Reports

Almost a decade has passed since the word "environment" became a part of practically every American's vocabulary.

But even before the citizenry in general began to show concern for the increasing harm being done to the land, sea and air, a significant amount of government attention, at local and federal levels, had been directed at preserving our natural resources.

Organizations such as the Soil Conservation Service, for example, have for years provided expert advice to farmers and ranchers regarding prevention of erosion and the development of irrigation systems.

Yet now, in 1977, we still are addressing the same basic problems that have long been with us. Clearly these problems are complex. Nevertheless, if we do not keep in view our environmental concerns as we address energy questions, as well as the success or failure of our recent past, we run the risk of losing as much environmental ground as we have gained.

This week, some rather startling statistics are being compiled by my staff which show that President Carter's planned conversion from natural gas to coal may have devastating environmental effects.

It is clear now that the President's national energy plan was formulated under such stringent time pressures that the White House did not have all the vital information it needed for far-reaching policy decisions.

As we move forward with the legislative task of formulating specifics of a national energy plan, we must look closer at the long-range implications of the administration's policy.

The administration assumed, initially, that installation of stack gas scrubbers in coal-fired utility boilers would eliminate any significant emission of sulphur-dioxide, a poisonous gas formed when coal with high sulphur content is burned. But recent findings by my staff indicate that this is not the case. Even with scrubbers, five to ten per cent of the sulphur will escape into the atmosphere, killing foliage, causing lung disease and discomfort for emphysema sufferers, and being a general irritant, if not hazard, to society.

We estimate that a 1,000 magawatt coal-fired electric generating plant used to provide electricity to our cities will emit 50 million pounds of sulphur dioxide, 530,000 tons of solid sludge and 32 million pounds of nitrogen oxides into the environment annually. This represents approximately 10 pounds of solid pollution for every man, woman and child in the U.S. per year.

I could continue citing statistics that indicate our need--the administration's as well as the nation's--to rethink the hope that has been placed in the potential of conversion to coal.

Urgency, of course, is of the essence. Expediency, however, must never replace scientific certainty in the formulation of policy that will impact us all as individuals and as dynamic and vital nation for decades to come.

FEEDING HELPS FISH

An inadequate feeding program may be keeping your farm pond from producing fish up to its potential, says a fisheries specialist with the Extension Service. Commercial fish feeds can increase fish production tenfold and also help congregate fish for good fishing. Feed fish daily while the water temperature remains 70 degrees F. or above. With floating feed, provide what the fish will eat in 15 minutes--up to 15 pounds per surface acre per day. With sinking feed, provide 3 per cent of the estimated fish weight. Automatic feeders are also available.

Tiny built-in snaps in socks let them team up with their partner during laundry processes--and they are available in eight different styles.

Successful garage sales depend on organization. Suggestion for the following ideas for planning and staging a "neighborhood marketplace" may prove most helpful.

Advertising your garage sale with signs in the neighborhood (if customary), bulletin boards at community centers and grocery stores--and classified ads in the newspaper.

Most shoppers check newspaper ads Wednesday through Saturday--advertising these days will bring your sale it's widest readership.

Draw attention in the ad to big items you want to sell--list brand name, color, size or other characteristics.

Consider combining your sale with a neighbor or friend, or having a "block sale"--in which several people on the same block hold sales at the same time.

Holding a sale with others provides company during the lulls and help during the crowds.

Check local ordinances for permit requirements for holding a garage sale. Many cities limit the frequency and length of a sale, as well as the number and placement of signs.

Be ready the day before by organizing the items for sale. Price all items ahead--this will keep prices reasonable, even under crowd pressure.

Expect someone to come the day before or several hours early just to get a headstart on the other shoppers.

Some experienced garage sellers will not sell ahead of the starting time to avoid selling something not intended for sale or selling below the price they would have set later.

Bargaining is part of the experience, so be flexible when you price items. Many sellers are willing to come down as much as 50 per cent. Ask about the custom in your area. However, be sensitive to the shoppers' interests. Sometimes offering to lower the price $1 or $2 on a $20 to $30 item will be just enough to make the sale.

Lions Purchase Farris Building For New Home

A spokesman for the Robert Lee-Silver Lions Club announced that the club, after a long search, has found a home. The club members voted to purchase the old Farris Building in downtown Robert Lee.

Without adequate storage, the club's equipment such as wheel chairs, crutches and other aids for the handicapped are deteriorating and some are in need of repair. Also, the club has other equipment used in pancake suppers, turkey shoots and other club activities. All of these items are stored in half a dozen places, making it very difficult to control and maintain.

Long range plans call for the remodeling and beautifying the building, making it suitable for club meetings. It will also be made available to the community for group meetings, plays, etc.

A Lions Club Thrift Shop and Auction House are in the plans.

The Building Committee, composed of W.T. Scott, Terry Bryan, Horace Scott, W.T. Roach, Bob Boone has kicked off a fund raising campaign to raise money to purchase the building and start the remodeling.

The Lions Club will sincerely appreciate any contributions made to this project and all donations will be acknowledged.

Some contributions have been received, some as a memorial to loved ones and some have made pledges for a monthly contribution.

The club will place a plaque with the names of all contributions in it's new home in memory of those who made it possible.

Some of the activities that the Lions Club is now sponsoring are a girls softball team; a Boy Scout Troop and erected the Welcome To Robert Lee sign on the Sterling City Highway.

The Lions Club wishes to thank Charles Sims for permitting the sign to be placed on his property; also to Bob Fields, Terry Bryan, Horace Scott, Fern Havin and W.T. Scott for a job well done.

FRIDAY DEADLINE TO REGISTER FOR VOTE IN BEEF REFERENDUM

Registration in the first national Beef Referendum ends this week and Texas cattle producers are doing their "homework" before voting, according to the chairman of the Texas Beef Development Taskforce (BDT).

Friday (today) is the last day to register in order to be able to vote. J.E. Quisenberry, head of the ASCS office in Robert Lee said 60 cattle owners had-registered up till noon Monday.

J.D. Sartwelle, a rancher from Austin County and chairman of the state BDT, reports excellent response to a toll-free Beef Referendum "Hotline". "We are getting dozens of calls each day from interested cattlemen," he says. "The vast majority indicate they favor the program, after getting their questions answered."

The most frequent questions, with Sartwelle's answers include: WHO CAN VOTE?

"Anyone who owned cattle during 1976 is eligible to register and vote," he says. "This includes 4-H or FFA students who may have owned only a few head. Each producing entity—whether an individual, a family, partnership or corporation—is entitled to one vote. But they must register first."

WHO WILL ADMINISTER THE PROGRAM?

"A 68-member Beef Board will administer the $30 million to $40 million raised each year," Sartwelle says. "These Board members will be cattle producers nominated by existing producer organizations in each state."

HOW WILL THIS PROGRAM BENEFIT CATTLE PRODUCERS?

"Beef research, education, promotion and foreign market development will be the stimulus needed to put the cattle business back on a profitable basis," he says. "This program will increase beef consumption and help stabilize market conditions which will benefit cattlemen and consumers alike."

"Nutritionists say the average American is eating only half of the meat for good health," Sartwelle adds. "Through nutrition research and consumer education, consumers will improve their diets and beef producers will get their fair share of any increase."

IS IT A GOVERNMENT PROGRAM?

"No," declares Sartwelle. "This is a producer program all the way—financed by producers and administered by producers. The role of the Secretary of Agriculture is limited to that of a referee—to assure that the program is administered according to the intent of the Act, which is to help the beef industry."

CAN I GET A REFUND PROMPTLY?

"Yes, any producer who is not satisfied that the funds are wisely invested can request and get a refund within 60 days after the request is made," answers Sartwelle. "This amounts to a Money-Back Guarantee."

Registration for the Beef Referendum began June 6 in more than 2,000 county ASCS offices across the U.S. Cattle producers have until Friday, June 17, to register for the Referendum. Actual voting will be July 5-15 at the ASCS offices.

Texas cattle producers with additional questions can call, toll-free, 1-800-682-4106 for additional information on the Beef Referendum.

Second Shots Are Ready for Horses

Second shots for sleeping sickness in horses will be available Saturday night, June 18, at the Bronte Roping Arena. First shots were given May 14 and a second shot is needed approximately 30 days later to insure against the disease.

Dr. Jimmy Smith, Winters veterinarian, will be on hand to administer the shots.

Officers of the Coke County Rodeo Association thought it would be particularly convenient to give the shots Saturday night since that is the time for the annual Coke County 4-H Horse Show, and many horse owners will have their animals at the arena.

In shopping for fresh corn, look for: corn in ice or refrigerator displays, even rows of fresh, tender, plump milky kernels just firm enough to offer slight resistance to pressure—and green, fresh-looking husks.

HOME FIRE SAFETY

A home burns every 45 seconds in the U.S., resulting in 7,000 fire deaths annually. Since at least one-fourth of these victims are children under 14, parents should teach their children how to survive a home fire. Home fire drills can save the lives of many children, and a publication by the Extension Service can help parents provide the needed safety training.

SOCIAL SECURITY REP. COMING TO COKE

A representative of the San Angelo Social Security office will be in Coke County Thursday, July 7, to answer questions and assist anyone who needs help with Social Security matters.

He will be at the City Hall in Bronte from 10:30-11:30 a.m. and at the Courthouse in Robert Lee from 1-2 p.m.

Assistance is also available by telephone by calling 949-4608 in San Angelo.

HOME LANDSCAPING

In addition to providing visual beauty and aesthetic value, a well-managed home landscape helps produce a better environment, contends an Extension Service horticulturist. Living plants help remove impurities from the atmosphere, they can use carbon dioxide and give off oxygen, they trap dust particles, and they act as cooling systems, releasing water and absorbing less energy than buildings and pavement.

Tetanus immunizations are necessary for adults and children—and a booster is advisable every ten years.

CRMWD Studies Upper Colorado

The Colorado River Municipal Water District hopes to have a draft soon of the first volume of its 208 Water Quality Study of the Upper Colorado River Basin. The District through a planning grant from the Texas Water Quality Board, has been involved in the 208 Water Quality Study since the first of the year.

Freese and Nichols, contractor for the engineering and technical work on the study, has assembled data for the initial report. This will include information on present and projected water use, both industrial and municipal, within the drainage area above the confluence of the Colorado and Concho Rivers (not including the Concho watershed); economic conditions and indicators; present and projected population trends; present and projected quantities of waste water discharge. A land-use map also will be included.

Rodney Lewis, administrative assistant for the CRMWD, has been coordinating the project for the upper basin and has contacted public officials in the watershed concerning the study. Together with Freese and Nichols representatives, he will be making further visits in the area.

Committee members in this area are Judge Bill Tune, Big Spring; Judge John Edd Killen, Sweetwater; Judge Barbara C. Culver, Midland; Mayor Lloyd Cline, Lamesa; Mayor Dan Hemphill, Odessa; Mayor Dan Harris, Denver City; Mayor Elton Berkman, Colorado City; Mayor Louis T. Miller, Andrews; Judge W.W. Thetford, Robert Lee; W.L. Wilson, Jr., Big Spring; Roy W. Wicker, Jr., Seagraves; Judge Roland L. Lowe, Sterling City; J. Rich Anderson, Gail; Royce K. Fancher, Bronte; Betty Lou Taylor, Midland; Clyde McMahon, Sr., Big Springs; Everett J. Grindstaff, Ballinger.

Golf Tournament A Huge Success

It was a big weekend in Robert Lee for golfers last Saturday and Sunday when the annual Partnership Tournament was held at the Mountain Creek Golf Course.

Wayne Alexander of Bronte and Rick Webster of Ozona took first place honors in the championship flight when they shot a 65 on Saturday for a 133 total. The champs were tied with Grant Collins and Bill March of San Angelo at 65 strokes at the end of Saturday's play. Alexander and Webster 68 on Sunday was one stroke better than the second place 69.

David Rainey and Barry Benton of San Angelo took first flight title with 139 total to outdo George Beyes and Steve Miller's 140.

W.W. Thetford and Lou Heuvel won second flight honors with a 148 total, one shot better than the 149 of Gary Womack and Steve Meadows.

The third flight trophy was won by Larry and John Stewart with 153. The father-son team defeated Randy Hall and R.B. Babbitt by one shot.

The scorecards showed these results:

Championship flight—Wayne Alexander-Rick Webster 65-68-133, Grant Collins-Bill March 65-69-134, John Burnett-Greg Cain 68-68-136.

First flight—David Rainey-Barry Benton 73-66-139, George Beyes-Steve Miller 71-69-140, Ronnie Lee-Bobby Smith 73-68-141.

Officers of the golf association said they were deeply appreciative to everyone who helped make the tournament a success. The contest drew 64 teams in the four flights. Plans are being made for next year's tournament.

IN MEMORY OF CHRISTOPHER SHANE THOMPSON
There's an open gate at the end of the road
Through which each must go alone,
And there is a light we cannot see,
Our father claims His own.
Beyond the gate your loved one finds happiness and rest,
And there is comfort in the thought
That a loving God knows best.
This beautiful verse was from one of the many lovely cards we received since the loss of our little Christopher.
He had so many who loved him.
We know he must have been very special to God for Him to take him from us.
We can never thank everyone enough for all the beautiful flowers, memorials, cards, food and many prayers.
We hope in time and in some way that we will be able to return the many kind deeds from our dear friends. May God bless each one of you. Love,
The Families of Christopher Shane Thompson.
