Washington

If "push comes to shove," I'll fight hard to prevent states in the Northeast and Midwest from denying Texas its fair share of a shrinking federal budget.

It is important to insure that the people of our state are not asked to do more than their fair share as spending on federal programs is reduced further.

We've got to make maximum effective use of the resources available to us. And, when you're slicing up a smaller pie, it becomes important to see that it is fairly divided. We must make an extra effort to end a petty, grasping regionalism that can di-

What bothers me is the way the Frostbelt states of the Northeast and Midwest have banded together in a coalition, with a paid staff, to try and win a greater share of federal expendi-

Their primary weapon in Congress is a campaign to change formulas for allocating federal funds to their advantage, and they have enjoyed some success in the past.

It's not right that a state like Texas should be penalized for its prosperity. In many respects we're already down at the bottom of the totem pole when it comes to benefits from federal

We receive less than $24 per resident in Revenue Sharing funds, while the national average is $27. There is only one state in the nation-Indiana-that collected less than Texas in total federal aid during 1980.

So, no one can honestly suggest that Texas is benefiting unfairly from federal spending programs.

We're certainly not going to sit back and let other regions reduce even more our share of a shrinking federal budget by changing allocation formulas.

In the weeks and months ahead there will be further cuts in the federal budget. Even though this past year the biggest spending cuts in history were approved by Congress, we must work for additional cuts in the budget.

I'll be supporting efforts to make more spending reductions. But I'll also be working—and working hard—to insure that these cuts treat all regions of this country, all citizens of this country, fairly and equitably.

The Haskell Jr. High tournament will be held this weekend in Indian Gym on January 21 and 23. This tournament is now going into its seventh year. Down through the years we have had Dome very interesting tourna-Knox City and Seymour have been here each year. Other schools who have participated include Munday, Aspermont, Stamford, and Goree. One of the most memorable games was the Haskell 8th boys vs. Goree seven years ago. The Goree boys were the nucleus of the Vildcat team that went to the state tournament. Haskell defeated them on a last second shot by Gabriel Capetillo. Another memorable game was the 7th grade girls vs. Seymour when Gina Dumas, Sheila Bartley, Lisa Jones and crew were in the 7th grade. The next years undefeated 8th grade girls team featuring these same girls plus Kim tane and Lori Johnson de-reated a fine Seymour team again. The Knox City- O'Brien boys and Haskell boys have

As a general rule, crowds have been good, the games have been exciting and as a general rule, close. The rather unique format of the tournament schedule stems from the desire of Haskell Schools to have all four Jr. High teams playing in a tournament at one time. It is always the highlight of the Jr. High season.

This years tournament has the same four schools, Stamford, Seymour, Knox City-O'Brien, and Haskell. The teams all seem to be fairly well matched, so it should again be an exciting two days.

One of the original ideas behind this tournament was to promote interest in basketball. Hopefully, it has succeeded. We are looking forward to seeing you at the tournament. Come and have a good time and support your future

Most people, when they think about their U.S. Senators and Representatives associate them with long legislative sessions in the chambers of Congress, national issues, and the maze of bureaucracy in Washington, D.C. This impression is accurate, although not complete, because there is much more to the job that you send your elected representatives to Washington to do.

One of the most gratifying aspects I find in being Senator from Texas is the opportunity to help people who have problems with the federal bureaucracy. These problems range from getting information about a new energy program to questions about Social Security benefits. My office cannot make changes in agency decisions, rules or procedures. However, I can act as a liaison to make sure all pertinent facts are being considered, that the agency is acting in a timely manner, or that paperwork is being properly processed.

For example, Larry Wiard of League City, Texas, recently got in touch with me because he was having problems scheduling back surgery at a veterans' hospital. Mr. Wiard had been told in August he needed immediate surgery. He could barely walk and had severe back pain.

The doctors at the hospital had told Mr. Wiard that he had to have a procedure called CAT scan before the surgery. He made several appointments with the VA clinic, but on each one he was told the funds were not available to provide the scan. On November 3, he called my office to ask for assistance. My office, in turn, inquired at the Houston Veterans Administration Hospital on Mr. Wiard's behalf. At that point, the hospital scheduled yet another appointment for him. On November 9, the doctor told Mr. Wiard that the surgery could be performed without the CAT scan. He had never been told before that he had this option and elected to have the surgery immediately, even though the risk would be greater without the CAT procedure. The surgery was performed November 12, and by Thanksgiving, Mr. Wiard's stitches were out, he was recuperating at home and the outlook for

Of course, not all problems can be solved that quickly. But, I welcome the opportunity to attempt to help any Texan who is having a problem with federal red tape.

If you are having difficulties with the federal government or would like to express your opinion on any issue, please do not hesitate to get in touch with me at any of five offices. There are four in Texas and one in Washington, D.C. You can write to me in Washington in care of the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C., 20510. The addresses and phone numbers for my Texas offices are listed in the telephone book. I look forward to hearing from you

Cow Town Is Kicking Again

Cow Town is back. It really never left - it has just been revitalized and rediscovered. With the world's largest honky tonk, several smaller ones, board sidewalks, brick streets, chili parlors, boot, hat, saddle and western attire shops, the old stockvards area of Fort Worth is charming visitors by the thousands.

Only 6,000 at a time are allowed in Billy Bob's Texas. At one end of this giant honky tonk, top-name performers are a regular feature. At the other end it is bull riding not mechanical ones, but real bulls! In between there are 42 bars serving Lone Star longnecks and a variety of other beverages. There are pool tables, punching bags, shoe shine stands, souvenir and western shops - all inside

Everyone should visit Billy Bob's at least once. Some will come back time and again. Others, who like honky tonks, but prefer something smaller, will settle in at the nearby White Elephant. The Elephant is a vintage hangout with good live country music, a small dance floor, two pool tables and lots of old-time honky tonk atmosphere.

Down Exchange Street from the White Elephant is the Stockyard Coliseum, site of the first indoor rodeo. On Saturday nights during the Spring and fall the Cowtown Rodeo is here. The stock is tough and mean and, as the rodeo announcer says, it is often "raining cowboys" during bronc and bull riding sessions.

length of the sale depends upon the number of cattle available. Spectators may sit in the bleachers alongside buyers and watch the cattle being run through the ring. It is an interesting marketing process and there is no charge for watching.

Throughout the stockvards area are boot, hat, saddle and western clothing shops, saloons and a variety of eateries.

The stockyard area is a gem, but it is just one of many attractions Fort Worth offers visitors.

Two luxurious new hotels pamper guests in downtown Fort Worth. The ultra-modern Hyatt Regency is housed in the historic Hotel Texas building where John F. Kennedy spent his last night. important. When students have cut the field somewhat, they should order catalogs from the colleges of their choice. The catalogs will give some promotional material about the school, but they also tell what the specific requirements are for admission, the availability of student aid, courses offered, qualifications type of school would best meet of the faculty, and many other topics that are important in making choices.

Finally, when the choice is narrowed to a few schools, students should visit the college campuses. Many schools invite prospective students to spend a day, a weekend, or part of a week to find out what the actual program and students are like. Students who have been accepted for the following year should apply for student aid early. To learn about federal programs, you can send for a copy of Five Federal Financial Aid Programs. It's free from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 535J, Pueblo. Colorado 81009.

At the same time that you receive College Costs ($2.00) or Five Federal Financial Aid Programs (free), you will also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog listing more than 200 free and low-cost booklets on a wide variety of consumer topics. The choosing of a paid preparer by taxpayers to do their federal income tax returns should be done carefully, the Internal Revenue Service says. Most tax return preparers nonest and do deliberately attempt to defraud either their clients or the IRS. However, a few abuse the responsibility of preparing a tax return for someone else, and the IRS has suggestions on how to identify these Taxpayers should not sign a blank return, or one which is partially completed, or one prepared in pencil. These could be altered by the preparer. Preparers should be asked to sign the return in the taxpayer's presence, and give his or her identification number, as required by law.

The taxpayer must be given a copy of the completed return. Preparers who promise a refund, claim a special relationship with the IRS or boast of ways to beat the tax system should be avoided.

The choosing of a preparer is particularly important because the taxpayer, not the preparer, is responsible for the accuracy of the tax return. As much care should go into the choosing of a tax preparer as the selection of an attorney, doctor, or any other professional person.
