Senior Class Party.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Comparette entertained the Senior Class of the Tivy High School at their home on Friday evening, April 14th.

It was the night of the big rain, nicely. as you know, and as the torrents came down there were many sighs fort Friday and Saturday and reof disappointment, for we thought turned home Sunday. it would be impossible to go, but daunted, and Floyd and Louis came for us in a comfortable car and all were conveyed to the delightful home of our hosts.

Here we found everything beautifully arranged for our entertainment. The rooms were decorated in the class colors, green and gold. Games and contests of various kinds were provided, and all entered into the pleasures of the evening with an enthusiastic determination to have a good time, which we did, attended on every hand by our kind and charming host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Comparette.

Delicious cefreshments of green and gold ice cream and cake were served to the delight of all present.

Baptist Church Notes.

That was an inspiring congregation that we had last Sunday, and it made this pastor feel good to see so many grateful worshipers at the morning service.

We expect to have the regular services next Sunday, both morning and evening, and hope to have lots of people with us. We ask all who will, to come, and make an especial invitation to strangers in our city.

The co-operative meetings start well and we hope to see large crowds attend these meetings, which go from meeting house to meeting house until next Friday night.

What a good time this pastor has had recently going to weddings. The marrying business, it seemed had nearly gone out fashion, but has picked up very much lately. Then another interesting thing to the preacher is they seemed to appreciate their women, and paid well.

May the good work continue.

There is only one reason why the Ford car so far out-sells all others. IT IS A BETTER CAR. By all the tests of time and the greatest number and variety of uses and abuses, the Ford has demonstrated its superior worth. The Ford must be judged independently of its price. It is surprisingly low in price--- and so surprisingly high in value---because it is produced upon a scale so gigantic as to reduce the cost of manufacturing and distributing to a minimum.

SAGE TEA DARKENS

Don't stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for rectoring faded, gray hair to its natural. color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull. faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with won- tante, derful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has ! been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and at er another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease .-- Adv.

String Made From Paper.

An enterprising engineering firm appears now, after a number of experiments, to have succeeded in manufacturing string from paper. In appearance the new string is exactly simflar to the genuine article, and stout enough for tying parcels of quite a fair size. According to a prominent wholesale stationer the usual kinds of string and twine are now practically unobtainable, and as this new paper string can be sold for less than the real article is at present fetching, it bids fair to come into general use. It may be added that this string is used extensively at Woolwich arsenal.

Policewomen Prove Practical.

London policewomen have justified their "unfeminine" undertaking by the convincing means of real service. According to a London dispatch, England, after a six months' trial, is really beginning to like them, though at first there was violent opposition to the enterprise. . Incidentally, these new public servants are winning favor, not so much by force as by tact and persuasive powers. They have been especially successful in quieting panicstricken crowds during Zeppelin raids, in dealing with drunken and fighting soldiers, and in calming excited women and children in the streets.

SYNOPSIS. -15-

Humphrey Van Weyden, critic and ditettante, finds himself aboard the sealing schooner Ghost Captain Wolf Larsen, bound to Jacan waters. The captain markes him cabin boy "for the good of his soul." The cocking cook, Mugridge, is galous of Hump and hazes him. Wolf lazes a seamen and makes it the basis for a pullesophite discussion with Hump Cooky and Hump whel knives at each other. Hump's intimacy with Wolf increases. Wolf sketches the story of his life, discusses the Bible and Omar, and silustrates the instinctive love of life by choking. Hump nearly to death. A carnival of brutality breaks bose in the slip. Wolf proves himself the master brute, is knacked overboard and wirs clear in a fight in the forecaste. Hump' divesses Wolf's wounds and, despite his protest, is made mate on the hell-ship Mr Van Weyden tries to learn his dutes as mate. Van Weyden proves by his conduct in a blow that he has learned "to stand on his own legs." Two men desert the vessel in one of the small boats. A young weman and four men, survivors of a straiter wreck, are rescued from a small boat. The decembers are sighted, but Wolf stands away and leaves them to drown. Mande Brewster the rescued girl, and Van Weyden find they know each other's work. They talk together a world allen to Wolf. Mande sees Mugridge towed overside in a bowline to sive him a barh and his fout bitten off by a shark as he is hauled aboard. She he sins a realize her danger at the hands of Wolf. Van Weyden realizes that he loves Mande.

(TO BE CONTINUED.) COTTON STALKS HAVE VALUE

Hitherto Regarded as Waste, They Are to Be Turned Into a Marketable Commodity.

Considering the fact that in the neighborhood of 75,000,000 tons of cotton stalks have been destroyed annually as worthless and only in the way, the possibilities of a plant capable of converting them into paper and artificial silk are readily comprehended. A plant is now being erected at Greenwood, Miss., which will be devoted to the preparation of pulp from cotton stalks, and it is said that owing to the stronger fibers of the cotton stalk pulp, paper manufactured from it is considerably stronger in proportion to its thickness and weight than that produced from the usual wood pulp. It has been the custom to cut and burn the stalks, after the cottonpicking season has ended, at a cost of about a dollar a ton. The use of cotton pulp is not limited to the making of paper. The stalk fibers have been found capable of withstanding the nitrating process involved in the making of gun-cotton. The fibers also produce an artificial silk, motion-picture films, and such chemicals as pyroxilene, alcohol and acetone.

Saloon Driven From Fair Park.

Several years ago the State Legisiature abolished racetrack gambling from the Dallas Fair. At that time the financial interests closely related to the Fair protested that such action would ruin it. On the contrary, the Fair has been more successful since that time than ever before. More recently, there has been a growing protest against the saloon operated on the Fair grounds, under the grandstand. These protests came from all parts of the State. Young men who had never taken a drink of whiskey before coming here, were led, under the excitement of the occasion, into that infamous place and became Intoxicated. Yet, there were men here in Dallas of large business interests who defended the saloon as necessary to the financial success of the Fair. In other words, they put about as much good to the cause of silos and has the third one under money above men and were willing prohibition as a half-hearted Christ- construction on his place. to sacrifice the boys of this day for ian is to Christianity. # PAMPELL'S Judge Riddle Endorsed For U. S. Senate

Several hundred citizens of Dallas and the surrounding territory met at the Chamber of Commerce Hall on February 4th, and passed the following resolutions, endorsing the candidacy of Judge George W. Riddle for the United States Senate:

WHEREAS, Judge George W. Riddle, of Dallas, Texas, is a candidate for the United States Senate, and,

WHEREAS, Judge Riddle has been a citizen of Dallas for many years, and has always been at the forefront in every local enterprise, as well as in all great enterprises throughout the State, and in the development of its resources, and we know him to be a man well qualified to fill said position; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That it is the sense of this meeting that the candidacy of Judge George W. Riddle for the United States Senate be in every reasonable way encouraged and supported.

For the next few years our State will need a man in the Senate who is not only patriotic, but, who also has intimate knowledge of the economic, financial, and business affairs of our country. We need a man of initiative, and of constructive ability, a thinker, and withal a practical man of affairs, rather than a professional politician.

At this time it is costing the people over a Billion Dollars a year to finance the affairs of the Federal Government, and, unless this waste and extravagance is checked, our country will be ridden with the burdens of excessive taxation.

We turn towards a man of the type of Judge Riddle; a pactical farmer, lawyer, banker and business man with well advanced ideas of economy, with ability to suggest and initiate commonsense, practical measures for our guidance and protection, and with high ideals of constructive statesmanship.

His solution of the land problem by creating a system of Land Banks to lend money to home builders at a rate of four per cent, will be of immense benefit to our agricultural interests.

He favors the Federal Government building a system of National Highways, thereby more closely uniting the different sections of our country and furnishing overland transportation facilities, in this way bringing the markets of the land to the very cotton fields of the farmers, and as a result increasing the profits on all agricultural products.

His plan to develop trade relations between the United States and South American Republics will pour wealth into the lap of this country

His stand for a Merchant Marine, which this country greatly needs, is meritorious and worthy of consideration. At this time the warring nations have laid their military hands upon their merchant ships and, as a result thereof, American Commerce is starving and almost paralyzed, and the freight on cotton alone has been raised from $1.75 a bale to $15.00 per bale. Rates have increased from 100 per cent to 1,000 per cent.

If any country on earth ever needed a Merchant Marine, it is this country of ours, and Congress ought not to hesitate one moment in preparing a way for it to be brought about. Judge Riddle's stand for such a system is logical and business-like, and shows his ability to grapple with the practical problems of life, and in that way make his life useful to the people he represents.

Judge Riddle is with President Wilson for preparedness, and so announced himself in all the leading papers on the 14th of last November, and at that time most of our public men were either silent or had declared against it. He is always frank and honest with the people, and lets them know how he stands on every issue.

PROPER SHELTER FOR SHEEP

Wool Does Not Afford All Protection Necessary During Winter as Generally Believed.

It was formerly quite generally thought that the sheep's wool afforded it all the protection necessary during the winter. If the fleece could be kept dry it probably would retain enough body heat to keep the sheep warm, but this is impossible without shelter. When a fleece once becomes wet it takes a long time for it to dry out, especially if the weather is cold.

Much energy that would otherwise be used for growth or fattening must be used for evaporating this water. The wet fleece also gives rise to unhealthy conditions.

In Great Britain little housing is necessary, but in most places in America this would result in severe losses.

WATER FOR STOCK IN WINTER

As Essential as Food in Wintering Breeding Animals During Cold Weather-Provide for Supply.

Good water is as essential as food in the wintering of breeding animals and ample provision should be made to provide the animals with an abundant supply of good, pure water throughout the winter. Other things can possibly be dispensed with, but pure water is indispensable.

Nor will we wonder when we know that one-half the live weight of all domestic animals is water, and that water is the universal solvent, the medium by which organic and inorganic substances that nourish the system, are made available.

STOP EATING MEAT IF KIDNEYS OR BACK HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Clean Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You-Meat Forms Urio Acid.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority. because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and uninary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kid neys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged 'idneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone: makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus evoiding serious kidney disease .- Adv.

SPECIAL MILK GAINS FAVOR

Trade Name That Should Be Applied Only to Clean, Safe Product of Highest Standard.

(From the United States Department of In many cities there is a tendency to grade milk and sell it to the consumer upon its merits. Such a system is most desirable, as it enables dairymen who handle a high-grade product to obtain recognition for their care. It also enables the consumers to choose their supply on the absolute merits of the various grades. This is a sound commercial feature and one that is already recognized in nearly all other in-

At the present time there are on the to be in some way superior to the

A special milk may or ay not be richer in fat than ordinary grades, but it certainly should be produced and handled in such manner as to be cleaner and safer than the ordinary grades handled by the individual dealer or by his competitors. In this way public confidence can be maintained and an increased price warranted Dairymen are learning that it is good business to stand squarely behind their goods to see that all claims are fully substantiated. If a special milk is to be sold as such its standard should be high and permanent, so as to result in increased confidence and increased demand from consumers. There is hardly any better way to create a demand than to produce and maintain a high grade, and this grade is to be termed "special," it should by all means be as safe as possible, from a health point of view, and not a mere trade name. Business depends upon the demand, demand depends on quality, and quality on the inclination of the man behind and the standard he wishes to set for his product. If special milk is to be included, it must be his best effort along his chosen line of endeavor, and to this end every milk dealer should be able and willing to set and maintain a high standard. At present in most cities only a very small quantity of special milk is handled, although it seems that the trade demands should warrant the sale of a great deal more.

FEEDING HINTS FOR A DAIRY

Change Calf's Ration Gradually-Silage Is Safe Feed-Sunlight Is Best Disinfectant.

HOSKINS, University of Minnesota.) Put the calf on a skim milk diet when two to three weeks old. Make the change gradually, substituting a pint of skim milk for the same quantity of whole milk daily until the change is made. Increase the feed gradually until at four months old the calf gets 8 to 10 quarts a day, some grain and grass, clover or alfalfa hay.

You safely can feed silage to calves as soon as they are old enough to eat Be very careful not to give them moldy or decayed silage. Let them have all they will clean up. Yearlings will eat from 15 to 20 pounds a day, and if this is supplemented with some good clover or alfalfa hay very little grain is required to keep them in good.

thriving condition. Sunlight is one of the best and cheapest disinfectants. Ample provision should be made for letting plenty of sunlight into barns and sheds. Southern exposure is desirable. The warmth of the sun is valuable in cold weather, while excessive heat in summer may be avoided by using screens or curtains. Most disease germs are killed by direct sunlight.

ELDERLY WOMEN HOUSEFLY NESTS IN FILTH-HELP TO

The housefly is a foul and dangerous fittle pest. The female lays her eggs in manure, in human excrement or in the flesh of dead and rotting animals, never anywhere else. The eggs hatch in o maggots and the maggots feed on the filth until they sprout wings and become flies. ### GOOD FLY TRAP

How to Make It.

One way to control the fly is to eatch it in such a trap as is shown above. The trap may be placed near the garbage can, or any other place that the flies are sure to come. A simple and effective trap may be made from a grocery box by substituting wire netting for the top and two sides, cutting a round hole in the bottom and inserting in it a wire netting cone with an eighth-inch opening at the bottom and a half-inch opening at the top. Some article of food, preferably a fish head, should be placed inside for bait. The trap must be elevated several inches above the ground, so as to give the flies a chance to enter. When the trap is full, it may be emptied by shaking its contents through a small opening, ordinarily closed by a sliding door. The trap described and shown in the illustration is a particularly effective one, as it was planned with a view to the fly's habits. The odor of food leads the fly to enter the trap at the bottom. Once inside it is attracted to the top by the light. When it gets out of the wire cone it cannot escape. The trap has the additional virtue of being inexpensive. It may be made at a cost of about twenty cents and about a half hour's

The city was cleaned with absolute thoroughness. Mosquito-breeding swamps were drained. Lakes and streams were covered with oil. Now Havana is one of the world's most healthful cities. The lesson taught fifteen years ago has been applied steadily by the Cubans.

In this country the house fly bears about the same relation to typhoid fever and dysentery that the mosquito bears to yellow fever in the tropics. Both insects are dangerous germ carriers.

This community ought to rid itself of flies. The means of doing so are the same as those employed in ridding Havana, the Canal Zone, Manila and New Orleans of the tever mosquito. But the job will not be nearly so big.

Our citizens should call a meeting by the middle of next week and form an organization to conduct the spring fly war. There is no time to be lost. Once warm weather arrives the flies will multiply faster than we can kill them
