All Sports Banquet

Indian Spirit never, never, never dies has been selected as the theme for the Haskell All Sports Banquet. Indian and Maidens Mothers are in the process of making final arrangements for the April 3rd Banquet that will honor our High School Athletes and Coaches.

Tickets may be purchased at the High School from Jo Cox or the Indian Booster Club by contacting Geraldine Hise, Elaine Davis, or Mollie Moeller.

If you missed the Chamber of Commerce Banquet last Friday, you've probably already heard, "You should have been there."

The entire evening was absolutely outstanding, well almost.

Out-going and incoming President Gene Long has been accused of many things in his life, but never until now has it been said that he didn't no if he was coming or going.

Following his light hearted and amusing introduction of the Members of the Board of Directors, most Board Members were eagerly looking forward to the New Year.

Now, poking fun at friends is one thing. His comments were well taken and no one was offended. But Gene should remember that a year is a long time to think and that at the 1983 Chamber Banquet, he will still be sitting at the head table, completely out of control.

An aside on the Chamber Banquet is a behind the scenes report, that the audience never hears.

The hours of planning and preparation were obvious to the audience. The total panic occurred regularly during the planning was not so obvious.

Panic No. 1. Planning for a singing group, securing the group and then planning for another group when group number one was canceled.

Panic No. 2. Group number two starts arriving shortly before the Banquet and you find out that (A) the guitar player has a badly cut finger and (B) the piano player has a badly sprained wrist.

Panic No. 3. After three months of discussing the Mayor's Proclamation concerning the 100th Birthday, you find out the day before the Banquet that the Mayor didn't even know he was supposed to give the Proclamation.

Panic No. 4. You're put in charge of preparing a Proclamation for the Mayor and a plaque for the Chamber of Commerce honoring the Mayor as the Outstanding Citizen...at the same time.

Panic No. 5. You find out that the eight foot diameter water trough, which is to be the bottom layer of your giant birthday cake, won't fit through a seven foot door.

And speaking of the birthday cake...

Tom Richardson borrowed one of the water troughs from a local couple and told both that the Chamber of Commerce needed the tank for a giant birthday cake. He secured permission early last week to use the tank and picked it up Thursday.

The Banquet Committee worked Thursday night and the cake was assembled.

When the owner of the tanks wife arrived at school Friday morning, she told another teacher, "Now I understand". When questioned she confessed that she had been worried all week about where they would find an oven big enough to cook the cake.

City Receives Sales Tax Check of $8,832.59

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday sent checks totaling $48.9 million to 962 cities as their share of the one-percent city sales tax for March.

The payment is the largest representing a single month's tax collections ever distributed--29 percent over the same period in 1981.

This record payment, reflecting taxable sales made by Texas businesses in January, is the second record payment in two months, but Bullock added a note of caution.

"Record sales can be one indicator of good times, but they are not an indicator of profit margins. These taxes are based on sales price or market value. True, Texans are spending more but these figures don't tell us what the merchants or suppliers or manufacturers are having to pay for the goods they buy."

Bullock explained that last month's record $106.4 million payment to cities who levy the local sales tax represented collections from taxpayers who pay monthly as well as those who pay quarterly and yearly.

The biggest check this month went to Houston, which received $10.3 million, compared with $8 million last March.

The city of Haskell received a check for $8,832.59. Area towns and their checks were: Anson, $5,182.17; Knox City, $6,031.28; Munday, $2,124.21; Rochester, $1,669.22; Rule, $1,497.49; Seymour, $7,168.71; and Stamford, $10,784.56.

Bullock also forwarded March rebates to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. The Houston MTA received $10.8 million and the San Antonio MTA got $1.1 million.

The city and MTA sales taxes are collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and businesses and rebated monthly to the cities in which they are collected by the Comptroller.

Natural environment has always crested curiosity and interest in the art field. Families travel together gathering stones, arrow heads and objects of interest. The Scouting Program for young people has stimulated much interest in our natural surroundings. There is evidence of collectors, trophy seekers and artists learning to "see". There are highly organized systems of viewing nature - bird watchers is one. We, as painters, must learn to develop new and meaningful methods of expressing nature on canvas - to express our feelings and make a personal statement.

Q. How can I impart freedom in my paintings?

A. Freedom in your painting can only come from discipline. Also, you must have confidence in the tools you use as your work is as good as those tools. Using inferior tools will make you feel restricted and you cannot do your best work. This is especially true for beginners. A good quality brush makes an unbelievable difference in the application of the paints. Fine brushes, fine paints and good painting surfaces insure satisfactory results and will give you more freedom, psychologically.

Q. What size brush do you start your work with?

A. The largest one I have. I use a regular house-paint brush, pure bristle, to lay in the composition. Painting in this broader, freer manner you'll be less apt to be tempted to paint unnecessary detail. Of course, finishing details must be done with smaller brushes.

Q. Do you tone your canvases?

A. Yes, I do. Mr. Taubes did. Using acrylic Burnt Sienna into Gesso makes a good tone for most any subject. Some painters do not tone their canvases as they feel that toning cuts the luminosity of the light colors. You might like to try toning the canvas and see which method suits you.

Q. Do you ever work on watercolor board with oils?

A. Yes, using a cold pressed watercolor board, prepared by toning it with acrylic color and hyplar Matte Medium. Prepare several boards at one time in various tones and sizes. When dry, they make excellent surfaces for oil paints and also pastels. These boards are excellent surfaces for oil paints and also pastels. These boards are excellent for smaller paintings but I would not use them for larger work. The boards receive oil paints differently and the finished product has a pleasing matte effect much like pastel work.

At General Telephone... We're Not Simply Talking About Service Improvements We're Making Them In Haskell

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable projects, modernization), and GTE will spend over 410 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For Haskell this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

Hunters Pay Fines After Dove Shoot

Thirteen dove hunters from Louisiana have found that shooting too many doves can be hard on the pocket book.

Game Warden Norman Anthony of Falfurrias apprehended the 13 hunters in Brooks County during the late segment of the dove season with a total of 1,323 mourning doves, which was 1,011 over their legal possession limit.

Each hunter paid a $1,000 fine plus $6 court costs in Justice of the Peace Court, totaling more than $13,000.

Residents of the Rio Grande Childrens Home in Mission were given the doves, but they had to do some work before the cooking could begin. Anthony said 911 of the birds were dressed but 412 remained to be cleaned.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—As consumers look for ways to save money, one method being tried by some Texans is the food-buying cooperative. This is a non-profit group of individuals or families that buy groceries together directly from wholesalers.

Because co-op members do all the work of shopping, loading, transporting, sorting, bagging and collecting money, because each member agrees in advance to pay a certain amount per week, and because there is no operating expense for a store, co-ops are able to charge less than most supermarkets for some grocery items. The percentage of savings varies with the type of item, with produce savings frequently the greatest.

One nationwide directory of cooperatives reports that there are an estimated 3,000 food co-ops in operation around the country. Most of them have from 10 to 50 families as members and buy mainly produce and perhaps eggs, milk and cheese. A few have several thousand members and operate much like regular supermarkets, with complete stock of all kinds of goods.

Our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division lawyers caution that not all consumers who have become food co-op members have been happy with the experience. They suggest that anyone who is considering joining or forming a co-op find out in advance what is involved in the project and determine whether or not the savings will be great enough to offset the demands of time and labor.

The main thing to remember, our attorneys point out, is that with a co-op you will be trading your hard work, time and convenience for savings. Only the individual consumer can decide if such a trade is a fair one.

Many experienced and successful co-op organizers recommend that beginners start small by limiting the number of members to 10 or 12 and by purchasing only produce. This will be a large enough group to buy items in bulk, but small enough that a station wagon can be used to transport groceries.

Advance planning must be done to get the co-op off to a smooth start. This involves locating the wholesalers' market and visiting it to see how it operates, checking to find out if your city requires a special license for food co-ops, and deciding on a central pick-up point where members will go each week to get their groceries. For some co-ops, this may be one member's garage or driveway.

The U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs lists savings, fresher fruits and vegetables and the companionship that comes from working together with other co-op members as some of the advantages of a co-op.

Some of the disadvantages may be the hard work, early hours you will need to appear at the wholesalers' market and the limited choice of goods. You may find that some members complain about the kind of produce selected by their buyer of the week, saying they either have to eat things they don't like or waste money by throwing them away.

So before deciding to form or join a co-op, it may be wise to talk with members of an established co-op, perhaps even to observe them in action for a few weeks before making your decision.

If you have a consumer complaint, get in touch with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney or your local Better Business Bureau.

Rehab Quarter Horse Classic Set June 29

"Opportunity" will be the watchword during the 1982 REHAB Quarter Horse Classic to be held on June 29th in Stamford. This halter and performance horse sale will kick off the 1982 version of the Texas Cowboy Reunion scheduled for June 30-July 3.

Emphasis of this sale will be placed on all aspects of the Quarter Horse industry. Quality horses of all classes are expected, including running, roping, reining, cutting, barrels, halter, Western Pleasure, ranch and breeding stock. Several select thoroughbreds are also expected.

In order to assure sellers a stable market and buyers a quality offering, the REHAB Classic is being limited to 100 entries. Early consignments will receive sales order and catalog preference; so, anyone interested in consigning to this sale will want to make their entries as soon as possible. Entry deadline is May 30th.

The 1982 REHAB Quarter Horse Classic will allow breeders a golden opportunity to exhibit and merchandise their breeding programs. But, more importantly, it will allow quarter horsemen an opportunity to support the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene, San Angelo, and Snyder. This sale is being sponsored and promoted by Burns-Hutson Auctioneers of Sweetwater as a charitable fund raising activity for the Rehab Center.

From the day WTRC opened in 1953 in Abilene, until the present, tax deductible contributions have enabled the facilities to offer a full range of services to handicapped individuals. Each year thousands of handicapped children and adults are treated at the three Rehab campuses without the added handicap of treatment cost. However, the current inflation spiral has pushed these costs to astronomical levels, which requires even greater financial support today. So, the 1982 Rehab Quarter Horse Classic will permit quarter horsemen throughout the southwest an opportunity to support this worthwhile project.

Burns-Hutson will require a $125 per head consignment fee for each entry accepted to this sale. This entry fee will be used to offset the advertising, cataloging and promotion expense of the sale. An additional sales commission of 6 percent of the final bid will be charged. The sales commission will go to support the programs of WTRC.

The sales managers are dedicated to conducting a class sale which lends itself to permitting each consignor to obtain top dollar for their entry. Thereby, being of direct benefit to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

For consignment contracts or further information, contact Burns-Hutson, 1806 E. Broadway, Sweetwater, Texas or call 915-235-9639.

Blood Transfusions Save Lives

The body of an average-sized man contains about 13 pints of blood. The sudden loss of less than half that amount threatens his life.

Blood transfusions can help save it—with the aid of a blood bank.

The Texas Medical Association says serious blood loss during injury, childbirth, an operation, or a disease that causes hemorrhaging can lead to shock and, left untreated, even death. The person in shock may receive a whole blood transfusion or certain blood components.

For operations, a transfusion may precede the procedure and help the patient build tolerance toward it. Or a transfusion may take place during the operation to offset lost blood.

For an operation that may require a transfusion, the doctor orders procedures to match blood from the blood bank with that of the patient. Human blood comes in four types: A, B, AB, and O. The most common are O and A. Blood the patient receives must be compatible with his own. The donor's and patient's blood also are tested for sensitivity to other factors, which occur particularly in people who have received previous transfusions or have been pregnant.

Recent developments in blood banking have made it possible to separate blood into many of its components: white blood cells for fighting infection, red blood cells for delivering oxygen, and platelets for helping stop bleeding, along with numerous components of the liquid (plasma) part of the blood. Each component can save lives under the right circumstances.

In addition, New York researchers now have successfully changed type B red blood cells into type O cells by using an enzyme from green coffee beans. The enzyme—alpha galactosidase removes a sugar molecule from the surface of the type B cells, turning them into type O cells. The researchers say they hope to find a similar method for changing type A blood into type O.

Still, blood banks constantly need blood to replenish their supply. Communities must take on the responsibility of making sure blood is available when needed.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

An important event in the operation of the school will occur on April 3rd—that is the election for the Board of Trustees. This year, there are three places up for election with 5 candidates. Jerry Hannsz and Pat Henry, two incumbents are running along with David Davis, Joe Alves, and Jerry Harris. I personally think it is "great" that these men are willing to have their names put before the voting public and I feel we, as voters, are obligated to express our feelings by casting our vote. Remember, those of you who are history buffs, how many elections have been changed (including the adoption of our own Constitution) by a single vote. Your vote is important. By putting their name on the ballot, these men have agreed to take the nonpaying job of helping to supervise the largest business enterprise in Haskell at least from a payroll standpoint. They have expressed a willingness to work long hours to make a learning environment suitable to the education of our most important commodity, our children. They have the awesome responsibility of hiring and evaluating the chief executive of the school, the Superintendent. They must deal with the huge budget it required to operate the school as well as the always controversial subject of taxes. And, even though it is not a part of their responsibility, they are often the receivers of complaints of parents, students, teachers and others knowing full well that they as individuals have absolutely no power. Yes, the role of trustee is a thankless, worrisome but extremely important position. Therefore, I extend my congratulations to each of the candidates for their willingness to serve. They are all "winners" in this writer's mind. Let's all get out and vote on April 3rd.

If I could change directions for just a few lines, I would like to use this media to publicly thank the incumbent who chose not to seek re-election after six years of service. Joe Kimbrough has gone through some very difficult times. He has served several years as Board President. He always strived to let everyone express their views and yet he kept a sense of decorum in the board meetings. We will miss Joe's sense of fairness, his understanding of school finance, and, mostly, his leadership. I consider myself privileged to have worked with Mr. Kimbrough these past two years. I honestly feel like we, in the community, owe him our gratitude.

Finally, please don't forget to vote for the candidate of your choice on April 3rd in the Community Building of the bank.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Excessive and unreasonable regulation is about the federal government. Well-intentioned attempts to secure national goals by establishing federal standards have been lost in a maze of red tape and unreasoned procedures.

No one will deny that we must remain committed to these valid goals, such as the integrity of our financial markets, a clean environment and protection for workers and consumers. On the other hand, ill-conceived regulations which exceed both the scope of legislative intent, and common sense itself, have imposed an exorbitant cost on taxpayers. This cost takes the form of unnecessary financial burdens, inefficiency, increased paperwork, delays and sheer frustration.

We must reverse this tide and make the regulatory process an aid rather than an impediment to the achievement of appropriate federal goals.

Already, the Administration has made much progress toward the end. The Office of Management and Budget has become a watchdog for regulations issued by executive branch agencies. Under this system, executive agencies are prohibited from issuing major regulations unless the potential benefits to society outweigh the estimated costs.

The Administration's regulatory policy-making has been centralized under the Task Force on Regulatory Relief headed by Vice President Bush. The Task Force has been instrumental in involving citizens in the regulatory process, and identifying areas in which improvements and simplifications need to be made.

This week, Congress is considering legislation to take the process one step further. S. 1080 can serve as the legislative cornerstone upon which we can rebuild our regulatory approach.

At the heart of this bill is a provision for regulatory analysis to balance the costs and benefits of proposed rules. This analysis would not be limited to a strict dollars-and-cents comparison, but rather is a much broader concept which considers non-financial benefits and costs to society.

Additionally, the bill provisions to help insure that federal agencies enforce their regulations fairly and effectively. For instance, under the current system, when a dispute over interpretation of a federal regulation goes to court, the court can assume that the agency is correct. The burden is then on the individual to prove that it is not. Under the proposed legislation, the courts could not make this assumption. The federal agency would have to prove its case.

Another provision would require agencies to review major rules every ten years to determine whether they should be revised or withdrawn.

Still other parts of the bill streamline the procedures for reviewing regulations and disputes concerning them, and allow more involvement from those to be affected before the rules are being put into effect.

Certainly this legislation is not the final answer to our regulatory problems, but it is indeed a major step toward making the process more fair and effective.

By updating our administrative procedures to meet the regulatory challenges of today, we can improve the effectiveness of federal regulations, while eliminating its unnecessary burdens.

Rule Bike-A-Thon Set For St. Jude's Hospital

Wheels are turning to help save children's lives...St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is proud to announce that Donna DeVries-Hestand and David Hestand have been named to lead the 1982 Spring BIKE-A-THON in Rule.

Clifford Damstrom, St. Jude Director of the Southwest Region, stated that "we are extremely proud to find such dedicated people for this very important job."

"St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research center in the United States, and it is the first research center dedicated exclusively to the research and conquest of catastrophic diseases of children, such as cancer and other life-threatening diseases," Damstrom stated. "When St. Jude accepted its first patient in 1962, the survival rate for children diagnosed with acute lymphocytic leukemia was less than 5 percent. Today, the disease free survival figure for children has grown to over 50 percent. Cancer treatment procedures that originated at St. Jude are now being used to treat children throughout the United States and in other parts of the world. Such progress has brought worldwide acclaim to St. Jude."

"Children come to St. Jude for one purpose: A CHANCE TO LIVE!" Damstrom stated. With the wheels turning in this Bike-A-Thon, you will be making it possible for these children to have a chance to live! You will make it possible for daily treatments to continue. You will enable basic research into the cause and cure for cancer to continue. MAKE YOUR WHEELS TURN IN THIS BIKE-ATHON!

Danny Thomas, who founded St. Jude Children's Research Hospital because of a vow, stated its purpose clearly: "To wipe catastrophic diseases of children from the face of the Earth."

pursuing this goal, and he inspires all of us in this cause."

The BIKE-A-THON in Rule is scheduled for April 24, 1982 with a rain-date of May 1, 1982. Details of the Bike Ride will be announced later.

"Since Thomas opened the research center in 1962, his dream of conquering cancer and other diseases that destroy our children has been brought closer to reality," stated Damstrom. "Thomas is still extremely active in

Talking To Baby Aids In Development

A baby is born with all the equipment needed to develop speech and language-ready to go.

Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, reports that from birth on, an infant vocalizes—makes noise with his voice. (In fact, there is even some evidence that suggests he may do this at times even before he is born.)

The first sounds the baby makes are cries. These are his response to body feelings such as hunger, pain, or other discomfort. At first, when the baby is content, he will sleep most of the time. Soon, though, he will begin to make sounds of contentment.

When parents attend to the different sounds of comfort or discomfort, they are helping establish a communication system which is crude at first but which is very important. The system works like this: one person makes sounds and another person does things in responses to those sounds.

The infant's inborn gifts also include a tendency toward listening and responding. Newborns are known to respond to sudden, loud noises by moving their entire bodies at once or by an increase in breathing or heart rate. Biologists think that the infant, like the very young animal, is born to respond to a wide range of sounds which aren't specific.

Very quickly, though, the infant's response becomes more specific to the sounds he hears from his parents. He learns to associate a soothing voice with pleasant situations, a smiling face and loving words. Parents who continually talk to their babies during bathing, feeding, dressing and playing are shaping the child's future communication skills.

If a child doesn't have words to listen to, his language development will be affected. It is obvious that a hearing defect will seriously interfere with a child's language and speech development. It is also important to realize that the absence of tender loving talk from a parent will be almost as serious a handicap. So talk to your baby!

For more information on the social and physical development of children, write to Growing Child, PO Box 620N, Lafayette, IN 47902. Be sure to include child's birthdate when writing. A year's subscription to the newsletter costs $11.95.

Spring Lawns Need Care And Attention

In the early spring home lawns need a boost to get them in shape for the growing season just around the corner.

A turfgrass specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, suggests three operations that can get a lawn off to a good start—scalping, fertilizing and applying a weed killer.

"Scalping a lawn in late winter serves to revitalize it and promote spring and summer plant growth," points out Dr. Richard Duple. "Begin the operation by lowering the blade of your lawnmower one-half inch below the normal setting. Then mow the lawn in two directions that are at right angles to each other and remove the clippings after each mowing."

Duple also recommends keeping the lawnmower blade lowered until mid-summer.

"After scalping the lawn, apply a complete fertilizer (one containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium) to promote leaf and root growth," advises the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Use about 1 1/2 pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This is equal to 10 pounds of a 15-5-10 fertilizer or about 12 pounds of a 12-4-8 fertilizer."

with fertilizers are available and convenient to use but should only be used according to instructions on the label.

"Proper mowing and watering is essential for a healthy lawn, and together with scalping, fertilizing and weed control will give new life to a dormant, weedy lawn," notes Duple.

Tri-County Rally Day Held In Haskell

Haskell County Extension Homemakers hosted the annual Tri-County Rally Day March 18 at the Haskell National Bank Community Room.

Seventy Extension Homemakers from Baylor, Haskell, Knox Counties participated in the day's events.

Mrs. M.E. Overton was chairman for the day assisted by Mrs. Carl Bailey, Vice-Chairman, and Mrs. Tom Yates as Secretary.

Mrs. Overton called the meeting to order. County Judge John Wayne McDermott welcomed everyone to Haskell. The response was given by Knox County followed with a Devotional by Baylor County. Next on the agenda was a "Show and Tell" time. Ladies who desired, brought some type of hand work to show and told the group how it was done. The highlight of the morning activities was a cake decorating lesson presented by Mrs. Martin Coleman from the Paint Creek Extension Homemakers Club. After Mrs. Coleman's demonstration a covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all.

The afternoon session started off with entertainment by each club present. Highlighting the afternoon meeting was instruction in making a

Turkey Harvest Sets Record

The harvest by hunters of white-tailed deer in Texas increased by approximately 15 percent in 1981-82 over the previous year, while the turkey harvest set an all-time record.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said hunters took an estimated 300,050 deer, comprised of 76 percent bucks and 24 percent antlerless deer during the 1981-82 season.

Harvest surveys showed a total turkey harvest estimated at 53,500, which was almost 40 percent higher than the previous record high of 38,300 set in 1979-80.

Favorable weather conditions in early 1981 helped deer reproduction and survival, and for the second year in succession the weather has helped wild turkeys have an outstanding hatch.

Officials said an estimated 533,000 hunters went afield after white-tailed deer during the season, an increase of five percent over the previous year. The estimated success rate increased from 44 percent in 1980-81 to 47 percent this season. Projected hunter days were up three percent.

The Edwards Plateau west of San Antonio with an estimated 149,285 animals harvested, and the Cross Timbers region in North Central Texas roughly between Fort Worth and Abilene, with an estimated 22,721 animals, had the largest percentage increases in harvest at 24 percent.

The Pineywoods region of East Texas had a 12 percent increase in harvest with an estimated total of 29,584. South Texas remained about the same at a projected 50,854. Only the Post Oak Savannah region of Southeast Texas reflected a harvest decline, at three percent.

The mule deer harvest in West Texas increased about nine percent over a year ago, at an estimated 5,200. However, the harvest level still was about 30 percent below at ever, the harvest level still was about 30 percent below that recorded during 1976 through 1979. Success rate for the 14,600 hunters was 45 percent.

The estimated 18,900 javelinas harvested during the season represented a 15 percent decline from a year ago.

Baseball Workshops

A former pro baseball player, Cedillo Silverio, who has been doing the Lord's work for the past year will teach baseball to youngsters in free seminars this week and will show youngsters the fundamentals of baseball including batting, throwing, and catching.

The seminars are set each afternoon from March 20, 1982 through the weekdays at Windburn Park in Stamford. Sessions begin at 4:00 p.m. and continue each day. There will be sessions on Saturday at 10:00 a.m., and 2:30 p.m. On Sunday he plans to have a session from 2:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. There is no admission fee but donations will be accepted. Make your checks payable to "Christian Youth Baseball Training Camp."

College of the Ozarks Choir to Perform Here

The College of the Ozarks College Chorale Spring Tour, March 26-April 4, includes an appearance at First Presbyterian Church, Haskell on March 29, 1982 at 7:00 p.m.

The 36-member Chorale, a part of the College's newly reorganized choral program, is composed of upperclassmen chosen through rigorous auditions. This group has already distinguished itself as an outstanding vocal ensemble, performing music from all periods and in various styles. Their fall tour included performances in Tulsa and Ponca City, Ok. Other choral groups at the College include Freshman Singers and Choral Union, a college-community choir.

The Chorale's program, under the direction of Dr. Michael Farrell, will include both secular and religious numbers. Dr. Farrell, who holds a doctor of musical arts from the University of Missouri at Kansas City, brings 20 years of experience in choral music: teaching, composing, and performing, to his work with the Chorale.

The College of the Ozarks is a four-year liberal arts Presbyterian College in Clarksville, Ark. Nestled in the foothills of the Ozarks Mountains, this small college, only 750 students, provides the opportunity for a low-cost quality education in an innovative and individualized educational environment.

NOTICE OF TAX RELIEF AVAILABLE TO CERTAIN HOMEOWNERS OVER 65

Homeowners who were 65 years of age or older on January 1, 1979, and failed to receive their school district homestead exemptions in 1979 have until April 1 of this year to do so. In this way, elderly homeowners will be able to take advantage of the school tax freeze associated with the $10,000 homestead exemption.

According to a law passed by the 67th Legislature, over-65 homeowners who were qualified for the school homestead "tax freeze" in 1979, but who did not apply for or receive their homestead exemption, may file an application with the chief appraiser of the county appraisal district in which the homestead is located.

Eligible over-65 homeowners in Haskell County must make application to the Haskell County Appraisal District, 604 N. 1st, Haskell, Texas before April 1, 1982.

To qualify for this tax relief, a homeowner must have satisfied these requirements on January 1, 1979:

- *Been 65 years of age or older
- *Owned his home
- *Used that home as his residence homestead

The chief appraiser of the Haskell County Appraisal District will consider all applications and notify each applicant before April 15, 1982. If the application is approved, the chief appraiser will make an entry on the appropriate school district's 1982 appraisal records.

This entry will indicate the amount of school tax the over-65 taxpayer should have paid in 1979, had he applied for and been granted the $5,000 general homestead exemption and the $10,000 over-65 homestead exemption. No refunds of taxes paid may be given for 1979, 1980 or 1981.

For 1982, the taxpayer's school taxes on his homestead may not exceed the amount of taxes the school district would have imposed on the homestead for 1979, had the taxpayer received his homestead exemptions. This frozen tax amount will remain the same as long as the homestead remains the same.

For applications contact the Haskell County Appraisal District, 604 N. 1st, Haskell, Texas or call 864-3805.

Ceiling Fan Installation Is Big Energy Saver

FROM LOU GILLY
County Extension Agent
 This year, many people will buy more ceiling fans for homes and businesses, and from all expectations, they'll make a big difference in energy savings for spring and summer.

Families will be setting thermostats from 76-80 and turning on the fans—to find they're still comfortable AND have air-conditioning savings of from 18-25 percent.

Houston Lighting and Power Company says the best reason for a fan is money.

They say a one-ton air conditioner costs about 10 cents per hour to operate. A fan costs less than a penny per hour to operate.

You don't have to be a whiz in math to figure the difference—10 hours of one or the other can add up to either a dollar or a dime.

Of course, fans don't actually lower room temperature, but the consultant breeze makes you feel cooler.

Check Installation Costs
 For greatest savings, check on installation cost. Cost of having a ceiling fan installed can sometimes run as much as the actual cost of the fan, so be sure to consider this before buying.

Install It Yourself?
 Some fans have only a few instructions on installation, but others are complete with pictures, so it's possible to install the fan yourself.

Be sure to pick up instructions when you buy the fans, and read them carefully.

Manufacturers will tell you if the fans can be installed on ceilings as low as eight feet. They usually say mount the fan to a standard three- or four-inch junction box securely anchored to support 45 pounds.

How To Hang Fan
 A ceiling fixture already in place is the easiest place to hang a ceiling fan. This gives you ready access to electricity and puts you near a ceiling joist, since the ceiling box (the metal box up in the ceiling that contains the electrical wiring) is attached to a joist.

Another way to hang the fan simply involves placing a new ceiling box to the underside of a joist and running power to it.

In most cities, however, residents should know that a permit is necessary (and these are issued only to licensed electricians) for all but very simple home wiring.

So have a professional do the electrical part and save yourself a possible injurious shock and/or a fine.

A third way to get power to the fan is to hang the fan as if it were a swag lamp, draping the power cord through a chain to the nearest wall, then down the wall to a plug. There are swag kits available for this purpose.

In deciding which way to go, remember that the first method mentioned really is the easiest way—using an existing ceiling fixture. With this method, the competent do-it-yourselfer can easily install a ceiling fan in an hour or two.

Knee Deep In Cascot

Planting certified cottonseed from Custom Ag Service is the first step in putting you "Knee Deep in Cotton". Cascot varieties are consistently high yielders on dry or irrigated land. Add to that high disease resistance, early maturity, storm resistant bolls, and premium micronaire and you've got just a few of the reasons you should be planting Cascot varieties like: Cascot B-2, BR-1, L-7 and new C-13.

If you're not planning on using Cascot, try 50 or 100 acres and compare its yield with the seed you're using now. We're betting that next season you'll be "Knee Deep in Cascot".

APRIL

TAX EXEMPTIONS.

If you pay property tax in the State of Texas, there is one important date to remember. April 30 is the last day to file applications for exemptions and to render your property. Several types of tax relief measures are available to Texas taxpayers, but they do not go into effect automatically. Applications must be made to your new county appraisal district, or to local tax offices in appraisal districts which have postponed implementation. Check with the appraisal district or local tax office to find out where to file renditions and applications for tax relief.

Remember, exemptions and special valuations are not effective automatically. Applications must be filed this year by April 30. While late applications for exemptions may be accepted in some instances, the burden and expense of proving a good reason for filing late rest on the taxpayer. You can avoid any inconvenience and fully protect your rights as a taxpayer by rendering your property and applying by the April 30 deadline.

School districts offer a residence homestead exemption to all homeowners and additional exemptions to persons who are 65 or over or disabled.

Counties offer homestead exemptions on their farm-to-market road or flood control tax rate, and may offer optional exemptions to the disabled and elderly.

Cities and other jurisdictions may offer optional exemptions for the disabled and elderly.

All jurisdictions offer an exemption for certain disabled veterans on one designated property. All may offer an additional exemption of a percentage of the value of your homestead. Productivity valuation is available in all jurisdictions to qualified farmers and ranchers.

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health
Robert Bernstein, M.D., Commissioner

Seeing that high blood pressure patients follow their doctor's instructions will be the number one priority of future Texas Department of Health (TDH) hypertension programs. That's the opinion of Dr.

Cliff Price, TDH Associate Commissioner for Personal Health Services.

"We estimate two and one quarter million Texans have elevated blood pressure," Dr. Price said. "For every new case we find through our programs, we find nine known hypertensives who are not complying with their treatment."

Dr. Price explained that high blood pressure is the blood pressing with too much force against the artery walls. He said if left untreated, high blood pressure increases the risk of heart attack, stroke, or kidney failure. High blood pressure cannot be cured, but it can be controlled by a treatment regimen prescribed by a physician.

"Doctors may tell patients to cut down on the use of salt, to stop smoking, to exercise more, or to lose weight," he said. "If your doctor prescribes medication, take it as directed, not just when you remember to or feel like it. If there are uncomfortable side effects, notify your doctor, and in most cases these side effects can be eliminated."

Dr. Price said that unlike many other health problems, high blood pressure often doesn't cause symptoms. Because patients feel good, they frequently stop taking their medicine or fail to follow their doctor's instructions.

High blood pressure is usually detected in a physician's office. For those persons using public health clinics, blood pressure measurements are provided by nurses. In 1981, 110,000 people were screened by TDH nurses for hypertension.

When it has been determined that a person has an elevated blood pressure, a referral is made to a local physician so that a diagnosis and proper treatment can be begun.

Upon the recommendations of the private physician, a public health nurse follows up on the patient to see if he or she is following the doctor's prescribed treatment.

Food Fad Falacies Create Improper Nutrition

BY LOU GILLY
County Extension Agent
Home Economics

Each year the month of March is designated as National Nutrition month. Most of the time during this month emphasis is placed on eating a balanced diet, on how to follow the Basic Four Food Guide, on including the correct nutrients in your daily eating plan, and on numerous other such topics concerned with a normal healthy diet. This year I would like to change the emphasis just a little and give you some vital information about food fads.

A food fad is a mis-conception that people accept as fact. Some food fads are dangerous, contributing to malnutrition, unnecessary surgery and even death.

Thirty-one deaths were the direct result of liquid protein diets, according to the Disease Control Center in Atlanta, Georgia.

Also, taking massive doses of vitamin A can cause symptoms like those of a brain tumor—and that might lead to unnecessary surgery.

Results of following other food fads are less serious, but even these encourage irrational nutrition practices that might be acting as "poor substitutes" for sound nutrition habits.

Food fads start with food fallacies and food quacks.

False or mistaken ideas about foods and nutrition are termed food fallacy.

For example, the idea that adults do not need milk is fallacy. Adults do need milk, milk products or other sources of calcium to keep strong bones.

In addition, a food quack is one who has little or no foundation in foods and nutrition but who pretends to have knowledge and skill in the field.

These quacks take facts out of context and draw the wrong conclusion. They fail to report the total facts.

For example, the quack might say that phytates in cereals, or oxalates in spinach or chocolate, tie up calcium; therefore, they say, they are bad and should be avoided.

In truth, it would take vast amounts of these substances at one time to make a significant difference in the amount of calcium absorbed.

There are two types of food quacks—those who report about nutrition accidentally and those who report misinformation about nutrition intentionally.

The accidental quacks are those such as scientists with a bias, scientists who misinterpret research of other, misinformed educators, health care personnel who are skilled only in their own field, and well-meaning friends, relatives and associates.

These people do not really mean to spread misinformation.

On the other hand, some people spread misinformation intentionally.

Some of these quacks are commercial publications that distort facts, self-instructed diet consultants working in specialty shops, advertizers and food promoters, and indiscriminate publishers and broadcasters.

To combat the sometimes fatal $600 million a year food-fad trap, nutritionists recommend that consumers try to keep abreast of as much information about food as they can. Just knowing about the many different viewpoints on food issues is a giant step toward sound nutrition.

There are several nutrition information resources.

"List of Nutrition References and Book Reviews" compiled by the Chicago Nutrition Association may be purchased from the American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60610.

A full day of in-service training was provided on Friday, March 19. Programs included a workshop entitled "Computers in the Classroom" and a session led by Dallas school psychologist Robert White, PhD. on handling criticism from varied sources such as parents and fellow educators. Other programs offered include a session dealing with assertive discipline directed by ATPE vice president Elden Barrett, an elementary school principal. Leadership training for regional officers was offered and W.L. (Blue) Holt and Wayne Phemister attended this training.

Lt. Governor Bill Hobby delivered the keynote address and was introduced by Raymon Bynum, state commissioner of education.

Other highlights of the two-day meeting included the election of new state officers. New officers are Sally Wiedemann (Vernon), president; Sam Reed (Mercedes), vice president; Suzanne Phelps (Waco), secretary; and Jayne Henderson (Richardson), treasurer. These officers will take office in June.

ATPE is the second largest and fastest growing education association in the state of Texas, representing nearly 35,000 educators. It is currently led by President Charles Pickitt, vice principal of North Richardson Junior High School.

Dear Sir:

I would appreciate your assistance in my endeavor to gain admission to the Guinness Book of World Records.

I collect baseball-style caps decorated with the logos of professional baseball and football teams, local feed stores, oil companies, colleges and universities, etc. Having already reached the 2,500 mark, I am eager to add to my collection and therefore interest the Guinness people. I have been featured in the Irving Daily News on four occasions. In April of last year, television KXAS-TV, Channel 5, Dallas-Fort Worth, ran a ten minute feature on my collection.

As an official of your county's government, would you assist me in my attempt to obtain a cap from every county in the state of Texas?

Texas Baptists To Hold Joint Revivals

Sunday, March 28th marks the beginning of what Texas Baptists call simultaneous revivals. They have set a goal of reaching 75,000 people for Jesus. Hundreds of Texas Baptist Churches will be involved.

East Side Baptist Church will be taking part in this effort starting Sunday, March 28th and continuing through April 2nd. There will be seven evangelistic services during the week as well as Noon teaching services.

The guest evangelist will be Jim Way, pastor of First Baptist Church in Munday. Jim is a native of Snyder. He received degrees from Hardin Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Before coming to Munday, he pastored Calvary Baptist Church in Stamford.

Leading worship in music will be Keith Davis, also of Munday. He presently ministers of music and youth at First Baptist Church in Munday. Keith is a native of southern Louisiana. He was educated at the University of Southern Mississippi and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Revival services will begin Sunday at 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. The week night services will begin at 7:30 p.m. "We want to invite everyone to attend our services. We've made plans for something special each night. We trust God to accomplish His will in us this week and we want to tell the world of Jesus' love."

New Form of LSD Appeals To Children

The following article is a public service by the Haskell Free Press through the cooperation of Charles Chapman County Attorney and The Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of this County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

 According to police authorities, a form of tattoo transfer called "Blue Star" is readily available in some areas of the United States. This is a small sheet of white paper containing blue stars; the size of a pencil eraser. Each "star" is impregnated with L.S.D. and can be removed from the paper to be placed in the mouth. Absorption can also occur through the skin by simply handling the paper or tattoo.

There are also brightly colored paper tabs resembling postage stamps in size which have pictures of Superman, Mickey Mouse, (dressed as a sorcerer's apprentice), Dopey, and possibly other Disney characters. These stamps are packed in a red cardboard box with a picture of Mickey Mouse. They are wrapped in foil in a clear, lock-type bag. They have most often been found in five, one-inch square sheets of stamps.

These are new ways of selling ACID - A young child could happen to come upon these and have a fatal "trip". It is also feared that little children could be given a free "tattoo" by older children who want to have some fun. It is important that all parents be alerted in case their child is involved, even innocently.

Jehovah's Witnesses Set Special Lecture

The local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will join the over 7,590 other congregations in the United States who will hear the same special Bible lecture this Sunday, March 28th, entitled: "The Only Cure For Sick Mankind".

"In view of the worsening condition of mankind worldwide being affected by physical, mental, moral and social ills, there is a great need to find out the Bible's answer to the only cure for sick mankind", Mr. R. Hoisington commented, the local presiding minister of Haskell congregation.

He further reported that just once each year a timely Bible lecture is given on the same day in all the congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses.

"We strongly encourage any honest hearted person that really loves the truth of the Bible to come and attend this Sunday at our Kingdom Hall at N. 16th and N. Ave. J. Seats are free and no collections are taken. The special talk will begin at 10:00 a.m. Please call 864-3705 if you need transportation", concluded Mr. Hoisington.

Pond Turnover Affects Fishing

Sooner or later, every farm pond experiences a natural phenomenon called "pond turnover". This occurrence is simply the mixing of layers of water in the pond that have attained different temperatures, says Dr. Ken Johnson, fish disease specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Water in all ponds stratifies during the summer with the cooler water toward the bottom and warmer water near the top. The heavier bottom water normally does not mix with the upper layer. In fertilized ponds or where fish are being fed in the pond, a waste deposit also builds up in the bottom layer is depleted. Johnson says that a cool rain or strong wind in the summer will often lower the temperature of the upper layer to such a degree that all the water in the pond mixes and thus a "turnover" takes place.

If the turnover is severe, fish may die from lack of oxygen level returns to near normal, a period of good fishing can be expected as the fish begin to feed again.

Johnson says that in fertilized ponds and ponds where fish are being fed, free floating microscopic algae produce oxygen from photosynthesis during the daylight and utilize the oxygen at night. The highest level of oxygen in the pond is during late afternoon and the lowest level is at day break. Therefore, in ponds where oxygen levels are low enough in the morning to depress appetite, fish are likely to bite better in the afternoon during the highest oxygen level. Oxygen-temperature meters can be used effectively to determine the best fishing periods and the best depth to fish.
