Seniors' tax aid available

Haskell County senior citizens can make doing their taxes less taxing this year, thanks to a free Tax-Aide program at the Experienced Citizens Center in Haskell. It is sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP).

Kathryn Matysiak and Augusta Owens will provide free tax assistance for the elderly every week during the tax season, beginning Feb. 16. The trained volunteers will be on hand from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. each Monday.

The service is open to all senior citizens regardless of whether they're members of AARP. Each person desiring service should bring a copy of last year's tax return and all current tax materials.

The Tax-Aide program is the largest of the AARP's volunteer programs. Last year it helped more than a million older persons file their returns through a cooperative venture with the Internal Revenue Service.

Physician may move to Haskell

Agreement appeared near Wednesday on a proposal under which Dr. Shirley Barretto of Knox City would move to Haskell.

Members of the Haskell County Memorial Hospital District board of directors tentatively accepted a proposal from Dr. Barretto Tuesday night. Hospital administrator Bud Comedy was to meet with her Wednesday and work out details of a proposed contract.

Under the agreement, the hospital would furnish Dr. Barretto temporary quarters in the hospital. She also would use other hospital facilities and would be given a first-year income guarantee.

A week earlier, the hospital board had considered the use of Physicians Placement Services of Kingsville to help secure two physicians for Haskell. The Kingsville firm locates and places physicians for its clients.

Financial aid session is tonight

Haskell High School will sponsor Financial Aid Information Night at 7 p.m. today (Thursday) in the High School Library.

To be presented will be current information and financial aid opportunities regarding college or after high school training to students and their parents.

Information concerning grants, loans, scholarships, work-study programs and application procedures will also be presented.

Driving course next month

A defensive driving course for Haskell County Farm Bureau members has been scheduled for Feb. 12-13. Classes will begin at 6:30 p.m. each day.

The eight-topic course utilizes films and discussions to teach students to avoid accidents despite the actions of others and the surrounding conditions by recognizing the hazard, knowing what to do and acting in time.

Only Farm Bureau members are eligible to take the DDC course through the Texas Farm Bureau. There are no age requirements. Each student must have a valid Texas driver's license to qualify for the 10-percent insurance discount. (A test of driving is not involved.)

The principal driver who completes the eight-topic DDC will receive a certificate to be filed with the automobile insurance company which will qualify him/her for a 10-percent discount on bodily injury, property damage, medical payments and collision coverage where those coverages are afforded.

The course is free to all Farm Bureau members of Haskell County. Because of enrollment limitations, registration will be taken in advance. Persons may register by calling the Farm Bureau office at 864-2647. Questions concerning the course may also be answered by calling that number.

Many give help to welfare board

The Haskell County Child Welfare Board met in regular session Jan. 20 in the Jury Room.

Brian Burgess, chairman, called the meeting to order and led in prayer. Mary Martin, secretary, read the minutes of the December meeting and they were approved. Treasurer Sue Miller gave the financial report.

Mrs. Linda Haynes, head of Child Protective Services in Haskell County, presented a list of those who had contributed to provide Christmas boxes for 36 families and 112 children.

Mrs. Haynes and the Board wish to express their deepest appreciation for all the generous gifts. Clothing was donated by Winnie Sherman, Jeff and Martina Medford, Bessie Evans, Lois Richardson and Kids' Duds, J. B. and Iva Lee Gipson, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Medford, Mrs. W. O. Elmore and Zora Medford.

Toys, games, fruit, nuts and/or candies were given by Winnie Sherman, Debbie Miller, Thula Perry, Vickie Josselet, Tuesday Book Club, Trinity Baptist Church of Haskell and Pam Thigpen.

Donations of money came from Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Williams, Trinity Baptist Church, Ready Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church in memory of Bud Herren, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Foote, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Weinert, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Medford, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Don Comedy, The Haskell Ministerial Alliance, Friendship class of First Baptist Church of Weinert, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Everett, Dr. and Mrs. William Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Medford, Emma Reed and Pauline Couch.

The First United Methodist Church of Haskell sent wrapped and labeled packages of clothing, nuts and cash. Cash donations also came from those who attended the musical program sponsored by the Board at Haskell Elementary School on Dec. 13. Donations were also received from many when photos were made with Santa Claus the three Saturdays in December.

The Board wishes to thank Joe Ortiz who spent many hours helping Mrs. Haynes with buying, sorting, wrapping and delivering. The Jury Room was literally Santa's workshop for several days.

The Board also wishes to thank Randy McLelland, youth director of First Baptist Church of Haskell, for hours of helping with photos.

The remainder of the meeting concerned the formation of a statewide telephone network through the child welfare boards to enable people who are concerned about children to be quickly informed when a critical children's issue is coming before the Texas Legislature. Child welfare board members may then contact their legislators about their concerns before the issue has been decided.

This information came from Mrs. Holly Gaunt, Region 04 chairman. Most legislators do not hear from the constituents about the needs of abused children. Consequently, there has been inadequate legislative funding to protect and help children who have been abused. This has caused a severe shortage of child protective workers resulting in only 45 percent of confirmed abused children being able to receive services after investigation this year.

Brian Burgess volunteered to chair the telephone committee. Each board member would then enlist others to call.

Six board members and Mrs. Haynes were present.

Gas tax increase is in line

Texas' temporary five-cent increase in gasoline tax on Jan. 1 puts the state on a par with the rest of the country in highway user fees, says an economist with the Federal Highway Administration.

"Fifteen cents a gallon is just getting up to the threshold of what is needed in leading states, as far as taxation of motor fuel," said Tom Cooper, an economist with FHWA in Washington. "The range is wide among the 50 states, from seven cents to more than 18 cents. At 110 cents a gallon, Texas was one of the lowest in the country."

Highest state taxes are in Michigan and Nebraska, each of which levies an 18.2 state tax. State taxes in Washington and Colorado are 18 cents.

Missouri is the lowest at 7 cents. Wyoming, New Jersey and Alaska have state taxes of 8 cents.

PRO™ TEXAS A NEW OPTIONAL CALLING PLAN FROM AT&T

On November 13, 1986 AT&T Communications of The Southwest, Inc. ("AT&T") filed with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to introduce a new intrastate, optional calling plan, PRO Texas. A comparable interstate plan, known as PRO™ America, is currently available to Texas customers.

PRO Texas gives Texas consumers an opportunity to save money on direct dialed in-state long distance calls. Customers who choose this new AT&T plan will receive a 10% discount on all AT&T intrastate direct dialed station calls by paying a monthly charge of $15.00.

The PRO Texas discount applies to calls placed during all rate periods and all days. The discount is in addition to the AT&T intrastate evening discount of 25% and the night/weekend discount of 40%. A one time charge of $6.00 will be billed to initiate the service. However, this charge will be waived during the first 90 days that the offering is available.

PRO Texas will be available to all Message Telephone Service customers in Texas. AT&T estimates that it will generate revenues in the first year of almost $8 million, which is .7% of AT&T's annual revenues for all Texas intrastate service.

The PUC has assigned Docket No. 7194 to this proposed service offering. The proposed effective date for PRO Texas is March 16, 1987. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the PUC as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Collision course looms in Austin

AUSTIN—The day after Bill Clements was inaugurated he drew a line on no new taxes and threatened to keep the Legislature in special session indefinitely until a reduced budget was forged.

That very same day, Speaker Gib Lewis realigned the power-structure of the Texas House to increase the odds of an emerging tax bill.

The two-party Texas Legislature is on a collision course. Clements' first hardball pitch was a fastball screaming down the middle of the plate. He will not back off his campaign tax stance, even if the Comptroller has predicted a $1 billion deficit this fiscal year, and a $4.8 billion short fall during the 1988-89 biennium.

Other state officials are set on a tax hike, but the new governor liked what he saw when he reviewed his budget force's list of about $4 billion in possible cuts. That budget group is made up of the new "in" Republicans.

look, and Lewis put Republicans in control of the powerful calendars committees. Clements' budget man Toomey is off Appropriations, but chairs the Judiciary panel.

Some other winners of promotions include Dudley Harrison of Sanderson, chairman of Agriculture and Livestock; Mark Stiles of Beaumont, County Affairs; Terral Smith of Austin, Natural Resources; and Alan Hightower of Huntsville, Corrections.

Prison Bailout

At week's end, Clements predicted the Legislature will give him the authority to transfer some $82 million to the state prison system to avert daily fines by a federal judge.

The state has until April 1 to meet court-ordered reforms or it will suffer several million in daily contempt of court fines, but Clements said the Legislature may be able to address the matter within a ten day period.

Overdue Taxes

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said 3,100 Texans owe the state a total of $37 million and he will turn the list over to Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox for collection.

Most of the sum is from overdue sales tax accounts.

Other Highlights

- Testimony began in a courtroom showdown to overturn the state's system for funding school districts. Over 100 school districts have joined the lawsuit which pits poor areas against rich for a fair share of tax dollars.

- The overcrowded prison system released more than 250 inmates last week so new inmates could be legally incarcerated.

- On his last day, former Gov. Mark White urged lawmakers to cough up emergency funding to build new prisons.

- The feud between Clements and White will likely go on forever. White's camp complained the new governor snubbed their welcome, while Clements' staff groused the governor's office was stripped bare and the computers deprogrammed.

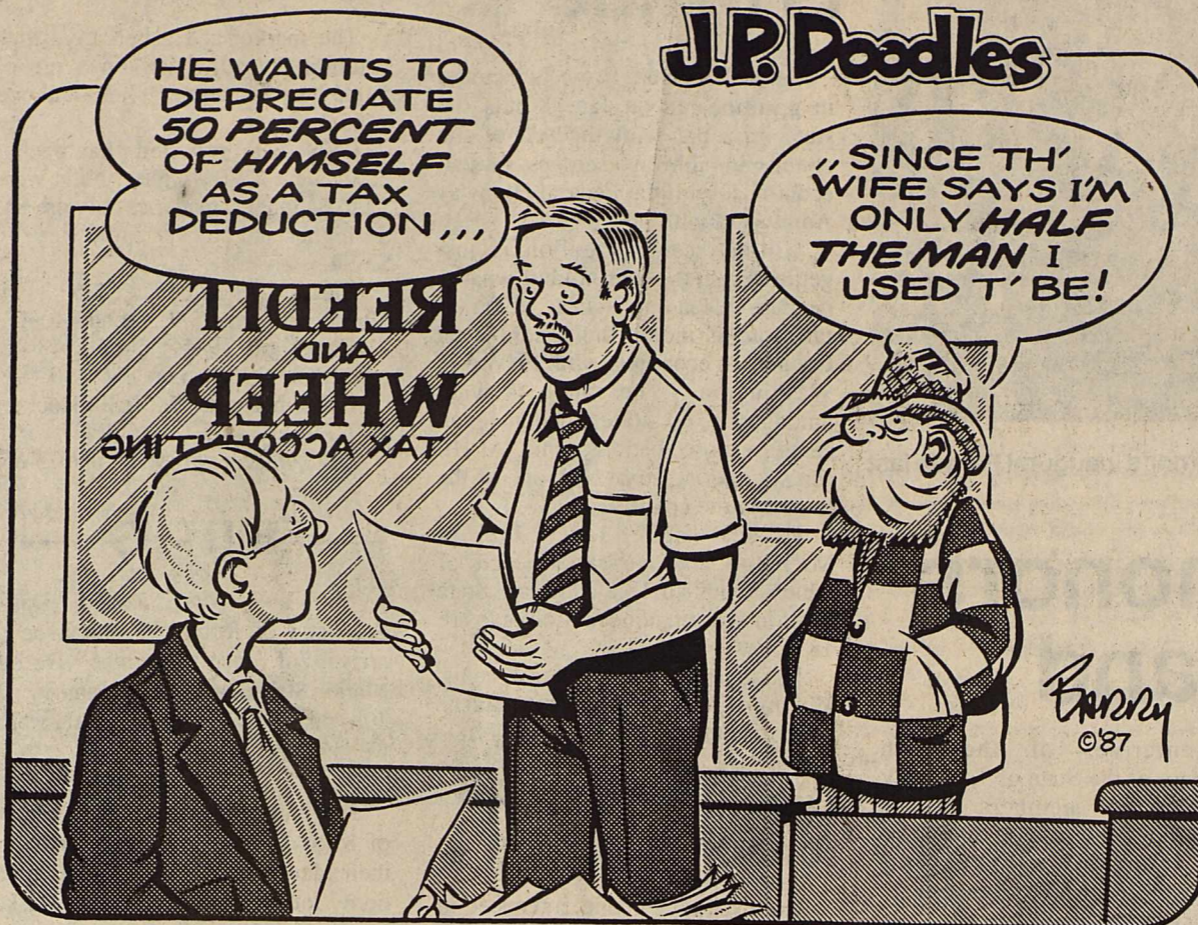

- White's higher education panel ended its study and said a radical shakeup is needed. House Appropriations chair Jim Rudd said "no." He'll work to defeat it.

- A Senate committee advanced the nomination of Houston businessman Jack Rains for Texas Secretary of State.

Parents ignore child safety laws

The safest way for a child under the age of four to travel is in a child safety seat.

Despite laws in all 50 states, observational surveys show that only 78 percent of the children under the age of one year and 62 percent of the children between one and two years old are buckled into child safety seats.

In one of the largest land deals closed in Haskell in several years, Dimmitt Hughes, Haskell farmer and rancher, sold a tract of 2,200 acres of land southeast of Haskell to A. H. King, Throckmorton County landowner and farmer.

Work will be started Saturday on a new PWA road project in the county, according to information received by County Judge Chas. M. Conner. The new road is a five-mile stretch between Jud and Rule. Ten wagons and 54 laborers will be started on the project, which will require four months for completion.

Ten cars of beef cattle were shipped to Fort Worth Thursday from this place. Shippers were T. E. Ballard, three cars; A. D. English, two cars; W. T. Hudson, one car; Mr. Park of Stonewall, four cars.

J. T. Hester of the northwest part of the county was trading in Haskell Thursday. He said farming prospects were bright in his section.

Miss Ethel McGee of Waco who has been employed to teach the Pleasant Valley school arrived Friday and will take charge of her school Monday.

Frank Smith of Sagerton was in town Wednesday. He plans to move to Haskell if he can find a place.

Under the new schedule of the Wichita Valley Railroad, the northbound passenger train arrives at 9:40 a.m. and the southbound passenger train at 2:15 p.m.

J. B. Lamkin has sold his residence in the north part of town to R. D. C. Stephens and will occupy the place recently improved by him southeast of town.

John Mounts of Throckmorton sold 50 turkeys here Tuesday to Wyley Snow. The lot brought $47.35.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Unbelievable, but true.

A release from the Postal Service states that a chain letter mailed to six people, each of whom mails it to six more people, etc., will exhaust the population of the U.S. on the 11th level.

Sure enough, 11 levels would involve 362,797,056 mailings.

Thornhill put it to his computer:

- 1 mailing 6
- 2 mailings 36
- 3 mailings 216
- 4 mailings 1296
- 5 mailings 7776
- 6 mailings 46656
- 7 mailings 279936
- 8 mailings 1679616
- 9 mailings 10077696
- 10 mailings 60466176
- 11 mailings 362797056

And until I typed the above, I never knew where the term "pyramid" came from.

That was an interesting story in the Dallas Morning News the other day on some of the unusual nicknames of high school athletic teams.

Completely overlooked, however, was my favorite: the Bridgeport Sissies. That's what they call the girls' basketball team at that Wise County high school.

In most cases, the girls' team name is a feminine derivation of the longer established name of the boys' team. I guess it won't work in Bridgeport, where the boys' team is the known as the Bulls.

When Kiva Inn in Abilene announced it was cutting back on the number of its employees, the Abilene Reporter-News' story devoted a good bit of space to report the feelings of the fired workers.

A few weeks earlier when the newspaper announced it was cutting back to once-a-day publication and reducing the number of its employees, there was not a word from any of the affected personnel.

To play with a statement made the other day by Willard Scott on NBC's Today program:

"If a citizen of Haskell is a Haskellite, and a citizen of Dallas a Dallasite, what do you call someone from Paris?"

They don't play dominoes any more in the Wise County courthouse in Decatur.

Commissioners last week voted to close the domino hall in the courthouse basement.

It was a popular hangout for a group of retired men of Decatur. Courthouse employees squawked when they were ordered to park their cars off the square so shoppers could use the parking spaces, only to see the spaces taken up by the cars of domino players.

Sometimes things get out of hand. How about that Fort Worth restaurant owner who set off a gas explosion in a competitor's place of business.

The blast destroyed his competitor's restaurant all right, but also destroyed his own, as well as four more businesses. Thirty-seven other businesses were damaged. Losses were estimated at $2.5 million.

Stamford American editor Jennifer Craig, in urging Stamford fans to attend the Stamford-Haskell basketball game last week, wrote:

"You drive to Haskell to shop. You drive to Haskell to eat. You drive to Haskell for football games. Drive to Haskell Friday night for basketball."

HIGHLIGHTS

He has said a tax bill may be necessary, and now, if Lewis wants a tax bill from the House, he'll easily get it out of committee.

The three Republicans who lost chairmanships are Tom Craddock of Midland, Buzz Robnett of Lubbock and Fred Agnich of Dallas, all one-time Lewis team members.

No Partisanship

Lewis says partisanship played no role in his reassignments. In the past, Lewis has never engaged much in party politics. He appreciates team loyalty more.

But if Lewis has made the House a bit more partisan, can he really be blamed? After all, it was only last year that:

—The GOP lined up a well-financed opponent against him;

—Some GOP members were privately speculating that Craddock would make a fine Republican speaker;

—Many Republican members deserted his team on the tax hike vote in the bloody special sessions.

SEVENTH FLAG...

In the fall of 1821 Jane Long waited for her husband, James, to return from Mexico with news of a free Texas. She, her daughter and a servant girl were alone at a fort on Bolivar Point. To frighten lurking Indians, Mrs. Long fired a cannon and flew her red petticoat on the flagstaff.

—Weinert News—

By Myrtle Plemister

If you heard the ringing bells from our way it was the celebration of many anniversaries! Those who had wedding anniversaries this week were Floyd and La Rue Patton, Pud and Susie Brockett, Donald and Gracie Griffis and Jerry and Doris Walker. Congratulations to each couple!

This week we congratulate Gus and Henrietta Rueffer, Bud and Mildred Offutt and Don and Renee Cunningham.

Birthdays are a special time for celebrating, and Lenora Griffis discovered they can be cause for surprises. When all her children, grandchildren, brothers, sisters, nieces and nephews came sweeping into her home Sunday to celebrate her 80th birthday, she had to ask "What's going on around here?" She and Harvey were pleased and excited to have them. Happy birthday from all of Weinert, too!

The Weinert Bulldogs' junior high basketball teams were in Goree Monday night for a game. The high school Bulldogs met Goree for games on Tuesday night at the Weinert gym.

Many of our students entered animals in the Haskell County Junior Livestock Show, and we congratulate Callan Perry for showing the first-place and reserve champion lightweight purebred swine. Shane Stout brought home the third-place ribbon.

In the rabbit division, Kenny Forehand showed the first-place and third-place winners with Callan Perry showing the second-place winner.

The miserably cold weather kept attendance down, but the Extension Club reported good sales for the club food booth and the coffee cups helped warm the chilled hands of those watching the show.

Several members of the First Baptist Church attended the area Evangelism Conference held in Hamlin Jan. 26. Their pastor, Don Crump, was the speaker at the 3:30 p.m. session. His topic was "Watering the Field." They stayed for the fellowship dinner and night service before returning home.

Francis Mahan has spent several days in Hamilton with Pete and Margie Jordan. While there, Francis was under a doctor's care and underwent some tests to determine the extent of her physical problems.

R. S. and Betty Sanders were able to attend worship services Sunday and R. S. reports he is feeling great at this time. He will be in Abilene Jan. 29 for further chemotherapy treatments. We continue our prayers on his behalf.

Eddie and Myrnie Sanders are in Canton, Texas, this week to see Myrnie's brother, Ozzie Johnson and wife who are both very elderly and both are ill.

Helen and Buck Turnbow enjoyed a visit from their grandson, Mike, and Lori Byrd of Hamlin over the weekend. Helen has progressed extremely well in her painting, and has encouraged Elna Davis and Lucile Adams to take up the hobby. It is great therapy and fills many hours that have to be spent indoors during the extreme cold. Congratulations, Helen.

Don and Debbie Crump and children were in Blue Grove (Clay County) to visit Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crump. They are farmers and are active in Clay County Farm Bureau activities.

Alton and Millie Sanders spent Saturday in Graham with good friends, Jessie and Lena Edwards and children, Traci and Charley.

The "grape-vine" gossip is that W. R. Hager needs a larger hat these days because his granddaughter, Heather Stewart showed the reserve champion steer in the Junior Livestock Show with a first-place and two third-place winners. Her brother, Justin, had a first place in Class 2 steers. Grandpa and Grandma Hager are the breeders and have a fine line of cattle. Congratulations to the Stewarts and the Hagers.

Ted and Edna Boykin are entertaining Ted's sister, Francis, and Morris Davenport of Vernon. They Boykins are making plans to move to Arkansas and have their house listed for sale. We regret losing this great couple.

B. J. and Joyce Robertson will be in Big Spring Saturday when their son, Jeff, will be married to Staci Wilkerson of Garden City. The ceremony will be at 3:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Big Spring.

Have you rural teachers and students marked your calendar and planned your trip to Haskell for the first annual reunion of rural schools in Haskell County? The date is May 30.

If you did not attend Ballew or Weinert schools a generation ago, the names of Threet, McMillen, Plemister, Snowden, Kimbrough, etc., will not "ring a bell" and the following article will mean little to you. But to about 50 cousins who gathered at the ACU Student Center on "the Hill" in Abilene it was a great day and time for laughter, remembering and loving. They called it a "Kissin' Kousin Klotch," and planned to do it annually in the future.

Millie and C. A. Verreat of Abilene planned the party when word came that her mother and brother, Ruby Threet Snowden and Jack and Bonnie Snowden of Seattle, Wash., were coming to Texas. "Smoke signals" went up and cousins came on Saturday, Jan. 24.

They shared the same grandparents, these cousins, Tom and Betty Plemister, whose children were Walter and Virgil Plemister, Rosa Henry, Cornelia Threet, Eva McMillen, Beulah Covington and Eula Attebury. These seven children gave birth to 34 grandchildren, and it will take a CPA to count the next generations.

After the "revealing" they found many and varied vocations: nurses, beauticians, mechanics, farmers, teachers, coaches, journalists, oil pumpers, barbers, waitresses, butchers, telephone operators, secretaries, etc. Just that many towns in Texas were represented, but no millionaires!

Margaret Kimbrough Williams of San Angelo led the group in reminiscing, and telling tales of long ago. Her parents were Clay and Vallie Kimbrough, now deceased.

Those who attended from our area were Leonard and Leatha Newton, Coyt, Sophia and Margie Hix of Haskell; Retih Plemister Keahey and Coy of Rule; Roy Plemister of Munday; Ted and Faye Jetton and Marvin and Myrtle Plemister of Weinert.

The group plans to meet at the same place next year, a date to be announced later.

Dorothy Myers of Munday, a former Weinert resident, spent the afternoon recently with Ima Stewart. When the Myers lived here, Ima was the setter and "Nannie" for all four of their children and they have remained very good friends and count Ima as "almost kin." Ima returns their love and though they are all married and live in other places, she keeps in touch.

Charisma contests planned

The search is on for a Valentine's Day Charisma Girl and Mrs. Chrisma.

All girls and boys age 3 through 25 are invited to participate in one of the most prestigious and honest children's pageants in America.

Contestants will be judged on personality, poise, grooming and appearance. Talent is optional.

An added attraction is the Charisma Baby Pageant open to boys and girls ages 3 through 41 months. All contestants receive trophies. Winners receive crowns, banners, trophies and entry fees paid to the Texas state finals where over $10,000 in scholarships, savings bonds, prizes and gifts were awarded last year.

The Valentine's Day Charisma Pageant will be held Feb. 14 in the Haskell Civic Center.

For entry forms or more information, write to: America's Texas Charisma Pageant, 53 East 23rd St., San Angelo, Texas 76903, or call Jeanie Hollingsworth 743-3433.

Medical enrollment period now open

The general enrollment period for the medical insurance part of Medicare began this month and runs through the end of March, Glyn Hammons, district Social Security manager, has announced.

During these three months, people who passed up the chance for this protection may enroll. Those who had it and dropped out can enroll again.

Protection for people who sign up during the general enrollment period will start next July 1.

The Federal government pays about three-fourths of the premium costs from Federal general revenues. Enrollees pay the rest.

Medical insurance complements the hospital insurance part of Medicare. Hospital insurance helps pay for medically necessary inpatient hospital care and certain followup care in a skilled nursing facility or at home.

Medical insurance helps pay for doctor's services no matter where they are received in the U.S., including surgical services, diagnostic tests and X-rays that are part of the treatment, medical supplies furnished in the doctor's office, services of the office nurse, and drugs that are given as part of the treatment and which cannot be self-administered.

Medical insurance also covers outpatient hospital services received for diagnosis and treatment and other services received for diagnosis and treatment and other services and supplies not covered by hospital insurance.

Medical insurance pays for 80 percent of the approved costs or charges for covered services and supplies after the patient has met the $75 annual deductible.

More information about Medicare medical insurance can be obtained at the Abilene Social Security office, located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is 915-698-1360.

Conservation District

The Soil Conservation Service has been informed that signup for CRP (Conservation Reserve Program) will be from Feb. 9-27. At present, the program has no changes from 1986. Producers can sign up for 1987 and 1988.

Under CRP, highly erodible cropland is taken out of crop production and planted to grass through a 10-year contract. Throughout the 10-year period, the grass must be well maintained. The grass cannot be grazed, cut for hay or seed harvest. Brush control is required.

Grass which is adapted to the area and soil can be planted in the CRP.

To be eligible, again land must be highly erodible cropland. The soil loss must be three times T for cropland that is Class II - V. The "T" value is the soil loss tolerance of a soil. Some soil has a tolerance as low as 1 and other soils have a tolerance as high as 5. The higher the tolerance of a soil, the higher the soil loss must be to qualify for CRP.

Cropland that is Class VI - VIII is automatically eligible.

Land must have been planted in a crop two out of the last five years, 1981-1985. If one purchased land after Dec. 31, 1984, they must wait three years before being eligible.

For more information on CRP, contact your local Soil Conservation Service at 510 S. 2nd St. in Haskell or call 864-3212.

Junior tourney here cancelled

The seventh- and eighth-grade boys' and girls' basketball tournament scheduled this weekend has been cancelled. Not enough teams entered the tournament to make it worthwhile, said Coach George Martin.

8th Maidens top Hamlin

By Corey Mills

The eighth-grade Maidens were to host a tournament this week, however, because a fourth team could not be found, it was cancelled.

The Maidens' next game will be at Hawley on Monday, Feb. 2.

Monday, the Maidens defeated Hamlin 38-14. The first time the girls played Hamlin, they lost by 3. Coach Cody Moree said that this victory alone shows how much these girls have progressed over the season.

High point for the game was Sheila Unger with 14, followed by Geneva Lopez with 10.

"The Hamlin game was Heidi Mullens' first night back as a starter. It is good to have her on the floor because of her leadership; she quarterbacked the team," Coach Moree said.

He feels the key to the Hamlin victory was the way the girls ran the offense.

"Some of the girls are progressing enough that I feel they will help us next year in high school ball," Coach Moree said.

Sports banquet to be discussed

Mothers of senior athletes and others interested in helping with the All-Sports banquet will meet at 4:30 p.m. today (Thursday) in the high school lunch room.

The banquet will be April 3 in the Civic Center.

Haskell teams take wins Tuesday

The Haskell Indians took a big step toward the second-half championship of district 7-AA here Tuesday night with a 60-51 victory over Hamlin. Equally important was Anson's 48-47 upset of first-half champ Hawley.

The Haskell Maidens kept pace with a 45-44 squeaker past Hamlin.

James Rike's 13 points paced the Indian attack. Brad Bevel scored 12 and Mark Young had 10. Other scorers included Patrick Perez with 8, Dusty Meeks with 7 and Andy Griffith and Jerry Davis with 5 each.

The Indians pulled away for a 24-16 halftime lead after the first-period score was knotted at 8-all.

Julie Roewe scored 24 points to pace the Maidens. Haskell was behind, 21-15 at halftime but came out in the third period to outscore the visitors 18-10 to take a 2-point lead.

The two Haskell teams had closed out the first half of the district season with victories at Anson Friday night.

The Indians won, 56-48, and the Maidens triumphed, 55-32.

Young and Rike, with 18 and 15 points, respectively, led the scoring for the Indians. Roewe scored 17, Robyn Weaver 12 and Patricia Henry 10 to lead the Maidens.

The Indians now stand 14-9 for the season, while the Maidens are 17-6.

Haskell teams will continue their 7-AA title chases in Albany Friday and in Stamford next Tuesday.

8th Warriors now at 7-0

By Tammi Miller

After defeating the Hamlin Pied Pipers, the eighth-grade Warriors are now 7-0 in season play.

Leading scorers in the game included Adam Coleman with 13, Rusty Stocks and Jay Miller with 12 each and Chad Gibson with 6.

"It took more effort than usual to put away the Pipers, considering we only scored 2 points in the first quarter," said team member Jay Miller.

Don't waste money on chain letters

Have you ever been asked to participate in a chain letter which is guaranteed to earn you lots of money with one small investment?

Don't waste your money. Chain letters are a form of lottery and may violate federal mail fraud laws, warns the U.S. Postal Service.

The same three elements that apply to lotteries (payment, prize and chance) also make chain letter schemes illegal.

The payment may be money or any other item of value. The prize is the large amount of money you are led to believe you will receive in the end if you participate. The chance is that the chain will break, and it must, because the chance that all participants in a chain letter will receive mail is mathematically impossible.

For example, a typical chain letter may require participants to mail letters containing money to six new participants, each of whom must mail six letters to six more individuals and so on. By the 11th level of mailing, the entire population of the United States (almost 300 million) would be exhausted. By the 13th level, the population of the world (over 4 billion) would be exhausted. And remember, even if the chain letter itself is not mailed, as long as the payment or prize is sent through the mail, the entire scheme is illegal.

Some chain letters masquerade as Multi-Level Marketing Plans. These require an original promoter to sell a product and enlist several other people to become sellers, who in turn recruit others. Most MLM plans are schemes to sell the plan rather than the product, and the fact that selling a product is involved, instead of winning money, or statements saying the plan does not violate federal law, does not ensure legality, the Postal Service says.

Do not confuse regular chain letters of MLM plan chains with prayer chains that promise good luck but require no investment. These are not illegal--they're just a nuisance. You should not be intimidated by implied threats of bad luck, personal injury or disaster for breaking the chain. Feel free to throw the chain letter away.

Remember, you are under no obligation to participate if you receive a chain letter, and to do so may be a violation of federal law. Turn the letter in to the local post office or send it to the Postal Inspector in Charge, P.O. Box 162929, Fort Worth, TX 76161-2929.

Citizens need funds for grave marker

(From the Twin Cities News)

There's a grave in Rochester Cemetery belonging to "Uncle Luke" Martin. This man worked hard for the community, doing jobs most people probably wouldn't do. He wasn't called Mr. Martin or even Luke, but was known only as "Uncle Luke"

"Uncle Luke" swept the streets almost every night and hauled the debris away in a wheel barrow. He was Rochester's night watchman for 27 years.

Once while being on his rounds, he fell up to his neck in a cesspool behind T. B. Bagwell's Cafe because of the top being left off. He couldn't get out so he took his pistol from his pocket and started shooting straight up in the air. When he was finally heard and pulled out, he said, "I've saved one bullet and I'm going to use it on T.B."

Uncle Luke was a high pressure news agent for the Abilene Reporter

News. "Get your nickel out," he said to an employee in Mansell-Smith Hardware Store, as the employee ducked behind a parts bin. "Don't want a paper today," said the salesman. "Gimme that nickel!" Uncle Luke demanded. The clerk came across with a five-cent piece and received his paper.

And the populace of Rochester evidently liked that brand of salesmanship because in the couple of years Uncle Luke was an agent the circulation increased 30 percent.

Every morning he delivered 40 papers and then went to bed. When the afternoon mail arrived he would hitch up Karo, his donkey, and make his afternoon route on which he delivered about 85 papers.

Uncle Luke also had a "Honey Wagon," pulled by Karo. He cleaned outdoor toilets.

Uncle Luke came to Rochester before 1919 and he had two daughters and one son. He lived about where Henry Pery now lives in Rochester. It's a shame he has no tombstone to mark his grave. Uncle Luke did a lot for the people of Rochester and the City of Rochester has offered to start a fund to buy his marker. If you would like to contribute, you may do so by calling Rochester City Hall or Dick Bursleson, 997-2817.

Education center examination open

All regional education service centers in the state are required to provide regular opportunities for the general public to examine audiovisual items and other materials which are available for use by public schools.

The review period for this quarter has been scheduled from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 30. The public is invited to peruse materials on that day at the region 14 education service center, 1850 Albany Highway, Abilene.

Although no appointment is required, an advance phone call (915-676-8201) would be helpful if the reviewer is interested in examining a particular item.

John L. Summers Brooks stands beside "The Spirit of St. Louis" in Washington, D. C.

Sagerton woman sees airplane again

A Sagerton woman who helped welcome Charles A. Lindbergh and his Spirit of St. Louis to Abilene in 1927 has taken another look at the world's most famous airplane.

John L. Summers Brooks recently visited the Air and Space Center in Washington, D.C., where the plane is now on display.

It brought back memories of that day 60 years ago when she represented Rochester as the "Spirit of Rochester" in welcoming Lindbergh and his plane to the Big Country.

She had been selected by Mayor Roy Arledge and the Chamber of Commerce to represent the town on this stop of a nationwide tour by the famous aviator. She recalls being dressed in red, white and blue attire when she shook hands with Col. Lindbergh, who was wearing the same leather jacket he wore on his historic transatlantic flight. (She also remembers being presented a dozen red roses by the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.)

Lindbergh's flight from New York to Paris was made May 20-21, 1927.

It covered 3,610 miles and took 33 hours and 30 minutes. A fuel tank obstructed his forward view and Lindbergh could not see ahead without using a periscope or by turning the plane. He had no radio or no parachute and his food supply consisted only of sandwiches.

Mrs. Brooks visited the Air and Space Center while visiting her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tabor, in Belcamp, Md. Her granddaughter, Vanessa Griffin of Little Elm, accompanied her. They saw other sights in Washington, Baltimore and in Pennsylvania.

Health clinic to be Feb. 19

Adult health risk assessment services will be held from 9 a.m. to noon Feb. 19 at the health office on the third floor of the courthouse.

Immunizations will be from 1 to 3 p.m. the same day at the Experienced Citizens Center.

Seat belt use saves on bills

"Reducing the occurrence of injuries and the severity of injuries by wearing seat belts can reduce a family's medical expenses, not to mention the pain and other problems that result from automobile accidents," says Dr. Mary Ann Heussner, a health education specialist with Texas A&M.

She notes that because medical insurance rarely covers the full cost of treatment needed, automobile injuries can be a severe financial problem for many families.

—Letters to the Editor—

Editor: In our travels to Alaska each year we noticed that almost all of the towns the size of Rule had a museum and library. We decided to establish one in Rule, but had difficulty in finding a suitable building that would accommodate the large animal mounts and displays.

The museum will have three different animal and fish displays consisting of 10 African animals, many Alaskan animals and a section of Texas animals.

In the local history section we will have a school classroom, barber shop, veterans' display room and a pioneer room displaying pictures and tools and rare artifacts of this area.

We also plan to show films and lecture to tourist groups and various clubs and school classes by appointment.

Donations of pictures, tools, antiques or other paraphernalia that might contribute to the appreciation and understanding of our heritage will be greatly appreciated and properly displayed.

Wants school issue

Editor: Having lived in Haskell County many years ago, being a student at Gilliam School my first seven years. I am asking you for a copy of your paper of Nov. 20, 1986, including the rural school supplement.

I was so impressed with the paper I would like to send one to a cousin.

I have had one call as a result of my letter to Ernestene Herren, from a long-lost childhood friend.

Sure hope I can still get a copy.

Remembers

Editor: Just a note to say I really did enjoy your special supplement to your paper dated Nov. 20, 1986, on rural schools.

My late husband, J. R. Chatwell, attended Bunker Hill School. When we first married, June 20, 1938, and we went to visit his family in Haskell, his sister Mary (Chatwell) Hagle and Rose Hagle lived on the farm next to the Bunker Hill school house.

J. R. grew up and became one of the finest fiddle players in the country. He played music all his life and enjoyed it very much. He died in 1983.

My entire family enjoyed the poem that Mr. Fred Brown remembered about J. R. saying on Thanksgiving about the turkey.

Thank you.

Opposes belt law

Editor: I do not believe the people who think the Seat Belt Law is a good idea have taken the time to think it through. Wearing a seat belt is a good idea, just like having regular medical check-ups, daily walks, smoke detectors in your home, dead bolt locks on your doors, not smoking and on and on. But is it the government's responsibility to place a fine on us if we do not. I say it is not.

There is no question the cost of medical care is on the backs of all of us either through insurance premiums or taxes. So if you support the Seat Belt Law for these reasons, then the rationale follows that you want laws requiring medical check-ups, daily walks, no smoking and all other known practices that might lengthen our years and make us healthier. The cost of us not adopting these practices are also passed on to us through increased insurance premiums or taxes. But who should make us adopt such practices? The government?

A law requiring the wearing of seat belts is not different in principle from a law requiring annual medical check-ups. If we can pass the one law--on the grounds that a particular practice is good for us--on what grounds could we spurn the other law? It is presumed by our government that we have too little sense to consider our own self interest and buckle up. So the government says let us accordingly, force them to do what we know is best for them. Let us do their thinking for them.

Let me tell you how the Seat Belt Law came about. By no means was it an outcry from our citizens to protect them from hurting themselves, but instead an outcry from the automobile manufacturers' lobby. The reason the auto lobby was concerned is because the federal government a few years ago said unless two thirds of the 50 states passed laws mandating seat belt use by 1989, it would order Detroit to equip all cars with expensive air bags. Not a single person in my district or the state of Texas asked me to pass a bill requiring them to wear a seat belt.

Many people are wearing seat belts not just because of the law, but because of the national publicity pointing out the facts in case of an accident. Just as more people are having medical check-ups, more people are installing dead bolts on their doors, more are exercising and fewer people are smoking. They are doing it for their own health and safety and not because the government is saying do it or we will impose a fine. For every good cause, there is not necessarily a good law waiting to be passed.

Our chances for repeal would be better if the law were strictly enforced or if automobiles were manufactured so they would not start until the seat belt was buckled. Then you would hear an outcry from the people all the way to the State Capitol that would overcome the special interest groups that passed the law.

So in the meantime, obey the law and wear your seat belt. But do not be surprised if this new session of the legislature comes up with more good ideas and passes more laws to take away some more of our human liberties. As Pogo said long ago: "We have discovered the enemy, and it is us."
