Sidney Shuford Wounded.

Miss Mattie Barton received a letter this week from her nephew, Sidney B. Shuford, of the Lone Star Division in France stating that he was seriously wounded in the thigh by a shot from a machine gun on Oct. 10. The letter was dated ten days later and he was doing very well with hopes of soon getting out of the hospital.

Attention Stockmen and Farmers!

I have been advised by Mr. W. G. Beasley, County Agent U.S. Department of Agriculture, that he believed the one-half rate on feed would be withdrawn in the near future. Anyone needing feed should apply for their permit at once.

H. REMSCHEL,
Local Agent.

Robert Emerson Spicer Dies of Pneumonia in France

A message was received from the bureau of information at Washington last Sunday bringing to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Spicer the sad news of the death of their son, Robert, who succumbed to pneumonia in France on Oct. 9th.

Robert Emerson Spicer was 28 years of age on May 23rd last and had been in the army since last July 5th. He started to France with the 90th Division but was taken sick with mumps before sailing and was in a hospital for several weeks in Virginia. He landed in France about Sept. 20th and there took pneumonia. He was a noble young man and has many friends in this vicinity where he was reared from childhood, who will join us in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.

LIEUT. EARL GARRETT KILLED IN ACTION

Judge and Mrs. W. G. Garrett received a telegram Sunday evening bringing the sad news of the death of their son, Lieutenant Victor Earl Garrett, who was killed in action in France on Oct. 4th.

Judge and Mrs. Garrett had been very anxious about Earl since the last letter they had from him, which stated he was just going into battle, but had hoped they might yet get good news from him. They are heartbroken, and their many friends are doing what they can to console them and offer them sympathy in this trying hour.

Lieutenant Victor Earl Garrett was 24 years of age last April and was born and reared in Kerrville. He is the fourth son of his parents and his three brothers and himself all volunteered in the service. Earl was attending the State University in the law department when the trouble with Mexico arose and he left school to go as a volunteer to the border.

When war with Germany was declared he entered the first officer's training camp at Camp Stanley and received his commission as a second lieutenant, and in Aug. 1917 he sailed for France, being the first Kerr County boy to go over. He was attached to Gen. Pershing's crack 28th Regiment in 1st Division and assigned to a machine gun company. He was in a number of the most terrific battles in which the American units were engaged. In August last, by recommendation of Gen. Pershing, he was promoted to First Lieutenant.

No finer young man ever went out from this city than Earl Garrett. He was of a quiet, unassuming nature, but true blue, as a son, as a citizen and as a soldier. His love for home, father, mother, sisters and brothers was profound, and all his spare moments were spent around the family fireside as close to his devoted mother as possible. No wonder Earl was such a noble true boy, and none will wonder at the prostration of the saintly mother and devoted father upon receipt of the sad message that came Sunday. But there is sweet consolation in the fact that he was a true Christian, and "When the Roll is Called up Yonder," and the land and the sea shall give up its dead and the untold hosts of martyrs are assembled around the Great White Throne before Him who shall judge both the quick and the dead, Victor Earl Garrett will stand in the front ranks of the pure in heart who shall truly and veritably see God. The example of his life as a boy and young man in this community will always count for good and will be pointed to with pride by all who knew him.

It is sad that he had to lay down his noble, useful life thus early, but what greater tribute could be paid; what greater heritage could be left, than is enouched in this sentence: "He answered Duty's call and gave his life for his country." All honor and praise to his memory.

Furnished room for rent, no sick Phone 269 or call at this office.

Harvey Merritt Killed in Action.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Merritt of the Upper Guadalupe have received word from Washington advising them that their son, Private Harvey Merritt, had been killed in action in the battlefields of France. Harvey was one of the last of the Kerr County boys to answer the call to service and had been in France only a few weeks when he was killed. Thus another of our splendid young men has paid the supreme sacrifice and added another gold star to Kerr County's glorious banner which will be held with honor and esteem and preserved as an heritage to future generations as a part of the victory that followed our immortal flag across the seas.

OBITUARY.

Milton Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nichols, died Nov. 25th at the family home near Ingram, of Spanish influenza and pneumonia.

He was born Aug. 20, 1886, being at the time of his death 32 years, 3 months and 4 days old.

He is survived by a father and mother, three sisters and two brothers to mourn his loss, all of whom were present at his death except his youngest brother who is yonder somewhere in the navy serving his country.

Everybody speaks of Milton being a good boy, and he will be greatly missed, as he was very attentive to his home duties, and being the oldest boy he was looked to by the others to lead on the farm and ranch.

He left the assurance with his loved ones that he was going to a better land than this to await their coming.

Everything was done that possibly could be done but "The Lord Gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." Let us humbly bow our heads in submission to His will, and may the Great Spirit comfort and console the loved ones in this dark hour of bereavement.

The funeral service was held at the home by their pastor. Then his body was laid to rest in the Nichols cemetery at 5:30 o'clock the same day.

The Pastor,
R. I. Woods.

CORRECT INTERPRETATION OF GAME LAWS IS MADE

Department at Austin Quotes the Law on Sport—No State Statute as to Ducks, but Federal Regulations Will be Enforced.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 4.—The correct description of the open season on game in Texas is announced by the State Game, Fish and Oyster Department. Some confusion and conflicting publications have occurred which are reflected in the numerous inquiries received at the State Game, Fish and Oyster Department. Violations of the law are occurring as a result of these erroneous statements, and the State game warden advises that the open seasons are as follows:

Quail—December and January.
Deer—November and December, limit three buck deer.
Doves—September and October in South Texas.

Turkeys—November, December and January; limit three gobblers. Exceptions: Several East Texas counties, including Dallas and Rockwall, where the open turkey season is March and April, with a bag limit of 100 turkeys. The same group of counties forbid the killing of squirrels except in October, November and December, and a bag limit of five per day.

Ducks.—There is no State law, except fixing bag limit of fifteen per day. The federal regulations permit shooting of ducks and geese from October 15 to January 1. They can not be shot out of a motor-propelled boat.

The State law fixes a bag limit of fifteen on quail, doves and ducks, straight or in combination, that is, the day's sport must not show over fifteen feathered trophies. There can be eight quail, five doves and two ducks, but not fifteen of each.

Mr. and Mrs. Rud. Peschel and child of Kerrville spent the week-end here with relatives. Mr. Peschel utilized the opportunity to call at this office and leave a renewal of subscription. —Comfort News.

Baptist Services Resumed.

After a lapse of five weeks all the regular services will be resumed at the Baptist Church next Sunday.

After Sunday School in the morning it is expected we will have preaching at the regular hour, if a supply for the pulpit can be secured. But whether we have preaching or not a special conference will be held at which the pulpit committee expects to present the name of a proposed pastor for consideration by the church. A large representation of the membership ought to be present on this important occasion.

Miss Hattie Garrett, who is teaching in the public schools of San Antonio, came up Monday to be with her parents until Sunday on account of the death of her brother.

WILLIAM G. McADOO.

Washington—William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, director general of railroads and often discussed as one of the presidential possibilities of 1920, has resigned his office to return to private business. President Wilson has accepted his resignation. Mr. McAdoo will give up the treasury portfolio as soon as a successor has been selected. He wished to lay down his work as director general of railroads by January 1, but will remain if the president has not then chosen a successor. Upon the new secretary of the treasury, whoever he may be, will devolve the task of financing the nation through the transition period of war to peace, which probably will include at least two more liberty loans and possibly also a further revision of the system of war taxation. Letters between President Wilson and Mr. McAdoo, made public Friday with the announcement of the resignation, give Mr. McAdoo's reasons for leaving the cabinet solely as a necessity for replenishing his personal fortune and express the president's deep regret at losing this son-in-law from his official family.

TEXAS WOMAN'S FEDERATION STANDS FOR MANY REFORMS

Dallas, Tex.—The annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs closed Friday with the selection of Port Arthur as the next meeting place. Among the resolutions adopted by the convention were: Absolute and hearty endorsement of President Wilson and his policies; recommendation that the child labor law and mothers' pension bill be made to conform with the latest thought; imperative demand for change in the penal system of Texas as submitted by Miss Eleanor Breckenridge of San Antonio; petition of the University of Texas to establish a first class library, making one of the requisites for securing a teacher's certificate in Texas; higher institutions take special training in children's literature and school library organization; that women be placed on the state prison board and on the school boards; establishment of a state art commission and county libraries; movement to further the building of a Victory highway in Texas in honor of the boys who fought in the war, and that fountains and public buildings be named for those making the supreme sacrifice. BOYS GOT PRIZED PILLOWS

Bride's Idea That of All True Citizens—Nothing Could Be Trier Good for the Soldiers.
They were pillows like your mother's and mine. The little bride had made thousand stuffed them to her comfortable popping with real goose feathers.
She had raised the goose from dirty goslings and had picked them. No penitentiary striped ticking was used, but a material of delicate blue, sprinkled with pink rosebuds. Oh, but these pillows were the pride of the home-loving heart of the little bride, whose young husband is "over there." Yet she sent the six pillows last week to the sick soldiers of Fort Harrison.
"If you come back we can buy new pillows," she said, "but is it we have the money. If we haven't we can do without."
"Oh, but those geese weren't trouble, but when I think of a soldier's head resting on those pillows, I'm convinced that the last jocky gosling has paid for its raising."—Indianapolis News.

Ruling On Child Labor Law.
Austin, Tex.—No child under 13 years of age may be employed to labor in or about any factory, mill, workshop, theater or other place of amusement, without regard to where such institution is located, was a ruling made Tuesday by the attorney general's department in an opinion written by Assistant Attorney General C. W. Taylor in answer to an inquiry from Commissioner of Labor T. C. Jennings.
It was further held that the clause in towns and cities of more than 15, 000 population," used in section 1 of chapter 49, acts of the regular session of the thirty-fifth legislature, applies to only the occupation of messenger service and the act prohibits the employment of any child under the age of 15 years in messenger service only in towns of over 15,000 population, according to the last United States census.

Commissioner Jennings asked the attorney general's department if the child labor act of the thirty-fifth legislature applies to the employment of children in occupations named in the law other than messenger service and other specifically exempt occupations in towns and cities of less than 15,000 population.

In the opinion of Judge Taylor, he wrote that the law recognizes that a factory, mill, workshop, laundry, theater or other place of amusement is a dangerous and hazardous occupation.
"It is immaterial where any of these institutions are located. Any of these industries are just as dangerous to be located in a small town or even in a small precinct as they would be in the most populous city in the country. If the operation of the factory or mill is dangerous and not its location."

With reference to the messenger service, however, the opinion says that "the place of the operation of this occupation is the essential element in determining the hazard. Messenger boys in and out among the crowds on the streets and their entire time is spent in traversing the highways of the town and city in which they are employed

SPANISH INFLUENZA

Do Not Fear When Fighting a German or a Germ!

By DR. M. COOK.

The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic-stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and practice the three C's: A Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels. Such a one is made up of May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and is to be had at any drug store, and called "Pleasant Purgative Pellets."

If a bad cold develops, go to bed, wrap up well, drink frogs of hot lemonade and take a hot mustard foot-bath. Have the bedroom warm but well ventilated. Obtain at the nearest drug store "Annie Tablets" to flush the kidneys and control the pains and aches. Take an "Annie" tablet every two hours, together with copious drinks of lemonade. If a true case of influenza, the food should be simple, such as broths, milk, buttered rice and cream; but it is important that food be given regularly in order to keep up patient's strength and vitality. After the acute attack has passed, which is generally from three to six days, the system should be built up by the use of a good iron tonic, such as "Annie" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known bloodmaker and herbal tonic made from roots and barks of forest trees—sold everywhere in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

LOOK UP!

You will feel better for having known Carolyn of the Corners. She is a lovable little girl, who not only preaches but practices the gospel of "looking up" and always making things "a wee bit better." To become acquainted with her is like letting in the sunshine and looking up at the blue sky. You will want to follow Carolyn through this story after you have read the opening chapter.

CHAPTER I.

The Ray of Sunlight.
Just as the rays of the afternoon sun penetrated to enter the open door of Joseph Stagg's hardware store at Sunrise Cove and flooded the sill, so the little girl in the black frock and hat, with twin braids of shining hair on her shoulders, dived at the entrance of the door and dived away. She crept a step into the hall, with the fingers of the other very closed into the first pocket of a mottled, heavy woolen coat.

The rising yowl broke the silence of the shop like a trumpet call. The little girl dropped her bag and seized the dog's collar with both hands.

"Bless me!" croaked a voice from the office.

"Bless me, child!" exclaimed Mr. Stagg. "Who are you?"

The flowerlike face of the little girl quivered, the blue eyes spilled big drops over her cheeks. She approached Mr. Stagg, stooping and squinting in the office doorway, and placed a timid hand upon the broad band of black crepe he wore on his contenance.

"You're not Hannah's Carolyn?" questioned the hardware dealer huskily.

Price put me on the train and the conductor took care of me.

"Who is Mr. Price?" the storekeeper asked.

"Oh! Who is that lady, Uncle Joe?"

"That's the lady who lives in the house across the street from the blacksmith shop."

"By and by they came in sight of The Corners—a place where another road crossed this one in right angles."

"In this where you live, Uncle Joe?" asked Carolyn May breathlessly.

"Carolyn and Prince make the acquaintance of Aunty Rose, and the latter's attitude is not very reassuring to the lonely little girl."

Mr. Stagg looked down at the little hand in his palm, somewhat startled and not a little dismayed.

"The main street of Sunrise Cove on this winter afternoon was not thronged with shoppers. Not many people were seen on the street, and the few who were passing by the little figure of the child and the mottled dog passing that way, though a few of the shopkeepers looked after the trio in surprise."

"The dog uttered a quick, thumping growl and put his muzzle to the widening aperture."

"Carolyn and Prince make the acquaintance of Aunty Rose, and the latter's attitude is not very reassuring to the lonely little girl."

"The eagle is the nation's bird, it soars across the sky."

"The turkey is the only bird for me!"

"It is difficult to judge a woman by the things she doesn't say."

Thanksgiving Thought

If I had known, in Grandma's day, Of present means of living, And laid one of those feasts away She served us on Thanksgiving; Imagine now how proud I'd feel And cheerfully elated, To sit before that old-time meal Which I had de-hydrated! —Ella Randall Pearce in Browning's Magazine.

WORTHY OF GREAT DAY

Thanksgiving Feasts in Arizona and Kentucky Described by Prominent Sons.

MARCUS AURELIUS SMITH, an entertaining Arizona statesman, was once questioned concerning Thanksgiving feasts in that far-off territory. He said that they were different from most Thanksgivings in the East. As the country was new, there were very few grandchildren to grace Thanksgiving dinners. The piece de resistance at the table was usually a gigantic wild turkey. It was always cooked on the old Kentucky or Virginia plan. The side dishes included venison and bear meat, if anybody wanted it. A delicious dish was bear paws a la Mexicana. Tenderloin did not regard them, with favor, because when brought upon the table they looked like the feet of a negro roasted and baked. Nothing, however, was more delicious. Served with cactus or prickly pear sauce they furnished a 35th fit for the gods. Then the baked sweet potatoes upon the table were extremely savory. The sweet potatoes in Arizona, if Mark Smith is to be believed, are sweeter and more exquisite than those grown in any other part of the universe. He says they taste as though they had been fed by some Kentucky gentleman in the Garden of Eden. They are frequent innovations in family Thanksgiving dinners in Arizona. Being broad and liberal in everything, they do not allow their plates to be hampered by conventionalities. In some places where they cannot get champagne, they are obliged to the necessity of drinking whisky. In localities along the border mesa it is substituted for whisky. A few drinks of mesquite make a man feel as though his feet were twelve feet long and twenty-four hands. Of all the people on the globe the Arizonians are the most hospitable. It would well repay a stranger to visit the state on Thanksgiving day. He would have a dinner without price or money every hour in the day, with venison, antelope steaks, bear meat, champagne, whisky, and mesquite thrown in.

When Asher Caruth of Kentucky heard the talk about Thanksgiving a rosate flush overspread his face. "There was the joy of anticipation in his eye and his tongue began to drip with eloquence. Of all the dinners in the South, he said, a Kentucky Thanksgiving feast was the best. It might not be as grand as in New England, but the Kentucky dinner was the appreciated name of bliss. The air was always cool and bracing. The fire seemed to burn brighter than in any other state. The barnyard was more musical, and the baying of the hounds made a refrain that thrilled the heart with pleasure. The music of the hounds was heard and there were juba dances and African melodies that soothed the soul. Each family had its gathering; all enjoyed themselves intensely. There was a good dinner; turkey, of course, with cranberries and all the jellies and gravies that Aunt Dinah could prepare. Children and grandchildren met at the homes of parents and grandparents, and recalled the incidents of the past year. It was what old Aunt Chloe would call a "rale churin" up time in family matters. The new babies were clucked under the chin, and all the merits of the spring colts were canvassed. Troubles with servants were detailed. Family matters generally came under discussion, and predictions were made as to winners at Lexington, Latonia, and other famous race courses in the coming spring meeting.

Hail Turkey!

Monster Flocks of Turkeys. Writers assure us that wild turkeys were once so abundant in the wild country back of Virginia and in the South generally that flocks of more than 5,000 were not uncommon.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes!—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine—Adv.

GIVE THANKS FOR VICTORY

From the hearts of the American people there is rising up today, a mighty hymn of thanksgiving. We should be poor in thanks, and poorer still in spirit, if America's annual day of Thanksgiving did not this year find us truly a happy and a grateful nation.

We have again been found fit to fulfil the high purposes of Americanism in the greatest crisis hour in world history. Our young men have faced death with smiling faces. They have made the supreme sacrifice, asking one question and only one, with their last breath—"Are we still advancing?" The name of America shines with brighter, holier luster before all the world because of the perfection and nobility of their manhood and the mercies of our bounty. The world has never seen finer fighting men. God grant we may seal their sacrifices with a league of peace.

Let us lift up our hearts in community singing with thanksgiving and praise, that violence and might cannot in this world overcome the moral forces that are the foundation of good government and political faith.

Let us render thanks to the God of justice who overrules wicked rulers, and who has again made America His instrument in hurling back the forces of autocracy and oppression, greed and cruelty. Let us observe our national day of thanksgiving not in the spirit of boasting and of vanity and pride, but of gratitude that we have been found fit to fulfill the purposes of Americanism in the world's crisis hour and that in this gathering up of our forces we have had a larger and a deeper vision of our unity and our invincible power when called forth by a cause worthy of America.

Let us give thanks to the Giver of all good that the example of America is being looked up to and followed in all parts of the world, and in this time of testing that Americanism and democracy are being extended as at no former time in history.

What Will Become of William?

The day of the House of Hohenzollern is drawing to a close. Instead of sitting in barbaric splendor at Jerusalem, ruling a subject world, William II is a fugitive from the land he had ruled, and across the stormy waters of the English Channel there is waiting for him an indictment for murder. His deluded former subjects have rejected him, and the more they come to realize the awful calamities he brought upon them, the more their wrath will rise against him. Nowhere on the face of the earth will he be welcome, and soon none will be so poor as to do him reverence. Possibly he may escape death by the guillotine or on the gallows, but as the dog dieth, so will he die. If he escapes death as a convicted criminal, he will either die at the hands of an assassin or by his own hand, a suicide. William II who four and a half years ago was the most powerful monarch in the world, will go down in history as not only the greatest criminal, but the greatest fool who ever sat upon a throne, for, after all, every criminal who deliberately plans to harm his fellowmen for his own gratification and glory, is a fool. His plans will finally go astray. The pit that he digs for others he will finally fall into himself, and as the fool dieth, so he shall die.

Lock Up the Kaiser.

Either the doors of all jails should be thrown open, or Wm. Hohenzollern should be prosecuted as the arch-criminal of these times. So long as he lives he will plot to return to Germany and there will be plotters within Germany so long as he remains alive. He will be a menace to the world as long as he cumber the earth. It is the duty of the Allied Governments to put this world disturber out of the way after bringing him to trial for his crimes.

High Prices Another Year.

Another year of high prices and taxes faces the American people, says David R. Forgan, Chicago's big banker, then we shall begin to get back to a normal basis. In the meantime increased production, sufficient wages and a general bettering of living conditions will preclude a scarcity of money for manufacturers now compelled to return to a peace basis. This, with the thrift-lessons wastime has taught us, Forgan thinks, will bring the country through the pains of readjustment comfortably.

WALT MASON GIVES THANKS

The sun of peace serenely shines Upon our fig trees and our vines, The justly-famous dove, That blood-tired climber, are sighing for, Its pinions all unstained by war, Is fluttering above. Your home, perhaps, is plain and poor, But in it you may dwell secure, And rest when evening comes; No howling foe's approach your door, Insisting on three quarts of gore, And death to the sound of drums. You milk the cow and gather eggs, And no one shoots you in the legs. Or prods you with a spear, Waif racks old Europe's weary strand, War stalks in almost every land, But Peace abideth here. All other benisons and boons Seem cheaper than a dish of prunes, Beside this mighty fact, That we have peace while others slay, And find upon our right of way No grisly dead men stacked, The groaning barns and bursting mows, Abundant crops and fertile cows, For which we render thanks, The rolls of butter we have churned, The mortgage that we lately burned, The money in the banks— All these are sordid things for which To send up anthems grand and rich, In ecstasy of praise; The dove of peace, the milk-white dove, That flutters this fair land above, 'Tis that enchants our days.

Catholic Church Notes

(By Father Kemper)

Notre Dame Institute reopened on Monday after having been closed for five weeks by the quarantine. It was also possible to open our Lady of Guadalupe School on the same day because the health officer considered the situation perfectly safe. The temporary city emergency hospital which was conducted in the Mexican school building during the epidemic, not only gave many a life among these poor people, but averted a serious epidemic in the whole vicinity.

Ten patients were still left on Thursday, but they were beyond danger and it was possible to take them home and fumigate all the rooms and contents.

St. Winifred, superintendent of the nurses at St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth, Sr. Irma of Santa Rosa Infirmary, and Sr. Ludmila of the Ignaciate Word Academy, left Kerrville on Saturday to resume the work that they had put aside in order to help us in our hour of need. To them, to Dr. Palmer, and to all contributors, we extend our heartfelt gratitude.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. "My little boy, James, took sick with diarrhoea, about five years ago, and was badly swollen. He had the measles and this was, no doubt, an after-effect. I made him well by giving him Theodor's Black Draught. I gave it to him three times a day for a month. I firmly believe it saved his life."

We always keep Black Draught in our house. It is our doctor. Always easy to get and prompt in giving relief.

THE SECOND SESSION OF 56TH CONGRESS ADJOURNS

Makes Record for Notable Achievements Unparalleled in History of the Republic.

Washington.—The second session of the sixty-fifth or "war" congress, which began last December 3, ended at 5 p. m. Thursday under a resolution which had been adopted earlier in the day by the senate, 41 to 18, and by the house, without objection.

Since the third and final session of this congress will begin in eleven days, December 2, the adjournment Thursday was devoid of many of the spectacular features usually accompanying the ending of sessions.

Very little business was transacted in either house during the day, most of the session's time being taken up in spirited debate, while the houses, after passing the adjournment resolution, recessed until just before a clock.

The usual committees from the senate and house waited on the president and were advised that he had no objection to their communications to make. The debate in the senate was marked by an attack on President Wilson's "Speech" by Senator of Indiana, Sherman D. Birds and Cylon of Minnesota, the publisher, who voiced objection to his action in taking over cable news agency lines, and an address by Senator Reed of Missouri, democrat, vigorously opposing the plan for a league of nations.

No reply to the republican criticism was made by the democrat side. The proposal for a league of nations, however, was defended by Senator Phelan of California, democrat.

During the day congress formally completed and sent to President Wilson the bill of wartime prohibitions effective next July 1. The measure promptly signed the measure.

For length, bulk and importance, the war and the league and importance of legislative business passed the session, which closed Tuesday was regarded by leaders as important. At this session war was declared on Austria-Hungary and the members also saw the victory won to all hostilities.

Appropriations passed amounting to $2,285,000,000, making the total for this congress more than $7,000,000,000, of which $4,122,000,000 was appropriated at the first and second session, at which war was declared on Germany.

Legislation passed included bills authorizing billions of liberty bonds, creation of the war finance corporation, government control of telegraphs, telephones and cables, executive reorganization of government agencies and extensions of the espionage act, and the army draft law by which men between the ages of 18 and 47 years of age were required to register.

President Wilson addressed congress several times during the session. The first speech was on January 18, when he outlined his fourteen principles. On May 27 he asked for immediate work on the war revenue bill and on November 11 read the terms of the armistice.

Prohibition and woman suffrage furnished sharp controversies throughout the session. The wartime "dry" measure was completed, but after the woman suffrage constitutional amendment resolution had been adopted January 10 by the house, it was defeated in the senate by two votes.

NEXT TEXAS RANGERS REUNION WILL BE HELD AT AUSTIN

We wish you equal success in your last to Europe and safe return to the people who so much admire you."

FINAL FIGURES ARE GIVEN OF FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

Greatest War Loan Ever Flotated By This or Any Other Government Was the Fourth.

Washington.—Total subscriptions to the fourth liberty loan were $6,929,047,900, the treasury department announced Wednesday, after final tabulations had been completed. The oversubscription of $939,047,000 was 12.48 per cent. Every federal reserve district exceeded its allotted quota.

This makes the fourth liberty loan by far the greatest war loan ever floated by this or any other government. For the fourth consecutive time in the last eighteen months of war, the American people have given more than the government asked to finance the war program. Including the four liberty loans and war savings stamps, the nation has raised $17,520,000,000 in popular loans, and this does not take into consideration oversubscriptions which were not accepted.

Bonds of the fifth war loan, to be offered probably in the spring, will be of short maturity. Secretary McAdoo announced Wednesday. This was interpreted as meaning five years or less. The secretary said it is impossible now to predict the size or time of flotation of future bond issues necessary to cover raising of expenditures growing out of the war, but added that it is "entirely clear that the moment had come when the interests of the government and the country would be best served by the issue of bonds of short maturities, and that that would be the policy of the treasury."

Short-term bonds, treasury officials feel, would be bought more readily than those of longer maturity. Previous liberty loan issues ranged between ten and thirty years.

Whether short-term bonds might be sold at the highest rate of 14 per cent for the past two liberty loans or might be increased remains for future determination.

Existing war obligations maturing as follows:

First liberty loan, $2,600,000,000, redeemable at the option of the treasury after 1922 and payable not later than 1947; second liberty loan, $3,000,000,000, redeemable after 1927, payable in 1942; third liberty loan, $4,170,000,000, redeemable and payable without option in 1928; fourth liberty loan, estimated at $6,930,047,900, redeemable after 1933, payable in 1938; war savings stamps, $873,330,000—up to the present, payable in 1923.

With this program of maturity, the treasury, by exercising its option, can call in the nation's war debt for redemption in installments every five years until 1947.

What Determines Meat and Live-Stock Prices?

Some stock men still think that Swift & Company—and other big packers—can pay as little for live-stock as they wish.

Some consumers are still led to believe that the packers can charge as much for dressed meat as they wish.

This is not true. These prices are fixed by a law of human nature as old as human nature itself—the law of supply and demand.

When more people want meat than there is meat to be had, the scramble along the line to get it for them sends prices up. When there is more meat than there are people who want it, the scramble all along the line to get rid of it within a few days, while it is still fresh, sends prices down.

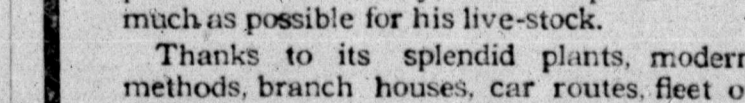

When prices of meat go up, Swift & Company not only can pay the producer more, but has to pay him more, or some other packer will.

Similarly, when prices recede all down the line Swift & Company cannot continue to pay the producer the same prices as before, and still remain in the packing business.

All the packer can do is to keep the expense of turning stock into meat at a minimum, so that the consumer can get as much as possible for his money, and the producer as much as possible for his live-stock.

Thanks to its splendid plants, modern methods, branch houses, car routes, fleet of refrigerator cars, experience and organization, Swift & Company is able to pay for live cattle 90 per cent of what it receives for beef and by-products, and to cover expense of production and distribution, as well as its profit (a small fraction of a cent per pound), out of the other 10 per cent.

Red Cross Column

(By Mrs. J. W. Burney)

Meeting in special session Monday afternoon, the newly elected Board of Directors of the Kerr County Chapter elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

H. Remschel, Chairman; Mrs. L. A. Schreiner, Vice Chairman; L. A. Schreiner, Treasurer; Mrs. John Burney, Secretary

A Chairman for each of the ten standing committees will be elected at the next regular meeting of the Board, on Dec. 10.

Mighty events in world history have taken place recently. Empires in league to crush freedom have fallen and dynasties are crumbling. Civilization sees the Peace for which it has prayed and fought, assured. The world is at last to be made safe. A mere breathing space for thanksgiving when the rear of battle is stilled, and then, Civilization must face problems as pressing as these which have engaged it in the prosecution of the war. With respect to the Red Cross there is the probability of emergency demands coming with the same suddenness that marked events on the road to peace. There is no telling just what the demands will be, but happily the organization to deal with them is in splendid condition. It must not lose an atom of its effectiveness through any lapse of interest in the war-peace transition period.

Parent-Teachers Club.

On Dec. 11th at the close of school the Parent-Teacher's Club of Kerrville will be given an address on Child Welfare by Mrs. Dawson, a trained nurse of experience. As many mothers as can are urged to be present.

Mr. Herbert Spencer says, "the development of children in mind and body follows certain laws, that unless these laws are in some degree conformed to by parents, death is inevitable; that unless they are in a great degree conformed to there must result serious physical and mental defects; and that only when they are completely conformed to can a perfect maturity be reached."

It is a matter of statistics that more than half of the children who die, die of preventable diseases. With this appalling fact staring us in the face it behooves us to give heed to the President's request that the study of Child Welfare be taken up in all communities of the nation. We parents are ignorant of many of the commonest laws of life and we must arouse ourselves to a proper sense of the responsibilities which devolve upon us. By uniting our efforts we can accomplish results, with the help which will be sent from Washington.

Whether or not the mothers of this community have affiliated with the Parent-Teacher's Club, they are earnestly invited to be present at this meeting, to take advantage of the talk on how to preserve the health of our children. At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served. PUB. COM.

Letter from Cliff Freeman

Our friend Jim Freeman has just received the following interesting letter from his brother, Clifford, with the 36th Division overseas:

Somewhere-in-France, October 23, 1918.

DEAR BROTHER: I received your letter about two weeks ago and would love to be back in Texas to help you feed cattle this winter. I am with the meat and feed inspector over here but still belong to the Veterinary Corps. Each day we send out about 30,000 pounds of fresh beef. It's fine too for its the best the U. S. has and just as good as any you get at Henke's market. Besides, that's only a small per cent of the fresh beef used in France each day by U. S. soldiers. Yesterday we sent out more than 100,000 pounds of oats, and lots of hay.

Of course we don't know when we will end the war, but many look for peace before Christmas. Germany is already "finished" and she is soon going to admit it.

The American soldiers surely have made a "hit" in France and we all have hopes of being home soon.

Sunday next, Dec. 1, services will be resumed as follows:

SOME PSALM.

The Ford is my car. I shall not want another. It maketh me to lie down in wet places. It soileth my soul. It leadeth me into deep waters. It leadeth me into paths of ridicule for its namesake.

It prepareth a breakdown for me in the presence of mine enemies.

Yea, though I run through the valleys, I am towed up the hill.

I fear great evil when it is with me. Its rods and its engines discomform me.

It annojnteth my face with oil. Its tank runneth over.

Surely to goodness if this thing follow me all the days of my life, I shall dwell in house of the insane forever.—The Sussex Herald.

Make Wounded Self-Supporting.

The Government is to do its best to restore every wounded American soldier and sailor to health, strength and self-supporting activity. Until his discharge from the hospital all the medical and surgical treatment necessary to restore him to health is under the jurisdiction of the military authorities. The vocational training, the re-education and rehabilitation necessary to restore him to self-supporting activity, is under the jurisdiction of the Federal Board of Vocational Education. If he needs an artificial limb or mechanical appliance the Government will supply it free, will keep it in repair, and renew it when necessary. If after his discharge he again needs medical treatment on account of his disability, the Government will supply it free. While he is in the hospital and while in training afterwards the soldier or sailor will receive compensation as if in service and his family or dependents will receive their allotment. A wounded soldier or sailor, although his disability does not prevent him from returning to employment without training, can take a course of vocational training free of cost and the compensation provided by the war-risk insurance act will be paid to him and the training will be free, but no allotment will be paid to his family.

THEY GAVE THEIR LIVES

Many of America's sons are now numbered with the "unreturning dead." They rest over the seas—some in graves so shallow that a summer's rain may wash away the thin soil that forms their only winding sheet.

Bravely, uncomplainingly, almost gladly, they gave their lives that the great truth that all men have the inalienable right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," should not perish from the earth.

When Germany struck the blow that made Europe a human slaughter pen the world was asleep to her purposes.

German autocracy, controlling her schools, her colleges, her universities, her pulpits, her parliaments, her press, her rostrums and all of the other great agencies that promote and direct public sentiment had taught her people that the German was a superman divinely ordained to dominate in the civilization of all nations.

So, when the world awoke it faced the fearful fact that it was Germany's purpose not only to conquer, but to Germanize the world.

For this she had trained and equipped her army and navy, for this she had filled her peaceful nations with spies, for this she had built engines of destruction, for this she had extended her commerce, for this she demanded that loyalty to fatherland should be the supreme pledged faith not only of every German who retained German citizenship, but also of those who accepted the hospitality of other countries and pledged allegiance to other governments; for this she created a German God and made the Kaiser his spokesman. To whatever clime a German went, Germany's command was: "Thou shalt be a German even unto the third and fourth generation."

"Thou shalt live as a German, thou shalt speak as a German."

"Thou shalt vote as a German and participate in public affairs as a German, and when Germany needs you, thou shalt act for Germany and as Germany directs."

And of this ancestry German-Americanism was born. America's sons have given their lives that this German purpose might not be accomplished.

They have given their lives that the destinies of this Republic may be directed and controlled by American citizens who neither owe nor render allegiance to any national sovereignty save the United States of America.

By the gift of their lives they have proved their Americanism. By the glory of their deaths they have made democracy safe.

By their supreme sacrifice they have carried the blessing of democratic government to other nations.

By their martyrdom in the cause of individual liberty they have brought a new covenant of peace between nations and sealed it with their blood.

In this new hour in the lives of nations they are "the resurrection and the life."

From the graves, over the sea, of our hero dead comes the message: "Let every American citizen, whatever be his birthplace or race, prove by his life that he holds to but one faith, owes but one allegiance, is bound by one pledge, and that all are embraced in the one proud expression, 'I am an American!'"

And, if he cannot say that with all of his heart, with all of his soul, with all of his might, he stands branded as unfaithful to his citizenship and a defiler of our sacred soil.

CENTER POINT LETTER

(Regular Correspondence)

Mrs. N. B. Edens died at her home on Verde Creek Friday after an illness of several months of tuberculosis. Mrs. Edens (nee Carrollee Williams) was about 37 years of age, was born in East Texas and came here about two years ago for her health. She was a lovely Christian character, and a member of the Baptist Church since her girlhood. Her body was tenderly laid to rest in the Center Point cemetery at noon Saturday, Rev. J. D. Worrell, pastor of the Methodist Church, conducting the funeral services. She is survived by a devoted husband, two brothers and a sister, besides numerous other relatives, who mourn her departure.

Newton Hood attended to business in San Antonio a few days last week.

Miss Bessie Nowlin returned to her school at Choate Saturday.

News has been received from Maurice Hood of the A. E. F. that he will soon be on his way home and will eat Christmas dinner in Center Point.
