Perry asks for re-election

Saying that he wants to continue his work that has started, Representative Rick Perry (D-Haskell) has filed the necessary paperwork with officials at Austin to run for re-election to the Texas Legislature. Perry is seeking his third term representing the 64th District, which includes Haskell County, Hood, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Stephens, Throckmorton and Young counties.

"I enjoy serving the people of the 64th District for the past three years," Perry said, and he said they will "send me back to Austin in their voice. I believe we have made great strides in restoring fiscal responsibility to the state, in improving education, and I want to continue that work for the next five years," he added.

Perry cited his work on the Appropriations Committee as among his major accomplishments of this year's legislative session. "We were faced with some really hard choices," he said. "There were a lot of vocalized experts who said we could never balance the budget. We made some deep cuts in state spending, including eliminating some agencies. But we managed to preserve necessary services, and I'm proud of the work we did.

Perry also serves on the powerful House Calendars Committee and is chairman of Budget and Oversight for the Judicial Affairs Committee. The representative noted while committee meetings can sometimes be arduous, it is very important to the operation of the Legislature to have a better committee's committee. "It's important to work together and to be open to compromise," Perry said about this future, Perry stressed that the need to continue the efforts to re-energize the Texas economy, "It's showing some signs of life," he said. "We have a long way to go, but we're beginning to look a little better. We have a lot to do, but it's a start.

The last check brought the 11-month total to $44,454.75, compared to $114,274.62 for the same period last year. The check received this work represents taxes collected in October, the first month of the budgeted sales tax.

The Haskell Garden Club met Dec. 10 at the Community Room with a very interesting program titled "Walking in a Winter Wonderland." The meeting opened with President Linda King presiding. Mrs. Dewey called the roll with each member answering what she would like as a gift for her garden. The returns were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given.

Callie Robinson was program director. She presented clean lilies which gave an interesting exposition "Colors of the Flowers." Legends were given about the lily. It was white until Christ was on His way to Cana and the flowers bowed toward these white lilies. They were returned and afterwards bowed to their birth in reverence to Christ. Inside the lilies were hidden tears. Epitaphs were read concerning the Rose of Sharon and the Purple Thistle. The love of Christ is spread everywhere among the dust sending odors of the flowers everywhere to scatter love and goodwill. The legend of the dogwood was given, and it was the tree used for making Christ's Cross. Its blossoms were in the shape of a cross, with crosses depicted in a time with crosses in design on the petals. Jurianne Smith read a poem about looking forward in another year with God's loveliness and happy work with simple cares that grow some each day. This program gave many lovely dreams which we can carry in our hearts all year.

Christmas Artistic Arrangements with the theme, Jingle Bells, were brought by Linda King, Melody Caulkins, Juanita Rhea and Betty Blankenship. Betty Blankenship brought a horticulture specimen depicting God's love in our gardens. The club officers served delicious Christmas food to members and guests. The Breckenridge of Haskell Memorial Hospital was honored with a reception Sunday, Dec. 20, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Haskell Memorial Hospital Memorial building in honor of the five members. Hosts for the celebration will be their children and grandchildren.

Now that it's cold, we're bringing out plants inside or taking them to a basement or winter place.

"I saw an article about the West Window.

"It is worth noting that plants growing in a north window are rarely attacked by disease or harmful insects.

"There are some plants for your north window: Cyclamen, Dianthus, Pansy, Geranium, Asparagus Fern, Philodendron, Spanish Pepper, Sauri Fern. A dry conifer bough atmosphere is best for the moist.

"I hope you have an attractive "North Window" this winter.

The sale will be held in front of The Haskell on the north side of the Haskell square and will begin at 9:30 a.m. All proceeds from the sale will be used to further the work of the Noah Project, which provides assistance to victims of family violence.

Sally Norris, outreach coordinator, said plans are being drawn to make baked goods for sale and food for sale. The sale site is located on the east side of the Noah project offices, located on the east side of the Haskell square.

Mrs. Clarice Helmer also spoke about the project which has been running since January. "We have people whose children have been taken away from them," she said. "We have a diversity of cases to work with and we're trying to do both, to help people who are in need, and to help the children who are being taken away from their homes."

The event was sponsored by the Haskell Free Press, and all proceeds will be used to support the Noah Project, which provides assistance to victims of family violence.

Maidens take championship

The Haskell Maidens took the championship of the Carclaw Classic at Wylie last weekend, while the Indians fell in their second tournament.

The Maidens came from behind to defeat the host Wylie Lady Bulldogs, 41-40 in Saturday's championship game. They had reached the finals with a 41-41 victory over state-ranked Coleman Friday.

In Saturday's finals, the Maidens, won their fifth game in a row, 26-19 at halftime and 34-31 at the three-quarter mark before winning in the final period. Joy McKeever paced the scoring with 11 points.

Friday's semifinal contest was much the same as the Maidens won over Coleman. Coleman led 26-15 at the half and 35-26 after three quarters, but the Maidens put it away in the final frame. McKeever's 14 points topped the scoring. The Indians lost to Wylie Friday night, 77-59, and to San Angelo Lake View 83-70, in the battle for third place Saturday. They were down two points, and final defeat of the season for the Indians, all of them coming at the hands of higher classification schools.

Against Wylie Friday night, Haskell fell behind 12-9 in the first quarter, and trailed 34-25 at halftime. They dropped behind 53-39 in the third period before scoring 11 unanswered points to narrow the margin to 53-49 early in the fourth period. But Wylie then pulled away. Dusty Meeks scored 17 points to pace the Indians. James Rike and Derrick Billington each had 10.

In the battle for third place against Lake View, the Indians were leading 15-12 early in the first period. But the Maidens put it away in the final frame. McKeever paced the scoring with 11 points. Young had 15 and Chan Guess added 12 to pace the Indians.

Saturday, the Hamlin-Hawley game at 3:30 p.m. today (Thursday). The winner of that game will meet the winner of the Colorado City-Haskell game at 4 p.m. Saturday. Boys' finals are at 7 Saturday night.
