Mason, Tex., Jan. 25, 1899. Mr. Ed Smallwood :

Dear Friend-We are having lots of fun up here over your article in the Paper in regard to my valise, But there was no sermon in it, and the man who found it evidently did not have one on hand, and did not therefore take my place in the pulpit, but left the valise at the postoffice here where I received it and all its contents. It was found by the mail car rier about eight or ten miles from Fredericksburg, and he brought i back on his trip the next day.

Yours, truly, J. P. LYLE.

It is fortunate for the country that the founders of the republic left all its honors open to the poor. Some of the men who have attained very high rank in statesmanship had no capacity to save money, and lived and died in poverty. There has been more than one great senator who never paid taxes on an assessment of $2,000, and who never owned a home. And there have been very few great statesmen in lists of heavy taxpayers.

KERRVILLE PAPER.

EDWARD SMALLWOOD, Editor and Proprietor.

$1.50 Per Year in Advance. Published every Saturday.

Last Thursday Miss Nealte Coleman started to school as usual in her pretty cart. At Love's crossing her pony became frightened by a barking dog. The pony turned and dashed back in the direction of home. At a sharp turn in the road the cart turned over and Miss Nealie was thrown to the ground. The pony, free from the cart sped homeward, and Mrs. Coleman, seeing the animal with hanging Do you hear from John O'Groat's to lines, feared the worst. It happened at the time that the pony made its first dash, that Jesse Coleman was in the road opposite Love's house. He whipped his horse down the steep bluff and across the river like Aght ning. Near the bank the wheels of She's patient been and mild, until the buggy struck a log of wood and he was thrown violently against the dash board. Neither Miss Nealie nor her brother were much hurt, vored with a call by Capt. E. Grasett manager of the Melissa ranch. The Captain is an enthusiast and an' expert in cattle raising. His old home is Herefordshire, England, where he has had much experience in breeding Hereford cattte. He made several sales to stock fanciers in continental Europe, the Queen of Spain having been among his patrons. Last month a Hereford yearling, owned by the Queen of England, took first prize at the fat stock show at Birmingham. Its weight was 1428 pounds, The same animal was exhibibited at the great Smithfield show in London, where it received first prize. It also received the champion prize over 2's and 3's of the short horn class. At the fat stock show in Birmingham. held by the butchers for the best Christmas beef, the Herefords brought one cent a pound more than the short horns. One beef, the property of the queen, sold for £40-$200 in our money. Capt. Grasett claims. that the Herefords, as beaf producers, may be brought to a high degree of perfection in this section. A recent importation into this country was by Mr. Sotham, of Chillicothe, Mo., who bought the noted bull " Ambulance," from Mr. John Arkwright, of Hamp the heart as he is in business.
