MARTIN DIES SUCCUMBED AFTER A SHORT ILLNESS

Ex-Congressman From the Second District Died in Kerrville Thursday of Last Week.

Just as The Sun was ready for the press last week it was learned that Ex-Congressman Martin Dies had died at 3:15 Thursday morning, and only a few lines announcing his death could be gotten in the paper.

There was a short funeral service at the family residence at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Thursday, conducted by Rev. J. G. Timmons, pastor of the Methodist Church here, as deceased had formerly been a member of that church. Quite a number of friends attended the funeral and the remains were then carried to San Antonio by the Ward Undertaking Company and shipped to Houston, where burial took place Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The funeral cortege was accompanied to San Antonio by M. F. Weston and Gus F. Schreiner.

The Sun reproduces articles from Beaumont and Houston papers relative to Ex-Congressman Dies, which were penned by those better acquainted with him than we, and also much able to do the subject justice. However, we desire to state that there is much sadness in this section over the untimely and unexpected death of Judge Dies. He had undergone an operation for appendicitis, but that did not cause his death as two or three complications were found, either of which, it is stated, would have been fatal.

The Sun extends sincere sympathy to the family and relatives.

Those attending the funeral here were Tom and Jack Dies, two of his three brothers; his son, Martin Dies Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. J. B. Burns Mrs. Dies and son.

Houston Post, July 14th: A summary of Mr. Dies' life and of the high lights in his career is given by a writer in his "home town" paper, the Beaumont Enterprise, who says:

Martin Dies was born in Jackson Parish, La., March 13, 1870, the son of David Warren and Sarah Jane Dies. When about 6 years old he came to Texas and lived in various parts of Southeast Texas, working on railroads, in sawmills, teaching school, running a newspaper, reading law and finally practicing law. He was admitted to the bar in 1892 while living at Woodville, where he began the practice. In 1894 he was elected County Judge of Tyler County. Later he moved to Beaumont and was District Judge of the First Judicial District in 1898. This district was then composed of a number of East Texas counties, including Jefferson.

When the Spanish-American War came on in 1898 Mr. Dies was one of the most enthusiastic volunteers and joined Company D, Third Texas Regiment of Volunteers, originally the Beaumont Light Guards. He went with the company to the mobilization camp in Austin and remained there a week or longer. Conditions at the camp convinced him that he would not be able to stand the life of a soldier and it had then become apparent that there were dozens of volunteers for every opening. His younger brother, Jack Dies, was then attending the University of Texas and Martin persuaded Jack to join the company and he retired before the company was mustered into service. It was characteristic of Martin Dies that he secured someone to fill his place before he obtained his own consent to return home.

In Congress Five Terms
Before his term as District Attorney expired Mr. Dies resigned and resumed the practice of law in Beaumont. In 1906 he conducted the campaign of Hon. S. B. Cooper for Congress from the Second District and was one of the factors that returned Mr. Cooper to his old seat in Congress after he had been out two years. In 1908 Mr. Dies became a candidate for Congress against Mr. Cooper and defeated him. He was subsequently re-elected to Congress from this district until he retired at the close of his fifth term in 1918. He entered the race for Congress in 1920 but withdrew shortly afterward.

During the latter years of his service in Congress Mr. Dies had acquired a small farm in Tyler County on Turkey Creek, and when he finished his congressional career he retired to this farm and declared he expected to spend his remaining days there. About a year ago his health began failing and he purchased a home in and removed to Kerrville. Within the last few months he formed a law partnership with his son, Martin Dies Jr., and Mr. Stephenson. The firm was Dies, Dies & Stephenson, with offices in Orange. He maintained his residence in Kerrville, however, and when he became ill in Houston about two weeks ago he was taken to Kerrville.

HARPER BARBECUE LARGELY ATTENDED; GRAND SUCCESS

The editor of The Sun had the pleasure of attending the annual barbecue last Saturday at Harper. This was made possible through the kind invitation of F. E. Garrett, local representative of the Collins Company, wholesale grocers. Those accompanying us were Raymond Fisk and Earl Tullis.

This was our first trip to the Harper section, and every mile of the beautiful scenery between here and there was highly enjoyed. Upon arrival at the barbecue grounds, at the edge of Harper, we found acres of autos, wagons and buggies, while people dotted the valley and hillsides in every direction. The crowd was estimated at 3,000 and was the largest we have seen in this section.

One of the first places visited was the pits where the meat was being barbecued. These were deep and filled with live coals of fire, the heat wafting through green poles on which lay the meat, and it looked appetizing. The barbecuing of the meat and correct seasoning were realized when the time came to eat it.

The women and children were first allowed at the tables, built in a hollow square, and accommodating nearly a thousand people at one time. When our time arrived, we were fortunate in finding Mr. and Mrs. H. Kuhlmann of this city at the table, and the former supplied some choice barbecued beef and the latter loaned us a cup and had it filled with good coffee, and fine bread and pickles completed the repast. This coffee, by the way, was donated by the Collins Company, who represent the Cheek-Neal Coffee Company, manufacturers of the Maxwell House Coffee. It was indeed fine. Mr. Kuhlmann worked a little strategy on the meat carvers, but we considered it admissible under the circumstances, as he certainly secured some of the choicest cuts, cooked to a nicety.

There was speaking in the forenoon by candidates from San Antonio, and in the afternoon, Dr. MacBeth spoke in favor of prohibition and Governor Neff, and Judge H. C. Geddie made an excellent short talk on the necessity of law enforcement, and also in behalf of a friend for United States Senator. The remainder of the afternoon was taken up with speeches by county candidates and dancing by the young people, and at night the latter were expected to hold forth unmolesied.

The music was furnished by the Fredericksburg Orchestra, and it was excellent.

The writer regrets that the names of those responsible for this huge and well managed barbecue could not be obtained, but it would not be far amiss to give the people of the whole community the credit, as they all vied in making the stranger feel at home, and to see that every one had plenty to eat.

It was a well dressed, healthy looking crowd, and averaged well in presenting a most creditable appearance. They are a fine lot of people in the Harper section, and no prettier spot could be secured to hold a barbecue than that pecan grove.

Upon our return, Mr. Garrett brought us by way of Morris Ranch, that celebrated 16,000-acre body of land. We saw many pretty, well-cultivated farms before reaching Morris Ranch, and after going through that could attest there were fine crops of cotton and corn in that section. At the store on Morris Ranch we had the pleasure of meeting Manager Bierschwale and son, and regret we could not remain longer and listen to the interesting reminiscences of the former. We trust at some time soon to visit Morris Ranch and write something of its history and possessions.

CAPPER TELLS BENEFIT OF FARM BLOC TO U. S. PEOPLE

Kansas Senator Outlines What Group
Has Done and What It Hopes to Accomplish.

For many years the United States Government has been content to let agriculture take care of itself. There has been no National policy of a constructive nature. Farmers have gone on producing under many handicaps that might easily have been removed. The result has been disaster that in the last two years has overtaken the farmers, causing billions of dollars in losses by shrinkage in the value of farm products, and has been seriously detrimental to business throughout the land. Agriculture has been brought to a point where its future is in peril, where it is bound to go backward unless real relief is forthcoming.

The need of a constructive National program looking to the rehabilitation of agriculture is regarded by the farm bloc as imperative. I think that fact is appreciated by business men as well as by farmers. It is generally accepted that prosperity must come first to the farms before it can prevail in the city.

Farming is the only business left that buys at retail and sells at wholesale; that pays what is asked when it buys and accepts what is offered when it sells. The farmer remains merely a producer of the necessities of human life. After he has produced them other organizations take them over at their own price for distribution. This is true of no other important industry. The producer gets but one-third of every dollar paid by the consumer for the products of the farm. Our expensive and antiquated marketing system takes the other two-thirds.

Small Farms Needed
The unfavorable conditions under which agriculture has been struggling has wrought serious changes in it. The hazards of the business have driven out owners and brought in tenants. Tenancy is increasing every year, and this is a menace to the Nation, because it means, in the final analysis, that soil rapidly is being depleted, and little is being done on many acres to build up fertility. The average renter is not a soil improver.

Farms are growing larger because land is steadily passing into the hands of capitalists and investors. The number of renters has not increased so far as the number of acres they lease. While the proportion of rented farms increased 3 per cent between 1910 and 1920, the increase in acres rented during the same period has been 20 per cent. This Nation needs more small farms tilled by the owners of the land.

American agriculture has become the football of the market manipulator and the market gambler, the legitimate good thing of the organized buyer and the organized seller, until at last it is breaking under the strain. Both producer and consumer are suffering from a marketing and distributing system fifty years behind the times, the only difference being that the producer on the farm is suffering from it a little more at the present time than usual because we are in the throes of a readjustment. He parts with his product long before the consumer sees them or needs them. A host of toll and profit takers meanwhile busy themselves with these products, transferring them from hand to hand and absorbing as much profit as they wish their skill at that sort of thing are able to extract from the marketing business.

Farmers Needed
We have just recently learned that for the first time in history we have more people working in factories than on our farms, although our population is increasing at the rate of one million a year. A study of the census returns show that agriculture has been the only interest to decline. In the last decade employment in manufacturing increased 20 per cent. The professions all show a healthy growth. But we are not keeping the boys and girls on the farm and we are not going to until the conditions of the agricultural industry makes it worth while for them to stay there.

The enactment of constructive, wholesome, progressive legislation which will bring about a strong game for the locals.

sarily an exclusive position, is the mission of the so-called farm bloc in Congress. As a member of that body, I think I may say with perfect candor that there is nothing dark, sinister nor forbidding in its make-up or its purposes. It is not a political adventurer, its mission is economic rather than political. It is for things rather than against them, for the city man as well as the country man. The reason for the bloc's existence is a desire to serve the people and the Nation in a time of need. It is working for honest industry, honest finance, honest commerce, honest agriculture, honest labor, and wishes to co-operate with a program in which agriculture occupies a leading though not necessarily one of these, for they are the cornerstone on which we shall erect a truly prosperous Nation.

President Approves
The men making up the so-called agricultural bloc are not so fatuous as to believe that the remedy for the distressing condition in the agricultural districts today lies wholly in

KERRVILLE WINS EASILY AT BOERNE SUNDAY, 10 TO 1

The Athletics, with a mixed line-up, went to Boerne last Sunday and pounded out a victory, 10 to 1. Boerne sent a lad named Lawhorn to the mound, but he did little more than entertain the visitors. Barry was in good form and would have registered a shut-out but for an error made by himself. He rested his right arm in the ninth inning, pitching left handed, and striking out two men.

The Boerne team as a whole should not be judged by this game. The Athletics are no respecters of pitchers this year, as others have been treated the same as was Lawhorn. His support, in both the in and outfield, was good. Against a team less industrious with their bats and with a pitcher less efficient than Barry they can no doubt render a good account of themselves.

A young man named Rhenhart umpired very efficiently and the Athletics were very favorably impressed with his work. The attendance was not encouraging; the Boerne team deserves better home support. Next Sunday the Athletics go to Schwab Field in San Antonio and face the Indians. The regular line-up will be without Keusel, Garcia or Rowton. Arrangements are being made to fill these positions without using any San Antonio players. With Barry in form there is no reason to assume that the Athletics cannot win this game. The boys have batted against the pitchers the Indians have on the pay-roll and will make it interesting for any one of them. On the defense there will be very little difference, man for man.

The boys should have a following of fans in the stands to cheer them to victory.

FREDERICKSBURG SECONDS BEAT KERRVILLE DITTO

Bill Saenger for the Kerrville Second Team and Vitfeld for a like aggregation from Fredericksburg staged a pitcher's battle Sunday at the Fair Grounds. But for errors behind Bill there would have been no result in runs. Each pitcher was touched for 4 safeties.

Thirty men faced Vitfeld and he struck out fifteen of them, while Bill whiffed ten of thirty-seven. The visitors made four errors which were not costly, while Kerrville made five. One of the later with two hits and a passed ball let in two runs, while a combination of weird plays let in the third.

The final score was three runs on the visitor's side of the sheet. Jess Holleman caught Saenger, while Hartmann received for Vitfeld.

Colored Teams Play Tie Game

The Kerrville Black Athletics played the Floresville Giants to a 3-3 score in nine innings last Sunday at the Fair Grounds.

Kerrville would have been beaten had the visitors provided a catcher who could hold their pitcher's speed. Many of his shots were so fast the catcher did not even touch them with his glove. This fault put men on the bases and permitted runs to score, for when the hurler slowed down he was in a timely fashion. Butler pitched a strong game for the locals.

ESTABLISHED 1869
KERRVILLE, TEXAS

NEARLY TWO MILLION POUNDS OF WOOL HANDLED IN KERRVILLE DURING SPRING SEASON OF 1922

The report of the wool handled by the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company during the spring season of 1922 is as follows:

12 months' wool, 25 cars, gross pounds	1,035,284
8 months' wool, 34 cars, gross pounds	963,420

Total of 12 and 8 months' wool, gross pounds 1,998,704

This is the largest accumulation of wool handled by any one firm in Texas, and brings the highest AVERAGE price of any sale made this season.

The Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company sold the remnants of their wool to C. D. Stokes, representing Winslow & Co., Boston.

The 12 months' wool averaged 44 7-8c, and the 8 months' wool averaged 39 54-100c.

Out of the entire accumulation only 61,379 pounds, or about 3 per cent, was rejected on account of being off grade, burry and dipped, and this was consigned to Boston to be scoured and sold.

This puts over $800,000.00 in circulation in Kerr and adjoining counties.

PRESBYTERIAN ENCAMPMENT FILLED AND RUNNING OVER

The management at Westminster Encampment have been doing well with their resources and facilities, but people are flocking there beyond the capacity of taking care of them, as well as the means to supply the facilities. Several hundred arrived in one day last week. Since then, people have had to be sent to nearby places, if they could be had. This is not an easy solution, because the other places are exhausted.

Our people are glad of the great success of the Encampment, but pride in this must be met with some solution of the situation that will meet the requirements. If the Presbyterian Synod cannot supply the necessary means, Kerrville must aid in the undertaking to take care of those who desire to attend.

The program last Sunday was a very interesting one, there being a sermon in the morning and evening by Rev. Dr. Lingle. There was a large crowd at each service and they greatly enjoyed the soul-stirring discourses. Monday morning there was a hike by the Young People's Conference members. This Conference had three days interesting program and it closed Wednesday afternoon.

Tuesday night there was a reception tendered the camp by the Austin College Club, which was a very enjoyable affair.

The Sunday School Conference is in session now, and is proving very enjoyable to those participating, as well as spectators.

BAPTISTS WILL MEET AT ALTO FRIO AUGUST 1

Uvalde, Tex., July 16.—The third annual Baptist Encampment will be held August 1st to 11th, inclusive, at Alto Frio, a few miles north of Uvalde. The committee says it will be the largest encampment ever held in this part of the State. Last year more than 3,000 persons were in attendance and provisions are being made to accommodate at least 5,000 this year.

Alto Frio is a beautiful mountain resort, located near the Uvalde-Real County line, 2,000 feet above sea level.

Since the close of last encampment, many improvements have been made on the grounds. The committee in charge has spared no effort in providing facilities for the accommodation of the large number of people who will attend. Improvements have been made in the assembly and class room pavilions, sleeping quarters and dining hall. The grounds have also been looked after and nothing will be found lacking to make it a place of pastime and recreation, and for the enjoyment of a ten days' outing in a wholesome and profitable manner.

KERRVILLE BOY KILLED IN SOUTHERN PACIFIC WRECK

Word reached M. B. Cochran of this city Wednesday of last week that his son, Martin Bruce Cochran, had been killed in a train wreck on the Southern Pacific, near El Paso on Tuesday.

Young Cochran had joined the United States Army and was a member of the cavalry forces at Fort Bliss. He was on a trip with some other soldiers and was returning home at the time he received the injuries, which resulted in his death within a few hours, as both legs and one arm were broken, while other serious injuries were inflicted by the train wreck.

The remains were brought to Kerrville Friday of last week under escort of Sergeant Scofield, and the funeral took place from the residence of Mr. Cochran, the services being conducted by Rev. J. G. Timmons. A large number of friends attended the funeral and accompanied the remains to Glen Rest Cemetery.

Mr. Cochran and family have the sympathy of many friends in the sudden and unexpected death of the young man, who had only recently been amongst us.

SUMMER CAMPERS

The popularity of the Catholic Girls Summer Camp in Kerrville spread over varied and distant parts of Texas and Louisiana through the medium of satisfied patrons and the wide reading public of The Southern Messenger. Among recent boosters of Notre Dame Institute and of Kerrville are the following: Miss Loretta Brady, who left for La Marque on Thursday; Misses Helen Russi and Kathleen McBrearty, who left Saturday; Misses Irene Jungmann and Mary Ehler, who prolonged their stay till Monday. Newcomers are rapidly filling these vacancies. Miss Mary Foster returned to her home on Friday, and her younger sister, Annabelle, came up for the week-end.

Many parishioners have very kindly extended a most cordial hospitality and made themselves as helpful as they could to our transient guests. This must be said, among others, about Mesdames Laughman, Kuhlmann, Nyc, Newton, Granes, Power and Rogers. Their efforts to "keep the ball a-rolling" did not go unappreciated by the campers who enjoyed the crowded program arranged for their daily enjoyments.

Feasts, Swims, Picnics

Mrs. Jas. F. Rogers had seven auto loads of picnickers at her ranch home on Thursday. To enliven the games, she made sure of having plenty of musicians in the crowd.

On the previous evening three dozen campers, friends and parishioners held a splash party in an old swimming hole up the river. After this dip they made enough water-melons disappear to satisfy a plantation of pickaninies.

A theatre party was arranged for Monday night. Hikes and motor trips by day, card games and dances by night at Washington Hall or Lake Side Park consumed the remainder of the week. The socials were particularly attractive, not only on account of the large and jolly crowd, but also because of the good orchestra and the ice cold refreshments which the resident young folks liberally supplied for the strangers.

Personals

Clarence Mosele motored home with a couple of San Antonio campers on Sunday. He spent the afternoon with our baseball players in Boerne, helping the local nine to add new laurels to their wonderful record. Clarence and a couple of other Kerrvillites belong to the Ajax team in the metropolis.

On Friday the three little Saltzman children were taken to the Sunset depot in San Antonio and provided with a ticket to Maurpas, La., the home of their grandparents. St. Mary's Auxiliary was generously helped in this charitable work by the Civic Association so efficiently directed by Mrs. Lee Wallace.

Miss Alma Ruff followed the arrow (Cupid's arrow) to McAllen, Texas.

Another old student, Miss Meta Michon, has been enjoying herself at Yates in Kimble County.

The twin Voiss brothers, Henry and Willie, finished a round trip excursion through a section of Canada, which they toured by themselves over land, rail and water. Before leaving their Portland home, they equipped their aunt's house with radio communication.

Texas. He was twice married. His first wife was Mrs. Ollie Blackshear. Three daughters and one son were born of this marriage. The daughters are Mrs. Melzo Burge of this city, Mrs. J. B. Burns of Center, whose husband is a candidate for Congress, and Mrs. Eron Howard of San Antonio. The son is Martin Dies Jr. of Orange.

During his residence in Washington Mr. Dies was again married and this wife and her son survive. He is also survived by three brothers and three sisters. His brothers are Will W. Dies, lawyer, formerly County Judge of Hardin County, and now residing in Houston; Tom Dies, lawyer, and prominently identified with the Humble Company's legal department in Houston, and Jack Dies, formerly postmaster for Beaumont, and now with the Humble Company in Houston. The sisters are Mrs. H. B. Pedigo of Beaumont, Mrs. H. C. Shell and Mrs. Amos Rich of Houston.

One of the Most Brilliant

Martin Dies was one of the most brilliant of the many brilliant men of Southeast Texas. Roughing it, as it were, in his youthful days, he acquired an education, a quality of learning, a literary culture and a familiarity with history which distinguished him in Washington circles and elsewhere in the country where culture and intellectual ability find their best expression. He entered Congress with that enthusiasm which distinguished him in everything he undertook. He made an impression in that distinguished body from the very first.

Without superficial training in oratory he possessed the natural art of the orator, equally impressive at a backwoods gathering or able and forceful in the halls of Congress. He immediately attracted attention in Congress and before he had finished his first term it was the custom to fill the galleries whenever it was known that he was to make a speech. He was called upon to make speeches elsewhere in the North and he readily became a Nationally known Congressman. He was bold in his advocacy of causes in which he believed and it was his vigor and his striking method of espousing his subject that attracted wide interest.

Understood Human Nature

He was a diligent student, with particular reference to History. The depth of his learning, the breadth of his understanding and the marvelous ability to apply his acquired knowledge to current problems and questions was amazing to his friends and those who knew him in the days "back home." He was a master of wit in the truest sense which includes humor of expression and appreciation. He was a genius in an intellectual way. His mind flashed and sparkled with astonishing brilliance and at most unexpected times. He had that wonderful capacity for adapting himself to his environments. He understood human nature. He was equally attractive in a gathering of the natives in the piney woods, in the court room, in the hall of Congress or wherever gathered men with ears to hear and intellects to delight.

His brilliancy of intellect approached a high degree. Anything short of a studied analysis of his mind and character was likely to lead to the conclusion that he was erratic. Yet his mind was orderly and profound in its conceptions and conclusions. It was the flashing of his mind, the sparkle of his wit which bewildered those who observed him only casually.

He had a great heart and a courage such as is rarely seen. He was generous in his judgments, tolerant with the faults and errors of men. He loved and understood nature as but few men can and do. He was happily disposed, genial and cordial in his relations with his fellowman; kind to all creatures, uninfluenced by the possession or lack of worldly wealth, God-fearing and wholesome in all his deeds and actions.

Editorial Praises Dies

Editorially the paper says: If Martin Dies, eminent Texan and former Congressman for five successive terms from this district, who died in Kerrville yesterday, could revise the tributes deservedly to be paid to his personality and his political service, he probably would enter no objection to the use of the phrase, "The Old Guard dies, but never surrenders."

In his long labor for the public interest Martin Dies never surrendered. As a partisan he was one of the Old Guard, if not, in fact, the last of that great array of the earlier school of statesmen who stood four-square for the tenets of the fathers as embodied in the Constitution and in the earliest principles of democracy in government.

"Isms" were his especial aversion, and it may be truthfully said of him that he had none of these. Grounded in the fundamentals of the principles of the party to which he always acknowledged fealty, he opposed its departure into the highways of experimentation, just as he opposed paternalism in government, whether at the behest of this or that political faction. He believed in the rights of the State as a sovereign entity in the Union, he believed in the rights of the individual citizen as a unit of the State. He never was deflected nor swerved from his faith in those cardinal precepts, and it was his own boast that his retirement from public life was a voluntary protest against changes in conditions which he regarded as of inherent detriment to the State and Nation.

Personally loved by thousands, he retained to the day of his death the confidence and esteem and the respect of even those who differed with him. He was a man who had the courage of his convictions, who served his people with zealous fidelity so long as he felt he could serve them without violation of his own concepts of the duties of office, but who was big enough to refuse further honors when he felt himself out of consonance with the popular thought. Not many men are so constituted, and no higher tribute could be paid than to say of Martin Dies that he was an admirable member of the Old Guard of Southern Democracy, who fought unafraid, and always in the open, taking defeat as he so often took victory, without perturbation of spirit, confident in the certainty that right eventually would triumph, and that in that triumph he would find vindication of the things for which he so valiantly stood.

Houston Post, July 15th: Funeral services for Martin Dies, former Congressman, who died Thursday at Kerrville, were held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of his brother, Jack Dies, 2103 Crawford Street. Burial was in Glenwood Cemetery. John Henry Kirby, a lifelong friend of Mr. Dies, spoke briefly at the funeral services. "He was a man who could be relied upon in a crisis," Mr. Kirby declared, "and in his death the State has lost a useful and prominent citizen. He was a friends of the public and countless men, women and children of Texas have cause for grief."

COMPARETTE

The following obituary notice is published by request, and also because of the deceased being a brother of our fellow-townsmen, D. H. Comparetette, who is highly esteemed:

Dr. Comparetette had held the position of curator of the numismatic department of the United States Mint at Philadelphia since 1905. He was widely known for his knowledge of numismatics and was one of the first authorities on minting in the United States. He was a student at the University of Wooster, Ohio, 1889-92; received his A. B. degree from the University of Michigan in 1893; received his Ph. D. from the University of Chicago in 1901. Extensive studies abroad included the American School of Antiquities in Rome, 1901-2, the Universities of Halle and Berlin, 1903-4. He was professor of Greek and Latin in the Texas Christian University of Waco, Texas, from 1893-97.

He was a member of the American Association of Museums and the American Institute of Archeology as well as the University of Michigan Club and the Ohio Society of Philadelphia. He was a Master Mason and a member of the Congregational Church.

At the time of his death he was engaged in a study of the various coining systems of the world with a view to aiding the United States in bettering its system. He was an accomplished linguist and had mastered German, French, Italian and Spanish. His reading was confined largely to Greek and modern languages.

In the literary world he was known for his contribution of articles on Roman municipal and state administration and to researches in the history of commerce and coinage.

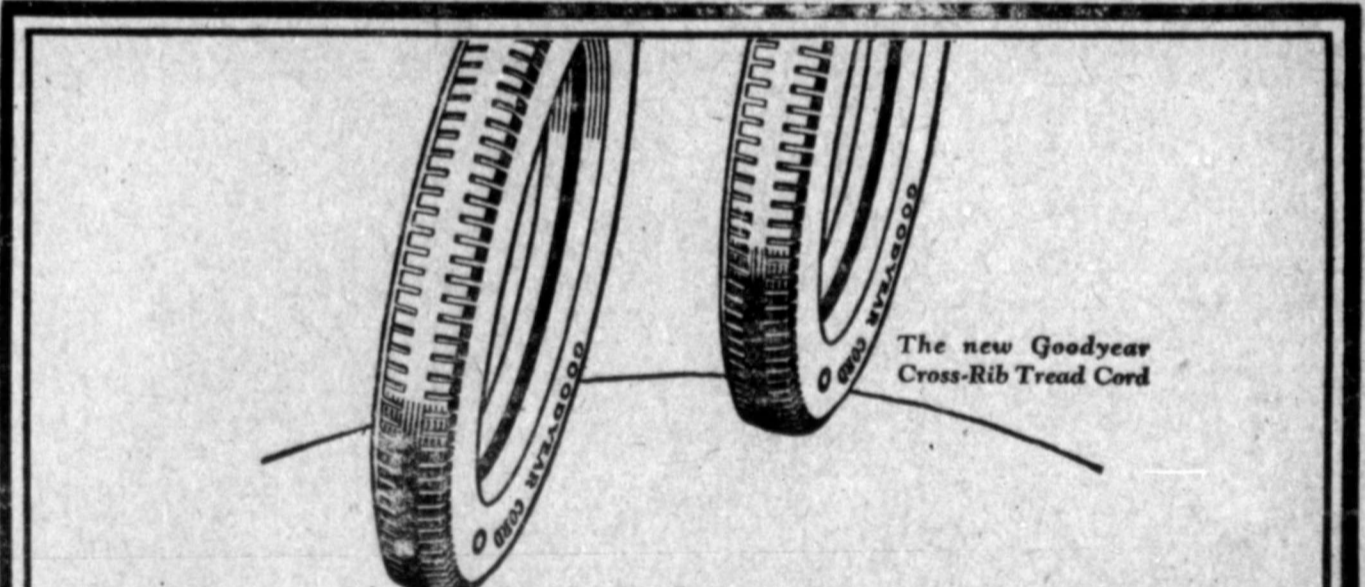

Dr. Comparetette is survived by his mother of Hicksville, Ohio, three brothers, Dale H. of Kerrville, Texas, Samuel of Hicksville, Charles of Garrett; and two sisters, Mrs. Clara Miller of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. W. H. Keeran of Fort Wayne, Ind.

A New Tread - a Lower Price
Reliable Goodyear Quality

Here is a new Goodyear Cord Tire—a big, sturdy, long-wearing tire—that sells at a price lower than you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for from 20 to 25% less. It has in it the same high-grade long-staple cotton, the same Goodyear patented group-ply construction, the same liberally oversized dimensions. When you buy the 4½-inch size, for example, you get a tire whose actual measurement is nearly 5 inches. Don't confuse this Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord with other popular-price cords which sell at the same price or for slightly more. In many cases, these other cords are made of inferior materials, with short-staple cotton as a foundation. MINIM'S ENTERTAINMENT

The junior boarders at Notre Dame Institute arranged of their own accord a dramatic and musical program on Wednesday night to entertain the faculty, students, campers and friends. Miss Isabel Harrell was mainly responsible for managing the event. She started the performance with kindergarten tots, whom she had trained to sing patriotic melodies in English and in Spanish.

Imelda Boudreaux then delivered a monologue, which was followed by a companion song rendered by Magdalene Farrish, with Mary Therese Lanche at the piano. An instrumental solo was played by Loudres Beltran, and a musical duet by Louise Mapes and Imelda.

Isabel assigned for herself a very pleasing recitation, but she surpassed this attempt in a more pretentious drama that depicted the fate of two small children lost in the woods, mistreated by a fierce witch whom the youngsters finally outwitted before they fell into the hands of kind fairies who brought them safely to their sorrowing parents. In this romantic home-made sketch, Isabel impersonated the role of mother with Cecilia Boudreaux disguised as father. Magdalene Farrish and Imelda Boudreaux were the lost children, who had good reasons to be scared of the terrifying witch, Alberta Woodman. The Irish fairies, Mary Taylor and Louise Mapes, wore orange costumes, perhaps because it was the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne.

So well pleased was the audience with the entire program and scenery arrangement that they clamored for a second performance, which was given to a larger crowd on Sunday evening.

Fire at O. L. Guadalupe

Favorable wind and the quick response of our local fire-fighters saved a wood-house at the Mexican school when a conflagration completely destroyed the adjoining home of Felipe Villareal with all household effects and wearing apparel. No one of the Villareal family happened to be at home that Saturday evening, when a fire under a wash caudron was fanned to the rear walls of the building. Hardly had the flames caught the structure when the entire edifice was quickly enveloped, and all hopes of saving any of the family possessions had to be abandoned so that efforts could be concentrated on saving adjoining huts in that densely settled Mexican colony.

This terrible catastrophe fell on the namesday and first anniversary of the baby daughter, Henrietta, who was baptized in the Guadalupe chapel on the same occasion. On Sunday occurred the baptism of Jose Valderas, whom the sponsors brought here for that purpose from Comfort.

Next Sunday, mass will be read in Comfort at 9 a. m. and in Kerrville at 7 o'clock. On the 29th inst., the Comfort parishioners are going to hold a picnic for the benefit of their mission church.

Clerical Guests

Four well-known Texas priests satisfied a long-standing curiosity last week by motoring to Kerrville in order to inspect Notre Dame Institute and the new palatial boarding academy. First came the Rev. E. Marco of Seguin, who made this his first stopover en route to San Francisco in his prize Chevrolet, accompanied by Herman McNamara. The latter had lived in the Philippines, in the Panama Zone and in other distant regions during his father's thirty years of military service with Uncle Sam. His vast traveling experience made his praises all the more weighty.

On Wednesday came Rev. F. Palanche of Hondo and Rev. J. Jacob of Sacred Heart Church, San Antonio. These priests viewed not only the two Catholic schools, but all other educational establishments, and most of the sanatoria. In their cross trips within our city confines they covered over twenty miles in one afternoon, thus proving that there is a lot to be seen in our picturesque mountain town.

The Very Rev. Dean of the D'Hanis district, Father F. Maas, dropped in here late Sunday night, en route to San Angelo with Mrs. Leonard Maas. Father Maas has built up one of the finest parochial plants in the diocese in addition to sponsoring the diocesan seminary, and therefore we feel proud of his comments about our school.

On Friday at the customary time, 8:00 to 11:30 p. m., the parish auxiliary will hold a card party in Washington Hall, in order to help our transient members to become acquainted with one another.

Choir rehearsals for the congregational singing continue to be held every Monday at 7:15 p. m.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Kerrville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor.

Miss Adele Michon, Tivy St., Kerrville, says: "I keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand and whenever I have any signs of kidney complaint they are sure to give me relief. My kidneys were weak and I had attacks of backache when I felt so tired and worn out I could scarcely do my work. Headaches annoyed me and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills from the Rock Pharmacy quickly stopped the backaches and regulated my kidneys."

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

J. GRADY TIMMONS

We had a happy day last Sunday in every respect. The Sunday School was full and encouraging in spite of the hot summer time we are having. The morning and evening services were well attended and they were very satisfactory. At the morning service we enjoyed a double privilege. Rev. Julian S. Sleeper, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hillsboro, preached for us. Our people were highly delighted with his message, and many expressions of appreciation were given by all who heard him. Also at this service Miss Jewel Carey sang very beautifully and in a meaningful way to the large congregation present. She contributed much to the worshipful atmosphere of the service, as every sweet voiced singer does.

Sunday School meets at 9:45 a. m. next Sunday and we hope you can be with us. You shall be helped. At 11 o'clock we shall have our morning hour of worship.

The Senior League meets at 7:30 p. m. And at 8:15 o'clock we shall have our evening service. Come out and be with us, we will do you good.

In next week's issue of this column the full program for the Center Group Meeting to be held at Bandera Sunday, July 30th, will be published. Let us make our plans now to go to Bandera for the day and have a great time. Let us plan to leave early so as to arrive there for the beginning of the program at 10 o'clock, carry lunches and then come home in the afternoon after 5 o'clock. It will be a day well spent. The theme for the entire day will center around the great need of the age—Evangelical Christianity. The redemption of the world lies along this pathway. There is one supreme fact that stands out in the history which cannot be successfully disputed, and that is that nowhere can you find an individual, church, community or group to wield a strong religious influence unless they were permeated with a type of pure Evangelical Christianity. Every great religious awakening which has swept the world, from the low plane of crass materialism and semi-Christian paganism, has been produced by a definite program of revivals. In this I mean a safe, sane and fundamental evangelism that carries the dominant notes of the Gospel of Jesus to the heart and core of the world's life. The preaching of Luther, Calvin, Erasmus, Wesley, Whitefield, and scores of other prophets of God, has turned the world at times of great need back toward the face of God. Our General Conference, recently in session at Hot Springs, Ark., voted unanimously to set the goal of a million converts to Christ in the next four years. To achieve such a stupendous goal will require the full power of the church to be delivered, and towards this objective we must bend all our energies and our abilities. For this purpose schools of evangelism will be conducted from time to time, and every energy in the church must be brought to bear. We are starting the initial part of the program in this group meeting, and you cannot afford to miss the occasion.

Missionary Society

On Tuesday afternoon of this week the Missionary Society had a very fine program on the river near the home of Mrs. Will Boeckmann. A large number were present, and after the program a splendid and altogether enjoyable picnic lunch was had.

Sunday School Class Picnic

Mrs. Fannie Butt, superintendent of the primary department of the Baptist Sunday School, entertained the members of the department Monday afternoon with a delightful picnic at Schreiner's Crossing.

About thirty children, many of them accompanied by their mothers, met at the home of Mrs. Butt at 4 o'clock and crowded into a large truck, and some in cars, for the trip.

After arriving at the river everyone, even the wee tots, rushed into bathing suits and enjoyed a swim. Just before dark a delightful picnic supper and lemonade were heartily enjoyed.

Swimming Party

The Philathea Class of the Methodist Church entertained Tuesday evening of last week, at 7 o'clock, with a swimming party. Those enjoying the party were:

Misses Lucy and Bessie Vining, Warren Holloman, Clarabelle Bouse, Sara Reverie, Lillian and Madge Stovall, Lula and Clara McDoniel and Rees, Mesdames Joe Lowrance, Ernest Boeckmann, J. Grady Timmons and L. Sandel, Messrs. Ernest Boeckmann, Elmer Bailey, Horace Starkey, Casper Rees, Lloyd King, David Merrill, Elmer Van Ostram, J. J. Starkey, Leo Ottinger, M. Demasters, Odel Demasters, Ernest Beihler and Dr. L. Sandel. Chaperoning the crowd were Mrs. Dan Rees and Mrs. N. R. Stovall.

Following the swim refreshments were served.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. B. HOLT, Pastor

The prayer meeting was good last week and there was good fellowship and a fine spirit. We are very anxious for all our people to start to this mid-week service.

The class in the manual did splendid work under their teacher, Chas. Wesch, and eight of them finished with honor. There will be further class work Monday and Tuesday nights. We are anxious for every teacher to be a manual graduate.

The Bible School last Sunday was excellent in spirit and in the quality of work done.

The attendance at the preaching service was fully up to normal. A number of visitors were with us and we were glad to see them, and extend them a cordial invitation to worship with us again.

At both the morning and evening services Miss Ella Musgrove of Jacksonville, Texas, sang for us. Miss Musgrove has marked ability as a singer and teacher, and everybody enjoyed her beautiful Gospel solos very much. We are glad to have her as a guest in our home. The writer was once her pastor at the Central Baptist Church of Jacksonville.

Miss Edith Tullis has returned from another institute at Bandera. She goes next to Tarpley, then to Medina.

The Presbyterian Encampment is now in full swing and is a success, and the pastor earnestly hopes that his people will attend every service possible. Let us boost this worthy

How to Help

One of the most difficult things in the world is to help men. How to do it, in the most effective sense has been the burden of human philosophy since ancient days and is the purpose of all modern philanthropy.

The business world believes that men are really helped only when they are aided and encouraged to help themselves.

And this is the business philosophy of the First State Bank.

Come in and get a copy of the West Texas Fair Catalogue. Prepare to attend this entertainment, that will be held on August 29th, 30th and 31st.

The Sun has not taken a stand for any candidate for any position. The writer learned some years ago, that this working for candidates was a thankless and unprofitable business.

The West Texas Fair will have a fine stock exhibit and numerous kinds of amusements for the people. Make your arrangements to be there. The dates are August 29th, 30th and 31st.

Kerrville appreciates the visitors to the Westminster Encampment. They are cultivated, religious and moral people who are an acquisition to any community, if their stay is only temporary.

There were more tourists the past week passing through, as well as more looking for camp sites on the river, than any previous season. We trust that all of them found suitable places and enjoyed their stay in the Hill Country.

The Sun has not given space to candidates for the various positions because the columns of a newspaper are its stock of merchandise, and if space is promiscuously given away, it is not appreciated, nor do the readers receive what they have paid for—news.

Persons sending in local items must remember to get them to the office on Tuesday if they are of any length. Also, send the items just after the event happens. When these reports are delayed and come in for the next issue they are late news, so useless. The Sun appreciates news items sent in by any one, and trusts those knowing of any happenings or personals, will send or phone them in.

After the primary, The Sun will put up as nominees only those who have shown the courtesy to announce in this paper. Candidates who ignored the custom to make their announcement will have to pay for getting their names on the ticket that will be printed in the paper after the primary, as to do otherwise would not be treating fairly those who do announce, nor exhibiting the proper independence that all newspapers worth a copper should possess.

ROAD COURTESY

A lady, driving her own car, had a puncture Tuesday near Kerrville, and on one of our main highways.

One man called her attention to the flat tire—and kept on driving. Two men drove past her, turned around, looked at her tire—and kept on driving. She was there for over half an hour, in which time an average of one car a minute passed her, driven principally by men, and not one offered her any assistance whatever. She finally went to a phone and called a local garage for road service.

No one can be blamed for not stopping to assist a car in trouble at night, unless, of course, the car is recognized. But we have always had many favorable comments made of the courtesy shown anyone when in trouble on the road. Let's keep that reputation. It only takes a moment to help a person, and more especially a woman, when they have car trouble, and if you can't fix it, you can at least send the word into town for help.

Things like this count, and a little accommodation given will always come back to you.

Keeping your cutout closed in town and refraining from fast driving down some of our principal streets, residential streets especially, will be greatly appreciated, for thoughtfulness shown by people who drive cars has a lot to do in creating a favorable impression for a town.

SOWING THE BUSINESS SEED

San Marcos Record: Merchants of the older type sometimes used to think that if they had a good location on a proper business street, they would get trade without much effort to solicit it. They would feel they would get a certain portion of those who passed their stand or were attracted by their window display.

This theory assumes that people decide where they want to trade as a result of haphazard influences, and influenced by the fact that one store may be a short distance nearer than another. That is not the way people decide where they are going to trade.

The average person does not visit a store that happens to be nearest him when he feels the need to buy something. He usually knows in advance where he wants to go, as a result of impressions and ideas formed over a considerable period of time. The way to get his trade is to build up in his mind the idea that certain other places have good locations and attractive window displays is not likely to shake his purpose.

The quickest and surest way to create a conviction of that kind, is to keep up a campaign of advertising. One notice will not do it, but it takes constant hammering. If a person sees in a newspaper a constant succession of advertising indicating that a certain store is working hard to please the public, if special opportunities are constantly being called to public attention, he is going to get the impression that that store is a live place where he can get good values. He will pass by stores having an equally good location and equally attractive window displays to reach the place that has impressed itself on his mind by its constant effort to interest the people.

The lettuce crop alone in the Imperial Valley of California, in 1922, brought the growers a gross income of $5,000,000.

CULBERSON'S CANDIDACY IN HANDS OF HIS FRIENDS

Editorial, The Evening Star, Washington, D. C., June 25, 1922: "The candidacy of Mr. Culberson is one of the most interesting of the year. Lacking the physical strength necessary to a stumping tour, the Senator is leaving his interests in the hands of his friends and aiding them with suggestions from his place here. His friends are active, and today he is regarded as in the lead of a field of strong contestants.

"This was the situation six years ago when Mr. Culberson offered for re-election and achieved an easy victory. He was then physically unequal to a tour of the State, and had to make his appeal through his friends and the mails.

"The Ku Klux Klan has become a factor in the contest. It has been operating boldly in Texas, and some Democrats of prominence have been coddling it.

"Not so Mr. Culberson. He has declared against the organization in strong terms, as inimical to law and order and all the true interests of the commonwealth.

"It is this spirit that accounts for the Senator's hold on the Texas people. He not only stands for the best things, but does so frankly and unequivocally. He can be placed without difficulty on all issues affecting the good name and progress of the State.

"If Mr. Culberson wins again it will be a notable triumph of character, ability and faithful service. He has been in the commission of the people of Texas, first at home and then here in Washington, for many years, and in all the offices he has held has made reputation. At 67 he is a ripe man in experience in public office, a sound lawyer when constitutional questions are much in evidence, and although in reduced physical kelter still diligent in his work on Capitol Hill and in touch with all the requirements of his office."

INTERESTING LETTER FROM REV. MACDOUGALL

Los Angeles, Calif.—Dear Editor: We went up Mount Lowe, re which I sent you the paper printed on the mountain one mile high. A most perilous and thrilling ascent. The first thousand feet or so is almost straight up, on one of those cable cars, built slantingly. There is a safety cable in addition to the regular one. But that is only a short distance and then one takes a regular trolley car, which winds round and round the mountain, gradually climbing all the time. The roadbed, cut out of the side of the granite mountain, is not more than one foot wider than the rails and there is a sheer drop of several thousand feet at some places. Frankly, I did not look down very much. When turning a curve the front of the car seemed as though going clear over the precipice, which is very terrifying. Ponies take one up to the peak, if one wants to go. We had had enough when we reached the end of the trolley line, and had to fortify ourselves with strong tea at the Mountain Hotel. We had our picture taken in the cable car.

Last Tuesday I was asked to be the guest of honor at a Rotary Luncheon near Pasadena.

Yesterday we took the boat for Catalina Island. It was crowded. We went into the glass bottomed boat and saw the wonderful submarine garden, with gorgeously colored fish and aquatic plants everywhere.

I have heard of the splendid Garden Fete the church members gave at Mrs. Scott Schreiner's. Congratulations. Kind regards, MACDOUGALL.

The opening dance at the Coveland Farm last Saturday night is reported to have been a very enjoyable event.

The music was fine and the floor was made specially for dancing, being a double one. Old Spanish dishes were served for luncheon, with fresh canteloupes and watermelons from the farm, and home-made ice cream.

The next dance will be August 5th, when 1,000 people are expected. This will be the public opening of the dance hall at Coveland Farm.

Charlie Rawson returned Tuesday from Baltimore, Md., where he went with Rex Redwine to look after perfecting and building one of the pecan crackers and separators. Charlie says that the manufacturers they selected to build the machine are confident of its practicability, and as they are expert in the line of manufacture of all kinds of intricate machinery, they will not take over the building of anything that is not considered worthy. Charlie expects to go back on another trip to Baltimore within a month, and by that time much progress will have been made on the building of a machine in a first-class manner.

A prettily appointed Bridge Luncheon was given on Wednesday of last week at the St. Charles Hotel, with Mrs. Emily Siddy as hostess. The table was attractively decorated with queen's crown and the pink blooms of the Texas Star. A five-course luncheon was served. Hand decorated place cards marked covers for the following guests: Mrs. Leslie Shaw, Mrs. J. S. Wheelers, Mrs. Carey, Miss Jewel Carey, Mrs. Utterbach, Mrs. G. F. Schreiner, Mrs. Al Manny, Mrs. Chas. Morris, Mrs. P. J. Domingues, Mrs. Perry, Miss Josephine Coombs, Mrs. Turman of Fort Worth and the hostess. First, second and booby prizes were given, all consisting of beautiful hand-made lingerie ornaments.

Edwards County Leader: There is reason to believe there will again be an oil boom in Edwards County. There is no let up in the drilling operations in the fields in every direction from us, and some rather close to us. The Del Rio papers report that new wells are to be started in North Val Verde County, and some of them may be found over the line in Edwards. This gets close to us.

Subscription Honor Roll

The following have either subscribed or renewed the past week to The Kerrville Mountain Sun:

Wm. Tagl, E. L. Turner, Dr. L. C. Gatz, Mrs. Patton and Wm. Nimitz of Kerrville; Walter Baker, Star Route; Mrs. M. A. Burney, Rural Route; W. W. Kendall, Ingram; C. A. Roberts, Harper; A. F. Bode, Banquete; E. R. Pampell, Marfa, and Rex Redwine, Baltimore, Md.

The Sun desires contributions to the Tourist Camp to make up a small deficit and also to pay for putting in electric lights there. The camp ought to be lighted, and Dick Eastland says he will furnish the lights free if the line is built to the camp. This will take about $125.00. The Sun has already left $1.00 with Cashier Prescott at the Chas. Schreiner Bank, so let all leave that much and more. Cashier Williamson of the First State Bank will also receive funds for the camp, as he is a member of the committee having it in charge.

The weekly silver tea of the Episcopal Church was held Tuesday of this week, with Mrs. Scott Schreiner as hostess. About sixty-five guests were present. The tea table was beautifully decorated with a bowl of pink crepe myrtle as a central adornment and silver baskets of the same flowers at either end. Iced tea and delicious sandwiches in fancy shapes were served. Vocal solos by Miss Hattie Garrett and Miss Ella Musgrove of Jacksonville, Texas, and piano solos by Miss Margaret Henke were much appreciated.

Judge J. S. Wheelers handled the sale of the W. N. Surber tract of 140 acres across the river from Kerrville, one mile south, to Mrs. Josephine Haltom-Leckie of Beaumont and New York. Judge Wheelers has had an option on this desirable tract of land for some time and desired to have it used for club house and several fine homes, but the present purchaser contemplates the building of a commodious country home with all modern conveniences. As she told Judge Wheelers, she wants the house to appear as though it was a part of the surroundings and built right out from the high hill there. Mrs. Haltom-Leckie also expects to have an expert topographic engineer and landscape gardener make the tract of land a beauty spot. She is quite wealthy, so can indulge her taste any extent she desires in making that a lovely country estate.

a New "USCO"— Better, Heavier, Longer Wearing 30 x 3½ - $10.90 No Tax added on Sale Now

USCO set the high value mark for 30 x 3½ tires when it originated the $10.90 price last Fall.

USCO today betters that mark with a new and greater USCO—an USCO improved in many important ways.

For instance, a thicker tread—with a surer hold on the road—thicker side walls, adding strength and life to the tire.

And the price is $10.90—with the tax absorbed by the manufacturer.

Men have always looked to USCO for the biggest tire money's worth on the market.

They always get a bigger tire money's worth than they expect.

PARENT-TEACHERS' CLUB TO GIVE SOCIAL SATURDAY NIGHT

The Ice Cream Social to be given by the Parent-Teachers' Club on this Saturday night will open at 7 o'clock on the Court House lawn. This promises to be a very enjoyable and very distinctive affair, judging by the preparations being made by efficient committees. We are told that there is to be lots of fine home-made ice cream, home-made cakes and candies. A number of attractive young girls will attend the tables and booths, and the young lady selling the most ice cream will receive as a prize a beautiful and delicious cake made by the club president. An unusual program, mostly musical, will be given, a special feature of which will be a "community sing" (also home-made), in which everybody present may take part. A capable social committee will be on hand to make everyone enjoy the evening. It is to be hoped that the public will freely patronize the social, thus supporting the efforts of this worthy organization. Let it be said that "all the town was there."

PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN. Fleming is Dismissed Junction, Tex., July 15.—The special session of the district grand jury, called for the purpose of investigating the killing of O. L. Freeman on July 6th, has adjourned after deliberating four days. No bill was returned, and Troy Fleming, who was under bond to await his examining trial in the justice court, has been dismissed by the County Attorney.

Williamson of the First State Bank of Kerrville, as trustee. Our Ingram letter failed to reach The Sun office last week, though duly mailed in the post office here last Wednesday morning, hence the non-appearance of the "Ingram Items" in the last issue. O. J. Parks and wife, C. C. Vick, wife and three children and J. M. Bullock Jr. and wife, all of Bryan, form a party of tourists who are enjoying camp life on the outskirts of town, and seem much impressed with our beautiful scenery. Chas. These parties were returning home after having spent some time camping at the Ten Mile Crossing above Junction. The barbecue at Harper last Saturday attracted a large number of people from our village and the surrounding community, some of the Ingram boys having taken part in the rodeo. A very pleasant day was spent by those from here, who report a very successful affair. It is very pleasing to the friends of Mrs. Mineola McCoy of Hunt (a former resident here), who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Secor Hospital in Kerrville, to learn that her condition is much improved and that she is now on the road to recovery. As Tom Young of the Kelley Creek community was riding through his pasture a few days ago, his horse was badly bitten on the leg by a savage old rattler, which made its get-away while Mr. Young was dismounting. Although the animal has a badly swollen limb, it is not thought the bite will prove fatal. Miss Lois Ragland left Wednesday of last week for her home in Orange Grove, after a pleasant visit with her aunt, Mrs. Georgia Peters, at the "Welig-it" bungalow on the Kerrville-Ingram road. Mrs. Peters and two daughters accompanied her as far as Boerne, where they made a short visit with relatives. The young son of Joe Council of Mercedes, who, with his family, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Clarence Sing, at Sherman's Mill, had the misfortune to fall from a horse last week and break his arm. He was immediately taken to Kerrville for medical attention, and, though painful, the injury is not thought to be serious. J. Hazel, wife and daughter, Miss Hazel, motored up from San Antonio last week and are comfortably camped on the river banks near the Lumpkin home. These parties spent several weeks here last summer and were so enthusiastic over their former sojourn in the Hill Country that they have returned with the intention of remaining until October next. They are occupying the same camp site as last year.

And again, people who can take care of themselves, or who have relatives here or elsewhere to do so, will not be taken care of by the Associated Charities, except in a temporary way, to get the objects of charity to points where they have people who are expected to care for them.

The Kerrville Associated Charities is going to be run along strictly business lines, and those who have any doubts as to whether or not this is being done are invited to call on the secretary, and the books are open for inspection, together with a statement of facts in any case where appeals have been made for help.

legislation or in governmental activities, but they do believe that the Government, acting through the President and the Congress, may do much to hasten the return of healthy conditions to agriculture.

President Harding shares this belief, as is witnessed by the fact that he has signed every measure enacted by Congress at the instance of the farm bloc. The President publicly has endorsed other measures favored by the bloc which have not yet been pressed by Congress.

The farm bloc believes that the best way to mend the present situation and provide for the future is to increase the producer's profit by shortening the road to market. One way to accomplish this is through the co-operative marketing, which eliminates the unessential and speculative middlemen and which gives the producer and the consumer their due.

This we have great hopes we shall accomplish through the recently enacted Capper-Volstead co-operative marketing law, which gives farmers for the first time an unclouded right to organize for the sale and distribution of their own products.

Things to Do

The bloc has still many important things to accomplish. One of them is a credit plan which will be of speedy and immense value to the farming industry. The bloc is endeavoring to have enacted into a law a system of 1, 2 and 3-year credit for farmers based on their products as collateral. Farmers everywhere write me, that this system is just what nine-tenths of the farmers in their home territory need.

The farmer and the stockman are sorely in want of an operating credit which cannot be supplied by the 80 or 90 days' commercial loan. This precisely meets the storekeepers' credit needs, but it takes three years to produce a steer and make him ready for slaughter, and it takes three years to breed a dairy animal and get it producing. Sheep and swine also require much more than six months, and the farmer's crop turnover usually takes a year.

Largely because of the lack of such a means of financing its stockmen, this country is shortly to be visited with a beef shortage which will cost it dear. When that time comes, my friends, beefsteak is going to be beefsteak with a large capital B.

It should be a matter of interest in the cities for them to learn that the farm bloc is giving its support to the Capper-French Truth-in-Fabric bill. The Truth-in-Fabric bill applies the principles of the pure food act to clothing. It requires that fabrics shall be sold for just what they are. If wool is mixed with cotton, the amount of mixture must be stated.
