Up To Two Inches

Welcome Rains Fall Over Much Of Haskell County

Rainfall of over two inches fell on Haskell County Tuesday night. In some instances the amount received Tuesday almost doubled the total rain received for the year.

Across the County rainfall reports ranged from about one-half inch to almost two and one-half inches.

In addition to rain, pea to marble size hail fell across much of the County but no damage reports were received early Wednesday morning.

Members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department responded to a fire at an oil tank battery about 9:45 p.m. Tuesday night. The fire apparently started when lightning struck a pair of oil tanks. One tank was empty and apparently exploded. The other tank was nearly full but was extinguished with little problem.

The tank batteries were on the Manford Reid place southeast of Rochester. Damage estimates were not available Wednesday.

Rainfall reports ranged from one-half inch on the Tiffen Mayfield farm at Weinert to 2.4 inches on the Doug Lefevre farm south of Haskell. Wallar Overton at Paint Creek reported 1.6 inches with pea to marble size hail and F.A. Ulmer at Sagerton reported 2.5 inches with small hail.

Ronnie Chapman reported 1.1 inches and Jack Chapman reported 2.1 inches. Norris Anders reported .7 inches in Rule and reports of .1 inch were received from Rochester. About one inch fell in Weinert and KVRP in Haskell gauged 1.6 inches.

Brush and Palette

The 1984 World's Fair opened in New Orleans on May 12 with the theme "Rivers of the World". Sculptor Joe Barth created two mermaids, each 25 feet of papier-mache, will flank the main entrance. The mermaids were coated with a secret water-proof compound, essentially a roofing cement, to help the papier-mache withstand the New Orleans summer rains. They were painted later or color. These mermaids are seated atop 16-foot pedestals and the gateway arches up another 10 feet. Sea gods wrestling alligators, 15 feet tall, make up the fountains at the gate and are more of Barth's work. When some of you go to the World's Fair, take pictures of these works to bring home and share with those of us who probably will not go. Sculpture is an exciting field, whether it be marble, wood or papier-mache. I have some papier-mache work to do now to repair my figure in the bird bath—wish I knew what his 'secret water-proof compound is—do you have any idea?

Q. I do ink drawings and have heard about galls or gall-nuts. Could you please explain how ink is made from this material?

A. As a result of the sting of certain insects, oak trees develop little round, nut-like swellings called galls or gall-nuts. These gall-nuts contain tannic and gallic acids which can be soaked out of the dried galls with water. The solution is clear and substantially colorless; but if it is mixed with a solution of an iron salt, a purplish-black compound is produced at once, and the ink becomes still blacker with age. Some of the salts first produced by this mixture are colorless but turn black with oxidation. To bind this black color securely, some gum arabic must be added to the ink. You will need to experiment to determine the amount of gum arabic to add.

Q. Some of my teachers use Van Dyke Brown but I have been told by others not to use it. What is your opinion?

A. Not my opinion but the art dictionaries explain the use of the color as fugitive. Because of its tarry and bituminous nature, it is a fugitive pigment. It fades on exposure to strong light and develops a cold, gray tone. In oil, however, it is more permanent than in watercolor. The pigment appears to dissolve in oil or varnish and to stain it; for this reason, it is difficult to isolate and to identify in such mediums. Probably this lignite color came into use in the late 12th or 13th centuries when brown shadows and backgrounds became popular.

HINT: Don't forget to clean your brushes—this extends the life.

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134 Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Directory Assistance May Cost More Than Call

Changes approved by the Federal Communications Commission on May 25, 1984 will affect General Telephone customers using interstate long-distance directory assistance, customers using AT&T to make long-distance calls, and businesses with more than one line.

An interstate directory assistance charge of 50 cents per call with a two-call allowance for each billing period was approved for AT&T, the nation's only provider of interstate directory assistance service. To obtain the two-call directory assistance allowance, the customer must make at least two interstate calls during each billing period. If the customer makes one or no interstate calls, the allowance would be one or zero respectively.

The FCC also ordered AT&T to reduce its interstate long-distance rates by approximately 6.1 percent.

At the same time, the FCC approved interstate end user access charges of $6 per line for businesses with more than one line.

All of the changes became effective May 25.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has filed a tariff with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to make end user common line charges associated with Centrex CO service equal to those to be billed to Private Branch Exchange service. The Commission has suspended the proposed tariff until October 1, 1984, or before, and assigned the matter to Docket No. 5686.

The equalization of end user common line charges for Centrex CO service is to be accomplished by a reduction in Centrex service charges. The net effect of the Centrex service charge adjustment and an interstate end user common line charge will be an increase in total billing.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. A special appeal, of interest to those people who are concerned for the fullness of God's work in this area... We of "Christ Church" 5th and Pawnee Rule, Texas welcome you to participate in a program for complete deliverance of God's people, too long has Satan's agencies been allowed, through the commandments of men and the rudiments of the world, religious traps that offer nothing but form worship to blind the eyes of hurting, needy, longing, searching people... People who want to be free in God, not bound by denominational traditions, dogmas, creeds or ties but to worship God in spirit and truth.. we here at Christ Church, you can call us charismatic, full gospel, pentecostal, or what ever you will. what ever makes you happy or turns you on.. but we love God, we believe God... we practice Mark 16:15-20...it is important to us to have the Holy Ghost of God to develop Galatians 5:22-26 in our hearts.. we declare to everyone who even claims to be a part of the Christian world, that you must depart from your iniquity, quit reading into God's word things that are not there and reading out those things that are there in His word.. If you do not have signs and miracles following your ministry.. if you do not have Mark 16:20 authenticate your ministry, then you do not have a ministry.. you have not been called of God! You only have a doctrine, a denomination, just another religion.. it is not he who commendeth himself but whom God commendeth: see I Kings 18:21-39. Our Lord Jesus Christ is alive and active in our midst; He heals people.. we need a praise leader (song), musicians, asst. pastor, officers and workers in our church.. see we have just started... there will be no money involved yet, we even pay the rent ourselves... these people must be fully yielded, filled and led by the Holy Spirit of God... they must be drawn by Christ's call to the fields of labor in this final hour; are you tired of a dead religion? Of playing Church: Of a program that offers nothing but a dead form: If so come with us.. no matter what your problem is we have God's answer for you..we pray the prayer of faith for the sick and they are healed... we operate in the full counsel of God, we can and will help you.. our invitation is to you no matter who you are, where you live, rich or poor, black, white, yellow or brown we be all brethren in Christ Jesus.. you are needed, wanted, loved and important to us.. let us love, serve, praise and worship our Father together.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER

Superintendent, Haskell ISD

Governor White has finally issued the call for a special session of the State Legislature. By the time you read this column, they will be in action. It is my understanding that confusion reigns in Austin. There are several things that could happen in this special session which would impact Haskell ISD. The legislature will be looking at a reform package proposed by the SCOPE Committee headed by H. Ross Perot. This package will include a complete change in the method of school finance. It also includes a new method of paying teachers including a career ladder. This new method will include pay raises for teachers. It proposes to equalize school districts financially. It will propose to pay property poor districts more state aid while giving rich districts little or no aid. The proposal includes changes in vocational education and the use of the school day. It proposes changes in the co-curricular part of education. These are a few of the areas addressed by the bill. What will pass or not pass is up for speculation. To finance this proposal would require a large tax increase. The legislature has not passed a state tax increase since 1968. I realize this will be a traumatic experience for the legislators.

We have kept up with the proposals as well as possible to determine their impact on Haskell ISD. Some parts of the package affect Haskell very little while other parts could have a profound effect in the operation of the school district. I simply cannot read the legislator's feelings at this time. I feel no one will question the need for some educational reforms including teacher pay raises. However, if the effect on local districts becomes too adverse; then, the reforms may have a negative effect.

I am going to take my summer rest from writing this column at this time. I normally take the month of July. However, with the legislature in special session, we are delayed in our budget work which has been a significant part of my summer columns. I feel that renewing my column after the special session will prove to be of greater benefit to the public of Haskell ISD. I do know I need to relax and let the creative juices rejuvenate. However, I am looking forward to renewing the column in approximately a month. If anything of major consequence occurs during this period, I will strive to inform. I would like to use this space to thank you for reading this column and the many comments and nice compliments I have received from you. All of these are deeply appreciated.

TAX PLANNING
Written By Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

IRS AUDITS (How to Handle Them)
A voluntary tax system such as ours uses the audit as a means of achieving compliance with tax laws. Only a small percentage of the millions of returns that are filed are selected for audit. Using a complex scoring system, the IRS computers make the initial selection. A review of these returns by IRS personnel determines which returns will actually be audited.
The most frequent audit is the "correspondence audit" where the IRS asks for clarification or documentation for some item on your return. The "office interview audit" requests that the taxpayer bring supporting documents to an IRS office for review by an agent.
A "field audit," usually used for business returns and more complex individual returns, is conducted on the taxpayer's premises.
Some basic rules to follow to get through any audit as quickly and painlessly as possible include:
1. Be cooperative and business like. Provide the information requested promptly, but do not volunteer other information.
2. Remember the agent is just doing his job. Don't harangue him with your views on taxes, and never offer him a "gift."
3. If your return was properly prepared, don't be intimidated into paying taxes that you do not feel you owe. Be reasonable, however; there may be points not worth your time and money to argue.
If the audit leaves some issues unsettled, you do have various rights of appeal. You may even take your case to court.
It is advisable to engage professional assistance. You will feel more comfortable knowing that you have an expert on your side, and any fees you pay will be deductible on a later tax return.

For Quality Seed Conditioning Put Your Wheat In Our Hands

To improve seed purity, your wheat seed is conditioned by Bronco Seed Company's new, multi-step process.

First, an air-screen machine removes weed seeds, trash, underdeveloped and oversized seeds and cracked or broken seeds.

Quality continues as our three indent cylinders separate the wild oats from the good seed by length sizing.

For final finishing and improvement of germination, our gravity table separates immature, lightweight seed from mature, heavy seed to improve seed vigor.

We can treat your wheat seed with Vitavax -200, the systemic fungicide that effectively controls true loose smut, bunt, seed rots and seedling diseases. And, you will be able to graze your cattle earlier since Vitavax-200 treated wheat normally emerges faster and shows more vigorous growth.

Bronco Seed Company offers you bulk grain storage before cleaning, and bag seed storage after cleaning. Bulk cleaning is available for loading back on your vehicle.

Call us about picking up semi-truckload lots of your small grains in the field for cleaning.

1983 Texas Crop Receipts Down

Texas farmers got about $4.1 billion from crop sales last year, slightly less than in 1982.

Weather losses had a big impact on crop receipts in 1983, but last year's PIK (payment-in-kind) program helped buoy cash receipts, says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. PIK payments were included in the tabulation of crop receipts for 1983, but other government payments, such as deficiency payments, were not included.

Cotton continued as the leading crop in Texas, with receipts estimated at $877 million. Although sales were roughly half the level two years before, the South Plains led the state with a cotton crop totaling $412 million. South Texas came in second with cotton sales of more than $96 million.

Wheat was the state's second leading cash crop with sales of $638 million. The Panhandle boasted wheat sales of $199 million, with North Central Texas a distant second at $115 million.

Sorghum receipts totaled $519 million. The Panhandle's crop totaled $135 million while the Coastal Bend crop came in at almost $99 million.

Receipts from vegetables exceeded $370 million, with sales reaching almost $68 million in the Panhandle and $45 million in South Texas.

Corn brought in receipts totaling $351 million, with the South Plains and Panhandle boasting receipts of $152 million and $55 million, respectively.

Nursery crops boasted receipts of $333 million across Texas, with sales totaling almost $106 million along with the Upper Coast and $71 million in Northeast Texas.

A bumper hay harvest also was made in Texas last year. Leading production areas were North Central Texas and Northeast Texas.

Receipts estimated for other leading cash crops included rice, $191 million; soybeans, $97 million; peanuts, $92 million; pecans, $46 million; oranges, $36 million; watermelons, $34 million; grapefruit, $30 million; sugar beets, $23 million; peaches, $20 million; and oats, $17 million.

Texas farmers should see some improvement in '84 prices since stockpiles of most commodities have been reduced by the PIK program, says Anderson. Also, increased domestic and export demand as a result of improving economic conditions in the U.S. and abroad should strengthen farm prices.

NOW'S THE TIME TO CALL YOUR AIR CONDITIONING SERVICEMAN

(Get a checkup before the heat's on.)

Right now your air conditioning serviceman can easily work your call into his schedule and get your unit ready to deliver dependable cooling through the summer ahead. We know that many people wait until the heat's on to install electric air conditioning or have their units serviced. Later on, your dealer or serviceman may have a waiting list.

PROPER INSULATION... Keeps in the Cool Air You've Paid For

Insulation comes in rolls, loose-fill or batts. Insulation is labeled with a R value showing its ability to resist heat. The better its insulating value, the higher the number. R values up to R 30 in the ceiling and R 18 in the walls are recommended for this area.

Check Caulking and Weatherstripping!

Check all windows and doors, install weatherstripping and caulking where needed. It will save on both heating and cooling costs. An almost invisible "U" gap at the base of a standard 36" outside door is equal to a nine-square-inch hole in the side of your house. There are a number of easy-to-install felt and foam rubber products on the market to draft-proof doorways.

New Trends In Textiles Can Cause Wash Day Problems

Economic conditions during the last few years have caused some consumers to buy lower priced, and sometimes lower quality textiles. There are many good quality textiles on the market at a good value.

But, when consumers buy clothes that have poor quality textiles, or textiles they don't know how to care for, the result may be an increase in laundering problems. For example, the number of imported garments has increased dramatically in the last 5-10 years.

In some cases, imported clothes are of lower quality construction and finishing than American-made garments. Dyes may be somewhat unstable, leading to problems with dye-bleeding during laundering.

Many people are also buying reverse blends in shirts without realizing they may require more care. Although the leading shirt fabric for men continues to be a 65% polyester/35% cotton blend, there is an increased demand for reverse blends of 35% polyester/65% cotton. Yet for a wrinkle-free look reverse blends require touch-up ironing, even when the appropriate washer and dryer cycles have been used.

Several new polypropylene fabrics are being used for garments such as thermal underwear, active sportswear, knit fleeces and women's lingerie. These fabrics must be air dried because of their sensitivity to dryer heat.

With the sharp increase in the use of silk in women's dresses, blouses, men's shirts and summer jackets, consumers are questioning how to care for the garments. Some silks are washable and others are labeled "dry clean only". Washable silks should be treated gently, with a short wash, mild detergent and minimal agitation to avoid fiber damage. For wrinkle-free silks, press while damp.

The fabric that was used a few years ago primarily for sweatsuits is now a popular fabric for dresses, shirts, tunics and slacks. It is usually composed of 100% acrylic or 50% acrylic/50% cotton fibers and is definitely an easy-care choice. You should be aware, however, that linting or pilling may occur because of the fleeced backing. Other problems include dye bleeding and shrinkage depending on the quality of the textile manufacturer's processing. Textiles and apparel on the market today can provide a laundrying challenge. Be wise consumer, learn the fabric characteristics and read the care label before buying.

In 1983 Christi portrayed Helen Keller in Spur High School's One-Act Play, "The Miracle Worker", which advanced to the state finals in Class AA.

In 1984 Spur again advanced to the state finals with their One-Act Play, "The Diary of Anne Frank". Christi played Anne Frank and was selected to the Honorable Mention All-Star Cast at the state contest.

Christi will attend Angelo State University in San Angelo this fall.

She will attend Cisco Jr. College this summer for a drama workshop, which she was invited to.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lefevre and family of Haskell, attended the graduation in Spur, Friday, May 18. Mrs. Lefevre is sister to Christi Terrell. After the graduation they all went to the Terrell home for a dinner party.

New Rules Set For Ex POW's

The Veterans Administration is reminding former prisoners of war that a law enacted in 1981 broadened the agency's authority to provide health care for ex-POW's and liberalized rules for determining whether compensation can be paid for certain medical conditions.

Residuals of certain conditions suffered in prisoner-of-war camps are presumed to be related to the POW experience. A former POW who is now disabled by one of these conditions may qualify under the law for VA disability payments without the need for additional proof. It will be presumed, in the cases of former POW's, that the conditions originated in, or were aggravated by, military service.

A recent law added dysthymic disorder (depressive neurosis) to a list of such diseases which already included chronic dysentery, helminthiasis, nutritional deficiency (such as beriberi, pellagra), psychosis, and any of the anxiety states including post traumatic stress disorder.

Any former POW who was detained or interned for 30 days or more, and who became disabled by one of these conditions at any time after his military service, will be presumed to have incurred the condition during his military service unless there is evidence of some other cause.

VA Administrator Harry N. Walters urges all former POW's to register with their nearest VA office. Information on disability compensation and other benefits, including medical and dental care, will be provided along with assistance in applying.

USDA Is Seeking Public Comment On Wheat Program

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is seeking public comment on provisions of the 1985 federal wheat program which, by law, must be announced no later than July 1.

Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said USDA will consider these comments as well as the most current data on U.S. and world crop conditions and the supply and demand outlook before making final decisions on the program.

Rank said USDA wants comments on the following:
—the loan and purchase prices and the established target price. The minimum target price is $4.38 per bushel.

—the level to be established under an acreage reduction program. This acreage reduction cannot exceed 20 percent of a farm's wheat acreage base and will be combined with an additional 10 percent paid cash land diversion program. The diversion payment rate must be at least $2.70 per bushel.

—whether there should be and optional land diversion program with either payment-in-kind compensation or cash payments.

—whether to allow haying and grazing on acreage conservation reserve land.

—whether summer fallow acreage should be restricted for designation as acreage conservation reserve land.

—whether there should be offsetting compliance requirements for an acreage reduction program.

—methods for determining 1985 crop acreage bases for wheat.

—whether contracts that producers will sign to participate in the program should be binding after the sign-up period.

Rank also asked for comments on provisions for a farmer-owned reserve, commodity eligibility, premiums and discounts, the establishment of county loan rates and other provisions necessary to carry out a loan and purchase program for wheat.

Further details on the proposal are scheduled to appear in the May 11 Federal Register. Comments, which must be received by June 11, may be sent to: director, analysis division, USDA-ASCS, room 3741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C., 20013.

In addition, a regulatory impact statement on 1985 wheat program options is available by writing to the same address.

All comments will be available for public inspection in room 3738-S during regular business hours.

Following the meeting there will be a pot luck supper.

National Safe Boating Week Is June 3-9

National Safe Boating Week is June 3, 1984 through June 9, 1984. The theme this year is "Before You Drink, Be A Responsible Boat Operator."

"Research has shown that 50 percent of the victims who drown in recreational boating accidents had been drinking," said Jeffee Palmer of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Water Safety Education Section.

The studies showed that peripheral vision, balance and information processing all are affected almost as soon as a person starts drinking. By the time an operator's blood alcohol concentration reaches .035 percent, the impairment of boating operations were significant.

A sober but fatigued boat operator might be able to avoid running over someone falling from the bow of a 16 foot boat moving at 25 mph. A drinking operator would not respond to the person's falling overboard until well after striking the victim.

Remember, the boat operator is legally responsible for the safe operation of the boat and the passengers aboard, Palmer said.

17 Cases Of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever Reported In Texas

Seventeen cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever, resulting in two deaths, have been reported so far this year to the Texas Department of Health. A majority of these cases live in north central and northeast Texas. In 1983, 108 spotted fever cases, with six deaths, occurred in Texas, primarily in north central and northeast Texas.

The disease is transmitted to people through the bite of an infected tick. Most ticks can carry and transmit spotted fever. An infected tick must be attached and feeding for three to four hours before the disease will be transmitted. This is why early removal of ticks is so important in preventing the disease.

About one week after the disease has entered the body, the person will have symptoms which include sudden onset of fever, headache, chills, muscle aches, and a rash beginning between days two and six of the illness. Prompt medical attention is needed.

Ticks may attach anywhere but usually prefer hairy areas of the body such as the scalp and armpits. The Texas Department of Health recommends several measures to prevent spotted fever: 1) avoid places likely to have ticks, such as tall weeds and thick bushes; 2) check yourself and your children several times a day for ticks if you have been working or playing in tick-infested areas; 3) wear long-sleeved shirts and long pants tucked into socks or boots; 4) use insect repellents containing diethyltoluamide; 5) check pets regularly for ticks—even if they are allowed only to go outdoors in their own fenced yard; and 6) reduce tick infestation around the home by spraying the yard and treating pets. Ask your veterinarian what to use for your specific pet.

Care should be taken when removing attached ticks from pets and humans. Tweezers or fingers protected with cotton or paper should be used to remove ticks. Do not crush ticks between the fingers. This could allow the disease to enter the body through abrasions or cuts in the skin.

If you have ANY illness within ten days of a tick attachment—especially if it includes fever, headache, or a rash—seek medical attention and tell the physician about the tick bite. Rocky Mountain spotted fever can be treated effectively with antibiotics, but prompt treatment is needed. For further information contact the Bureau of Epidemiology, Texas Department of Health, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756-3199 or call your nearest health office.
