Quannah next for Indians

It'll be out of the frying pan and into the fire for the Haskell Indians Friday night when they play hosts to the undefeated Quannah Indians.

Quannah, regarded as one of the top AA teams in North Texas, brings a perfect 3-0 record to Haskell. The Indians of Hardeman County blasted a good Paducah team 49-6 last Friday, while Haskell was absorbing a 34-13 setback at Electra.

Quannah opened its season with a 19-7 victory over traditional AAA rival Childress, the first Indian win over the Bobcats since 1967. The following week, the Indians shut out Archer City 36-0.

Haskell, which opened its season with a tie with Munday and then lost to Holliday and Electra on successive Fridays, is still looking for its first 1986 victory.

Despite last week's loss, the Indians showed improvement in many areas. Their offense came to life against Electra as they racked up 199 yards rushing and added another 81 passing.

While Stephon Brockington rushed for 151 yards, including a 65-yard touchdown run, it was the improvement in the performance of the offensive line which was most pleasing to the coaching staff.

Joey Thomas, Andy Griffith, Bo Watson, Matt Lane, Marty Martinez and Ponciano Lopez got good ratings from the staff. The blocking of Paul Harvey also was praised.

Abandoning the wishbone formation for the power I, the Indian offense appeared more comfortable with the new arrangement. Pass protection was the best it's been this season. Mark Young hit on four of eight passing attempts, including a 44-yard touchdown strike to Johnny Castillo.

On defense, Griffith was the top tackler. He had 12 assists and two unassisted tackles.

For the first time this year, a Haskell coach will be able to scout an upcoming opponent. New coach Alan Atchison will be in Knox City

Rusty Stocks earns honors in scouting

Rusty Stocks became a member in the elite "Order of the Arrow" when he completed his ordeal of the order at Camp Tonkawa in Abilene Sept. 13.

A Scout must be tapped out for this honor and then complete his ordeal before coming a member. Membership is a very high honor and one given only to a few.

Rusty was accompanied to Camp Tonkawa by Scoutmaster Bill Perry and Senior Patrol Leader Jimmy Johnston. Jimmy became a member of the "Order of the Arrow" in July of this year.

Rusty and Jimmy were chosen by their peers at Camp Tonkawa last summer to enter this group which displays leadership and service in scouting. Both are members of Troop 136 in Haskell.

Rusty is the son of Betty and Jerry Stocks, and Jimmy is the son of Ann and Jim Johnston.

Adult classes begin Monday at high school

Registration and first class session for adult education will be in Room 106 at Haskell High School Monday. Classes will be each Monday from 6 to 9 p.m.

All materials and instruction are furnished at no charge to the students.

Classes are preparatory for the GED tests which are given every Tuesday and Wednesday in Abilene. The program has helped many people in the community obtain GED certificates and qualify for better-paying jobs.

Courses will also be offered on these Monday night sessions for those desiring to learn to speak English as a second language.

The adult education program is provided by the State of Texas in cooperation with the Haskell Independent School District.

Those wishing more information should be at the high school at 6 p.m. Monday or call Melodee Christian at 864-3004.

RETIREMENT GIFT

James R. Brock, left, of Haskell is presented with an engraved Seiko mantel clock by Arthur Boice, area superintendent for Terra Resources, Inc. The gift was in recognition of Brock's long service with the company. The Haskell man retired July 1 after more than 31 years with the company.

Terra honors Brock on his retirement

James R. (Jim) Brock was presented with an engraved Seiko mantel clock last week by Arthur Boice, area superintendent for Terra Resources, Inc.

The award was in recognition of the Haskell man's 31 years employment with Terra and its predecessor companies.

Brock retired, effective July 1, as Terra's drilling foreman for the Knox City area.

He had worked as production foreman for this area from January 1975 to November 1985. Previously, he had been a production foreman for the Lafayette, La., area. Prior to working in Louisiana, Brock worked for the company in Oklahoma.

Earlier, Brock had been honored at a retirement dinner in the home of Boice and Mrs. Boice in Knox City.

He was presented with an appropriately captioned retirement cake and a gift certificate from his co-workers.

Special guests at the retirement dinner were Mrs. Brock and their son Jim. Attending from Wichita Falls were Arnie Knight, district manager, and his wife, Linda, and Blain Lewis, district engineer, and his wife, Judy. Also attending, in addition to the host and hostess, were co-workers Danny Reece, Hank Byrd, Scott Langford, Dee Robinson, Denzil Knight, Jeff Ryan, Bob Munsell, Gordon Moore and Charlotte Cragar. Several spouses of co-workers also attended.

Terra Resources, Inc., was purchased in 1983 by Pacific Lighting of California. Terra is Pacific Lighting's primary subsidiary Jackson, along with the eight due to be tried Oct. 6, were arrested in a recent undercover operation.

School tax rate still undetermined

The School Board discussed, but took no action, on the school tax rate at its regular meeting last Tuesday.

Dr. James Kemp, superintendent, explained that a definite rate cannot be set since the legislature still has not come up with a funding bill. "We still don't know how much money we're going to get or if all programs are going to be funded," said the superintendent.

Primary concern of the board is the kindergarten program. If the state funds the program, the board should be able to go along with the effective tax rate of .7759, plus three percent as previously advertised. If only half the program is funded, the school would need to raise $61,000, which translates into a tax rate increase of .1010.

In other action the School Board:
-Awarded a bid to supply welding apparatus and welding supplies to Stamford Welding Supply Co.

-Renewed an agreement with Western Texas College which provides for the school to provide facilities and some teachers for the Haskell extension of the college.

-Approved the purchase of additional computer equipment. Part 1 is to add capability to the administration office and Part 2 is for instructional computers for the high school (primarily the journalism department).

-Approved two board policies dealing with employee grievance procedures.

School Board hires basketball coach

Haskell High School has a new basketball coach.

He is Alan C. Atchison, who has been head basketball coach at Kennedale High School, near Fort Worth, for the past six years.

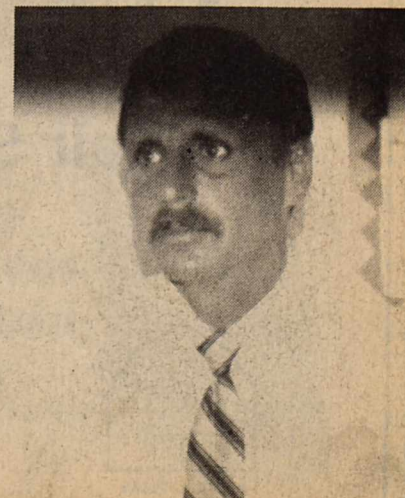

The Haskell School Board hired Atchison Friday afternoon in a special session. He succeeds Jim Raughton who resigned in August to accept a position at Midland High School.

As all Haskell coaches do, Atchison will also coach other sports, but athletic director Harold Hill said his specific duties are not yet firmly established. He also will be a classroom teacher. He has taught computer science, history and physical education.

Atchison holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Austin College in Sherman. Before going to Kennedale, he was head basketball coach at Howe High School.

He assumed duties Monday of this week and began assisting with the coaching of the football team. Hill said he was very happy to have Atchison on the coaching staff. "He comes highly recommended, and he's going to do us a fine job," said Hill.

FHA holds first meeting

The first meeting of the Future Homemakers of America for 1986-87 was Tuesday, Sept. 9. President Janie Villa opened the meeting. Dala Harris led the FHA song.

Prospective members were welcomed and Kacye Nemir gave the information on dues which were set at $7.

Mrs. Jane King came and spoke to everyone about a fund-raiser for the club. Some of the officers presented a skit about being in FHA.

Janie introduced the officers and Wendy Smith told everyone about the programs for each month.

A door prize of a free membership for the year was won by Gloria Villa. Afterwards, refreshments were served.

Jones, Short vows exchanged

Mynea Jones and Cliff Short were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony at 6 p.m. Sept. 20 in the First Baptist Church in Haskell. Officiating was the Rev. David Bradshaw of Slidell.

Vows were read before an altar adorned with alstromerias, snapdragons, lavender roses and a variety of pink-tinted flowers in a fan candelabra accented with baskets on either side. Two heart-shaped candelabras completed the background for the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leon D. Jones and Mrs. Zetta Dutton of Haskell and the late J. C. Short.

Organist was Sara Hodgkin and pianist was Ellen Rieger. Vocalist was Jimmy Gay Ash of O'Donnell. Flutist was Sonja Tidrow of Lubbock. Selections included "Both to Each Other," "To Me," "My Only Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Registering guests was April Turner of Austin.

Ushers were Monty Moeller of Bowie, Donnie Rieger, Dr. Ed Harris of Haskell and Barry Tidrow of Amarillo. Monty Moeller and Barry Tidrow also served as candlelighters.

Flower girl was Anna Rieger and ring bearer was Evan Harris, nephew of the bride, both of Haskell.

Maid of honor was Cynthia Jones, sister of the bride, of Morton. Bridesmaids were Sharon Turner of Austin, Laurie Gross of Vernon, and Reeta Lamphere and Cam Klose, both of Stephenville.

They wore tea-length gowns of promise satin with embroidered overlays complimented by cummerbunds at the waistline alternating colors of dusty rose and dusty blue. The gowns were designed and made by Lavern Tekell, aunt of the bride. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of baby's breath, lavender roses, stock, statice and alstromerias.

Best man was Joel Nanny of Haskell. Groomsmen were W. O. Nanny; Larry Short, brother of the groom; Ed Harris, brother of the bride, all of Haskell; Bill Nanny of Abilene and Barry Tidrow of Amarillo. They wore black tuxedos with ivory wing tip shirts. Dusty rose and dusty blue bow ties and cummerbunds were worn to coordinate with the bridesmaid that each groomsmen escorted.

The bridegroom wore a traditional black full dress tailcoat with black pants, black cummerbund and black satin tie with an ivory wing tip shirt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father and mother, wore an original gown by Phyliss for Bianche of satin and lace in candelight. The fitted bodice, of reembroidered alencon lace, had a Sabrina neckline and an elongated waist line. Her long sleeves of satin were Renaissance styling and lace was repeated on them. Paillettes, seed pearls and bugle beads enhanced the entire bodice and the back was a deep V. The bias full skirt with bouffant back fell into a chapel train.

A modified wreath of matching lace had a bustle in the back and held her long veil of imported English illusion. Lace enhanced the sides of the veil and paillettes traced the lace pattern on her wreath. The bride carried a bouquet of rubrum lilies, alstromerias, stock, statice, lavender roses and baby's breath tied with cross-stitched ribbon embroidered by the mother of the bride. For something new, the bride wore a strand of pearls with matching earrings that were a present from the groom. For something old, she wore her grandmother's (Nellie Ash) wedding ring. Something borrowed was a gold bracelet of her mother's and something blue was a garter made by the bride's mother. The bride carried a friendship handkerchief that has been carried by several other brides from the class of 1982.

A reception was held at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center. The bride's table had a Lady Windmere II on a laced cake stand with four revolving cakes. It was draped with garlands and fresh flower accents. The table was covered with a candlelight table cloth with lace, overlay and appointments of brass. A candelabra with candles and the bride's bouquet were used as a centerpiece. Serving at the bride's table were Terri Miller of Stamford and Kristie Stegemoller of Knox City.

The groom's table had a chocolate cake with frosted grapes. It was covered with a blue table cloth with a temple jar and candle with appointments of brass. Serving at the groom's table were Vickie Coker of Rule and Kim Cheek of Abilene. Others serving in the house party were Sue Guess, Lavern Tekell, Carolyn Reynolds, Carolyn Everett, Doris Brueggeman, Modena Harry and Bobbie Ash.

The rehearsal dinner was given at the First Baptist Church.

The bride is a graduate of Haskell High School and received a diploma from Southwest Texas State University in respiratory therapy. She is employed to Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

The bridegroom is employed by West Texas Utilities in Haskell.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the couple included a gift brunch in the home of Sue Guess, an old-fashioned pounding and dance at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center and a miscellaneous shower by the women of the First Assembly of God Church. A lingerie shower for the bride was in the home of Mrs. Abe Turner.

Social Security program outlined in annual report

Social Security's 1986 annual report to the Congress makes good reading for those interested in the soundness of the Social Security system, says Glyn Hammons, district manager in Abilene. The report shows a large surplus in the trust funds, steady progress in administrative initiatives and implementing legislative mandates, and systems improvements that signal dramatic technological changes for the future.

The report is required by law as a means of updating Congress on the status of the Social Security system. It covers all aspects of Social Security, including program, administration and legislation.

The report shows that in fiscal year 1986 income to the retirement, survivors, and disability trust funds is expected to exceed outgo by $13 billion. Current estimates show that the program will be able to pay benefits on time well into the next century under all of the sets of actuarial assumptions on which estimates are made.

The report indicated that administrative costs as a percent of income to the trust funds was only 1.2 percent in 1985. Processing time for retirement and survivors claims has been reduced from 23 days in September 1984 to 20 days in September 1985 and for SSI claims for the aged from 16 days in September 1984 to 11 days in September 1985.

Hammons reports that the agency has implemented the main provisions of the Social Security Disability Benefits Reform Act of 1984 (P.L. 98-460). The law was designed to restore uniformity and public confidence in the disability program. In general, the new program sets rules that can be consistently applied by all disability decision makers. Medical improvement must have occurred and the disabled beneficiary must be able to work before benefits can be terminated.

A new modernized claims system was initiated in district offices in 1985 and expanded to 18 pilot offices in 1986. The new system features desk terminals that give direct access to records in the main computers in the Baltimore headquarters. It will be able to provide immediate status of claims, control claims workloads, and accelerate claims processing. All offices are expected to have the new capabilities by the end of 1988.

Girl Scouts learn about animal care

For the last two weeks, Girl Scouts Stacy Albuquerque, Wendy Cowperthwart, Alisa Green, Amanda Gulley, Cynthia Halliburton and Lora Headstream, along with the leader mothers, Jeanette Albuquerque, Nancy Winchester, Conna Headstream and Jo Ann Halliburton, the service unit chairperson, have been working on an achievement badge for hobbies and pets.

They visited Dr. Tom Hairgrove's veterinary clinic where they saw pets and large farm animals being treated with tender care and love. The girls asked Dr. Tom many questions about proper care of animals. He was kind and patient to the girls too. Everyone learned from and enjoyed the field trip.

The girls also shared stories and poems about animals. Lora used a rabbit puppet to tell her version of Peter Cottontail. Peter lost all his cute clothes when he stopped off by Mr. McGrelgor's garden on the way to school.

Alisa shared her wonderful collection of dolls from around the world as her hobby. Cynthia shared her art, painting on glass, which is her hobby.

The girls are looking forward to seeing more personal exhibits in two weeks when they will meet at Nancy Winchester's to rededicate themselves by repeating their promise and laws.

Leaders will be involved in a two-day first aid workshop next week.

Texas A&M's Career Day for high school students scheduled for Sept. 27

COLLEGE STATION — Thousands of Texas high school students converge on the Texas A&M University campus Sept. 27 for the university's annual Career Day activities.

Career Day is a combined effort sponsored by the Texas A&M Office of School Relations in cooperation with the academic colleges and departments. It provides high school students, counselors and families the opportunity to investigate the various fields of study available at Texas A&M and the career choices available to its graduates.

The opening session begins at 10 a.m. in the Rudder Theater, followed by exhibits from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at G. Rollie White Coliseum. More than 50 academic departments and organizations will participate in Career Day activities.

Bus tours of the campus will be conducted from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., departing from the Rudder Tower complex.

In addition, visitors will be able to witness the Corps of Cadets March-In to Kyle Field at 4 p.m. prior to Texas A&M's 6 p.m. football contest with Southern Mississippi.

Texas boating industry booms with more marinas planned along the coast

COLLEGE STATION — Texas seem to be "setting sail" in record numbers, according to surveys by the Texas A&M University Sea Grant College Program, which found that the state's marina industry has grown significantly over the past two years.

Dewayne Hollin, a marine business management specialist with the Texas Marine Advisory Service and state coordinator of the project, reports the number of boat docks at marinas, inland and along the coast has increased by more than 14,000 since 1984. A total of more than 35,300 wet slips are available statewide, he said.

Anti-litter campaign highly successful

Texas' new, sometimes controversial, program aimed at fighting the state's huge litter problem is producing some of the most positive results of any similar program in the nation.

A recent study showed that the "Don't Mess With Texas" message is being heeded. During the last year, trash on Texas highways has decreased 29 percent.

"The 29 percent litter reduction achieved in one year is the largest measured in any survey performed by the Institute for Applied Research," said Dan Syrek, Institute director.

In August 1985, Syrek's firm was hired by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to measure the amount of trash on the state highways. At that time, Syrek estimated there were a half-billion pieces of trash along Texas' right-of-ways.

The study was the first step of a concentrated effort by the highway department to reverse the state's mammoth litter problem. In 1985, it cost Texas taxpayers a whopping $24 million for litter clean-up.

"Don't Mess With Texas" is the cornerstone of the antilitter program. Created by GSD&M, an Austin-based advertising firm, for the highway department, the program features Texas celebrities like rock guitarist Stevie Ray Vaughan, Dallas Cowboys Ed "Too Tall" Jones and Randy White, and country star Johnny Rodriguez, urging "Don't Mess With Texas" on television and radio commercials.

Litter barrels, litterbags, bumper strips and highway signs also carry the message.

Just eight months after the commercials began airing, Syrek repeated his study to measure the success of the program and reported the significant reduction.

"The reduction is particularly remarkable when you consider that, until now, litter costs have been increasing at a rate of 15 to 20 percent annually," said Don Clark, director of the Travel and Information Division of the highway department.

"At the beginning, some people complained that the slogan was too tough and aggressive. But we were convinced that a problem that cost taxpayers $24 million a year demands a bold message," Clark said.

"We thought it was a winner all along. We've known for several months that it was extremely popular. Now we have proof that it's setting records for effectiveness," Clark said.

Awareness surveys show the "Don't Mess With Texas" recognition factor to be 60.3 percent.

The message is directed primarily at young men between the ages of 18 and 34, who account for 70 percent of the deliberate litter in Texas, according to studies.

Water heater control can reduce bill

If you're searching for ways to reduce your utility bill, don't overlook the hot water heater.

Although heating or cooling air consumes the largest share of home energy, hot water heating accounts for 18 percent of the home energy bill, says home energy expert Dr. Susan Quiring of Texas A&M.

"Heating water over 110 degrees, which is about the hottest the human body can tolerate, doesn't make much sense," she says. "Yet water-heater thermostats are often pre-set much higher than that at the factory."

In homes with a dishwasher, a hot water temperature of 140 degrees is needed for best results. But if the dishwasher contains its own heating element, a lower water heater setting will be more practical, she says.

Be protected from the unexpected

In these tough economic times for farmers, an accident that inflicts personal and financial losses could be "the last straw".

Since agriculture is one of the most hazardous industries in this country, farm safety merits particular attention, and that's the purpose of National Farm Safety Week, Sept. 21-17.

Theme of this year's observance is "Be Protected from the Unexpected".

Last year more than 3,000 farm residents died in work, home, public and traffic accidents and nearly 300,000 more were disabled, points out Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with Texas A&M University.

Only use of a crystal ball could prevent all accidents, but many accidents that occur on farms and ranches could be prevented if people took the time to protect themselves from the unexpected.

A rollover protective structure (ROPS) and safety belt should be integral parts of any farm tractor, emphasizes Nelson. The combination of these two safety devices is a proven lifesaver.

Machinery guards can protect operators from the unexpected, adds Nelson. Many machine operators fail to replace damaged or missing guards and, therefore, defeat the purpose of these safety features. All guards should be kept in place and in good condition, and a machine should always be turned off before unloading or servicing takes place.

Personal protective equipment (PPE) is used in many industries to help reduce the severity of workplace accidents, and agricultural workers could benefit from this type of equipment, Nelson points out. Hard hats protect the head from falling objects and from low obstacles. Safety shoes with steel toes and skid-resistant soles not only protect feet, they also reduce the chance of falls. Precious eyesight can be saved by wearing safety glasses—flying particles, irritating dust and powerful chemicals threaten vision. Acoustic ear muffs or inserts help avoid serious hearing loss which can result from operating noisy machinery.

One way to reduce the risk of farm accidents is to remove hazards from buildings and lots, contends Nelson. Not only is a well-maintained place safer, but it also makes work easier. Farm and ranch owners should conduct periodic safety checks of the house, yard, lots and outbuildings to discover potential trouble. Hazardous materials should be removed or ways to protect against unremovable hazards should be devised. Family and employees should be involved in these safety checks so they also are aware of potential risks.

Broken steps, wobbly ladders, loose guards and any equipment in need of repairs should be fixed. To avoid the risk of fire, farmers should get rid of any unnecessary flammable or combustible materials. When hunting for hazards, it's a good idea to obtain a fire safety checklist from a local fire department and inspect heating and electrical systems, says Nelson.

Accident prevention is often a matter of forethought and troubleshooting. Many lives and millions of dollars could be saved each year if more agricultural producers would take time to protect themselves, their families and their employees from the unexpected.

Tax reform should help most farmers

Most farmers and ranchers will likely benefit from the tax reform bill currently awaiting approval in Congress.

"While there are both pluses and minuses in the bill as far as farmers and ranchers are concerned, generally 80 percent should come out ahead," says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist at Texas A&M University. The proposed tax bill is expected to cut individual taxes by an average of 6.1 percent, says the economist.

However, the effects of the bill will not be uniformly spread around. Livestock producers will lose the important benefit of capital gain treatment on raised breeding stock. Purebred breeders and crop farmers especially will miss the benefit of the 10 percent investment tax credit on purchased depreciable tangible property, Hayenga points out.

Income averaging, which was used by 10 percent of farmers in the past, will be gone. Expensing of up to $10,000 worth of equipment will be possible in 1990, but if one needs to depreciate capital items, all depreciation schedules will be lengthened.

Cash accounting will still be allowed but with restrictions on some deductions for unused supplies. This restriction may also help curb some perceived abuses of the accounting rules by investors.

Farmers and ranchers will be able to deduct 25 percent of their health insurance costs under the new tax plan, says Hayenga. Also, the income level at which no taxes would be paid will increase. A family of four could make up to $13,000 a year and not pay any taxes. This compares to the current cut-off point of $10,000.

As far as tax cuts are concerned, families with annual gross incomes between $10,000 and $30,000 will see about 10 percent reduction in taxes, mainly due to increased personal exemptions from the current $1,080 to $1,950 in 1988.

Meeting to focus on more farm income

Options to help agricultural producers and families of Haskell County extend their income will be explained at the annual meeting Wednesday, Oct. 4, of the Rolling Plains Economic Program.

The meeting will be in the Wilbarger County Auditorium, 2100 Yamparika St., Vernon. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. The meeting is free and pre-registration is not required, but persons planning to attend are asked to notify the Haskell County Extension office, 101 S. Ave. D, phone 864-2658.

"The program is timely to problems facing families of our county," said Max Stapleton, county extension agent.

In one of two concurrent sessions beginning at 9:30 a.m., John Ireland, director of the education department of the Chicago Board of Trade, will discuss ways producers can make best use of futures and options markets.

In the other session, ways to supplement and extend family income will be explained by Nancy Granovsky, family economics specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in College Station.

In a concluding session, Delton Gerloff, extension management economist at Vernon, will discuss what the Extension Service is doing and can do to expand the future for the farm and family.

The Rolling Plains Economic Program is a regional organization sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to promote economic growth and development in a 30-county area. Jim Schur, Seymour agriculturist, is R-REP chairman. The Extension Service is an arm of the Texas A&M University System.

Children need safety reminders

For young children, the weeks of school can be an exciting time—so exciting that they may entirely forget all the safety warnings you've been teaching them. The Texas Medical Association says there are ways to make sure your child is prepared for a safe journey to and from school.

The first step is to decide whether your child will walk or ride to school. Consider factors such as traffic, distance, and your child's maturity. Is your child old enough to walk to school by himself? Does he or she know the rules of traffic and safe crossing? If you do decide to let your child walk, you may want to contact other parents in your area and find a "buddy" for your child to walk with.

Select a safe route. Look at traffic flow, crossings, busy parking lots, blind alleys, garage entrances and exits. Choose the least dangerous path, even if it's a little longer.

Take the walk with your child at least a few times to let him learn familiar landmarks. Point out hazards along the way and explain the dangers to your child. Be sure to tell him not to talk to strangers or get into a stranger's car. Remind your child that crossing guards are there for children's safety and should be obeyed.

If your child is going to school by city bus, take a few rides beforehand so he can become familiar with the route. Make certain your child knows the name of his stop and what it looks like. Also, agree on a procedure to be followed if your child misses a bus, or gets lost.

If your child is traveling by school bus, find out the driver's name. It will make your child more comfortable if the driver is a "real person" to him.

Be sure you know the length of time it takes your child to get home so you'll know when to expect him. And remember that most children need reminders about safety particularly during those first weeks of school.

Prompt medical attention sometimes important factor

Perhaps no other factor is as important following a serious injury or sudden illness as the time it takes to begin medical treatment. According to the Texas Department of Health (TDH), any delay between the onset of trauma and the start of competent treatment increases the severity of the emergency and can needlessly lead to disability or death of the victim. Also, studies show that as many as 25 percent of victims of accidents or sudden illness underestimate the seriousness of their situation—they do not recognize that an emergency exists.

Texas Commissioner of Health, Dr. Robert Bernstein, said, "It is always up to the victim or a witness to decide if an injury or illness is an emergency. But if there is any doubt, the victim should get medical help immediately." He added that the fastest way to receive medical attention is to call an emergency medical service (EMS). "Thousands of Texans owe their lives and current health to EMS teams, which ensure speedy medical assistance and special transportation to trauma victims around the clock," Dr. Bernstein said.

To honor EMS personnel and the services they provide daily, Gov. Mark White has proclaimed September 21-27 Emergency Medical Service Week in Texas. The observance coincides with national EMS Week, sponsored by the American College of Emergency Physicians. A highlight of the Texas observance is the Statewide EMS Conference to be held in Austin September 26-27 at the Austin Hilton Inn. TDH regulates more than 1,000 EMS firms in Texas. The department's Bureau of Emergency Management certifies EMS technicians and their trainers, develops tests, and approves EMS courses. It also licenses EMS vehicles, including ambulances, helicopters, and fixed-wing aircraft. The bureau currently certifies nearly 35,000 persons to practice emergency medical service, including about 20,000 members of EMS firms and about 15,000 law enforcement, fire, and other emergency personnel.

Conservation Viewpoints

Director elections for zones 1 and 2 of the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District will be held Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the Rochester Cafeteria and at Weinert Community Center on Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. Directors must own land in the zone they serve and must be actively engaged in farming or ranching. Prior to the election, Jim Hudson, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, will review items of the Sodbuster-Swampbuster provisions of the Food and Agriculture Act. All persons involved in farming operations are encouraged to attend one or both of these meetings. "Sodbuster will affect a large percentage of Haskell County producers and they need to be informed concerning the new law," said Dan Wadzeck of Rochester, zone 1 director.

A&M marketing experts say top executives not in tune with sales force

COLLEGE STATION — A survey by Texas A&M University marketing specialists suggests top executives are not in tune with their sales forces in the field. Upper level executives, including chief executive officers, regional and national sales managers and vice presidents of marketing, tend to have a more positive feeling about the climate of the organization and control mechanisms while district sales managers at the low end of the echelon consistently express more negative feelings. Dr. James Leigh said after polling more than 400 marketing executives. Leigh and Dr. Charles Futrell, both of the Marketing Department in Texas A&M's College of Business Administration, surveyed executives who participated in one or more of the college's Center for Executive Development programs. The executives represented more than 100 firms with anywhere from under 100 to over 5,000 employees. Findings appear in the Journal of Business Research. "Upper management should be particularly concerned by the consistency of these findings because the district sales manager is in charge of the lifeblood of the company — the sales force," said Leigh. "It's imperative that top managers don't assume everything is 'hunky-dory' at the lower levels. Perhaps there should be greater attention paid to views of lower-level managers. After all, what district managers do has a great impact on bottom-line activity, namely sales," the researcher said.

Texas A&M anthropologists discover 300 year old shipment of glass lenses

COLLEGE STATION — A recent archaeological find near Jamaica was quite a spectacle — quite a few spectacles, in fact, says a Texas A&M University anthropologist. More than four dozen eyeglass lenses or fragments, now almost 300 years old and clouded, were recovered recently from a graveyard of ships in the Caribbean. Texas A&M project director James Parrent brought the artifacts to campus for preliminary conservation. The brittle glass lenses were found sealed in the sand and ballast from the shipwreck, said Parrent. Fragments of a wooden box were found nearby. The lenses would ordinarily be sold as over-the-counter reading aids in the early 1700s. Parrent consulted with a local optometrist to confirm that the objects were eyewear pieces and not optics for telescopes. The eyeglass parts were recovered from what may be the wreck of the Spanish vessel commonly known as the Genovesa, a 54-gun ship that sank in 1730. The Genovesa was heavily salvaged on behalf of the Spanish by British authorities, said Parrent.

Super sweet onion generates super profits for valley farmers

COLLEGE STATION — To most folks in the economically depressed Rio Grande Valley, the only thing sweeter than the new super onion developed by Texas A&M scientists is the cash that it is generating — and new jobs being created. "We're talking big, sweet onions that are turning big, sweet multi-million-dollar profits for Texas farmers and providing the basis for new jobs in an area plagued by one of the highest unemployment rates in the nation. How big? A typical onion of the new variety weighs in at about a pound and is about the size of a softball. How sweet? "It won't bring tears to your eyes when you cut it and eat it," promises Dr. Leonard Pike, the Texas A&M professor of horticulture who headed the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) team that genetically engineered the new onion. TAES, the state's agricultural research agency, is part of The Texas A&M University System.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

The hijacking of a U.S. airliner in Pakistan this month underscores the fact that nations must be prepared to effectively combat terrorism. When fatalities from acts of terrorism were first recorded in 1968, 20 people died worldwide. Last year, more than 900 deaths resulted from terrorism. This dramatic increase clearly shows that a new form of warfare has developed—with the ideas and beliefs of subversive groups forced on world attention through acts of violence. In the foreseeable future, the most likely use of military force by the United States will be in unconventional, special operations against terrorists and guerrilla insurgents. While our nation must remain prepared to deter conventional or nuclear warfare, the United States military must ensure the effectiveness of combined actions by its "special forces"—such as the Army Green Berets and Navy Seals. So far, such actions have suffered—not from any lack of training or competence of the units—but from lack of overall coordination. During the mission to rescue our merchant vessel Mayaguez from the Cambodians in 1975, we lost more men than we saved. Our Iranian hostage rescue attempt in 1980 ended in disaster attributed to poor communications and transportation problems. Even the successful Grenada operation was filled with disturbing communications breakdowns. The most publicized incident told of an officer who called for support fire when his unit was under attack. Because of incompatible radios, his request was not received. The officer used his telephone credit card to relay his request through his base in the United States.

Popular opinion of U.S. military capability is formed by our performance in these combined, special military operations. Our special operations expertise is scattered among the branches of the military, at the mercy of interservice rivalries. Resistance to change by the military bureaucracy has often left the needs of our special forces underfunded and overlooked. For example, it took 17 years for the Army to deliver new field radios to its special forces because regular units had higher priority. And six years after the Iranian hostage crisis, we are still lacking the type of transportation needed for that kind of operation—and bickering continues over which service should handle transportation for special forces missions. As part of a larger military spending bill, the Senate has approved a proposal I joined in sponsoring which would establish a joint, unified command for all of our special operations forces. Headed by a four-star officer, the command would give our special forces a high-powered advocate in the Pentagon during operations planning and budget decisions. It also would provide the structure for developing coherent strategies—with the necessary intelligence information, personnel and equipment—to deal with unconventional confrontations. If we are to successfully combat the growing threats of terrorism and guerrilla actions, we must place a premium on our ability to conduct effective, coordinated special operations missions.

Hands-on wildlife museum to be utilized by A&M veterinary students

COLLEGE STATION — A hands-on wildlife museum for veterinary students, believed to be the first of its kind in the nation, has opened at Texas A&M University to help train professionals who will work with wildlife and the non-native species being raised by Texas ranchers, say officials.

The museum is part of Texas A&M's new, privately funded wildlife and exotic animal research center, which will probably house its first species of non-native antelopes this fall.

"We will use this museum as a basic teaching unit for veterinary and other graduate students to assist the understanding of wildlife medicine and health care, and just the size and feel of animals many of them have never before seen up-close," said center director Dr. Stephen Seager, a veterinary scientist.

The museum contains dozens of exhibits, including mounted trophy specimens, skins or bones of wild animals, most of them non-native.

Sidelines

Haskell's first four opponents--Munday, Holliday, Electra and Quannah have a combined record of 10-1-1.

The tie, of course, was Munday's 14-14 deadlock with the Indians. The loss was Electra's 6-0 defeat in its opener against Frederick, Okla.

Since tying Haskell in the season inaugural, Munday has clobbered Knox City and Archer City. Holliday has defeated Jacksboro and Bowie, in addition to Haskell. Electra won over Jacksboro before beating Haskell. Quannah, this week's opponent, has wins over Childress, Archer City and Paducah.

For the year Holliday and Quannah are each 3-0, Munday is 2-0-1 and Electra is 2-1.

Mark Young must think he's snake-bitten when it comes to winning against the whistle.

In the fourth quarter Friday, he snared an Electra fumble in midair at the Haskell 37 and took off for the end zone with a clear field ahead. Officials ruled the play was stopped before the fumble although Haskell protested that no whistle had sounded.

The previous week at Holliday, an inadvertent whistle had nullified a nice run by Young.

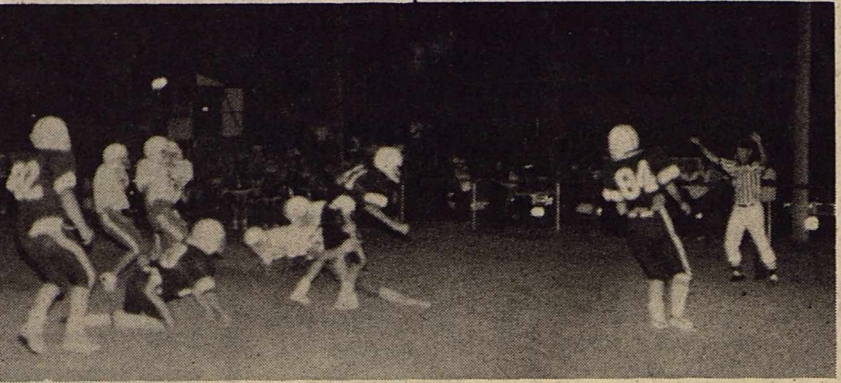

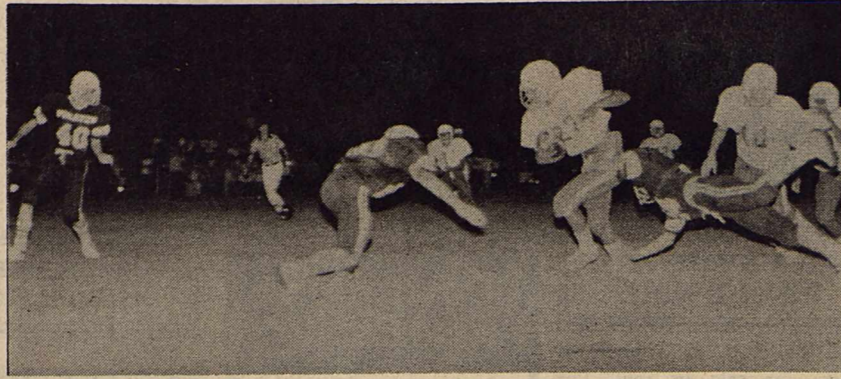

Haskell had 11 possessions in the Electra. The Indians fumbled the ball away four times, suffered two interceptions, scored twice, punted twice and surrendered the ball on downs once. One of the interceptions was on the final play of the game.

Electra's Rodney Bell, who quarterbacked the Tigers to the state title last year, was quite a ball player. He passed for two touchdowns, ran for another, kicked three extra points and handled his team's punting. He intercepted a Haskell pass which led to the Tigers' fourth touchdown.

He was injured late in the game. Haskell fans gave him a loud round of applause as he was helped from the field.

For the second time Haskell had more than 100 yards in penalties. Fifty-nine of the 115 yards came in the final four minutes. At one point, a protest over a 15-yard penalty brought a second flag, and 30 yards in penalties were marched off.

Weinert vs. Paint Creek

Weinert romps over Paint Creek team

Weinert's Bulldogs brought their season record to 2-0 at Paint Creek Friday night as they routed the Pirates 52-6 in a game called at the half under the 45-point rule.

Kevin White was the big gun in the Bulldog attack, running for three touchdowns and catching a pass for a fourth. He carried seven times for 110 yards.

Robin Raines had 65 yards in five carries, including two touchdowns, and Shane Stout gained 33 yards in five rushes, including a touchdown.

Louis Perez was two for six in the passing department, including one touchdown.

This week, Weinert will be host to a strong Newcastle team, the pre-season pick for the district championship. Weinert Coach Chet Forehand said Newcastle is a big, experienced team with 14 seniors.

Paint Creek will be at Benjamin Friday. The Pirates are 1-1.

The Rochester Steers, winners of three straight, will be at home to entertain Lueders-Avoca. The Steers defeated Rule, 48-0, last Friday. Rule will host Vernon Northside this week.

Trophy playday to be Saturday

The Haskell Horse Club will hold its last trophy playday of the year; Sept. 27. It begins at 7:30 p.m. at the Rodeo Arena.

Trophies will be given through third place, with ribbons for all other places.

Events will include barrels, flags and poles for age groups 8 and under, 9-13 and 14-18.

Playday contestants are asked to come through the back gate of the fairgrounds.

Church to host after-game party

A "Fifth Quarter Fellowship" will be held at the Family Activity Center of the First Baptist Church following Friday night's football game.

It will continue until midnight and all students in grades 7-12 are invited to attend.

The event is sponsored by the First Baptist Church. Food will be furnished by East Side Baptist Church.

Electra drops Indians

By Wendell Faught

Electra scored a touchdown on each of its first three possessions to provide the margin for a 34-13 victory over the Haskell Indians in Electra Friday night.

The defending state champions from Wichita County converted a short Haskell punt and two recovered fumbles into touchdowns to build up a 21-0 lead before the second period reached the half-way point.

Haskell countered with a touchdown two minutes before halftime to make the intermission reading 21-7, and then scored again early in the third period to narrow the gap to 21-13. But the Indians were unable to answer two more Tiger scores.

Except for the costly turnovers, the Indians may have fared better. In addition to the two Tiger touchdowns which followed fumble recoveries, a third Electra score came after an intercepted pass. And still another fumble killed an Indian drive at the Electra 3-yard line.

On its first possession after the opening kickoff, the Indians could move only from their 32 to the 37 in three running plays. An 8-yard kick gave the Tigers possession at the Haskell 45.

Eight plays later, Electra put the first points on the board when quarterback Rodney Bell passed 6 yards to Greg Rice. Bell's extra point boot staked the hosts to a 7-0 lead with 6:30 still to go in the first period.

After a short kickoff was returned by Patrick Perez to the 47, the Indians moved to the Electra 27, but lost the ball on a fumble. It took Electra nine plays to convert the turnover into a touchdown with Lenard Leviston going the final 32 yards for the score. Bell's boot made it 14-0 with 40 seconds remaining in the first period.

Five plays after the ensuing kickoff, Haskell fumbled again to the Tigers at the Haskell 46. Electra marched the 46 yards in 10 plays with Mark Graves getting the final 20 yards to bring the score to 21-0.

Paul Harvey returned the next kickoff from his own 22 to the Electra 45 and the Indians appeared to get re-grouped. Stephon Brockington picked up 15, 9 and 5 yards on successive carries and an Electra penalty gave the Indians their third first down at the 8. After Fred Shaw carried to the 4, Brockington fumbled at the 3 and Electra recovered.

The Tigers marched to a first down at the 16, but could move only to the 21 on the next series so Bell kicked to Mark Young at the 47 who returned it to the 44.

On the first play from that point, Young hit Johnny Castillo with a perfect strike and the Indian receiver went all the way. Chan Guess' extra point boot put the Indians back in the game at 21-7, a score which stood during halftime.

Brockington made it 21-13 on Haskell's second offensive play of the second half when he bolted 65 yards for a touchdown.

Electra struck back with a drive from its own 40 the the Haskell 1 where Grant Johnson lost the ball on a fumble. The Electra disaster was short lived, however. Three plays later, Bell intercepted a Young pass at the 26 and a penalty against the Indians moved the ball to the 13. Leviston then carried to the 7. After a pass fell incomplete, Bell scooted over for a touchdown and then booted the extra point to bring the score to 28-13.

Joel Torres returned the following kickoff from the 28 to midfield and the Indians moved to the Electra 30 where they had to surrender the ball on downs. Electra marched 70 yards in nine plays for its fifth touchdown. Three pass completions from Bell to Leviston put the ball on the Indian 28 and a half-the-distance penalty against the Indians spotted it on the 14. After Juan Hernandez ran to the 9, Bell passed to Leviston for a touchdown to complete the night's scoring.

Haskell gave the hosts another opportunity on the ensuing kickoff when Louie Torres was knocked loose from the ball and the Tigers recovered from the ball and the Tigers recovered from the Indian 37. But after the Tigers moved to a first down at the 26, Louie Torres nailed Bell for a 6-yard loss and Andy Girffith dropped Graves for another 5-yard deficit. The Tigers finally surrendered the ball on downs at the 34.

With the game out of reach and only about four minutes to play, the desperate Indians committed six infractions and suffered 59 yards in penalties before the final gun sounded.

Despite the loss, the Indians laid claim to their finest offensive showing of the young season. Their 199 yards net rushing was more than the combined effort in two previous games. Brockington's 151 yards on 16 carries led both teams. The four lost fumbles, a pass interception, a short punt and 11 penalties for 115 yards all contributed to the loss.

INDIVIDUAL STATS;
Rushing: Brockington 16-151; Shaw 4-16; Young 3-14; Harvey 3-8; Rodriguez 1-6; Perez 3-4.

Passing: Young 4-8-1 for 81 yards; Perez 0-1-1.

Receiving: Castillo 1-44; L. Torres 1-24; Brockington 1-10; J. Torres 1-3.

Booster Club meets coach, jayvee team

Haskell's newest coach, Allen Atchison, and the Jayvee team were introduced at the regular Monday night Indian Booster Club meeting in the Ag Building. The Jayvees will open their season tonight (Thursday) at Quannah.

Skull and crossbone awards for the Electra game were presented to Andy Griffith, Derrick Billington, Mark Young, Fred Shaw, Stephon Brockington, Louie Torres, Joey Thomas, Marty Martinez, Ponciano Lopez, Bo Watson and Paul Harvey.

Coach Harold Hill pointed out that the punting team average is under 2.8 yards for the entire year.

Plans for the hamburger supper next Thursday, Oct. 2, were discussed. Tickets are $3.50, and a second hamburger will cost $2. High school athletes will be asked to sell two tickets each and Booster Club members will sell the rest.

After some discussion, it was voted that the price of the football programs will be dropped from $1 to 50 cents for the remaining four home games.

When asked about the Quannah team, Coach Hill said they run the same type offense that Electra did. They are 3-0, having defeated Childress 19-7, Archer City 36-0 and Paducah 49-6.

Pledges mount for annual Rehab Center auction

Livestock pledges from as far as Eastern New Mexico to Southern Texas are arriving at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center for the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

"Eighty head of cattle and horses are among the first pledges for our kickoff sale September 29th at Abilene Auction," says Jim Alexander, Abilene agribusinessman and CRCC general chairman.

Organized in 1953, West Texas Rehabilitation Center receives an important part of its operational expenses from the Round-Up which is now its 27th year.

"Cattlemen's Round-Up is not only a needed fundraiser, but also a symbolic effort by Southwest livestock producers as they show their support of Rehab's cause despite problems of their own," adds Aubrey Stokes, San Angelo attorney and general co-chairman for CRCC.

In the next two weeks stock will be coming in from the sprawling King Ranch as well as small operations of only a few head. Donated animals are collected at designated points in each community throughout Southwest Texas. Nearly 200 area chairmen give their support to the event by lining up donated livestock and coordinating auction arrangements.

Persons wanting to make a donation of livestock or cash should contact Cattlemen's Round-Up chairmen in their area or call the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene at (915) 692-1633.

Other scheduled sales include horse sale, Oct. 4, Abilene Auction; Junction sheep and goat sale, Oct. 13; Coleman special sale, Oct. 8; Stephenville special sale, Oct. 8; San Saba special sale, Oct. 16 and Brownwood special sale, Nov. 3.

Egg carton dates give freshness information

While "sell by" or expiration dates are not required on egg cartons, they do tell the consumer something about the freshness of the product.

"Most companies use a two-week or three-week period (from pack date to expiration date) for Grade AA eggs and three to four weeks for Grade A eggs," points out David B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Use of some kind of dating system on eggs or egg cartons enables store personnel to keep a better check on their stock and to rotate eggs so that some don't get left behind," notes Mellor.

However, he emphasizes that just because eggs have passed their "sell by" date doesn't mean that they are bad.

"Usually, the fresher the egg, the better," says Mellor. "However, month-old eggs that have been kept refrigerated are usually still Grade A."

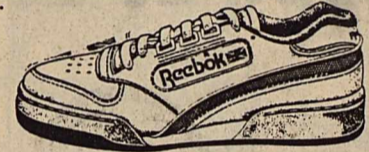

The specialist points out that eggs are usually washed, sanitized and refrigerated immediately after lay and are shipped as rapidly as possible. Most of the time eggs are purchased by consumers within two to three weeks after lay.

"Use of 'sell by' dates probably does not speed up this process," contends Mellor. "But some type of date or identification is good to assure proper rotation in the store."

Bus safety stressed during safety week

Like the swallows to Capistrano every March, flocks of yellow school buses returned to Texas roads this month. Their drivers work to safely transport students to neighborhood schools here and throughout the nation.

As Texas observes National School Bus Safety Week September 21-27, Texas Safety Association suggests that parents review bus rules with their children. The association also reminds drivers of the need for extra care and awareness.

"National Safety Council statistics reflected 45 student deaths in school bus accidents nationwide in 1984, but only 10 of the children who died that year were killed while on a bus. Most accident victims, injuries and fatalities, are struck while boarding or leaving the bus", noted Edward M. Stratton, TSA Chairman of the Board.

"We ask that parents teach their children to safely walk to designated bus stops and follow accepted school bus rules. We all want our children to arrive safely at school to enjoy their educations", he added.

Children should:

..Line up away from the road when the bus approaches, waiting until its doors open before stepping off the sidewalk.

..Move directly to a seat on the bus.

..Stay in their seats and avoid yelling or screaming. For the maximum of safety, bus drivers need the fewest distractions possible.

..When leaving the bus, walk about 12 feet in front of it so the driver can see them, and wait for a signal from the driver before they proceed to the middle of the road.

Another suggestion is aimed at drivers of other vehicles on Texas roadways during the school season. Texas law requires that drivers stop their vehicles when they overtake a school bus that is stopped to board or discharge school children. This law covers vehicles approaching from either direction on the same roadway as the school bus. Drivers may not proceed until the bus starts or the bus driver signals for other drivers to continue.

In addition, a law passed in 1985 requires that school bus drivers activate all flashing warning lights or other warning devices when stopped to take on or let off passengers. This helps to alert other drivers that they, too, must stop.

"We believe that the lives and safekeeping of our children are too important and worth much more than the few moments delay involved in following the required precautions", Stratton emphasized.

Ask VA

Q. What rating must a service-connected disabled veteran have in order to receive additional compensation for a wife, child or parent?

A. The veteran must be rated 30 percent or more disabled.

Q. My husband died in a Veterans Administration medical center. Will the VA help with burial expenses?

A. Yes. In addition to a burial allowance, VA will pay the transportation charge to the place of burial.

Q. When the new Improved Pension was first enacted I was advised that it was not to my advantage to switch. Is it possible that it might be to my advantage now?

A. It may be. The income limits have increased steadily and are tied to social security increases. You should check with your nearest VA regional office.

Enrollment at McMurry 1,703

McMurry College fall enrollment is 1,703 students, the second-highest number in the school's 63-year history, announced Dr. Paul Jungmeyer, dean of the college.

The 1986 final enrollment figure surpassed the college's previous second-highest enrollment of 1,701 students set in 1964-65 and came within 14 students of reaching the school's all-time high enrollment of 1,717 set in 1963-64.

Those enrollments were set with the help of the school's graduate program, which was discontinued in 1966.

Exercises help relieve stress

Most people deal with daily stresses like traffic jams and work deadlines without too much trouble. But even people who are on a fairly even keel most of the time face occasional periods of great stress.

Bereavement, financial difficulties, ill-health, and worry are all part of life. According to the Texas Medical Association, it is when several such events occur together that mental health can suffer.

Since you cannot always avoid stress, learning to deal with it effectively helps ease tension that can build up. There are many ways to relax. Often the problem seems to center around finding the time to "get away from it all." The following exercise routine does not take very much time and can be done on your own, without going anywhere.

1. Loosen or remove any tight clothing. Lie on the floor, face up, eyes closed, either in a warm room or covered with a light blanket.

2. Tighten the muscles in your face, and then let them relax.

3. Lift up your head and let it fall gently back. Keep your jaw and neck relaxed so that you can feel your throat opening.

4. Press your shoulders down onto the floor. Then relax them.

5. Stretch out your arms and fingers. Hold them taut for only a moment before easing the strain completely.

6. Lift your buttocks and let them fall again, feeling your spine stretch and relax as you do so.

7. Keeping your heels together, stretch your legs and toes. Then relax them completely.

Continue these exercises, one after the other, for a few minutes until you feel totally limp and relaxed from head to toe. Rest with your eyes open or closed. Before standing up, turn and lean on your side for another two or three minutes.

Turn left overs into planned overs

Most of us refrigerate left-over food for one or two reasons: either we want to postpone washing the dish it's in or we feel guilty about throwing away perfectly good food. But when food sits in the refrigerator too long, we often wind up throwing it away anyway - and the dish still has to be washed!

A better system for handling left-overs is to think of them as "planned-overs". Here are some suggestions for planning to make good use of leftover food before it goes to waste:

*Know the appropriate amount of food to buy for your household. If you buy an extra amount of a certain food because it's on sale, prepare two batches of the same dish and freeze one. Label and date the frozen dish. Then keep a running list or card file of frozen items so you can remember to include them in future menu plans.

*Decide immediately after a meal whether you can incorporate any leftover food into the current week's menus, or if you should freeze it for future use. Family members may be more accepting of leftovers if they aren't faced with the food in the same form for several days in a row.

*If you have small amounts of several food items, make your own individual frozen dinners using foods that complement each other. These can be most helpful for those days when family members eat at different times due to conflicting schedules.

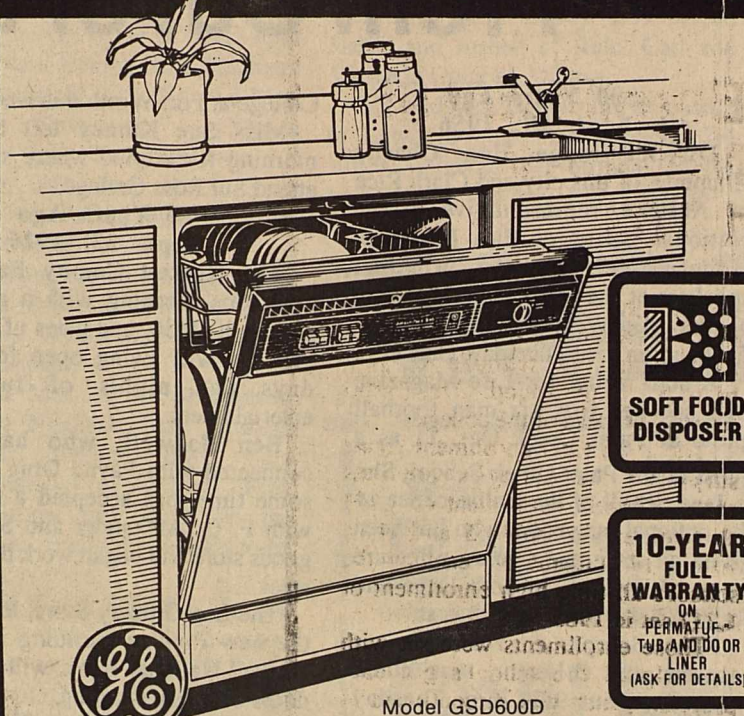

*If you choose not to freeze leftovers, be sure to cover or wrap them properly and refrigerate immediately. Know how long you can safely refrigerate different food items and make definite attempts to use the food while it's still fresh.

*Use your imagination to come up with different ways of incorporating the food into your week's meals. The idea behind "planned-overs" is to think about leftovers in a new way - no longer as food waiting to be thrown away but as complete or partial meals waiting to come to your rescue.

State Fair opens 31-day run Sept. 26

When it comes to value and diversity, the State Fair of Texas can't be beat as an entertainment bargain.

Where else could you see an ice show, pig race, high dive show, fireworks display, parade and a variety of concerts, including such stars as Randy Travis, Steve Wariner and Exile—all for $5 or less?

State Fair general gate admission entitles Fair-goers to attend all of the above events, as well as an assortment of exhibits and impromptu performances by strolling entertainers.

The weekend admission cost is $5 for adults and $2 for children aged 5 to 11 with a $1 discount off both prices on weekdays. Children under 5 are admitted free at all times, and senior citizens are admitted free on Tuesdays.

This year's State Fair runs 31 days, from Sept. 26 to Oct. 26, with a theme of "Texas 150", celebrating both the Lone Star State's Sesquicentennial and the 100th anniversary of the first state fair.

"Pepsi on Ice", an elaborately-costumed ice revue, will be presented at 2, 5:30, 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. each day on an outdoor rink in the center of the Esplanade.

Miller's "Great American High Diving Team" will perform daily at 1, 3, 5, and 8 p.m., with an additional show each Saturday at 11 a.m. Performances will take place in specially-built facilities at the outdoor exhibits area, between the Age of Steam Railroad Museum and the Texas Food and Fiber Pavilion.

Divers will plunge from springboards and ladders, some as tall as 80 feet, into an 8-foot-deep pool of water. Each show will include high dives, acrobatic dives, group dives and comedians.

Pig races, sponsored by WBAP Radio, will take place each weekend of the Fair except Oct. 10-12 at "Porkchop Downs", behind the Swine Barn.

Professional racing pigs, wearing custom-made racing silks, will compete at 6 p.m. on Fridays and at 3 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Music will accompany the races, and celebrity starters will get the racers underway.

Each night at 7 p.m. a parade featuring marching bands, floats, beauty queens, horse-drawn wagons and a variety of other participants will circle the grounds. Following the parade a fireworks display is set for 7:50 p.m. nightly.

The U.S. Marine Drum and Bugle Corps and Silent Drill Team will perform at 3:45 p.m. Sept. 26-29 on the Hall of State Plaza and at 4 p.m. Sept. 30 and Oct. 2-13 on the Esplanade Stage. Beginning Oct. 14, the Fourth Marine Aircraft Wing Band will play at 3 p.m. on the Esplanade Stage. None of the Marine groups will perform on Wednesdays.

Other military bands will include the Air Force Band of the West, playing at 11:30 a.m. Oct. 18 and 19 on the Coca-Cola Big Tex Stage, and the U.S. Navy's "Country Current", appearing at 11 a.m. Oct. 18 on Coors Stage 7.

Several concerts will be presented from outdoor stages located throughout the Fair grounds during the 31-day event.

Necessary vitamins usually found in most ordinary diets

Your body needs food for energy and for creating and repairing tissues. It also needs a variety of complex compounds that, like spark plugs in a car, provide neither fuel nor structural material but are essential for smooth running.

According to the Texas Medical Association, vitamins are such compounds. Although your body can manufacture some vitamins, notably vitamins D and K, most of these compounds come from the foods you eat.

Severe vitamin deficiency is uncommon in this country; when it does occur, it usually is due to prolonged faulty eating habits, alcoholism, gastrointestinal disorders, or long-term neglect.

Vitamin deficiency diseases that were once quite common, such as scurvy or pellagra, seldom occur now because many foods are fortified with vitamins and nourishing foods are available year-round.

Slight vitamin deficiency is more widespread. Neglected, undernourished children or elderly people who often do not eat properly may not show symptoms of vitamin deficiencies, but they have few reserve stores of vitamins to help withstand the stresses of serious illness or injury.

The chances of having a deficiency in any one vitamin depend mainly on two factors. First, how available that vitamin is in your diet, and second, how effectively your body can store it. Luckily, most vitamins are present in many foods.

If you eat a varied diet of fresh food and expose your skin to plenty of sunlight to increase vitamin D reserves, you will probably provide all the vitamins your body requires, as long as there are not defects in your metabolism.

Vitamin pills may not harm you, but you are unlikely to need the extra-large doses of vitamins they provide and in some cases, an especially high dose can be harmful. This is particularly true of vitamins the body can store efficiently, such as Vitamins A and D.

In rare cases, in which lifestyle or unalterable habits establish a diet that is clearly deficient in vitamins, vitamin pills may be necessary. To avoid an overdose, consult a physician for advice before you begin taking any vitamin pills regularly.

Sickle-cell anemia: Its causes and effects

Sickle-cell anemia is an inherited disease of the red blood cells that primarily strikes people of African descent. About one in every 1000 black Americans is born with this disease, says the Texas Medical Association.

Although sickle-cell anemia is present from birth, its symptoms usually do not appear until the infant passes 6 months of age. The most common symptom is called sickle-cell crisis, characterized by severe pain in the chest, abdomen, back, arms, or legs. Other symptoms may include weakness, tiredness, and breathlessness.

The problem involves hemoglobin, a protein in red blood cells. In people with sickle-cell anemia, these cells contain an abnormal hemoglobin called hemoglobin S. It causes the cells to become deformed in the shape of a crescent or sickle.

The cells' irregular shape prevents them from flowing smoothly through smaller blood vessels. The cells may clog the vessels and prevent blood from reaching tissues, resulting in a lack of oxygen in the tissues that makes the sickling worse. This sickle-cell crisis can last for hours or weeks and may occur several times a year. It can be triggered by infection, fatigue, unusual stress, overexertion, or high altitudes.

A person with the disease has inherited a sickle-cell gene from each parent. This condition should be distinguished from sickle-cell trait, in which the person has inherited only one sickle-cell gene from one parent. Approximately one in 12 Americans have the sickle-cell trait, meaning they carry the non-contagious disease but are almost never affected by it.

Sickle-cell anemia cannot yet be cured, but a number of measures can control it. People with the disease should maintain good general health, have proper nourishment and avoid excessive activity that brings on fatigue. A doctor may give medication to relieve pain or prescribe antibiotics if an infection is present.

People of African descent are encouraged to undergo the simple blood test that will tell whether they are sickle-cell carriers. Those with the sickle-cell trait may wish to consider it when planning a family.

Gramm proposes oil industry help

U. S. Sen. Phil Gramm of Texas, with strong support from the Secretary of Energy and the Secretary of Interior, has proposed a 15-point plan to lower taxes, reduce regulations and ease environmental controls on the oil and gas industry.

"The time is right, and the key officials of both the administration and the oil and gas industry are for the first time united in a commitment to win approval for a specific plan of action," Gramm said.

STEALING ELECTRICITY IS AGAINST THE LAW

Stealing Energy is a Felony

Some people tamper with their electric meters to avoid paying for the energy they use. Stealing electricity is a felony offense in the state of Texas and violators will be prosecuted. West Texas Utilities' Current Diversion Department is working hard to help combat the growing problem of energy theft.

Energy Theft is Dangerous

Not only is service theft a crime, but it is also very dangerous. Serious injuries can result from meter tampering.

A Crime Against You

When someone steals electricity, they are not only stealing from WTU — they are also stealing from you, as a rate-payer. Just as shoplifting increases the cost of items you buy in the store, power theft increases the cost of your electric service.

WTU Will Prosecute

Because we are concerned about the dangers and costs resulting from meter tampering, West Texas Utilities will prosecute energy thieves.

State stops sales of some items

Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors wrote "stop-sale" orders against over 10,000 prepackaged grocery commodities they inspected during a special six-day enforcement program for the Labor Day holiday.

TDA inspectors statewide concentrated their efforts on checking the accuracy of prepackaged products, especially meats, by inspecting 45,768 packages in 101 grocery stores. Of the packages inspected, TDA inspectors required that 10,687 packages, or 23 percent of those checked, be pulled off the shelves and reweighed before they could be sold to consumers.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Yarbrough of Stephenville have announced the birth of a son, Jace Randall Yarbrough, born Aug. 27, 1986, in Stephenville General Hospital. He weighed 7 pounds, 7 ounces.

Grandparents are the Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Williams of Rule and Mr. and Mrs. Haven H. Yarbrough of Abilene. Great parents are Grace Horton of Rule and Mrs. Felma Yarbrough.

Some don't get enough to eat

In an era when many Texans are trying to cut back on eating, far too many others have no choice.

"The only way to stop hunger is to feed it, and that's exactly what we are attempting to do," said Bob Bobbitt, executive director of the Texas Department on Aging. Bobbitt made these remarks as he announced the second year of funding for the Omnibus Hunger Act created by Senator Hugh Parmer of Fort Worth and passed by the Texas Legislature in 1985.

"This year's funding will be $1.25 million," Bobbitt said. "This money will be used by our area agencies on aging to reduce the number of low-income elderly persons on waiting lists to receive home-delivered meals and also provide meal assistance to elderly persons recently released from hospitals and unable to prepare or provide food for themselves. None of the money may be used for administrative costs and there is a 15 percent statewide local matching requirement.

"With the last two months of fiscal year 1986 still being tabulated, the program is projected to have served over 700,000 meals to 16,000 older Texans. We anticipate even greater productivity this year," Bobbitt said.

"The Omnibus Hunger Act has enabled us to expand our existing home-delivered meal program, which currently serves over 2.7 million meals to almost 50,000 older Texans annually. Our congregate meal program at senior centers and nutrition sites serves over 9 million meals to over 200,000 people. We are proud of what we've done, but we know we have a lot more to do," Bobbitt said. "There are many more older Texans who could use at least one good meal a day and for too many of the people we are currently serving, it is their only complete meal."

In addition to the Texas Department on Aging's nutrition program provided through its 28 area agencies on aging, it also provides transportation, in-home and many other services in most areas of the state. Any Texas 60 years or age or older interested in finding out more about the department and its programs should call 1-800-252-9240.

Cub Scouts plan annual cake bake

Cub Scout Pack 136 will have their Father/Son Cake Bake at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 30, in the East Side Baptist Church Fellowship Hall.

This is a fun fund-raiser. Boys and their dads must bake cakes from scratch with no help from the mothers.

Awards will be given for the best tasting and best looking cake. They will be judged by members of the Kiwanis Club and then auctioned to the highest bidders.

Another feature will be a special pie auction with the pie to be thrown in the face of cubmaster Jim Bob Mickler.

The public is invited and urged to attend.

ENTERTAINERS

The Murphy Family, Bill, Vickie and Christina, music evangelists from Anson, provided a part of the entertainment last Thursday at the volunteer award banquet at the Experienced Citizens Center.

Nominees wanted for Jones Co. award

A search for a person from this area whose generous acts have significantly bettered the lives of others has been announced by Edward D. Jones & Co., a national investment firm with an area office in Stamford.

"The Heart of Gold award will recognize one of our unsung heroes who has donated his or her time and talent to help others," said Don Book, local representative for the sponsor.

Nominations for the Heart of Gold can be made by anyone from the surrounding communities by filling out a brief entry form available at the Edward D. Jones & Co. office or at West Texas Utilities office in Haskell. Forms also available at WTU offices in Hamlin and Knox City, Smith Drug in Munday and Anson Plaza Pharmacy in Anson. Nominations must be made by Oct. 17.

The Heart of Gold winner will be selected Oct. 22 by a panel of judges made up of community representatives. The winner will join candidates from other communities throughout the nation and be eligible to win the National Edward D. Jones Heart of Gold award.
