Methodist Church To Celebrate 100th Anniversary March 17

A century of worship will be observed by the congregation of the Methodist Church here on March 17 as they will celebrate the church's 100th anniversary.

Among the dignitaries to attend the celebration will be Bishop Louis Schowengerdt, who will deliver the message on Sunday morning.

A luncheon for the congregation will be held in the fellowship hall following the morning worship services.

At 2 p.m., there will be a reception for the congregation to visit with past clergy, friends, and former members of the Haskell church.

The celebration will begin following the fellowship, and will be headed by special music provided by The Bell Twins-June Dement and Jane Park.

Former clergy will give their greetings, and the day will close with a benediction from the District superintendent Weldon McCormick.

The closing hymn for the day of celebration will be "God Be With You".

Church History

The Haskell church came into being when a Methodist preacher, named Rev. J.B. Wood, stopped in Haskell in Sept. 1884 and held services in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Tucker. Later the same fall, a Rev. J.H. Wiseman began preaching on a more regular basis. He was from Anson.

It was under the leadership of Wiseman that the charter members of the Haskell Methodist Church were recorded. Those members were: F.G. Alexander, Mary Alexander, Seaton S. Cummings, Mrs. Mary E. Cummings, Mrs. Luella Dewees, Mrs. Mattie Lomax, and Mrs. Mary Smith. The Haskell Church was attached to Jones county as a mission field in the Abilene district by the annual conference.

As part of the church's history relates, church was held in respective members homes until the congregation was too large for the homes to accommodate.

In 1889 the women of the church went to work to see that a proper building be constructed so that the young congregation would have a meeting place of their own.

On June 23, 1909 a contractor by the name of H.C. Wyche got the okay to begin construction of the new Haskell Methodist Church.

Mr. Wyche was the father of Mary Bishophausen.

At 8:30 a.m., July 5, 1909, friends, members of the church, and a number of wellwishers, were on hand for the groundbreaking ceremony which would usher in the age of Methodism in Haskell, Texas.

The cornerstone for the building was laid in January of 1910.

The sanctuary and the Fellowship Hall was added at the cost of $40,000.

The women left the responsibility of the fund raising up to others as they began to concentrate on building a church parsonage.

In 1928, the annex which adjoins the church on the west was built at a cost of $8,000. Mr. Henry Smith was the contractor for this project.

About the same time, the pipe organ was purchased for the church, and for fifty years thereafter Mrs. O.E. Patterson was the church's organist. Nelda Lane now occupies that position.

The present parsonage was erected in 1956 and was built for $25,000.

The Children's Building (which includes a meeting place for Troop #36 of the Boy Scouts) was built at the cost of $20,000, and this addition was the last renovation which the church underwent.

All friends, former members, pastors, and other Methodist are cordially invited to attend the special services connected with the 100th Anniversary celebration.

One hundred years of worship is, indeed, something special to celebrate about!

School Board Members Review Supt. Applications

In a special called meeting of the Haskell ISD Board of Trustees, Tuesday night, the four member board screened 46 superintendent applications which had been received to date.

At 7:40 p.m. the meeting came to order, and the four members began the task of going through each item sent to the School Board for the purpose of selecting the best applicants for the position.

According to Board president David Davis, the board's main objective was to consider all of the possibilities.

"We are a long way from making a decision," remarked Davis at the meeting.

The Board narrowed the selection to 16 men who will be re-evaluated for the position.

Board members also drafted a letter to inform those not still being considered.

Some of the qualifications that the Board members brought out that they would like to see in a potential new supt. included someone with a good educational background, whose main concern is to educate the students well. Also, someone who could make and stand by their decisions, as well as carry on the school's business as well as possible. A final very important objective of the School Board was that the new administrator be able to get along well with the faculty and respect them.

Board members set the cutoff date for applications for the supt.'s position at March 12 at 5 p.m.

The regular session of the School Board will be held next Tuesday evening

Reception Honors Retiring Staff

Elton Culberth and Patricia Sams, two former employees with the Haskell ISD, were honored by the faculty, staff, and administration at a surprise farewell reception given in their honor, last Wednesday, at the homemaking cottage.

Refreshments and decorations were provided by the homemaking classes of Mrs. Jill Harris and Mrs. Wanda Thompson.

Elton Culberth was employed by Haskell ISD 23 years ago. He has held the position of bus maintenance foreman and grounds supervisor since his employment 23 years ago. He was presented with a Coleman lantern as a gift from the faculty and staff. Clayton Neal made the presentation.

Mrs. Sams has been with the school system for the past ten years. She began her position with the school as an aide. When she resigned to relocate to Slaton, she was the business manager for the school system. She will be remarrying, and will assume duties in Slaton ISD. Mrs. Sams received a gold chain from the school system.

Mrs. Marie Culberth, wife of the former bus foreman, was a special guest at the reception.

Mrs. Sams and Mr. Culberth both expressed their appreciation to the Haskell school system for all of the friendships and fine working conditions they had encountered while employed here.

Sodium Content Of Snack Foods Listed

If you like to munch on chips or other salty snacks, you may want to know exactly how much sodium you're getting.

Some manufacturers list sodium amounts in milligrams per serving on food labels, but they are not required to do so, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary

K. Sweeten.

However, a recent study of 15 popular national brand snack foods, reported in the Journal of Food Science, provides some information on their sodium content, she says.

Researchers determined the average amount of salt in 100 grams -- or about 3½ ounces -- of the snack. A typical single serving size bag of chips contains one to two ounces.

Of the products tested, pretzel twists had the most sodium with 2370 milligrams per serving. But saltines with 1794 milligrams, puff balls with 1190 milligrams and some corn-based snacks with 1014 milligrams are also high in sodium, she notes.

By comparison, Sweeten says that 1100 to 3300 milligrams of sodium is the recommended amount for daily intake.

"Even one serving of these snacks, assuming you can eat just one, provides a substantial amount of the day's allotment for sodium," says the nutritionist.

"Obviously, the salt content of different brands can vary, and the quantity of salt you eat depends on how much and how often you eat these snacks," Sweeten maintains.

She also explains that the researchers found a wide range of sodium levels within some of the individual products they tested, and snacks made by regional and local companies were not tested at all.

Salt, or more correctly sodium (salt is 40 percent sodium), is important to the body, says the nutritionist. However, excessive salt in the diet has been linked with hypertension, or high blood pressure. High blood pressure, in turn, may lead to heart or kidney disease or stroke.

The sodium content for the national brand snack

Inhalant Abuse Is Growing Health Concern In Texas

One of the growing health concerns in Texas, particularly among the youth, is the problem of inhalant abuse—the intentional inhalation of chemical fumes to obtain a “high”. Commissioner of Health Dr. Robert Bernstein, has announced that results of testimony compiled by the Governor’s Task Force on Inhalant Abuse show the problem, once predominant in lower-income families, has spread into all levels of Texas society.

Bernstein said that glue and aerosol paints are only the better known among a long list of chemical products abused by children and teen-agers. Liquid typewriter correction fluid, liquid outliner-type marking pens, gasoline, paint thinners, and lacquers contain vapors sought by abusers who often do not realize the hazards of the chemicals. Brain damage or death can be the result. A Houston 14-year-old recently died from inhaling liquid correction fluid. Several more teen-agers in West Texas died from inhaling propane gas.

Bernstein said the public—parents in particular—need to know of the dangers youngsters face in misusing the easily obtainable chemicals. “Youngsters sometimes fail to grasp what permanent damage to themselves means, much less understand the risk of death from using products they see in use all around them. Parents often become accustomed to leaving chemical products accessible to the whole family, without thought of potential dangers, until it is too late,” he said.

“If we can educate our youth, our teachers and parents about the dangerous health effects of inhalant abuse, perhaps we can prevent some child from becoming permanently afflicted with brain damage or unwittingly taking his own life. Since so many of these products which can be abused are readily available to youngsters, public awareness and education seem to be our best means of prevention,” Bernstein said.

Public awareness strategies will be among the topics for discussion at the Second Annual Conference on Inhalant Abuse to be held in San Antonio, April 24-26. Bernstein said anyone wishing to attend the conference should contact Dan Sowards, Chief of Hazardous Products Branch, Product Safety Program, (512) 458-7519.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

This open letter is an appeal to the voters in the up-coming election of the Haskell School Board to contact Sammy Larned before this Friday March 8th and encourage him to run again for a position on the school board.

During the past five years, your experience, intelligence, integrity and dedication was proven time and again to benefit our Haskell school system.

We need you on the school board Sammy. I hope you other voters will feel the same.

Sincerely,
Maxine Hannsz

Dear Don,

We receive many "thank you's" and deeply appreciate each one. This past week we received a letter from the John Merchants of Laurel, Miss. Please print it when you have the space.

Our membership is made up of all Haskell County people reaching about 800 we serve in some way or another.

To me, this letter described the Haskell County people - friendly and gracious and loving.

Thank you,
Marsha Whittenmore
Experienced Citizen Center

To each and every member of the experienced Citizens Center of Haskell, Texas:

Dear Ones:
We want to thank you for letting us be a part of your group on our visit to Haskell. Each time with you was a delightful experience.

We enjoyed the programs, your thoughtfulness in remembering the birthday, anniversaries, your sick members and of course, recognizing your visitors.

The meals were delicious. We ate so well while there our weight scales groaned when we stepped on them on our return to Laurel.

Best of all was the feeling of fellowship among your members that was extended to us. We truly appreciate the friendly and gracious manner with which you welcomed us. It was a pleasure to meet and eat and talk with you. We here in Mississippi have always prided ourselves on our hospitality, but we will have to admit it could not be any sweeter than that we received from you. We will treasure our sweet memories of our visit there.

God bless you all until we meet again.
Yours truly,

RRC Issues Fines For Well Plugging Violations

The Railroad Commission fined J.O. Reiter of Houston $6,000 Monday for violations of Commission well plugging rules involving three wells on two leases in the Mary Macha Field in Wharton County.

The three wells, located on the Paul Black Trustee and the R. Matussek leases have been inactive for more than the 90 days permitted by Commission rules. Such wells must either be brought back into production or properly plugged by the operator.

Responding to a complaint that the wells had been inactive for some time, Commission inspectors verified the wells were not producing. A check of Commission records indicated no recent oil production had been reported from the wells by the operator of record, J.O. Reiter.

The Commission's Oil and Gas Division directed Reiter to produce or plug the wells and received both verbal and written assurances in July 1984 from the operator that the wells would be bonded and returned to production. Reiter has not plugged or produced the wells since then.

The Commission order levies a $6,000 administrative penalty and directs Reiter to bring the wells into compliance with Commission rules within 30 days or the case will be referred to the state attorney general for prosecution.

Because this is my column, I suppose that that fact entitles me to state my opinion. Well, I have a very strong opinion on the new, tough eligibility requirements set for our public school students.

These new requirements just went into effect in the past six weeks period, but they will have to be endured by everyone for the entire six weeks.

I think that making a kid ineligible for six weeks because he did not pass all of his classes is insane. It is like prescribing the use of a guillotine to cure a headache...this type of cure is worse than the proverbial disease.

While, I will be the first to admit that absenteeism was, and has always been, a major problem in the public school, I feel that suspending a student from all extra-curricular activities is a form of inhumane punishment.

The old argument is: "Kids should attend school to learn, not to be getting out of class all of the time." Yes, I agree, kids should be at school to learn. But, who is to say that learning cannot take place at a track meet, ag show, or band contest? And, who decided what was the most important priority? Is, for example, English any more meaningful to a kid who is a fine tennis player than his tennis period is? Is math more essential for a kid to learn than for him learning what it takes to raise and show a farm animal? Who says geography is more important than music to a student who excels in music?

The basic bottom line is, what good does taking these kids out of these activities do for them or the rest of the kids? The ones who are left have to be burdened with the fact that they are not as good, or competitive, because they have lost their full compliment of competitors due to low grades.

Don't be deceived. This rule does not benefit anyone. It hurts the low achiever and the high achiever alike.

When I was in school (back in the dark ages, before the wisdom and the genius of H. Ross Perot,) we had to be eligible for extra-curricular activities a week at a time. So if grades were down in some subjects for one particular week, there was no participation by those failing students in athletics, band, ag, etc., for that week.

But, as it is now, even the brainiest kids suffer, because they just cannot take up the burden placed on them when others on their team, in their band, or in their other activities, are out because of grades, and they have to take up their slack, as well as pulling their own load.

It is not fair in any sense of the word. One recent example that caught the media's eye was the case of the son of an Abilene lawyer. The young man was a member of the Abilene Cooper baseball team. This kid was making four A's, one B, and a 69 in another course, which I believe they said was geometry. Now, according to the report, the math course was not required at Cooper, since it was upper level, and the student was obviously receiving good grades in all of this other classes, which indicated that he was certainly not an underachiever.

But, the grim reaper of the grades took his toll again, and this would-be Cooper Cougar is now on the bench...outside of the ballpark.

Meanwhile, his teammates, all of whom apparently made their grades, are having to suffer because of their fellow player's absence. They made the grades, but are still having to suffer.

There is talk of lawsuits over this one issue. Folks, this world (and society) is already robbing its children of their childhoods. Let's stop this insanity before it goes any farther.

Kids have a right to compete in extracurricular activities if they are showing reasonable effort in trying to pass their courses in school.

Why should we ask them to be perfect students in an imperfect system?

The Chinese claim to have invented the toothbrush in 1498—and it appears to be basically the same as the modern brush.

Abundant rainfall this fall and winter have given promise of excellent crop yields for this years harvest. Soil moisture conditions on unprotected cropland fields can contribute to soil erosion. The effect of heavy rains on saturated soils causes severe rill and gully erosion on unprotected fields.

Conservation measures such as contour farming, terraces and waterways can help protect the soil. Waterways play an important part in controlling erosion from concentrated flow areas and are an integral part of parallel terrace systems.

Waterway installation starts with shaping the area followed by vegetating with a permanent grass cover. Two grasses have stood the test of time for waterway protection. Bermudagrass and Kleingrass, have been the most successful, although westernwheatgrass has been used to some extent.

This spring should be an excellent time to seed or sprig waterways due to current moisture conditions. Kleingrass is established at the rate of 4 pounds pure live seed per acre or sprig 48 bushels of coastal per acre.

Parallel tenace systems should be given serious consideration when replacing old tenaces. Higher construction cost were a disadvantage years ago, but standard tenaces cost about the same today.

For planning and implementing waterways and terraces, technical assistance is available thru the Soil Conservation Service in Haskell. Sign up for all conservation practices runs thru March 15, 1985.

GOLD WATCH ...

James W. Throckmorton was elected provisional governor of Texas in 1866. As governor he had several clashes with the reconstruction military commander, General Philip Sheridan. Throckmorton wanted the army to protect the frontier. Sheridan's duty, as he saw it, was to guard against citizen disloyalty to the Union. On March 13, 1867, General Sheridan removed Throckmorton from office. Throckmorton had to sell his gold watch to pay his living expenses.

The Way We Live Makes Our Electric Meters Run Faster!

In The Winter

Because the sun works less in the winter and we need artificial light, we use our electric lights more. And, since it's cold outside, we tend to go indoors and turn our thermostats up, so we can enjoy the comfort of generated heat. We also use electric blankets in the winter. Electricity can help make winter more comfortable in many ways.

All Year Long

Because we enjoy the convenience and comfort of electric blenders, can openers, clocks, clothes dryers, clothes washers, dishwashers, door bells, drills, fans, freezers, hair dryers, heating pads, hedge trimmers, irons, lawn mowers, lights, saws, sewing machines, shavers, stereos, televisions, toasters, vacuum cleaners, waffle irons, waste disposals, water heaters and other benefits too numerous to mention, we use more electricity.

Because we're human, we forget about these things until an electric bill reminds us.

WTU is proud to be able to supply all the electric energy you need, and we encourage you to use it wisely.

In The Summer

Because the sun works more during the summer months and it's hot outside, we go indoors and turn our thermostats down to make our homes cool. Electric fans that help to cool our homes and electric gardening tools for grooming our yards, among other things, also help make our summers more pleasant.

Lorraine Johnson To Open New Realty Office Here

Ira Lorraine Johnson, a native of Haskell has just received his Real Estate Brokers license from the Texas Real Estate Commission in Austin.

This comes after having completed the required 900 hours of classroom work in core and related real estate courses, and after having completed two years as an active real estate salesman, as well as having passed the State real estate examination.

Mr. Johnson was reared and finished school in Haskell. He was in the furniture business for some 27 years. However, due to health reasons, he was forced to sell the furniture business.

While recuperating, Johnson decided to study for his realtor's license. After successfully completing the core real estate courses and receiving his salesman's license, Lorraine has been associated with Hartsfield Realty for the past two years.

Now, he is opening his own real estate office, under the name of Johnson Real Estate. This new business will be located on the west side of the square, between Jones and Cox, and Johnson's KIS photo.

The new office will be completed in a few days. Until that time, Lorraine can be reached at Johnson's KIS photo, which is next door to his new realty office.

Mr. Johnson has been an active member of the Haskell community, as he has served on the City Council in the past for eight years, and was instrumental in seeing that the downtown area was modernized, with new sidewalks installed, as well as modernizing several vacant buildings and finding tenants for these.

Abilene To Host Hearing On 1985 Farm Bills

Cong. Charles W. Stenholm has announced that Abilene will host one of the two hearings scheduled by the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Cotton, Rice and Sugar to discuss the 1985 farm bill.

The Abilene hearing, which will be held at Abilene Cooper High School, 3639 Sayles Blvd., will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, March 16. The hearing will give farmers a chance to testify on cotton programs and other issues, such as credit, the Stamford Democrat said.

Cong. Jerry Huckaby (D-La.), the chairman of the Subcommittee on Cotton, Rice and Sugar, will accompany Cong. Stenholm to the Abilene meeting. Other Members of Congress are also scheduled to attend the hearings. A hearing to discuss cotton, rice and sugar will be held in West Monroe, La. on Friday, March 15.

"Before we draft an omnibus farm bill this year, I want our farmers and agri-businessmen to have this one, last chance to give us their opinions and advice. This is important before we start markup on the '85 farm bill," said Cong. Stenholm, a fourth-term member of the House Ag Committee. "Recently in Congress, we have been dealing with quick-fix, short-term relief for the farming industry, but this isn't the answer. The ultimate answer is in coming up with a long-term farm policy that will allow stability and profitability to return to agriculture. This is the opportunity for farmers to have a hand in developing such a policy."

Huckaby, a Democrat from Ringgold, La. said, "We have seen the Administration's proposals for drastic changes in our cotton, rice and sugar programs, including such sharp reductions in price and income support levels. Now we want to hear what others have to say about how we can deal with these problems."

RRC Okays Change For Ferguson Pipe Co.

The Railroad Commission this week approved natural gas contract changes sought by Ferguson Crossing Pipe Line Co., Unit Gas Transmission Co., and El Paso Hydrocarbons Co. which will save their customers almost $10 million annually.

The largest decreases came in two contracts between El Paso Hydrocarbons and Texas Utilities Fuel Co. Rates will drop to $3.30 per MMBtu (million British thermal units) from $3.75 in one contract and $3.35 in the other. Total estimated annual savings to TUFCO and its affiliated electric generating plants are $8.2 million. The new rates are effective for bills on and after Jan. 1.

Savings will be passed through to electric customers in the form of reductions to the cost of fuel portion of their monthly bill.

The Commission also approved Unit Gas Transmission Co.'s request to reduce rates to large volume, interruptible customers in the Bayport area of Harris County. Rates will drop from $3.63 to $3.31 per MMBtu, which will yield an estimated $1.7 million in annual savings. The new rates are effective for bills on and after Feb. 11.

Valero Transmission Co. customers will save more than $22,000 annually as a result of changes to two contracts held with Ferguson Crossing Pipe Line Co. Rates will fall from $3.11 to $3.00 per MMBtu for bills rendered on and after Dec. 11 of last year.

Another customer of Ferguson Crossing, Liquid Energy Corp., will save some $54,000 annually under a contract amendment which reduces gas rates from $2.75 to $2.50 per MMBtu. Liquid Energy is a large volume purchaser which uses the gas at its Milam County processing plant. The contract change is effective Jan. 29.

Energy Committee Opposes Permit Fee

The Texas House of Representatives Committee on Energy has unanimously adopted a statement opposing any increase in the drilling permit fee. The statement was offered by Rep. Jim McWilliams (D-Marshall), the chairman of the budget and oversight for the committee. The statement reads as follows:

"The Subcommittee of Budget and Oversight for the House Committee on Energy has made a realistic effort to reduce certain line item expenditures for the Texas Railroad Commission, in light of recent adverse budget conditions. The subcommittee feels that the cuts made in the budget do not adversely effect the Commission's efficiency or services.

Therefore, we are recommending that the full committee go on record opposed to any increase in well drilling permit fees, or in any existing user fee. We feel that it would increase the economic burden already placed on this industry, as well as discouraging exploration and development in oil and gas.

We further request that this statement become part of the committee record, and that it accompany any subsequent reports the committee issues concerning user fees."

The chairman of the Energy Committee, Rep. Ed Emmett, (R-Kingwood) stated, "It is perhaps unusual for a committee to formally adopt a posture on a specific issue. But it is the will of the committee that the legislature, as well as the people of Texas, know where we stand on this issue."

Rep. Rick Perry (D-Haskell) Vice-Chairman for Budget and Oversight stated that "the Railroad Commission honestly came forth with a budget request that contained very little fat; however, instructions from the House leadership, and my own convictions to cut spending, required our committee to cut even deeper into the Commission."

RECORDKEEPING RULES RELAXED

The new recordkeeping rules for the business use of vehicles have been relaxed somewhat by the IRS. Periods of uninterrupted business use can now be recorded as a single entry in a log or diary. For example, a repairman who leaves the shop in the morning and calls on a dozen customers one after the other, need only make a single entry for the series of calls.

There will also be four special exceptions to the requirement for "adequate contemporaneous records."

(1) Farmers (those who earn 70% or more of their gross income from farming) need not keep strict usage records on certain vehicles such as pickups and trucks. They may instead either (a) keep records of personal use of the vehicle or (b) keep no records and treat 80% of the vehicle's use as business and 20% as personal. This exception does not apply to cars used by farmers.

(2) Records do not need to be kept on a vehicle used in a trade or business if the vehicle is kept at the business site during non-business hours, and if the vehicle is not used for personal purposes.

(3) Where employers require employees to use business vehicles to go to and from work (commuting), no recordkeeping is required if the employer allows no other personal use of the vehicle and includes in the employee's income an amount that reflects the use for commuting.

(4) Taxpayers in sales or service work may choose (a) to keep records of just the personal use of the vehicle, or (b) keep no records and either treat 70% of the vehicle's use as business and 30% as personal if the vehicle is a car, or treat 80% as business and 20% as personal if the vehicle is a truck or some other vehicle designed primarily for commercial use. Farmers may be able to use this fourth exception for their farm automobiles.

PCA Grants To Fund 4-H Judging Events

A grant from the Production Credit Associations of Texas will fund three new 4-H judging events—livestock judging, horse judging and forest judging.

The grant was made to the Texas 4-H program through the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation.

"Judging is the basic ability of decision making and is recognized as a teachable skill," points out Preston Sides, 4-H specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, and executive director of the 4-H Foundation. "Judging has been an integral part of the 4-H program since its inception.

"The ability to make decisions based on known criteria is a practically applied skill which forms the basis for much of the agricultural industry," adds Sides. "It is both a producer and consumer skill and is recognized as one of the primary ingredients in 4-H educational programs."

The PCA funds will be used to offset travel expenses of a state-winning 4-H livestock judging team to represent Texas in one of the national contests. These contests test the skill of 4-H members in judging beef cattle, swine and sheep.

Other funds will be used to offset travel expenses of a state-winning horse judging team to participate and represent Texas in one of the national 4-H horse judging contests. Here, 4-H members demonstrate their skills in evaluating horses based on economic and athletic abilities.

The final portion of the funds will be used to offset travel expenses of the state-winning forestry team to participate in the national 4-H forestry invitational judging contest. In this contest 4-H members demonstrate skills in tree selection, forestry evaluation and ecology principles.

The Texas 4-H program currently serves more than 170,000 boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19, notes Sides. Judging contests are only a part of the more than 100 different projects offered. More information about the 4-H program is available at any county Extension office.

Summer Camping Programs Available For Texas 4-H'ers

Summer camping programs abound for Texas 4-H'ers this year.

The Texas 4-H Center, located on Lake Brownwood in the heart of central Texas, offers a unique camping experience for youth 9-19, says Lou Gilly and Max Stapleton, County Extension Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

For 9-11 and 12-14 year olds, a number of three-day camps are available. Dates for six camps are June 23-26, June 26-29, July 7-10, July 10-13, July 14-17 and July 17-20.

Each camp is designed to teach or improve a youth's skills in a variety of areas. Each day includes sessions on shooting sports, canoeing and sailing, high adventure initiative activities, nature crafts and outdoor education. In addition, nightly camp activities feature parties, folk games, movies and other entertainment.

For the 13-19 age group, 4-H Project Camp offers more of a challenge. It is a five-day camp, June 17-22, which gives in-depth training in a choice of computers, shooting sports, food and fitness, canoeing and sailing, food and nutrition, or photography. This training is combined with the fun and excitement of camp life, and evenings provide "whole camp" activities.

Campers of all ages learn to adjust to camp environment share responsibilities and appreciate natural surroundings while special entertainment featured for the Case-IH dealers, by Marie Osmond and the Osmond Brothers.

On January 31, 1985, the U.S. Justice Department gave the final green light to Tenneco Inc.'s purchase of International Harvester's agricultural equipment business, which has now ben merged into Tenneco affiliate, JI Case, headquartered in Racine, WI.

A high point of the dealer meetings was the unveiling of colors and graphics for the new Case International product line. Displayed on a Case IH 2096 tractor, the new graphics feature a major IH hallmark the characteristic IH red.

The new logo retains the best of both traditions, putting the two established logos side by side -- Case IH. This fresh look will soon be a familiar sight across the continent.

"There was a terrific feeling in the air," said Richardson. "The entire Case IH dealer organization was excited -- excited to see the equipment, excited about the new look, the new logo, the new colors -- and excited to be a part of the new Case IH Agricultural Equipment dealer network. "Our Case IH dealers can offer the most complete product line in the industry, backed by the financial strength of Tenneco," he said.

Case IH dealers participated in intensive training seminars on product features such as the Case IH Intelligence Center, CDC engines and power transmissions. The seminars also profiled equipment lines including combines, hay and forage tools, planters and tillage equipment.

In addition to product information, dealers learned of new financing programs, warranties, parts availability and other information vital to farm customers.

"I think our customers will be delighted the way things are shaping up," said A.C. Richardson. "Both Case and IH warranties will be fully honored, parts availability will be excellent -- and Case financing, warranties and service will just be outstanding," he said.

New Case IH dealers carry two-and four-wheel drive agricultural tractors up to 400 gross engine horsepower, plus a full line of planting, harvesting, tillage and other agricultural equipment. The equipment line reflects the technological expertise of two strongly innovative companies.

Early Riser Cyclo® Air planters and Sxial-Flow® combines offer unparalleled productivity and efficiency. The Case IH Intelligence Center, standard on most tractor models, is the industry's most comprehensive electronic monitoring system.

New Case state-of-the-art diesel engines, already featured in the Case 96 Series tractors, will gradually be phased into all of the company's agricultural and construction equipment.

Case is a worldwide manufacturer and marketer of construction and agricultural equipment.

Tenneco Inc., with headquarters in Houston, is a $15-billion, multi-industry company with major operations in integrated oil, natural gas, pipelines, construction and agricultural equipment, automotive components, chemicals, shipbuilding, packaging, life insurance and agricultural/land management.

Name The B-1B Contest Underway

When the first B-1B arrives at Dyess, it will have its own name, chosen from those proposed by Abilene-area residents. The first of the 96th Bombardment Wing's B-1B aircraft will be named through a contest sponsored by the Abilene Chamber of Commerce and which began today.

Contest committee chairperson Nancy Robinson presented the first set of rules to Abilene Independent School District Superintendent Dr. Wayne Blevins at the chamber office to open the contest. Ms. Robinson said earlier that Dr. Blevins was an excellent representative of the people of Abilene since the education system touches everyone's lives way or another.

Running through March, the "Name the First B-1B Contest" is open to everyone. The winning entry will be chosen by a panel of leading Abilene citizens and the winner will receive a $200 savings bond.

The contest winner will be announced June 29, the day of the first B-1B's arrival, and will be a guest at the Dyess arrival activities.

Contest judges include Ms. Robinson, local artist Floyd Stubbs, bank vice president Tiffany Wagstaff, businessman Charles Perini, and writer Mary Sherry.

Further information on the contest can be obtained by calling the Dyess Public Affairs Division at 696-4266.

Airplane propellers making a comeback

COLLEGE STATION — Fuel conserving, counter-rotating propellers should be operational on commercial aircraft within the next seven to nine years, predicts an expert at Texas A&M University.

Under a grant from NASA's Lewis Research Center, Dr. Kenneth Korkan and several graduate students are studying noise problems related to counter-rotating propellers, a system that uses two propellers rotating in opposite directions on the same shaft.

Tests have shown that counter-rotating propellers are extremely fuel efficient as the back propeller absorbs the swirl created by the front propeller and converts it to thrust, said Korkan, a prominent researcher in the field for 20 years.

Korkan said propeller-driven aircraft can now overlap the turbo-driven airplane in speed, reaching as high as eight-tenths the speed of sound.

Texas Exes Celebrate Centennial

Area Texas Exes and friends of the University of Texas at Austin were treated to an evening of fellowship, food and entertainment at the 100th Birthday celebration of the Ex Students Association on Saturday, March 2, 1985.

A full color picture of the orange lighted Texas Tower greeted guests as they entered and registered for membership and door prizes at the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank. The event touched off a year long celebration of the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the Ex Students Association, only one year after the University of Texas was founded. The decor was all orange and white and the buffet followed a Mexican theme recognizing the role Mexico has played in Texas history as Texas celebrates March 2 - Texas Independence Day.

The celebration began with the Texas Toast given by Royce Adkins of Haskell, recognizing the role UT/Austin has played in academics since the day it was opened.

The Master of Ceremony, Abe Turner, welcomed the group and his address explained the significance of March 2. Earlier in the week, Mayor Turner had proclaimed March 2 as official Texas Exes Day in Haskell.

A brief business meeting was moderated by Raja Hassen, 1984-85 President of the Jones-Haskell Counties Club. New officers for 1984-85 are Anne Prewitt, Hamlin, President; James West, Stamford, President Elect; Janice O'Neal, Haskell, Treasurer; Carolyn Pippin, Haskell, March 2, Chairman; Sammy Ferguson, Hamlin, Scholarship Chairman; Board of Directors: Raja Hassen, Wm. J. Kemp, DDS, Carolyn Pippin, Franciene Johnson, Janice O'Neal, all of Haskell, Gene Prewitt, Hamlin, Wesley Robbins, Anson, Sammy Ferguson, Hamlin, Anne Prewitt, Hamlin, James West, Stamford.

Special Texas Music was presented by Karin Pippin McIntire, Oklahoma City and Ellen Rieger, Haskell. They presented a medley of Texas songs and led the group in the singing of Texas, Our Texas, official State Song of the State of Texas.

Certificates of Merit were awarded to Raja Hassen, Carolyn Pippin, Janice O'Neal, Abe Turner, John Kimbrough, all of Haskell, Anne & Gene Prewitt and Sammy Ferguson, Hamlin.

Honor guests for the event were Crockett and Jerry English of Austin. Crockett and Jerry, known among UT circles as "The Affable Englishes" are famous for their work with the Ex Student's Association which has brought them recognition throughout the state and many foreign countries. A native Haskellite, Crockett graduated from Haskell High School in 1935. He spoke of his memories of Haskell as a boy growing up with the Kimbrough brothers and playing football for Haskell High School. His love affair with the University of Texas began in 1935 and still continues as he tells of the overall excellence of UT/Austin's programs in all fields, with particular emphasis on academics. He told of the major achievements made in the scholarship programs and in all areas of athletic for both women and men.

Wherever they go, the Englishes are loved and remembered and Haskell will be no exception as old friendships were renewed and new ones kindled. Crockett's talents as a fund raiser helped increase the Jones-Haskell Scholarship fund. These funds go for scholarships to students in the Jones-Haskell Counties area who wish to go to the University of Texas at Austin.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Jones-Haskell Distinguished Alumni award to Dr. Wm. J. Kemp, Hsaskell Dentist and long-time supporter of UT Austin. This award is accompanied by the presentation of the the Gaines Post memorial award which goes each year to the recipient of the Distinguished Alumni Award. Dr. Kemp adds these honors to the host of others he has received for his work with the Boy Scouts of America, the Methodist Church and national and international Dental Associations. Active in all areas of local civic endeavors, Dr. Kemp has brought recognition to Haskell, the University of Missouri and the University of Texas at Austin.

Door prizes were awarded to twelve guests by Franciene Johnson. A scholarship auction featured many UT souvenirs; the sale of ESA sponsored cookbooks "Cook 'Em Horns" added to the scholarship fund.

The evening closed with the traditional group singing of "The Eyes of Texas" official school song of UT/Austin.

Stamford Electric Co-op

To Hold March 16 Meeting

The 46th Annual Meeting of Stamford Electric Cooperative, Inc. will have as major highlight Congressman Charles W. Stenholm as the featured speaker, according to President John E. Youngquist. The meeting will be held Saturday, March 16 at the Stamford High School Auditorium with the business session scheduled at 6:30 p.m. A barbecue and musical entertainment will precede the meeting with serving beginning at 5:00 p.m.

Another important feature of the day's events will be the election of three directors. Terms of Jimlee Baucum, Vice President, Walter E. Fischer, Secretary-Treasurer, and Willie Peiser are expiring. Fischer has declined to be re-nominated for another term. Both Baucum of Anson and Peiser of Mattson have been re-nominated. Martin Dale Coleman of Paint Creek has been nominated to fill the vacancy created by Fischer.

Other current directors are Lewis Corzine, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer of Stamford, Leroy Lundgren of Avoca, Louis Spitzer of Old Glory, Carl Thompson of Anson and Sam Turner of Rule.

General Manager, M.L. Massey, who has been with the Cooperative since 1940, urges all members to attend the meeting in order to stay well informed on all phases of the operation. He said the Cooperative is a rural electric distribution cooperative serving part of Jones, Haskell, Fisher, Shackelford, Stonewall and Throckmorton Counties, with 6000 meters on 2300 miles of line. The Cooperative was organized to furnish electricity to rural farm homes but now has many diverse types of services with about 60 percent of the revenue coming from oil related locations, Mr. Massey said.

Grieving Can Heal Deepest Personal Hurts

In a complex society such as ours, many things can cause us to develop an inability to cope. Things which cause anxiety, depression, and anger—in short, grief.

The term "grief" has, in most cases, been associated with death or loss. But, this is a misnomer.

Grief can manifest itself in many ways. David C. Smith, with Headstream Memorial Outreach Center here, cites several examples of grief-causing things in our daily lives.

Losing one's job, getting a divorce, having to cope with financial difficulties, a lengthy illness of a loved one can all cause personal grief, and its by-products: stress, depression, and anxiety.

In materials Smith loaned us for this study, they state: "grief is not only caused by the empty, desperate feelings connected with death (or any loss), but also by the scaled down version of the same feelings that stem from the lesser losses of daily living. Big losses, little losses; big grief, little grief—when you lose something in which you've invested yourself, it always hurts, and leaves a wound."

The article goes on to say that grief is a process of healing a wound. Grieving is healthy, after the initial stress (or distress) has worn off.

However, the article also states that if grief is left unhealed, it can cause many greater problems, mostly stress-related ones. Mishandled grief, says the article, is a powerful source of distress.

A person may go through a variety of stages when undergoing grief. Among these are the shock/denial stage, emotionalism, anger, sickness, panic, guilt, depression/loneliness, and re-entry difficulties, but at last they will also experience again hope and the affirmation that life will go on, and come back to the real world.

Many people see grief as something that should be avoided. However, this is the point at which trouble starts.

There are certain truths about the face of grief which are undeniable: grief is the natural result of loss; it is necessary to help a person heal. The length of time that it takes to overcome grief is in direct proportion to the depth of loss that one feels. Most people do not experience grief in any set sequence or way. And, distress is often a by-product of unhealed grief.

How can we all overcome the mini and maxi-griefs in our daily lives?

There are five simple steps, which were outlined in the article which Smith gave us, and are as follows:

1. Give yourself permission to grieve. Recovering from grief is somewhat like recovering from surgery—a person must realize that it takes time to get well. Don't become impatient. It is okay to feel the pain following any loss.

2. Invest yourself again. After any loss (or hurt), it is only natural to feel skeptical about taking a chance with your feelings again. Grief, however, demands that one makes a new investment. It is important to search for new people or challenges which will again be an avenue in which love, time, and attention can be reinvested.

3. Grief breeds strength. Although none of us ever choose to encounter grief, it is important that we recognize it as a part of the healing process. We also must find in it the strength that got us through the hardest times, and regenerate this strength into new areas of our lives, and the lives of others.

4. Work on your faith. Because grief is so often associated with death or loss, it causes us all to realize that we are mortal. Due to this fact, we all need to reacquaint ourselves with the "mysteries of life" and rework our faith stance in line with what we see.

5. Learn to talk about grief. Talking about any loss, no matter how it was caused, can only help to heal the hurt.

Elaborating more on this issue, talking about grief can be done anywhere, to anyone, at anytime.

A confidante can be a good friend, a teacher, a minister, or a trained counselor.

In the event that further counseling is desired, or necessary, a person should not feel ashamed, or demeaned, because they could not handle the grief they were encountering alone. That is a very common entity among people who are hurting.

Everyone needs someone to listen to them once in a while, and especially when they are hurting. But, more especially when they are grieving.

The Headstream Memorial Outreach Center sees on an average of 200-250 people per month, to talk out their problems, share their griefs, find some one to help them deal with the daily struggles of living. About 100-125 teenagers per year also seek help, comfort, and friendship through the Center. This averages out to about 10 teenagers per month. Seeking help is not square...going without help when you need it!

David Smith of the Headstream Memorial Outreach Center is available to help in times of grief, stress, depression or any other problems you may have. The outreach Center is confidential and non-judgmental.

You may contact David at 864-3472.

WALT GARRISON WITH JOHN DEERES

John Deere To Sponsor Texas Giveaway Soon

You don't have to be a farmer or rancher to use John Deere equipment. The company has a line of consumer products, including lawn and garden equipment tailored to meet the needs of the home owner. And to increase consumer awareness about their lawn and garden equipment, John Deere has kicked-off a new promotion called The Texas Giveaway, with former Dallas Cowboy great Walt Garrison as spokesman.

Consumers will be eligible to register at Hale Farm Supply, Haskell, as part of this statewide promotion sponsored by John Deere Company. More than 40 winners will be selected in random drawing on April 16, 1985, in Dallas as part of the promotion.

The list of prizes to be given away during the spring promotion includes: two John Deere 210 tractors with a 38" mower, two John Deere 112L lawn tractors, three John Deere 111 lawn tractors, four John Deere R72 riding mowers with a rear bagger, five John Deere 21" self-propelled lawn mowers, three John Deere A22 high pressure washers, three John Deere 44G gas grills, 10 John Deere 35EV chain saws and 10 John Deere 100G lawn trimmers. "The Texas Giveaway is our best promotion yet. There's nothing to buy and we're giving away everything from tractors to gas barbecue grills. I think it's a chance for folks to come down to our store to register to win and see what we've got to offer," said Pat Hale of Hale Farm Supply.

Centered around the theme "John Deere is givin' away the whole nine yards," The Texas Giveaway offers participants a chance to win a variety of prizes including lawn and garden tractors, riding mowers and self-propelled mowers.

A total of 153 John Deere dealers throughout the state are participating in the Texas Giveaway. John Deere Company is based in Moline, Illinois, and is the world's largest agricultural equipment company.

Nominations Sought For Texas Rural Hero Award

Nominations are now being sought for the 1985 Rural Heroism Award.

The award is designed to recognize individuals who have risked their lives at an accident scene to save another. The act of heroism must have taken place during 1984.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council annually sponsors the award program to help promote rural safety, says Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, and a council member.

All nominations must be submitted by March 15 to Nelson at 303 Scoates Hall, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas

77843. "Individuals who performed acts of life-saving heroism in a farm or ranch environment during 1984 are eligible for the award," points out Nelson. "The nomination should be a thorough report of the incident, including names of all persons involved, the location and date. News pictures and stories also will be helpful if available."

According to Nelson, highway or transportation accidents, industrial accidents or recreational accidents on public property are among those not considered eligible. However, exceptions may be made when the incident involves farm and ranch families or employees.

The recipient of the 1985 Rural Heroism Award will be announced at the annual meeting of the Texas Safety Association at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston on April 1.

NOTES FROM AGENT BRIAN BURGESS
If you want to get back the buck you've been passing to Uncle Sam, there is no reason on earth, except poverty, not to have an IRA. Your entire contribution is deductible from your gross income. If you contribute $2,000, you save $1,000 in taxes, if you're in the 50% bracket, $800 in the 40% bracket, $600 in the 30% bracket and so on.
The usual objection, "what if I have to get to my money?"—suggests you have poor savings habits. Every person needs a balanced program of liquid assets for emergencies and non-liquid long term savings for retirement that you don't touch no matter what. Your IRA falls into this second category.
Can't afford to contribute $2,000 to your IRA? With State Farm you can contribute monthly by bankdraft as little as $20 or as much as $166.67. The most important step in any financial plan is to start! Haven't you wasted enough time and paid Uncle Sam enough money? Come see me right away and start letting Uncle Sam pay you.

NOTES FROM AGENT BRIAN BURGESS
If you want to get back the buck you've been passing to Uncle Sam, there is no reason on earth, except poverty, not to have an IRA. Your entire contribution is deductible from your gross income. If you contribute $2,000, you save $1,000 in taxes, if you're in the 50% bracket, $800 in the 40% bracket, $600 in the 30% bracket and so on.
The usual objection, "what if I have to get to my money?"—suggests you have poor savings habits. Every person needs a balanced program of liquid assets for emergencies and non-liquid long term savings for retirement that you don't touch no matter what. Your IRA falls into this second category.
Can't afford to contribute $2,000 to your IRA? With State Farm you can contribute monthly by bankdraft as little as $20 or as much as $166.67. The most important step in any financial plan is to start! Haven't you wasted enough time and paid Uncle Sam enough money? Come see me right away and start letting Uncle Sam pay you.
