

Teachers: 3 hired 1 resigns

Three new teachers have been added to the Haskell school faculty for the upcoming school term, and a long-time educator has resigned.

Approval of the hirings and the resignation came last week at the School Board meeting.

Two new members of the staff are former Haskell teachers. Pamela Thigpen of Haskell will return as an elementary teacher and Olson LeFevre will be building trades instructor, heading a department which is being revived after several years' absence. LeFevre, who formerly held the same position here, has been teaching at Tyler Junior College.

The other new teacher will be Phillip Walter Hargrove of Hamlin, who will teach and coach at the secondary school level. (It previously had been reported in The Free Press that Brad McCoy was hired for this position, but the Lovington, N.M., man decided not to accept the position.)

Also hired was Sharon Deanne Jordan as a special education aide at the elementary school.

The resignation was that of H. L. Holt, secondary school math teacher and former football coach at Haskell High School. Holt has accepted a position as head coach and athletic director at Whitesboro. Mrs. Holt, who has been a special education aide, also resigned.

Two new policy changes, one dealing with gifts or "kickbacks" from salesmen and suppliers and the other pertaining to salaries of personnel transferred to different job classifications, were approved by the Board.

Under the first change, no school personnel will be authorized to accept as personal gifts any incentives given for school purchases of goods or services. The other change will allow a school employee transferred to another classification to receive the salary of the higher-paid position for two years or until the salary schedule catches up, whichever comes first.

In other action, the Board:

- Amended the pay scale of lunch room workers, raising salaries of workers with more than five years of service by $1.49 per day. Lunch room workers also will be paid for the four or five days they are required to attend school.

- Accepted the bid for the First National Bank of Haskell as depository of school funds for the 1987-89 biennium.

- Accepted a bid of $3,980 from Queen Roofing Co. for a shingle roof on the home economics cottage.

- Tabled bids from three engineering firms for a heating and cooling design system at the secondary school.

- Authorized the superintendent to purchase a new computer for the administration office and to sell the one now in use.

- Reviewed and discussed the basic learner goals previously adopted.

- Reviewed and discussed action of the regular session of the State Legislature.

- Discussed the school dress code and reviewed a number of recent legal decisions dealing with attire and grooming.

- Heard reports from the superintendent on the progress of a number of tax suits, the upcoming mid-summer conference for administrators he will attend, and the progress in scheduling of teachers and students.

Driving course to be offered here next week

A defensive driving course will be given Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Experienced Citizens Center in Haskell.

Each session begins at 6 o'clock and will continue until 10.

This course is being given for insurance purposes only.

But Haskell County suffers least

Retail sales take a dive

By Wendell Faught

Retail sales in Haskell County in 1986 were down 9.7 percent from the previous year, but the decline was less than it was in any neighboring county.

Sales at the retail level in Haskell County totaled $33,546,080, according to figures of the State Comptroller. This figure compares with $37,184,562 in 1985.

All counties bordering Haskell County reported bigger drops, ranging from 11.7 percent in Jones County to a whopping 33 percent in Shackelford County.

In between these two extremes were Throckmorton County, down 23.2 percent; Stonewall, down 22.7 percent; Knox, down 16.7 percent; and Baylor, down 16 percent.

By the quarter, Haskell County's retail sales last year went like this:

First quarter, $7,496,680; second quarter, $7,843,557; third quarter, $8,174,874; fourth quarter, $10,030,969.

It was much the same story in gross sales in all industries, which include retail sales as well as agriculture, mining, manufacturing, utilities and wholesale trade. Haskell

County fell from $58,797,282 in 1985 to $51,451,510 last year, a drop of 12.5 percent.

The Haskell County decline, percentagewise, was matched by Baylor County with an identical 12.5 drop, but all other neighboring counties showed bigger drops.

Gross sales in Shackelford County were down by 37.6 percent, while Jones County suffered a 25-percent decline.

Sales were down 24 percent in Throckmorton County, 23.8 percent in Stonewall, and 21.1 percent in Knox.

Faye Mullino

Faye Mullino state Hereford queen

Faye Mullino, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mullino of Rochester was elected Texas Hereford queen during the annual Texas Junior Hereford Association Field Day June 26-27 at the Lone Star Hereford Ranch in Henrietta.

As Texas Hereford queen, Faye will represent the Hereford industry at all livestock shows and other events. She will travel throughout Texas, and in some other states, performing duties deemed necessary in promoting the Hereford industry.

Being interested in all phases of the Hereford and its future comes naturally to Faye as her family has raised Hereford cattle for five generations. She has been showing Hereford heifers and steers since she was 9 years old and has brought home many ribbons and trophies.

Faye is a junior at Rochester High School where she is active in nearly all school activities, including FHA, band, volleyball, basketball and the school annual. She also is a cheerleader. She is active in local and county 4-H and serves on the senior board of directors of the Texas Junior Hereford Association. She also is a member of the Texas Club Calf Association.

Faye is a member of the First Baptist Church of Rochester.

Haskell to host baseball tournament

Haskell will be host July 27-29 to a district tournament of Texas Teenage Baseball.

Three teams will play in the tournament, Haskell, Eastland and Breckenridge. Winner of the local tournament will advance to the state tournament in Sweetwater the first week in August.

The tournament gets underway on the night of July 27 (Monday) when Haskell plays Eastland. The game begins at 7:30.

Winner of the first night's game will meet Breckenridge in the first of two Tuesday night games (July 28). That game will start at 6 and will be followed by another game between the loser of the first game and Monday night's loser.

On Wednesday, the winners of Tuesday night's games will meet at 6 p.m. A second game, if necessary, will follow. The tournament is a double-elimination event and a team will not be eliminated until it has lost two games.

Haskell will face a tough opponent in Monday's opening round. The Eastland team has lost just one game this season, that being to an Abilene team which had several members of the state high school champion Cooper team.

Haskell completed an undefeated regular season, posting a 12-0 record in a league which included Munday, Jayton and Knox City, in addition to Haskell.

The Haskell team is coached by Mike Cook and Sergeant Jirick.

Haskell will play a practice game tonight (Thursday), against Anson. The game begins at 7:30.

National Cotton Council to demonstrate new system

Haskell County cotton producers will soon be able to get government loan applications processed rapidly through a computer network link to the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

To familiarize farmers with the new setup, the National Cotton Council will demonstrate the telecommunications network in Haskell Tuesday morning. All county producers are invited to attend the demonstration, which begins at 9 o'clock at Haskell National Bank.

The ASCS link is one of several features of the Cotton Telecommunications Network, a new electronics system designed by the National Cotton Council to put timely information at industry subscribers' fingertips.

Haskell is one of nine Texas counties which have been tentatively selected for network participation. Others are Dawson, Floyd, Glasscock, Hale, Jones, Lamb, Lubbock and Lynn.

"Producers will be able to send information from their class cards and warehouse receipts directly to ASCS via the Cotton Telecommunications Network," said Joe Wyrick, the Council's information systems manager. "Each participating ASCS office will be able to retrieve the data and begin the loan processing immediately."

Wyrick said a successful pilot of the ASCS link in five counties across the Cotton Belt last year prompted USDA to make it more widely available. He anticipates the system will be in use by producers in some 24 counties in seven states by early October.

"The loan processing feature may get the attention of innovative cotton producers this year, but once other industry segments see the system's various uses and time-saving capabilities we believe they'll want to get on the network too," Wyrick said.

If the ASCS link proves popular with participating growers, it could very well be expanded into other Cotton Belt counties in 1988, he added.

The CTN also provides an "electronic mail" link that allows users to send messages from their computers to those of other subscribers or to the Council offices in Memphis and Washington.

CTN subscribers also have access to files containing a broad range of timely cotton industry information, including cotton prices, futures, spot quotations, and options that are updated each trading day. Statistical data offers cotton production figures and supply/demand estimates, and a weather file gives producers updated forecasts.

The CTN is managed by the Council and supported by The Cotton Foundation. Those who want to subscribe to the network or need more information should contact Wyrick at the Council, 1918 N. Parkway, Memphis, TN 38112.

Sales tax receipts to City $8,595.69

The City of Haskell has received a check for $8,595.69 from the State Comptroller for the one-percent city sales tax on sales made in May and reported by June 20.

Amount of the check compares favorably with the check for $8,924.46 received last year for the same period.

So far this year, the City has received $81,244.73 from the one-percent sales tax. For the same period last year, Haskell received $92,828.84. Percentagewise, the decrease comes to 12.48 percent.

Pule was the only other Haskell County city receiving a check this month. It was for $2,041.48.

CHAMPIONS

92 attend McBroom reunion

A campout reunion of the McBroom family was held June 12-14 at the home of Julius and Novelle Perryman of Jacksboro.

Several family members brought their tents and camped out, while others stayed in motels or drove in for breakfast Sunday morning.

Tables, chairs and cooking equipment were set up under a large carport. Saturday lunch was sandwiches, chips and dessert. About 50 people were served beef stew, crackers and dessert at Saturday night's supper.

Adults played 42 and 84 after supper while others reminisced about bygone days until 11 p.m. The younger generation roasted weiners and marshmallows, counted stars and watched the moon rise while strolling along the country road.

Sunday began with a sunrise breakfast of bacon, eggs, hot biscuits, butter and jelly served to about 80 people. A 10 o'clock worship service was held outside with a host of gospel songs led by the nephews. A brother, Henry, brought the gospel message. A video tape was made by a nephew.

Nina and Gary Sheets of Graham were honored guests. Nina, a former sister-in-law, was struck with paralysis eight years ago, but is still a loved sister to the family. Gary made a video tape of each separate family unit.

Ninety-two persons were served barbecue, beans, potato salad, coleslaw and dessert. The oldest persons attending the reunion were two uncles, aged 81 and 76.

Another session? Money woes remain

AUSTIN—Lawmakers are speculating that a second special session will be needed to balance the state budget with a new tax plan. The current session closes July 21.

After the plan to tax insurance policies blew up in the Senate last week, scuttled by thousands of consumer protests, the leadership searched for new revenue sources and found nothing on which they could agree.

First, lawmakers must agree on how much to spend, and the budget committee labored all weekend to forge a compromise before time runs out next week.

Pro-tax legislators took some hope from Gov. Bill Clements' softened stance on new taxes, if it can be called that.

Clements indicated he may not veto a tax bill so long as the budget is around $38 billion. "If they put that bill on my desk, I assure you I would sign it. So there is a bottom line," he said.

Mixed Signals Up

The next day, the governor retook his position against taxes after meeting with a group of Houston businessmen.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Clements' signals are mixed, and he is steadily faulted for that and for his failure to hold press conferences. On his side, he receives mixed signals, too, from a Legislature that has neither a budget nor a tax plan.

The frustration was enough to prompt Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, to tell reporters that maybe what's needed is a new governor, a new lieutenant governor, a new speaker and a whole new Legislature.

Sports Agents, Jails

On the positive side, the Senate approved a bill requiring sports agents to register yearly with the Texas Secretary of State.

Also passed was a bill allowing cities to contract with private firms to build and operate new jails. Clements vetoed a similar bill because of a Houston-area clause.

The sports bill limits agents' contacts with college athletes, bans unregistered agents, and requires they file copies of contracts they sign.

Attorney General Jim Mattox wants SMU trustees to probe the actions of the previous panel headed by Gov. Clements, in an effort to resolve the problem of illegal payments to football players. Mattox wants to know if any de-isions were improper and should be countermanded.

Hobby and Mattox

In recent weeks, Mattox has stepped up his political attacks on his probable 1990 gubernatorial opponent, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Mattox paints Hobby as a rich man who likes to go fox hunting and is out of touch with common people. Mattox calls himself "The People's Lawyer."

Last week, Hobby finally retorted and said Mattox was a weak candidate, maybe the weakest, for the governor's post or any other post, since he barely squeaked by his Republican opponent last November. "The way he's campaigned against me in a personal way disqualifies him for the nomination," Hobby said.

Mattox wasn't silenced. He said he is tired of cleaning up the mess made by the Legislature, a thinly veiled slam at Hobby.

Loeffler, Contras

The Republican who could run that same race, former Congressman Tom Loeffler, last week became President Reagan's chief lobbyist for the Contras and other Central American affairs.

The post not only takes Loeffler out of his law office and back into politics, but provides him with a tie to conservative Texas Hispanics.

Loeffler said he will work for continued aid to the Nicaraguan Contras.

Other Highlights

- The lottery issue was revived by Sen. Hector Uribe, D-Brownsville, who proposed dedicating the proceeds to public schools.

- House lottery opponent Rep. David Hudson, D-Tyler, called it legislative bribery using the school children of Texas.

- Uribe, meanwhile, said he is considering a 1988 race against Texas Supreme Court Justice Raul Gonzalez.

- He said Gonzalez, the first statewide elected Hispanic, is considered too conservative by a group of teachers, labor unions and trial lawyers which would support Uribe.

Ask VA

Q: I have VA insurance which has recently been placed on waiver of premium. Will I continue to participate in the yearly dividend?

A: Yes. The fact that your policy is on waiver of premiums does not affect your yearly dividend.

Q: What is the minimum age a veteran may begin to receive a VA pension?

A: There is no minimum age. Entitlement to pension is based on qualifying service, income within the statutory limits and permanent and total disability as established by law. Veterans over the age of 65 are presumed to meet the disability requirements and therefore do not need medical evidence of disability.

Resignations of two faculty members at Paint Creek High School, Mrs. R. B. Rowland, homemaking teacher, and J. C. O'Neal, high school principal and football coach, were accepted at a recent meeting of the Paint Creek School Board.

An explosion and fire which followed the blast almost totally destroyed the four-room residence of Paul Dunlap, located just outside the south city limits, early Sunday night.

The possibility of adding a new well to the municipal system this week brightened prospects for easing Haskell's scarce water supply. But keeping an adequate supply in the elevated tower and mains continued to be a day-to-day problem, Water Commissioner Jim Byrd said Wednesday.

Need for strengthening and developing a more active membership in the Haskell Chamber of Commerce was the principal topic discussed at the monthly meeting of the C of C directors Tuesday morning in the banquet room of the Texas Cafe.

Four members of the Haskell fire department plan to attend the annual State Firemen's Training School at College Station next week. They are Floyd Lusk, Sonny Reynolds, Ray Overton Jr. and Jim Alvis.

Paint Creek High School, plagued for years with an inadequate water supply system, this week completed installation of a three-mile pipeline to Lake Stamford which will provide a permanent supply of water for the school plant and teacherages.

-Letters to the Editor-

Editor: My name is Bernard Williams and I am presently incarcerated at Lebanon Correctional Institute.

I am suffering from alcohol/drug addiction, which have plagued my life for more than a decade. I am in the process of treatment which is proving to be very effective except for a few major setbacks, or "sticking points."

I am writing this letter to you from a state of desperation in hope that you may sympathize with my plight and help me. I am trying to ask if you would print the following in your paper:

"Male, 28, lonely, in desperate need of correspondence with caring person. Write to Bernard Williams 194-804, LECI, P.O. Box 56, Lebanon Ohio 45036."

Thank you very much and may God bless all your endeavors with success.

Correspondence

Editor: The story goes that a young man walking along the beach at dawn met an old man picking up starfish from the beach and flinging them into the sea. The youth asked what he was doing. The answer was that the stranded starfish would die if left until the morning sun.

"But the beach goes on for miles and there are millions of starfish," countered the young man. "How can your effort make any difference?"

The old man looked at the starfish in his hand and then threw it to safety in the waves. "It makes a difference to this one," he said.

Making a difference is what the work of the humanitarians of this world is all about. Cases of animal cruelty are brought to court and tried one at a time but those who work with these lawbreakers keep seeing the same faces again and again. After all animal cruelty is a misdemeanor in our state, hardly a slap on the wrist of the individual who beat the puppy to death because it soiled the carpet!

During the past session of the Texas State Legislature, two bills extremely important to the welfare of animals passed the lawmakers and arrived at the governor's desk. HB 151 would make a third conviction of cruelty to animals a felony. HB 746 outlines minimum standards for riding stables.

Governor Clements vetoed both bills!

Why would any civilized person be against any bill meant to end the suffering of even one animal, much less countless voiceless creatures?

Only Governor Clements knows. Claire Lewis

"Did we screw up? You bet we did."

With those eight one-syllable words Lee Iacocca did more to protect the credibility of Chrysler Corp. than all of the excuses and public relations input he could have mustered.

Here was the president of an industrial giant admitting to the public that his company had sold as new some test cars which had been run with disconnected odometers.

This was wrong and Iacocca met the issue headon.

So when the Chrysler chief said that it would not happen again, I would bet that just about every American consumer believed him.

If only more big businessmen, and politicians, would admit mistakes, and correct them, instead of toe-dancing around the issues with fancy verbal footwork, a lot of lost faith in the American system could be restored.

In the 80-years-ago column, there is reference to "roasting ears." For the benefit of the younger generation, that's corn-on-the-cob.

Time has erased a lot of words and terms people once used. Remember when you were losing weight you were "falling off"? And if you looked like your dad, you "favored him"? Tires were "casings" and high-top shoes were "brogans."

Quote of the week: "I've never been qualified for anything I've done." . . . Sonny Bono on his candidacy for mayor of Palm Springs, Calif.

Move over Iacocca.

If you think the 1988 presidential campaign is starting off a little early, how about the Texas gubernatorial race?

Jim Mattox and Bill Hobby already are attacking each other. They're prospective candidates—for the 1990 race.

Oral Roberts is slipping fast. A recent survey reveals that only 28 percent of those surveyed give him a favorable rating, with 72 percent rating him "unfavorable."

Only two televangelists included in the survey, Billy Graham at 76 percent and Robert Schuller at 61 percent, are rated favorably by a majority. Pat Robertson came in at 50 percent.

Jimmy Swaggart had a 44-percent favorable rating and Jerry Falwell came in at 38 percent. Then came Roberts, followed by Jim Bakker with a 23-percent score.

Looks like trouble's ahead for Roberts. He may be able to raise the dead, but with his big drop in credibility, he may not be able to keep raising cash.

Cancer benefit planned for Knox County

The Vera community will host the Knox County American Cancer Society talent show and bake sale Aug. 1.

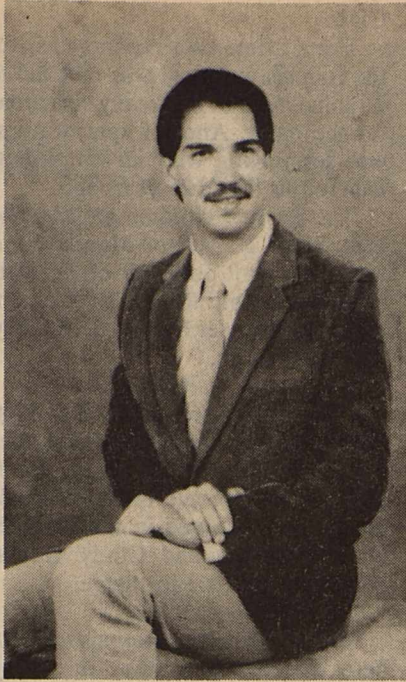

Talent will be from the Knox County area. Sam Albright of KWFT radio in Wichita Falls will serve as master of ceremonies.

Everyone is invited to help support the American Cancer Society by attending the bake sale, which will be at 6 p.m., prior to the talent show at 7.

The cancer society has helped eight patients in Knox County alone, representing $3,230 in services. In addition, four patients have been served in Baylor County at a cost of $773. Only 5 cents out of each $1.13 in funds go to administrative costs, due chiefly to volunteer workers.

It is Knox County's goal to receive a "Best Year" award. Sponsors of the talent show/bake sale urge area citizens to help put Knox County over the top by taking an active part in the bake sale and attending the open air talent show.

Events will be in the new Vera Community Center.

Haskell phone calls routed to Ft. Worth

Long distance telephone assistance from Haskell is now being handled by the AT&T operator services center in Fort Worth.

The changeover was effective Tuesday of last week (July 14) when the GTE telephone operator traffic office in Seymour closed.

Closing of the Seymour office ends an era which began in the early 1900s, said R. J. Meyers, Mid-Texas division general manager for GTE.

Meyers said the change is a result of a U.S. District Court judgment that resulted when GTE acquired GTE Sprint (now U.S. Sprint) and GTE Spacenet. "The consent decree prohibited GTE from expanding or modernizing its long distance facilities or operator offices like the one in Seymour unless budgeted prior to 1983," Meyers said.

Operators in the Seymour office have handled long distance assistance and directory assistance service for GTE customers in Aspermont, Benjamin, Crowell, Haskell, Jermyn, Knox City, Megargel, Munday-

Goree, Newcastle, Olney, Rochester, Rule and Throckmorton. They also handled services for the non-GTE telephone towns in Lake Kemp, Loving, Orth, Elbert, Thalia and Truscott. They processed more than 6,500 calls per day.

Twenty operators were employed in the Seymour office at its closing.

Mike King top rider at Stamford

(The following article appeared last week in the Stamford American over the byline of Jennifer Craig. King is formerly from Haskell and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen King of Haskell.)

They say you should save the best for last, and that's just what the Texas Cowboy Reunion did in 1987. Mike King of Stephenville thrilled the cheering crowd Saturday night with his classic bull ride.

The judges were as impressed as the spectators and awarded King an 84 score for his ride on Jump Short, a bull which generally spins its riders into the ground.

The significance of the 84 marking is underscored by the fact that the second-place winner in the bull riding posted a 72, a score which would be a winner in many years. Roddy Coquet of Weatherford had to settle for second this time though.

Weinert News

By Myrtle Phemister

Bobbie and Frank Pickering of Weatherford were in town last week to visit Bobbie's mother, Ima Stewart and other relatives in our area.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Robertson of Grapevine and Mr. and Mrs. Robby Hollingsworth with Lane, of South Lake were recent visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Robertson.

Kerry and Darlene Therwanger of Megargel were in town Sunday afternoon to spend some time in the home of her parents, Dale and Doris Carroll.

Effie Mae Jones of Hobbs, New Mexico and her daughter, Teresa Jones of Houston were in Weinert to visit a sister, Bertie Alexander and other relatives last week.

Bertie accompanied them on a trip to other cities to visit all the other sisters. They were in Moran, Ft. Worth and Gorman before returning home to Weinert on Sunday afternoon.

Chesley Forehand was in Stephenville Sunday to take Louis Perez for his week of training before the State 6-Man football game to be played there on Saturday, July 18th.

Ricky Perez was named to the roster of the State Basketball team, but was unable to go because of a former knee injury.

Tiffen and Erlinda Mayfield were in Brownwood this weekend for a class reunion of the graduating class of '58.

Other class reunion plans are for the class of 1937, who will observe their 50th anniversary with a reunion planned for the month of May. Jona Caddell and Laverne Mayfield are on the planning committee.

Cypert Reunion

Bobby and Rowena Hester hosted the annual reunion for the descendants of the Ivy and Clara Cypert family, held July 11-12 at their Fort Phantom lake home. Approximately 50 family members were in attendance for the weekend of boating, fishing, horse shoe pitching, card games, etc. that make a family get-together so enjoyable.

Those from Weinert who attended were Ed and Mary Murphy with Shanna and Lane; Hal and Cindy Guess, with Heather and Heath; Joe and Karen Yates with Jace, Dusty and T.J.; Jerry and Wanda Hester, with Stacy and Laurie; and Toby and Alice Yates.

All the surviving Cypert children were present for the festivities.

In reporting our sick last week, I missed Ida Farrell's problem by several inches! She has a hip joint that will require surgery, and not the knee joint as was reported. Ida will enter Hendricks on July 30th, and will undergo surgery for a hip joint replacement on July 31st.

Jeannie Forehand is able to be up some, and attended worship services on Sunday for the first time in many weeks.

R.S. and Betty Sanders flew to Houston on Monday where he will undergo extensive tests to determine if he can withstand the major chemotherapy they have scheduled for him this week.

Our prayers are for good health to return to all those who are ill.

Home Extension Club

The Weinert Home Extension Club met in the home of Agnes Winchester for its regular meeting on July 7th at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Lou Gilly, Extension agent, gave a program entitled "Let Herbie Spice up Your Life." She used little wooden "Herbies" to emphasize the different spices one may use to change the taste of food, and often make it more palatable.

Roll call was answered with "My favorite Spice", and seven members were present to answer the roll.

For the devotional, Mrs. Winchester read an inspiring essay, appropriate for the occasion. She reported that next month's meeting will be hosted by Betty Sanders in the Country Kitchen and the members will make a tour of the Haskell Mental Health Clinic for the August program.

The quilt committee reported that the quilt to be made this year for the Rehab Auction is called "Hole in the Barn Door", and work on it will commence in a few days. Mrs. Rueffer, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Crump comprise the quilt committee.

Mrs. Yates, calendar chairman, reported that the calendars for 1988 have been completed and are being printed at this time. They will be distributed in August.

Mrs. Yates, adult 4-H sponsor, reported that 3 Weinert 4-H girls have made dresses for the Dress Revue to be held July 13th. Mrs. Mayfield will bake a cake for the Weinert Clubs part of refreshments for the event.

Club dismissed at 4 p.m. after a delightful visit over delicious refreshments.

We extend congratulations to Scotty Moody and Linda Adams Scire who were united in marriage on June 28th. They will reside in Kingsville, Texas where Scotty is employed by the King Ranch as an entomologist. They are both Weinert exes, and we wish them much happiness.

Deena Walker, bride-elect of Richard Hacker, was honoree at a lingerie shower in the home of Delores Foster in Haskell. Other hostesses for the shower were Deenas' classmates, and included Ann Horan, Debbie Hutchinson, Derinda Larned and Shadella Foster.

The same classmates hosted a "bachelorette" party for Miss Walker. The party was a "camp-out" and was held at Miller Creek Lake.

Miss Walker's wedding is set for July 25th, at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Weinert.

Helen Boykin attended memorial services in Haskell for the mother of Gayla Nanny. We extend condolences to Gayla, whose mother and brother expired only hours apart.

Francis Mahan attended her school reunion held at Bomarton on Sunday, and reported a great time renewing old acquaintances.

Several from Weinert attended the 4-H dress revue held in Haskell Monday night, July 13, 6 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

Shanna Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Murphy, and Corrina and Carolina Jimenez, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jimenez entered the dresses they made in the 4-H summer sewing project. Alice Yates was the adult sponsor for the girls.

25th Anniversary

The children of Bobby and Betty Raynes hosted a surprise party to honor their parents on their 25th Wedding Anniversary on Friday night July 10th at the Haskell Country Club.

Erma Liles, who was organist for the couples wedding, was on hand to do some more of her lovely selections for the party. Another special guest was Jerry King who served as best man for his friend 25 years ago.

The Raynes' children are Mr. and Mrs. Wade Raynes of Munday, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Johnson of Wichita Falls, and Robin Raynes of Weinert. A grandson, Tyler Raynes of Munday was present also.

The youth group of the First Baptist Church are planning a "Lock-in" for the weekend of July 17-18. Those young people from 7th grade up will be involved in the venture. Donnie Crump and Cindy Guess, youth sponsors, are in charge.

Special Birthday greetings to Little Pete Ramon Graciano, our very newest resident, born to Juanita and Pete Graciano at the Haskell Hospital.

Other birthday people are Pat Davis, Pedro Perez, Dusty Yates, Janie Diaz, and twins, Corrina and Carolina Jimenez.

Congratulations also to Francisco and Janie Diaz who are celebrating an anniversary.

Mr. Joe Gonzales of Frankfort, Indiana is spending a few days with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Estrada. Mr. Gonzales was called to the bedside of his father, who is in the Haskell Hospital after undergoing kidney surgery last week.

Young people from Weinert who are taking swimming lessons this week are Lane Murphy, David and Tabitha Crump, and Dusty Yates.

To you all --- A Happy Day!

Kirkland children win national titles

(The following article appeared in the Lamesa newspaper July 5. The Kirklands are the grandchildren of J. R. and Nell Williams of Rule).

The Kirklands own bragging rights to a feat that's almost unheard of. Two national champions in the same family is something unbelievable. Kevin and L'Rona Kirkland have made that dream a reality after a strong showing at the national acro-gymnastics meet that wrapped up Sunday at Rockford, Ill.

While winning a national title is nothing new to 11-year-old Kevin, his 9-year-old younger sister L'Rona was determined not to let her big brother get the best of her. Kevin, along with his partner, Matt Boehler of Brownfield, teamed up to win nationals in synchronized trampoline three years running. L'Rona won her first national title at Rockford on the trampoline. Bruce and D'Lynn Kirkland are the proud parents.

Both young stars helped the South Plains Acrospirits to superb finishes in the final team standings. Kevin is a member of the boys' team that won the national power tumbling title. L'Rona helped the girls' squad earn runner-up honors in that same division at the nationals.

The South Plains Acrospirits consists of young gymnasts from Brownfield, Levelland, Slaton, Seagraves and Lamesa. Sherry Arnwine of Levelland is the coach.

How does it feel having won national championships?

"It feels great. L'Rona is a pretty quiet person but she got real excited at nationals. The competition was pretty tough. She was second heading into the finals before making up the difference," said proud mama D'Lynn

Kirkland. "Kevin has won nationals three years in a row now. All three national titles mean a lot to us. The competition seems to get tougher every year."

The trip to Rockford marked Kevin's fourth straight trip to nationals. He swept national titles in both the double mini-tramp and synchronized trampoline. The double mini-tramp competition features tricks on two small mini-tramps.

Kevin also placed fourth on both the platform floor, a new event at nationals, and on the trampoline. He finished fifth on the floor event.

A total of 475 young gymnasts participated in nationals. Twenty-two states were represented, along with Canada and Australia. Each athlete was judged according to age and abilities.

L'Rona won her first national title on the trampoline. She placed fifth on the floor. She teamed up with her partner, Ashli Winn of Plains, to place seventh on the synchronized trampoline. Miss Kirkland took 10th on the platform floor event.

Both national champions have spent lots of hours in the gym and on the trampoline. Kevin started working out in the floor event at two and a half years old. He started working out on the trampoline when he reached his fourth birthday. L'Rona has been performing in both events since she was four years old.

Acro-gymnastics has taken the Kirklands all over the world. They flew to Paris for the world meet a year ago. The sport also has taken them to Las Vegas, Nev., Mobile, Ala., Chicago, Cleveland and other cities.

Players omitted in team photo

Brian Brzozowski and Hugh Peiser Jr. were members of the major league champion Hawks baseball team in the summer Little League program. They were not pictured in the photograph of the team which ran last week in The Free Press. Brzozowski and Peiser were attending Toby Harrah's baseball camp in Arlington when the photograph was taken.

Pony all-stars named

Pony League all-stars were announced last week. These 14- and 15-year-old boys will represent Brazos Valley this week in the tournament in Burkburnett.

Named to the team were Rodney Johnson, Roger Roewe, Shane Osborne, Joe Ray Camacho and Jay Miller of Haskell; Thomas Rodriguez, Billy Large and Willie Rodriguez of Knox City; B. J. Villanuevo and Phil Ponder of Hamlin; Jason Dunham, Cody Archer and Bubba Edwards of Rule; and Joey Mathis of Rule.

Coaches are Conrad Roewe and Larry McMillin, who coached the district winning Haskell team during the season.

Competing in the district tournament will be Olney, Burkburnett and Sheppard Air Force Base, in addition to Brazos Valley.

Paul Jon Gibson

Casey Coleman

All-stars lose in tourney

The Brazos Valley all-stars were defeated, 5-2, by Sheppard Air Force Base in the first game of the district tournament in Burkburnett Monday night.

Sheppard scored a run in the second inning, but Brazos Valley came up with two runs in the fourth on a double by Rodney Johnson.

Sheppard scored another run in the sixth to tie the game and then scored three more runs in the seventh.

Billy Large of Knox City and B. J. Villanuevo of Hamlin were pitchers for Brazos Valley. Johnson had three hits in four at bats. The Brazos Valley defense did a good job, putting out three runners caught off bases.

Brazos Valley will play the loser of the Olney-Burkburnett game next. This is a double elimination tournament and each team must lose twice to be out.

Basketball camp attended by two

Paul Jon Gibson and Casey Coleman attended the West Texas State University basketball camp July 5-10.

The boys trained under the leadership of head basketball coach Mark Adams. They learned fundamental skills as well as defensive and offensive skills.

Approximately 80 campers attended. Each made new friends and thoroughly enjoyed each new experience encountered. Rigorous drills and games became daily activities. Medals were awarded to hustlers on a daily basis. Casey received one on Thursday.

Friday morning, the boys put on an exhibition of skills they had learned for their parents.

Other awards were presented at the luncheon which concluded the week's activities.

Certificates were awarded for skills, such as top 3 in each class for fundamental shooting and fundamental dribbling. Coleman received both in the age 11 division. Gibson brought home one of the five trophies overall awarded special campers for free throw shooting. Coleman received one of the five most improved player trophies overall.

Hard work, teamwork, desire and dedication were stressed as being necessary to becoming a successful basketball player.

UP TO $100,000 PENALTY

The Internal Revenue Service has issued an alert to all Form W-2 filers. The alert concerns all employers and covers the filing requirements for the IRS copy of the W-2 Form.

Employers are required to send the 1987 W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) to the Social Security Administration by February 28, 1988. Failure to do so may subject them to a late filing penalty of $50 for each W-2, up to a maximum of $100,000 for the year.

If you will be filing 250 or more 1987 W-2's, you're required to file the government copy on magnetic media (floppy disks or tape) as opposed to the traditional paper copy. Unless you are granted a hardship waiver to comply with the magnetic media provisions, you may be subject to the same $50 per W-2 penalty.

If you felt that filing on magnetic media would create an undue hardship, you were to request a waiver to allow you to file on paper in the traditional fashion. All waiver requests had to be filed by June 30, 1987. Those employers with 250 or more W-2s who do not request waivers by June 30 will be required to use the magnetic media filing. Since there is so much confusion about filing dates and requirements, there is a possibility that the IRS could extend the waiver request date.

There are similar magnetic media filing requirements for those taxpayers issuing 1099s for rents, dividends, interest, commissions, etc.

There should be benefits to both the taxpayer and the IRS in the new reporting method. Once it is fully implemented, the increased use of computers will save taxpayers time and money. Some states have already agreed to get their taxpayer information directly from the IRS; others are likely to follow. This eliminates the need for the taxpayer to file any 1099 or W-2 data with consenting states.

If you have questions on the magnetic media filing requirements, please contact us. We'll be happy to assist you.
