WEST TEXAS FAIR

EIGHTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Will be Held at Kerrville, Texas, August 30 to September 1, Inclusive.

BIG INCREASE IN PREMIUMS

Catalogue and Prize List Will Be Out Soon, and May Be Had by Asking the Secretary.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Texas Fair, held on Saturday of last week, much important business was transacted.

The dates for the 1906 entertainment were set for August 30 and 31 and September 1.

The prize list was carefully gone over in committee, and the premiums in many cases raised. The prizes for the best display of products from one farm were raised to $50 for the first, $30 for second, and $15 for third.

The wool and mohair industries, which are really the leading industries of the section, will be well represented, and liberal prizes will be given. A special effort will be made to show the biggest display of these products ever seen together in Texas.

As usual, every effort will be made to make the Ladies' Hall and Art Department, which has long been the most attractive part of the Fair, a special feature this year.

A very earnest effort will be made to induce business men to make unusually attractive trades displays.

On the whole, the indications now are that the 1906 Fair will be a long stride forward in the wonderful progress that has marked the course of the enterprise since its organization.

The management earnestly solicits the co-operation of the people in making this year's exhibit of such a character as will reflect credit upon Southwest Texas.

The competition is, as usual, open to all Texas, and stockmen and farmers of the State are specially invited to join in making the West Texas Fair what all fairs should be—a comprehensive school for the acquirement of knowledge in regard to the various avocations of our people.

Killed Self and Wife.

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Charles B. Parrott shot and instantly killed his wife Lucille at 3 o'clock this morning and then blew out his own brains at their home, 1019 Avenue C. The man had asked his wife some days ago to commit suicide and she refused. It appears that both were in poor health and this, it is thought, was the cause of the crime. The two had quarrelled before the shooting. Mrs. Parrott was shot while in bed. The bullet entered the right side of her head. Parrott shot himself in the right side of the head.

The shooting was not witnessed by any one. It occurred in the room of Mr. and Mrs. Parrott following a quarrel. Just before the killing the husband, it is said, struck his wife in the face and Mrs. Parrott had threatened to get a divorce from him that day. It is even a struggle took place between the two before the killing.

TRAGEDY OF MT. VESUVIUS

GRAPHIC STORY OF THE VOLCANO FROM PEN OF EDITOR OF CENTURY MAGAZINE.

Naples, April 15.—The following description of the conditions surrounding Mount Vesuvius was written for the Associated Press by Robert Underwood Johnson, editor of the Century Magazine:

"I had the unexpected opportunity to realize the magnitude of the disaster by personal observation in a trip entirely around Vesuvius.

"Since the Chicago fire I have seen nothing so terribly impressive. Twenty years will not repair the damage, including the destruction of four whole villages. With a change of wind or slightly greater propulsion of the seismic force the same fate might extend to other segments of the circle of which Vesuvius is the center.

"Arriving from Rome two hours late by train, I joined a party of two Italian gentlemen and two English ladies, including Miss Underwood, the Rome correspondent of the London Standard. We caught a train from Torre Annunziata, three miles this side of Pompeii and two miles from the southern end of the wedge of lava which destroyed Boscorease. We had a magnificent view of the eruption eight miles away. Rising at an angle of 50 degrees the vast mass was beautifully accentuated by the full moon, the matter shifting momentarily into new forms and drifting south in black clouds of ashes and cinders reaching to Capri. At Torre del Greco we ran under this terrifying pall, apparently a hundred feet above, the solidity of which was soon revealed by the moonlight.

"We reached Torre Annunziata at 3 o'clock in the morning. There was little suggestion of disaster as we trudged through the sleeping town to the lava, 2 miles away. The brilliant moon gave us a superb view of the volcano, a gray-brown mass rising, expanding and curling in with a profile like a monstrous cyclopean face. But nothing in mythology gives a suggestion of the fascination of this awful force presenting the sublime beauty above, but in its descent filled with the mysterious malignance of God's underworld.

"We reached the lava at a picturesque, cypress-planted cemetery on the northern boundary of Torre Annunziata. It was as if the dead had effectually cried out to arrest the rushing river of flame which pitilessly engulfed the statue of St. Anne, with which the people of Boscorease tried to stay it, as at Calania, the veil of St. Agatha is said to have stayed a similar stream of lava from Mount Aetna. We climbed on the lava. It was cool above, but still alive with fire below. We could dimly see the extent of the destruction beyond the barrier of brown which had closed the streets, torn down the houses, invaded the vineyards and broken the railways.

"A better idea of the surroundings was obtained at dawn from the railway. We saw what was left of Boscorease, a great square stone church and a few houses inland in a sea of dull brown lava. North and east rose a thousand patches of blue smoke, like swamp miasma. All was dull and desolate slag, with nowhere the familiar serpentine forms of the old lava streams.

"We ate a hasty luncheon before sunrise; when the great beauty of the scene was revealed. The column now seemed higher and more massive, rising to three times the height of Vesuvius. Each portion had a concentric motion and new aspects. The south edge, floating toward the sea, showed exquisite curved surfaces, due to the upper moving current.

"I had not thought of further experiences except to compare the ancient destruction with the present. After three hours' sleep I went to the excavations expecting to return to Naples by the after-

EARTHQUAKE WRECKS SAN FRANCISCO!

Most Awful Calamity Ever Known In This Country.

GREAT BUILDINGS TOPPLE LIKE CHILDREN'S TOY HOUSES

EIGHT SQUARE MILES OF SMOULDERING RUINS—THOUSANDS OF LIVES LOST—20,000 PEOPLE RENDERED HOMELESS—GOVERNMENT SENDS $10,000,000 AND 200,000 RATIONS.

San Francisco, Cal., April 18.—This city's business section today lies prostrate before a fateful combination of earthquake and fire. The violent seismic shocks have apparently ended, but fires are raging everywhere, and the twin horror of the earthquake is completing the destruction of the city. All the business section practically is wrapped in flames.

The earthquake burst all water mains and the fire department is helpless.

The earthquake came like a flash of lightning from a clear sky. A beautiful spring day was dawning when suddenly the earth sank and then rose and sank again with a trembling motion.

Cornices immediately broke loose and crashed to the streets, followed by chimneys and upper sections of walls. Strange fearsome noises started on every hand. Overhead wires dropped to the streets or were torn down by falling wreckage.

The crash of smashing glass and the thunderous sounds of falling structures mingled. Pavements flew up in many places and water from broken mains spouted forth. Gases issued from broken pipes. At a score of places flames began to rage simultaneously.

The first shock came at 5:15 and several others quickly followed.

3:20 p. m.—There is a high wind blowing and sparks are being carried to all parts of the city, which is at the mercy of the flames. People are fleeing panic stricken.

The greatest damage is between Market street and the bay. The noon train, but here I met E. A. Bowen of New York, who gave such an alarming account of his experience on the train coming through in the darkness at Torre del Greco, when the passengers in the crowded cars were besieged by screaming excited refugees amid a rain of cinders, that I concluded to return by the north, first visiting the eastern wedge of destruction.

"Four towns were destroyed in different ways, namely, by rain, cinders and ashes, which could not be skirted for they lay everywhere in a mass which had broken nearly every roof within the area of thirty miles by ten. From the lava which was moving several feet a minute we found no difficulty in escaping."

utter ruin of the business section is inevitable.

Loss of life estimated at from 5,000 to 10,000.

Property loss estimated at $100,000,000.

Palace and San Francisco hotels, the Examiner and Call buildings, the latter 20 stories high, and other fine business houses are destroyed.

Oakland, Cal., April 19.—11:30 a. m.—United States Treasury Department will wire $10,000,000 for relief of sufferers.

Wells Fargo Express Co. will transport all contributions free of charge.

Gen. Funston, commander of military post, says the city is practically destroyed. 20,000 people are homeless, and slept on the beach at Golden Gate Park.

All finest buildings not destroyed by the earthquake have been destroyed by fire.

It is impossible to estimate the number of lives lost.

Santa Rosa, one of the prettiest cities in the state, is a total wreck, and estimate of loss of life and property cannot be made.

All government buildings in San Francisco completely destroyed.

Government has ordered 200,000 rations sent to the city.

Eight square miles of the best part of the city is a complete ruin, and fire is unchecked.

2:00 p. m.—Fire still raging throughout San Francisco, and no possibility of stopping it. Every business house and half the residence portion of the city is gone. Great suffering is reported from lack of food and water, and thousands are in line awaiting the distribution of food by Government officials.

THE SUN's latest bulletin via San Antonio was to the effect that the fire had run its course, having consumed everything in reach, and the work of removing the bodies of the dead from the ruins was going on actively.

Several Kerrville people were in San Francisco, and had not been heard from up to the time of going to press. Rudolph Deitert lived at 1818 Webster avenue. Charlie Hazlett, son of Prof. I. N. Hazlett, traveled for a wholesale house, and when in the city stopped at the Palace hotel. A son of E. Christian was at a quarantine station, just recovering from small pox. Miss May Donaldson, sister of W. Donaldson, was expected to go from San Diego to San Francisco the first of this week, and he has heard nothing from her.

PAY AGE ITS DUES.

There is no better indication of good breeding and sound sense in a young person than respect for old age. But we regret to say it seems this quality is deteriorated to an extent. The great changes that take place in the life-time are calculated to create a perceptible disparity between the outgoing and the incoming generation. And because of the fact that youth is the life period most susceptible to indelible impressions, it is then that we carry it to our grave. Herein is where the inequality seems to exist. The rapid transformation of social etiquette, fashions and the improved facilities for acquiring knowledge, places a man whose formative period of life was half a century ago, and he whose blood is now warm and imaginations keen, upon unequal relations. At least it seems so to the young. But if we take the pains to inquire, we shall find that (I speak from the standpoint of the young) this difference is mostly superficial. It is only on the surface that the old appear at a disadvantage. Raise the mask that we are pleased to call fogynism and you discover a placid countenance bespeaking a depth of character and treasured wisdom that we do well to aspire and listen to. When you look upon the bent form and gray locks of the aged, remember they once stood where you are standing, in the heyday of youth; with quick pulse and keen intellect, and to them the intervening time seems but a span, and ere you are aware of it you will stand where they now stand.

Let us be considerate toward the old people—our fathers and mothers—to whom we are indebted for all we are to have. Let us smooth that care-worn brow with kind words and loving attention. Let us show that we appreciate them for what they have done and not a moment intimate that we depreciate them for what they can't do.—Ex.

Name of Your Beer.

Captain John Quinton has invented a pencil that writes on the foam of beer. The other day in a Broadway cafe a dozen boon companions ordered beer. An alarm of fire called them to the sidewalk. When they re-entered the resort each man found his name on his collar—that is, on top of the foam in his glass. The work could not have been better done by an engraver. Amusement sat upon the faces of the "boys," and all watched the handwriting on the "wall" until the collar wilted and the beverage grew stale. This is the prettiest trick I have seen in years.

Why Churches Suffered.

Rev. Kota Hoshino, pastor of the Ryogoku church of Tokio, who has been in this country and Europe for over a year, has received a letter from his brother, who is employed in the Japan agency of the American Bible Society, written just after the riots of Tokio, September 5, 6 and 7, which tells of the wrecking of his church by a mob. Mr. Hoshino says there was no special hostility to Christians shown by the mob, as electric cars were burned and other miscellaneous damage done—just as some angry person likes to snatch anything near by and dash it on the ground—and church buildings furnished them with the best objects, being large and prominent. Such being the case, Ehrstians are not very angry against them.

If democratic politics in Texas is intended for a representation of democratic principles, every member of the Texas legislature ought to be imprisoned for life for counterfeiting.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS WELL SOAKED

Rain began falling Thursday morning about nine o'clock and continued throughout the day. A fine rain fell at Kerrville and reports by wire state that good rains were had throughout this section. At Junction, Rock Springs and all over the Divide country the rain was very heavy, two to three inches. This rain means a great deal to farmers, ranchmen and business men, coming as it does at the opportune moment for crops and range.

Library Meeting.

Owing to the rain Monday night no meeting of the Sunshine Library Association was held. A meeting will be held at the office of Judge J. R. Burnett, Monday night, April 23. All persons interested in the Library are requested to be present.

SCHREINER - WEST.

San Antonio, Feb. 19.—Mr. Chas. Schreiner, Jr., of Kerrville, and Miss Kittie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ike West, were united in marriage at St. Mark's church yesterday evening at six o'clock, Dean Richardson officiating. Mrs. Alonzo Millett sang two beautiful solos. The ceremony was most impressive. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion and every appointment was perfect. There was a very large attendance, the church being well filled with friends of the young people, who represent two of the most prominent families in Southwest Texas. Those present agree that it was the prettiest wedding ever seen in San Antonio.

A wedding reception was given at the palatial home of the bride's parents at 128 Guilbeau street. The rooms were decorated in the height of elegance. Many guests were present and the evening happily spent with music, refreshments and happy social course.

At nine o'clock the newly wedded couple left for California on a wedding tour.

Died.

Miss Delia Rumsey died at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. I. Rumsey, Thursday evening, April 19. The funeral took place from the family residence on Jefferson street, at 5:00 p. m. yesterday evening.

Miss Rumsey had been an invalid for many years and while her death brings great sorrow to her family and friends, there is much consolation to them in knowing that her pure soul is released from earthly suffering and is now at peace and rest.

Henke Brothers, the butchers, have just installed a large refrigerator in their shop on Water street, which will enable them to handle all kinds of meats throughout the summer. They have also made other changes in their shop for the convenience of themselves and their customers.

The Episcopal church was filled to its utmost capacity Sunday morning, and many were turned away for lack of room. The floral decorations were exceedingly beautiful, the special music was delightful, and the sermon of Rector Galbraith was timely, interesting and helpful. On account of the illness of Rev. Jas. Drummond, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and the absence of Rev. J. T. King, of the Methodist church, this was the only Easter service held in the city.

The building committee is soliciting subscriptions for the proposed enlargement and improvement of the Methodist church building. The plans contemplate the addition of wings to either side of the building, which will considerably enlarge the auditorium and afford increased facilities for the constantly growing Sunday School. Our people generally should heartily cooperate with the membership of that church in their laudable enterprise. Nothing speaks louder of the enterprise and intelligence of a community than attractive houses of worship.

In a letter recently received from John Leavell, by his father, he states that he has completed his course in college and has secured a position with the First National Bank of Tyler. John graduated from the Tivy High School, this city, two years ago and we note with pleasure his splendid achievements since that time. Boys who keep constantly in mind the fact that "there is always room at the top" usually succeed and Kerr county has produced a very large proportion of boys with that idea.

FUNNY THINGS

FROM THE PAPERS.

A Good Pair of Boots.

"You know," said a "smart" young man to a girl, "some one has said that 'if you would make a lasting pair of boots take for the sole the tongue of a woman.'" "Yes," replied the girl, "and for the uppers you ought to take the cheek of the man who said it."

Billy Made a Guess At It.

Having arranged with his wife to make a long-promised call a faithful husband arrived home in the afternoon only to find his better half out and no message left to explain her absence.

Finally the husband inquired of their trusted handy man.

"Oh, Billy," he said, "can you tell me anything of my wife's whereabouts?"

"Well, I don't know, sir," said Billy respectfully, "but I suppose they're in the wash."

A Remarkable Choir.

An old farmer and his wife were attending church services one hot Sabbath day. The windows were open and the noisy chorus of the crickets was distinctly audible. In due course the choir sang an anthem and the old man, a music lover, listened enraptured. At its conclusion he turned to his wife and whispered:

"Ain't that glorious and divine, Mirandy?"

"Yes," she answered, "and to think that they do it all with their hindlegs."

Maybe So.

Uncle Walter, with his little niece Ruth in his lap, was about to telephone a message to a distant city. While waiting for the connection to be made little Ruth asked if she might talk over the open wire. The young lady operator heard the question and said, "Yes, please let her."

Ruth, taking the receiver, first told her name. Then the operator asked her where she was, and to this Ruth replied:

"I am in Uncle Walter's lap—don't you wish you were?"

As It Seemed to Him.

For some reason a man had been employed to make an inventory of the furniture in the house, says the "Chicago Daily News." He was so long about his task in the parlor, however, that the mistress of the mansion went in to see what he was doing. On the floor lay an empty bottle. On the sofa lay the man sleeping sweetly like a tired child. But the inventory had not been wholly forgotten. At the top of the page stood a solitary, eloquent entry: "One revolving carpet."

Just One More Kiss.

A dear old citizen went to the ears the other day to see his daughter off on a journey. Securing her a seat he passed out of the car and went around to the car window to say a last parting word. While he was leaving the car the daughter crossed the aisle to speak to a friend, and at the same time a grim old maid took the seat and moved up to the window.

Unaware of the change the old gentleman hurriedly put his head up to the window and said: "One more kiss, pet."

In another instant the point of a cotton umbrella was thrust from the window, followed by the wrathful injunction: "Seat, you gray-headed wretch!"

The constant gnaw of Towser masticates the toughest bone; the constant flow of water wears away the hardest stone; the constant cooing lover carries off the flushing maid, but the constant advertiser is the one who gets the trade.

Necessity and Invention.

A mother with her seven children started away on a journey. After entering the car the largest child was laid out flat on the seat, and the remaining six then sat upon him in a row.

When the conductor came round to collect the fares the mother counted her money, handed it over, smiled and suavely said: "Sir, the oldest is under six."

She Told Him So.

A physician took it into his head to go hunting, says the "Boston Herald," and started out bright and early on a beautiful October morning, fully armed for game.

About four o'clock in the afternoon he returned, tired out and empty-handed, telling his wife he hadn't killed a thing, whereupon she remarked triumphantly:

"I told you so," adding, in the next breath; "if you had stayed at home and attended to your legitimate business you might have been more successful."

When the Honeymoon Began.

A minister in a Western town was called upon one afternoon to perform the marriage ceremony between a negro couple—the negro preacher of the town being absent from home.

After the ceremony the groom asked the price of the service.

"Oh, well," said the minister, "you can pay me whatever you think it is worth to you."

The negro turned and silently looked his bride over from head to foot, then slowly rolling up the whites of his eyes, said:

"Lawd, sah, you has done ruined me for life, you has, for sure."

He Did His Best.

A young lady at a summer resort asked an artist friend, who was spending his summer vacation there, if he would mind doing a small favor for her.

"Certainly not," he said eagerly; "what is it?"

"Thank you so much," she exclaimed gratefully. "I wish you would stop at Mrs. Gannon's little shop and get three large bone buttons, the kind with two small holes in them. They're for my new bathing suit, you know. Just tell her who I am and it will be all right. You needn't pay for them."

Not the artist was a bachelor, and had never bought anything but collar buttons before. So on the way to the store he kept repeating the instructions that he had received. Eager to relieve his mind he rushed up to Mrs. Gannon and reeled off this surprising speech: "I want three bone buttons for a small bathing suit with two large holes in it. Just tell me who I am and it will be all right."

In Moonshine Country.

Lexington, Ky., April 17—A special from Sargent, Letcher county, states that at Tacoma, Va., just across the Kentucky line, Sheriff Kiser went to the home of Riley Collins, 19 years of age, to arrest Collins for illegally manufacturing whisky. Collins opened fire on the officer and the latter shot him dead. Lincoln Collins, father of the boy, pursued Sheriff Kiser to Wise county, Va., with the avowed intention of killing him. He was arrested and placed in jail.

TWO NEGROES HANGED IN PUBLIC SQUARE

MOB AT SPRINGFIELD, MO., MAKE SHORT SHRIFT OF PRISONERS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

Springfield, Mo., April 14.—A mob of 3,000 removed two negroes, named Duncan and Copeland, from the county jail, hung them to the electric light tower in the public square and built a fire under them, and they were roasted to death. They were charged with assaulting Mabel Edmonton.

Mabel Edmonton came here recently from Monett, Mo., and obtained employment as a domestic. Late last night while Miss Edmonton and a young man were riding in a buggy they were stopped by two negroes who beat the young man, named Cooper, into unconsciousness, and dragged Miss Edmonton into the woods by the roadside. Duncan and Copeland were arrested on suspicion, but there was little evidence against them.

A mob of 1,000 men gathered at the city jail at 8 o'clock tonight and upon learning that the negroes were not there, hastened to the county jail, where the prisoners were confined.

Instead of attacking the jail at first the mob stormed the residence of the county sheriff, breaking down doors, smashing windows, destroying practically all the furniture in the lower part of the house, and rendering the sheriff's wife unconscious from fright. Overcoming the resistance of the sheriff and a posse of deputies, the mob secured the key to the jail and gained entrance. It had no difficulty in locating the cells of Duncan and Copeland.

When the committee who entered the jail came out with the negroes the mob began to clamor for summary execution, shouting "Hang them! Burn them!"

The men were taken to the public square and hanged to an electric light tower. A fire was then kindled under them in which they were roasted to death.

Both negroes were under twenty-one years of age.

Sheriff Horner tried to argue with the mob but it hooted and insulted him. Jailer King was assaulted when he refused to give up the keys. He finally gave the mob some keys which were not for the negroes' cells, however, and the mob smashed the iron bars.

The mob is threatening to return to the jail and hang four other negroes who are charged with murder. Two months ago T. M. Kinney, a prominent tailor, was assassinated and two negro suspects are in jail for that crime. Later an old peddler was killed and negroes are accused of the deed. These affairs created a strong anti-negro feeling which was deepened by an anti-negro play recently given here.

ANOTHER HANGING.

Springfield, Mo., April 15.—At 2:15 this morning William Allen, a young negro, was taken from the county jail here and lynched in the public square by the same mob that two hours earlier had hanged Horace Duncan and Jim Copeland. The body of Allen later was burned to ashes as had been those of the others.

It is said that Miss Edmonton, who is still in a critical condition, upon hearing a description of Duncan and Copeland, she asserted positively that they were not the guilty parties.

Governor Folk has offered a reward of $300 each for proof to convict the lynchers. A number of prisoners escaped during the excitement. A regiment of militia has been called out to preserve order.

Resolutions of Respect.

It is sad beyond the power of expression to be compelled to-day and from this time henceforth to speak of Walter Jones as dead. But it is with the profoundest pleasure that we take occasion to give utterance to our appreciation of his virtues, and bear testimony to those qualities in him, that marked in him many respects as one of the foremost members of our Brotherhood.

It is peculiarly appropriate that the members of Kerrville Lodge, No. 166, Knights of Pythias, perpetuated his memory because he was one of their most loyal members who believed in doing right, who was attached to the order, and who lived strictly and squarely up to the principals and rules governing the same. But he is gone and can duly mourn his loss and indulge in the hope that the good he has done on earth may live after him, and even the sad bereavement of his death may do much to bring us together in a union of fraternal fellowship and love. Therefore be it

RESOLVED, that in the death of our brother, Walter Jones, our fraternity has lost one of its most honored and devoted members.

RESOLVED, that we tender to his beloved relatives our sincere and heartfelt sympathy and that they be furnished with a copy of these resolutions, and be it further

RESOLVED, that the MOUNTAIN SUN be requested to publish these resolutions and that they be entered upon the minutes of this Fraternal Society.

Death of Joseph W. Williams.

Mr. Joseph W. Williams, of Jackson, Mo., died in this city on Friday night of last week. Mr. Williams came here several weeks ago in search of health. The wife of the deceased and his brother, Harrison R. Williams, and daughter were at his bedside when he died. They left with the remains Saturday for Jackson, Mo., where the interment will be made.

A Sad Accident.

On last Sunday afternoon about five o'clock a very sad accident occurred in which Eugene Gold, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gold, lost his life.

The facts regarding the sad occurrence, so far as we are able to learn, are about as follows: Eugene and two companions were out bicycle riding, Mr. Maurius Mathiesen was hauling passengers up and down main street in his automobile as he usually did. The three boys on the bicycles were coming down the street while Mr. Mathiesen was going up. They met in front of W. C. Henke's butcher shop, and it was here the accident occurred. Two of the boys passed the automobile while Eugene, it seems lost control of his bicycle and ran into the automobile. Mr. Mathiesen seeing the danger, gave his machine a quick turn, bending the axles, but it was too late, and one of the front wheels passed over the breast of the unfortunate boy, badly crushing his upper body. He was picked up and carried into a nearby house, where he died about two hours after the accident.—Gillespie County News.
