

THE KERRVILLE ADVANCE

VOL. 3.

KERRVILLE, TEXAS, THURSDAY, DEC. 24, 1914

NO. 10

Our Mother.

Our precious mother, Mrs. Martha Pogmore, passed on to the glory world on Monday, Dec. 21, at 8:50 o'clock A. M., after a long illness during which she suffered patiently and resignedly. Her principal ailment was an internal cancer. She was well aware the end was near many days before the final summons came, and talked often of the sweet time of transition, and was perfectly submissive to the Master's will, happy all the time in the sunshine of His presence. Often she would repeat special verses of scripture in perfect order, and would often repeat, "Oh, it is so sweet to trust in Jesus, bless His holy name." Her going away in such perfect peace and happiness is a blessed consolation to us.

Mother was born in Dale County, Ala. Jan. 4, 1843. Her parents were Robert and Nancy Buckelew. She came to Texas with her parents in 1854 settling in Cherokee County where her parents both died. In 1865 she and her brother, Frank M. Buckelew came out to Bandera County to make their home with their uncle, Berry Buckelew. This was during the time of so many depredations by the Indians, and mother had the sad experience of seeing her uncle brought home pierced to death by the poisoned arrow of the redskin, and to see her brother Frank captured and carried away by these savages.

In 1867 she married our father,

Thos. L. Buckner, at Bandera. Father died in 1874, leaving mother with two baby boys, Robert Emmett Buckner and the writer. In 1878, she was married to James Pogmore who died in 1906. Since that time she has made her home with her two sons. She leaves two brothers, F. M. Buckelew of Bandera County and J. W. Buckelew of Limestone County.

Mother has many friends throughout this section, having spent about fifty years in Bandera County. She had a remarkably clear memory, and could relate many interesting incidents of life on the frontier.

Mother was a member of the Methodist Church, having been converted in childhood. She lived a devoted, humble and consecrated Christian life. She was always poor in the wealth of this world, but dwelt in the richness of the love of her Lord.

The funeral was held from the Buckner home at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, conducted by Rev. S. C. Dunn, her pastor, assisted by Revs. J. B. Riddle and A. P. Robb, after which her body was laid to rest in Glen Rest Cemetery.

The heartfelt thanks of my brother and myself and our families are most sincerely extended to the kind friends who ministered to her in life and helped to lay her dear body away; and we go praise God for the life of such a good and pure mother.

T. A. BUCKNER.

Pete Leavell, about fifteen years of age, received a very painful gunshot wound Monday night while out hunting with some more boys. He was standing with the muzzle of his gun on his foot when it accidentally went off badly lacerating his foot. His comrades carried him to town and he received treatment and is doing nicely.

TELLING SANTA CLAUS HIS WANTS

BREAD OR WHISKEY--WHICH?

BY ELBERT HUBBARD

In the United States the manufacture and sale of strong drink is licensed and under the direct control of the government.

Instead of supervising the manufacture and sale of strong drink, Russia cut out the middleman and monopolized the business. In Russia a strong drink was manufactured by the government and sold by the government, direct to consumer.

A short time ago something occurred in Russia, seemingly unpremeditated, unscheduled, that did for the nation what centuries of argument and agitation have been unable to do, say for Great Britain or America.

A man arose in the duma and said:

"I hold in my hand an official report showing that the government now owns and has stored in warehouses rye, wheat and oats to the extent of over 100,000,000 bushels. This grain was purchased for the manufacture of vodka. It is apparent that if we use this grain for the manufacture of vodka we can not use it for bread.

"The deciding factor in the great war in which we are engaged will be famine; that is, the country that has the greatest food supply will eventually win. If we use our grain for vodka we can not use it for bread. I, therefore, hereby introduce a bill providing that the government shall cease the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors in every form; that it shall also prohibit the manufacture and sale of strong drink, and that, on penalty, no grain or other food substance shall be used in this country by anyone, under any condition, for the manufacture of strong drink."

And behold! the bill was passed and duly received the signature of the czar.

It was several days before the thinking men of Russia awoke to the fact that they had put into operation one of the greatest, most far-reaching and beneficent laws ever enacted.

In all turned on the matter of economies. The question was: We have this grain. Shall we use it for bread or shall we use it for whiskey?

And in Russia's time of trial there was only one answer to this question.

The Russian people said: "We vote for bread!"

Now suppose we take this question home to ourselves.

In your pay envelope is $25. What are you going to do with this money? Are you going to spend it for strong drink? If you are a married man are you going to spend this money for liquor or are you going to buy shoes for the babies, books, slates, pencils pads of writing paper for your boys and girls who are going to school?

Are you going to buy a clock, a rug, a chair, a table, curtains for the windows, or are you going to spend the money for strong drink? Just a matter of common sense, just a matter of deciding between this and that—is it bread or vodka?

Does liquor add to your length of days, to your efficiency, to your thinking power? Does it make your employer prize your services more?

Are you more apt to get an increase in wages if you drink? Are you a better citizen? Does your wife urge you to drink whiskey? Are you more to your old father and mother?

How are you going to use the money in the envelope?

Is it whiskey, or bread, books, clothes, a savings bank account and a home?

Let your common sense decide and then stand by your resolution.

Aged Man Takes Own Life.

John Kabell, aged about 65 years, was found on last Saturday morning dead in his room on the premises of Dr. E. E. Palmer, for whom he had been doing light work and making his home for over a year. Every evidence showed that he had willfully taken his own life. He had been living in Kerrville several years, and for over a year before he went to Dr. Palmer's stopped at the Sanitarium. He had no relatives here but it is said he had a sister in Oklahoma. The body was buried at Glen Rest Cemetery.

Baptist Church Notes.

The Executive Board of the Medina River Baptist Association met at the First Baptist Church in Kerrville last Tuesday and attended to some important business concerning the work of that body. Some of the out of town members of this board were: Rev. Wilson Finch of Bandera, Rev. T. F. Huffman of Harper, and Mr. R. D. Garrison of Medina. The ladies of the church served lunch in the basement of the church and the brethren greatly appreciated their kindness.

There will be the usual services at the Baptist church next Sunday. The children will be given a treat in the way of a Christmas tree, on Thursday evening at 7:30. A cordial invitation to all is given. There will be a short program by the children.

The pastor of the Baptist Church wishes for all the people a glad and prosperous Christmas and a happy new year.

J. B. RIDDLE, Pastor.

Change of Business

The Kerrville Furniture Company was sold last week by C. L. Lowry to E. L. Pierce, who recently sold his farm up the river and moved to town. The deal was finally closed and Mr. Pierce took charge Saturday.

We understand Mr. Lowry contemplates going in business at Del Rio.

How We Get the News.

Day before yesterday a perfectly nice lady called us up and with tears in her voice reproved us for not mentioning the fact that she had had a friend visiting her last week. We told her that she had not let us know anything about it, and that therefore we did not know that she had a visitor. She said, "Well you should have known. I thought you were running a newspaper." Wouldn't that rattle your slats? Some people think that an editor ought to be a cross between Argus and Anna Eva Fay. They seem to think that our five senses are augmented by a sixth that lets us know everything that happens, even if we see, hear, feel, taste, or smell it not. Dear lady, editors are only human or at least, almost human. If you have a friend visiting you, if you are going away, or have returned from a visit out of town, if Johnnie falls and breaks his arm, if your husband chops his toe instead of a stick of wood, if anything happens that makes you glad or sad, happy or mad, call us up. Tell us about it. That's the way to get it in the paper.—San Patricio County News.

How Not to Celebrate
(Orange Judd Farmer)

Cold weather is now at hand; practically all of the crops have been harvested and housed; cotton and other crops have brought a good price, and in many sections money is more plentiful than it has been in a good while. Christmas will soon be with us and we sincerely hope that all of us may enter into the spirit of the occasion. Just now the whisky mail order houses are more active than usual. They realize there is quite a bit of money in the country, and they are putting forth especial efforts to sell as much of their damnable products as possible. They are sending to every farmer, and every other person whose name they can obtain, their literature, making special offers for the Christmas season. What a pitiful thing it is to think that there are a great many people in the world who still celebrate the birth of Christ by getting drunk, these drunken orgies often ending in murder or other crime!

Isn't such conduct as foolish as any sane people were ever guilty of? We concur in the following statement made recently by F. W. La Baume of Virginia:

Alcohol cuts down youth in its vigor, manhood in its strength and age in its weakness. It is breaking the father's heart; bereaves the doting mother; blights parental hope. It countenances the liar, hates love, scorns virtue, slanders innocence. It brings shame, not honor; terror, not bravery; despair, not hope. It kills people, ruins homes, blights confidence, slays reputation and wipes out national honor. It finally curses the world and laughs at the ruins. It does all this and more—it murders the soul. Could anything be more awful?"

Going Home for Christmas

Pretty soon you'll be going home. You'll stop off the train expecting the town band to be ready, and instead will find that the train gets there at night, like as not, and that the little depot platform is untenanted save for a sleepy station agent and a livery stable "hand" who takes the mail uptown. If you can't induce the latter to let you ride up to the house in his "hack" you strike out afoot, across vacant lots around the lumber yards and tinner's shop, lugging the while a suit case guaranteed to be extra light but belying the guarantee pound upon pound as you get further on your way. By the light of a sickly street lamp which sags drunkenly from an overhead post arm, you observe in the business part of town that Jenkins has moved his harness shop and that Dad's All Night Joint is a very sleepy looking restaurant at 2 a. m.

Of course, the folks will be expecting you on the next day, and of course you will have trouble with the new gate fastener that they have put on since you left, and, of course, too, the pup—now grown to twice his size last fall—will muddle up your new eight dollar trousers while you're skinning your knuckles on the front door. At last the door will open, but not until father has told mother that it is nothing but the pup scratching himself, and until mother says it's you, and until father says it isn't, and mother says she is going to see. But the door does open, just a crack at first, and then it opens wide, and your hat is knocked off and you get kissed on your eye and get hugged and asked forty questions—then you're home.

But don't you swell up. Don't you put on airs. A man with a home like that ought to feel humble. He ought to feel very humble—because, you see, it's so very hard to be worthy of it.—Daily Texan, State University.

Commissioners and Williamson

At a special session of the Commissioners court on the 19th inst. the controversy between county treasurer A. B. Williamson and the old court was adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties. Mr. Williamson had waived his commissions in the road bond issue and only claimed commissions on money borrowed by the court. The new court allowed him $174.96, the amount received by the tax assessor for assessing the proceeds of the bonds, and 2 1/2 per cent. commissions from April 20th last on all county funds received and disbursed other than the proceeds of the bond issue.

After a thorough discussion of the matter Judge James Crotty of the Center Point precinct made a motion for a settlement as above stated, and it was unanimously carried and Mr. Williamson accepted it.

Doesn't Hurt North Carolina

Gratifying effects are noticeable in every trade and amongst all classes of toilers throughout the state. Where ignorance and vice once walked abroad in the land, education and morality have become the pleasing boast of a happy and prosperous people. Whisky distilleries have been displaced with industrial plants and over the remains of the saloon have been erected splendid school buildings and magnificent church edifices. In Gaston county alone twenty-six distilleries were in operation under former conditions. It now boasts of forty-seven textile plants, employing more than 7,000 people, and makes the further claim of having one of the finest systems of public schools in the state.—By M. L. Shipman, Commissioner of Labor for North Carolina.

Canal Zone Dry

Col. George W. Goethals, governor of the Panama Canal Zone, has signed an order placing all persons engaged in canal transportation on a strictly temperance basis. The order provides that all persons employed on the canal who have marine licenses must abstain absolutely from liquor. This includes pilots taking ships through the canal, captains of tugboats and others.

The Panama Canal Zone already is under the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants. The order signed today extends the prohibition to those employed in the Zone, and, no matter if they get liquor outside the Zone, they dare not use it. The idea of the government is to make prohibition prohibit in the Canal Zone.

"The sound of your hammer at 5 in the morning or 9 at night, heard by a creditor, makes him easy six months longer, but if he sees you at a billiard table, or hears your voice in a tavern when you should be at work, he sends for his money the next day."—Benjamin Franklin.

President Wilson Indorses Red Cross Seals

As an expression of his interest in the Red Cross Seal and Anti-Tuberculosis Campaign, President Wilson recently wrote to The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

"May I not take this occasion to express to you my deep interest in the work of the National Anti-Tuberculosis Association and my hope that its work is growing in efficiency and extent from year to year? May I not particularly express my interest in the Red Cross Christmas Seal whose sale has been the means of raising funds for the work? It seems to me that this is a particularly interesting and sensible way of enabling the people of the country to give this great work their support."
