JOHN YOUNG COMMITS SUICIDE; VISITED AT KERRVILLE IN 1920

John Young swallowed poison and retired to his room at Houston, where he was at work for his uncle, John Young. The dead body of the young man was found next morning. Deceased left a letter giving his reasons for the act, and requested that he be buried as cheaply as possible by the side of his grandfather at Hempstead, the home of his parents.

In the summer and fall of 1920, Mr. and Mrs. Young visited at Kerrville for the health of the latter. Their son, John, came here and remained several weeks. He became quite popular with the young people, as he was a jovial, companionable young man.

His untimely death is very much regretted by the friends of the family here, who extend their sincere condolences.

OTHO A. MORRIS FIRST CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE MAYOR OF KERRVILLE

Otho A. Morris, the well-known agent for Overland autos and proprietor of the Kerrville Motor Sales, announces in this issue for the office of Mayor of Kerrville.

Otho is following in the footsteps of his uncle, George Morris, who so acceptably served this city as Mayor for two terms.

Otho was born on Morris Ranch, about twelve miles northeast of Kerrville; he had a high school education and one year in a college at Des Moines, Iowa.

When this country entered the World War, Otho was among the first to go to the officers training school at Leon Springs, but as there were only about 600 of the 2,000 of these youngsters who could stand the strain, Otho was among the number not physically equal to the occasion. However, that did not deter him, as he later got into the Motor Truck Supply Train service and went overseas, where he saw plenty of excitement to do a fellow for a life time.

Otho Morris is a young man of ability, energy and advanced ideas. He believes in civic improvement, and desires to see Kerrville occupy that high position as a health and pleasure resort that its many natural advantages entitle it.

If chosen as Mayor he will be found doing all he can for the advancement of Kerrville, and his qualifications are such that he would do well in that position.

WOOL PRODUCTION REGAINING LARGE CONSUMING BASIS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Many wool importing countries of the world have regained a normal pre-war consuming basis and are converting raw stocks into finished goods at almost the pre-war rate, the Department of Agriculture announced tonight. The supply in the principal consuming countries "is less than has been recorded for some time," it was announced, "and is insufficient to meet present demand." Their inability to obtain stocks being ascribed by the department to "the unsettled economic conditions throughout the world."

"In the United States," the department's statement said, "stocks are probably lighter than in a decade. Stocks of fine wool for which consumers continue to show a preference despite higher prices are exceedingly light. Manufacturers are operating about on a normal basis."

"Stocks in Great Britain, France and Germany," the statement added, "are also estimated as lighter than at any time during the past 10 years. The worsted mills of France are running to capacity, and the finished goods are being disposed of. In Germany, textile plants are running as fully as the supply of raw material will permit."

The department pointed out that as demand for wools increased after 1913, world production was not increased accordingly, "and the present sheep population of the world is only about 90 per cent of the 1913 sheep population."

Production in the United States, exclusive of pulled wool, was said to have decreased from 250,000,000 pounds in 1919 to 224,000,000 pounds in 1921.

AGRICULTURAL BLOC HAS NEW PROGRAM OF "FARM WELFARE"

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—The farm bloc's next task is to put through Congress a great National permanent program of "farm welfare," Senator Capper, Kansas, the bloc's new chairman, said tonight.

"The bloc, formed as a temporary organization to meet an emergency, now enters the second phase of its life," said Capper. "Its work from now on will be to build permanently. Our program of emergency legislation is about completed."

"Statesmen and economists have come to realize that it is not enough to pull the farmer out of the hole; he must be set on firm ground and helped to go forward. That is the bloc's job now. It is not a selfish job, for what benefits agriculture benefits the whole country."

The bloc program of permanent agriculture legislation has not been worked out fully. The program as it stands:

1. A rural credits bill, setting up additional machinery for "personal credit" for farmers. This is to bridge the gap between 60 and 90-day paper and long-term mortgage loans.

2. Enlargement of the farm land bank system, to make it of greater aid to farmers in the acquiring and improvement of lands.

3. Transportation. This involves wrestling with the great railroad problem, the increasing of transportation facilities where possible through inland waterways.

4. The truth in fabric bill. This is to force shoddy to be labeled as shoddy and wool so that both the producer and the consumer may be protected.

There are other measures and many details to be worked out, Capper said.

MEN'S CLUB MEETING ENJOYABLE THOUGH WEATHER DISAGREEABLE

Tuesday night the Presbyterian Men's Club met at the St. Charles Hotel in its regular meeting. On account of the severe weather and the prevalence of colds there were only about forty present, but the session proved to be one of unusual interest.

After the usual preliminary affairs, President W. G. Garrett Jr. introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. N. Le Blanc of Orange, Tex., who addressed the club on the subject of "Law Enforcement."

If anybody expected the address or the discussion afterward to follow along conventional lines they were promptly undeceived. Dr. Le Blanc evidently had no retainer for things as they are or to defend either present laws, courts or executives, but finally carried the responsibility for bad laws and poor enforcement back to Mr. Citizen who neglects his high duties from election day to jury service.

After a delightful lunch had been enjoyed by the club and quite a number of visitors, the president opened the meeting for general discussion, and there followed a spirited discussion, taken part in by Judge Baker, Dr. Thompson, Miller Harwood, Rev. Dickey and Will Garrett. Also H. E. Hesselbine, a visitor from Grand Rapids, Mich., contributed an amusing but telling story of how an undesirable law was shown to be impracticable and repealed by a strict enforcement.

Under the direction of Prof. Guy Moses, the Fisk Syncopated Orchestra presented a very animated program, and Miss Eva Staudt, accompanied by Miss Minnie Dieter, favored with two vocal numbers. The Glee Club was faithfully on the job and sang a number of good songs.

At the opening there was quite a little comment on the moral tendencies of "the preacher" for taking a bunch of men away from their families and firesides on such a night, but at the close the sentiment was all to the effect that it had been an enjoyable and profitable meeting.

Manny to Play in San Antonio

San Antonio Light: Al Manny, who has managed and pitched and hit home runs for the Kerrville base ball team for the last few years after starring in San Antonio amateur ball for a number of seasons, will be back in this city next summer.

Joe Amberson, former manager of the old Stroud Motors team, has organized another club, the name of which has not been definitely settled upon, and Manny will be the pitching ace, he announces.

LOCAL AMERICAN LEGION POST GAVE INTERESTING PERFORMANCE

Wednesday night of last week, at Pampell's Hall, the local American Legion gave an interesting entertainment and minstrel performance that was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. Chaplain G. M. Macdougall was chairman and Prof. Guy Moses, director.

Mrs. Scott Schreiner sang most excellently "The Americans Come" and, after a hearty encore, sang another selection in a lovely manner. Miss Jones was accompanist on the piano. The Men's Glee Club sang two or more songs in their usual fine style, with H. C. Robinson, director.

J. A. Wickes, who is an expert magician, gave an exhibition of his talent that was startling to the audience. Among other wonderful things, he allowed himself to be put into a large mail sack, which was tied and sealed, and within a few seconds he appeared from behind the curtains.

Another of his tricks, which was still more wonderful, was the putting of Scott Schreiner, who assisted him during the evening, into a sack with his hands securely tied behind him; the sack was then thoroughly tied and sealed and Scott was placed into a trunk, which was locked and the key hoisted. In a minute or two Scott appeared from behind the curtains, and from the trunk came a call to be let out. A committee of three, that had been investigating and testing these tricks, went to the trunk and using the key, which one of the number had held, unlocked and opened the trunk, and there Mr. Wickes was found in the sack, and it tied and sealed just in the way he had put Scott in it.

After the performance of the magician and his assistant, there was a minstrel given by the younger people, and it was much enjoyed.

Quite a neat sum was realized by this performance, which Commandant Cecil Robinson and others of the Legion very much appreciate.

THE SCOFFIELD GIRLS ENTERTAIN THEMSELVES WITH "TACKY" PARTY

Last Saturday evening some of the Scoffield girls entertained themselves with a "Tacky" Party. Besides Spanish and Russian dances, piano solos and songs, a wedding was celebrated between Mrs. Griffith and Miss Elizabeth Scoffield. Bernice Henry was the minister; Miss Lipscomb, best man; Joan Wilson, maid of honor; Mary Nell and Regina Griffith and Robbie Dunbar, flower girls.

Mae Brashear was awarded the prize for being the "tackiest," Elizabeth Scoffield was consorted with the "booby," while Miss Lipscomb got honorable mention for being the most artistic.

Refreshments of cake and chocolate were served to Misses Henry, Draper, Whitworth, Brashear, Speir, Durham, Elizabeth Scoffield, Mary Nell and Regina Griffith, Lipscomb, Wilson, Robbit Dunbar and Mrs. Griffith in costume, and Misses McFadden and Scoffield as spectators.

The school family enjoyed a two-day visit from Dr. R. H. Griffith of the English Department, State University, who came to visit Mrs. Griffith and their little girls.

On the 22nd we had a half holiday and hurried off at noon to go down to the river for dinner, on the invitation of Miss Marion Miller and her mother, who are temporary residents in the old Potter Brown home. In the afternoon a fine program was given out in the open, beginning with "America" and closing with the "Star-Spangled Banner." Short talks on different periods of Washington's life were made by Misses Wilson, Durham, Brashear and Speir. Miss Marion Miller delighted everybody with her fine reading, and Miss Kathryn Kingsbury entertained with songs, accompanied by her banjo. The rest of a very pleasant afternoon was spent in games until time to go home.

The two chorus groups—big girls' and little girls'—have made great progress under the tutelage of Mrs. C. H. Latham, and can now give a program worth listening to. They sing twice a week, and are greatly interested in their work.

NEFF WILL REPORT ON STEWARDSHIP IN SERIES OF SPEECHES

Austin, Tex., Feb. 25.—Governor Neff announced Saturday afternoon that commencing the latter part of next month he proposes to deliver a series of speeches in various portions of the State telling the people of his stewardship. When he made the race for Governor, he declared, he promised the people of Texas that if elected he would later tell of his activities while in the office and now he is keeping that promise.

"Beginning the latter part of next month, it is my intention to make a thorough speaking campaign of all the State," said the Governor. "I shall speak four or five times a day as I did during the campaign of 1920. My subject will be 'The Texas Government, Its Perils and Possibilities.'"

"Among other things," continued Governor Neff, "I shall discuss with the people, the necessity of working out a plan for more efficient rural schools and a better marketing system for the various products of the farm and the ranch. I shall also discuss the benefits to be derived from a workable, co-operative method by means of which the County, State and Federal Governments can unite in building and maintaining good roads throughout the State. With good rural schools, good roads, accessible and equitable markets for the products of the soil, nothing can keep Texas from taking first rank in all things, among the States of the Nation."

THOMAS A. COLEMAN MAKES ASSIGNMENT FOR MILLIONS

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 25: Thomas Atlee Coleman, 1107 Main Avenue, millionaire cattleman and capitalist and former collector of customs in the San Antonio district, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in Federal Court Friday morning.

Mr. Coleman's petition lists his liabilities at $2,558,941.38 and assets at $3,489,862.10. Exemptions, claimed, consisting of his home and other personal property, totals $40,175.

Mr. Coleman's petition shows him to be one of the largest stockholders in a score of San Antonio and Southwest Texas industries. Land, listed in the petition, held by Mr. Coleman as private property, comprises more than 100,000 acres in Southwest Texas, while partnership holdings make a total of 30,000 more acres of land in which he is directly interested. Mr. Coleman's heaviest debts are to banks and loan companies here and in Kansas City.

Partnerships listed in the petition in which Mr. Coleman is interested are: Coleman & Johnson, Coleman & Pratt, Coleman & Eads, Coleman & Young, Coleman & Keeran.

The Stock Yards Loan Company of Kansas City holds the biggest note given by Mr. Coleman on cattle he owns and is listed in the petition at $418,713.94. The loan is secured by 3,800 head of cows, 200 bulls, 2,000 yearlings, 600 2-year-old steers, 100 5-year-old steers, 1,150 steers and 2,500 steer and heifer yearlings.

KERRVILLE, TEXAS

WORST WEATHER FOR YEARS; GREAT DAMAGE AND SUFFERING

Beginning the latter part of last week, the coldest weather of this year for several years, started in the northwestern part of the country and gradually worked its way even to the Southland, where we boast of flowers and balmy air all the year round.

In Michigan, Wisconsin, Dakotas and Iowa, telegraph and railway services were suspended in many places and hundreds of thousands of dollars damage done to property.

The first of this week this cold wave, accompanied by rain, sleet and snow, reached Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle, and by Tuesday had woveed down on Kerrville and proceeded south. It started to rain Monday night and early Tuesday morning turned into sleet. After a while and through Tuesday night it was too cold to rain or sleet. Wednesday it had moderated and a light snow fell.

In nearly every place where this cold wave has hit it has been declared the worst for years. It is feared that great damage will also be done stock as well as property, while rail travel is stopped in many places and all wires down, shutting off those centers from any communication.

SUMMER SCHOOL SALARIES ILLEGAL, DECLARES RULING

Austin, Tex., Feb. 25.—That professors, instructors or teachers of the University of Texas who serve at the regular term cannot draw pay for serving at the summer term, is the effect of an opinion given today by the Attorney General's Department. The same ruling applies to all other educational institutions conducted by the State.

Today's opinion was written by Assistant Attorney General L. C. Sutton and was given to F. M. Bralley, president of the College of Industrial Arts.

On November 15th, 1921, the Attorney General's Department advised in a communication to State Comptroller Lon A. Smith, that Section 33 of Article 16 of the State Constitution would inhibit the Comptroller from drawing a warrant in favor of a person who taught in a summer school in the C. I. A. who also is drawing a salary as teacher for the regular term of that school. The opinion was given in view of the provision in the appropriation act requiring all salaries to be paid in 12 equal monthly installments. A reconsideration of the opinion was urged by Mr. Bralley with request that it be reversed.

"We have given this matter our most earnest attention and reconsideration, fully realizing the far-reaching effect of our holding, but we are unable to reverse our position," Mr. Sutton wrote in today's opinion.

EX-SOLDIER BONUS QUESTION HAS RESOLVED INTO POLITICAL PROBLEM

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—The bonus question tonight had resolved itself into a political problem—how to get the soldiers' vote—according to pro-bonus, pro-sales tax men. There was a further indication of this in a letter sent by Representative Frear and 30 other farm block House members to Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means Committee.

This letter, advocating paying the bonus with proceeds of expected British war debt bonds, contained the broad hint that a sales tax would do some "sweeping here next fall" just as that issue "swept the conservative party out of power last December in Canada." Further, it approved the bonds not merely because they "will remove a grossly unjust proposal" (the tax), but because they will "prevent political overturning of Congress."

Many men engaged in trying to shape up a bonus have said quite frankly the past week that they are "after the soldier vote." They make no secret of the fact that they oppose any plan excluding the cash bonus on the ground that it fails to meet "American Legion ideas." And that consequently, they would "lose soldier votes."

Fordney has been told, for instance, that a sales tax would put many Representatives in an embarrassing situation and would mean their defeat if they voted for it. At the same time, a vote against the bonus would kill them, they have said. And that is the answer behind the latest switch against the sales tax, according to men in the movement.

Such is the atmosphere surrounding the bonus. Its proponents have now reached the stage where they are figuring on a bill without a specific means of raising the money. Instead they would simply give an authorization to the treasury to pay the bonus out of the available funds there, or from proceeds of available securities (meaning the British bonds when they come). The Frear letter argued that the sales tax would make soldiers themselves help pay their gratuity and would be slow in coming into effect, compared to the bonds.

Frear holds that $125,000,000 semi-annual British interest will be available June 1st.

"The bonus," says the letter, "should be passed without any obnoxious tax and should be passed without delay."

An analysis of the United States Chamber of Commerce bonus poll shows a big majority against any cash bonus despite American Legion campaigns for it. In the East, only Vermont and Massachusetts voted for the bonus, while in the West, such States as Texas, Utah, Arkansas, Idaho, Montana and California showed majorities against the bonus.

WASHINGTON PICNICS

The birthday anniversary of our country's first President was patriotically observed by the students and faculty of Notre Dame. On account of the large crowd, the pupils and teachers held three different out-door picnics. Each division, naturally, thinks that their outing was the best.

First of all came the big gathering at Oak Woods Ranch, under the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rogers. They had twenty-seven participants at their festival. Most of the High School pupils chose this for their rendezvous, because of the cordial invitation of their class-mate, Miss Marie Rogers.

Another bunch motored to Fredricksburg and joined those Catholics in their celebration at St. Joseph's Hall. Our nuns paid a social visit to the Sisters at that parochial school, and anticipate a return visit from them.

The junior boarders held their own picnic at Lakeside, and were joined by some members of the Notre Dame staff.

No classes were conducted at either of the two Catholic parochial schools in honor of our country's foremost hero.

Pre-Lenten Dance

Filled with the carnival spirit on the threshold of Lent, our young folks held an au revoir dance in Washington Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schmidt and Mrs. Pearl Granes acted as chaperones. The orchestra was composed of budding musicians, who very kindly volunteered their talents. Sidney Wheelers came with his big xylophone, which, under his skillful manipulation, puts the impulse of dance in everyone's feet. His talented young brother, Randolph, managed a whole array of instruments—bass drum, snare drum, cymbals and jazz bells. The Fisk brothers, Eddie and Raymond, played the sliding trombone, flute and instrumental oddities. Scott Fawcett helped along with his saxophone, and the piano was played alternately by the Mosel sisters, Mary and Wilhelmina.

Besides the above mentioned individuals, the following young ladies glided over the waxen floor: Misses Tully Williams, Mamie Sublett, Ruth Peterson, Myrtle Brashear and Katie Mae Carpenter. Their partners were chosen from this fine selection of young men: Hugo Sultenfuss, Ernest Harris, Jack Kent, Louis Wilson, William Saenger, Carl Peterson, Bernard Kuhlmann and William Farris Jr.

Much as they regretted to disband, the young folks brought their evening's merriment to a close by 11 o'clock, hopeful of many a repetition after Lent is over.

Health Week

High School pupils intend to comply with the wishes of Governor Neff and observe next week with special care relative to questions on sanitation, cleanliness and eradication of rodents and insects. One of the advantages of Notre Dame is that the immaculate neatness of the place at all times, gives to all scholars an unconscious taste for neatness and beauty. Our rear yard is always as presentable as St. Mary's Park, fronting our array of buildings.

Preparations have been begun for the much-talked-of school classic, the outdoor entertainment on the vigil of May. This dramatical performance will relieve the Commencement program of becoming too cumbersome. A small admission price will be charged so that the pupils can wind up the year with a general picnic in which their parents are invited. Possibly this huge gathering will take place on Monday, May 22nd. The Notre Dame Commencement is scheduled for Ascension Thursday, May 25th, at 8 p. m.

School Personals

Our High School department regrets to lose Miss Elsie Brown, who returned to her California home.

The State of Illinois took away from us the three Patterson brothers: Thomas, Frederick and Frank.

Percy Davis dropped in from Center Point to renew acquaintances at "dear old Notre Dame."

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to the friends who were so kind to us in our recent bereavement, especially to the American Legion for providing escorts in San Antonio and Beaumont for us on our journey. (Advertisement 10-11c.)

TOLSTOY JEALOUS OF WIFE

Their Marriage in a Way Romantic, Though She Had Much to Follow in Him.

In his book, "Family Happiness," Leo Tolstoy tells his own romance. He was a lifelong friend of both Mrs. and Doctor Baer, parents of Sofia Andreyevna, whom he loved ardently. Her name is indicative of her ancestry, her mother being a high-bred Russian and her father a German physician.

Sofia and her sisters were all accomplished in household arts, as well as in the more elegant studies befitting young women of their station in life.

From the very first, his love for this girl, many years his junior, was strong and passionate. Finally he asked her to marry him. It was his wish that the wedding take place immediately, but Sofia declared that she must have a trousseau first. They were ultimately married in September 1862.

Although Sofia was just as much the idealist as her husband, she was far more practical, and made a perfect wife from the domestic point of view.

Their life was not entirely without disillusionment. Ardently in love with his wife, Tolstoy at times exhibited insane jealousy. Unjust suspicions were frequently manifested, but Sofia had great wisdom and understanding, and did not let this falling come between them. He always repented later and humbly begged forgiveness for his rash actions.

BEFORE MATCHES WERE MADE

Primitive Peoples Had Ingenious Means of Making Fires That Answered the Same Purpose.

Two methods of making fire were in use among the aborigines of North America at the time of the discovery. The first method consisted of striking a spark from flint and pyrites—a hard ore containing usually considerable iron. This method was practiced by the Eskimos and by the Athapascan and Algonquin tribes ranging across the continent from the Pacific coast to Newfoundland and down the Atlantic coast.

The most valued and most effectual method of making fire known to the Indians was that of the reciprocating motion of wood on wood and igniting the ground off particles through heat generated by friction. The simplest method was to whirl rapidly backward and forward a wooden rod or drill. The drill turned in a lower piece of wood which may be called the hearth. The drill was worked near the border of the hearth, cutting a socket. From the socket a narrow canal was cut in the edge of the hearth, the function of the canal being to collect the powdered wood ground off by the friction of the drill, as within this wood meal the heat rose to the ignition point.

The Pause of Emphasis.

The historic old church of St. Michael's in Charleston, S. C.—to be a member of which is the open sesame to Charleston society—had at one time a very eccentric pastor, whose congregation never knew just what he would do next. One hot July afternoon he entered his pulpit, with the sounding board above, sat down and wiped the perspiration from his face, remarking, in a calm, unruffled tone: "It's a hot day."

Of course the congregation was thunderstruck. With all his peculiarities, they had not dreamed of anything like this. So still was the audience that the drop of a pin could have been heard. After a long time, when the perspiration had been carefully wiped from cheek and brow, he concluded: "That's what I heard an irrevocable young man say as I came in."—Harper's Magazine.

Had to Be Masters of Craft.

Carved and hand-made chests, sideboards, tables, chairs and other antiques are rightly valued by people of discriminating taste. In the fifteenth century men were known to have worked eight years or more carving a single one of these intricate pieces, fitting the drawers perfectly and balancing everything. Certainly any piece of furniture on which those masters of the cabinetmaker's art spent so much time and thought are worthy of appreciation.

An apprentice to the art of cabinetmaking commonly worked from three to eight years making his first piece of furniture. This work then was passed upon by jurors, and if the verdict was "imperfect," it was burned before the door of the maker and he was forbidden to make furniture for sale until he had redeemed himself with an acceptable piece.

The Meanest Man.

Many years have passed since Mark Twain died, and the greatest tribute to his genius is that no humorist has arisen to take his place. Opinions differ as to which was his funniest story, but there are those who think that his yarn about the meanest man is not easily beaten. "The meanest man I ever knew," he said, "lived in Hannibal. He sold his son-in-law the half of a very fine cow, and then refused to share the milk with him, on the ground that he had only sold him the front half. The son-in-law was always compelled to provide all the cow's fodder, and to carry water to her twice a day. Finally the cow butted the old man through a barbed-wire fence, and he sued his son-in-law for damages."

LOVED ALL FEATHERED FOLK

Audubon's Name Immortal Because of His Splendid Work for American Native Birds.

John James Audubon, an American naturalist and bird lover, who did perhaps more than any other man to interest Americans in their native birds, was born in Meadville, La., of French parents, in 1780. He studied in France. In 1798 he settled near Philadelphia, where he lived for ten years, devoting himself to the study of birds. Later he spent considerable time in the West, wandering through the woods in close touch with his feathered friends. In 1826 Audubon went to England, exhibiting his bird drawings, which he finally published in a work containing 435 colored plates of birds the size of life, entitled "The Birds of America." A copy of this complete work today is worth a small fortune.

On his return to America Audubon labored on an illustrated work, "The Quadrupeds of America." Audubon never instituted any movement for the preservation of birds, for in his day much of the country was wild, and it looked as though there were no danger of birds ever becoming extinct. It was his genuine love for the feathered folk that caused the Audubon society to be named for him.

The Audubon society has done much to prevent wanton destruction and to create a sentiment against the wearing of birds and feathers on millinery. It is largely due to Audubon societies throughout the country that large tracts of ground have been set apart as bird reservations. The national office of the organization is in New York city.

WHERE ETIQUETTE IS RIGID

Visitor to Mongolian Yurt Has Many Important Rules of Conduct to Remember.

A Mongolian yurt is an umbrella-like framework of trelliswood covered with thick felt which when new is perfectly white, circular in form, having a dome-shaped roof, and is about 14 to 18 feet in diameter, the door always facing south or southwest, and painted red. On arriving at a yurt, on a Mongolian pony it is very necessary to remember that your riding whip must be left outside, laid on the roof, before you enter. To take it, or any kind of stick, into the house would not be regarded as a simple breach of manners, such as taking your umbrella into the drawing room when paying a call in this country, but amounts to an act of aggression.

As one enters the yurt one cannot help noticing that the floor is covered with semicircular mats of very thick white felt with bold applique designs in black, as a border. In the center of the building an iron casket contains burning argol that flames brightly and sends up ascending smoke that escapes through a circular hole in the roof. One must be careful to select one of the lowly seats on the ground on the left of the fire till the invitation is given to "come up higher," which of course, will follow.

Chinese Wedding Customs.

On her wedding day the Chinese bride is clad in red and carried in a sedan chair covered with red. Any person who wishes may turn back the chair curtains and have a look at the bride. Haysseed takes the place of rice and confetti. The bride's hair is elaborately oiled, and so when the girls throw haysseeds at her they stick. When she has reached the end of her journey she has come to the home of her husband and must bear the candid criticism of the whole family.

The wedding ceremony is nothing more than a rice affair. Instead of throwing it, the guests eat it. The husband and wife-to-be eat rice from each other's bowl, then mix the rice and both eat from the same bowl—and they are married.

Of course there is a feast, but the custom makes it such that the American father of a reception-giver bride might envy the Chinese father of the bride. Every guest contributes something, and so it costs very little.

Yale's Fine Gothic Buildings.

In the Harkness quadrangle at Yale university the architect, James Gamble Rogers, has created, in keeping with the express wishes of the university authorities, a group of Gothic buildings that it is believed will bear comparison with any in the world. Based primarily upon Tudor Gothic, they yet embody many varieties of the style and include, as a matter of fact, elements that the curious student will find tell practically the whole story of Gothic development.

In their marvelous details and plebeianness they are the most distinctive collegiate buildings in existence. There is a remarkable and enticing variety of designs in their construction and the most surprising play of fancy.

Janice's Compliment.

The other evening Janice was watching her up-to-date grandmother dress for a ball. The child surveyed her grandmother from all angles as the dressing progressed. "Finally she said, 'Ganny, you look 'ust beautiful now.' As her grandmother finished she put on a gown trimmed with lynx on which there were a few tails of the animal. Janice looked the finished product over and exclaimed, 'and now, Ganny, you look 'ust like a dog.'"

Don't Stub Your Toe!

ONE dark night—so the story goes—a certain monarch placed a large boulder in the middle of the road. Thousands of his people, thereafter, severely stubbed their toes or troubled to walk around. At length, one lusty youth—wiser than the rest—seized the stone and heaved it from his path. And where it had rested, he found a bag of gold.

Are you stubbing your toe? Are you overlooking any bags of gold? How about the advertising in this paper? Do you read it—CONSISTENTLY? It is a bag of gold to many of our readers.

In our columns you will find the advertisements of alert and progressive merchants who seek to tell you something they think you ought to know. This advertising is news about the very things that interest you most—articles that will save you money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain, every day business proposition—a duty they owe themselves and their purses. It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay.

Advertising pays them. THEY MAKE IT PAY.

IT WILL PAY YOU, TOO. READ IT.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

AUXILIARY COMMITTEES

The splendid movement of systematizing our Red Cross work is being carried on among our members through the solidarity of the Parish Auxiliary. The need of co-operative action in our many charitable duties was again emphasized at Sunday's meeting by Henry H. Kuhlmann, chairman of the society. To give the undertaking a more concerted and efficient power, it was decided not to divide the men and women into distinct branches, but for all to act enthusiastically and harmoniously. The power of the individual was graphically shown, in order to avoid the danger of undervaluing the unit by his absorption in a federated whole.

Dr. Frederick Nyc was appointed secretary and treasurer of the parish aid society. Chas. Kuesel was added to the directive board that will have many important topics to discuss at the next meeting, this Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in Washington Hall. Tentative committees were selected to care for "the stranger within our gates," and to provide assistance to invalid and transient parishioners.

The ladies, as usual, showed themselves very zealous in this benevolent field. Mrs. Kuhlmann, in her practical ideas, displayed the experience she gathered from many years of hustling and boosting in Houston. Her spirit was caught by Mesdames Carpenter, Kirkpatrick, Aubey, Grames, Meyer, by Misses Risacher, Kemper and Courtney Kaiser, who gladly accepted the tasks assigned to them.

Among the men, enthusiasm was shared by all, but particularly by those already named and by Messrs. Dondlinger, Carrico and Farrish. Their pentup vim is expected to crystallize into definite productiveness at this Thursday's meeting.

May Festival
One of the plans of the good Christian ladies is to conduct an elaborate lawn social on Saturday, May 6th. The promoters of this project have been working quietly and effectively for many months. On Wednesday of this week they called a meeting of all the parish women and proportioned the work so that each phase of it will be competently handled. From all indications an exceptional good time can be anticipated, because the organizers have many attractive and novel ideas in store to warrant success.

Their endeavor is to realize a substantial purse so as to help defray expenses contracted in our recent improvements. During the past year we have expended sixty-three thousand dollars for the good of this community. The convent alone called for an outlay of $53,000.00, with its steam-heating system and additional furniture. Another six thousand went into the fire-proof boiler house. The rest of the expenditure was divided between the annex to the school and janitor's residence.

Considering the dull season in the wake of the war's aftermath, and the drought, it was particularly fortunate for half a hundred workmen to have these improvements added to our city's permanent assets.

Lenten Functions
The holy and penitential season of Lent began on Ash Sunday with a very impressive liturgy. Palms left over from Palm Sunday—when Christ's triumphal procession was commemorated—were burnt to ashes, solemnly blessed, and then strewn in the form of a cross on the forehead of the recipient with the scriptural admonition: "Remember man that thou art dust, and unto dust thou shalt return."

During Lent, on Tuesdays and Fridays, at 3:45 p. m., the Way of the Cross will be made in the Convent Chapel. This Via Dolorosa follows Our Savior from Gethsemane to Calvary in all stages of His bitter passion for the redemption of mankind. The public is invited to participate in this miniature Oberammergau program. The Stabat Mater hymn interspersing the journey will be sung in English so that everyone can join in with the choir.

Congregational singing will also be held on Wednesdays and Fridays during morning service in honor of St. Joseph, foster-father of the Christ Child.

The customary First Friday devotions will be held this week at 7:15 a. m. in the Convent Chapel.

Guadalupe Communicants
Biblical instructions have been begun for the Mexican Christians who will receive their first Holy Communion on May 7th. At St. Mary's parish, Mother's Day, the second Sunday in May, will be set aside for the Forty Hours' Adoration.

Last year, during the Easter season, 136 parishioners of Our Lady of Guadalupe Church complied with the paschal precept. This Lent the men and women propose to get an earlier start and to surpass their previous record.

The Guadalupe Society has charge of the big annual picnic for all members of the Mexican colony. This fiesta, if the weather is propitious, will be held on Easter Monday, April 17th.

On the last Saturday in March the Mexican School will hold its public Commencement exercises, so that the faculty can pursue three months of Summer Normal at their mother-house in San Antonio.

Health-Seekers
Another war veteran has joined our colony at the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium in the person of Peter Alece Hebert from Plaquemine, La. We welcome this patriot and Brother Knight of Columbus.

H. W. Gill of Pleasanton, Tex., is also at the Sanatorium, but as a workman and not as a patient.

Leo Dennehy and his neighbor, Daniel O'Connell, came all the way from Cedarville, O., to be benefited by our restorative climate.

Mrs. Felix Staudt is making an indefinite stay with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Rudolph Staudt. Her husband, an overseas veteran, resides in Dallas.

Mrs. Wm. Farrish left for San Antonio on Friday morning with Mrs. George Washington Doyle and remained over Sunday night to attend the theatrical performance given by the Knights of Columbus for the benefit of their musical band. Misses Margie Farrish and Martha Doyle went down the following day, and returned with Charley Pfeifer.

On Saturday also, Miss Meta Michon left for the Alamo City to spend a vacation with her grandmother.

Church of Christ

I wish to announce again to all that Jas. W. Acuff, capable and efficient man in vocal music, is to be in Kerrville Tuesday to begin a vocal training class. He calls it "a drill." These lessons are to be given free to all. Jas. W. Acuff is the author of a song book called "The King's Highway." Also is the author of several songs in other song books. I am not sure, but this may be Kerrville's first opportunity of the old time song practice. In these drills you will be taught some theory; that is, you will be taught the shape notes, the lines and spaces and the degrees of the staff; how to pitch a song or get the correct key of a song with or without the aid of an instrument. These lessons will be given at night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Both young and old are invited to attend. You will have a chance to get one of the theories for the sum of 35c, which will help you in these lessons. Thirty-five cents for the theory is all these lessons will cost you unless you of your own free will give any more.

We hope that both young and old will appreciate this opportunity enough to attend if you can conveniently do so.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
J. B. HOLT, Pastor

Our Sunday School, which meets each Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock and under the direction of our new superintendent, F. E. Garrett, is doing splendid work. The attendance is increasing and the general interest and enthusiasm is fine.

The athletic feature is great. We are all interested in this part of the work. Go out to the games and boost for our boys.

The Sunbeam Band, which meets at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, under the direction of Mrs. Huber, is a wide-awake organization. The children are receiving excellent training.

Our Intermediate and Senior B. Y. P. U.'s are doing a great work. In these two organizations there are forty-five young people training for active Christian service.

The Woman's Missionary Union meet in circles this week. The circle plan is proving most effective.

A special program was given at the Prayer Meeting hour by different members on the Sunday School lesson. This was a splendid program and some fine thoughts were brought out relative to the Book of Jonah, from which book our lesson is taken.

Our church services, morning and evening, are being well attended.

All the regular services will be held next Sunday. Come and bring some one with you.

PREACHER FILLS HIS CHURCH SUNDAY NIGHTS BY TALKING ON WHAT'S ON PEOPLE'S MINDS

Chicago, Feb. 21.—"How to secure a congregation for Sunday evening services? That's easy: Advertising."

This was the basis of an address Dr. William D. Stidger, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal Church, Detroit, Mich., made today before the Council of Cities of the Methodist Episcopal Church in session here. By following this program in his own church and "finding out what people are thinking about and then talking to them about the things that are on their minds," Dr. Stidger says, his church has:

"Largest ingathering of new members of any church in Detroit, taking in all denominations.

"Largest prayer meetings in Detroit and third largest in America.

"Largest loose collections in America, and largest Sunday night crowds in the city of Detroit, not excepting a single theater in the city."

So great is the Sunday night service attendance, said Dr. Stidger, that policemen are regularly assigned to the church from 6 to 9 p. m. to handle the crowd. This result he attributes to "sane advertisement" and to "feeling the pulse of the people and sensing the things that are dominant in their thoughts." Thus, he said, his church has "dramatic book sermons."

"People are reading books," he said, "whether the preachers are or not. I announce a popular book that the newspapers have been talking about for several weeks. I cash in on the advertising that this book has received. It attracts a church full of people due to the fact that everybody wants to know about books whether they are too lazy to read them or not."

"Color, light, motion, use of the sense of the dramatic that is in every soul, the story and parable through our dramatic books, and we talk to the hearts of folks and win them to the church at the rate of fifty a month," Dr. Stidger concluded.

IS THIS YOUR EXPERIENCE?

Many Kerrville People Are Afflicted With Annoying Kidney Ills.

Are you bothered with too frequent action of the kidneys? Are the secretions highly colored—do they contain sediment—burn and scald in voiding? These are all signs of kidney sickness and should not be neglected. Kerrville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches and your kidneys are weak you will find no better recommended remedy.

Joseph Surber, retired farmer, Kerrville, says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they have done me a lot of good. My kidneys were out of order and I had backaches. I felt dull and out of sorts as my kidneys didn't act right. Doan's Kidney Pills soon rid me of the trouble and put my kidneys in good shape."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Surber had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)

Finally Gets Change

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 25.—After waiting for his change for 27 years, Charles Wagner, a Spokane dairy man, has received a check for $9.60 from the Federal Government.

In 1895 Wagner filed on a homestead near Post Falls, Idaho. The land office was in doubt as to the filing fee, and requested that Wagner pay a sum considerably in excess of usual requirements. He was told that the Government would reimburse him, should it be found he had paid too much. Recently he was notified to file his claim for $9.60, and today he had the check.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
J. GRADY TIMMONS

On last Tuesday the Woman's Missionary Society met in regular devotional study. The topics of study had to do with the second and third chapters of St. Mark's Gospel. There are only two main divisions in those two chapters: The entire second chapter and the first six verses of the third have to do with the growth of Pharisaic opposition. Jesus is working in the province of Galilee, principally around and in Capernaum. His masterly achievements, His demonstration of the office of the Great Physician, His defiance of the old rabbinical system which had so long held the people in a slavery of legalism stripped of all spirituality. All this provoked the wrath and fierce opposition to Jesus on the part of the masters of religion. The second division covers the remaining verses of the third chapter and has to do with Jesus' choosing of His disciples. How carefully He went about selecting His friends who were to be His special care during those three years of toil and labor. He selected twelve men, but we would not have chosen the personnel for a similar great movement had the matter been left to us. The method that Jesus used is the method of failure so far as human judgment is concerned. We would have gathered the outstanding and most representative men of the community, but not so Jesus. We would have selected for temporary success, but Jesus selected for permanent success. Here we can find the best illustration of the difference between the mind of the Secer and that of the Timeserver.

On next Sunday, March 5th, the Methodist people and all others who worship with us will have the pleasure, profit and delight of hearing Dr. Le Blanc. He will fill the pulpit at the Methodist Church at the 11 o'clock service. Dr. Le Blanc is a minister of the Episcopal Church and one of the strong men of that denomination. We are fortunate to have him with us on this occasion and our people will be delighted. He has a pleasing appearance, a charming personality, and is a very forceful speaker.

On last Sunday Mrs. Davis, the wife of Rev. H. I. Daviss, our local preacher, united with our church by letter. We are glad and pleased to have Mrs. Davis with us and we welcome her to all our privileges.

The Sunday School League in its basket ball schedule seems to be pretty evenly matched. All the contesting teams were tied up after the game on Monday night. Each team has a league standing of 500 per cent with three more games to be played. This means that each team has two games each remaining, and it further means that the team which wins the league championship must win both its remaining games. The situation as it now stands may mean that a post-season series will be necessary to determine the winner.

In spite of the weather conditions on last Sunday we had a fine day, and splendid congregations at both services. During the day we had the sad duty of performing a funeral service for Mr. Settoon, a patient at the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium, who died Saturday night. The body was shipped on the afternoon train for Houston. The writer was assisted by Dr. G. M. Macdougall, chaplain of the local Legion Post. We extend to the family and friends our deepest sympathy.

The program for next Sunday is as follows:

Sunday School meets at the usual hour, 9:45 a. m.
Preaching service at 11 o'clock. Dr. LeBlanc will preach as announced above.
The Junior League meets at 3:30 p. m.; the Senior League at 7 p. m.; Marshall Leazar, president.
Evening worship at 7:30 o'clock. Subject: "Sifted as Wheat."

To all these services we invite the public to be with us and enjoy our fellowship and share our worship.

Lenten Services

There will be services in the Episcopal Church during Lent, beginning with a 10 o'clock service of Ash Wednesday, March 1st. The Rev. N. Le Blanc will assist the Rector at these services, and also other clergymen. The Rev. J. Grady Timmons will speak at the Friday evening service next week. All are invited to attend. Services on Mondays and Wednesdays at 5 p. m., and Fridays at 7:30 p. m.

RATIFICATION IN SIGHT

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: It would seem that the United States Senate is going to ratify the treaties growing out of the Arms Conference without material reservations.

The vote of the Foreign Relations Committee, in which only Senators Johnson and Borah, Republicans, and Shields, Democrat, were recorded as opposed to a favorable report on the four-power treaty, would indicate that while the opposition may be of a character as to be embarrassing to Republican party unity it cannot defeat ratification.

We are taking it for granted that there will be no formidable Democratic opposition. Reservations may be offered by individual Democrats and speeches may be made to illustrate the inconsistency of the Republicans in asking for ratification of these treaties without reservations in view of the manner in which they treated the Treaty of Versailles, but when it comes to a show-down we expect the Democrats to vote for ratification.

When these treaties are out of the way, it is to be hoped that the Administration will begin to show a more definite and firmer policy with respect to world affairs.

For ratification of these treaties will mark real progress, and having defied the Borah-Johnson coalition once the Administration may not be quite as afraid of its opposition in the future.

Start the raising of pigs, if you are not already at it. Also keep a cow—or several of them—and a flock of hens and turkeys.

The increased price for cattle, sheep and goats, as well as higher prices for wool and mohair, incline the people of this section to a tariff on these home products.

The moisture was badly needed, but could not get along without the sleet and cold snap. However, this section is one of the least injured by the stringent times we have had.

Kerrville people ought to keep a closer tab on charity extended. There have been some professional beggars working the people here the past year, and a stop should be put to it. Charity, when deserved, ought to be extended, but the people should know when it is needed. Make an investigation before contributing to these demands.

Prosperity and the Guadalupe

Nobody can deny that times have been and are still pretty rocky. We are all looking for business to "pick up." The question is, how is it going to do it? Who is going to pick it up? How does the thing start, anyway? Who is going to start it? The general idea seems to be that somebody else, away off somewhere, is going to do something, somehow, someday, and all we have to do is just to lay quietly in the shade and when prosperity comes along somebody will put a whole lot of it in our vest pocket and we won't have to even bat an eye.

This kind of philosophy though will never make any money for the baby. Each one of us will have to wake up, paw the air, scratch our heads, start something, do something, or that thing called "prosperity" will never know there is a burg called Kerrville on the map.

What is the best thing to do? We don't want to do anything bad or foolish. That would be worse than doing nothing. This question can be answered by the answer to another question: What is the greatest attraction that this community has, that draws to it people and money from all over the country? The answer is the Guadalupe River!

We have had the Guadalupe all these years. What shall we do with it? The Bible answers that. Genesis, 1st chapter and the 28th verse says to "Subdue it." Have we done that? Practically speaking, NO. How can we expect to be prosperous when we neglect to develop this great natural resource that we have right under our nose? Suppose it was known positively that large pools of oil were within easy reach of the river in our community. We could hardly sleep at night waiting for the prosperity that would come pouring in on us. But what good would all this do us if the wells were never drilled? The Guadalupe is a greater blessing for us than an oil field would be. It will always be with us, and the oil would boom us for awhile and then leave us stranded.

Just stop to think a moment. What would Kerrville be without the Guadalupe? How many of our old and respected citizens, who pioneered and laid the foundation of our present community, how many of them would have stayed here if there had been no Guadalupe? Would we have any summer visitors or campers, who bring thousands of dollars to our community and continually add to our population, increasing land values, etc.? Would the Presbyterian Encampment be located here? Would the other great institutions that are located in our midst do so if it were not for the wonderful Guadalupe?

We are commanded to subdue this river. That means only one thing—dam it. Check and store the flood waters. We need more irrigated farms. We need cheap electric power and need it bad. And this is not going to cost a whole lot of money. Not at the start. The idea is not to try to build a half million dollar dam right now. Select a suitable location within a few miles of Kerrville, preferably a place where a bridge is needed, for a start. Build a simple concrete retaining wall about ten feet high across the river. On the upstream side make a fill of gravel, etc., to the height of the wall and wide enough for a roadway. Just underneath the roadway place several strings of about 12-inch concrete tiling to carry the ordinary flow of the river. This will leave the roadway dry. This will answer for both a roadway and a dam, and will make sufficient head of water for power purposes.

A small dam like this will combine the waters of say three of the large pools such as we have near Kerrville and will make a presentable lake. And let me add right now, as soon as we get that lake I am going to strain a peg to be the proud owner of a small motor boat—I am going to enjoy life.

I always have wanted to live near a large body of water so I could have a motor boat, and if we do not have such a thing here before long I am going to sell out and move where there is such a lake or river. Of course, this is no argument as far as I am concerned—you would all probably be glad to see me go, but I am not the only pebble on the beach. You have a great many more young people here who are going to grow up and leave if things are not made more attractive and interesting for them. For a community to prosper you have not only to attract new settlers, but you have to hold what you have.

Then look at all the fine fishing we would have, especially when we get a dozen or more nice lakes. Plenty of cat fish ought to deal the old H. C. L. a death blow. Kerr County, with Kerrville as the center, would become the playground of Texas.

Since the year 1900 there have been great improvements made in water turbines for the generation of electric power. At that date turbines were only from 48 to 78 per cent efficient now they are as high as 90 to 93 per cent. In other words, a few years ago water power competing with cheap fuels might not have been a practical thing for Kerrville, but now with the highly efficient water power machinery and high priced fuel, freight rates, threats of railroad and coal strikes, etc., it has become almost a necessity.

In the years to come, if we were blessed with cheap electric power from our river, we could operate all our stationary machinery, our city delivery trucks and most of our autos could have electric storage batteries, charged over night by water power; we could throw our kerosene cook stoves over the back fence and cook by electricity; then when John D. puts the price of oil up we could tell him to go to thunder. Should we have another war this community would not be a drain on the rest of the United States as far as fuel is concerned. The oil fields could send all their products to the front to help win the fight. So this is a patriotic thing to do also—subdue the Guadalupe.

This, of course, is not just my idea, we have all thought of the proposition at different times. I am just agitating the scheme a little. I would like to know who is for it and who is "against" it. Now, who has the bright idea that will really start the ball rolling and give us a lake of water by summer that we will be proud of? Let us have it.

Walter Schreiner came in from his ranch on the Divide Tuesday morning, and he reported it only two above and snow covering the ground. He expects considerable damage to cattle, sheep and goats that are in poor condition and not under shelter.

The American Legion Auxiliary met last Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Elsie Johnston. Routine business was transacted and much new business discussed. Plans for a big dance and card party, immediately after Easter, were discussed. A committee, consisting of Mesdames Doyle and Kahlmann and Miss Kate Renschel, was appointed to confer with the American Legion in regard to a joint club room and meeting place. The next meeting will be held Saturday, March 11th, with Miss Kate Renschel.

The Women's Society of the Presbyterian Church held an enjoyable meeting Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. A. T. Adkins. An interesting Bible lesson was led by Mrs. J. D. Jackson. A salad course was served during the social hour.

Judge R. H. Burney heard habeas corpus argument Tuesday in cases of Lloyd and Alfred Blair of Real County. Sheriff M. M. Casey had the men here, and Judge Burney remanded them to the charge of the sheriff, to await action of the grand jury or other court proceedings.

Rachel, the baby daughter of Mrs. Mary Osborne, died in Dallas Wednesday of last week. The remains were shipped to Kerrville, arriving here last Friday noon. Mrs. Osborne accompanied the body. The funeral service was held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Richerson. The many friends of Mrs. Osborne deeply sympathize with her in her great sorrow. Mary Elizabeth, the 8-year-old daughter, was buried here just about two weeks ago. Mrs. Osborne will return to Dallas this week.

Mrs. Brownlee Hubbell of Edinburg was honor guest at a miscellaneous shower Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. Eastland, with Mesdames Eastland, LeRoy Garrett and Henry Henke as joint hostesses. Mrs. Hubbell was, before her marriage last Saturday, Miss Josie Bee Newman, one of Kerrville's most popular girls, loved and admired by all who knew her in the years that she made her home here. The invited guests to the shower included her most intimate friends, and as a feature of the afternoon's entertainment each guest hemmed a cup towel which was presented to the honoree. The house was attractive in its decorations of ferns and pink geraniums, used in profusion throughout the rooms. A salad course with cake and coffee was served. Mrs. Hubbell was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

R. J. Wiggins of Winnsboro, La., who has been here spending several weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Wiggins, has returned to Haynesville, La., to work.

Guy Hyde and Mrs. Arthur Hyde of the Divide came down Monday to spend the night with Mrs. Jonas, her sister, but on account of the severe weather they remained over until Wednesday.

NICE LITTLE RECORD

Salt Lake Tribune: Copper's Weekly, one of the publications of the Kansas Senator, calls attention to the fact that while the United States has only 6 per cent of the population of the world, and only 7 per cent of the land, we produce: 25 per cent of the world's gold; 25 per cent of the world's wheat; 40 per cent of world's iron; 40 per cent of world's lead; 40 per cent of world's silver; 50 per cent of world's zinc; 52 per cent of world's cotton; 60 per cent of world's copper; 60 per cent of world's aluminum; 65 per cent of world's oil; 75 per cent of autos. We also refine 80 per cent of the copper and operate 40 per cent of the world's railroads. Before the war, we owed nations only $5,000,000,000. We have not only paid this debt, but foreign nations now owe us $10,000,000,000. We now hold the largest gold reserve of any nation in the world.

YOUR TOWN

American Legion Weekly: Make of me what you will—I shall reflect you as clearly as a mirror thrown back a candle beam. If I am pleasing to the eye of the stranger within my gates; if I am such a sight as, having seen me, he will remember me all his days as a thing of beauty, the credit is yours. Ambition and opportunity call some of my sons and daughters to high tasks and mighty privileges to my great honor and to my good repute in far places, but it is not chiefly these who are my strength. My strength is in those who remain, who are content with what I can offer them, and with what they can offer me. It was the greatest of all Romans who said: "Better be first in a little Iberian village than be second in Rome." I am more than wood and brick and stone, more even than flesh and blood—I am the composite soul of all who call me Home. I am your town.

Twelve specimens of the common wood borer ant of Hawaii, placed in virtually hermetically sealed glass at 11 years ago, in the Bishop Museum of Honolulu, have grown to a colony of between 25 and 30, without air or water and on a diet of wood only.

THE AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY IS NOT A CHARITY ORGANIZATION

We wish to correct the rapidly growing impression that the American Legion Auxiliary of Garrett-Baker Post, No. 13, is a charity organization.

Our work is entirely with the ex-service men and their families. What we do for them is never charity. It is simply the duty of this organization, and our pleasure to assist them in every problem that may confront them.

We urge all ex-service men to call upon our Auxiliary whenever we can be of any assistance whatever.

An overflow house greeted Rev. W. P. Dickey last Sunday night in response to the invitation to members of the Presbyterian Men's Club, for all to be present with their wives or friends. Dr. Dickey preached an able sermon on "A Man's Religion," in which he brought out clearly the obligation on the men of the world in carrying forward the religion of Jesus Christ. The singing, furnished by the Men's Club Glee Club, was very fine.

Edwards County Echoes

Leader, Feb. 24: G. M. Doyle, the Kerrville music dealer, is in Rock-springs this week.

Mrs. Lon R. Smart was taken to the Kerrville Hospital this week, where she underwent an operation. She is reported to have stood it well, and to be doing nicely.

Affairs are now looking up in Edwards County, regardless of the fact that we have had no rain since September. The stock are doing better than might be expected, and the shearers are getting busy on a good crop of wool and mohair, for which there is a strong market. And other developments are serving to chase away the gloom and business dullness that has prevailed in this section for months. We are starting to build roads, with good prospects that there will be no let up until all the main highways in the county are made good. This road building should go a long way towards reviving business. And then there is to be some resumption of building operations here at Rock-springs, and this will help. Some citizens have argued that Edwards County is too thinly settled to justify us in going to a big expense in building good roads. We do not agree with this and believe good roads will be worth all they cost us, even with conditions as they are. Of course, this is a stock country and can never be as thickly settled as a farming country, but there is room for a considerably larger population than we have. A family can do very well here raising stock on three sections of land, or if there is some land on the place that can be planted to feed a family could do very well with one section. We have here today one section ranchmen that have more money and are happier than the twenty section ranchmen. Our larger land owners should cut up the ranches to provide homes for more citizens. This would enable them to get out of debt. Interest is the thing that bids fair to ruin us—it is the curse that tends to drive bug-house more than a few ranchmen and other folks that tried to do too much. Happiness is not measured by the size of a man's possessions.

Misses Edith Ramba and Lesie Merritt of Bandera were visiting friends and relatives here last Saturday.

Rev. Carl, pastor of the Methodist Church at Bandera, accompanied by his sister, were visitors here last Friday and Saturday.

Miss Joe Davenport, from the Davenport Ranch twelve miles south of town, was attending to business in our little city Monday.

F. C. Nelson, manager of the Center Point Mercantile Company, made a business trip to San Antonio last Thursday, returning Friday.

Mrs. J. H. Surber and Mrs. Ida Pentecost, from near Bandera, are spending a few days here visiting in the home of Mrs. Surber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Witt. Mrs. Surber will put her son, Leonard, in school here for the balance of the term.

A letter was received this week by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Burney from their son, Capt. Joel R. Burney, who has been for the past two years and six months with the American Expeditionary Forces in Germany, stating that he would sail for America about the 9th of March. He expects to be at home some time in April, provided his plans do not miscarry.

We have had a variety of weather down here of late. We have had eight-tenths of an inch of rain this week, which saves our grain crop. We are now having the coldest weather of the entire winter, which will no doubt save our fruit crop, driving the sap back and preventing the trees from blooming so early. The rain also will prevent the col. 1 from killing the grain, as it likely would have done if it had been dry.

J. H. Powell, an old and highly respected citizen of our town, died here last Friday at 11 a. m. Mr. Powell was born in Williamson County, Kentucky, in 1833, being in his 89th year. He moved with his parents to Tennessee in 1863, from which State he came to Texas in 1877 and settled in Bandera County, five miles east of the town of Bandera. He moved to Center Point in 1886, where he has since made his home. He married Miss Annie E. Coffey in 1866. To this union were born three daughters: Mrs. Emma T. Barnes of Bandera, Mrs. Allie McElroy and Miss Jennie Powell of Center Point. The funeral was held Saturday from the family residence at 1 o'clock. Interment was made in the Center Point Cemetery beside his wife, who preceded him some eight years.

$2 APPORTIONMENT TO BE MADE FOR EACH SCHOLASTIC

Austin, Tex., Feb. 24.—The State Board of Education today decided to make an apportionment of $2 for each scholastic on March 1st. The per capita for this year is $13, and this apportionment leaves $9.50 yet to be paid.

"On account of the stringent financial conditions throughout the State, the amount received to the credit of the available school fund in the State Treasury at this date is considerably less than during former years," the Board of Education announced.

"This is probably due, not so much to delinquency in the payment of taxes, as the failure of the tax collectors to make prompt reports.

"The apportionment last year was $14.50 per capita, and on March 1, $7.50 of this amount had been sent to the counties and independent school districts."

Basket Ball Games

Who said the Sunday School League couldn't play basket ball? If you will look at the per cent of each team given below, you will see whether they are well matched.

The weather has not been very favorable, but the good fans do not let a little bad weather stop them, and the games have been very well attended.

The Presbyterians beat the Baptists by a score of 15 to 10 on Thursday evening of last week, and the Methodists kept the Baptists on the toboggan Monday evening by defeating them 11 to 10, thus giving each team a standing of .500.

A monstrous fish, of a species unknown to science, has been caught in the Amite River of Louisiana. The fish is remarkable in that in place of a mouth it takes nourishment through a cauliflower formation under its throat. It has no jaw or opening of any kind in its head, except two small double nostrils high on its head, and a pair of minute eyes. It has a backbone wit vertebrae, two small fins and a smooth body.

B. J. STEWART CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION AS REPRESENTATIVE

In this week's issue of The Sun appears the announcement of Hon. B. J. Stewart as a candidate for Representative from this district, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Stewart is the present incumbent of that office and he believes that his record entitles him to re-election to the place for a second term. Mr. Stewart has worked hard to qualify himself in every way to represent the people of this district. He was reared within its limits and understands its needs.

During the last sessions of the Legislature he took an active part in helping repeal the motor vehicle law. He was one of the conservative majority that voted against all measures that raised the rate of taxation; he always voted to abolish or consolidate overlapping boards and commissions; he consistently fought for all measures beneficial to his own district, and he worked ceaselessly and effectively to establish as a great and permanent institution the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium.

Mr. Stewart will return in May from Lebanon, Tenn., where he is taking a special course in law, and hopes to meet the people of Kerr County before the primary, and he asks that in the meantime his candidacy for re-election receive the thoughtful consideration of the readers of The Sun.

Tivy Grammar School

February being the birth month of two of our most noted Presidents and patriots, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, and "The Children's Poet," Henry W. Longfellow, the lives and characters of these great men were discussed in each room and their birthdays fittingly celebrated.

Last Friday the Primary Grades marched into the Auditorium at 11:30 a. m. and heard two splendid talks on the lives of two of our local great men, who were also born in February—Captain Tivy, by Miss Millie Holdsworth, and Capt. Chas. Schreiner, by one of the teachers.

The Most Important Room in the House

THERE are any number of conveniences that help to make the home more livable, but the well equipped Bathroom is the most important requirement to make the house comfortable.

People used to believe that installing a bathroom—one that was modern and convenient—could not be done without spending a lot of money.

That is not true today. It is no longer necessary for you and your family to deny yourselves the comfort of a modern bathroom.

If your bathroom is not what you would like it to be, call us on the telephone or drop in at our office and let us show you the possibilities of installing modern fixtures and plumbing in your home. The cost will probably be less than you expect.

ROCK THAT CAN BE SAWED

Oregon Product That Would Seem to Have Peculiar and Most Valuable Properties.

Tufa, a volcanic ash rock, with properties possessed by no other stone, is being quarried near the town of Mount Angel, Ore., the only place in the United States where it has been found in sufficient quantities for commercial use. The stone is first blasted out and is then hauled to a mill and handled like lumber. It is cut into blocks or "boards" of any desired dimensions. Saws, planers and drills are used on it exactly as in a lumber or planing mill. The finished product closely resembles lumber, but is cut only in short lengths. It is a light-gray color, with spots of white running through it, and weighs only 80 pounds to the cubic foot, about one-half the weight of common building stone.

A peculiar characteristic of the Oregon tufa is that it can be nailed. Nails are driven into it as easily as into oak and other hardwoods, but are harder to pull out. Tufa furniture, nailed together, has been used experimentally. It is regularly used for fence posts, moldings, sills and many other purposes where nailing is required. Recently it has been discovered that when pulverized it makes a soft, velvety powder which is an excellent filler for rubber. It is predicted that it will supplant all other materials for this purpose, thus utilizing the refuse.—Horace E. Thomas in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WHEN ROMANS RULED PARIS

"Nothing has been spared to make the Palais des Thermes a truly splendid abode. An aqueduct brought pure and wholesome water from the springs of Rungis, that is, about three leagues from the center of Paris. For the longest part of its course it was underground, but it crossed the valley of Arcueil by a series of high arches, some foundations of which time has respected, admirably constructed and finished like the walls of the hall of Thermes."—De Guilhermy.

N. B.—The Roman remains, always known as Palais des Thermes, in the garden adjoining the Hotel de Clugny, probably belong to buildings erected A. D. 300, when Paris was a Gallo-Roman town, by Constantius Chlorus. It has been sometimes affirmed that Emperor Julian the Apostate was proclaimed and resided here, but it is far more probable that he lived on the island in the Seine, and that these buildings were simply those of magnificent baths. The most perfect part of the baths is a great hall, decided to have been the frigidarium, which is exceedingly massive and majestic; of the tepidarium, only the ruined walls remain.—"Walks in Paris," Augustus J. C. Hare.

Too Much Expected of Milk

The use of milk as a food has been so extensively exploited by the milk interests that there exists a somewhat erroneous idea about it which a recent speaker, before the American Pediatric Society, is endeavoring to correct. These errors principally concern the group of children between the ages of one and six years. These errors might be classified under the headings: 1. Prolonged use of milk as an exclusive article of diet. 2. Increased quantities of milk given along with other foods. Milk might not only be used too long as an exclusive article of diet and in excessive quantities with other foods, but its nutritional value might be injured by boiling. The latter were taught, and rightly so, that milk was an ideal breeding place for germs, and that the growth of these germs might be inhibited by keeping the milk on ice or the milk might be brought to a boil. The use of boiled milk was becoming more prevalent and many injuries to nutrition occurred.

Measure Your Figure.

A Brazilian art scholar claims to have discovered how the old masters of painting and sculpture worked. He has taken the pictures and shown, by drawing lines and angles on them, how the artists gave their compositions strictly mathematical foundations.

Ancient Egyptian artists had a rule of proportions based on the length of the middle finger, the distance of which was contained 19 times in the length of the whole body.

Greek artists adopted these proportions until it was established that the face must be a tenth part and the head an eighth part of the total height of the body. The face was divided into three equal parts—from the roots of the hair to the root of the nose; from the root of the nose to its point, and from the end of the nose to the chin.

Safe by That Time.

"Nice children you have. Which is this?"
"The fifth."
"He seems to be the healthiest looking of the lot."
"Yes, by the time he came along his mother had run out of theories."—Boston Transcript.
