Remember the players on the 1946 Haskell and Rule football teams?

Mrs. R. J. Duncan of Munday brought a copy of the football program for the Haskell-Rule game to The Free Press office the other day.

There was no date on the program, but Abe Turner, listed as a 130-pound reserve tackle on the Indian team identified it as being in 1946.

Coaches were J. E. Berryhill and J. L. Alderdice for Haskell, and Joe W. Cloud for Rule.

Starters for Haskell were:

Other Indian players were Marvin Hancock and Sterling Homesley, ends; James Cox and Bobby Neil Smith, centers; Kenneth Stewart, Bill Laird and Howard Alvis, backs; Glenn Marugg and Glenn Powers, guards; and Billy Jack Price and Turner, tackles.

Rule reserves were Odell Gray, center; Alfred Norman, John May, Billy Cluck and Dudley Ochsner, backs; and Charles Hines, Roger Foil, Marlin Brown, George Murley and Roy Fraley, each listed as "L."

Officials for the game were Smith, Wilson and Graham, no first names given.

The game was played in Haskell on a Friday night.

The back page of the program contained an ad for The Hub Dry Goods and Sporting Goods, owned by R. A. Noret and Alton Middleton.

Heart group earns award

The Haskell County division of the American Heart Association was presented the coveted "Heart and Torch" award in Abilene last Thursday.

Presentation came during the leadership conference and awards banquet of Texas region 16 of the American Heart Association.

The award was in recognition of the county raising 13 cents per $1,000 of estimated buying income, a total of $9,210.

Haskell was the region's only county, and one of only four of the state's 254 counties, to attain this goal. Other counties were Baylor, Knox and Terrell.

The local unit also received recognition in two other areas -- the Turkey Walk and the "Best Year Development". Plaques were presented in all three categories.

Attending the conference and banquet, held in the Kiva Inn, were Elaine Duke, Norma Richardson, Connie Stone and Inez and Buster Gholson.

Heart workers Elaine Duke, Janet Thane, Inez Gholson, Connie Stone and Norma Richardson show off plaques.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Wilda D. Medford, right, was presented a plaque Monday morning in recognition of his 25th anniversary as a Buick dealer in Haskell. Making the presentation is John Wood of Dallas, district manager for Buick. At left is Eddie Medford. Medford started to work for the Dodge dealer here in 1948 and purchased an interest in the business in 1957. The business became a Buick-Pontiac-GMC dealership in September 1961 and Medford purchased the rest of the business in 1974.

'O+' call service available

Customers of General Telephone Co. may now make "O+" calls.

These calls allow the caller to make credit card, third-party, person-to-person and collect calls without operator assistance when dialing.

To place an O+ call, a caller simply dials O plus the area code (if different), plus the number. When the operator asks, the caller informs the operator of the service wanted, such as person-to-person, third number, collect or credit card.

For multi-party customers, the operator will come on the line, after the dialing process, to acquire the dialing customer's number, and remain on line to provide assistance for specially handled calls.

For one-party customers, the operator will not require the calling party's number as it will be recorded automatically. Operator assistance will not be required on calling card calls, except on party-line service.

The service has been made possible by equipment changes and modifications in the GTE central equipment office in Seymour.

The change was effective in Haskell and Weinert Tuesday. The new service will be available in Rule June 30, and in Rochester July 2.

Natural gas shortage looms

By Wendell Faught

State Railroad Commissioner John Sharp expressed grave concern over the state's supply of natural gas when he made a tour stop in Haskell Friday morning.

Unless something can be done to make it profitable for independents to drill gas wells, there is going to be a crisis next winter, the commissioner warned.

Sharp stopped here for a visit with an old Texas A&M roommate, State Rep. Rick Perry, enroute to Abilene where he was to address the Rotary Club at noon.

The commissioner said that independents drill nearly 90 percent of the gas wells in Texas. Drilling has been sharply curtailed during the current energy recession, to the point "we have less deliverability than we did when the 1983 crisis hit," said Sharp.

The commissioner said several solutions are being proposed, but there will be no real answer to the problem until the price of gas reaches the point where it can be produced profitably. "Consumers like inexpensive gas, but the only place consumption comes before production is in the dictionary," he quipped.

One proposal is one which would make it mandatory that new gas wells be hooked up to pipelines. "Right now, it's pretty 'iffy' that a producer can get hooked up and sell his gas," said Sharp.

Several changes in the rules governing gas production also are being considered as incentives to increase production.

Sharp was a prime backer of the recently enacted deregulation of intrastate trucking. As Railroad Commissioner, he also has responsibilities in pipeline regulation, rail safety, water quality and oil and gas rates.

Sharp, from Victoria, was elected to office last November and began his first term as Railroad Commissioner in January. Prior to that he served four years in the State Senate and four years in the State House of Representatives.

Work on budget not going well

AUSTIN—John Hill, chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court, returned from China last week to find two of his justices, publicly disciplined two weeks ago, enmeshed in turmoil.

While Hill said he wouldn't ask Justices C.L. Ray and Bill Kilgarlin to resign, State Sen. Frank Tejeda said he will push a resolution to probe charges of judicial impropriety by the pair.

Meanwhile, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Speaker Gib Lewis said they will appoint a 15-member panel to study judicial reform in general. So far, they haven't responded to House Republicans who want to consider impeachment of the two Democratic justices.

Hobby and Lewis have more important things on their minds right now. Some lawmakers have publicly criticized them, along with Gov. Bill Clements, for the Legislature's failure to adopt a state budget during the regular session.

Budget All-Important
Right now, for them and Texas, the budget is all-important.

This special session cannot fail to adopt at least a one-year budget. Too little time is left to allow the be raised two percent.

Those attending the meeting said that several new taxes were discussed, including state income and corporate taxes. Apparently no one suggested cutting the budget to meet current revenue levels.

Burden on Lewis, House

The governor immediately responded by adding a ban on state income taxes to the special session agenda.

Thus, the special session opened last week with Clements and Hobby unchanged in their positions and poles apart.

The burden of compromise falls on the shoulders of Lewis and the House leadership, Democrats and Republicans alike, to come up with a state budget for Texas.

Bills Signed

Clements continued to sign bills into law, including a repeal of the sales tax on newspaper and magazine subscriptions.

He also signed a pro-business package which creates a state department of commerce, partially deregulates the trucking industry and rewrites civil justice laws.

Other Highlights

- Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro last week told Congress that ships use the Gulf of Mexico daily as a garbage disposal, causing tons of refuse to wash ashore.

- A high-ranking Navy official promised that the U.S. Navy fleet would not participate in such pollution.

- Mauro said some 20,000 ships docked in Texas last year and only 90 turned in any garbage at port. The rest dumped their waste at sea, costing the state about $14 million to clean up.

- Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox accused airlines of practicing "bait-and-switch" advertising and asked consumers to send in complaints. He alleged airlines are advertising discounted fares but not making an adequate number of seats available.

- Airline officials strongly denied the allegation. They will meet with Mattox to discuss consumer complaints.

- The Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority is reconsidering sites along the I-35 corridor from Dallas to Laredo.

Mr. and Ms. Booth English were out driving Monday when they came upon a rattlesnake. Getting out of his buggy, Mr. English proceeded to kill the snake, cowboy fashion, with a doubled-up rope. After he had dispatched the snake he felt something scratching his arm and upon examination found one of the snake's fangs sticking in his shirt sleeve. He bound wet tobacco to the scratch, and has not suffered any inconvenience from it. The supposition is that the snake caught and broke off one of its fangs in the rope. It was a pretty close call.

-Letters to the Editor-

Editor: I hope everyone in Haskell and all of the surrounding small towns realize how lucky they are to live where people know you and really care.

I had car trouble in Haskell on Tuesday, June 16. I just want to say "thank you" to the people of Modern Way. They were so kind to me. The manager and several others looked at my car and offered assistance. They allowed me to make long distance phone calls.

My special thanks to the young man who carried a five-gallon bottle of water out for me and filled the radiator and then told me what I needed to buy to fix it.

The owners of Modern Way should be proud to have such caring people in their employ.

Thanks

Editor: The Sagerton fund-raising committee would like to thank the many generous people who donated to the Sagerton Fire Department.

We raised enough money to pay our part on the new fire truck and maybe enough to put some doors on the fire station. We now have some of the best fire-fighting equipment in the area.

Thanks again for coming through when you were needed.

Vernon omitted

Editor: When I attended the Haskell rural school reunion at the Haskell Civic Center I registered and also listed the names of the two rural schools I had attended, one being Tanner Paint and the other being Vernon where I started to school in the late 20s.

In reading the list of schools in The Haskell Free Press I failed to see the Vernon school.

Justice can be strange. Bernie Goetz was acquitted of attempted murder after shooting those hoodlums on a New York subway. But he was convicted of carrying a gun.

Something doesn't ring. It's all right to shoot someone when you have a reason, but it's against the law to have a gun?

I'm reminded of a cartoon depicting a man with casts on both arms and one leg talking to an insurance agent. Said the agent: "Sure, your policy covers falling off a ladder, but it doesn't cover hitting the ground."

Thanks, but no thanks to Walter Fronstin of Lubbock, district director of the U.S. Small Business Administration.

He sent along a multi-page propaganda release extolling the merits of the SBA, along with a cover letter saying that he was providing it "at no fee."

I read the first three pages, but never did see anything of news value.

Abilene Cooper's state baseball championship did more in the Big Country to generate interest in the national pastime than anything since Rogers Horsby came out of Winters to carve his name in the baseball Hall of Fame.

Not too many high schools in this area have baseball teams. Consequently, Cooper became just about everybody's team.

One of the real drawbacks in living in Haskell is that we don't have public (educational) television.

Of the volumes of "publicity" releases promoting TV programs which cross this desk weekly, the only one I ever read is the one which comes from KERA (Dallas). On July 1, for instance, the seven major Democratic candidates for president will face each other in a live debate on public TV. Republican candidates will square off on Sept. 2.

But not in Haskell. It's a shame.

Sometimes words just don't come out right. Under the "Good Morning" column in Wednesday's Abilene Reporter-News was this example:

"If you're around Clyde this morning, you might stop in at the Bailey Funeral Home and say hello to Frank Bailey..."

The story went on to say that fellow citizens were honoring Bailey with a reception in recognition of his 40 years in the funeral business in Clyde.

CNN is getting into the act. Every day, the all-news channel asks a yes-or-no question on something or somebody in the news and requests listeners call in their votes.

But I have problems with some of the questions, like this one the other day: "Do you think the captain of the USS Stark should be court-martialed?" That's a pretty stiff question about something which is under investigation.

Don't you think Tom Watson bears a striking resemblance to Nebraska football coach Tom Osborne?

I'm talking about the golfer, not the fire chief.

type of political games that were played in the regular session.
In fact, those who seem to know the rules say the budget decision was postponed to separate it, and save it, from the inevitable political maneuvering.

Chairman to Cut
So far, work on the budget hasn't been going all that well. The House Appropriations Committee, unable to agree on cuts, went home last week and left chairman Jim Rudd to make about $1 billion in cuts by himself over the weekend.

That act was remarkable, not only for the displayed trust in Rudd, a conservative Democrat, but for the gesture of throwing the ball back into the leadership's lap. The committee won't necessarily rubber stamp the results, but it gives the leadership a chance to write its case.

Two Percent Hike
This version may well wind up being the form for the new budget. Lewis and the House have been caught from the start between Clements with his no new tax stance and Hobby and the Senate's pro-tax program.

Last week, Hobby met with some 50 business leaders and afterwards said all state taxes might

—Weinert News—

By Myrtle Phemister

Among the many fathers in Weinert who were honored on Sunday was Pud Brockett, whose daughter Coleen, with her husband, W.C. Nance, drove up from Houston to be with her family on Father's Day. Coleen has had physical problems, so we were surprised and pleased, she was able to come this far.

Others who attended the get-together were a nephew, Jerry Collins, of Gallup, N.M.; Courtney Reeves, a granddaughter from Lubbock and a daughter, Jo-boy Coffman of Goree; and a son, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Brockett of Munday.

Wayne and Linda Phemister, with Lincoln and Laura, are spending a few days vacation with relatives and friends here before returning to their home in Austin.

Chesley Forehand attended the Forehand reunion held at Ft. Belnap on Father's Day, but illness kept Jean from accompanying him. The entire Forehand family are former residents fo Weinert and we have fond memories of the family.

The First Baptist Church honored several fathers on Sunday, beginning with a chocolate cake being given to Hal Guess as the youngest father at worship. The fathers with the most children present was a tie between Lyndo Guess and Kenneth Sanders.

The only father who was served breakfast in bed was Joe Yates, but because of absence he was not awarded the prize.

John Mayfield was honored with having all of his children home, and at worship with them on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mayfield of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rimmer with Adrienne of De Soto, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Ricketts of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mayfield entertained their daughter Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham of Ranson Springs, Texas; grandsons, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Teague, Melissa and Justin of Haskell, and Mondy Mayfield of Weinert.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Wade of Abilene visited her parents, Toby and Alice Yates, and other relatives over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Glasscock, with Jackie, LaDonna, Jimmy, Billy, Johnnie, Rusty, Amanda, Cody and Tanya of San Angelo, were here to visit their parents and grandparents, the Roy Phemisters, and attended worship services on Sunday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hatfield of Munday.

Faye Brian entertained her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Johnson of Sacramento, California, and other relatives on the weekend. They returned to their home on Monday.

Jeanie Forehand is improving in health, and a visit from her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Skipworth, of Robert Lee, and a sister, Brenda Lawrence, was very beneficial in breaking the monotony of her continual bed-rest confinement.

David and Peggy Phemister, with Marcus Wayne, and Greg left today for Chicago, Ill. to spend a few days there with their son, Capt. D. Bryan Phemister and wife Rosemarie. Bryan is a Marine, stationed there.

Dale and Doris Carroll, Darlene, Dianne and Denise attended the Carroll family reunion held at the Civic Center in Haskell the past weekend.

Rene Vojkufka was honoree at a birthday dinner given by her children, as she celebrated her "39th" birthday. She looks, and acts as lovely and light as the balloon that floated over the dinner table, and proved the saying, "You are only as old as you feel!" Many, many, more, Rene!

Larry and Linda Sanders, Robert and Lynette of Los Alamos are in our area for a few days and will spend some time with Larry's parents, R.S. and Betty Sanders, and also with Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffith of Paint Creek.

Len Mahan underwent surgery on his shoulder on Tuesday, June 22, and is recovering in the Hendricks Hospital in Abilene.

Our birthday people this week are Shelia Castorena, Tencha Gonzales, Kelly Earp, Brenda Sanders and Jerry Hester. Happy Birthday to each, and congratulations.

Superintendent Lyndo Guess, and Principal Chesley Forehand have finished their training and have both been recertified as teacher-appraisers. We commend these two for their dedication to the teaching profession, and we appreciate the work they do for our small school.

The WMU of the Weinert Baptist Church will host a salad supper, Thursday, June 25, at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Michelle Keil of Edinburg will be the featured speaker at the event, and area ladies are invited. Mrs. Keil is the mother of Debbie Crump.

Heather Guess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Guess, is attending the G.A. camp in Lueders this week. She was included in the group that went from the Munday church.

Helen Boykin was in Munday to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Chan Hughes, and later enjoyed a visit with Chat and Bub Adams, formerly of Weinert, now residing in Munday.

Betty and Bobby Carroll of Nashville, Arkansas were in town to attend the Carroll reunion. They reported Ted and Edna Boykin are well, and adjusting to Arkansas climate.

May the Lord Bless and Keep you, today and always!

50th Annual Reunion

Approximately 65 desendants of the late Jim and Ophelia Alexander gathered at the Kiva Inn in Abilene for their 50th Annual family reunion, with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Caddell of Springtown in charge.

There were 13 children born to the family, with 11 being raised to maturity, and each family was represented, save one. The family of Simeon was not represented because of illness in the family.

The one coming the fatherest was Mrs. Leroy Fisher, from California, the dauther-in-law of Willie Alexander Fisher. The eldest on present was Ina

Stewart of Weinert.

One special event was the surprise birthday party given for Rene Vojkufka on Saturday night. (She thought no one knew it was her birthday)

Larry Caddell was speaker at the family devotion held in the chapel on Sunday.

Next years' chairman will be Mr. and Mrs. Tiffen Mayfield of Weinert.

Youths enjoy retreat

A group of 11 Luthererians left Haskell Monday, June 15 and traveled to San Antonio. They stayed at the home of Rev. Jimmy Hopper's parents and swam and ate and then went down to the river walk to explore. The next morning, Rev. Katie Hopper took all but Jimmy and baby Kelly to South Padre Island.

The time at the beach was enjoyed by all. They stayed in a condominium directly on the beach, cooked most meals in the room, fed seagulls from the balcony and took long walks on the beach.

The beach afforded the perfect place to swim and sun and on their final night there, just before going out to eat at Louis' Backyard, they shared worship with communion on the beach. It was sunset and the tide was going out and communion was taken out of sea shells which had been gathered earlier and washed.

Next morning, after shopping for souvenirs, the group returned to the senior Hoppers' home in San Antonio. They enjoyed hamburgers by the pool and then a movie in town. They returned to Haskell on Friday by way of shopping at the Mexican market and in Fredricksburg.

Members of the group were Louetta and David Davis, Nole and Loutina Hadaway, Davis Chapman, Nancy and Leiza Morales, Gina Turnbow and the Revs. Katie and Jimmy Hopper and their son Kelly.

A perfect record

Baseball team reaches midway point

Haskell's teenage baseball team reached the midway point of its 1987 season last week with a perfect 6-0 record in the Cotton Belt League play.

The Indians, made up of boys age 16-18, have two victories each over all other league teams, Jayton, Knox City and Munday. Between now and July 16, the end of the regular season, Haskell will play each of them twice more.

This is the first time in several years that Haskell has fielded a team in the senior division of Texas Teenage Baseball.

The winner of the district championship will advance to the district tournament, to be played in Haskell July 27-29. The district winner will advance to the state tournament.

Coached by Mike Cook and Sergeant Jirick, the Indians are fielding a senior team this season for the first time in several years.

Making up the Haskell team are Tim Alexander, first-base; Michael Mendoza, catcher and pitcher; Ponciano Lopez, catcher, pitcher and third-baseman; Patrick Perez, shortstop and pitcher; Marty Decker, second-baseman.

Derrick Billington and Stephon Brockington, outfielders; Paul Ozuna, outfielder and catcher; Steven Rodriguez, second-baseman and pitcher; Salvador Rodriguez, second-baseman and pitcher; Bobby Alvarez, third-baseman and pitcher; Albert Alvarez, outfielder and pitcher; and Leonard Villarreal, third-baseman and pitcher.

All are from Haskell with the exception of Bobby Alvarez, who is from Stamford. Two players from Hamlin were to join the team this week.

The Indians play on Monday and Thursday evenings, with all games beginning at 7:30. All Monday games are at home and all Thursday games are away.

Make it 7-0 for Indians

The Haskell Indian teenage baseball team brought its season record to 7-0 here Monday night with a hard-earned 7-6 squeaker over Munday.

The Indians saw a 3-0 lead melt away in the fourth inning when Munday rallied for three runs to tie the score. After Haskell went ahead 7-3, Munday fought back with three more runs in the top of the seventh to pull within one run of the victors.

Last Thursday, the Indians defeated Knox City by a score of 14-3.

Next game for Haskell will be tonight (Thursday) at Jayton. The Indians will play Knox City here next Monday.

Only five games remain on the schedule.

Randy Stone named basketball coach

Haskell native Randy Stone will coach the Haskell Indian basketball team next season. He also will be an assistant football coach, and will have other coaching assignments, in addition to teaching English, health and physical education.

He succeeds Alan Atchison as Indian basketball coach. Atchison, who coached here one year, resigned in the spring, but has been hired as a classroom teacher.

Stone moves to Haskell from Paint Creek where he has spent eight years as a coach and teacher. He was girls' basketball and track coach and an assistant football coach at Paint Creek. Earlier, he had taught and coached at Abilene State School and at Eula High School.

Stone graduated from Haskell High School in 1971 where he participated in football, basketball and track. He received his degree from McMurry.

He and his wife, Janie, and their 6-year-old son, Cody, have purchased a home in Haskell. Mrs. Stone will continue in her position as elementary teacher at Paint Creek.

Randy Stone

Haskell Nursing Center

Haskell Church of Christ and Assembly of God are holding services for our residents during the month of June.

Randy McLelland comes each week and plays his guitar and sings. This week he ministered to residents who are unable to leave their rooms.

We appreciate Rev. Hodge's messages and his faithfulness on Wednesdays.

Our residents enjoyed going to the East Side Baptist Church for the Sunshine group luncheon. The lunch was delicious. Cole Ford led a ladies' choir from the First Baptist Church. Their program and music were delightful. They are accompanied by Ellen Rieger.

Friday morning our residents and staff were entertained with a Father's Day party. Each man received a red carnation. Cookies and punch were served. The two oldest fathers, Pat Martin and Robert Koonce, were honored. The youngest father is Alvin Koonce and the father with the most children is George Goble. We were entertained with music by Ann and James Sinclair of Paint Creek Baptist Church.

Robert Monse celebrated his birthday Friday with the pastor and a group of children from Sagerton Lutheran Church.

Visitors this week were Jada Powell from Odessa with Loyd Wade and George Goble; Bennie and Nora Ammons from Pampa and Brownfield with Ray Oliphant; Joey Spalding and Polly Houghton of Hamlin with Pauline Williams; Doris Lehmann of Rule with Robert Monse; Bill and Margie Cardwell with Clint Langford and Dorothy Taggart of Snyder with Eddie Smith; Emmett and Virginia Palmer of Plainview with Arvella Holland. Also visiting Arvella Holland were Marciline Toddy, Bill Todd and Boone Brown, all of Stephenville.

Thelma Thomas and Lucile Gannaway were visitors over the weekend.

Funds established for ailing girl

Funds have been established at both Haskell banks for the benefit of Kristi Brister.

Miss Brister, daughter of Vernon and Judy Brister, is hospitalized in Stamford, and is expected to be incapacitated for some time.

Those interested in assisting with her medical expenses may make contributions to a fund at either the Haskell National Bank or the First National Bank.

Country Club plans holiday family party

Haskell Country Club will host its annual 4th of July party for members and out-of-town guests on July 4.

A golf tournament and games for family members will begin at 1 p.m. A hamburger supper is planned for the evening, and a fireworks display will begin at sundown.

Members are encouraged to attend the activities, and to bring their families.
