Charles Swinson Is Named Top Citizen At Banquet

Some 350 people, including a large number from area towns, attended the 49th annual banquet of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce Saturday March 16 at the Elementary School Cafeteria. Bill Comedy, publisher of the Haskell Free Press, was installed as President; Abe Turner, president Haskell National Bank, First Vice President; Buddy Lane, Lanco Insurance Co., Second Vice President; Charles Thornhill, Thornhill Insurance Co., Treasurer. Named Outstanding Citizen of the Year was Charles Swinson, well known for his many benevolent contributions of self, service, substance in his community. Among these is something he has done for many years as a volunteer-shaving all the male patients at the hospital and rest homes daily.

Eighteen of the twenty-one living past presidents were recognized, along with their guests at the special President's Table which is now a tradition at Haskell Chamber banquets. A tribute was also paid to the memory of two late presidents, a loss since the last banquet: Carl Wheatley and Joe Williams.

Tom Watson, outgoing president, praised the Board of Directors and Welcoming Committee and their wives and husbands who prepared the meal and provided the elaborate decorations for the Fiesta theme that was carried out by guests at the banquet who joined in the spirit of the occasion by wearing bright colored clothes also. Lively Mexican music added to the atmosphere preceding the entertaining speech by Stephenville humorist Stanley White.

Installed as new board of director members were Charles Thornhill, Bob Brandon and Sam Bitner.

Charles Chapman Is Appointed New Judge For 39th District

Charles Chapman was appointed district judge of the 39th Judicial District, effective March 18 by Governor Mark White. He is replacing the late Judge Joe Williams, who died February 18.

Chapman was born in Fort Worth, but raised in Haskell. He grew up the son of another district judge, Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, who held the office from 1943-1973.

After graduating from Haskell High School, Chapman attended TCU where he graduated with a Bachelors of Business Administration degree in 1964.

He then attended law school at Baylor, where he graduated in 1971.

He came back to Haskell to join in a partnership law firm with Royce Adkins.

As district judge, he will have to give up his private law practice.

Chapman will be filling the remainder of William's current term, which was for two years. After that time, he will have to seek re-election.

Chapman and his wife, Peggye, are the parents of one son, Davis, who is 13.

The 39 year old Haskell native was one of three persons vying for the position. The others were Joseph Thigpen, a private practice attorney, and Isaac Castro, who is currently the County Attorney in Stonewall County. According to Chapman, he learned of the news of his appointment on Thursday of last week, but the word was not made official until Monday, March 18.

"I am very excited about the position. I am ready to take office and go to work. I feel that it will be a challenge. I will do my very best to do a good job," commented Chapman.

Chapman said that he was not really sure when the actual swearing in ceremonies would take place, stating that it could be as early as March 29th or as late as April 5th or later.

The 39th Judicial District is comprised of Haskell, Throckmorton, Kent and Stonewall Counties.

School Board Members Interview Supt. Applicant

In a called meeting of the Haskell ISD Board of Trustees, Monday, one applicant was interviewed for position of Superintendent.

Wesley Earl Ross, current superintendent of school in Sanger, was granted an interview by the current school board.

Ross, who lived in Haskell his senior year of high school, asked the board if he could be granted an interview earlier due to the fact that he was on his spring break this week, and it would be more convenient for him to visit with them now.

Ross graduated from Haskell High School in 1946. He stated that he would like to get back to Haskell because "Haskell has done alot for me."

"I have so many memories of this place, and I would like to come back and do something for the community that has done so much for me," stated the applicant.

Ross mentioned his current involvement in the Sanger Chamber of Commerce, and said he was "civic-minded".

Ross has had some 13 years administration experience while he lived in California, and he has been at Sanger the last five years as supt., while he also served there for one year prior to that time as a middle school principal.

He also has a background in accounting, as well as having been a missionary in South Africa for some time.

The Rosses are parents to four children.

Mrs. Ross is currently a secretary at North Texas State University in Denton. She is a native of Sanger.

All of the members of the Board were present.

In other matters, it was decided by the Board to accept all applications for the position of coach, with the new Board, to be elected April 6, making the decision for hiring one.

This week marks the first visible results of a project which is almost three years old around the Free Press office. The project of placing the Free Press mailing list on computer turned out to be much larger than originally expected.

Reading advertisements about mailing list programs, talking to salesmen who have never seen the inside of a newspaper office and trying to write our own program all proved equally futile.

Advertisements all promise the program will do more things than the operator could ever imagine. The problems were not in the things we couldn't imagine but in the things we expected, like putting a subscriber from Colorado in a group with the rest of the Colorado subscribers. Most programs which would group subscribers by city or state were either limited in capacity or took hours to sort the list and print address labels. There were systems which could do the job, but several hundred thousand dollars for a system like Readers Digest uses seemed a bit like overkill.

As we stumbled along looking at possibilities, the opening of the new post office approached and with it the prospect of changing addresses on most Haskell subscribers with box numbers. Making new stencils is a slow process and one none of us was looking forward to.

At about the same time, we received the wonderful news that the stencils used in our addressing machine were no longer made. The only folks who thought the news was wonderful were the ones who had to make the new stencils.

About that time, local computer wizzard and Radio Shack dealer Joe Alves came by the house one evening to talk about a large capacity computer that was on sale and a relatively new program which should meet our requirements.

We took the plunge and a week and a half later, about half of our subscribers will receive papers (we hope) with white address labels.

During the next couple of weeks we will complete the conversion. During this period there will be some problems and we need to know several things from our subscribers. If your paper is late getting to you, if you miss issues, or have any other problem, please let us know.

The system should improve our service to subscribers, but like anything new, it will take a couple of weeks to get the bugs out and get used to the system.

Workday Set To Dismantle Old Concession Stand Here

The Haskell Indian Band Boosters have set March 30 as a workday, in which the old concession stand will be dismantled, so work can begin on the construction of the new building.

In a meeting which was held Tuesday night, the club went ahead with the okay to hold their workday. They are planning to move all of the salvageable items, such as the major appliances, to another storage area until they can have the new building finished.

The new concession stand will be a metal building, with two new restrooms attached, replacing the old ones at the football field.

It is to measure 30 by 45 feet, which will be half again as large as the existing one. New restrooms will measure 15 by 15 foot, each.

The project will cost an estimated $15,000, with a portion of the funds coming from the school.

Much of the work to be done on the building will be done by the vocational ag students.

The club will present their bids, specs, and other information to the members of the School Board at the next meeting of the Board, in April, so that they can make the necessary arrangements for their portion of the funding of the building, and so work can continue.

Charles Thornhill is in charge of the project.

In other matters before the Band Booster Club, the members present okayed the purchase of a Dr. Beat, which is an electronic, amplified metronome. It will be used in all of the band classes.

Fifty Six Registered For Kindergarten

According to Elementary Principal Bill Blakley, there were 56 pre-schoolers show up to register for the fall term March 15.

Blakley said that this number was "about normal" to what had previously been enrolled in the Kindergarten classes.

He also said, however, that if there are those who were unable to pre-register their child last Friday, they should contact the Elementary office and do this.

In order to pre-register a child for Kindergarten, it is necessary that the parent or guardian bring the child's birth certificate or a copy thereof, and the child's immunization record.

All children who are to be in Kindergarten this fall must be 5 years old on or before September 1, 1985.

Dan Brown To Present Art Exhibit

Dan Brown, creator of "Texas Trails Historical Art Series" will be in Haskell March 25-29 with an exhibit of his original paintings, limited edition prints, and books of his Texas Trails Series. The exhibit will be displayed in the lobby of Haskell National Bank during banking hours all week, and Brown will be at the bank Monday and Friday to autograph copies of his book.

DAN BROWN

reared on the wind-swept high plains of Texas at Lubbock.

He developed an early interest in both art and history. During his junior high school years, Brown remembers reading every biography he could find on famous Texans. After he graduated from high school, his parents encouraged him to attend Texas Tech University and to study to become a history teacher. He did attend Tech, but he chose to study art.

In 1974, after 15 years as an advertising artist and director, Brown launched a career as a landscape painter of the Texas scene. A dry brush watercolor realist, Brown chooses subjects for his paintings "that have a story to tell." His interest in art and history were soon wed as his love of Texas history found expression through his realistic paintings.

In 1980, Brown began research for what was to become "Windmills of the West"—a 36-painting exhibit which told the story of the windmill's contribution to the "taming of the West." For more than two years, Brown sifted through old files, learning everything he could about the origin of the American-style windmill and the role the windmill played in the settling of the southwestern United States. His "Windmills of the West" series premiered at the Ranching Heritage Center of Texas Tech University Museum in his hometown of Lubbock—almost three years after Brown began his research. Although the 36 paintings from the original show have found homes in private collections in Texas and other states, Brown continues to find new windmills to capture with paint and brush. Several of his recent windmill paintings will be included in this exhibit.

Brown's Texas Trails series is an outgrowth of his research on windmills. "I kept coming across little-known bits of Texas history," he says. He turned those bits of history into Texas Trails which now appears weekly in more than 20 weekly newspapers in Texas. Haskell National Bank sponsors the Texas Trails series in the "Haskell Free Press."

Brown is a native Texan. Today he lives in Central Texas at Benbrook; but he was born in Midland and

Haskell County TEHA Council Meets

The meeting was called to order by Betty Sanders, Chairman, and Frances Fischer read the description of the TEHA emblem and its meaning. Mrs. Agnes Winchester called the roll and read the minutes of the Feb. meeting. Joetta Burnett, 4-H chairman, reported that the concession stand at the livestock show netted almost $800. Haskell 4-H'ers had a gun safety project in February. 29 4-H girls are involved in the sewing projects and the County Fashion Show will be Saturday March 23rd in the Rule High School auditorium at 7 o'clock. The District Fashion Show will be April 27th at 1:15 in the Stamford High School auditorium.

Alice Yates, TEHA Chairman reported that each club is asked to write a letter to the National Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee in Washington requesting a commemorative postage stamp for the 50th anniversary of the NEHC. Sample letters were given each club representative. The District meeting will be April 16 in Quanah. Each club president presented a nominee for delegate to the District meeting, and was chosen to be a model for the district meeting style show.

Lou Gilly, Home

Demonstration Agent, reported the Ceramic Tile Workshop will be Tuesday, March 19th at the Haskell National Bank Community Room.

Jerrene Couch, chairman of the Sesquicentennial Committee had asked if our Council would help in preparing a part of the fund raising supper on Friday, May 24th. The Council voted to prepare the cole slaw for 500 people for that supper. Lou also reported that the Rule Young Homemakers Club is changing to a TEHA Club when they complete their programs for this year.

Plans were completed for the Tri-county Rally Day which we will host in the Haskell National Bank Community Room on March 28th. There will be from 80 to 100 women from Knox, Baylor and Haskell Counties here for that day. The Bloodmobile will be here March 27th. Kim Crawford will be contacting people to work.

The quilt made by the Clubs is completed and is on display at Ben Franklin's. Anyone desiring one of the cotton bags should place their order, because only the exact number of bags needed will be ordered.

Following the meeting, ladies from the Paint Creek Club served refreshments. The Weinert club will host the April meeting.

Haskell Garden Club Holds March Meeting

The March meeting of the Haskell Garden Club was held at the Bank Community Room on Thursday, the 14th. The business portion of the meeting was devoted to the discussion of the upcoming plant and bake sale, proceeds of which are for the benefit of the Experienced Citizens Center. The sale will be held Friday, May 10th, starting at 9:00 a.m. at the E.C.C. All members will be contributing plants and baked goods, so there will be something for everyone. Dividing perennials was the topic of Mrs. Ed Fouts talk. She said that now is the time to transplant. Be sure to check your plants carefully, keep only the best and discard any that look sickly, as they may spread disease. Iris should not be divided until July, with September being the best time to do this. It should be done every two or three years, as they multiply quickly. Fertilize with an 8-8-8 formula and keep plants damp and shaded. Your bush roses should have been cut back by now, but if you haven't done it, remove the old canes, cutting each at a 45° angle. When buying new plants, be sure to get those with at least three canes.

Check roses often for disease and insects and use the proper spray as soon as it's needed. Rose food with systemic insecticide is good but don't use it if your plants are near fruit trees. Neat Bevel spoke on the importance of feeding your soil with compost. Soil wears out and needs to be replenished or your plants will not do their best. Grass clippings, autumn leaves and vegetable scraps should be layered with soil and allowed to age. Lifting and turning your compost occasionally is important, as is keeping it moist when the weather is dry. Use your compost when putting in new plants and in established beds. A beautiful arrangement of spring blooms was brought to the meeting by Bernadine Blankenship. She also brought several plants which can be enjoyed in the house during the winter, then put outside during the warm months. She stressed the importance of wise landscaping, as it improves the overall look of your property. Hostesses for the meeting were Edith James and Linda King.

The Garden Club meets the 2nd Thursday of each month, from Sept. to May at the Bank Community Room. Anyone who would like to know more about local gardening, or has knowledge to share with others, is more than welcome to attend our meetings.

MRS. MARVIN HOLMES of Rochester is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Marva Denise to Steven Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bird of Haskell. Marva will be a 1985 graduate of Rochester High School. Steven is a 1983 Haskell High School graduate and is employed by contractor Bud Turnbow. The couple plans an April 12 wedding in Knox City Foursquare Church.

Decorative Tiles Have Many Uses

Decorative tiles are showing up in what were once considered unconventional places. They are no longer to be found only on counters and back splashes or baths and showers.

Using decorative tiles for baseboards is different yet highly practical too. Insets on cabinet doors to match counter tiles also make a nice effect. Other new uses for tiles include lining door facings, outlining windows and covering fire boxes. With the popularity of houseplants, ceramic tiles are also a natural, waterproof way to cover window seats and tables.

Ceramic tiles may be used in a single pattern or a combination of patterns which create a new art form. There are now full wall patterns creating a scenic or floral effect which are adjustable according to the wall size. The scope of your creativity is really the only limit on using tiles.

Our proximity to Mexico makes Mexican hand-painted tiles a Southwest favorite. The tiles are handmade and hand painted and are often a bit out of square and slightly pillowed or warped. Mexican tiles are reasonably priced and can be installed by homeowners themselves.

The greatest producers of ceramic tiles are the Italians. Their tiles are usually 8 by 8 inches and vary from the strictly machine-made to the more expensive, decorative hand-painted variety. Most of the Italian tiles can be used for floors as well as counters and walls. The floor tiles are rated by the manufacturers as to the toughness of their glazes—residential, light commercial and heavy commercial.

Beautiful decorative tiles are also produced in Holland, Portugal and Spain. They are an old art form that is finding new expression in contemporary American homes.

Trinity Luther League Holds Fellowship

The Trinity Luther League held the March meeting with a good group in attendance.

After several exhausting games of Volleyball the group ran and/or walked inside for a deep discussion of the Bible. Centering on I Corinthians 13, much emphasis was on Love and our purpose as Christians, to share that love.

The group enjoyed delicious refreshments, including a wiener roast.

(and a few marshmallows too)

Plans were finalized for a group trip to enjoy the antics of the Sagerton "Hee-Haw" on March 29.

We encourage all young people (confirmed-infinity) to come and join our festivities. We are dedicated to learning more about Jesus, letting Him lead us through life, and invite Him to join in our fellowship and fun.

Mrs. Isabel Valdez Is C/F Chariman

The Lone Star Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is delighted to announce the appointment of Mrs. Isabel Valdez as the Chairman of its 1985 Campaign in Rule.

The Campaign will be held to provide the community with pertinent information about Cystic Fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children and young adults and to raise desperately needed funds to support research, education and care programs.

CF is difficult to diagnose and, at present, impossible to cure. Each day five babies are born with this tragic disease which will clog and choke their lungs and inhibit their digestive process and their growth. It will eventually take their lives as it takes the lives of three young people each and every day.

For more information about cystic fibrosis and how you can help in the fight to find a cure, please contact Mrs. Isabel Valdez.

Ratliff, a former Judge of the 39th Judicial District of Texas, the eldest of eleven children, eight boys and three girls, was born near Era, in Cooke County, Texas, on October 23, 1899. His father, L.D. Ratliff, a native of Tennessee, came with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Ratliff, from Hickman County, Tennessee, to Cooke County in 1892. His mother was Myra Texas (Pace) Ratliff, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Pace, members of the Pace and Hampton families from Alabama and Kentucky who were colonists during the early days of the Texas Republic. In 1904 the family moved to Ada, Indian Territory, where his father, who was a lawyer, practiced until 1907, when the family returned to Texas and settled at Bridgeport, in Wise County. After his father was elected County Attorney in 1908, the family moved to Decatur. Judge Ratliff attended the public schools in Ada, Bridgeport and Decatur, and graduated from high school at Decatur in 1916. He also attended Decatur Baptist College (now Dallas Baptist College, and the Metropolitan Business College in Dallas. He was a private in the U.S. Army in World War I. He was awarded the Bachelor of Laws degree by the Law Department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tennessee, in 1920, and admitted to the Bar in Texas that year, before he was 21 years of age, having had his disabilities as a minor removed in order to be eligible to take the bar examination. He also was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Oratory by the Philomathean Debating Society of Cumberland University. Judge J.B. Dibrell of Seguin, Texas, a former Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, and a member of the Board of Legal Examiners, in writing Judge Ratliff that he had passed the bar examination stated that his papers were by far the best he had examined since he had been on the Board. After the Law Department of Cumberland University was moved to Birmingham, Alabama in 1961, as a part of now Samford University, he was awarded the degrees of Bachelor of Laws and Doctor of Jurisprudence.

In 1921, the family moved to Haskell, and he and his father formed a partnership with Judge H.G. McConnell, an early day lawyer in Haskell, and after the death of Judge McConnell, in 1922, they continued the practice of law together under the firm name of Ratliff and Ratliff. He was elected to the Texas House of Representatives in 1930, and served in the 42nd and 43rd Legislatures from 1931 to 1935. In 1935 he was appointed District Judge of the 39th Judicial District of Texas, by then Governor, James V. Allred, and served until January 1, 1943. In the meantime, his father had died in 1942, and upon retiring from the bench he has continued the private practice of law. He was appointed Special Assistant Attorney General of Texas by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd in 1956. He was City Attorney of Haskell for 10 years.

Judge Ratliff comes from a family of lawyers and legislators. Besides being a lawyer and a former member of the Legislature himself, his father, a lawyer, as stated, had two brothers who were lawyers and legislators. E.S. Ratliff, with whom his father practiced law in Ada, Indian Territory, was a member of the First Legislature of Oklahoma, after it became a state in 1907, and was later Counsel for the Corporation Commission of Oklahoma. W.H. Ratliff with whom he also practiced law for a time in Decatur, later moved to Quanah, and was a member of the House of Representatives from Hardeman County in 1913. Judge Ratliff's brother, Senator David Ratliff of Stamford, is a former member of the House of Representatives, and was State Senator for many years.

Judge Ratliff has three brothers, who are lawyers. W.P. Ratliff of Haskell now deceased, L.D. Ratliff (Jr.) of Spur, District Judge of the 110th Judicial District of Texas, now deceased, and O.B. Ratliff of Lubbock. Most of the time since 1904 there has been a firm of lawyers under the name of Ratliff and Ratliff, composed either of L.D. Ratliff, and one of his brothers, or one or more of his sons, and since his death, his sons.

Judge Ratliff is past Chaplain and past Post Commander of Rogers-Cox Post No. 221 of the American Legion. He is past master of Haskell Lodge No. 682, AF&AM, Haskell, and served as District Deputy Grand Master, on the Committee on Lodges Under Dispensation and on the Committee on Titles, Deeds and Property, of the Grand Lodge of Texas. He is past High Priest of Haskell Chapter No. 181, RAM member of Haskell Council No. 119, R&SM, Haskell Commandery No. 49, KT, and Haskell Chapter No. 892 of the Eastern Star. He is also past Noble Grand of Haskell Lodge No. 525, IOOF.

During World War II, he was Captain and commanding officer of Company "A", 17th Battalion, Texas State Guard, and later was Major, Judge Advocate General's Corps, Texas State Guard Reserve, and is now Lieutenant Colonel, Honorary Reserve, Texas State Guard.

Judge Ratliff has been a member of the Christian Church since young manhood, and served as Bible School Superintendent, Elder and Chairman of Elders and Deacons for many years, and also taught a Men's Bible Class for many years. He has been a student of what is known as the Restoration Movement, a religious movement which began in America about 1800. Its congregations are known as Christian Churches, Churches of Christ and Disciples of Christ, and he has many tracts, books and publications on the history of the movement. Both his paternal and maternal ancestors became members of this movement more than one hundred years ago, and he is now a fourth generation elder.

He was a member of the Decatur Troop of Boy Scouts of America, one of the first troops to be organized in Texas, and made the memorable hike from Decatur to Wichita Falls, a distance of 80 miles, in the summer of 1913. Camp was set up at Lake Wichita. He served as secretary for Senator Geo. M.

Hopkins of Denton, and later Senator Guinn Williams of Decatur, during the 1919 and 1921 Regular Sessions and several called sessions of the Texas Legislature.

He served on the Board of Trustees of Randolph College, Cisco, Texas, and Dallas Christian College, Dallas.

He was awarded the Selective Service Medal in the name of the Congress of the United States for faithful and loyal service, and the medal for meritorious service by the War Price and Rationing Board during World War II, and was also awarded the Victory Medal of the United States and the Texas Service Medal for service with the U.S. Armed Forces in World War I.

Judge Ratliff's paternal and maternal ancestors having been Confederate soldiers, from Tennessee and Texas, he is specially interested in the Confederacy and the history of the War Between the States, and his private library contains many publications on this subject. His grandfather, D.W. Pace, served in Captain Hezekiah Warden's Company "I", 16th Tex. Cav. Dismounted, Fitzhugh's Regiment, Walker's Division. The company was organized at McKinney, in Collin County, Texas. His great-grandfather, John Ratliff, was a Sergeant in Co. "D", 48th Tenn. Inf. from Hickman County, Tennessee, and died while in service, and is buried in an unknown grave in Friendship Cemetery, Columbus, Mississippi. There are said to be approximately 2200 Confederate soldiers buried in that cemetery, with only a few graves known and marked. Other members of the Pace and Ratliff families also served in the Confederate Army.

He was also a direct descendant of John Beasley, who came to America from Ireland in 1746 and settled in North Carolina, and who served as a soldier in the American Army, in Virginia, during the Revolutionary War.

He has been called on frequently to speak at Masonic, American Legion and Veterans Day occasion, and also before other clubs and organizations.

He was a charter member of the Lions Club at Haskell. He was a member of the State Bar of Texas and the Haskell County Bar Association and the Chamber of Commerce. Judge Ratliff married Beulah Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Golden of Bomarton, Texas on January 1, 1922.

My hat is off to Kerry Therwhanger, who recently won the national indoor long jump championship for Division II schools.

He is a senior student at Angelo State, and is the son of Truman and Charlene Therwhanger.

As a high school student, he excelled in track, and was an All-District defensive back in football his senior year for Haskell.

Then he was offered a track scholarship to ASU, where he has gone on to change the record books for the Division II school, in particular, and the Lone Star Conference in general.

To look at Kerry, one would not every suspect that he had an athletic bone in his body.

But, according to sportswriters over the state, to watch him on the runway, in the midst of one of his long jump or triple jump attempts, it is practically beauty in motion.

It is really nice to see good kids finish first. I am glad such an honor could come to someone like Kerry!

Like I have said before, however...some of the best kids are Haskell kids!

Since spring sports are on the agenda now, it is high time for all of us who sit around on Saturdays to get out and watch these Haskell kids compete.

This Saturday, for example, the varsity boys and girls track teams will be traveling to Wylie to take part in the Bulldog Invitational meet.

Now, I know that both of the track teams would just literally be tickled to death to see the stands filled up with Haskell fans, there to cheer them on.

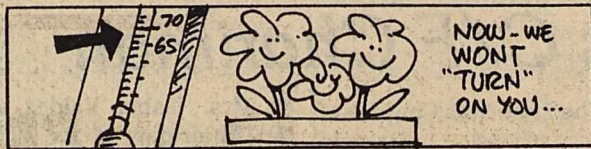

Although, I personally have never participated in track, I know, just by having watched, that it is a tough sport.

There are very few rewards one can attain in track that can ever compensate for having to run in freezing cold, with winds whipping around at 50 m.p.h., or having to sash down a mud-laden track following a rainstorm.

So, because of that, we, who are the supporters of the track, golf, and tennis programs at HHS, should make an effort to see to it that these high school athletes are well rewarded with our praise and support.

Many times, that is the only compensation these kids get!

We cannot afford to let them down!

African violets originally came from East Africa. They should be kept at between 65 to 70 degrees—or leaves will turn pale and curl downward.

RUBBING ELBOWS?

At some point in your life you're likely to find yourself either buying or selling a home. And when that time comes, you might want to ask yourself these questions. Can I figure like an accountant? Can I measure like a surveyor? Do I understand "legal-ese" like an attorney? Can I spot defects like a homebuilder? Can I speak like an auctioneer? Do I understand zoning, building codes and taxes like a city/county employee? Do I understand human motivation like a psychologist? Chances are you'll be hard pressed to answer all those questions with a "YES" answer, unless you're a real estate professional.

Why, you ask, would a real estate professional be different? It has to do with "rubbing elbows". The daily routine of an active, highly committed real estate broker or salesman is a sight to behold. During any 24 hour period, such a professional will likely have contact with bank loan officers, lawyers, tax collectors, land surveyors, insurance company representatives, mortgage lending officers, accountants, auctioneers, county courthouse personnel, local businessmen and most importantly buyers and sellers.

Working at least six days a week, can you imagine how many individual contacts would be made in a year's time? Such an active person can mean the difference between winning or losing at real estate.

Understanding real estate dilemmas and their solutions is our business, and we'll happily share our knowledge with you. Why not give us a call at 864-2665 or drop by our office at 417 So. 1st.

WATER BY THE DIPPERFUL ...
Mexico, in 1920, boasted a population of 4,000. In May, 1921, A.E. Humphreys brought in an oil well gusher. Mexico was a boom town. Within weeks the population hit 40,000. Men slept in tents, cars and six-to-a-room in private homes. The city's water system couldn't take it. It was turned off at night, to let the tank refill; then turned on at 6 a.m. By 9 a.m. it was all gone. During the day boys sold water by the dipperful.

The high point of the meet for the Indians was when senior pole vaulter Todd Harris took first place with a vault of 13 feet even.

Also one of the bright spots of the meet for Haskell was Mark Young's performance in the 400 meter dash.

Young, who is a freshman, ran a 53.7 second race in the finals to gain third place and earn himself a medal.

The boys will travel to Wylie Saturday for a track meet there. Preliminaries will be at 9 a.m. for the field events, and 9:30 a.m. for the running events, with all of the finals set to begin at 2 p.m.

The Maidens will be in the Wylie meet on Saturday. The field events prelims will begin at 8:30 a.m., with the running prelims at 9:30 a.m., and the finals at 2 p.m.

Cheerleaders To Little Dribblers Games Tryout For Judges Here

By Holly McBroom

On Monday, March 25, the eleven girls who are trying out for Haskell High School Cheerleader will begin their final phase of the tryouts.

At 4:30 p.m., they will perform two yells in front of a panel of judges who will make the final decision as to who it will be that represents HHS as cheerleaders in the 1985-86 academic year.

The eleven girls who are competing for cheerleader are: Lorie Alvarez, Stephanie Browning, Vickie Chavez, Lori Darden Sheree Dumas, Brandie Keger, Tammi Miller, Leiza Morales, Mindy Smith, Kelly Wallace, and Robyne Weaver.

After school, last Monday, the girls tried out before the student body, who then placed their votes for cheerleaders on Tuesday.

On Thursday, March 21, the faculty will place their votes on each of the candidate's eligibility and their ability to get along with others.

The judges' votes will be compiled and shortly after, the new cheerleaders will be announced.

Also on the same day, and under the same set of procedures, the junior high cheerleader tryouts will be held.

Those candidates who are trying out for Junior high cheerleader are seventh graders Velma Castillo, Sylvia Alvarez, Dawn Langhofer, Missy Phemister, and Julie Martinez. Also Becky Cline, a sixth grader, will be trying for cheerleader.

Post-it-notes. Stick them anywhere for notes that get noticed. Several sizes, colors too! Haskell Free Press.

On the 11th, the Runts bested the Tadpoles, 11-6, while the Robins topped the Maidens 36-18, and the Blackhaws just edged the Warriors 21-18.

March 14, the Roadrunners were winners over the Robins 22-8, while the Sioux were winners over the Tomahawks, 34-18, and the Blackhaws were victors in their game against the Spurs, 26-20.

Three games were played on March 15, and these yielded the following winners: Comanches 14-3 over the Tomahawks, Kiowas 32 and the Warriors 19, with the Apaches barely winning over the Mohawks, 19-16.

Five games were played on the 16th, and in that action, the Tadpoles were five point winners over the YoYo's, 15-10, while the Sioux demolished the Warhoops, 46-12, and the Comanches were winners over the Chiefs, 35-27. Also on March 16th, the Apaches won over the Spurs, 37-19, and the Blackhaws were victorious over the Mohawks 32-20.

In scheduled play for this week, the Maidens and Roadrunners were set to play Monday night with the Warriors and Apaches game following.

Tuesday, the schedule was the Ghosts meeting the Tadpoles, with the Tomahawks and Chiefs the second game.

March 21, the games will consist of the Maidens and the Robins in the first game, followed by the Spurs-Kiowas game.

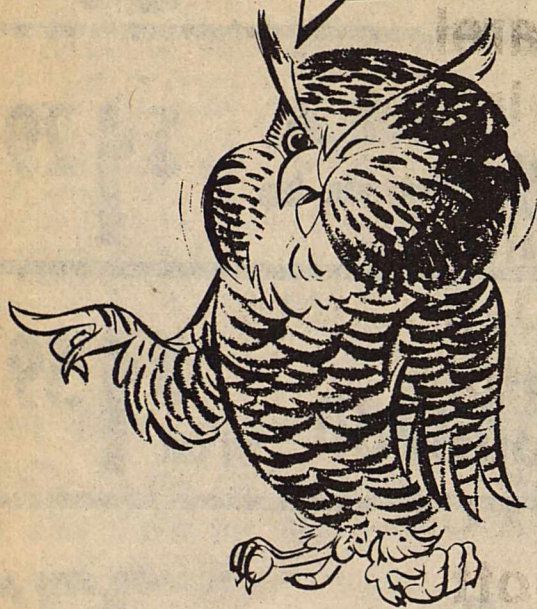

March 22, the slate will be full with games between the Comanches and Warhoops, Mohawks and Warriors, and the Blackhaws and Apaches.

Saturday, there will be at least four games, with action between the YoYo's and Ghosts, followed by the Sioux and Chiefs, Mohawks and Spurs, with the Blackhaws and Kiowas the last game on the original schedule.

There may be other games which were not added to the original schedule which are make-up games to be played this Saturday, also.

PROFIT vs CASH FLOW

"I can't have made that much profit. If I did, where's the money?" Many business people have asked their accountant this question.

How can one have profit but no cash left? Easy. Take this example: Early in 1984 Charlie started a backhoe service. His father signed a $60,000 note for Charlie's two pieces of equipment, a backhoe and a dump truck.

It was a good year for Charlie. Not only did he get into business without spending one penny of his own cash, but his wife taught school and they lived off her salary.

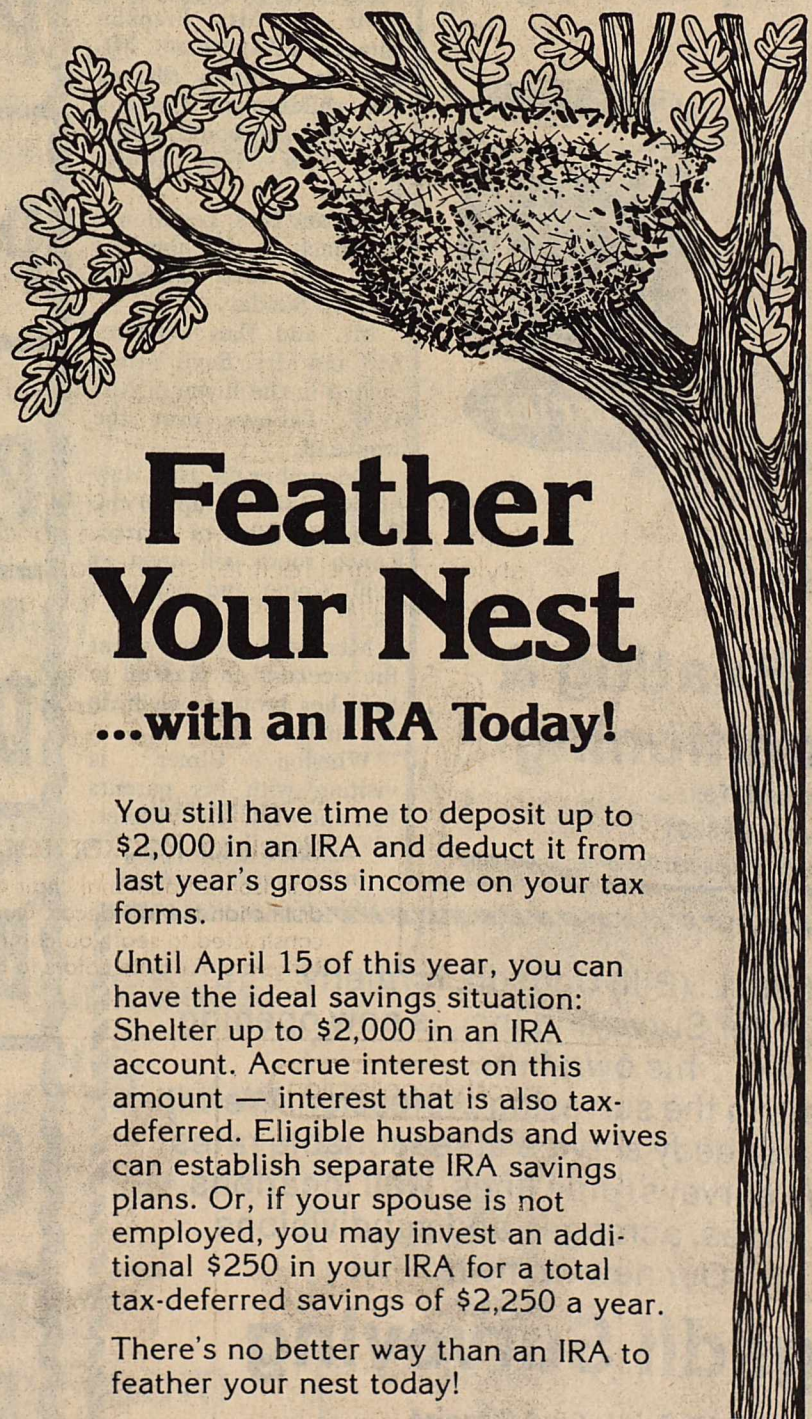

At the end of the year Charlie's accountant informed him that he had netted $60,000. Charlie's reply was predictable, "I can't have made that much profit. We lived off my wife's salary. I didn't draw a dime."

When his accountant informed him that the bank note was fully paid and that the free and clear assets constituted profits, Charlie was aghast. Charlie is now faced with borrowing to enable him to pay the income taxes on the earnings. Perhaps he should have paid less on the equipment loan and used the extra money to pay quarterly estimates on his income tax.

Seldom is it so easy to see where the profits go. Your business may involve real estate acquisition, inventory, accounts receivable, and equipment purchases. You may also have a series of debts ranging from open accounts payable to long-term mortgages. The proof of profits, however, is still in the balance sheet. The change in assets versus the change in liabilities for a given year is the measurement of profits for that year.

New Chairman, Members Named To Texas ASCS

Secretary of Agriculture John Block has named a new chairman and members to the Texas State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee. Harold W. Thomas, of Eagle Lake, was named chairman and Allan R. Anderson, of Raymondville, George W. Eller, of Panhandle and Jerry D. Harris, of Lamesa, were named as members. The Committee administers Federal farm programs in Texas.

Thomas has been a farmer and rancher for 50 years in Colorado City. He presently has 800 acres in rice and is managing partner in a 300-head cow-calf operation. He served on the Texas ASC Committee as a member, 1972 and as chairman in 1976.

Anderson has been farming full-time since 1975 and has a 3,000-acre row-crop farming operation in Willacy, Cameron and Hidalgo Counties. He is a graduate of Texas A&M with both Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Agricultural Economics.

Eller has been farming in Carson County for 36 years and currently has 1,700 acres in cropland, wheat and grain sorghum, along with cattle. He is a 25-year member of the Carson County Farm Bureau.

Harris farms 7,000 acres in Dawson and Gaines Counties with his son and son-in-law. He raises cotton and milo and has interests in cotton ginning, warehousing and merchandising. Active in many producer organizations, he serves on the Board of Governors of Lubbock Christian College.

Worth L. Matteson III of DeKalb will continue to serve as a member of the Committee.

Texas Beef Producers To Compete For Beef Skirt

Texas industries must compete with Japanese technology and now Texas meat consumers must also compete with Japanese appetites - for beef skirt steak.

The beef skirt steak now so popular for fajitas used to be thrown away by meat wholesalers or ground into hamburger, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten.

But prices for skirt steaks have increased from 49 cents a pound in 1976 to between $1.79 and $2.79 a pound in 1985. One reason for the price rise is the fajitas craze in Texas and other parts of the country, she says.

"The demand for beef skirts in Japan has also risen sharply in the last decade, driving up the prices," Sweeten explains. The Japanese buy about 90 percent of America's production of beef skirts, which do not fall under the beef quotas set by Japan on American beef because they are classified as variety cuts.

Sweeten says "inside" beef skirts from the hindquarter and "outside" skirts from the forequarter of the animal are distinguished in the wholesale meat trade. However, at the meat counter the cut is usually labeled simply as "skirt steak," and most sold in retail stores are inside skirts.

The outside skirt is usually the more palatable of the two cuts, notes the specialist. Research at Texas A&M University indicates that the outside skirts are more tender and have higher overall ratings for flavor and tenderness than the inside beef skirts, she reports.

Given the foreign and domestic demand for this cut of beef, consumers aren't likely to find more outside skirt steak in the supermarkets soon, Sweeten predicts.

She advises compensating for a less tender inside skirt steak by cutting diagonally across the grain of the meat first in one direction and then the other, pounding it to break down the connective tissue.

Marinating the skirt steak in a food acid such as lime juice, lemon juice or vinegar for several hours or overnight also increases tenderness

ECC Participants Invited To Visit Retirement Community

University Inn Retirement Community of Abilene is inviting all of the residents of Haskell who are involved in the Haskell Experienced Citizens Center for a free lunch and a tour of their facilities, on March 26.

Ann Wood, who is the leasing consultant of the Inn, invites all residents who are 60 and older, who are active in ECC to make arrangements to visit the facilities.

Ms. Wood also invites all persons who are interested in the facility for a friend or loved one to make arrangements through the ECC here to attend the open house.

The retirement complex is located at 1250 East North 10th in Abilene, and some of the services they offer include a complete maid service, transportation to and from medical facilities, a laundry service, a variety of activities set up by a fulltime activity director, a beauty-barber shop, and a 24 hour security system.

This visit will show those who attend the variety of services, facilities, and life style offered at the retirement community.

For those wishing to attend, they need to go by the ECC here and sign a register so the hosts can know how many to accommodate for lunch.

An ECC van will be providing transportation.

While it may be true that money can't buy love, it can buy life, especially when you give a contribution to the Haskell Co. Ambulance Memorial Fund. Your contribution is tax deductible, and will be useful for years to come. Don't hesitate. Make arrangements now to give. Thank you.

Where You Get Service After The Sale

Special Rules Apply To Door-To-Door Sales

A new set of pots and pans, a Bible, burglar alarm or family photo album may seem like a good idea when a salesperson brings them to your door.

But what if you decide you don't want or can't afford the merchandise you buy from a door-to-door salesperson? You can cancel your order if you don't delay, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service consumer economics specialist.

A Federal Trade Commission (FTC) ruling allows a three-day "cooling off" period to cancel if the purchase is $25 or more, says Bonnie L. Piernot. This rule applies only to door-to-door sales and not to in-store sales.

"The salesperson must provide a fully completed contract including the date of the sale, name and address of the seller, and a statement in a large business type explaining the right to cancel within three days by written notice," she advises.

"The salesperson must also give you two copies of a separate "notice of cancellation" form, Piernot says. Then when you want to cancel the sale, simply send the notice by certified mail with return receipt requested so you can prove you canceled it."

The specialist points out that the contract and notice must be in the same language the salesperson uses in the sales pitch. If the sale was made in Spanish, for example, then the contract-notice must be in Spanish.

If you have made payment, the seller must refund the money within 10 business days of receiving your cancellation notice, Piernot says. And after canceling the sale, you must have the merchandise in the same condition that you received it—available for the salesperson to pick up at your home.

If you agree to ship the item back, the seller must pay the shipping costs. But if the merchandise is not picked up within 20 days, you may keep the goods without obligation," she says.

Piernot emphasizes that the rule does not cover total sales under $25, sales of insurance and securities, sales of telephone orders and sales made entirely by mail.

LADIES IN WEIGHTING?

Members of the Haskell Maidens track team are shown Tuesday as they had to give up plans to run because of rain. They are in weight training in conjunction with their track events. The girls are coached by Jim Bob Mickler.

Rep. Perry Summarizes Legislature Package

Rep. Rick Perry, Haskell, outlined today the contents of the six bills he is carrying in the Texas Legislature this session; half of them deal with local school district finances. "I am very concerned with how our local districts are going to be able to bear the fiscal burdens mandated by last summer's reform package," the freshman Democrat said. "I hope that these measures will help solve some of those problems."

Of the three other bills, one is a limited bill dealing only with the 39th Judicial District; one deals with oil and gas leases; one relates to the sale of certain agricultural products.

Here is an item by item summary of Perry's legislative package:

H.B. 432: This bill relates to state funding for small school districts. It is designed to help smaller districts obtain their fair share of state money. In the 64th District, 22 school districts will benefit from this bill, which has already passed both the House and the Senate.

H.B. 469: In an effort to save local school districts a substantial amount of money, this bill would exempt them from having to pay prevailing wages for construction projects. For example, it would permit a school's janitor to do light construction work without forcing the school to pay him the same wage as a professional carpenter.

H.B. 1056: This bill also seeks to save local school money. Currently, school districts must make reports to the State Board of Education based on a number of factors, one being by campus. Such reports are very expensive and unnecessary, according to Dr. William Kirby, Commissioner of the Texas Education Agency. Perry's bill would remove the word "campus" from current law, thereby saving thousands of dollars each year.

H.B. 1479: Under present law, District Attorneys are prohibited from private law practice. House Bill 1479 would permit the district Attorney of the 39th Judicial District (Throckmorton, Haskell, Stonewall and Kent Counties) to engage in private practice.

H.B. 1480: Current state law makes it the responsibility of a surface owner to keep his animals away from oil and gas drilling sites and equipment. Most reputable oil operators assume financial liability for any livestock killed by their equipment; this bill would require that the lessee assume responsibility.

H.B. 1741: This bill would force farmers and ranchers to use the proceeds from the sale of crops or livestock to pay off any security agreement held against those products.

Perry is also sponsoring House Joint Resolution 33, which proposes a constitutional amendment prohibiting the consolidation of school districts without approval of the local boards of trustees affected. This resolution enjoys widespread support in the House.

Another resolution which Rep. Perry is sponsoring calls on the State Board of Education to re-evaluate its position on excused absences in regard to extra curricular activities. In light of recent State Board decisions, Perry believes more flexibility is needed in board policy, especially for good students.

The 64th Legislative District, which Perry represents, includes Callahan, Haskell, Hood, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Stephens, Throckmorton, and Young counties.

Crime Rate On The Increase In Texas

Increases were noted in both the crime rate and the number of major crimes reported in Texas last year, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"The crime rate in Texas last year rose 2.1 percent to 6,029.2 crimes per hundred thousand population," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. "The total number of major index crimes reported by law enforcement agencies was 964,014, amounting to an increase of 3.8 percent."

"These are relatively small increases," Adams said. "However, they are disappointing in view of the reductions reported in 1983 and demonstrate the necessity of keeping the pressure on the criminal element through maximum enforcement efforts and increased citizen participation in crime prevention programs. With our continuing population growth in Texas, we must anticipate increases in opportunities for crime and keep working to create the most inhospitable environment for the criminal."

Two of the four violent crime categories were down in 1984. Murders decreased by 6.6 percent and robberies declined by 4.1 percent. However, the number of rapes were up 15.9 percent while aggravated assaults increased 1.3 percent.

Motor vehicle thefts led the property crime categories, posting a 6.4 percent increase. Thefts rose by 5.1 percent and burglaries were up by 1.5

percent. Twenty-one percent of the index crimes were cleared by arrests in 1984. The value of property stolen during the commission of major crimes was estimated to be approximately $1.1 billion with $414 million in stolen property recovered.

Four Texas law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty by felonious action in 1984. Five officers died in duty-related accidents. A total of 3,523 assaults was reported against police officers.

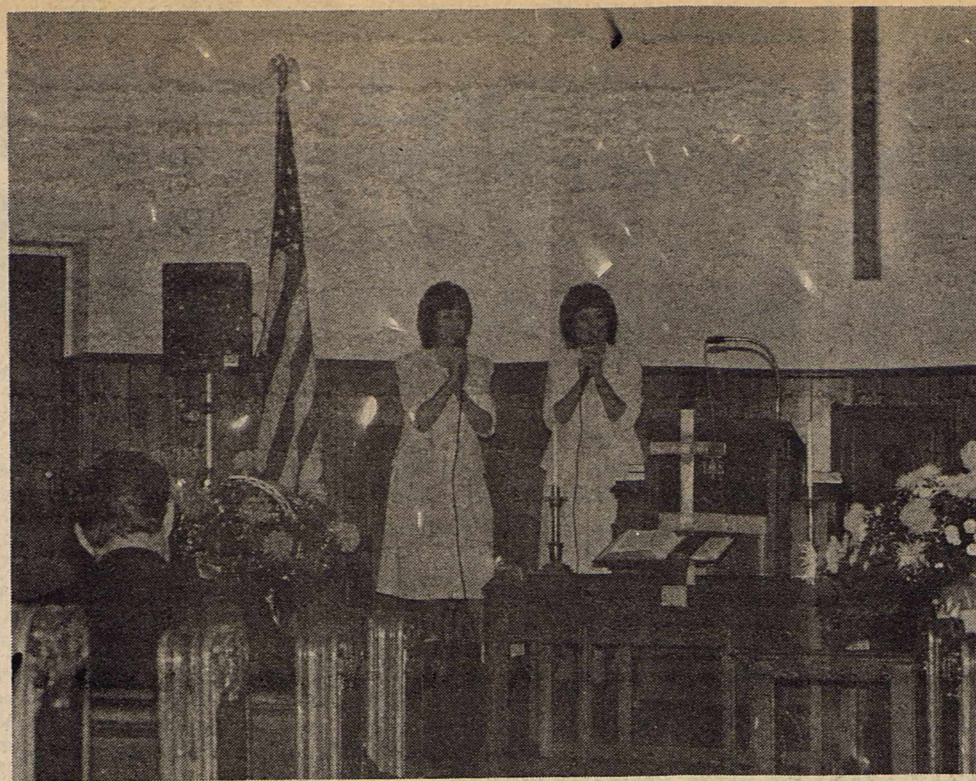

Reported arson cases in 1984 numbered 8,046 compared with 7,486 for the previous year.

Statewide DWI arrests totaled 132,046 in 1984 compared with 149,621 in 1983, declining 11.4 percent. Drug arrests last year totaled 56,290, representing a 10.9 percent increase compared with the previous year.

The crime statistics were compiled by the DPS Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau based on reports submitted by 784 law enforcement agencies, representing 99.9 percent of the state's population.

Statewide Totals	1983	1984
Murder	2,238	2,091
Rape	6,334	7,340
Robbery	29,769	28,537
Aggravated Assault	42,195	42,764
Burglary	262,214	266,032
Theft	503,555	529,469
Motor Vehicle Theft	82,522	87,781
Total	928,827	87,781

Dr. Mehrdad Ehsani Named Outstanding Young Engineer

A Texas A&M Professor of Electrical Engineering has been named the 1984 Outstanding Young Engineer of the year by the Brazos Chapter of Texas Society of Professional Engineers.

Dr. Mehrdad Ehsani, an Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering at Texas A&M University, received the award during the 34th Annual National Engineers Week banquet of the Society.

Ehsani joined the A&M Faculty in 1981 after receiving his Ph.D. from University of Wisconsin in Madison. Since that time he has established a power electronics research and education program at Texas A&M which has received international recognition. Among the research projects conducted by Dr. Ehsani, with the aid of his graduate students, are conceptual design of the power transmission and control system of NASA's space station, advanced solid-state power converter development for future high performance aircraft, a new cluster computer for simulation of electronic power conversion systems and several other industrial and defense projects. His research projects are sponsored by NASA, General Dynamics Corporation, Wright Patterson Air Force Base, General Electric, state and federal governments and a consortium of Texas electronics and oil companies.

Ehsani was elected as a senior member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) at the age of 33. He has been a member and chairman of several IEEE technical committees and has been the organizer and chairman of several international power electronics conferences. He has published numerous research articles in international journals and conference proceedings and is the coauthor of two books in his field, to be published this year. Ehsani is the inventor of a new class of electronic power supply that has found application in large superconductive magnets and energy storage systems.

Ehsani immigrated to the United States from Iran in 1968. He received B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Texas at Austin and his Ph.D. from University of Wisconsin, Madison. He has been a research Engineer at Fusion Research Center in Austin, and Argonne National Laboratory near Chicago, Ill. In 1981 he returned to Texas which he calls his adopted home state.

Dr. Ehsani is married to Millie Holden-Ehsani, daughter of Bill and Mary Holden of Haskell. The Ehsanis have two children, Evan and Nathan who are proud to call themselves cowboys. Dr. Ehsani says that he believes his boys prefer to return to their roots in West Texas and become ranchers.

DPS Reports Fall In Mileage Death Rate

The mileage death rate in Texas continued to fall in 1984 despite an increase in traffic fatalities, according to figures released by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"The mileage death rate in 1984 declined by three per cent to 2.9 deaths per hundred million miles traveled," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. This is the lowest rate recorded in Texas history. However, we also had a 2.4 per cent increase in the actual number of persons killed in traffic crashes last year."

The statewide death toll from motor vehicle accidents in 1984 totaled 3,913 compared to 3,823 in 1983. The 1983 mileage death rate was three fatalities per hundred million miles traveled.

"The fact that we had a six per cent increase in the number of miles driven coupled with a three per cent decrease in the mileage death rate indicates that we are still making progress in traffic safety," Adams said.

"Compared to the record death toll of 4,701 in 1981, we've had a saving of over 2,000 lives in the last three years," he pointed out. "However, the growth of our state in the coming years will lead to continued increases in the number of miles being driven, licensed drivers and vehicles on our roads. In light of this potential for additional fatalities, we must take all possible steps to reduce this staggering toll on our roadways."

DPS statistics indicate that at least 26.8 percent (1,049) of the 1984 traffic fatalities involved drunken driving.

"We believe that DWI is a far greater contributor to fatalities than what is indicated by these figures," Adams pointed out. "We are working to improve the reporting system to get a more accurate measure."

Adams said the new DWI law is having an impact on the drunken driving problem.

"It will take a few years to gauge the full impact of the statute, but the data from cases filed by Highway Patrol officers indicate that these offenders are being handled more effectively by the criminal justice system," he said.

Statewide DWI arrests in 1984 totaled 132,606 compared to 149,621 for the previous year.

More than 97 percent of the persons killed in passenger vehicles last year were not wearing seat belts when the crashes occurred. The number of persons injured in 1984 traffic accidents increased by six percent, totaling 220,720.

Motorcycle operator and passenger fatalities totaled 360 last year, increasing three percent compared to the previous year. More than three out of four motorcyclists killed were not wearing helmets when the accidents occurred.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation estimated that motorists traveled 137.280 billion miles in Texas last year, an increase of six percent compared to 1983.

Haying & Grazing To Be Permitted By ASCS

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said March 5 that farmers in areas where severe weather conditions have led to a critical lack of hay supplies will be permitted to hay and graze 1985 acreage conservation reserve acres. Some areas have experienced substantially reduced normal hay production and pasture development because of adverse weather, Block said. State officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will determine which counties are eligible to participate under this special acreage conservation reserve provision. Farmers in the eligible counties need to apply to their local ASCS county office for permission to hay and graze their reserve acres. In addition to haying and grazing their conservation reserve acres for their own livestock, today's ruling permits farmers to allow haying and grazing of these acres by another producer. However, participants using this provision may not charge for the value of the hay or other vegetative growth. Block said the decision on the 1985 acreage conservation reserve should alleviate current shortages of hay and allow producers to replenish depleted hay stocks. Ever need an ambulance? TMA Supports Use Of Safety Seat Belts

Proposed state legislation to require use of safety belts has received strong support from the Texas Medical Association. "There are two important facts here," said Dr. E. Don Webb, a Houston family physician representing TMA. "First, safety belts save lives and reduce serious injuries. And second, the Texas Poll recently found that 62 percent of Texans support a law requiring the use of safety belts." "It's time we take action to prevent these needless deaths and injuries," Webb said during a Capitol news conference announcing the legislation on Feb. 26. House Bill 941 is sponsored by Rep. Bill Messer (D-Belton), and Sen. Ted Lyon (D-Mesquite) is the sponsor of Senate Bill 500, the same bill. The legislation would require front-seat occupants of passenger cars to wear safety belts. Back-seat passengers would not have to wear them. The legislation would not apply to trucks and off-road vehicles. If passed, the law would take effect on Sept. 1, but the $25 to $50 fines would not be issued during a three-month grace period ending Dec. 1. The use or non-use of safety belts could not be admitted as evidence in a civil trial. Despite Texans' support for safety belt legislation, about 60 percent do not use them, according to TMA. When seat belts are used, the chances of surviving a crash increase by more than 50 percent. The 24,000-member association of physicians and medical students also strongly supported the new child safety seat law. TMA cited these national statistics that point to the need for a safety belt law: --Between 12,000 and 15,000 lives could be saved each year if all passenger car occupants used safety belts at all times. --Every hour, five persons are killed in motor vehicle accidents. --Most motor-vehicle accidents occur within 25 miles of home—at speeds of less than 40 miles per hour. --Motor-vehicle accidents are the number one killer of persons ages 1 to 38. --Motor-vehicle crashes cost the United States an estimated $43.3 billion each year. Citizens pay for this through higher taxes for police services, emergency medical services, medical care and rehabilitation, public health and highway safety programs, higher hospital costs, and increased insurance premiums. The TMA Committee on Emergency Medical Services and Trauma initiated the association's policy that strongly endorses mandating the use of seat belts or seat-shoulder belts. TMA's support of safety belt use also includes free educational information on the topic. Almost 340,000 copies of a brochure, "Click--The Sound of Saving a Life," have been distributed. A poster with the same message also is available. Motor mileage log. Complies with new IRS record keeping requirements. Haskell Free Press.
