Indians meet Shallowater in playoff game

Colorado City will be the setting Saturday night when the Haskell Indians meet Shallowater in a first-round Class AA playoff game.

A large following of Haskell fans is expected to make the trek to root the Indians on.

Shallowater represents a formidable foe for Coach Harold Hill's Indians. Shallowater breezed through a rugged district 5-AA schedule with five impressive victories. Overall, the are 8-1-1.

Shallowater dropped a 16-12 decision to Abernathy in the third game of the season and were tied by Petersburg two weeks later before peeling off five consecutive conference victories.

Shallowater beat Morton, 20-8, for Morton's only loss of the year. Other district victims were Seagraves (35-21), Plains (27-10), New Deal (21-7) and Tahoka (27-0).

In non-district warfare Shallowater beat Idalou (8-6), Denver City (14-7) and Olton (25-15).

Davey Rhodes, a 150-pound senior quarterback, is the man who makes Coach Keith Kitchen's offense go. He is backed by a pair of talented tailbacks in Ronnie Barron, 145, and Johnny Revilla, 150.

Shallowater's defense is led by a pair of seasoned performers at the tackle positions, 185-pound Trenton Chandler and 150-pound Trent Peacock.

The Indians bring a deceiving 3-7 record into the playoffs. Of the seven teams which defeated Haskell this year, five of them are in the playoffs, four as district champions and one as district runnerup.

Haskell lost its first six games of the year to the likes of Munday, Electra, Seymour, Quanah, Iowa Park and Hamlin. They then caught fire to post three straight district 6-AA victories over Rotan, Stamford and Hawley.

The Indians lost last week to 6-AA rival Anson by a narrow 9-6 score. They wound up in a three-way tie for the runnerup position behind district champion Hamlin in the district race. But the Indians prevailed in the coin flip which decided second place between themselves, Stamford and Anson.

Haskell has not scored a lot of points this season, but the Indians were able to get enough to win once they found their winning ways, except in the Anson game. Nevertheless, they have become known as a big-play team, getting most of their touchdowns from far out.

Quarterback Felipe Arredondo, a gutsy 124-pounder, is the Indian field general. Running backs are Kendall Larned, 170; Mark Young, 145; Stephon Brockington, 165, and Joel Torres, 170.

Defensively, the Indians are led by Sammy Baker, 200; Andy Griffith, 210; Patrick Perez, 150, and Larned. Freshman Derrick Billington, a defensive back, has come into his own in the past couple of games and was credited with a super game last week.

The winner of the Haskell-Shallowater contest will meet the winner of the Van Horn-Big Lake game, to be played Friday night in Fort Stockton. Haskell coaches will scout that game.

Board honors students

Resolutions recognizing straight-A students in the Haskell elementary and secondary schools were passed last Tuesday at the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Haskell Independent School District.

The two resolutions, one for each school group, recognized those students who excelled during the first six weeks of school.

Board members also approved a list of extra curricular organizations to be recognized by the school. Students participating in these activities, such as 4-H, FFA and FHA, will be granted excused absences for reasonable time when away from school on the organizations' projects.

In other action, the board:
•Cast its ballots for Joe Pat Hale as a member of the board of the County Appraisal District, •Approved some budget amendments, which were merely transfers from some accounts to others.

•Reviewed job descriptions and approved a salary schedule for the business manager and central office secretaries.

•Adopted procedures for school fund-raising projects and passed a motion requiring bonding of employees who handle large amounts of money.

•Approved the resignation of Kay Neal as secretary/bookkeeper in the administration office and authorized the superintendent to fill

PIE IN FACE

Clark retires as mail carrier

Charles Clark of Sagerton retired Nov. 1 after 35 years and five months as rural letter carrier.

Clark began work for the Sagerton Post Office June 5, 1950, working on Rural Route 1 for 19 years. In 1969, he was transferred to the Rule Post Office where he delivered mail on the Rule and Old Glory RR 1, a 114-mile route, until his retirement.

He is a member of the Million Mile Club, an award given for driving one million accident-free miles.

A World War II veteran, Clark served in the U.S. Army from 1943 to 1946 with combat duty in Europe.

Clark has been very active in community affairs. He is a member of the Sagerton Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge, Order of Eastern Star, Rule Lions Club and National Rural Letter Carrier Assn. He, also, served on the Steering Committee that was responsible for bringing treated water from Stamford to Sagerton in 1964, and served 15 years on the Sagerton Water Corporation's Board of Directors.

He is presently serving as president of the Texas Cowboy Oldtimers Assn. and the Sagerton Community Center.

He and his wife, the former Dorothy Benton, have two sons, Bob of Abilene and Steve of Graham, and four grandchildren, Evangelyn, Kyle, Judy and Shawn Clark.

As for the future, Clark, a private pilot, plans to continue entertaining weekly at area rest homes and do more fishing and hunting.

Fellow employees and friends hosted a retirement party Sunday in recognition of his many years of dedicated service.

Postmaster Wanda Townsend presented him with a retirement pin and a certificate of appreciation from the Postal Service.

Pecan company now open

By Wendell Faught

One of Haskell County's newest businesses is now open and all cranked up for the pecan harvest.

Rule Pecan Co. opened Nov. 1 and is now soliciting business from commercial and individual pecan growers throughout the area.

The firm buys pecans (both paper shells and natives) in any quantity from growers who have heretofore had to market their crops in Abilene.

"We're competitive, and we're a lot closer than Abilene to the growers of Knox City, Munday, Stamford, Haskell and Rule," says Molly Cannon, who is in charge of operations for Rule Pecan Co.

The company also sells pecans to the public. They may be purchased in the shell, cracked or shelled.

A service especially appealing to the person who has a few trees in his yard is the custom cracking service offered by Rule Pecan Co.

Any quantity of pecans is accepted. A person with a few pounds from his backyard trees can bring them in and wait while they are cracked by one of the company's two machines.

The decision to establish Rule Pecan Co. was made a year ago when Mrs. Cannon and her high school math teacher husband Jerry decided to join her parents, Jack and Ruth Wilcox, and her

City gets good news on pool repair costs

City councilmen heard a report from the city administrator Tuesday night that an Abilene firm has indicated that it may be able to bring the swimming pool in compliance with state health regulations at a much lesser cost than the city had earlier feared.

Robert Baker told the councilmen that Southwest Pool of Abilene has estimated that the addition of four new pumps at the pool, along with related necessities, would probably cost about $16,000.

Councilmen requested Baker to contact the firm and have it send a representative to next month's council meeting to discuss the matter further.

The State Health Dept. has notified the city that the swimming pool does not meet requirements and that a filtration system will have to be installed.

In other matters coming before the Council at its monthly meeting Tuesday, the Council:

• Voted to proceed with a feasibility study of organizing the ambulance service, obtaining a charter and forming a corporation. Don Glandon of the ambulance service reported on recent findings of the board and of his discussion with an attorney.

• Passed a resolution to accept $270,174 from the Texas Dept. of Community Affairs for the street and water project in the southwest part of the city. (The city will apply $10,000 to the project.)

• Reappointed Joe Alves and R. C. Couch Jr. to the board of the Haskell Housing Authority.

• Confirmed a Zoning Board recommendation that a request for a privately owned recreation center at 14th and Ave. B be denied.

• Discussed the enactment of a plumbing code. Baker presented a copy of a uniform plumbing code used by several cities in the area. Councilmen will study the document and discuss the plumbing code at its next meeting.

The council also heard departmental reports from the city administrator. Among them were:

• Revenues last month were up by $28,000 over the same month of a year ago. Baker pointed out that this was largely due to the recent sale of a garbage truck for $14,000 and the rate of collection of ad valorem taxes.

• Sales taxes are up about four percent over last year.

• The Creek project is nearing completion. The final portion will be the paving which should be soon.

• The City was billed for 12,500,000 gallons of water last month, considerably below the amount billed for in any recent month. Baker attributed the savings to the discovery and repair of a malfunctioning check valve. He said he was submitting figures to the North Central Texas Water

Authority to determine if a credit is due the city for any water charged previously.

County Pecan Show

The third annual Haskell County Pecan Show and Pecan Bake Show will be held Nov. 26. Haskell County residents are invited to enter in the show.

This year's show will include a pecan baking division. Rules for the pecan show and the baking division can be picked up at the County Extension office.

Sales tax revenue to City increases

The City of Haskell has received a check for $22,716.83 as its share of sales taxes collected by the State for the month of September.

The check represents an increase of more than a thousand dollars over the $21,682.15 received last month for August collections.

In the first nine months of 1985, the City has now received $157,632.94, and increase of 4.12 percent over the $151,402.30 received during the first nine months of last year.

Rule's share of the September taxes was $3,611.38, compared to $2,975.28 for the previous month. Rule's check this month brought the 1985 total to $24,172.65, which represents a whopping 41.63 percent increase over the 1984 figure of $17,067.84.

Rochester received a check for $1,492.84, while Weinert's was $469.91 and O'Brien's was $212.47. So far this year, the county's five towns have received $181,223.70, a healthy 7.66 increase over the $181,223.70 received during the first nine months of 1984.

Indians to get sendoff

A pep rally in front of Haskell High School Saturday afternoon at 1:30 will give a rousing sendoff to the Haskell Indians' football team.

The Booster Club urges all fans to attend.

Immediately following the pep rally, the Indians will leave for Colorado City where they will meet Shallowater. Fans will escort the team out of town.

Saturday morning, fans will decorate their cars in front of the gymnasium.

Fans are urged to wear black and gold to the game and to bring their Indian banners to wave during the game.

"Let's all go to the game and show the Indians we are behind them 100 percent," said the boosters.

CRACKING PECANS

Commentary

Same old story

James Roberts, editor of the Andrews County News, recently wrote a column about his community. Although Haskell isn't Andrews, the point made in Roberts' article applies to just about any small town.

We quote herewith:
In the aftermath of euphoria following the Jubilee celebration, we'd like to sound a disturbing note.

From the exes returning for the first time in many years, from a number of people visiting here from neighboring cities, and from local folks in general, an overriding consensus prevailed: Andrews is different, is unique.

We've got a class act together here and the vast majority of us want to keep it that way.

But many things go into creating a community that's different: professionalism in schools and in city government, quality in the facilities offered the public, a general caring attitude by the citizens, strong and healthy financial institutions, and active support and participation by a viable retail district.

And it's the latter that we're concerned about.

All of us have a vital stake in keeping a healthy retail district. It boils down to a simple arithmetic: the healthier the stores, the greater the tax base for school, county and city... and the greater the tax base, the easier the load in property taxes for all homeowners.

Every community loses retail dollars to neighboring cities and every community wages a constant battle to try and keep most of those dollars at home.

But in Andrews the battle has become crucial.

Last year, effective household income in Andrews totaled $170 million. That's the income households had to spend after taxes in 1984.

Local retail sales totaled $70 million last year which means that $100 million went down the road to Odessa.

That's the reason that Odessa is number 4 in the nation in retail sales per capita and Midland is number 3.

A community cannot lose 59c out of every household dollar without a lasting and telling effect locally.

It brings about less inventory on the part of the merchant, less inventory means less sales, and less sales means a decrease in inventory and decrease in jobs.

And eventually, unless the trend is checked or reversed, it means one less retail firm in town...and one less retail firm means one less firm to go to for help in staging a benefit, one less firm to back the Mustangs and their boosters, one less firm to buy 4-H club steers or lambs, one less firm to help football programs, class projects, and dozens of other community events.

It's not the big volume firms that make a town to-it's the littl'uns. It's the littl'uns that have the interest of the community at heart because the community is their economic lifeblood.

In this country you have the freedom to shop wherever and whenever you please and no one would suggest otherwise.

But every homeowner in Andrews, every family with a child in school, every parent who cares about the recreation and entertainment facilities available to his children, every local taxpayer has a stake in where that $170 million is spent each year.

For the short haul, you may save a dollar or two by south, but for the long haul, it will cost you, your children, and your community.

Think about it the next time you head south and ask the question: is this trip really necessary?

We've got a great thing going for us in this community. But like freedom, it's a continuing struggle to maintain it.

Letters

Lest we forget

Editor: I want to print this article as is. My father's name at the end is self explanatory. Please, note two possible changes—there have been three wars instead of two—the last one being Vietnam.

Beunis Thigpen

In a recent issue of the Haskell Free Press there appeared a report that a group of citizens in a recent meeting, had agreed upon the holidays to be observed during 1954. No mention was made of any day being set apart to honor those who have served in the Armed Forces of our beloved country in past wars.

Memorial Day has apparently never been observed in Haskell, but for thirty years it had been the custom to observe Armistice Day on November 11th. Usually, on that day the business houses were closed, and promptly at 11 a.m. the siren on the City Hall blew and the gin whistles sounded off, and for a few minutes the people, in deep gratitude, faced the West in silent tribute to those who have given the most on the far flung battle fields of the world. But, for the past few years, there has been a tendency to ignore that day. Some have said that two wars have been fought since World War I (which is true) and that there is no longer any reason to observe Armistice Day. Why? Could it not be observed as a tribute to the veterans of all wars?

What has become of our patriotism? Whither are we drifting? Is it possible that in our mad scramble to accumulate much of this world's goods, we have forgotten that the blood of many Haskell County boys has soaked the ground of foreign lands? Have we decayed to the extent that we are not willing to set aside at least one day in the year to honor them?

"I'll fares the land, to hastening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay".

Have we broken faith with the men of Haskell County, who died that we might have the freedom we now enjoy?
"If ye break faith with us to who die,
We shall not sleep, through poppies grow in Flanders Field".

We can imagine that as those heroes look down from the ramparts of Heaven, they are saying to themselves, "Shame on you, people of Haskell, shame on you, for having forgotten us, who gave our all for you".

It is to be hoped that upon sober reflection, at least one day in 1954, and in future years, will be designated to honor those who served our country in World War I, World War II, and the Korean War; in other words, an All Veterans Day. We can do no less. Think on these things.

Rogers-Cox Post #221, American Legion.

grandfather, S.A. Ezzell to start the business for the 1985 harvest.

Ezzell, now 91 years old, is generally considered as the pecan authority throughout this area. He moved to Rule 25 years ago after retiring from Phillips Petroleum Co. He started growing pecan trees in a plot of ground near his home. By studying, experimenting and researching—along with countless hours of time and effort—he became an expert on pecans. He now has one of the area's most modern pecan orchards, utilizing all of the latest scientific knowledge.

Mrs. Cannon said that the shelled pecans being sold retail at Rule Pecan Co. are those grown by her grandfather. "We know what they are," she says. "They were properly fertilized and irrigated and they are the best you can buy."

With the pecan season just starting, the firm already has purchased more than 4,000 pounds. It will get going full blast after the first freeze when growers start threshing their pecans. Up to now, the harvest has been pretty well limited to the pecans which have fallen to the ground.

Mrs. Cannon expects this to be an unusually good year for pecans. "There also was a big crop last year and a lot of growers still have much of that harvest in the freezers," she said. "This means they will be selling their pecans this year."

Most pecans in this area are one of seven popular varieties—Chocktaw, Burkett, Western, Comanche, Wichita, Sioux and Stuart.

The price received by a grower for his pecans varies according to quality and because of day-to-day market fluctuations. Rule Pecan Co. wholesales its pecans to a San Saba buyer.

The new Rule company probably will be busy processing this year's pecan crop as long as the harvest continues.

TAX PLANNING

Written By Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

BUSINESS BUDGETING

Budgeting is not just for big business, just as building plans are not just for large buildings.

Many small business owners feel that budgeting is cumbersome and unnecessary. Small businesses need a budget (a plan of operation) just like a house builder needs a plan. The budget should be used as a guideline for the yearly operations and not as something so inflexible as to hinder good business decisions.

Most small businesses can design a budget from last year's financial statements. Review each account on last year's profit and loss statement starting with sales. With input from your employees, you should be able to make reasonable estimates on all of the income and expense items for the next twelve months. If there are some unusual factors such as adding a new product line or opening a new business location, these must be taken into consideration.

Again, your budget is not cast in bronze. As your year progresses, you can compare your actual monthly operating statements with your budget. Large variations from the budget, either up or down, should have some logical explanation. For a budget to be most useful, you should have monthly financial statements prepared immediately after the close of the month. Old financial information or statements as infrequent as quarterly, provide you with information too late to take corrective steps in problem areas.

If your business is small, your budget can be very simple and inexpensive to prepare. If your business is larger (more employees, more locations, etc.), your budget will be even more beneficial and the costs of preparation and review will be recovered by the use of the budget.

To maximize the benefits from your budget, seek professional assistance for its preparation and review.

Halley's

For area stargazers, amateur and professional, the approaching season means that the world-famous Halley's Comet will reach its peak visibility for our area.

Some eager starwatchers have already been able to detect the comet as a small distant blur. By the latter part of November the comet should be visible through small telescopes and binoculars.

Halley's comet will come within 58 million miles of earth on Nov. 27, remaining visible after sunset throughout December and early January. As the comet gets closer to the sun, it will be lost from view until mid-March. Its closest approach to our sun will take place on Feb. 9.

When the comet emerges from the glare of the sun, it will be visible in the hours just before sunrise.

Weinert church features singers

The "Signs of Love" Singers is a group of young people from various parts of the United States and foreign countries under the direction of Mike and Sharon Teninty.

The public is invited to hear this unique group at Weinert Four-square Church at 11 a.m. Sunday.

With music and sign language the group demonstrates God's love to the deaf while showing the hearing how to communicate. People who can hear must understand how to help not only the deaf, but all people because there are so many who need encouragement.

The "Signs of Love" Singers have travelled extensively in the United States, Canada, Latin America, and the Caribbean, singing and signing to people of various religious, educational, and ethnic backgrounds. Their goal is to spread the love of Jesus to all people and to help support deaf projects around the world.

Besides releasing three long-playing record albums, the "Signs of Love" have appeared on nationwide T.V. on Christian Broadcasting Network's "The Deaf Hear" program.

The singers not only minister in churches of all denominations such as Catholic, Episcopalian, Presbyterian, Church of Christ, Baptist, Pentecostal, Methodist, etc., but also go into public schools, colleges, community organizations, and everywhere they are allowed to share their concern.

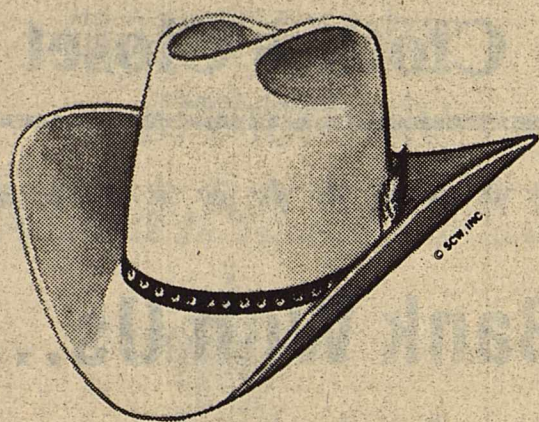

Everyone is invited for this special service of worship and blessing.

Scouts, fathers enjoy cake bake

Cub Scouts in Pack 136 held a father-son cake bake at the First Presbyterian Church last Tuesday.

Made by members and their fathers, the cakes were judged for "Best Tasting" and "Best Looking."

Judges were three members of the Kiwanis Club, Bob Beauchamp, Darold Roberson and Charles Chapman. They all agreed that the competition was stiff and the cakes were all good.

At the end of the pack meeting, the cakes were auctioned off to the highest bidders.

Members, parents, grandparents, friends and Kiwanians all enjoyed the event.

Mrs. James Mitchell Ellis

Simpson-Ellis united in marriage

Linda Ruth Simpson of Abilene and James Mitchell Ellis of Athens were united in marriage Nov. 9 in Haskell Church of Christ with Larry Suttle, director of Church of Christ Bible Chair, Midwestern University of Wichita Falls, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Bobby and Mildred Simpson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ellis of Athens.

Soloist was Judy Simpson, sister of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a winter white taffeta dress by Rios, covered with winter white lace and trimmed with satin ribbon and small pearls. Her chapel length train was Victorian styled. She carried silk tiger lilies, roses and baby's breath. Her elbow-length veil, made by Frieda Alexander of Abilene Veil, was held by a wreath made of satin ribbon and small pearls.

Liz Lane of Clyde was maid of honor. Sherri Reed of Abilene served as bridesmaid. They wore cocktail length dresses of daphnerose taffeta with ruffles around the shoulders and featuring sashes at the waist. They carried fans with silk tiger lilies, baby's breath and satin ribbon streamers.

Best man was Doug Hodde of Abilene. Stephen Norrell of Fort Worth and Randy Martinez of Abilene were groomsmen.

A reception was held at the church hosted by the groom's parents.

The couple will reside in Abilene.

The bride is a graduate of Haskell High School and attended Abilene Christian University. She is a 1981 senior accounting graduate of American Commercial College. She is employed by Bank of Commerce in Abilene.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Tularosa High School in Tularosa, N.M. He is an electronics servicing graduate of TSTI in Sweetwater. He is employed by American Best Western in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Conder

Marriage unites couple in Rochester

Mourine Bettick of Rochester and Audie E. Conder were married Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26, in a double ring ceremony.

Mark Embree, minister of the Church of Christ in Rochester, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given away by her son-in-law, Andy Anderson.

The couple was honored with a reception in the church's Fellowship Hall by Mrs. Joe Fletcher and Jim Beachamp.

Mr. and Mrs. Conder reside in Rule.

Ruby Smith hosts Sunday School class

The Naomi Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met Nov. 4 in the home of Ruby Smith. With a beautiful arrangement of flowers, the autumn theme for Thanksgiving was carried out.

Frances Lane, president, brought the devotion on "Seasons of Life" by Charles R. Swindoll. She emphasized the different seasons and what they meant. We have Winter during which we see everything dead and there seems to be no life at this time of the year. Spring, which brings renewal of life, Summer, we think of it as being a time of rest and then we have Autumn, this is a season of reflection.

Mrs. Lane put special emphasis on Thanksgiving, which all Americans hold so dear and reflects the highlights of the homes and family time. Thanksgiving is a time when the families get together in love and share singing and a joyful time. Also, the month of November drifts with national nostalgia.

She read the song, "America the Beautiful." For her scripture reading she read Psalm 100, which is a Psalm of Praise. She read 1 Thessalonians 5-18, "In everything give thanks, for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

In closing, she read the poem, "I Said a Prayer for You Today." Each member was called on to give something they had to be thankful for. Each one expressed their thanks that they lived in America. The class then had a short business meeting and discussed a project for Christmas.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served to the following members: Nettie McCollum, Billie Cadenhead, the teacher, Trentie Miller, Allene Wheatley, Vivian Roberson, Earmal Bevel, Elsie Roberts, Helen Oates, Claudia Mae Bland, Frances Lane, Marcus Curtis, Faye Gray, Sadie, Payne, Mildred Mancill, Ethel Lou Shelton and the hostess.

Turkey may cost more this year

You may have to spend a few cents more to put a Thanksgiving turkey on the table this year, but it shouldn't break your budget or your diet.

"Producers are raising more turkeys in 1985 than 1984," says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service poultry specialist Dr. David Mellor, "although increased supplies won't necessarily result in lower retail prices."

Last year's price for larger, unbasted store brand turkeys was about 60 cents per pound, while basted, national brand turkey sold for 90 cents to a dollar a pound.

Mellor says that prices could be as much as 10 cents per pound higher than last year.

But the specialist concedes that prices are hard to predict because many retailers offer specials on holiday birds to attract shoppers to their stores.

"To keep your costs down, select a plain turkey rather than a pre-basted bird," suggests Mellor. National brand turkeys will also be more expensive than store brands, he says.

Extension nutritionist Marilyn Haggard also reminds consumers that turkey is a highly nutritious food and can be eaten on a low-calorie diet.

Couple announces wedding plans

The Rev. and Mrs. Erich Grieshaber of Tyler have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kary Sue, to Noel Amburn of Haskell.

Kary is a 1984 graduate of Rockwall High School and is currently a student at Southwestern Assemblies of God College. She is majoring in Christian Education.

Noel is a 1984 graduate of Haskell High School. He is also a student at Southwestern Assemblies of God College and is majoring in Pastoral, Ministry and Evangelism.

They plan to marry December 21 at 1 p.m. in First Assembly of God, Waxahachie.

After marriage they plan to reside in Waxahachie and pursue their education. Upon graduation from college their plans are to go into full time ministry.

Noel Amburn and Kay Sue Grieshaber

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Gutierrez of O'Brien, announce the arrival of their daughter, Courtney Lache Gutierrez, born November 8, 1985 at Haskell Memorial Hospital, weighing 6 lbs. 11 oz.

Obituaries

Lee Roy O'Neal

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the First Baptist Church for Lee Roy O'Neal, a retired grocer.

The Rev. Mike McKinney, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Childress, officiated. Burial, under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home, was in Willow Cemetery.

O'Neal died Saturday in the Community Hospital in Irving.

Pallbearers were Buford Gholson, J.E. Walling, Jim Sampson, Albert Barnett, Olen King, Paul Dick, Pat Henry and Gerald McCoy.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Business Men's Bible Class and Woody Frazier, Burl Darnell, John White, Forest Posey, Johnny Lackey, Jimmy Don Brock, Mabry Brock, Richard Messenger, Raja Hassen, Ben Charlie Chapman, Charles Chapman, Oscar Johnson, L.M. Jeter, A.D. Frierson and Loid Renfro.

O'Neal was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Business Men's Bible Class. He had been an assistant scout master of Troop 36 and was a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Born Nov. 15, 1913, near Childress he attended schools in Olney and Haskell, graduating from Haskell High School in 1933. He was married to Gladys Fouts Sept. 3, 1939, in Haskell. Except for four years in the Air Corps during World War II and when he was in business elsewhere, the O'Neals made their home in Haskell throughout their married life.

He was manager of Perry Bros. stores in Snyder, Littlefield and Carthage in the early 1940s. He operated O'Neal's Food Store from 1946 to 1955. He later worked for Dick's Super Market. He retired from White's Auto Store in 1983.

Survivors include his wife; two sons and daughters-in-law, Barry and Norman O'Neal of Irving and Randy and Paula O'Neal of Amarillo; a sister, Loretta Hamilton of Haskell; a brother, Robert O'Neal of Hereford, Arizona; five grandchildren; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ed Fouts of Haskell.

Jane Renfrow

Services for Jane (Merchant) Renfrow, 56, of Palestine were held

Oct. 21 in the Bailey and Foster Funeral Home Chapel in Palestine. The Rev. Lynn Parker officiated. Burial was in the Hamilton Cemetery in Corsicana.

Mrs. Renfrow died Oct. 19 after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Archer City, but grew up in Haskell County and graduated from Weinert High School. A registered nurse, she was employed at Haskell Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Renfrow was the daughter of Louise Thompson Merchant now of Rusk, and the late Cecil Merchant. She was married March 3, 1951 to Oscie P. Renfrow of Palestine.

Survivors include her husband; a son, John Renfrow of Palestine; a daughter, Becky Renfrow of Rusk and her mother.

Pallbearers were employees of the Texas Department of Public Safety (Texas Highway Patrol).

Anson drops Indians, 9-6

The good news from Anson Friday night was that the Haskell Indians won the coin flip which means they will represent district 6-AA as the runnerup team in the state playoffs.

The bad news was that the Indians dropped their final regular season game to the host Tigers by a score of 9-7.

Each team scored a touchdown in the third quarter, but a 50-yard field goal by Anson's George Ramos in the second period proved to be the difference in the hard-fought district 6-AA contest.

Haskell's offense was completely stymied by the Tigers in the first half, but a second-half flurry beginning immediately after the kickoff almost propelled the Indians to victory.

Anson drew first blood when Ramos booted his three-pointer to climax a drive which began on the Tigers' 26. The hosts had moved to a first down at the Indian 26, but the Indians turned them back, largely on Patrick Perez's sack of quarterback Michael Tollerson which forced them to settle for the field goal. With a little more than two minutes to go before intermission, Anson was out front 3-0.

The Indians, who had not even had a first down in the first half, started the second half as though they were going to take complete charge. On the first play from scrimmage, Felipe Arredondo hit Sammy Baker with a pass from the Indian 35 and Baker scooted down the sideline to the Anson 12. Four plays later, Arredondo sneaked over from the 1.

Anson stormed right back. Taking over at its 43 following the ensuring kickoff, the Tigers peeled off 13 running plays, climaxed by Tollerson's 6-yard scoring run.

It wasn't Kendall Larned's fault that the Indians didn't retake the lead almost immediately. Haskell's all-purpose performer scooped up the Anson kickoff at his own 35 and hauled it 54 yards to the Tiger 11.

After shots by Mark Young and Arredondo put the ball on the 7, Larned made 5 to the 2 and on the next play he went over for an apparent touchdown. But the fourth-down play was nullified by a Haskell penalty and the ball went back to the 7. Joel Torres' field goal attempt from the 25 was no good and the Indians had come away empty handed.

The Indians were to have other chances. A short punt by Anson gave them possession at their own 49 and they moved to the Anson 22. But on a second-and-7 from that point, they surrendered the ball on a fumble.

Three plays later, Torres intercepted a Tollerson pass and returned it to the Anson 33 and the Indians were to have another chance. Larned picked up 2 and then 3 yards to the 28, but Arredondo's pitchout to Torres on third down found the Indian ball carrier smothered by the time he got the ball, resulting in an 11-yard loss back to the 39. With five minutes to go, a fourth-down effort resulted in another fumble and Anson took over at the 35.

The next, and final, Haskell possession came at its own 14 with 1:17 to go. Arredondo hit Torres with a 17-yard pass. After Larned picked up 3 to the 35, the Indians pulled out their bag of tricks in a futile effort to overcome the Tigers.

Young, forsaking the huddle and hiding out near the sideline, got wide open with a clear field ahead of him, but Arredondo's pass into the stiff wind fell short of its mark. On fourth down, the Indians attempted their Nebraska surprise, on which they had scored against Rotan, but Val King was smothered as soon as he touched the ball.

Except for the drives which resulted in the field goal and the touchdown, Haskell's defense met every challenge. Only two other times did Anson have possession in Indian territory, once just before halftime when Haskell surrendered the ball on downs at midfield. On the other occasion, the Tigers took over at the Indian 46 following an 11-yard wind-suppressed kick, but Haskell's Derrick Billington intercepted Tollerson's pass on the next play.

Junior High knots Anson in finale

The seventh- and eight-grade Haskell Warriors ended their 1985 season last Thursday against the Anson Tigers. They combined together again and came up with another tie. This time it was 20-20.

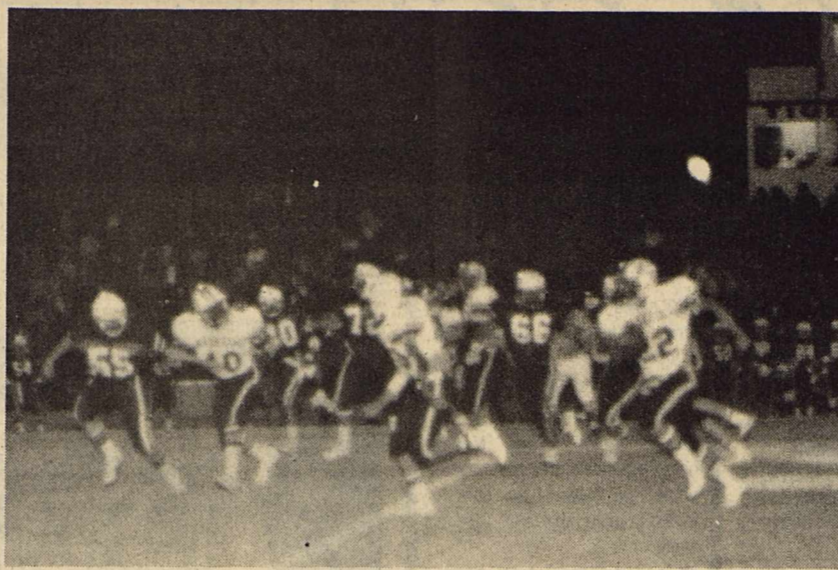

"It was a good way to end the season, and everybody got to play," Coach George Martin, seventh-grade coach, said.

Jay Miller put the first points on the board when he broke through the line for a 45-yard touchdown. The PAT failed.

Miller also scored the next touchdown with a 3-yard plunge. The PAT failed.

In the fourth quarter, Rodney Johnson went around the end for a 20-yard touchdown. Miller scored the 2-point conversion to tie the game.

"You can really see what House Bill 72 does to an athletic program," Coach Jim Bob Mickler said. "It doesn't affect the people who fail, but it affects the guys who are still playing. We've had to combine the seventh and eighth because other towns don't have both teams. Some of the boys don't get to play enough because we have so many on the team."

NICE GAIN

Haskell's Joel Torres starts off on a nice gain against the Anson Tigers Friday night.

Paint Creek falls to Weinert, 62-14

By Stacy Hester

The Weinert Bulldogs wrapped up a zone playoff spot Friday night by defeating the Paint Creek Pirates 62-14.

The 7-1 Bulldogs scored on their opening possession when Shannon Forehand ran 8 yards with 5:50 to go in the first quarter. Kevin White's PAT put the Bulldogs in the lead 8-0.

Paint Creek then turned around and scored on its first possession. Keith Medford and Jamie Braly connected on a 16-yard pass play with 3:32 left in the first quarter. The point-after was missed.

Weinert scored on its second possession with 2:16 remaining in the first quarter. Forehand connected with Louis Perez on a 36-yard TD reception. White's PAT was successful.

Steven Derrick then ran over from 2 yards out with 9:48 left in the second quarter to put the Pirates closer to the Bulldogs. Medford kicked the PAT to put the score at 16-14.

Then Forehand started the Bulldog attack which scored six times in the second quarter.

Forehand ran 28 yards for a touchdown and threw touchdown

Girls complete volleyball season

The Weinert girls' volleyball team lost a very close bi-district contest Thursday night to the district 10 champion Windthorst team.

The Lady Bulldogs all played very well, and at one point had Windthorst down 9-1. The final scores were 15-11 and 15-8, but it seemed much closer.

Weinert meets Ira in playoffs

Weinert's Bulldogs put their sparkling 8-1 season record on the line tonight (Thursday) at Jayton when they meet Ira in a district 4 zone playoff.

The six-man football playoff contest begins at 7:30.

Weinert was runnerup to unbeaten Jayton in the north zone of the district, while Ira is champion of the south zone.

Coach Chet Forehand of Weinert expects a tough game for his Bulldogs. Ira was unbeaten in district play. They lost a couple of games early when they didn't have all their boys, the coach said.

Weinert's high-powered offense has scored 392 points in eight games, an average of 49 points per outing. The defense has allowed 172 points, an average of 21 points. Nearly half those points against the Bulldogs were administered by defending state champion Jayton which beat the Bulldogs 78-30 last week for the only loss by the Haskell County school.

Weinert's starting lineup features John Perez and Ricky Perez at ends, Ramon Castorena at center, Shannon Forehand at quarterback and Ed Perez and Louis Perez at running backs.

Others who see frequent action include Barry Walker, Kevin White, Mondy Mayfield, Robin Rayens and Robert Estrada.

City landfill open to public

By Wendell Faught

Haskell residents now have access to a brand new, modern landfill.

The city-owned facility was opened last Thursday, the day after the State Health Dept. inspected and approved it as a landfill.

It is located six miles east of the city limits, just north off US 380. It is two miles east of the old landfill.

The new landfill is on a portion of a 160-acre tract the city bought for that purpose.

New facilities were mandated by the State after the health department condemned the old landfill which had been used as a dump site and landfill since 1908.

Before the state would approve the new location, the city was required to make soil testings and ecological surveys to determine its effect on the natural surroundings. A study also was made on odors and the effect of the pits on surrounding inhabitants.

After these conditions were met, the City has to build an all-weather road of about a quarter of a mile from the highway to the site.

There are four pits at the landfill. One pit is for general purpose dumping and another is for similar dumping during inclement weather. A third pit is used for asphalt, tires and metal disposals and a fourth is for disposal of dead animals. The larger pits are 60 feet wide, 14 feet deep and approximately 200 feet long. In addition, there is a trench for disposal of septic waste and grease trap materials.

Also erected at the site was a building, with plumbing, rest room and electricity, for the full-time attendant.

Those using the landfill must clear their dumpings with the attendant. He is responsible for seeing that wastes are deposited in the appropriate pits and also that no unallowable wastes, such as hazardous materials, are dumped.

In addition to the $95,000 the city paid for the land and the investment in getting the landfill ready for use, there is a sizeable investment in equipment. A loader, scraper and grader stationed at the site represent an investment of approximately $150,000.

Only a portion of the 160 acres is being used at this time. Some of the property is being leased. But the City will maintain title for future development and expansion.

Use of the landfill is free for general residential trash. Commercial users pay a fee, depending on the size of the load. Businesses can buy an annual permit.

Before the old landfill can be abandoned, the City will be required to meet a number of other state requirements. All trash accumulated over the years must be buried. The ground has to be restored to its original condition and covered with vegetation. From 1908 until the early 1970's, the land was used as an open dump site.

If the City decides to sell the property, the deed of conveyance must stipulate what it had been used for.

WCTC plans annual meet in Abilene

The 19th annual meeting of the West Central Texas Council of Governments will be Nov. 14 at Briarstone Manor in Abilene.

Keynote speaker will be Rep. Gary Thompson of the 79th District.

An Executive Committee meeting is scheduled for 5:15 p.m., followed by a reception at 6:15 and a dinner meeting at 7.

Business to be conducted at the meeting will include adoption of the budget, election of officers, setting of the 1986 membership dues and approval of the work plan for the coming year.

The general public is invited to attend. Tickets are $7 and are available at the door.

Hours change

About the time the paint got dry on the sign at the new landfill, the City got some orders from the State Health Dept. that will make it necessary to change the sign.

The sign states that the landfill is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, the same schedule of the old landfill.

It can't be, said the state.

New state regulations forbid the landfill to be open past 3 p.m. on Saturday and also specify that it cannot be open at all on Sunday.

"We'll have to comply," said City Administrator Bob Baker.

But Baker said the old hours will be observed for the rest of this month to give the public a little more time to adjust to a new schedule.

Beginning the first of December, the landfill hours will be 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. It will not be open on Sunday.

Haskell native owns growing roofing business

A Haskell native, who quit school when the football team was placed on two years' probation, is now owner of a growing Northeast Texas roofing materials company.

Walter Cox of Daingerfield, son of Mrs. Lindsey Cox of Haskell and brother-in-law of Mrs. Dudley Phelps, has 23 years of roots in the roofing business.

His success story is featured in the October/November issue of NET (North East Texas) magazine.

Custom Roofing was born in 1984 and the first order was shipped last May. The plant operates in a new building and employs 45 people. If demand for its roofing continues, Cox says that employment could reach 100 in the near future.

One of the best-selling products is the Vanguard architectural shingle which carries a 25-year guarantee. Custom Roofing also manufactures Apache roofing for its customers in an area which extends to a 500-mile radius of the Naples plant.

"We have several goals in mind for the future," the magazine quotes Cox as saying. "One of the major goals is to supply jobs to the local unemployed people who are willing and able to work. We have some very dedicated and capable people on our staff now and we hope to hire more as the business grows. Right now most of our roofing is being sold outside of the local area, but we expect this to change once the local people learn what a quality product we are producing."

Raised in Haskell, Cox recalls that he became disillusioned with education at age 16 when the football team was forbidden to participate in any sports. Seventeen boys, including Cox, dropped out of school as a result.

With his mother's signature, he enlisted in the service, leaving Sue, now his wife, behind with a promise to return so they could be married.

After a service hitch, he went to work for Fry Roofing in Lubbock, unloading sacks of granules from railcars for $1.35 an hour. Impressed with his work, the company gave him a mechanic's job and doubled his salary. The company later transferred him to its Denver plant.

In Denver, he soon became superintendent and the plant became the No. 1 producer in the company's operation.

In 1971, he joined Big Chief Roofing Co. in Ardmore, Okla., after being told to name his town terms. To get back to Texas he volunteered to move to Daingerfield to oversee the company's operations there.

Later the company was sold to Georgia-Pacific and Cox was honored at a company banquet for being No. 1 among the Georgia-Pacific plants.

Always interested in owning his own roofing plant, Cox decided to take the plunge.

Walter and Sue enjoy working together to get their new operation off the ground. Mrs. Cox owns a gift and Hallmark card store in Daingerfield and between the two businesses, she and her husband spend a great deal of time working.

Both of the Coxes take pride in showing visitors around the plant and letting them watch the manufacturing process, which begins with a fiberglass mat that is in the form of a large roll. The mat then goes through a looper bar before preceeding to the coating machine where asphalt is added. The coated fiberglass is sent to the cooling section where it is cooled by water before it is dried. It is then colored and cut.

Benjamin banquet to honor top 4-H member

The outstanding 4-H Club member from Haskell County will be honored at the Rolling Plains District 4-H Gold Star Banquet in Benjamin Tuesday evening.

Among the top 4-H'ers in the district being honored will be Jill Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jennings of Haskell.

Special entertainment will be provided by "6 Lbs. of Music", a group from Hall County. Kit Horne of West Texas Utilities Company, which sponsors the banquet, will welcome the honorees and guests.

The theme of this year's program will be "4-H Alive in '85". The banquet is planned and conducted by 4-H'ers on the Gold Star Committee of the 1984-85 District 4-H Council. Committee members this year are from Childress, Cottle, Hall, Hardeman and Motley Counties. Gary Teague of Fisher County, Council Chairman, will be master of ceremonies.

Parents, distinguished guests and special friends of 4-H will attend the banquet to salute the county winners, Lou Gilly and Max Stapleton, Haskell County Extension agents said.

To qualify for the Gold Star Award, highest 4-H honor at the county level, a 4-H'er must be at least 14 years old, have completed three years of club work and be active in 4-H. The award is intended to stimulate winners to higher achievement and to encourage other young people to participate in the county 4-H program, the agents said.

The awards will be presented by Mrs. Elaine Houston and Ed Garnett, District Directors for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Four-H is the youth program of the Extension Service.

New vaccine available

A new vaccine, available only during the last six months, may help ease the minds of parents with young children, according to epidemiologists at the Texas Department of Health.

That parental peace of mind would be aided by the knowledge that their children are protected against an organism (Hemophilus type b) that causes more than 400 cases of meningitis in Texas each year. TDH epidemiologist Christie Reed said both public health experts and pediatricians are recommending that children be vaccinated against Hemophilus type b at some point between 18 and 24 months of age.

"The protection that the vaccine provides is important for all children, but especially ones enrolled in day care centers," Ms. Reed said. "Outbreaks of infections caused by Hemophilus type b have been reported in a number of states. We know that, in general, children in day care centers have a greater risk because large numbers of children are in close contact."

The most serious complications caused by this bacterium are meningitis, an inflammation of membranes surrounding the brain, and narrowing the airway.

"Both of these complications can be quite serious," said Ms. Reed. "The child may not be able to breathe if the epiglottis, the tissue in the throat that prevents food from entering the lungs, becomes infected. Meningitis caused by Hemophilus type b has a ten percent mortality rate, and about one-third of all those who develop meningitis have substantial neurological problems later."

TDH physicians say Hemophilus type b is a greater risk for preschool children than it is for older youngsters and adults.

Parents interested in having their children vaccinated against Hemophilus type b should contact a pediatrician. The vaccine has produced no known side effects except for a temporary redness and swelling at the injection site when administered.

Staubach chairs Texas Smokeout

Infant mortality rate takes drop

The infant mortality rate in Texas dropped to its lowest point in history during 1984 — 10.4 deaths per 1,000 births — according to figures from the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

The American Cancer Society has announced that former Dallas Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach will call signals on the finer points of quitting cigarettes as honorary chairman of the 1985 Great American Smokeout in Texas.

Recently named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, the star quarterback will salute the good-natured spirit of the Smokeout and encourage fellow Texans who smoke to quit for the day—Nov. 21—to prove to themselves they can.

The annual Smokeout, now in its ninth year, is sponsored by ACS volunteers nationwide as a fun and supportive celebration to help smokers give up the habit for just one day.

A survey by the Gallup organization last year indicated that more than 20 million smokers tried to quit, the highest participation in the Smokeout's history. The same survey showed that 3.1 million smokers were still not smoking one to five days later.

"I've never been one for quitting anything" says Staubach. "But quitting cigarettes for one day might be the best thing you can do for your health. It's a chance to join a proven winning team."

According to Texas ACS volunteers planning the event, Staubach's participation should help in reaching one of the event's indirect audiences — Texas' youth.

"Roger Staubach is a hero to many young Texans and if his support might deter some would-be smoker, so much the better," said Russell Autry of El Paso, who is the volunteer spearheading the campaign in Texas.

As for the smokers choosing to brave the "cold turkey" day, Autry says the ACS has a number of support materials — including survival kits and a new booklet, "How to Stay Quit Over the Holidays."

"This one came about because smokers from previous years told us they needed extra guidance and support through the hectic holiday season," said Autry. "Although some remained quit, others needed the reinforcement. This should help if coupled with support and encouragement from family and friends."

Local volunteer-sponsored activities highlighting the day range from a tobacco tea party in Corpus Christi Bay to a torch relay in downtown Dallas. Additionally, thousands of schools, colleges, businesses, corporations and organizations are planning in-house promotions.

"We wanted this year's event to have a true Texas Flavor," said Autry. "With these activities and Mr. Staubach's support, I think we will. It's the Great American Smokeout — Lone Star style."

DAV chief calls budget plan unfair

Congress will be placing the bulk of responsibility for balancing the budget squarely on the backs of this nation's poor and disabled if the Gramm-Rudman balanced budget plan is enacted. And in the process, big business tax loopholes, depreciation allowances and inflated Defense Department contracts—all of which are at the root of America's burgeoning federal deficits—will remain virtually untouched.

That assessment was made today by officials of the one-million member Disabled American Veterans (DAV), a nonprofit organization composed of war-time disabled veterans.

"It is the most blatant example of big-business cronyism in modern times," said DAV National Commander Albert H. Linden, Jr. "It's a plan to take from those who can least afford it, while protecting Defense contractors who are the worst practitioners of government rip-off, and tax loopholes for big business, which this year will cost the nation some $322 billion in lost revenues."

Linden emphasized that America's disabled veterans are duty-bound to share in any economic sacrifices that citizens must make in order to reduce the federal deficit. "But the Gramm-Rudman plan dumps on disabled veterans, exempts Social Security recipients and strongly favors big business. By no stretch of the imagination can that plan be called fair and equitable," said Linden.

Dip in travelers noted in 1984

Despite the rise of travelers in Texas, a report from U.S. Travel Data Center indicates the nation as a whole suffered a four percent decline in 1984 travelers from 1983 levels.

The report reveals that 69 percent of all Americans traveled away from home in 1984, producing 1.01 billion person-trips (a person-trip is measured each time anyone goes 100 miles or more away from home).

Despite a seven-percent rise in vacation travel in 1984, with the exception of May and October, travel by Americans did not exceed 1983 levels.

Travel by air increased its market share from 16 to 17 percent. Travel by auto/truck/RV dropped six percent.

Cliff Drinkard

Rotary governor pays call

District Governor Cliff Drinkard of Coleman addressed members of the Haskell Rotary Club at their regular meeting last Thursday.

A native of Eden, Texas, Drinkard has a master's degree in business administration from the University of Texas. He was a finance officer in the Army during World War II.

Drinkard was a career Civil Service executive for 35 years, the last 10 of which were as director of the Veteran's Administration National Computer Center.

He now resides with his wife Maxine in a restored historical colonial home in Coleman.

In Coleman, Drinkard has served in many civic roles, including as a City Councilman for six years and as mayor protem, chairman of the administrative board of the Coleman Senior Center, member of the Tax Appraisal Board, president of Coleman's non-profit nursing home and in many other capacities.

He has been a member of the Coleman Rotary Club since moving to Coleman in 1975. He has served the club as secretary, director and president. He was a special representative to the governor of District 579 in 1983-84.

Drinkard serves as an elder in the Presbyterian Church of Coleman.

Dickie W. Greenwood is president of the Haskell Rotary Club which meets each Thursday at noon at the Haskell Steak House. The club has 21 members.

Rotary is a service organization of business and professional men united worldwide who conduct humanitarian projects, encourage high ethical standards in all vocations and work toward world understanding and peace. Approximately a million service-minded men belong to more than 21,000 Rotary clubs in 159 countries.

Hall of Fame program set

Broadway and film star Sandy Duncan, a Texas native, will join Gov. Mark White for the second annual Texas Women's Hall of Fame at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 14, at the Performing Arts Center concert hall on the University of Texas campus in Austin.

Gov. White will induct 12 outstanding women into the Hall of Fame. He will also become the first Texas governor to honor women, from all branches of the armed forces, who served with distinction during World War II.

Texas surveys highway litter

Recent research conducted on behalf of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) indicated an estimated half billion pieces of trash along Texas roadsides in late August.

Four different studies were commissioned by DHT in advance of a major effort to reduce roadside litter which cost taxpayers a whopping $20 million last year.

The Institute for Applied Research, headquartered in Sacramento, California, performed a visible litter count in key locations throughout the state. The Institute, who has performed more than 40 studies on litter throughout the United States, is considered the premiere firm in the nation on litter research. This study indicated that roadside trash is approaching an estimated half billion pieces.

Their other findings included: •Fifty-three percent of highway litter is caused by deliberate acts, while 47 percent involves loss of truck loads that were unsecured or uncovered, as well as miscellaneous items blowing out of trucks.

•Sixty-one percent of roadside litter can be found in urban areas. The remaining 39 percent lies on rural freeways and roads.

•Litter from Automobiles accounts for 30 percent of all roadside litter.

•Pickup trucks are the source of a disproportionate amount of roadside litter, amounting to 27 percent. However, pickups represented only 11 percent of all vehicles observed.

Farm-City Week to be Nov. 22-28

The week of Nov. 22-28 is Farm-City Week and focuses on the teamwork of farm and city people as partners in growing, processing, marketing and consuming food and fiber. In Texas, movement of food and fiber from the farm or ranch to the supermarket and family table provides jobs and income for about a fourth of the working force. One out of every 35 Texans is a farmer or rancher, and about 25 percent of the state's retail trade business is directly associated with agricultural production and marketing.

We now stock ink rollers for newer adding machines & calculators. Haskell Free Press.

•Stake, flatbed, dump trucks and trailers account for 21 percent of roadside litter in Texas.

•Other vehicles contributed the remainder.

As to who litters, "habitual" litterers in Texas were defined in a separate study by the institute as primarily males, between the ages of 10 and 44. The largest category was young men, between the ages of 18 and 34. The study indicated that 71.4 percent of all deliberate littering is done by males, with females representing only 28.7 percent.

Decision Analysts, Inc., of Arlington performed two studies to probe why Texans litter and their awareness of litter as a statewide problem.

As to why Texans litter; convenience is the primary reason.

Most Texans interviewed do not approve of littering, but 43 percent admitted to littering from time to time. Less than 21 percent were able to correctly estimate the tax dollars required to clean up Texas roadways.

"The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will use the research statistics to implement a three-pronged program aimed at significantly reducing litter," said J. Don Clark, director of the Highway Department's Information Services Section.

This war against trash will include an aggressive, targeted media campaign directed at habitual litterers, a statewide community-by-community clean-up and beautification program and incentives for increased law enforcement.

The $20 million spent by the State last year on litter collection does not include tax dollars spent by city and county governments on local clean up efforts.
