This edition of the Haskell Free Press salutes the members of the 1983 graduating class of Haskell County.

A total of 91 seniors will cross stages within the next few days and embark on new journeys.

With the diploma comes the responsibility of some level of planning for the future. Much of this planning will result from the individuals environment.

Most speakers at graduation ceremonies traditionally expound on the good and emphasize that things are not always as bad as they seem.

An example of this was found recently and is printed below.

"It's a gloomy moment in the history of our country.

"Not in the lifetime of most men has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time.

"The domestic economic situation is chaos. The dollar is week throughout the world. Prices are so high as to be utterly impossible. The political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hangs, as usual, like a cloud, dark, and silent, upon the horizon. It is a solemn moment of our troubles, no man can see the end."

The encouraging thing about the above is that it is a direct quote from an 1847 issue of Harper's Magazine.

A positive attitude is often all that is needed to succeed.

Haskell Sales Tax Up 12.33% For 1983

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today sent checks totaling $94.5 million in local sales tax payments to 974 cities that levy the one-percent sales tax.

"The checks we're sending today bring this year's total payments to $309.6 million statewide, which is 2.7 percent below the total at this time last year. Although these receipts are still running behind last year, we have seen a steady improvement for the past three months. This is in line with our forecasts and, if the trend continues as we expect, we should finish this year with a slight increase over 1982's totals," Bullock said.

Houston, with more than 54,000 reporting outlets, received the largest check—$18.4 million, bringing the city's total 1983 payments to $60.4 million, 9.7 percent below last May. The Dallas check totaled $11 million from almost 33,000 outlets, up almost 10 percent from the May 1982 rebate. San Antonio's payment of $5.2 million showed an increase of more than 5 percent from May 1982. Austin received a $3.4 million rebate to bring its 1983 total to $11.8 million, up more than 13 percent over last year.

The May checks were for taxes collected on sales made in March and reported to the Comptroller by the end of April.

Open Letter To The Haskell Volunteer Fire Department

Dear Sirs:

During the May 10, fire at Home Furniture, I was very impressed with the professionalism of the members of your department. Due to an outstanding job, what could have been a major disaster along the entire West side of the square, was contained to only one business.

The term "Volunteer Fire Department" usually has the connotation of something to be desired, but in the case of Haskell, each citizen can be assured that we have the finest possible fire protection available anywhere.

Following the fire, it has also been assuring to see the efforts of the individual firemen use this fire as a learning experience in an attempt to prevent another such tragedy.

Another difference which might have been unnoticed by a casual observer was the willingness of many other citizens outside the Fire Department who assisted in many ways. After living in Dallas for several years, the friendship of these neighbors make me proud to again be a part of Haskell.

Due to the excellent job of firefighting by the members of our Fire Department, Home Furniture will be able to open our doors in the near future.

The intent of this letter is more than a thank you, it is written as a special salute to the men who volunteer their time to do a needed job with much more professionalism than many who make a living performing the same duty.

I salute: Tom Watson, Chester Hodgins, E.J. Stewart, John Watson, Sonny Reynolds, Olen King, Olen Bartley, Satch Lusk, Don Comedy, Roy Trussell, Bill Lane, Wayne Wainscott, Clifford Short, Donald Cunningham, Sam Watson, Randy Shaw, Jerry Stocks, Bill Steele, John Andrada, Kenny Watson, Ted Jennings, Phillip Cockerell, Joe Cortez, Charles Reed, Billie Jack Ray, David Davis, E.B. Love, Tommy Watson, Wilbert Klose, Steve Roper, Mac McBroom, Mike New, and Charles Harvey.

Sincerely,

Frey, Parrott United In Double Ring Ceremony In Albany

Tamra Gail Parrott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Parrott, and Rodney Joseph Frey, son of Mr. and Mrs. G.A. Frey of Rowena, were united in marriage on Saturday, May 14, in a double ring ceremony at 2:00 at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Albany. The Rev. Wayne Schueler, church pastor, officiated.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white bridal gown of tissue taffeta featuring an open neckline, basque bodice of silk Venise lace adorned with pearls. The cap sleeves were accented with organza flowers and ribbons. The full skirt and sweeping train had a pleated hemline adorned with beaded silk Venise lace. Her veil was attached to a circlet of organza flowers.

For something old she carried a handkerchief belonging to her Great, Great, Grandmother Jensen, something new was her gown, something borrowed was a pearl bracelet, something blue was her garter. She had a 1962 penny, her birth year, in her shoe for good luck. She wore a pearl and diamond necklace, a wedding gift from the groom. She carried a bouquet of blue iris, orchid and white daisies, and baby's breath with white ribbon streamers.

Sheri Lyn Mangum, cousin of the bride, Eastland, was maid of honor. She wore an orchid dotted dacron organza gown featuring a flounce off-shoulder neckline, shirred cummerbund with a bow at the waist. The bottom of the full skirt was adorned with a ruffle that swept up the side. She wore white gloves and carried a bouquet of orchid and white daisies with baby's breath. In her hair was a band covered with orchid and white daisies and baby's breath. She wore a single pearl necklace, the bride's gift to all of her attendants.

Bridesmaids were Cindy Parrott, sister-in-law of the bride, Weinert, Debbie Haechton, sister of the groom, Eola, and Kelly Hawkins, Aspermont. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Flower girl was Jill Frey, niece of the groom, Ballinger. She wore a white dacron organza dress with lace on the bodice and hemline with puff sleeves. Over the dress, she wore an orchid dotted dacron organza apron. She wore white gloves and carried a basket of orchid daisy petals. Orchid and white daisies with baby's breath were in her hair.

The best man was Rick

Hoelschen, Ballinger. Groomsmen were Charles Frey, Ballinger, Doug Frey, Rowena, brothers of the groom, and Keith Parrott, brother of the bride. Candles were lighted by Jarrett Lange, Veribest, and Jody Frey, Ballinger, nephews of the groom. Ushers were Gallen Hoeschen, Rowena, and Marty Frey, Ballinger, nephew of the groom. Ring bearer was Bradley Haechten, Eola, nephew of the groom. The groom, his attendants, and the bride's father wore traditional cutaway tuxedos of charcoal gray, pin-striped trousers, and ascots. They all wore orchid daisy boutonnières.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dusty rose with beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

The groom's mother wore a mauve dress with beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. W.W. Allen, Albany, and Mrs. J.E. Parrott, Haskell, wore orchid corsages.

The altar of the church featured two seven candle candelabrams. The family pews were marked by orchid and white daisies, English ivy, and baby's breath.

Organist was Alma Godfrey, Albany, who accompanied soloist, Monya Reed, Bronte, who sang "Sunrise, Sunset", and the theme from "Ice Castle". The congregation sang "O Perfect Love".

Registering guests as they entered the church was Mrs. Vickie Sappenfield, Wichita Falls.

The reception hosted by the bride's parents was held immediately following the ceremony at the church. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth with orchid bows. The centerpiece was a candelabrum surrounded by orchid and white daisies and baby's breath. The four-tier white wedding cake was decorated with fresh flowers. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. All appointments were crystal and silver. Serving at the bride's table were Sharla Carver, Knox City, Melanie Halfmann, Rowena, and Nancy Kimbrough, Stephenville. Each wore an orchid daisy corsage.

The groom's table was covered by a white cloth with a centerpiece of yellow daisies. Chocolate cake with slivered almonds and coffee were served by Deanna Reed, Bronte. She also wore an orchid daisy corsage.

The food table, featuring baby Swiss cheese, crackers, assorted fruits, nuts, and mints was covered with a white cloth. Three candles in crystal holders adorned the table. The silver champagne fountain was on a round table covered with a white cloth.

The bride wore a Gunne Sac dress of orchid gingham cotton with white accessories and a corsage of blue iris, white daisies, purple status, and baby's breath to go away on the couple's honeymoon to Mexico, New Mexico, and Colorado. After the trip, Rodney and Tamra will be at home in Ballinger where the groom is self-employed at Frey Cattle Co. and co-owner of San Angelo Packing. The bride is a 1980 graduate of Haskell High School, attended Texas Tech, Tarleton State University and has been employed by her father at Haskell Livestock Auction.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom and his parents, was held at the Beehive Restaurant in Albany. A western theme was used with blue calico tablecloths. The main table had a crock pitcher with red, blue, and white silk flowers as a centerpiece.

PARTIES

A gift brunch was held for the bride-elect on April 30 in the home of Mrs. H.F. Croft, Jr. Welcoming guests were Mrs. Croft, the honoree, her mother, her grandmother, and the groom's mother. Appointments were in milk glass, brass, and gold on a lace cloth over orchid. Orchid and white flowers were featured on the serving table and registry table.

Porcelain Artists Attend Workshop

Anita Herren and four of her students, Doris Reeves from Haskell, Margie Casey and Faye Dunnam of Rule, and Tess Wall, Knox City left this week to attend the China painting workshop in Can one and sometimes two after lunch, then one after dinner at night. Classes are held between times.

Many are enrolled with the various teachers for classes. Last year Anita was asked to demonstrate for the workshop and as a result was asked to be the guest artist for the District Heart of Texas Porcelain Art Club in Brownwood last month for their April program.

Much is learned and many new friends are made.

Weinert Matrons Club Disbands After 60 Years

Weinert Matron's Club used their last meeting in an all day tour of some places of interest. The day began with a visit and inspection of Weinert's newest business, the attractive and modern beauty shop owned and operated by Melanie Wood.

After some business stops in Munday and Seymour the group drove on to Vernon where the first stop was for lunch in the Canton Restaurant. After lunch members exchanged favorite recipes and had a showing of special and favorite pieces of jewelry. Many interesting old treasures were displayed and explained. Before leaving the place the group visited and admired various displays, and made pictures.

The next stop was the new Waggoner bank where an officer of the bank conducted us on a tour of the many changes and new attractions of the modern establishment. They also furnished us a guide to our next stop which was the Red River Valley Museum. Here we saw many interesting displays of past events of the Vernon area.

The last stop was the Vernon Mental Health Center. Here we saw several areas of the work done in this place. This was of special interest to us as the place has been one of our Club projects for many years.

Seven members and a visitor made the trip, which seemed a fitting way to close the work and enjoyment of the club which is disbanding after sixty years.

Shower Honors Julie Coleman, Kevin Wade

Julie Coleman and Kevin Wade were honored with a family wedding shower in the H.P. Morrison Auditorium at Paint Creek school from 7:00-9:00 p.m. on Friday, May 13. The bride-elect and mothers of the couple were presented with a corsage made of cotton boles and silk flowers.

Decorations for the shower were done in a "country" theme. The tablecloths for the display tables were handmade quilts that belong to various people in the community. Guests were registered on a round table covered with a floor length linen tablecloth that had cotton boles hand painted on it. The centerpiece was a kerosene lamp with a cotton bole arrangement attached to it. The cloth on the refreshment table was a rectangle cloth identical to the one on the guest registry table. The centerpiece for this table was an arrangement of wild flowers.

Among the 115 guests present were the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Coleman of Paint Creek; the mother of the prospective groom, Wanda Anderson of Abilene; grandparents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Earles of Paint Creek, Mrs. Lois Coleman of Stamford; and the sister of the prospective groom, Karen Polk. Attending the guest register was Rhonda Coleman, sister of the bride-elect.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Delores Medford, Mrs. Ruby Middlebrook, Mrs. Ruby Mae Middlebrook, Mrs. Peggy Middlebrook, Mrs. Lyla Mary Isbell, Mrs. Brenda Reel, Mrs. Jo Fischer, Mrs. Violet Earles, Mrs. Shirley Medford, and Mrs. Jeannette Calk.

The couple plan to be married June 25 in the Haskell Church of Christ.

Brush and Palette

HOT TIP! "If oil paintings really don't fit the ambiance of your apartment, but great works of art still interest you, drawings and sketches may be the ticket.

Such scribbles, usually made in preparation for a major work, are often less expensive than contemporary prints, according to one observer, yet they offer a certain charm. There's nothing more personal than an artist's sketch. If often has more spirit and life to it than the full-blown oil. Not to mention a lower price."

Diana Justice

Have you tried drawing and sketching lately? While viewing some area shows, I believe the need for drawing, sketching and composition knowledge is lacking and certainly a need for the basics in perspective drawing.

Q. How can I make tracing paper?

A. Using parchment paper, like that used for baking, saturate it with linseed oil, rubbing both sides to insure the penetration of the oil. Let this set several hours and then wipe away any of the oil that is left. Perhaps it might take several days in some humid areas but it will be transparent. Some tissue paper can also be oiled and made transparent.

Q. What is meant by "cradle" a picture?

A. This is a wooden strip applied to the back of a canvas or panel painting to prevent it from warping with changes of humidity. It also reinforces a larger painting, particularly a watercolor with glass, which makes a very heavy structure. This reinforcing is usually attached in the center but may be attached both lengthwise and crosswise. A good framer will do this for you.

Q. What is a mahlstick? Can they be made?

A. A mahlstick is a light stick or rod of wood, with a soft leather or rubber ball at the end. The purpose is to rest and support the painting hand. The ball end rests against the easel or sometimes against the edge of the canvas to steady the hand. This is a great help to those of us with 'shaky' hands. The working hand is rested on the stick itself while the opposite end is held by the hand which holds the palette. It is sometimes called a 'rest stick'.

Yes, you can make a mahlstick by using a one-fourth dowel and attaching a rubber ball to the end or wrapping the end with tape. Try it, it is a great support!

Family Members Are Sharing Kitchen Duty

More time- and energy-saving foods and appliances as well as an equal sharing of duties among family members will characterize the kitchen of the future.

These predictions emerged from a recent survey of 1400 Extension home economists from across the country. The survey was conducted for Hamilton Beach Division/Scovill Inc. by the Opinion and Marketing Research Department of Zigman-Joseph-Skeen.

"Extension home economists generally have a good feel for these trends because they respond to public demands for information and programming on foods and nutrition, appliance selection, consumer information, and budgeting," says Nancy Granovsky, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The home economists surveyed believe changes in the American kitchen are due to the increasing numbers of working women. Ninety-five percent agree, for example, that in dual-earner families, the kitchen is no longer the woman's full responsibility. They also note the growing interest in nutrition, cooking and kitchen appliances among men. Seventy-nine percent also agree that in making kitchen purchases, working women are primarily interested in convenience so they can use their time more efficiently. Home economists foresee a trend toward consumers doing their grocery shopping less frequently, but buying a greater quantities. They think women who work will not spend as much time in food preparation as they did a decade ago. But they don't believe interest in nutrition has suffered.

When it comes to choosing appliances for consumers starting their own households, Extension home economists chose time-saving appliances as the most useful. The microwave oven was chosen by 66 percent, the food processor by 49 percent, the hand mixer by 40 percent, and the toaster-oven by 39 percent. Traditional appliances such as a regular oven, deep fryer and stand mixer are predicted to have minimal use or become obsolete within ten years, according to the study.

Along with time-saving appliances, Extension home economists believe consumers will make greater use of pre-packaged mixes, freezer foods and foods with longer shelf-life in the future. They also believe that consumers will be interested in saving money, using more versatile, quality appliances and eating smaller portions of more nutritious food.

Conserving energy will continue to be important to consumers say the home economists, who predict and increased interest in conserving energy with microwave use, solar energy and smaller appliances, streamlined packaging for storage and simpler meals.

the club. The Parliamentarian, Mrs. J.O. Blankenship, must have gentle but firm hands to keep the club work in an orderly fashion following the rules and by-laws of the club.

The Reporter, Mrs. J.C. Dunnam must have cooperative hands in working with all members and officers in reporting interesting meetings to the community, so that others will wish to become members. Mrs. Couch ask all members to look at their own hands, for they have to be compassionate hands, ever outstretched to bring sunshine and cheer to those about us. "Use the talents that you possess for the words would be very silent if no birds sang, but the very best."

A thank-you note was read from The Haskell Nursing Home, thanking the club for their interest and the flower display at the open house on Sunday afternoon May 8.

Mrs. Blankenship had praises for the officers and committee chairman as they reported the work that had been done throughout the year. She said the club purpose was to stimulate interest in education and she appreciated the cooperation she had received to make Haskell a more beautiful town.

After Mrs. Blankenship and Mrs. Dunnam served refreshments, the club made a tour of their yards. Mrs. Dunnam's Iris and Peonies had past the blooming peak but the cactus were blooming and the century plant. In Mrs. Blankenship yards, there were over 35 varieties of roses blooming, a bird bath and sanctuary, and intensive garden with corn, beans, berries, strawberries, tomato plants, fruit trees, pecan trees, cannas, chrysanthemum, Japanese fig, iris, peonies and other flowers.

Mrs. Blankenship gave a pot plant to each member. Mrs. Jeter is retiring after having served ten years. We want to thank her for helping the Young Homemakers throughout the years. Hostesses were Ellen Rieger, Vickie Josselet, Camin Pittman, and Gina Foster. They served sherbert, sugar cookies, and lemonade. We want to thank all the officers of 1982 and welcome the new officers of 1983.

EQUAL HOUSING

Attention

Approximately 50 years ago the Business Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church of Haskell was organized and their first meeting place was in the old Rita Theater on the west side of the square, with Bro. H.R. Whatley as the first teacher.

On May 22, 1983, we will make an effort to get as many past and present members together to pay honor to all that have helped to keep this class going through the years.

If you possibly can come to Sunday School on this date, we will have about a ten minute program on the History of the class, some good singing, and a good Sunday School lesson.

Thanks,
Business Men's Bible Class

Chamber Cites Haskell's Developments For Last Several Years

By Wanda Dulaney
Mgr., Haskell
Chamber of Commerce

Since 1975 a significant number of new businesses and other developments have occurred locally that should indicate to anyone who is contemplating going into business here that such a move would be a shrewd one.

Of course all new enterprises of the past eight years have not succeeded, but the majority of them certainly have. This list is incomplete but, even in part, it substantiates the claim to Haskell's progress:

In 1975 Bill's Dollar Store opened and by 1978 had tripled its size; in 1976 were added The Drug Store, Mini Storage and Haskell Vet Clinic; in 1977 J.R.B. This says a lot for Haskell doesn't it? Few towns have had so much expansion.

The Haskell Chamber of Commerce records show that in May of 1981 a survey was conducted asking people to suggest improvements or changes needed. Thirty-four cited a need for more restaurants, others wanted more entertainment for young people, a Day Care Center, more industry, improvements of streets, a civic center, the creek improved, made more attractive and flooding prevented, a movie theater, better motels, an optometrist, a health or exercise club, a large all-purpose discount store, city beautification, more rent housing, better law enforcement, qualified minorities in good jobs, a shoe repair shop, track for school, a new high school auditorium, better attitude toward newcomers, make 277 four-lane through town, stop light at 277 and South 1st, retail stores open late one day a week, more vocational training, overcome apathetic attitude among some merchants, more employment opportunities, another bank, ice cream parlor, beautify the park, better transportation for children in poverty areas, a Welcome Wagon, oil service companies, electric repair shop, some "no parking" areas, more college courses, an employment service, better drainage, telephone service to check on elderly, self-help program for persons with emotional problems, improved street lighting, private club, bowling alley, a United Way, prevention of frequent turning off of water, reduction of drug problem. These opinions were submitted by 56 people and of course may or may not have constituted the feelings of the majority. They were however, interested enough to respond and their suggestions have been studied by those concerned areas.

In that same 1981 survey, people were also asked to list the good qualities of Haskell. Here's how they answered: 22 cited friendly, progressive people, 17 said good schools, 15 mentioned good churches, 9-trade center, 9- good water, 8- small town atmosphere, 8- excellent businesses to shop in, 7- low crime rate, safe place to live, 6- good medical services, while others listed: citizens concerned about each other, attractive town, everything close and convenient, low cost of living, good location, peaceful surroundings, attractive square, almost all services available, city in good financial shape, good potential for growth, slow paced living, good fire department, provides employment for people from surrounding towns, clean town, good climate, relaxed atmosphere, strong economy for town this size, plenty of school activities, good community involvement, good library, good country club, good museums, good city park, attractive homes, radio station, attractive courthouse, less noise, less pollution, good drag, good place to raise family, good football team.

Those questions were asked two years ago and a lot has happened since. Let's update the records. Give us your opinions for 1983! We will compile, summarize and publicize the comments. No answers will go unnoticed, numerous like-answers will be referred to proper sources for consideration of action. Perhaps you would like to repeat some of the replies people gave in 1981 if you agree and if they remain a concern.

criticism is sought and needed to help those involved to be aware of them so they can possibly solve them. There are many factors to be taken into consideration such as priorities, resources, manpower, but you will be helping simply by voicing your opinions and taking the time to complete the form we are asking Haskell citizens to return as soon as possible. In so doing you will be aiding those responsible for the different segments to know what is most important, if and how improvements can be made. Please make your criticisms in the spirits of helpfulness rather than condemnation and volunteer your assistance to help make it all work.

VOLUME NINETY-SEVEN HASKELL, TEXAS 79521, MAY 19, 1983 NUMBER TWENTY

Texas Tech Announces 50th Annual Band Camp Scheduled July 10-22

Texas Tech announces its 50th Annual Band Camp, to be held July 10-22 on the campus of Texas Tech University. Registration information may be obtained by writing the Music Department, Texas Tech, Lubbock, TX 79409, or by calling the Camp office at (806) 742-2225.

The year's Band Camp will be unique for several reasons. New emphasis will be placed on flag and rifle instruction this year. Students may come for flags/rifles all day, or split their day between band and flags/rifles. Students can also choose to attend flags/rifles all day long for the first week of camp, or for both weeks.

Flag/rifle instruction will be available at all levels. Groups will be assisted in designing their own routines, as well as provided with routine notes to take home for summer practice. A special three-day workshop on Corps Style Show Design will be offered for band directors. To be held July 10-12, the workshop will deal with show design and special techniques of charting and teaching drills.

Another very special aspect of this year's Camp is that it has been in operation for 50 years — one of the few in the region which can boast such a long uninterrupted history.

When D.O. Wiley started the "Band School" in 1934, there were 40 students from elementary through college age in attendance. Students were housed in homes near the campus, and tuition for the six-week camp was $10 for those students below college age.

The next year, enrollment doubled, tuition rose to $15, and a second band was added to be of service to younger players.

By 1940, there were 230 students enrolled in three bands, students stayed in dorms on the campus, and a special guest conductor was brought in.

The war years brought enrollment back down, but the camp remained in operation and continued to build. Several experiments were later tried, including an attempt at two separate two-week camps for junior and senior high students in the early 1960's, and an all-inclusive Youth Camp, with band, orchestra, choir, keyboard and dance students, later in the 1960's.

The Band Camp, as it had become by then, stabilized into its present two-week format with junior and senior high students attending simultaneously when Dean Killion took over the reins in 1969.

"The Camp really didn't begin to blossom until Killion took it over," said Anna Whitlock, Band Camp Secretary. Killion started out with about 500 students in three bands, and by the next year had expanded to six bands.

The Camp had to limit enrollment starting in 1972, when there were 900 students in eight bands. Growth progressed steadily to the present level of 12 bands in 1974, with 1300 students in attendance that year. Since 1979, the Camp has consistently reached its projected limit of 1400 students each year.

"Most of the growth has been due to a unique combination of recreation, supervision and quality instruction," Whitlock explained.

One of the recreational events in store for this year's campers will be a birthday party for the 50-year-old Camp. Other events include the usual dances, talent shows, movies and banquet.

Twelve bands are again planned, along with six jazz bands. The top group will be conducted by James Sudduth, Director of Bands at Texas Tech and also the Camp's Director. Don Turner, Texas Tech's Director of Jazz Studies, will head up the jazz division of Band Camp.

Sudduth will also offer a Band Director's Workshop for university credit, in which he will cover such areas as score preparation and rehearsal techniques. The Workshop has also been a part of Band Camp activities since the very first Band School.

Individual instruction on all band instruments will be available from a faculty which includes members of the USAF and Navy Bands as well as instructors from Texas Tech and other colleges in the United States and Canada. Electives include various small ensembles, drum majoring, electronic music, improvisation, marching, twirling, and music literature and theory.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

Dear Editor:

The Seniors of 1929 are having a reunion on May 28th at the Kiva Inn in Abilene. We are out of touch with the following members: Irene Morgan, Thelma Therwhanger, and Grady Murchison.

Irene Morgan was related to the Boone's of Weinert. Thelma Therwhanger's father was Newt Therwhanger of Weinert. Her married name is Mrs. A.L. Stroman, formerly of Santa Fe, N.M. Grady Murchison married the former Virginia Sills and their last known address was Leander.

Our class song that year was "Waiting In the Shadows". I have been told the words (and possibly the music) were written by someone in Haskell. If you have any information about the song or the location of the 3 classmates, please notify me at 2404 N. Willis, Apt. 141, Abilene, TX 79603 or telephone 915-677-1504.

Thank you.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

The school year for 1982-83 draws to a close. Friday night, the seniors graduate; the finals are finished and the dye is cast as far as grades are concerned; co-curricular activities are finished, and the buzz of busy young voices and the direction of our excellent teaching staff will be silenced for a few months.

However, plans are already made for the summer maintenance work. Some new metal windows will be installed. Two new entrance doors will be hung. All the rooms and hallways will be cleaned and refinished. Desks will be cleaned and repaired. Gyms will be refinished. Yes, the summer months may be a time for rest for the students and teachers, but activity will continue in the schools for the staff.

I would like to pass out a few more bouquets if I might. Our publications department simply improved by leaps and bounds this year. Our newspaper, "The War Whoop", has to be ranked as one of the better papers of this type in the state. The newspaper was under the sponsorship of Jill Druesedow. The annual "The Chieftain" has to be one of the better yearbooks in the annals of Haskell ISD. Pat Quattlebaum was the sponsor of this fine staff. Our elementary school is the proud owner of two microcomputers. The elementary school is experiencing a reversal in the trend toward declining population with increases the past two years so plans are being made to improve curriculum and instruction in this area. Many other areas of our curriculum both academic and co-curricular deserve recognition space limits total commitments. This has been a delightful, productive year. We appreciate the support tendered us by the parents and patrons of the school district. It is only with this support that we in the school business can function.

So students and teachers, have a good productive summer and return next fall with batteries recharged and eager to make 1983-84 an even better year.

Parks & Wildlife Commission Sets 83-84 Hunting And Fishing Regulations

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission set hunting and fishing regulations for 1983-84 in a public session in Austin Saturday (April 30). Regulation changes authorized by the commission were generally minor and were limited to items presented in public hearings held in 241 counties across the state during March. The hunting changes will become effective Sept. 1, 1983. Saltwater fishing regulations will become effective as soon as possible in order for an emergency amendment concerning throwlines to become permanent. Commission Chairman Perry R. Bass of Fort Worth said legislation recently adopted by the Texas Legislature giving the Parks and Wildlife Department authority over fish and wildlife resources in all Texas counties will become effective Aug. 29. "I would like to emphasize that no further changes in hunting and fishing regulations will be made after Aug. 29 by this commission in any county without additional public hearings," Bass said.

Before passage of Senate Bill 94, called the "Wildlife Conservation Act of 1983," some counties' game and fish laws were set by legislative act rather than by the Parks and Wildlife Commission. Other counties had a "county commissioners court clause" which enabled the courts in those counties to approve or disapprove changes adopted by the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Since Senate Bill 94 has not yet become effective, Saturday's commission action will not have any effect in nonregulatory or "general law" counties, and the changes will be subject to approval by counties having a commissioners court clause.

One significant change for the upcoming hunting seasons which will not be subject to change is an alteration in the buck hunting permit system in Webb, Duval, Maverick and Zapata Counties. Effective for the upcoming hunting season, buck permits will be issued on an unlimited basis in all four counties, rather than on an acreage basis.

Ted Clark, Wildlife Division Director, told the commission the buck permit system has not achieved its announced goal of improving overall quality in the deer herd and enhancing the production of "trophy" bucks in that area.

"We (the department) started the buck permit system in Webb County nine years ago, with the other counties coming under the program later," Clark said. "I think we have enough data to say that the system has controlled the harvest of bucks, but it has not significantly improved overall quality of antlers and body weights in the herd. This is simply because hunters have not been able to bring overpopulation of deer under control."

Clark said in spite of liberal regulations enacted to encourage an adequate annual harvest of antlerless deer and spike bucks, high deer populations are continuing to place too much pressure on the habitat. "If this trend continues I'm afraid we will see a continuous decline in South Texas deer quality, similar to what has happened in the Hill Country," he said. Chronic overpopulation problems in many areas of the Edwards Plateau have caused smaller deer, with little potential for trophy buck production.

Clark said that even with unlimited issuance of permits, the buck permit system will be maintained as a method for monitoring the harvest and collecting date on the condition of bucks in those counties.

Most hunting seasons in Texas vary by county or region, but the general white-tailed deer and turkey season set for most counties this year will be Nov. 12-Jan. 1. The archery deer season in most counties will be Oct. 1-30. Mule deer season in Panhandle counties will be Nov. 19-27, and Nov. 26-Dec. 4 in the Trans-Pecos.

Quail seasons vary widely, but most West Texas counties will have an Oct. 29-Jan. 29 season, and in East Texas the general season is Nov. 12-Feb. 12.

Complete information on all hunting seasons, bag limits and other regulations will be published in the department's 1983-84 Guide to Hunting and Fishing Regulations booklet which will be available at hunting license outlets across the state in August.

The hunting and fishing regulation changes authorized by the commission for the 1983-84 seasons are as follows, and most of them require approval or disapproval of county commissioners courts, officials said.

*Removal of special protection of spike bucks in Comal and Kendall Counties.

*Provide a standard 51-day deer gun season for Dimmit County.

*Permitting the harvest of antlerless deer in Robertson County where surplus deer occur.

*Provide a standard 30-day archery only season for deer in Edwards, Kendall, and Real Counties.

*Provide a two javelina bag limit and no closed season in Edwards, Frio, Kendall, Kerr, Medina and Real Counties.

*Provide a standard 30-day archery only turkey season in Edwards, Kendall, and Real Counties.

*Provide a spring turkey gobbler season in Bandera, Brooks, Edwards, Frio, Gillespie, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Reagan, Medina and Real Counties.

*Delete exceptions to bag, possession and size limits for red drum in the freshwaters of Comal and Robertson Counties.

*Provide a 37 inch minimum size limit for cobia (ling).

*Provide a 14 inch minimum size limit for Spanish mackerel.

*Define saltwater throwlines as a type of trotline.

*Restrict use of dip nets and gaffs to only a supporting role in taking of fish in salt water.

*Re-define what are considered saltwater trotlines as per commission emergency amendment, November 2, 1982. (Coastwide)

VA Loans Available For Private Residence

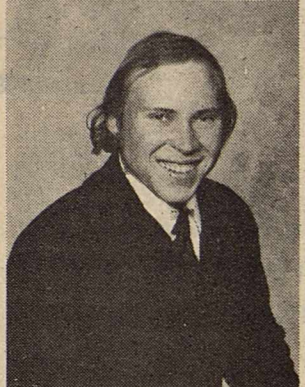

Veterans seeking Veterans Administration-guaranteed loans for purchase or construction of a home must certify that they intend to occupy the property as their own residence, advises the Director, Waco VA Regional Office.

If the loan is for refinancing, altering, improving or repairing a home, he added, the veteran must certify that he or she is the owner and occupant of the home. He stressed that veterans should be aware that making a false certification to the VA could subject that veteran to possible criminal prosecution.

For further information, write, or telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your local telephone directory under "Veterans Administration" or "U.S. Government." A VA counselor will respond.

First Aid Tips For Rashes Offered

From Lou Gilly County Extension Agent

Rashes can be painful and annoying. Signs and symptoms of rashes include redness, blotchy skin, severe itching, scalliness, and dryness of the skin.

Ninety percent of all rashes are heat-related. Sun and hot temperatures make people more susceptible to rashes.

Rashes can also be allergy-related. If blotchy skin develops shortly after eating a food for the first time, you probably have a sensitivity to the food and should avoid it.

Wearing clothes made of wool produces another common allergic reaction in the form of severe itchy skin.

If you develop a rash, try to determine the cause. Consider how long you have been in the sun, whether you have had a reaction to the sun before, what foods you have eaten for the first time, and what plants, fibers, or soaps you have come in contact with.

First Aid For Rashes

To treat a rash, do the following:

*Clean the area immediately with soap and water, especially if the rash is from poison ivy or some other plant.

*Avoid lotion. It may irritate the rash and worsen itching.

*Keep the area dry and cool to prevent the rash from spreading.

*Apply first aid cream only if the area is bleeding due to excessive scratching.

*Use an over-the-counter cream to relieve itching from poison ivy or other itching rashes.

The first place a rash usually appears is on the abdomen, but it can spread and cover the entire body. This is called a systemic rash and when it occurs you should seek medical attention immediately.

If you know you have an allergic reaction, stay away from the cause. If you come in contact with something that causes a rash, follow the first aid hints. See your doctor if the rash persists.

Social Security Offers Advantages

The protection offered by Social Security provides much more than just retirement benefits. The comprehensive insurance coverage provides covered workers with a package of protection that would be hard to duplicate, according to Glyn Hammons, district manager of the Abilene Social Security office.

Social Security is actually four insurance "policies" in one package offering protection in these areas: Retirement Insurance - provides a monthly income at retirement. Benefits are payable as early as 62 at a reduced rate. Certain dependents specified in the law can also qualify for benefits at the worker's retirement. Disability Insurance - provides protection if a worker becomes severely disabled and cannot work for a year or more. Certain dependents can also receive benefits if a worker qualifies for disability benefits. Survivors Insurance - provides valuable protection to dependents in the event of a worker's death. The most common protection being monthly payments to widow's and children and may be quite substantial. Medicare - provides both hospital insurance and medical insurance that can help pay medical costs after a worker becomes 65. It also provides health coverage if a worker becomes entitled to disability benefits for 24 consecutive months.

The protection outlined above shows how Social Security has evolved into the nation's primary income maintenance program that is both flexible and responsive to the needs of the American family. Program financing has frequently been in the news recently. The entire program has been under the scrutiny of the National Commission on Social Security Reform whose recommendations will now be considered by the Congress in formulating changes to assure that Social Security continues to be responsive to the needs of covered workers and their families.

For free booklets explaining the protection offered by Social Security contact any Social Security office. You may visit the Abilene office at 142 S. Pioneer or call 698-1360.

Area Green Thumbers Attend Seminar

Former Congressman Wilbur Mills, Doc Severinson of the "Tonight Show", and Ralph Raite of "The Waltons" all have at least two things in common: they used to suffer from alcoholism, and they now have much better lives after coming to grips with the disease.

The stories of these prominent people were part of the information provided to more than 60 Green Thumb workers attending a special alcoholism training session at the Senior Center in Fisher County on May 16, 1983. Green Thumb employs about 1,000 persons aged 55 and over in community service projects across the state.

In a film entitled "They Do Recover", Waite, Mills, and Severinson discussed the development of their alcohol problems and the paths they followed to find relief.

"The fact that these well-known people are alcoholics helps to show the disease—and alcoholism is a disease—can strike anyone, rich or poor, lonely or in the spotlight," said Green Thumb district director Susan Armstrong, who conducted the training.

"Mills and Severinson suffered from severe black-outs, and Mills was afraid he had a brain tumor until examinations revealed his problem was alcoholism," she said.

"Waite says he often felt 'dead and alone,'" Armstrong said, "even though he was a national celebrity. Many of our workers—especially widows and widowers—know the feeling. We want to demonstrate that alcohol will only make any existing problems worse."

She said some of Green Thumb's enrollees have lost their jobs because of drinking, and for these people the future is dim. "They've lost their income and their self-respect, and few of them will have the resilience and energy to fight back. Prevention, whether you're young or old, is the best answer." The Green Thumbers also heard a program update from state director Diane Parrish of Waco.

Green Thumbers from Haskell County attending the session were Eula Arend, Neat Bevel, Earlene Hennigan and Adelle Bogard all of the Experienced Citizens Center.

Ranchers Roundup Set August 1-5 In San Angelo

Ranchers from 25 states and several countries are expected in San Angelo August 1-5 when the 3rd Annual International Ranchers Roundup convenes in this West Texas ranching hub.

Recognized as the largest, most comprehensive educational function ever organized for southwestern ranchers, the IRR will feature general sessions of interest to all ranchers and landowners, plus three days of intensified concurrent sessions in beef cattle, sheep and goats, grazing management, wildlife, marketing, business management for the ranch family, and a computer workshop.

Thus far some 85 ranching experts have been confirmed to speak during the five-day event with about two dozen speakers yet to be selected. Several internationally-known ranch experts are to be on hand for concurrent sessions.

Keynote speakers for the opening day general session include Dub Waldrip, president, National Cattlemen's Association; Hon. Tom Loeffler, U.S. Congressman; Cas Maree, prominent South African rancher; and Dr. Arthur G. Hansen, Chancellor of the Texas A&M University System, a key sponsor. Other keynote speakers will be announced upon confirmation.

"Innovative Ranch Management" is the 1983 theme, according to IRR coordinators Dr. Larry White, Texas Agriculture Extension Service range specialist, Uvalde; Dr. LeRoy Hoermann, District Extension Director and formerly Extension livestock specialist, Uvalde; and Robert H. Kensing, Extension farm management specialist, San Angelo. Eighteen agricultural specialists from across the state serve on the IRR steering committee.

Hoermann and White originated the IRR concept three years ago as a means of providing a comprehensive educational format to aridland ranchers who share common problems. Since its introduction in 1981 the multi-facet program has effectively served over 1,100 ranchers and has been favorably compared with the Texas A&M University animal science curriculum for its variety and quality of instruction.

From the outset the IRR has been held in the border area of Del Rio with overwhelming success. Yet, in an effort to make the programs accessible to more ranchers throughout the Southwest, the coordinators opted to move the IRR to the San Angelo Convention Center for the 1983 event which promises to be much larger and more extensive.

Conference participants will have their choice of four separate ranch tours on August 5 featuring West Texas ranches noted for innovative management practices in beef cattle, sheep and goats, grazing systems, plus a two-day overnight wildlife tour in the scenic Texas Hill Country area near Kerrville.

Registered participants will also receive a copy of the 480-page bound IRR proceedings book containing most of the talks presented. This book has proved very useful by ranchers as a handy reference guide by many who have ordered extra copies of both past editions.

Registration information and more program details can be obtained from your county Extension office or by writing to IRR, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, TX 78801. Registration forms must be completed and returned with proper payment by July 1 to qualify for the $50 pre-registration discount. Attendance will be limited to 750 participants on a first come-paid basis.

Roy Cooper To Highlight Match At Windy Ryon Memorial Roping

Four-time World Champion Roper, Roy Cooper of Durant, Okla., will highlight the match calf roping competition at the Tenth Annual Windy Ryon Memorial Roping. The event is scheduled for May 27, 28, and 29 in Saginaw, located north of Fort Worth.

The "Ropingest Cowboy Ever", Cooper's latest achievement includes winning the 1983 Skool/Copenhagen Superstar Calf Roping Championship. He is also the 1976, 1980 and 1981 World Championship Calf Roper.

Cooper will match rope against an equally talented calf roper, Mike McLaughlin of Saginaw. In his second visit to the National Finals Rodeo in 1982, McLaughlin won the calf roping average. He has other winnings at such prestigious rodeos as Fort Worth and Houston.

During the three-day event, select calf, steer and team ropers will compete for prize money and awards. Among the ropers competing will be such champions as Phil Lyne, Guy Allen and Dave Brock.

The Open Daily Team Roping will be May 27, at 8:00 a.m. with free admission to the public. The invitational calf roping, May 28, begins at 1:00 p.m., and the steer roping is May 29 at 1:00 p.m. Admission to the steer and calf roping is $5 for adults and $1 for children under 12.

All proceeds from the roping event go to the West Texas Boys Ranch, located in San Angelo. The boys ranch has housed more than 900 dependent and neglected boys since 1947.

Though championship roping is still the bill of fare, the Windy Ryon Roping will also host a Washer Pitch Contest and Country and Western Dance.

A game of washers is similar to the game of horseshoes, only less strength and more finesse is required. The object of the game is to pitch washers into a cup at the end of the course.

The Washer Pitch Tournament will consist of 32 teams and will begin at 9:00 a.m. on May 28. The finals will be during the Windy Ryon Roping Dance, beginning at 9:00 p.m., at the Windy Ryon Arena Clubhouse. Admission to the dance is by donation.

The roping is sponsored annually in memory of a Fort Worth legend—Windy Ryon, the one-time proprietor of Ryon's Western Wear. Windy had been a life-long fan of contest roping. Ropers depended upon his knowledge or taste in all things western. Ryon built a clientele that depended upon his taste and judgement in western clothing, riding equipment and saddles.

The Consumer Alert

by Jim Mattox
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Today in the atmosphere of greater awareness for the needs of the handicapped, there have been state tax exemptions declared for orthopedically handicapped motorists. These exemptions come into play in the sale of vehicles equipped with specialized equipment needed to accommodate a handicapped driver or passenger.

The first consideration to be made is whether the person seeking the exemption comes within the definition of "orthopedically handicapped." The definition is broad. Any person who has limited movement of body extremities or loss of physical functions to the extent that the person is unable to drive or be driven in a motor vehicle without special modifications is considered orthopedically handicapped.

The law previously provided for a sales tax exemption for only those people who were handicapped drivers. However, the exemption has since been expanded to benefit people who transport the orthopedically handicapped. In addition, if specially modified vehicles are bought by partnerships, corporations or other business associations, an exemption may be obtained.

To qualify for an exemption from the four percent (4%) motor vehicle sales tax, three requirements must be met:

- (1) the vehicle must be driven for or by an orthopedically handicapped person;
- (2) the vehicle must require modification of conventional foot brakes, accelerator pedal or steering wheel to facilitate driving by an orthopedically handicapped person; or
- (3) the vehicle must require some other device such as a wheelchair lift, hoist, or ramp, or special seat restraints, without which the orthopedically handicapped person could not reasonably enter the vehicle, drive or ride as a passenger.

Claiming the exemption is relatively simple. A handicapped person wishing to claim the sales tax exemption on a

WTC Sets Summer Registration

Registration for summer classes at Western Texas College will be held May 31. Classes will begin on June 1.

Day and evening classes will be offered in a nine-week session from June 1-July 28. There will be two six-week sessions with courses limited to Biology 237 and Psychology 231 in the first session and Biology 241 and Psychology 232 in the second session.

Additional information about WTC's summer classes may be obtained by calling the office of the registrar at 915-573-8511.

vehicle that he or she will operate must present the county tax assessor-collector with either a restricted Texas Driver's License showing the person to be so physically impaired as to be unable to drive an unmodified vehicle, or an invoice from the installer of the special equipment showing the vehicle had been modified so the handicapped driver may enter the vehicle.

If the person seeking the exemption is someone who transports an orthopedically handicapped person, then he or she must present to the county tax assessor-collector an invoice or other document from the installer of the special equipment which includes a description of the equipment and the vehicle being modified.

In the event the vehicle had not been modified prior to registration, a sworn statement on the application for Texas Certificate of Title may be made describing the planned modification, as well as naming the person who is to make the modification.

There are other benefits available to the disabled person, including special license tags, insignia designating the vehicle as belonging to a disabled person, and special license plates for qualified veterans. For more information regarding the benefits extended to the motion-impaired citizens of our state, interested persons should contact the local Comptroller's office.

Tips For Identifying Color Blindness

Only a very few people are completely color blind—that is, seeing everything in just black and white.

The most common color deficiency is red-color blindness, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter. It affects about one out of every 20 boys but only about one out of every 200 girls.

In red-green color blindness, a person has difficulty telling the difference between green and red. Red and orange may appear as only slightly different shades from green. Sometimes a difference in brightness will be seen, or green and yellow will look very similar to red. But blues are usually easy to distinguish from each other and from reds and greens.

If a child, especially a boy, tends to confuse reds and green with each other but not blues and yellows, he may very well have a red-green color deficiency, particularly if there are cases of color blindness on his mother's side of the family.

To test a child's color discrimination, gather a number of small objects having the colors red, green, and blue. Then ask the child to put objects together in the same pile of they have the same color.

You may have to give the child two things to begin with and ask him if they are the same color. Place them together or separately according to his answer, then ask if a third object is the same color as one of the piles. Continue this way until all the objects have been sorted.

If the child clearly makes three different piles, his color vision is probably normal, even if he has difficulty remembering the names of colors or using them correctly. If he makes only two piles or has three or more piles of mixed colors, he may have some degree of color blindness. An optometrist or ophthalmologist can make a more complete diagnosis.

If a child is color blind, what then? Unfortunately, there is no treatment or cure for color blindness. It is just something that has to be lived with.

Simply being aware of the fact of color-blindness can save some frustration when a child shows confusion of colors he would normally be expected to know.

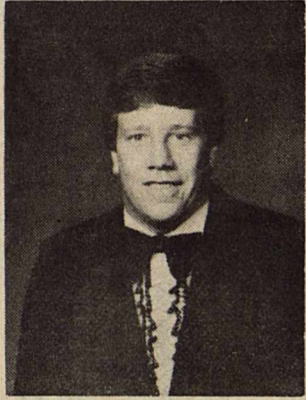

If his teacher knows of the color difficulty she will be able to make allowance for him during color activities. In adulthood, it will be best for a color-blind person to avoid occupations involving electricity or electronics, where color-coded wires could be confused. Fortunately, occupations that require good color discrimination are fairly few.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information and a free sample of the newsletter, write to Growing Child, P.O. Box 620, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing.

Electric Utilities Clamp Down On Electricity Theft

Electric utilities in Texas, including West Texas Utilities Co., are taking a tougher stance these days on theft of electricity.

Reasons for the crackdown are a change in the State Penal Code making meter tampering a penitentiary offense and the fact that the cost of producing electric energy has gone up.

"We view any form of stealing electric power as a serious crime," said Don Welch of Abilene, WTU vice president and director of customer services, "because we feel a strong responsibility to protect the interest of our good paying customers."

"It costs money to produce electricity," Welch said. "If one customer manages to get some of it free, the other customers have to make up the difference."

The State Legislature amended the criminal mischief statute in 1981 to make diversion of any utility service a third degree felony with a possible punishment of a maximum fine of $5,000 and from two to ten years in prison. The law also allows authorities to make the assumption that the person in whose name the service was last billed is the responsible party.

Convictions have been obtained in several Texas cities since the law was passed, and WTU recently filed charges which resulted in a felony indictment being issued against a customer.

Welch said that meter tampering not only is a serious crime which is becoming more easy to detect, but that it is extremely dangerous.

"Many people do not understand the danger involved," he said. "Property damage, serious injury, or even death can result."
