THE COUNTRY CHURCH

ISOLATION AND DRUDGERY THE TWIN ENEMIES OF AGRICULTURE.

The Rural Church the Guiding Star of Progress.

The New Rural Civilization, By Peter Radford.

We are confronting a new rural civilization. It is so radically different from the life of the past that it may well be called new, not merely because of its characteristics, but because of its triumph in rural co-operation and leadership. The utilization of modern agencies, and the use of farm machinery have greatly increased the efficiency of the farmers, broadened their vision and made life more satisfying.
The most serious enemies to country life are isolation and drudgery, and perhaps the worst of the two is isolation. It is the curse of the country. The hunger for companionship has been disregarded and in various ways the social instincts have had their revenge. The fruits of modern inventive skill and enterprise have enriched country life and afforded the facilities of banishing forever the extreme isolation which used to vex the farm household of the past. The telephone is a great social asset in the rural home; the rural free delivery brings the world's daily message to the door; the parcels post delivers ten million packages per annum at a half million homes and the automobile annihilates distance, making isolation a myth. The building of public highways has brought communities and farm homes closer together.

The Slave of Drudgery.

It is a dramatic moment on the farm when machinery emancipates the slave of drudgery. The evolution of farm machinery is a continued story of human ingenuity. The man now, by the aid of modern mechanical devices, can do as much as five or ten men used to perform and the work is less burdensome and more fascinating. The tractors of conquest will lift the yoke of drudgery that has crushed courage out of farm boys and send them to retreat to the cities. There are many labor-saving devices for the homes that can relieve the wife of back-breaking labor. Labor-saving machinery has engaged the attention of the farmer, relieved the housewife and added new economies and values to the farm and has taken away self-pride given them a genuine pride in their calling. We need to take advantage of these facilities.

Operation the Key-Note.

The test of modern civilization is the capacity for co-operation. The old days of the independent farmer are rapidly passing and we are beginning to catch the vision and share the profits of organized effort. There are many farm machines adapted to serving a common, but organization of farmers is required to purchase and operate them on a co-operative basis, and new laws are needed to permit these transactions.

New tasks for the Rural Church

The rural church has been slow to adjust itself to the new order of things. The churches are discovering new opportunities for service, broader community usefulness and a great social mission. The church must fit itself for new tasks and under a new virile type of leadership undertake real community building with the modern church as the center of activity and source of inspiration and guidance. The triumph over isolation and the gradual emancipation from drudgery, the development of good roads, telephone, rural mail service and the wonderful evolution of farm machinery make for religious advancement. The increase in intelligence, new social consciousness, growing spirit of co-operation, added efficiency of rural institutions, character, home building and better rural morals afford opportunities for a community-serving church to demonstrate its power. The rural church to fulfill its mission must swing around it the influences for progress.

MRS. MINNIE McREA

Mrs. Minnie McRea, proprietor of the McRae Hotel in Kerrville, died suddenly this morning at about 6 o'clock. She retired last night in her usual good health and with no apprehension of what was so soon to befall her. Her children were aroused by her death struggle which came upon her just before she was to have gotten up and she died after only a few gasps and before a physician could get to her. The physician pronounced her death to be from an acute heart trouble.

Mrs. McRea was a widow and leaves six children, four girls and two boys. Her two sons, Ed and Will, live at Lytle and two married daughters, Mrs. Earl Elam and Mrs. Irvin Saenger, live at this place, and two little daughters who lived with their mother. The family came to Kerrville about two years ago from San Antonio where deceased was born in 1874 and had resided all her life. Her untimely death comes as a great shock to the family, who in their grief, have the profound sympathy of the entire community.

Interment will be made in Glen Rest Cemetery tomorrow.

I have an 8-room house with good barn and 235 feet front on water street—back to river, well, wind mill and tank and under-ground cistern, good orchard, modern improvements. Place is for quick sale. See Gilbert C. Storms for price and terms. Office on Main street, Kerrville Texas.

CARPENTER IS POSTMASTER

During the past three weeks the question of "Who is postmaster at Kerrville?" has been a topic that has kept our people talking, guessing and asking questions. About three weeks ago a dispatch from Washington to Texas papers indicated that A. H. Moore, former Co. and Dist. Clerk, would receive the appointment. This stirred things to a fever of excitement. The wires were kept hot for several days between Kerrville and Washington. The report that Will Garrett's application had been turned down was a stimulus which put his friends busy to find the "why and how," and it is stated that at least one of his friends made a trip to Washington in his behalf. However, and notwithstanding the fact that besides the two above mentioned Messrs. J. J. Starkey and M. D. Wardlow were also applicants, it remained for the Kerrville folk to be treated to another surprise when the news came from Washington the latter part of last week that Mr. H. L. Carpenter had been allowed to withdraw his resignation and had been reinstated as postmaster at Kerrville.

Mr. Carpenter was appointed by the recommendation of Congressman Slayden under the Wilson administration early last year and on Oct. 10th last sent in his resignation.

H. Welge, manager of the West Texas Supply Co., made a business trip to Bandera the latter part of last week.

Paint Or Not
Is a horse worth more or less after feed?
Hay and oats are high today; shall I wait today and feed him tomorrow? That's how men do about painting their houses and barns and fences. Paint has been for several years; and so they have waited. Some are still waiting.
Their property drops a trifle a year and the next job of paint creeps-up creeps-up creeps-up; it'll take more paint by a gallon a year; they don't save a cent, and the property goes-on suffering.

A NEW MID-COAST ASSOCIATION

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL CONGRESS NO MORE—NEW ONE FORMED.

Objects Set Forth for Greater Progress, and to Seek Closer Union of the People.

Houston, Tex.—With the adoption of the report of the organization committee Wednesday, the Texas Mid-coast Industrial Congress went out of existence, and in its place was laid the foundation of the Texas Midcoast Development Association...

The reorganization committee appointed Wednesday, and composed of Al W. Davis, George H. Harris, Judge J. W. Munson, Secretary H. A. Clapp and C. W. Goodman, have drafted the articles of incorporation and prepared an application to the secretary of state for a charter...

The committee, acting in a nominating capacity, named for the temporary officers of the new organization F. J. Hardey, president, of the old organization, to fill that position in the new one; Henry A. Clapp to be secretary of the association, holding the same position in the congress; and Walter Reiffert of Cuero to be treasurer...

The committee also named a board of directors, selecting one from each county, and they are as follows: A. W. Davis of Freepport, Brazoria; Morris Stern of Galveston, Galveston; H. M. Mayo of Houston, Harris; H. A. Hillyer of Rosenberg, Fort Bend; J. R. Wooten of Columbus, Colorado; W. S. Holman of Bay City, Matagorda; H. A. Cline of Wharton, Wharton; Otto Rosenberg of Hallettsville, Lavaca; L. Seabrook of Port Lavaca, Calhoun; J. M. Scofield of Edna, Jackson; John T. Land of Victoria, Victoria; and George H. Harris of Cuero, De Witt.

Vice-presidents were also named, one from each county in the association except Calhoun, and following are the names presented: J. W. Munson, Brazoria; H. B. Moore, Galveston; C. W. Goodman, Harris; S. J. Winston, Fort Bend; J. R. Westmoreland, Colorado; J. M. Haller, Lavaca; S. M. Scott, Jackson; A. M. McFadden, Victoria; J. C. Howerton, De Witt; George Culver, Matagorda, and J. C. Moutray, Wharton.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted when read, thereby confirming the above lists of nominations.

It is the plan of the leaders of the new organization to have meetings at frequent intervals over the territory of the association.

It was proposed that it would be well for the association to give a number of barbecues over the mid-coast country, inviting the farmers from around, and there have speakers explain the object of the organization.

A resolution was offered by J. R. Wooten that it be the plan of the organization to maintain a permanent exhibit in some centrally located city of the mid-coast territory, and that similar associations to the parent one be organized in all the counties embraced in the Midcoast Association.

"Cotton in Midcoast" was the subject of an exceptionally fine talk by J. R. Wooten, in which he told some of the reasons why farmers fail to get a full price for their product. "The lowest basis taken for grading cotton is a one-inch staple," said Mr. Wooten, "and it is only upon that grade that the farmers are paid for their cotton. The buyers grade cotton according to its degree of cleanliness and color, but the millers in Liverpool buy it according to the staple. Based on a one-inch staple cotton averaging one-eighth inch longer brings a premium of from 2 1/2c to 5c per pound at the mills. Perhaps this same cotton was sold by the farmer on a basis of low middling, which had to be cleaned at a cost of 7c per hundred pounds."

"The best remedy for such a condition, in my estimation, is the education of the farmer on how to grade cotton according to the millers' method and not according to the buyers' standard of grading."

PAROLED CONVICTS WORK ROADS

FIFTY ARE CHOSEN ON HONOR AND WILL RECEIVE PAY.

Beneficiaries Are Selected and Terms Require They Must Be Obedient and Industrious.

Austin, Tex.—R. G. Christian, highway engineer in charge of road construction in the Lindale district, Smith County, Tuesday secured the paroles for the fifty convicts who will be taken from Huntsville penitentiary to work on the roads of the Lindale district under contract recently approved by the governor.

The paroles were prepared in legal form by Assistant Attorney General Luther Nickles and the governor signed them. These paroles will be revocable in the event a beneficiary is disobedient or fails to do the work expected as a road laborer.

All of the men paroled are white, between the ages of 29 and 36 years, apparently able-bodied, of good weight, with short terms of five years or under and having served a major portion thereof. In other words, they are select men.

The governor said that he has about effected plans for paroling an additional forty men to the general manager of the State Railroad for use in reconstructing that line and making the necessary betterments and improvements thereon.

Advices from numerous counties have been received that they will send representatives to Lindale to study the system after the work is begun.

Lindale district has issued $75,000 for road building purposes, Tyler $300,000 and Bullard $30,000 for the same purpose, and all in the same county. The present contract for convicts, however, is for but twelve months, but may be renewed if satisfactory.

In addition to being given comfortable quarters, the convicts will also have plenty of wholesome food, with the necessary variety and chance.

De Palma Wins Vanderbilt Cup Race. Los Angeles, Cal.—Defeating Barney Oldfield by a trifle more than a minute in a 294-mile grind, Ralph de Palma, participant in scores of hard-fought motor contests, won his second Vanderbilt cup race Thursday on the Santa Monica course. His time was 3:53:41, Oldfield's 3:55:01. Sixteen cars entered and only five finished, but from the eighteenth lap to the finish it was a contest solely between De Palma and Oldfield. De Palma won because he did not have to stop once in all the thirty-five laps of the eight-mile course. Oldfield forfeited his chance when he was compelled to stop and change a wheel in the thirty-fourth lap, losing nearly a minute.

Other drivers who remained in the race were W. H. Carlson of San Diego, Earl Cooper, who started a favorite, and George Joeriman, and they finished in the order named.

Charles Becker Case Reversed. Albany, N. Y.—The conviction of Charles Becker, a former New York police lieutenant, of the murder of Herman Rosenthal was reversed and the conviction of the four gunmen for the same crime was affirmed Tuesday by the court of appeals. Justice Goff, by the court held, erred in many of his rulings in Becker's trial and appeared to be prejudiced in his attitude toward the defendant. The reversal was based solely on these grounds.

A RECORD IN TRUCK SHIPMENTS

TWO HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-EIGHT CARLOADS FROM THE VALLEY.

Present Conditions Indicate That Last Year's Traffic Over One Railroad Will Double.

San Benito, Tex.—The past week has been the busiest week of the season for truck shipments from the Valley, and probably sets a record for quantity shipments during one week since the opening up of lower Rio Grande Valley.

Eighty-five carloads of cabbage were sent out of the edge of an Alpine cliff, and San Benito the past week, but not already gone out, this runs the son's total shipments from San Benito to 286 carloads.

The shipments are divided as follows: Cabbage, 193 carloads; 73 carloads; mixed vegetables, 21 carloads.

These figures show a vast increase in business over that of last year to this date, which was as follows: Cabbage, 31 carloads; lettuce, 21 carloads; mixed vegetables, 10 carloads, making a total of 71 cars handled.

Practically all of the lettuce has been shipped, but the rush season of the winter will hardly be reached the end of some two more months.

Under present prospects San Benito bids fair to double her last year's output, at least of car lot shipments. To encourage road improvement the precinct County Commission A. Graham announces that he has secured permission to loan to the users of the precinct the county's outfit at any time they desire.

Work that is being carried out, a number of new roads are being causing the grader to be in demand.

RAILROAD EARNINGS DECREASED

Gross Corporate Income for Year Ending Dec. 31, 1913, was as Figures $4,714,369.06.

Austin, Tex.—General H. G. W. J. Statisticians for thirty-one of the principal Texas railroads, reported about 90 per cent of the earnings of the state, has just completed a summary of business results for the six months ending Dec. 31, 1913, compared with six months ending Dec. 31, 1912. These thirty-one roads, for six months ending Dec. 31, 1913, grossed $2,990,925.54 less than the corresponding six months ending Dec. 31, 1912.

The operating expenses these roads, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1913, were $883,358.25 greater for the corresponding six months ending Dec. 31, 1912. Other income added $159,971.76.

For the year ending Dec. 31, 1913, the gross corporate income these thirty-one roads was $4,714,369.06 less than for the corresponding months of the preceding year.

Taxes for the six months ending Dec. 31, 1913, increased $61,788. Expenses for lease of road joint facilities, hire of equip., etc., showed material increases.

The net loss or deficit for the six months ending Dec. 31, 1913, is $5,539,130.25. In 4 of these companies, as a result of six months operation, are $5,392.25 behind the corresponding months of the preceding year.

When it is remembered that these same companies for last year and the year before had net aggregates of for the two years four and a half million dollars one can readily see that the deficit net loss for the six months end Dec. 31, 1913, affects the Texas roads most seriously.

The statement shows that persons are practicing the most frugality in an endeavor to hold operating expenses. Much of expense, such as taxes, damage to verdicts, etc., is beyond the control of the roads.

General Askew suggests that persons disposed to complain of the service rendered by the roads should remember that the roads as a whole, have for the two years ending June 30, 1913, been operated at a deficit of over four and a half million dollars, and for the year that will, in all probability, exceed six million dollars.

Some relief is needed. President Woodrow Wilson says "We can not postpone action in the matter without leaving the railroads exposed to serious handicaps and hazards; and the prosperity of the roads and the prosperity of the country are inseparably connected."

So he stepped on the rock and fell on hard rock nearly 100 feet below. He lay there all night for quantity shipments during next morning got up and walked one week since the opening up of lower Rio Grande Valley.

KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE GLASS OF SALTS

Less Meat if Kidneys Hurt or You Have Backache or Bladder Misery—Meat Forms Uric Acid. No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores and which is filtered out by the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, bladder disorders, comes from sluggish kidneys.

At the moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; it makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR DARKENS YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look Years Younger! Try Grandmother's Recipe of Sage and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know. Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. —Adv.

The Lady of the Mount

SYNOPSIS.

Countess Ellen, daughter of the governor of the Mount, has chance encounter with a peasant boy, "The Mount," a small island, northwestern coast of France, during the time of Louis XVI. was a government of the nobles. A noble, the Countess's father, Young Desaurac, determines to secure an education and become a gentleman. Young Desaurac becomes a sailor and returns to France after seven years' schooling. He returns after many adventures. Her Ladyship dances with strange Eberhard, and a call to mysterious Le Seigneur Noir. Lady Elise is caught in this "vortex." Her father, the Seigneur, rescues her and takes her to his retreat, the Marquis. Lady Elise and her father, the Seigneur, are arrested and brought before the governor. Lady Elise has been taken to the Marquis. Lady Elise is taken to the Marquis. Lady Elise is taken to the Marquis. Lady Elise is taken to the Marquis.

That evening found the Black Seigneur in the Desaurac forest; where, as a boy, he had fled for shelter, now some instinct, or desire, he did not strive to analyze, drew him. As slowly he made his way through the wood, on every hand familiar outlines and details, seen vaguely in the last light of day, invited him to pause; but without stopping he moved on to the castle, and up to the chamber, where he found him, a vagabond lad. Through the window the same unobstructed view of the Mount dimly unfolded itself in the dusk, and for some moments he regarded it—august, majestic; glowing its heart's black secrets with specious and well-composed bearings! As he looked, there suddenly came to him the remembrance of another impression; the same picture, seen through the eyes of a boy—standing where he was now! Then had the Mount seemed a marvelous series of structures, air-drawn, magical—home of a small and fairy-like creature, with hair of shining gold. Dark turned to night; in the distance the Mount twinkled, and through the break in the forest only the stars twinkled. Then lighting his fire, the young man sat down at the side; with faculties alert, listened to the wind; looked at the flames. Demon-like they leaped before his eyes, as when he had and watched for the emphasis; and mechanically placed his weapons on the side he had been wont to lay them on days. There was little likelihood would seek him now, however the Governor was fully occupied where, looking to interests more important to himself and to—

Her ladyship! The fire leaped, as laughing at fate's foolhardy life for his! What irony! Had betrayed him? "If" His crushed possibility for support but almost at once itself dissolved. Indiscreetly associated with thought, a scene in a dungeon needs recur; her denial; the totality; the appeal of light; thrust through the bars! Why? questions he had asked them, reiterated now; the hand that gripped hers opened, closed; more he seemed to see the steady unwavering eyes; once more seen to read in their depths, "Believe!"

CHAPTER XXXI.

The Attack on the Mount.

The rock loomed black before them, as the troopers, escorting the Governor's daughter, rode up to the Mount. Entering the town, at its base, dark walls on either side of them shut out the broad map of the heavens and left but a narrow open space above; here lights were visible, so that many of the houses seemed tenanted; even at the tavern, unwanted stillness prevailed. Apparently was the return from byway, where hostile faces had been prone to frown upon the summit, now only chill drafts of air swept down to greet them; passed on with shrill whisperings, and died away in the distance. Nearing the massive portals that opened wide into his Excellency's calm, my lady suppressed a shiver; but the Marquis, in a low tone, ventured to jest on the depressing and melancholy aspect of the Mount at that hour. To these light remarks she returned no answer, and he had just begun to rally her on a certain quaintness of spirits, apparent on the beach and irreconcilable with the circumstances of the moment, when a sharp exclamation fell from the girl's lips. In front of them, between the soldiers and the entrance to that upper part of the Mount, many dark forms had suddenly darted forth; at the same time from near-by houses came unmistakable sounds of life and activity; doors were thrown open and windows raised. The town they thought asleep had merely been watching; now showed its bright eyes in a multitude of menacing lights around them; below, where likewise a mysterious marshaling had occurred, from alleys, corners, and hovels, immediately after the peering of the Governor's party!

"What does it mean?" Again she said. The Marquis' tones, less confident now, as he turned to the commandant. "Treachery!" the commandant's voice rang out. "They've broken faith with us!"

"Does!" My lord gazed uncertainly dead; dubiously behind. "What are you going to do?" "Do?" the commandant suppressed but almost at once itself dissolved. Indiscreetly associated with thought, a scene in a dungeon needs recur; her denial; the totality; the appeal of light; thrust through the bars! Why? questions he had asked them, reiterated now; the hand that gripped hers opened, closed; more he seemed to see the steady unwavering eyes; once more seen to read in their depths, "Believe!"

A sudden sharp detonation afar disrupted the picture. Other explosions followed, like volleys of musketry; and springing to the window, the Black Seigneur looked toward the Mount; from it, flashes of light gleamed and glimmered. Then the loud report of a cannon reverberated in the distance.

"This is the!" said the Governor, as the girl rode away, his look, bitterly, shifting to the soldiers, a quick mental note; they were his; the gates, he heard the voice of her. "Here! Mon pere!" she cried, gasping, his face in the light of lamp that side of the wall. He answered with a laconic command to spring to the palace; and, regarding features, tragically appealing to at the moment—so strange and dent they seemed!—she prepared. But ere turning: "You think soldiers can hold the gate!" she said. "Yes!" he replied sharply, as if anathema the question.

Not all of them from the immediate neighborhood! Voices, among the assailants, had ailed out in what was surely the Peisian dialect of the noble; here to propagate the revolution; extended the circle of fame! And they had seen that arms were not wanting! Muskets, pikes, swords, must have been kept concealed for some time in the town at the base of the Mount or on the shore. In his mind's eye, too late perhaps, his Excellency could see now how the assault had long been planned, how all these people had only been waiting for what? The opportunity afforded by a treacherous word! Spoken by whom?

But a moment these reflections surged through his brain; an instant, and his gaze swung around, at towers—turrets—as a magician might apprehensively survey a fabulous architectural creation, handiwork of his dark craft, threatened, through an influence beyond his control, with destruction; then with a quick start, his Excellency wheeled, walked toward the staircase. About to descend, the sight of a figure coming up, caused him, however, to pause; in the flare of the light below, something in the manner of the man's advance impressed the governor as peculiar.

The movements of this person, who was under-sized, wiry, were agile and cat-like; first would he stop, look around him and listen; afterward spring forward a few steps as not quite sure of his course. But still he came on, keeping as closely as might be to the cover of the shadows, until a growing impression he had seen the fellow before resolved itself into positiveness in his Excellency's mind.

Meanwhile, the Lady Elise had repaired to the palace; a prey to harassing doubts her father's words had failed to remove, she listened to those sounds of the strife she no longer saw. But that she wished to obey her father unquestioningly now—at, perhaps, a supreme moment for both of them!—she could not have remained where she was. Never had the palace looked so blank and deserted; she rang her bell; no one answered. The servants had apparently all left—gone. It might be, to look down on and behold this guerre a la mort waged near the gates. Or, perhaps, had they all, except the old nurse, fled from the palace, never to return? As she asked herself these questions, in the distance, the noise of the conflict grew louder; the shouts of the people more distinct, nearer! With a sudden premonition of disaster close at hand, the desire to see what was happening—to know the worst—setted her. No longer could she remain in her apartments; she must return to the ramparts—to her father; and then, if need be—

The thought drove some of the color from her cheek, but in a moment her braver instincts spoke; there awoke within her the courage and spirit of her Norman ancestry. Pale, yet determined, she hastened down the long, dimly lighted corridor, and was nearing the door leading to the street when it suddenly opened and a man, tall and dark, showing in his appearance many signs of the fray, stepped in. At sight of her a quick exclamation fell from his lips: his bold, anxious eyes lighted. "My Lady!"

shutting out the sight, she ran toward the threshold, one thought in her mind—her father, and where she had last seen him! That she was seized, held, restrained, seemed but a natural, though terrible, incident of the moment.

"Pardon, my Lady! In a moment they will be here, and they will not spare you! Your father is not at the gate; he left before the soldiers gave way! Believe me, or not—it is the truth! As true as that, if you go out, they will kill you!"

And did he not want that; why else was he here? The young man's face darkened; he made an impatient gesture. They were but wasting time; already were the people close without; one of the assailants, a woman, had been shot in the assault; the others? Her Ladyship would understand; if she wished to save herself? His tones vibrated with strange eagerness. The palace had a rear entrance, of course? Then had they better flee upward to some place of concealment, and, later when the people were concerned most in pillage, endeavor to find a way to leave the Mount. After that, it would be easy; his ship was waiting—Her wild words interrupted; her father—she would go only to him! She would never leave him now!

That which she proposed was impossible, quickly the young man answered. The mob—the terrible mob! Did she realize to what she would expose herself? Did she know the terrible danger? More plainly he told her. As for her going, it was not to be thought of; he must see she did not persist in her purpose.

"You?" My lady flashed him a glance. "You!" she repeated. "Whose men broke faith?" "That may be!" His voice rang bitterly. "Yet," with stubborn resolution, "your Ladyship must not go!" "Must not? And you presume—dare tell me that? You, the—" "I would there were no need to cross you, my Lady," he returned, when be hind him the door, leading from the street, suddenly opened; closed. "Elise!" The voice of the Marquis, who had hurriedly entered, rang out: "Changé! Mon Dieu! What is this?" In the dim light, an instant my lord stared hard at the man before him; then with drawn blade threw himself upon him.

THE KERRVILLE ADVANCE

Published Every Thursday at Kerrville, Texas, by T. A. Buckner.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

Entered in the U. S. Mails as second class matter at Kerrville, Texas, on Oct. 17, 1912, according to act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Comptroller W. P. Lane has announced as a candidate for Congress from the State at large, two to be elected. He would make an active member and a good one, but if Judge D. E. Garrett of Houston and Hon. Hatton Summers of Dallas the present members, should come out for re-election they will be hard to beat.

A few leading Democrats who oppose prohibition have called a meeting at Dallas on Monday to agree on a candidate for Governor. The call styles these opponents of prohibition as "the constructive forces" of the Democratic party, but the plain meaning is they are opposed to the great and growing moral movement to abolish saloons in Texas.

Hon. Thos. H. Ball will open his campaign for Governor at Brownwood on April 21, the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto which won Texas independence. Lieut. Gov. Will H. Mayes lives at Brownwood and will introduce Gov. Ball, who will win for Texas another freedom—freedom from the saloon, the greatest enemy to peace, order, moral and material prosperity and good government of the State.

Prohibition Democrats are no longer considered ineligible for Presidential appointments since Woodrow Wilson has been President. Witness United States Marshals in Texas, Capt. Bill McDonald of Dallas, Jake Herring of Houston and Capt. John H. Rogers of San Antonio, all of whom supported State-wide Prohibition. Captains McDonald and Rogers served gallantly in the Texas Ranger service.

We hope our correspondents will come up every week with a newsy letter. Our desire is to make the Advance a truly representative paper of Kerr County, and to do this we must have the news from all over the county. We are glad to furnish stamped envelopes and paper to correspondents and furnish any information we can to help in making the letters interesting.

Character of Washington

They say of Giotto, that he introduced goodness into the art of painting: Washington carried it with him into the camp and the cabinet, and established a new criterion of human greatness. The purity of his will confirmed his fortitude; and, as he never faltered in his faith in virtue, he stood fast by that which he knew to be just; free from illusions; never dejected by the apprehension of the difficulties and perils that went before him; and drawing the promise of success from the justice of his cause. Hence he was persevering, leaving nothing unfinished; free from all taint of obstinacy in his firmness; seeking and gladly receiving advice, but immovable in his devotedness to right. Certainly this is a character and life worthy of emulation.

Hon. A. M. Kennedy, Representative from this district, was in this city Tuesday from San Antonio where he has charge of the campaign of Chester H. Terrell for Governor. Mr. Kennedy says either Chester Terrell or Tom Ball will be our next Governor, and this means Mr. Ball's election. It is probable Mr. Terrell will be "eliminated" next Saturday at Dallas. Mr. Kennedy was looking at some lots with a view to building him a residence in Kerrville and is in the race for a second term as Representative.

The Mexican situation is still in an unsettled condition. Several Americans have been killed and one English subject, and something will soon be done to secure reparation and protection to American and other foreign citizens. President Wilson is opposed to American intervention, which would mean war, unless it shall become absolutely necessary, but representing the American people he will see that our citizens and others are protected.

R. S. Newman has the agency at Kerrville for the Waco Morning News, the new prohibition daily, and is taking subscriptions right along. This paper is a full size and up-to-date newspaper, giving the full associated press reports of state and national news, and editorially it is the one Texas daily standing foursquare against the liquor traffic. It should be in the home of every prohibitionist in the State.

"High ball" or Tom Ball?

Wait Paint

Their are painters and waiters. Which am I going to do? Paint or wait?

Which is better? How much am I worth with my property waiting? How much if I paint? Will my house be worth more or less if I paint?

Say it costs $2 a gallon Devoe—I wouldn't paint any other—and $3 or $4 more for putting it on. That's $50 or $60 a 10-gallon job.

The money is gone. Is it in the house? Is it all in the house?

Suppose I were selling; what should I get for that house fresh painted and what should I get for it needing-paint?

I wonder why men paint before selling!

Devoe.

KERRVILLE

Is the county seat of Kerr County, has a population of about 2500, is situated 70 miles northwesterly from San Antonio, and is the terminus of the Kerrville branch of the S. A. & A. P. railroad. It has two daily trains to and from San Antonio, and daily mail routes, carrying passengers in hacks, to Ingram, Junction, Rock Springs, Harper and other places north and west of Kerrville, and also a daily line to Fredericksburg. From Kerrville to Fredericksburg is 25 miles; to Bandera and Medina City, 25 miles; to Junction 60 miles; Rocksprings 80 miles, Harper 21 miles.

Kerrville has electric lights and a splendid system of water works. The sum of $20,000 is being spent on the streets and $10,000 has been voted for road improvements in this precinct.

The elevation at Kerrville is 1750 feet. The Guadalupe river, which heads 30 miles north of Kerrville, runs through the city. On the east side where the city is located, there are high bluffs on the river, and on the west side is a fertile and beautiful valley, and mountains surround the city on the east and west. The Guadalupe valley is occupied by thrifty farmers and ranchmen, and the mountain regions, among which there is considerable valley, creek and arable land, there are large ranches of cattle, horses, sheep and goats, all of which do well in the Kerrville country. The land generally is well wooded, principally with live oak, Spanish oak and cedar, and the range is good, and water excellent.

Our farmers grow wheat, oats and all other small grain, cane and alfalfa, cotton and corn, and fruit and vegetables do well. Kerrville is one of the largest wool markets in the state, and large quantities of wool, mohair, cotton, oats, cattle, etc., are shipped from this point.

The climate of the Kerrville country is unsurpassed. The winters are short and generally mild and invigorating owing to the dryness of the climate and the prevalence of sunshine. The summers are cool and delightful, and the mountain air is pure and bracing. Game abounds in the Kerrville country, and fishing in the Guadalupe, especially north of Kerrville, is good. Kerrville and the adjoining towns are popular resorts for health and recreation.

The Kerrville Commercial Club, any of the different Realty Companies or any of our citizens, will be pleased to give prospective residents or visitors further information.

"Un Angel Mas."

Teresita, daughter of Emilio G. and Lucy A. Anaya died March 3rd 1914 after a short illness of three days. The funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. D. P. Airhart surrounded by a host of friends.

All that loving hands could do to relieve her seemed of no avail, for God called her to come up higher to join the Heavenly angels and there she is crowned the great white throne. We will miss her in the home, we will miss her in school and the Sunday School, but when the mists have rolled away will understand. Not now but in the coming years. We will know the meaning of our tears. We assure the father and mother our heart felt sympathy in their time of sorrow and bereavement of little Teddie May the dear Heavenly Father draw them closer to him where they may all meet again. A true friend.

The road work is going ahead with good progress on all lines leading out of Kerrville and it will not be long until we will have first class macadamized roads in this precinct. Then it will be still more to the advantage of the farmers to bring their products here and trade with our merchants. Bigger loads and shorter distance are the result of good roads and these items count much for the farmer in marketing his products.

GOVERNMENT BY LAWYERS

The Press Denounces and Publicly Condemns Filing of M. K. & T. Suit.

The settlement of the suit against the M. K. & T. Company comes like the fair unfolding of spring and makes us all feel like rejoicing over the happy solution which the battery of lawyers have made of the problem. It is a great day for the common people when lawyers can agree and especially over technicalities which seemed to be about the only point of contention in the Katy suit.

A Victory for the Lawyers.

According to the terms of the settlement the suit for one hundred million dollars is dismissed and the Katy is permitted to improve and expand its properties, a thing it has been doing and was prevented from continuing by the filing of this suit; the Attorney General consents for the consolidation acts of the legislature to become a law; a separation of the Katy of Texas and the Katy of Kansas is agreed upon and the Katy will pay all the attorney fees which, from a legal standpoint, was no doubt a very important feature of the case and a great victory for the lawyers. So far as the people are concerned railroad development has been halted for the past year; the investor has had his faith in Texas securities shaken and the power of the Attorney General's Department to blight or to build has been demonstrated.

The Press Outspoken.

It is doubtful if in the annals of Texas jurisprudence a greater farce has been enacted or a more purposeless proceeding recorded. Certainly no action on the part of the state in recent years has met with so unanimous a storm of protest from the press and condemnation by the public generally than that of the one hundred million dollar suit filed by the Attorney General against the M. K. & T. Ry. The suit was apparently based upon venom, rather than upon violation of law or conduct on the part of the Katy that was inimical to the interests of the public, and in justice to the people it is proper to observe that those responsible for bringing this suit misinterpreted the conscience of the public.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF HAIR STOPS FALLING

Circle! Try This! Makes Hair Thick, Glossy, Fluffy, Beautiful—No More Itching Scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Adv.

This has a world of meaning to every woman who suffers as Mrs. J. S. Blair, of Enterprise, Okla., suffered and there are many thousands such.

Mrs. Blair tells the story of her suffering and cure much better than we can tell it. We quote her own words:

"I had been flooding, cramping and vomiting for five months and taking medicine from as good a doctor as the country afforded, but he did me no good. I got tired of doctor's medicine and sent to the drug store for a woman's medicine and the druggist sent me STELLA VITAE."

"One bottle stopped everything and I felt like a different woman. I have used six bottles already and will continue to use and praise STELLA VITAE whenever I need a woman's medicine."

What STELLA VITAE did for Mrs. Blair it will do for you. We guarantee the first bottle to benefit you. Your money back if it don't. You cannot afford to not try it—when you have all to gain and not a penny to lose.

Go to your dealer today and begin trying STELLA VITAE, trying to become well. We lose the price if you are not benefited. In many years of guaranteeing STELLA VITAE less than one bottle out of every thousand has failed to benefit.

Your chances of being benefited are a thousand to one!

IS CHILD CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well child again. Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" at the store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains. Adv.

PLAN A GREAT DAY

CELEBRATION OF OPENING OF THE PANAMA CANAL IS NOW BEING ARRANGED.

PARADE OF WORLD'S NAVIES

President Wilson, Mr. Taft and Colonel Roosevelt May Be Together on Bridge of the Oregon, Leading the Procession.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington—On April 1 Colonel Goethals will take up his duties as governor of the Canal Zone. On the same day the duties of the present members of the Isthmian Canal commission will cease and at once they will take up the active work of preparing for the "boom time coming" when the battleships of the world are to pass through the great waterway which this is to be dedicated to the commerce of the world.

Congress soon intends to sanction the plan of the administration to designate all the Isthmian Canal commissioners, except Colonel Goethals, as members of the committee on arrangements for the great celebration to be held in honor of the opening of the Panama Canal on January 1 next.

The committee for the celebration will consist of Col. Harry F. Hodges, who designed the operating machinery of the locks; Lieut.-Col. William L. Sibert, the builder of the Gatun locks, dam and spillway; Commander H. H. Rousseau, United States navy, who has been charged with the work connected with the ocean approaches and with the establishment of a naval base, and Richard Lee Metcalf, civilian commissioner and head of the department of civilian administration. Colonel William C. Gorgas, also a member of the Isthmian canal commission, is now surgeon-general of the army. He probably will assume the duties of his new position and will take no part in the work of preparing for the celebration. With his fellow commissioners, however, he will be present in Panama "on the great day."

Plans for the Great Day.
It is possible for your correspondent to give in advance some of the plans which the committee of arrangements has in mind for the great affair of next January. In April the members of the committee will come to the United States. It is expected two or three of them will go to Europe to confer with the government officials of Great Britain and of the continental countries with a view to securing an adequate representation of each government at the canal opening as is possible. It is hoped by the commissioners that the different countries will send a larger representation of warships to the Isthmus than was at first proposed.

Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, and Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft, former presidents, will be invited to the opening exercises and it is possible that the good ship Oregon, which will lead the procession of battleships through the canal, will have on board these three distinguished men.
This plan of having Mr. Wilson, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft on the Oregon is being discussed in Washington today with something like trepidation. The wonder is whether or not the three men will take kindly to the arrangement which has been suggested. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft might find things a trifle awkward if they should meet in the narrow confines of the bridge of the old Oregon.

It is being urged that if Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Taft both shall accept the invitations to go through the canal to the second ship in line, letting the president have the Oregon, save for its officers and its crew, all to himself. So far as the two former presidents are concerned this plan might be all right if it did not contemplate the putting of both of them on the same boat where the awkwardness of a like situation on the Oregon would not be in the least diminished.

Bryan and Single Term.
Is President Wilson going to say the word to congress about the beauty of the plank in the Democratic platform which declares for the principle of only one term for the presidency of the United States—that is, for no more than one term, unless the term of somebody else intervenes?

It is believed in Washington that it is the staying hand of William J. Bryan which is delaying the introduction into congress of a resolution authorizing the submission to the people of an amendment to the constitution which, if adopted in time, would make President Wilson ineligible for re-election. This is believed, although what Mr. Bryan has said and done in the past proves that he is a staunch advocate of the single term.

In this city there are some persons who think the great Commoner has been given some assurance by Woodrow Wilson that when the proper time shall come he will announce his devotion to the principle to which he was pledged in advance by the Democratic national convention, and that he intends to abide by the spirit of a pronouncement, even if it cannot be put, prior to 1916, into a form which will have the effect of law.

No Attempt at Domination.
It has been charged occasionally that William J. Bryan is ambitious to move from the state department into the White House. There have been those to say his insistence on the one term convention pledge was due largely to his desire before old age crept on to become once more his party's nominee for the presidency. From the tone of things said and written prior to the time of the selection of Mr. Bryan for the post of secretary of state, it was evident that many men believed the Nebraskaan would attempt to dominate the administration with a view to getting a large share of the credit for things accomplished. The presumption was that Mr. Bryan would be so sure of his own constructive abilities that he felt no fear that any legislative failures could be charged against him as the director-in-chief of another man's office.

Washington officials admit, some of them sorrowfully, but all of them admiringly, that the secretary of state with apparently generous intent, has refrained from anything which might look like domination or an attempt to draw first attention to himself as a power in the administration of Woodrow Wilson. Within a day or two the president has paid a tribute to his secretary of state, a tribute which has the rank of sincerity. He has spoken of the dignity of his cabinet officer, of his sincerity and his transparent integrity.

He May Know Wilson's Purpose.
It has been charged that Mr. Bryan has had no definiteness in his "foreign relations course." He has been blamed for inactivity. His friends say he simply has been self-denying, and that he has stood an amount of criticism for it which would make men less patient speak out in public protest.

Had Secretary Bryan knowledge that President Wilson intends before long to say something on the single term subject? There are Democrats who think that so far as Mr. Wilson is concerned, it will not be necessary to hasten the resolution for a one term amendment to the constitution. The thought is, and Mr. Bryan may share the thought, that the president will not ask a re-election in 1916 under any circumstances.

Campaign Work for Colonel.
Officials of the Progressive party have outlined campaign work for Theodore Roosevelt when he returns from South America some time about the middle of March. It is said the leaders of the new party have the colonel's assurance that he will do what they want him to do. If he follows the plans laid down for him he will follow for some time his own strenuous life preachings.

Almost immediately after the colonel's return he will attend the state convention of the Progressives in Bangor, Me. The new party men of that state have just held a big meeting in Portland. The occasion was the coming together of the state central committee. Reports have it that the spirit shown at the Portland meeting was just as militant as that which was in evidence in the campaign of 1912.

In Pennsylvania Gifford Pinchot will profit by the appearance of the colonel in several cities and towns of the state. The former government forester will have several opponents in the field. It seems that his cause is most likely to be hurt by the candidacy of Representative Ainey, who calls himself a progressive Republican and who says that his aim is to get the Penrose following and the Progressives together as the first great step toward amalgamation. Washington politicians say there is no reason to think that any man who believes in the Penrose rule will desert the senator for Mr. Ainey. Therefore, if Mr. Ainey gets any votes they feel he probably will get them from the members of the Progressive party.

Will Aid Gifford Pinchot.
Colonel Roosevelt when he speaks in Pennsylvania is to tell the Progressives not to be deceived by the fair promises of men who claim to be progressives and yet are not willing to adopt the principles enunciated in the Progressive platform. Gifford Pinchot is a personal friend of Theodore Roosevelt, but he is also a Progressive of the kind the colonel loves. There will be hard working days for the former president in Pennsylvania. His duty will be to urge his party brethren to "stay put" and not to be led away by what he holds to be the seductions of Mr. Ainey.

Garfield and Garford probably are to be the two Progressive candidates in Ohio, the one for governor and the other for senator. Colonel Roosevelt will speak in behalf of both in the Buckeye state and will turn his guns on Senator Theodore E. Burton, who wishes to succeed himself in the upper house. It is possible also that the colonel may be compelled to turn his guns once more on his ancient foe, Joseph Benson Foraker.

The news already has been published that Colonel Roosevelt's speaking trip will take him into Illinois. Uncle Joe Cannon has said in Washington recently that any Republican who is nominated in the Danville district can be elected, and it makes no difference whether he is a young man, an old man or a middle-aged man. Some politicians here say it is possible that Mr. Cannon was reckoning without his guest, for Danville as host must reckon with Theodore Roosevelt as a guest long before the election can prove Mr. Cannon to be a prophet with or without honor.

The colonel will speak in New York from Good Ground to Buffalo, and arrangements now are being made to get him to extend his middle western trip into far western territory.

And Quick.
"I say, cook, what's the matter with this alleged whipped cream? It's as flat as a pancake."
"I can't help it, sir. I'm too delicate to whip cream."
"Indeed? Then beat it!"

TEXAS BREVITIES

The oil companies operating in the field near Toyah have put on night shifts and further developments are expected at any time.

In the election at Elgin for voting bonds for the improvement of roads, the bonds carried by a majority of 6 votes over the required two-thirds majority.

Preparations are being made for the Livestock Breeders' Blue Ribbon show, which will be conducted in Cleburne March 5, 6 and 7. A prize list is being arranged.

The election at Port Aransas for the purpose of voting on the issuing of bonds to the amount of $10,000 for the purpose of building a brick school building resulted in a five to one victory for the bonds.

The Plainview city council has just accepted the additions to the water system recently completed. These include 8,000 feet of water mains and 16 additional fire hydrants, which cost more than $7,000.

Excavation work is progressing rapidly on the new court house at Abilene, and foundation work will start in a few days. The contractors are working local labor exclusively.

The roaring springs near Roaring Springs, Texas, are to be utilized under construction for the purpose of and a $17,000 waterworks system is pumping the water into the city.

At a meeting of the Tyler commercial club it was decided to make a week's clean-up campaign during next month. The ladies' clubs of the city will co-operate with the club in this matter.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the stock of goods and building of J. G. Watson and N. R. Curry at Odessa, Texas. The merchandise and buildings destroyed were valued at $19,000, with $5,500 insurance.

At a special election at Novice the voters voted a $5,000 bond issue for the erection of a stone school building. This district will erect a handsome stone building. Native stone will be used and the building will be ready for the fall term.

The Vernon street and schoolhouse bonds, amounting to $32,000, have been sold. A committee is now examining plans for the new school building, which is expected to be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the next term. Work on the streets will be commenced as soon as the money for the bond is received.

The new mattress factory at Brenham is rapidly nearing completion. The latest and most modern mattress-making machinery is being installed.

Extensions and improvements to the amount of $50,000 will be commenced at once on the Temple city water works and sewer plants, the former to the extent of $19,000 in large mains and the latter to the extent of $40,000 in a new septic tank and extensions of large pipe.

Specimens of a potato crop yielding 135 bushels to the acre were shown at San Benito recently, being potatoes grown by a San Benito farmer. The seed was planted in August and harvested in December.

The contract for erecting the new high school building for McKinney was awarded to a construction company of Muskogee, Okla., the contract price being $49,182.72. This does not include the heating plant or plumbing.

The Texas Company made its initial shipment of crude oil from the Moran field.

The commissioners' court at Bonham has ordered an election to determine the issuance of bonds for $300 for good roads. The district included is practically the same one which voted on the proposition last month, when the good roads advocates lacked fifty-three votes of necessary two-thirds majority. The election is set for March 24.

No sick headache, sour stomach, biliousness or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret to-night straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken. Adv.

Had the Rudiments.
Youthful human nature is much the same world over. Here is the story told of the eleven-year-old son of a Philippine head-hunter, recently brought to San Francisco by a returning missionary. The boy, being introduced to some friends of his guardian, remarked that he knew much about the United States, and understood baseball—although he called it "miki fula."

"So you know baseball?" one questioner remarked. "What do you call the umpire?"

The boy hesitated, and the missionary encouraged him.

"Tell the gentleman what you call the umpire, my boy!"

"Thief, sometimes, but robber mostly," was the unexpected reply.

Setting Siberia.
Omsk, Siberia, has become the outfitting point for an extraordinary migration, estimated at 2,000,000 people annually, which pours into the country bordering on Mongolia. Nothing in Europe or Asia has ever been quite so like the springing up of the great cities of the American middle west as is the growth today of new towns in Siberia. Except that the tide is moving east instead of west the movement has many parallels to the wonderful migration which won the west for America. There are, however, two striking differences. The first is that the pioneering is comparatively luxurious compared to the American movement, while the natives, instead of being swept aside, are being absorbed by intermarriage with the settlers. The ten-day journey up the Irkutsk river from Omsk into the promised land is made by steamboats which are the last word in the luxury and convenience of river traffic.

NO GUSHER
But Tells Facts About Postum.

A Wis. lady found an easy and safe way out of the ills caused by coffee. She says:

"We quit coffee and have used Postum for the past eight years, and drink it nearly every meal. We never tire of it."

"For several years previous to quitting coffee I could scarcely eat anything on account of dyspepsia, bloating after meals, palpitation, sick headache—in fact was in such misery and distress I tried living on hot water and toast."

"Hearing of Postum I began drinking it and found it delicious. My ailments disappeared, and now I can eat anything I want without trouble."

"My parents and husband had about the same experience. Mother would often suffer after eating, while yet drinking coffee. My husband was a great coffee drinker and suffered from indigestion and headache."

"After he stopped coffee and began Postum both ailments left him. He will not drink anything else now and we have it three times a day. I could write more but am no gusher—only state plain facts."

Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.
Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Paint Or Not
Is a horse worth more or less after feed?
Hay and oats are high today; shall I wait today and feed him tomorrow?
That's how men do about painting their houses and barns and fences. Paint has been for several years; and so they have waited. Some are still waiting.
Their property drops a trifle a year and the next job of paint creeps-up creeps-up creeps-up; it'll take more paint by a gallon a year; they don't save a cent, and the property goes-on suffering.
