TEXAS LEADS ALL IN FUNDS CONTRIBUTED FOR CAMPAIGN

Dallas.—Contributions of approximately $50,000 were made to the Democratic National campaign fund by Democrats of Texas, according to information received by Royall R. Watkins, secretary of the Texas branch of the National campaign fund committee, from Joe Sparks, assistant treasurer of the National committee. Texas contributed more funds than any other State in the South and with less collection expenses.

State headquarters offices in Dallas collected $42,000, and several thousand dollars were sent by contributors directly to National headquarters.

PRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING IS FOR SERVICE TO AMERICA

On Board President-Elect Harding's Special Train, Nov. 6.—Crowds rivaling those of campaign days turned President-Elect Harding's vacation trip into a triumphal tour today as he traveled southward for an outing on the Texas coast.

At more than a dozen cities along the way in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois his private car was besieged by cheering men, women and children, clamoring for a speech or a chance to shake his hand. In some cases there were thousands in the crowd and even at the smaller towns where no stops were made, the people turned out in force to wave him their regards. In several places he spoke briefly from the rear platform of his car, expressing his gratitude for the welcome accorded him and declaring that he meant to be the people's President, forgetful of the partisanship of the campaign and devoted always to the interests of the Nation as a whole. As in his campaign speeches, he preached a doctrine of common understanding and of faithfulness to American institutions and ideals.

Mrs. Harding also waved a greeting to every crowd and at every stop there were cheers for the next first lady of the land. Flowers and other gifts were handed up to her at several stops as she leaned over the platform rail shaking hands with all those within reach.

The number who gathered along the path of the special train was a surprise to those on board. Mr. Harding's advisers having declined to make public his itinerary and arranged to avoid local stops in order to give him a thorough rest. The news traveled ahead, however, and as soon as he saw the first wayside gatherings the President-Elect himself insisted that it would be unfair to run past waiting crowds without a word of greeting.

Mr. Harding also announced during the day that he had agreed to break up his 12 days' stay by delivering an address in Brownsville, 20 miles away, on next Thursday, Armistice Day. He will speak under the auspices of the American Legion, but detailed arrangements have not yet been made.

In one of his rear platform speeches during the day did Mr. Harding touch directly on the issues of the campaign, but he called several of his audiences to witness that he was preaching the same doctrine now as when he was a candidate for office. When he referred, at Paris, Ill., to his campaigning, a lady in the crowd shouted, "It was a clean campaign," and he replied: "Yes, you are right, and one for which we need make no apologies, and after it is won and the majority of Americans have spoken in favor of a well-defined program for our common country, then we cease to be in a general sense Republicans and Democrats, but we are all Americans, and for America."

"While I have preached the gospel of party government, that is, government through the sponsorship of party, I may tell you now in the reflection and sober thought of the aftermath, that I do not want my party to be serving to keep itself in power or to perpetuate the place-holding of any members, but I want my party to serve America for the American people."

In his other speeches he repeated the same thought several times in different language. "We won our victory for Republican policies and Republican candidates," he said at Charleston, Ill., "but from this time on it is to be a victory for American policies and the American people."

"We are partisan in our campaigns, and after our campaigns are over we are all alike citizens of the Republic, interested in the common welfare of the American people. It is going to be the extreme of the incoming administration to always strive to understand what the aspirations and conscience of the American people is and to put it into effect."

Harding Party at San Antonio

The special train with the Harding party aboard reached San Antonio about 11:25 o'clock Sunday night and remained about twenty minutes. Senator Harding was greeted by an immense crowd to which he spoke as follows:

Commenting on his trip and remarking at the size of Texas, the President-Elect said that he had been acknowledging greetings ever since entering the State at Texarkana before breakfast that morning. "I have never seen anything like the hospitality of Texas," the Ohioan declared. "And incidentally this has been the happiest though seemingly longest day in my life" he added. "No one knows how big Texas is until he attempts to speak to his fellow countrymen along the route in making a trip through the State. I started speaking at Texarkana before breakfast and all along the way I found the same Texas hospitality mixed more or less with pardonable curiosity. But I have liked this manifestation of interest because this manifestation is the surest guarantee of the continuation of popular American Government and that our American Government will continue to be a representative American Democracy. And I think that is what you want it to be."

"I remember that I came on a visit to San Antonio six years ago, at the invitation of these same friends who have come here to greet me tonight. I was in your city when I was called back to Ohio to become a candidate for the United States Senate, and then again last spring, when I decided to submit my name for President to the Republican National Convention. And so we have been somewhat associated politically, although not of the same faith. But that does not matter," he continued. "I have been telling my fellow citizens of Texas all along the way that with the closing of the ballot boxes Tuesday we all ceased to be partisans and became Americans, all of us interested in the welfare of our country."

"I want an America like that contemplated by our forefathers. They possibly could not foresee the amazing development of America, but they laid the foundation firmly. I want a Republic builded on justice and equality. I want a Republic where there are no prejudiced sectional lines—where rivers may separate and mountains divide and where methods may change, but where the people have a common pride and united interest and know that they live under one flag and that flag, an American. "While I want a country that thinks of America first, I do not want one living in selfishness and holding aloof from the rest of the world. But I want a country wholly free and unmortgaged; I want a Republic with just as little class as caste. And I must say on this Sabbath that I want a Republic where morality and religion continue to abide. And I think I will say that I want a country that believes in God Almighty. "But I didn't come to Texas to talk. We are in Texas only because we like it here. We have come for rest and recreation. But let me say in perfect candor that I want you to help me in assuming the arduous duties and responsibilities of my office."

"Shouts of 'You will get it' from the crowd greeted this statement. "I spoke this gospel before I was elected and I will continue to say that we want a government of counsel,

WILSON'S HOME PRECINCT REPUBLICAN BY 2 TO 1

Princeton, N. J.—President Wilson's home district here—the seventh election district—was carried by Senator Harding by more than 2-to-1. Governor Cox had 145 votes, while Harding had 318. This district is a strong Democratic district and was carried by Wilson four years ago.

Mayor Charles Brown, Democratic candidate for Congress, carried the district by two votes.

LANDSLIDE FAILS TO BRING GLOOM TO "TRAIL'S END"

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 3.—With the sending of a telegram of congratulation to Senator Harding and approval of an aneditorial in his newspaper, declaring "the voice of the majority must rule," Governor James M. Cox tonight put politics behind him and turned his attention to personal affairs.

"I have never had a chance to travel very much," he said, in what probably was his last conference with the group of newspaper correspondents who accompanied him on his campaign trips. "I think I will travel some now. I probably will go to Europe. I have been thinking about it a good deal today."

The defeated candidate for President had just returned to Trail's End after a day spent on his farm in Butler County. He wore an old brown suit with heavy brown sweater under his coat and heavy tan walking shoes. His face was reddened from the long ride in the autumn wind, but his famous smile was very much in evidence.

Mrs. Cox, who had accompanied him to the farm, also was in buoyant spirits. There was no gloom at Trail's End.

And this remarkable cheerfulness was maintained in the face of the fact that the Republican landslide engulfed his home State, his home county, his home precinct, and even the home town of his early manhood. The only rift in the dark clouds was the faith shown in him by the people of Butler County, his birthplace, who gave him a majority of 250.

Dayton for Harding

Montgomery County, of which Dayton is the county seat, went against him by 8,000; Carr Monte, his voting precinct, was lost by 12 votes, and Middletown, where he started his career as a newspaper man, gave Senator Harding a majority of 5.

"I've been husking corn all afternoon, boys," the Governor said, as he greeted the correspondents, and his hands bore out his statement. He still declined to make a statement on the result of the election, but said he may have something to say later.

It is likely that the Governor desires to discuss the situation with close friends and political advisers before determining whether he should issue a statement, and, if so, what it should contain.

He announced that he would go to Columbus Friday morning to catch up with his business at the Governor's office before leaving for Mississippi to hunt with Senator Pat Harrison. The Senator will go by Columbus from New York, where he has been chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Democratic National Committee, and they will leave for Mississippi about the middle of next week, according to present plans.

The trip to Europe will not be made until after his gubernatorial term expires in January, Governor Cox stated. Mrs. Cox will accompany him abroad.

To Visit Battlefields

As war Governor of Ohio he was deeply interested in the troops from his State, and he plans to put in much of his time overseas visiting the battlefields on which they distinguished themselves. Along with sight-seeing, however, the Governor said he will make a study of conditions in the European countries.

Governor Cox's gameness in accepting defeat so gracefully is directly due to his philosophy of life. He believes there is a divine destiny that shapes the ends of all things, and however strong the tide seems to be running against you, his belief is that

TODAY AND TOMORROW

To a great extent, the usefulness of the Chas. Schreiner Bank is due to the fact that it is a permanent institution—an established business managed to serve patrons day after day, year in and year out.

Thus, as a customer of the Chas. Schreiner Bank you are served today with a full measure of bank service, which is important to your larger success. Then, as you advance from one success to another, you have this institution with you, step by step, this year and during the years that follow, taking an interest in your advancement and lending encouragement at every turn. everything comes out all right in the end.

"That is the philosophy on which is based all the joys of life," he said.

And it is in this spirit that he is able to take defeat with a smile. He views the results as purely impersonal and refuses to think about himself personally as the loser. His fight, he had maintained, was for the League of Nations, and now he believes that it is lost but for the time. "I won't let politics get a single heart-ache out of me," he told friends who congratulated him on his philosophical way of looking at the election.

Picked as 1924 Head

Huge stacks of telegrams from Democrats all over the country were piled on the library table when the Governor returned to Trail's End tonight. He read them all as Mrs. Cox opened them, and expressed genuine happiness at the evidences of friendship extended in his hour of defeat. All the messages warmly commended him for the fight he had made, and many brought predictions of his re-nomination and election four years hence and pledged support.

From the tenor of some of them there is little doubt that steps will be taken immediately to reform the party lines and build an organization for the next campaign. Here is a message from W. J. Pearson, assistant manager of the Democratic National Committee for the Pacific Coast States, which is typical of a great number received by the defeated candidate:

Get Ready for More

"Our defeat today spells victory four years from now. Get your house in order for an aggressive campaign. You will be President of the United States. Congratulate you upon the wonderful fight you have just made for right and justice. Would advise you personally calling your leaders and friends together and laying your foundation for 1924. If I can be of any service to you in any way, command me."

George Foster Peabody wired: "Your splendid fight deserves the truth of further responsibility. It has made you unnumbered admirers for your courage, ability and conservation to the highest. Now the heavy responsibility is for others to struggle with. My earnest greetings to Mrs. Cox and yourself."

Baptist State Convention

Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. B. Holt and wife, Mrs. Gammon and her sister, Miss Graves Dewees, left in an auto for San Antonio, from where they took the Southern Pacific for El Paso to attend the State Baptist Convention, from November 11th to 15th. The Womens' Missionary Union will also meet there, the 9th and 10th.

It is expected that 2,000 visitors will be present, and the reports from the various churches will show great work accomplished the past year.

KERRVILLE AMERICAN LEGION RAISES ADDITIONAL FUNDS

The board in charge of collecting funds for the erection of the Sanatorium at Kerrville were at the end of their resources and work was about to stop for want of funds. In this emergency they appealed to the American Legion of Texas for help. This project has now been turned over to the American Legion under the name of the American Legion Memorial Tubercular Hospital, and will be erected and controlled by them.

A big drive has been put on by the Legion at all of their posts in Texas, from November 6th to Armistice Day, November 11th.

As usual, Kerr County will go over the top. A nice sum of money is being collected here, at Center Point and at Ingram. We did not intend to overlook anyone in this drive, and if you were unintentionally passed by you will find tags on sale at the Post Office and at the office of the Chas. Schreiner Company. If you were not tagged, come in and do your part.

We wish to thank Mrs. Sid A. Rees, Mrs. Dee Burney and Tom Moore, who rendered such able help in the drive at Kerrville, Center Point and Ingram, respectively, and also their able corps of assistants, and also all the schools. We had checks for the amount of $10.00 each from Miss Janie Clark, Mrs. Beamer and W. R. Peril, for which we want to make special mention.

The returns are incomplete as yet, but we will announce the amount collected in the next issue of The Mountain Sun.

Will Increase Subscription Price Jan. 1

The Mountain Sun is the only paper in this section, except one, that is still being furnished for $1.50 per year. The management has been trusting that the price of news print would decline so that the present rate might be maintained, but seems there is little chance for this to occur.

As the price of The Mountain Sun will be increased to $2.00 on January 1st, 1921, those who desire the paper at the old price had better pay up to date and renew for another year.

With the price increased to $2.00 we must insist on all who are due on subscription to settle by January 1st, as at that time a cash-in-advance basis will be adopted.

We would like to continue to accommodate our subscribers by the credit system, but the high price of paper, labor and all other expenses connected with issuing a newspaper, precludes such a policy being a sound business plan.

Don't fail to pay up your subscription at earliest convenience between now and January 1st and get the benefit of the $1.50 rate for another year.

HEMPHILL EXPLAINS ORGANIZATION OF NEAR EAST RELIEF

Prominent New York Banker Says Aim Is 100% Relief of Starving Peoples.

"Just what is the Near East Relief? Is the question that many people are asking whose interests have been awakened to the terrible conditions existing in the Levant today," says Alexander J. Hemphill, President of the Guarantee Trust Company and well known New York banker and financier. "In prosaic facts, the Near East Relief is a body incorporated by act of Congress the object of which is to provide relief and to assist in the repatriation, rehabilitation and re-establishment of suffering and dependent people of the Near East and adjacent areas; to provide for the care of orphans and widows and to promote the social, economic and industrial well-fare of those who have been rendered destitute or dependent, directly or indirectly, by the vicissitudes of war, the cruelties of men or other causes beyond their control."

100 Per Cent Relief.

"The aim of the organization is 100 per cent relief, the relief which puts those aided on a self-supporting basis, which instills in them a confidence for the future, places in their hands the means with which to begin life anew, and in their hearts the courage to go on. Work, that is the prescription subscribed and provided by these loyal men and women who have journeyed into perilous places for the sake of their fellow men; to make these people independent for the future, to encourage the flickering fire of national pride.

"There are 82,291 workers employed in the industrial establishments of the Near East Relief, where wool is furnished for the women to spin and weave, and all the girls who are strong enough are washing wool, sewing beds, grinding and sifting wheat, tailoring and learning to make lace. The big problem is to make these women independent.

"About 500 American men and women, Near East Relief workers, are now in the field, including 36 eminent physicians and surgeons, 76 nurses, 7 mechanics, 15 industrial experts, 16 agriculturists, 14 bacteriologists, 197 relief workers, 25 supply and transport workers, 19 teachers, 20 administrators, 34 secretaries, 7 engineers and 45 army officers.

Where Money Goes.

"Funds for relief purposes are distributed in two ways: First, the various relief centers are authorized by the Executive Committee to draw sight drafts on New York for specific amounts each month; second, by supplies purchased in America, the major portion of which are shipped to the committee warehouses at Derindje, or Batoum.

"The relief is rapidly expanding and meeting the situation, but the future depends on the continuation of American support."

Who Direct the Work.

Mr. Hemphill is the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Near East Relief. Other members are Dr. James E. Barton, Secretary of the Foreign Department of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; Edwin M. Bulkeley, banker of Spencer Trask & Co., New York; Judge Abram I. Elkus, former United States Ambassador to Turkey; Harold A. Hatch, a well known New York cotton man; Herbert Hoover; William B. Miller, one of the Secretaries of the International World Movement; Henry Morgenthau, United States Ambassador to Mexico; Edgar Rickard of the American Relief Administration; Charles V. Vickrey, who is Secretary of the Near East Relief; and Dr. Stanley White, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

PRESIDENT APPEALS FOR SUPPORT OF RED CROSS

Washington, Nov. 8.—The following message from President Wilson, who is also President of the American Red Cross, to the American people, was issued from the White House today:

"The American Red Cross deserves a hearty response to its fourth invitation to annual membership, which will be issued during the fortnight beginning November 11 (Armistice Day).

Under the stimulus of war and through the co-operation of our people, this organization grew into immense size, enlarged its range of activity, served not only our fighting forces, but also civilians in the hardships of war in our own Nation and in the nations associated with us in a great common enterprise, and gave to the world an example of effective mercy through co-ordinated effort.

"Since the cessation of hostilities the organization has faced a dual duty: First, to fulfill obligations created by the war, and secondly, to adapt its experience and machinery to the needs of peace.

"It is today still assisting governmental agencies in the care and cheer of our disabled soldiers and sailors, in replacing those able to work in civilian occupations and in counseling and aiding the families of former combatants; and it is still assisting, with diminished resources, the process of rehabilitation in some of the more prostrated countries of our former associates in many localities.

"While continuing these manifest obligations, the Red Cross has been accommodating methods and applying lessons learned in war to the normal needs of our own people in times of peace, especially in regions where provisions for public health and welfare were imperfectly developed. It has placed public health nurses in many localities and has endeavored to enlist greater numbers of young women in the nursing profession in order that the supply might more nearly equal the steadily increasing demand for community nurses. It has devised a scheme of 'public health centers' for the relief of maladies and for instruction of hygiene, dietetics and general principles of disease-prevention. With its nurses and nurses' aides it has rendered incalculable service in the serious epidemics of influenza. It has carried instruction in hygiene and first aid into schools, the women's clubs and the homes of our country. It has taught young and untaught mothers how to care intelligently for their babies and has done much in many ways to promote child-welfare, upon which the welfare of the Nation ultimately rests. It has made a fundamental principle to avoid public agencies when its co-operation was sought and to supply deficiencies where such agencies had not yet been established.

"It has continued its educational work among the school children through its Junior Red Cross branch, and it has, as one result of its war experience, put preparation for disaster-relief on a scientific foundation, so that it is now equipped to meet disaster emergencies properly in almost every part of our country.

"By systematic plans and practical performances it has given a clear answer to the question why the Red Cross should be continued and carried over from war activity into peacetime activity. The answer is in the record.

"Additional to these obvious aspects of the matter, there is another reason why I, as President of the United States and President of the American Red Cross, urge my fellow-countrymen to join the Red Cross in impressive numbers: Reaction follows emotion, and after great efforts comes perilous lassitude. Sound patriotism and genuine human service are continuous, not intermittent, not contingent merely upon the excitement of war. If there is in some of us an inward cooling of the fine fervor which animated us in the crisis of the Nation's stress and peril, a contraction of the spirit which ennobled us as individuals and as a Nation; now, during the Red Cross Roll Call, is a fitting season to take counsel with our inner selves, to rekindle the old flame, to reaffirm allegiance to practical patriotism and practical humanitarianism and to symbolize the regeneration of our better thoughts and handsomer selves by re-enlistment in a great army mobilized for the common good.

W. J. BRYAN WANTS DEMOCRATIC PARTY REORGANIZED

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—President Wilson laid the foundation for the defeat of the Democratic party and Governor Cox completed its structure, declared William J. Bryan in a statement last night. His statement follows: "While the majorities are larger than even the Republican leaders expected, a Democratic defeat was inevitable and the blame is easily placed. The President laid the foundation for the disaster and Governor Cox completed the structure."

"The President attempted to drive out of public life every Democrat who dared to differ from him even in minute details, while he made no effort to strengthen the Democrats who made him the keeper of their conscience.

"He alienated all Republican support and invited partisan opposition by his appeal just before the election of 1918 for a Congress that would support his personal leadership, and then, though knowing full well that the majority in the Nation was against him, he refused to deal with the Senate as a co-ordinate branch of the Government."

"Instead of recognizing that the constitutional provision requiring a two-thirds majority for ratification compelled compromise, he insisted upon dictating the terms upon which ratification could be had, and then, on the 19th of March stubbornly rejected ratification with reservations even when Senator Harding and some 35 other Republicans were willing to accept the league as he wrote it with a few changes upon which they insisted.

"By thus preventing ratification the President assumed responsibility for the Nation's failure to enter the league and thrust the league into the campaign as a partisan issue. The people, confronted with the choice between presidential infallibility and respect for the opinion of the majority of the Senate, naturally chose the latter, and the Democratic party, by endorsing the President's position, invited the defeat that has overtaken it.

"Governor Cox instead of repairing the injury done by the President, aggravated the situation by the manner in which he avoided domestic issues and misrepresented the position of the Republican party on the league issue, which he declared to be paramount.

He dodged the liquor question, seeking to create in the West the impression that he favored prohibition, while attempting to hold the wet vote of the East by his wet record. He sought to conciliate Wall Street by advocating the repeal of the excess profits tax while he appealed to the West against the reactionaries. His attempt to put the Democratic party in the attitude of being the sole guardian of the peace was ridiculous and his assaults upon such well known advocates of peace as ex-President Taft and Herbert Hoover were disgraceful.

"The American people want the Government to play its part in the abolition of war, but they are indifferent as to whether we are a part of a league or a part of an association of nations. There is nothing in a name, but everything in a sentiment. The real issue presented by the Democratic party was not whether we should co-operate with other nations interested in peace, but whether we should assume a moral obligation which had no weight except as it suspended the right of Congress to act independently when the time arrived for action. The Nation will do its part in aiding to prevent war, but it will not surrender into keeping of any foreign group the right to determine when we shall declare war.

"Now that our participation will rest upon the will of Congress and not upon the arbitrary opinion of a single man, we may expect that universal disarmament will be made one of the conditions upon which we attempt to advise. Peace by terrorism has been proven impossible; peace based upon friendship and co-operation will be tried, provided the nations of Europe are willing to lay aside their land grabbing schemes and join together on the basis of good will. The country will expect Mr. Harding to carry out his pledge to advance the cause of world peace, and there is no reason to doubt that he will do so. In the meantime, the progressive forces of the Nation will organize to compel Congress and the President to provide the legislative by which the masses can protect themselves from the greed of the exploiters."

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper
Armistice Day

Notre Dame and Our Lady of Guadalupe School observed in a patriotic manner the second anniversary of the cessation of hostilities in the World War. Classes were conducted at either institution. Appropriate services were held in St. Mary's Church at 7:15 a. m., followed by the recitation of the "De Profundis" for the souls of all the valiant warriors on either side who gave their life in defense of their country.

In memory of these heroic dead, the big flag in St. Mary's Park was lowered to half mast, and the church bell was tolled at 11 o'clock, the hour when the last cannon boom sounded on the blood-drenched battle fields of Europe. The last American to give his life being Father Wm. Devitt of Holyoke, Mass., just as the first American to die was Lieut. Wm. Fitzsimmons of Kansas City.

As a practical proof of their admiration for the unselfish soldiers and sailors, the students of both schools took a very active interest in soliciting funds for the Texas Memorial Sanatorium. In this cause, Notre Dame alone sent forth her full enrollment of 1001 pupils, of whom 44 are boys and no less than 46 of the total are non-Catholics. The Mexican School is daily increasing its enrollment as the cotton pickers are returning to Kerrville.

Requiem
On Monday of this week an anniversary mass was read for Alex Mosel, whose noble young life was snuffed out by a fatal and agonizing accident. A memento was also made for Brother Joseph Luette, S. M., who died at St. Louis College in his 76th year, and the 57th of his religious profession in that teaching order. Deceased had taught in San Antonio since 1867; first at St. Marys College and later was transferred to St. Louis College when this institution was erected in 1893, the year that Father Kemper commenced his High School studies there.

On All Souls' Day a High Mass was sung for all deceased benefactors of Notre Dame, notably her founder, Mr. Wm. Kemper.

A few days ago all the gold vessels of St. Mary's Church, valued at several hundred dollars, were returned newly burnished by a Milwaukee expert. We now have an enviable collection of chalices, ciboria and ostensoria at both churches.

The famous sculptors of an Italian studio filed a long-standing order last week for a dozen additional figures for our Christmas crib. With this increase we believe that we possess as beautiful a Nativity representation as can be found in Texas. The smaller set of the Holy Family, shepherds, kings, camel-drivers and sheep becomes the property of the Mexican congregation.

Mother DeSales' Visit
Last Friday we had the pleasure of entertaining Mother DeSales, formerly superior of St. Mary's Infirmary in McAlester, Okla., but now connected with the Santa Rosa Hospital in San Antonio. The latter institution has been graded in the highest class among the hospitals of the United States and Canada by the American College of Surgeons. In the near future an immense annex will be added to this largest building on West Houston Street. Mother DeSales returned to San Antonio on Saturday with Miss Annie Malone, one of our boarders, who may have to be operated on for appendicitis.

Miss Marguerite Carmen of London, a niece of Mrs. E. E. Palmer, and one who devoted her time during the war years in nursing, has decided to remain with us and join our parish. Another newcomer is Mrs. John Kolodzey of Yorktown, with her children, Irene and Benedict. Mr. Kolodzey has been a patient at Dr. Thompson's Sanatorium since the 26th of September.

Carpenter and plumbers have completed their work at "Portiuncula," the janitor's residence. The new quarters will be ready for occupancy as soon as the painters and electricians are finished.

Next Sunday November 14th, is the monthly engagement at Comfort, and therefore services will be held at 7 a. m. in St. Mary's Church, during which function a recent convert will make his First Holy Communion.

University to Build

Austin, Tex., Nov. 6.—Plans to spend between eight and ten million dollars on the university plant were announced today by Dr. R. E. Vinson, president of the university, to the joint session of the regents and the legislative investigating committee. He said the present shack system is hopeless for a university which aspires to be of the first class.

Dr. Vinson announced that he would ask the Legislature for $8,000,000 for the next two years and that the buildings would be completed in five years, after which the income from the available fund would take care of the university needs by affording a building a year. This contemplates adequate housing and equipment at the main university, schools of mines and medical college. Members of the staff, he said, are perfecting plans which, if carried out, would give the university the greatest arrangement of any State in the Union. A plaster cast is being made of the buildings and ground plan which Dr. Vinson said would be ready for the Legislature.

He also said that lawyers had advised that the Legislature can constitutionally make appropriations out of the general fund to erect buildings at the university.

BREAKS NECK TRYING TO END BLACK CAT'S SONG

Lawrenceburg, Ind.—The black cat hoodoo theory was confirmed here today when a feline of the ebony hue was the cause of the death of Frederick W. Wessler, 83 years old.

Mr. Wessler grew tired of the serenade the cat was giving at his door. He kicked viciously at his tormentor, lost his balance, fell from the porch and broke his neck. The cat was not harmed.

Edwards County Echoes

Leader, Nov. 5: Judge A. P. Allen, for the past twelve years County Judge of Edwards County, is re-elected. And others of the old officers are re-elected, excepting treasurer and two commissioners.

George B. Draper and Miss Sadie Ella Castles, both popular young people of Rocksprings, were married at the local Baptist parsonage, Thursday of this week. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Smart, and made her home with them. L. T. Burney sold 63 head of 2 and 3-year-old steers to A. E. Nunley of Utopia with the consideration at $70 a head.

F. D. Sweeten sold 35 head of young cattle to A. E. Nunley at $35 a head and 60 head of calves to the Rocksprings Meat Market at $35 a head.

The man with a few cattle to sell right now is probably not worrying so much about the wool and mohair market. And it will undoubtedly be good for the ranchman to raise a few horses and mules every year—and hogs, turkeys and chickens—live stock diversification.

Hunt Happenings

Mrs. Mattie Crider and son, Byron, spent Monday in Kerrville. Arcadia Crider and Lee Hardin were in Kerrville on business the first of the week.

Jay E. Adams and Carleton Adams of San Antonio were here Monday on their way to Rocksprings.

Mrs. Beal Hardin, who has been confined to her bed the past three weeks with the flu, is able to be up.

Rev. Hugh McLellan and T. T. Campbell of San Antonio will arrive Monday to spend a week at Camp King.

Miss Lily Council and niece, Ada May Sing, visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sing at Sherman's Mill last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mary Horn, the assistant teacher of the Hunt School, is ill at her home in Kerrville. Miss Jessie Griffin is teaching her department until she is able to resume her school work.

Postmaster J. W. Bratton happened to a serious accident last Saturday. He started down the steps and fell across a table that was standing beside the steps, breaking a rib and causing severe internal injuries.

Dennis Crow, the young son of J. W. Crow, caught a fine red fox in his trap on the Walsh Ranch this week. This is the largest fox seen in this section for several years, and the young trapper will probably get a fancy price for the splendid hide.

O. C. Graham, aged 40 years, died Tuesday after an illness of two years. He is survived by his wife and five children, one sister and thirteen brothers. The remains were laid to rest at the Japonica Cemetery, Wednesday, Rev. Orr conducting the services.

In spite of being informed many times the new highway would go along the divide from Ingram to Rocksprings, the surveyors are now camping at the Carbella Crossing and are following almost the same route used by the Rocksprings mail carrier, except the line is made to follow the north side of the river from Sherman's Mill.

Bandera Budget

New Era, Nov. 4: Mrs. W. J. Davenport Jr. and children and Miss Zona Jahnsen spent the week-end visiting relatives at Center Point.

The ranchmen tell us that the range was never better at this time of the year. The grass is fine and well cured. Stock are fat and pretty.

The infant baby of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Hudspeath of Middle Verde died Sunday night. The little one was only four days old. The body was buried at the Clerk Cemetery on Indian Creek Monday afternoon.

Edward E. Weismantle of Waukegan, Ill., who came in last week with Mr. Field to investigate the Rex Oil Well proposition, was so well pleased with our oil prospects that he has agreed to take over the proposition and finish the well. He and Mr. Field left Tuesday to perfect arrangements to begin drilling. We understand Mr. Beasley will again be head driller.

Fredericksburg Flashes

Standard, Nov. 6: On Monday Gillespie County made the second shipment of dairy cattle to Houston. The number shipped was 55, together with 28 which had been brought here by San Antonio. This brings the number of cows from Gillespie County donors to 119.

As far as we have the election reports (box number 18, Klein Branch is missing) the total are: Democratic, Cox, 130; Republican, Harding, 1251; American, Ferguson, 678. For Governor: Neff, 143; Culbertson, 657; McGregor, 1,264.

The first accident of the hunting season, opening on Monday, happened Sunday night about sundown. Ernst Schmidt, a man about 40 years of age, and Guido Kuhnmann, perhaps 18 years old, had gone some 10 or 12 miles out of town to find a good location for a hunting camp. Mr. Schmidt, who is partially crippled with rheumatism, was horseback, while the young man was afoot. They were looking over the territory to locate good hunting trails for the coming morning. As Mr. Schmidt was returning to camp about sundown he was fired upon by his youthful hunting companion, the bullet lodging in the left leg just below the knee. The wounded man was brought to town and is under medical attention at the local hospital. We understand Mr. Schmidt has left the hospital and will soon be able to be about.

Ford Buys Railroad

San Antonio Light: During the last two months, Henry Ford and the Ford Motor Company have purchased the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad, a 400,000-acre timber tract in Northern Michigan, and a coal mine in Kentucky, and it is rumored that other purchases are under consideration, according to George Cole of the Clifton George Motor Company.

Two thousand railroad workers are automatically made "Ford men." In the near future they will be permitted to share in the investment opportunity with the thousands of other Ford employes. The minimum wage system and bonus distribution will also apply to the railroad men.

The Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad will soon be known by another name. Avoiding congested centers, the railway is a direct line to the coal fields of Southern Ohio and the West Virginia and Kentucky boundaries. Solid coal trains may be routed through to Detroit without delay or interference.

Timber from virgin forests of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan will be used to furnish lumber for Ford automobile bodies and other requirements. Another link added to the chain of Ford industries is the Ford saw mill located just outside of Detroit.

These acquisitions are wonderful links in the chain of Ford industries. Fewer outside organizations are being depended upon year by year. Already work on the Ford car and Ford-tractor commences with the ore in

GOT SOMETHING YOU WANT TO SELL?

Most people have a piece of furniture, a farm implement, or something else which they have discarded and which they no longer want.

These things are put in the attic, or stored away in the barn, or left lying about, getting of less and less value each year.

Why Not Sell Them?

Somebody wants those very things which have become of no use to you. Why not try to find that somebody by putting a want advertisement in The Mountain Sun?

ANTI-JAP LAND LAW AP- PROVED BY CALIFORNIA

San Francisco.—California voters on Tuesday of last week emphatically registered their approval of legislation against alien land ownership in the State.

The amendment, aimed at the Japanese prohibiting them from owning or holding land in the State, carried by at least three to one. The vote in San Francisco was about four to one in favor of the measure. Some of the up-State counties in which feeling against the Japanese was especially strong, went six to one in favor of the measure.

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

"I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

What Good Is a Dollar?

IT'S LARGELY UP TO YOU. It depends on how you spend it—on the value to you of what you get for it—on your ability to find where that value is to be had.

Of course, it's all right to shop around a bit if you like, but why not let the other fellow make it easier for you by doing a little shopping after your dollar—by showing you what you want and where you can get most of it for your money?

It's a great idea, once you get the hang of it, and here's how!

Right in The Mountain Sun you'll find various advertisements offering you merchandise. Some things you'll need today; some tomorrow; some next week or next year—but the point is that these merchants are coming to you, looking for your dollar and offering the best they have to get it.

You'll find, that by reading the advertisements in The Mountain Sun consistently this week and every week, you can increase the value—to yourself—of every dollar you have to spend. The things you see advertised are almost invariably as represented. The advertisers' statements are usually safer to trust than your own judgment. Advertised misrepresentation is business suicide.

Judge R. H. Burney has returned from Hondo, where he had been holding court. A man who had appropriated about $1,000 worth of auto accessories was sent to the pen.

Miss Adèle Kirkpatrick went to San Antonio on Wednesday to be present at the dedication of Maye Hall, the new annex to Our Lady of the Lake College, which was to take place on Armistice Day.

Among those who first advocated the starting of a building and loan association here was W. A. Fawcett. He is always foremost in advocating anything for the upbuilding of Kerrville, and is one of our most enterprising and liberal business men. It is to be trusted that the building and loan project will be pushed.

Mrs. W. C. Fawcett entertained at her lovely little home on Sunday night with a most delicious luncheon, assisted by Miss Josephine Fawcett, the occasion being the observance of her mother's natal day, and the young housekeeper's culinary efforts and artistic arrangement of the dining hall would have done credit to a matron of years' experience. The family party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Walther, Gerald Walther, Miss Ethel Lee Ellis and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fawcett.

Crying For Bread

New East Relief Workers Distributing Bread to Newly Arrived Armenian Refugees in Constantinople.

The Constantinople district of the Near East Relief is wonderfully organized. All the bakeries which formerly supplied the Turkish army, under German management, have been taken over by the Near East Relief, and 20,000 loaves of bread are baked and distributed daily. Placed side by side, these loaves would make a line 280 miles long, for the five months that the Near East Relief has operated its consolidated bakeries in Constantinople, alone.

The Near East Relief, with offices in every state, is asking for funds to go on with this work.

Harem Victim Tells Story

Stolen from her home on the night before her wedding and imprisoned for five years in a Turkish harem, Aghavni Millian, a beautiful nineteen-year-old Armenian girl from Bitlis, has at last been discovered by her lover and through the assistance of the Near East Relief forcibly taken from her master and brought to one of the American Rescue Homes in Constantinople. Here she will stay until arrangements can be made for her marriage and her return to her old home.

"My story—it is like hundreds of others," Aghavni said simply. "I was stolen from my home on the night that the massacres first began in Bitlis. It was the night before I was to have been married. I was just folding my wedding veil away when the Turkish soldiers broke into the house. They carried me off."—They took me up to Constantinople to the house of the man." She stopped and put one hand over her eyes, a hand that bore the tell-tale tattoo of her Turkish master.

"But what does my story matter?" she exclaimed. "I am only one of so many. It is my people and their future that matters. Somehow we must rebuild our nation and show to the Turks who tried to beat out our life and to the whole world that, despite what we have suffered, Armenia is still unconquerable."

Aghavni Millian is, as she says, only one of many. It is estimated that one hundred thousand girls are still held captive in Turkish harems. The Near East Relief, America's official agent in Armenia, is making this work of rescue one of the most important features of its program, and it is to them and the support they receive from the American people that Aghavni's unfortunate sisters, still captive, must look for their release.

WAITING FOR US TO SET THE TABLE

A table twenty-four miles long is plainly an extension table and that is just the length that would seat all of the orphans now being fed by the Near East Relief. This table is set in sections all over the hills of Asia Minor, Syria, Armenia and in Northern Persia. It is not in one piece. The Turks, who still keep the Armenians in a state of terror, do not allow it.

But there the table is, seated on both sides with orphans—Syrian and

The Table Is Now 24 Miles Long.

Assyrian, Greek and Armenian, Jew and Christian—all rescued from the fear of the Turk and under the care of American men and women.

Most of the children are cared for in 220 American supported orphanages. The first ceremony in receiving these starved, almost naked children, is to clean them up. They are not only emaciated, but dirty with sores and vermin—69 hospitals and over 3,000 beds are kept full of the little sufferers. But the children keep changing. Last year they were all thin and pitiful; now it is the newcomers who are thin. The orphans who have been from six months to a year in American care are well fed and well clothed.

Best of all for a new Near East which surely must come out of all this distress, every child old enough is being taught a trade which will make him self supporting.

They are a thrifty lot, these little parentless exiles. From their scant store of bread they always carry a portion in a small bag about their necks—they fear the day of another killing, another drive into the desert.

They hoard the shoes sent from America until snow flies—they remember their barefoot pain in the snows last spring.

They cling to their new found friends. Every day other little waifs find a place in the orphanages and are told of the generous people of the United States. Soon the entrances will be crowded with children frozen out from their temporary summer quarters.

Then the table of the Near East Relief must be extended—many, many new leaves will be needed, and America is asked to set the table.

Armenian Refugees Line Up for Food.

As cold weather sets in refugees are pouring into Near East Relief centers. This group is fed daily in the former Russian barracks at Alexandropol, one of the safest cities in the Caucasus.

WHEN A TIGHT COTTON MARKET PUTS BAN ON TIGHTS IN PARIS

Paris—Front rows of Parisian theaters have been booked in advance for weeks lately and the reason is old man high cost of living.

When the Folies-Bergere broke all records for daring display of the human form in the revue "Mad Love"—which has incidentally broken long run figures for the home of revue—shocked Senators declaimed in the National Parliament for a law to compel stage managers to dress their choruses in tights.

But here they ran up against a snag which wrecked the reformers' campaign. There weren't any tights. Owing to the Government's ban on the importation of "articles of luxury," cotton was only imported for certain well defined purposes. They could make socks out of it, but not tights. The only tights to be had was in London where they still wear 'em, but the exchange had shot these up to a prohibitive cost.

The staggers of revue, therefore, had the choice of either putting their chorus on without tights or not putting them on at all. They put them on.

Since then tights have absolutely disappeared from the French stage.

Bare legs are the vogue even at the National Opera.

But here comes the latest wrinkle. If it is permissible not to wear tights, why wear anything at all—or, that is to say, anything except a few square inches.

The problem was put up to Prefect Raux, of police, who is the supreme arbiter of French morals.

Raux scratched his head and said no, he didn't see why not—but there must not be too much—er—too much of an expanse of pink.

So now the Folies and some other theaters dress their choruses in paint.

Clude de Couigny, a famous artist and designer, has patented a process whereby details of costumes in natural colors can be tattooed on the bare flesh without leaving permanent marks. With a few deft strokes of his brush he can make a Venus de Milo look clothed and in her right mind—at a respectable distance.

Evening dress, morning dress, riding dress—nearly every costume imaginable is reproduced faithfully by means of a box of paints and a clever artist on a woman originally a perfect reproduction of Mother Eve.

September Morns in tattooed bathing suits are becoming a common sight while a reproduction of Courbet's "Atelier" could now be given, says Couigny, on any stage without offending Anthony Comstock.

Competition for employment in the new art is keen and stall and box seats are never empty.

CHAMP CLARK WILL RETIRE FROM POLITICAL ARENA

Washington, D. C.—Champ Clark has made his last political campaign. According to persons close to the former Speaker of the House, here, the Democratic leader from Missouri will retire from active public life, following his defeat by T. W. Hukeride.

Clark's defeat by Wilson in 1912 aged him a great deal and since that time he has been failing rapidly. Many of his friends tried to get him to retire this year but he refused, hoping to carry the Ninth Missouri District, which has become Republican in recent years.

Clark was first elected to Congress in 1893, and has been beaten only once before since that time. In 1918 he won by only a small majority and it was believed he would pull through again this year because of his personal popularity. In 1912 he was considered the popular candidate of the Democratic party for President and received a majority of votes in the convention, but was unable to obtain the necessary two-thirds.

Informal Tea

Miss Lucille Williamson entertained the Girls' Sewing Club with an informal tea Tuesday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Dan Auld, nee Miss Gussie Mae Brown, a bride of last month.

Mrs. Frank Hart served the salad, Mrs. Raymond Franklin served cake and Mrs. Thomas Mathews poured tea.

Those present were Mrs. Auld, the honoree, and Mesdames Frank Hart, Raymond Franklin, Thomas Mathews and Misses Kate Remschel, Elsie Johnston, Mamie Heinen, Ethel Williams and Hilda Hamilton.

E. L. Sublett, Geo. Baldwin and Isaac Zumwalt went hunting last week, returning home Sunday. They killed four bucks and six turkeys, and could have killed more.

PRRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING IS FOR SERVICE TO AMERICA

where there will be a meeting of many minds and where it will represent the will of the people flowing up to their leaders and not the dictations of those in authority."

Again the speaker was interrupted by loud cheering from the crowd.

Not Sympathetic

"Here in Texas, where, with the exception of San Antonio and Bexar County, you haven't sympathized with me entirely, I want to say that the only policies that are worth while in America are those that are just as helpful to the South as to the North and just as helpful to the North as to the South. There can be no good virtue that cannot be shared by all.

"I thank you so kindly for your visit," he said in conclusion. "It has been heartening and comforting. I hope I can know you better. I also thank you for Mrs. Harding. Good night."

G. O. P. WILL HAVE 150 MAJORITY IN LOWER HOUSE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—Republicans will have a majority of 180 members in the House of Representatives in the 67th Congress and a majority of 22 in the Senate, according to the lists compiled from final election returns by William Tyler Page, clerk of the House.

According to Clerk Page's figures, the new House lineup will be as follows: Republicans, 307; Democrats, 127; Socialists, 1.

In the Senate the lineup will be: Republican, 59; Democrats, 37.

Simon D. Fess, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, called attention to the fact that the Republicans will have 19 seats in the House from districts south of the Mason and Dixon line.

OKLAHOMA GOES FOR HARDING BY MORE THAN 20,000

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 5.—President-Elect Harding apparently will carry Oklahoma by more than 20,000. Returns early today from 2,324 precincts out of 2,685 in the State gave:

Harding, 211,341; Cox, 193,884.

Senator-Elect J. W. Harrel's plurality continued to increase as additional returns filtered in. With 2,411 precincts heard from, Harrel had rolled up a majority of 24,807 over Scott Ferris, Democrat. The total gave Harrel 227,381; Ferris, 202,574.

Democrats apparently have lost five seats in Congress. Oklahoma, it appeared today, will be represented in the next Congress as follows:

First District: T. A. Chandler, Republican.

Second District: Alice M. Robertson, Republican.

Third District: C. D. Carter, Democrat.

Fourth District: J. C. Pringley, Republican.

Fifth District: F. B. Swank, Democrat.

Sixth District: L. M. Gensman, Republican.

Seventh District: Jim McClintic, Democrat.

Eighth District: Manuel Herrick, (Republican), regular term, and Charles Swindall (Republican), unexpired term.

Oklahoma Legislature

The Oklahoma Legislature, just elected, is composed of 27 Democrats and 17 Republicans in the Senate and 56 Republicans and 36 Democrats in the Lower House. It means a deadlock on any political legislation that may be attempted.

Kerrville people are interested to some extent in the personnel of the Lower House, as one of the youngest members of that body is Leslie E. Salter, who was elected as a Republican, unopposed, in Alfalfa County. He is an excellent debater and is taking the law course at the Oklahoma University. Representative Salter is a brother of C. E. Salter with The Mountain Sun.

Tivy Meets First Defeat

The Tivy High football team met its first defeat last Saturday at Junction, when the Junction High School team beat them by the score of 37 to 7. This is the first defeat to be recorded against the home boys this season.

The game was a fast one on account of the good weather prevailing. The Tivy boys put up an awful fight but were outclassed in every phase of the game by the Junction aggregation, being able to carry the ball across the line for a touchdown but one time. The Tivy eleven found the Junction line as solid as a brick wall, and only a few times were able to make good gains. The Junction team made gain after gain with their wonderful mass formation. They also made lengthy gains on end runs and

OUR POLICY IS NOT TO SIDE STEP

Did you ever notice how peculiar most of us humans are in the matter of sidestepping? The man who can't play golf dubs it "an old man's game"; the chap who can't dance will side step a two-step and ask his partner to "sit it out" with him; the man who never had the pluck or price to go to Europe shouts "See America First!" One of the firmest policies of this firm is not to side step. We tell you what we have and we tell you the whole truth, not half truths. We don't claim to be infallible—all we can do is to try to have everything you want just when you want it and at prices that are reasonable. You may be sure that anything and everything you purchase from us is just as represented. If for any reason you think you have not received value for your money, bring back the goods. If you don't want them we don't want you to have them. We spend a lot of time studying your needs and means, and when we put anything in our stock you may be sure it is worth all we ask, most times a little more. We step straight ahead successfully, because our policy is never to side step.

What Is Your Health Worth?

YOUR body is likened to a great building occupied by a number of perfectly constructed machines (organs), each having a specific work to do; back of this is the Cerebro Spinal nervous system, which furnishes the power to enable them to do their work. If these machines are not doing their work properly, better look after the power.

If the nerves are right the man is right. If the nerves are wrong so is the man.

The Chiropractic Adjustment, by restoring normal action to these nerves, supplies new life force to the weakened organs of the body.

A true Chiropractor can readily locate the point of pressure and relieve same by adjusting the vertebrae into normal position. If, when diseased conditions exist, the Chiropractor removes the pressure, the interrupted currents are set in motion again and health will follow. The Chiropractor removes the obstructions, thereby allowing NATURE'S restorative powers to reach the diseased parts. Chiropractors do not treat effects. They remove the cause and NATURE cures the disease.

Chiropractic is the practice or a system of adjusting the joints in the human skeletal frame, especially of the spine, by hand alone, for the purpose of removing pressure on nerves.

Chiropractic is not medicine, surgery or osteopathy, or anything else—it's Chiropractic. It is a Science of positive location of the cause of disease and the Art of removing the same by hands alone.
