David Middleton
 ...Homecoming Speaker

Reunion speaker chosen

The Haskell-Mattson Homecoming Association is privileged to have David Middleton as guest speaker.

He will speak at the general assembly on Saturday, Oct. 3, at 3 p.m. at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center.

Middleton is a 1954 graduate of Haskell High School. He earned his bachelor's degree from North Texas State University.

He started his coaching career at Haskell with a seven-year stay and then served three years as assistant varsity and head junior varsity coach at Abilene High School. His junior varsity teams won the junior varsity championship for two consecutive years. The Abilene varsity took third in the state tournament in 1967.

Middleton, a 29-year veteran of Texas high school coaching, is in his ninth year at Klein Forest High School where he has compiled a 143-109 record which includes two bi-district titles. In 10 years as head basketball coach at Brazoswood, Middleton's teams compiled a 209-122 overall record, including two district championships and one bi-district title.

He was honored as the Greater Houston Area Coach of the Year during the 1983 season, as well as being chosen Coach of the Year in District 15-5A in 1982-83 and again in 1985-86. He was honored as

Lori Lane chosen 1987 fair queen

Lori Lane was crowned queen of the 1987 Haskell County Fair Tuesday night.

Miss Lane, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lane, won out over a large field of contestants.

Quanah next hurdle for Haskell Indians

It'll be homecoming in Quanah Friday night as fans of that Hardeman County school turn out to root for the Indians. Those are the Quanah Indians, of course.

But the Haskell tribe will be out to make it two in a row. They tasted victory for the first time over Electra last week and they like the flavor.

It promises to be another typical Quanah-Haskell contest with each tribe of Indians bent on tomahawking the other.

While Haskell was impressive in last week's win over Electra, Quanah will have plenty of incentive. In addition to a homecoming crowd in Quanah, the locals will be seeking to rebound from a loss to Paducah last Friday. As if those two factors aren't enough, Quanah will be out to avenge last year's 24-21 victory by Haskell, one of just two losses Quanah suffered during the regular season in 1986.

Quanah lost its opener to 3A Childress and then clobbered Archer City before losing 20-0 to highly regarded Paducah last week. The Indians had four starters out with injuries for the Paducah game, including quarterback Jeffrey Knight.

Quanah running back Setrick Dickens is an outstanding performer as Haskell can remember from the past two years.

As a team, Quanah has pretty good size. While probably not as big as Holliday and Electra as a team, the Quanah team still is bigger than Haskell's.

Haskell turned in its best performance of the year against Electra. "Little by little, we're getting our chemistry together," said coach Nelson Coulter Monday.

The coach said the Indians still made some technical errors, but did a good job of holding things together.

Especially pleasing was the offensive line play. "They did a good job in making decisions on who and how to block," said Coulter. "We were real pleased with their thinking. If they keep getting better, the team will keep getting better."

For the most part, he was referring to Bo Watson, Matt Lane, Paul Harvey, Michael Mendoza and Roger Roewe.

The defense also played a lot better, the coach said. Watson and Mark Young at ends, Lane and Eric Mullen at tackles and John Halliburton and Robert Swann as nose guards all played their positions much better, the coach said.

While Electra turned the ball over a number of times, Coulter said most fumbles were caused by good hard hits by the defensive players which knocked the ball loose from the ball carrier.

Rick Perry fund raiser to be Monday

An ice cream social and fund raiser for State Rep. Rick Perry will be held Monday evening at the Haskell Civic Center. It begins at 7 o'clock.

Special guests will be state treasurer Ann Richards, a possible 1990 gubernatorial candidate, and State Rep. Stan Schlueter of Killeen, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

All persons interested in state government, and their families, are invited to attend. Admission tickets are $10 each.

7 percent in Haskell

Sales taxes go up next week

Many new services will become taxable next Thursday (Oct. 1) when the state's sales tax rate increases from 5 1/4 percent to 6 percent. With the Haskell city tax of 1 percent, the sales tax rate in Haskell will be 7 percent.

The tax change will not only hit items which are now taxed, but a number of newly taxable items and services as well.

The expanded sales tax base was a major element of a $5.7 billion tax bill approved by the Legislature this past summer.

Oct. 1 is the effective date of an increase in taxes on cigarettes, going up from 20.5 cents a pack to 26 cents a pack.

The Legislature extended the sales tax to several broad categories of services, such as real property services, including landscaping, janitorial, garbage collection and pest control; security services, including private investigators and armored car services; information furnished by credit bureaus; and debt services, such as adjustments and repossessions.

It will also include information services such as financial research, specialized information and insurance services including damage appraisals, investigations and claims adjustments, but no premiums paid for insurance.

The expanded tax base is expected to add more than 64,000 Texas businesses to the state's tax rolls, joining the more than 420,000 merchants and businesses already collecting sales taxes.

Newly taxable items include custom computer programs, labor on installations to tangible property, some transportation charges on the sale of goods, telephone service and membership and dues to private

Melton named mayor

Greg Melton was appointed Tuesday night as mayor of Haskell.

The Haskell High School history teacher and assistant principal was appointed by the City Council to fill the unexpired term of former Mayor Abe Turner.

Melton's appointment is effective until after the next city election next spring.

Appointment of the mayor came during a regular meeting of the Council, during which the Council also approved the budget for the next fiscal year. The budget calls for a tax increase of 1.7 cents per $100 valuation, making the City tax rate 24.15 cents.

A group headed by Sue Patterson and Christine Green presented petitions to the Council, calling for the dismissal of the city administrator and the resignations of Council members. No action was taken.

Trammell is winner in contest

Winner of the third week of the Free Press football contest is Bill Trammell.

Trammell won the $20 first prize by correctly picking 16 winners in the 19 games listed in the contest. (The Miami-South Carolina game was re-scheduled for Dec. 5.)

As did most other contestants, Trammell missed Haskell's win over Electra and Florida's victory over Alabama. He also failed to foresee Colorado's win over Stanford, but he was right on the other 16 games.

Second prize and $10 went to last week's first-place winner, Carla Long. She was one of five who picked 15 of the 19 winners, but was awarded second place on the strength of her guess of the score of the tie breaker.

Winning third place and $5 was Tony Burson, who also had 15 right answers and a more accurate prediction of the tie-breaker than the three others who had the same number of winners.

Others with 15 correct predictions were Randy Hise of Weinert, Holden-McCauley Funeral Home and LaKay Gibbs.

Thirteen other contestants had 14 correct answers:

Pete Frierson, Bob Wood of Weinert, Todd Harris, Matt Reid of Rochester, Joe Zarate Jr., Tim Everett, Jewel Pittman, Rex Pittman, Lynn Wheatley, Sammy Baker, Marshall Conner of Rule, Earlene Townsend of Rochester and Stacy Hester of Weinert.

Nancy Kimbrough weds Mike Lingle

Nancy Lynn Kimbrough and James Michael Lingle were united in marriage at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19, at the Chapel on the Bosque in Stephenville. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Mr. Tommy Mojica of Dallas.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Kimbrough of Austin and the late Mr. Clinton Kimbrough. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Carrie Kimbrough Osment of Haskell.

Parents of the groom are James and Ann Lingle of Dublin. He is the grandson of Mrs. Mada Lingle of Stephenville.

The ceremony took place in the historic chapel before a brass archway decorated with pale blue bows. The unity candle stood under the archway which was accompanied on both sides by two palms. Pale blue bows marked the aisles and accented the doorway of the chapel.

Mrs. Nan Goodman, pianist, played a collection of the bride's favorite songs and traditional wedding songs prior to the ceremony. Mrs. Rosemary Brown of Haskell and Mrs. Catherine Carby of Austin, sisters of the bride, began the ceremony with the song "If."

Parents of the bride and groom were seated and the attendants entered the chapel as Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Carby sang "Through the Eyes of Love." The bride was escorted to the altar by Mr. Horace R. Crawford of Katy as Mrs. Goodman performed the traditional wedding march. After the exchanging of vows, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Carby sang "Let It Be Me" as the bride and groom lit the unity candle.

The bride chose a gown of white Voile designed with a princess bodice enhanced with an off-the-shoulder eyelet ruffle, ball-gown sleeves trimmed with eyelet, satin ribbons and blue rosebuds. The bouffant Voile overskirt was accented with pick-ups caught by satin ribbons and blue rosebuds. A cotton eyelet ruffled hemline formed the semi-cathedral train. Her large-brim Voile picture hat was covered with eyelet, blue rosebuds and a satin bow with streamers accenting the back.

The bride's bouquet included a collection of white daisies, spider lilies and morning glories; blue poppies, day lilies and orchids; and light blue rosebuds. The bouquet was accented with yellow and white baby's breath, English ivy and rope and was tied together by yellow, royal blue, light blue and white ribbon.

For something old, the bride carried a handkerchief that once belonged to her late grandmother, Mrs. Edna Threlkeld. Something new was her bridal gown. Something borrowed was a pair of pearl and diamond earrings from her sister, Mrs. Brown, and something blue was the traditional blue garter.

Mrs. Karen Raulie of Cedar Creek served as matron of honor. Mrs. Monica Edwards of Grapevine and Mrs. Danni Leake of Plains, Kan., served as bridesmaids. They wore tea-length royal blue princess style dresses accented with V necklines trimmed in white eyelet. They carried long-stem silk wild flowers brought together with two-colored ribbons that matched those on their hair wreaths.

The groom wore a white western shirt, monogrammed in light blue with a light blue bandana tie, jeans and boots.

Best man was David Mayfield of Dublin. Serving as groomsmen were Ricky Boone of Round Rock and Edwin Lingle, cousin of the groom, of Stephenville. They were dressed in light blue western shirts with royal blue bandana ties, jeans and boots. Leon Vaughn of Stephenville served as usher and lit the unity candle before the ceremony.

A reception was held at the Oxford House following the ceremony. A three-tiered cake decorated with silk flowers highlighted the bride's table which was covered with a light blue cloth with lace overlay. Lemon slush punch was served and the bride's bouquet and two kerosene lamps

Make fast food good food

"It's too hot to cook," is heard more and more as summer temperatures climb, and people turn to convenient fast food restaurants. Fortunately, smart consumers can find good nutritional values in their quest to beat the heat.

"The restaurant industry is responding to the consumer demand for more nutritional and lower calorie meals," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, Texas A&M nutritionist. "Fast food chains are especially making an effort to attract health-conscious people."

Many fast food chains are trying to improve the nutritional value of their products by cutting back on sodium and fat. A few chains have even switched to using polyunsaturated fats in their deep fryers in efforts to gain public approval and patronage, Cooksey points out.

Salad bars, pizza and a variety of ethnic foods can be nutritious and low calorie if high calorie toppings aren't added.

Explains Cooksey: "Eating fast food doesn't have to be a high-calorie, fatty experience."

Perrin couple celebrates

Mrs. Perrin is the former Mary Eloise Toliver, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Toliver Sr. of Weinert. Mr. Perrin is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Perrin of Haskell.

They have six grandchildren: Gena Rexrode Huntsman and John Mark Rexrode of Sherman; Alysia Lynn Perrin and Valerie Kay Perrin of Lubbock; and Jeremiah Jade Futch and Amber Denise Futch of Haskell. Retired school teacher donates funds for laser to Texas A&M University COLLEGE STATION — A conversation five years ago made an impact on a retired schoolteacher who in turn made an impact on the veterinary facilities at Texas A&M University.

Mrs. Maurine Mullins, who resides near Weatherford, has presented $50,000 to Texas A&M University toward the purchase of an advanced laser for veterinary eye surgery.

Texas A&M will have the nation's only veterinary school with exclusive access to such a device, said Dr. Dean Gage, associate dean of veterinary medicine. A similar instrument in North Carolina is shared by several institutions.

Mullins, who taught school in Fort Worth for nearly 40 years, has been supportive of Texas A&M veterinary programs in the past, explained Gage. Because of her support, five years ago she was invited to tour surgical facilities at the newly expanded small animal clinic.

First Baptist classes have installation service

The Naomi and Fidelis classes of the First Baptist Church met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Billie Cadenhead for their installation service.

The classes sang "Love Lifted Me," led by Iola Henshaw and accompanied at the piano by Mary Martin. The invocation was given by Billie Cadenhead. Mrs. Thelma Williamson introduced Mary Martin who installed the officers for the new SS year. She used the violin as the instrument of her subject, and how each note made the beautiful sounds and how these sounds came out when the instrument was in the hands of the master. Each officer was given a note that represented the office she was going to hold.

Directors were Alice Wootan and Earmal Bevel. They were presented notes of faithfulness and they were to give a spiritual uplift.

Outreach Mildred Mancill and Faye Gray: They were presented the notes of vision; without vision the people would perish.

Dear Friends and Loved Ones,

In our hour of need you were there. We want to thank everyone who helped in anyway during G.W. Roberts illness, hospital stay and his death. The doctors and hospital personnel can be proud of themselves. They were all so very sweet and kind to him and to his family. They attended him as no one else could have done. Thank God for them. Those who sat with us, brought food to us, held us in their prayers, we thank you all. May God be as close to you in your time of need as he is to us. Thank you for the food brought to our home and for the memorials and flowers at his service. If any family could say there was a perfect memorial service, we can. For the ministers Bro. Darrell and Bro. Densman, the organist, Martha Jarred, the beautiful songs by Kevin Walker and W.O. Elmore, Thank You. We love and care for each of you. God Bless you and keep you in his hands. Make it milk for lunches

There's no doubt that children and teenagers need plenty of calcium, but they're now less likely to get it from the small square milk carton that used to be a part of every school lunch.

The availability of fruit drinks in pouches or individual serving size cartons means children don't have to buy milk to go with the sack lunches. In many high schools, students also have the choice of getting a soft drink from a machine.

"The question for parents is whether they think their child is getting enough calcium each day for good health," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service.

"Children ages one through 10 need 800 milligrams of calcium a day," she says. "This requirement can be met with three servings of dairy foods as part of the everyday diet."

"Due to increasing bone length and development, adolescents 11 to 18 years old need 1,200 milligrams of calcium, which can be met by eating four servings of dairy foods daily," she adds.

One eight-ounce cup of milk, which is the amount contained in a milk carton served in schools, is one serving. A one and a half ounce piece of cheese or a cup of yogurt are also equivalent to one serving, according to the nutritionist.

"According to recent U.S. department of Agriculture studies, many young people don't get enough calcium daily" states Cooksey. "In fact, females over 11 years of age were reported as one group at greatest risk of calcium deficiency, which can lead to osteoporosis in later years."

"If your child drinks milk at breakfast and dinner and eats other dairy foods throughout the day, a sweetened fruit drink at lunch may not interfere with adequate calcium intake," she notes.

When children and teenagers don't drink milk at school or home, the nutritionist suggests that they be offered more dairy products in meals and snacks.

Cheese sandwiches, cheeseburgers, cheese and crackers, string cheese, cheese pizza, flavored yogurts, milk shakes, ice cream and milk-based puddings all add calcium to the child's diet, she explains.

"Giving children calcium supplements in pill form is generally not a good idea," warns Cooksey. "Calcium supplements can have side effects, so you should check with a physician before giving them to your child."

"Dairy foods are the best and most abundant source of calcium in our food supply," says the nutritionist.

Lutheran convention scheduled

The first convention of the newly constituted Rolling Plains Conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America will be at 3 p.m. Sunday at Bethel Lutheran Church in Ericksdahl, east of Stamford.

The Rev. Mark Herbener, bishop-elect of the North Texas-North Louisiana Synod, will attend. He welcomes this time to meet with people and become familiar with this part of West Texas. He will speak about the opportunities in mission that lie ahead.

The Rolling Plains Conference is composed of 11 congregations, covering the area bounded by Winters, Snyder and Wichita Falls. Locally, there are four congregations: Trinity Lutheran of Haskell, Christ Lutheran of Stamford, Faith Lutheran of Sagerton and Bethel Lutheran of Ericksdahl. Representatives of these four churches will meet at 2 p.m. to discuss local concerns and strategies.

The 11 congregations of the conference are part of the 5.4 million member Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, which will officially come into being Jan. 1.

Band Boosters to make plans for homecoming

Haskell Band Boosters will meet a week early of their monthly schedule on Monday, Sept. 28, at 6:30 p.m. to finalize activities for homecoming Oct. 2.

Parents and students are reminded to not park from the electrical pole in front of band hall down to the driveway on both sides of the street during out-of-town games. The space is needed to safely and quickly unload students and instruments after returning home. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

To remove hard-water rings from stainless steel pans, soak a cloth with rubbing alcohol and apply it to the area.

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. Is it safe to carry a sandwich made with mayonnaise in a bag lunch?

A. Actually, commercial mayonnaise itself doesn't increase risk of food poisoning. Most commercially prepared mayonnaise has lemon juice or another acid flavoring that slows bacteria growth. The salt limits bacteria growth, too.

The greater risk is food that mayonnaise is mixed with, such as ground meats, poultry, fish or eggs. These are the foods most susceptible to bacteria growth. Sandwiches with these ingredients should be refrigerated.

Q. What can I do so my cookies don't bake together?

A. Almost all cookies spread some. Chilling dough before baking and letting the cookie sheet cool between bakings also helps.

Q. Why are muffins moister when I don't use paper baking cups?

A. Without paper baking cups, heat reflects back onto the muffin. That may cause them to brown faster and they remain moister inside. Watch bake time carefully with either variation.

Do you have a question? Write Dear Betty Crocker, Box 1113, Dept. Betty, Minneapolis, MN 55440.

Marketing professor says retailers not paying enough attention to basics

COLLEGE STATION — Successful retailers not only do the right things, but also they do the little things right, says the current president of the American Marketing Association.

"High performers use details to be different; they see opportunities in small actions that competitors might consider trivial," said Dr. Leonard Berry, a Texas A&M University marketing professor and current president of the American Marketing Association.

Randall's Food and Drugs in Houston, for example, uses double-wall paper bags for sacking groceries, parking lots that are well lit, shopping carts with safety belts for infants and a free cookie from the bakery for children who have a Randall's cookie credit card, he said.

After years of observing the industry, Berry maintains that the best retailers are those who do the little things well. They have a clear vision of their business, provide top-notch customer service, seek competitive dominance and compete on the basis of value rather than price.

"It is time for retailing to go back to the basics, which is the overriding retail challenge today," Berry said. "Many retailers today have become too short-term oriented, too imitative, too cautious."

Abilene home tour scheduled Oct. 25

The Abilene Preservation League's tour of homes will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 25, and will feature several homes in the Sayles-Amarillo-Highland area.

Co-sponsored by the Abilene Landmarks Commission and the Society for the Preservation of Quaint Old Homes, the tour will begin at 601 Amarillo with the presentation of certificates to those whose properties have received landmark designations.

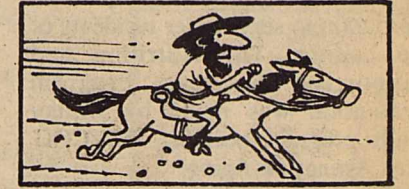

Added to the homes tour this year will be a tour of the Episcopal Church of the Heavenly Rest that will include an organ recital in the church sanctuary and an afternoon of ringing from the church's bell tower.

The Artist League of Texas will have a clothesline show and sale, also at 601 Amarillo, and the Antique Car Club of Abilene will exhibit vintage cars throughout the neighborhood.

Tickets will be available that day at the church and at each house on the tour. Advance tickets will be available by mail from the Abilene Preservation League by calling 915-676-3775. Tickets are $7.50 for adults, $2 for children, and $5 for Preservation League members.

The Preservation League is currently involved in the rehabilitation of the Drake Hotel and its conversion to the Grace Cultural Center, planned to be the home of the Abilene Fine Arts Museum, a county history museum, a children's participatory museum and other arts groups.

America's first extensive hard-surface road was built in Pennsylvania. Completed in 1795, it was known as the Lancaster Turnpike and ran 62 miles.

Experienced Citizens Center commended

More than 400 persons enjoyed the annual barbecue at the Experienced Citizens Center Sept. 13.

Food was purchased by members of the center. Volunteers and staff members gave of their time to cook and serve the meal.

Total proceeds, amounting to $2,229.84, will be used with the $1,000 the Kiwanis Club raised for the center in its Sunday luncheon, to fund the program until the new budget comes in affect.

Haskell County Experienced Citizens Center has been commended by the West Central Texas Council of Governments in Abilene for operating a program to serve older residents of the county. The Nutrition and Supportive Services Program Evaluation was made by Jimmy Walls, program specialist, WCTCOG Area Agency on Aging.

The ECC nutrition program has served 11,694 meals to 297 unduplicated persons. Of these meals, 9,661 were congregate (eaten at the center) and 2,033 were home delivered. The total participant contributions for this period (Oct. 1, 1986-March 31, 1987) were $12,880.

Raw food expenses have averaged $1.27 per meal. This is well below the budgeted (projected) amount of $1.45. This is evidence of efficiency in the ordering and purchasing of food items. The total meals cost determined by combining all expenditures averages to $3.01 per meal.

There have been 7,758 supportive services provided to 242 unduplicated citizens of Haskell County. Each service costs an average of $1.30 to provide. As of March 31, some of the contract objectives had already been achieved. Those which have not yet been achieved are on schedule to reach the goal by the end of the current fiscal year.

During the first nine months of FY 1987 (October 1986-June 1987) $66,815, or 72 percent of the $92,863 total budget has been expended. Of the $66,815, 49 percent or $33,119 has come from non-federal (local participants) resources. This is extremely good considering the statewide average is around 15 percent.

The program income received from the participants through July 1987 has totaled $18,715. The program income expended during this same period has been $16,959.

Program Commendations

Haskell County has a strong aging program with many positive elements. The commendations which follow are only representative of the many positive elements which make this a quality program:

1. The county of Haskell is to be commended for its continued support of the program. In the midst of tight economic times this support is especially appreciated.

2. The staff at the ECC is to be commended. They are obviously people who care about the participants and this program. Their willingness to give of themselves keeps this program active and strong.

3. This program uses volunteers extremely well. Many times a program is strengthened by its involvement of volunteers. On the two days of the evaluation visits there were many volunteers actively doing a variety of different tasks. This not only helps in the day-to-day operation of the center but provides many people the opportunity to realize they are still useful and needed.

4. The location is a wonderful place to visit. It is extremely clean and very well decorated.

5. The record keeping is very efficient and effectively completed.

6. This program does an excellent job of providing financial assistance. The donations are above average and fund-raising ideas are enthusiastically supported. This is evidence of the broad range of support for the program, not only by the participants but by the community as a whole.

Program Recommendations

The program recommendations which follow are not meant to degrade the program but are intended to improve the already high quality of the programs and services being provided.

Many of the recommendations are based upon new nutrition standards which will go into effect Oct. 1, 1987, (FY 1988).

1. Both vans need "basic" first aid kits and fire extinguishers and reflectors (Both are now equipped with these.)

2. A grievance procedure needs to be posted which gives directions for the making of negative comments about the program.

3. An evacuation plan needs to be developed which gives directions for the evacuation of the building in case of emergency. These directions are posted for all to see.

4. A disaster plan needs to be developed which tries to "assure" the continuation of nutrition services to "regular participants" in the event of a disaster.

5. Each meal served must contain one-third of the recommended daily allowances. The meals are to be lightly seasoned with salt, pepper and butter. ECC, also, has the "Spice of Life" to season with instead of salt; recipe recommended by the Heart Association. Each serving must be of the required size or the meal may fall below the one-third RDA requirement.

The ECC participants and staff (paid and volunteers) are very proud of this report. Only part of the report has been printed due to space. This November will be 10 years of operation for the center.

The major professional services provided are the congregate and home delivered meals with quality control, balance and appearance.

Arts and crafts with teacher to teach quality work in china, folk and oil painting. Exercise and nutrition programs show a strong health orientation.

The 3,288 volunteer hours (through July 31, 1987) prove the strong need and love the Haskell County people have for each other.

Young Homemakers

Young Homemakers hosted the reception Sunday for the Haskell County Fair queen contestants.

Ex-cheerleaders perform Oct. 2

Former cheerleaders at Haskell High School will participate in the Oct. 2 pep rally for the homecoming game.

They are asked to get in touch with other members of their squads or to contact any current cheerleader.

Emergency relief help available

A temporary emergency relief program which provides emergency food assistance to qualifying individuals is administered in the Haskell area by the Aspermont Small Business Development Center.

An applicant must meet established income guidelines and must show he or she is in a crisis situation.

Information on food assistance and other programs provided by the center may be obtained by calling 1-800-722-0137.

Honor Constitution

Haskell secondary students turned out in full force last Wednesday for a short program in recognition of the 200th birthday of the Constitution. The program included a pledge of allegiance and a short talk by State Rep. Rick Perry.

Texas could increase grain trade by deepening Houston Ship Channel

COLLEGE STATION — Digging deeper ports at Houston and Galveston by a few feet could dramatically increase the amount of grain traveling from the Midwest to Texas for export, according to a study by a Texas A&M University agricultural economist.

"Deepening upper Texas ports would attract larger vessels and, due to economies of ship size, rates on selected routes would fall," says Dr. Stephen Fuller, who used a computer model to explain how the shifts in the flow of grain would occur.

"Deepening the channel from 40 to 45 feet as proposed by the Army Corps of Engineers increases export volume from 646 million to 933 million bushels, or 44 percent," said Fuller, adding that a 50-foot deeper port increases the volume to 1,163 million bushels.

The change in the grain flow pattern would generally be the result of re-routed corn exports, Fuller explained.

Using the model, when the channel is deepened to 50 feet, additional corn comes to Texas ports from western and central Iowa, but also from southeastern Nebraska.

The Haskell Indians replayed their Electra game of last Friday night to a

Jayvees

In the season opener for the JV Indians, Haskell defeated Munday 6-0. The Indians' only score came on a 40-yard run by freshman Jonathan Dever.

In the second game of the season the Indians fell short of defeating the Holliday Eagles, 14-0.

"The team made a lot of mistakes and didn't get any breaks, but we will work hard in practice to get rid of our mistakes," Coach George Martin said.

This year's team is very young, consisting of 13 freshmen, six sophomores and three juniors.

The Indians were idle last week, but tonight (Thursday) they will be playing the Quana Indians here at 7 p.m.

8th grade

The eighth-grade Warriors will open their season at 6 p.m. Thursday on the reservation against Quana.

The Warriors were soundly defeated by Quana last season, 36-6.

"Quana had some big guys last year, but we are ready to play," Aeron McFadden, team member said.

7th grade

The seventh-grade Warriors open their season tonight against Quana. Kickoff time is 4:45 p.m. at Indian Stadium.

Coach Walter Hargrove and Coach Jimmy Lisle are in charge of the 20 seventh graders out for football. Coach Hargrove will be calling the offense, while Coach Lisle will be calling the defensive plays.

The 20 players are Patrick Billington, Sherwin Everton, Kevin Grand, Chris Guzman, Mark Jones, Shawn Jordan, Cody Josselet, Brad Lane, Brandon Lefevre, Stacey Martin, Scott McGhee, Jason Munday, Edgar Nava, Jesse Pedroza, Manuel Ramos, Joseph Rodriguez, Shawn Sanford, Chris Stone and Patrick Weeks.

room full of boosters Monday night. The consensus of coaches as well as Booster Club members was that it's fun to win. Coach Nelson Coulter mentioned that he got to enjoy the victory for about 30 minutes before he started thinking about the Quana Indians.

He said Quana reminds him of Electra in size. He said that Setrick Dickens is their best ball player and is pretty quick. They like to throw to West. He said Quana coaches don't exchange films, but from what he has been told by other coaches and his scouts they throw more than Holliday or Electra. They don't appear to be really fast except for Dickens, and the quarterback does an adequate job of throwing.

On defense they will probably use a six-man front and one linebacker. The secondary does a pretty good job of playing to the inside. Coulter said Quana is generally well coached and has good tradition. He has no reason to think they won't be in good condition and ready to play football.

Booster Club president Mike Guess mentioned that memberships to the organizations are still available at a cost of $5 per person, $10 per couple. Since the programs were printed, additional memberships have been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swinson and Mr. and Mrs. Baldemar Perez.

Junior high and JV games will be played here today (Thursday) beginning about 5 p.m.

The 8 p.m. game with Quana Friday will be broadcast on KVRP FM 95.5.

Rochester wins over Rule team

Unbeaten Rochester made it three in a row Friday night with a 40-20 victory over Haskell County rival Rule.

After the Steers were held to a 14-14 standoff in the opening quarter, they scored in the second period to take a 20-14 halftime lead and stretching it to 34-20 at the three-quarter mark before putting on the final touches with a fourth-quarter score. A Rule fumble of the second-half kickoff paved the way for the Steers.

Anthony Brown scored three of the Rochester touchdowns from 17, 2 and 59 yards away. James Wyatt had scoring runs of 4 and 16 yards and Larry King scored on an 8-yard run. King accounted for four more points on points-after.

James Halliburton scored for Rule on a 41-yard run and Keith Vanderbilt scored on a 33-yard scamper. A 7-yard pass from Kody Wilson to Kyle Wilson accounted for the other Bobcat score. Vanderbilt added two more points on a conversion.

Wyatt led the Steers in rushing with 108 yard on 13 carries.

Top rusher, however, was Rule's Vanderbilt who had 132 yards on 18 carries. Rule's Halliburton carried 16 times for 108 yards.

Big plays propel Indians to victory over Electra

Haskell struck early with a pair of big plays and then went on to defeat the Electra Tigers, 34-14, here Friday night for the Indians' first victory in the 1987 football season.

The game was hardly two minutes old when Patrick Perez hit Alberto Alvarez with a pass which covered 85 yards and a touchdown.

The Tigers came back to knot the score at 7-all with a 29-yard scoring pass from Luke Kimbro to Jarrol Willett, but Derrick Billington returned the ensuing kickoff 90 yards for another Indian touchdown to put his team out front for good. Chan Guess' second conversion brought the score to 14-7.

The Indians scored on another bomb in the second period when Guess passed to Billington for a 50-yard scoring play. Guess again converted and the Indians nursed the 21-7 lead through halftime.

Late in the third period, Mark Young ran 13 yards for a touchdown to make it 27-7, and early in the fourth quarter, Young went over from 3 yards out to put the game out of reach at 34-7 after Guess' extra point.

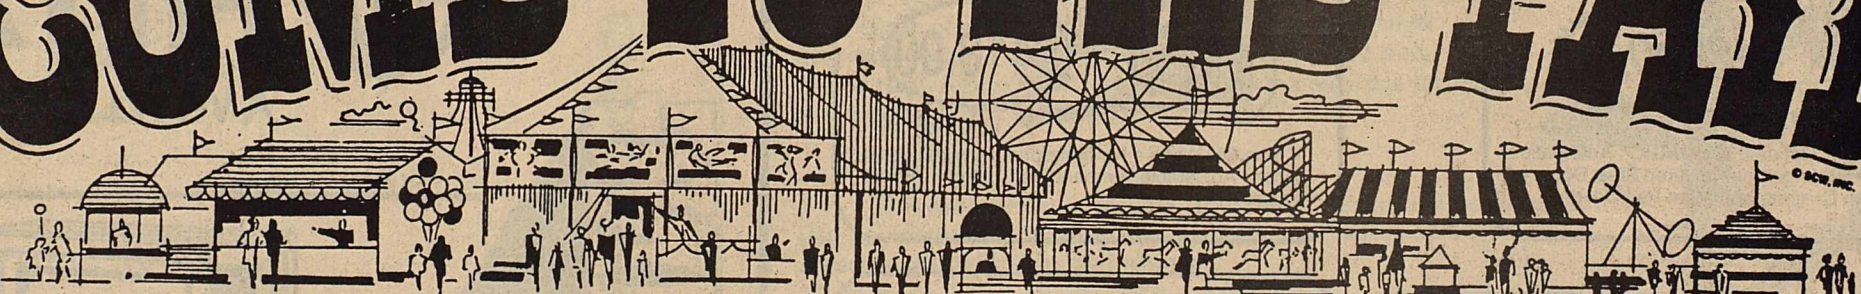

Electra took a face-saving touchdown late in the game when Leonard Leviston scored from the 12.

The Haskell defense accounted for eight turnovers on five fumble recoveries and two intercepted passes. Most of the fumbles were caused by the hard-hitting Haskell defense.

Also encouraging was the blocking which allowed the Indians to eat up 350 yards in rushing and passing.

Mark Young, seeing more action as a running back, topped the rushers with 83 yards in 11 carries. Perez completed four passes for 151 yards and Guess had 89 yards on three completions. Alvarez caught the one pass for 85 yards, Billington had two receptions for 74 yards, Stephon Brockington caught three for 54 yards and Young had one for 27.

Camel outshines cow for milk

A camel named Golda is outshining cows in milk production. She produces 70 pints of milk each day, compared to the average cow's 32 pints.

According to Ranger Rick magazine, milk producers like Golda could be an important source of food for peoples living in the dry parts of Africa.

Although scientists are only beginning to learn how to breed and raise camels to produce more milk, they have high hopes of producing more champion milkers as good as Golda.

A New Giant in an Old Industry —
A.L. Williams and MILICO
$150 BILLION
Life insurance in force

Only one other company in the history of the industry have ever placed in force $150 billion of life insurance*. In fact, most companies never reach the one billion mark.

Not A.L. Williams and Massachusetts Indemnity and Life Insurance Company (MILICO).

In the six and a half incredible years since we became a team, we've proven that the A.L. Williams marketing force and MILICO's competitive products are a winning combination. Our latest accomplishment — nearly $150 billion placed in force from March 1980 to December 1986 — sets another record in the oldest and largest industry in America.

Impossible?

Everybody thought so. The "traditional" life insurance industry. Our competition. The doomsayers who believe that people with big dreams can't make it in big business.

But we did it.

And we did it without TV advertisements. Without a national media campaign. Without a big P.R. firm.

We did it one-on-one, across the kitchen table with American families, by showing them that "buy term and invest the difference in an IRA" is a better way to protect their families and provide for their retirement years.

Our 1,151,727 current policyholders realize that you don't have to be a household word to be a great company. You just have to provide a service that makes people's lives better.

We don't know what records we'll break in 1987.

But we do know we'll break them by "doing what's right" for consumers.

Because you don't get to be a "giant" just by selling a lot of insurance. You do it by caring about the people you serve. Local Representative: (see pages 3 and 8).

Richards becomes first candidate

AUSTIN—State Treasurer Ann Richards, after spending several weeks testing the political waters, said last week she will run for governor in 1990.

Richards, the first major-party candidate to declare a definite intention to run, said her recent Texas travels convinced her she could win. "I just know everything looks good to me. All I can say to you is at this point, I feel really positive about making the race," she said.

Richards added that she would be pleased to run on a Democratic ticket with Comptroller Bob Bullock, who recently announced for lieutenant governor.

The treasurer said her immediate political priority is the 1988 reelection of Texas U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen.

Richards Party Divider

Meanwhile, Attorney General Jim Mattox said if Richards runs against him for governor in 1990, it will divide the Texas Democratic Party.

"I just think it would be an expensive, divisive-type matter," Mattox said. "You have a set group of people that support people within the party, and if you have two candidates trying Care, a coalition leading opposition to the referendum that would legalize pari-mutuel wagering in Texas.

Sue Cox, campaign director for the group, said opponents will attack the proposal on many fronts, including the increase in crime she said accompanies legalized gambling. She said the group hopes to raise $500,000 for its campaign.

Nick Kralj, president of the Greyhound Racing Association of Texas, said charges of animal cruelty are unfounded. "It's a rather desperate tactic by some people," Kralj said. "Animal abuse is not going to happen in Texas and it's not happening in Texas where large numbers of greyhounds currently are bred."

Mauro Defends Contract

Land Commissioner Garry Mauro defended awarding a 20-year contract for administering the Veterans Land Board's home loan program to Lomas & Nettleton Co., Dallas.

Questions were raised about how the firm headed by Democratic fundraiser Jess Hay was selected and over sizeable loans by L&M to Mauro and his family.

The loans include a $200,000 working capital loan and $1.4 million property note in 1984 to Mauro and others, and $71,000 loan to Mauro, wife Judith Bagley and brother-in-law Jeffrey Bagley for a Washington, D.C., condominium.

L&M has received $2.9 million in fees with the contract expected to provide approximately $18 million.

Mauro insists the contract was put out for competitive bids, but that L&M was the only bidder, and denies any improprieties. Now-Secretary of State Jack Rains, a Republican, was a member of the Veterans Land Board when the contract was awarded and voted with Mauro to approve the contract. Rains says he relied on staff recommendations.

Termites serve useful purpose

It's true that termites do more than $750 million of damage each year in this country.

But, according to International Wildlife magazine, their ecological good may outweigh the economic harm.

Of the 2,000 species, only about 10 percent cause any economic damage at all. On the other hand, all of them benefit us because they recycle vast quantities of cellulose, making its atoms available to living plants.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

Give a child on the beach a sand bucket and shovel and he'll start digging. Thousands of Americans spend their leisure time exploring caves.

And a number of movies have depicted fictitious explorers seeking the center of the Earth—4,000 miles beneath this planet's surface.

These are just a handful of examples of man's fascination with what lies underground.

But more than child's play and hobbies are involved. Exploration can help answer some critical questions about our planet, as scientists seek to predict when earthquakes will occur, to learn the safest locations for power plants and dams and to discern the best place to store nuclear waste. Accelerating our efforts will be in the best interest of our country and state.

So far, the Soviet Union has drilled deepest in seeking answers. Soviet scientists have drilled seven miles into the Earth. They're working on another hole, which is expected to reach about 9.5 miles, and Belgium, France and West Germany are working on similar projects.

Unless we reach much deeper, it is clear that many theories will remain only theories. But in working to explore and substantiate them, the research and development that accompanies this ultra-deep drilling should also bring us numerous benefits, many of them unexpected, just as the space program produced a multitude of advances.

With my support, the U.S. Senate has approved legislation that would allow a consortium of federal agencies, universities and oil and mining industries to move ahead with this super-deep drilling. I testified in favor of the bill before the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee and I have joined a number of my colleagues in urging House leaders to take swift action in support of it.

Texas would have a lot to gain from this project. For one thing, the drilling would be done in our state and that would mean jobs. In addition, our oil industry should receive a boost from the drilling project, and a top contender for one of the first projects—which would create about 300 jobs—would be a site near New Braunfels.

The work of our geophysical scientists already has contributed greatly to scientific drilling efforts in the U.S., and this project would be a natural laboratory for testing at depths they have been unable—because of high pressure, high temperature and corrosive fluids—to reach previously.

Important discoveries are possible, but only if we commit to digging for the answers.

Those of us around the Free Press aren't allowed to participate in the football contest, so we have our own little contest going.

Seven of us put in $2 a week and the one who gets the best score gets $7, with the remaining $7 each week staying in the pot to pay off the season winner.

Don has won two weeks in a row, prompting one contestant to suggest that we change the rules so they would require that the winner be present. That would put a stop to his monopoly.

When Rick Perry issued an invitation to Ann Richards to attend his party this Monday, he did so with the thought that she is the only woman holding an elected statewide office.

She still is, but her position has expanded. Mrs. Richards is now considered a leading contender for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1990.

There's a dim tint of silver in the lining of the new tax bill.

As of Oct. 1, you won't have to shell out those two pennies when buying a copy of The Free Press, or three pennies for the Abilene Reporter-News.

The tax from newspaper circulation is being removed.

Pre-paid subscribers also will benefit as we won't be charging tax on subscriptions after this month.

That was Bill Comedy pinch hitting for yours truly in the press box at the Electra game last week. I twisted his arm to do it so I could make a fast trip to Ohio.

I should be back in the groove at Quanah this week. Incidentally, this is where I came in two years ago this week. The Quanah game was my first and I hadn't missed one until last week.

To paraphrase a remark from Blackie Sherrod's column:

"Anyone who feels sorry for the NFL players would be the kind of person who would send a goodwill contribution to West Texas Utilities."

Of course I didn't see anyone I knew during a short layover at Chicago's O'Hare Airport Sunday, but I did hear a familiar name.

On two different occasions, I heard page calls for Debbie Butera. Debbie's my son-in-law's sister and she works for American Airlines.

Did anyone in the Haskell area see the meteorite which streaked across the sky last week?

John Williams, Fort Worth astronomer, called Tuesday and asked the question. He's interested in hearing from anyone who saw it or heard it.

He said he and other researchers are interested in finding any fragments of the meteorite which was seen as a ball of fire near Denton. He believes there may be such fragments somewhere in a triangle formed by Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Abilene.

If you saw or heard it, he wants you to let him know: John Williams, P.O. Box 9242, Fort Worth, TX 76107.

Anti-racing Group Formed

Opponents of legalizing horse and dog race gambling last week launched their campaign against the racing proposal on the Nov. 3 Texas ballot by saying the sports bring sharp increases in animal cruelty.

"For every multimillion-dollar race horse like Secretariat, who makes an enormous amount of money for its owner and is royally treated for the rest of his life, there are thousands of cheaper horses that endure a miserable existence and even die on the race track," said Ann Koros.

Koros, of the Texas Humane Information Network, charged that racing dogs also suffer abuse. "Very few greyhounds live to the age of four, since even dogs that race successfully are destroyed to save feed costs when they stop earning money," she said.

Koros spoke at a news conference sponsored by Texans Who Blame?

Editor: This is concerning the taxes. If you remember, we all had a chance to vote on it for better streets and now they're all turning on it and blaming the administration and the councilmen. Why couldn't all you people go down and confront them at City Hall about this problem instead of going behind their backs?

Maggie LaCoy

Indian Pride

Editor: Last Friday night my Indian Pride grew quite a lot as many of us witnessed a tremendous demonstration of athletic skill and dedication on the part of our high school football team, band members and students in general. After being a fan for several football seasons, it is good to see that school spirit is returning by leaps and bounds.

It is also good to see a coaching staff which functions as a team, works to win and teaches high moral standards all the while. It is good to see their maturity and concern for the players regardless of the scoreboard. (Of course, we all enjoy seeing a winning game!)

It is good to see, and hear, the Indian Band eager and ready to play and an enthusiastic student body who back the effort on the field.

All in all, it's good to share in some small way in the process that is helping to forge the future in the lives of Haskell young people. I look forward to supporting the Haskell Indians both on and off the field in the year ahead. Don't you?

Ford Cole

Create jobs

Editor: Lately, in the paper I have been reading about the war between the City Council and the taxpayers.

I realize that some of the city employees do deserve raises, although I couldn't tell you which ones. Something has occurred to me and some other citizens of Haskell. Why do they want to raise taxes when half of the taxpayers are out of work and unable to pay taxes anyway?

There are two places (the old sewing factory and the John Deere place) that would be perfect for someone like Motorola or Tandy to come in and give people jobs.

It's a shame that the leaders of our town are so greedy that all they think about is how to fill their wallets instead of solving the problem of the unemployed.

People who have lived in Haskell all of their lives are moving to larger towns because there is no work here. Getting another factory to come in is not going to be easy but anything that's worthwhile is worth the trouble.

Unless we want to see Haskell turn into a ghost town we had better solicit someone to come in. If we let them know we are here and willing to work they just might decide this is where they need to be.

Baptist budget approved

The Texas Baptist Executive Board approved a record $68 million 1987 cooperative program budget for missionary, benevolent and educational causes at its quarterly meeting in Dallas this month.

The 193-member executive board will recommend the budget to the Baptist General Convention of Texas at its annual meeting in Fort Worth Nov. 10-11.

The recommended budget represents a $2.5 million increase over the 1987 budget, which was maintained at the same level as 1986 due to economic setbacks in the state.

More than $24 million (36.6 percent) of the proposed new budget is designated for worldwide Southern Baptist causes, including support for more than 7,300 missionaries, six seminaries, the Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission and other missionary, evangelistic and education ministries.

The remainder of the proposed basic operating budget (63.4 percent) will help support eight Texas Baptist universities, one academy, seven hospitals, four child care homes and four homes for the aging, as well as state missions programs to assist the work of about 5,000 congregations statewide.

Of the total $68 million proposed budget, $63 million makes up the basic operating budget and $5 million constitutes the two-phase challenge budget.

S&WCD election scheduled Oct. 6

Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District members will elect a director for zone 3 in an Oct. 6 election.

Balloting will be in the Paint Creek school auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Reporting Haskell County Sports
for the past 100 Years

—Weinert News—

by Myrtle Phemister

The cool front that moved into our area made the climate more pleasant and enjoyable and the felt hats looked more "seasonable".

It caused us to realize we are nearing the winter of '87, predicted to be a harsh one. If a heavy mesquite bean crop is a sign, and the activity not stopping in the ant hills during the noon hour another old-timer's sign, then we should get ready for a cold one. I think "fall has fallen".

The Foursquare Church enjoyed a day of fellowship on Sunday, with a bountiful and delicious noon meal being shared after the morning services.

Paul Chambers, pastor, was honored to have his parents as special guests. They live in Donna, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Barton of Rochester, parents of Mrs. Paul Chambers were also special guests for the day.

The Church of Christ reports very good attendance for their Lectureship of Area preachers as guest speakers.

Steve Willis of Rochester spoke Sunday night, and many of his church members came to support him.

W. E. Burkham of Knox City was guest speaker on Monday night. Many guests from the area around Weinert came to enjoy the fine lessons and fellowship.

The local members served coffee, punch and cookies for an hour of fellowship following Sunday night services, and home-made ice cream was the fare following Monday night services.

The meeting concludes Wednesday night.

Our newest "resident" is little Miss Lindsey Bre Anne Pannell, infant daughter of Landon and Tammi Pannell.

Lindsey joined a very active family, as her mother is a full-time

Senior student, enrolled at Haskell High Schol and commutes each day. Her father has recently accepted a job with Soil and Water Conservation Services, and works on the farm in his "spare time".

Our congratulations to the family, and welcome, Lindsey, to Weinert.

Mary Robertson of Slaton has returned to her home after spending a week visiting her late husband's sisters here, Pearlie Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Alexander, and Alice Andress of Haskell. Alice went home with her to spend a few days in Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Robertson had their son, Jeff, home for the weekend, but Jeff's wife was unable to come because of her job.

J. T. and Florence Alexander had both their children home recently. Charlene and Bill Harlan of Houston, and their son, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Harlan of Giddings. Also J. W. Alexander of McKinney.

The Alexanders were not physically able to attend the recent wedding of their granddaughter in Houston, where Tessie Harlan became Mrs. Chet Rogers, but they are enjoying the photographs made of the wedding.

Alton Sanders was honored on his birthday when his brothers and sister took him out for lunch at the Shamrock Cafe in Munday.

Beside the birthday "boy" those in attendance were his wife, Mildred, borthers, Eddie and Myrmie, R. S. and Betty Sanders, and his sister, Myrtle and Marvin Phemister.

Mr. and Mrs. D. I. White were in Ft. Worth last weekend to visit their daughter, Sue and Jimmy Hackney, Todd and Talinda. While there they attended the annual Tarrant County-gathering of Churches of Christ held at the Convention Center in Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Bailey Guess has returned from a visit in Ft. Worth in the home of her son-in-law, Hale Alderman, and granddaughter's Dana and Cindy.

On Sept. 13th, she was honored to be present for the renewal of wedding vows between Cindy and Mitch Murrell. They chose their grandparents anniversary date for the ceremony, a very small, intimate home wedding with only family and close friends in attendance. We extend congratulations.

John and LaVerne Mayfield were in De Soto for the first birthday of their granddaughter, Adrienne Wyn Rimmer which turned out to be a mini-family reunion with Arch and Edy Lou Mayfield coming from Plainview and Evelyn and Tom Ricketts coming from Dallas.

Mrs. Faye Jetton, Mrs. LaVerne Mayfield and Mrs. Mabel Overton of Paint Creek are attending the State Home Extension Clubs Convention in Ft. Worth this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Toby Yates were honored on their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday when their three children and five grandchildren took them to the Cliff House in Stamford for a luncheon.

Their children are Mary and Ed Murphy, with Shanna and Lane, Caron and Joe Yates with Jace, Dusty and T. J. of Weinert and Linda and Ricky Wade of Abilene. Congratulations!

Congratulations are in order for Melvin and Wanda Vojkufka, and Hugh and Bea Miller who will celebrate wedding anniversaries on Sunday.

Happy birthday wishes for Georgia Turnbow, Wanda Hester, Peggy Adams and Tiffany Loving.

H. L. Guess is recuperating from surgery that he underwent at the Stamford Hospital last week. Our other ill are doing well at this time.

Imo and Pete Brockett and family helped Ima's mother, Florence Haynes, of Munday to celebrate her 83rd birthday with a luncheon party held at Seymour on Sunday.

The Weinert Baptist R.A.'s are working on a paper drive, and have changed their pickup day to each Tuesday afternoon. For details call Debbie Crump.

The Seniors are hosting a Barbecue Sunday Sept. 27 from 11:30 to 2 at the Weinert High School Cafeteria. The menu includes BBQ brisket and sausage, beans, potato salad, cole slaw, onions, pickles, peppers and iced tea. Prices of tickets are adults $5.00 and children under 12, $3.00. Tickets are available from Weinert Seniors.

Like Boston, New Jersey had a "tea party" during the mounting friction between the colonies and Great Britain. At Greenwich, near Delaware Bay, men in Indian costumes burned a shipload of tea from England in 1774.

Paint Creek troop has hike campout

Paint Creek Boy Scout Troop 148 ended a fun-filled summer of swimming and cooking with a reorganizational meeting, a five-mile hike and a three-day campout at the Malory Ranch near Palo Pinto this past week.

New officers elected by the troop include Rodney Tsoodle, senior patrol leader; Hans Overton, platoon leader of the Phantom Fox Patrol; Shawn Barbour, assistant patrol leader; George Mayen, Cobra patrol leader; Roman Morgan, assistant patrol leader; Wesley Cockrell, scribe; and Dane Morgan, quartermaster.

The five-mile hike began at the Paint Creek School and ended at the Overton farm near US 277. The troop wishes to thank Stefi Overton for the Koolade and cookies served to the troop at the end of the hike.

Jerry Morgan, chairman of the Troop Committee, made arrangements with his grandmother, Lou Malory, to camp on her ranch at Metcalf Gap, and even though the troop left Paint Creek in the rain Friday afternoon, the weather cleared and the boys enjoyed two beautiful nights on her ranch.

Saturday morning, Mrs. Malory gave the boys a tour of the original homeplace, including the home where she was raised, a barn and house built of hewn cedar logs, and a rock fortress her father built to protect them from Indians. He had built rifle slots in the walls and a rock cistern immediately outside for water in case they were ever under siege. Mrs. Malory vividly recalled in detail incidents of her childhood, and generously allowed the boys to explore the homeplace. The troop had a beautiful pecan grove for a campsite on the Ioni Creek and they want to thank Mrs. Malory (Grandma) for inviting them to camp on her place.

Troop 148 welcomed a new member at the regular meeting Tuesday. Matthew Morton from Stamford and a fifth-grader at Paint Creek, joined. He attended both the hike and the campout, and his joining launched the Fall Round-Up to enlist new boys into the troop. Welcome to Scouting, Matthew.

The troop also has taken on the task of raising the American flag at all the home football games.

Troop 148 wishes to publically thank Heads or Tails Western Wear for scrap leather donated to the troop.
