Stamford Electric Cooperative Annual Meeting Set Mar. 17

The Stamford High School Auditorium will be the site of the 45th Annual Meeting of Stamford Electric Cooperative, Inc. on Saturday, March 17, 1984. A barbecue meal will be served beginning at 5:00 p.m. with the business session scheduled at 6:30 p.m., according to President John E. Youngquist. Musical entertainment by the Round-up Boys has been planned for the meeting. All members and friends of the Cooperative are invited to attend.

During the business session the election of three directors will be held to fill three expiring terms. Incumbent John E. Youngquist of Sunnyside Community and H. L. Ford of Hamlin have been nominated for Place 1. Nominees for Place 2 are incumbent Louis Spitzer and Glen W. Pierce, both of Old Glory. Incumbent Lewis Corzine of Stamford and J.C. New of Sagerton have been nominated for Place 3. Others may be nominated from the floor during the meeting.

Other directors serving the Cooperative are Jimlee Baucum, Vice President of Anson; Walter E. Fischer, Secretary-Treasurer of Haskell; Leroy Lundgren, Avoca; Willie Peiser, Haskell; Carl A. Thompson, Jr., Anson and Sam Turner of Rule.

The Cooperative is a rural electric distribution facility furnishing electrical energy to part of 6 counties, Jones, Haskell, Shackelford, Stonewall, Fisher, and Throckmorton. The Cooperative serves almost 6,000 meters on 2300 miles of line and was chartered in 1939.

General Manager, M.L. Massey, who has been with the Cooperative since its beginning, noted the differences in its 45 years of operation. All the original services were farms and farm residences that had never had electric power. The firm now serves oil related services, gins, lake cabins, and many others. Mr. Massey said that the serious problems of energy supply should encourage the attendance of all members at this meeting.

State Crime Rate Shows First Drop In 23 Years

Both the crime rate and the total number of crimes reported in Texas declined in 1983, according to figures compiled by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"The crime rate showed a decrease of 6.2 percent with 5,907.1 crimes per 100,000 population," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. "In addition, Texas law enforcement agencies reported 928,827 major index crimes during 1983, a drop of 3.5 percent compared to the previous year. This is the first decrease recorded in the number of crimes since 1961 and it's very encouraging. We had almost come to accept a yearly increase in volume as being inevitable."

Adams said the public's perception of crime could be a factor in the reductions.

"A simple answer for these decreases is hard to come by," Adams said. "But I believe there's been greater awareness of the consequences of criminal acts, less tolerance of the criminal on the part of the law abiding citizen, and increased participation in neighborhood watch groups, crimestoppers programs and other anti-crime efforts."

The violent crime category posting the greatest decline was robbery with the number of offenses down 11.4 percent. Murders decreased by 9.1 percent. The numbers of rapes and aggravated assaults were down seven percent and 6.7 percent respectively.

In the property crime categories, burglary offenses fell 8.2 percent and motor vehicle thefts dropped 5.2 percent. Theft, the only major crime category showing an increase last year, rose 0.4 percent.

Twenty-two percent of the index crimes were cleared by arrests in 1983. The value of property stolen during the commission of major crimes was estimated to be in excess of one billion dollars with $243 million in stolen property recovered by police agencies.

"Statewide DWI arrests were up 33 percent in 1983," Adams pointed out. "A total of 149,621 drivers were arrested for this criminal offense."

Eleven Texas peace officers were killed in the line of duty by criminal action last year. Six officers died in duty-related accidents. A total of 3,870 assaults on officers were reported.

A total of 7,486 arson cases were reported last year compared to 8,201 in 1982. Twenty-three percent of the 1983 cases were cleared by arrests.

The crime statistics were compiled by the DPS Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau based on reports supplied by 766 law enforcement agencies.

Statewide Totals	1982	1983
Murders	2,463	2,238
Rapes	6,814	6,334
Robberies	33,603	29,769
Aggravated Assaults	45,221	42,195
Burglaries	285,757	262,214
Thefts	501,312	503,555
Motor Vehicle Thefts	87,090	82,522

resignations from Coy Payne and Terry Lovette. Payne was a coach and Lovette was band director. Board members rehired all teachers with the exception of Howard Canafax, Junior High School history teacher.

Superintendent James Lanier said, "It was not a matter of any aspect of his job performance, it was simply declining student enrollment." Lanier said Canafax was the last secondary teacher hired and enrollment fell from 371 to 307 during the three years Canafax has been with the system. "He is a fine person and a fine teacher and I hate to lose him," said Lanier.

In other action board members accepted the report of the Textbook Committee and approved a resolution on the transfer of the E.B. Evans School to John Earl Billington. Billington was the successful bidder at the last school board meeting when the board agreed to sell the property.

by don comedy

James Roberts of the Andrews County News recently penned the following "Drifting Sands" column which we felt was worthy of reprinting.

"Madness! Madness!"

Remember those famous words uttered by the British doctor in the movie Bridge Over The River Kwai when he surveyed the final scene of British commandos battling Alec Guinness, the British colonel who had built the Japanese bridge with British prisoners of war.

Those words "Madness! Madness!" seemed particularly appropriate for the news this week of the signing of Brigham Young quarterback Steve Young to a pro football contract with the USFL team, L.A. Express, for $40 million.

The young quarterback is talented and will be a great asset for the fledgling team but no talent on this earth can be justified economically for $40 million.

The pro contract, plus the news of Standard Oil of California to take over Gulf for $13.1 billion, and the recent announcement of Texaco taking over Getty Oil, provide perfect examples of where graduated income taxes have taken us.

It's not talent nor takeovers that justify that kind of money—it's taxes.

The Young contract, the Social and Texaco takeovers are tax deals, pure and simple, and the loss to the federal treasury will be made up by you and I.

Young's talent on the gridiron, sports fans attendance in Los Angeles, the Express schedule or the possibility of winning the league—none of these are real factors in the $40 million contract.

Sports contracts are depreciable assets just like automobiles, factory machines, or a pumping unit. The young man is paid $4 million up front and the owners can purchase an annuity for $8.7 million, 11 percent, that will yield one million dollars a year for 32 years.

So the owners of the new franchise lay out $12.7 million but can depreciate the entire $40 million contract over the playing period of the quarterback or roughly, $4 million a year in deductible expenses over a 10-year period. In other words, the owners are picking up $40 million in depreciation for an outlay of $12.7 million—and the federal treasury is the loser...and you and I make up the difference.

The same thing is true of the oil company mergers. Nothing is gained economically—no new jobs created, no new oil wells, no new discoveries—but a deal economically justifiable because of the taxes involved.

The $13.1 billion paid for Gulf Oil can be divided into the crude oil reserves of the company to come up with a "cost allocation figure" per barrel. And that cost per barrel is a fully deductible expense on federal income taxes.

In essence, taxpayers will ultimately pay for the Steve Young contract and the Gulf-Social, Texaco-Getty takeovers.

The three deals provide perfect examples of why the federal income tax laws are outmoded, outmaneuvered, and out-of-hand.

We've argued in this space before that a flat rate tax of 12 to 14 percent on everyone—individuals, corporations, foundations, co-ops—without any loopholes or deductions, would yield more money to the federal treasury than the present cockeyed system.

And a flat, fixed rate on income earned would make returns simpler, mergers unnecessary, and Mormons in general, and Steve Young in particular, holier.

Brush and Palette

All around us are signs of approaching spring. Some fruit trees are in bloom and some of the trees are tasseled out. The fruit trees, peaches, plums, pears and apricots are exquisite in their frothy dresses and look as if they were fashioned of pink and white lace ruffles. Anemones, some of the first spring flowers are out in profusion in some areas. Even clouds are changing into springtime patterns and we are seeing a few thunderheads. Springtime is such a beautiful season with bluebonnets peeking their heads through the various greens on the roadsides. Not only do we enjoy the beauty of the season, but we know the exhilaration of lifting spirits, with the promise of a new year, new explorations, new realization of hopes, new achievements and new harvests. This is what spring means to me, and how much keener the appreciation becomes with each passing year. Let's all be happy this spring!

Q. Which are the best blues to use?

A. All of them. They are all good. Each creates a different effect. Which you use depends on what you have in mind to say. You have the green blues and the red blues, cool and warm. Some of the strongest are Prussian and the Thalos. Mr. Taubes used Prussian in his skies, but it is very strong, so be careful of your mixture. Cobalt has been said to be the purest blue, but a pure cobalt is hard to find and right now is very expensive. I suggest you experiment with all of the blues and use the ones you like best for the subject you are painting.

Q. How can I get distance in a field of wildflowers?

A. If you know perspective you should be able to get the distance you want. You have perspective in everything you paint. Even clouds - think about that! Flowers are larger, brighter and more detailed in the foreground; in the middle-ground, less detail and let them begin to fade away; in the distance, no detail, and muted color - nothing bright. Let some soil show here and there and paint foliage and grasses in between.

HINT: Look for homey, nostalgic things to paint. It is good to make records of another generation. Remington did this for the Old West!

Vows were exchanged before a fifteen branched arched candelabra flanked on either side by ring and spiral candelabras entwined with greenery.

length train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by lace outlined with tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white and purple roses, lily of the valley, and forget-me-nots with satin ribbon.

For the traditional something old, she tucked in her sleeve a pink linen handkerchief that her Grandmother Schonherstedt carried in her wedding. Something new was her wedding gown, something borrowed was a string of pearls from Mrs. Yvonne Swofford and she wore a blue garter. In her shoe she wore a sixpence, a gift from Mrs. W.A. Lyles, and a penny with the year she was born.

Matron of honor was Teresa Briles, sister of the bride, of Converse and maid of honor was Aliece Kirby of Houston. Bridesmaids were Lynn Fouts, Sherry Bynum, Mrs. Ricky Parris, all of Abilene, Jo Ann Swofford of Sagerton, Kami Schonherstedt, Kristi Schonherstedt of Levelland, Kime Schonherstedt of Decatur and Mrs. Rick Falkner of Rule.

The groom's table was covered with a brown cloth with a beige overlay and held track shoe-shaped chocolate cake. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service. The centerpiece was a wood candelabra with five fluted amber votives with vanilla candled intertwined with daisies and day lilies in colors of rust, brown and beige. Mrs. Beth Kittley and Mrs. Shannon Kittley, sisters-in-law of the groom, served. Other appointments were crystal and wood.

Brandi Briles handed out rice bags from a white satin lined basket trimmed in lace with purple flowers made for the bride by Mrs. Lois Martin. Members of the houseparty included Arvella Moore, Orheana Greeson, Paula Oliver, Yvonne Swofford, Margaret Jones and Margie Fannin.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Rule High School and received her B.S. in Education from McMurry in 1982. She is employed by Cooper High School as girl's track coach.

The groom is a 1977 graduate of Rule High School and received his B.S. and Master's in Education from Abilene Christian University. He is employed by A.C.U. as women's track coach.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the fellowship hall at the church.

After a wedding trip to Ixtapa, Mexico, the bride and groom will be at home in Abilene.

Self-motivation Is HYH Program Topic

Self-motivation was the topic presented to the Haskell Young Homemakers by Eugene Pickering of Lubbock. She focused on "positive" assets and suggested ways to overcome "negative" liabilities. She asked the ladies to break into small groups for some positive report about each other. Eugene stressed that we should never go backward, but keep moving ahead with everything we have.

Also on the program, Dr. Ed Harris, D.D.S. spoke briefly on the effects of putting a baby to bed with a milk bottle. He passed out literature which explained what "Nursing Bottle Mouth" was, and pictured the decayed teeth of babies which were a result of this. Dr. Harris urged everyone to start prevention at a very early age with their children.

The meeting was held in the home of Bud and Peggy Lane and refreshments were served by hostesses Janet Thane, Leesa Toliver and Gina Foster.

Everyday 1,000 children accidentally eat or drink something that was never meant to be taken internally. That adds up to almost 400,000 children a year, some of whom are permanently disabled from damage to the brain, liver, lungs or other vital organs. Even though their lives were saved, there's no way to add up the suffering caused by these accidents.

The number of poison deaths is increasing, and little wonder. There are over 250,000 household products or medicines commonly in use today that could cause poisoning if used the wrong way.

If you would like to learn more about poison prevention, come by the County Extension office, 101 South Ave. D in

Garden Club Discusses Compost Beds, Gardening

The Haskell Garden Club met in the Haskell Community Bank Building, March 28 with the president, Marsha Whittemore, presiding.

Nettie McCollum, the program director, took the "Sharing Our Plants" theme for the month out of the year's theme "Growing—Showing—Sharing". She said it was time now to make plans for sharing our plants with the Experienced Senior Citizens next month at their plant sale. She asked Mrs. Lorene Dewey to talk about making a compost bed for mulching.

Mrs. Dewey continued by saying, compost is Mother Nature's own fertilizer and conditioner, which surpasses anything man made in both short and long term effects. The backyard compost pile is both a symbol of continuing life and a healing source for the soils wounds. All kitchen garbage, such as potatoes, carrots, cucumber peelings, discarded lettuce, cabbage leaves and pea hulls, but do not use fat or meat or citrus fruit peels for they don't break down very well. Also tree leaves, grass clippings, paper waste and manure for these ingredients decompose naturally, so there is no need to add chemicals to speed up the process. It has long been recognized that mulchers are highly beneficial to plants because they help maintain uniform soil temperature, root systems stay cool and moist during the summer and are protected from cold during winter. Mulches also serve to discourage disease and pests by producing antibiotic agents that are picked up by the root system. Paper served both as a soil builder and animal repellent.

"Gardening enriches our lives and world," quoted Mrs. Cody West as she read a poem Plant 5 Rows of Behavior: Prayer, Preparedness, Politeness, Promptness, Persistence; then 4 rows of lettuce; let us be loyal, let us be truthful, let us be unselfish, let us love each other, no garden is complete with turnips, Turnup for church, turnup with a smile, turnup with a new idea, turnup with a real determination, turnup for fraternal meetings. Mrs. West said as the thought of gardens the first one in the Bible mentions is the Garden of Eden which God created for Adam and Eve for their home. Our bodies are God's Garden. He created us and it is up to us to grow, cultivate ourselves excuse beauty for other see, sharing with other the beauties of nature by growing flowers such and vegetables and giving to those in need. Think of our gardens as a canvas and the flowers and plants as the paint. Then use this idea as how to color every season. Colors show how we feel and play on our minds and lift our spirits. The spring season causes us to begin planning the garden and preparing the soil, whether it for flowers or vegetables, which gives a purpose in our lives. Don't worry, don't fret, don't forget to smell the flowers.

Mrs. Lucille Gannaway

talked about birds and garden accessories. She said a bird is an animal with feathers and no creature is more beautiful and useful than the birds which serve us well by destroying insects, pests and weed seeds. Then varied colors, their graceful light, their musical songs never fail to delight us, and we are fascinated by their mysteries yearly migration. What message tells them when to leave and where to go? Birds give us marvelous chances for study in the joy of seeing beauty and the satisfaction of adding knowledge without the birds not only would successful agriculture be impossible but the destination of the greater part of the vegetation would follow.

Mrs. Whittemore said if you only had a small bed to prepare for tomatoes, plant them in a circle and put a basket in the middle with compost and water the buckets and would reach the roots better.

"The wakening of Spring" was the name of the flower arrangement Juanita Rhea showed. In horticulture, Juanita Dunnam displayed different colors of hyacinths, jounquils and others.

The hostesses were Nettie McCollum and Mrs. West. The District XIV Spring meeting will be in Coleman March 23.

Gifted Children Have Problems, Too

Every child has special gifts that are waiting, like seeds, to be planted and nurtured so they can grow strong, flower, and bear fruit.

You can help your child develop natural gifts by noticing the interests and activities he is drawn to, giving him opportunities to engage in these activities, and being patient, encouraging, and interested in his efforts, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

In addition to the help every child needs to develop his special gifts, some children who are exceptionally gifted require particular understanding and support in order to develop fully. A child who seems quicker to learn, highly talented in many areas, and generally ahead of other children his age can sometimes have problems as a result of these outstanding qualities. Here are some of the ways in which highly gifted children can be misunderstood and deprived of needed support.

Sometimes an exceptionally gifted child may not be liked by other children because he is "different."

Or, a very mature child might be a favorite of adults resented by children who keep hearing, "Why can't you be like him?"

Within a family a very talented child can be the object of jealousy by a less-talented sister or brother. It's important not to compare children to each other. Every child has his or her own special gifts as well as things he doesn't do as well as others.

At times adults can cause problems for a highly-gifted child when they expect him to be as mature in every way as he is in his gifted area. For example, parents or teachers may become impatient with a four year old who can talk, read, and write like an eight year old when the child behaves like a four year old. It's easy to forget that even though he's so advanced in some ways, he's still only four. Research has shown that mentally advanced children generally are also more advanced physically, socially, and emotionally, but they have their ups and downs like every other child their age.

Sometimes very gifted children are pushed too hard and too fast in the areas of their special talents. This deprives them of a joyful, low-pressure childhood in which they can develop their talents at their own speed and pace, in their own way. Too much stress on a child's special gifts can interfere with his becoming a well-balanced, healthy, happy human being.

At times extremely gifted children don't receive enough attention from parents and teachers, especially if there are other children who have problems which require special help. The highly gifted child may be left to do for himself because "he's so smart, he doesn't need my help." He needs time to himself to develop at his own pace, but he also needs stimulation and guidance and encouragement from interested adults.

Sometimes adults who don't know an especially gifted child may treat him like a curiosity. For example, the two-and-a-half year old who seems to cause great distress to waiters and waitresses when he reads the menu and orders for himself. Some children with special talents are "shown off" and asked to perform as if they were trained seals. A gifted child, just like any other human being, needs and deserves to be treated with respect and dignity.

Next: problems gifted children have in school, and what parents can do to minimize these problems. The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information and a free sample newsletter, write to Growing Child, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing.

American Cancer Society Has Variety of Services

The American Cancer Society in Haskell announced today that it has a variety of services available to cancer patients without charge.

"Many people are unaware of all the services we can provide right here in this town," said Anita Perry-Service Rehabilitation Chairman. "And all that is required in most cases is written permission from the patient's physician."

Loan equipment such as hospital beds, wheel chairs, commode chairs and walkers are available as well as expendable items including dressings, hospital gowns, bed pads, pillows and other items. "These are all in addition to our basic information and referral services" said Perry.

"And, depending on location, we also have several rehabilitation programs including Reach to Recovery for mastectomies, esophageal speech lessons for laryngectomies, ostomy rehabilitation and related patient and family support groups."

The concept for these rehabilitation programs is the volunteer-to-patient relationship," added Perry. "We have many volunteers who are themselves former patients and who are specifically trained by the Society to help other patients and even their families adjust to living with cancer."

Perry cited that when most people think of the American Cancer Society, the relate the name to cancer research. "While it is true the ACS funds millions of dollars for cancer research, we are also a community-based organization providing many local services. These patient services as well as education materials of all types are just a few of the ways we can help."

Anyone needing more information on these services may call Anita Perry at 864-2621.

Weinert Foursquare Church To Present Film March 18

Renowned evangelist Billy Graham is the featured speaker in CRISIS IN THE HOME, a motion picture that addresses the problems faced by the many contemporary families. The film, produced by World Wide Pictures, is scheduled to be shown at the Weinert Foursquare Church, located 1 block north of the light in town on Sunday night, March 18. The presentation is open to the public free of charge, and will begin at 6 p.m.

For years, Dr. Graham has given much attention to the rising divorce rate and the deterioration of family relationships. Nearly all of his crusades include at least one message on the family; and according to his staff, the meetings at which he speaks on the family draw the largest crowds. In CRISIS IN THE HOME, Graham offers six keys to a happy home and a successful marriage, based on the teachings of the Bible.

Also featured in the film is Dr. James Dobson, a leading Christian family counselor who is the author of several bestselling books, including HIDE OR SEEK, DARE TO DISCIPLINE, THE STRONG-WILLED CHILD, and

Memberships For Fort Griffin Fandangle Now Available

Memberships in the Fort Griffin Fandangle Association are now available at the Fandangle office in Albany, officially opening the 1984 season.

The Fandangle, created by the late Robert Nail in 1938, is now in its 46th year. First performed by the Albany High School seniors as a class play, the Fandangle was almost immediately expanded into a community production, involving several hundred Albany citizens.

A different theme is chosen each year, but the basic idea behind the Fandangle is to preserve the history of the Albany and Fort Griffin area, or, as it states in the Fandangle program, to remember "history, not as it comes from books, but history as it lingers in the heads of the Old Timers."

Dates for this year's summer performances have been set as is traditional for the last two weekends in June, beginning on Thursday, June 21, and continuing through June 23, then occurring again June 28-30, with the annual parade scheduled at 6 p.m. on Thursday, June 28.

Those interested in obtaining memberships have a choice, said Mrs. Patsy Rose, Executive Secretary of the Fandangle.

Patrons, with a donation of $100 or more, are recognized in the 1984 Fandangle program.

Regular memberships are available at a cost of $25, and Associate memberships are $10.

There are several benefits of being part of the Association, including priority on seat location with early ticket sales, and an invitation to the annual Membership Picnic and Sampler, slated for Friday, May 4, at 6 p.m.

The Sampler, always held at Reynolds Bend on the Matthews Ranch 18 miles north of Albany, is a preview of the summer show.

Members may bring their own picnic basket or they may purchase a barbecue supper provided by Perini Catering of Buffalo Gap. Plates are available at $4.00 a plate for adults and $3.00 for children.

One membership includes husband, wife and school age children. Single members are allowed to bring a companion.

Approximately 1000 letters concerning membership in the Association, were mailed last week, mostly to former members.

Memberships provide the means to maintain and improve the Prairie Theater, the Fandangle's permanent home on the northwest outskirts of Albany.

This year, the Board of Directors has indicated that major repairs and improvements will be focused on the theater's sound system.

When a donation and request for membership is received by workers at the Fandangle office, a membership card and ticket order form is sent by return mail to the donor.

Ticket orders should be filled out and returned no later than May 10, because tickets will go on sale to the general public June 1.

Five Fandangle Samplers have already been scheduled this spring. The "Samplers" are small casts of Fandangles who perform for various groups and organizations in the area to promote the show.

The Director of the Fandangle, Mrs. Marge Bray plans to begin rehearsals soon.

Donations to the Association are tax deductible, and can be mailed to the Fort Griffin Fandangle Association Inc., P.O. Box 185, Albany Texas 76430.

OPEN A TAX-DEFERRED, MONEY-MAKING INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT TODAY AT COMMODORE SAVINGS.

Retirement used to be a taxing situation. But not any longer. Because now, you can open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Commodore Savings — the simple-to-understand retirement account that will save you money today so you can enjoy better tomorrows.

Just add up the benefits for yourself:

- All contributions are tax-deferred and 100 percent deductible. You pay no taxes on the money you invest in your IRA or on the interest it earns until you begin taking distribution as early as age 59½.

- Save as little or as much as you want each month. Up to $2,000 a year if you are single and employed. Up to $2,250 a year for a couple where one spouse is employed and the other is not. And up to $4,000 a year for a working couple. Save as little as $10 a month. Even skip a whole year's contributions if you prefer.

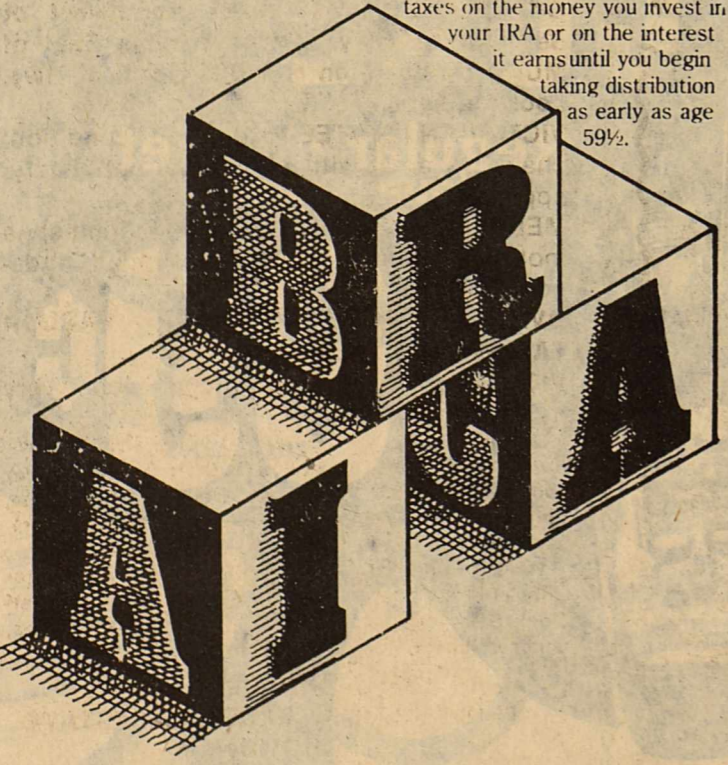

- Pay much less tax on your retirement income. By retirement age, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, so the taxes you'll pay on your IRA retirement income could be much less than you pay now.

- Almost everyone can qualify. If you are under age 70½ and are earning an income, you qualify for a Commodore IRA, even if you are already participating in another retirement program.

Best of all, the money you put into your IRA earns a guaranteed high compound interest rate. Save $2,000 a year for just 20 years, and your IRA investment could amount to well over $100,000!

Seven different retirement plans are available, including Regular IRA, Spousal IRA, Employer IRA, rollover IRA, Payroll Deduction IRA, IRA/SEPP and Keogh Plan. Find out which plan is right for you. ## March 16 Is Deadline For Workers Compensation For Farm/Ranch Employees

Farmers and ranchers with one or more employees have until midnight March 16 to buy workers' compensation insurance or face very serious liability without common law defenses should they be sued by an injured employee, according to Cole Turner of Rochester, president of the Haskell County Farm Bureau.

Any farm or ranch employee injured after March 16 could claim his right to sue his employer if that employer does not have workers' compensation insurance, Turner said.

Turner pointed out that this situation came about as a result of the ruling March 7 by State District Judge Harley Clark of Austin that the exemption of farm and ranch laborers from workers' compensation is unconstitutional.

Turner noted that any employer liability policy (employer liability endorsement on farm and ranch owners, homeowners or farmer's comprehensive personal liability) covering farmworkers as approved by the State Board of Insurance states that it will not pay claims of injured farmworkers if they are covered by the workers' compensation law.

Turner stated that Texas Farm Bureau has and will continue to oppose removal of the exemption of farm and ranch employees from workers' compensation. The Texas Attorney General has indicated that his office will appeal the ruling.

Pending final disposition of this case, attorneys who have reviewed the judge's ruling have advised that the only safe course of action is for employers to acquire workers' compensation insurance immediately, Turner said.

Haskell County Farm Bureau urges each farmer and rancher in the surrounding area to write their state senator and representative.

WARNING

What you know and teach your children about electric power lines could save a life — yours or your child's.

Alert your children to the dangers of flying kites, model airplanes or toy rockets near electric lines. Instruct them to use wood-and-plastic or all-plastic kites with dry string. Always fly kites or other flying toys in open areas. If something does become entangled with overhead wires, do not try to get it down, leave it there. And never touch any dangling strings or wires. Call West Texas Utilities for assistance or for more information about safe electric living.

Money Matters

A Series Of Informative "Plain Talk" Thoughts Regarding Your Money Matters

What's In It For You?

Full service banking provides you with an opportunity to really build some clout with the bank.

The more services that you use, the more leverage you build. This can really help you when you want to get a loan. Like any other business relationship, your relationship with the bank is based on the concept of mutual benefit.

If someone who did all of their saving somewhere else were to come into the bank and ask for a loan it would be easy to understand the bank being reluctant to make the loan.

Full service banking also gives you the convenience of being able to handle almost all of your financial needs under one roof. We offer Checking Accounts, Savings Accounts, Certificates of Deposit, Bank by Mail, Direct Deposit, Loans, Travelers Cheques, and many other financial services. Your deposits with us are insured by FDIC for up to $100,000. And best of all, when you make a deposit with us, we put it back to work right here in the community where it belongs. That's Full Service Banking.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

At the risk of seeming "braggart", I would like to devote this week's column to the boys basketball team. When the year started, Coach Jim Dan Raughton knew he would have a good team, but he did not know how good. He only had two starters from last year's district winning team. Fred Rike, a student that was counted on heavily, moved to Tulsa. The team got a very late start because of our highly successful football season. Keith Reed went down with an injured ankle. Doug Lanier suffered a back injury which limited his mobility for the rest of the season. However, Coach Raughton did not panic. He used his talent available to the maximum. He got outstanding play from Patrick McCoy and Shane Hadaway. Robert Ivey, Ricky Rojas and Todd Harris all contributed heavily. They played together and played hard. They were able to overcome a tough district in which they had three overtime games plus several other very close games. They held on to prevail against Hale Center in spite of losing two players via fouls. They destroyed Memphis in Area and finally lost to Morton at the regional level. Morton was rated No. 1 all year in Class AA. The Indians wound up with a season record of 26 wins and 5 losses. They won the Seymour Tournament and the Haskell Tournament. Three of their losses were by one or two points. Every loss was to a team that made the state playoffs.

They are well rounded students and good individuals. Four of the starters plus Todd Harris, the versatile sixth man, were All District football players. Three of the athletes, Shane Hadaway, Doug Lanier and David Adams are members of the National Honor Society. All of the players are active in other areas of school. They have not shown any signs of super ego that sometimes goes with this type of success. They have performed well in the classroom and demonstrated the proper behavior in all areas. They are good kids.

Our fans got behind the team and supported them all the way to regional. It was a thrill to me to look over the crowd Friday and see the hundreds of Haskell fans. Many comments were made by my friends from the Panhandle and South Plains area not only about the caliber of our team but also our fan support. This support is an important element in the success achieved.

What does the future hold? There were only two seniors on the squad, Patrick McCoy and Doug Lanier. Doug is a four year starter and Patrick a three year starter. They are good players. However, a solid nucleus is left for this coming year. Our program looks solid all the way through. Our girls program looks promising also. Haskell is now a definitely a power in two sports.

I would like to sum up our whole year so far, both academically and co-curricular: WHAT A YEAR!!!!

Children's Crusade Set March 16-18

There will be lots of puppets for all ages.

Boys Tennis Teams Compete In Quana

BY JENNIFER DAVIS

Two boys' tennis team members made the semi-finals in the Quana Invitational Tournament held during spring break.

Tim Johnson and Scott Schaake won in the first round. In the semi-finals they were defeated by the Wellington team, 6-3, 7-5, who went on to win the tournament.

Others participating in the tournament were doubles team Scott Burris and John Wilson. They were defeated in the first round by a team from Memphis, 6-2, 6-0. Kelly Klose and Val Sims were also defeated in the first round by a team from Childress, 6-1, 6-2. "I think that even though we didn't have a lot of success at Quana, the younger payers are coming along and I was real pleased with their first tournament," Coach Greg Melton said.

The tennis team will go to Burkburnett Friday, March 23.

Also they participated in a dual meet against Merkel held Tuesday but scores were unavailable at press time.

Conservation Viewpoints

USDA Soil Conservation Service
Assisting
Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District

The 1984 Haskell-California Creek Soil and Water Conservation District Range, Pasture and Land Judging Contests will be held in Haskell on Wednesday, March 21 at Haskell High School. Vocational Agriculture students from Haskell and Jones counties will participate in an effort to learn more about the soil that feeds us and as a preliminary contest prior to their district meet at Sweetwater on Saturday, March 24.

Paint Creek won 2nd and Haskell took 3rd in the 83 Range and Pasture division while Haskell took 2nd and Paint Creek 4th and Rule 6th in the 83 Land Contest. Students and teachers are busy preparing for these events.

PIK Program Produced Major Achievements In Conservation

Farmers who took part in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's 1983 payment-in-kind programs reduced soil erosion by more than 20 percent on cropland taken out of production, Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said today.

Releasing a preliminary report on conservation benefits of PIK and acreage reduction programs, Block said soil erosion on an estimated 79 million diverted acres was lowered from an average of 7.4 tons to 5.8 tons per acre per year.

"That adds up to 121 million tons of soil that stayed on the land," he said. "While chief goal of the PIK programs was to bring down production, other goals included reducing erosion on idle acres, improving wildlife habitat and conserving water."

The report, based on data from a sample of 4,300 farms in 227 counties, shows that about 35 percent of the diverted land provided suitable cover for wildlife. About 13 million acre-feet of water that would have been used to irrigate 8 million acres of cropland also were saved by the conservation use acreage programs.

A more detailed report expected later this year will show other major achievements in conservation, Block said.

Copies of the preliminary report are available from USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Room 4714-S. P. O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013, or by calling (202) 447-6221.

Workshop To Highlight Farm Use of Computers

A workshop dealing with the use of microcomputers in the home and on the farm and ranch will be held April 3-4 at the Texas 4-H Center at Brownwood.

Conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System, the workshop will focus on the basics of computer terminology and computer selection. In addition, an advanced session will be conducted to give those with some prior computer experience an insight into operating systems and basic programming procedures, announces Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, Extension Service economist.

"The program is designed to help participants identify personal needs for computers, to learn basic microcomputer terminology, and to develop a set of criteria for selecting a computer," says Lovell.

Open discussions will focus on family resource management and farm and ranch management and will set the stage for subsequent talks on computer hardware and software.

Special workshops will deal with preparations for computerized accounting systems, crop decision aids, electronic spreadsheets, marketing decision aids, data base management systems, livestock and dairying decision aids, and selection of a farm or ranch accounting system.

Individuals interested in attending or in more information about the microcomputer workshop should contact Lovell at 817-968-4147.
