Boer Surrenders.

London, June 8.—The war office has received the following message from Lord Kitchener, under to-day's date:

"The disarmament of the Boers is proceeding satisfactorily and good spirit is displayed everywhere. Yesterday 4342 rifles had been surrendered up to date."

Dispatches received by the Associated Press from Pretoria confirm the statements made in Lord Kitchener's communication of the war office, and says the whole staff of the late Transvaal government with a body guard of 50 men, surrendered last Saturday.

The following formalities are observed when General Botha, General De Wet or any of the Boer commandants accompany the British officer who has been detailed to receive surrenders: The Boer leader goes out to meet a commando and returns at its head. The Boers who come in are generally dressed in dilapidated clothing, but have a smart and soldiery bearing. Those who are to surrender are assembled and the Boer leader delivers an address to his men, urging them to listen to the British officer who has been detailed on this work. The British officer then makes a speech to the men of the commando, in which he informs them of the admiration of King Edward and the British nation for the gallant struggle and the bravery of the people and promises that the authorities will do their utmost to help them settle on their farms. A meal is then provided for the Boers, after which the formal surrender occurs. In many such instances the Boers have cheered King Edward and they have sometimes expressed surprise that no more officers were sent out to receive their surrenders. The Boers are allowed to get in their horses and saddles. The majority of them appear to be glad that the war is at an end, and that they will be able to again join their families. Among the men who surrendered to the British authorities at Balmoral, Cape Colony, were four Americans, who will be granted free passage to Delagoa Bay. A striking sign of the altered conditions in South Africa is that Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner rode from Pretoria to Johannesburg last Saturday accompanied by only two staff officers.

A few of the Boer women still inveigh against surrender, but the general feeling among them is in favor of making the best of the situation.

Pretoria Thanksgiving.

PRETORIA, June 8.—The services of Thanksgiving for the return of peace, to-day, were held in the principal square of Pretoria. Outside the roped inclosure of troops were gathered many thousands of townspeople and a goodly sprinkling of Boers, whose demeanor was most respectful. The Archbishop of Cape Town officiated at the service and Lord Kitchener General Baden Powell, Lady Methuen, wife of General Methuen, and other prominent persons were present. The massed bands of various regiments supplied the music and troops and people joined in singing the hymns with wonderful effect. The singing of "God Save the King" and Rudyard Kipling's

"Recessional" closed the service. Lord Kitchener then mounted a dais and called for three cheers for King Edward. The response of everybody in the square was immediate and unrestrained. The open letter of the Boer leaders to the burghers in which peace is announced, and in which the burghers are counseled to royal acquiescence is an eloquent and pathetic document. In it the leaders thank the burghers for their noble sacrifice and express their sympathy for the bereaved. The letter concludes as follows:

"Now that there is peace, and although it is not a peace such as we longed for, yet let us abide where God has led us. We can, with a clear conscience declare that for two and a half years, our people have carried on the struggle in a manner almost unknown to history. Let us now grasp each other's hand, for another great struggle lies before us, a struggle for the spiritual and racial prosperity and welfare of our people. Casting aside all feelings of bitterness, let us learn to forget and to forgive, so that the deep wounds caused by this war may be healed.

The document is signed by Mr. Schalkburger, formerly acting vice president of the Transvaal, and General Louis Botha.

Diversity of Products.

Texas has for years been regarded as a one-crop-state. This is because the state has produced one-third of the total cotton crop of the United States. It is possible that even to-day there may be people who persist in viewing Texas through the large end of the telescope and who see in perspective, naught but cotton fields, long horned cattle, cactus, and Bowie knives. The story books used to record these things about Texas, but this was at a period when the cowboy threw his lariat about the lower horn of the new moon and yelled for firewater, while the buffalo danced the highland fling to the "lascivious pleasing" of a Mexican Carmen. What a change has come over the spirit of our dreams. Old conditions have passed away and Texas glows in the refulgence of a wonderful prosperity; of a magnificent future, and proudly lays claim to being the "Empire State." And so she is. No one-crop, no longhorn, but the sun shines on a diversity of products so great that the whole world must pay tribute to equal. North, East, South and West, the crops of each grow in Texas fields, often all together, and the massive Hereford and docile Durham chew their quid of reflection amid the mesquite where once the leery antelope loped in the moonlight, and the coyote barked at his shadow at sunrise. Three millions and a half bales of cotton is merely the segment of a circle that contains 28,000,000 bushels of oats, 24,000,000 bushels of wheat, 82,000,000 bushels of corn, 1,000,000 bags of rice, and a total value of agricultural products that aggregates $250,000,000, to say nothing of cattle shipped to the value of $30,000,000, and a value in vegetables, tobacco, sugar, fruit, etc., of nearly $25,000,000. One crop. Not a bit of it, and yet Texas only cultivates 15,000,000 acres out of 160,000,000 acres. There is room for more.—Literary Bureau Southern Pacific, Houston & Texas Central R. R.

Negroes Not Wanted.

Longview, Texas, June 7.—Answering a petition signed by 200 citizens of Gregg county calling for a mass meeting at the court house to protest against the practice of allowing negroes to vote in the white primaries, a large number of people assembled and the following resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, that we, in mass meeting assembled do protest in the strongest terms against any and all irregularities and the voting of negroes at any box who are not Democrats, thus setting aside the will of the people and fostering upon them men for office not of their choice. And we pledge ourselves to use our influence before the Democratic committee of Gregg county to rise up in their might and mete out even-handed justice.

"Resolved, That we hereby call upon all presiding officers and judges of all elections to join with us and see that no negro is allowed to vote unless he be previously known as a Democrat.

Volcano Ashes Fell In Texas. Dead Whales Were Also Seen Floating Off the Galveston Coast.

GALVESTON, TEX., June 7.—Mount Pelee, on the Island of Martinique, has sent evidence of its power to Galveston. Several pieces of pumice stone have been found on the beach here. Deputy County Clerk Clement Kuhnel, a local astronomer and geologist, states that about May 16 he noticed an order of whale oil. At the time he believed that possibly the explosion of the volcano on Martinique had killed many fish and probably several whales, and they had floated westward, giving off the odor noticed by him. Since then his theory has been confirmed by the discovery of whales and fish floating on the waters between here and the volcanic islands.

Shotguns and Pistols.

Conroe, Texas, June 9.—The negroes of the Baptist denomination at Conroe came near serious trouble to-day. Some of these negroes are opposed to the pastor in charge and have been dying to oust him for several weeks, and failing to-day, armed themselves with shotguns and pistols and congregated near the church and defied the preacher to enter. An officer was summoned to the scene, where possibly 100 negroes were congregated in the streets just outside the church, divided into two factions and both sides armed with shotguns, clubs and pistols. The negroes were disarmed, but no arrests will be made till proper warrants are issued.

Night Tragedy in the Woods.

Llano, Texas, June 9.—Word has reached here of a terrible tragedy which took place at Katemey, in Mason county, Saturday night. George Willingham is charged with having killed his brother-in-law, John Ferris, hacking him to pieces with a knife and cutting his head off.

They were in the woods hunting about 10 o'clock at night when the tragedy occurred. Family trouble was the cause. Willingham gave himself up last night and is in jail at Mason.

Officers found the body of Ferris Sunday morning, Willingham refused to tell where it could be found.

O. C. Hanks' Brother Arrested.

Abilene, Texas, June 10.—A United States secret service agent in charge of the San Antonio district, assisted by Deputy United States Marshal Girard and Sheriff Irvine of Callahan county and Goodfellow of Coleman county, have just arrested and placed in jail at this place three parties supposed to be implicated in the robbery of the Northern Pacific Express at Wagoner, Montana, July 3, 1901, at which time the robbers secured several thousand dollars of unsigned bank notes on various Montana banks.

The parties arrested all live in Callahan county and their names are Wyatt Hanks, the brother of O. C. Hanks, who was recently killed in San Antonio by Policeman Pink Taylor while resisting arrest; Peter Fuleher and Jessie Nickell. It is charged they have been flooding this part of the country with the Montana bank notes, a number of which they had in their possession when arrested.

O. C. Hanks, who was known to have been one of the Montana train robbers, visited his brother, Wyatt, in Callahan county last winter and the men arrested are said to have full possession of all facts concerning the Wagoner robbery.

Nickell has made a confession, the text of which is unknown, but on the strength of which the three men were bound over in $5,000 bonds for an examining trial Friday. Failing to give bonds they were placed in jail.

Rice At Westfield. Proposed to Use Buffalo Bayou As An Irrigating Canal.

WESTFIELD, TEX., June 8.—The new rice farms put in here during the past year promise to produce an abundant crop if only enough water can be had. Many enterprising citizens here are talking of the advisability of trying an irrigation plan on a large scale. The proposed scheme is to put a pumping station on the Brazos river, near Brookshire, and from there to run the water into Buffalo Bayou which will act as a main canal for ten or fifteen miles, watering thousands of acres of fertile prairie. From there they would lead the water into Cypress creek, which again would act as a main canal to Spring on the I. & G. N. railway. If this does not supply enough water it would be quite as easy to combine with the Trinity river, and thus form a crescent-shaped area of irrigated land equal to nearly 300,000 acres. This would be more than the combined acreage in Louisiana and Texas to-day in rice. The wonderful possibilities of this scheme appeal to all who live here, and if it should be carried out Houston at once would become the greatest rice center in America. This great crescent of cultivated rice would be crossed by the many railways that lead into Houston there it could be conveniently milled and put upon the market.

The stoker mayer of Bridgeport, Conn., is at odds with the health, fire and police department and his favorite schemes of reform are being blocked on every hand. The board of taxation has been enjoined from making any appropriation for the remodeling of the old city hall, which was one of the mayor's pet projects.

A Woman's Confession.

Dumas, Texas, June 7.—Mrs. Caraway, the wife of the man who died so suddenly here about two weeks ago, has confessed that she killed her husband by giving him a double dose of a tonic containing strychnine, which he was taking for heart trouble. The confession was made to the District Attorney and repeated, in effect, a few days later, when she was placed on trial as she pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The circumstances of Mr. Caraway's death were told in the papers at the time. He was traveling salesman for a Louisiana lumber company, though he was a resident of this country, living near Dumas. His death was very sudden. By some it was thought to be a case of suicide, others attributed it to heart disease, while still others, who knew that Caraway and his wife did not live a life of tranquility, suspected that a crime had been committed. These suspicions prompted an investigation. Mrs. Caraway, when accused of the crime by the District Attorney, at first denied it, but finally confessed that in giving him his tonic for heart trouble she prepared a double dose. Caraway and his wife came here from Louisiana.

Noted Pioneer Slain by a Negro.

DENISON TEX., June 9.—John Pierce Carlat died here to-day from the effects of a murderous assault made upon him by a negro last Tuesday at his home, about five miles northwest of this city. The deceased was one of the most noted pioneers that has ever lived in Texas. He was hunter, trapper, guide, scout and business man. He was the particular friend and companion of Kit Carson, General Fremont, Jim Bridges and other noted frontier men. General Grant was very fond of him. He served through the Mexican war. He was captured and lived among the comanches for several years. He was a hunter at Fort Gibson, I. T., when Washington Irving was there. He conducted emigrants overland to California. Inman mentions him in his "Santa Fe Trail," and Fremont complimented him in his report to Thomas Benton. John Pierce Carlat was born in Dijon, France in 1820.

Death From Assault.

Denison, Tex., June 9.—John Pierre Carlat died this morning at 10:30 from the effects of the murderous assault made upon him by a negro last Tuesday night at his home, about five miles northwest of the city. A few days after the assault Mr. Carlat was brought to the city for medical treatment and he seemed for a time to rally from the effects of his injuries, but his age was against him and he died this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Hollenbeck. Mr. Carlat was a Mexican War Veteran. A warrant was sworn out charging Gus Carson, a negro tenant, with the murder.

Young Man Dropped Dead.

Sherman, Texas, June 8.—A young man named Johnson dropped dead this afternoon at the bag mill tanks. He, with several young men of same age, had been bathing in the tank and come out. Johnson had raised his arm preparatory to drawing on his shirt when he dropped dead. His death was due to heart trouble.

Cold, unswerving and undeniable facts, deduced from figures will show that the house that buys in reasonable quantities, sell quick because they need the money to re-invest, not only can but will sell you on a smaller margin of profit than the great concerns with millions of capital. Remarkable Coincidence.

A train of coincidences so extraordinary as to seem incredible lately happened in a Pennsylvania family. The members of the household were sitting at breakfast one day last month when the mother read aloud a newspaper item to the effect that a young man had fallen ill with typhoid fever at the residence of his fiancée, and would be nursed by her there for several weeks to come. The son and daughter, who are both betrothed, laughed heartily at this, and their mother, to rebuke them, said: "Look out something similar may happen to you some day." The daughter went the next week to visit the parents of her intended husband in a New Jersey village. She sprained her ankle on the day of her arrival and was kept under the same roof with her fiancée a fortnight. The son went the following week to a nearby town to call on his intended wife. He was conversing with her in the parlor when bang!—the drum of his car burst, and he is still a patient in the town, looked after tenderly by the young girl.

A Polo Apollo.

One of the handsomest men in New York is George Morgan, to whom more than to any other person is due the popularity of polo in the East. He was "discovered" some twenty-six years ago in California by James Gordon Bennett, who saw him perform some wonderful feats in the saddle. Then and there the millionaire newspaper owner engaged Morgan at a fabulous salary to buy polo ponies for him and go to New York to teach Bennett's friends how to ride in the game. Morgan has been there ever since.

Why Vienna Retires Early.

In Vienna every man's home is his dungeon from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. the common entrance door of each block is closed and bolted. Thereafter persons passing in or out must pay a fine of 2d to the concierge until midnight, and 4d from that hour to 6 a. m. To go out to post a letter costs 2d, and the same amount to return. To prolong a visit to a friend after 10 p. m. means 2d to get out of his house and 2d more to tender your own. A natural result of this irritating tax is that of all capital cities Vienna is earliest to bed.

What Ethan Allen Really Said.

A lecturer on the mistakes of history says that Ethan Allen did not utter at the taking of Fort Ticonderoga the ringing phrase associated with that event in the mind of every schoolboy. Instead of informing the British commander that he demanded the surrender of the stronghold in the name of the Great Jehova and the Continental congress, he shouted, "Come out of that, you old rat!"

Odd Claim for Damage Suit.

The sum of $2,000 for a dislocated tooth and a jaw put out of joint is what a woman asked in damages recently of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company in the New York supreme court. She was hit by a baseball while riding in a Lexington avenue car. She claims that the baseball was batted by a railway employe from in front of the car barns through the car window.

Great Society and Its Noble Head.

The Red Cross Society, which is incorporated in nearly every country in the world, is to hold soon in Russia its international convention. These meetings occur ever five years. Clara Barton, representing the American Red Cross, is now at sea, steaming Russiaward. Of Miss Barton one of the organization's secretaries said recently: She is over 75 years old, and yet she is as active and as cheery as a young girl. The American Red Cross Society is due entirely to her. She went to Europe to recuperate after the Civil War, wherein her indefatigable work at nursing had worn down her health, and while abroad she witnessed some of the Franco-Prussian war and helped the Red Cross folk in their work. She began immediately on her return home to organize a society here, and certainly this energetic and good woman may be said to have succeeded, for the American Red Cross is now one of the biggest and best. The very biggest and the very best, is the Japanese Red Cross Society."

The Divine Sarah as a Milliner.

Sarah Bernhardt is the silent partner of her niece and another young French woman in a projected millinery shop for London. The famous actress lent these young women a good many thousand franks a couple of years since, when they opened a shop in Paris, where they recently became bankrupt. She did not scold them, however, for their bad luck, but, with a tender smile exclaimed: "You are both pretty and winning little Parisians, and you have become bankrupt in the land of millions. Bravo, my dears, I am sure I could never have done that. Now, shall we try our luck in London?" And she threw a bundle of bank notes into her niece's lap.

Unique Charleston.

Charleston is the only city of the United States, affirms Victor Smith, in which the publication of women's names is objected to by the women themselves and their menfolk. In big Northern cities society boasts its social secretaries, whose duty it is to inform the newspapers of the movements of matrons and dowagers employing them. The highest-salaried secretaries are those young women who succeed, by hook or crook, in capturing the most space in the daily journals. One bright girl receives $25 a week from the wife of a New York paper general for keeping that lady's name before the public.

Cats Watch for the Catnip Man.

The weekly visit of the catnip man is looked forward to with eagerness by the cats of some of New York's uptown streets, through which, on certain days, a vender carrying a basket of the herb goes about from one basement door to the other peddling the luxury that the basement pet loves so well. The cats seem to know the day their friend is due, and prow about front yards and areas, looking anxiously up and down the street for the coming of the peddler. When he appears they rush to greet him, purring and rubbing against his feet.

A politician who "keeps his ear close to the grass roots" these days stands an excellent chance of being drowned.

For Congressman 14th District,
JAMES L. SLAYDEN.

So many railroads are being constructed in Oklahoma this year that farmers find it difficult to get hands to harvest their immense crop of wheat.

A VERY peculiar state of affairs just now exists in Texas. A large number of "dry" counties are extremely wet, and fully as many "wet" counties are uncomfortably dry.

THE supreme court of Minnesota has ruled that if a woman can turn the heads of a jury with her beauty, she is entitled to the verdict. It is safe to say that the supreme court has made itself very popular with the ladies by this decision.

INDICATIONS are good that 1902 will go into history as a "good year" in Kansas. Copious rains have fallen throughout the state, and crop conditions are reported excellent except where slight damage has occurred from excessive rain fall.

THE United States has given Denmark a year to make up her mind in regard to the sale of the Danish West Indies. If volcanic eruptions continue in that section there won't be any Danish possessions there in twelve months from to-day.

WHITELAW REID has gone to London to attend the coronation of King Edward. The people of New York are greatly disappointed that the eastern part of the United States didn't "fly up" when Mr. Reid stepped off.

WE have received the initial number of the Nordheim View, published by J. W. Blanton, who formerly owned the Kerrville Paper. The View is a neat 7-column folio, well gotten up and filled with readable news matter. Mr. Blanton is an able newspaper man, and we predict for him great success in this new venture.

LIQUID asphalt has been struck in two wells near Waters Station, in Travis county Texas as near the whole as any big piece of the earth to be found anywhere. She has oil, asphalt, coal, iron, lumber, salt, rice, cotton, grain, cattle, sheep, horses—in fact if we continue to develop throughout the first decade of the 20th century as we have the past year and a half, it will take a whole page of the geography for a list of Texas products.

Now don't be a knocker. Kerrville Hose Company No. 1 is getting up a barbecue and picnic for the 4th of July, and people who don't want to do anything but stand on the corner and say it won't succeed, are earnestly requested to keep quiet. However Kerrville has fewer of that class than any town in Texas. The boys are making a big effort to give a successful entertainment and they should have, and, we feel sure, will secure the support of the people in their effort. Kerrville Hose Company No. 1, is one of the finest volunteer firemen's associations in Texas. The lads deserve to suc-

Watlington, referee, at his office in San Antonio, Texas, at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the 28th day of June, 1902, at which time and place the creditors of said bankrupt may appear and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

Big Wool Shipment.

The mammoth wool shipment from Capt. Chas. Schreiner's ware house, in this city, is going rapidly on. The wool is baled and loaded in cars direct from the ware house. A million pounds of wool is quite a little bunch of sheep hair, that is the amount of this shipment in round numbers, and it brings to the ranchmen of South-west Texas the neat sum, approximately, of $150,000.

GRAND BALLOON ASCENSION.

Baldwin, the Cloud-Leaper, Will Be With Us Again.

Prof. John E. Baldwin, who made the first successful balloon ascension in this part of Texas, at the Kerrville fair last fall, will be with us again this year. It costs a great deal of money to secure such attractions as this, but the Kerrville Park Association has established an enviable reputation for giving the people a first-class show for their money, and it proposes to sustain its reputation at any cost.

In addition to the balloon ascension. The biggest program of amusements and special attractions ever pulled off at any fair in South-west Texas, has been prepared, and will be given just as listed in the catalogue.

We are authorized to announce the name of Julius Real as a candidate for the office of County Judge of Kerr county, at the ensuing election which takes place on Tuesday, November 4.

Cattle For South Africa. An Experimental Shipment Made From Alice.

BEEVILLE, TEX., June 6.—Two car loads of cattle have been shipped from Alice to South Africa, where they will be used for breeding purposes. The shipment is an experimental one, and should it prove successful other shipments from this section will follow. The idea is that, as the Transvaal is a great cattle country and practically all the cattle have been destroyed by the wars, cattle from this country will be needed to re-stock the veldts.

Less Walker, of Mason, was registered at the Gerdes Thursday.

DATES FIXED.

Kerrville Fair Will Be Held October 9, 10 and 11. Extensive Preparation Is Being Made For the Biggest Entertainment the Association Has Yet Given.

The Kerrville Park Association has fixed the date for its 1902 Race Meet Fair and Stock Show for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 9, 10 and 11, instead of September 4, 5 and 6, as at first announced. The change was made on account of Boerne having the prior right to those dates for her semi-centennial celebration. A neat folder heralding the catalogue has been put out, giving date, race program, etc. The regular catalogue will be out about July 1, and may be had for the asking. The Association is making a special effort to make this year's fair an even greater success than that of last year, which far exceeded all previous meetings. In addition to the Stock Show, a ladies department has been added this year, and the ladies of Kerr county are earnestly requested to assist in making this new feature of the fair a pronounced success. Mrs. J. B. Mosby has been selected as manager of the ladies department, and those desiring to enter contests in this department will receive prompt attention by consulting or writing her.

The racing committee is composed of J. W. Vann, Gus Schreiner, H. Renschel, H. V. Scholl and D. H. Compartment. Horse owners are requested to correspond with the secretary, Mr. Chas. Real, or members of the committee. We cordially invite owners to use our track for training. It was constructed at an enormous outlay of money, and is said by experts to be the finest standard half-mile track in Texas.

Every citizen of Kerrville should go to work to-day to help make the fair an unqualified success. Only a little effort on your part will be of great value and much appreciated by the management. Let us get down to business and make this, not only the banner year of our fair, but make the Kerrville fair the banner fair of South-west Texas, this year.

Poor Dad.

An exchange says: "There is a class of men who are seldom if ever appreciated at their true value. In this enlightened age they are commonly called 'Dad.' It is dad that humps himself year in and year out, on the farm, in the office or workshop, in order that his boy or girl may go away to school, and upon their return, that the boy may have a fine horse and top buggy, and the girl a costly piano. It is dad that hustles and cultivates great calloused knots on his hands and becomes stoop shouldered in order that his offspring may revel in luxury and make ternal fools of themselves. His sons and daughters have learned at his expense to despise his old-fashioned ways. They secretly laugh at the style of his Sunday coat, and bell crowned hat. On Sunday when his daughter has company, and he would like to sit in the parlor and listen to the music, he is given to understand in various ways that his presence is not desired, and the poor old man goes out into the kitchen and stays the remainder of the afternoon. God help the son and daughter who goes back on dad. In the catalogue of low-down enviousness that of ingratitude to one's parents is the most contemptible."

Jail Delivery.

The Kerr county jail was broken Sunday night and John Reeves and A. G. Lockett, the only prisoners in the jail at the time, made good their escape and at this writing have not been apprehended.

The men had both been very sick with fever and County Physician Wright had ordered that they be removed from their cells to the run-around. They had been sleeping in the corridor for a week or more, and while not regarded by the physician as well men, at all, both were convalescing. Sometime Sunday night the men succeeded in prying loose a piece of a window sash, with which they removed the mortar from a crack in the inner wall and succeeded in displacing a large stone. After that, they worked through the wall below the window sill, removed a stone from the outer wall, making an aperture sufficiently large for a man's body to pass through. Then, like Jean Val Jean, of fiction, they descended by a blanket rope, and again breathed "Freedom's sweet air." That this work had been performed very cautiously was evidenced by the fact that the criminals had placed two pairs of blankets on the floor in such a manner as to catch every particle of falling stone or mortar and kill the sound completely.

Lockett had been in the jail but a short time having been placed there a short time since on a charge of bigamy. Reeves was being held to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of burglary.

The Deadly Kerosene Can.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., June 11.—As a result of a fire in South Heights Wednesday evening at 6:00 o'clock, Mrs. Fannie Kleland was fatally burned, dying at 11:35 o'clock, and her husband badly injured while attempting to extinguish the flames enveloping her. Mrs. Kleland attempted to light the fire in a stove with kerosene when the can containing it exploded, the explosion throwing the burning fluid over her. She ran into the street and was almost entirely enveloped in the flames which her husband, Isadore Kleland, vainly attempted to extinguish. Her clothing was burned and the fire attacked her hands, head, face and almost her entire person before it was finally quenched. Her sufferings were excruciating, but she bore the pain heroically. Chief Tobin summoned an ambulance, and she was taken to the city hospital as soon as it was possible to get her there, but while lying on a mattress waiting for the vehicle to arrive, she gave directions regarding the disposition of her earthly affairs, arranging for the payment of insurance on her life, furnishing addresses of her mother and other relatives in Germany, and trying to comfort her husband who was almost distracted with grief over the shocking accident.

The family recently came from Denver, Colo., and rented the house, a one-story frame structure, at 533 Delmar street. This edifice was entirely destroyed with its entire contents. It belonged to Mrs. Goll, who resides in Galveston, and who recently purchased it from N. T. Ayres. The house was insured for $500, and is worth about $800. The furniture belonging to the family of Mr. Kleland was not insured.

Mrs. Kleland died at 11:35 o'clock Wednesday night from the terrible injuries incident to the horrible accident. She passed away at the city hospital, where all possible was done to alleviate her suffering.

The Minstrel Show.

The people of Kerrville were given a rare treat at Pampell's Opera House Thursday night by the Kerrville Dramatic Club supporting Mr. Hugh Morrison in a big minstrel show for the benefit of the Kerrville Base Ball League.

The performers were L. A. Schreiner, J. F. Bear, W. J. Dilard, J. H. Ward, Hugh Morrison, Miss Amy Vann, Mrs. J. L. Pampell, Lefe Vann, Mort Sullivan, August Schild, H. G. Koester, Sergeant Miller, W. W. Purdom, Miss O. Adams, Mrs. L. E. Merrell, H. A. Biatz, Charles Kyle and Charles Real.

Among the specialties was an exhibition of sabre and club swinging skill by Sergeant William Tyree that was the finest performance ever given on a Kerrville stage. Mr. Charles B. Close held the audience spellbound with his wonderful trick bicycle performance. Miss Ora Adam's rendition of the beautiful song, "Down on the Old Sewanee," was greatly appreciated. Miss Amy Vann sang "My Blushing Rosie" in her usual sweet voice and captivated manner. Mrs. Merrell's song, "Honey Suckle and the Bee," was a high favorite with the audience. Mort Sullivan's even tenor voice in "Jennie Lee" was a pleasing feature of the occasion. Prof. August Schild won great applause by his two instrument musical performance. The music furnished by the Misses Sharpe was, as their performance, always is, very near the perfection of piano playing.

The performance ended with a three round boxing bout, for points, between Messrs. Mitchell and Schwartz.

The entire performance was, beyond question, the best amateur exhibition ever given in this part of the country. The house was packed. The manager was smiling and happy, the people were pleased, and all went "merry as a marriage bell."

After the show, the young people engaged in dancing for some time, putting the cap sheaf of pleasure on a successful evening's entertainment.

Got an Unbiased Opinion.

Out in Idaho they have a story that when Roosevelt was traveling in that state years ago he saw in a store window a copy of his book, "The Winning of the West." He entered and after looking at the book said to the storekeeper: "Who is this Roosevelt?" "He's a rancher, somewhere, and I want to say, stranger, that in my opinion he better stick to his ranch and give up writing if he can't do better than that."

Another Rhodes Story.

Among the stories being told of the late Cecil Rhodes is this: When taking leave of the German emperor after several interviews in relation to Africa, his majesty said: "I wish you were a German Mr. Rhodes, for then I would ask you to become my minister of foreign affairs." The kaiser was somewhat startled at this characteristically blunt reply: "If your majesty were only an Englishman I would suggest that you come to South Africa with me and become my business manager."

Long Wait for Short Orders.

Colonel "Abe" Gruber, the New York man-about-town, entered a swell Gotham restaurant with some friends and ordered luncheon. After waiting a long time he called an attendant and asked him how long he had been employed there. "Two weeks," was the reply. "Oh, then you are not our waiter," said the hungry patron. "We gave our order about three weeks ago."

James Harper's Wife Dead.

Julia A. Harper, wife of the late James Harper, founder of Harper & Bros. and once mayor of New York City, has just died at her home in Gramercy Park. She was 81 years old and was much younger than her husband, who had lived until now, would have been 107 years old. She was his second wife, and their life together numbered twenty years; they had three children, who survive, being Mrs. Julia T. H. Millard, of Paris; Miss Elizabeth Fletcher Harper and James Thorne Harper, of New York City. Mrs. Harper was daughter of Samuel Thorne, one of the old New York shipbuilders.

Only One in Her Class.

Miss Christine Ross of New York is the only woman in the city, if not the United States, who has held the office of certified public accountant. She was the first woman to attempt the examinations for the place. She was second on the list of candidates, being only six-tenths of a point below the mark received by the most successful competitor. When asked about her duties Miss Ross said to a reporter: "People, principally women, send for me from all around to straighten their accounts. Charitable organizations, which are managed by women are among my steady clients. Few things, indeed, are more help-less than the average young society woman who, from all sorts of good motives and kindly intentions, attempts to keep the church diet, kitchen or day nursery books. If she should turn her accounts into a crock, beat them thoroughly with the egg whip, season to taste and bake them in an oven for thirty minutes the treatment would be about as sensible as that which they ordinarily receive."

Unique Wedding Gift.

An ingenious wedding present has been received by a French bride from one of her relatives, who is a geographer. The present is a silver sugar bowl in the design of a terrestrial globe, the upper hemisphere forming the cover. The map of the earth has been elaborately engraved on the outside, and the route taken by the newly wedded pair is indicated by a line of lapislazuli, the names of the towns at which a stay was made being inserted in enamel.

Has the Original Penn Charter.

The original copy of the charter bearing the signature and seal of William Penn, granting "the rights and privileges of a commonwealth to the freemen of the state of Pennsylvania," is now one of the most valued documents in the collection of George C. Thomas, head of the Drexel banking house in Philadelphia. The document consists of two sheets of parchment, in a good state of preservation. It was purchased recently by Mr. Thomas from the estate of the late Edward Maris, who bought it eight years ago from Henry H. Almack in the little town of Fritchley, ley, England. Mr. Almack's father was engaged in transcribing the manuscripts of Sir Henry Fenn, and it was from this collection, said to be the largest in England, that the charter was probably obtained. Some time ago a bill was introduced at Harrisburg providing for the purchase of the document from Mr. Maris for $15,000. It passed both houses, but was vetoed by Governor Hastings.

The Big Dialect Dictionary.

Professor Wright, chief editor of the great "English Dialect Dictionary," published at Oxford, now says that he expects to complete his work by the end of 1905. The work began in 1895, and two parts a year have been published. Dr. Wright is assisted by 600 contributors in all parts of the kingdom, and some 2,000,000 slips have been sent in, the mere alphabetical arrangement of which cost several thousand dollars. When complete, the dictionary will contain over 100,000 dialect words, Yorkshire contributing about 20,000.

Brief Interview With Boss Cox.

Geo. B. Cox, the Republican boss of Cincinnati, was in Washington a few days ago and was taken to the White House to be presented to the president. Congressman Shattuc had him in tow, and said, "Mr. President, I wish to introduce George B. Cox, a Cincinnati Republican, of whom you have heard, of course." Mr. Roosevelt looked had at the two men for a moment and then said, rapidly: "Ah, how-de-do, Mr. Cox, delighted, I'm sure, good day," and almost before his visitors knew what had happened they were outside.

The Man Read It, and Died.

Senator Beveridge is a felicitous letter writer. When he takes special pains with an epistle it is pretty sure to do its work. His communications are celebrated over the state of Indiana. When the senator's mail came the other day, gossips a Washington writer, he noted one envelope with a black border. Wondering which one of his constituents had been bereaved, he opened the letter first. It began thus: "Yours of the 15th inst. received. My husband read it himself. At 8 p. m. he died of heart failure."

Summer rates will be on June 1st. We believe we can give you inside information regarding Kool Colorado, including the prices of living there (as low as $4 a week) at hotels, ranches and boarding houses, which you will consider worth while. Get your name on our list (inc in unused stamps puts it here in ink). If you read LETTERS FROM O. B. COMFORTABLE you'll find some things you'd like to know. That's our book that gives the prices—not a picture in it—needed the space for real information. But we have some very select stuff, with handsome illustrations, which we have had printed just to give away to those who appreciate it and are interested in Kool Colorado, and ticket agents all over the state, have supplies. They will be glad to give you these books, also to sell you your tickets; and, if you tell them you want to go so that "You Don't Have To Apologize," on the "Only One Road" with direct line and thru trains (people enjoy our service after traveling in the ordinary way) they will recognize that you are wise and discerning. We'd be glad to hear from you, too.

Differing Opinions as to Cancer.

The second report of the cancer committee to the Harvard medical school is published in the Journal of Medical Research. The enumeration of the principal conclusions of these investigations shows that the theory that cancer is caused by a parasite, in whatever form it may be stated, does not receive a trace of support. Thus the Boston investigators reach conclusions which are diametrically opposed to those of the Buffalo investigators headed by Gaylord and Park.

Not From Missouri, Please Notice.

In Washington they are telling of a congressman from rural Wisconsin who, until his arrival in the national capital, had never stopped at a big hotel. The other evening, just before retiring, he wanted a drink of water, but found that there was none in his room. Under one of two small buttons in the wall he saw the words: "Push twice for water." He pushed twice as directed and when the bell-boy arrived with the water he found the bucolic statesman holding an empty glass under the button.

The San Francisco Chronicle

relates that when Bret Harte was a reporter for that paper he was assigned to the opening of a new saloon, in describing which event in a really funny half column story he began rationally and gradually worked around to the incoherence of a drunken man. The article was an exact portrayal of stages of man's mind passing from exhilaration to intoxication, and Harte was proud of his work. When he looked at the paper the next day he found in place of his article a half column of matter dull as ditch water. In the absence of the editor the foreman of the composing room, supposing Harte had really been drunk, and thinking to do him a service, had "lifted" his story and substituted a hasty written makeshift.

Ford as Philadelphia Knew Him.

"Paul Leicester Ford," says the Philadelphia Record, "was quite a familiar figure in Philadelphia when he was gathering material for his biographical works dealing with the lives of Washington and Franklin. Much of his research was accomplished in the rooms of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, at Thirteenth and Locust streets, and there delved into misty documents early and late seeming indefatigable in his labors. He had a little desk reserved for his own use on the Thirteenth streets side of the building, where the light was best, and there the pathetic but eager figure of the little hunchback could be seen every day for several weeks, poring over the records and copying notes with an apparently tireless energy. He lived very quietly here and made few friends, but many frequenters of the Historical Society's building will recall the crouched up little man working away in the corner."

Too Much Rockefeller.

Among the older members of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, New York, there is a strong feeling that altogether too much stress is being laid on the fact that Rockefeller and his son are members. Last Sunday a stranger entered the building and asked an elderly man at the door: "Is this Mr. Rockefeller's church?" "No," was the emphatic reply, "this is the Fifth Avenue Baptist church." "Well, does young Mr. Rockefeller's Sunday school meet here?" "No," the man who was being questioned answered vigorously, "the Sunday school of which Mr. Rockefeller is leader meets here." The members do not hesitate to express the opinion that Mr. Rockefeller's great wealth should not be permitted to overshadow the work that is being done by other members of the congregation.

A Cultured Suspect.

Rev. John Polet, Baptist minister, is in Sangamon county jail, at Springfield, Ill., on a charge of having killed his young friend, Charles Isaksson. He is a cultured man, whose home is in Grafton, and who has been well known as a missionary worker. He was lately engaged in his gospel labors at Granite City, where he first met Isaksson. Rev. Mr. Polet says he knows nothing of the death of his friend, whose body was found in North Springfield soon after his having been seen with the clergyman.

The Strange Case of Mrs. Gillespie.

A strange case is that of Mrs. Mary Elvira Gillespie, who at the age of 85 has just been admitted to a hospital in Denver. She is the mother of thirty-seven children, including fifteen sets of twins, but all have drifted away from her and she knows not the address of one of them.

Connecticut's Fox Industry.

Connecticut towns have paid bounties on 1,272 foxes killed within their limits during the past year. The state law allows a bounty of $1 for each fox killed and the state refunds to the town the amount paid and also allows the town treasurer 15 cents for his services in each case.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for the Fourth Supreme Judicial District of Texas, and upon the advice of the members of said committee, I hereby call a Democratic convention to meet in the court room of the court of civil appeals, in the city of San Antonio, Texas, on the 30th day of June, 1902, at ten o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Associate Justice of said court for this district, and to elect an executive committee for the ensuing two years, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Chairman Democratic Executive Committee, 4th Supreme Judicial District of Texas.

Woman Walked off a Train.

El Paso, Tex., June 9.—The delayed Southern Pacific passenger train arrived here today from San Antonio having on board a Mrs. Grubbs, who stepped from the train last night twenty-seven miles west of Sanderson while the train was running at full speed. She was not missed until the train reached Longfellow, then an engine was ordered from Sanderson to look for the woman. She was found lying beside the track painfully bruised and with a dislocated ankle. The engine carried her to Longfellow, where she was put aboard the waiting passenger train and brought on to this city.

Mrs. Grubbs and her husband took the train at San Antonio for California and it is supposed that Mrs. Grubbs walked off the train thinking she was going into a toilet.

No Shad For Texas.

Washington, June 10.—The carload of shad which it was thought might be "placed" in the mouth of the Nueces river, will not be forthcoming. It has been found impossible to make the necessary transportation arrangements, and as one of the condition of the "plant" was that the government should not be put to any expense for transportation, the matter has been abandoned until next season. It is now too late to make the "plant."

Negro Laborer Deserted Contractor.

Newton, Texas, June 8.—Work on the brick kiln at this place is progressing very slowly on account of difficulty in getting labor. The kiln is to furnish brick for the new court house and is being worked by the contractors.

Mr. Moodie, one of the contractors, came over last Sunday with a party of negro laborers from Houston and placed them at work Monday morning.

Tuesday it was discovered that they had all encamped for parts unknown sometime during Monday night, leaving the contractors several dollars losers in the transaction. Mr. Ellis, the man in charge, has a small force of men at work, but work is not progressing satisfactorily, as he is still short of men.

Claims Of Texas.

Washington, June 10.—The senate committee on claims today made a favorable report on the bill providing for the payment of claims for property used by the government for military purposes during the war with Spain.

Among the claims are those of Richard G. Scott of Texas for $150, and that of the Galveston Land and Improvement company for $1166. The bill has passed the house and will no doubt become a law.

A Successful Revival.

Rev. E. T. Campbell, closed a two weeks' revival meeting at the Methodist church, this city, on last Sunday night. The meeting was a very successful one, resulting in great good to the cause, and the addition of 40 members to the church at this place.

Rev. P. D. Swift was in the city yesterday. Rev. Swift and Payne are conducting a revival meeting at the Turtle Creek school house, and report a very successful meeting.

Tea For Texas

Wash. D. C. June 10.—Chief Gallows of the bureau of plant industry of the agricultural department has definitely promised Representative Burleson that some of the tea growing experiments provided for in the agricultural appropriation bill will take place in Texas. The exact location of the land on which the experiments will be made has not been definitely decided on as yet, but some point in Southeast Texas, presumably in Representative Cooper's district, will be selected.
