OUTSTANDING CITIZENS

June Biffle, left, and Harold Woods were named outstanding citizens during the Rule Chamber of Commerce annual banquet Tuesday night. Mrs. Biffle was the retiring Chamber President and Woods is a long-time pharmacy owner in Rule.

Simply going to the polls Saturday and marking a ballot in the city and school elections is not enough.

Yes, it's a good start and a duty that we should all feel a deep obligation to perform, but just voting should not be the end.

Our city and school governments represent two of the largest businesses in this area. Include the county government and you have the three biggest budgets in the county. All three are managed by elected officials.

They are run by the individuals we select either by our support at the polls or by our apathy in not urging the best qualified candidates to seek election.

After the city and school elections most of us try to forget that we have just selected a handful of individuals who will administer over two million dollars of our tax monies.

Most of us don't know and for that matter don't care what the city council members and school board trustees do until it affects us. Then, we suddenly become experts and know all there is to know about whatever the subject.

All too many times the end result of our self appointed experts criticizing a particular process or event they don't understand is that the individuals we have elected suffer and our city government or school suffers.

We are extremely fortunate to have such a dedicated group of individuals who will offer their service by placing their names on the ballot. We are also very lucky to have elected individuals who place the school or city above their own personal gain.

Visit with any individual who has served on either of the boards and ask if their service has created enemies or if they are in business, if they lost business. The answer will always be the same... "Yes!"

More times than not, the criticism, the animosity, and the loss of business comes as a result of a small group of people finding fault with the school board or city council. The fault is generally based on partial information, false information or even no information at all.

Several years ago, I visited with a member of the school board who was not seeking re-election. When I asked why, his answer was simple. "I've been cussed, criticized, lost friends and business and never has anyone seemed concerned with the quality of education our children are receiving. It's always sports, band, field trips or something that has nothing to do with what I see as our major concern."

This election marks the end of service for several individuals who are not seeking re-election. They deserve our sincere thanks for doing their best. Mayor Francine Johnson, councilman Bill Lane and school board member David Frierson have done a good job and will be missed.

This Saturday when you go vote make a promise to yourself and your candidates that you won't criticize without facts, that you won't base your opinion on half-truths and that when the next election arrives you will run for office if you sincerely believe you can do a better job.

And, at the same time remember that if you don't vote you have forfeited your right to criticize the actions of the people the rest of us have elected to run our city and school.

Vote Set For Local Elections Sat. April 7

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. this Saturday for city and school elections. Haskell residents will elect a mayor and two council members. Voting will take place in the City Hall Annex. Haskell ISD voters will elect two trustees and voting will be held in the Haskell National Bank Community Building.

In the city election, Abe Turner is running unopposed for the mayor's seat. Larry Gilliam has filled for reelection and other candidates on the ballot are Kenny Watson, Bailey Toliver, Sam Rodriguez, and Louis Wilson. Voters will elect two.

In the school election Max McMeans is seeking re-election. Other candidates include Jim Bridwell and Roger Moeller. Voters elect two.

Both city and school officials said Tuesday that absentee voting indicated a possible heavy turnout. Both the city and school have had record numbers of absentee voting.

Indian Track Team Says Thank You

We want to thank the community for buying doughnuts from the Haskell Indian track team last March 17. The profits from this sale helped send the Indians to the San Angelo Relays. Your generous support of the athletic activities in our school is much appreciated. Thank you. Jim Lisle, Track Coach.

Local Jury Trial Ends In 6-6 Jury Deadlock

A nine man, three woman jury deadlocked without reaching a decision last Friday in the aggravated assault trial of Haskell Police Officer S.E. Braly.

The three day trial ended at 6:30 p.m. Friday when District Judge Joe Williams released the jury after they (the jury) announced a hopeless deadlock.

The jury had deliberated the innocence or guilt of Braly for about six hours before announcing they were split six-six on their decision.

Jury selection started Wednesday morning and the presentation of witness and evidence started Wednesday afternoon. The case was given to the jury and deliberation started about 11:30 a.m. Friday.

Braly was facing trial in connection with the Nov. 3, 1983 shooting of Danny Ashley. Braly was indicted by a Haskell County Grand Jury Jan. 5, 1984 for reckless conduct.

Following the appointment of a special prosecutor to try the county court case, Mac Smith, District Attorney of the 43rd Judicial District and his assistant District Attorney, Dan Carney began their investigation of the case.

The case was re-submitted to the grand jury and a felony indictment of aggravated assault was returned on Feb. 22.

At one point during the deliberation, members of the jury requested that parts of the testimony of Braly be read. Later, members of the jury indicated they were split eight to four in their decision and at the time they were dismissed by the District Judge they were split six and six.

Special prosecutor Mac Smith indicated that he would request that the case be re-tried and would consider filing a motion for a change of venue.

aspect of the annual month-long educational and fund-raising campaign of the American Cancer Society, when volunteers call on their neighbors and friends to distribute information about cancer.

"This year, trained volunteers will be carrying information on the two most common and deadly forms of cancer," said Cox.

A folder offering a 'Quick Test on Cancer Risks for Lung, Colon and Rectum' will be handed out to all residents.

Around Town

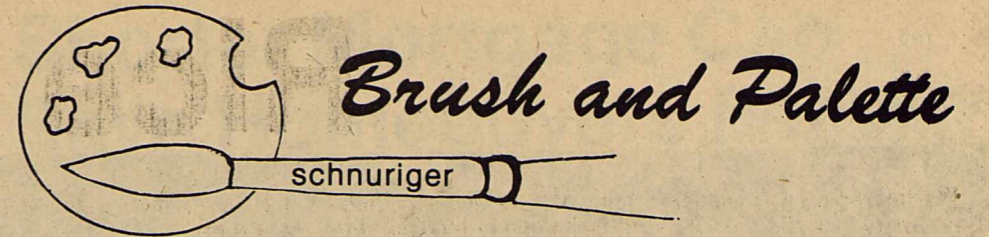

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Hill this past weekend were their children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, nephews, nieces, Mr. Hill's sister, and friends.

The group gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. Hill and to help Mr. Hill celebrate his 81st birthday. All their children attended: Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hill and family of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill and family of Odessa; Mrs. Howard Hill of Tulsa, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hill of Ft. Stockton; Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Hill Jr. and family of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hill and family of Kermit, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Riley of Jal, N.M.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Chase of Stamford, Mr. Hill's sister. Nephews who came were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chase of Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Jones of Abilene; Mr. Mancel Hill of Burleson, and Mr. Weldon Chase and Mr. Leon Chase of Stamford. Neices attending were Geneva Chase and Sandra Chase of Stamford and Melba Cockrell of Malakoff.

Mrs. Arzella Gowan, a friend of 60 years, and Mrs. Tommie Crocker, both from Malakoff also came. Other friends dropped by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harrell, Jennifer and Angela Aycock.

Miller and Dora Montgomery and Mrs. Alva Montgomery spent most of last week in Crane with his sister and Mrs. Montgomery's daughter. Her husband was critically ill and passed away Tuesday night. He was buried on Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Montgomery of Olney, Frank Montgomery of Garland and Betty Furrh of Grand Prairie joined them for the funeral.

I recently had the pleasure of studying with Bart Lindstrom, who is one of our best Texas Watercolor teachers and painters. He held his audience of twenty-five students spellbound with his humor and detailed explanations of his techniques. Mr. Lindstrom is definitely a traditionalist and is proud of it. He stressed throughout his demonstration and signed my sketch book with the notation: "Remember light lights and dark darks." The complimentary colors he used in his demonstration were soft and pleasing but first, he had a good drawing. He also stressed that a good drawing was the success of your painting.

Bart Lindstrom lives in Mineola and travels throughout the state for workshops and demonstrations. He is one that I would suggest is a "must" to study with, wherever and whenever you have the opportunity.

Q. From San Antonio comes this one: "I've been painting in oils and am considering taking up watercolors. Is there any advantage to dry or cake watercolors over the tube colors?"

A. Some teachers prefer that you put out your colors the day before class so they will dry. Recently I studied with Charles Reid who says to always put out fresh tube colors daily. When traveling, I take along a small box of watercolors and a bottle of water to use for sketching. Perhaps you can use both the tube and cake colors to determine which works best for you. A spray bottle helps with the dry paint as it activates it. I find both cake and tube paints good for my subject.

Q. I'm always told to use 100% rag paper, mat board, etc. but haven't been really told why. Could you please explain?

A. The best permanent paper for watercolors is made from linen rags (a small percentage of cotton is permissible) which are boiled, shredded and beaten to separate many fibers. It is then run through a fine screen to be layered, dried and pressed. No chemicals are used in the pure rag papers, with the exception of a little bleaching agent which is destroyed and neutralized by means which leave no harmless residue in the paper. Care must be taken to avoid all contamination by particles of metal. The finest papers are all rag. After using them, you can determine the difference. Also, 100% rag papers last longer, we are told.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with rules and orders promulgated by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of a public hearing to begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 14, 1984, in the offices of the Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, concerning proposals made by the company to add three optional services and delete two services from the list of local exchange services available to its Texas customers.

Proposed additions to the local exchange tariffs include an optional Local Measured Service under which all residence customers and single-line business customers could pay monthly rates less than flat rate for one-party service, with an additional charge for each completed outgoing call to be determined by the time of day, distance and duration of each call; and a subsidized LIFELINE local service to be made available to qualified individuals, as determined by the Public Utility Commission. The monthly rate for LIFELINE service would include an allowance of 25 outgoing calls per month, plus a charge for each additional call.

Proposed for deletion from the local exchange tariffs are one-element measured service offerings for residence customers and single-line business customers, but current customers would not be affected.

The company does not anticipate that these additional services will result in an increase in revenue to Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso al Publico

Por medio del presente aviso y en conformidad con las reglas y dictámenes de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, la compañía Southwestern Bell Telephone anuncia la audiencia pública que se llevará a cabo a partir de las 10 de la mañana del día lunes 14 de mayo de 1984 en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, con respecto a la propuesta de la compañía, que consiste en agregar tres servicios opcionales y suprimir dos servicios de la lista de servicios telefónicos locales a disposición del usuario en Texas.

Las adiciones propuestas al arancel del servicio telefónico local incluyen un Servicio Medido Local opcional según el cual todos los clientes residenciales y los clientes comerciales con línea única pagarían tarifas mensuales menores que la tarifa fija para servicios de línea única, con un cargo adicional por cada llamada completa efectuada desde ese teléfono, establecido según la hora, la distancia y la duración de cada llamada; así como un servicio local subvencionado de LIFELINE que estaría disponible para determinadas personas, según lo establezca la Comisión de Servicios Públicos. La tarifa mensual para el servicio de LIFELINE incluiría 25 llamadas mensuales con un cargo adicional por cada llamada en exceso de 25.

Se propone suprimir del arancel del servicio telefónico local las opciones de servicio medido de un elemento para clientes residenciales y clientes comerciales con línea única, pero esto no afectaría a los clientes actuales.

La compañía no espera que estos servicios adicionales produzcan un aumento de ingresos para Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Stock Show Winner Is A Businessman Do-It-Yourself Energy Program Offered

Keith Lane, the Keller High School senior who recently made history by winning three prestigious state cattle competitions with the same heifer, is more than an award-winning breeder and trainer: he's a businessman.

Since Lane has been showing cows and heifers at state competitions, he has parlayed the one calf his dotting grandfather gave him nine years ago into what could be considered a small herd he and his younger brother oversee.

You almost have to (be businesslike), because it doesn't take a whole lot, but cattle-raising is not a cheap hobby," Lane said.

Entry fees, gasoline for traveling to shows, hotel rooms, meals, feed and grooming supplies can add up to astronomical figures, he said.

For all the glory winning brings, the check for first place is usually less than $200.

Lane estimates about 25 cows and heifers have passed through his herd—which currently consists of 11 cows and heifers—for which the brothers are constantly buying and selling to upgrade the quality.

Principal Charles Holloway and agriculture instructors Brad Bland and George Smith—who helped Lane capture the ribbons—said no other student in the state has won the stock shows in Houston, Ft. Worth and San Antonio in the Polled Hereford Heifer Junior Division with one heifer. The biggest coup was Houston's show, long considered the top of the line in such competitions, said Holloway, who was an agriculture teacher before becoming principal at Keller.

Lane's heifer, J.B.S. Vicki 67K, won the bright ribbons and trophies, which are displayed outside Holloway's office at Keller High School. Lane said he bought the heifer for $1,000 and spent hours training her. He said at least a half-hour of brushing the animal's hair is needed each day to make it "stand up and do what you want it to do."

Next year at college, Lane plans to study agribusiness and perhaps minor in agribusiness. Ultimately, he would like to work for the American Polled Hereford Association, helping organize nationwide shows.

He is the great grandson of Watt Fitzgerald and the grandson of Walter Sutherland, formerly of Haskell.

In the earlier years of the energy crisis, insulation was encouraged, sold, pushed and otherwise touted as the cure-all for the homeowner who was in shock over trying to pay rapidly escalating utility bills. Unfortunately, many homeowners made major investments in insulation and storm windows only to find that they still had very high utility bills. No one had told them that air leakage was the culprit. Somehow, this message is still considered insignificant by some, primarily because nobody makes a great deal of money encouraging homeowners to take simple tolls like the caulking gun, putty knife and hammer to perform some relatively simple tasks to reduce the energy use of their home by some 15% or more.

From 15 to 60 percent of heating or cooling of your house is due to air exchange. Reducing the amount of infiltration/exfiltration with caulking and weatherstripping of windows, doors and other areas can pay off faster than almost any other home improvement you can make, even when your house is already well insulated. Warming the air that leaks into the house in winter, or cooling the air that leaks into it in summer, takes energy and costs you money. Besides keeping out moisture, wind, and hot air or cold air, weatherstripping will block entry to dust and noise, resulting in a cleaner, quieter home. Both weatherstripping and caulking are easy, economical, do-it-yourself jobs.

To learn how to perform the simple tasks of weatherizing your home come to the Haskell National Bank Community Room at 2:00 p.m. on Tuesday, April 10. Mrs. Weedon Echols, Extension Energy Specialist, from Lubbock will present a very helpful program on "Do-It-Yourself Weatherization".

She will also have an exhibit of insulation materials as well as caulking and weatherstripping materials.

This program is sponsored by the Family Living Committee of the Haskell County Extension office. For more information contact Lou Gilly, County Extension Agent-Home Economics at 817-864-2546. For your information, the Family Living Committee will have on display also an exhibit of the tools a "do-it-yourself" needs around the house.

During the remainder of the month of April look for articles in the Free Press on "Weatherizing Your Home."

Prospects are good for the upcoming spring turkey gobbler season slated for all or portions of 146 Texas counties during April.

Don Wilson, wild turkey program leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said turkey production in spring 1983 was about average or slightly below, but overall populations may be higher than normal because of good numbers of mature birds held over from previous nesting seasons. Wilson said turkey populations were not adversely affected by the December and January cold spell which hurt quail populations in some regions of the state.

There actually are two spring turkey seasons in the state, with April 14-29 being the standard season for most counties where Rio Grande turkeys range. However, in portions of Houston, Jasper, Newton, Polk, Trinity and Tyler Counties in East Texas where restocking efforts have re-established the eastern strain of turkey, the season will be March 31-April 15. In Anderson and Henderson Counties, also in East Texas, the season will be April 14-29.

Hunters should obtain the department's 1983-84 guide and supplement to hunting regulations to learn which counties offer a spring season, and boundaries within counties where only portions of the county are open for spring turkey hunting. The guides are available at department offices and hunting license outlets.

Wilson said season dates are set after turkey breeding activity has peaked. "Most gobblers are actually surplus birds, since the older gobblers are polygamous and are the dominant breeders," said Wilson. "We have found that hunting gobblers in the spring within regulations has no biological effect on overall populations."

Wilson said the annual harvest each spring is 15,000 to 20,000 gobblers, a figure which is growing due to increased hunter interest and because of seasons being authorized in additional counties during the past several years.

Wilson advises prospective turkey hunters to consider learning to operate a turkey call. "Using a call is not really difficult to learn, and it can dramatically increase the hunter's chance of success," Wilson said. "In addition to being effective, it is one of the most exciting hunting techniques I know of."

Inexperienced hunters should seek the counsel of those who have used a call in the past. Camouflage is another important aspect for the spring hunter, as an approaching tom can quickly spot a hunter who doesn't blend with his surroundings.

There is plenty of literature to help the aspiring turkey hunter, including instructional recordings on calling techniques. The Parks and Wildlife Department offers a free general information brochure on wild turkeys, entitled "Learn About Turkey." To receive the free publication, write the department at 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Texas 78744.

Cancer Society Offers Good Return On Dollars

"The breakdown of how American Cancer Society funds are spent in Texas represents one of the best returns on the dollar that I know of," said Jo Cox, Chairman of the 1984 educational and fund raising Crusade in Haskell.

In preparing for the April Crusade, Cox, feels it is important for the community to realize ACS expenditures. "It is part of the ACS we're most proud of and I think our friends and neighbors will be more willing to give to cancer control if they know how well their money is being spent," she said.

The following represents the breakdown of how each dollar raised last year by the ACS is being spent this fiscal year (September 1, 1983 - August 31, 1984) in Texas:

Cancer Research $.28
Professional Education12
Public Education27
Service/Rehabilitation24
Program Development/ Administrative06
Crusade11
Total $1.08

ture reflects increased research allocation to Texas by our National Society.

"The ACS is currently sponsoring research investigations in 9 major Texas hospitals, medical schools and universities totaling over $3.8 million," said Cox. "Because Texas has so many research institutions, the National Society allocates additional funds here."

"In spite of severe inflationary trends, we were able to keep tight control over our administrative cost and keep them within acceptable limits as this breakdown indicates," Cox commented.

ACS programs such as patient services and rehabilitation (Reach to Recovery, I Can Cope, Can Surmount, etc.), public education (films, pamphlets, exhibits, the Great American Smokeout) and professional education for the medical community are mainly administered through the Society's volunteer system. "Volunteer manpower helps maintain these impressive figures," said Cox.

This 108 percent expenditure reflects increased research allocation to Texas by our National Society.

TAKING THE HEAT

Plant this pair from Pioneer for a superior grain sorghum crop in hot, dry weather.

8680
This hybrid is especially adapted to the lighter and mixed soils of North Texas and the Rolling Plains. Excellent yield record under a wide range of conditions — but most impressive is its ability to produce a dependable yield when hot and dry conditions cause many to fail. Semi-open heads produce dark red, hard-textured grain with high bushel weight. Grows fast and matures early. Excellent root and stalk strength keep it standing for maximum harvest.

The tougher the conditions, the better you'll like 8493. A new hybrid, especially developed to withstand the heat, drought, and insect problems of this region. Superior yield and standability, excellent resistance to greenbugs, and much improved grain quality. Strong stalk and roots, too. Medium height plants produce semi-compact heads of harder textured, heavy test-weight grain. Plant this one with 8680 to spread weather risks, genetic risks, and harvest load.

Depend on these two for both yield potential and drought tolerance. Come on in let's talk.

Letters To The Editor
(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

Dear Editor:
Don, I guess you know by now that I came to Abilene March 20th and am now living in a large complex in the north part of the city. I do not know exactly like living here but it is a nice place. Nice large room, good bed and fine food. Even though I am not interested in the three good meals served three times a day I do appreciate the services of so many nice, kind and beautiful "waitresses".
Don, I guess I cannot understand things in this big place. I came down here to get treatment for severe pains in my left foot. I do not think the Dr. knows too much either because after 3 or 4 days of check-ups; he cut about 6 or 8 inches out of the right side of my neck, saying that it would help my brain. I thanked him for that. But I think he found out that nothing could be done to improve this old brain so he has set up surgery for April 4 in my left leg, a little closer to my left foot.
Leaving all jokes aside Don, I guess I am doing just fine and hope to see you at Lions Club April 10.
Yesterday a lady, Mrs. Lola

Scott, who was an employee in the Free Press many years ago came into visit me. While she was here my son, Kenneth, came in. At the age of 13 he began a career in the Free Press working with Lola. The reunion was exciting. While here; Lola told me about Albert Sharp being here in Room 3104. This morning I went to see Albert and found him in good spirits and hoping to be back home before I get back to Haskell. He showed me the Free Press, his picture, money tree and all.
Don, he is one of my best friends and he is worthy of all we people in Haskell do for him. I said "we" but since I was not there will you please take the enclosed check and put it on the money tree. He told me he was setting the tree out. You can show him this little sprout which had grown out while he was in the hospital.
Don, I guess I have written enough, too much, but I do want to remind you not to forget telling the Haskell people about the Broom and Mop Sale.
Sincerely,
Oscar W. Tooley

Consumer Alert

Jim Mattox

New Rules on Defective Products

If you buy a product which later turns out to be defective, you usually have the right to ask that it be repaired or replaced. Now, under a new ruling from the Texas Supreme Court, you also have a right to demand your money back if the defect is "substantial."

For example, a man in Dallas bought a large screen television from an area retailer. He paid cash and traded in his old set. The consumer experienced numerous problems with the set and the dealer attempted to repair it several times.

NEW RULES

This ruling may not sound revolutionary, but it is a big boost for consumers. To take advantage of it, you must be able to show that:

- 1) you accepted the product without knowledge of the defect or with the understanding that it would be fixed;
- 2) that you told the merchant you did not want the product within a reasonable time after accepting it, and before the item had deteriorated due to reasons other than the defect;
- 3) that the defect substantially impaired the value of the product; and
- 4) the warranty, if any, did not limit the buyer to choose between repair and replacement of the product.

ACCEPT OR REFUSE?

In cases where the buyer refuses to take the product when it is first delivered, the seller has the right to repair or replace the goods. However, if the buyer has accepted the product or goods and then later tells the seller he is revoking his

Disabled Vets May Receive Pay Increase

According to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, service-connected disabled veterans should receive an increase in their compensation payments on May 1, 1984.

The House and Senate agreed upon measure has been sent to the President for approval.

Included in the increase of benefits will be all veterans who are in receipt of service-connected disability compensation, as well as all widows and children who are receiving dependency and indemnity compensation based upon the service-connected death of a veteran. The 3.5% increase matched that which was provided to recipients of Social Security and was effective December 1, 1983.

In 1983, the President and the Congress decided to delay by six (6) months the cost of living increases in Federal benefits, such as Social Security and VA compensation. For the past several years, the annual Social Security increases based upon the cost of living have been made effective on June 1. Due to the decision to delay these increases for six (6) months, Social Security increase of 3.5% went into effect December 1, 1983, and was reflected in the payments made on January 1, 1984. VA compensation, for a number of years, has been increased with the beginning of the new Fiscal Year, which is October 1. When the six month delay was placed into effect, the compensation increases were moved up to April 1, 1984, which means that the longer payments will appear on the VA checks issued on May 1, 1984.

Finalists Selected For Congressional Internship

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm announced that eleven finalists for the summer Congressional Internship Program have been chosen by the eight-person District-wide committee, chaired by former Congressman Omar Bureson. Each of the Omar Bureson and Lyndon Baines Johnson Congressional Interns will work in the Congressman's Washington office for one month, June or July.

"We hope to bring about a better understanding of our government through this program, by educating the students and teachers with firsthand knowledge of the Congressional office and its functions. This involves them in the political system and demonstrates how our government actually works," Stenholm said. "We try to provide them with a full legislative experience and have been very pleased with the response to this program. The selection committee has chosen some outstanding finalists."

Finalists appearing for interview will be Lisa Mani, a freshman at Vassar College, from Abilene; a junior Government major at Abilene Christian University from Irving, Lori Givens; Lauren Keathley, of Abilene, who is a sophomore at Baylor University, majoring in Public Relations; 1983 Hardin-Simmons University graduate Gregory Solomon, of Abilene, who is presently working on his master's degree in Public Administration of Texas Tech University; Mark Gee, of Anson, former Abilene Christian University student now a sophomore at Texas A & M University, majoring in Biochemistry; senior Home Economics Education major at Abilene Christian University from Stamford, Jymann Hokanson; Hamlin High School senior Susan Stafford, who was a 1983 participant in the Radcliffe-Harvard Summer program in Science.

Also selected were Susan Carruth, Comanche 5th grade teacher, who graduated from Tarleton State University; McMurry College sophomore Conrad Hamric, of Rotan, whose major is Biology; Ritchie Priddy, of Big Spring, a Texas A & M University graduate now working on a master's degree in Mass Communication at Texas Tech University; and Tarleton State University senior, Becky Seawright, who is a Home Economics major from Meridian.

Congressman Stenholm will attend the luncheon honoring the finalists and members of the Selection Committee at the Briarstone Manor on April 7. The committee will name the four interns after personal interviews that morning.

Boeing Rolls Out 737-300

The Boeing Company has unveiled its new-generation jetliner, the 737-300. It's the quietest, most fuel-efficient airplane in its class. The rollout came 17 years to the day Boeing introduced its first commercial twin-jet, the 737-100. The -300 encompasses new technology and is powered by two 20,000 pound thrust CFM56-3 engines, a joint project of SNECMA, France, and General Electric Company, U.S.A. The -300 has been "stretched" 8.8 feet from earlier version 737s. In various seating configurations it can hold 128-149 passengers. Flight deck of the 737-300 features the latest digital computer technology for automatic control and guidance.

Following an extensive testing program leading to certification, the 737-300 will enter scheduled service later this year. Boeing predicts a good market for this airliner. Thus far, 134 world operators have ordered 1,118 of the popular aircraft.

TAX PLANNING

Written by

Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

SMALL AT-HOME BUSINESS?

Question: I have a regular job, but I also run a small at-home business. I have some equipment that I use both personally, and in my business—a small computer and my car. Will claiming tax breaks on these get me audited?

Answer: No. To ensure a deduction for dual-use equipment you must be able to prove that you put the equipment to substantial business use. And you must be able to allocate the business use versus the personal use. For a car, you can safely use the number of business miles compared to the total number of miles driven during the year. You can deduct the business portion of your expenses, including depreciation, and you can also claim a proportionate part of the investment credit (6% of the purchase price).

With the computer, the standard of comparing business to personal usage is the time spent on the computer. You should keep a log of the operating time. The IRS is known to look more favorably on owners of large computers than on those who have spent less than $1,000. However, business is business, and no matter what the cost, if you used the computer regularly in your business, you have a valid tax break coming to you.

Do You Suffer From Mysophobia, Claustrophobia...

If you have intense fear of dogs, you have cynophobia. If you feel similarly about dirt, you have mysophobia.

These are just two of hundreds of phobias—irrational fears of objects or situations.

The fear, which is out of proportion with reality, usually results from an early, unpleasant experience with the object or situation, says the Texas Medical Association.

Mar.: people with phobias can carry on a normal life. They merely avoid spiders (arachnophobia) or whatever it is they fear.

Other phobias can be more serious. Claustrophobia, a fear of confined spaces, can prevent a person from riding in a car or in an elevator. Still, most claustrophobic people can learn to overcome this fear. Some phobias can make leading a normal life nearly impossible. In some cases of agoraphobia, a fear of open spaces, the person will not leave the home.

A person with a relatively mild phobia often can overcome the fear himself through a gradual process called desensitization. First, the person looks at pictures of the object, for example, a cat (ailurophobia). Then, he goes into the same room with a feline. The next step is getting close to the animal. Finally, the person touches the cat.

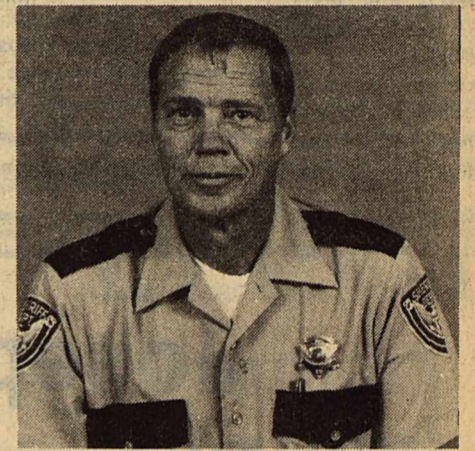

If the effect of a phobia resembles anxiety, professional help may be needed. A physician may prescribe an antidepressant drug for agoraphobia linked to depression.

Behavior therapy also may be used. One type is desensitization, which may be administered by a professional if the patient is unsuccessful alone.

The other type is "flooding," a technique in which the patient is suddenly confronted with the feared object or situation and has no means of escape. By experiencing the phobia to the extreme, the person comes to realize that the feared thing is not harmful. Of course, flooding should be done only by a knowledgeable therapist.

Other techniques used by qualified professionals to treat phobias include hypnosis and biofeedback training, which involves relaxation techniques.

Those Flying Insects May Be Termites

Within a few weeks, probably following a spring shower, all of the many factors will be just right and homeowners across the state will suddenly begin to wonder where all those flying insects are coming from.

A great many homeowners will think they are flying ants which are clouding around the windows trying to get outside. They will simply spray them with a bomb from under the kitchen cabinet, won't see any others, and feel secure the problem is finished. Unfortunately most of them won't be correct. Rather than ants, the homeowners are observing the annual migration swarm of termites.

Termites are currently responsible for some $30 million in damage in Texas each year according to Dr. Ted Granovsky of College Station who is currently Chairman of the Insect Control Committee of the National Pest Control Association.

Though termite infestations vary greatly from place to place according to such factors as humidity, there are 24 varieties of termites which infest virtually all of the state.

In one study conducted by Dr. Granovsky while at Texas A&M University, homes in the Houston-Corpus Christi region of the state are infested at the rate of 75 percent by the time they are 20 years old.

Sightings of termites swarming is a certain sign of infestation in a home. Unfortunately for the homeowner, not all of the termites come out during a swarm. The excess number of termites are all that leave the colony in an effort to establish another colony elsewhere.

The majority stay behind to continue their destruction of the wood and wood fiber portions of the home.

The two major types of termites in Texas are the subterranean and the drywood. Another significant species, the Formosan is also beginning to make strong inroads into the state in the Beaumont, Port Arthur, Galveston areas.

Basically the drywood termites are restricted to the lower reaches of the state, while subterranean species can be found almost statewide. Their damage is basically the same, but their lifestyles are quite different. Drywood termites can attack any portion of a home, getting their start in the siding, wood shingles or any other exposed wood.

Subterranean termites will come up from the ground, entering the home through a tiny crack in a slab foundation, through a porch or wooden deck which touches the ground, or up through mud tunnels which they construct up the sides of a pier and beam wall.

The Texas Pest Control Association advises the best defense against drywood termites is to have a licensed pest control firm make a thorough examination of your home every year. With subterranean termites, inspections on existing homes are equally important each year, but there is a method whereby you can achieve protection virtually for the life of the home.

This prevention is called pre-treatment of the slab. In this work, a licensed pest control firm will lay down a chemical barrier on the soil before the concrete slab is poured. This adds little to the construction cost of a new home against subterranean termite invasion.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

She was a 70-year-old woman from Big Spring, Texas.

She was dying and her doctor wanted to release her from the hospital to spend her last days among family and friends at home.

She still required medical treatment once a day, but that should have been no problem since home health care is permitted to elderly patients whose bills are paid by Medicare.

From a fiscal point of view, in fact, releasing the woman from the hospital was the only sensible thing to do, with her hospital costs running $300 a day as opposed to $50 for care at home.

Unfortunately, senselessly, rules regarding home health care under Medicare have become increasingly restrictive over the past two years.

This woman was forced to spend her last days in the hospital, where she died last August. Her Medicare benefits, eaten away at a $300 a day clip, ran out after a time and her husband had to pay out up to $30,000 in medical bills.

Not only are Medicare home health care rules increasingly restrictive, they are inconsistent as well.

Had this woman lived somewhere other than Texas she might well have been eligible for treatment at home. The rules for the Health Care Financing Administration region that includes Texas did not permit her to have home health care visits every day, while rules in other regions would have.

This is a serious problem and it threatens to get worse. As the new Prospective Payment System—under which hospitals may only charge Medicare a flat fee for a specific illness—goes into effect, people who provide home health care report an increasing number of sicker patients being released from hospitals to their care.

I recently introduced the Home Health Care Protection Act in the Senate. It is intended to help ensure that patients covered by Medicare receive the services they need from qualified professionals in a setting which their physicians feel is most appropriate.

The bill does not attempt to expand home care services beyond what was originally intended. It does attempt to stop an inconsistent erosion of benefits that, in the case of this poor woman from Big Spring, kept her from spending her final days at home and resulted in substantially higher costs to both her family and to Medicare.

My legislation specifically allows Medicare reimbursement for up to 60 days of home care. The Home Care Protection Act will guarantee, chapter and verse, that people on Medicare receive those benefits that Congress intended all along for them to receive.

I would sincerely hope it will ensure that we'll hear no more stories like that of the woman from Big Spring.

Orientation For Foster Parents Slated Apr. 10

A Foster Parent Orientation has been scheduled for Tuesday April 10 at the Texas Department of Human Resources, 103 East Nevada, Seymour. Time of the meeting is from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

There is a critical shortage of foster homes for children in the North Texas area. At least 10 new foster families are needed now and extensive efforts are being made at this time to recruit new homes.

Foster homes are needed for abused and neglected children of all ages who must stay in a substitute home until their families are able to provide a safe and healthy environment for them. Minority homes are especially needed. At the present time there are no Black foster families in the immediate area. All Foster Parents must meet State Licensing Standards, and go through a home study in order to become certified foster homes. A series of 6 classes on foster parenting is provided to equip parents for the task and is part of the licensing process.

If your family is interested in providing foster care, please attend the orientation to learn how you can become a foster family. It's passed virtually every test imaginable, except one.

The 1985 Buick Park Avenue.

Before even one new Park Avenue appeared on the streets of America, a pre-production model had to prove itself in the cold of the Canadian wilds, on the German Autobahn, and in the searing heat of the Australian Outback. Only then was it declared ready for the final, most important test of all... yours.

We invite you to scrutinize every seam, every body panel, every stitch. Then drive the Park Avenue. Not just once around the block, but further. Over the roads you drive everyday. We're certain it will meet with your approval and pass your test with flying colors.

Seminar Set On Survival Of Family Farm

Keeping the family farm going or maybe expanding operations often means taking on a partner, possibly a son or daughter. Just how to take this step is the focus of an upcoming seminar at Texas A&M University called "Teaming Up in Agriculture."

"Most farming and ranching operations are passed on from one family member to another—that's the key to survival of the family farm," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist and attorney with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, who is coordinating the seminar. "It's always hard to get into farming or ranching, and most operations start and expand with the family members."

The seminar, which begins at 1 p.m. April 12 and continues throughout the next day, will address such issues as the farm's earning potential, how to finance expansion, and methods for sharing income, real growth, inflation growth and losses.

A session on "Organizing Your Expanding Business" will deal with partnerships, limited partnerships, corporations and business trusts. "Income Tax Planning" and "Estate Tax Planning" sessions should also be of interest to farmers and ranchers who are thinking about enlarging their operations, notes Hayenga.

He adds that the seminar's closing session, "Passing Along the Business," is one that should benefit all producers.

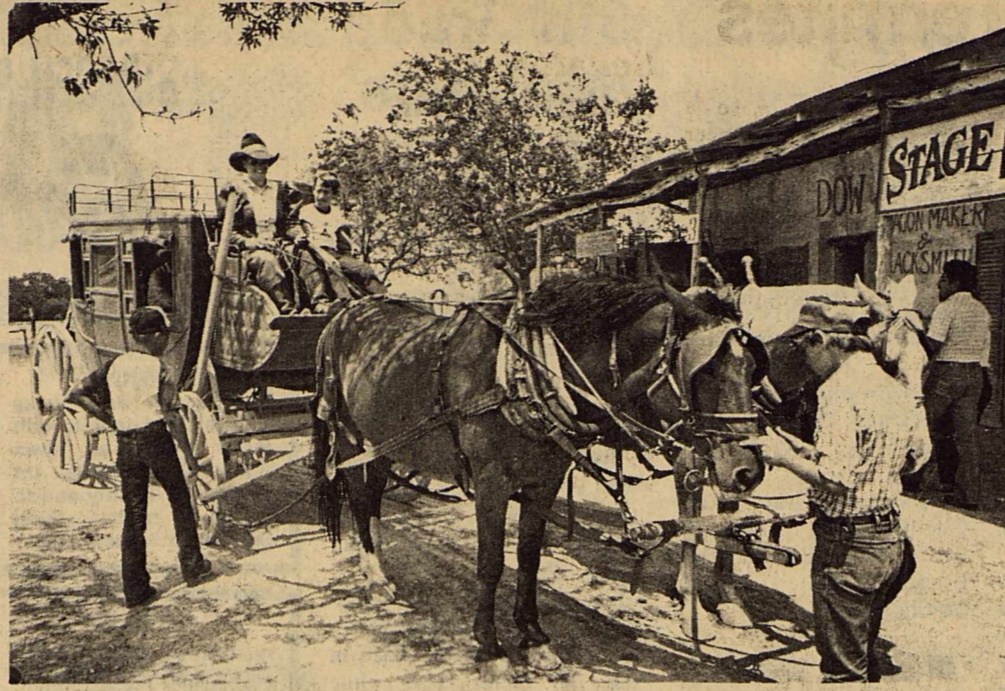

Joining Hayenga in conducting the day-and-a-half seminar will be Dr. Richard Trimble, Extension economist in farm management and production economics, and Dr. John A. Hopkin, Stiles professor of agricultural finance at Texas A&M.

Additional information about the seminar is available from Hayenga at 409-845-2226.

Stagecoach rides are a popular attraction at Alamo Village near Brackettville in Southwest Texas, where the Old West lives on in an elaborate reconstruction of a frontier town of the 1800's. Now in its 25th year, the village is a family recreation center built around the movie set of John Wayne's "The Alamo." Summer entertainment includes country-western shows, often interrupted by shootouts between frontier lawmen and desperados. TTDA photo by Richard Reynolds.

Workshop Set On Use Of Computers For Farmers

Computers can help farmers, ranchers and homemakers in their decision-making by providing them with an instantaneous barrage of management information. All of this will be put into perspective at a computer workshop at the Texas 4-H

Center at Lake Brownwood April 3-4.

The workshop will provide basic information on computer terminology and selection and the role of the computer in the farm, ranch, agribusiness and home. In addition, operating systems and basic programming procedures will be discussed for those with some prior computer experience, points out Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, which is sponsoring the event.

Registration will be from 12 noon to 1 p.m. the first day, and opening discussions will focus on computer applications to family resource management and farm and ranch management.

Discussions on computer hardware (the computer itself) and software (the computer program) and tips on selecting a computer also will be featured.

Computer software and hardware vendors will provide a number of exhibits for workshop participants, adds Lovell.

Workshop participants will have an opportunity to get some "hands on" experience with computers during a series of concurrent sessions dealing with the following: preparing for computerized accounting systems, selecting a farm or ranch accounting system, crop decision aids, electronic spreadsheets, marketing decision aids, data base management system, livestock decision aids, and dairy decision aids.

The sessions will be repeated the second day, says Lovell, and the workshop will conclude at noon.

Anyone interested in attending the workshop should contact his local county Extension agent as soon as possible to pre-register.

Receiving Funds For Others Require Special Treatment

Do you receive Social Security or supplemental security income (SSI) checks on behalf of someone else? If so, remember you have important responsibilities.

First and foremost, these payments can be used only for the benefit and well-being of that person. This is true whether you are a relative, a close friend, a court-appointed guardian, or an official of a public or private agency or institution.

Secondly, promptly report changes that may effect benefits such as: change of address or custody; person dies, marries, stops or starts work, or enters or leaves an institution; disabled individual's condition improves; or person getting SSI has a change in assets or income.

A third responsibility is to promptly report how you have used the benefits when asked by the Social Security Administration. Because of a recent Federal court decision, more payees must complete a representative payee report starting in 1984, compared with previous years.

After you return the report, the Social Security Administration may ask you to verify certain information. Therefore, you should keep track of benefits received and how funds were spent. Be sure to hang on to receipts, cancelled checks, and other proofs that pertain to expenses on behalf of the beneficiary.

If you have any questions about your duties as representative payee, ask any Social Security office for free leaflets that provide more information and guidance for keeping records.

Coffee To Honor Sam Newcomb April 7

A coffee in honor of Sam Newcomb, candidate for state representative from the 64th District, will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. April 7 in the Woman's Forum in Breckenridge.

Newcomb will be honored by his home town supporters and those from the other seven counties in the district.

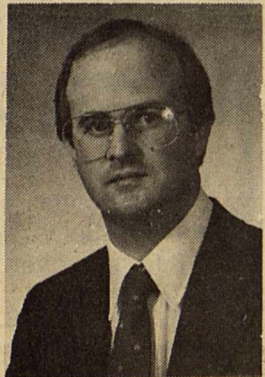

A native from Albany, Newcomb grew up in Breckenridge and returned to Stephens County after retiring from the Army with the rank of major. He served as Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce manager before going into business for himself as an independent petroleum landman.

Knowledge Is Subject Of Library Week

Knowledge is the dynamo that powers personal achievement in careers, school, sports or any pursuit, say America's libraries.

That's why the Haskell County Library is joining the American Library Association to tell the nation that "Knowledge Is Real Power" during the 27th annual National Library Week, April 8-14, 1984.

"Libraries have always made information readily available to citizens," Mrs. McGee, librarian at Haskell Co. Library, said. "Now that we have entered the 'Information Age,' people are discovering that to get ahead it is even more important to be well-informed and have access to current news.

"A perfect example is our Olympic athletes. They know that being well-informed about their events and keeping up-to-date on new techniques is as important as their physical abilities. You can be sure they and their coaches made good use of information resources during their training," Mrs. McGee added.

The national celebration, begun in 1958, is sponsored by the American Library Association.

At said time and place all such persons, firms, corporations and estates, and their agents and attorneys, shall have the right to appear and be heard and offer testimony as to the said assessments, and to the amount thereof, proposed to be assessed against said property, and the real and true owners thereof, the lien and charge of personal liability to secure payment of said assessments, the special benefits to accrue to each such abutting property and the owner or owners thereof by virtue of said improvements, if any, or concerning any error, invalidity, irregularity or deficiency, in any proceeding or contract in reference to said improvements, and said proposed assessments, and concerning any other matter or thing as to which hearing is a constitutional prerequisite to the validity of said assessments, proceedings and improvements and on which they are entitled to a hearing under the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas and the proceedings of the City Council of the City of Haskell, Texas.

April 6-8 — Fort Clark Cavalry Days, Brackettville. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, Fort Clark celebrates its establishment 132 years ago as an Indian fort. Buildings have been converted to accommodate visitors with lodging and food. Entertainment is varied and reflects the inhabitants of years past. More details from Fort Clark Historical Society, Box 1061, Brackettville 78832.

April 7-8 — 37th Annual Strawberry Festival, Poteet. Many communities in Texas have festivals in tribute to an area commodity and this little South Texas town is no different. Included in their many events will be a parade, fireworks, arts and crafts, rodeo, strawberry auction and a 10K run. Food booths and continuous entertainment on five stages featuring male and female belly dancers, trick rope artists, bands, singers, dancers and more are planned. Hours: 11-9 Saturday; noon-9 Sunday. Admission: advance $2; gate $3. Tickets and schedule of events from Strawberry Festival, Box 227, Poteet 78065 (512-742-8144).

April 7-8, 14-15 — Highland Lakes Bluebonnet Trail, Austin, Buchanan Dam, Burnet, Lampasas, Llano, Kingsland and Marble Falls. The trail, now in its 23rd year, spotlights best fields of bluebonnets in the area. Arts and crafts fairs are held in each community except Austin, and then there are "special" events such as a festival in Burnet on the 7th and Kingsland on the 14th, an Old Fiddler's Contest on the 14th and a golf tournament the same weekend in Llano, and a flower show in Marble Falls the 14th and 15th. Motor coach tours are available both weekends. For brochure and map contact Carol Stuewe, Highland Lakes Tourist Association, P.O. Box 1967, Austin 78767 (512-478-0098).

April 7-8, 14-15 — Annual International Bazaar, Dallas. More than 30 of the world's nationalities in the Dallas area gather to enjoy international cuisine, arts and crafts, folk dancing and sounds of music on City Hall Plaza. More information from Central Business District Association, 1507 Pacific Avenue, Suite 1310, Dallas 75201 (214-747-8555).

April 28 — 13th Annual Bob Wills Day, Turkey (48 miles west of Childress). Born in Oklahoma, Wills came to Turkey at a young age, through the years practiced barbering, began playing his fiddle 'round and about... and the rest is history. Fans gather each year to celebrate Country and Western Swing's favorite son. At least 25 to 30 former Texas Playboys will be present this year. Dancing, fiddling, parade and lots of good food are on the agenda. More information from Rita Guest, Bob Wills Day, Box 577, Turkey 79261 (806-423-1066).

April 21 — 38th Annual Easter Fires Pageant, Fredericksburg. The pageant, a unique blending of the "Fable of the Easter Bunny" created in 1847 by a pioneer mother to calm her children's fears of the Indian fires in the hills and the history of the founding of Fredericksburg, is reenacted by a cast of over 800 local townspeople. It has been commemorated by a Texas Historical Marker. Performance at the Gillespie County Fair Grounds at 8:15 p.m. Refreshments will be available and warm clothing is suggested. Ample free parking. Reserved seats $5; general admission $4; children 6-12 $1.00; under 6 free. A homes tour from 1-5 p.m. features some of the city's historic homes. April 26-May 6 — "Buccaneer Days" Festival, Corpus Christi. Numerous events include pirates' "capture" of City Hall, sailboat regattas, fireworks, music festival, art jamboree, coronation pageant and illuminated night parade. Sports tournaments, jazz and symphony concerts and a junior parade round out this multi-faceted celebration in the "sparkling city" on the Gulf. Details from Buccaneer Commission, Inc., P.O. Box 30404, Corpus Christi 78404 (512-882-3242).

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

This Saturday, April 7, is school trustee election day. We have three candidates for two places this year. Max McMeans is one of the incumbents and is seeking re-election. The other candidates are Jim Bridwell and Roger Moeller. David Frierson the other incumbent, chose not to seek reelection.

Why is it important to vote in the School Trustee Election? Did you realize that Haskell ISD is the second biggest (next to the county) taxing entity in the county? The Board of Education is responsible along with the administration for over $500,000 of your tax dollars. In addition these same people are responsible for the proper administration of Federal and State Revenues of almost $1,000,000. The budgeting and proper use of all these funds is a very important task. The School Board is the policy making body for the school district. The policies implementing the curriculum changes dictated recently by the State Board of Education must be developed by the local board. They must see that these policies are properly administered by the staff. The board also has the awesome responsibility of making decisions concerning personnel on the recommendation of the administration. They are also solely responsible for the evaluation of the superintendent.

The board performs all these difficult functions for the gross salary of zero dollars. They must meet at least once a month and, often times, are required to attend special sessions. We are fortunate to have a very good Board of Education in Haskell. They are interested in their jobs and strive to understand the many details of this rather intricate business. They are dedicated to the proper education of youth.

These board members deserve your support. The best way to show your support is to get out and vote on Saturday, April 7, at the bank Community Building between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

Speer Gives Statement To Voters

Greetings and many thanks to friends, neighbors, acquaintances and others who have supported me in any way.

Several people have asked me what constable means. The word Constable comes from the Eastern Roman Empire official called Comes Stabuli; meaning Count of the Stable.

In the middle ages it was the highest ranking official of a Royal Household, Court, etc.

Today a constable is a peace officer, with powers and jurisdiction—some what more limited than those of sheriff.

Regret that I won't be able to see every one personally. But do invite anyone to examine my record as your Constable and if there is any discrepancy of any kind, I will be glad to rectify the error if you will vote me in as Constable May 5, 1984.

Sincerely,
D.L. (Jack) Speer

Shorter Mortgage Can Save Homebuyers Money

Homebuyers can save thousands of dollars by choosing a mortgage that is paid off sooner than the traditional 30 years.

"Many borrowers diligently shop for lower interest rate loans while overlooking possible savings from shorter-term mortgages," contends Dr. Don Stebbins, real estate specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

For example, a 30-year $70,000 mortgage at 13.5 percent interest will cost the home buyer $288,643.87 principal and interest. If the same mortgage is paid off in 20 years, total principal and interest payments equal $202,838.95.

In this example, monthly payments have to be increased by $43.37 to reduce the term of the mortgage from 30 to 20 years," notes Stebbins. "But this extra $43.37 per month is a reduction of the loan principal, so it really is a form of savings because it's an increase in the homebuyer's equity each month. This is attractive not only to individuals who prefer to reduce their debt but also to people who have difficulty budgeting for other forms of savings and investments.

"Of course, since interest payments are tax deductible for taxpayers who itemize deductions, the savings after taxes will be less but still quite substantial," Stebbins points out.

An alternative for homebuyers who stretch their budget to the limit to purchase a home is to obtain a 30-year mortgage to minimize current payments and then to increase the monthly payments as their income rises in future years.

"For example, I know a couple who plan to increase their mortgage payment by $25 per month each year," says Stebbins. "If they follow through, they will be able to pay off their mortgage in about 15 years and save a lot of interest cost without too much of a financial burden."

As costs associated with home ownership have increased to a level where they are the largest item in most family budgets, it has become increasingly important that families consider ways to reduce those costs, says

Stebbins. The early retirement of a mortgage is one effective way for homebuyers to do just that.
