JUBILEE ACTIVITIES

Special entertainment was provided while children played and adults enjoyed a barbecue supper last Saturday during the Rule Jubilee. In addition to the special activities of the day, the City Park was dedicated to the memory of W.E. "Slim" Sorrells.

Park Dedicated To Slim Sorrells During Rule Jubilee Activities

A highlight of the annual Rule Jubilee last Saturday was the dedication of the City Park to the memory of W.E. (Slim) Sorrells. Rule Mayor Leroy Denton unveiled the sign during the ceremony and cited the late Sorrells for his years of service to the City of Rule and his love for children. Sorrells was born November 10, 1910 and lived in and around Haskell County most of his life. He died August 4, 1981. He married Pauline Cobb on June 19, 1929. She preceded him in death on January 22, 1981.

The couple had three sons, Charles of Borger, Jerry of Breckenridge and Doyle of Rule and two daughters, Mavis Middleton of Haskell and Sonja Green of Stinnett. They had 13 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Sorrells came to Rule from Knox County in 1941 and went to work for Charlie Davis at Davis Poultry Farm where he worked for about eight years. In 1948 he moved his family three miles east of Rule where he was engaged in farming until 1963. At that time the family moved back to Rule and he began 15 years of employment for the City of Rule.

During 40 years in Rule much of his spare time was divided between three favorite activities; The Sweethome Baptist Church; his friends and family; and working in the City Park.

As a member of Sweethome Baptist Church for over 30 years he served as a deacon and was also custodian.

He was frequently seen working in the City Park both as a City employee and after retirement.

Four children, Mavis Middleton, Jerry Sorrells, Sonja Green and Doyle Sorrells, as well as several grandchildren were present for the dedication.

A special fund has been started for the Ramon Hernandez family whose home was destroyed by fire Monday night.

The fellow that said cats were smarter than dogs never met Doyle High.

Not that Doyle looks like either or anything like that, but that he has probably proven (in a very unscientific way) without question that dogs are the smarter of the two.

You see, about three weeks ago, there lived at Doyle's house, a small cat and a dog.

One afternoon when Doyle started the engine on the riding lawn mower he noticed a strange noise and then saw the cat rolling across the lawn. The cat escaped the incident without serious injury but having led a hard life, Doyle estimated that the event probably marked life six or seven of the allotted nine.

Several days later, again with Doyle starting an engine, this time on his pick-up, another strange noise caused by the same cat. This time though the cat wasn't so lucky and Doyle sought the assistance of local vet Tom Hairgrove. The vet was consulted more to offer as a sign of concern for wife Roberta than for the cat which Doyle had already given up on surviving.

The next day the cat was still alive and several days later returned home.

Then came the startling proof that dogs are the smarter of the two. Not the evidence that the dog had learned not to take naps on engines but the evidence that the dog had used these events to gain even more wisdom.

When a concerned friend asked Doyle how the cat was doing, Doyle's reply was "fine, but the dog left home."

DPS Estimates 51 Deaths During Labor Day Holiday

The Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated as many as 51 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the Labor Day holiday. The estimate includes traffic deaths which may occur on urban streets and rural highways.

Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director, says Texas has about 14 percent fewer fatal accidents now than at the same time during 1982.

"We are hopeful the trend will continue downward for the remainder of the year. However holiday weekends always seem to bring higher death tolls than do other times of the year," Adams said.

The DPS reported 50 deaths during Labor Day last year. However, the inclusion of subsequent deaths due to traffic injuries received during the 78-hour period raised the final count to 57.

"During the 1982 holiday, 27 people were killed in accidents where DWI or speed was a contributing factor. This represented close to half of all the fatalities which occurred during that particular holiday," said Adams.

The DPS director called for sober driving, use of seat belts and a reduction in speed.

"We know alcohol contributes to about half of our traffic deaths, so it is obvious that a driver should not drink and drive. Also, we can prove the lifesaving effects of seat belt usage and our statistics show that slower speeds enhance one's chances for survival if an accident occurs," said Adams.

The DPS said the most recent holiday, July 4th, was one of the most deadly recorded in the past decade.

"We had 55 persons killed during the Fourth of July and some are still seriously injured and will probably die before the year is over. This makes that holiday the deadliest 78-hour holiday since 1970," he said.

Booster Club Holds First 1983 Meeting

It was decided that the next booster club meeting, Tuesday, September 6, will be designated as Senior night. All cheerleaders and ball players are urged to attend with a special invitation to seniors and their parents.

The meetings are held in the High School Cafeteria each Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments are served and the film from the previous week's game is shown and discussed. The upcoming game is also previewed.

All Indian boosters and supporters are urged to come and back the team.

Brush and Palette

It's time to exhibit your art work. Showing your pictures in a local or regional exhibition can be great fun and very helpful to you as a painter. Moreover, there is always the thrilling possibility that your painting may be a prize winner. There are several area shows coming up - our very own Haskell County Fair September 22, 23 and 24. This year there will be cash prizes, so start now and get your paintings in order.

How To Choose Your Entry - Don't be a gate crasher. Stay within the framework of the show. Study your catalog (be sure to call the Fair Office and get one) and study the prospectus.

Follow The Rules - Rules serve a purpose. If the rules state "no eye screws" than don't use eye screws. Keep within the specified sizes. Limit your work not to exceed the number specified in each category. Bring your work at the specified time and pick it up at the appointed time.

Entry Fees - Many organizations charge an entry fee of a dollar or more, which is nonreturnable regardless of the condition. Pay this cheerfully, most organizations are doing this for a charitable contribution and will probably lose money in the handling of all paintings.

Kretschmer Reunion Held

On August 6 the grandchildren of the late Christian and Ernestine Kretschmer hosted the first reunion for four generations.

88 people attended the reunion. Martha Stewart was the oldest grandchild and Jason Lankford was the youngest great great grandchild to attend. John and Erna Straub from Brooklyn Wisconsin traveled the farthest distance.

After a delicious lunch an evening of visiting and picture taking was enjoyed by all.

Guests attended from Haskell, Stamford, Abilene, Weinert, Sweetwater, Fort Worth, Bryan, Arlington, Grand Prairie, Vancouver, Ballinger, San Angelo, Wisconsin, Louisiana, and New Mexico.

Around Town

Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Hilliard spent their vacation in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., visiting with Mrs. Hilliard's three brothers and family and with her sister who was there visiting from Ohio.

How To Price Your Work - Don't price your picture unrealistically high to discourage its sale. If you do not care to sell your picture, simply indicate "NFS" on your title card. If you do not wish to publicly display the price of your art, simply mark it "POR" (price on request) and the customer will ask the attendant for details.

Framing Your Picture - The frame for an exhibition picture should be well constructed. It will have to withstand a lot of handling. It should be plain and not highly styled. This saves the hanging committee the problem of placing it well on the wall. Once your picture is entered in exhibition, it becomes a member of a family of pictures and should live harmoniously with its companions, rather than stand out because of a spectacular frame. Avoid garish or highly unconventional frames. Your frame dealer can be of great aid to you in selecting the proper frame.

HINT: The painter, no less than the musician, the actor or the dancer, is a performer. His talent and training are meant to be shown before an audience.

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Area Screening Services Slated

The Texas Department of Health Region 4 will hold screening services for area towns. The public is invited to attend and there will be no charge for these services. Any abnormal findings will be referred to the client's private physician.

Services offered will be for diabetes, high blood pressure, anemia, vision, hearing, weight and urinalysis. Immunizations will also be given.

Clinics will be held at the following locations and dates: Anson at the Saint Michael's Parish Hall, 2418 Ave. L from 10:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon on Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1983.

Violence In Families

This is a part of a series of articles on violence in families in cooperation with the Haskell County Extension office and the Family Living Subcommittee. The toll free statewide child abuse hotline is 1-800-292-5400.

The literature on child abuse presents strong evidence that the abused child grows up to become the abusive parent, and the few studies that have been made of marital violence suggest that it, too, is transmitted from one generation to another. Not surprisingly, men who abuse their wives may also abuse their children, and women who are beaten by their husbands sometimes end up expressing their rage at their children—the only people in the family less powerful than themselves.

Wife beating is among the most commonplace of crimes.

Husband beating is less common because of the physical strength of men to overpower women. The plight of the abused spouse has generally been ignored in our society. Assaulted spouses have been convinced their ordeal is freakish and shameful—or their own fault.

Wife abuse has been incorrectly considered a lower-class phenomenon. In fact, it is a crime that cuts across class lines, although middle-class women may be especially reluctant to call the police. Marital violence sometimes ends in divorce, sometimes in murder, but for many women, it is a way of life that goes on and on. When spouses are humiliated by their mates, they dread the further humiliation of others finding out. Therefore, spousal abuse is often not reported.

Why do spouses endure years of such terror and mistreatment? Most feel they have no other choice. Economic dependence usually keeps them intact. Psychological pressures or societal pressures are other constraints on their leaving.

The old English Proverb, "A spaniel, a woman and a walnut tree—the more they're beaten the better they be," is still practiced in many homes in America today. Women can usually beat men verbally, but most men still control women with fists and economic power. Domestic trouble complaints constitute the majority of all police calls, but few arrests result. In every state it is against the law to physically attack another person, but if the assailant is married to the victim, the law is unlikely to be enforced.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES LOY DAVIS of Kaufman are proud to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kimberly Lynn, to Gary Lee Bounds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Lee Bounds of Kaufman. The bride-elect is a 1980 graduate of Kaufman High School. The prospective bridegroom is a 1978 graduate of Kaufman High School and is currently a senior at East Texas State University. Grandparents of the bride-elect are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cugenbright of Dallas and Mrs. Erma Davis of Kaufman. The grandparents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Garland Callaway of Kaufman and Mrs. Opal Bounds of Stamford. The wedding is planned for 7 p.m. Sept. 24 at the First Baptist Church of Kaufman, with the reception immediately following. All friends and relatives are cordially invited.

Yard Of The Month

September we begin to think of Autumn and cooler days. The heat wave of July and August has left most of the yards faded and past their peak.

The yard of the month goes to Mr. and Mrs. Jack McAadoo, Farm to Market Rd. 2163 West. This is a beautiful yard with many interesting features. Across the front Nandine and boxwood for winter color. In summer geraniums, phlox and zinnias take over followed by mums in the fall. A variety of trees - pine trees, pecan, crepe myrtle, yucca, holly, bird bath balanced by bench on opposite side of yard.

In the back patio with picnic table and chairs overlooks bush lawn and railroad tie fence that separates the grass area from the garden area. An interesting thing about the garden, Mrs. McAadoo read to plant pumpkin seed in August for pumpkins in Nov. so she planted the seed and now has pumpkin vines growing and blooming so her grandchildren will have Jack o lanterns for Halloween.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Burgess

203 N. Ave. E have a delightful splash of brilliant color in their front yard. Their colorful zinnias and periwinkles are a refreshing sight and really brighten your day.

Mr. and Mrs. C.B. Forehand have one of the prettiest vegetable gardens in town. This is her specialty and she has a green thumb that grows a variety of vegetables that she cans and shares with neighbors and friends. It is a compact garden that takes less water and less time weeding than a larger space would. Mr. Forehand takes care of the mowing of their spacious lawn and tills the garden plot.

Fall Consumer Information Catalog Now Available

Fifty cents will buy a soft drink that is gone in a few minutes, less than a half-gallon of gas, or a tenth of a first run movie ticket. But that same half dollar can get you a booklet that will help you protect your credit rating, or one that tells you how to prepare economical meals, start a stamp collection, or figure out interest rates.

These topics, along with eight more, are now covered in a special new group of fifty-cent booklets listed in the fall edition of the Consumer Information Catalog released today. The booklets are made available by the Consumer Information Center of the U.S. General Services Administration in cooperation with the publishing agencies and the U.S. Government Printing Office. The free Catalog also lists more than 200 other free and moderately priced government booklets on everything from planning a house to planning a diet. For your free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog, send your name and address on a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. CA, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Sesame Place To Begin Fall Schedule

Sesame Place will begin its fall operating schedule on Saturday, Sept. 3, when the play park for families is open on a weekend-only basis.

According to Sesame Place General Manager William Monty, Sunday, Aug. 28, is the last day of seven-day operation for the 1983 season.

Sesame Place will be open for the three-day Labor Day weekend, Sept. 3-5, from 9:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. Following Labor Day, the park will be in operation from 9:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays only through Oct. 30, when Sesame Place will close for the 1983 season.

The play park which features computer games, outdoor play elements, and hands-on science exhibits is located on Airport Freeway (Highway 183) at Esters Road, west of Texas Stadium in Irving and two exits east of the Dallas/Fort Worth Airport.

Do you have your half dollars ready? Here's what you can get: Have some leisure time? An Introduction to Stamp Collecting (412L, 50 cents) will get you started on one of the most popular hobbies in the world. Or maybe Getting Started in the National Archives (411L, 50 cents) will be the beginning point in tracking down the history of your family from the time they arrived in this country. Are you considering buying a share in a vacation place? Ten Timeshare Tips (406L, 50 cents) has some warnings so your vacation will be in the swim, not a financial bath. And Finding Your Way with Map and Compass (410L, 50 cents) will help you find your way out of the woods.

Then there's the question of grocery costs. Making Food Dollars Count (405L, 50 cents) will help you set up a food budget, and offers some menu plans for low-cost meals.

If you are thinking about a career, you might be interested in the Job Market for Engineers (404L, 50 cents). It describes the numbers of openings that will be available in the next decade, which types of engineers will be in greatest demand, and what the educational requirements are.

The Story of Checks and Electronic Payments (402L, 50 cents) is a comic book that clearly and simply explains what happens when you write a check or use the magic money machine — something everyone who is just learning about handling money should know.

If you are already writing checks and have credit cards, Fair Credit Billing (408L, 50 cents) tells you what happens after you use a credit card, what your rights and responsibilities are, and your rights when you have a billing dispute. And Fair Debt Collection (403L, 50 cents) describes what collection practices are allowed if you should get into debt, how you are protected against harassment, and where to go with a complaint.

If you have applied for credit and been turned down, The Fair Credit Reporting Act (409L, 50 cents) explains how you can learn what is in your credit report, when you can see a summary of the report at no cost, and how you can get information in the report corrected. And if you have gotten the credit and want to find out more about how interest is charged on loans, the Arithmetic of Interest Rates (407L, 50 cents) gives you charts and formulas you can use to figure your payments and the costs of interest.

Finally, if you are in the business of selling by mail or if you are thinking about it, the Mail Order Rule (401L, 50 cents) tells you the legal requirements you must meet and the obligations you have to your mail order customers.

All of these books and many others are listed in the free Consumer Information Catalog available from Pueblo, Colorado 81009. Bulk quantities of the Catalog are available free to educators, libraries, and non-profit groups.

Begin School Year With Lesson In Bicycle Safety

Parents with children starting school for the first time this year should teach their youngsters a lesson in bicycle safety before the first school bell rings.

Last year in accidents involving cyclists, 67 persons were killed and 2,898 were injured in incidents reported to the Department of Public Safety.

To get your child off on the right foot this year, parents should make a practice run to school before it starts, according to Dan Sowards, Chief of the Hazardous Products Control Program with the Texas Department of Health. They can do the same thing with students who walk.

"Many first-time students will be riding bicycles and meeting heavy traffic," says Sowards. "Parents should go with them before school starts to find the best paths to follow. They should instruct the children on where to ride and how to meet dangerous situations at busy intersections, for example, bike riders should dismount and push their bicycles across the street."

Sowards said many parents purchase bicycles that are too large for their children, hoping they will "grow into them."

This is a dangerous practice, because the child may not be able to handle the bike. Sowards said a person should be able to straddle the bike with both feet flat on the ground, leaving no less than one inch between the crotch and the frame's top tube. Also, there should be at least three and a half inches of clearance between the bike's pedal and the front fender or tire to prevent a toe from getting caught between the frame and the front wheel. In addition, pedal clearance with the ground should be checked. Tilt the bicycle at about a 25-degree angle, recommends Sowards, and if a pedal touches the ground, the bicycle is unsafe.

Bicycle visibility is a must. It should be visible from every angle at night. It's a good idea to have a headlight and taillight on the bike, but in addition reflector strips should be placed on the spokes and pedals and the front and rear of the bicycle. Wearing reflectorized tape on clothing also will increase visibility.

It's also a good idea to road test a bike before buying it. That way the rider can get the feel of the bike and determine if the brakes work smoothly in providing quick, easy stops.

(For further information, contact Dan Sowards, Product Safety Program, Texas Department of Health, 1100 W. 49th St., Austin 78756. 512/458-7519.)

SKInformation

by Linda Allen Schoen

Is your liquid soap really a synthetic detergent? If it is, it may be fine for body cleansing, but not for facial care. Here's why:

A synthetic detergent leaves behind moisturizing oils to help smooth dry body skin. Unfortunately, this residue can irritate delicate, oily or acne prone facial skin.

A "real" liquid soap is formulated more like bar soap. It's better for facial care because it rinses more completely, leaving skin perfectly clean.

To tell the difference between a liquid synthetic detergent and a "real" liquid soap, read the label.

Synthetic detergents usually contain lauryl sulfates, while real liquid soaps are formulated with natural ingredients like tallow or cocoate. For the best of both worlds, select a synthetic detergent to efficiently cleanse and super-smooth dry body skin.

Since some are harsh, ask your cosmetician or dermatologist which are especially kind to skin. Many doctors recommend Rainbath Shower and Bath Gel by Neutrogena because it is mild enough to cleanse even the most sensitive skin.

For convenient, mild facial cleansing, choose a soap-based liquid that is pure and rinses completely.

Neutrogena will be introducing Liquid Neutrogena, an exceptionally mild facial cleansing liquid, in summer '83.

Derive maximum benefits from the new liquid cleansers. Choose the proper formulation for either facial or body care.

ROBERT STEED

NATHAN FRIERSON

SCS Has Two New Employees

Robert Steed and Nathan Frierson have assumed positions with the Soil Conservation Service in Haskell. Steed is a 1983 graduate of Texas Tech with a degree in Range Management. He began a career with the SCS in 1980 where he worked as a student trainee at San Marcos. He then worked in Iowa Park in 1981 and Midland in 1982 before completing the student trainee program.

Raised on a ranch near Electra and having worked three summers, Robert has gained much experience that he will utilize in working with producers in the Haskell SWCD.

Nathan Frierson received his degree in Agricultural Economics from Texas A&M in 1983 and started his career in August with the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District. Nathan is working for the Haskell SWCD under a new program, funded through the Texas State Legislature. He will assist local producers in the planning and installation of conservation practices, along with working for the Haskell board of directors in carrying out their program and plan of work. Frierson is the son of David and Janette Frierson.

Robert and Nathan join the existing SCS staff in providing assistance to local producers in solving complex conservation problems. Welcome both Robert and Nathan to Haskell.

HARRY KOEHLER — JIM HUDSON

Harry G. Koehler just completed 25 years service with the Soil Conservation Service as a Soil Conservation Technician in Haskell. 23 of these years have been here in Haskell county assisting local producers install conservation practices on their lands that have in some cases saved many farms from being lost. Harry has seen the conservation trends change from level standard terraces to the new more widely used graded parallels and from closed ends on terraces to the increased use of grassed waterways as outlets for these terraces.

Conservation of our natural resources, like other areas of farming and ranching, changes daily and Harry has been a strong link in the chain of conservation practices applied in the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District. Locally about 32 million feet of terraces have been constructed in the District with most of these being a result of Harry's field work. Koehler began his career in 1957 with the ASCS as a field reporter before transferring to the SCS in 1958 as a Soil Conservation Aide. He advanced his career with the SCS when he moved to Haskell in 1959. While in Haskell he has received four Certificates of Merit for his outstanding performance.

Pre-Civil War politics detailed in new book

Fresh appraisals of the turbulent two decades preceding the Civil War are presented in a new book just published by the Texas A&M University Press. "Essays on American Antebellum Politics, 1840-1860" offers six original essays dealing with the centrality of the party system in the era's politics and the importance of ethnic and cultural issues on the conflict. Edited by University of Texas at Arlington history professors Stephen Maizlish and John Kushma, the book contains 230 pages and sells for $19.50.

Texas A&M To Add Computer System

With an eye on the future and a vision of developing a statewide computer network for instantaneous information dissemination, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System has added a computer applications leader to its staff.

Dr. Eugene B. Smith has been assigned the task of developing a computer system that will provide needed information for farmers and ranchers as well as agribusinesses and consumers at the stroke of a key.

While the Extension Service has been involved in the computer movement for some time, Smith's appointment is designed to bring about a more coordinated effort in the area of data processing and information management to support the state agency's overall educational programs.

"The primary objective of our computer program is to enhance the ability of the Extension Service to provide computer-oriented training and applications support to the people of Texas," said Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, Extension Service director. "Initial pilot projects will result in the installation of microcomputers for training and general assistance in selected Extension district and county offices. A long-term plan will be developed to guide our growth for the next four to six years."

"Dr. Smith will give leadership to our total computer operations," Carpenter said, "and will work with various staff members already involved in the development, distribution and management of Extension computer applications."

The Extension Service is currently using computers to assist farmers and ranchers in budgeting and various management operations, to develop models for monitoring insect situations, and to handle the host of other operations.

Prior to joining the Extension Service, Smith was a program analyst with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service at Beltsville, Md. Before that he was a staff officer for management with USDA's Science and Education Administration at the same location. He also was an associate professor in Texas A&M's College of Business Administration for a number of years as well as information science coordinator for Texas A&M's vice president for programs. In addition, Smith taught computer science at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston for several years and was president of Automated Information Systems of Bryan.

A native of Nederland, Smith holds a B.S. degree in industrial engineering, an M.S. in computer science and a Ph.D. in interdisciplinary engineering, all from Texas A&M.

He is a registered professional engineer and a member of the Data Processing Management Association and the Association for Computing Machinery.

Texas Farmers Take Direct Sales Proposal To Mexico

Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower returned from a four-day trip to Mexico City last Thursday night "greatly encouraged" about the possibility of arranging agricultural sales direct from Texas farmers to Mexico.

Accompanied on the trip by Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller and Department of Agriculture international marketing personnel, Hightower met with the Mexican undersecretary of agriculture, the secretary of commerce, the director general of CONASUPO (the national export/import agency), the secretary of agriculture economy, the secretary of agriculture reform, the director general of Industrial de Abastos, a United Nations delegation on food, the president of the Mexican Farm Organization Federation, a representative of the American Soybean Association, and the American ambassador to Mexico.

"I believe we laid the groundwork for a long-term relationship that will benefit both Texas farmers and Mexico," Hightower said. "I fully expect that we will be able to arrange some sales in which, by cutting out the big middlemen, our farmers will get a higher price and Mexico will pay a lower price. It may take some time, but their response was very positive.

"The single best thing that could happen to the farmers of Texas is for Mexico to have a healthier economy," Hightower said, pointing out that, in the last year, purchases of Texas agricultural products by Mexico has declined by half.

Hightower said TDA would immediately submit to CONASUPO officials a proposal outlining how such direct sales might be handled.

TAX PLANNING

Written by
James E. Rodgers, CPA

NOT JUST NUMBERS (Estate Planning)

The term estate planning has been used and misused so often that the average person must wonder what it really means.

Of prime concern in estate planning, which by the way should more properly be called family financial planning, are the dollar considerations for income tax, gift tax, and estate tax.

A family financial plan should provide for maximizing the return on your investments, splitting the income among family members for the optimum income tax savings, planning family transfers during life to reduce the size of your taxable estate, and drafting your will to minimize estate taxes and administration problems. These dollar considerations should all be planned to suit your personal wishes.

Equally important to any family planning is reducing the mental burden on survivors. Locating documents, identifying assets and debts, dealing with attorneys, accountants, bankers, insurance companies, etc. can be very uncomfortable for a grief-stricken spouse. The burden seems to be especially hard on older people.

If the business manager in the household dies leaving a survivor to straighten out muddled affairs, the grief the survivor is experiencing will be greater.

It seems appropriate that a list of your assets and debts, your insurance policies and the whereabouts of various documents should be prepared and reviewed annually with your next of kin. Review you will to determine that changes in assets and changes in status of family members are properly presented.

Involved your accountant and attorney in all major transactions and provide them with a summary of your annual review.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

Dear Editor:

Many of us in the legislature are aware of the excessive burden caused by ever increasing local property taxes and are attempting to provide relief to residential homeowners through reform legislation. We have proposed a significant relief measure called Proposition Zero.

Unlike other proposals to enhance education funding, Proposition Zero seeks to greatly reduce the school tax burden on homeowners and generate millions of additional dollars for Texas school children.

Specifically, our proposal will exempt personal automobiles and the first $100,000 of value of residences from school operation and maintenance taxes, and replace the revenue with a 1-cent state sales tax.

Recognizing the local tax base funding problem, other states, such as Missouri, Vermont and Nevada, have provided significant relief to their homeowners through the sales tax.

Proposition Zero will be introduced in the next legislative session. We are currently refining the proposal and quantifying the effects that Proposition Zero will have on specific school districts to ensure equity to every district and its taxpayers.

We invite all citizens to write or call our legislative offices with their comments and inquiries on Proposition Zero.

Elbert Johnson Receives PhD

by Wanda Dulaney, Mgr. Chamber of Commerce

When a person earns the highest academic degree, he deserves special recognition. Most people are only too happy and flaunt their achievements; a few are content with merely personal satisfaction.

Elbert Johnson is one such man. Doctor Elbert Johnson, that is.

He received his doctorate on April 4, 1983 from the American National University of Phoenix. Most of his friends and other associates have yet to hear about it. Everyone shared, for this is a story of quiet determination toward a very private goal. It took a long time and a lot of work and a few detours along the way.

He earned his Master's Degree in November of 1982 from the same University and has a B.S. degree from Texas Tech University in Education plus a B.S. degree in Pharmacy from the University of Texas. He also attended Texas A&M and Southwestern State University at San Marcos.

What possesses a man to pursue such knowledge? What drives him? What motivates him?

It all began when he worked in a drug store while attending Texas Tech. He especially liked helping in the pharmacy. But there was something he liked even more - being a coach. Football was his first love. In 1953, he coached at Muleshoe; in 1954-55 at Belton; 1956-60 at Bryan High School. Prior to that he played professional football 1951-52 with the Chicago Cardinals and in Canada.

Stationed in San Francisco, San Diego and on an aircraft carrier, he was a captain's orderly in the Marine Corps from 1944-46.

As much as football meant to him, after coaching eight years, and attaining a family, it became a matter of economics to choose another vocation and he had no doubt that the right choice was that of a pharmacist.

Born and reared in Temple, he married Franciene Johnson, now Mayor of the City of Haskell. They are the parents of Gary Johnson, a highway patrolman at Aspermont and Gerrell Johnson, who works in the pharmacy at St. Joseph Hospital in Fort Worth. Son Gary and his wife, expect to give Elbert and Franciene a very special Christmas present - their first grandchild, due in December.

The Johnsons moved to Haskell in 1966 from Sweetwater where Elbert worked in a drug store. He wanted to buy his own place of business and put out the word that he desired a place with a population of less than 5,000 so his sons would be in a AA District. Three places were considered: Glenrose, Burnett and Haskell.

Haskell was lucky.

He is not only an excellent pharmacist but a good citizen who finds the time to devote to benefit the people in his town.

He is a past president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce; an active member of the Kiwanis Club and one of its former directors; past president of the Haskell County Red Cross, a coach for four years in Little League, with Ed Hester and Jack McAdoo, he started a Haskell Scout Troop and now is a sponsor of one through the Kiwanis Club. He has continued to be a supporter of school sports. The Johnsons attend the First Baptist Church where he has also been vice president of the Business Men's Bible Class.

Among the professional organizations with which he is associated are: the National Association of Retail Druggists, American Pharmaceutical, Texas Pharmaceutical, and Big Country Pharmaceutical Association. Such memberships require his presence at a National Convention of each one, each year, held across the nation.

What do all the framed certificates mean that line his walls?

"Nothing, to anyone but me," he says, "they don't make me more money, but they represent the realization of personal goals."

While others watched television all those years, Elbert has studied. He likes to study. So he asked himself, "Why not shoot for a PHD?"

At long last, he has earned the title of Doctor, but he'd probably just as soon continue to be called by his first name.

You will allow us to be proud, won't you, Elbert?

Pool To Close

National Hunting & Fishing Day Set Sept. 24

The importance of conserving America's natural and wildlife resources will be the focus of this year's National Hunting and Fishing Day (NHF Day) scheduled for celebration on September 24. This program was initiated 12 years ago by the National Shooting Sports Foundation.

Each year, a day is designated to introduce the non-hunting and non-fishing public to the benefits of these sports as conservation tools. This year's theme, "A Day for a Lifetime" reflects this objective.

More than 40 of the country's leading conservation organizations will sponsor some 2,500 activities nationwide. Nearly 10% of these activities will be sponsored by the National Rifle Association's state and local club affiliates. Locations for NRA activities will include shopping centers and malls, town parks, county fairgrounds, and shooting clubs. Educational displays, shooting instruction, and reloading will be some of the activities offered.

There are currently more than 20 million hunters in the United States. NHF Day activities provide an opportunity for these experienced hunters to provide educational exposure to the shooting sports for both youngsters and adults alike. Nearly 14 million individuals are anticipated to participate in a local NHF Day activity.

For further information on an NRA NHF Day activity in your area, contact your local NRA affiliated club. For additional information on planning a local NRA NHF Day in your area, contact NRA's Hunter Services Division at (202) 828-6249 or NRA's Field Services Division at (202) 828-6120.

Plans have been completed for the 1st Annual Stephens County Invitational Registered All Breed Bull Sale. The sale will be held Thursday, October 13, 1983 at the Stephens County Agricultural Center, Breckenridge.

The sale will include 85 bulls from 7 breeds coming from some of the best herds in this part of the state. The bulls will be from 18 to 42 months of age, fertility tested and will have health papers for interstate shipment.

This is an excellent opportunity for the registered breeder, and the commercial cowman as well, to obtain high quality bulls to improve their breeding program.

Activities will include evaluation for breed champion on October 12th. On October 13th educational exhibits will be provided by Texas Animal Health Commission, Texas Department of Agriculture, and breed associations. These individuals will man their booths beginning at 8:00 a.m. and the sale will begin at 1:00 p.m. The Breckenridge Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will have the concession stand and a barbecue lunch will be catered.

Lewis Ranches Win Texas Ranch Roundup

For the second time in the three-year history of the event, the Lewis Ranches of Clarendon have won the Texas Ranch Roundup, which closed in Wichita Falls Saturday night after two days of competition.

The Lewis Ranches bested 13 other legend-laden ranches, including the defending champion Moorhouse Ranch Co., to take top honors at the roundup.

The event which highlights working ranch skills was sponsored by Budweiser and the North Texas Rehabilitation Center to benefit NTRC and two other Texas social service agencies.

The team from Cowan and Son Circle Bar Ranch of Seymour finished in second place, followed by the Renderbrook Spade Ranch of Colorado City in third. The W.T. Waggoner Estate, Vernon, and the Pitchfork Land and Cattle Company, Guthrie, rounded out the top five.

Sam Whitley, 65, foreman for the U Lazy S of Post, was named Top Hand by his fellow competitors, while Betsy Bellah of the R.A. Brown Ranch, Throckmorton, was selected 1983 Ranch Roundup Queen.

The W.T. Waggoner Estate captured first place in the ranch cook-off and additional points towards the overall title with a plate of chili, cowboy beans and brisket.

Points were also awarded to ranches winning the talent competition. The Pitchfork took top honors in the painting/photography category with photos by Bob Moorhouse, while the silvercraft of Robert Gilmore won first place in the crafts division for the W.T. Waggoner Estate. Teammate and fiddle player Troy Evanson also won points for the Waggoner spread by placing first in the music category.

The Lewis win was paced by strong showings in the saddle bronc competition, won Saturday by Rickey Lowe, 30, a ranch camper. Lowe thrilled the crowd by hanging on to a wildly bucking bronc, only to be tossed off end-over-end just as the qualifying whistle sounded. During the Friday events, the Lewis Ranches placed among the top four in all six of the contest's rodeo events.

Lewis Ranches captain Bob Boston credited the simple desire to have a good time with the win. "As defending champions last year, we thought we had a good chance," Boston said. "But we tried too hard. We did much better this year when we just relaxed and got out there to have fun."

Lyng Announced 1984 Wheat Program Provisions & Signup Period

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng today announced provisions of the 1984 wheat program and set the signup period from Jan. 16 through Feb. 24.

Lyng said because Congress took no legislative action on a proposed freeze in the wheat target price before its summer adjournment, he is now putting into effect provisional measures previously announced on July 29. The U.S. Department of Agriculture is required by law to announce the wheat program for the following year no later than Aug. 15.

The 1984 wheat program includes:

- *A $4.45 per bushel target price.
- *A $3.30 per bushel national average loan rate.
- *An acreage reduction requirement of 30 percent.
- *No advance deficiency payments.
- *To be eligible for program benefits, producers must limit 1984 wheat planted acreage to no more than 70 percent of the farm's wheat base and devote to conservation use an acreage of eligible cropland equal to 42.86 percent of the 1984 planted and payment-in-kind (PIK) acreage.

*The 1984 acreage base will be the average of the acreage planted and considered planted to wheat in 1982 and 1983.

*Farmers participating in the acreage reduction program may divert an additional 10 to 20 percent of their wheat base and receive payment-in-kind equal to 75 percent of the established yield times the acres diverted.

*PIK program participants will not receive wheat from Commodity Credit Corporation stocks. Producers signing up in the PIK program will agree first to use their outstanding reserve or regular CCC price support loans. Producers with no outstanding loans agree to harvest for PIK. Those producers with no outstanding loans and who are unable to harvest for PIK will not receive a PIK payment.

*Land designated for conservation use must have been devoted to row crops or small grains in two of the last three years except for a summer fallow farm. Under summer fallow rules the land must be acreage that would have been planted to small grains or row crops in 1984 in the absence of the 1984 wheat program.

*Haying will not be permitted on the conservation use acreage. However, the acreage may be grazed except during the six principal growing months.

*Offsetting and cross compliance will not apply to the 1984 program.

*There will be no immediate entry into the farmer owned reserve for the 1984 crop of wheat. Further, USDA intends to review the size of the reserve before regular price support loans for the 1984 crop reach maturity. A ceiling may be placed on the size of the wheat reserve at that time which will effectively preclude entry of the 1984 crop into the reserve.

*Contracts signed by program participants for either the acreage reduction or PIK program will be considered as binding and will provide for liquidated damages for failure to comply with program requirements.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

I would like to discuss the expenditure portion of the 1983-84 budget as we continue our report on the budget. The largest part of our budget is the instruction as it should be. The most important things that happen in the school must be in the classroom. The instruction portion of the budget deals with expenditures in that specific area. We are estimating payroll costs (salaries of teachers and instructional aides) at $837,000. This includes the salaries of Chapter I teachers and aides. This figure also includes substitute pay, workmen's compensation and unemployment.

The second category of instruction is contracted services such as repair to instructional equipment, our portion of the M and O to the Haskell-Knox Consortium and our fee to the Region XIV Service Center for services rendered. The total of contracted services is estimated at $17,450.

The supplies and materials for instruction include gas for driver's education, Class A-V supplies, classroom magazines, extra textbooks, consumable supplies such as workbooks, supplies for gifted and talented, music supplies, ditto paper, and other consumable supplies. The supplies category also includes non-consumables such as science equipment, ag equipment, etc. The supplies and materials are estimated at $26,400.

The other operating expenses for instruction includes travel for teachers, insurance, driver's education, etc. comes to $900.

The capital outlay portion of the instruction category includes projected kindergarten furniture, sound systems, band equipment and the possibility of some computers for the secondary school. The total here is estimated at approximately $19,000. The instructional portion of the budget is estimated at $905,000 of the total estimated budget of $1,589,900 or approximately 57% of the total budget. We feel this a realistic portion of the budget devoted to the instructional or classroom portion of the budget. We will continue the review of the budget next week.

Chisholm Trail Council Sets Enrollment Goal

The Chisholm Trail Council has set a goal of 1283 new youth members and 400 new adults to be enrolled this fall in the 9 1/2 county area.

Dr. Dale Brannon, Council President, said this is a very challenging goal considering the large membership growth (over 12%) this past year.

By age groups and programs the goals for growth are as follows:

GROUP	PRESENT MEMBERSHIP	DEC. 15 GOAL
Tiger Cubs (7 year old boys)	166	176
Cub Scouts (8-10 year old boys)	1110	1933
Boy Scouts (11 to 17 year old boys)	763	1069
Explorers (High School boys & girls)	174	257
TOTAL	2213	3435

The largest growth will be achieved by adding new members to the existing units which number 112. These include 51 Cub Packs, 46 Boy Scout Troops, and 15 Explorer Posts. Each unit has a goal for new members and is recognized for the achievement of the goal.

In addition to this minimum of 12 new units will be needed. A "Together Plan" to organize new Boy Scout Troops is headed by Dr. Elwin Skiles with emphasis on sponsorship by churches.

The objective of all the programs of the Boy Scouts of America is aimed at character building, citizenship training, and physical & mental fitness. Sponsors of units own and control their units and receive help from the local Council to achieve their objectives.

Stenholm To Confer With Sec. Block

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford) will take farmers' and ranchers' drought concerns to a meeting with Secretary of Agriculture John Block and other state and national officials September 2.

"The situation is critical and not getting better," Stenholm said. "Our West Texas stockmen and farmers face devastating losses from Mother Nature on top of the shocks and jolts they've received from poor market conditions in the recent past."

Stenholm will meet with Secretary Block, other members of Congress and governors from states affected by the current severe drought. After the meeting, to be held in Chicago, the Secretary will report to President Reagan on the effects of the drought and what can be done about it.

"We have been talking with county officials in the areas where drought damage has been heaviest," Stenholm said. "They have given us up-to-date reports on the situation in their own counties. The picture they paint is not a pretty one, as I know from walking the dry fields and pastures."

"But they also have very definite and concrete ideas to help the situation," he continued.

"Their suggestions — about CCC-stored grain, about further changes in regulations on PIK acreage, and so on — will be what I will take to Secretary Block."

Stenholm said that while the recent declaration of several counties as disaster areas eligible for emergency loans has helped some, there is a need for further action.

"I anticipate that other counties of the 17th District may become eligible for emergency loan assistance," he said, "and emergency crop loans will be needed as well."

"More can be done, and more needs to be done," Stenholm said.

Clyde Thomas Receives Silver Beaver Award

Clyde D. Thomas of Pasadena, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas of Haskell, has done his best to fulfill the Boy Scout promise. He's devoted 22 years to doing his best and his duty to God and this country, helping other people at all times and keeping himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. That's why he has received the highest award presented to a Scout volunteer.

On May 10, Thomas received the Silver Beaver award at a ceremony at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston. This was given to him by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America. The distinguished award is bestowed upon persons who have given continued, unselfish and effective service through the Boy Scouts program. Thomas was nominated by his Scouting peers and was recommended by the Sam Houston Area Council.

Thomas has lived in Pasadena for nearly 30 years, and 22 of these years he has been either a Scoutmaster or an Assistant Scoutmaster for several troops. Presently, and for the last 14 years, Thomas is Scoutmaster for Troop 261, which is sponsored by the Methodist Men's Club of First United Methodist Church on South Shaver. And Thomas is a firm believer in the Scout program. "Scouting offers the opportunity for boys to be outdoors and to be in nature and to understand that God created this for us to enjoy. Scouting upholds high ideas, the kinds of ideas I like," he says.

Although he was a Boy Scout in his youth, he didn't become active as an adult until his oldest son, Steve, now 29, became involved. He said that his years in scouting have been beneficial to him but he hopes it helped the boys more.

His Scouting career began in the Paint Creek Community as a member of Gene Overton's Troop.

"Scouting helps me keep a good perspective on life. And I enjoy working with the boys. It's great to have been in it this long because I can see the boys who have become really fine adults and good citizens in this community," he continues.

Thomas said that he feels his primary job as a Scoutmaster is to teach the boys how to become leaders. "I try hard and I enjoy watching boys become leaders and develop into young men. The Boy Scouts builds character," he stresses.

The average age of Thomas's troop is 14.

Although he is 49, he has to keep up the pace as he canoes, hikes, swims and camps out with the boys.

On a campout each scout is required to cook a meal without using utensils. He says he enjoys teaching the boys how to cook on an outdoor fire, but "sometimes I have to have a pretty strong stomach," he laughs.

Thomas is a managing partner of Longenecker and Thomas, Certified Public Accountants. He has been active in the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, Downtown Lions Club, Rotary Club, American Cancer Society and First United Methodist Church. He is a board member on the Harris County Department of Education and was named the Outstanding Citizen of Pasadena for 1981.

He says one thing that has motivated him to be involved is that all of his activities relate to his family and church. He attributes all of the honors he has received to his wife, Anne. "She makes it all possible," he says.

Both of their sons, Steve and Andrew, are Eagle Scouts. This is the highest rank a Boy Scout can receive. Steve is now an Assistant Scoutmaster in Pasadena.

And Thomas is not quitting the Boy Scouts yet. "I don't have any plans to retire any time in the near future. As long as I enjoy it and am doing some good for the boys, I'll continue," he concludes.

GRADUATE
Rosa Martinez of Haskell was one of 11 students graduating from the Western Texas College Vocational Nursing course on Aug. 26. The graduation ceremonies were held in the Trinity United Methodist Church and the students were honored at a reception in the fellowship hall there following the program.

New Three-Zone System May Cause Confusion For Hunters

Texas dove hunters who may be unsure about the new three-zone hunting alignment in the state are urged by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to obtain a map showing the dove hunting zones when they purchase their 1983-84 hunting licenses.

The licenses, zone maps and hunting regulation guides are now available at department offices and most hunting license outlets across the state.

The three-zone system utilizes highways rather than county lines for zone delineation.

Most of the confusion about this year's seasons involves the Rio Grande Zone, which is divided into two portions. During the special white-winged dove season in the Rio Grande Zone, hunting for both mourning and white-winged doves will be allowed Sept. 3-4 and 10-11.

In the western portion, designated the "Special White-winged Dove Area," the daily bag limit during the whitewing season will be 10 whitewings and 12 mourning doves. Shooting hours will be noon to sunset. In the remainder of the Rio Grande Zone, however, the daily bag limit will be two whitewings and 12 mourning doves, for a total of 14 birds. Shooting hours will be noon to sunset during the first two weekends.

During the mourning dove season Sept. 17-Nov. 5, 1983, and Jan. 7-22, 1984, the daily limit in the entire Rio Grande Zone will be 12 doves, not to include more than two whitewings. Shooting hours will be 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset.

The Central Zone season will be Sept. 1-Oct. 30 and Jan. 7-16. Bag limit will be 12 per day, not to include more than two whitewings. Shooting hours will be 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset. The Panhandle Zone season is Sept. 1-Nov. 9, with the same daily limit and shooting hours as the Central Zone.

Officials remind hunters the law requires that anyone hunting white-winged doves in any zone must have a $6 white-winged dove stamp. Also, in the entire Rio Grande Zone, one fully-feathered wing must remain attached to the carcass of every dove taken by hunters, while the bird is being transported between the place taken and one's abode or a commercial processing facility.

Hunters also are advised that the sanctuary system for whitewings still is in effect in certain narrow tracts along the Rio Grande. To determine which areas are closed this season, hunters should check the map which is on the back of the dove zone map.

Officials also point out that in the Lower Rio Grande Valley there are seven species of doves and pigeons, and only two — mourning and white-winged doves — are legal game. Hunters should be sure of their target before shooting.

Dove Program Leader Ron George said protected white-fronted doves appear to be on the increase in South Texas. These birds could be mistaken for oversized mourning doves. "Their larger size and usual habit of flying low can help the hunter distinguish them," said George.

To help identify the various species, hunters in the South Texas region should obtain a dove identification sheet, available at department offices and hunting license outlets.

Record Number Of Calves Vaccinated For Brucellosis

About one million calves will have been vaccinated this fiscal year in Texas for brucellosis control, according to estimates from the Texas Animal Health Commission.

"Our fiscal year ends Aug. 31, and it appears that we will have about a million calves vaccinated. In fact, we might even surpass the million mark by a few thousand head," Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, said.

Estimates thus far indicate 996,650 calves will have been vaccinated by Aug. 31. Whatever the final figure, this will be the highest number of calves ever vaccinated in a year in Texas for brucellosis.

Last year, there were 877,637 calves vaccinated. That represented 33 percent of all eligible calves vaccinated. Final figures for this fiscal year should be available around Sept. 15.

"We have seen a steady increase in the number of calves vaccinated in Texas during the past few years. In 1980, for example, there were 557,788 calves vaccinated. Our estimate for this fiscal year will be approximately double that of just three years ago," Dr. Holcombe said.

"We are encouraged to see this response in vaccination from producers statewide. Vaccination is a key element of the Texas brucellosis program. We hope and expect this trend will continue as more producers learn about the value of vaccination," Dr. Holcombe said.

He listed these advantages: a vaccinated animal can move more freely; vaccinated cattle are worth more; vaccination provides protection against brucellosis.

Regulations of the Texas brucellosis program are written to provide for freer movement of a vaccinated animal versus a non-vaccinate.

Recommended ages for vaccination are 4 to 12 months of age for all breeds.

Hunting Licenses Now Available At Retail Outlets

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials have announced that 1983-84 hunting fishing licenses are available at department offices and retail outlets across the state.

All Texas hunting and fishing licenses expire on Aug. 31 each year.

Resident hunting and resident fishing licenses are priced at $8 each, and the resident combination hunting/fishing license is $12.

Officials said the new hunting and fishing regulations guides also will be available at that time, including a map of the state's new three-zone alignment for dove hunting.

However, hunting regulations for 65 counties have not been adopted, and will not be included in the hunting regulations guide. The Parks and Wildlife Commission will adopt regulations for those counties on Aug. 31, and a supplement with the new regulations will be distributed during Sept.

A supplement also will be distributed during September containing regulations for migratory waterfowl seasons.

Bobby Parrott Named Local WTRC Chairman For Cattlemen's Roundup

Area chairmen have been appointed for the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, according to Jim Alexander, general chairman. The Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center with campuses in Abilene and San Angelo, stated Shelley V. Smith, WTRC president/executive director.

Bobby Parrott has been appointed chairman for Haskell.

"Livestock donated by ranchmen are collected at a designated point in each community and transported free to the auction site," Alexander explained. "The area chairman's role is to make a personal pledge, then ask friends and neighbors to join them in the annual CRCC drive."

Sales of livestock are converted to dollars and the amount provides care for about 11,000 handicapped persons throughout the South west at Rehab campuses.

Scheduled sales include the Cattle Sale at Abilene Auction, September 26; Abilene Horse Sale, October 1; Junction Sheep and Goat sale, October 3; Coleman sale, October 5; and Brownwood sale, November 2.

Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo is CRCC co-chairman for the Southwest region. Midwest Feedyards in San Angelo serves as the regional collection point.

CRCC is now 23 years old. The idea began in Bronte on the late Conda Wylie's Fort Chadbourne Ranch. He came to Smith with the suggestion that 20 top steers be cut from his herd and sold to help defray operational expenses at WTRC.

The results speak for themselves. Today WTRC reaches out to all handicapped in the Southwest. With a goal for treating the whole patient rather than just the handicap, services offered include physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, social services, psychology, orthotics, diagnostic services, education programs, adaptive equipment shops, audiology, medical clinics, genetics counseling, and transportation.

Safety Urged During Labor Day

Driving defensively and using safety belts, as well as child safety seats, will be critical during the upcoming Labor Day Weekend, according to George R. Gustafson, Executive Vice President of the Texas Safety Association.

Fifty-seven persons lost their lives as a result of traffic accidents occurring on Texas highways and roadways during the long Labor Day Weekend in 1982, according to Department of Public Safety statistics.

"Being alert to hazardous driving conditions and the potential problems of the other motorists is especially important during peak holiday driving days," said Gustafson.

"Safety belts worn during accidents reduce the chances of death by 60%, yet the majority of Texans still do not use them," he said.

In June, Governor Mark White proclaimed the Summer of 1983 as "Make It Click-Drive Defensively Months" in recognition of the nonprofit associations, societies and councils; tax-supported governmental agencies; and private sector corporations which are supporting occupant protection.

This year McDonald's Corporation has joined with the National Safety Council in a nationwide safety belt campaign, according to Gustafson. The Texas Safety Association and the Governor's Task Force on Traffic Safety are engaged in a public service campaign to increase voluntary usage of safety belts, he said.

"The efforts of many private and public sector organizations can make citizens aware of the need to use their safety belts and child safety seats. In final analysis, however, the individual motorist or caretaker of a young child must choose to buckle up," Gustafson said.

Former Athletes Complete Degrees During Off Season

COLLEGE STATION — The phrase "life after graduation" is taking on special meaning for about 30 former Texas A&M University athletes who are completing their college educations while pursuing careers in professional sports.

Athletes who did not earn a degree are being urged to return to the campus to complete their studies in the off season. The program is the idea of Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Jackie Sherrill who is stressing academics for all Texas A&M athletes.

"We have a commitment to all student-athletes and their families to provide them with the opportunity to succeed in the classroom as well as on the field. Encouraging them to complete their education is our way of helping them into a position to make a living and contribute to society," said Sherrill.

University officials point out, however, the success of the effort depends on the athletes themselves. Working on a degree while participating in college athletics is demanding enough, but the demands are even greater if the athlete is trying to make it in the pros, admit Texas A&M officials.

Texas A&M receives over $2.7 million from former students

COLLEGE STATION — A record $2.7 million was given to Texas A&M University by its Association of Former Students last year in annual fund gifts from more than 30,000 contributors, announced Jack G. Fritts, who headed the Texas A&M alumni association in 1982.

Fritts said unrestricted funds totaling $2,620,000 represent a new all-time record for giving through the alumni organization. The remaining $123,267 was restricted to specific Texas A&M programs and wishes of the donors, he explained.

"Texas A&M is the envy of my colleagues throughout the nation and it is precisely for this reason," said University President Dr. Frank E. Vandiver. "The substantial support of our former students enables us to become involved in projects that other institutions only dream about. It is this support that has always placed Texas A&M a cut above the rest."

Texas A&M's 110,000 member alumni association has in recent years ranked among the leaders nationally in both per-capita and total giving.

A Series Of Informative "Plain Talk" Thoughts Regarding Your Money Matters

Farm Credit

Here are a few tips you may find helpful in securing credit for your farm operation.

Take an annual inventory and file a summary of what you own and what you owe. We'd be happy to assist you in any way we can in compiling the necessary information. A financial statement that's accurate and well prepared is an invaluable credit tool.

In addition to a financial statement, an operating statement is also needed. The operating statement is simply a record of your farm's receipts and expenses. The operating statement shows your ability to repay a loan. The more information we have, the easier it is to take the hassle out of farm credit.
