

RECEIVES DIPLOMA

Rick Garris, Allsup's instructor, awards the Assistant Manager's Diploma to Sharon Kay Enriquez (left) for successfully completing Allsup's Assistant Managers' Training Course. Enriquez returns to 1000 N. Avenue E in Haskell to assume the duties of assistant manager. "Our goal is to provide the best possible service to our customers," according to Garris. The course is required of all assistant managers and includes instruction in operational procedures, customer relations, and retail management systems. Classes are conducted at Allsup's Training Center in Clovis, New Mexico.

U.S. Business Recovery Is Strongest Ever

Reaganomics has been pushed off the front pages and the television evening news—right along with the news that the U.S. business recovery is one of the strongest on record.

While the economy is still not out of the woods, signs are growing that it may succeed where past recoveries have failed: achieving full recovery without reigniting high rates of inflation. Much will depend on whether President Reagan's economic policies, particularly his program of tax and spending cuts—nicknamed Reaganomics and blamed for the recession—can run their full course and what mischief Congress, which is all fired up over budget deficits, creates for the economy.

Its biggest mistake, of course, would be to attempt to solve the budget problems by raising taxes.

In its latest economic analysis, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and its chief economist, Dr. Richard W. Rahn, declare: "Reaganomics is working!"

"Much of the credit for our current economic strength should go to the original economic game plan, which this year is being put into play to a greater extent than ever," says Dr. Rahn. "The plan called for reduction in taxes, outlays and regulation, along with a moderate and stable monetary growth."

Here is what's been happening: *U.S. output for the first six months of 1983 grew by 2.9 percent, compared to an average growth of 2.4 percent in the five last business comebacks.

*With 300,000 new workers employed in July, U.S. payrolls have added 2.5 million workers since the first of the year, an unprecedented increase for the beginning of a recovery. The gain is approximately double that of the comparable period following the 1974 recession.

*Inflation. For 1983, inflation is expected to average 3.3 percent, a far cry from the double-digit rates before the Reagan economic plan was put into place. Although prices may rise 5 percent in 1984 and 1985, the decline in inflation remains a great success story.

What about federal spending and taxes, which together helped push the nation into an economic slump?

That's the bad news. Despite a series of three reductions in individual income tax rates and unprecedented curbs on spending growth—not cuts in spending, which are out of the question—here is the sad story:

*Taxes still eat up 19 percent of the Gross National Product (GNP), all we produce in goods and services.

*Spending has skyrocketed to 25 percent of GNP.

The best that can be said is that neither taxes nor spending is as great as it would be without Reaganomics. And that's good news.

Paint Creek Pirates Lose Battle To Hermleigh

The Paint Creek Pirates lost a close battle with Hermleigh Friday night, 65-53, as the offense rolled up an impressive 604 yards and 8 TD's. Keith Medford lead the offense with 197 yds rushing and 213 yds passing. Medford had 2 TD runs of 8 yds and threw four TD passes, two to Jamie Braly, one to Ronald Campbell, and one to Mikael Gonzales. Mikael Gonzales ran in a four yd TD and passed 20 yds to Lewis Lacy for another TD. Rob Mickler caught two passes for 74 yds. Medford won the Offensive Pirate of the Week Award.

The only bright spots in the Pirate defense were the fumbles recovered by Mikael

Gonzales and Blake Liles and a pass interception by Keith Medford.

Paint Creek JV plays Newcastle JV Thursday night at 7:30 at Paint Creek. The junior high plays Grady Friday night at 7:00 p.m. at Paint Creek.

Veterans Should Study Amendments

On November 8, 1983, General Election Day in Texas, there will be some items of interest to all veterans and their families. One of the constitutional amendments to be voted on at that time, according to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, will be the Veterans Housing Assistance Program enacted by the 1983 Session of the State Legislature.

The Veterans Housing Assistance Program, if approved by the voters of Texas, would help eligible veterans in obtaining financing for the purchase of homes. Under this law, an eligible veteran could receive a loan of $20,000 from the State of Texas, to be used as a down payment on a home purchase. This would enable the veteran to more easily obtain the most favorable financing available for home purchase. The loan would be repaid as a part of the home mortgage, with only one payment being made direct to the mortgage holder. The law provides for the mortgage holder to make remittances to the Veterans Land Board to liquidate the State loan.

All veterans residing in Texas should be aware of the issues that will be contained in the November 8 ballot, and be prepared to cast their votes as they see fit. In order to vote in Texas, persons must have a valid voter registration card, obtainable from the local County Tax Assessor-Collector through formal application. Under State law, a person must be properly registered at least 30 days prior to the election date on which he or she desires to vote. All veterans, and members of their families, who are not yet registered to vote, must do so prior to October 8 in order to vote in the November 8 election.

Bradshaw Elected To Who's Who

Dro. John P. Newport, Vice Pres. for Academic Affairs, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth, presented Rev. David L. Bradshaw, a student at the Seminary, a Certificate indicating his election to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Rev. Bradshaw was 1 of 52 of the 4000 students in the Seminary so elected. He is pastor of the First Baptist Church, Slidell.

Deposit Social Security Checks By Direct Deposit

People in this area who receive Social Security checks can easily arrange to have them deposited directly into an account at any financial institution, Glyn Hammons, Social Security District manager in Abilene, said recently.

Direct deposit can be made to an account in a bank, savings bank, savings and loan association or similar institution, or Federal or State chartered credit union.

Having checks deposited directly into an account has several advantages, Hammons said. They include: *The person does not have to stand in line to cash or deposit the check.

*Money is immediately available if the person is away from home. *No check cashing problems. *No chance of a check being stolen.

To arrange for direct deposit, a person should contact the financial institution and ask for direct deposit form SF-1199. Completing the form only authorizes deposits, it does not authorize withdrawals from an account.

People considering direct deposit should ask the financial institution how it will handle direct deposit and whether there will be any charge for the service.

Once a person has his or her check deposited directly, he or she should continue to notify Social Security of any change in address or other event which may affect receipt of checks. This is important since Social Security needs a person's correct address so that notices can be sent properly.

For more information about direct deposit, get in touch with a financial institution or ask at the Abilene Social Security office, located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is 698-1360.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

The TASA-TASB dinner in Haskell on Tuesday, October 18 seemed to be a success. We had approximately 140 area board members and school administrators present. The Porthole catered an excellent meal. The Mayor, Franciene Johnson, and President of the Chamber of Commerce, Tom Watson, brought greetings from Haskell. The Home Ec girls made decorations and served tea and coffee. Entertainment was provided by The Brotherhood and Marcus Flanders.

The keynote speaker was Dr. Bill Kirby, Deputy Commissioner of the Texas Education Agency. Dr. Kirby is an excellent speaker who is extremely well informed. In fact, he left here Tuesday night for a meeting in Dallas with the staff of the Select Committee on Education often referred to by the media as the Perot Committee. We certainly appreciate this effort on his part. He definitely is interested in the viewpoint of rural West Texas. Dr. Kirby is making the effort to visit with us and see our needs and desires as education is undergoing the changes in process now.

Dr. Kirby talked about educational concerns. He discussed the changes occurring in the UIL. Some items of concern in this area include the number of courses required to pass in order to participate, school time missed in co-curricular activities, junior high athletics, redshirting junior high students, and the cost of co-curricular activities. Dr. Kirby spoke of the progress of the Perot Committee. He discussed the implementation of House Bill 246 (the curriculum bill) and caught us up to date of where we were in the process. He discussed the possibilities in school finance and the changes being implemented in special education. He also discussed briefly some possibilities of changes in the vocational programs.

I felt better about the condition of education after hearing Dr. Kirby. With the leadership of men of his ability and interest and Commissioner Bynum, I feel the changes made in education will be for the benefit of the students of Texas Public Schools. I for one, am glad Dr. Kirby came our way.

Junior High, JV Games Set

Last week the junior high and JV football games were called off due to bad weather. All three teams, seventh, eighth, and JV will travel to Knox City Thursday, Oct. 27.

The seventh grade game will start at 5 p.m. with the eighth following afterwards. The JV game will begin about 7:30 p.m.

Plan Group Activities For A Safe Halloween?

Group activity is the safest way for children to celebrate Halloween, according to George R. Gustafson, Executive Vice President of Texas Safety Association.

The threat to personal safety focused by the bizarre Tylenol-related deaths last fall caused many parents to seek for their children alternatives to the traditional house-to-house trick or treating. Although that particular scare has passed, the potential dangers of trick or treating, particularly in urban neighborhoods, have not vanished with last year's crisis, said Gustafson.

Providing the alternatives of structured and supervised activities such as parties is a wise effort, according to Gustafson.

Gustafson said that safety is not the only reason to choose a group activity. "Working parents can use Halloween as the focus for some high-quality family fun—the kind of time that you're always planning to spend, but keep postponing. A family party, with or without a few special friends, can create memories which will outlive the recollection of just another trick or treating expedition in the neighborhood," he said.

"If you do allow your children to go trick or tricking," he said, "make sure that they go in groups and have some adult supervision; remind them of basic pedestrian safety including using sidewalks; and instruct them not to eat any treats until you have examined them at home, discarding any unwrapped or loosely wrapped items and anything suspicious, as well as washing and cutting fruit."

Other basic Halloween tips include: make sure that costumes allow safe movement and masks do not obstruct vision or breathing; use a flashlight instead of a candle for jack-o'-lanterns; make sidewalks, driveways, and porches safe for guests by sweeping and clearing away obstructions; turn on the porch light; and drive with extraordinary care, according to Gustafson.

"In short, courtesy and caution can help make this Halloween a safe one."

Interim Rates Set For Oct. 22

West Texas Utilities Company has filed notice that it intends to put a major portion of its requested retail rate increase into effect October 22 on an interim basis.

The interim rates will reflect an annual increase of $18.8 million, a level about halfway between the Company's original request and the Public Utility Commission staff's recommendation. WTU asked for $26.5 million and the staff recommended $10.6 million.

Texas law allows a utility to place a rate increase into effect subject to refund 125 days after the original request is filed if the PUC and the cities have not taken final action by that date. A hearing on the WTU request was completed September 12 in Austin, but the final rate order from the Commission has not been issued.

"We had rather not place interim rates into effect," said G. Holman King, WTU vice president and director of corporate affairs, "but we have an urgent need for rate relief and cannot afford the revenue loss caused by waiting for final rate approval."

King said the interim rates will be subject to refund, and probably will create a certain amount of confusion when final rates are approved and adjustments are made.

The interim rates will result in an increase of about 7.5 percent to residential customers. A residence using 600 kilowatt-hours would be billed $49.56 under the interim rates and $46.11 under the present rates, a difference of $3.45. A customer using 1,000 kilowatt-hours would see his bill raised from $72.02 to $77.61, a difference of $5.59.

WTU originally had asked for the new rates to be effective July 16. The new rates are based on revenue requirements of a historical test year, which in this case was the year ended March 31, 1983.

WTU serves 82 incorporated communities. Of the incorporated towns, 28 have denied the rate increase and appealed to the PUC, 32 suspended the rate increase and 21 ceded jurisdiction to the PUC. The City of Vernon was not affected, as rates there are set by the City Council for both WTU and the municipal electric system.

Towns denying the rate increase were Alpine, Aspermont, Balmorhea, Bronte, Clyde, Cross Plains, Dodson, Estelline, Hawley, Iraan, Jayton, Junction, Lawn, Lueders, Marfa, Memphis, Menard, Merkel, Miles, Putnam, Quitaque, Rankin, Santa Anna, Sonora, Sterling City, Turkey, Tuscola, and Valentine.

Suspending the increase were Abilene, Anson, Baird, Ballinger, Benjamin, Big Lake, Blackwell, Buffalo Gap, Childress, Cisco, Clarendon, Crowell, Eden, Hamlin, Haskell, Impact, Knox City, Melvin, Munday, O'Brien, Paducah, Quanah, Rising Star, Rochester, San Angelo, Spur, Stamford, Throckmorton, Tye, Wellington, Winters and Woodson.

Ceding jurisdiction and allowing the PUC to handle their cases were Albany, Chillicothe, Dickens, Goree, Hedley, Lakeview, Matador, McCamey, Mertzon, Moran, Paint Rock, Presidio, Roaring Springs, Robert Lee, Roby, Rotan, Rule, Shamrock, Trent and Weinert.

TAX PLANNING

Written by Gerald Rodgers, CPA

BACK TO SCHOOL
(Financing College Educations)

Parents can provide funds for college educations in a number of ways. Perhaps the simplest method is to invest a certain amount each month so you'll have the necessary dollars when the child starts college. The need to start early in your child's life is made evident by the following illustration.

If your child is now entering high school at age fourteen, let's assume that you'll need $25,000 to pay his college education. You must invest $444 earning 8% after taxes each month for the next four years in order to accumulate $25,000. Suppose instead that your child is now six years old. By the time he enters college, the $25,000 you think necessary to educate a child will have grown, assuming 6% annual inflation, to $40,000. Investing your money at 8%, you will need to put aside $166 a month. If the child is a newborn, the $25,000 required today will grow with 6% inflation to $56,000 by the time the child is ready for college, and you will need to put aside $117 a month at 8%. As a practical matter, this is seldom done.

Another way of financing your child's education is by gifting to him an income producing asset and allowing the income to fund the college education. Placing income producing assets in a short term trust with the college student as the beneficiary, or making an interest-free loan to the child to pay his college expenses might also be considered.

Assuming the child has little or no other income, these techniques will have shifted income from your higher bracket tax return to the child's low bracket or no tax return, and you'll be using tax dollars saved to help pay for college.

Conservation Viewpoints

USDA Soil Conservation Service
Assisting
Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District

Do you want to reduce soil loss from wind and water; improve water infiltration; and improve the physical condition of the soil? If you answered "yes" to any of these questions then you should become acquainted with two important words...stubble mulching.

Stubble mulching is a year-round practice which is performed in harvesting, tilling, planting, and cultivating one's crops in order to keep protective amounts of vegetation on the surface. Conservation minded farmers realize the importance of stubble mulching and practice this method.

Haskell County consists of a variation of soils—clay loam soils to find sandy loam soils. This information is necessary to determine the amount of residue needed to be left on the surface at planting time. Therefore, for adequate protection during the critical wind erosion period the farmer should have 750 lbs/acre of small grain residue left on the surface or 1000 lbs/acre grain sorghum residue.

Various types of equipment used will determine the amount of residue reduction. For example, a one-way disk plow will leave 50 percent residue on the surface. Twenty-five percent of crop residue will be reduced with the use of a tandem-disk harrow. The most efficient type of equipment used is large sweeps and a chisel plow which will only reduce crop residue 10 percent.

The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) will assist the landuser in determining the amount of residue needed on his/her particular field to prevent unnecessary erosion and help conserve the soil for America's future.

For additional information concerning stubble mulching please contact the Soil Conservation Service which provides technical assistance to all landusers through the Haskell County Soil and Water Conservation District, regardless of age, race, religion, creed, sex, or national origin.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people of Haskell County for showing their support of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Dept. by placing their names on a two page ad.

Our fire department functions successfully with 34 volunteers and 1 paid supervisor. They give unselfishly of their time and efforts to attend drills, conventions, schools and meetings to help better their knowledge of emergency or fire situations.

We appreciate all of you helping us to honor our fireman in observance of National Fire Prevention Week.

I would also like to thank the merchants of Haskell for allowing the Ladies Auxiliary to place fire prevention posters in their windows. This allowed everyone a chance to see the posters as well as letting our boys and girls know we're proud of all of them.

Thanks again,
Betty Stocks
Pres. Haskell V.F.D. Auxiliary

Abel Gonzales Decides On Wayland

"As I became a Christian I realized there was more to life and that there was a possibility of bettering myself. One person that had a lot to do with me coming to college was my high school coach, Jasper Wilson, because he really showed interest in my life and at that point that's just something I never have forgotten."

Abel Gonzales, 27 years old, explicates what encouraged him to attend college after being a high school drop out and out of school for six years.

Originally from Rule, Gonzales is pastor of Halfway Calvary. He has served at three different missions under the First Baptist Church and traveled to Mexico several times to be involved in River Missions and to preach.

After earning a GED, Gonzales has attended Wayland for two years. (He is a junior double-majoring in theology and Spanish.)

He said, "The best thing about Wayland, first of all, is that it is small enough that my professors have really been willing to help me where I don't understand something. Second, it is a Christian school."

Gonzales and his wife Patsy have two children, Tommy, 6, and Tony, 4. Patsy works full time and is the director of WMU at Halfway Calvary. she is considering attending Wayland next fall.

According to Gonzales, going to college as a married student is difficult but he said it is "a real challenge because you have to decide what you want out of life and go for it."

With a lot of hard work and determination, he plans to graduate from Wayland in May 1985.

Stephens Co. Bull Sale Held Recently

The First Annual Stephens County All Breed Bull Sale was held Thursday, October

13, 1983 at the Stephens County Agricultural Center in Breckenridge.

Forty-six bulls representing six breeds were consigned by seventeen breeders from a wide area in North Central Texas. The bulls were judged Wednesday, October 12, for breed champions by Bruce Brandenberger, Manager V-Bar Ranch, Stanton; J.V. Heyser, Heyser Angus Ranch, Cisco; and Max E. Stapleton, County Extension Agent, Haskell. Breed Champions were Angus—John A. Echols, Caddo; Brangus—Justin Puschel, Haskell; Hereford—Knox Land and Cattle Co., Weatherford; Polled Hereford—Ira B. Duck, Abilene; Limousin—Dyer-Sims Ranch, Baird; Simmental—Roy Pepper, Granbury.

The forty-six bulls sold averaged $895. The top selling bull was a Brangus consigned by W.C. Holt of Abilene. He was Mr. Holt 52/1 out of PW Royal 266/6. He brought $1300 bought by Caddo Creek Ranch, Caddo. Following closely was BTB Mr. Bar T 68/2 consigned by Bar T Brangus of Aspermont. He brought $1225 bought by Kenneth Mitchell of Strawn.

Volume buyer was James Snyder and Sons of Baird and Jack Fambro of Breckenridge.

The Sale Manager was Elliott Auction Service of College Station. Auctioneers were Ted Elliott and Bob Franke of College Station.

Farm Program Is Working

The government farm program is working as it was intended to work — providing help to the farmer when he needs it.

That was the view expressed by Lloyd E. Cline, a Lamesa cotton producer and National Cotton Council vice president, at a meeting here this week of the Cotton Board. Cline said that without question farm program costs have increased.

"But in all fairness," he added, "Those outlays should be measured over a period of years and not just on the special conditions of the past two seasons."

He explained that government expenditures for cotton programs, as now constituted, averaged only about $266 million annually over the past ten years.

Reviewing the history of cotton programs since passage of the 1973 farm act, Cline explained there were no deficiency payments for cotton for the first seven years. They were triggered for the first time in 1981 by a record yield coming onto the market in the deepest worldwide recession since the 1930's.

Cline stated that when people talk about $22-23 billion in farm payment outlays they generally include all price support loans in the bottom line.

"What they fail to mention is that most of these loans are repaid with both interest and storage charges," he said, adding that some $7 billion of the so-called cost is repaid.

"It is important to remember that supply and demand are being brought into better balance," Cline told the group. "We are beginning to see some price recovery and the cost of deficiency payments is going down."

He added, "In times like these, effective research and promotion programs to help sell our fiber are more important than ever. Competition from man-made fibers is intense. Competition from foreign-grown cotton is intense."

imperative that "we in the cotton industry work more closely together than ever before and do everything possible to maintain and strengthen our self-help program."

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with rules and orders of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of its intent to re-file evidence and appropriate tariff(s) in support of a request to establish rates for the use of certain complex inside telephone wiring in the amount of $54.5 million annually. This request was previously a part of the considerations in Docket 5141 and now has been re-docketed as Docket 5420.

Customers who do not own the Complex Inside Wire associated with their Customer Premises Systems (such as PBX and Key Systems), and who utilize Southwestern Bell's wiring after January 1, 1984, could be affected by this request. On January 1, 1984, all of the Customer Premises Systems presently provided by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will be transferred to a subsidiary of AT&T and that subsidiary of AT&T will be almost exclusively responsible for the charges pursuant to the proposed tariff on January 1, 1984. After January 1, 1984, customers who purchase their Complex Customer Premises Equipment and do not purchase, but continue to use, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's inside wire will be subject to the charges proposed in the tariff.

The proposed effective date for these new rates is January 1, 1984.

Persons interested in intervening in this matter should file a written motion expeditiously with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757, as the Hearing on the Merits in Docket 5420 is set for November 21, 1983.

Gas ranges keep temperatures under control.

Almost all great chefs insist on natural gas ranges. Because gas gives them temperature control, par excellence.

The low flame keeps even the most delicate sauces warm without burning them. While the high flame gives immediate, intense heat for a rapid boil.

And when the flame is off, it's off! There's no hangover heat to spoil the creation. But control isn't the only reason they cook with gas. Gas saves money. In fact, you can cook 1 1/2 meals on a high-efficiency gas range for the cost of cooking one on a non-gas range.

So get more for your money and get a gas range for your home. Today. We promise you, you'll be in better control of your temperature.

Letter To The Editor

The second annual Country Dinner Theater brought enjoyment to many people. Unfortunately, as many more were turned away when the Chamber of Commerce sold out of tickets earlier in the week. The problem? The same as always—there were no more tables and chairs in town available for use. It was necessary to limit the crowd to 300 which cheats the hundreds of others who don't get to attend major functions in Haskell. Surely this fact alone points out the dire need for a civic center so we'll have activity rooms as soon as possible.

It took 24 men to round up and haul the borrowed chairs and tables and a similar crew to return them, working long hours after everyone else had gone home.

In addition to the Chamber Board, their wives and husbands, the Welcoming Committee and former board member Pat Byford and her husband Dean, many others pitched in to help with this event.

We owe a special thanks to the Church of Christ and driver Pat Hale who furnished a bus to give shuttle service from downtown to the barn. The heavy rains had created a problem in the country that have caused countless cars to bog down in the mud.

Indeed we all owe a debt of gratitude to Lois and Tom Richardson for their wonderful hospitality for the second year. How many people would open their home and premises to over 300 people.

We are grateful to the Presbyterian Church, Fair Association, Elementary School, and Country Club for lending us their chairs & tables.

Thank you Haskell Free Press and KVRP for your usual fine promotion...thank you Ed Walling for all your work in preparing the dinner music and to Donnie Rieger for helping set it up...thanks to R.C. Couch, Jr., Bro. Phil Harris, Delight Jones, Carolyn Reynolds, and Carolyn Everett for the super song leading and to Ellen Rieger, Haskell's talented pianist. It is a joy to hear Haskellites sing so much and laugh so freely. You made our cast and crew very happy with your warm response to their efforts.

On behalf of that cast and the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, we thank everyone who came and everyone who helped make October 22 a night to remember. Congratulations chairman Doris Phemister.

CHAMBER PRESIDENT

Booklet Available For Backyard Mechanics

For many of us, the health of our automobile is something we take for granted—until we find ourselves by the side of the road with the hood up, at the mercy of the weather, the two-truck operator, and the first mechanic we happen to find. At such times the urge to know a bit more about what goes on between our buggy's bumpers becomes almost irresistible. The owner's manual can help us find the dip stick and the fuse box, but we need to know more than that when the engine sputters and the funny noises start.

If you're looking for reliable, readable car care information, a new publication from the Air Force's Driver Magazine may be just the ticket. Driver has compiled 42 of its most popular car-care articles into one 3-volume set, under the title The Backyard Mechanic, available for $9.50 from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 221L, Pueblo, Colo., 81009.

Some automotive self-help books read so much like textbooks, you half expect to find "check-up" questions and "things to do" assignments at the end of each chapter. Other books are so simple ("Car won't start? Check the fuel gauge...") that they can't be taken seriously. The Backyard Mechanic is breezily but competently written, and is as readable as a well-thumbed magazine. Designed "to help the novice working at home, as well as to provide a few reminders to the experienced hobby-shop mechanic," the articles are concise but conversational, in the manner of a patient friend with a good sense of humor and a thorough knowledge of the subject.

One article, for example, takes you step by step through a general tune-up, another tells you how to avoid getting "ripped off" when you trust the tune-up job to someone else. There are chapters on doing a general safety check and making sure the used car you buy isn't someone's sour lemon. And for the more experienced mechanic, there are chapters on more complex procedures, like body repair, carburetor rebuilding, ignition rewiring, brake relining, and general reconditioning. All are written clearly and concisely, with photos, graphs, charts, and illustrations.

The Backyard Mechanic has almost everything you want to know about car care when your car quits, plus wallet-saving service tips for backyard buffs and serious self-helpers. When you send for the 3-volume set for $9.50, you will also receive a copy of the free Consumer Information Catalog that lists more than 200 other free or moderately priced government publications of consumer interest. The Catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration.

Speed Insurance Claims With Household Inventory

The things inside your home are probably worth far more than you realize.

An inventory of household furnishings and possessions can help determine the value of your property, says home economist Nancy Granovsky.

The inventory is important to estimate your need for insurance, and to settle insurance claims quickly and efficiently, says Granovsky, a specialist in family resource management with Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service.

"Your memory may fail you, especially under the stress of a natural disaster or a burglary, but an inventory will have information needed for a claim," she says.

An inventory should note the date or year of purchase and purchase price for each item. If you don't know when you bought an item or what the purchase price was, says Granovsky, you can estimate the replacement cost. This information can help you specify exactly what was lost and its worth, she explains.

No matter what type of inventory you make, it's critical to store it in a safe deposit box or some other secure place away from your home, notes the specialist.

Photographing each wall of every room in your home with all cabinets and drawers open is the easiest way to make an inventory. Also save the negatives from these pictures to make enlargements which could provide important details for an insurance claim, she says.

Another method for making an inventory is to list all household goods, room by room. Include everything on the walls, in the closets, food in the freezer or pantry and items in the garage, says the home economist.

If you have extensive collections of things that are difficult to photograph or tedious to write down, such as book or record collections, Granovsky suggests using a tape recorder to dictate the information onto a cassette. Microcomputer owners may wish to invest in a software package to maintain a household inventory on a disk.

Wind tunnel testing helps IH improve trucks' gas mileage

COLEGE STATION — Truck designers at International Harvester are finding clues to greater fuel efficiency blowing in the wind at Texas A&M University.

The university's wind tunnel has been used for the past two years to help the firm improve gas mileage for its 18-wheelers.

In late 1982, International Harvester announced a successful coast-to-coast run of its largest Class 8 line-hauler, which averages 8.26 miles per gallon, about 2.5 mpg better than conventional trucks.

"We feel the increase in efficiency was due about two-thirds to aerodynamic changes and one-third to a better engine," said M. Eugene Olson, Harvester's project development engineer for aerodynamics.

Texas A&M's wind tunnel is operated by the Texas Engineering Experiment Station (TEES), the engineering research arm of The Texas A&M University System. The tunnel has been used to test projects ranging from the space shuttle to Dallas' Reunion Tower.
