

Only a complete understanding of the United States Government and a few of the individuals of importance could have resulted in the following column by James Roberts, Publisher of the Andrews County News.

The British fleet sailed Monday for South America to take back their Falkland Islands from Argentina.

With two aircraft carriers leading an armada of 40 ships—two-thirds of the total British seemed determined to retake the islands 8,000 miles away and inhabited by 1800 British shepherders.

We cannot help but wonder what this country would do faced with a similar humiliating experience. After the way we have officially conducted wars in Korea and South Vietnam, actions in Iran and Cuba, we're rather pessimistic about a similar situation hitting this country.

Should a foreign country invade, seize and take over one of our island possessions, we can imagine the following scenario...

The state department would issue loud denunciations and go before the Security Council of the United Nations with a carefully prepared resolution calling for a demilitarized zone.

Speaker of the House Tip O'Neill would take to the floor to denounce the invasion as a conspiracy of the Republicans to take the spotlight away from the sagging economy and focus it elsewhere.

Senator Ted Kennedy would grab the microphone in the Senate to denounce the invasion as a means of building support for an increase in the defense budget at the expense of food stamps and medicare.

Senator Bob Dole would go on a late night talk show to explain that the invasion of U.S. islands was really a democratic maneuver to embarrass President Reagan's proposed military build-up.

President Reagan would go before Congress to seek permission under the "Declaration of War" clause passed during the Vietnam war, to launch the "Rapid Deployment Force" from Fort Benning, Georgia but in the debate that followed, critics would point out that it would take four weeks for the RDF unit to ready itself for deployment.

Anit-nuclear demonstrators across the nation would repaint their signs and placards to read "Peace at any Cost" and march on the White House.

Anti-water pollution forces would launch a study to show that any violent action to retake the islands would kill off the wildlife, extinguish the whales, and pollute the water into the 21st century.

Rep. Dingell of Michigan would introduce a bill in the House to require an Environmental Impact Study be made of the islands and offshore waters before any overt action be carried by the armed forces of the nation.

Federal Judge Wayne Justice of Tyler would rule that every sailor on U.S. warships would require a full-size bed in a private bedroom complete with private head, shower, and reading lamp before the ship could leave the U.S.

And lastly, even if President Reagan could succeed in launching armed forces to take back the islands, when our forces arrived on the island, they probably would be greeted by Jane Fonda handing our pamphlets denouncing the Marines as traitors and in the background, "Lou Grant," as representative of the Screen Actors Guild, would be passing out medical supplies to the invaders.

Say it isn't so, Sam!

Sing Song Set April 15

A variety of talent is scheduled April 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium as the Progressive Study Club sponsors a Children's Sing Song.

The show is free to the public and promises to be an evening of fun and entertainment, according to Nancy Toliver, program coordinator.

Approximately 200 youth will be included in the presentation which will feature groups and individuals. The entertainment will include singing, skits, instrumental music, twirling and other events.

All participants in the program are sponsored by local groups.

More information on the program may be obtained by calling Nancy Toliver at 864-2037.

Aggie Muster Set April 21

The 1982 Aggie Muster will be held April 21, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the John Kimbrough cabin at Lake Stamford.

The cabin is located at Veda's Camp, due east of the Paint Creek School.

The Muster will begin with a bar-be-que supper and will be followed by the Muster and roll call. In addition, Ted Elliott will present a short program.

All former students and friends of Texas A&M are invited to attend. Reservations must be submitted to Wallar Overton prior to April 17.

Council Members Installed

Franciene Johnson received the Oath of Office as the first woman mayor in the history of the city of Haskell Tuesday night during the regular meeting to the Haskell City Council.

Retiring Mayor Royce Williams expressed his thanks to Mrs. Johnson for her dedicated service as a council member for the past four years and for her willingness to accept the increase in responsibility.

Williams also administered the Oaths of Office to Councilmen Archie Jones who was elected to a one year term and Larry Gilliam and Bill Lane, Jr. who were elected to two year terms.

Both Williams and retiring Councilman Joe Cortez expressed their thanks to council members for their assistance in the past.

Mayor Johnson read a resolution expressing the thanks of the council to Williams and also presented him with a plaque for his service to the city.

She assigned the following department to council members: G.L. Kennedy, streets; Hugh Horton, Sanitation and Equipment and Maintenance; Bill Lane, fire and ambulance; Archie Jones, airport and ambulance; and Larry Gilliam, water and sewer.

Council members approved a contract with Haskell County agreeing to pay $15.00 per day for city prisoners housed in the County Jail. City Attorney John Fouts told council members that only offenders imprisoned for which the city would receive fine money would be charged to the city. He added that jail time for offenses which would result in fine money being received by the county would not be charged to the city.

A crowd of about 20 persons who had attended an open house for the new Council Meeting Room stayed for the meeting.

OLD AND NEW

The torch of City Government was passed Tuesday night during the regular meeting of the Haskell City Council. Newly installed members of the council include: L to R, Bill Lane Jr., Larry Gilliam, and Archie Jones. Franciene Johnson received the Oath of Office as Mayor from retiring Mayor Royce Williams. Joe Cortez retired from the council.

Experienced Citizens Center Is Commissioners Topic

A group of about 30 persons representing the Haskell County Experienced Citizens Center met with members of the Haskell County Commissioners Court Monday.

The group told commissioners that the purpose of their meeting was to explain to members of the court some of the programs of the Center. In addition, several members of the group told commissioners how the Center had influenced their lives and why the program was vital to the community.

Marsha Whittemore, director, told the court that a total of 550 persons were on the roll as participants at the Center and that last month, a total of 1605 meals had been served. She added that donations for the month totaled $1,923.01 excluding memorial donations.

Members of the court were unanimous in their support for the program.

In other action members of the court agree to provide $200.00 to assist in financing the 89th Annual Haskell County Singing Convention. The event will be held in the community building of the Haskell National Bank April 24 and 25 and will include a county wide school reunion.

Commissioners also agreed to ask all county baseball programs to submit individual requests for assistance prior to the April 27 court meeting.

Court members approved a jail contract with the city of Haskell increasing fees from $10 to $15 per day, the fee paid by the city for prisoners.

Commissioner C.E. Tidwell introduced a motion to return a $100.00 per month fee to the County Judge and the motion died without a second.

Commissioners approved the monthly and quarterly reports and acknowledged receipt of $14,790.00 in revenue sharing funds.

RECEIVES PLAQUE

Immediately following receiving the Oath of Office as Haskell Mayor, Franciene Johnson presented retiring Mayor Royce Williams with a plaque recognizing his service as Mayor. The presentation came Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Haskell City Council. New members of the council Bill Lane Jr. and Larry Gilliam. Williams and Councilman Joe Cortez did not seek re-election.

Proclamation

"Get To Know A Lifelong Friend—Your Library."

With this as their theme, Texas libraries are joining with libraries all over the United States to observe Library Week from April 18 through 24.

Libraries are indeed lifelong friends. From the child just learning to turn the pages of picture books to the senior citizen trying to understand a world that has undergone dramatic change since his or her youth, libraries provide both information and recreation.

Public libraries as well as the libraries in schools and colleges and universities provide both the information that Texans need and the information that makes their lives fuller. Books and magazines and films can take us to an era of history long ago, to a spot on the globe we may never visit, or through the imagination of a writer to some future time. In our libraries we can find out how to repair our cars, prepare more nutritious meals, or communicate more effectively with our friends and families.

The future of our Nation depends upon a well-informed public. Libraries make it possible for all Texans to become well informed. Also, a wide range of library materials and services are available through interlibrary loan and from services available through the Texas State Library System.

THEREFORE, I, as Mayor of the City of Haskell do hereby designate the week of April 18-24, 1982, as LIBRARY WEEK in Haskell and urge all Residents to visit their libraries and take advantage of the services available to them.

Franciene Johnson

Mayor, City of Haskell

Brush and Palette

Trends in art are a most fascinating study within themselves. Good artists around San Antonio in my early art career were Robert and Julian Onderdonk and Jose Arpa, who painted mission scenes. They started the trend toward bluebonnets and oak trees. Onderdonk bluebonnets excelled in the opinion of most people. Then came Robert Wood and Porfirio Salinas. The bluebonnet-oak tree syndrome lingers, but there has evolved a strong nostalgic western tendency the last few years. When as an opposite trend we have seen non-objectives, abstracts, collages and mod art of various kinds, which seem to have come from art schools and colleges.

I am sure the nostalgic scenes will continue because more people relate well to these. Whatever your relation is to the arts, study and pursue every facet of development.

Q. A correspondent writes "What colors do you use for sunsets and moonlight scenes?"

A. These are what we refer to as mood paintings. Think of them in that way. Moonlight is soft, mysterious, subtle, cool and indistinct. What are mood colors? Blues with a glow of yellows and pinks. Use some Cobalt, grayed with Cad Red Light and darkened with Payne's Gray for the shadows. The moon is the palest yellow with highlights going into the palest pinkish yellow.

A flaming sunset gives us a colorful, closing thought for the day. Keep the sky as simple as possible, even though you will use bold warm colors. Start at the top of the sky with cool colors and get brighter and warmer as you get to the horizon. The brightest hue is usually Cad Red Light with tones of Yellow and Orange into it.

Q. Help! What do I do about clouds in this Western area?

A. I agree with you. The kind that we know as stratosphere clouds or "mackerel scales" are very hard to paint and are not really worth the effort. The mares' tail clouds are a different story. They are good to use in a busy landscape. They can be almost any pale color and are placed diagonally across a wet sky by rolling the brush filled with paint. Then pull across the statement to soften it - and you have a mare's tail. A gray shadow adds to the appearance. Study clouds - dry weather cumulus and bid thunderheads are painted the same way except the cumulus are simply a smaller version. They are white puffy clouds that dot the sky in the summertime. Try a pale yellow highlighted with white and shadowed with the complementary gray. Don't make them look like cotton balls in the sky! Soften the ragged edges with a fan brush, diagonally one way, then the other.

HINT: Paint some of nature every day!

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Rev. Mike McKinney Speaks At Breakfast

Adult IV Department of the First Baptist Church met at the Haskell Steak House April 9th, for their annual Easter Breakfast. Callie Robison, Director of the Department welcomed the members and guests. Billie Cadenhead led the group in singing, "The Old Rugged Cross, accompanied by Mrs. Leola McCollum. Invocation was given by Billie Cadenhead.

The group then enjoyed a delicious breakfast. The tables were decorated with vases of red carnations, tulips, bluebonnets and other spring flowers. The place cards made by Ozelle Frieron, carried out the Easter motif.

Bro. Mike McKinney brought a very inspiring devotion. His scription was taken from Matthew Chapter 13. He brought out that since all churches would have a large attendance on Easter Sunday that each pastor would be speaking to different audiences. He compared these audiences to the different soils that were given in the "Parable of the Sower." He emphasized four points about the soil as compared to people. First; The seed fell on hard soil and did not bring forth fruit and they were wasted by the wayside. Second: The seed fell on soil and they came up immediately, but without roots, because they were planted among rocks, which kept them from taking roots; therefore, they didn't grow and bear fruit. Third: They fell on ground that the weeds of worry, pleasure, money and putting other things first choked them out and they could not grow and bring forth fruit. Fourth: The soil brought forth with open minds and heard what God had to say to them and responded. Also, they had patience and in time brought forth fruit.

Mrs. Robison then presented Bro. McKinney with a gift. Maye Bell Taylor gave the benediction.

Members present were: Mrs. Mattie Muriel Felker, Lois Sherman, Faye Woodson, Helen Oates, Nettie McCollum, Earmal Bevel, Billie Cadenhead, Callie Robison, Ehtel Lou Shelton, Lorene Adams, Leona Pearsey, Alene Wheatley, Hassie Courch, Opal Nanny, Ozelle Frieron, Juanita Rhea, Clara Biard, Pearl Walker, Veta Furrh, Claudia Mae Bland, Reba Wheatley, Mae Bledsoe, Sadie Payne, Elsie Roberts, Leola McCollum, Ardith Reynolds, Kathryn Schwartz, Faye Gray, Elizabeth Colfield, Maye Bell Taylor, and three guest, Mrs. John L. McCollum, Miss Madalin Hunt and our pastor, Bro. Mike McKinney.

MR. AND MRS. ROYCE ADKINS have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jill Ann Adkins, to James Gordon Hansard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Martin of Plainview and the late Captain James B. Hansard. Miss Adkins is a graduate of Haskell High School and will graduate in May with a B.S. degree from the University of Texas in Austin and will attend law school in Houston this fall. Mr. Hansard is a graduate of Plainview High School and will graduate in May with a B.S. degree in biology from the University of Texas in Austin and will attend the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston this fall. The couple plans a July 31 wedding at the First Baptist Church in Haskell.

Texas Governor Sets State Library Week

"The future of our state depends upon a well-informed public," says Governor William P. Clements, Jr., in a proclamation declaring April 18 through April 24, 1982, to be Library Week in Texas. "Public libraries as well as the libraries in schools and colleges and universities provide both the information that Texans need and the information that makes their lives fuller," Governor Clements says.

Indeed, libraries of all kinds have undergone major changes during recent years. Not only do they maintain and make available the books and other printed materials that libraries have always provided, but libraries today also provide films and other audiovisual materials. They offer special services for those with impaired hearing and with poor vision. Buildings are accessible to Texans in wheelchairs.

"Get To Know A Lifelong Friend—Your Library" is the theme of this year's observance of Library Week in Texas. The observance is sponsored by the Texas Library Association, and libraries throughout the state will be inviting Texans to take part in special activities during the week. One of the largest will be in Dallas, where a new Central Library will be dedicated on April 18.

Throughout the state, Texans are discovering that their libraries are indeed friends. Whether they want to repair their car or discover more about a distant planet or a distant spot on this planet, their libraries have the books and magazines and films that can answer their questions.

Understanding Assist Children Staying With Babysitters

Do your children often resist staying with a babysitter? Parents can help by understanding why and taking definite steps to make resistance "not so necessary" in the child's mind, says Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

Taylor is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Many children resist babysitting because they resent the child-like treatment they're pretty sure they'll get -- today's more sophisticated children want to participate in adult affairs, Taylor says.

Of course, some children -- as thought for many years -- are afraid their parents won't return home, but that's not usually the case any more, she says.

In helping children deal with these feelings, parents can take two definite steps: show children understanding and remind them that "rules of the house" still hold, Taylor says.

Give the child some responsibilities that focus on being a good host, which, in a way, he really is to his babysitter -- let him prepare a snack for everyone, help a brother or sister get ready for bed, or read a story to the others and the babysitter, the specialist suggests.

Also, issue a written list of household rules -- the do's and don'ts, so both sitter and children will know them, she adds.

Stay in touch with your babysitting arrangements as the years go by, too, Taylor advises. Some sitters respond differently to babies than to inquisitive five-year-olds, so you may want to change babysitters as children grow older.

Also, remember that different situations require different handling, she says.

For example, overnight care sometimes calls for a different babysitter. Some babysitters are more afraid of this kind of arrangement than the children they're caring for, so find a babysitter who feels comfortable with the job.

Learn to recognize babysitting problems or concerns.

Children who are newly resistant to babysitting are signaling you about concerns or problems, Taylor notes.

When children -- some as young as five or six -- resist being left with a sitter, the problem is probably their desire to "be grown up."

One "sure-fire" way to meet this desire is the ability to control one's sitter.

Here are some behaviors that signal the problem of children trying to control a sitter:

--they may want to play parent or employee, telling the sitter what to do and what not to do,

--they may want to do things expressly forbidden by their parents,

--they may want to be pals or peers with the sitter, especially if the sitter is a pre-teen.

To achieve these "wants" a child might try acting extremely helpful, cooperative and affectionate, the specialist says. Parents must then decide what behavior they will or will not allow.

Finally, remember that care for children is a responsibility that requires special attention from parents and sitters alike, Taylor says.

Christian Missionary

The Christian Missionary Society met Saturday evening, April 10, with Kathy Garison as hostess in her home.

Eula Faye Crawford gave a beautiful devotion "Joy of Meditation" from Psalm one and read two poems, "Glory of Easter" and "The Crucifixion" and closed with prayer.

Guest for the evening were Kathy's mother, sister, and her aunt, Ila Jean Hoover, who was guest speaker for the meeting. She told of the Christian work she and her husband do in Haiti and Jamaica during their summer vacations. She also showed slides. This presentation was greatly appreciated.

Refreshments were served.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Lee Bingham of Aspermont announce the birth of a son, Bobby Cleave Bingham born April 5, 1982 at Haskell Memorial Hospital weighing 8 lbs. 3 ozs.

Rochester Sophomore To Attend 4-H Short Course

Debbie Quade, a sophomore 4-H member of Rochester High School, has recently been notified that she has been selected as one of the delegates to the 1982 National 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour. This tour will take place in July and will last two weeks. This group of 71 high school 4-H'ers and 9 sponsors will travel 3500 miles during the 14 days. The 71 students represent all parts of Texas. They will visit many points of interest between Dallas and Washington, D.C. where they will spend six days visiting their Congressmen and taking part in a citizenship short course at the national 4-H office.

Debbie has been outstanding in her 4-H work the past few years and was Haskell County's 4-H Gold Star Girl last year. Debbie is responsible for all expenses of this trip and asks that anyone who has odd jobs to contact her. Donations are being accepted at the Haskell Co. Extension Office.

Red Cross Assisting Paris Tornado Victims

Emergency assistance continues to be available to victims of the devastating tornado that struck Paris through an American Red Cross Service Center located in the town Boy's Club.

Reba Cochran, serving as Assistant Director of Red Cross Family Services during the relief efforts reports that 520 requests for Red Cross assistance have been logged through the Family Service unit. According to Ms. Cochran, approximately 60 volunteers from the community are working each day in the center.

"Volunteers have been trained by our organization to work with victims in providing food, clothing, medical items, and in some cases rental assistance," said Ms. Cochran.

The Department of Human Resources has made 34 of their employees available to the Red Cross as well. According to Bob Brown, Lamar County Director for 16 counties will work with the Red Cross as long as needed. Upon their arrival, Human Resources personnel received training in Red Cross Family Service policy and procedure.

Twelve full-time Red Cross workers from local chapter and national staff complete the team assisting in the aftermath of the disaster.

At one point, two assistance centers were operating for Family Service casework. However, with the closing of the Gibson Center in downtown Paris, only the Boy's Club will remain open for Red Cross family assistance.

Family Service workers are also making referrals for additional assistance that can be made available through the Federal government. Ms. Cochran reported that an emergency assistance network has been established among all the volunteer relief agencies so that needs can be met in the most effective manner possible.

Ms. Cochran believes the referral system has been working very well. "We've established a team approach that will greatly help in meeting the needs of all victims," concluded Ms. Cochran.

Victims requiring emergency relief including food, clothing, medical items, or rental assistance are being directed to the Boy's Club. Red Cross Family Service workers will be available there from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. as long as necessary.

GSA 1310A
Hybrid Grain Sorghum
Need a hybrid sorghum with top resistance to disease? GSA 1310A is a medium maturing hybrid with excellent standability that's Spider Mite tolerant and resistant to Biotype C Greenbug, MDMV, Anthracnose, and Smut.

GSA 75***
Certified Cotton Seed
High fiber strength (grams per/tex), premium micronaire, and good staple length make GSA 75 a leading favorite with farmers. GSA 75 is an early maturing variety that's drought and storm resistant.

GSA 78***
Certified Cotton Seed
Do you want top grade and top price? Then the choice is GSA 78. Due to its high fiber quality, it brings a premium price of $35 to $50 more per bale, and its high fiber strength (grams per/tex) will demand even more. GSA 78 has excellent drought tolerance and is resistant to verticillium wilt and root knot nematode complex.

Lawn Service Hints

Homeowners subscribe to a professional lawn service to develop an attractive lawn and to reduce the time spent on lawn care. But most don't know what to expect from such a service, says a turfgrass specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Many homeowners feel they do not have the time or expertise to apply fertilizers and pesticides when needed, so they call on a professional lawn service," points out Dr. Richard Duble.

"The specialist feels that the homeowner is often in a vulnerable position with respect to professional lawn care. "A homeowner is likely to subscribe to the first company offering their service and to change the first time another company claims their service is superior."

What are reasonable expectations of a lawn service company?

The company should describe its service in detail, provide advance notice of applications, respond within a reasonable time to problem calls, and provide trained and qualified applicators," says

Duble. "Of course, a customer should also expect the lawn service operator to fulfill his promises. Too many operators promise weed control, grub control and other benefits which they really do not provide."

Services provided by professional lawn care companies may include fertilization, weed, insect and disease control, and problem diagnosis.

Fertilization should include timely and uniform applications of nitrogen at an annual rate of four to six pounds per 1,000 square feet, says Duble. At least half the nitrogen should be from a slow-release source such as ureaformaldehyde, IBDU or sulfur-coated urea. Slow-release nitrogen extends the color response and reduces the burst of growth that follows application of soluble nitrogen.

Phosphorus and potassium should be included in spring and fall fertilizer applications in about a 3-1-2 or 4-1-2 ratio of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, respectively.

A source of iron is also needed in all fertilizer applications to St. Augustine lawns to enhance color and prevent serious iron deficiencies that weaken the lawn, noted the specialist.

"There is no advantage of liquid over dry fertilizer, or vice versa," says Duble. "Both slow-release and soluble fertilizers can be applied in dry or liquid formulations and can be applied uniformly with proper equipment. A light irrigation should follow fertilizer applications whether they are applied in a liquid or dry formulation."

"Professional lawn service does not free the homeowner of the responsibility to water and mow the lawn," cautions Duble. "Too often a lawn service customer fails to realize that fertilizer and chemical applications do not guarantee a beautiful lawn. Adequate watering and proper mowing are essential to maintaining an attractive lawn. If anything, additional fertilizer applied by professional lawn services increases the need for watering and mowing."

Appliance Demonstration Scheduled

Have you purchased or received a small electrical appliance that you never use simply because you do not know how? Or, maybe you are interested in purchasing a small electrical appliance and want to know more about it.

If so, mark your calendar for April 26 and make plans to attend a small appliance demonstration. This demonstration which will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Haskell County Extension office kitchen is sponsored by the Haskell County Family Living Committee. There is no charge for this demonstration which is open to all regardless of age, socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Lou Gilly, County Extension Agent-Home Economics, will be in charge of making arrangements for the demonstration. The appliances that will be worked with are: blender, electric skillet, electric knife, fondue pot, slow cooker, food processor, and work pot. For more information contact Lou Gilly at 864-2546. The County Extension office is the steel building across the street due East of the Haskell Free Press.

Improve Family Safety With Planning

What have you done lately to make life safer for you and your family?

That question is being asked more often now that government safety programs are on the decline as a result of Federal economic cutbacks.

The Combined Insurance Company of America, which has been active in the safety education field for a number of years, urges the private sector, mainly individuals, to step up their efforts to reduce accidents in the home.

Combined's safety researchers point out that a number of private groups will remain active home safety campaigns, among them the National Safety Council, insurance organizations, fire-prevention groups, and colleges and universities.

"So it's really up to the individual in many respects," a spokesman for Combined Insurance said. "Safety is often a matter of courtesy and consideration, with a lot of common sense thrown in."

Since safety should begin in the home, here are some guidelines for a family code for self-preservation, as compiled by Combined Insurance safety researchers:

- *Have you installed smoke alarms in appropriate areas of your home?
- *Are attic, cellar and garage orderly and free of rags, papers, paint cans and other flammables?
- *Are electric appliances and connections in good condition and, where possible, out of the reach of tiny hands?
- *Are poisonous substances properly labeled and stored where they are inaccessible to children?
- *Are walkways and other areas around the home free of objects that could cause falls?
- *If you are a smoker are you careful to extinguish your cigarette or cigar, the largest single cause of home fires? Do you faithfully observe the rule: Never, never smoke in bed?

When working around the home do you use the right tool for the right job and properly maintain and store tools? Also, is kitchen cutlery kept sharp and properly stored?

DO YOU HAVE A FAMILY ESCAPE PLAN IN CASE OF FIRE?

- *Are stairs well lighted and free of clutter and do they have hand rails?
- *Do you keep emergency numbers handy, preferably attached to each phone in the home?
- Some other important considerations:
- *How long has it been since you cleaned out your medicine chests? If it has been more than a year, throw out all old prescriptions today.
- *Do you keep gasoline and other flammables stored in proper containers that are clearly marked? Never keep dangerous or harmful liquids in beverage containers.

Are you careful not to overload electrical outlets with too many double and triple sockets?

- *Do you make sure your fireplace embers are out or protected by a glass fireplace screen before you retire? Do you have the chimney checked regularly for dangerous build-ups of creosote?

When you have acted on all those questions, make a room-by-room check of your home and determine how many more you can add to the list. Then, A Combined Insurance spokesman suggested, call a family council of war—a war against hazards that could lead to injury or worse—and assign each member to a safety-monitoring task. Hold regular meetings, perhaps once a week, to review the situation and find improvements.

"You'll be a lot healthier and happier," the safety spokesman said. "If you really put safety first—and, first of all, at home."

P.S.—The first thing to do when you leave home by car is: Buckle up for safety!

Plan Now For Flower Show

"Now is the time to be thinking about your dried material that you will be using in the Flower Show at the Haskell County Fair next September," stated Mrs. Juanita Rhea to the Haskell Garden Club members at their meeting April 8 in the Community Room. She continued, "as you drive through the country side and see some pretty grasses or flowers, pick and bring them home and lay them out to dry. You will be surprised how beautiful they will be in arrangements."

Mrs. Rhea, Mrs. Lorene Dewey and Mrs. J.C. Dunnam reported on the District VIII Spring meeting in Abilene at the Abilene Garden Club Center March 25 and the delicious luncheon served in the Briarstone Manor. They reported this was the best District VIII meeting they had ever attended. There were 188 in attendance, all the way south as far as Del Rio and as far North as Haskell.

The District VIII Fall meeting will be in Ozona, November 11, 1982. Everyone was urged to send in their reservations to the motels early, since that is the beginning of deer season.

There were some very good President's reports at the District Meeting, and when Mrs. Rhea said we had about twelve good working members, half of her time was applauded away since each president had only 2 minutes to give the high lights of the year's work.

Of the 153 awards given out in the District of 35 clubs, Haskell received two which were, on the President's Report and the President's Book.

"Designs with a Flair" was the main attraction of the meeting when Mrs. James Gibson of Connor gave her interpretation of her beautiful flowers arrangements. Each one depicted the countries of Latin America where she had lived for 35 years. She said to keep your designs simple and not to complicate them. Do not put to much material with wood and dried willow is good to use, also use wheat as a unit with several straws tied together.

Mrs. John L. McCollum of Hideaway Lake was a visitor, sister-in-law of Neetie McCollum.

Mrs. Rhea and Mrs. John Robinson were hostesses.

May 13 meeting will be installation of officers. Each member is ask to bring plants for exchange, and to suggest programs for next year.

Cascot Certified Cottonseed Can Mean 25% Bigger Yields!

Custom Ag Service, now a leader in the market, has selected, tested, and developed four cottonseed varieties which are early maturing, disease resistant, and give consistently higher yields, as much as 25% over your current yields.

CASCOT C-13:

Being released for the first time this season, C-13 has shown great yield potential. Growers have had consistently high yields in excess of two bales per acre from C-13. But, book early for this variety because supply is extremely limited.

CASCOT BR-1:

Fast fruiting, excellent yield potential, outstanding lint quality, extra early maturity (120-130 days), and premium micronaire are characteristic of this variety. Plus BR-1 is a proven producer on dry or irrigated land.

CASCOT B-2:

Probably the fastest maturing cotton on the market, this stripper variety has good cold tolerance which allows for earlier planting.

CASCOT L-7:

A great producer on dry land, even better when irrigated, L-7 is cold tolerant, early maturing, and possesses as much wilt resistance as any commercial seed.

Coleman Issues Statement

To the voters of Precinct No. 4, Haskell County, Texas.

I would like to take this opportunity to ask you for your vote and support for the office of Commissioner Precinct 4. I believe that I am qualified to serve as your commissioner and that I can serve your needs and the needs of all the citizens of Haskell County.

I have been engaged in farming for 20 years and I am familiar with all types of equipment. Also, during the past 12 years I have served on various community service boards. I have served for the past 12 years on the Paint Creek School Board and I am currently serving my third term on the Paint Creek School Board and I am currently serving my third term on the Paing Creek Rural Water System Board. I also serve as a member of the Board of Directors of the Haskell Co-Op Gin.

I am the son of Lois Coleman and the late Ira Coleman. I was born and raised in Precinct No. 4. I am a graduate of Paint Creek High School. I married the former Jane Earles in 1962 and we have two daughters, Julie, a junior in high school, and Rhonda, a sixth grader. Both myself and my family are members of the Haskell Church of Christ.

If elected, I pledge to serve you well.

Your vote and information will be appreciated.

Retired Military Changes

According to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, some military retired personnel who previously turned down the opportunity to participate in the Survivor Benefit Program may now have a one-year period in which to obtain coverage. The one-year enrollment period will end Sept. 30, 1982.

Public Law 97-35, signed by President Reagan on August 13, 1981, authorized an open enrollment period from Oct. 1, 1981, through Sept. 30, 1982. Under the Survivor Benefit Program (SBP), a retired military person is able to arrange for a certain percentage of his military retired pay to go to his designated beneficiary following his death. The maximum coverage allowed under this coverage is 55 percent of the retired pay which the retiree is receiving during his or her lifetime.

Military personnel who retired prior to August 13, 1981, have the following SBP election options during the open enrollment period:

A. Members with no coverage may enroll in SBP.

B. Members with reduced coverage may add a current level of coverage.

C. Members with child only coverage may add a spouse.

A law does not authorize any reduction of current coverage or withdrawal from the Plan.

The increased coverage benefits will be payable to designated beneficiaries if the retiree participates for two years or more. In the event of death prior to two years, benefits are not payable, but the retiree's contributions to SBP are refunded. Retirees interested in SBP coverage should correspond with their own branch of service Finance Center.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

"Spring has sprung", Easter has passed, and the annual Spring madness has begun. The band is striving toward their Spring Contest; the track teams are gearing up for their final push toward state qualifying, banquets are being conducted; other end of school activities are in progress. Through all this madness, we are still striving to have school. I would like to extend a word of caution to parents and students. Let us not become so engrossed in the co-curricular activities that we forget the true purpose of school; this is, for students to develop their minds and learning abilities. Be sure that if you as a student are involved in these activities, you budget your time so that you miss none of the most important activity; your academic courses. As parents, please be sure your children are keeping up and not letting the co-curricular activities interfere with their learning. If you have questions about your child, contact the school. We are working hard to keep the perspective where it belongs and the regular process of each individuals' education to proceed in a natural fashion. We are also striving to provide a balanced co-curricular program for each student who is interested. Certainly, these co-curricular activities have merit; otherwise, they would not be available or used. However, we must never let them overshadow the real purpose of the school. It is easy for students, parents, teachers, and most certainly school administrators to be engrossed in these activities. The majority of people are competitive and enjoy competition. I think school administrators by nature are the most competitive of all. We most constantly remind ourselves of what our purpose is.

So, bear with us and help us. I promise that the "Spring madness" will soon be over, school will close, graduation day will come, tears will be shed over losing our fine Senior Class, and the educational world will return to normal.

Don Welch Elected VA

Don Welch was elected vice president and member of the Board of Directors of West Texas Utilities Company Monday, effective June 1.

The announcement was made by WTU President Glen D. Churchill following a meeting of the company's directors Monday morning.

Welch will succeed Dick Brooks, who will move to Corpus Christi to become vice president of engineering for Central Power and Light Company.

Welch, a native of Stamford, has been an executive assistant to Brooks since February 1 after serving as WTU's district operations, merchandise sales, customer technical services and area development.

Welch, 42, graduated from Stamford High School in 1957. He attended North Texas State University for two years, then joined WTU as a groundman in a distribution line crew at Stamford in 1959.

He served in the Army from 1961-63, and was discharged as a sergeant. He worked as a clerk-draftsman for WTU in Stamford until 1964, as a serviceman in Aspermont from 1964-67 and as a local manager at Aspermont from 1967-70. He moved to Wellington as local manager from 1970-73, then to Alpine as local manager from 1973-76.

While at Alpine, Welch earned a degree in business administration and pursued graduate studies at Sul Ross State University. He returned to Stamford as assistant district manager in 1976 and was promoted to district manager in 1977, succeeding the late Russell Crownover.

Welch has been a vice president and director of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce, a director of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, a director of the Industrial Foundation and vice chairman of the Parks Board. He is a past-president of the Stamford Country Club and the Stamford Rotary Club.

He and his wife, Merina, have two children. They are Lynette, 16, a sophomore at Stamford High School, and Matt, 10, a fifth grader. The Welch's are Baptists.

New Homes Save Energy

New homes really do save energy for the most part, says Dr. Jane Berry, housing and home furnishings specialist.

That's good news for new-home buyers--they can expect less energy consumption than was possible in less expensive homes of past years, she says.

Berry is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Even though home buyers are paying more for less space, they are getting homes they can afford to finance and operate, Berry adds.

"Price tags on many new homes reflect the added costs of beefed-up insulation and other measures that will result in long-range energy efficiency," she says.

And these efficiencies are on the rise, the specialist notes.

1974, the average U.S. home consumed 1,146 oil-gallons of energy per year. By 1978, consumption dropped to 995 oil-gallons.

Smaller and more affordable homes of the future should reduce this figure by half again, Berry predicts.

Builders are accomplishing these energy-saving "feats" because they know energy-saving features sell homes, the specialist explains.

For example, in 1973, two-thirds of homes being built had roofs insulated to R-13 or less. By 1979, R-25 was the norm.

In 1974, three-fourths of all windows installed in new homes were single-glazed. By 1979, only one-third of the new homes "settled" for single glass, Berry says.

Haskell Chamber Urges "Try Haskell First"

BY WANDA DULANEY
Manager, Haskell Chamber of Commerce
 The quality, the prices, the display of merchandise and the service is so well known throughout the area that hundreds of people come to Haskell each day to shop. They are not lured here by one-time sales pitches. Local merchants have unique ability to buy the right items in the right quantities and are consistent in their expertise year after year. Haskell is a business hub, not so much because of its location and easy accessibility as to what it has to offer and how it is presented. However, some Haskell residents are sometimes misled by gimmicks and limited offers that are advertised elsewhere and will drive long distances to pursue the specials, usually to find the items already sold out, or not what they expected. While in the stores or area, we see other things we like at reasonable prices and do extensive unplanned and non-budgeted shopping while on the premises or vicinity. When we return home and show our purchases to a friend or relative, we often learn that the items were not only available in Haskell but also at competitive prices. Then we think about how much the gasoline cost, how much we spent on food and refreshments, and the most important facet of all - the unnecessary use of our valuable time.

TRY HASKELL FIRST
 So what's the difference, one might ask, in out-of-town people coming here to shop and our people going out of town? There IS a difference, you know. Our visitors are not lured here by special come-ons, but know to expect in this town quality merchandise at affordable prices. Local sales people have a reputation for their courtesy, friendliness and knowledge about their merchandise. They are experts in their field. Naturally, a town this size cannot supply all the needs of all the people; some items must be purchased elsewhere. We do owe it to each other, however, to TRY HASKELL FIRST. Let's be sure the same article is not available here at a fair price before we seek it elsewhere and waste both time and money. We can also tell local merchants about other items we wish they'd carry, and perhaps they can stock them in the future. After all, these merchants WANT to accommodate their customers. Perhaps the nicest part about shopping in Haskell is that our business is so appreciated and THEY TELL US SO!

 Often we will see a picture in a magazine or brochure for such items as trophies, year-books, special awards and citations, and because there isn't such a specialty shop here, we order it from elsewhere. The irony of it is that we do have several local outlets who can handle them for us. Better still, they will stand behind their products and we can count on their delivery. TRY HASKELL FIRST.
 Local farm equipment, furniture, building supplies are also noteworthy. These dealers handle a large variety from which to choose. Their prices on some items may be somewhat higher than at outlet stores but you can't argue with the quality and local guarantee for your satisfaction. Besides- after figuring shipping charges or fuel for a vehicle when we go to another city to save a few dollars on an item, let's ask ourselves: DO we save? And what price do we place on our time and energy? TRY HASKELL FIRST.

 It may be tempting to yield to the lures of the out-of-town, fast talking promoter who wants to sell an automobile, and maybe prices there are lower because of volume buying. If a person is lucky, he may purchase a good car at a good price, but no one backs up his merchandise like a local dealer. He has to if he wants to stay in business. He's someone we know... perhaps a fellow club member, perhaps someone who goes to the same church. Let's trade with people we know and trust.

TRY HASKELL FIRST.
 To support our town is to support ourselves. It requires a concentrated effort on the part of all of us as customers to make such a collective effort. It requires a commitment by the merchants to be competitive in their prices, to continue their emphasis on quality and service, and in showing their appreciation to these patrons. LET'S TRY HASKELL FIRST!

Student College Aid Offers Computerized Funding Aid

Cutbacks in governmental college funding have made it difficult or impossible for some students to continue their education. However, there thousands of scholarships for which students, regardless of grades or financial need, qualify. Student College Aid, a nationwide, computerized, scholarship locator service, locates scholarships and loans for students. Prospects phone or write the company for free information and application form. If the student wishes to use the service she or he fills in the form as completely as possible. Such information as college major, religious affiliation, ethnic background, club membership, etc. is requested. This information is coded into the computer. The computer searches thru thousands of sources and prints out the sources, qualifying characteristics, etc. to which the student is eligible to apply. This printout is mailed to the student and the student in turn contacts the funding sources. The fee for this service is $45.00. There is room on the dataform so that families with more than one student can list one name, but enter information about more than one student. However, graduate and undergraduate students cannot use the same form. On the printout each student's sources are easily distinguished. In fact Student College Aid is so certain it can locate sources of financial aid for students that it guarantees to furnish at least 5 listings or refund payment. The average number of listings the students receive is 12, valued at $12,000. For free information write Student College Aid, 3641 Deal St., Houston, Tx 77025 or phone (713) 668-7899. The company is listed with Houston Better Business Bureau. It's not too early for 1983 high school graduates to begin their search for funds.

April 15 Is Deadline To Amend Social Security

People who received at least one Social Security check in 1981 and who earned more than the annual exempt amount last year have until April 15 to file an annual report of their 1981 earnings, Glyn Hammons Social Security district manager in Abilene, said recently.

The 1981 annual exempt amount was $5,500 for people 65 or over and $4,080 for people under 65 all of 1981. A person who was 72 or older all of 1981 does not have to make a report. Neither do people who receive benefits because of disability, since different rules apply.

A person who did not receive any checks in 1981 because of expected earnings does not have to make a report of his or her earnings. But, Hammons said, if those earnings were less than expected, it would be in that person's best interest to make a report.

This is because just $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 of earnings above the annual exempt amount, and it could be that some benefits may be due. If they are, they will be paid after the annual report is reviewed.

Most people who have to make a report of their 1981 earnings have already received a form for this purpose in the mail. Those who did not receive an annual report form or those who misplaced the one they did receive can get a copy at any Social Security office.

The people there will be glad to answer any questions about the annual report of earnings. The Abilene Social Security office is located at 142 S. Pioneer and the telephone number is 698-1360. A toll free number is available to those living outside of Abilene. It is 1-800-392-1603.

Brucellosis Free Herds Increasing

Livestock producers throughout the state are showing an increasing interest in establishing brucellosis certified free herds, records from the Texas Animal Health Commission reveal.

The number of certified free herds in Texas has more than tripled during 1981 compared to 1980. During 1980, there were only 62 cattle herds which were certified brucellosis free. During 1981, there were 208 certified herds.

The number of herds pending certification also shows a dramatic increase. In 1980, there were 163 herds pending certification. During 1981, this figure had jumped to 610. "Thus far in 1982, this trend is increasing," Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, said. He cited three main benefits in establishing a brucellosis certified free herd:

1. A brucellosis certified free herd is the best assurance a cattle producer can have for as much free movement of cattle as possible within Texas or out of state.

2. Cattle from a brucellosis free herd can move within either of the control areas of Texas as well as from one control area to another in the state with no additional testing.

3. Most states accept cattle from certified free herd with no additional tests.

A certified free herd is available for both dairy and beef. For beef, a complete herd blood test is needed. This involves two consecutive negative blood tests of all test-eligible cattle. They must be tested not less than 10 months nor more than 14 months apart. To maintain certification, a test of eligible cattle is required within 60 days of the anniversary date.

For dairy, a milk ring test may be used. A minimum of three consecutive negative milk ring tests conducted at not less than 90 day intervals is needed. This is followed by a negative herd blood test conducted within 90 days after the negative milk ring test.

Complete information may be obtained from your veterinarian, county Extension agent, or the Texas Animal Health Commission office in your area or at the state TAHC headquarters in Austin.

Farm Bureau Group To Visit Export Countries

In a major effort to bolster sagging U.S. farm prices by boosting trade with Japan and the European Community, Farm Bureau leaders will be traveling soon to Tokyo, Brussels and Geneva.

Carrol Chaloupka, Texas Farm Bureau president and a cattle and grain producer from Dalhart, will travel with one group of state Farm Bureau presidents to Japan April 18-24.

"We're going to discuss some problems over trade restrictions and let them know that American farmers and ranchers are concerned," Chaloupka said.

"We want to help our U.S. trade representatives convince these trading partners that we, the farmers and ranchers, are backing efforts to resolve these trade problems. We've got a surplus of farm commodities, and developing these foreign markets will certainly help."

Robert B. Delano, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will lead two groups of state Farm Bureau presidents to these trading areas -- April 18-24 to Japan and May 22-28 to Europe. Arrangements are being made for the trips through the U.S. Department of Agriculture and other government agencies to coordinate the Farm Bureau talks with trade negotiations now in progress.

In Japan, according to Chaloupka, the talks will include the following:

--Proposed protectionist U.S. legislation that will be harmful to the Japanese unless progress is made on better access to Japanese markets.

--Better access to the Japanese markets for numerous U.S. commodities.

--Restrictive regulations and selective taxes imposed by Japan.

--Japanese regulations regarding the fumigation of U.S. citrus imports.

In Europe, discussions will include their export subsidies on numerous commodities, better access to European markets for several U.S. products, smoother operation of beef exports to the European Community under the export quota, and added emphasis on value-added U.S. exports.

PCA Officials Attend Meeting

Rolling Plains Production Credit Association (PCA) officials were among 500 Texas agricultural leaders meeting in Houston last week. The occasion was the 26th annual stockholders' meeting of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Texas. Directors from Texas' 30 PCAs and officials of various other financing institutions convened at the Westin Galleria Hotel in Houston's Galleria. Keynoting the annual event was U.S. Representative Charles Stenholm, member of the U.S. House Agriculture Committee. Directors representing Rolling Plains PCA included W.H. Williams, B.H. DeBusk, Dan Henard, Jr., and Garon Tidwell. W.J. Boykin served as the PCA's official voting delegate.

According to R.C. "Cliff" Cobb, the association's president who accompanied the group, main business activities were held April 1 with reports from FICB President J.A. Rogers of Houston, Farm Credit Banks of Texas Board Chairman Dr. W. Clyde Ikins of Bandera and Wm. Dale Nix, Sr., Federal Farm Credit Board chairman of Dallas. Friday evening's entertainment included the Buddy Brock Big Band with Vickie Brazil. Rolling Plains PCA provides agricultural loan funds to farmers, ranchers and producers in 17 Texas counties and has loans outstanding totaling more than $54.6 million.

Olney Savings Rebuilding Facility

Construction has begun on the home office of Olney Savings, which is being rebuilt after a devastating fire last December which caused some $7 million in damages. According to Alan D. Myers, president and chief executive officer of Olney Savings, the building will be replaced, as before, with only minor changes. The construction is scheduled to take about six months. Olney Savings remains fully operational out of three double trailers on the site. Commented Myers, "Friends from all over Texas came to our aid after the fire with materials, time and support. We are so appreciative of their help and we look forward to giving a formal 'thank you' when we're back in our home."

Olney Savings is a $300 plus million savings and loan association with offices in Olney, Seymour, Jacksboro, Bridgeport, Nocona, Azle, Weatherford, Graham, Brownwood, Wichita Falls, Bowie, Archer City and Vernon. Other Divisions of Olney Savings are Ranger Savings in Ranger, Eastland Savings in Eastland, and Electra Savings in Electra.
