Cutwork workshop planned

Amelia Perry will be conducting a cutwork demonstration for the general public Thursday, April 24, in the Haskell National Bank Community Room.

The lecture-demonstration will begin at 2 p.m. and will be followed by a workshop for those who wish to bring a sewing machine and practice the skill.

There is no charge for the lecture-demonstration portion of the program, but those participating in the workshop will need to come prepared to purchase their supplies for the cutwork. The instructor will have all needed items available.

Those planning to participate in the workshop should call the County Extension office (864-2546) before 5 p.m. April 21. Everyone taking part in the workshop should bring a sewing machine and a pair of scissors. A six-inch embroidery hoop also will be helpful.

The activity is sponsored by the Home Economics Committee of the Haskell County Extension Service and is open to everyone.

Davis heads HISD board another year

David Davis was re-elected president of the Haskell Independent School District Board of Trustees at the Board's April 8 meeting. Re-election is for the 1986-1987 school year.

Also re-elected were Pat Henry, vice president, and Mike Guess, secretary.

Board members canvassed the votes of the April 5 election at which Guess and Henry were re-elected.

In other action, the Board:
-Voted to continue the at-will employment of non-contract personnel, including secretaries, aides, custodians and lunch room employees.

-Adopted a school district calendar for 1986-87.

-Approved a request from transfer student Charman Smith, who has been attending schools at Paint Creek and Merkel.

-Tabled a request to discuss a closed campus and student vehicle use.

Heard reports from Superintendent Dr. James A. Kemp, including one on the final blueprints for the new concession stand at the athletic complex. (The school is now advertising for bids on construction.)

Next Board meeting will be April 22 at which policy changes to conform with provisions of HB 72 will be considered. Among other items to be considered will be a change of the meeting date of the Board from the Tuesday of the first full week of the month to the Tuesday of the second full week.

WIC recipients won't be cut

The termination of approximately 25 low-income women and children from the special supplemental food program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) in Haskell and Knox counties will not be instituted as planned this month.

In addition, previously planned reductions in the types and amounts of food each person receives will not be made at this time.

WIC staff members expect a release of undistributed federal funds and Texas' relative share of $20 million in supplemental appropriations. This will enable participants currently enrolled to complete their certification period before leaving the program.

According to Amy McKnight, RN, the Health Department has full confidence that the Texas congressional delegation will successfully obtain the release of funds currently undistributed by USDA and pass a supplemental appropriation that will sustain the WIC program in Texas at the current level of participation.

The WIC programs supplies foods high in protein, vitamins and minerals to pregnant women, new mothers, infants and children under age 5 whose health is at risk because of low income and poor nutrition.

"The planned cuts would have increased the number of poorly nourished and potentially unhealthy children," said Mrs. McKnight. "We appreciate all the support we have received to prevent these terminations."

Haskell man dies in wreck

A 23-year-old Haskell man was killed early Sunday when his car turned over in a ditch on US 277 about nine miles south of Haskell.

Richard Sanchez was pinned beneath his automobile when it turned over after failing to negotiate a curve. The north-bound vehicle rolled over in the median.

DPS Trooper Don Collins said Sanchez apparently had fallen asleep. The victim was not wearing a seat belt, nor was a backseat passenger, Henry Abila, who was not injured.

Sanchez, a tool pusher, had been a resident of Haskell three years. He lived at 402 North 4th. He moved here from Lubbock.

Rosary for Sanchez was recited at 7:30 p.m. Monday and mass was at 2 p.m. Tuesday at St. George Catholic Church. Father Sean Moran officiated. Burial was in Willow Cemetery, under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Sanchez was born in Lubbock May 27, 1962. He was a member of St. George Catholic Church.

Sanchez is survived by his wife Mary Villarreal, a son Eric Sanchez and a daughter Judy Sanchez, all of Haskell; a brother, Lupe Sanchez of Meadow; two sisters, Erma Espitia and Sandra Espitia, both of Lubbock; and his parents, Robert and Maria Espitia of Lubbock.

Search continues for missing girl

Haskell County Sheriff's Dept. personnel were continuing the investigation Wednesday morning of the disappearance of a 14-year-old girl.

Teresa Kay Connors, who will be 14 next month, was reported missing from her home Monday morning by her step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Campbell.

The parents said she probably left home some time Sunday night.

County Sheriff Johnny Mills said there is suspicion the girl is in Dallas. The Dallas Police Dept. has been notified.

Mills said his department is treating the case as a runaway.

WTU rate refund credit due in May

West Texas Utilities Co. has received permission from the Public Utility Commission of Texas to refund more than $9 million in over-collected fuel costs to its retail customers.

The PUC's action was in response to a request filed March 17 by WTU. The total amount to be refunded includes $9,146,092 in actual fuel costs savings which have accumulated since the current fuel rate for WTU was set by the PUC last August, plus $215,837 in interest.

Refunds will be made through one-time credits on bills customers will receive in May. The typical customer should receive about $22.

Also approved was WTU's proposal to reduce its fuel rates, technically known as the Interim

MEASURES UP

Six-year-old Amy Michelle Hisey is weighed and measured Friday so her weight and height can be determined for her identification card. She was just one of 853 who were issued ID cards Friday and Saturday.

853 measured, weighed, fingerprinted and photographed

Youth Watch identification cards were issued to 853 persons in Haskell Friday and Saturday.

Clint Gibson of Abilene, who was in charge of the project, said that participants ranged in age from three months to 72 years. Most of them were students and pre-schoolers.

The Pepsi Company, for which Gibson is district route manager and supervisor, sponsored the event. The company set up the facilities at M-System.

Each participant filled out a card listing name, birthdate, height, weight, hair and eye color and other pertinent information. Fingerprints then went on the card. A photograph was taken and attached to the card. The card was then laminated.

Cards were given to the participants or their parents. They will serve as permanent identification records.

"We were impressed by the size of the turnout," said Gibson.

Gibson expressed his thanks to M-System, the Haskell County Sheriff's Dept., radio KVRP, the Free Press and others who assisted in the program.

He also expressed his appreciation to the participants and to the parents who brought their children.

Pepsi personnel from San Angelo and Sweetwater assisted in the project.

The slides revealed the beauty of the landscape when covered with wildflowers and how each section of the nation has a special native wildflower, as the Texas Bluebonnet. There are 25,000 species but only 200 have been researched. The state saves $8 million in highway right-of-way mowing where wildflowers are growing.

Garden Club has program on flowers

April 13, 1986 was the date of the Haskell Garden Club meeting to "Pride in the Past-Footsteps to the Future" as Mrs. Linda King, first vice-president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Callie Robison, president.

Program Director, Mrs. Linda King, introduced the speaker Mr. Joe Harold Cloud of Rule. He is a graduate of A.M. University, also a farmer. His grandmother, Mrs. J.A. Lisle of Rule, said he had plowed that morning, stopping just in time to come to the meeting. "Our wildflowers" come to life as Mr. Cloud showed two hundred and forty-six beautiful slides that have all been taken in different parts of Haskell County, except two slides. They were taken from east of Stamford Lake to the west near the Brazos River. He said he had been collecting the slides over a three year period. It required quite a bit of time, because some days the wind would be blowing so hard, he would have to wait until another day to take his pictures. The Haskell Garden Club members will be more appreciative after the informative talk of Mr. Cloud on wildflowers. Linda King reported on the District VIII Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. that was held in Snyder at the Western Texas College in the Fine Arts Theatre and the luncheon in the Martha Ann Woman's Club. The theme was "Going Wild with Wildflowers" in Design for Texas Arrangers 150 Years Young by Joyce Ewald of El Paso, Texas. Hostess clubs were: Colorado City Garden Club; Highland Garden Club; Sweetwater; Roby Garden Club; Sweetwater Garden Club; Sweetwater; and Snyder Garden Club. Those attending from Haskell were; Juanita Rhea, Linda King, Edith James, Mrs. J.O. Blankenship, Mrs. Thomas Kaigler and Juanita Dunnam. Mrs. Charles Baker of Coleman is District VIII director. There were one hundred and twenty-seven present. The Fall meeting will be in Stamford in November and Haskell will be one of the hostess.

There was a collection of about twenty wildflowers on display gathered by Juanita Rhea, Linda King and Edith James.

Hostess were Juanita Dunnam, Lorene Dewey, Juanita Rhea, Mary Bischofhausen and Linda King.

USS TEXAS

Since 1948 the USS Texas, the last surviving battleship from the dreadnought era, has been berthed adjacent to the San Jacinto Battleground State Historical Park. The Texas served in both world wars and in both the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. The Texas supported landings in North Africa, Normandy, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. Antiquated by the end of World War II, the Texas would have been a gunnery target but for the efforts of citizens of the State of Texas, who petitioned the United States Navy to transfer the ship to Texas as a memorial.

Con artist on wanted list

Friends say Edward James Neilly is one of the "nicest guys you would ever want to meet."

But law enforcement officials in Houston and Toronto, Canada, have another description for Neilly—they call him a slick con artist.

The Canadian-born Neilly is wanted on outstanding warrants in his native homeland and in the United States on charges ranging from theft to fraud.

Neilly is charged with stealing $268,000 worth of jewelry from the Jewel Palace in Houston. Investigators say the 58-year-old Windsor, Ontario, native was working for the jewelry company at the time of the thefts. Most of the items disappeared between inventories, over a period of several months, and were not discovered until after Neilly had left the company.

A detective who investigated Neilly said the fugitive "is a drinking man and he apparently attempted to trade some of the stolen jewelry for drinks in several Houston bars."

Toronto authorities want Neilly on 17 separate warrants charging him with credit card fraud.

Sgt. Bob Lord of the Toronto Metropolitan Police Dept. said Neilly was arrested in 1982 on several fraud charges, then was released and ordered to appear in court to stand trial. While he was out on bail, he allegedly continued his fraud activities. He never appeared for his trial and a Canada-wide warrant was issued for his arrest.

Neilly apparently fled to the Houston area. The change in scenery did not alter his habit of breaking the law, investigators say.

They describe Neilly as a white male, 6-1, 180 pounds, with brown and gray hair. He usually wears a moustache. He is said to have "an outstanding personality," detectives report, and usually works as a jewelry salesman.

Neilly is believed to have fled back to Canada since his scrape with the law in Houston. However, authorities have learned that he has visited a step-daughter in Houston at least once in the past year.

This week, Edward James Neilly has been added to the Texas Most Wanted list. A $1,000 reward is being offered by the governor's office for information leading to his arrest.

Anyone who might have information concerning Neilly's possible whereabouts is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll free at 1-800-252-8477. Callers do not have to reveal their identities.

Weinert News

By Myrtle Phemister

The senior class was busy all afternoon Sunday, April 13, on a car wash project. They are gathering funds for the Senior Trip to Jamaica in May. They accept donations.

The Baptist Church closed a delightful series with long time friend and evangelist, Max Copeland, on Sunday. They enjoyed breakfast together each morning during the week before services, and finished the revival with a "pot luck" dinner on Sunday. Attendance was very good with many out-of-town visitors each night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Ward were in Weatherford to attend the funeral services for his grandfather, David Ward, 80, who passed away Saturday. Burial was in Grafford cemetery on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. D.I. White were in Ft. Worth for the weekend. While there they attended a rodeo to watch their grandson, Todd Hackney participate in the events. They also attended the Ice Capades and got in a few hours of fishing on Saturday. After church services at the Mid Town Church of Christ, where their son-in-law, Jimmy Hackney, is minister, they made their weary way home Sunday afternoon. (Youth is wonderful.)

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hardee, Jr. are putting the finishing touches to their lovely new brick home just across the street from the Post Office.

Several of the children are recuperating from chicken pox this week. They were contacted on a recent trip to "Six Flags", but the disease was a souvenir that they really didn't want to bring home with them.

Visitors to Weinert for the weekend included: Brett and Tiney Frantz of Brownwood who visited Brett's grandparents, Ted and Faye Jetton.

The Jerry Walkers enjoyed a visit with their daughters Deena who came from Vernon and Cindy, with her husband Stacey Parrott and son Justin from Wichita Falls. Jerry Don Walker from Haskell found time away from the Sheriff's department to visit, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood Earp of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Vaughn of Anson visited with relatives in Weinert and Haskell. They are sisters of Wanda Vojkufka.

Bob and Melanie Wood entertained his brother Mike and Cindy Wood of Dallas.

Home from San Angelo State University was Darlene Carroll. Darlene is employed part time with Shirleys Flowers in San Angelo.

Bea Miller is home recuperating from a lengthy stay in the hospital. She would appreciate visitors.

The arrival of Colby Lane Hollingsworth on April 7, 7 lbs. 9 1/2 oz., son of Robby and Debra Hollingsworth of Dallas, made Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Robertson the newest grandparents in Weinert. Congratulations!

The Weinert Home Extension Club will be represented at the District TEHA meeting in Anson on Tuesday by Alice Yates, Betty Sanders, Faye Jetton, Agnes Winchester, Laverne Mayfield and Anna Mae Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Toby Yates returned Sunday from their tour of the Big Bend country. Tour host was Weldon Cowan of Nocona Fun Tours. They reported a pleasant and enjoyable tour.

Weinert High School Awards Banquet is May 2, 7:30 in the High School Gym. A Sesquicentennial theme will be used. Tickets will go on sale Thursday April 17.

Cheerleaders were recently elected at Weinert for 1986-87. They are: Sonya Nixon-Sr. granddaughter of Mrs. Jessie Couch; Kelly Watkins-Jr. granddaughter of Mrs. Thelma Edwards; Tina Briscoe-Jr. Mr. Bill Briscoe.

They are selling Weinert Bulldog caps and visors this week to raise money for cheerleading camp in June.

Kelly Earp, Senior at Weinert won the girl's golf medalist at the District Tournament April 10, at Knox City. Kelly shot a score of 93. The Regional golf meet will be April 29-30 at Maxwell Municipal golf course in Abilene. Good luck Kelly.

Gas bills to go up 27 cents

A request by Lone Star Gas Co. for a 27-cent upward adjustment on each gas bill was approved after a lengthy discussion by the City Council at its April 8 meeting.

Rick Vaughn of the gas company told councilmen that the increase was needed to offset increased operating costs.

Effective May 1, the increase will apply to every Lone Star Gas Co. customer, residential and commercial.

Results of the April 5 city election were canvassed and the elected officials took their oaths of office. Claude Payne was sworn in as a new councilman, while councilman Kenny Watson and Mayor Abe Turner took their oaths for second terms.

Jo Iva Long, executive director of the Haskell Housing Authority, told the Council the authority now has

Councilmen voted to raise the RV parking rental at the City Park from $4 to $8 per night for second and subsequent nights. The first night will continue to be free. It was pointed out that the area now has a commercial RV park and the city is not interested in competing with private enterprise.

Councilmen instructed City Administrator Robert Baker to cancel all commitments for use of the Corral Building. The Fair Board which has been responsible for the upkeep of the building recently notified the City it can no longer assume this responsibility.

"More bushels per acre of higher quality grain"

...say thousands of owners of Case International Axial-Flow Combines

You take more out of the field. You save more bushels from every acre with Axial-Flow. Advanced, balanced design matches cleaning and elevating capacities to threshing/separating capacities. With 108 inches of threshing and separating length, grain moves evenly, cleanly, rapidly, yet is threshed thoroughly. You harvest at top speed to finish in less time.

We have a type and size for you. Choose from four models for corn, soybeans and wheat, three rice models, a hillside and a pull-type. Headers and corn heads to match your crops, your acreage. Every one is simply more productive because they're all Case International Axial-Flow. Come in and look them over.

You earn top dollar. Axial-Flow handles grain gently. There's less crackage, less dockage. And because of its single rotor design, with one moving part, there's less maintenance, greater dependability.

TAX PLANNING

Written By James E. Rodgers, CPA

IRA INVESTING

Individual retirement accounts are growing in popularity. They are one tax shelter fully approved by the IRS, available to almost everyone and, if used wisely, capable of adding significant dollars to an individual's retirement fund.

Don't make the mistake of plunking your IRA dollars into the first program you come across. Take time to learn what's available and what the advantages and disadvantages of each program are for you.

Look for a company that will allow you to direct the investments in your own IRA. Then consider your other investments and use your IRA to diversify a bit. If you are comfortable with some risk, put your money into higher risk investments that have greater chance of producing a higher yield. If you're not comfortable with much risk, look for something that is safe and sure as CD's or treasury bills. Above all, do not invest in anything you do not understand. Only lucky people make money on investments they don't comprehend. The more complicated, high-risk investments such as commodities, futures, options, and limited partnerships should be left to the experts.

IRA investments are sheltered from income tax; that is, you do not pay tax on any earnings within your IRA. You are taxed only when you start to withdraw the funds upon retirement. Therefore, it is not a good idea to put your IRA into investments that are already "sheltered." Use your non-IRA dollars for those investments.

A $2,000 contribution made every year for twenty years grows to $91,523 if it's invested at 8%. It grows to $230,759 when it's invested at 16%. It's easy to see that taking the time to get the highest yield possible is worth the trouble. Consult your financial advisor for assistance in putting your IRA money where it will produce the most for you.

Little League group meets at 7 tonight

An organizational and registration meeting of the Haskell Little League will be tonight (Thursday) at the elementary school cafeteria. It begins at 7 o'clock.

Boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 12, as of Aug. 1, are eligible to play baseball in the Little League program.

An effort is being made to reorganize the Pony League. Anyone interested in coaching or helping with this league is urged to attend this meeting.

Those between the ages of 13 and 15 as of Aug. 1 are invited to attend the meeting for the purpose of registering.

Mindy Smith to compete in regional

Junior Mindy Smith will compete in the regional golf tournament at Big Spring April 29-30. She finished second in district 6-AA with a score of 111.

Unlike the boys, the girls didn't have enough players for a team so they had to compete individually as medalists.

The tournament was last Thursday at the Haskell Country Club.

Indian golfers gain regional at Big Spring

The Haskell boys' golf team will play in the regional tournament at Big Spring April 29-30.

The team finished second in district behind Hamlin.

Kelly Strickland had the best score of the team with a 79. Michael Wallace shot an 84, Kendall Larned an 86, Eric Mullen an 89 and Jerry Davis a 108.

The district tournament was last Thursday at Haskell Country Club.

GAIN REGIONAL

Boys' tennis team wins district title

A team total of 30 points earned the Haskell boys' tennis team and Coach Greg Melton the district 6-AA team trophy for the fourth consecutive year.

John Wilson earned his first trip to the regional by defeating Steven Garcia of Anson in the semi-finals. He was defeated in the finals by Will Green of Anson for a second-place finish.

Returning to the regional for the fourth time will be the doubles' team of Scott Schaake and Tim Johnson. They earned their first-place finish by defeating the team of Kyle Lewis and Troy Cooper.

Qualifying for her first trip to regional was singles player Stephanie Browning. Singles player Kacey Nemir is an alternate.

Regional tennis will be played in Big Spring May 2-3.

Haskell track teams enter district meet

Haskell track teams, both boys and girls, will return to Hamlin Friday for the district 6-AA track meet.

The 6-AA meet promises to be a wide-open event with no clear-cut team favorite in either division.

District winners will advance to the regional, to be held two weeks later in Big Spring. A regional qualifiers' meet is scheduled for next week as district winners prepare for the regional.

The Indians warmed up for the district meet with a respectable showing in the Pied Piper Relays at Hamlin last Saturday. Competing against the likes of Breckenridge and Sweetwater, the Indians finished eighth in a 16-team field.

Stephon Brockington won first in the 100-meter dash with a time of 11.07 to give the Indians their only first-place finish. He came in second in the 200-meter dash with a clocking of 22.07.

Mark Young took third place in the 400-meter run with a time of 51.47.

A dropped stick on the first exchange eliminated the Haskell 400-meter relay team in the finals, after the Indian quartet had posted its best time of the year in the preliminaries, 43.6.

The mile-relay team took sixth place. Team members were Louie Torres, Ponciano Lopez, Joel Torres and Mark Young.

The Maiden team, paced by Joy McKeever's first-place finish in the 100-meter low hurdles, came in fifth behind Breckenridge, Sweetwater, Hamlin and Wylie.

McKeever's winning time was 16.5. Sheree Dumas took third in the 400-meter dash with a time of 63.96.

Four individuals and the 400 relay team took fourth places: Julie Roewe in the high jump, Denise Young in the shot put, Dumas in the long jump, Leiza Morales in the 800, and the sprint relay team of McKeever, Tammi Miller, Roewe and Dumas. The 51.9 time for the relay team in the preliminaries was its best of the year.

Three more Maidens took fifth places, Sylvia Castillo in the 3200, McKeever in the triple jump and Young in the discus. Also taking fifth was the 1600 relay team of Morales, Teresa Rodriguez, Roewe and Dumas.

Miller was sixth in the 100-meter dash and McKeever took sixth in high jump. Also taking a sixth place was the 800 relay team of Vicki Chavez, Dala Harris, Roewe and Miller with a time of 1:53.1.

Haskell fire teams win

Haskell Volunteer Fire Dept. teams won first places in the men's pumper race and the two-man hose lay at the Mid-West Texas Firemen and Firemarshalls' Assn. convention in Tye Saturday.

The six-man hose lay team won third.

In the ladies' competition, Haskell took third in both the pumper race and the two-person race.

During the business session, Floradean Cockerell of Haskell was elected vice president, Merry Harvey was named second vice president; and Nene Comedy was chosen as historian.

Stress takes toll on coaches

Sportswriters call it "crunch time."

That's when the basketball coach calls time out to talk strategy during the final moments of the contest.

After 90 seconds of chalk talk, the coach sends his players back to the hardwood, hoping that they remember what was discussed during those frenzied moments.

Coaches Hubie Brown, Chuck Daly, Bill Foster and Jack Hartman know this high-pressure sports atmosphere well. Besides being brothers in the coaching profession, they have other thing in common: heart disease. It is the toll they pay for the stress that comes with the job.

Dr. Richard N. Scott of the Washington Cardiovascular

Institute in Washington, D.C., says basketball is one of the most stressful sports to coach because of the constant action and changes in the flow of the game.

Scott found that a coach's heart rate during a game can increase to almost 160 beats per minute, and he is concerned about what this amount of stress could mean in coaches who already have some form of coronary artery disease.

The major underlying cause of heart disease is atherosclerosis, a buildup of fatty deposits in the arteries that limits the flow of oxygen-rich blood to the heart. The most common symptom is chest pain.

Fortunately, there is excellent medical therapy available to treat heart disease. For instance, calcium channel blockers like Cardizem, or diltiazem, work in a unique way to improve blood flow to the heart and relieve, or even prevent, chest pain.

When the obstructions are considered to be more dangerous, surgical intervention may be necessary to resolve symptoms. Some 170,000 coronary artery bypass surgeries are done annually in this country.

Bill Foster of the University of South Carolina and Jack Hartman of Kansas State University both had quadruple coronary-bypass surgery. Foster had no symptoms before his heart attack, which struck shortly after a game. But he says that coaching college basketball is highly competitive and that he had not taken a real vacation for 14 years before the attack. Foster has changed his lifestyle dramatically since the surgery. He now is lecturing on stress management.

Jack Hartman is back on the bench after his operation. But he, too, has made important lifestyle changes. For instance, he has stopped smoking, eliminating one of the major risk factors for heart disease, and now exercises regularly, saying he feels better now than he did before the operation.

Professional coaches Hubie Brown of the New York Knicks and Chuck Daly of the Detroit Pistons did not have surgery. Instead, they are controlling their heart disease with medication.

All four coaches are back prowling the sidelines thanks to advanced surgical techniques and effective medications. All have won their battle against a stronger opponent and have learned to recognize when their heart is giving the signal for time out.

Cub Scouts bring home blue ribbons

Dens 2 and 3 of Cub Scout Pack 136 each brought home a first-place ribbon from the annual Chisholm Trail Council Scout Show at Sweetwater April 4.

Den 2's theme was a homemade band. Cubs made all their instruments and then played them while singing several songs.

Den 3 used the theme of Texas Tumbleweeds. Den members went through several tumbling routines and had an arm and leg wrestling contest.

Cubmaster Bill Perry said Pack 136 members would like to thank everyone who purchased Scout show tickets from them. The pack sold 832 tickets, more than any other pack in the northern district.

Several dens will go to Abilene this weekend for the Cub Scout Olympics.

The Pizza Barn

Two and a half years and going strong

By Wendell Faught

He had a good position with Pizza Inn, one of the giants of the pizza world.

But it wasn't like being on his own, and it wasn't in his hometown.

So Bob Cass and his wife Fran took the plunge. They opened the Pizza Barn in Haskell in September 1983.

After two and a half years of long hours and seven-day work weeks, the Casses have no regrets. "Business has been pretty good," says Mrs. Cass, "and we're sure it's going to keep getting better. National statistics reveal that most new restaurants don't survive the first two years. We've crossed that barrier."

Cass, who grew up in this area and graduated from Weinert High School, was a district supervisor of Pizza Inns in Abilene and Brownwood when he decided to come back home.

Before that, he had been a manager for Pizza Inn in Arlington where he received the Presidential Award, the top honor that a manager can receive from the company.

Visiting in Haskell one day with his mother, Louise Pittman, Cass saw an article in the newspaper in which a Chamber of Commerce committee listed a number of needs for Haskell. One of those needs was a pizza restaurant.

The prospect excited him. He called a number of friends and got a lot of encouragement. One of those he called was boyhood friend Ben McGee.

Within two weeks, McGee called him in Abilene and said he had an option on some property on south US 277 which should be a good spot for a pizza restaurant. McGee offered to build the building and lease it to him.

The Casses didn't wait on the building. They opened their business in a temporary location in the 100 block of North Ave. D, in the same building where his grandmother, Carrie McNulty, had once operated a restaurant. They started with three of their four children helping and with used equipment and furniture from Pizza Inn.

They moved to the new building the following April. They have since added another dining room to increase seating capacity to 80.

The Pizza Barn is open seven days a week, from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. (until 10 in the summer). "We're closed on Thanksgiving and Christmas," say the Casses.

All kinds of pizzas are served, including their own "Fajita Pizza," an invention of Mrs. Cass. Spaghetti, sandwiches and salads also are offered.

Very popular at the Pizza Barn is the luncheon buffet, which includes pizza and salad bar, available Monday through Friday. A buffet also is offered on Tuesday nights.

Also popular at the Pizza Barn are the Cass-made crackers. They are served at the salad bar. A number of people also buy them to take home, including a frequent visitor from Dallas.

The Casses believe that their Fajita Pizza will prove very popular once it tried by more customers. "It's very good," said Mrs. Cass, "and people who try it really like it." Although it's more expensive, they make it available on the buffet every once in a while so customers can sample it. Yellow-page advertising in the next telephone directory will feature it as the house special.

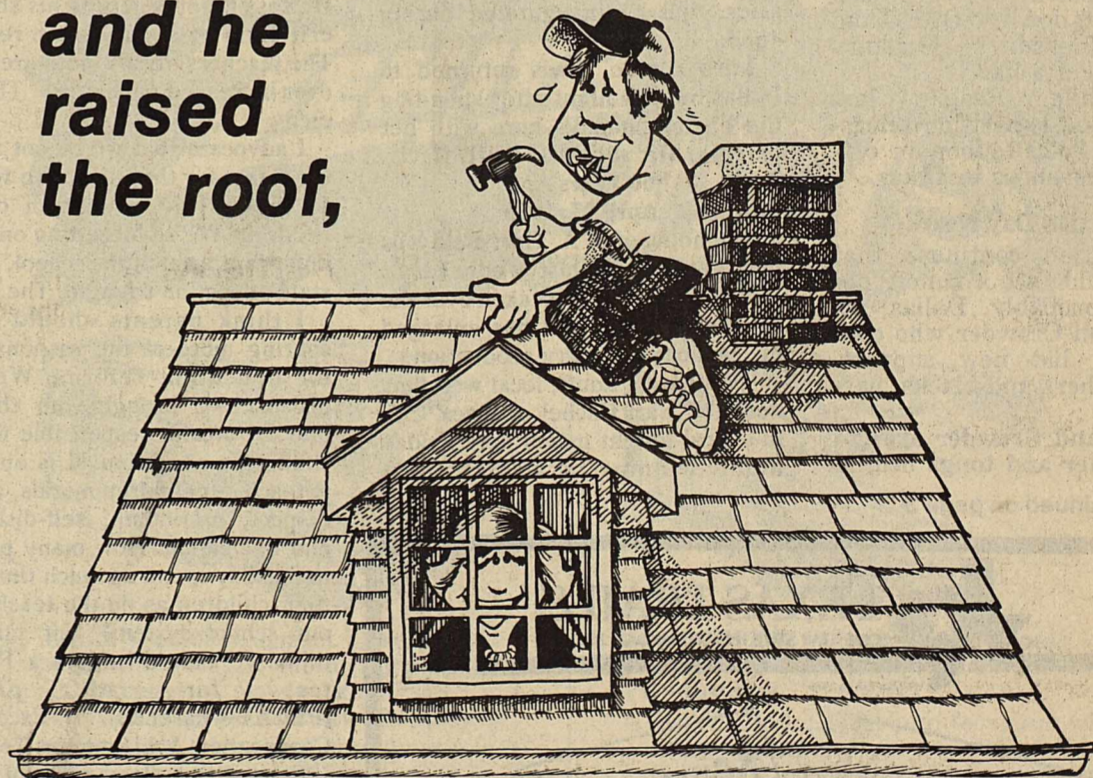

The Casses are members of the Abilene Chapter of the Texas Restaurant Assn.

In addition to the Cass couple, the Pizza Barn employs four people, Sue Kunicki, Johnny Wilson, Melissa Hatfield and James Iley.

The owners hope to remodel their kitchen in the future and add new equipment.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock released his latest budget update last week which reports state spending rose more than 15 percent last month, even as the state approaches bankruptcy.

Despite the ambitious budget-cutting proposals ordered by Gov. Mark White, now busy on the campaign trail, total state spending increased by more than $200 million.

Bullock also said that 889 workers were added to state payrolls, despite a hiring freeze ordered last month by White.

The spending in March was a dramatic increase over the monthly average for the preceding six months.

Bullock did not comment on why Mark White's austerity program did not appear to be working, and White's office disputed Bullock's figures.

A White spokesman said Bullock's staff erred by counting Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby as a White employee, a charge Bullock's staff laughed off as untrue.

Special Session Urged

State Rep. Bill Ceverha, R-Richardson, again lead a GOP push for White to call a special session to trim the budget.

Ceverha said White's austerity plan is doomed and digging the state deeper into debt. White responded no special session will be called. Hobby agreed with the governor.

Bullock, meanwhile, will monitor the progress of the austerity plan with monthly updates.

White Attacks Reagan

White was gone most of the week, spending the latter days in Washington calling for an oil import tariff.

He accused Reagan of leading the nation "down the road to devastation" by ignoring calls for the tariff. He also attacked White House Texans Vice President George Bush for bowing down to OPEC and called Treasury Secretary James Baker a liar.

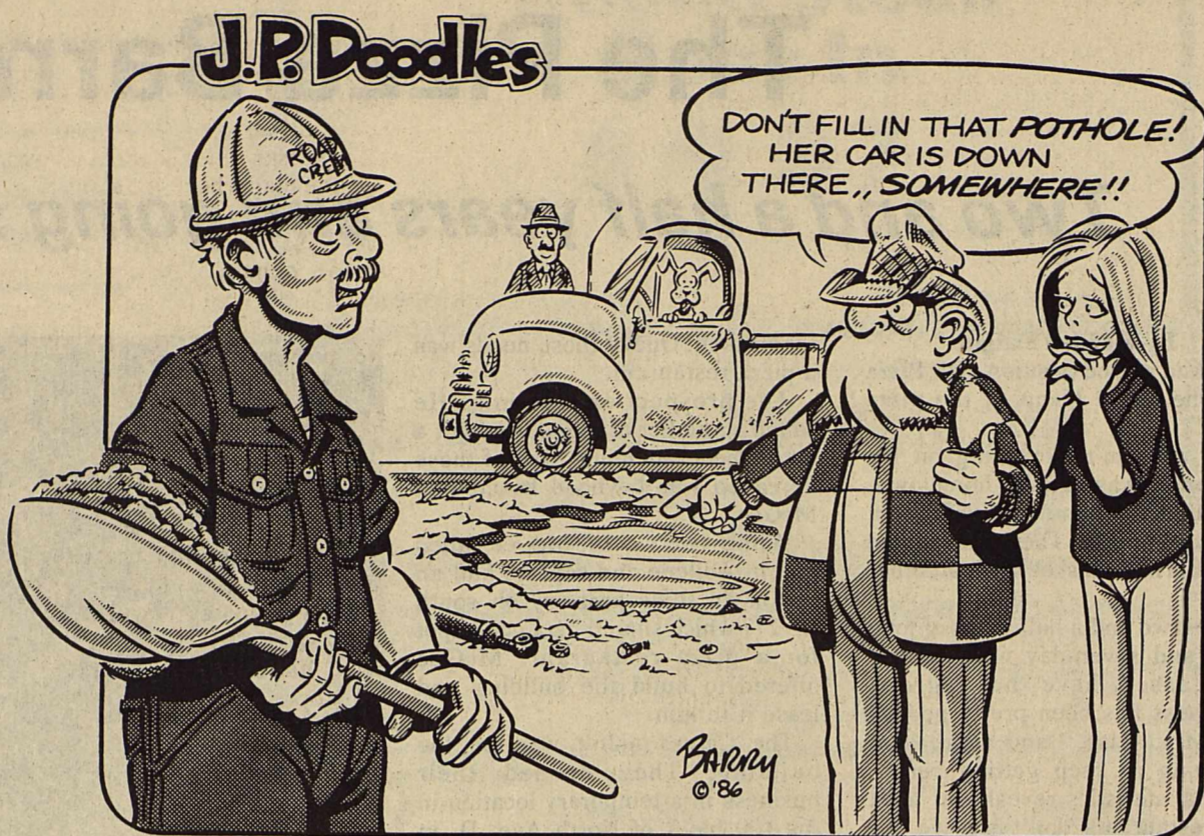

Meanwhile, Reagan last week signed legislation releasing some $420 million in offshore oil revenues to Texas.

Election Day Nears

Speculation continues that White could face a runoff opponent, probably Dallas attorney Don Crowder who continues to list new support, from teachers and blacks, particularly.

White and Crowder are going hammer and tongs behind

Haskell's new City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to reduce the salaries of all members to $1 per year. The mayor's salary has been $385 per year and the councilmen $60 per year.

Haskell County's 43rd annual Singing Convention will be held here Sunday, April 24, at the American Legion Building, Hallie Chapman, president, announced today.

T. J. Arbuckle, Haskell city secretary for the past 18 years, has resigned that position. Mr. Arbuckle came to Haskell in 1908 and from that date until 1944 served as bookkeeper and funeral director for Jones-Cox Co. He was elected city secretary in 1944. When that office became appointive instead of elective, he was appointed by the City Council.

Attending Boys State in Austin June 11-18 will be Wayne Cadenhead, Keith Chapman, Thornton Gilmore, Riley Couch, Clinton Calloway, Steve Munday, Kelly Adkins and Paul Hiebert.

PECAT for parents of students

By Kim Pease
Rotan Advance

There has been an overflowing amount of material, facts, figures and letters regarding the controversial TECAT test in recent months. This paper has had its fair share.

This week, I want to strike out on a new avenue and try to make a point.

Public education has been traditionally recognized as a three-way cooperative venture of home, state and local school. Everyone is placing the blame of TECAT on Governor Mark White. H. Ross Perot is getting his share of criticism over education reform. The teachers of this state are upset over increased paperwork, TECAT, etc.

I advocate that we're not seeing the forest for the trees with respect to the public education of our children. We're forgetting one very important facet of the school, home, state education triangle. The home.

I think parents should begin sharing more of the responsibility for education reform. We are, because we brought the children into the world, responsible for our children's education. It is our duty to teach our children morals, ethics, respect, patriotism, self-discipline and dedication. How many parents in this day spend as much time with their children as do the teachers in any and all television shows or movies, (c) you let your child stay up as late as he/she desires on school nights or if you don't have a set time that personal telephone calls are to stop at night, and finally (d) you sent your child off to school without a good breakfast in the past two weeks.

Unless you, as a parent, can make a 70 on such a test, you should voluntarily relinquish the deduction you take on the income-tax form until you successfully pass a parenting course.

I think parents should get more involved in the education of their children. Education reform, "return to the basics" by school districts is a positive step in turning out better educated children. As parents we should "return to the basics" by sending our children to school motivated to learn. We should provide the supervision at home, the love, understanding and guidance our children need and have every right to expect. That's our job—the school teachers are paid to teach. Parents have a responsibility in education—we should accept that responsibility, move that responsibility to its proper place on the priority ladder and cooperate in assuring the success of our children in the education chain.

The "tongue in cheek" PECAT test has caused this writer to study deeper my personal role in the education of my children. I hope it does the same for you.

Who's blind? State has definition

By Wendell Faught

Your ZIP code, if you live in Haskell, plus 108,000, will give you exactly the number of state employees Texas had last month—187,521.

You can add this paragraph to the list of jargon mentioned in this space last week.

From the Texas Traffic Safety Section of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation comes this definition of a blind person who is eligible to park in a space designated for the physically handicapped:

"Legally blind means having not more than 20/200 of visual acuity in the better eye with correcting lenses, or visual acuity greater than 20/200 but with a limitation in the field of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees."

Gotcha!

***

You're an oldtimer if you can remember when your allowance was half of everything you made.

***

Columnist Audrey Parker Brooks of The Albany News did a column a couple of weeks ago about items she found in a miniature reproduction of a 1900 Sears catalog.

Did you know Sears sold groceries in those days?

According to Ms. Brooks, the catalog offered a 20-pound box of California raisins for $2.15, 10 pounds of figs for a buck.

Twelve 10-ounce cans of oysters were available for $1.80, while a dozen five-ounce cans of "extra quality" lobsters were priced at $3.25.

The drug department offered "cures" for the tobacco habit, the liquor habit, the opium and morphia habit, wrote Ms. Brooks.

She added: "But consider this: The average wage was only 22 cents an hour. A day's wages wouldn't have paid for some of the 'cheap' glass. The old catalog is just a dream book after all."

***

"Historical Marker," the signs read.

What can be historical about a marker?

***

A few weeks ago I mentioned something about Jerry Falwell and his fund-raising activities. Now comes this comment from the Lapeer (Mich.) County Press:

"Evangelists Jerry Falwell, Jim Baker, Pat Robertson, Oral Roberts, Rex Humbard, Robert Schuller and Herbert Armstrong collected $293 million in 1983 from their TV viewers. That figure was compiled by J. Marse Grant, editor of the Baptist publication, Biblical Recorder. The money supported four churches, one hospital, five colleges and their seven weekly TV shows.

"Grant points out that the Southern Baptist Convention received $62 million less than these TV personalities. But with the money, the Baptists supported 3,450 missionaries in 106 countries, 3,792 home missionaries in 50 states, 438 chaplains, six seminaries, 67 colleges, 1,100 campus ministers and 32 weekly TV and radio programs. There was $5 million more spent for hunger and disaster relief.

"The Rev. Billy Graham says some electronic evangelists are hurting the cause of Christ by emphasizing money and ostentatious life-styles. They too often ask for money from well-meaning Christians and use it for their private jets and grandiose schemes.

"Billy Graham is one of the pioneers of the electronic church. Some of his imitators should heed his advice.

"Speaking of the big spenders, Grant said: 'How such extravagance ever crept into religious work is beyond me. So little true Christian ministry from so many millions of dollars coming in. This is stewardship at its worst.'

Ever need an ambulance? What if you did, and there was none available? Don't wait until this happens. Give to the Haskell Co. Ambulance Memorial Fund today. The life you save may be your own!!

Ask VA

Why are "points" charged on VA loans?

Generally, lenders require discount points (a percentage of the loan) when they consider the maximum VA interest rate to be too low to produce the yield or income that other investments would provide. The amount of discount to be paid is a matter of negotiation between the seller and the lender.

My husband died from a service-connected disability and I have not remarried. Is it possible for me to obtain a VA guaranty on a home loan?

You would qualify for a certificate of eligibility to obtain a VA guaranty on a home loan. Eligibility for the actual loan would be determined by the lender.

I have been participating in the VA work study program while attending school under the GI Bill. Circumstances have forced me to withdraw from school. How can I satisfy my obligation on the remaining hours of the work study contract?

You must work the remaining hours for which you received advanced payment.

Nelson treasured by State of Texas

One of Texas' greatest natural resources, Willie Nelson, was permanently treasured (via video) by the State as of March 13.

That's when Steve Saferin, president of Forth Worth's Media Drop-In Productions, and Bill Hervey, president of Wrangler Male Apparel, presented Gov. Mark White with a special series of television Sesquicentennial tributes, "Willie Nelson's True Tales of Texas," for the state archives.

How much are a city's trees worth? In Salt Lake City, Utah, the estimated 100,000 trees on public property alone are worth more than $105 million, reports National Wildlife magazine. An urban forester made the calculations in an effort to support the city's tree care improvement plans.

YOUNGEST SOLDIER ...
The 18-minute battle of San Jacinto won Texas its freedom from Mexico in April 1836. Sam Houston's army was composed of men of all ages and from many walks of life; few were professional soldiers. The youngest soldier on that victorious day was 17-year-old Josephus Irvine. He served in a company commanded by Captain Benjamin Franklin Bryant. Irvine later served as a major in the Civil War.

the scenes. White's staff denied arranging the job-firing of former House Education Chairman Dan Kubiak shortly after he endorsed Crowder. Kubiak was fired as campaign manager of the Greg Loughlin 14th district congressional race.

In the Republican Primary, former Gov. Bill Clements still continues to lead polls, but whether he can outdistance a runoff with either Tom Loeffler or Kent Hance is unclear.

Texas Supreme Court

Two Texas Supreme Court justices who have been subpoenaed to appear before the House Judicial Affairs Committee obtained a court order last week to block enforcement.

The committee wants Justices William Kilgarlin and C. L. Ray to appear in connection with a probe into improper contact between judges and lawyers with pending cases.

Their attorney implied the panel chairman, San Antonio Representative Frank Tejada, was trying to draw attention to his state senate campaign. Tejada said he will continue to push the investigation.

Fundamentalist Rally

Over 4,000 people mobbed the Capitol Thursday to protest state regulation of private schools and home education.

The crowd spilled outside the LBJ Library where the State Board of Education was considering the rules. Protesters feared new rules would effectively wipe out several small unaccredited schools and hamstring homeschooling.

Republican gubernatorial candidates Bill Clements and Kent Hance addressed the crowd.

Clements called the state

proposals "a bureaucratic power grab" and Hance threatened to sue the board if the rules passed.

Texas-Israel Ties

Three state officials spoke to lobbyists for Israel last week and boosted areas of common interest.

Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace criticized Reagan for not aiding independent oil producers here, and urged the group to support U.S. oil "so we don't have to bow on our knees to Saudi Arabia or anyone else."

Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, drawing parallels between Israel and arid West Texas state land, said his trip to Israel led to experiments here with pistachios and asparagus.

Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said the Texas-Israel Exchange is a program for trading technologies in dry-land farming, crop development and water conservation.

Fish, dominoes slated April 28 at Paint Creek

The fish fry begins at 5 p.m. and continues until 8 o'clock. The domino tournament will follow.

Teams entering the domino tournament will pay $5 entry fees. The fish fry will be $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 8.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

A growing number of foreign countries are demanding unfair concessions from American firms that seek to sell their goods in those countries. Increasingly, they are requiring that we ship them our jobs before they will buy our products.

Take the case of Korea. They use a law passed in 1983 to force foreign firms that want to sell them computers to first build a computer factory for them.

In addition, they frequently require these firms to share their technological secrets, and among high-tech industries such secrets are a company's most prized assets.

According to information requested by the Senate Democratic Working Group on Trade Policy and provided by the Administration, four U.S. computer companies have invested $23 million in Korea in order to sell their products in that country.

Such unfair trade concession demands are by no means unique to Korea. In West Germany, procedures for regulating telecommunications equipment purchases are developed by the Association of Telecommunications Suppliers. The only companies that can join the association are those that produce goods in Germany.

In Brazil, licensing restrictions have cut U.S. light aircraft imports from 600 a year in the 1970s to virtually zero today. One American firm has managed to keep a share of the Brazilian market, but only by establishing an assembly line for small airplane kits in that country.

As Chairman of the Senate Democratic Working Group on Trade Policy, I recently introduced legislation developed by the working group which would permit the President to retaliate against these unfair trade demands under section 301 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Although the legislation was developed by Senate Democrats, we are proposing it as a bipartisan initiative and it is being cosponsored on the Republican side of the aisle.

The Unfair Trade Concessions Requirements Act of 1986 does not seek to forbid U.S. corporations from complying with concessions foreign countries demand in return for access to their markets.

Its goal is to stop those countries from making such demands in the first place.

In addition to permitting the President to retaliate for such actions, the legislation also calls on him to press all our trading partners to disavow these practices during the upcoming new round of multilateral trade negotiations.

We as a nation must take these steps and more if we expect to open up closed markets and get the world back on the path toward a system of trade that is free and expanding.

Dancing, jogging require right shoes

Aerobic dancing and jogging are now two of the most popular physical activities for women. These activities don't require an elaborate wardrobe, but they do require appropriate shoes.

The aerobic shoe is designed specifically for indoor courts and fancy footwork. It combines the shock absorbency of a regular running shoe with the all-around support and padding of a tennis shoe.

Running shoes are just that—for running only. They are built for forward movement with an elevated heel to absorb the hardest part of the shock and front end curves to protect the toes.

The only lateral support provided in a running shoe is the wide sole base. Rubber soles, usually waffled or ridged, provide solid footing and good traction on dirt and hills.

Fit is as important as design in athletic shoes. Try on both shoes and fit the larger foot. The shoe should be one finger width (1/2 to 3/4 inch) longer than the longest toe when you stand. Allow one-fourth to one-half inch between the toes and the top of the shoe. Also make sure the ball of your foot is in the widest part of the shoe.

To make sure you've got a good fit, take a test run, jump or swivel as you try on the shoes in the store.

Loan program to help veterans

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro has announced plans for a Texas Veterans Home Improvement Loan Program designed to enable eligible Texas veterans to make substantial repairs and improvements on existing homes.

He says the program is designed to respond to thousands of requests his office has received from veterans who need assistance maintaining existing older homes but who have been frozen out of limited conventional home improvement money by high interest rates.

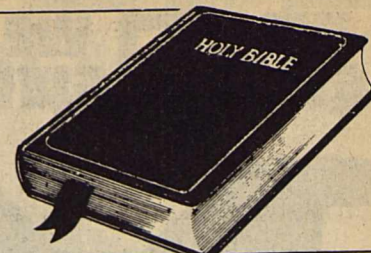

Starting in May, veterans may apply for a maximum $17,500 fixed-rate, 15-year 11.5 percent loan for improvements to single family residences ($20,000 for 2-4 family residences). The minimum loan amount is $5,000. No down payment is required and all loans are 100 percent FHA-insured.

Pride goes before destruction and haughtiness before a fall.

Crime rate increases in Texas

The crime rate in Texas increased by nine percent in 1985 compared to 1984, according to statistics furnished to the Texas Dept. of Public Safety.

The crime rate is the number of crimes per 100,000 population. It is calculated from figures provided to the DPS by 796 Texas law enforcement agencies representing 99.9 percent of the state's population.

"In 1985, 6,570.9 crimes were reported per 100,000 population, compared to 6,029.2 per 100,000 population in 1984," DPS Director Colonel Jim Adams said.

The incidence of all categories of crime—murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, theft and motor vehicle theft—increased in 1985, the statistics show.

The number of rapes reported rose by 14 percent during 1985. The smallest increase in major offenses was murder, which increased 1.6 percent.

Texas peace officers cleared 21 percent of the felony crimes reported in 1985. In violent crimes, clearances were made in 75 percent of all murder cases, 59 percent of all rape cases, 29 percent of all robbery cases and 63 percent of all aggravated assaults.

Officers cleared 15 percent of all burglaries, 20 percent of thefts and 18 percent of the vehicle thefts.

Road deaths show decline

Although the number of accidents in Texas increased almost three percent in 1985, the number of traffic fatalities has decreased to the lowest level since 1976.

Thanks in part to the greater use of safety belts and increased public awareness of the dangers of drinking and driving, the number of people killed on Texas highways and roads reached its lowest level in 10 years.

A total of 3,682 lives were lost in 1985, a reduction from the 3,913 lives lost in 1984.

In addition, the number of infant fatalities decreased from 60 in 1984 to 47 in 1985—a 22 percent decrease.

San Jacinto Monument

Monument honors freedom fighters

The San Jacinto Monument honors the soldiers who helped win the independence of Texas.

Groundbreaking took place during the San Jacinto Day celebrations for the Texas Centennial in 1936. Andrew Jackson Houston, son of Sam and Margaret Lea Houston, helped lay the cornerstone during the San Jacinto Day observance of 1937.

The monument was claimed to be the tallest masonry structure in the world when it was completed. At 570 feet above ground level, it is 15 feet higher than the Washington Monument. The stone cladding, the outside of the poured concrete structure, is Texas Cordova shell limestone obtained from quarries west of Austin. The stone, which is distinguished by its creamy color and numerous fossil inclusions, is approximately 100 million years old, dating from the Lower Cretaceous period.

The first 60 feet of stone above the museum roof, where the carved frieze is located, is sculpture stock, while the rest of the stone used on the exterior of the monument is in its rough-sawn state. The sculpture blocks weigh 8,000 pounds each. The rough-sawn blocks are two feet high and weigh 500 pounds each. Total weight of the monument is estimated at 35,150 tons. The foundation slab for the structure is 124 feet square, five feet thick at the edges and 15 feet thick in the center. The slab contains 5,700 yards of concrete.

The shaft of the monument is octagonal. At the base the shaft is 48 feet square, tapering to 19 feet square at the base of the star. On each of the eight sides of the shaft is a depiction of an important aspect of Texas history. The sculptor was Houstonite William McVey.

The star atop the monument was especially designed to show the Texas Lone Star from every direction. The star is 35 feet from tip to tip and weighs 220 tons. Like the rest of the monument, it is concrete clad in stone. Each piece of stone in the star had to be cut to fit. Two carloads of stone went into the star, which required 20 working days to build. Due to the shape of the star, not one piece of stone in it is plumb or level.

The San Jacinto Monument has been under the jurisdiction of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department since Sept. 1, 1965. Interim stabilization work to counteract the effects of time and weathering was completed in 1974. A major stabilization and restoration project was begun in 1981 in preparation for the Texas Sesquicentennial.

Big birds, little birds, smart birds

The biggest bird is the ostrich, which can weigh 300 pounds and stand eight feet tall. But they can't fly.

The largest flying bird is the condor, which is nearly five feet long and has a wingspan of eight to 11 feet.

The smallest bird is the bee hummingbird of Cuba, which weighs only one-tenth of an ounce and measures two inches long.

Most dangerous bird is the cassowary of New Guinea and Australia which has been known to injure and even kill humans with its knife-sharp claws.

Most ornithologists would agree that crows are the most intelligent bird. Very seldom are they tricked by scarecrows in corn fields!

Longest-living bird may be the raven. Ravens have been known to live up to 69 years. Macaw parrots often live into their 60s.

The Arctic tern, which migrates 22,000 miles round-trip each year from the Arctic to Antarctica earns more air miles per year than any other bird.

Did you know?

Americans have long been eating plant roots (carrots) and seeds (peas), so why not add flowers like roses and violets to the average diet? Many kinds of flowers are served around the world in salads, soups and as garnishes for their high content of vitamins and minerals, reports International Wildlife magazine.

TOP CITIZENS

Mr. and Mrs. W.S. (Skinny) Cole have been named the Man and Woman of the Year by the Rule Chamber of Commerce. They were announced as winners of the award April 1 during the annual banquet of the Rule Chamber.
